YOUNG AUTHOR HIGHLY HONORED

Channing Pollock Receives Official Recognition Through the City of Boston.

For the first time in the history of the United States a living dramatist received the official recognition of a great city and of a great state when Channing Pollock, author of "The Fool," was honored by Mayor James M. Curley, of Boston and by Col. Channing Cox, of Massachusetts. Mayor Curley presented Mr. Pollock with the key to the city of Boston and gave orders that in the spring a tree should be planted in his honor in "poets' row" on Boston Common. The tree will bear a brass tablet with this inscription: "To Channing Pollock, playwright and thinker."

This tribute has been conferred on few, for only 30 trees have been planted since the row was begun, nearly 50 years ago. Those whose memory has been venerated in the row have been mostly poets who were either born or reared in Boston. Others upon whom the same honor has been conferred have been chosen for distinguished service in other spheres. Oliver Wendell Holmes, Emerson and other notable New England authors are among those represented. The last tree planted was for Marshall Foch, and Channing Pollock will have the next one.

"The Fool" has undoubtedly created the greatest sensation of any play ever written by an American. It has not only attracted an enormous patronage to the Times Square theatre, New York, where it has been playing to absolute capacity for six months, but it has been the subject of hundreds of sermons by clergymen of all denominations and has been accepted for study in the public schools of three states. Great numbers of people who are not regular theatregoers have professed to find in the play an enormous influence for good, and there seems no doubt that it has brought the church, the school and the theatre closer together than ever before. Gov. Alfred Smith, of New York, recently said that he felt "The Fool" was one of the greatest forces of good in the state.—Exchange.

ANOTHER'S LIFE THREATENED

Colored Minister Incurs Enmity of Lawless Element.

Following the attempted murder of Rev. H. C. Marsh, of Middleburg, which occurred recently on a lonely mountain road near Aldie, Loudoun county, comes threats of taking the life of another minister of the gospel, the victim this time being a colored Methodist preacher of Middleburg and Upperville, in the same county.

The latter recently received a letter signed "Ku Klux Klan," which stated that if the recipient did not leave Upperville at once he would be dealt with as was the white minister, both of whom the writer declared, "Had too much mouth."

There is, as far as it is known, no Ku Klux organization near Middleburg, and following so closely on the heels of the attempted assassination of Mr. Marsh, the people of the county are justly indignant.

The colored preacher is a man well spoken of by both white and colored in the community in which he lives.

RESPECTED COLORED MAN DEAD

Relic of Civil War Period Passes Away at Advanced Age.

Bladen Robinson, colored, youngest son of Susan and James Robinson, departed this life March 10th at 7 p. m. at the age of seventy-nine.

He was born May 15, 1844, within a short distance of his own home, near Stone House.

He leaves to mourn his loss two children, James, who stayed with him to the end, and one daughter; eight grandchildren, one sister and a host of relatives and friends. For years he possessed a hope in the Saviour and lived fully trusting in Him, but never connected himself with any church. He bore his sickness with great patience and died fully satisfied. His work on earth was finished and he passed away after asking the Lord to take him home unto himself.

Thus passed out another light of the civil war days, one who served faithfully under General Hill.

Another good and faithful father and friend has gone. He died as he lived, a bright and shining light. H.

JENKINS—EVANS

Popular Manassas Couple Married on Tuesday at Rectory.

A marriage of interest to Manassas people was that of Mrs. Theresa Evans and Mr. Asa Jenkins, which was quietly solemnized on Tuesday morning at the rectory by Rev. A. Stuart Gibson, Mr. and Mrs. Jenkins leaving immediately after the ceremony on a trip which included Washington, Newport News and Norfolk.

The bride, who was formerly Miss Theresa Milnes, has spent the majority of her life here, and her popularity was attested to by the miscellaneous shower given her a few days previous to her wedding, at which time she was the recipient of many useful and beautiful gifts.

Mr. Jenkins, who is associated with his brother in the mercantile business, by his friendly, genial manner, has made many friends since coming to our town, all of whom wish him a safe and happy voyage on life's matrimonial sea.

DEATH CLAIMS LITTLE CHILD

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. King Victim of Meningitis.

Elizabeth King, eight-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John King, of Reading, Pa., died at the Episcopal Hospital in Washington on Thursday, March 15, of meningitis.

The little girl, with her parents, had been visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. N. King at Nokesville for about a fortnight prior to her death, and when she became so ill she was taken to Washington, where the very best professional skill was employed, neither pains nor expense being spared to save the little life.

She was the eldest of three children born to John Thomas and Ethel Williams King, and had remarked since coming to Nokesville that she would never return to the north.

The remains were taken to Nokesville, where funeral services were held on Sunday by Prof. I. N. H. Beahm in the chapel at Hebron Seminary, followed by interment at the cemetery at Catlett.

The floral tributes and the large attendance at the funeral showed the great sorrow and sympathy of the community.

The deceased is survived by her parents, one brother, one sister, her grandparents at Nokesville and numerous other relatives.

That "Death loves a shining mark" is again verified in the passing of this bright, sweet child.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY MEETS

Interesting Program Rendered at the Home of Mrs. Mitchell.

(Mrs. J. H. Dodge, Secretary)
The Presbyterian Missionary Society met with Mrs. E. K. Mitchell on March 13th. The meeting opened with the hymn, "Blessed Assurance," followed by prayer by Mrs. B. T. H. Dodge, devotional leader.

The study subject for the afternoon was "Newest Americans." Articles read on the subject showed that the Community House was a powerful force in spreading the gospel among them. Mrs. Baker read an important article from Mrs. Catherine Bennett, addressed to the women of the missionary society, asking them to make this the best and finest year of service.

Mrs. A. B. Jamison spoke of how the gospel was needed in Alleghany County, Pennsylvania, to bring light into the dark superstitious customs that still prevail there. Mrs. Baker's subject was the "Evangelization of the Jews."

The meeting adjourned with the hymn, "Jesus, Savior, Pilot Me," and the benediction.

A "BIG BROTHER" WELCOMED

(Communicated)
The successful launching of the battlefield park campaign is as welcome to the memorial hospital association as the big brother's arrival on the scene of the little brother's extremity.

The close and sympathetic relationship between battlefield and hospital in modern warfare, makes the claim of each mutually advantageous and honorable. The mere suggestion of conflict in pressing their respective claims, is prejudicial to the interests of both.

To an unusual degree because of local proximity, the Manassas Battlefield Park and the Manassas Memorial Hospital, should embody and exemplify the unity and fellowship of patriotic and civic sentiment.

Well done, "big brother!" Your little brother salutes you.

STATE TEACHERS HOLD CONFERENCE

District H Meeting Made Both Interesting and Inspiring by Prominent Speakers.

The State Teachers' Conference of District H was held in Warrenton, Va., March 15 and 16. There were in attendance nearly three hundred teachers and visitors.

Too much cannot be said in appreciation of the delightful hospitality shown by the people of Warrenton throughout the conference. Homes were thrown open and all the visiting teachers entertained Thursday night.

Dinner was served both days by the chamber of commerce, the members, the leading business men of Warrenton, taking part in the serving. Automobiles were also furnished to carry the guests to and from the meetings, and in every possible way, all were made to feel at home in this lovely Virginia town.

Mr. R. C. Haydon, principal of Alexandria high school and president of District H, presided over all the sessions of the conference.

Among those who made the program a success and an inspiration were Miss Lulu D. Metz, president of the State Teachers' Association; Dr. William T. Sanger, secretary of the State Board of Education; Dr. C. J. Heatwole, secretary of Virginia State Teachers' Association; Prof. F. B. Fitzpatrick, of the Radford Normal School; Prof. A. B. Chandler, Normal School, Fredericksburg; Prof. Charles G. Maphis, of the University; Mr. George W. Guy, of the Co-operative Educational Board, and Mr. C. J. Meetez, chairman of Community Leagues of District H.

Two visitors from outside our own state added much to the conference. Mrs. Morgan of the National Council for Prevention of War, made a stirring appeal. Dr. H. C. Krebs, superintendent of schools, Somerville, New Jersey, gave every teacher present a real stimulus with his "Appreciations" of both literature and music.

On Thursday afternoon a most successful meeting of the representatives of the community leagues of District H was held with Mr. George W. Guy and the Hon. C. J. Meetez as speakers.

Among the many reports of league work read were those from Manassas; the high school report being given by Miss E. H. Osbourn and the graded school by Mrs. A. L. Henry. Many of these reports showed a most inspiring record of good work accomplished for both school and community by the spirit of co-operation developed through the agency of the leagues.

The departmental conference, held on Friday afternoon, elected the following chairmen for the ensuing year:

Primary—Miss Elizabeth King, Alexandria, Va.
Grammar Grade—Miss Margaret Helm, Warrenton, Va.
High School—Mr. R. R. Tolbert, of Culpeper, Va.

Supervisors and Superintendents—Miss Clara S. McCarty, Delaplane, Va.

At the executive session on Friday morning the following resolutions were passed by the conference:

Resolutions.
Whereas, The 1923 Conference of District H has been exceptionally happy in its tone, vital in its lessons and hopeful in its visions, and

Whereas, We have been so cordially received and so hospitably served by the city of Warrenton, which is so characteristic of Virginia; therefore be it

Resolved, That we extend our deep appreciation and gratitude—

1. To the officers of the conference for their efficient administration;

2. To the chamber of commerce for their delicious luncheon served and provision for our entertainment in their hospitable homes;

3. To the city press for their invitation extended through its columns, to the teachers of District H, and for their excellent reports of the meeting;

4. To the high school boys and girls and the boy scouts for their untiring, ever ready, and courteous services;

5. To the ministers for their co-operation and interest;

6. To the principal and teachers of the Warrenton schools for their invaluable service and co-operation, to the various committees for their untiring work, to the musicians and school children for their enjoyable features of entertainment.

Be it also Resolved, That we also endorse the resolution adopted at Alexandria last year concerning the Catawba Teachers' Pavilion.

Be it Resolved, That we deplore the tendency on the part of the various legislatures, city officers and others in authority, to subordinate the financial needs of education to other business interests in the matter of distribution of public funds. Therefore, we heartily recommend and endorse every legitimate movement for increasing funds for carrying on of all educational movements of our country and endorse all stands taken in the various legislatures and in congress for the development of the same.

Whereas, We are confronted with the problem of keeping good teachers in those positions in which small salaries are paid; be it

Resolved, That this body endorse the policy now so widely discussed by national leaders of education, of requiring the same high standard of qualifications and the same salaries in all grades of the school system from the kindergarten through the high school.

Whereas, No school can properly function without a real live patrons' league, we therefore recommend that each school shall put forth special effort to organize the work done by the junior leagues of the state.

Whereas, Public sentiment is not conducive to the highest standard of text books for school use; be it

Resolved, That this organization considers it the responsibility of teachers and all others engaged in public school work to create a public sentiment in favor of making whatever changes may be necessary; be it

Resolved, That this organization recommend to the Virginia State Teachers' Association that it have a combined fee for membership to the Association, which single fee will cover subscription to the Virginia Journal of Education, and recommend that the fee be the same as the combined membership fee and subscription rate, which is $1.50.

Whereas, The teaching that goes into the minds of children permeates eventually the life of the nation and very largely determines its destiny, and

Whereas, The periods of prosperity and growth of the nations have been co-incidental with the development of the arts of peace; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That in our teaching of history, stories of wars be minimized and given only their proper significance, and that we stress the teaching of the constructive truth that periods of industrial art and aesthetic culture occur when nations are at peace.

Committee:—Miss Grace B. Moran, Miss Mary D. Pierce, Hon. C. J. Meetez, Prof. R. R. Tolbert, Mrs. C. F. Brower, Jr.

Respectfully submitted,
WILLIETTE R. MYERS,
Secretary of District H of the State Teachers' Association.

DEATH OF MRS. M. I. GLASCOCK

A Former Resident of Lower Prince William Dies in Washington.

Mrs. Mahlon I. Glascock, a former resident of Agnewville, died at her home in Washington on Sunday, March 18, after a declining illness of several months. Her remains were carried to Agnewville on Wednesday, where services were held at Bethel Church, followed by interment in the family lot at her old home.

Mrs. Glascock, who was formerly Miss Belle Gulick, of Loudoun, was a first cousin of Mrs. Joseph Johnson, of Manassas. She is survived by four sons—David, Allie, Ashby and Aubrey, and by one daughter, Mrs. Thos. Shepherd, of Washington, with whom she made her home.

Mr. Ashby Glascock, one of the sons, is well known here, having married Miss Lena Akers, of Manassas.

WILLARD'S PORTRAIT UNVEILED

Picture of Former Lieutenant-Governor Gift to State.

A special feature of the session of the senate at Richmond on Monday was the presentation of the portrait of Col. Joseph E. Willard, former Lieutenant-Governor of Virginia. The portrait, which is the gift of Mrs. Willard, is the work of the noted Hungarian artist, Veremy. The presentation was made to the state by Senator Walter Tansill Oliver, of Fairfax, who reviewed the career of Colonel Willard, "The distinguished citizen of Fairfax, the honored Virginian, and the noted American." The canvas was received by Senator Henry T. Wickham, of Hanover, one of Lieutenant Willard's colleagues in the Senate, and was unveiled in the presence of Governor Trinkle, Mrs. Willard, and a large gathering of friends and admirers of Col. Willard.

FORMER EDITOR OF THE LOUDOUN MIRROR DEAD

Well Known Newspaper Man Dies at Home in Leesburg After Brief Illness.

Arthur F. Divine, former editor and owner of the Loudoun Mirror, and one of the best known and most popular newspaper men in northern Virginia, died at his home in Leesburg on Monday, March 12, after a brief illness, following an attack of pneumonia.

Mr. Divine, who was forty-seven years old, was a native of Leesburg, where he had spent the majority of his life.

He was married June 1, 1916, to Miss Jeannette Renee Boutin, who, together with one daughter survives him.

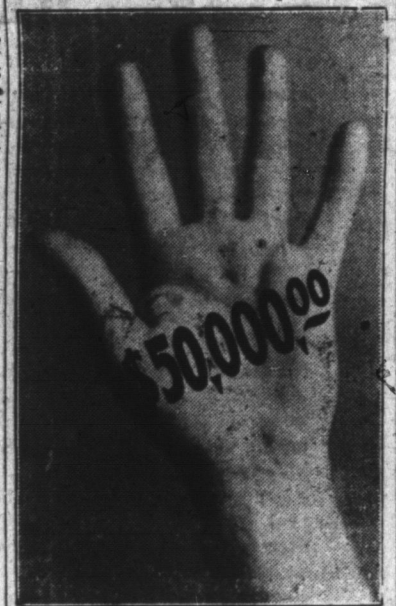

Funeral services were held from St. James Episcopal Church in Leesburg, of which he was a vestryman. Both Masonic and Odd Fellow ceremonies followed the services of the church, the deceased having been an esteemed member of each fraternity.

The beautiful floral offerings, together with the large crowd in attendance, gave evidence of the high esteem in which Mr. Divine was held by the people of the county.

NOTED VIOLINIST TO BE HERE SOON

Skovgaard to Appear in Concert Given for Benefit of Battlefield Park at Early Date.

Here is a picture of the $50,000 hand belonging to Skovgaard, the Danish violinist, who will appear in Manassas at a concert which will be given under the auspices of the U. D. C. for the benefit of the Battlefield Park Association.

This will be a rare treat to music lovers. This noted violinist has reached a point where he is above criticism. The instrument which he uses is over two hundred years old and has a wonderful history.

Skovgaard carries with him an able pianist and accompanist and a delightful singer.

The date of the concert will be announced later.

ST. PAUL'S CHURCH REOPENED

St. Paul's Church, Haymarket, which has been closed since Christmas, was opened on Sunday with a service by Mr. John Bomberger, of the Senior Class of the Theological Seminary, Alexandria, who will hold a service at the church every Sunday morning at eleven o'clock.

Mr. Bomberger has had good experience as a lay worker and as a field secretary of the St. Andrew's Brotherhood and has the call extended him by the vestry to the rectorship of the church under favorable consideration. He will be ordained in June and if he accepts the call will take charge of the parish during that month.

FOUR-COUNTY FAIR AT FAIRFAX

Fairfax people are moving for an annual fair, to be held at Fairfax, for the counties of Fairfax, Loudoun, Arlington and Prince William. Subscriptions are being asked for a company to be incorporated to handle the enterprise, taking over the property holdings of the Fairfax County Fair Association. It appears that the last Fairfax fair was not entirely successful, some premiums being yet unpaid.—Loudoun Mirror.

ANOTHER BETTER KITCHEN CONTEST

Women of County Mustering Forces for a Second Campaign During April.

(Miss Lillian V. Gilbert, Secretary) Demonstration Agent)

The kitchen has been called "the heart of the house," and rightly so, because every man is interested in good things to eat and every housewife is interested in good cooking. In a number of counties in Virginia the women working with the extension division of their state agricultural college, Mrs. M. M. Davis, state home demonstration leader, have been re-arranging their kitchen and other rooms for convenience in doing their housework. Health, comfort, convenience and beauty have been and will be stressed throughout all the work.

Prince William county is getting ready for the second "Kitchen Improvement Campaign." In order that every woman in the county may have an opportunity, if she so desires, to enter this contest, this article is being printed. The county home demonstration agent will be glad to hear from any woman who wishes to take up the work. There are no charges. It is the plan to get this work in line so that those who are helping can visit the homes and make suggestions, etc., during the month of April. Bulletins, pictures, etc., will be given to all those who take part. Help the one next to them is what the twenty-five women who entered the first contest are going to try to do. By the middle of April the county home demonstration agent hopes to have a demonstration kitchen fitted out in connection with her office. This kitchen will have nothing in it that the simplest home cannot afford and all county women are cordially invited to visit it.

Below is a copy of a letter that is being sent to all women who took part in the contest lasting from October 15 to December 15, 1922. This letter explains itself:

Dear Fellow Workers:—We are sorry that the bad weather prevented some of you getting to the get-together meeting Friday, December 15. It was a wonderful meeting and we had such distinguished guests. New York, Washington and Richmond were represented.

I wish every woman in the county could have heard the report of the work, as given by Mrs. Davis, our state agent in demonstration work. At that meeting it was suggested that we have another campaign during the spring and early summer of 1923. Each member of the contest was urged to try to induce two other women to join in a similar contest at the named time.

A number of women have already asked about the work and seem anxious to start. We are planning to get started during the month of April. I am writing to ask you not to fail us, but get busy and find two other women who wish to get the advantage of Mrs. Davis' helpful work. Of course, we do not mean that only two can be gotten by the same woman, but we want each one to interest at least two.

A floor mop with handle will be awarded the woman who first gets in her two names, the woman named to continue throughout the contest. The prize will be awarded the successful woman at the get-together meeting, which will be some time during the month of July. Mrs. Davis suggests that the women of the 1922 contest be hostess to the women of the 1923 contest when the final meeting is held. The details will be worked out later.

Enclosed you will find an envelope to use in sending in names. It needs no stamp. We are hoping to be able to offer some nice prizes. It is suggested that each woman who won a prize solicit one prize for the 1923 contest.

Who will be the first to send in the names of two or more neighbors? No state in the union has put on as complete a "Kitchen Improvement Campaign" as Virginia. Mrs. Davis is now working in four counties around Richmond. Prince William is the first county to attempt to put over a second campaign managed by the county women. Let's put ourselves on the map by showing that it can be done. Let's see to it that fifty women enter the coming contest.

With best wishes for one and all,
Sincerely yours,
County Home Demonstration Agent.

Miss Lulu D. Metz Addresses State Teachers' Conference

An appeal for co-operation made by Miss Lulu D. Metz, president Virginia State Teachers' Association, to the teachers of District H, at the annual conference of the district held in Warrenton on Thursday and Friday last:

Address by Miss Lulu D. Metz.

It is with pleasure, as well as a deep realization of the privilege that I come before you today as president of the Virginia State Teachers' Association. I feel that first of all, I must thank the teachers and educational workers who have made it possible that this privilege be mine, and also express my appreciation for the many pledges of co-operation which I have received not only from individual teachers, but from organizations as well. I appreciate this more than anything which has ever come into my life, and this spirit of co-operation, expression of approval and pledge of support will be of the greatest service to me in any work which I shall undertake in the interest of the Association. I am entering my work with all confidence because of these pledges, for I know that those who have pledged support will co-operate in every way and stand by the policies and the plans which will be submitted from time to time.

The Virginia State Teachers' Association is already a powerful organization, and is a most effective factor in the advancement of education in our State, but how much stronger would be that factor if every teacher in the state would become a member of that organization and stand by the work that the Association attempts from time to time to do. Some of our districts have within the last few years reached the one hundred per cent membership mark, but not until every county and every district reaches this mark and every teacher in the state takes her place in the great work that is before us, will our organization be able to do its best, its most effective work, and this will come about only when every teacher realizes that she is not only a part, but an essential part in the organization. A chain is only as strong as its weakest link just so it is impossible for our state organization to reach its highest power and to do its most effective work while there are districts and counties with little or no interest in the work and individuals who feel that they have no part in the organization. Let our watchword for 1923 and 1924 be a hundred per cent membership to the State Teachers' Association. Let us as individual teachers realize that we are needed and are an essential part in this organization. Let us plan from year to year to attend, not only our local conferences but our district and state conferences as well, and enter into the interests and activities of the Association. Let us learn of the work that is going on in the interest of educational progress throughout our state and enter into this knowing and realizing that it is for the best interest for education throughout our Commonwealth. Just as every spring, every tiny piece of metal is absolutely essential to the effective workings of the great machine, just so every individual teacher in this great Commonwealth of ours is essential to the organization if it accomplishes the things which it ought and for which it stands.

It is a democratic organization, made up of YOUR representatives. Every individual teacher should have a voice in every matter which becomes a part of the organization. The officers of the Virginia State Teachers' Association are chosen first by a nominating committee, made up of the representatives from all the districts, your representatives. This action is confirmed by a board of directors representing every district, your representatives, and then the vote is taken on the floor when the teachers themselves, through their delegates, have an opportunity to approve or disapprove the action.

I come before you today, therefore, as one who has been chosen by the individual teachers of the state, to serve you to the very best of my ability, but in this service I shall ask your hearty co-operation in those things which I shall undertake to do.

It is my plan by the beginning of the next school term, to submit to all the various local associations throughout the state, questions that should be brought to the attention of the teachers throughout the year, and from time to time as occasion demands and as matters present themselves I shall do my best to bring such matters before you, and in this too, I need your help and I need your co-operation. The organization of the Virginia State Teachers' Association does not belong to the officers of the Association; it is your organization and only as you enter into its interests and plans will the organization itself accomplish that for which it should stand. Every teacher in the state should feel that whatever she may be able to do is not only important but is needed in educational progress in the state.

The various local organizations, district organizations, and individual teachers will be called upon from time to time to aid in carrying on various activities which need to come to our attention, and my purpose here today is to request your co-operation and enlist your support and sympathy in whatever calls may come to you, realizing that you are needed when the call shall have come. I feel assured that if co-operation be the watchword at all times, that the educational progress of our state will be safe in the hands of the Virginia teachers.

I do not know of a better way in which we can serve our Commonwealth than by being one of the great number of teachers in whose keeping is the education of the youth of our land. Sometimes I feel that we as teachers, do not realize the responsibility, as well as the privilege that is ours when performing the tasks that are set before us in the teaching profession. It is a wonderful work, and it is only when we as teachers realize this that the best results in our profession may be obtained, and this advance will be made just in proportion as we realize not only the responsibility but the privilege as well.

There has, perhaps, never been a time when there have been such opportunities for service as now. Never before, in the world's history, has there been such rapid progress in educational movements. Never has there been a time when this opportunity for service presented itself so clearly to the individual teacher. Never has there been a time when it was so essential for the individual teacher to take her place in the various phases of educational work. Never has the work held such interest and fascination for those who enter and become a part of it. I know—and only too well—what the overcrowded hard day of the teacher means. I know what the daily tasks and problems of the class room are. I know that there never seems time for other tasks than those necessary daily ones, but I know too, that time can be found if there is the will. I know that as we enter into the various activities of our state organizations that our interest in educational problems, which vitally concern all of us, increases and just in proportion as we become a part of them. I know to what wonderful extent our class room work is enriched by the outside contact with others and through affiliation, and with the organizations of our state.

Methods of instruction are changing, educational activities are moving on with leaps and bounds; for the good of those committed to our care as well as for our own good, we must not stand still. Let us, therefore, enter this wonderful field of progress and note with an optimistic, happy spirit what it will mean to us as individuals alone.

You have chosen me to serve you I am ready at all times to answer that call to the very best of my ability, and in whatever way it may be possible for me to serve you, and I need your help and support. But remember that at all times, as individuals we can do little, but that through co-operation and organization nothing is impossible.

A unanimous pledge of co-operation was given Miss Metz at the close of her appeal.

In which we tell a story while not original is, we believe, appropriate to our business

¶ In the city of Bagdad lived Hakum, the Wise One, and many people went to him for counsel, which he gave freely to all, asking nothing in return.

¶ There came to him a young man, who had spent much but got little, and said: "Tell me, Wise One, what shall I do to receive the most for what I spend?"

¶ Hakum answered: "A thing that is bought or sold has no value unless it contains THAT WHICH CANNOT BE BOUGHT OR SOLD. Look for the priceless ingredient."

¶ "But what is this PRICELESS INGREDIENT," asked the young man.

¶ SPOKE THEN THE WISE ONE: "MY SON, THE PRICELESS INGREDIENT OF EVERY PRODUCT IN THE MARKET PLACE IS THE HONOR AND INTEGRITY OF HIM WHO MAKES IT. CONSIDER HIS NAME BEFORE YOU BUY."

¶ MY NAME AND MY HONOR ARE BACK OF EVERY PRODUCT I SELL. MY PATRONS MUST BE SATISFIED.

THE SENATE'S UNNECESSARY WAR

Justification in the minds of the advocates of the Early amendment to the Layman bill repealing the Robertson act, as frankly stated by them on the floor of the Senate, is on this wise: Because of the diversion of funds from the State highway system to county roads under the proposed financial plan, the State will be unable for years to come to repay advances of money made by counties under the terms of the Robertson act. Since, therefore, the counties must wait for their money, and in most cases must pay interest on their loans, they are entitled to interest from the State at 4½ per cent of their advances.

By the provisions of the Robertson act of 1920, counties desiring to anticipate construction within their borders of portions of the State highway system might secure such advance building by placing in the hands of the State Highway Department the necessary funds. These moneys are to be repaid by the State. It was the evident presumption that the counties taking advantage of this law would be willing to pay, if necessary, interest on borrowed money in order to get modern roads at an earlier date than would otherwise be possible. On the other hand, there was an equally evident presumption that the State would return these advances at a reasonably early day, so that one may sympathize with the predicament of those counties which under the present situation see nothing ahead except payment of interest for perhaps a decade to come on money borrowed to anticipate State highway system construction.

The entire proposition is wrong. No county is entitled to interest from the State treasury on its advances, but such sums should be repaid as quickly as possible. The advocates of a bond issue propose to discharge these obligations from the proceeds of the sale of securities; the Governor proposed to discharge them from the revenues obtained under his "pay-as-you-go" plan. Only since the extraordinary session began has there been any other thought. If the leaders will but for one moment stop struggling for advantage and agree to drop from both programs the trouble-breeding feeder road riders, the Early amendment at once becomes superfluous and two days of argument could have been averted, for Robertson act advances can be discharged before any county feels the burden of delay and of interest charges. —Richmond Times-Dispatch.

GOSSIP

Gossip is one of the cardinal sins. It is not a single act, like murder, which stops one life and falls back to punish the offender; it is the breath of the Devil, soiling every ear it touches. It is the most deadly of poisons. It blights many lives; it smites the innocent with the guilty.

Recently, a mother, estranged from her family, ended her life because gossip—groundless, vicious gossip—had cut her off from those who were dearest in all the world to her.

Those who murdered first the happiness of a woman, and then the life, went scot-free. No punishment in this world, unless they have consciences, can touch them. But we believe that when the final judgment comes, those who spread the gossip which killed good name and happiness—and life—will meet the same punishment as that visited upon the sons of Cain.

Dr. Howard Eager, a Baptist minister in Baltimore, told this story which is an Italian legend:

In the old days, a peasant confessed to a priest that he had slandered an innocent man. The priest said to him, "For your penance do this now. Take a bag of chicken down. Go to every yard in the town and drop one bit into each garden. Do not miss one yard. When you have finished, return to me."

The sinner believed his punishment was light. With his bag of down he made the circuit of the village and carefully dropped one soft feather into each garden. Then he reported to the priest, saying, "I have done my penance."

"No, my son," replied the abbe, "You will not have done your penance until you take the bag, go again on your rounds, collect every feather you have dropped, and bring it here to me."

The gossip protested that it would be impossible; he could not find the bits of down in a life time; many of them had blown far away.

"So it is with gossip," replied the old priest. "It is easily dropped. But never again, no matter how hard you try, can you gather back the words you have so thoughtlessly scattered."—The Delin-eator.

DRAG THE ROADS

When the summer sun is high,
Drag the Roads.
When the crops are all laid by,
Drag the Roads.
In the fall and in the spring,
When the birds begin to sing,
Mind you! It's the very thing—
Drag the Roads.

When there's heavy loads to haul,
Drag the Roads.
When you go to make a call,
Often on the way to town,
Should the grade be up or down,
Never falter! Never frown!
Drag the Roads.

When the farm work crowds apace,
Drag the Roads.
When you find a resting place,
Drag the Roads.
After all the heavy rains,
You can count up many gains,
If you'll only take the pains,
To Drag the Roads.

If your wife or daughter scolds,
Drag the Roads.
Fill up all the ugly holes,
Drag the Roads.
It will keep your temper sweet,
Horses sleek, and wagon neat,
Make a track that can't be beat,
Drag the Roads.

Whether soil be sand or clay,
Drag the Roads.
You can find no better way,
Drag the Roads.
When too wet to run a plow,
Run the drag and then how,
Passers-by will smile and bow—
Drag the Roads.

Get your neighbors on the job,
And Drag the Roads;
Some will fuss and some raise hob,
But Drag the Roads,
What if you do pay your tax,
And you find things are lax,
Settle down to solid facts,
And Drag the Roads.
—L. DILLON, Bedford, Va.

LAUGH AND LIVE

EXACTLY THAT!

Little Willie, taking a long walk with his Dad one day, saw a sign, "Painless Dentist."
Said Willie, "Dad, what is a painless dentist?"
"A painless dentist, my son, is a liar."

A QUEEN UP-TO-DATE

"My Queen," exclaimed her adorer, "timidly, 'may I kiss the royal hand?'"
"My faithful subject," replied the young woman, with the air of one gently chiding him, "what is the matter with the royal lips?"

UNPARDONABLE

Artist—"How do you like my portrait of the judge?"
Friend—"How much is he going to give for it?"
"What do you think he ought to give me?"
"Six months."

WHICH SERVED VERY WELL

"This check is doubtless all right," said the bank cashier politely, "but, have you anything about you by which you could be identified?"

The pretty young thing faltered: "I have a mole on my left elbow."

HUMAN AND HUMANE

"Now, Jimmy," said the teacher, "what is the difference between 'human' and 'humane'?"
Jimmy thought deeply for a moment.
"Well," he said, at length, "suppose you had two pieces of candy and a hungry little dog grabbed one from you. If you gave him the other piece you would be humane, but if you threw a stone at him you would be human."—Everybody's Magazine.

THE WAY IT SOUNDS

Little Jean was in her first grade at school. The teacher wrote the word "kitchen" on the blackboard, and then asked Jean, "What is the first sound in kitten?" She answered, "Meow."

BEHIND THE TIMES

Clancy—"What would you do if I kissed you?"
Nancy—"How do I know? You know very well I haven't been to the movies lately."

TOO HEAVY FOR HIM

An extraordinary fat woman, laden with parcels and packages, and bearing upon her countenance the look of one who is used to speaking her mind, was trying to mount the steps of a London bus.

Helplessly looking on stood the conductor, a diminutive bantam of a person.

The large female, having reached the second step, with a glance of withering scorn, said: "If yer was harf a man, yer'd 'elp me up."

The unformed miniature calmly replied: "If ye were 'arf a woman, I would."—London Times.

HORSE BLEW FIRST

After giving the new stable boy directions for treating a sick horse, the master returned in a little while to see if all had gone well.

He found the stable boy choking and spluttering, his face various hues of red, blue and green.

"Whata wrong?" said the boss.

"Well, you said to put a tube in his mouth and blow the powder down."

"Yes."

"Well, he blew first."—Everybody's Magazine.

DOMESTIC SCIENCE

Mistress—Mary, what a kitchen! Every pot, pan and dish is soiled; the table looks like the day after a cyclone! What have you been doing?

Mary—Well, maam, blessed if it be my fault. The young ladies has just been showing me how they bile a pertater at their cooking school."—Pearson's Weekly.

BRIEF LOCAL NEWS

—The Board of supervisors will meet next Tuesday.

—Mr. Frank Dogan is quite sick at his home, "Paradise Farm," near Manassas.

—Born to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Tyler on March 9th, a daughter, Mary Edna.

—The regular monthly meeting of the town council will be held next Monday night.

—Rev. J. W. Leedy, who has been confined to the house for several days, is able to be out again.

—Mr. C. J. Meetez leaves Tuesday, March 27, for McKenney, Va., where he will deliver a lecture.

—Mrs. Egbert Harrell was called to Washington on Monday on account of the critical illness of her cousin, Mr. James F. Gulick.

—There will be a meeting of Ewell Camp, C. V., in the directors' room of the National Bank on Monday, April 2 (court day), at 10:30 a. m.

—Mr. M. M. Washington, of Greenwich, who has been confined to his home for the past five or six weeks on account of sickness, is able to be out again.

—Born to Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Law, of Bixby, Miss., on Friday, March 16, a daughter, Jane Lewis. Mrs. Law was formerly Miss Margaret Lewis, of Manassas.

—Mr. and Mrs. Lee Starkweather Florence, of west Manassas, are being congratulated on the birth of a daughter, Lillie Jeannette Florence, born Wednesday, March 21.

—Mrs. Duke Blackwelder, of Washington, a daughter of Mrs. G. M. Shoemaker, of Bristow, who recently underwent an operation for appendicitis, is improving nicely.

—The community sale held here on Saturday was quite a success, many cattle, horses, hogs and farming implements being disposed of. A number of farmers from a distance were present.

—Bethel Lutheran Church, Rev. Edgar Z. Pence, pastor—Sunday School at 10 a. m.; preaching at 11 a. m. Sunday School at the Nokesville church at 1:30 p. m. and preaching at 2:30 p. m.

—The Ladies' Missionary Society of Sudley Church will hold a rummage sale at Catharpin on Saturday, March 31, beginning at 10 a. m. Everyone is cordially invited to come out and inspect our stock.

—Holy Week services will be held at the M. E. Church, South, next week beginning at 7:30 p. m. on Sunday. Consecration services will be held on Monday, Wednesday and Friday mornings from 6:15 to 6:45.

—The ladies of the United Brethren Church, of Buckhall, will give an oyster and ice cream supper at the home of Mrs. Moore, three miles southeast of Manassas, Saturday, March 31, beginning at 8 p. m. The public is cordially invited to attend.

—According to the Fairfax Herald, during a recent raid made by Fairfax and Arlington county officers, about 200 quarts of Scotch whiskey were seized at the home of Mr. Daniel Wells, and 50 quarts in the barn of Mr. John Wells near Falls Church.

—The children's vested choir of Trinity Episcopal Church will sing at the evening service on Sunday next, Palm Sunday, at 7:30 o'clock under the direction of Miss Margaret Hopkins, with Mrs. W. A. Newman at the organ. Members of other denominations are cordially invited to be present.

—The annual meeting of the congregation of Trinity Episcopal Church will be held in the church on Sunday night, April 8 (the Sunday after Easter). This meeting is held for the election of the vestry for the ensuing year, and the reading of reports of the work of the various organizations for the past year.

—Manassas is agog with excitement this week over the taking of "moving pictures" of the town. These will be shown at the Dixie Theatre later. Never has so much business of importance been discussed on the street corners as now, when the male portion of the town meeting accidentally stand in full range of the camera man perfectly oblivious of the fact.

—Upon entering the postoffice here on Tuesday morning, the public was greeted by a chorus of chirps from the throats of 500 baby chicks, which had been shipped by parcel post to County Agent W. L. Browning from the Culpeper Henneries. Mr. Browning finds it more satisfactory to purchase the chicks from a firm that makes a specialty of the business than to hatch them at home.

—According to the Loudoun Mirror, on last Thursday the sheriff of the county, with his deputies, raided a vacant house about two miles from Leesburg, where they found a large number of containers, eight gallons of corn whiskey and six and one-half gallons of home made wine. All were confiscated. Indications were that the liquor was kept for retailing, as many of the containers were partly empty.

—The following marriage licenses have been issued at the clerk's office this week: J. Clyde Bean and Verona Counts, both of near Brentsville; A. H. Jenkins and Emma T. Evans, of Manassas; Gilmore Thorn and Arnetta Harris (colored), of Manassas; Geo. Sibert and Julia McGhee (colored). The latter couple were married at the clerk's office on Monday night by the Rev. J. M. Taylor, of the Manassas Baptist Church.

—Mr. W. D. Miller, who for the past nineteen months has held the position of town sergeant for Manassas, has tendered his resignation to the town council, the same to take effect April 12. Mr. Miller has served in a most satisfactory manner during his term of office, and his many friends here are sorry to learn of his resignation. He has accepted a position with the Waynesboro Creamery Company, who have opened a branch plant at Charles Town, W. Va., and expects to leave for his new home about April 15.

STREETS IN DARKNESS

Owing to the break in the electric circuit, the town was in darkness as far as the street lights were concerned on Monday and Tuesday of this week.

We can appreciate more fully how very fortunate we are in having such well lighted streets after such an experience.

In fact, might not come amiss right here to congratulate ourselves on the good points of our little town anyway. One often hears it knocked, but rarely praised.

What other small town can boast of as beautifully shaded and well laid out streets? This sadly true that they could be much improved, but our sidewalks are as good as one could desire.

Our water supply is now abundant and of the very quality, while our railroad facilities can compare with any in the state.

MISS COUNTS A BRIDE

Early Morning Wedding Solemnized Here Wednesday.

The Methodist parsonage was the scene of a quiet wedding on Wednesday morning at eight o'clock, when Miss Verona Counts, daughter of Mr. John Counts, became the bride of Mr. J. Clyde Bean, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Bean, both of the young people being from the Brentsville neighborhood. The ceremony was witnessed only by immediate members of the two families.

The bride, who is a popular member of the younger set at Brentsville, was becomingly attired in a blue suit with accessories to match.

Immediately after the wedding, the young couple left on train No. 9 for a trip to Roanoke and Russell county, where they will visit relatives and friends for two weeks. Upon their return they will make their home with the parents of the groom.

IN MEMORIAM

RUNALDUE—In sad but loving remembrance of our dear friend, Mr. W. S. Runaldue, who departed this life one year ago, March 15, 1923.

Gone, dear friend, but not forgotten; God opened wide the golden gate And our dear friend entered through;

He has gone to meet his dear father and his brothers, too.

He has gone to rest with Jesus,

From this earth, where he suffered so much pain,

He has now a home in Heaven, that no one can take from him.

He has now a home in Heaven, with the angels and with God.

Our dear friend's face we shall never see no more.

But his memory shall always be dear to us.

His chair is ever vacant, and his voice we fail to hear,

And he left an aching void that no other one can fill.

He is gone, but not forgotten, And we miss him more and more,

And we long to meet him on the Bright and happy shore.

By his friend,

a ALICE BAILEY.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

We, the undersigned committee of Nokesville School, assembled this 19th day of March, 1923, do pass the following resolutions:

1. We learn with deep regret of the death of Elizabeth King and yet bow to the wisdom and love of the Divine Father in removing her from us.

2. That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family and one to the county paper.

On motion, the above resolutions were adopted by the whole school.

HAZEL C. HALDERMAN, NADINE SNIDER, PAULINE MANUEL, EDITH SWARTZ,

BRENTSVILLE

Quite a large number attended morning service at the Presbyterian Church last Sunday morning.

Mr. Paul Holsinger, of Baltimore, who is convalescing from a very severe attack of pneumonia, is visiting his parents here.

The local school teachers attended the teachers' meeting at Warrenton last week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Page, of Arkport, New York, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Paul Cooksey. They were en route to their old home in Charleston, South Carolina, where they will visit, together with several other points in the south, returning to their home about May 1.

Mr. H. S. Lam made a business trip to Washington this week.

We are more than glad to see some of our citizens interested in improving our sidewalks. This would add much to the appearance of our village so we hope the good work will go on.

Wedding bells are ringing in our town this week. Will tell you all about it later.

MINNIEVILLE

There was service at the Presbyterian Church Sunday night, Rev. Freeman, of Alexandria, officiating. There will also be preaching there next Sunday morning, March 25, at 11 o'clock.

News has reached here of the death of Mrs. Mahlon Glascock, which occurred in Washington on Sunday. Mrs. Glascock lived in Agnewville for a number of years. The many friends of the deceased extend their heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved loved ones. Funeral services were held Wednesday at one o'clock at Bethel Church, and interment was in the Glascock burying ground near the church.

The marriage of Miss Rowena Windsor, who has been working at Quantico, came as quite a surprise to her friends and home folks at Minnieville. Many good wishes to the newly weds.

Mrs. Sarah Pettit has been on the sick list.

Mrs. J. T. Clarke and Master Jack are visiting relatives in Washington.

Mrs. E. Z. Alexander visited the home of her brother Sunday.

CLIFTON

Services were held in the Presbyterian and the Baptist Church Sunday morning, and in the Baptist Church Sunday night, Rev. C. H. Fry having returned from his trip north to attend his uncle's funeral.

Mr. and Mrs. Richards, who with Miss Ruth, have returned from Washington, where they have been spending the winter, were cordially welcomed by their friends at the Sunday morning service.

Mr. Lester Ludlum, of Chicago, spent the week end with his aunt, Mrs. S. H. Detwiler. Mr. Ludlum was left an orphan when very young, and his aunt, Mrs. G. A. Hall, brought him up to manhood and it was the memory of her love and care that brought him to visit her recently made grave. Unfortunately, it was impossible to wire him of her death on account of the wires being down all over the country, so he came in answer to a letter.

The school had holiday on Thursday and Friday of last week while the faculty attended the teachers' meeting held in Warrenton.

Mr. Irvin Godfrey has gone to Alexandria to work, where his wife and son expect soon to join him.

Mrs. George Kidwell's sister and son from Washington are visiting her. Mr. Kidwell has had trouble with his injured eye lately. Mrs. Kidwell's mother is better.

Mr. R. C. Lewis was a Sunday visitor to his farm here.

The commuters did not get to Clifton until after 11 o'clock on Monday night, due to the tracks being obstructed by a wrecked freight train. Some of them stayed in town when they found it would be so very late before they reached home.

Mr. Kemper, Sr., who has been quite ill for nearly two weeks, is slowly getting back his strength. Mr. and Mrs. Kemper, with the children, have all been sick, but are better.

Mrs. Mary Burke and sister, Miss Annie Hickey, are both very ill at their home here. Miss Burke is with them, also one of their brothers from Maryland.

Mrs. Richard Burke is still quite ill. The stock and implements of Mason Campbell were sold last week. Most of the things were sold very cheap.

We have again had a very decided change in the temperature.

DUMFRIES

There will be services at the M. E. Church Sunday night, March 25, by Rev. A. H. Shumate.

Messrs. W. W. Sisson, R. F. Waters and Dr. D. C. Cline, attended a banquet in Washington Thursday evening, given by the Chevrolet Motor Co. Mr. John Tubbs, who has seen quite sick, is very much improved.

Miss Constance Waters spent the week-end at her home here, returning to Manassas Sunday.

Rev. A. H. Shumate was a Sunday guest of his friend, Mr. George F. Waters.

Mr. R. F. Waters is expected to have his new house completed in about two weeks.

Mr. J. M. Keys recently purchased a new Chevrolet.

Mr. Grover King and Mr. George Waters made a business trip to Alexandria Monday.

Mr. Jesse Rainey has completed his new bungalow on Main street.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Speake called on Mrs. Grover King Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. L. V. Brawner and granddaughter, Eleanor, spent Sunday evening with Mrs. Brawner's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Brawner.

Mr. C. H. Brawner, who has been employed this winter in Alexandria, is home on a vacation.

Mrs. M. J. Keys and family, accompanied by Miss Norah Beazley, motored to Fredericksburg Sunday.

A delightful surprise party was given Mrs. Anna Speake Saturday evening, it being the anniversary of her birthday. Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Ratcliffe, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Waters, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Sisson, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Brawner, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Garrison, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Brawner, Mr. and Mrs. Elvan Keys, Mrs. W. S. Brawner, Miss Constance Waters, and Messrs. George Waters, Wilbur Brawner and little Miss Elizabeth Brawner. Mrs. Speake was very much surprised upon opening the dining room door to find upon the table a birthday cake with candles.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. Reid and son, Bobby, and Mr. Holsey Reed, of Hoadly, spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Reid.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Holmes and two children, of Fredericksburg, spent Saturday and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Willie Kincheloe.

Mrs. Arthur Lovelace, who has been on the sick list, is somewhat better.

Miss Rowena Windsor, of Quantico, and Mr. Roy Ellison, of Washington, were quietly married in Washington on Monday. Miss Windsor is the second daughter of Mr. Luther Windsor, of Minnieville, and for the past year has been making her home with her aunt, Mrs. Mayme Reid.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Reid and children were callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Fick near Quantico, on Sunday.

Mr. Wilson Kincheloe called on Mr. E. M. Briggs near Minnieville Monday on business.

Mr. Ernest Reid has moved his sawmill on the Joe Shepherd place near Minnieville to saw cedar for the Lexington Lumber Company.

Mrs. Ernest Reid, Mrs. Willie Kincheloe and little Lucy Kincheloe spent Tuesday with Mrs. D. C. Cline.

Miss Alma Keys, of St. Elmo, spent Saturday and Sunday with her cousin, Miss Faith Kincheloe.

Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Keys and family of Potomac, spent Friday night with Mr. Keys' sister, Mrs. D. C. Cline, on their way to the home of Mr. E. G. W. Keys, at Joplin.

Mr. Francis Keys, of Joplin, has returned to his home after working in Washington during the winter.

Mr. H. F. Cline, Miss Faith Brawner, Mrs. D. C. Cline and two children, Hilda and David, jr., motored to Stafford Courthouse Sunday evening to see the new courthouse since it has been completed. Stafford truly has a building to be proud of.

Mrs. R. S. Brawner called on Mrs. Claude Brawner Monday evening.

Mr. Elvan Keys has completed a much needed porch on the side entrance to the Jr. O. U. A. M. Hall.

The Dumfries high school faculty is getting up a play entitled, "School Days of Long Ago." You can bet on a good play, for that is what Dumfries high school gives us.

The family of Mrs. Grover King are convalescing, we are glad to know.

Mrs. Annie Merchant and daughter, Violet, who have been on the sick list, are now improving.

SMITHFIELD

Owing to so much rain, the farmers will be late getting their spring work done. Those who have finished plowing are lucky. The housewives are busy with their young chickens, house cleaning and getting ready to plant their gardens.

Most of the sick folks of this vicinity are up and about again.

Mr. J. J. Murphey, of Manassas, recently visited relatives here.

The roads in this vicinity are still very bad. There seems to be but one mud hole on Route 2, and that extends from Mr. Sam Lowe's to Mrs. Nellie Posey's lane. Our mail carrier has been unable to use his car on this route since last fall.

Mr. Eli Kincheloe killed two very nice hogs one day last week.

Mr. Geo. MacDonald, who works in Washington, spent the week-end with his family.

Miss Belle Kincheloe, who has been spending the past two weeks with her parents of this place and her sister, Miss Anna Kincheloe, of Quantico, has returned to her position in Washington.

Miss Hazel Lunsford, who is attending school in Manassas, recently visited her home here, and called at Smithfield school on Friday afternoon. Mrs. Barnes' condition remains about the same.

Miss Hilda Barnes spent Monday night with her classmate, Miss Mary Barbee.

BUCKHALL

Mrs. F. J. Chandler and the Misses Jessie Payne and Beulah Whitmer attended the Teachers' Conference at Warrenton two days last week.

Mr. J. T. Speakes attended the community sale in Manassas Saturday and purchased several pigs, including one purebred.

Another fox hunt was participated in by several people, in our vicinity last Wednesday. We did not learn the results.

Rev. William Stevens will preach his farewell sermon at the Methodist Church here next Sunday, before leaving for the annual conference the middle of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Morgan enjoyed a visit from their daughter the past week.

The Methodist people and their friends are preparing an Easter pageant and service for Easter night. The program will be printed next week.

Mr. Whitmer moved the outbuildings from the place recently purchased of Mrs. McLearn, to his home place last week. He also placed a roof over his silo.

There was no school here Thursday and Friday of last week, while the teachers were attending the Teachers' Conference.

Miss Freida Koontz, of Richmond, organized a Junior League in the school here one day recently.

Mr. W. J. Jasper attended the community sale at Manassas Saturday and sold some stock.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Winslow were callers at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Chandler, last Sunday afternoon.

Miss Etta Colbert was a caller here Saturday.

Quite a number of our farmers have pledged themselves to raise certain acreages of tomatoes and vegetables to furnish the proposed canning factory with materials for their use.

Mr. F. C. Cornwell will soon move his family and household effects below the "Run."

Said a Mouthful

¶ During war time a lady went into a meat market and asked for 15 cents worth of porterhouse steak. The butcher replied: "Madam, you said a mouthful."

¶ Of course the butcher was sarcastic and not any too polite. If we desired to "say a mouthful" to the people of this community it would be condensed into the statement that the dollar saved and deposited at our Bank will prove one of the best friends you can make in a life time. Just try it and see.
