LARGE CLASS TAKES COURSE

Professor Snavely Lectures Here on "Labor" in University Extension Work.

The first of a series of sixteen lectures to be given by members of the faculty of the University of Virginia in an extension course in Economics offered here through the efforts of Miss Eugenia Osborn, principal of the local High School, was delivered at the High School Tuesday night by Professor Snavely. Professor Snavely spoke on "Labor Organizations in England."

Professor Snavely delivered a preliminary lecture the week before on "The Labor Vote in the Presidential Election", but due to the fact that there were several new members of the class present for the first time Tuesday, the lecture this week was regarded as the first period. Those who take the course, and who pass the examination to be given at its conclusion, will be given credit for the work by the University.

Professor Snavely in his lecture on "Labor Organizations in England", outlined the history of the organization of the first labor unions in England; how these organizations finally became a power in British politics, and covered in outline the economic and social changes brought about by these organizations. He described the fundamental principles of union labor, the reasons why they were stronger in thickly populated industrial centers than they were in the United States, and indicated what might be expected in the future as a growth of labor unions in this country.

The lecture proved to be exceptionally interesting to the class of approximately fifteen men and women who attended.

Miss Osborn is making an effort this week to enlarge the class, and hopes to have other men and women in Manassas take the very interesting course.

Following is a program of the lectures to be delivered here:

1. "The Labor Vote in the Presidential Election"—Professor Snavely.
2. "Development of Modern Tariff Systems"—Associate Professor Berglund.
3. "An Outline of Our Marketing System"—Professor Snavely.

FAVOR VIRGINIA SITE FOR NATIONAL PARK

With Improved Roads Manassas Would Be Mecca For Many Tourists.

The committee of government experts who have been investigating the various sites offered as the location for the great Southern Appalachian National Park returned to Washington this week after viewing the Great Smoky mountains of Tennessee, but the Virginia site is still said to be favored by the committee for first choice. Intimation that Virginia may have a great national park, which bids fair to rival Yellowstone Park, Wyoming, as a mecca for world tourists, is of interest to this section of the state for with improved highways, Manassas would be visited by thousands of tourists journeying between Washington and the Appalachian National Park.

GOOD HOUSEKEEPERS MEET

The Bethlehem Good Housekeepers Club discussed subjects of a literary nature at a meeting held in the home of Mrs. G. C. Round Saturday. Eleven members of the club and five visitors attended the meeting. After a delightful social hour the club adjourned to meet with Mrs. L. F. Hough, in December, by invitation of the Manassas club. Mrs. E. H. Denton, Mrs. C. C. Lynn, Mrs. Will Davies, Mrs. A. A. Hoeff and Mrs. Percival Lewis, were the five guests who attended the meeting. Mrs. Stuart Gibson was assistant hostess.

KIWANIS HEARS COL. WILLIAMS

Member of Alexandria Club Addresses Local Kiwanians Friday Night.

Julien Williams, of Alexandria, outlined the work which the Alexandria club had accomplished for the underprivileged children of Alexandria and Arlington county, and urged the local club to map out and execute a definite program for the upbuilding of the community, in an address which he delivered at the weekly meeting of the Kiwanis Club Friday night at the High School. The usual dinner was served.

The Kiwanis spirit of good-fellowship which has manifested itself at all Kiwanis gatherings was in evidence at the meeting Friday, and the talks made by nearly all of the members were interspersed with humor.

G. Raymond Ratcliffe presided at the meeting, and at the conclusion of the dinner introduced E. H. Marsteller, who talked to the club on his own business. Mr. Ratcliffe then resigned the chair in favor of O. D. Waters, who asked the members of a committee which had recently visited the Washington and Alexandria clubs to report on their visits.

C. E. Nash and Thomas H. Lion talked for three minutes each about their visit to Washington. C. R. C. Johnson and James Bradford reported on their visit to Alexandria. All four of the local men expressed their appreciation at the hospitable manner in which they had been received in the neighboring cities, and declared that while an excellent club spirit existed, and much had been accomplished by the Washington and Alexandria clubs, that they felt that the local club had made a beginning which gave promise of accomplishments, which would compare favorably with the clubs in those cities.

EPISCOPAL CHURCH IN VIRGINIA IS GROWING

Diocese Has Increased in Membership at the Rate of 570 Communicants a Year.

The Episcopal Church in the Diocese of Virginia has increased at a net average rate of 570 communicants a year since 1919, the date of the introduction of the annual fall campaign culminating in the every member canvass. For thirteen years prior to that time it grew at an average rate of only 250 a year and while now there are 18,656 communicants in the diocese, in 1919 there were 15,828, according to the Rev. G. McL. Brydon, diocesan treasurer. The campaign for 1924 will culminate next Sunday in the every member canvass when $202,000 is asked of the territory over which the Rt. Rev. William Cabell Brown, D. D., is bishop. Of this amount $108,517 is allotted to Richmond and the remainder must come from the diocese at large.

The growth of Sunday School work has kept pace with that of the communicant list, for Mr. Brydon declares there were only 147 Sunday Schools in 1919 having 959 officers and teachers and 9,969 scholars, while today the diocese has 167 schools with 1,204 officers and teachers, and 10,978 scholars. This shows an increase of twenty schools and 1,000 scholars.

THE YEAR'S BEST STORY

Ring W. Lardner, according to critics, has written the best American story of the year. "The Champion" is even said to be the "best American story ever written." It will appear in the Magazine of The Washington Star Sunday, November 23, and you cannot afford to miss it. Order your copy of the Star from your newsdealer today.

THIS YEAR'S CROPS ARE BELOW AVERAGE

Production of Corn, Wheat, Peanuts, Tobacco, and Cotton Less Than Last Year.

The harvest of crops in Virginia has been practically completed, and the preliminary estimates of yields show that the average of yields per acre this year of all crops is 5.2 per cent below the average for the past ten years, according to the November Report of the Virginia Crop Reporting Service.

All crops made poor growth during the past season owing to the exceptionally wet spring followed by the mid-summer drought. However, weather conditions have been unusually favorable during the harvest season. The production of corn, wheat, peanuts, tobacco and cotton is less than last year, while the crop of oats, white potatoes, sweet potatoes, hay and apples is somewhat larger.

The average yield per acre of corn is estimated to be 21 bushels compared with 29 last year and 27.2 bushels the average for the past ten years. The total production is 35,679,000 bushels against 53,536,000 last year and 53,805,000 the average for the past ten years. The crop in the United States is now expected to be 2,477,538,000 bushels which is 568,000,000 bushels less than last year.

The preliminary estimate of the Virginia tobacco crop is 141,240,000, which is 9,720,000 pounds less than the final estimate last year.

The average yield of the early crop of potatoes is much better than last year. The yield is estimated to be 120 bushels compared with 93 bushels last year. The total production is 19,200,000 bushels against 14,136,000 bushels in 1923.

The average yield per acre of sweet potatoes is estimated to be 120 bushels, compared with 125 bushels last year. This indicates a production of 5,400,000 bushels against 5,280,000 bushels last year.

The total production of commercial apples is now estimated to be 2,288,000 barrels, compared with 1,850,000 last year and 1,100,000 barrels in 1922.

BUCKHALL LEAGUE TO MEET

The Community League of Buckhall will hold its regular monthly meeting at 7:30 o'clock Friday. Business of importance will be discussed, and a short program will be rendered. Refreshments will be served.

CHARGE FOR NOTICES

For many years it has been almost the universal policy of newspapers to charge for all reading notices regarding affairs for which an admission would be charged, or where articles were to be sold, and The Journal will adopt this policy beginning January 1, 1925.

A newspaper's space is the only thing which it has to sell, and it is a commodity just as much so as flour, sugar or coffee, and yet people who would never ask a grocer to contribute sugar or flour to a cause, take it as a matter of course that advertising should be free. We feel that this change is made only in justice to ourselves, and in conformity to the generally accepted policy of other newspapers.

COMES HERE IN AIRPLANE

Lieutenant E. E. Harmon, accompanied by Sergeant G. D. Kersey, of Bolling Field, who came to Manassas Saturday leaving their Metacomban Friday in an airplane, returned to Washington Saturday leaving their plane here until Monday morning when they returned and later departed in their plane for Bolling Field. Unfavorable weather Saturday caused the officer to postpone the return trip until Monday.

While in Manassas Lieutenant Harmon officiated at a football game at Swavely School.

MANASSAS HIGH WINS FROM CULPEPER TEAM

Local Soccer Team Has Little Difficulty in Defeating Visitors by Score of 24 to 1.

Manassas Agricultural High School soccer team won from the Culpeper County team with a score of 24 to 1 in a game here Saturday. Although Culpeper lost she put up a game fight against a faster and better trained team. The visitors showed improvement during the last forty-five minutes of play.

The local boys showed fine team work, many passes being executed at a distance of twenty-five to thirty yards, showing accuracy and speed. Wallace Lynn, Jack Jasper and Charles Humphreys were the outstanding stars, although Bill Lewis ran a good second, scoring once from the thirty-five yard line.

To date only two games have been played by the home team and they have three others to play before the close of the season. The first game was played with Upper Marlboro on their grounds. Although the locals lost 11 to 1, the one score made by M. H. S. was the first scored against Marlboro in eight years.

The line up for the Culpeper game was as follows:

FARMERS MAY OBTAIN NEW EXPLOSIVE FREE

Surplus War Explosive "Pyrotol" to be Distributed to Farmers Free.

Arrangements have been made by the V. P. I. Extension Division to secure for Virginia farmers the new government explosive, "Pyrotol." The purpose of this distribution is to put surplus explosives directly into the hands of the individual farmer for use in improving his own land.

Pyrotol is a comparatively safe, high explosive. A cartridge of Pyrotol weighs about six ounces and is equal in strength to the usual cartridge of dynamite. That is, in a 50-pound box of dynamite there are 100 cartridges, where in each box of Pyrotol there are about 150 cartridges each. Pyrotol can be completely detonated by a No. 6 cap of either the electric or fuse type. A supply of caps for use with fuse will be sent free with each order while they last.

No charge is made for this explosive itself, but there is a charge for freight and preparation. The cost will be $8.75 per hundred pounds, F. O. B. Richmond.

Farmers wishing to secure this explosive should get in touch with their county agent or agricultural high school teacher, or write direct to The Department of Agricultural Engineering for order blanks.

LOCAL PLAY IS WELL RECEIVED

Musical Comedy, "The Flapper Grandmother," Very Successfully Presented.

An audience that packed Conner's Hall witnessed the very successful presentation of the musical comedy, "The Flapper Grandmother," by local talent Friday night. The play was well rendered, and from the opening curtain to the close was thoroughly enjoyed by the audience. The entire cast proved exceptionally good in their respective parts, Miss Sallie Moran as "Belindy Spriggins" and Mrs. B. Lynn Robertson, as "Lena Spriggins," displaying a great deal of talent.

The chorus of debutante flappers, composed of Helen Coleman, Elizabeth Coleman, Garnett Brown, Lucie Larkin, Winnie Wenrich, Sarah Rice, Mary Lee Arrington and Anna Bruce Whitmore were particularly attractive.

Following it the cast of characters Andrew Spriggins, C. J. Meetz; Ma Spriggins, Mrs. H. W. Sanders; Lena Spriggins, Mrs. B. Lynn Robertson; Belindy Spriggins, Sallie Moran; Maggie Pepper, Thelma Marie Richardson; Dick Tate, Charles Armistead Sinclair; Jimmy Swift, Hawes Davies; Bobby Smith, Rudolph Whitmore; Dr. Joy, Martin Lynch; Count Seekem Rich, Carroll Rice; Rastus Jones, D. R. Lewis; Lilly White, Worth Storkie; Elf, Elizabeth Coleman; Edith, Ellen Bisson.

The Rag Dolls, composed of little girls, and the Door Knob Chorus, composed of still younger girls, were both good in their little singing and dancing sketch. Mary Priscilla Lunsford, Dorothy Virginia Evans, Mary Aileen Cannon, Mildred Iden, Louise Kathryn Kincheloe, Mary Lynch, Wilthia Robinson and Mary Elizabeth Marsteller were members of the Rag Doll chorus. The Door Knob Chorus was composed of Nancy Browning, Peggy Mansfield, Margaret Eutsler, Ellen Bisson, Dorothy Ritter, Mary Ligon McGinnis, Helen Gilroy and Ann Bradford.

A sketch was also rendered by a chorus of boys, composed of John Maloney, Bobby Weir, Jenkin Davies, Dabney Waters and Wallace Lynn. They were known as the "Jelly Beans."

The matrons who attended the bargain sale at the Spriggins store were Mrs. J. L. Hynson, Mrs. R. B. Hynson, Mrs. Howard W. Jamison, Sarah Donohoe, Louise Maloney and Nelle Hyde. The play was directed by Miss Thelma Marie Richardson, and Mrs. Francis Ellis was the accompanist.

TYLER-DULANY WEDDING

The marriage of Miss Marion Dulany, daughter of the late Cassius Carter Dulany, and Mrs. Dulany, to William Bailey Tyler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bailey Tyler, of "The Shelter," was solemnized at St. Paul's Church, Haymarket, Saturday afternoon, the rector, the Rev. J. H. A. Bomberger officiating.

The altar and chancel of the church were decorated with masses of white and yellow chrysanthemums, ferns and candles. "Oh! Perfect Love," and the bridal chorus from "Lohengrin" were sung by the vested choir, with Mrs. Grayson Tyler at the organ. The bride entered the church with her brother, Cassius Carter Dulany, who gave her in marriage. She wore a dress of midnight blue cloth, with lace collar, and a small fur trimmed hat. Her flowers were white roses. Miss Anner Dulany was her sister's only attendant.

The bridegroom was attended by his cousin, Mr. Joe Virden, of Baltimore, as best man. The ushers were Charles Keyser and Bernard Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Tyler left immediately after the ceremony for Washington, where they will make their home.

Among the out-of-town guests attending the wedding were: Miss Mary Anne Tyler, of Washington; Miss Anner Moss Tyler, of Wilmington, Del.; Mr. and Mrs. R. Lloyd Chamberlain and the Misses Chamberlain, Miss Mary Love Virden, Mrs. J. C. Claggett, Sam Claggett and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Williams, all of Baltimore.

OLD COMMUNITY ADVERTISED

Idle complaints about so much money being sent out of town by local consumers to mail order houses in other cities, may be true, but to merely register complaints only advertises the existing condition and does more harm than good. If local merchants are to successfully combat the mail order house business, they must "fight the devil with fire"—they must advertise. The business of the mail order house thrives in self-satisfied, unprogressive communities that do not advertise.

The Manassas Journal goes into the homes of 1500 subscribers, most of them in Manassas and Prince William county, each Thursday, taking the message of local merchants, and as the foe of the mail order house catalog. If The Journal does not carry a representative line of advertising—if stores that sell drugs, hardware, clothing dry goods, notions, shoes, furniture and household goods and every other commodity required in the equipment and maintenance of the home are not represented, then The Journal is not the force, which it should be in drawing business to Manassas.

If The Journal is not a powerful force in combating the mail order house business, in boosting the community, and in advancing the cause of her people, then it is not fulfilling its mission, and if this is true, then such a failure is detrimental to the interests of every business man, and resident of the community, for we will all suffer alike, in an indirect way.

If The Journal is to properly fulfill its mission, it must have the co-operation of the merchants, and that kind of co-operation based on a broad vision of the collective good which a live newspaper filled with advertising matter, is doing for all alike when it goes into the homes of consumers.

The merchant not only benefits directly by newspaper advertising, but he is helping in the general upbuilding of the community. Some merchants receive this indirect benefit although they do not advertise themselves for the progressive dry goods merchant who attracts a consumer to town to buy goods, helps the hardware man, because the consumer once here to buy, will obtain all he needs in every line, and so there are advertising slackers just as there are other kinds of slackers, if a few have to advertise for all.

HAIR LONG, OR SHORT

It is regrettable that a man who has possibly devoted years in preparing himself for the very high purpose of winning souls for God should be so misled as to criticize young women so severely for bobbing their hair, that the bobbed hair members of the church choir went on a strike. The Rev. Burke Culpeper, an evangelist, of Memphis, Tenn., while conducting a revival at Mt. Vernon M. E. Church, South, spoke of those with shorn locks as "young bobbed hair sissies," and when the bobbed hair members of the choir remained out of church, the evangelist is said to have gone even further and made the following declaration:

"I've had a lot of anonymous letters and telephone calls since I expressed my opinion of bobbed hair. All I've got to say is if the people who wrote and called up had spent their time praying they'd have a lot more chance of reaching the pearly gates."

The minister is exactly correct when he says that the people who called him up wasted their time. However, the minister, we believe, was also wasting time, when he failed to grasp and adhere to the great principles of honor, integrity and morality, combined with an acknowledgment of the existence of a Supreme Being, as the prime requisites of a Christian, and not whether their hair was long or short.

THE CARELESS MAN

The hunting season opened Saturday and carelessness has already begun to take its toll of human lives. Each year numbers of young men are killed, many of them probably unavoidably, but a great majority of them through inexcusable carelessness.

Regardless of the number of deaths, which occur as the result of thoughtlessness, the lesson which these fatalities teach seems to have no effect on those who read or otherwise learn of them. Ordinary precautions are often disregarded and the result is loss of life.

Many of us lack in thoughtfulness of others, and it is bad enough when this lack of thought is evidenced in our daily lives, but there is absolutely no excuse for the irresponsible man who handles a loaded firearm.

OUR EXTENSION COURSE

Miss Eugenia H. Osborn, principal of the Manassas High School, is to be congratulated on securing for Manassas a University of Virginia extension course in economics, thus offering the people of this section an unusual opportunity to take one of the most interesting courses offered by the University at very little expense.

People should never neglect an opportunity to improve their education, particularly their knowledge of economic problems confronting the country, for in improving their knowledge of these questions they are making of themselves better citizens.

Extension courses as they are now offered by the University and other leading institutions of learning, are comparatively a new departure in educational work. Through the extension courses, the University offers the advantages of instruction by regular members of the faculty in the most important subjects taught at the University. The development of extension courses offers to people who are for many reasons unable to attend the University an opportunity to receive this instruction. The extension course marks a great step forward in the educational system of the country.

Manassas people should accept the opportunity to take this course, and Miss Osborn in securing it displayed a commendable interest in the development of our people.

EDUCATIONAL WEEK

In every public school in America "Education Week" is being observed this week for the purpose of arousing greater interest among people generally in democracy's greatest bulwark—our public school system.

Few people stop to think of the great part that the public schools play in the development of a nation, how valuable these public institutions are in the preservation of our ideals of free speech, free religion and of that great provision of the constitution which assures us that "all men are born free and equal."

Our social evils are curbed and must ultimately be solved by education. Our political and economic welfare is dependent upon the maintenance and development of our public schools.

People who cherish the traditions of this country, and who give serious thought to our future, should never falter in their allegiance to our public educational system, or fail to support it by showing their interest in our children, their welfare and their surroundings.

A NOVEMBER WIND

The wind is out with his broom today,
 And he sweeps the leaves from his path away.
 He whirls the dust through the street along,

And he sings as he passes this lusty song:
 "Sweep oh! Sweep oh!
 From the end of the earth I go!
 Over the hills, the streets, the town!
 Over the valleys sear and brown,
 I and my broom together go,
 Singing, Sweep oh! Sweep oh!
 Sweep oh!"

And then he comes with a mighty roar
 And rush and bluster the country o'er;
 Trumpeting over each flower-decked way,
 Welding his broom with a martial sway,
 Shouting hoarsely: "To bed! To bed!
 My voice is mighty; your day is o'er;
 Down into your chamber, I'll shut the door!"

"Sweep oh! Sweep oh!
 Instead of dust there will be snow."

LAUGH AND LIVE

(With thanks to our exchanges)

A dentist in a small village in New York state had extracted a tooth for an extremely nervous woman. She admitted that she had no money with which to pay the fee.

"Oh, that's all right," the dentist assured her; "just tell me your husband's name, and I'll charge the amount."

"W-W-Wal, I'm that upset I-I-I just can't think now what his name is," stammered the woman. "You see, I allers call him pa!"

In a city not a hundred miles from Boston lived a certain Baptist, one of the hard-shell kind. One day a friend of his, who was a Methodist, remarked: "You know, John, there are other ways besides the Baptist way of getting to heaven."

The strict Baptist drew himself up. "There may be," he said with withering scorn, "but no gentleman would take advantage of them."

The young man was telling his sweetheart how he had been attracted to her.

"You were a lovely flower and I was a bee," he explained to her. "I was a mouse and you were a piece of cheese."

And then he wondered why she rose and left the room.

"Mandy, you didn't call for our wash for two weeks, yet you sent me a bill for it just the same."

"Yas'm. Ah done tuk a two weeks' vacation wif pay."

"When I'm a man—" began Robbie, after a stormy interview with his father—

"What will you do?" asked his mother.

"I'll name my boy after dad—and oh! how I'll spank him!"

Lady—"Why didn't you send your assistant to mend my electric bell?"

Man—"I did send him, madam, and he said he rang about a dozen times, and as he didn't get any answer, he came to the conclusion that you must be out."

Frenchman—"Ah, madame, your singing was zee most wonderful thing!"

Hostess (modestly) — "No, no Count; the credit should go to my accompanist."

Frenchman—"Quite so, madame, but zee Frenchman is always zee gentleman."

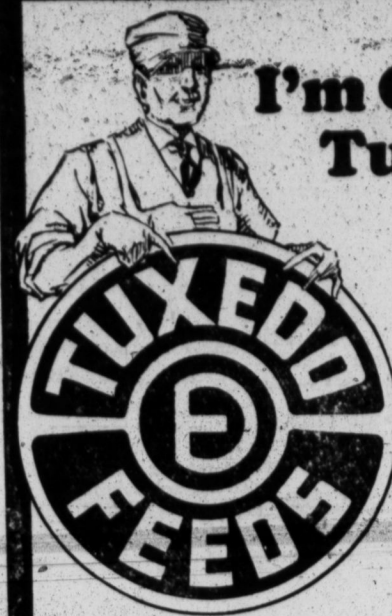

Bus Conductor (to passenger who has just thanked him prettily for picking up her bag)—"That's all right, miss. You ain't like the lady as I did the same thing for yesterday. When I ands'er the bag she says, 'Ye're a rara avis.' That's all I got for being perlitte."

Sandy was an elder in the church, and a truly pious man. He had an eye for beauty and a love for it, but he married Tina because he knew she would make him an excellent wife. "I suppose Tina is a handsome lass?" said Sandy's cousin, who met him in Glasgow not long after the marriage, and had never seen the bride. "I ken ye've gude taste, Sandy," "Aweel," said the bridegroom cautiously, "she's the Lord's handiwork, Tammas. I'm no prepared to say she is his masterpiece."

"You seem to be able-bodied and healthy," she remarked; "you ought to be strong enough to work."

"True enough, lady," he replied. "And you seem beautiful enough to be in the movies, but evidently you prefer the simple life."

Her cold look vanished and she gave him a good meal.

RECORD DISASTER YEAR KEPT RED CROSS BUSY

In 192. Places in United States Its Relief Operations Cost $737,603.

One hundred and ninety-two disasters resulting in 735 deaths and injury to 1,332 persons, rendering nearly 44,000 homeless and causing property losses estimated at more than $44,750,000, established a new record in the United States in the year ended last June 30, according to reports of the American Red Cross. In all of these disasters immediately relief activity was applied by the Red Cross, which expended $737,603.37 through the national organization and the local chapters in assisting stricken communities.

As the nation's chief relief agency, whose service covers over 43 years, the Red Cross is expected to be on duty almost as soon as disaster strikes any locality. This trust and confidence is amply justified by the increasing equipment of the Red Cross, which recently organized a mobile disaster unit of experienced workers ready in all parts of the country to respond on the instant to a call for active duty. This unit is capable of operating in several disaster areas under one general direction, and recently was at work in seven communities in five states at the same time.

Ability, alertness and increasing skill of volunteer workers in more than 3,500 chapters are reasons for the preparedness of Red Cross for disaster operations, be the call for a disturbance in a restricted local area or for millions in relief funds for a staggering catastrophe such as the earthquake in Japan.

The Red Cross, however, is far from being self-satisfied, for the organization is giving the most serious consideration to measures for preventing disasters. Its relief administration and rehabilitation policies have won for it nation-wide regard. That this important work can always measure up to every demand needs the continued support of the American people through Red Cross membership. The annual enrollment will begin Armistice Day, November 11, and every American is urged to join or renew membership in the Red Cross.

Help yourself by helping others with your dollar Red Cross membership. The dividend in good works is guaranteed.

Children of 29,942 Schools Now Enrolled in Movement of Service to Humanity.

The American Junior Red Cross, which was organized as a children's auxiliary during war-times especially to help the young refugees in Europe, and to exemplify in peace-time the Red Cross ideal of service, has now a membership of 5,596,663 in the schools of the United States and the insular possessions.

This Junior movement gives opportunity for the children to share in Red Cross effort parallel to that of the parent organization. Juniors are therefore identified in varying degree with the health services, disaster relief work, salvage and other suitable activities of value to the operations of the Red Cross.

It is a valiant host marching on under its "I Serve" banner in the cause of happier childhood everywhere and particularly wherever the American flag flies. The enrollment embraces 29,942 schools and 147,436 school rooms, a gain over 1923 of 5,655 schools and 22,414 school rooms. The year's gain in membership was 769,402 children, or nearly 80,000 for each month of the school year.

The educational and social values of the Junior Red Cross movement is thus evidencing the firm and cordial endorsement of school authorities. The government has added the weight of recognition by extending the Junior Red Cross in the schools for American Indian children. The American Red Cross is also planning to develop the Junior program in 600 rural schools in isolated sections.

There is no abatement of the exchange of correspondence between schools in the United States and schools in the insular possessions and foreign lands. During the year the Junior Red Cross in part supported operations in twelve European countries. It is a potent influence for the cultivation of international goodwill and its example has been the means of stimulating the formation of Junior Red Cross societies in more than thirty countries.

EXPRESS REGARD FOR LAND

The Covington Virginian, controlled by Richard F. Bieme, until recently a member of the State Industrial Commission, and which was edited by A. B. Land during a part of the time that Colonel Bieme was located in Richmond, has the following editorial in a recent issue:

"Captain Land Leaves"
"Captain A. B. Land, who, during the last year has served as editor of this newspaper, is leaving Covington to pursue his profession across the mountains. It is pleasing to know that he will remain in Virginia. Not only this newspaper, but Covington and Alleghany as well, owe Captain Land a debt of gratitude. He revived our local National Guard company and made it one of the best in the state. He was always ready and willing to give his time and talents to the uplifting of the community, and he served us most loyally, efficiently and faithfully. He carries with him the best wishes of the community and the hope that when this county and this newspaper grows to a point where we must employ more editors, we will be able to make an offer sufficiently attractive to him to bring him back to us."

DAD has always wanted an open car. He likes freedom. He wants speed—and flexibility. He loves to open 'er up on a smooth country road and feel the wind whiz past his face.

But Mother... she wants comfort and protection—she's thinking of that rainy day when the youngsters have to go to school.

And here at last is a new-type car to meet this old-time family problem.

It's a glorious—joyous—free, airy open car when you want it.

Then when it storms it may be changed to a comfortable, weather-tight enclosed car with complete protection from wind and rain.

Thirty seconds is all it takes—simply lower the roller side enclosures, without even leaving your seat. You've never seen anything like it before.

The Duplex body is framed and shaped in steel. Upper and lower sections are integral. Thus its construction is substantial and its beauty lasting.

It banishes once and for all the trouble of attaching the old-type curtains—makeshift at best.

No more hurried efforts hunting for the right curtain while the storm beats in.

No more exposure, through holes torn in them, while trying to obtain, for the emergency, the protection given by a closed car.

To the man unwilling to sacrifice the thrill of open car motoring—to the woman who wants closed car protection right at her finger tips—this car offers a wonderful new adventure—it marks a new era in fine car possession.

In justice to yourself—see the new Duplex now. Only Studebaker makes it.

STATE NEWS NOTES LATEST WORLD
NEWS IN BRIEF

Protecting Crabbing Industry.
Richmond, Va., Nov. 20.—Steps necessary for the protection of the crabbing industry in Chesapeake Bay and its tributaries were agreed upon at a conference, attended by Govs. Trinkle of Virginia and Ritchie of Maryland, together with conservation officers of the two States.

As a result of suggestions offered by officials of both States it was decided to curtail the winter dredging season by ending it on April 1 instead of May 1; protect sponged crabs until September 1; enforce more strictly the Cull law; prohibit dredging during the breeding season and prohibit the use of floats.

Coal Operations Growing.
Richmond, Va., Nov. 20.—According to reports from the Mining Department of the State Bureau of Labor and Industry, John Hopkins Hall, Jr., Commissioner, the development and increased production of anthracite coal in the Counties of Pulaski, Montgomery and Wythe, have been on a gigantic scale during the past twelve months.

"The Virginia anthracite coal fields have taken on new life and are being rapidly developed," said Commissioner Hall today. "Valuable deposits of this character of coal, of high commercial value, are being constantly uncovered and developed in Pulaski, Montgomery and Wythe Counties."

Loudoun Breeders Meet.
Purcellville, Va., Nov. 20.—The eighth annual meeting of the Loudoun County Breeders' Association was held last week in the office of the breeders' association at Purcellville. A representative number of members were in attendance. H. T. Pancoast, president, presided. The following officers were elected: H. T. Pancoast, president; R. J. McCray and W. P. Brown, vice-presidents; F. H. Jones, secretary-treasurer; J. B. Dillon, treasurer; C. L. Robey, J. V. Nichols, F. E. Saunders, F. H. James, W. L. Simpson, W. S. Francis and W. T. Smith, executive committee.

Duelists Both Improving.
Gordonsville, Va., Nov. 20.—That officer and prisoner believed each had killed the other is revealed in the improvement of the condition of Chief of Police Frank L. Allman here, and Layton Shiflett, whom the officer had ordered under arrest when Shiflett cut the chief so severely that fifteen stitches were necessary to save the officer's life. Shiflett, who was shot twice, was taken to a Charlottesville hospital for treatment. Both men are now recovering.

Orange to Have Park.
Orange, Va., Nov. 20.—With the success of the Orange County Fair on newly acquired fair grounds, an interest has been created in utilizing the grounds, or a portion of the tract, for a community playground and park. The location, just adjacent to the corporate limits of the town, with comparatively little expense can be converted into an ideal place for apparatus of all kinds, including swings, slides, and the like, with a swimming pool in prospect, also. For the adults tennis courts are planned with benches and high-class movies for young and old. Edward V. Breeden, county farm agent, is enthusiastically behind the project and feels that with the cooperation of the Town Council and the Chamber of Commerce and the Woman's Club that the necessary funds can be provided. The plans are for gravel walks and a parking camp for tourists.

"Waiter, it is almost half an hour since I ordered that turtle soup."
Waiter—"Sorry, sir, but you know how slow turtles are."

The Women in Next War.

Washington, Nov. 20.—The War Department has put in motion a study intended when completed to give American women a recognized place in the American Army "in all branches of the military service in case of future emergency involving a maximum effort."

While the movement still is in a preliminary stage and those responsible for it profess inability at present to say where it may lead, no secret is made of the hope that it may result ultimately in the creation as a separate and distinct branch of the military service, of a reserve woman's Army corps, to be formed through voluntary enlistment.

ZR-3 to Visit Washington.

Washington, Nov. 20.—Arrangements were under way here today for the first extended flight of the world's largest dirigible, ZR-3, since her trip across the Atlantic Ocean from Friedrichshafen, Germany, to Lakehurst, N. J., which will be made to Bolling Field the latter part of next week, where Mrs. Coolidge, in the presence of one of the most distinguished gatherings ever assembled for an aeronautical event, will christen the ship Los Angeles.

Want Taxes Kept Secret.

Washington, Nov. 20.—Immediate repeal of the law permitting publication of income tax returns and establishment of a tax commission to simplify tax regulations was urged by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States Monday in a statement outlining its position on national economic questions presented to President Coolidge.

The chamber also asked for extension of the budget system, a continuation of the principles embodied in the railroad labor board, establishment of an immigration commission to recommend and administer legislation and the development of waterways.

Union Labor Decreasing.

Washington, Nov. 20.—Ranks of the American Federation of Labor dropped 30 per cent last year from the membership peak in 1920. Figures revealed today in the official report of the executive council of the American Federation of Labor, made public in El Paso, Tex., scene of the annual convention, show that where there were 4,078,740 paid up members in 1920, the year 1924 listed only 2,865,979.

The Federation of Labor figures support figures supplied in Associated Press dispatches from New York quoting the National Bureau of Economic Research as authority for the statement that membership in all unions throughout the country had dwindled from 5,110,500 in 1920 to 3,779,000 in 1923.

Jersey City Has Big Fire.

Jersey City, N. J., Nov. 20.—The second $2,000,000 fire within two days for Jersey City broke out at noon Sunday in merchandise stored on Erie Pier No. 5, destroyed two wharves, nearly $1,000,000 worth of freight and merchandise, fifteen lighters and barges, one loaded freight car, several buildings on the shore and threatened destruction to the big railway station of the Erie and the Wells-Fargo express company. For several hours all traffic was suspended on the suburban lines of the Erie and on the Erie ferry boats to New York.

The other $2,000,000 fire in Jersey City occurred Friday when several hundred families were made homeless fifty persons injured, including thirteen firemen and a policeman, and four square blocks of factories were razed.

Mellon's Car in Smash.

Washington, Nov. 20.—While police and citizens were joining Tuesday in a desperate effort to stem the tide of "traffic criminality" that has taken already a toll of four lives within a month, the authorities added a startling new case to their reckless driving list, involving a wild dash by a cabinet officer's car across the Connecticut Avenue Bridge, with its trail of broken curbing, wrecked automobile parts and injured victims. The colored chauffeur to Arthur E. Sixsmith, private secretary to Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, was held under $340 collateral on charges of reckless driving and colliding, and Mr. Sixsmith himself was reported to be somewhat shaken up.

The men injured were L. J. Matthews, Jr., of Takoma Park, proprietor of a contracting firm, and one of his employees, Wilton Smith.

Urge Muscle Shoals Bill.

Washington, Nov. 20.—The substitute proposal for the disposition of Muscle Shoals will be offered in the Senate when it is called up for the first order of business in the short session.

The Norris government ownership bill is expected to furnish the nucleus for the new measure and it is likely that the new bill will provide for both government ownership and government operation.

Japan Fears War.

Tokyo, November 20.—Editorially welcoming Edgar A. Bancroft, United States Ambassador to Japan, when he arrived in Tokyo, the Kokumin Shimbun, an old independent newspaper, asks the new envoy seriously to consider "the bad impression and undesirable effects in the Japanese popular mind of the projected United States naval maneuvers at Hawaii."

SPECIAL

While we were in New York we bought a big lot of All-wool Young Men's Suits, in just one and two suits to a pattern and style that we are offering you for less than you can buy a good cotton suit for. This is our second shipment and every suit this season's style and make; we have quite a few blue serges in the lot in large sizes for men.

Price, $13.75

We pay all alterations—as when we sell you a suit we want it to fit you—as it's our policy to sell you only when we can fit you.
