

HERD ASSOCIATION
DECEMBER REPORTR. S. Hynson Has High Herd
Average In Fat; C. C. Lynn
Owns High Cow.

In December there were 616 cows under test, 78 dry, 537 tested. Five cows were sold for beef. Three pure bred bulls bought. Two cream separators tested over .05-100 of 17 degrees. Association average, 6,536 milk, 24.81 fat.

C. C. Lynn has high cow. A. P. B. Holstein, No. 8, 1,525 lbs. milk, 64.1 lbs. fat.

R. S. Hynson has high herd average in fat. Forty-one cows, with an average of 8,204 lbs. milk, 33.4 lbs. fat.

The following were the results of the herd of 16 cows, owned by J. K. Brown, of Bristow. Increase 265 lbs. milk, 21.3 lbs. fat. One-tenth per cent raise in average test; 62 cents more for each dollar spent for feed; and produced milk; 26 cents a hundred and fat .07 cents a pound cheaper. Increase over previous month was due to feeding a balanced home-mixed ration, according to production. No cows had freshened nor were new cows added.

HOSPITAL LIKE
BIG STEEL BALLBuilt On Theory That Increased Air Pressure Helps Some Diseases.

Cleveland, Ohio, Dec. 26.—The new $1,000,000 Cunningham sanitarium, which has as its underlying theory increased air pressure as a cure for diabetes, has been formally opened here as a place of treatment for diabetes, pernicious anemia, and other diseases heretofore pronounced incurable, according to a news dispatch in the Washington News.

The main compartment of the sanitarium is a huge steel ball, 64 feet in diameter and five stories high. It is a completely equipped hospital.

Long Cylindrical Tank. Adjoining is a long cylindrical tank which provides the means of access to the main compartment and offers a preliminary test of air pressure to patients about to undergo the cure.

This revolutionary idea in hospitals was introduced eight years ago by Dr. Orville J. Cunningham, of Kansas City, Mo. For years Dr. Cunningham had advocated the use of compressed air for the treatment of various diseases, but it was not until he had interested H. H. Timkin, millionaire steel man of Canton, Ohio, that he was able to put his idea into effect.

Financed by Timkin.

Timkin agreed to finance the institution after a friend had gone to Kansas City and had been treated for diabetes in a small tank Dr. Cunningham had constructed in his own backyard.

There are two other tanks, besides the one used as the entrance, that flank the main compartment. Patients will live in these tanks for a week at a time under an atmospheric pressure of from five to 30 pounds.

After living in the main sphere of one of the smaller tanks for a week the patient spends seven days at home or in a hotel, before another week in the tanks. This process is repeated until the doctor pronounces a cure.

Furnished Like Liner.

The huge ball and the adjoining structures are furnished in the interior much after the manner of an up-to-date ocean liner. It has accommodations for 96 persons.

On the first floor of the main tank is the dining room.

Three other floors are given over to bedrooms and the fifth is a spacious recreation hall.

Lighting is furnished through heavy glass portholes.

MISS LOUISE SMITH
DIES IN LYNCHBURG

Head of Art Department of Randolph Macon Woman's College Is Buried Here.

Warrenton, Va., Jan. 2.—Miss Louise Jordan Smith, head of the art department of Randolph Macon Woman's College, Lynchburg, Va., died Monday morning in Virginia Baptist Hospital, Lynchburg, after a year's illness. Funeral services were held Tuesday in Smith Memorial Chapel, Lynchburg, and she was buried Wednesday afternoon in Warrenton, services at the grave were conducted by Rev. W. G. Pendleton, D.D. Miss Smith was the daughter of the late Major T. Towson Smith and Mrs. Anna M. Smith, of Warrenton, and was born and brought up near Bethel. She was educated at Bowling Green Seminary and afterwards spent several years in art study in Paris. She had been a member of the faculty of Randolph Macon College since its opening. She was a member of the National Art League of America, and an officer of the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

Though she had been in the hospital for many months, up to the last two weeks she had been able to see her friends, answer their letters and take drives. Upheld by strong faith and a brave and cheerful disposition she never lost her interest and enjoyment of life. Miss Smith is survived by a sister, Miss May Eleanor Smith, of Washington, and a brother, Mr. Towson E. Smith, of Flint Hill, Virginia.

GRACE CHURCH AID.

The Ladies' Aid Society of Grace Methodist Episcopal Church, South, will meet at 3 o'clock on Thursday afternoon, January 10, at the home of Mrs. R. S. Hynson.

LEE HIGHWAY AND OTHER
ASSOCIATIONS TO BUILD
ROADS IN PRINCE WILLIAMDr. S. M. Johnson Announces That Prince William County Selected
For a Demonstration of Providing Adequate Highway
Transportation For a County On a Five-Year Building Program.

By Dr. S. M. JOHNSON,
General Director, Lee Highway Association; Vice-President, National Highway Association.

Prince William County (Va.), selected for a demonstration of providing adequate highway transportation for a county on a five-year building program.

Acting upon the conviction that the road building program must be accelerated, and realizing the fact that under present arrangements too little effort is being expended upon farm service roads, we have decided to concentrate efforts upon a single county and under a five-year road building program to secure the roads that are needed for the proper conduct of agriculture and other business.

We mean, first, Lee Highway Association, second, the National Highway Association, and, third, several other national road organizations whose cooperation seems to be assured.

Want Good Roads Everywhere.

The interest of Lee Highway Association is due to the policy adopted eight years ago which called for the construction of not only Lee Highway, but of the county roads which are as much a part of the Lee Highway system as the thumb and fingers are a part of one hand.

The interest of the National Highway Association is due to its policy which is not only to secure the construction of a system of national highways, but also good roads everywhere, and good roads everywhere call for good roads in the territory in which farm operations are conducted.

Now that the minds of Congress and the entire country are seriously considering measures for farm relief, our good roads associations have undertaken a demonstration which in our opinion will be a direct contribution to the solution of the farm problem, for undoubtedly a serious handicap to agricultural prosperity is the operation of motor vehicles over highways that belong to a day that is dead when buggies and wagons were used for highway transportation.

We selected Prince William County, Virginia, for the demonstration because of its proximity to the National Capital, making it easily accessible to all who visit Washington, and who may be interested in seeing the program as it is being carried into effect.

Lee Highway is now paved from Washington to and entirely across Prince William County, and an hour's ride from the capital will enable one to inspect the work. The county was devastated by the Bull Run battles and has never recovered. Its county roads are, for the most part, undeveloped though the supervisors have certainly accomplished much in the way of road improvement with the limited means at their disposal.

Made Preliminary Survey.

Before final decision for Prince William County for the demonstration, we secured the services of an expert to conduct a preliminary survey and advise us whether or not Prince William County was the proper county in which to undertake the demonstration. We employed Mr. Fred E. Schnepfe, of the Highway Engineering Bureau, which is composed of outstanding engineers who are especially qualified for such matters as highway planning and weighing the various factors involved in such a demonstration.

Mr. Schnepfe has completed the survey and submitted his report. He finds that Prince William County is well adapted to the purpose because of its proximity to the National center, the existence in abundance of road materials, the quality of soil making agricultural development possible, freedom from indebtedness, and in particular a remarkable spirit of cooperation, a matter of vital importance in such an undertaking.

The plan having been fully explained to the Board of County Supervisors, they, by unanimous vote, pledged their cooperation, and upon request of the County Commissioners and Lee Highway Association, the Kiwanis Club of Manassas, the county seat town, likewise by unanimous vote, entered into the cooperative arrangement. Committees were appointed in each of the six districts into which the county is divided. Supervisors being the chairman for the district. The plan calls for the cooperation of the pastors of the churches, the superintendents of public instructions and the teachers in all the schools, and wholehearted cooperation on the part of all land owners and those engaged in business.

Engineer To Make Plans.

The next step will be the preparation of a complete county highway plan. Mr. Schnepfe has been secured for this work. He is reputed to be the best county highway engineer in the country, his record placing him in the front rank. He will read a paper on the Prince William County demonstration at the American Road Congress in Cleveland, Ohio, January 17. We will publish the paper and send it to everyone of the 3,100 counties in the United States with a letter telling what we have undertaken to do and offering our services to all the counties in the form of monthly reports of progress so that the entire country may benefit by the success which may attend the effort. We are also planning to publish what we call the Bankers' Pamphlet, entitled "Good Roads Everywhere." It will be an appeal for a country-wide effort on the part of all agencies to get the United States out of the mud in the next five years. It will be a booklet of about 100 pages. It will tell the story of the Prince William County demonstration, and will place before the country the convincing arguments for effective action now in order to get results to which the motor age entitles us but which we are now losing to an inexcusable degree because while the motor vehicle is in itself considered almost 100 per cent efficient, its efficiency is reduced, speaking generally, to less than 40 per cent because of the medium in which it operates. The loss of 60 per cent efficiency in the use of the main factor of progress in the motor age means that it will take ten years to reach a point of progress that might be reached in four years if the track were on par with the rolling stock. This is true of almost every county in the United States, and it is the basis upon which our conviction rests that roads are not being built fast enough and in particular that they are not being built fast enough where the farmer lives and moves and has his being.

People Will Be Shown. People generally lack imagination. In order to convince them they must see with their own eyes, therefore, we have decided to show them, and when they come to Prince William County they will see.

It is a well known fact that while there is full cooperation between the Federal Government and the 48 states in the execution of the Federal Aid plan, there is a most serious lack of team work between the State Highway Departments and the governing unit of the counties of the United States. This, of course, applies in varying degrees to the various states, but as a general principle it is a fact that the county unit is not functioning in full coordination with the other agencies engaged in highway improvement.

The Prince William County demonstration is given the heartiest welcome by the State Highway Commission of Virginia, and with this spirit manifested in the county we trust we may be able to secure complete cooperation of all the agencies, Federal, State and County, with results of the utmost importance for it is a foregone conclusion that no construction project can attain complete success without the full cooperation of all the agencies involved, and since there is such a lack of cooperation throughout the entire country, it becomes vitally important to establish thorough-going team work if we are to realize a paved United States in time for present day business.

Untold Benefit To County.

To rehabilitate its roads within the next five years will bring untold benefit to Prince William County.

FARM POULTRY
INDUSTRY GROWSLarger Appropriations Are Sought To Solve New Problems
Arising In Industry

The farm poultry industry now ranks in the billion dollar class, and is the sixth agricultural commodity in value in the United States, according to Harry R. Lewis, president of the National Poultry Council. In line with the increasing importance of poultry and eggs as a source of income to the farmers of the nation, Mr. Lewis and several leading poultry authorities, recently called upon General Lord, director of the Federal Budget Bureau, to ask for larger appropriations in 1930 to solve new problems arising in the industry.

This is an indication that chickens on the farm cannot any longer be treated as a side issue, but should be considered one of the principal "crops" and the most readily convertible into "ready cash." Last year approximately $1,181,000,000 was the farmer's net income from poultry and eggs, which ranks them well above wheat, oats, fruit, potatoes and a long list of other farm products so far as actual monetary return is concerned.

It is on this basis that the National Poultry Council appealed to Uncle Sam for more funds to secure improved methods of poultry keeping which may assist the farmer in obtaining still larger profits from his poultry flock.

The first step to greater profits from farm poultry is in increased egg production, according to poultry authorities and farm bureau agents. Hens must lay from 140 to 170 eggs per year to return a good profit to their owners. The principal trouble lies in the fact that the average farm hen now lays only 70 eggs a year, which is not enough for the farmer to realize an adequate profit in return for the labor and feed he expends.

In a drive to assist in bettering the quality of stock on American farms, leading hatcheries of the country recently united under the slogan, "Hatchery Chicks for Greater Profits," pledged to produce profit-making stock at fair prices. Because the great growth in the hatchery business in recent years has enabled the poultry industry to attain its present size, hatcheries as the most logical source leaders in this field are looking to of better farm stock for the future.

W. C. T. U. SPECIAL MEETING.

fit to Prince William County. In addition it would be difficult to exaggerate the value of the national publicity which will come to the county through this effort. This will be secured through newspaper and magazine publicity, through correspondence with the other counties of the country, and in particular through the Bankers' Pamphlet of which we expect to print over 21,000,000 copies, distributing the same through the banks and placing a copy in the hands of every bank distributor in the United States.

We have unbounded confidence in the intelligence and business sense of all the citizens of our country who are enterprising enough to keep a bank account, and we intend to convince them that it is not good business sense to forfeit over half the efficiency of motor vehicles when with an ordinary degree of intelligence and energetic and well directed effort, we can remove the most serious handicap to prosperity, especially in the agricultural areas, and we believe that through arousing public sentiment it will actually be possible to get rid of the mud and dust as we have gotten rid of flies and mosquitoes, and that this can be an accomplished fact within the next five years. It can be done without laying a heavy burden on anyone. All we have to do is to lift the burdens we are now carrying through our daily coming and going being so much obstructed. We will take the money that is being wasted with every farm of almost 100,000,000 wheels and with it build the roads that will spell nation-wide prosperity.

CANADA IS CHIEF
MARKET FOR GOODSTakes $679,952,000 In American Products In First Nine Months 1928.

Washington, January 2.—Canada continued as the chief market for American products during the first nine months of 1928 as shown in a bulletin, "Our World Trade," issued by the Foreign Commerce Department of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

The bulletin shows that exports to Canada during the nine months' period amounted to $679,952,000, or 19.1 per cent of the total to all countries. This amount was 29 per cent greater than the average for the corresponding period in the previous five years. Canadian purchases topped the United Kingdom's by $130,955,000, and more than doubled those to Germany, the third largest customer.

"Exports to the United Kingdom," the bulletin points out, "declined from 1927 to 1928 in almost exactly the same proportion that Canada's increased, the former sustaining a loss of $49,408,000, or 8.3 per cent, while Canada's takings increased $50,819,000, or 8.1 per cent.

"Sales to Japan, our fourth leading market, increased $11,129,000, or 6.4 per cent over 1927. The value of exports to France increased $6,221,000, or 4.2 per cent; to Argentina, $6,269,000, or 5.2 per cent; to Italy, $26,672,000, or 30.9 per cent; to China, $26,793,000, or 42 per cent; to Mexico, $2,258,000, or 2.7 per cent; to Russia in Europe, $12,409,000, or 22 per cent, and to Sweden, 43 per cent.

"Exports to Germany declined slightly—5.5 per cent. Sales to Australia were off $19,605,000, or 16 per cent; to Cuba, $25,920,000, or 22 per cent; to British India, $11,168,000, or 22 per cent; and to Denmark, $9,532,000, or 23 per cent."

On the other hand, South America stood out as the only grand division which increased its sales to the United States during the period analyzed in the bulletin. "A large part of the increase," it is explained, "was due to increased receipts of coffee from Brazil, Colombia and Venezuela. The severest loss was sustained by Asia, due chiefly to declines in silk and rubber values.

RED CROSS RELIEF
WORK NEARS COMPLETIONWork In Porto Rico And Virgin Islands Will Be Finished
In February.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 2.—Reconstruction work of the American Red Cross in Porto Rico and the Virgin Islands for sufferers in the hurricane which caused heavy loss of life and extensive damage in September, will be virtually completed by February 15th. Information to this effect has been received from the organization's disaster relief headquarters at San Juan in a message to national headquarters which stated that the huge rehabilitation task involving among other things the distribution of lumber for the construction of more than 21,000 homes is rapidly drawing to a close.

Purchases by the Red Cross for this purpose have already included nearly seven million feet of lumber, three and a half million pounds of galvanized roofing and 670,000 pounds of nails, together with other necessary materials in proportionate quantities.

Report On Damages.

The message also contained results of the first detailed compilation of losses made by the Red Cross, which shows that more than 90,000 buildings were destroyed and 51,000 damaged. Live stock and poultry losses were heavy, with 28,000 animals and 257,000 poultry killed.

While emergency relief work, such as the distribution of food and clothing has for the most part ceased, the organization is still feeding nearly 70,000 persons who are destitute as the result of the disaster. At the height of the emergency work, more than 511,000 persons were receiving food, while 335,000 persons were given clothing.

Expenditures by the Red Cross in the two disaster relief operations—Porto Rico and the Virgin Islands, and Florida—will be in the neighborhood of $5,785,000.

One of the economic problems is the high cost of New Year eve celebrations.

MINNIEVILLE

Elder L. Alderton, of Fredericksburg, will preach on the first Sunday of the month in Greenwood Primitive Baptist Church, at 11 a. m.

Christmas day was a lively one in this vicinity, with many family reunions over the holiday.

Miss Arcelia Dane, the popular teacher, is visiting Miss Sykes, near Richmond, over the holidays.

Miss Charlotte Bailey, of Washington, was a visitor to the home of her mother over New Year's Day.

Mrs. Shackelford was a recent visitor to the home of Mrs. Dane.

Mrs. C. E. Clark was a Manassas visitor last week.

Quite a number of people of this vicinity attended the dance given at Occoquan Tuesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. William Arnold, of Woodbridge, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Woodyard Christmas day.

Miss Elizabeth Posey, of Washington, D. C., is spending the holidays with her parents here.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Briggs and daughter, Jeanette, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Arnold, of Woodbridge, Wednesday.

Mrs. J. G. Hicks, of Indian Head, Md., spent last week with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. William Posey.

Mr. William Posey is on the sick list.

ORANGE GROWING
THRIVES IN U. S.

Country Is Leading Orange-Producing Nation of The World.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 2.—The United States is the leading orange producing nation of the world, the average annual production of this country being approximately 34,000,000 boxes, according to a study of that commodity just completed by the Bureau of Railway Economics and made public today.

"California, the largest producing state," according to a bulletin issued by the Bureau of Railway Economics, accounts for 67 per cent of this total; Florida produces 32 per cent, and five other states—Alabama, Arizona, Louisiana, Mississippi and Texas—together account for the remaining one per cent.

"The greater part of the oranges produced in the United States are consumed in this country. Nevertheless, the exports are of considerable importance. During the five calendar years, 1923 to 1927, the average annual exports amounted to 2,618,655 boxes, of which Canada received 2,229,272 boxes, or 85.1 per cent, and the United Kingdom, 206,026 boxes or 7.9 per cent. The remaining 184,357 boxes, or 7 per cent, were distributed to over forty different countries. The increase in shipments to the United Kingdom in these five years has been remarkable, there having been shipped in 1923 only 46,046 boxes to this destination, compared with 604,334 boxes in 1927."

SMITHFIELD

The Xmas' entertainment at the school was quite enjoyable. Santa Claus was present, and was very generous with his gifts.

Our teacher, Miss Clarke, spent the Xmas holidays at her home at Haymarket, Va.

Mrs. Alvie Maxfield, formerly Miss Hilda Barnes, of this community, visited her parents here recently.

Mr. Joseph Ambrose was a Smithfield visitor during the holidays.

Misses Anna and Belle Kincheloe, of Washington, D. C., spent a week with their mother, Mrs. Mary Kincheloe.

Miss Mary Barbee, of Baltimore, spent several days of the holiday season with her parents. She was accompanied back to Baltimore by her mother, Mrs. C. A. Barbee, who spent a few days with friends.

Mrs. Westcott, of Washington, visited her sister, Mrs. Charles Windsor, last week.

Mr. J. S. Lunsford, while walking his trap line one morning recently heard the tinkle of a bell in the vicinity of his traps. Proceeding rather warily to the spot, he found a belled buzzard caught in a trap. Fastened to his foot by a wire was a heavy brass sleigh bell with "No. 2" on it, which he must have carried for many years as the wire was imbedded in the flesh which had healed over.

He was relieved of the bell with difficulty and released to fly to parts unknown.

SAVING THE TAXPAYERS' DOLLARS

Millions of dollars of the taxpayers' money are spent yearly for carrying on governmental routine. Economies and labor-saving have been effected, from time to time, through the innovation of bookkeeping and tabulating machines and more efficient filing systems and calculators.

The most recent improvement over old methods is the new system of copying and recording documents by photography. This is now done in a number of states and saves a tremendous amount of time, money and labor, as well as guaranteeing a degree of accuracy impossible with any system of copying by human means.

"This method is no longer in the experimental stage," says the Tax Digest. "It has been tried and found to meet every test. It is superior to any other method that has, as yet, been invented. It is of proven permanency, of demonstrated effectiveness."

It is the most economical method. And it is of absolute accuracy. The copying of documents may seem a small thing, but it is an important duty of government and one that costs a great deal of money. It is through such economies as this that much can be done to raise governmental efficiency and lower the tax rate.

CUT DOWN FINANCIAL LOSSES

Each year millions of dollars are lost through unwise speculation and investment. "Get-rich-quick" stocks are sold with promises of fabulous earnings and appreciation. The "erotic" promotion of such ventures rarely have a dollar of their own invested. Even first mortgage bonds, thought of by many as being assurance enough, are subject to the same hazards of over-enthusiasm and mismanagement.

Most of these lost millions could be saved if, before purchase of any security, a well-informed bank or reputable finance house were consulted. Get all the advice possible from nationally known financial experts and it will then be found that probably the safest general rule is to confine purchases to securities listed on the solidly established stock and bond exchanges of our largest cities and through the advice and guidance of member brokers which in itself is assurance that the security has been given the careful analysis of experts before it is offered the public through exchange listing.

RAILROADS AND GENERAL PROSPERITY

In the eight years that have elapsed since the Federal Government returned control of the railroads to private hands, the principal lines have spent the record sum of over six billion dollars in providing improvements.

The result has been seen directly in better, faster, more efficient and more comfortable freight and passenger transportation. The railroads have steadily improved their service, until at the present time we have the finest railroad facilities in the world.

The indirect result of this vast expenditure is not so easily perceived, but it is of equal, if not greater, magnitude. It is the significant contribution of our railroads to our general prosperity.

For shops, houses, machinery, tools, steel and copper, and other supplies, the lines have spent a tremendous sum that has been reflected by better conditions in our entire industrial life.

If our railroads prosper and progress there will be general prosperity and progress. If they languish and retrench, a blow is struck at employment and progress. For purely selfish reasons, it is to the advantage of every citizen that in the future the railroads go steadily ahead as they have in the past.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

FOR JANUARY 6, 1929.

The International Sunday School Lesson for January 6 is the first of a Quarter's Series Upon "Some Great Christian Teachings: Our Heavenly Father," Matt. 6:24-34.

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS.

One idea, and that the most important of all, comes, soon or late, to every human being—"What do I think of God?"

In vague, fear-filled form this idea took hold of the earliest cave-man; and it is still the ultimate speculation of the most learned modern scientist.

All sorts of interpretations of God, mostly hazy, have filled all sorts of heads. In our day's patter of the "intellectuals," God is the First Cause; the Ultimate Force; the Divine Mind; and so forth. In the thought of the ancients he was God the All-Terrible; and life was a long attempt at propitiation of Him.

But Jesus came with a new interpretation of God. He brought to the world a fresh idea about the Deity; and this idea was His supreme message, the Gospel that He commanded His friends to proclaim.

Jesus said that God is our Father. That thought seemed at first so simple as to be blasphemous. It robbed theologians of their old authority as hair-splitters and interpreters. It brought down out of the thin air of priest-craft and divinity the greatest idea that has ever engrossed the mind of mortal, and made it so simple and clear that a little child or an ignorant peasant could grasp it.

God is all that wisdom has ever attributed to Him, and more; but first of all, and including all else, He is our Heavenly Father, full of love and tenderness and sympathy and providence, and forgiveness.

Whatever is best in earthly fatherhood, that God is to an illimitable degree.

Earliest childhood senses this fatherhood to grasp it. In his beautiful earnestness when otherwise worldliness books, "Beckonings From Little Hands" Patterson Dubois tells of finding in the desk of his daughter, who died when six years old, the childish scrawled words "God is love. He loves lambs". A great poet, Wordsworth, has expressed the same thought in stately verse:—

"One adequate support
For the calamities of mortal life
Exists—one only: 'an assured belief
That the procession of our fate, however
Sad or disturbed, is ordered by a
Being
Of infinite benevolence and power,
Whose everlasting purposes embrace
All accidents, converting them to good."

All Theology In One Word.
Man's greatest concern is the nature of God. That is the basic truth. And Jesus has made it forever clear by using, and teaching, the tender word "Father" as the interpretation of the Infinite. Nobody can understand all about God; but everything that mortal needs to know about Him is wrapped up in the single word, "Father". Whatever the best of earthly fathers is to his children, that, and infinitely more, is God.

Every college student comes to a stage, and usually passes through it when he is beset and tormented about the refinements of philosophical speculation concerning a Supreme Being. These subtleties sometimes dissipate the clear teachings of Jesus, that the nature of the Infinite and Eternal is the nature of a Father, whose thoughts toward us are all compassionate and paternal. The great disobedience is the refusal to accept God as a pitiful, protective provident Father, whose love is the very essence of His nature.

A "Quit-Your Worrying" Creed.
All the practicalities of human experience are bound up in this tremendous teaching of the fatherhood of God. It is an ever-expanding truth, but it all centers in the one unshakable simplicity, "Casting all your care Upon Him, for He careth for you." A few days ago there came to my desk an advertisement of a new edition of a famous encyclopedia; and in treating of its astronomical features it nonchalantly remarked concerning the earth, "We now know it to be an unimportant particle in a vast firmament of untold worlds."

"An unimportant particle"—though it contains the one race of beings great enough to attempt to envisage the universe and to master the forces of nature and to merit the special revelation of the Creator of all as their loving Father! That is the sort of silly statement that brings so many scientists into disrepute. This earth is no "unimportant fragment" so long as thinking human beings live upon it; to them, it is all important. It was for no "unimportant fragment" of a celestial system that Jesus lived and died and rose again, as the "second Son of God."

This belittling of man is no compliment to God. Wiser than the new encyclopedia's astronomy is the spiritual perception of Amos R. Wells, who sees in universal vastness a symbol of the Father-nature of God:—

"Of all things far, I love the best
The distance from the east to west;
For by that space, and all within,
God's mercy parts me from my sin.
"And best I love, of all things high,
The space between the earth and sky;

For by that height beyond all ken
God's love exceeds the love of men.

"I love, of deep things undefiled,
A father's pity for his child;
For by that depth, so far, so clear,
God pities all that faint and fear.

"O Father, Father, endless kind,
I thank Thee for my human mind,
But chief of all my praise shall be
That mind cannot encompass Thee!"

Benjamin Franklin's Blood

Before there can be a son, there must be a father; before there can be a father there must be a son. Entailed in the truth of God's fatherhood is the allied truth of sonship and of brotherhood. If God is our Father, then we are His sons, filled with His life and bound to show His character. A few evenings ago I talked with a descendant of Benjamin Franklin who rather startled me by the casual way in which he remarked "Franklin's blood is in me". He was proud of his heritage, and tries to live up to it; the children should display the family traits. Man's hope of lifting the level of life is all founded upon this truth that "Now are we the sons of God, and it doth not yet appear what we shall be".

Peace pacts and disarmament conferences are being earnestly acclaimed today as a hope of a new and better world order. They will be utterly vain unless there be underlying them that truth which derives from the fatherhood of God, the brotherhood of man. For the honor of our Father, and in obedience to Him and in loyalty to the Older Brother who has revealed Him and reconciled us, we are constrained to conduct our lives by the law of brotherhood; which is an obvious corollary of the law of Fatherhood.

All the world watched the romantic race of the Prince of Wales to reach the bedside of the stricken king of England. A nation shared his anxiety; but in his heart the prince must have been saying, "He is your king, but he is my father". All remoteness and formality passes out of the relationship between the Great King of the universe and his subjects in the consciousness that He is first of all our Father. Kipling breathes this note in one of his less familiar religious poems:—

"Father in heaven, who lovest all,
O help Thy children when they call;
That they may build from age to age
An undefiled heritage.

"Teach us to look, in all our ends,
On Thee for judge, and not our friends;

That we, with Thee, may walk uncrowded
By fear or favor of the crowd.

"Teach us the Strength that cannot seek
By deed or thought to hurt the weak;
That, under Thee, we may possess
Man's strength to comfort man's distress."

Comfort concerning the everyday needs of life was taught by Jesus in His great platform. Because God is our Father, we are freed from fear even in the real of temporalities. "Therefore be not anxious, saying 'What shall we eat?' Or, 'What shall we drink?' or, 'Wherewithal shall we be clothed?' For your heavenly Father knoweth that ye have need of all these things". Upon that truth we may stake our life, for time and eternity. The Creator and Ruler of all is our Father.

Now on Display in our Showroom!

Today you can see the most sensational automobile ever introduced—The Outstanding Chevrolet of Chevrolet History, a Six in the price range of the four!

This amazing new automobile is now on display in our showrooms and we cordially invite you to come in for a personal inspection!

Judging by the tremendous interest which it has excited wherever shown—

—judging by the unqualified approval it has won from everybody, everywhere—

—the Outstanding Chevrolet will instantly impress you as the greatest dollar-for-dollar value ever offered in any automobile!

New 6-Cylinder Valve-in-Head Engine

When you lift the hood and see the new six-cylinder valve-in-head engine you will realize that a new era has dawned for the buyers of low-priced automobiles. Representing four years' development and testing by Chevrolet and General Motors engineers, embodying the discoveries of General Motors Research Staff, this new power plant is a marvel of advanced design. At every speed it operates with that delightful smoothness which everyone demands today in a modern automobile. It develops approximately 32% more power than any previous Chevrolet engine. It displays sensationally greater speed and faster acceleration. And yet, despite this brilliantly improved performance, it maintains Chevrolet's worldwide reputation for economical transportation by delivering better than an average of twenty miles to the gallon of gasoline!

Great Array of New Features

Matching this spectacular advance in performance is the greatest array of new features Chevrolet has ever announced—and the most outstanding appearance ever achieved in any car of comparable price!

The new four-wheel brakes not only assure positive safety, but are exceedingly quiet in operation. The new heavier, finer quality transmission and rear axle gears contribute to longer life and greater stamina. The new two-beam headlamps with foot control dimming device were never before available in Chevrolet's price class. The new AC gasoline pump with filter assures constant fuel supply no matter how steep the hill. And so on throughout the entire chassis, you will find feature after feature previously demanded in the finest of automobiles and now offered on the Outstanding Chevrolet in keeping with Chevrolet's policy of constant progress!

Distinctive New Beauty

But, however impressed you may be by the mechanical superiority of the Outstanding Chevrolet, your admiration will reach even greater heights when you study the car's distinctive beauty.

Here the whole effect is one of ultra-smartness, luxury and style. Introducing modish, concave front pillars and divided moulding, embodying the comfort advantages of greater width and length, finished in smart new lustrous colors—the marvelous new Fisher bodies represent a masterful example of artistic coachwork. Never in Fisher's long and illustrious service to the automotive industry has Fisher style supremacy been more clearly revealed! Never have beauty, comfort, convenience and staunch construction been more skillfully combined in the bodies of any automobile!

Come In and See For Yourself

So we urge you to come in today and inspect the Outstanding Chevrolet! See for yourself what distinctive beauty and thrilling performance are now available at prices so amazingly low! Learn how Chevrolet has again established an entirely new standard of motor car value!
