BIG ROAD PROJECT FIRE COMPANY WILL START SOON TO MEET MONDAY

Road From Manassas to Stone House to Be Built in Day.

KIWANIS CLUB WILL SPONSOR MOVEMENT

Citizens Will Be Asked to Give One Day to Repairing of This Road.

A movement was launched on Friday night at the meeting of the Kiwanis Club of Manassas, which, when brought to fruition, will mean that the road from Manassas to Stone House will be placed in such condition as will make it one of the best roads in the county system.

Dr. S. M. Johnson, of the Lee Highway Association, who was a guest of the Kiwanis Club and whose visit was in the interest of the model county road system which he has advocated and plans for which are now well under way, suggested that the citizens of Prince William undertake a "build a road in a day" plan and take as their objective the completion of the Sudley road.

Preliminary Work Under Way.

The plan outlined by Dr. Johnson was enthusiastically received and committees were appointed to work out the plans necessary to carrying out the successful completion of the project. Trucks have been procured and are now engaged in placing material along the road which is being gotten out under the direction of the county supervisors; steam shovels will be used and a large number of trucks have been loaned for the use of the committee in its preparatory work.

With the completion of the preliminary work a day will be set by T. E. Dillake, president of the Kiwanis Club, for the actual work on the road, and citizens of Prince William will be called upon to turn out for the day so that the road may be resurfaced without delay. Ladies' committees will be formed with a view of having them close at hand to encourage the citizen-workers, and another of their functions, and not the least important, will be the furnishing of luncheon for the host of workers who will be spread along the highway.

Experts Will Assist. In addition to the steam shovels and trucks which will be used in the work, it is planned to have a number of steam rollers on hand, and because of the fact that the work in hand is the resurfacing of a road already built it is believed that when the volunteer citizens' committee completes its work the road from Manassas to Stone House will be one of the best in the county system.

Fred E. Schnepfe, of the Highway Engineering Bureau, Washington, and the supervisors of the county will be on hand to direct the work and see that it is done in accordance with sound county road building policies, while Dr. H. M. Johnson, father of the Lee Highway, will be on hand to inspire the workers, a task in which he has had notorious success on other similar projects.

Chief Speiden Calls Meeting to Hear Reports of Committees on Fire Hazards.

The first meeting of the Manassas Fire Department since its reorganization and adoption of new governing regulations will be held in the Fire House on Monday night at 8 o'clock.

While there are several important matters coming up for discussion, the most interesting feature of the meeting will be the reports to be submitted by several committees appointed to study various buildings within the fire area with a view to making known their weak points, as well as their best points, in case of fire. Other buildings will be inspected and charted later on, so that the members of the department will be in a position to intelligently tackle any fire problem that may present itself in or near Manassas.

Another matter of interest will be the discussion of various types of fire apparatus, and it is hoped that within a short while the Fire Department will have selected a type for use here so that the matter may be passed on to the Town Council for final action.

CENTRAL MUTUAL BUILDING READY

Telephone Building Ready for Equipment; Move Will Be Made Soon.

The handsome new building of the Central Mutual Telephone Co., which serves Manassas and vicinity, is ready for occupancy and it is expected that the new equipment will be installed and the exchange and offices moved to the new quarters within a few days.

Officers of the company were in Washington and Alexandria on Monday looking over installation systems and arranging for new and modern equipment to be placed in the local company's building, and it is believed that upon completion of installation the local company will have one of the most modern and complete of the smaller telephone plants in the state. Officers of the company are: C. E. Nash, president; George Berger Coker, vice president; Harry P. Davis, secretary and treasurer; and Arthur Vetter, manager. The officers and A. A. Hoof, T. E. Dillake and Richard S. Hynson compose the board of directors.

SIGNAL LIGHT ACTION POSTPONED

Railway Officials Heard at Council Meeting as Citizens Vigorously Protest.

Citizens of Manassas crowded the council chambers on Monday night to again make vigorous protest against the installation of automatic signal lights by the Southern Railway at the crossing within the corporate limits of the town.

The proposal for the installation of signal lights and the abolition of crossing watchmen had been made by the railway at a previous meeting and the date for a final hearing was set for Monday night.

After hearing from several of the property owners whose children are compelled to use the crossings each day in going to and from school, the council called upon railway officials for a further statement from them and a detailed explanation of the plans of operating the signal lights.

Harry DeButts, division superintendent, told how the signal lights work at other places, stressed the fact that crossing watchmen are obsolete and stated that it is the belief of the railway officials that the automatic light system is superior in every way to the system in use here. Asked by one of the citizens whether he thought the recent crossing accident at Bristow would have occurred had there been a man on duty there, he replied that he believed that it would have made no difference.

The council voted to defer action at this time and the matter will not be disposed of until a later meeting.

CROSSING TAKES TOLL OF FOUR

Lives of Four Popular County Boys Snuffed Out at Bristow Crossing.

ALL FOUR VICTIMS ARE BURIED TUESDAY

Community Is Greatly Shocked, and Funeral Crowd Attested Popularity of the Boys.

The lives of four of Prince William County's popular young men were snuffed out at a grade crossing at Bristow on Sunday afternoon, when an automobile, said to have been driven by W. Hampton H. Kerlin, attempted to cross the tracks and was hit by a southbound freight train of the Southern Railway. The accident occurred at 3:10 p. m. Three of the boys were killed outright and the fourth died several hours later in the Alexandria Hospital.

All of the boys lived near Aden, this county, the sons of prominent families in the life of Prince William. The victims were Franklin M. Whetzel, aged 17; Grant W. Whetzel, 14; W. Hampton H. Kerlin, 18, and Amos Smith, Jr., 17. The Whetzel boys were sons of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Whetzel; young Kerlin was the son of Will Kerlin, and the parents of Amos Smith are Mr. and Mrs. Amos Smith, Sr.

News of the tragedy caused gloom among the families and friends of the young men, all of whom were well known and popular throughout the county.

A joint funeral was held in the Valley Church on Tuesday afternoon, and more than 2,000 people, said to have been the largest number ever to attend a funeral in this county, were present.

At the church the Rev. Nolley opened the service and other parts of the rites were conducted by the Rev. Jesse M. Bell, Rev. Lee E. Sheaffer and the Rev. C. W. Clark.

Assisting at the interments, which were made in the churchyard, was a delegation from the Order of Fraternal Americans, the three older boys being members of that order.

THE WOMAN'S CLUB HAS BUSY AFTERNOON

Mr. R. S. Illingworth Gives Lecture; Busy Business Session Follows.

Mr. Robert S. Illingworth, headmaster at Swavely School, was the guest-speaker at yesterday's meeting of the Woman's Club of Manassas.

Mr. Illingworth spoke on "The New American Language" and gave an interesting and enlightening sketch of the changes in American English brought about through the use of slang, and for other reasons. Before closing, the speaker read a number of delightful dialect poems.

The business session developed that plans for the Easter charity ball were making splendid headway, and that the music will be furnished by Goebel's Orchestra, of Washington, famous for its dance rhythm. Mrs. C. R. C. Johnson reported that she had purchased and presented the book, "The Story of Virginia's First Century," to the library of the National Federation of Women's Club in Washington in accordance with plans approved at a previous meeting. It was decided that a meeting of the garden club section would be held at the home of Mrs. C. M. Larkin on Monday at 2:30 p. m.

The hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. A. Stuart Gibson, Mrs. J. L. Bushong, Mrs. H. T. Davies, Mrs. E. H. Denton and Mrs. E. S. Farrow.

TWO NEW HOMES FOR COUNTY SEAT

The application of Charles W. Alpaugh for a permit to erect two residential properties on the Johnson lot came up for consideration of the council on Monday night and was approved.

The plans submitted to the council showed that the houses would prove an attractive addition to that section of the town wherein they will be located. The dwellings will have six to seven rooms and will cost approximately $7,600 each. Both houses front on East street.

BRENTSVILLE PLAN GETS UNDER WAY

Officers and committee members of the Community Association in the Brentsville District met on Wednesday afternoon with Frank Foster, president, presiding.

This association was only formed recently and the purpose of the meeting was the selection of a program of work for each committee during the ensuing year.

Following talks by B. L. Hummel, specialist in community organization, who spoke on the further development of the organization plans; Miss Mary E. Bell, home demonstration agent; T. T. Curtis, retiring county agent, and F. D. Cox, his successor, and Miss Ruby Ryman, county nurse, the following work was selected by the five standing committees of the association:

Much Work Ahead.

Community Benefits Expected. While the Brentsville district has undertaken a comprehensive program for the first year of the community association the membership feels that the successful carrying out of these plans will work a wonderful benefit to the community. This, the first demonstration of this kind in this part of the state, will be carefully watched by other communities and districts in the county as the success of this project will undoubtedly mean the organization of similar organizations in other districts.

Officers of the Community Association in the Brentsville district are: Frank Foster, Nokesville, president; D. E. Earhart, of Bristow, and V. W. Zirkle, Nokesville, vice presidents; Ralph Beahm, secretary and treasurer.

MUSICAL PROGRAM SOON AT SWAVELEY

Old-Time Country Fiddlers and Entertainers Here on March 22.

The final number of the lecture course at Swavely will feature Charles Ross Taggart and his Old-Time Country Fiddlers. On Friday evening, March 22, these men will entertain in Baker Gymnasium. The troupe is known the country over, not only for their famous "Victor" records, but as Lyceum performers of unusual ability. Mr. Taggart is not only a fiddler, but also a story teller, a pianist and ventriloquist. Daniel Ross, another member of the company, is a Scotchman and he presents a Scotch-fiddler act in costume. He has appeared in the celebrated Scotch plays, "The Cotter's Saturday Night," "Beside the Bonnie Briar Bush," and "Auld Lang Syne," written by John Daniels. He has also played the part of the mountain fiddler in the John Fox, Jr., play, "The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come." Richmond, March 12.—There were 2,318 industrial accidents reported in Virginia during February, it is shown by the monthly report of Frank P. Evans, statistician of the State Industrial Commission. There were 871 accidents reported for February last year, at which time, however, employers were only reporting cases in which there was a resulting disability of seven days or more.

The commission approved 645 agreements for compensation to injured employees in February, as compared to 579 in February, 1928. There were 69 cases which were decided on hearings before the commission in February, 1929, and 41 in the same month of last year.

Byrd, who asks that all public officials, school trustees and citizens generally "devote a part of this day to further enhancing the beauty of the state by the planting and cultivation of flowers, trees and shrubs, and to the protection of birds."

NOKEVILLE CLUB MAKES ANNUAL REPORT

Home Demonstration Clubs At Greenwich And Nokesville Show Many Activities.

The Nokesville Club has been organized for two years, but we did not get started in our work this year for several months, as our agent was ill and resigned in April. Miss Bell took over the work in May and since then we have been busy.

Our projects were beautifying every yard and happiness to others. All of our members were interested in beautifying their yards, and there were several who entered contest put on by the Southern Planter.

Miss Ella Agnew spent two days with us, one at club meeting and the other at different homes, helping with the planning of or the setting of shrubs and flowers. She gave us lots of ideas how to improve our yards and by that our homes.

By our project "Happiness to Others," we have tried to convey happiness in the following ways: One Sunday the members of the club went to the District Home for the Poor and gave a short song and prayer service. Just before Miss Claytor left we gave her a $10 gold piece as a remembrance from the club. In August we gave a "Wienie Roast," to which our husbands and friends were invited. We sent a large package of clothing and school supplies to the Leper Colony in Korea. We contributed $3 to Virginia Homemakers Association loan fund. Miss Bell's birthday was in September, so after the regular club meeting we surprised her with a lingerie shower. The hostess had a cake for her. On the day-before Thanksgiving we sent a large donation of canned fruit, jellies, potatoes, apples, cakes and chicken to a needy family, the mother being an invalid. At the beginning of the year we decided to try and get a signal light at the railroad crossing in our town; a petition was sent in, but as yet it has not been installed. We decided to put on hot lunches in school two days a week for three months. We bought brass candlesticks for club room, also a steam pressure cooker to be used by all club members. We entered a cake and pie contest put on by the Snowdrift Company and realized $28.90 in profits. We decided to enter the state wash dress contest. Miss Oliver was with us for one meeting and gave a demonstration in cutting and fitting and showed what patterns and what materials are suitable to different figures. Nokesville and Greenwich Clubs had a contest and the member who had the best dress won a free trip to Blacksburg. This was won by a member of Greenwich Club, but we paid half of the expenses.

Five members of our club went to Blacksburg for the Virginia Homemakers Association meeting. It was voted by the club to give Miss Oliver a silver tray as a remembrance from this club when she comes to us for homemakers meeting in December.

Miss Floyd, of Soft Wheat Millers Association, gave us a demonstration of yeast bread, quick bread, cake and pastry.

One hundred per cent of club members have helped on program. One hundred per cent of club members finished bread and clothing unit.

Greenwich Club Report.

The Greenwich Home Demonstration Club was organized in 1925 with 9 members and since that time we have grown slowly each year and now we have 21 members. The demonstrations we have had this year have been useful to many of the members. Some very helpful things have been discussed and carried out by the club. One of the best objectives of the club has been the serving of the hot lunches in the school at Greenwich; the children are greatly pleased with this. The wash dress contest conducted by our demonstration agent, Miss Mary Bell, in this club was enjoyed and this club is proud that one of its members won a trip to Blacksburg by getting first prize on her dress.

Through our home agent's efforts there was a cake contest put on by the Snowdrift Company and we raised $25, which was given to the School League to be used for the benefit of the school. We have held a meeting each month this year.

MRS. J. P. SMITH DIES ON SATURDAY

Life Long Resident of Waterfall Whose Traits of Character Endeared Her To Everyone.

Mrs. James Philip Smith died at her home at Waterfall Saturday morning, March 9, aged 79 years. Before her marriage she was Miss Annie Foley, daughter of the late Enoch F. Foley and Elizabeth Owens, and had lived all her life at Waterfall.

Mrs. Smith had been in failing health since the death of her husband four months ago, and in January she suffered an attack of bronchitis, from the effects of which she failed to fully recuperate.

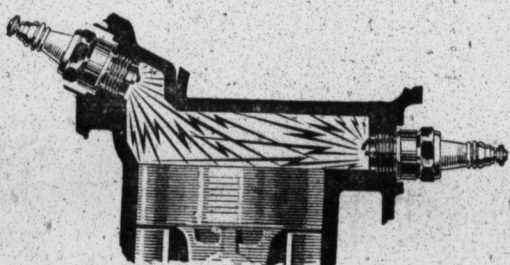

Her devotion to her family, her Christian faith and her many beautiful traits of character endeared her to all who knew her.

Funeral services were held on Monday at Antioch Baptist Church, of which she was a liberal and consistent member, with the Rev. V. H. Council, pastor, officiating. The large attendance and beautiful floral tributes bore testimony to the love and sympathy of her many friends.

Surviving are four children, R. Randolph Smith, Mrs. R. B. Gosson and Miss Florence Smith, of Waterfall and Mrs. E. E. Pickett, of Seat Pleasant, Md.; thirteen grandchildren and one great-grandchild, also two sisters and four brothers.

What TWIN IGNITION Does

THE New Nash Twin-Ignition motor has two big aircraft spark plugs for each cylinder, instead of the ordinary single plug, as you can see in the diagram.

Both plugs fire simultaneously. The gas vapor is ignited at two points instead of the usual one. One effect is quicker combustion, which produces more power, more speed, much faster acceleration.

Another result is more uniform combustion, which helps to create the very noticeable smoothness and rhythm found in Nash motor performance.

And still another result of Twin Ignition is more efficient combustion, which prevents wasted fuel.

With Twin Ignition, instead of single ignition, higher compression is practical, and the same Nash motor produces 9½ more horsepower, 5 miles an hour more speed, and 2 extra miles from every gallon of gasoline.

Prince William County

DUCO Decoration which we will hold in our store on

SATURDAY, MARCH 16, 1929

You will want to join the interesting and profitable classes in Duco decoration which we will hold in our store. An experienced decorator will conduct these classes and will gladly help you solve your decorating problems.

There is color everywhere in the home today. Sombre tones are giving way to bright, cheerful colors. The old-fashioned garden has transferred its delicate colors into the living room. Soft blues and greens for tables and chairs, warm reds and yellow for desks and dressers. Even the kitchen, mother's own workshop, has blossomed forth with color.

It's so easy to use Duco — even without any painting experience you can be certain that the finished result will live up to expectations. Duco dries so quickly that an article finished in the afternoon is ready for use the same evening, and the deep, rich Duco surface will remain bright and lustrous for many seasons to come.

Instruction is FREE to all who attend. In the decoration classes many new and novel finishes will be demonstrated and taught. Learn the art of stippling, of stenciling, of antiquing; let the decorator show you how to obtain the beautiful tiffany and two-tone effects. Bring in some small article from home and finish it in Duco yourself, under the guidance of the decorator. The only charge will be for whatever materials you may use.

This practical demonstration will enable you to transform scores of articles you now have in your home—which you may think are worthless—into objects of beauty and practical use.

FREDERICK W. PATTERSON
Editor and Publisher

Subscription—$1.50 a year in Advance

Entered at the Post Office at Manassas, Va., as second-class mail matter.

THURSDAY, MARCH 14, 1929.

"Blow, March, with mighty winds away
The outworn things of yesterday:
Sweep through the soul, as through the earth;
And bear afar the signs of dearth,
Dead leaves, dead dreams and blighted hours;
Clear hearts and fields for coming flowers!

Blow, March, with great wings, to make room
For life to bud and love to bloom!
Take in your flight, old wrongs and regrets—
Give place to hope's new violets."

WHY NOT BE FORWARD-LOOKING?

There is at present an unprecedented opportunity for the smaller city and town to prosper and develop through the acquisition of suitable industries. Manufacturers of all sorts of commodities are becoming eager to enjoy the advantages of plentiful labor, low overhead and unbounded space, which the great cities can not provide.

Many towns of some 2,000 population are good illustrations of how civic spirit should manifest itself. They want certain industries and they make intensive efforts to get the industry.

Manassas, or any other town, if it wants industries, can realize its ambitions. This town has the requisites—all it has to do is "sell" them. If it wants prosperity, which it knows must result from industrial development, it should get busy. It is in accord with the modern idea of economic and civic progress.

The old illusion that wealth accumulates only in large cities has been exploded. More and more great industries are turning their backs upon crowded metropolises in favor of smaller communities. Why not turn them in the direction of Prince William County?

A SAD, SAD STORY.

The East, the Middle West and the Far West all are represented in the Hoover ministry—but the South which did what it did last November and which expected Mr. Hoover at the very first opportunity to express the gratitude of the republic in some appropriate way, gets nothing. Not anything at all, we are telling you, says a Montgomery Advertiser editorial.

Mr. Hoover compliments the Lowden faction of the Republican party by naming former Gov. Henry M. Hyde of Missouri, as Secretary of Agriculture; he compliments the West by naming Wilbur, of California, Secretary of the Interior, and Jim Good for Secretary of War; he compliments the North and Middle West three times—Brown, of Ohio, is the Postmaster General; Mitchell, of Michigan, gets the Attorney Generalship, and Lament, of Illinois, is the Secretary of Commerce; he compliments the East several times, having named Adams, of Massachusetts, Secretary of the Navy; Mellon, of Pennsylvania, Secretary of the Treasury, and Davis, of Pennsylvania, Secretary of Labor.

But the old Democratic South, which split up in honor of Mr.

Hoover last fall, is not remembered. The engineer has no compliments of the first order to bestow upon the bolters of Dixie. And we had been led to expect much. Edmonds, of the Manufacturers' Record, had been telling us for months that Hoover was really old Santa Claus himself, that when Hoover got into the White House the South would boom economically and would be treated generously politically.

And, no doubt, Mr. Hoover will appoint some Southern bolters before he gets through. He has sent a few of our favorite sons on diplomatic missions to Latin-America, Sweden, Switzerland and Poland. But he passed up his first opportunity to put one of our sons—or daughters—into his cabinet.

"It's a sad, sad story, mates," allows the Montgomery Advertiser, "and just as soon as our sinus improves a little we're going to enjoy ourselves by weeping in a manner altogether becoming to us."

THE NEW SOUTH.

One of the difficult problems facing President Hoover, according to Washington news stories, is the distribution of patronage in the Republican South. In the Democratic South, that is, in South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana, things will go along as usual. But in the new Republican territory of Virginia, North Carolina, Tennessee, Florida and Texas a new deal is obviously in order, and there is a great dispute as to whether negroes are entitled to recognition in these states.

One's first impulse, of course, is to repudiate the suggestion that even the Republican South will hesitate for a moment over such a question. But on second thought one is reminded that the Republican South has done a great many things recently which were thought impossible. It has managed to come to an understanding with the G. O. P. on the tariff. It has managed to swing to the G. O. P. position on centralized government. More submissively even than the Middle West, it has recognized the overlordship of the political parson, with all that it implies.

Perhaps we are nearer than the South will grant the negro's right to full political representation, including a share of the spoils of office. Some of the Southern States may remain intransigent for a long time, but surely not those which are, on all other points, already converted to Republicanism. — Baltimore Evening Sun.

Press Comment

Why Shouldn't It Be?

Washington Evening Star — When Coolidge speaks in simple language for himself he is far more frank and gently human than the "White House spokesman" ever dared to be.

Satirically Speaking.

St. Louis Times — We are somewhat astonished at the moderation of the dregs. A $10,000 fine is a mere jest, levied upon a bankrupt. Five years in a penitentiary is a mere incident in a long life. The violation of prohibition laws should be made a matter of severity. We direct with great respect, to the attention of those who are about to be the further-empowered doctors of our personal conduct, the idea of cutting off the thumbs of first offenders. No thumbless man can cannily handle a mug of beer. Cannily handling mugs of beer requires on the part of the handler a thumb.

Think It Over.

Ohio State Journal — A small but growing minority of the Be It Enacted Club of the Franklin Avenue Protective Association is opposed to any further reform legislation at this time on the ground that the young people are already about as bad as is good for them.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

FOR MARCH 17, 1929.

The International Sunday School Lesson for March 17 is "The Christian Sabbath" — Exodus 20:8-11; Matthew 12:1-8; John 20:19; Revelation 1:10.

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS.

Everybody is a provincial somewhere; and on my first Sunday in Japan, long years ago, I was jolted into awareness of the fact that the sort of Sabbath which I had known all my life is by no means a world-wide institution. It was a shock to see business going on as usual, and Sunday regarded like every other day. Later I was to learn how Sunday is kept, or ignored, throughout the whole non-Christian world. And the experience set me to examining into the fundamental significance of one day in seven which the Bible so solemnly sets apart.

Even on that first Sunday in Japan I noticed children returning from Sunday School, with thick red hymn books in their hands; and before the day was over I heard Christian music breaking forth from behind paper walls, and myself had joined in a Christian service. For where the Gospel goes, there goes the Sabbath Day. The two are inseparable. Without this observance, there would soon be no stated worship; and without stated worship, religion would soon languish.

Doing Bed-Rock-Thinking.

Most that is turned topsy-turvy in our times is due to a lack of solid thinking on the part of people generally. The Christian world is on a wild spree of anarchy simply because thoughtless folk are accepting fashions set by aliens in our midst. The men and women with foreign names who are writing our "revolt" literature, and setting fashions that smack of Eastern Europe and the Orient, rather than of this Western world, have a large following simply because sound thinking is not the day's vogue. Our young "liberals" give away their most precious inheritances with the same ignorant recklessness that descendants of fine old families part with priceless antiques which are heirlooms.

But men and women of such stock as have built the United States and Canada cannot long continue in unthinking rejection of their greatest treasures. Every wastrel who is not hopelessly stunted mentally "comes to himself" eventually, as did the prodigal, and perceives values in their true proportion. Today's fashions of folly, in irreverence, irreligion, denial of domesticity, disregard of the tested reticencies, contempt for the ancient moral laws, flabby "internationalism," which is perilously near to treason—all these will pass, when once people turn again to sturdy thinking and to personal appraisal of life's real values.

When that good day dawns—and golden glints of its sunrise are already on the horizon—we shall have back again the Christian Sabbath (not necessarily the Puritan Sabbath), the Christian home and the Christian code of character. For out of these sprang all that is distinctive in our national life.

Without Intolerance or Ranting.

Our changing times get no help from the hysterical. Neither does the noisy, intolerant ranter assist us to a solution. Demagoguery and sectarianism and narrowness are merely handicaps. Only the quiet, concerned and serious thought of the average person, who wants to do right and wants to be true both to the past and to the future, can make right what has gone wrong. If in heedlessness and sheepishness we have surrendered precious heritages, only the deep purpose of intelligent patriots can get them back. So serious is the issue at stake—nothing less than the preservation of our national character—that it is going to take deliberation and decision to effect adequate results.

To confine ourselves to the lesser assigned, it is clear that the Sabbath is slipping. All sorts of forces are undermining this basic Christian institution—carelessness, carnality, commercialism, alien ideals, pleasure-loving and worldliness. In legislative bodies and in social usage the day that once was held sacred is at present being deliberately attacked. And too often the only active defenders are professional reformers whose fanaticism defeats the ends they seek. Such a continent-wide discussion of the subject as is assured by the fact that millions of persons will study this International Uniform Lesson should be supplemented by table talk on the topic in Christian homes; and by addresses before women's clubs and men's luncheon clubs. For the question is more than religious; it is basically national and social.

A Few Pregnant "Ifs."

If the Sabbath goes as a rest day and as a religious day, then distinctive Christian nationalism goes also. If the Sabbath is secularized, then the workman's rest day departs—and physiologists long ago discovered that the principle of one day's rest in seven is essential to human efficiency. Even the pagan nations have worked out this principle by their numerous feast days.

If the Sabbath is to become only a play day, then systematic Bible teaching, and education in Christian principles and ideals, swiftly become dispirited. The Law of the Lord is bound up with the Day of the Lord.

If the Sabbath is kept in the Christian conception it is the home day—the day of family reunions, of united church attendance, of leisurely lingering about the table, of walks and talks and of reading aloud in the domestic circle. There are no divorces in the homes where the Christian Sabbath is kept in its real significance. And childhood's memories of the family should be sweetest as they deal with the rest day which unites the whole circle.

If the lift and refinement of spirituality, and of Christian ideals, is to be retained in life; then the Sabbath must be preserved as a day of worship and religious exercises. And without the sense of God in one's life, there can be no peace for the human heart.

If good society's best characteristics are to be saved—the spirit of refinement and gentility and consideration and altruism—this day devoted to life's nobler aspects must be maintained.

If "the Sabbath was made for man"—that is, for the higher qualities and capabilities of man—then it should not be perverted by being used only for physical and recreational ends. Man is entitled to this gift of God, which recognizes him as an immortal spirit.

If the Christian Sabbath goes, something fine inevitably departs from life. Already we see multitudes of young people who do not know the great hymns and the great history of faith; who are unfamiliar with the Bible and who are strangers to even the phrases of prayer. The Sabbath sermon has throughout the ages been one of the major educational influences of civilization, enlarging their horizons and imparting lofty ideals of character and duty.

MARCH ABOUT LAWN AND GARDEN.

March brings with its blustery winds many duties and opportunities for improvement about the home, chief of which are many means of gaining time over the inclement weather of early spring in starting many flower and vegetable plants on their way to healthy growth.

Sweet peas should be started indoors in pots and after the seed has germinated, the pots should be kept in a place not too hot, but of a temperature that will permit continued growth. As soon as danger of freezing is past and the ground is warm, they may be replanted. Several days and often weeks of growth will be gained. Sweet peas like sweet soil, so be sure the plot is not acid.

Sweet peppers are growing in popularity as a table delicacy. Often growers make the mistake of planting them too late in the season to permit maturity before frosts. Start them now in boxes indoors. After the plants have made sufficient growth they should be replanted to other boxes and later to cold frames. They should be set into permanent plantings about June 1. It is surprising how vigorous their growth will prove after this process.

It is estimated by vegetable growing authorities that the average

American garden produces only about 50 per cent of the amount of vegetables of which it is capable. Poor planting and cultivation, preventable insect losses and insufficient plant food constitute the other half that is lost to the grower. 1929 is an excellent year to reduce this huge loss.

Rhubarb, always popular in pies and stewed, should be given a liberal mulching of well rotted stable manure and an extra application of 4-8-6 fertilizer to insure an early spring start. Applications of nitrate of soda later in the spring and during the growing season will accomplish wonders in producing larger and better stalks. When these aids fail it is evident the roots are becoming crowded and need separating. This should be done in early spring when first evidences of growth begins. Leave one strong eye on each piece and as much root attached as possible. Rhubarb is a healthy and luscious vegetable, and should be found in every home garden.

Club-root in cabbage is evidence that the soil is becoming acid. Liberal applications of lime will correct this. If perchance the cabbage soil of last year was not properly cleaned and any refuse of the crop was left to pollute the 1929 crop, all such materials should be destroyed now.

One ounce of corrosive sublimate dissolved in a gallon of water makes an excellent disinfectant for shade tree wounds. This should be applied to all wounds caused by pruning. Afterwards the wound should be given a heavy coating of white lead paint or shellac to keep out spores of decay. Don't prune shade trees during the period of sap flow. There are eleven other months of the year when this loss can be avoided.

If large bare places in the lawn grass refuse to yield to proper efforts to attain a grass covering, it may be well to look for leaks in the gas pipes or residue from the lime used in building process. Salt used in melting ice and snow during the winter often causes these ugly places on the lawn. If lawns were top-dressed with manure during the winter, they should be carefully raked to permit the grass access to the warm days.

Time to apply the apple dormant spray will soon be here. Lime sulphur and oil emulsion are the two preferred materials. For destruction of aphids it is necessary to use the lime sulphur solution to which has been added one pint of nicotine sulphate to each 100 gallons of spray. The San Jose scale is controlled by the delayed dormant spray.

An application of eight to ten ounces of nitrate of soda worked well into the soil around the roots of each grape vine soon after the buds begin to swell will prove a wonderful boost in grape production.

Mulch should be removed at once from strawberry plants so the vines will get the full benefits from the warm sun. This is also true of cultivated blackberries and raspberries. These latter two should receive an application of 0-8-4 fertilizer at the rate of about 600 pounds to the acre as soon as first cultivation will permit. And while speaking of cultivated berries, the dewberry should not be ignored. Yields from this new addition to the cultivated berry family reach as high as 5,000 quarts to the acre. They are excellent for garden and backyard growing. Who can forget the luscious dewberry pies of boyhood days?

March affords fine opportunities for planting evergreens in the lawn. There is such a large array of pines, firs, hemlocks, spruces and junipers to select from that almost all tastes can be satisfied. Then too there are the arborvitae and various cedars, and scores of others that may be found in the catalogues. They must be set at once, else the hot weather of late spring will find them with insufficient root development to withstand the rigors of summer.

IN MEMORIAM.

In sad but loving remembrance of dear brother, Thomas F. Anderson, who departed this life August 10, 1926.

In the graveyard, softly sleeping,
Where the flowers gently wave;
Lies the one we love so dearly,
And tried so hard to save.

He is gone, but not forgotten,
And never shall he be;
For we hope some day to meet him,
In the home above with Thee.

What would I give to hold your hand,
Your dear face just to see;
Your loving smile, your welcome
voice,
Which meant so much to me.

Twelve long years ago you left us,
To rest in eternal peace;
But my love for you dear brother,
Will never, never, cease.

Some may think we are not lonely,
When at time they see us smile;
Little do they know the heartaches,
That we suffer all the while.

Every day brings back sweet memories,
Every day brings back a tear;
Deep within my heart I cherish,
Thoughts of one we love so dear.

Today recalls sad memories,
Of my dear brother, gone to rest;
And the one who thinks of him today,
Are the ones who love him best.

Never shall I cease to love you,
Never shall your memory fade;
Sweetest thoughts forever linger,
Around the spot where my dear brother is laid.

Sleep on, dear brother, and take your rest,
God called you home, He thought it best.

He saw your suffering here was great,
And opened wide the golden gate.

By his devoted sister.

A. A.

IN MEMORIAM.

In sad but loving remembrance of my dear mother, Mrs. Laura E. Anderson, who departed this life January 15, 1929, near Dumfries, Va. Two months ago, dearest mother. Since you left us and went away To be with God and his angels; That was a sad January day.

You left us broken hearted;
And all seemed dreary there;
Home is not the same dear mother,
As it was when you were there.

Days of sadness still come o'er me
Tears of sorrow silently flow;
Memory keeps you ever near me,
Though death claimed you two months ago.

Oh, could we open wide the grave
And see your face once more;
To hear your voice is all I crave
As in the days of yore.

I shall never cease to love you,
Though your form is hidden from view,
And some day I hope to meet you
Around God's throne in life anew.

Heaven retaineth now our treasure,
Earth alone the casket keeps;
And the sunshine loves to linger
Where my dear mother sleeps.
By her loving daughter.
