BODY CRUSHED BY FARM WAGON

Prince William County Farmer Killed Yesterday Afternoon

W. R. Varner, aged sixty-six, living near Brentsville died yesterday evening while on the way to the Warrenton Hospital after a heavy loaded farm wagon had crushed his body.

In company with his son, Robert, and Mr. Frank Egan, son of a neighbor, Mr. Varner was driving in a load of oats when two sheaves fell off in front, taking him with them. It is stated when he cried to the team which stopped with the front wheel directly on his chest.

As soon as his son disengaged him, he rose and attempted to walk to his house, but was carried most of the way. The family immediately summoned Dr. McBride who told them to bandage him and make for the hospital at once.

Mr. Varner was expectorating considerable blood by this time, and a stop was made at Greenwich to give him water. Shortly after the machine passed New Baltimore, he grew worse, and was dead before the hospital was reached.

The funeral will be held tomorrow at 3 p. m., either at the residence or from the Valley View Church at Aden where he will be buried by his daughter, Mary.

The deceased is survived by his widow and four children, W. A. Frank, Robert and Anna. He also has two sisters living in Page County, of which he was a native previous to the removal here in 1908. Mrs. A. H. Roseberry, of Manassas, is a sister of Mrs. Varner.

Mr. Varner enjoyed an enviable reputation in his community, both as a farmer and as a citizen. His tragic demise has caused general regret.

Mrs. Mary Carter Smith, wife of Bernard Smith of Stepney Farm, Haymarket, died Sunday night at a Washington hospital. She had been ill for several weeks, and her death was not unexpected. The funeral took place on Tuesday morning at St. Paul's Church, Haymarket. The service was read by the rector, Rev. W. F. Carpenter and some familiar hymns were sung by the choir of the church. The interment was in the family lot in the church yard. The funeral was largely attended, by friends and relatives from Clark Co., Washington City and other points, as well as people from the community.

Mrs. Smith was a native and life long resident of Prince William Co., being the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Edward Carter. Her mother died when she was a child, and she was raised by her aunt, Mrs. Robert Lewis at Stepney where almost her entire married life was also spent. Besides her husband, Mrs. Smith is survived by two sons, Robert Cary, and Bernard Carter Smith, also one brother, George Carter, and a large family connection.

RALLYING THE TROOPS OF BEE AND BARTOW AT THE FIRST BATTLE OF MANASSAS

This month we celebrate in Prince William County, on the famous battlefield, one of the most brilliant and decisive conflicts in the world's history. It is an ever recurring hour of glory for the South when each year we stand where Jackson stood and review the deeds of valor that made the name of Virginia a synonym for honor and chivalry. We cannot, in upholding the regal principles of our native state, do more than our parents did, and in the presence of their knightly achievements we dare not do less for the honor and dignity of Virginia while our hands hold the standard that inspired Lee and Jackson.

BOARD READY TO PROCEED

Has Set Date for Sale of School Bonds and Letting of Bids for Construction

Notification from Professor Haydon that the School Board will sell bonds and let bids for two school buildings at Haymarket and Thoroughfare on the 23rd brings to a close a contest that has carried over a period of several years.

Proponents of more highly improved buildings lost out two years ago, and a suit threatened to carry on the controversy after the spring election this year.

In order to give the court proper time to maturely consider the grounds for the contest, Judge Smith continued the case to the June term, when after considerable deliberation, Judge McCarthy finally signed the necessary documents which permitted the Board to proceed without further interruption.

The smaller building may possibly be ready for use when school opens, but the larger structure will hardly permit of occupancy before the close of the first term.

HORSE SHOW HOLDS INTEREST

Entries Indicate that All Classes Will Have Close Competition

Entries for Prince William Horse Show are coming in briskly to Secretary Olinger, at Nokesville. Exhibitors have until the twenty-sixth to qualify.

Catalogues have been printed by the Association, which is a community proposition, and Secretary Olinger will be glad to mail out copies to any one interested.

The dance this year will be held on the evening of the first day at the Welfley farm.

Bare Toes—
Socksless,
Nearly Naked—

Outdoors for the kiddies, plenty of fresh air, sunshine, pure water, Bull Run and the Potomac to swim in, sandy beach, shady trees, birds singing, happy tots; sun down and to sleep, peace dreamland.

From all corners of Twin City the Old and the Young bring in real newsy items. Several times a day we answer the phone to listen to a choice and juicy piece of dynamic gossip. All of this is appreciated. We are sorry, but the Manassas Journal refuses to give us a page. If you, folks are really and truly interested in Twin City Gossip, write to the editor and enclose a few new subscriptions. A county paper is indispensable to the development and progressive growth of a county. By the way, Mr. Editor, do you happen to know where the Prince William County Chamber of Commerce was interred? We have been wondering why the Progressive people of the County failed to give it to their whole hearted support. To bury it so young reflects on the County's progressive spirit. Why not dig the remains up, have a post-mortem examination made so as to ascertain cause of early demise. The excuse may be preventable, and in the future we can take all necessary precautions. Probably there is a serum, anti-toxin, vaccine, or what not that can be used to good advantage. We believe there is a science known as vaccinotherapy and when used in connection with zoocentric thought prolongs life. Prince William's location on the map of Virginia is a very favorable spot. We need a live wide awake Chamber of Commerce to help us to reach up and up out and out. This is an age that spells progress to the County, to the Community and to the People that put forth an earnest effort. Fairfax and Arlington Counties are forging ahead, and we just believe that Prince William with a little help can step out and do the 'highland-fing.'

All's quiet on the Potomac. The "Sons of Rest" an organization having headquarters in the northwestern corner of Twin City, meets daily under the shade of a nearby tree, or quietly standing in the shadow of some building. This organization is dedicated to the evolution of man and

The Word of God

BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER
If parents will have their children memorize a Bible selection each week, it will prove a priceless heritage to them in after years.

BE STRONG—Finally, my brethren, be strong in the Lord, and in the power of his might. Put on the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil. —Eph. 6:10, 11.

PRAYER:

Strengthen us, Lord, with all might in the inner man.

AN OLD-TIME HERO

This is a day when we are reviving history and calling back our past that we may be guided in the present and future.

Her wonderful history is the chief glory of Virginia. Her pages are replete with amoral bearings and colorful pageantry. The characters that animate the scroll of her deeds are forceful and gentle both in war and peace.

One of the most progressive organizers after the War Between the States, as well as one of the most valiant of statesmen and soldiers during Virginia's, trying period was a man widely known in Prince William and Fairfax—"Extra Billy" Smith.

He is really responsible for the present day bus routes that are doing so much for this region. His idea, at the time in which he figured, was coach lines over territory that railroads did not directly serve. As General Washington's great idea was the development of inland water ways, Gov. Smith pioneered bus routes.

His grandnephew who is one of the Congressional candidates now in the field seems to have inherited "Extra Billy's" ability and popularity as he is already generally accepted as the successful candidate.

MANASSAS WATER USERS REASSURED

Manassas is fortunate in having an unusually pure water supply it being derived entirely from deep wells the shallowest of which is about three hundred feet in depth.

Despite various unfounded rumors in regard to the Town's water supply reports are received from the State Department of Health week after week showing that the water is one hundred per cent pure.

Manassas is also fortunate in having an abundance of water to take care of present needs with a comfortable margin to spare.

While other towns of the State are experiencing a serious shortage and are urging the careful use of water Manassas can in good faith tell the citizens of the Town to use as much as their needs or inclinations may require.

A NEW CODE OF HONOR

It is said that there is nothing new under the sun. It has remained for a citizen of the ancient and honorable County of Fairfax to discover a new code of honor in the present political contest for Congress. In a paid political advertisement in the Fairfax Herald appears a letter printed under the picture of Mr. Thomas R. Keith, candidate for Congress. The letter is signed by one George K. Pickett. It contains expressions of regret that so many voters of Fairfax seem to have committed themselves to the support of another candidate, evidently referring to Judge Howard W. Smith, and criticizing those county officers and withdrawing their support from Judge Smith since Mr. Keith's announcement. After railing at the citizens of Fairfax, who chose to adhere to the code of honor which has existed many centuries prior to Mr. Keith's candidacy for Congress, the letter, which is couched in rather legal form, contains this remarkable statement: 'A promise to vote is merely an expression of the honest purpose of the voter at the time it is given, based on conditions as they are then supposed to exist. Between honorable men and women such a promise can always be honorably withdrawn whenever the promiser desires. The expression of that desire to the one promised fulfils the strictest rules of ethics and honor on the subject.'

It is quite evident that the last minute candidacy of Mr. Keith, the motive for which was a matter of much speculation, is not going so well in his home County of Fairfax, as otherwise his campaign headquarters would not have gone to the extreme of publishing this remarkable letter as a campaign document.

It is pleasing to note that the honorable people of Fairfax are adhering to the old codes of honor and ethics rather than turning to this new invention of Mr. Keith's cohorts, devised for the purpose of aiding him in his present emergency.

—The Fauquier Democrat.

IN MEMORIAN

In sad but loving remembrance of my dear father, Dallas Murray, who departed this life one year today July 13, 1929.

Can I help but feel so lonely when his voice I do not hear no words were ever sweeter than the words he used to say.

He is gone but not forgotten never shall his memory fade sweetest thoughts shall all ways round the spot linger where he was laid.

Plan Your Picnics Now

How's the old car? Or perhaps you have a new one this summer. At any rate, do you remember what a good time you had motoring last year, and how it enabled you to keep the children out of doors practically all the time? You can repeat this summer, and build up on last year's experience.

Sure Fire Sandwiches

How's the vacuum bottle? In good condition? Fine! Was it big enough last summer, or would you have liked to be able to have twice the quantity of cold drinks? And the lunch kit? A bit rusty? Why not polish it up now and not wait for that first summer day when you just can't stay indoors, but simply have to go and eat somewhere outside?

Here are some unusual sandwich spreads.

Tongue and Mushroom Sandwich Shred a can of cooked tongue and add half a can of chopped canned mushrooms, two tablespoons of chopped dill pickles and three tablespoons of Thousand Island Dressing. This mixture can be used between either white or whole wheat bread.

Salmon and Egg Sandwich Chop two hard cooked eggs and add to the minced contents of one small can of salmon. Add one tablespoon of anchovy paste, one-eighth teaspoon lemon juice and four tablespoons mayonnaise. Chill and spread on sliced and buttered white bread.

Marie O. Gaszka as "Sunshine" and Dorothy Rothage illustrating "Water" in Baltimore Health Class play.

The health course inaugurated by the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Companies for its women employees is producing excellent results. Just recently 780 women employees of the companies in Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia and the District of Columbia have received graduation certificates of this health course from John C. Koons, vice-president. These classes bring the total graduates in health course work to more than 3,500 employees in this area.

Employees taking the course receive training from competent instructors under the supervision of telephone company medical advisors on general rules for the maintenance of good health, prevention of the more common kinds of illness, simple rules of nursing, what to do in case of accident, and how to render first aid.

The health course consists of lessons of one hour each, extending over a period of fifteen weeks, the only stipulation made by the company being that the employee take the course on her own time. Class rooms are provided convenient to the central offices or other places of employment and the hours are arranged suitable to the working hours of the young women.

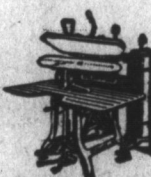

Graduating exercises are held at the end of each course, at which the graduates are given an opportunity to display the knowledge obtained in their class work. At each of the graduation exercises plays are given by members of the class emphasizing the value of exercise as a means of keeping well, and the proper kinds of food and its preparation.

She spends his earnings wisely*MAN earns and woman spends. For many years this has been the popular plan in the American home.
And in most cases it is a very good arrangement.Too seldom, however, does the wife-and-mother receive due credit for her part in the enterprise. Earning a comfortable income today is a mighty fine accomplishment—
"a man's job," sure enough. But the wise investment of the family funds is also far from child's play. This most often is Mother's task, and she deserves a medal for her able handling of it.Women as a rule are good buyers, because they study their problems. They budget their resources, adjust their purchasing schedule to the budget, and buy carefully.The best help they get in marketing comes from the ads in their home newspaper. They find that intelligent study of ads means economy of money and time.

The woman in your home knows how true this is!

Model A light delivery cars were announced this week by the Ford Motor Company and are on display in the show rooms of Ford dealers.Changes in the trucks are principally in the front end, which has been completely redesigned, and in the cab. The radiator is higher with more cooling surface, fenders are wide and flowing, and a black cowl strip adds a note of distinction.The new Model AA trucks with the four-speed transmission introduced several months ago may be had with enclosed or open cab. The enclosed cab, shown above, is all steel, it is low in appearance yet with ample head room. The open cab is of black rubbertop material and is easily removed.
Both cabs are equipped with wind-shields of Triplex shatterproof glass and vacuum type windshield wipers.Model AA trucks may be had with a platform body, which can be equipped with stakes or a panel body. The chassis has many improvements, including the four-speed transmission, larger front brakes, stronger springs, power take-off opening and optional dual rear wheels.The Model A line of new commercial cars comprises a light delivery truck with pick-up body, a deluxe delivery truck, a small panel truck and a station wagon. These cars have the smaller wheels and larger tires of the new Ford passenger cars.

RELIEF FROM CURSE OF CONSTITUTION

A Battle Creek physician says "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause."

But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies has been discovered. This tablet attracts water from the system into the lax, dry, evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough, natural movement, without forming a habit of ever increasing the dose.

Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Rexall Orderlie at night. Next day bright. Get 24 for 25c today at the nearest Rexall Drug Store.

For 30 years doctors have prescribed Vinol because it contains important mineral elements of iron, calcium and cod liver peptone. The very FIRST bottle brings sound sleep and a BIG appetite. Nervous, worn-out people are surprised how QUICK Vinol gives new life and pep! Tastes delicious.

Fourteen Hours

2,112 miles in 13 hours and 55 minutes—a flight from one end of the country to the other—the fastest long journey man has ever made—a journey that took our pioneer forefathers from 3 to 5 months of weary travel at a snail's pace, over vast expanses of prairie, across turbulent rivers, through perilous mountain passes.

To skim over these vast expanses in a little less than 14 hours seems incredible. Yet, even speed such as this becomes as nothing over the telephone wires. By means of the telephone this journey can now be made, not one way alone but both ways, within the space of MINUTES.

Whether you call 10 miles or 2,000 miles, you will find the same speedy long distance service always at your disposal. Most out-of-town connections can now be made while you wait on the line. And as to rates—ask Long Distance for the rate on any call you wish to make. You'll be surprised to find how low it is.

The "Horny" handed sons of Toil are not welcomed, but that grand old organization known as "The Never Sweats," have a standing invitation to rest and commune, in Thot, indeed and in act with its ally, the pass word a "Ugh" (you see it takes very little effort to make such a guttural sound) Mr. Cotton Davis, is grand and imperial High Potentate of the Mother Commandery, representing the first and only lodge of the "Sons of Rest" that have allied themselves with the "Never Sweats." Sorry that we are unable at this writing to give a full list of charter members. Write to Mr. Cotton Davis, Twin City, using his full official title for information in regards to this progressive organization. We especially recommend this institution to the weary.

My! My! What a fine piece raw gossip! Sizzling hot. A juicy morsel indeed. You know Rufus Solomon Glasscocke. Well, for quite some time past, Rufus Solomon has been paying particular attention to a mada Queen in Yonder City. In spite of his dogs giving him fits each step he makes, and frequent conferences and big particular attention to Madam Queen money matters causing embarrassing moments, Rufus Solomon kept on the job. He was fond of Ducky Woocky as a nickname.

Sad to relate the traveling salesman came to town and now Rufus Solomon is all down in the dumps. Wake up Rufus Solomon, the camels are coming.

An optimist is one who sees the doughnut, a pessimist is one who sees the hole. Split your shoes, Rufus, so your corns wont bear so hard on your dogs.

Oh, Darling, I am so glad that you are home, we heard that some idiot had fallen off the cliff and I was sure it was you.

Secretary Tyson, of the State Highway Department has shouldered his puddle jumper and gone out on the State Highway in search of undying fame and fortune. Doc. Hornbaker has broken out in a progressive sweat. He has installed in the Occoquan Company's Sales room one of the latest automatic weighing machines known to the scientific world. Doc is a booster for Twin City.

Tou Pee Davis scratched his head, Out came the hair and he thot he was dead.

His hands were ashake, his lips were a quiver; His heart stood still, bile filled his liver.

His spleen went flat, nerves dead; We have no record of what he said.

But, if we judge from the past, Tou Pee Davis stood aghast;

And then started to sputter—

And started to mutter:

The air turned blue—

A dark livid hue,

As blankety, blank, blank rose and fell,

Silence! We are not going to tell.

Twin City, like all other large centers has its sporting bloods. On the 4th, Jakey Clarke, Tou Pee Davis and Bubby Boulton felt baseballs coursing through their veins. So urgent was the call they made an early get away and left Roust A. Bout Terrell behind. Roust A. Bout got slightly insulted and stayed home. Jake, Tou Pee and Bubby took the games in with the usual popcorn balls and pretty girls. Jakey who is a usual grand stander stood and stood causing his in growing toe nails and gouty ankles to rebel. Tou Pee, account of using a cement step for a grand stand kept his coat tail pulled down low and at his writing he is sporting a brand new twin patch. Roust A. Bout spent the 4th in bed peeved but satisfied the next day.

have all the candidates made definite statements. Yes, bre'r DeJarnette, Mackey, Keith and Ball have laid particular stress on prohibition and all other questions of the bay that affects Virginia in general and particular the 8th District. "What has Br'er Smith said?" Br'er Smith says "I was born and raised on a farm, dairyman by vocation; lawyer by profession, office seeker by inspiration, potential congressman by invitation, and modest by paternal rearing. I love milk and clabber! He does not say a word about prohibition, or any other important question of the day that we are interested in. How Judge Smith stood on certain questions and we have referred 'em to his record. This form of declaration does not seem to be satisfying. People forget. The voters demand to know how each candidate stands on prohibition and other pertinent questions. Judge, your many friends prefer that you sink or swim on a clear firm statement.

We still have a fine assortment of bachelors on hand: Manley Southworth, quiet and thoughtful, gentle and serious where the girls are concerned. Bachelors are jumping the broom stick every day. Girls, be on the alert. A word to the Wise.

Hers to Command

An army to set her table

When the housewife tells A & P her needs—by her purchases in its stores—an army of men, trained to obey her will, stands at command.

And because great numbers of women who like good things and good values trade in A & P stores, the order of one housewife becomes the order of many. A vast association of housewives, A & P's customers, thus grows out of a single aim—good food at least cost.

The whole A & P army is at their command, and the buying of all these housewives—massed to serve each—gives to all the pick of every crop, of every food.

Growers and manufacturers know that only their best products at fair prices will satisfy this large body of consumers. In return, these industries are assured of regular sale of their goods.

So the housewife who shops at A & P is certain of the best; while her steady, thrifty buying supports honest food industries in every part of the country.

In shopping to her own advantage, she is helping the food producer.

MAJORITY IN RACE IN NEARBY DISTRICT FAVOR DRY CHANGE

Three Congress Candidates in Eighth Virginia District for Modification

FOURTH NON-COMMITTAL
AND FIFTH IS BONE DRY

Fairfax County Man, Late Starting,
Reported Taking Position
Among Leaders

Special Dispatch to the Star
RICHMOND, Va., July 5.—Virginia's most interesting congressional primary race this year is in the eighth district, where five candidates are contesting for the Democratic nomination for the seat now held by Representative R. Walton Moore, who is retiring from the national House of Representatives.

The most surprising feature of the campaign and one which is taken as significant of changing political thought in Virginia is that three of the five candidates are in favor of modification of the prohibition laws, one is noncommittal on this subject and only one is classed as bone dry.

Four of the candidates—Howard W. Smith of Alexandria, Crandal Mackey and Frank L. Ball of Arlington County and E. H. DeJarnette of Orange County—have been in the race for several months. Of these, Capt. Mackey and Mr. DeJarnette are strong for modification, the latter especially emphasizing the better conditions that obtained in Virginia during the operation of the one-quarter-a-month law. Judge Smith's opponents declared that they have been unable to induce him to commit himself on the prohibition question. The Alexandria jurist, however, is suspected of having dry tendencies. Senator Ball is frankly dry, taking the present laws for better or worse.

Would Settle Question

Thomas R. Keith, of Fairfax, recently entered the race, but has already taken a position among the leading candidates. Despite the fact that Mr. DeJarnette and Capt. Mackey were already splitting the wet vote and notwithstanding the fact that Judge Smith's apparent neutrality was throwing the bulk of the vote to Senator Ball, the Fairfax man had no hesitancy in espousing the modification or repeal cause.

His platform in this regard, recently announced, reads very much like that on which Dwight W. Morrow rode to victory in the Republican primary in New Jersey recently. He says, in part:

"The time has come in this State and in this country, when a serious effort should be made by the reasonable men on both sides to settle the question of prohibition. I am convinced that the eighteenth amendment and the labyrinth of penal laws enacted thereunder have gone too far and that we must find a saner basis for dealing with the liquor question. I favor the return to the States of the powers in this connection, but I am unalterably opposed to the re-establishment of the saloon and feel assured that this phase of the question may be safeguarded so that all apprehensions as to its results may be removed.

States' Rights

"A State should have the right to remain bone dry if that is the will of its people, but if should also have the right by constructive legislation to establish governmental control similar to that which prevails in a great many countries. . . . I repeat that the time has come when we should get together and make such constitutional and statutory changes as will permit the dispensing of liquor under proper governmental control and thereby remove the evils from which we now suffer."

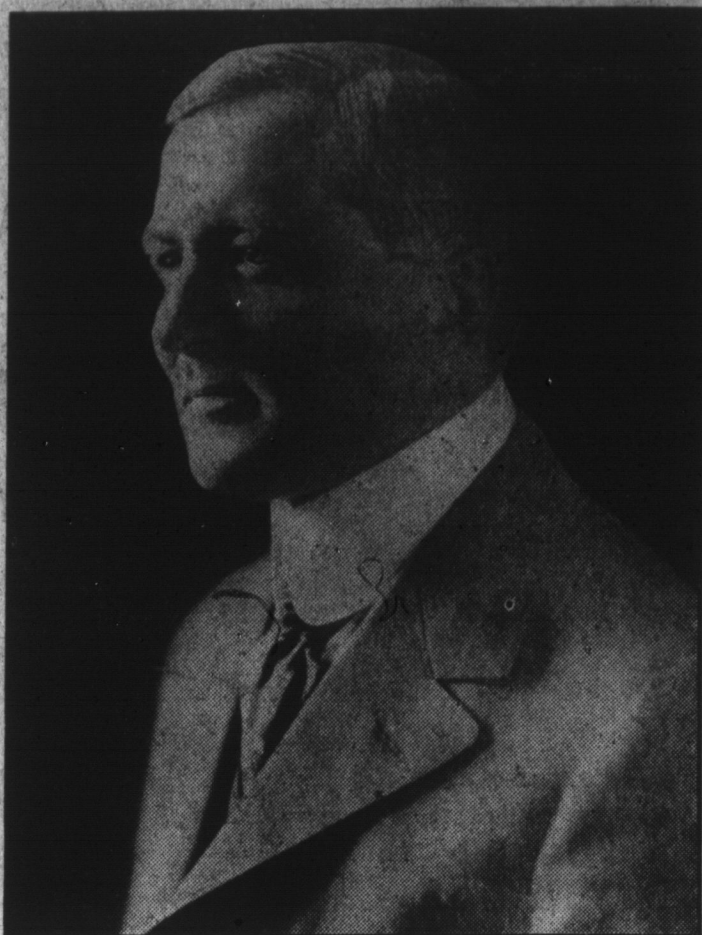

Some humor has been injected into the campaign by Capt. Mackey's effort to smoke out Judge Smith on the prohibition question. In this connection Mackey has published a list of questions and answers in a fancied conversation between Smith and a voter. Some of these are as follows:

Voter: Do you favor or oppose national prohibition?
Smith: I do.

Voter: Are you in favor of the modification or repeal of the Volstead act or the eighteenth amendment or opposed to modification or repeal?

Smith: I am.
Voter: If asked by the State Anti-Saloon League whether you favored or opposed prohibition, how would you answer?
Smith: I would.

HON. THOMAS R. KEITH

MR. KEITH'S PLATFORM

Congressional Candidate Sets
Forth Declaration of Principles

Opposes Prohibition Regime and Favors Sane Settlement of Liquor Question. Other Issues
Defined. Spirited Primary Contest Promised.

Announcement of the candidacy of the Hon. Thomas R. Keith, of Fairfax, for the democratic nomination for Congress has produced a condition that promises to make the present primary campaign the liveliest that the Eighth district has experienced in a generation. During that time the representatives in the House, the late district has had only three different John F. Rixey, Charles C. Carlin and the incumbent, H. Walton Moore.

Although Mr. Keith was the last of the five entrants in the race his canvass has already produced a strong and militant following that indicates an aggressive campaign in all parts of the district. Keith organizations are being rapidly perfected in each of the counties and in the city of Alexandria, and it is Mr. Keith's intention to visit personally every locality in the district and to make his position on the various issues of the campaign known to all the voters. His wide acquaintance and popularity make him a formidable candidate and are attracting prominent men, and women to his standard to such extent that a larger vote will doubtless be cast in congressional primary than ever before in the history of the district.

In a plain and a comprehensive statement Mr. Keith has set forth the platform upon which he stands and the principles that he advocates. Primarily, Mr. Keith states that he believes in the old fashioned Jeffersonian democracy as laid down by the Sage of Monticello and followed by the great leaders of the party in Virginia since his day, and the application of the time honored and time tested principles which such democracy embodies, to the modern problems now presented. He believes that there is nothing more vital than the preservation of the rights of the states upon which there is now a constant and growing tendency of federal encroachment.

Upon that issue Mr. Keith says, "On most questions we should not be required to have the consent of representatives of states that are remote from us and have no knowledge of our local conditions. If we make mistakes in our state legislation, we can correct them, but once we commit a new power to the federal government we must have the consent of representatives of many states before we can change our direction. I furthermore believe that questions that are important should be brought out in the open and discussed in order that the people themselves may take part in deciding them in an intelligent way."

In this connection Mr. Keith points out that with the centralization of power goes the concentration of capital and the conduct of business in relatively few hands. He declares that unless the present tendency is checked, then practically all business will, at no distant day, be conducted by gigantic monopolistic corporations and instead of local enterprise and ownership, most people will become employees, with the further result that practically all of the profits will go to the large cities instead of remaining in the rural communities and small towns.

He believes that the improvement of agricultural conditions is one of the overshadowing issues of the day, and that while individual effort is indispensable there are many means of extending government assistance to the agriculturist who is all too often ignored in the effort of the Republican party to aid the industrialist. In this connection he points out that the newly enacted tariff measure is not one that will help the farmer, but instead that it will still further increase his burdens.

On the question of foreign immigration, Mr. Keith favors the policy of restriction, and advocates such further extensions of that policy as may be necessary to meet the ends desired.

Mr. Keith has taken a definite position in regard to the troublesome prohibition issue. After ten years of experimentation which has produced an era of crime and debauchery to an extent heretofore unknown, he declares that reasonable and conservative men and women should come together and agree upon a sane settlement of the problem, such as will not only promote the cause of temperance, but will command respect for and obedience to law.

He is convinced that the Eighteenth amendment and the labyrinth of penal laws enacted under it have gone too far and failed to accomplish the end sought, as experience has fully shown. Mr. Keith believes that there should be a return to authority to handle the question for themselves. He is unalterably opposed to the re-establishment of the saloon, or any institution that savors of it, and is just as unalterably opposed to the present regime with its army of bootleggers fostering crime and corruption, upon the proceeds of the sale of illicit liquor and developing a class of desperate lawbreakers who have brought on a reign of terror in most of our large cities and from which not even our small towns and country districts are free.

Mr. Keith maintains that the time has come when the better judgment of responsible persons should assert itself, absolved alike from fanaticism and lawlessness, and that there should be worked out a plan for dealing with the liquor question that will be legally enforceable and socially acceptable. Prohibition having demonstrated itself a failure, he declares it is his purpose to strive toward that accomplishment.

The Fairfax candidate is a descendant of the famous Parson Keith who migrated to Virginia from Scotland and into whose family Thomas Marshall, the father of Chief Justice John Marshall married, so that the Keiths and the Marshalls are closely related. His father, Isham Keith was a brave Confederate soldier, as also his uncle, James Keith who became the presiding judge of the Virginia Court of Appeals. Because his father had become impoverished by the war it was necessary for him to spend his boyhood days on a farm in Fauquier County where he was born. Educational advantages were small, but as a youth he obtained employment in a bank where he earned and saved enough money to aid him in going through college. He received his degree in law at the University of Virginia, and shortly afterwards entered the law office of Hon. R. W. Moore, becoming a junior partner in the firm. He married Mr. Moore's sister and has three grown daughters. When Mr. Moore retired from the firm, it was enjoying an extensive practice throughout northern Virginia, and this Mr. Keith has continued. He is now one of the prominent lawyers of the state, and recognized as one of the ablest.

Although frequently importuned to enter politics, Mr. Keith has never before been a candidate for any elective office. He has served as a member of the bar examining commission of the state and as a member of the Board of Visitors of the V. M. I., where he has rendered valued services. He has always taken a keen interest in all civic matters and movements for public welfare. Conspicuous in this connection has been his work for road improvement and for the betterment of business conditions, through the Fairfax Chamber community organizations. He has taken special interest in the development of the various volunteer fire department organizations throughout his own and adjacent counties.

Mr. Keith's position with respect to prohibition is no new thought with him. He has always been frank and outspoken, as he is now, in his belief that the policy could not be maintained without demoralization and wide-spread evils.

USE OF TWO-WAY TELEPHONE AIDS IN AVIATION SAFETY

Flying Fields Now Equipped With Communication Apparatus.
Pilots and Dispatchers Talk to Each Other;
Divert Course in Case of Storm

Plane crossing mountain range, which, during storms, is a menace to aviation. Inset, Capt. A. R. Brooks talking over a Western Electric telephone with a dispatcher at a flying field as he speeds along his course.

Flying through the air thousands of feet above the earth without definite information of possible storms is not a pleasant outlook. Americans in taking up flying—and many of them do—now know that two-way communication between pilots and the air fields can be had continuously. Communication between the pilots and air line dispatchers has brought about a feeling of safety in flying.

Airplane pilots today are able to get spoken reports from various weather broadcasting stations as they fly on their courses. Such reports are not only of local weather conditions, but of conditions along the entire route both forward and backward. This enables the pilot to determine his course. If he is flying over an established route he is also able to pick up beacon signals as well as weather reports. When a pilot leaves an airport with an air transport liner he immediately assumes full responsibility for equipment, which represents an investment of from $30,000 to $100,000, including the value of the mail, express load, and most important of all, for the lives of his passengers. Previous to the installation of telephone communication systems, the transport owner had no way of getting orders or instructions.

Radio telephone dispatching is now used extensively. The man on the ground can give the pilot definite instructions, telling him exactly what to do in case of emergency. The pilot on the other hand finds himself in a position to report conditions, make inquiries, and in emergencies report a forced landing. He is no longer lost. The pilot now has direct contact at all times with one or more ground stations. If he is in need of help, after a forced landing, he can summon it.

JUDGE SMITH REPLIES TO REV. DAVID HEPBURN

Will Respect the Wishes of the People

July 14th, 1930.

Rev. David Hepburn,
State Superintendent,
Anti-Saloon League of Virginia,
State Planters Bank Building,
Richmond, Virginia.

Dear Sir:

I am in receipt of your letter of the 11th instant, stating that your Executive Committee has instructed you to send the following questionnaire to all candidates regardless of Party:

"If you are elected in your District to Congress, will you uphold the Constitution, including the Eighteenth Amendment, the laws enacted pursuant thereto for its enforcement, and any measure that may be introduced to strengthen these laws wherein experience has proven them to be weak, thus carrying out the expressed will of our citizens who voted for State-wide Prohibition by a majority of 30,366; and ratified the Eighteenth Amendment by a vote in the Legislature of 114 to 21?"

In reply to the first branch of your inquiry, namely, whether if elected I will uphold the Constitution, including the Eighteenth Amendment, and the laws enacted pursuant thereto for its enforcement, I reply as follows:

I shall certainly comply with my oath of office to uphold the Constitution and laws of the United States, and will make no exception of the Eighteenth Amendment, or the laws enacted pursuant thereto.

I was appointed to judgeships by two Governors, and elected to judgeships by three State Legislatures, and took that oath on each occasion. Whether I faithfully performed it in the past is a matter of public record and common knowledge in this vicinity. If I have done so in the past there should be no reason to doubt that I will do so in the future.

The second branch of your inquiry is whether I will uphold any measure that may be introduced to strengthen these laws wherein experience has proven them to be weak. I presume you intend to ask if I will vote for such measures. I am unable to give an affirmative or negative answer to this question until I can see and consider the proposed measures. I will not pledge my support blindfolded to any unknown measures, to any person, on any subject, but will use my best judgment and discretion after careful study and consideration for such measures as I believe to be in the interest of the welfare of our Country, and in conformity with the wishes of my constituents.

Respectfully yours,
Howard W. Smith.

O. E. S. OFFICER IS GIVEN SHOWER

Bride-to-be Beautifully Feted and Specially Honored

Miss Louise Merchant, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Walker Merchant, of Battle Street, whose engagement to Mr. Delmar R. Donders, of Milton, Pa., has recently been announced, was given a miscellaneous shower on Tuesday evening, July 15, immediately following the regular meeting of Wilmot Chapter 100, O. E. S. of which she is an officer.

The meeting being adjourned, it was announced that refreshments would be served on the second floor of the Masonic Temple. A special committee for the affair had planned that the majority of the members of the order were to proceed to the place of entertainment in advance of the honoree, who was to be detained in the chapter room on some slight pretext, the whole affair being in the nature of a surprise.

Upon entering the dining hall a little later, Miss Merchant was greeted by the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March, played by the Associate Matron, Mrs. Robert H. Smith, this being the first intimation she had of anything out of the ordinary.

She was conducted to the seat of honor by the Worthy Patron, Mr. Jack Stauff, being followed by a diminutive bride and groom, Master Dicky Haydon, son of Professor and Mrs. R. C. Haydon, and little Miss Bettie Lucille Parrish, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Parrish, both of this town, who drew an artistically decorated wagon, piled high with gifts.

Miss Merchant's surprise was genuine, but upon recovering her breath she was able to make a most gracious little speech of acceptance and appreciation.

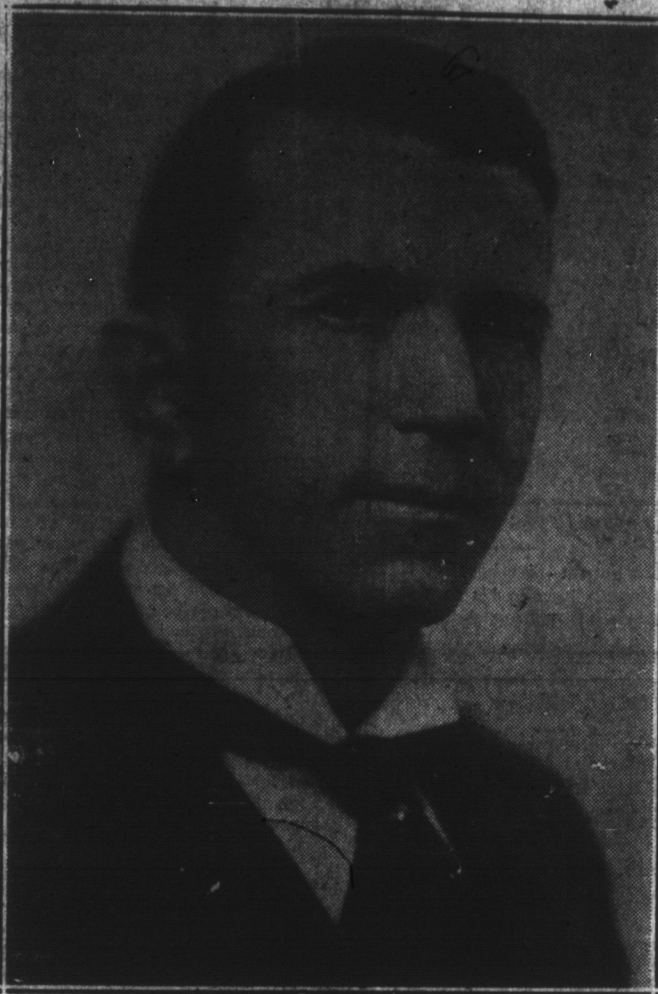

The hall was beautifully decorated in a color of yellow and white, this being carried out with the flowers and candles on the long table on which was placed a handsome wedding cake, later cut and served by the guest of honor.

This also was the work of the efficient entertainment committee.

With the assistance of her twin sister, Miss Annie Laurie Merchant, the bride-to-be opened and displayed her gifts, which were much admired.

Miss Merchant who has ably served for the past two years as an officer in the local chapter will be greatly missed by her fellow members, as well as in the town where she is a popular member of the younger set.

Her wedding will take place in the near future.

JUDGE HOWARD W. SMITH

THE TRUTH THE WHOLE TRUTH AND NOTHING BUT THE TRUTH

The political tricksters of the Eighth District have at last let loose in a desperately determined effort to unseat popular confidence in the recognized favorite Howard W. Smith, of Fauquier County and Alexandria City.

It might be well just at this time to briefly review the real situation. It can well be stated that no moral issue has ever appeared in politics but that it has been grasped by the unscrupulous who use it to the limit to cloud real issues and bewilder the average sincere voter. So it is with the prohibition issue, for a long time the football of politicians.

In the first place, the Eighth District, as a whole, is dry. A local option vote of any species would reveal that condition. Some of this dryness is conservative, some radical. By constantly exciting the spectre of the oldtime barroom, many can be strongly agitated into believing that this is a real issue of the campaign.

Congress has nothing to do with the Constitutional Amendments. Good or bad, they are there until the same procedure which wrote them in can eradicate them. The only thing that Congress can do is to permit a referendum. If elected to Congress, Howard Smith would serve the people of the district in that capacity as honestly as he did while judge. Twice was he appointed by two different Governors and three times was he elected by different legislatures. No word of condemnation was uttered on any occasion. Yet we find now that an effort is being made to direct the so-called prohibition vote to Senator Ball, who has not stated how he would serve his people if they did make it apparent that they wanted a referendum.

The Three Musketeers of the Soak-Up Squad are co-operating very nicely on one thing, and that is to direct to Senator Ball any vote which they cannot secure for themselves. Split up the wet vote? That is a joke—a ghastly bit of humor that may not be apparent to some until they hear the horse laugh they will get if they vote blindfolded.

Let us go back just a little. Who asked Captain Mackey or Mr. DeJarnette to run? The former is generally looked on as an unwelcome child. He has not been charitable toward anyone. The latter's entry can be interpreted in just one way so far as we can see it, and that is another link in the determined chain of effort on the part of a few to defeat Howard Smith. Orange County without DeJarnette in the mix-up would have gone about four-to-one for Smith. As a supposed favorite son, Mr. DeJarnette will unquestionably cut this majority, but he knows that he has not even a fighting chance to win. Captain Mackey and Senator Ball were the originators of the liquor issue in this contest, and without Keith in the race, the former would have undoubtedly pulled a sizable vote.

At the last minute Mr. Keith announced himself in a very serious and scholarly way. His forces are putting up a strenuous fight but most particularly so where the Smith forces are dominant. Little work is being pushed where Senator Ball has an even break or better. This step about marks the conclusion along those lines.

Will Captain Mackey remain in the race? We don't believe right now that he knows just what he will do. To withdraw would not help Mr. Ball, so he will probably keep up his fight against Judge Smith to the end, hoping to aid the general confusion. Muckraking never has won, nor ever will win among clean honorable people. Slander and abuse did not defeat Harry Byrd nor can it defeat Howard Smith.

INSTITUTE AT BLACKSBURG

Farmer's Meeting Has Splendid Program

Blacksburg is Calling You

The program of the Virginia State Farmers' Institute, which will run concurrently with the Institute of Rural Affairs, and which will be held at Blacksburg from July 29 to August 1, has been so arranged as to give every farmer who attends an opportunity to get the latest available information in regard to his current farm problems. The entire afternoons of July 30 and 31 will be devoted to group meetings and demonstrations which will be conducted by the round table question box method.

Attend Your Group
Those farmers particularly interested in soils and crops will attend the agronomy section which will be in charge of Prof. T. B. Hutcheson. Prof. Hutcheson will have associated with him the other members of the college, experiment station and extension division staffs conducting work with crops and soils. These men will have available the latest information for crop producers. Similarly, those interested in animal husbandry will meet with the group led by Prof. R. E. Hunt; in poultry husbandry with Prof. H. L. Moore; in dairying with Prof. C. W. Holdaway; in horticulture with Dean H. L. Price; in agricultural engineering with Prof. Chas. E. Seitz.

Many Prominent Speakers
The farmers who attend the Farmers' Institute will have an opportunity to attend the sessions of the Institute of Rural Affairs which will be held each morning and will be led by such men as Dr. Clyde L. King, University of Pennsylvania; Hon. Jas. C. Stone, Federal Farm Board; Dr. Wm. E. Dodd, University of Chicago; Dr. C. J. Galpin, United States Department of Agriculture; and many others of national reputation.

An outstanding feature of the Institute this year will be the group singing which will be led by Prof. Tolbert MacRae, Iowa State College. Prof. MacRae is not only a good musician himself but also is one of the best song leaders in America.

The business meeting of the Farmers' Institute will be held on the afternoon of Friday, August 1. As many matters of importance will come up for discussion at this meeting every farmer interested in the agricultural welfare of the State should attend.

Report of Home Demonstration Agent June 1930

No. of girls' groups met, 13; no. of Women's groups met, 7; no. of other meetings attended, 8; no. of homes visited, 115; n. of miles travelled, 87; n. of letters written, 15;

Demonstration contests have been held in five of the 4-H Clubs. The winning team from each of these clubs entered the County Contest which was held on July 2. The winning team, which comes from Occoquan Club, will represent the county at the State Contest held during the State Short Course at Blacksburg the latter part of this month.

Most of the clubs are working out some plan whereby funds may be raised to help defray expenses of representatives to the short courses. Greenwich Club gave a carnival on June 27 from which they realized $15.00.

Mr. Beamer, Garden Specialist, was in the county two days during the month scoring the gardens of club members. A second scoring will be given in September. One garden visited had 26 plantings with a variety of 17 vegetables.

A number of visits were made during the month to Yard Improvement and Better Storage Space campaign members. Materials ready sawed and fitted were given by Brown and Hoofnagel Co., for a demonstration closet.

Many of the Home Demonstration Clubs and organizations are planning to send delegations to the Virginia Homemakers Association meeting in Blacksburg which is being held in connection with the Farmers' Institute.

Mrs. Eva M. Prescott, who has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. D. R. Lewis, for the past two weeks, left Tuesday for New Jersey, where she will visit her son, Dr. Daniel Alfred Prescott.

RICHMOND GIRLS VISIT PRINCE WILLIAM

The following capital city sub-debs are guests at St. Anne's, Linton Hall, Bristow, this week: Gretchen Foster, Marguerite Woody, Mary Margaret Burke, Elizabeth Overman, Mary Conaty, Elizabeth Kauffman, Margaret Dozier.

In company with their chaperone, Mrs. Sullivan, they have been visiting points of interest in Northern Virginia. The party will return to Richmond on Saturday.

IMPORTANT SCHOOL NOTICE

1. Is your child ready? County schools open for work, Monday, September, 8.

2. Children entering school for the first time must be six years of age on the day school opens. This is a necessary precaution as the primary grades in some of the schools are becoming very much crowded. Parents who have children who become six years of age on or before December 31, 1930 and who wish them to enter school this year, are requested to make written application to the Superintendent of Schools, giving name of child, date of birth, and name and address of parents. After the schools have opened for a few days additional children will be admitted if there is room, according to when their birthdays come, that is those in September, first; in October, next, etc., until all room is taken up. Positively no children who become six years of age, later than December 31, 1930.

3. Every child entering school for the first time will be requested to present birth certificate to the teacher.

MUST PROVE VACCINATION

4. In order to comply fully with the State law requiring vaccination and the county regulation passed by both the Board of Supervisors and the County School Board, it will be necessary for all the children in the county, regardless of age or grade, to show a vaccination scar upon entrance to the county schools in September or a doctor's certificate showing that they have been vaccinated just prior to the opening of school. Teachers will be instructed not to admit pupils not complied with this regulation.

5. All children entering school for the first time should have a physical examination by their Family Doctor and present BLUE CARD to teacher upon admission to school.

Parents will receive a letter telling them when to take their children to their doctor for examinations.

6. Every child should be protected against Diphtheria. Don't neglect giving your child this protection.

7. Have corrections made in order that your child may enter school as a Five Pointer.

R. C. HAYDON,
Division Supt. of Schools.

DECORATING WITH PRIDE

We have a merchant in this town who specially uses his own wares for very artistic and not cluttered up with exhibition purposes. His windows are free advertising that he might have the manufacturer put in his home town paper.

The Journal has a little present to give the first person not connected with the Journal in any way, nor with the merchant, who will come into the office and give us the name of the business to which we are referring.

As An Agriculturalist Sees Farm Board's Job

The new Agricultural Marketing Act approaches farm relief from a materially different point of view from that of former bills before Congress in recent years, says Dean H. L. Russell of Wisconsin University College of Agriculture in the American Bankers Association Journal.

"It contains a new idea, fraught with the greatest possibilities—the organization of a Federal Farm Board," he says. "It has been possible for farm cooperatives to borrow from Federal aided institutions before, and at a materially lower rate than city business men had to pay for working capital, but this is the first set-up made by the government in which a commission has been carefully chosen to give undivided attention to an effort to solve the problems of a farm group."

"It is hard to conceive of a higher degree of responsibility than must be assumed by this commission. No board ever created by congressional action has been clothed with as wide plenary powers. It is authorized not only to advise but to execute, to plan and put its plans into effective action, to buy and hold, to dump, to dip into the Federal treasury to accomplish its ends with what would be almost unlimited resources to any private commercial concern. The board's only job is to succeed, and no governmental agency even during the war time emergency had a wider latitude."

"Many will think the farm relief program will be universally applicable to the individual land owner or operator. Such procedure is far from the case. Aid is to be extended through cooperative organizations by making it possible for such groups to obtain cash advances to hold crops so as to permit of more orderly marketing. "While the primary relation is with cooperatives, the individual or unorganized farmer will also profit by the activities of his organized fellows. If a stabilized program of merchandising is able to eliminate the surpluses that

Can Virginia Farmers Take a Chance with Candidate Ball?

In the present race for Congress, the farmers and dairymen of the Eighth District have the first opportunity in many years to obtain representation in Congress for themselves by voting for one of their own number. Judge Howard W. Smith is a practical, actual, and active farmer and dairyman, knowing the business and problems of that industry from every angle. If the farmers of this district fail to give him their support they should blame no one but themselves if their interest is not properly looked after in Congress.

It is being said by some that farming evils cannot be cured by legislation. Conceding this to be true, there is much legislation unfriendly to the farmer to be guarded against. A striking incident of this appears in the legislative record of another candidate for Congress, State Senator Frank L. Ball. In the State Senate he represents the rural counties of Fairfax and Prince William. How many votes he has cast against the interest of the rural and farming districts we are unable to say, but we will cite his record in one instance that should be sufficient to deter every farmer in the district from supporting him. It is this. In 1926 an amendment to the Constitution of the United States was submitted to the Virginia Legislature, which took from the States and gave to the United States Government the power to "limit, regulate, and prohibit the labor of persons under eighteen years of age." This meant purely and simply that the United States Government could stop every colored farm hand in Virginia under 18 years of age from working on farms. You could not even hire a colored girl on the farm to help your wife with the household drudgery if she were under the age of eighteen years unless it met the approval of the United States Government. Government inspectors might visit the farms in Virginia and say to the farmer with his head bowed between the plow handles: "Your seventeen year old son may not help bear your burden." Out of the forty Virginia Senators, thirty-six were present and voting when this villainous stab at the remnants of State rights came before the Virginia Legislature. Thirty-five of those senators voted against such an invasion of local self-government. One senator voted for it, and that Senator was Frank L. Ball, of Arlington. His record is shown in the Virginia State Journal of 1926 on page 19. Can the farmers of Virginia afford to take such a chance upon their representative in Congress? We do not say that he aimed the blow directly at the farmers of Virginia, more likely his vote on this important measure was due to his ignorance and perhaps indifference to the welfare of the rural sections. Had it not been for the other thirty-five senators and the members of the House of Delegates Government inspectors would in all likelihood today be visiting the farms and rural homes of Virginia, reporting and prosecuting our citizens for employing the colored youths of the land, who might be under eighteen years of age. We cite this as a glaring example of why, at this important election, people of this district should send to Congress a man of sound and practical common sense who knows from actual experience the problems and needs of our people.—The Fauquier Democrat.

The Source of the Animus

It speaks very well for a candidate's name that after twenty-five years of service only one transaction has been brought up against him and this by a former jackal of the so-called Carlin organization in this District. As a young man just entering upon the practice of law, Judge Smith had acquired an interest in the Alexandria Gazette. He was a minority stockholder in that company, when the majority stockholder, Mr. Barrett, decided to purchase the building for the Gazette.

Everything connected with the Rixey bank failure was depressing. With great cunning, it has been carefully excited in the minds of some who suffered by the failure that Judge Smith defrauded them of thousands of dollars by an irregular sale of the building. He did not sell or buy the building, and two of the commissioners who made the sale besides Judge Smith are living. They are John S. Barbour, of the firm to which one of the candidates belongs, and Gardner L. Boothe, of Alexandria. Does anyone accuse them of fraud?

So after a quarter of a century the political slop can has been turned upside down and one little crumb has fallen out—one so small that it would escape the eye of any one but the professional scavenger.

The real truth and nothing but the truth is what we want. We are well aware of the fact that real honor and real principle has been cast to the forewinds in the attempted stampede to defeat Howard Smith. Every possible use of innuendo has been tried out against anyone on whom any of Mr. Smith's opponents has any possible claim. What are we Virginians coming to? Are we supposed to be so stupid that any charlatan can wave his bag of tricks and fool us? Virginians, vote as you believe to be right, but get in and find for yourselves what is right!

Bitterness against Judge Smith has just one origin. He announced himself a congressional candidate. It is for this act that he is being assailed, and some of his assailants and their methods are closer to the limelight than they imagine.

—The News Observer

The lawn party given by the people of Brentsville District to start a fund for a district building consisting of Agriculture room and Gym was a great success. $70.00 was cleared. $750.00 has been promised by the state to this work. We feel a good start has been made and that the people of the District will stand solidly behind this splendid project.

The boys and girls of Brentsville District 4-H Club are giving a splendid 2½ hour play on Friday night, July 18th in the school auditorium.

NEARS COMPLETION

C. W. Apathy Announces Opening of Swimming Pool.

Owing to the rebuilding and enlargement of the swimming pool and the preparations for an adequate and desirable water supply, as well as securing and installing pumping, filtering, and re-circulating equipment, there has been some delay in formally opening the pool.

The construction of the new dam creating Lake Jackson has necessitated co-operation to make possible the early completion of a work of which the community will be proud.

It is expected that work will be completed in the next two weeks for a formal opening of the pool. In the meantime the pool will be open to friends and patrons.

The water in the pool is being re-circulated, filtered, aerated and chemically treated under the personal direction of the representative of the State Board of Health, for the purpose of insuring safety to patrons at all times.

PASTURE IMPROVEMENT TESTS

Pasture fertilization tests are being carried on in Prince William County on the farms of Willie Adamson, Bristow; B. C. Smith, Woolsey; T. R. Hurst, Manassas; Rolfe Robertson, Hickory Grove, and R. H. Florence, Gainesville. Particular attention is called to the work being done by Willie Adamson on the Manassas-Greenwich road near Bristow. Signs on the plots which are treated with phosphorus, phosphorus and lime; phosphorus, lime and potash; phosphorus, lime, potash and nitrogen; and no fertilizer are self explanatory.

Study and experimentation with pasture problems, long neglected, is being pushed by experiment stations as never before and valuable information is being accumulated. The years just ahead will probably add much to our knowledge of the subject of pastures and result in much improvement in our pasture management. The Virginia Experiment Station reports show that a definite unfertilized pasture area produced 723 pounds of beef, while the same area properly fertilized produced 1,335 pounds of beef.

Mr. Milton Wells of Manassas spent Sunday in Shenandoah with Mr. and Mrs. Henry R. Wilson and Mrs. Burgess.

II

Our parents and teachers will help us out,
And push us on our way,
And when they find it's finished
We all will bless the day.
So raise the cry of unity,
And let the work begin,
Then get the lumber on the yard,
And gather the shekels in.
We'll give three cheers for General Work,
Twice three and then a shout,
Three more for General Industry

Who will drive the lathes out,
So bring out your hammer and saws,
my boys,
Bring out your square and plumb,
The Brentsville District High School boys
Are building a gymnasium.

2,112 miles in 13 hours and 55 minutes—a flight from one end of the country to the other—the fastest long journey man has ever made—a journey that took our pioneer forefathers from 3 to 5 months of weary travel at a snail's pace, over vast expanses of prairie, across turbulent rivers, through perilous mountain passes.

To skim over these vast expanses in a little less than 14 hours seems incredible. Yet, even speed such as this becomes as nothing over the telephone wires. By means of the telephone this journey can now be made, not one way alone but both ways, within the space of MINUTES.

Whether you call 10 miles or 2,000 miles, you will find the same speedy long distance service always at your disposal. Most out-of-town connections can now be made while you wait on the line. And as to rates—ask Long Distance for the rate on any call you wish to make. You'll be surprised to find how low it is.

A GOOD cook never likes to heat up a large oven and then bake only one thing, so today I have carefully planned a complete "oven dinner" that will make full use of every bit of the fuel. While the potatoes and the Mince meat upside-down cake are baking, you can mix the biscuits, and get them ready with the shrimp piquante for their turn in the hot oven. Then you make the vegetable salad, open a jar of sweet mustard pickles and percolate the coffee—and there is your dinner!

The menu given below has several other advantages, too! It is made up of inexpensive, but nourishing foods; and while out-of-the-ordinary, it is not too difficult for even an inexperienced cook to prepare. The whole family also will consider it unusually delicious, without realizing the menu is meatless:

Menu

Shrimp Piquante—Baked Potatoes
Sweet Mustard Pickle
Fresh Vegetable Salad
Tomato French Dressing
Butter
Mince meat Upside-Down Cake
Coffee

Shrimp Piquante:—Melt 2 tablespoons butter, add 2 tablespoons flour, and stir until well blended. Add 2 cups milk and cook until thick. Add 2 small cans shrimp and 2 pimientos, cut fine. Then add ¼ teaspoon salt and a sprinkling of nutmeg, (this may be omitted). Measure 2 cups of Rice Flakes and place a layer of the flakes in a buttered baking dish, add a layer of the shrimp mixture, and keep adding alternate layers of the fish and Rice Flakes until all are used. Sprinkle Rice Flakes on top, and dot over with butter. Brown in a hot oven.

Fresh Vegetable Salad:—A large plate or bowl of salad, with chilled vegetables arranged in mounds on crisp lettuce may be used. Individual salads may be arranged in the same way. A pleasing combination of fresh vegetables for such a salad as this, is—a mound of freshly cooked cauliflower, a mound of cooked green peas, one of carrots, and a mound of Fresh Cucumber Relish. All of these should be thoroughly chilled, of course. As a dressing for this salad use:

Tomato French Dressing:—Mix 1 teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons sugar, 1 teaspoon paprika, 1 teaspoon Prepared Mustard, a few drops of onion juice and 2 tablespoons Tomato Ketchup. Add 2 tablespoons Pure Vinegar, and 6 tablespoons Pure Olive Oil. Last add 2 tablespoons Mayonnaise Salad Dressing. Shake very thoroughly in a tightly covered bottle, chill and serve. This dressing has a rich tomato color and is excellent with vegetable salad.

Mince Meat Upside Down Cake:—Cream 2/3 cup butter and 1½ cups sugar. Next add 4 well beaten eggs. Add 1 cup milk alternately with 3½ cups flour sifted with 5 teaspoons baking powder and ½ teaspoon salt. Stir until a smooth batter is formed. Next, butter a shallow, oblong cake pan, sprinkle it with ¼ cup sugar and line with 1 cup Pure Mince meat. Turn the cake batter into the pan, and bake in a moderately hot oven for 45 to 50 minutes. Serve hot with whipped cream, or vanilla or lemon sauce.

RELIEF FROM CURSE OF CONSTITUTION

A Battle Creek physician says "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause."

But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies has been discovered. This tablet attracts water from the system into the lax, dry, evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough, natural movement, without forming a habit of ever increasing the dose.

Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Rexall Orderlie at night. Next day bright. Get 24 for 25c today at the nearest Rexall Drug Store.

Administrator's Notice

The public is hereby notified that I have qualified as administrator of the estate of the late Richard A. Collins. All parties indebted to said estate will please come forward and settle promptly and all parties having claims against said estate be requested to present them at once, supported by affidavit.

J. P. KERLIN, Administrator.

MAN CAN'T SLEEP, GETS NERVOUS, HATES PEOPLE

"I could not sleep and got so nervous I hated everybody. Since taking Vinol, I can sleep 10 hours and feel full of pep all day."—Julius Bender

For 30 years doctors have prescribed Vinol because it contains important mineral elements of iron, calcium and cod liver peptone. The very FIRST bottle brings sound sleep and a BIG appetite. Nervous, worn-out people are surprised how QUICK Vinol gives new life and pep! Tastes delicious.

The Great Decision, Yorktown

(Prepared by Dr. W. H. T. Squires, for the Virginia Society, the Sons of the American Revolution, and distributed by the Virginia State Chamber of Commerce.)

The Revolution came to Virginia between midnight and the early dawn of a day in June (June 8, 1775). Virginia's magnificent colonial period came to an ignominious close: John Murray, the Earl of Dunmore, a distant and feeble scion of the royal Stuarts of Scotland by his precipitous flight from the Governor's Palace in Williamsburg to the British man-of-war "Powey" at Yorktown, abdicated the high office of Governor of Virginia, and a continent was lost to Great Britain forever.

Yorktown is a tiny and sequestered village which struggles along a bold bluff overhanging the placid waters of York River. Here the Revolution may be said to have begun, in Virginia, and here it was destined to end for America and the world.

TWIN CITY GOSSIP

(Ocoquan and Woodbridge)

Sun Tanned—
Almost black;
Hair matted—
Hump back.

Bright and early Monday morning Rev. Double H. Hoyt of Twin City, Henry forded to East End depot. The Reverend did not have on his clerical garb. Plainly dressed as a tiller of the soil. Bobby Burns would indeed call our friend, Hoyt "A Horny Handled son of Toil." We are reminded of that very ancient youngster that had a legal to call "Adam." "Pappy Adam" and "Eve" "Mammy Eve." You recall that this young man turned out to be a tiller of the soil.

Wind Blowing—
Dust flyin'
Summer heat,
Ambition dyin'.

The dry spell that has been thrown around twin city for the past four weeks has been once, twice, thrice dissipated. Everything looking fine. Mice and men; women and butterflies. Izzie West complains of his head not acting right. Izzie, turn to page 336, Sears and Roebuck catalog and read what they say about ready made heads, domestic and imported. C. S. Pierce, reports that "Twin City Gossip" has already caused him to lose more than a night's sleep. Says that Gossipall ways did make him nervous. French Fleming, who is not a frenchman at all, is still dreaming about the wonderful hills way down in Stafford. French says, that he is sorry indeed that he did not die young so the dream would still be true. Sergeant Bryant, of West End, reports all's well that ends well. We agree. Bombardier Wells has returned to his repair garage. Wells used a sprawl of brush to sweep the cob-webs, bats and lone hoot owl from their abode. The Bombardier is now ready with his nail kegs to take things easy, and give heed to the reports brought in by his secretaries. Mrs. Warren P. Clarke has purchased and had installed one of 'em stoves that uses electrical juice to make heat. She has enlarged her kitchen and now furnishes the whole family with piping hot biscuits every morning for breakfast. Peter Custer Wigglesworth, in South End, has nearly finished his new domicile. Reports are current that "PC" will give a house warming when the hammer hits the last nail on the head. Let's hope so.

Suburbanites that dwell near the walls of Twin City please stop, look and listen. You have always heard that if you want to grow potatoes, just call the Spuds, "Tatters." They will appreciate such a friendly name and help make you famous. Geo. Walters of Dumfries is about to walk away with a full set of "Spud" honors this season. The other morning he showed us an enormous object and said in an off handed way, "What do you think of this for a 'Ta-Ta-Tatter'?" We looked at the strange looking thing and thought from its size and color that it was an early pumpkin suffering from pernicious anaemia. George aid, "It is a 'Ta-Ta-Tatter', just look at its eyes' and sure enough the great big strong manly looking Murphy had a complete set of beautiful eyes. While Geo. was not looking we stuck a finger in one of its eyes, which from its actions, confirmed George's statement. Yes, it was an Irish cobbler and an extra fine one at that. Ye who live on the fringe of Twin City get busy and study the disposition of the Spud.

Girls seventy years old or older, listen to the wild call of Romance! Prepare yourselves for your last chance. Age has its limitations. Romance keeps roaming on and on. When girls are young they often mistake the cooing of the dove and the soft spring breeze for a twenty four carat romance. When a little older the harvest moon and a gentle zephyr wafts romantic odors to the sensitive nostrils. When Mother Earth is covered with hoar frost and Old Sol is sojourning in the far South, Romance still spick and span is working for a chance to blossom like a jack in the pulpit. As time goes on, even the shrill cry of the screech owl or the earthly Flora, such as a Many a bull frog has emerged from skunk cabbage, will cause romance to blossom and plead for expression. the dark almy mud of a mill pond and worked his way to light and sunshine. Opening his eyes, beholding Lady Romance sitting on yonder's rock. Mr. Frog immediately puts on his beautiful green coat to help romance push its magic power to the realm of perfect happiness. All this is said to help work up a preshyopia for the picture of the old bachelor that we are now going to paint. Judge Saunders, a little stooped, a little aged, but still full of gasconade. Remember, true romance can see Romance where Romance does not exist.

A man growing old, looked at his tongue,

And said: "By George, I am no longer young!" He pulled one hair from the top of his head, And said: "By Crackerty, color of white lead!" He laid a finger in a wrinkle of his neck, And said: "By Judas, now isn't that heck!"

He looked in the mirror hanging on the wall, And saw a man fairly stout and tall And made inquiry as to his age; And was told, "Life's a book, each year a page.

You live your life, you turn the leaf, You laugh, you cry, it's a pleasure, it's grief."

Just a cycle, birth and death, Just a book, closed, no breath.

Cotton Davis, G. I. H. P. of M. C. advises that the sons of Rest held a meeting Saturday afternoon and expelled John Powell. John did an unheard of thing. A shadow has been cast upon the sons of Rest. He is now affiliated with the "Watchers of Men." This organization is ruled over by M. M. Barnard, high priest, D. C. penal institutions. Seek and ye shall find. Rest and ye shall get lazy.

C. R. Yates, who lives on the broad edge of Twin City, visited us the other day. Reports he gets a kick from reading "Twin City Gossip." We hope to put as many kicks in "Twin City Gossip" as a six weeks old mule has just before he gets his tummy full of milk. Thanks, Mr. Yates. Come again.

A. B. Rogers has decided to take a vacation. At present he is in Orange where oranges do not grow. "AB" is just like a three years old. Girls look him over, he is still under three score.

We know a fellow who question some of the things he reads in the Bible, but believes everything he reads in "Twin City Gossip."

It is reported that John (Tack Head) Riley, visits Dumfries quite often. Perfectly natural, John. If she is half as pretty and half as sweet as you think she is, we don't blame you. Make seven visits a week instead of six.

Growing to Order

The public asks for more A&P

The tales Americans are the proudest of are those of poor boys who rose to greatness, and of modest business ventures that became great industries.

Like many early American businesses, A&P was once small but hopeful—a single little store. About all A&P could call its own in 1859 was its red painted front and the belief that women like good food at low prices.

The first A&P store was a busy store—so busy that a second store was added, then a third; and . . . the little business grew up. It became a leader among food merchants, slowly and naturally, unaided by vast capital or mergers.

Ask yourself why A&P grew . . . it grew because the public accepted and encouraged A&P's methods of doing business. (The A&P store in your neighborhood is there because great numbers of women want it there.)

A&P is a little store that made good.

THE NEW FORD TUDOR SEDAN

YOU are buying proved performance when you buy a Ford. You know it has been built for many thousands of miles of satisfactory, economical service.

Letters from users in every part of the world show the value of the sound design of the car, good materials and accuracy in manufacturing. You sense a feeling of sincere pride in the oft-repeated phrase—"Let me tell you what my new Ford did."

Further tribute to the sturdiness, reliability and general all-round performance of the new Ford is shown in the repeated and growing purchases by government bureaus, by police departments, and by large industrial companies which keep careful day-by-day cost records. In most cases, the new Ford has been chosen only after exhaustive tests covering speed and power, safety, comfort, ease of control, oil and gas consumption, low yearly depreciation, and low cost of up-keep.

They have found, as you will find, that the Ford embodies every feature you want or need in a motor car at an unusually low price.

A LETTER FROM R. WALTON MOORE

CONGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES
HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES
WASHINGTON, D. C.

R. Walton Moore
Eighth District Virginia

July 14, 1930.

T. U. Dudley, Esq.,
Middleburg, Virginia

Dear Mr. Dudley:

I have your letter of the 12th instant, from which I quote as follows:

"Inasmuch as the question is frequently asked, as to what is your position in the position in the present Congressional Campaign, I will very greatly appreciate your writing me on the subject."

My reply is that Mr. Keith has my unreserved support, any rumor to the contrary being without foundation. Another wholly groundless rumor, which I understand is being circulated, is that I prompted Mr. Keith's candidacy. The simple truth is that I did not advise him one way or the other about entering the contest. But when he announced as a candidate, I became and am his earnest supporter. He is not only my relative, but for many years was my law partner, and since then as my near neighbor and close friend I have had the most intimate relations with him. Whether people vote for or against him, they need have no doubt of his unusual ability, his stainless character and his experience as a patriotic and energetic citizen who has rendered fine service in connection with many successful public efforts for the advancement of our section of Virginia. They may be confident that if elected he will prove an efficient and influential Congressman.

Yours very truly,

The Editor,
The News-Observer,
Herndon, Va.

Dear Sir:

The writer read and noted with interest your exposition of the question of ethics in the reprinted editorial of July 5 entitled "A New Code of Honor."

Such points (of honor) having been more or less a fetish with him all of his life, and for this reason, perhaps, being sensitive (although not unduly so) to the delicate (?) insinuations conveyed in this editorial respecting the honor of these supporters of Mr. Keith, who, not knowing he could be prevailed upon to offer himself for the contest, had indicated an intention of supporting Judge Smith in view of such hypothesis, the writer desires the same opportunity and publicity enjoyed by your editorial to correct the false premises from which you reach the conclusion that those, who decide, after the situation is entirely and completely changed by Mr. Keith's entrance in the contest, to support him, are therefore base and false. They don't like it. Insinuations of that sort are distasteful, even though they may be incorrect or untrue, and even though the sponsor of such dictum may not be a recognized authority on such matters.

The whole matter may be summed up briefly:

At a certain stage or period in the spring, before the date for entrance in the congressional contest in the primary was closed, certain voters told Judge Smith they would vote for him as their choice from what they believed was a complete list of candidates. A little later another entrant appears, changing the complexion of the field completely.

If the complexion is changed, the situation is necessarily changed; if the situation is changed is not one permitted to express one's honest conviction? The writer thinks so; he believes Judge Smith thinks so, and regrets that you, his champion, do not think so.

The writer will agree with you to this extent: If support had been promised any candidate after the closing date for entrance in the contest, the promisor having thus had opportunity to choose whom he wished to support from a full and complete field, and then abandoned that candidate without cause—the writer agrees that would involve a matter of ethics and honor, but no such matter is involved in the present instance. And the writer trusts that your zeal and desire will not becloud the legitimate issues.

Incidentally the writer has not heard the friends of any of the other candidates complain of the fine point of ethics that irks the News-Observer; him, believing there would be no other entrants in the field, and taking it possible that they are not disturbed, and only the friends of Judge Smith are perturbed?

In the last analysis each man is the arbiter of his code of ethics; the writer beguiles himself with the belief that his is, (with apologies), quite as sound as the News-Observer's. He originally expected to support Judge Smith; the situation changed completely, and his choice is Mr. Keith—all of this without detracting from Judge Smith. Simply the old theme: He "loves Rome more."

Very truly,

Joseph Warwick Kreuttnner.

VOTE FOR CRANDAL MACKEY FOR CONGRESS

THE ONLY EX-SERVICE MAN IN THE RACE

He has been candid and honest in expressing his convictions. Don't vote for straddlers of the Eighteenth Amendment who talk of the wets and dries getting together. Those who favor and those who oppose the Eighteenth Amendment are entitled to honest, outspoken expressions. CANDOR IS THE COURAGE OF THE SOUL.

The repeal of the Volstead Law will restore State rights to Virginia. She has a better prohibition law than the Volstead Law. She prosecuted 21,706 prohibition cases last year while the United States prosecuted but 346. The Eighteenth Amendment if modified would enable Congress to establish a liquor control and dispensary system as in Sweden where drunkenness was reduced 55 per cent in four years and the bootlegger is unknown. Crandal Mackey will vote for the repeal or modification of the Volstead Law and the Eighteenth Amendment. Light wines and beer will not get rid of the bootlegger. He does not deal in them. Crandal Mackey stands for Temperance vs. PROHIBITION. For the DISPENSARY vs. POCKET FLASKS. For HOME vs. THE NIGHT CLUB, the ROADHOUSE, the SPEAKEASY. He stands for LESS BLOOD, LESS LAWS, LESS PRISONS. Back of crime the bootlegger. Back of the Bootlegger, NATIONAL PROHIBITION. National Prohibition is mingling Church and State. It violates the moral law expressed by Paul the Apostle: "If righteousness come by the law then Christ is dead in vain."

Crandal Mackey opposes the Power Trust, and Chain Store. He has the only plan for relief of the farmer, namely: Immediate reduction of the tariff on commodities used by farmers, a bounty to save the farmer from loss on export of surplus crops, the purchase of surplus grain and cotton by the Farm Board as now, and unemployment insurance as in Germany. Crandal Mackey is a PROGRESSIVE. While Commonwealth's Attorney closed all saloons and had all licenses denied in Arlington County.

SHALL THE POWER TRUST WIN THE EIGHTH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT?

It was shown before the U. S. Senate that the power trust had a revolving fund of $400,000, used to bribe and corrupt teachers in the high schools and colleges to teach them false doctrine of private ownership of public utilities. It has spent millions to send its tools and attorneys to Congress. The Potomac Electric Power Company of Washington contributed $40,000 to the power trust fund to elect Smith of Illinois who was refused admission to the Senate because the power trust millions elected him. Recently F. M. Sackett, U. S. Ambassador to Germany, in the World Power Conference announced his intention to speak. The power trust undertook to muzzle him and prevent him from speaking. When he spoke he said: "I know of no other manufacturing industry where the sale price of the product to the great mass of consumers is fifteen times the actual cost of the article sold."

The Potomac Electric Power Company as well as the Virginia Public Service Company, belong to the same group of the power trust known as the Samuel Insull group. The holding company is the North American Company of New York. The Virginia Public Service Company is serving electricity to all the counties in the Eighth District at a profit of $9.00 on every $11.00 worth that it sells. It sees the time approaching when electricity, almost as necessary as water, will be nearly as cheap as water. It is tying up the towns and cities of Virginia by franchise extensions of 30 years long before the present franchise expire. These extensions will cost the people millions, pillage the farmers and householders and prevent city development. The people of the United States paid last year to the power trust $713,000,000 more for the same amount of electricity than did the people of Canada. The farmer on the Canadian side pays $2.96 for the same amount of electricity for which the power trust charges $26.50 on the American side. A theatre paid on the Canadian side $1.75 for what is $16.35 on the American side. At Hamilton, Ontario, a city-owned plant brought down the price of electricity to 1 cent per kilowatt hour. A private owned plant had to lower its price to 1 cent per kilowatt hour and is making money so fast that its stock is a gift edged investment. Compare this with eleven cents per kilowatt hour charged in Culpeper, Va., and the extortionate charges of the power trust all over the Eighth District.

At Los Angeles water is brought 250 miles to operate the power plant and electricity is sold for less than 1 cent per kilowatt hour. God Almighty gave the Great Falls of the Potomac to man. Every day $40,000, in gold goes over those falls. Every year fifteen million dollars in gold passes over these falls. It is wasted because the power trust has been able thus so far to prevent government development of Great Falls because the development would put the Potomac Electric Power Company and the Virginia Public Service Company out of business and furnish electricity at a trifling cost to every home and farm in Northern Virginia.

The farmer would then, as in Canada, light his house, and out-buildings heat his bath water and dishwasher, his electric stoves, operate the washing machine, churns, coffee pots, fill and unfill the silos, pump his water, automatically water the cows without leaving the house, and milk the cows by electricity as is done all over Canada at a cost of a dollar a month. The saving of a man and a maid would mean more than $1,000, year to a farmer and lessen the toil of himself and wife and everyone on the farm. The government must bridle the power trust or the power trust will bridle the government. I am the only candidate for Congress who has said a word against the power trust. Thousands of newspapers and circulars have been circulated by me at my own expense all over the Eighth District against the power trust. Candidate Thomas R. Keith and his partner are active and advisory counsel for the Washington Railway and Electric Company owners of the Potomac Electric Power Company, which is in turn owned by the Insull group of the power trust.

Would you vote to enslave yourself and put a chain around your neck to fasten you to the earth? You can promote the happiness of mankind by keeping power trust lawyers out of Congress.

This is more important than my success or ambition.

CRANDAL MACKEY,
Rosslyn, Va.

"NEVER mind
where I've been. Bill . . .

I'm back at the AMOCO
PUMP to stay!

"Haven't seen you for some time, Mr. Parks. Been out-of-town?"
It was an attendant in a service station in a Pennsylvania city talking to a motorist.

Mr. Parks smiled sheepishly. "Never mind where I've been, Bill. But I'm back at the Amoco pump to stay."

As the attendant proceeded to fill his tank with Amoco-Gas, Mr. Parks volunteered more information.

"I learned my lesson," he continued. "I'd been reading a lot of ads and hearing a lot of talk about gas just as good as Amoco and how I could save money. I bit."

"It didn't seem like the same car but I decided it might be worth it if I saved enough money. Save money? I didn't get the mileage in the first place and after four thousand miles things got so bad I couldn't stand it. I took her into the shop and—well, it cost me $32.50 to get her back in shape."

He paid for ten gallons with a smile and started his motor.

"I can tell you it feels good to get Amoco back in her again. Boy, if I'd heard another knock I'd have gone crazy. No more for me, Bill. I'm back here to stay."

Bill smiled as he gave him his change. He'd heard the same story many times before. Experience had taught him that the most enthusiastic users of Amoco-Gas are those who have tried the "just-as-goods."

Listen, regular gas users—try Orange American Gas—you'll like it.

It does more—it's worth more—so it costs more per gallon
