

TWIN CITY GOSSIP
(Occoquan and Woodbridge)

Cock-a-doodle-doo!
Not at once—twice but thrice
Came the familiar strain—
The chantileer's call,
A resonant sound—
Voluminous and powerful—
To awake the inhabitants
Of this peaceful town
Upon investigation
To find whence came the clarion notes,
We found Roscoe—"Now Daddy
Clarke"
All smiles, with face quite red—
And this is what he said:
"It is a boy—a boy—a boy!"
Wm. Douglas Clarke—a Prince
Heir to the Clarke throne
And joint heir if not complete heir
To the whole Clarke home.
"Daddy Clarke walks with head high
Proud to be a manful sire;
And as he pets Mother Clarke on the cheek,
He raises the covers and take a peek
At a little red-wrinkled bundle of Babyhood.
And dreams of the day of its manhood.
Blessings on the little man,
Without a freckle or spot of tan.
And to Mother Clarke with a Mothers
adoration—
She undoubtedly visualizes baby's aspiration,
And when he yells and kicks his
little feet—
She promptly gives him something
to eat.
And after finishing his pap—
Like all little babies he takes a nap.
And while in his cradle, little baby
sleeps,
Grandma and Grandpa Clark in the
room creeps,
And standing near Wm. Douglas' crib
Warren P. reaches out and puts an arm around his rib;
And drawing her close to his manly
breast,
He said, "Darling we are doubly blest!"

Now I can call you Grandma—
and you can call me Grandpa."
Twin City sends greetings and congratulations
To Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Clarke.
May Wm. Douglas, grow to be a man
Just like dear old "Dad"
And when the even' of twilight
Cast its shadows upon Ma and Pa
We hope that Wm. Douglas will be a man—
A man that Twin City will be proud of!

Wee little Willie—
So soft and red—
Wee little Willie
In his downy bed.
Wee little Willie
Soon he will grow
Wee little Willie
Just watch him grow.
William Douglas Clarke, born March
22, 1931.

FINDS COMPLETE RELIEF IN SARGON

"I can hardly realize I'm the same person since I took Sargon," declared Mrs. Mae McGuire, 809, 5th Street, Roanoke. "I'd suffered constantly for a year with indigestion, heartburn and headaches that no medicine I took seemed able to relieve. My whole system was in atoxic, rundown condition, and I had a tired, listless feeling all the time. It was amazing how quickly Sargon overcame my troubles! Nothing disagrees with me now and I'm brimful of new strength and energy. There's nothing upsetting about Sargon Pills at all, and they keep the system regulated perfectly. Sargon has my heartfelt recommendation."

MRS. MAE MCGUIRE

BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

If parents will have their children memorize a Bible selection each week, it will prove a priceless heritage to them in after years.

ALL NEEDS SUPPLIED—The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want. Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the ways of my life; and I will dwell in the house of the Lord forever.—Psalms 23:1, 6.

PRAYER—Feed me, O Thou Bread of Life, till I want no more.

THE COUNTY BUDGET

The Board of Supervisors could only act in the majority and by the information before it. Without criticism of the two members who voted to reduce the Budget, the Journal believes that the Board acted in the best interest of the county and as a majority of the citizens at large would have had them do.

The reduction of the budget would not have achieved the desired result at this time, we believe. There may be items that could be reduced. We do not set ourselves as a final judge in that matter. Another year, if the present depression does not adjust itself, it may be necessary to make a very material reduction in our county activities. Intelligent study should be made during the whole year by all those interested so that they can come before the Board next year and present facts and figures to substantiate their arguments.

YOUR FRIEND, THE CHURCH

The word has come from some "wise" men that the church is losing its influence, that it is not what it used to be and that the people of this nation are less religious.

Pardon us, if we don't believe a word of it! Pardon us, again, if we say that whenever the people of this nation lose interest in religion and forget the church, that their attitude spells less disaster for the church than for the people.

Sensible men and women know that most of the progress of mankind has been due to the influence of religion. They know furthermore that the church is the instrumentality that affords people an opportunity to express their religion in a practical way, and what is more to the point, if they are educated, they know that much of their so-called liberty and civilization is due to the activities of the organized church, as a whole, in the thousands of years that have elapsed since man began to dominate the world.

JAMES EDWARD JORDAN

On March 3, 1931, after a brief illness, James Edward Jordan passed without pain into eternal rest at his home in Haymarket. He was 57 years old.

A life-long resident of Haymarket, Mr. Jordan was the eldest child of Charles E. and Alice Moore Jordan. His father, who has resided for some years in Panama, survives him; his mother died in 1919.

Mr. Jordan married Miss Maude Garth of Albemarle County who with two adopted sons, Thomas Garth and Marshall—orphaned nephews of Mrs. Jordan—survive him. Mr. Jordan is also survived by three brothers and three sisters. They are W. M. Jordan, Col. R. H. Jordan, John P. Jordan; Mrs. E. I. Carruthers, Mrs. Herman Shirley and Mrs. Albert Korsan.

Mr. Jordan's cheerfulness together with his generous and kindly disposition won for him many friends. His devotion to his wife, to his adopted sons in whom he took great pride, to his father, sisters and brothers was one of his most characteristic traits.

Mr. Jordan was buried in the grave of his mother in the beautiful church yard of St. Paul's, Haymarket. The burial services in St. Paul's Church of which Mr. Jordan was a member were conducted by the rector, Rev. W. F. Carpenter; the beautiful and impressive burial ritual of the Masonic Order concluded the services at the grave. Many beautiful flowers— which mother and son loved so well— were sent by sorrowing relatives and friends, and the graves of these two dearly-loved "old residents" of Haymarket were covered with bright, warm blankets of them.

UNION SIGNAL DAY PROGRAM

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union celebrated their Union Signal Day Wednesday afternoon at Miss Maggie Smith's with an appropriate program. At the close of the devotional and business meeting a program of music and readings was presented. An appropriate song "The Steady Subscriber" was sung as a chorus. Mrs. Sudd gave a very pleasing rendition of a story where a lady taking subscriptions for the Union Signal, entered a home for the purpose of getting a subscription and had to listen to a discussion of the older members of the family on prohibition, their talk of personal liberty and one member's determination to do as he pleased in spite of the law, etc.

At last the two children who were studying in the room took part in the discussion and told how much real information on the different topics was obtained from the Union Signal, and what a help it was to them when questions concerning prohibition came up in school and how much could be gotten from this paper to help them with their school papers. There are always such concise articles to be found in this paper. At last the youngest daughter asked her mother now she would like to have saloons back and have her husband and son come home drunk. This made the mother stop and think. She decided to take the paper that the family might get the truth about all these subjects. She also asked the lady soliciting subscriptions when the next meeting of the W. C. T. U. would be held she wished to attend. Mrs. E. Harrell gave a demonstration, dressed in a costume made entirely of Union Signals. She told what the paper contained and pointed it out on the different parts of her costume.

There was the Washington letter each week with all the news from Congress, then the page for the young people, the pleasing on the cover also the latest fashions and dress patterns. She closed her part with a song telling the members to subscribe to the Union Signal and get their neighbors to subscribe. Mrs. Jesse Bell gave a reading entitled, "Logic"? She told how everything that had happened in these twelve years including cyclones and deaths, were all because of prohibition.

After the renewals and new subscriptions were given in appropriate song was sung and the meeting closed with the Aaronic Benediction by all.

IN MEMORIAM

A tribute of love to the memory of our dear father, who died one year ago, March 24, 1930.

His weary hours, his days of pain, His weary nights are past His ever patient worn out frame, Has found sweet rest at last. We may not know why death should come,

To take dear father from our home, But though our eyes with tears be dim,

The Lord knows best, we trust in Him On a hillside softly sleeping Far away from care and pain, May he rest in Jesus' keeping For we hope to meet again.

The Coming Generation

Thousands of busy mothers all over the country send their children on daily errands to the A & P.
The mothers know the quality of A & P foods. They know the prices are rock bottom. So they can let even the toddlers go for supplies, sure that A & P stores the kiddies will do just as good a shopping job as they would themselves.
All of which is very gratifying to us, not just because we're happy to be helping busy mothers, but also because we like to think of those multitudes of little A & P enthusiasts growing up all around us. It is promising for the future of our business. And the country too, for that matter. For A & P is an education in good food, good health, and good management.

ISSUES INTEREST IN COUNTY BUDGET

opposition, Mr. H. W. Herring stated that they had no detailed information or tables to present and had no opportunity to draw any such. He urged an uniform reduction. He asked the Board how they expected the school authorities to enforce compulsory attendance law before children are properly fed and clothed.

Rev. G. W. Beahn, of Nokesville, and William May, of Aden advocated a cut in teachers' salaries. Both of these gentlemen spoke generously of the work done by those on the County payroll. Mr. Beahn used real oratory in his appeal, citing that the Board has already taken one step in this direction by cutting the wages of road force ten per cent. He urged the principles of democracy as applied to taxation equitable to all classes and conditions.

Judge William Crow, of Joplin, made a dignified and scholarly attack on the budget urging a 20 per cent cut. His remarks showed considerable study and thought.

Mr. May exhibited some feeling when he stated that the schools turned out just as good citizens when the school activities cost much less.

Except for a general melee of confused remarks, come of them right acrimonious, the closing period of debate was taken up Hon. Thos. H. Lion, Commonwealth's Attorney, who argued for a 10 per cent cut all along the line.

In beginning his remarks, Mr. Lion stated that he represented the "under dog" who could not defend himself. He stated that one-third of all the farmers in the County were on the verge of bankruptcy.

"Gentlemen," he said, "if you do not heed the voice coming from the ground, grass will grow in the streets of your town. Do not neglect these people; neither is it necessary to abolish any activity. Your teachers are paid more money than they can get elsewhere, for if they could get more somewhere else, they would go there."

This remark raised a general storm of smothered exclamations which threatened to break up the meeting.

Continuing he said, "Your teachers can live cheaper now than they did twelve months ago. This cut is only temporary, anyway—when there is a will to do, it can be done."

This remark brought out a storm of applause from the opposition.

Mr. Lion also presented to the Board certain newspaper clippings illustrating tax cuts in other Virginia counties.

The time of the hearing at a close, R. S. Hynson moved for adjournment, the Board overruling Mr. Herring's request for a vote from those present.
