SUBSCRIPTION $1.50 A YEAR

1932 CLUB PLANS ARE COMPLETED

Kiwanis Programs Definitely Outlined.

On Friday night, F. R. Hynson posted his list of program committees for 1932. Fred explained in detail the logic of his procedure. No special program was offered for the evening, except a general discussion involving many points, winding up with matters of interest which will be acted on at this session of the legislature.

On Monday, President Al Hooff and Secretary Bradford will attend the trustees' meeting at Charlottesville. Dr. Johnson is also expected to go.

Tomorrow the regular program will be substituted at the Farmers' Dinner at noon at the Prince William Hotel.

Announcement has been made by Capitol District Governor Henry A. Converse, who heads the thirty-seven clubs in that district, that he has appointed Al Hooff chairman of the attendance committee for the entire district. (Henry must have been down to look over the local attendance chart.—Ed note).

Next week is Anniversary Week, January 21 being the exact birthday. Every Kiwanis Club is making an effort to properly memorialize the occasion. Ex-Lieut. Governor R. A. Hutchison is preparing a review of the accomplishments of the club in its seven years of existence.

MR. G. R. RATCLIFFE TO UNDERGO OPERATION

The friends of Mr. G. R. Ratcliffe will regret to learn that he has gone to Garfield Hospital for an operation. His condition is not serious and we look for his speedy recovery.

HYNSON HEADS DAIRY ASSOCIATION

Richard S. Hynson Tuesday was re-elected director of the Maryland-Virginia Milk Producers Association at the annual meeting of the Prince William County unit. He was also re-elected president of the Prince William Dairy Herd Improvement Association, while J. L. Hooker of Nokesville was chosen vice-president and Frank D. Cox of Manassas, secretary.

Mr. Hynson, president of the Piedmont Virginia Dairy Festival Association, told dairymen of plans for the annual dairy festival and exhibition which will be held in October. Members of the Prince William Dairy Herd Improvement Association were invited to attend the annual meeting of the Festival Association today at 1:30 p.m. in the Town Hall.

"OVER THE HILL" GLORIFIES LOVE

A drama that takes love from the cradle to old age and deals with many of its most important manifestations, "Over The Hill," Fox drama, marking the second screen appearance of that delightful pair of lovers, James Dunn and Sally Eilers and the return of the silent day favorite, Mae Marsh, comes to the Dixie Theatre, next Thursday, Jan. 21.

The love of a man for a maid, the love of a mother for her child; that of brother and brother, father and son, all have their place in this romantic story of a human heart.

The central story itself is two-fold, telling the boy and girl romance between James Dunn and Sally Eilers, a romance that is said to exceed in heart touching appeal their magnificent portrayals in "Bad Girl" and the mother and son tie that binds Dunn to "Ma," the character played by Miss Marsh.

Based on Will Carleton's classic poems, the theme of "Over The Hill" is as true today as when it was originally written.

In addition to Dunn, Sally Eilers and Mae Marsh, a hand picked cast included Edward Crandall, Claire Maynard, Olin Howland, William Pawley and Joan Peers. In the prologue of the picture which Henry King directed are a number of Hollywood's most capable juveniles.

DISMEMBERMENT OF EIGHTH DISTRICT IS PROPOSED

"FACULTY AND HOME TOWN PLAY"

"Faculty and Home Town Folly," a play to be given in the Manassas high school auditorium, on January 16, sponsored by the Home Economics Club girls, is to be the hit of all school days. Bring your frown and go home with a smile.

A few of the interesting features of this play will be "Polly's Nightmare," "Maggie and Jiggs" and "Lady Marchetta Lyons." See artistic dances in lovely costumes.

U. D. C. MEETS WITH MRS. R. S. HYNSON

Manassas Chapter, U. D. C., held its regular monthly meeting at the residence of Mrs. R. S. Hynson on Wednesday, January 6, with a representative gathering of members, Mrs. A. J. Ashford, president, presiding.

After the regular routine of business, plans were made to hold a Lee, Jackson and Maury birthday celebration on the 19th of January. Mesdames Robt. A. Hutchison, E. H. Marsteller, James Dorrell, Ayleene Guthrie, and Mrs. Albert Speiden being appointed a committee to arrange a suitable program. The exercise will be held in the high school auditorium, and the public is cordially invited to be present.

Mrs. Albert Speiden, with the assistance of Mrs. Dorrell, reported their having prepared and sent six pretty Xmas baskets to veterans and wives, with the best wishes of this chapter.

The advisability of building a chapter house was discussed, and Mrs. Albert Speiden was appointed a committee to arouse interest in the matter, with a ultimate object of erecting such a home.

Mrs. Warren Coleman's name was presented for membership, and was accepted. A committee, composed of Mesdames R. S. Hynson, Ayleene Guthrie, Wm. Hill Brown, Norvel Larkin, G. G. Allen and Maud Kincheloe, was appointed to devise ways and means for raising funds during this year.

Mrs. Robt. A. Hutchison, chapter historian, was unable to be present, on account of sickness, and Mrs. Hibbs acted as vice-historian. An excellent paper prepared by Mrs. J. Jenkyn Davies on Lee, the College President, was read by Mrs. W. Fred Dowell, and enjoyed and appreciated by all present. The meeting then adjourned, after which a delicious salad course was served by the hostess.

The chapter accepted the invitation of Mrs. Austin O. Weedon and Mrs. Albert Speiden to meet with them on Feb. 3 at 2:30 o'clock.

WOMAN'S BIBLE CLASS

The Woman's Bible Class held its regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Mahlon Bushong Tuesday afternoon. The vice-president, Mrs. Embrey, conducted the devotional service. Part of the seventh chapter of Matthew was read and discussed. After the reading of the minutes Miss Kincheloe, the treasurer, gave a report of the year's work. Some of the objectives of the new year were discussed. After the election of officers for the coming year the meeting was turned over to the program committee and this proved to be a very interesting part of the meeting and much information on the women of the bible was given.

The Editors

Manassas Journal.

Dear Sirs:

The Woman's Club of Manassas desires to express to The Manassas Journal its sincere appreciation of the great interest shown and the help given to the club in the matter of their recent Christmas Dance by The Journal in its free advertising and other publicity features, which were so largely instrumental in making the dance a great success.

On this occasion as on others The Journal showed its real and unselfish service in the interests of the community and the Woman's Club goes on record as grateful and appreciative of its free and willing aid.

Yours sincerely,
B. S. GILL,
Corresponding Sec'y.

A WARNING

We advise our readers that a proposal is now before the General Assembly of Virginia to dismember the Eighth Congressional District, placing part in the Seventh (the Valley of Virginia) and the rest in the First (Newport News).

Our business and economic interests are so different, either from those of the Valley or of Tidewater, that the welfare of northern Virginia would certainly suffer by such a proposition.

Virginia must lose one Congressional District. No plan which absolutely destroys all recognition of any of the existing Congressional areas should be allowed to stand. The reorganization should require some sacrifice all along the line. Every district should shoulder its honorable share of the sacrifice.

Unless, however, some organized protest is presented to the General Assembly, we warn that the dismemberment of our District is quite probable. We may not be able to protect ourselves, but certainly if we stand idly by while this unfair legislation is perfected, we will deserve no better fate than is in prospect. Every organized group and every individual in the Eighth District ought to protest at once against destruction of the Eighth District, and present their statements to the legislature at Richmond.

THE GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE

Among the outstanding facts revealed by the message of the Governor of Virginia to the General Assembly that may be cited with satisfaction are (1) that Virginia is in a sound condition, (2) that it is headed by a far-sighted and competent chief executive and (3) that it will be necessary for our citizens to apply locally measures which have proven so helpful in keeping the state government in adjustment with the effects of the widespread depression.

The average per capita debt among our 48 states has increased over 305% in recent years. Where it was once $3.75, the average is now $15.02. Yet in Virginia the state debt has decreased 3 per cent. The per capita tax burden in Virginia is 37.2 per cent less in Virginia than the average for all states.

In county government the situation is not so satisfactory. Since 1913 local expenditures have mounted from $8,000,000 to $29,498,000. The Governor calls attention to the progress made in reorganization of state government and now that the Constitutional restrictions have been removed, urges the people of Virginia to "turn their earnest attention to the problems of local government."

If the recommendations of Pollard are followed, Virginia will not seek its way out of the present "hard times" by large appropriations, as seems to be the accepted remedy of the National Congress. Rigid economy, curtailment of salaries, even to the teaching staff of the state, is preferred to Federal government's method of "restoring" the citizen's prosperity by increasing the burden of taxation.

An outstanding feature of the Governor's message is the recommendation that convict camps be established by the counties and that all jail prisoners be employed on public works instead of lounging in idle confinement at great expense. Unless this is done, the Governor warns, large expenditures must soon be made by cities and towns for the enlargement and improvement of the jails. Probably no feature of the Governor's proposals will arouse more spirited debate than the proposal to employ prison labor on local public works, but the sound logic of the Governor's viewpoint is difficult to gainsay.

At a time when the National Government and many States are trying to pull themselves out by enormous expenditures calculated to restore "prosperity," it is gratifying to see the Old Dominion adopt the slogan, "Curtailed expenses; no increase in taxes."

NOTICE

The regular monthly meeting of the Patrons League of Manassas High School will be held in the high school building Thursday, Jan. 21, at 2:30 p.m. Please attend.

BICENTENNIAL BALL ON FEBRUARY 5

Manassas High School Will Be Scene of Brilliant Event.

The patrons of the Bennett School League announce a Bicentennial ball to be given February 5, at the high school gymnasium.

Every effort will be made to have this ball colonial in tone and costume. In the early evening the children will give period dances. The latter hours will be turned over to their elders.

The proceeds of this dance will go toward paying for the new piano and other pressing needs of the school.

Heartly co-operation should be given the league to make this ball a brilliant event.

GRAND MATRON AT MANASSAS

Eastern Star Chapter Hears State Officer.

Visitors from near and far came to Wimodausis Chapter, No. 106, Order of the Eastern Star, for the official visit of the worthy grand matron, Mrs. Belva Martin Goad, of Hillsville, Va. Mrs. Goad is not only a charming woman, but one of unusual ability and talent, and the address that she gave was very intellectual and inspirational. Other grand officers of the state included Mrs. Zyx Burke of Del Ray, Va., Mrs. A. C. Cosden of Clarendon, Mrs. J. L. Bushong of Manassas, and a number of past grand officers from Richmond and nearby places. Members of the organization were present for this occasion from Clifton, Clarendon, Del Ray, Hamilton, Herndon, Vienna, Marshall, Richmond, Herndon, and Washington, D. C.

The local chapter is quite an active one, and has gone forward since its organization in 1927.

Refreshments were served on the second floor of the Masonic Temple to those present, which numbered about 115.

Mrs. Robert Smith is the present worthy matron of the chapter while Mr. J. L. Bushong is the worthy patron.

TAPS FOR ANOTHER VETERAN

Another gap was made in the thinning ranks of the Confederate Veterans when on Thursday, Jan. 7, James Franklin Gulick answered the final roll at his home in Washington, D. C. Interment was made on Saturday in the Manassas cemetery after services in Washington.

Born eighty-five years ago in Loudoun county, Va., the son of David Thomas Gulick and Mary Simpson, James Gulick moved to Missouri with his family at an early age but returned as a boy to his old home during the last days of the Civil War when he enlisted in Mosby's Rangers serving with them until the close of the war.

After a few more years in Missouri he returned to Virginia where he married Isabelle Corbett and made his permanent home in Prince William county. He served several terms as a member of the county board of supervisors and took part in local affairs until his family moved to Washington in 1916.

Five of his seven children survive: David Emmett of Pittsburgh, Pa., Joseph Franklin of Chevy Chase, Md., William Hendley of Savannah, Ga., and Thomas Sanford and Effie Corbett of Washington, D. C.

BULL RUN O. F. A.

INSTALL OFFICERS
On Tuesday night, Bull Run Council, O. F. A., installed the following officers: president, Henry M. Robertson; vice-president, Ashby March; recording secretary, R. D. Wharton; assistant recording secretary, J. S. Woodard; financial secretary, R. L. Byrd; treasurer, B. C. Cornwell; warden, Ferris Gue; inner sentinel, Harvey Breden, and outer sentinel, A. A. Muddiman.

Tentative plans were laid for having a big initiation meeting in a few weeks at which adjoining councils will be invited to attend and the degree team of Vienna Council will be asked to put on the degree work as recently done at Greenwich.

ELECTED BANK DIRECTOR

Mr. T. E. Didlake has been made a director in the Peoples National Bank of Manassas. Mr. Didlake is widely known and very popular.

Redistricting Plan Would Group This County with Newport News.

POLITICAL CONSIDERATIONS BEHIND PROPOSAL

The historic Eighth Congressional District of Virginia will pass into oblivion if the proposition now before the General Assembly becomes the law.

Under the redistricting plan, which is said to have very substantial backing, the Eighth would be divided between the First and Seventh and the remaining Congressional Districts would be practically unchanged.

Political rather than geographic or economic considerations are said to be at the bottom of the plan. Certainly no considerations other than political would separate these counties of northern Virginia so that half of them were joined with Newport News, and the rest with the Valley of Virginia.

The strength of the proposal seems to lie in the following facts: No one wants to be disturbed. The present boundaries of Congressional Districts are satisfactory. However, with the great Republican wave which swept Hoover into power, the redistricting measure which had been fought for years was pushed through Congress. Virginia must lose a Congressman, and a vote from now on all questions affecting the welfare of our people in national legislation.

A plan which leaves nine of our districts undisturbed and only makes havoc with one is likely to have considerable support in the unaffected nine, regardless of how disadvantageous it may be to the District selected for sacrifice.

The proposal, which has been denounced as a "dishonest piece of political sculduggery, would dismember the Eighth District as follows:

To the Seventh District (Valley of Virginia): Fauquier, Loudoun, Culpeper, Orange and perhaps Louisa.

To the First District (Newport News): Alexandria, Arlington, Fairfax, Prince William, Stafford and King George.

About the only other change in the State under this plan would be the transfer of Accomac and Northampton to the Second District (Norfolk).

One hundred years ago the proposition might have had some merit. It was their thought that the Potomac River would be the great highway to the west. With mighty movements of commerce on the Potomac, there might be some justification in uniting Prince William county with Newport News. If Dumfries, which once rivaled Baltimore and New York as a shipping point, were still a seaport the arrangements would be consistent, but with no other bond with Newport News than that there is some good duck shooting and boating available at Widewater, the idea of uniting us with Newport News becomes fantastic, except as a piece of political maneuvering to destroy the solidarity of the Eighth District.

The bill will no doubt be introduced at an early date and referred to the committee on Privileges and Elections. And it is conceivable that the absurd arrangement will be fastened upon us unless the people of the Eighth bestir themselves in organized protest.

LAUNDRY BURNS

Shortly before noon, on Monday of this week, the local fire department was called out in a great hurry to quell a sudden blaze which occurred in the laundry operated by Mr. Cornwell.

When the gas exploded, Mrs. Lynch attempted to use the phone but matters moved so quickly that she was forced to drop the receiver.

Most everything in Manassas was around the fire lines in about two minutes, arriving almost as quickly as Jesse Crosby who got there in two seconds flat while Bruce Hynson already had the engine out and the lines playing. Tom Howard got there just a breath later and took charge.

With a steady stream of water, the flames soon died down, much to the very great relief of everyone. The building owned by John H. Burke is covered by insurance but the machinery carried none, and was badly damaged.

RUMMAGE SALE POSTPONED

On account of the weather the rummage sale at Gue's Electrical Shop was postponed from the 9th to the 16th. Opposite Presbyterian Church.

DAIRY FESTIVAL UNDER WAY EARLY

Arlington County Comes In Strong.

Sixty-three dairymen gathered at the Town Hall this afternoon to promote the 1932 Dairy Festival. The meeting was presided over by R. S. Hynson who was unanimously re-elected president for another year on motion of E. H. Hibbs and second by D. J. Arrington.

The nine directors who served last year were re-elected without discussion.

The pleasing feature of the afternoon was the manner in which the Arlington delegation turned out. Frank Davis, representative of Marcey Brothers, acted as spokesman for the group and introduced Dr. Norbert Melnick, who is to be Arlington's vice-president in the 1932 Festival. Others from Arlington who addressed the meeting were the Marcey brothers, Mr. and Mrs. Greer, Mr. Saegmuller and Mr. Goode. Mr. Kerns and B. W. Middleton, both of Fairfax county, made brief remarks.

In speaking for the Arlington Dairies, Mr. Davis assured the meeting that those business interests in Arlington county were "four square behind the movement."

Dr. C. R. C. Johnson and A. S. Boatwright both made brief talks for the advancement of the project.

Frank Cox, farm agent for Prince William county, acted as secretary for the meeting. Announcement was made that all county vice-presidents would be elected at an early date.

NOKESVILLE

The Brentsville District Community Association held an important and interesting meeting in the high school auditorium Tuesday night, January 5.

A small but very enthusiastic crowd was present. They entertained themselves and each other with community singing.

Several important business measures were considered and transacted. Among these were the organization of a religious committee the purchase of an electric stove for the school, arrangements of entertainments at the meetings for the rest of the year, the initiation of a home improvement contest by the Civic Committee, the organization of a fire brigade, the appointment of a weekly correspondent to The Manassas Journal.

The president deserves a word of praise for the earnest talk he gave, emphasizing the importance of the work and pointing out the ways in which the committees could help the community.

Plans for the year's work are completed. The work is well under way. The association is going to make a better community of Brentsville district and enjoy the job.

The younger generation around Nokesville will soon be able to romp in a first-class gymnasium. The work is progressing, although probably slowly, most surely. This "Pop-off Valve" for youthful energy is nearing its completion, we are glad to say.

The Truth Seekers Class of the Brethren Sunday School held their monthly business and social meeting in the seminary Thursday night, Jan. 7. They had a good business session, plenty of fun and delicious refreshments. Certainly these "Old" children have learned to mingle their work and play.

One can always discuss the weather when there is no other subject. The sound of water, trickling into some of the wells around Nokesville, is sweet music to our ears. We would like to revise the Mother Goose Rhyme thus: "Rain, rain, don't go away; come again every other day."

Three one-act plays will be given and you will sure laugh when you see George propose to a girl, and David when he advertises for a wife, and when Louise discovers "such a terrible mistake" when they delivered the wrong trunk.

Evelyn Kerlin will give you Aden news in general. Special musicals will be furnished. Write your name on a slip of paper and be the lucky one to get a valuable prize. After the program buy yourself a box and eat with your friend. Everybody come and enjoy the evening. All proceeds to be used for church building fund.

COWBOYS DOFF SOMBREROS AS O'BRIEN STOPS STAMPEDE

"Any hand who can turn a stampede can ride for my money." "Vinegar" Roan, "Oatmeal" Martin, Herman Nolan, Dick Hunter, and "Ki Yi" Lyon are veteran range riders. They've rounded up herds since their hoople legs could straddle a cayuse. They're not very easily impressed—especially by movie cowboys—but they think a lot of George O'Brien.

The reason for their good opinion of George is that while they were working with the burly star on his latest, Fox western feature, "Riders of the Purple Sage," which patrons of the Dixie Theatre will see beginning Monday, Jan. 18, they watched him perform the feat referred to above, the most dangerous a cattle hand can be called on to execute; turning a stampeding herd, during a sequence of the picture.

The scene occurs when enemies of Marguerite Churchill, the feminine lead in the picture, stampede her herd of longhorns. O'Brien, who is staying at the ranch to protect her from these foes, sees the danger and rides to the rescue. So far the scene progressed according to plan.

But one of the "menace" players became too zealous. He roweled a steer along the flank with his spur, and a prepared stampede turned on the instant into a real one.

By this time O'Brien was near the head of the herd, which was bearing down on the tent colony where the players lived on location. It was too late to stop. Tearing around the vanguard, O'Brien came up with the leading steer. He flung himself from his saddle onto the animal's horns, put every atom of his strength into a bulldogging twist and threw the brute to the ground. Deprived of their leader the cattle milled around, slowed down and stopped. The stampede was halted and a scene of extreme realism photographed.

WHIST FOR ALL—ALL FOR CHRIST

BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

If parents will have their children maintain a Bible devotion each week, it will prove as a heritage to them in after years.

SPEAK THE GOOD WORD:

—Heaviness in the heart of man maketh it stoop; but a good word maketh it glad.—Proverbs 12:25.

WHY SLAUGHTER THE EIGHTH?

The plan to reduce the Eighth District to annihilation is illogical. The fundamental ideas of the government of this country were to pay strict attention to centralization and convenience. There is nothing in the above mentioned scheme to show this. Even in a plan which has only political motives as a basis there does need to be logic. And the voting mass of the people of the entire state want something logical.

The Eighth District can be maintained without badly dissipating any of its neighbors. At present the Eighth District reaches on both sides of Fredericksburg City and Spotsylvania county. This county and the city of Fredericksburg should be added to the Eighth. The Eighth District has more in common with the area to the west than to the south. Our quota could be completed by bringing in from the Seventh those counties on this side of the Blue Ridge, four in number, which would very neatly balance matters.

And now we are probably getting to where the shoe pinches, as it is said that the plan to disrupt the Eighth District has its origin largely in the Seventh District. The Seventh is anxious to reach out and grasp our best and most populous areas instead of releasing to us its own thinly populated areas which are certainly not contiguous with the balance of the Seventh District in the matter of topography.

There is still a wider plan yet afoot and that is to take our senatorial district in its entirety and throw it into Menapulus Lankford's district. This would indeed be a catastrophe!

The matter is up for popular discussion and intelligent cooperation, not only for individuals but for every organization to combat and defeat.

PERSISTENCE

A discerning writer has said it is remarkable how often outstanding success can be achieved with no other outstanding characteristic than persistence. How often one man is introduced to a man who seems to have not a bit more than the average amount of intelligence, or energy, or courage, or charm, and then learn, afterwards, to one's surprise, that this very ordinary man has achieved extraordinary things!

The explanation of the discrepancy nearly always is in his persistence. He has never travelled steadily and always in the same direction. Some there are who say that the capacity for such persistence is a gift; if so, it is one to be thankful for. Some there are who say that it is a virtue to be acquired; if so, it is one to the acquisition of which a man might profitably bend his whole energy of will and spirit. For, without it, brilliance is condemned to futility and waste.

Of its importance in ordinary life and character nearly all the world is convinced, for it has been employed for centuries by the men who have written our fables, our proverbs and our histories. But it is of no less importance in Commerce, which is but one of the more complex expressions of life and character.

A stroke of conspicuous success in business can be achieved by a single brilliantly accurate vision of what the public will need or desire in twelve months' time. But one such stroke will be surpassed in achievement by the business which, without such far-reaching vision, goes on from month to month quietly doing its best to anticipate and meet the public needs in a steady spirit of service.—Harri-man National Bank Bulletin.

WARNED TO GET 1932 DOG TAGS

Game Warden C. L. Reading requests those who have not secured their dog license for 1932 to do so at once. Tags for 1932 have been on sale at the treasurer's office since November 1 last and those who fail to secure their license by January 31 are subject to the penalties of the law, including a fine of not less than $5.00 and costs. The game warden requests the cooperation of all in securing dog tags in order to avoid the penalty provided for delinquents and the additional risk of dogs being killed or taken up.

GIRL HURT IN DESPERATE BATTLE WITH HUGE BEAR

A desperate battle with a bear in the mountains of North Carolina in which one person was injured, was described here today by members of the party en route from Washington to Spartanburg.

Miss Cornelia Stimson is at her home here suffering from lacerations to one of her hands as a result of the injuries and shock of the encounter with the huge bear. One of her companions, "Red" Marshall, of Fredericksburg, Va., who went to her rescue, was unhurt.

The party, which also included Miss Elvere Conner of Manassas, Va., was en route from Washington when they discovered the huge bear chained to a tree by the side of the road. Getting out of their car to investigate, Miss Stimson approached too close to the animal which threw his entire weight against her, forcing her to the ground.

The animal sank his fangs into her hand and clawed viciously at her body.

Marshall, who went to the rescue of his girl companion, attacked the bear and succeeded in beating him off, dragging Miss Stimson beyond his reach, and prevented more serious injuries.

Miss Stimson was taken to Salisbury where her hand was treated and the party continued on their trip to Spartanburg.

DeParx Stimson, a brother of Miss Stimson, said it was believed the bear was tame and had been left at the roadside by its owner. The approach of strangers infuriated the animal, it is thought, causing him to make the attack.—"Extract from Spartanburg Daily."

Protect Small Fruits

From Cold by Mulching

Small fruits that may be injured by the cold should be mulched for protection during the winter, according to C. V. Holsinger of Iowa State college. Red raspberries and even black raspberries should be mulched. If they are bent over while the sap is still in the cane there will be little breakage and the tops of the plants should be covered with soil.

Less hardy but desirable varieties of grapes should be mulched during the winter. The varieties that need protection are the Brighton, Agawan, Green Mountain and the Diamond.

Strawberries should be mulched after the first freeze, since the purpose of this mulch is to keep down the alternate freezing and thawing. Wheat straw from which the chaff has been shaken or shredded corn fodder may be used. Manure should not be used, as it becomes a mat under the snow and carries many weed seeds.—Exchange.

Stops Erosion

Rows of corn or other cultivated crops which run across the slope are much less likely to wash out during heavy spring rains than where the rows run up and down the slope. Soil erosion from the field will be greatly reduced by this method of planting and cultivation, and more water will be absorbed by the soil. In many fields the rows can be run approximately on the contour with very little more trouble than where they are run with the slope. If erosion is to be checked and the loss of stands prevented the grower should change his ideas regarding the necessity for corn rows being straight and in the direction of some point of the compass. A row across the slope aids in insuring the stand and protects the land from such serious erosion.

Protein Content of Forage

Contrary to general opinion, perhaps, there is not as much difference in the protein content of the early growth of various legume and non-legume forage commonly used for pig pasture as many suppose. For example, the protein content of several of these forages, as given by Smith of the Purdue (Ind.) station, is as follows: bluegrass 7 inches high, 4.66 per cent; green rye, 6 inches high, 4.51 per cent; green wheat, 5 inches high, 6.54 per cent; green oats, 8 inches high, 4.9 per cent; edible portions of rape, 5.37 per cent; red clover, 11 inches high, 4.31 per cent; edible parts of alfalfa, 7.44 per cent; alfalfa, 8 inches high (whole plant), 4.71 per cent; edible parts of sweet clover, 6.56 per cent; sweet clover, 9 inches high, 5.3 per cent.

C. & P. PLANS EXPANSION

Extensive Improvements for Virginia.

Plans for expanding the telephone system serving the District of Columbia, Maryland, Virginia and West Virginia in 1932 were announced Dec. 31 by Lloyd B. Wilson, president of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Companies. They call for expenditures of approximately $16,000,000 for additions and betterments which is about $2,500,000 in excess of the 1931 construction projects.

Under this program the company estimates that there will be a net gain of 32,000 telephones, as contrasted with approximately 22,500 in 1931. In securing this net gain it is estimated that 198,500 telephones will be installed and 166,500 removed from service. At the present time there are 673,359 telephones in service in this territory.

Telephone users in this area, it is estimated, will make 1,165,000,000 calls during the year, which will be an increase of 5 per cent over those made in 1931.

PAST DEPRESSIONS

Rockwell Smith, a real estate man in California, has made a careful study of old newspaper files and finds that we have had the following periods of depression, which he lists with the lengths of duration as follows:

Year	Duration
1857	12 months
1869	8 "
1873	30 "
1884	22 "
1887	10 "
1893	25 "
1903	25 "
1907	12 "
1914	8 "
1921	14 "

The average of these periods of depression is 16.6 months.

We have now gone five months past the average, which would certainly justify the belief that we must be approaching better days. Even if this should turn out to be our worst set back, still we are past the nadir or lowest point of the world-wide disturbance and on the upward trend.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Brower, jr., of Purcellville with their family were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Pattie and Mrs. Mary E. Wilkins.
 Miss Bettie Davis of Washington was a guest of Miss Mary Currel Pattie during the past week.
 Mr. C. B. McIntosh of The Plains, Mr. Frank Williams of Shepherds-town, W. Va., and William and Vallie Shackleford of Hagerstown, Md., were guests of Mrs. Jennie McIntosh during Christmas week.
 Mr. and Mrs. T. Otis Latham of Snow Hill spent Christmas with Mrs. Latham's father, Mr. Hamilton, of Staunton, Va.

The community was shocked to learn of the tragic death of Mr. H. L. Tubbs which occurred at Wellington railroad crossing on Saturday morning of last week. Mr. Tubbs in his capacity of Road Superintendent had many friends in Gainesville district.

Mr. D. E. Earhart of Nokesville spent several days in Gainesville district last week looking after the interests of the Loudoun Mutual Fire Insurance Co. of which he is the agent for this section.

Mr. Howard Haislip has been suffering from a bad cold and sore throat which ailment seems to be very prevalent in the neighborhood just now.

Mrs. Etta P. Lynn recently received a copy of a Long Beach, Calif., newspaper containing full details of a "Sunset" party held in the auditorium of that city during Christmas week and which was attended by about 1600 people whose ages ranged from 70 to 96 years and among them was Mrs. Estelle D. Day who is widely known in the Catharpin neighborhood and by the older people thruout Prince William county many of whom were pupils of the schools she taught when the public school system in Virginia was yet in its swaddling clothes and like Whitcomb Riley's "little old wobbly calf" was trying to gain a foothold in public favor as an institution of culture and learning. Much water has passed under the bridge since that time and if the rising generation of this advanced age could but understand the hardships endured by this good woman and others like her in inaugurating the educational system which has grown to its present wonderful proportions their appreciation of modern privileges would be everlasting. It was the privilege of the writer to meet Mrs. Day several years ago while she was on a visit to friends at Catharpin and vicinity

Christmas is over and thots are now given to the duties of spring. Farmers are starting the plow and the present open weather is a reminder that another producing season is just in the offing. Many trees and shrubs are budding and some neglected "garden sass" is now putting forth its foliage and furnishing the "pot of greens" so necessary to health and which contains vitamin "A" or "D" or "X" or something or other which we need. London physicians have discovered that vitamin "D" is good for rickets; if so we should all raise plenty of greens.

DAIRY COWS PRODUCE MORE WITH WATER ALWAYS HANDY

Dairymen who want the most milk and butterfat from their cows should arrange to let them drink as much water as they want when they want it, says T. E. Woodward of the United States Department of Agriculture.

Mr. Woodward, who is senior dairy husbandman in the Bureau of Dairy Industry, has completed experiments to determine the relation of methods of watering dairy cows to their water consumption and production. The tests were run both in warm and cold weather and, included both high-producing and low-producing cows. The results of watering twice a day and once a day were compared with results obtained when the cows had free access to water.

In these tests, according to Mr. Woodward, the cows drank more water when watered only twice a day than when they had water at will or when watered only once a day, but their production was highest when they had water at will. The production of the cows in this experiment averaged 2.8 per cent more milk and 2.1 per cent more butterfat when given free access to water than when watered only twice a day; and when watered twice a day they produced 1 per cent more milk and 1.4 per cent more butterfat than when watered only once a day.

Mr. Woodward also reports that the increase in milk production as a result of more frequent watering was more marked in the case of good producers than in the case of the low producers.

"When dairy cows are on pasture they usually have access to drinking water at all times, but when they are stabled the number of times they are permitted to drink may vary considerably. Some farmers set up individual drinking cups in the stalls, which make it possible for the cows to drink at will, whereas other dairymen turn the cows out of their stalls to drink, either once or twice a day.

"From these experiments it appears that 'water at will' is the most desirable method of watering all dairy cows. Free access to water is more advantageous in warm weather than in cold weather and also more advantageous to high-producing cows than to low-producing cows."

IN MEMORIAM (H. L. TUBBS)

From rock-ribbed Pennsylvania Where maples, yews and beech Adorn the hills and valleys And gigantic statures reach;

Where winter chilling blasts And snow and ice abound, Came our friend and brother, And a milder climate found.

Forty years he has tarried And called this home sweet home, Endeared to the manes, Wherever he roamed.

As our crossroads developed, He rode a lively pace, And at his untimely death, He was our roadworking ace.

Over the entire county, His improved roads remain. Here a road, there a road Made better by his brain;

A tribute to his mother Who has nurtured such a son And helped to guide his footsteps, While such a race was run.

And to his dear, sweet helpmate Who has gone with him all the way We extend to her in gentle words Our deepest sympathy.

E. M. Briggs.

IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving remembrance of my dear mother, Mrs. L. E. Anderson, who departed this life January 15, 1929.

Three long years have passed, dear mother, Since God took you away To his home so dear in heaven Where we'll all meet some day.

Can I help but feel so lonely When her voice I do not hear For no words were ever sweeter Than the words she spoke so dear.

I will meet you some bright morning 'Tis a happy thought in store To have a glorious home in heaven When the toil of life is over.

So keep her, Jesus, in thy keeping Until my weary life is past Then oh master, let me meet her And know as when I saw her last. By her devoted daughter, Annie Abel.
