GOLDEN WEDDING CELEBRATION

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Miller Receive Many Congratulations.

Oak Lawn, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Miller at Nokesville, formerly of Bridge, was the scene of a very happy occasion when Mr. and Mrs. Miller celebrated their golden wedding anniversary.

The home was beautifully decorated with potted plants and gold paper.

The friends and relatives began gathering early and by 1 o'clock there was quite a crowd of people. When most of friends had gathered, Mrs. Miller, assisted by her husband and son, Ora, sang "Have Courage, my boy, to say no," and "Just Fifty Years Ago." EIGHTH DISTRICT WINS THE FIGHT AT RICHMOND

HOW THE EIGHTH WAS SAVED

(Editorial)

For two generations or more men will tell how the Fighting Eighth was saved from ignominious oblivion.

Many did not realize how vitally this area would have been affected had its political identity been submerged. But there were enough who did go "to the aid of their party" and the Eighth is safe for at least another fifty years by which time its population will go a long way toward bringing back the ten districts to which Virginia is really entitled.

Early action (with Senator Early behind it) had a tendency to rather stun the forces of the Eighth. Avenues were rapidly closing by which it might escape, when something happened. At the zero hour when the opponents of the Eighth were doing everything possible to stampede it, Howard Worth Smith remained perfectly quiet until the situation clarified, and a direct line of action could be pursued. With characteristic swiftness, the attack was then centered on the committee. It was a clever move indeed to present only two speakers on the night of the committee hearing for time was a big element in the success of that occasion. It is history now that the committee met immediately after the hearing and ordered the Wright-Hall bill out in a scant quarter of an hour, a thing that would not have happened had a ceaseless lot of jargon gone on in the hearing.

The Senate Committee, already virtually stacked against the Eighth, heard with dismay that the Wright-Hall bill was out. It was an unexpected coup. Even the vote by which it went out was not quoted correctly in the press. The legislative week was then over, and the last grapple took place behind the scenes.

Up to this time, the Fourth District remained motionless, rather against than for the Eighth. But the committee vote showed the tendency of the other Districts, and over the week end the Fourth fell into line very gracefully. By Monday morning, it was indicated that the Sixth was also in line, and then the stampede began, with every man out to save himself and the "Devil take the hindmost."

The Wright Bill which was then in the ascendancy would have brought in the counties of the Seventh on this side of the Blue Ridge. But the Tenth sued for peace by Monday night, and the stage was all set for a quiet ensemble. Envoys of the Senate agreed to accept legislation which would leave the Eighth utterly undisturbed, and give Craig, Alleghany, Botetourt and Bath to the Sixth.

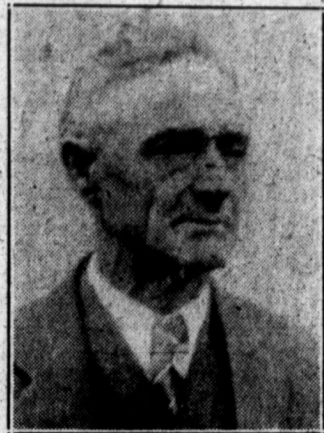

Such a bill was brought into the Senate at noon, passed unanimously, went to the House and was brought back to the Senate a law by 12:25, lacking only the Governor's signature. Only four votes by Republican members were cast against it. The Fighting Eighth had won!

For four weeks Howard W. Smith, with his district solidly behind him, engineered a tremendous political battle. His cool, calculating deliberation on one hand and his rapid action on the other equalled in the Council Chamber anything that "Stonewall" Jackson ever did on the battlefield.

At the beginning of the contest the odds were badly stacked against him and a few "Job's Comforters" among us held that all was lost. Smith fought with his back to the wall at first. Before the finish the opposition was in confusion and Smith was the dominant figure in the brief campaign.

"He's in Congress for life," said one onlooker as news came from the Senate. "He's licked everything in sight and it's not likely he'll ever have opposition in his district." So say we all! Hurrah for Smith!

NOTES FROM MONTHLY REPORT OF SARAH PITTS, HOME DEMONSTRATION AGENT

Prince William County, Va., for January, 1932.

1. Names of communities in which home demonstration agent worked: Manassas, Greenwich, Nokesville, Haymarket, Woodbine, Dumfries, Cherry Hill, Occoquan, Woodlawn, Hayfield, Buckhall, Bethel, Quantico, Aden and Purcell.

2. No. girls clubs met: 19.
3. No. Women's groups met: 7.
4. No. other meetings held: 7.
5. No. letters written: 143.
6. No. home visits: 70.
7. No. miles travelled: 731.

Programs, community and project work have shown the interest and initiative of the club folks themselves. In not one of the nineteen groups met did I find the boys and girls unwilling or not ready to work. Local leaders have increased the effectiveness of their assistance wonderfully since the beginning of this project year.

Two meetings have been held in most of the 4-H groups during the month. Seven meetings were held with the local project leaders, making a total of twenty-six 4-H club meetings held during the month of January. Four days were set aside as canning days and in that time the home agent, with the assistance of local club leaders and in some cases a few of the women of the community, canned beef stock for hot lunches in Purcell, Woodbine, Hayfield and Woodlawn schools. The club folks of those schools are serving hot lunches regularly during the winter months.

Woodbine and Purcell boys and girls are working on the food for health project. Through this project, they expect to learn what, why, and how to eat health building foods; they will work out garden projects which will supply green and succulent vegetables over a long period of time. A study and practice of health principles is being taken along with the foods work.

The 4-H clothing leaders held their second meeting of the year on Thursday, January 14. Nine leaders were present to get the help and plan of work for the following few months. Miss Cymbel Taylor, clothing specialist, assisted with the clothing work. Four of the five home demonstration groups had a hundred percent attendance of leaders at the meeting for foods project instruction. This meeting was held on Saturday, Jan. 16. Miss Janet L. Cameron, foods and nutrition specialist, outlined work and presented demonstrations which will be given in the various home demonstration groups during two successive months.

Nokesville and Haymarket home demonstration committees were assisted with the making of plan of work for the year. In each of these groups the entire program is centered around the Live at Home program.

C. & P. TELEPHONE CO.
The annual meeting of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Virginia was held in Richmond yesterday. The following directors were re-elected: John S. Eggleston, William T. Reed, Richmond; Goldsborough Serpell, Norfolk; Homer L. Ferguson, Newport News; Junius P. Fishburn, Roanoke; Lloyd B. Wilson, Walter B. Clarkson, Marshall D. Sedam, Philip O. Coffin, Washington, and Walter S. Gifford and Eugene S. Wilson, New York.

MASTERFUL STRATEGY BRINGS CONTEST TO SUDDEN END

Skillful Leadership by Congressman Smith and Dogged Determination of Delegations Result in Overwhelming Victory.

EIGHTH DISTRICT REMAINS UNCHANGED

With only the vote of four Republicans in the House dissenting, the General Assembly of Virginia on Tuesday unanimously passed the Re-Districting Bill which reduces the Congressional Districts from ten to nine.

The Eighth District remains unchanged and will consist as in the past of Alexandria, Arlington, Fairfax, Fauquier, Loudoun, Prince William, Culpeper, Orange, Stafford and King George.

The Seventh and the Tenth become united into one big area, from which only the counties of Craig, Botetourt and Alleghany are taken and placed in the Sixth.

The first meeting will be held tonight, Feb. 11, at 7:45 o'clock, at the Manassas Town Hall.

On Saturday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock, there will be a meeting at the hall at Independent Hill and on Saturday evening at 7:45 o'clock and another at the Brentsville District high school at Nokesville.

KIWANIS CLUB WILL VISIT ADEN

The Kiwanis Club will journey to Aden tomorrow night to partake of a supper being put on by the local school league. A full attendance has been requested and a program of much interest to the whole county has been promised.

Refreshments were served at the close of the evening and prizes were given to the winners at each table. This was the second project of the club and was considered quite a success, the first being a candy and cookie sale.

PLAY AT NOKESVILLE

All who like first-class entertainment will certainly come out to the high school auditorium Friday night, Feb. 12, to see the play given by the Methodist Church, entitled the "Wild Oats Boy."

There will be about two and a half hours of fun, laughter and music and what not. Thirteen of the best amateur actors in the community will perform for you. It'll be worth while to see what happens to this "Wild Oats Boy."

It is a splendid play, in a good cause. Everybody is cordially invited.

Following is a list of the characters:

Aunt Anne, housekeeper in Uncle George's home ----- Beula Della, the maid ----- Theresa Payne Judy, Uncle George's adopted daughter ----- Dorothy McMichael Danny Murphy, the cook - maybe Emory Gray Patricia Gilden (Pat), Judy's friend Christine Hedrick Eve Martin, another friend, more or less ----- Elizabeth Allan Eddie, the Wild Oats boy ----- H. SURPRISE PARTY

A delightful surprise party was given in honor of Mr. L. B. Williams at his home on February 3.

The occasion marked the retirement of Mr. Williams from forty-one years of active service in the Railway Mail Service.

He was presented with a chair, a gift from his fellow-clerks.

After a most enjoyable social evening, a buffet supper was served to the thirty guests present.

BRILLIANT AFFAIR

Ball at Manassas a Beautiful Feature of the Bi-centennial Entertainments.

Manassas society turned out en masse to make the dance last Friday night a success. The high school gymnasium was strikingly decorated with evergreens and the national colors.

The committee included Mesdames Hawes Davies, Hooft, Waters, Marsteller, Gillum, Parrish, Browning, Richard Haydon, Jamison, McBride, and Knox.

Supper was served at midnight and the dancing continued till 1:30 a.m. The music, which was exceptionally good, was furnished by Potter's orchestra.

There was a large number of guests present and the whole affair reflected much credit on the ladies who worked so hard to make the Bi-centennial ball a feature of the 1932 entertainments.

Sympathy was expressed for Mrs. Hibbs who started the work for the dance and withdrew on account of the death of her brother. Much of the success was due to Mrs. Hibbs' initial efforts.

EASTERN STAR CARD PARTY BIG SUCCESS

The second floor of the Masonic Temple, on Tuesday evening, was the scene of a delightful benefit card party. The room was tastefully decorated with ferns, palms, etc., and the Bi-centennial colors were very much in evidence—the many beautiful flags on the walls, and the tallies being miniature lithographs in colors of Geo. Washington, Martha Washington, Mt. Vernon and historic Wakefield. The large number of guests being present added materially to the success of the occasion, and the evening was quite an enjoyable one.

Refreshments consisting of fruit salad, sandwiches, olives, coffee, nuts and mints were served.

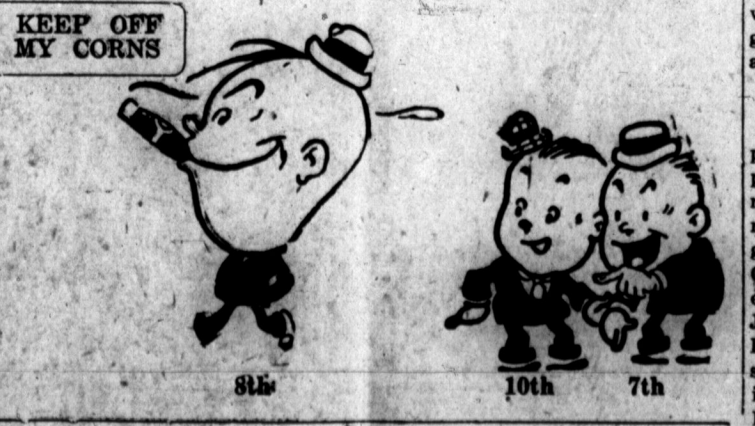

The ways and means committee of the Woman's Chapter is to be congratulated upon the work they are doing, and the successful way in which this benefit party was managed.

PATRON'S LEAGUE

The Patron's League of Manassas high school will meet Thursday, Feb. 18, in the school building at 2:30 o'clock.

NOKESVILLE

We are glad to say that Mrs. E. C. Spitzer, who has been sick for the past week, is improving rapidly. Her many friends hope to see her out soon.

The Truth Seekers' Class of the Brethren Sunday school held their banquet on Thursday night, Feb. 5. Fifty members and guests were present. Mr. E. C. Spitzer acted as toastmaster. Mr. G. W. Beahm by request of the president, Mr. C. C. Herring, introduced the speaker of the evening, Dr. A. L. Maiden of Clarendon, Va. His splendid talk added much to the occasion. Dr. Wright of Harrisonburg also made a few remarks. A solo by Mrs. Spitzer and group singing interspersed the program, with Bless be the tie that binds, as the closing number. We are already looking forward to our next annual banquet of 1933.

The new gymnasium re-echoed for the first time, the cheers of spectators and the yells of contestants on last Thursday night, when the team of the alumni and the high school team locked horns. The alumni team, quite spry in spite of their years, put up a keen fight, handling the ball as in days of yore, but age and rheumatism began to tell on the boys and they finally succumbed to the high school to the tune of 13-9. Remarkable to relate, the team of the alumni consisted of the same boys who comprised the high school team two years ago.

The basketball fans were still digesting this game Friday night when Brentsville, District engaged Occoquan high in the initial high school game to be played in the new gym. The local boys put on an offensive drive in the first period, which put them on the big end of the score at the half. One of Occoquan's boys caused some anxiety here, in the last few minutes of play, by tossing a couple beautiful passes through the hoop. Brentsville presented a sturdy defense most of the time, however. Both teams played hard. The lads from B. D. H. S. earned their margin of victory through the good defensive game they played. Rarely did Occoquan's scoring machine click.

Miss Geraldine Shepherd spent the week end in Washington with her aunt, Mrs. J. J. Owens. She also spent one night with her old schoolmate, Miss Virginia Collier, who is now living in Washington.

Dr. and Mrs. B. L. Hume were called to Charlotte, N. C., last Tuesday on account of illness of Mrs. Hume's mother. Dr. Hume returned on Friday but Mrs. Hume will stay a while longer.

Mr. J. A. Hooker spent a few days in Richmond on business.

W. H. Daughtery, Extension Agonomist, V. P. I., will speak to the farmers of Brentsville District at a meeting at the District high school, Saturday evening, February 13, at 7:45 o'clock. Following a round table discussion on the seeding of clovers and grasses, liming and fertilizing, etc., instructions will be given on how to take soil samples to bring to another meeting at Nokesville later in the month for testing for lime and fertilizer requirements. L. J. Bowman, chairman of the agricultural committee of Brentsville, district, urges every farmer in the district to attend.

"SWEEPSTAKES," SWIFT-PACED RACING STORY

Franklin Hibbs, manager of the Dixie Theatre, announces that RKO Pathe's newest picture, "Sweepstakes," starring Eddie Quillan, will be here on Friday, February 19.

The story, by Lew Lipton, is about a famous jockey, Buddy Doyle, who wins his races by chanting "whoop-te-do" to his horses. Sleepy Jones, his trainer, who has taught him all he knows about horse racing, is watching his career with interest. He is very fond of the boy and is convinced that some day he will be one of the best known jockeys on any track.

Buddy falls in love with Babe, a night club entertainer, and starts breaking training rules in order to see her. Sleepy tries to keep him at training quarters, but every night Buddy manages to slip away. Even Pop Blake, the owner of the horse he is to race, begins to be worried when Bud appears late for morning practice. At last Pop sees that he must do something drastic, and tells Buddy he must choose between continuing to see Babe and riding in the sweepstakes. Buddy makes his decision at once.

Bud accepts a position with a rival owner, Weber, who promises him he will not have to ride against Pop's horse, Six Shooter. But just before the race, Weber tells Bud he will have to ride Rosedawn against Six Shooter because his jockey is ill. Buddy has no choice. The race is about to start. Sleepy gets a chance to tell Buddy that Weber is crooked. His jockey is not ill. His only chance of winning is to have Bud ride Rosedawn.

Buddy rides Rosedawn close to Six Shooter, and chanting "whoop-te-do" in Six Shooter's ear, until he forges ahead and wins. Doyle is disbarred at once, and leaves town without the race, and leaves town without seeing anyone.

His trainer, Sleepy, finds him in 'Tia Juana and buys Six Shooter for him to race. Bud refuses until he learns that Babe has put in the money for the entry fee. He rides Six Shooter to victory and wins a splendid purse.

With Eddie Quillan in the cast are James Gleason, Marion Nixon, Lew Cody, Paul Hurst, Fred Burton, King Baggott, Billy Sullivan, Lillian Leigh-ton and Mike Donlin.

The picture was directed by Albert Rogell, under associate producer Harry Joe Brown. Dialogue is by Ralph Murphy.

W. A. HAZLETT, EASTERN DIVISION MANAGER, P. W. LITCHFIELD, PRESIDENT, AND R. S. WILSON, VICE-PRESIDENT AND SALES MANAGER OF THE GOODYEAR TIRE & RUBBER CO., INC., WHO CONDUCTED THE TIRE SALES MEETING.

Mr. E. L. Foot, sales representative for the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company for Manassas, called at the Journal office a few days ago while enroute to a conference in New York of the automobile tire industry, which was held at the Park Central Hotel and attended by P. W. Litchfield, president of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company.

Mr. Litchfield, who has been connected with the rubber industry since his graduation from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1896 and who joined Goodyear four years later as superintendent, is making first-hand study of dealers' problems and of car owners' interests.

The conference lasted two days and covered various phases of merchandising and distribution. R. S. Wilson, vice-president in charge of sales; V. A. Hazlett, Eastern Division Manager; H. E. Blythe, assistant to the president, and other company executives were present.

An interesting figure is Litchfield one of the first technical men attracted to the rubber industry. He set up a small laboratory and designed the first Goodyear automobile tire. Going up the ranks as factory manager, vice-president, and president since 1926, he has in that period directed the construction of nearly 200,000,000 tires, the largest number credited to any individual in the world; and from his experience as a production leader won the name in the industry of the tire master.

Within the last few years however he has come also into the title of the country's leading builder of lighter-than-air craft, some 1100 observation and training balloons and 110 airships having been built under his direction prior to the completion of the U. S. S. Akron. Mr. Litchfield's interest in aeronautics dates back to 1911 when the experiments of the Wright Brothers with airplanes and of Count Zeppelin with airships had gone far to convince a skeptical public opinion in Europe and America.

In 1926 Litchfield took over for his company the Zeppelin patents for North America, bringing to America Dr. Karl Arnstein, chief engineer of the Zeppelin plant at Friedrichshafen, along with 12 of his engineering experts, and set them to work on initial design of full size military and commercial airships.

The construction dock in which the Akron was assembled, was started in 1929, being the largest building in the world without interior supports. This huge building, 1200 feet long by 325 feet wide and 210 feet high, streamlined to reduce air disturbances, and having four great orange-peel doors, also stream-lined and weighing 600 tons each, has been called almost as interesting an engineering feat as the building of the airship itself.

One new product to be discussed is the Airwheel Tire, a great doughnut-shaped tire, introduced early last year, for cars of the Ford, Chevrolet, Plymouth class. The Airwheel Tire, originally designed by Goodyear in 1928 for airplanes, and already having largely displaced the old high pressure tires for planes, have been adapted to automobiles for car owners wanting maximum comfort or those having unusual road conditions to contend with.

It is a further extension of the balloon tire which has displaced the old high pressure tires for automobiles and is said to be the latest word in automobile comfort.

CHRIST FOR ALL—ALL FOR CHRIST

The Word of God

The word is a lamp unto our feet, and a light unto our path.—Psalm 119: 105

BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

If parents will have their children memorize a Bible selection each week, it will prove a priceless heritage to them in after years.

DELIVERANCE FROM FEAR:—I sought the Lord, and he heard me, and delivered me from all my fears.—Psalm 34: 4.

MY THOUGHTS ON THE BIBLE

For the past sixty years, every morning before breakfast, I have read part of a chapter in the Old and New Testaments. Also at that time I write in my diary.

By commencing the day with the reading of my Bible, I find it gives me much valuable information, and inspiration which is past my power to express on paper. The older I become—and I am now past my eighty-seventh year—the more benefit do I derive from this habit of reading from chapters of the Bible each morning, not alone from a spiritual standpoint, but from a commercial one as well, as I find it of great help in my business. It has meant guidance and help in my efforts to make successes in this world.

My appreciation of the value of the Bible to mankind is such that, for some years past, I have been continually giving away great numbers of them. On our big fleet of passenger steamers a Bible has been placed in every room. In addition to this, Bibles in the Chinese language have been placed in all our Chinese passengers' quarters. This makes a total of some four thousand or so in all. Through the American Sunday Union, I have given away many thousands of New Testaments.

My business necessitates traveling around the world, and doing business with many nationalities. In coming in contact with people this way, I could not help but be impressed with the first chapter of Joshua, eighth verse: "This book of the law shall not depart out of thy mouth; but thou shalt meditate therein day and night"; also, the part of the ninth verse: "Be strong and of a good courage; neither be thou dismayed, for the Lord thy God is with thee whithersoever thou goest." In all my travels I have always kept the foregoing in mind.

At this time, when the world appears to be beset with various ailments of one kind or another, I find food for thought in Hebrews, the fourth chapter, twelfth verse, wherein it says: "For the word of God is living, and active, . . . and quick to discern the thoughts and intents of the heart."

As we advance, as we accomplish more and more in the realms of science and its contributing factors, the more do we depend on the living word of God, whether we realize it or not. Those of us who realize it are indeed fortunate; for we are blessed with the truth thereby.

—Pacific Methodist, by Captain Robert Dollar, founder of the Dollar Steamship Lines and a vice-president of the American Bible Society.

The Woman's, Missionary Society of the Baptist Church will meet with Mrs. Seline Moore on Tuesday, Feb. 16, at 2:30 p.m.

Mrs. Monroe has been quite ill. Infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Jones died last night at the Emergency Hospital in Washington.

SWAVELY NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. Cox of Pittsburgh visited their son at the school last Thursday and Friday.

The basketball game on Saturday against Shenandoah Valley Academy resulted in a win for Swavely by 47-23.

Mr. and Mrs. Sigman spent Saturday in Baltimore.

The faculty reading club held its regular meeting last evening and Mr. Carpenter and Mrs. Reeves occupied the evening.

Arrangements are now being made for the Mid-Winter Ball on Friday, Feb. 26.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. Schwartz took a party of the boys to Washington to the matinee of "Cyrano de Bergerac."

On Saturday the basketball team will go to Orange to play the town of Woodberry Forest school.

A much-appreciated feature of the morning assemblies is the weekly talk by the boys on "Current Events."

The card party given at the school on Saturday evening last by the Junior branch of the Woman's Club under the direction of Mrs. Kline was a great success.

The basketball game on Wednesday against Gonzaga resulted in a win for Swavely by 24-22.

CATHARPIN

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Willis of Clarendon spent Sunday at Lone Oak visiting Mrs. Willis' father, Dr. Brower, lately returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Caldwell were Sunday evening callers at Oakwood. Mr. Caldwell expects to enter the Naval Hospital, Washington, soon for treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Holmes Robertson and daughters were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Winter Owens on Sunday.

Mr. F. H. Sanders who has been visiting in Lawrenceville, Va., returned home last week after an extended visit with her daughter, Mrs. Everett Clary of that city. The visit seems to have been beneficial and he now seems to be enjoying normal health after his strenuous experience of last year.

Misses Roberta Payne, Elizabeth Harrover, Virginia and Anne Piercy were guests of the Misses Frances and Anne Robertson of Lawn Vale last Sunday.

Mr. Frank W. Brower and family stopped over the week end at his old home Lone Oak on their way from a visit to Florida, picking up on the way Dr. Brower in Roanoke and bringing him home where he now is for the first time for months.

When the doctor is away the community gets uneasy. People have depended on him for so long that it has become a matter of great concern when he is absent. When a physician has lived and practiced so satisfactorily and efficiently and as long as Dr. Brower has in this neighborhood he is bound to become part and parcel of the community life. Now that he is home again people feel safer and are glad. Mrs. Brower now seems in good health after her very strenuous hospital experience of the past eight months or so and she too will soon be home again where their many friends shall be glad to greet them.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Holmes Robertson were guests of Mrs. Robertson's brother in Arlington on Friday, later going to Mt. Vernon.

The Rev. Mr. Swecker as usual preached an excellent sermon at Sunday last Sunday morning. The day was beautiful and roads good enough for any machine to travel but a small congregation was present. 'Tis true there is considerable sickness thruout the Sudley neighborhood thus preventing attendance by both parents and children; then again there seems to be a fixed notion in the minds of many that during the first three months of the year there is not much doing at church or Sunday school and so settle down for a winter's nap along with his eminence the ground hog and peacefully pass the time until good weather returns. It is also true that when the roads are deep in mud it is impossible to get out regularly to services but this winter has been an exception so far as weather and roads are concerned but the old habit still obtains leaving many seats empty. This is too bad since so much is being lost by reason of what the people are missing by not hearing the sermons as they are now being delivered. They are all worth your every effort to be present.

DUMFRIES

The community league met Monday night. Miss Weatherman announced there would be a George Washington celebration on Saturday, Feb. 20, with tree planting in the afternoon. Each room will have a program and plant a Bi-centennial tree. A pageant will be given on Saturday night. A small admission will be charged.

Miss Beatrice Clarke attended the league, and gave a talk on how well the school work is progressing. She seems very pleased with our schools and their advancement.

The Home Demonstration group met at Mrs. Mamie Sissons Monday afternoon. "A Wholesome Breakfast" was the subject, and a good menu was served. Seven members attended. This group will meet again Feb. 24, at Mrs. E. Keys'.

Mrs. Anna Speake has returned from a visit with Mrs. G. R. Ratcliffe during the illness of her brother, G. R. Ratcliffe.

Miss Hilda Cline has been home from school several days sick. Dr. Phillips attended her.

Mrs. Eastman Keys visited friends in Dumfries Tuesday.

Mrs. Magruder Keys and Mrs. Nellie Bramer called on Mrs. Cline Tuesday.

Mrs. Rowena Brawner is out again after a long spell of sickness.

Mr. and Mrs. Haynes of Franklin Hotel are leaving Dumfries this week. We understand the hotel has exchanged hands again.

MANASSAS WINS COUNTY CHAMPIONSHIP AGAIN

The Prince William county basketball championship tournament, an annual event much awaited by the high schools competing, was held Saturday, Jan. 30. The high schools represented were Nokesville, Haymarket, Occoquan and Manassas.

This event was well attended by the members, parents, friends and teachers of the four competing high schools. This large attendance helped to make it a successful event.

The spectators estimated the well-coached boys of Manassas as being the best team Manassas has had with in the last eight years, and they out-matched the teams from the smaller schools by far.

The first game was played at 10:00 o'clock in the morning between the girls of Manassas and Nokesville, the score being 14-11 in favor of Manassas. This game eliminated the Nokesville girls, leaving Haymarket and Manassas for the final fight.

Light-hearted, gay, they go about the business of snaring men's hearts for the fun of it. And business is good—until one of them falls in love for keeps! It's rich in romance. Lavish with laughter.

Another installment of things hidden from me, but known for ages by all my good neighbors:

The depression has not tightened my belt . . . I still hold out for a 52 inch girdle, P. C. Wigglesworth . . . It was 11:30 p.m., someone knocked at my door . . . A party of young folks from Washington . . . We took a ride . . . One of the dear young things sealed 213, avoidupois . . . We rumbled seated it . . . I weigh 206: L. E. Strother . . . And they still have side shows at a circus—TEE, HEE!

A jug of spring water and I am ready for the great out-of-doors, Chas. Wittner . . . And some folks tickle their palate with the dregs of monkey juice drained from a jug . . . John Riley killed a cow: Powell Davis and Warren Clarke reserved a south end quarter minus the "T" bone . . . Tom Sheppard got the minus "T" bone which was plus . . .

At this juncture the whole transaction took on a mathematical color . . . Warren says, "Powell, how about me dividing the quarter and you taking the shank end?" Powell readily agreed, stating that soup was his favorite dish . . . Warren remembering about Powell dividing the pig that Dawson and Powell bought, saved the quarter in two . . . Powell picked up the down end . . . Warren picked up the top end—a heavy socket bone protruding at the bargain and then at Powell, his voice trembling, "Poo—Powell, wh—Why Wha—What is Wr—Wrong?" Powell says, "Warren, you have a fine soup bone . . . Tom Sheppard laughed and dined on tender "T" bone . . .

Howard White (colored gentleman of Twin City) tells me about a football game he attended in Pennsylvania . . . Game played between two colored colleges . . . A Pennsylvania 11 and a South Carolina 11 . . . The lightest black boy of the 22 weighed 'zackly 220 pounds . . . The first hour was nip and tuck . . . Huddle—scuff—and a long ways from being odorless . . . A battle royal . . . A half back tar baby from South Carolina dived in—made a half hug grab and bounded to his feet—like greased lightning running down a knitting needle, he negotiated the goal line and in a thunderous voice roared "TECH DOWN! TECH DO'N!" At this juncture some of the ebony boys of Pennsylvania arrived on the scene sweating, jabbering and panting—one blurted out, "Nigger, dat a'nt no teach do'n—Dats our qua-ter-backs head!"

And sure enough, Pennsylvania's quarter-back's head had been mistaken for the foot-ball, pulled entirely off and taken across the field for a touchdown . . . The South Carolina boys paid the expense of burial for the quarter-back . . . The game was called a draw . . .

I am using a concoction of peanut oil and poke-berry juice on my dome. Sent in by Bodie Claggett . . . No indeed, Heh! Heh! friend Bodie isn't bald—he is simply nude . . . That front tooth? why, my wife, recognizes me by that appendage: Siloquizes Fred Pegelow . . .

A milky hot come from Edwin S. Bubbs: I never have a surplus . . . If I need a pint more of milk I feed heavy . . . In case I am about to run over I cut down on the feed . . .

E. W. Thompson take notice and be governed accordingly . . . To make an impression on my constituents I voted for a cut in my pay, Geo. Herring . . . To please my constituents I voted against a cut in my pay, Ed. Herr Allen . . .

I wonder if there is such a great difference existing in the two legislative districts? Hon. Allen says that his people want him to live like a gentleman while in Richmond? . . . A ten percent cut would probably force Ed. to live like a lady (?) Can the Hon. Herring stand a ten percent cut and still appear in the legislative halls as a gentleman? . . . Al. Smith is willing . . . So was Barkis . . . Al. says, "Boys, I am mighty anxious to be drafted . . . As leader of democracy I am not for anyone but Al . . . For the love of Mike, Al, don't crack your party wide open in this year of our Lord 1932 . . . You had your chance and got the worse electoral spanking that any candidate ever received since the days of Horace Greely . . . You got seven per cent less of the popular vote that William Jennings Bryan piled up in 1896 . . . In spite of you and Bro. Raskob, democracy is in the running . . . Lay personal ambitions aside and work with an eye singular for the good of the party . . . Our favorite son, Byrd, is the only man mentioned so far that can carry Virginia . . .

When Rachel wanted to prove a questionable matter—
She gave Bilhah unto Jacob;
When Alfred E. Smith wanted to be a presidential squatter—
He gave democracy unto Raskob;
Bilhah with Jacob
Performed her trick,
But democracy with Raskob
Turned deathly sick . . .

AT NOKESVILLE

"FLYING HIGH," TUNEFUL
TALKIE COMEDY AT 'DIXIE

"Flying High," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's adaptation of the George White musical comedy success, will open Monday, Feb. 15, at the Dixie Theatre. Bert Lahr, America's most imitated comedian and star of the original Broadway hit, heads the cast of the talkie version, which also features the ace comedienne, Charlotte Greenwood, last seen with Eddie Cantor in "Palmy Days," and Pat O'Brien, who scored as the reporter-hero of "The Front Page."

Prominent supporting parts are filled by Kathryn Crawford, Charles Winninger, Hedda Hopper, Guy Kibbee and Herbert Braggioni. The picture was directed by Charles F. Riesner who filmed the first musical talkie, "The Broadway Melody," and has since achieved distinction as a comedy director for the Marie Dressler-Polly Moran laugh success, "Politics," "Reducing" and "Caught Short."

The story, which concerns the hilarious adventures of Rusty, madcap airplane inventor (played by Lahr) and his futile attempts to escape the clutches of Pansy, an amorous waitress (Miss Greenwood), is filmed to the brim with humorous episodes. High spots include a spectacular aviation show which is concerned as much with beautiful chorus girls as with airplanes; the novel "Happy Landings" dance number, and the amusing examination of girl students for entrance into the aviation school.

Further drolleries ensue in the scent in which Pansy advertises for a husband who must be an aviator; the last minute dash of Rusty to his invention, the "aerocopter," by which he saves his pal from being taken to jail, and the frantic chase which results in a fight between Rusty and Pansy high in the air ending with the riotous descent of Pansy in a parachute.

Song hits heard in the picture include "The First Time for Me," written by George DeSylva, Lew Brown and Ray Henderson, who with John McGowan wrote the book and lyrics of the original musical comedy; and also "Dance Until the Dawn" and "The Examination Number," composed by James McHugh and Dorothy Fields who will be remembered for "Go Home and Tell Your Mother" among other hits.

The dance ensembles were conceived by Busby Berkeley who directed the dances for "Whoopee." An additional musical attraction is the appearance in the film of Gus Arnheim and his celebrated jazz orchestra.
