4-H CLUB COUNCIL MET SATURDAY

Reports of 1931 Work—Plans Laid for 1932.

At 10 o'clock Saturday morning, March 5, a group of the 4-H club members, officers and leaders assembled in the Parish Hall, Manassas, to hold the regular Prince William 4-H Council meeting.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Janet Russell, and opened by the singing of a spirited club song and the repeating of the club pledge, led by Hazel Bowman, song leader.

The clubs responded to the roll call by Wilda Bourne, secretary. The reports brought out facts which proved that club work is progressing and we all think it very necessary to the further development of our county.

Miss Sarah Pitts, home demonstration agent, discussed a "Measuring Rod" for 4-H clubs in the county. This plan was laid out by the agent's conference in December at Blacksburg. The plan had to deal with year books, contests, community projects, club notes, junior leaders and other phases that make better clubs.

After a discussion of the Measuring Rod it was adopted as the county plan of work for 1932 and reads as follows:

1. Have a leader and junior leader for each club.
2. Each club have a written plan of work for the year.
3. Have 12 meetings per year.
4. A 4-H club year book containing the programs in detail for each meeting, made at first of year.
5. Have each club give demonstrations on projects conducted.
6. Each club conduct contests outlined in county program and have representatives in those county contests to which they are eligible.
7. Participate in county club contest day, if held, and county achievement day in the fall.
8. Each club conduct a community project.
9. Have news notes from clubs in county paper at least once a month.
10. Have active officers and committees.

The morning session then closed for the noon hour. A picnic lunch was served the first half hour and the rest of the hour was spent in playing games, led by Hazel Bowman.

Everyone enjoyed themselves and after some fun were ready to settle down at 1 o'clock for the afternoon session.

Miss Virginia Speiden, director of music in the schools of Manassas, gave us some points and facts about songs and song leaders. She then taught us the song entitled "The Four Leaf Clover." I am sure we all learned something that we didn't know before about song leadership.

After we learned to sing, Professor R. C. Haydon, superintendent of schools, gave a talk to club secretaries. He stated that the person serving as secretary should be neat in appearance and should be reliable. They should have a good character, have personality, be thorough, be prompt and have a fair knowledge of the organization, its laws, attend to the correspondence, keep records, make reports and serve as a source of reference. He gave us a chance to ask questions on the subject. This cleared our minds as to the duties and responsibilities of secretaries.

Since we all have to make reports some time or rather we learned from Mr. Lamb, editor of The Manassas Journal, that the most important points in a newspaper report are the date, who, where and why, that names must be correct and we must be accurate. I think we will send in better reports.

We appreciated these talks and the interests these people show in club work.

The council discussed a county contest day for summer. Plans were discussed and committees appointed as follows:

Committee on contest day plans: Wilda Bourne, chairman, Stuart McMichael, Nelson Lynn and Anne Piercey.

Committee on prizes for contest day: Mrs. Eva Garner, Mrs. John Carter and Mrs. W. R. Free.

Achievement day was discussed and further plans will be made later. Achievement day will be held on a separate day from the dairy festival.

September 30 has been set for the dairy festival and the council decided to sell programs and put a float in the parade.

Then came the election of officers.

NEW DATE FOR MINSTREL SHOW

Monday, March 21, is the new date of the minstrel show at Manassas high. Full details will be given in next week's Journal by the director of the play.

WOMAN'S COLLEGE BILL KILLED

Governor's Veto Ends Co-educational Plan.

The Governor has vetoed the bill to establish a woman's college at Fredericksburg. He had opposed the measure from the outset, believing that no unusual expenditure should be undertaken at the present time. The General Assembly had passed a bill making provisions on paper for the organization of the school, leaving appropriation of funds for the next legislature.

In vetoing the bill the Governor said, "I cannot join in an effort to do indirectly what cannot be done directly, to-wit, in effect bind a subsequent assembly to make an appropriation which it otherwise might not make in view of the then existing other demands on the treasury."

MANASSAS HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

A vote of thanks was given at the assembly last week by both students and faculty to the patrons of Manassas high school who have so generously given their time and efforts to serving hot lunches at noon all through the winter months. This serving of lunches has formerly been done by the home economics classes but they are no longer permitted to do this by the new state rules, except for limited times and for special purposes of the department.

A number of the school patrons, however, came generously to the rescue, and have not only done this valuable service of serving healthful, inviting and inexpensive lunches to the students, but have also raised in this way the usual considerable sum given every year by the Patrons League for the upkeep of the library.

The Glee Club sponsored the serving of the lunches for one week for the purpose of raising money to buy new song books for the school. Due to the co-operation of the student body and a few of the patrons their generous contribution of food a little over twenty dollars was realized.

The annual Easter charity ball will be held at the high school gymnasium on Monday evening, April 28.

Committees on arrangements are already enthusiastically at work and a most successful and enjoyable event it anticipated.

The following chairmen of committees have been appointed by Mrs. Edith Saunders, president of the Woman's Club: reception committee, Mrs. Eli Swavelly; music committee, Mrs. Robert Smith; refreshment committee, Mrs. R. S. Hynson, and publicity committee, Mrs. Kline, and publicity committee, Mrs. Stewart Pattie.

After many suggestions, the following were chosen to serve as council officers:

President, Doris Bubb; vice-presidents, Hazel Bowman, Jane Lynn, Dorothy Day; secretary, Geraldine E. Shepherd; reporter, Wilda Bourne; song leader, Mary Currell Pattie, and cheer leader, Stanley Reid.

The short course caused some debate; the vote was a tie and we do not know as yet whether we will have a county or district short course.

Mr. E. C. Eleon, state boys club agent of Blacksburg, was with us for the entire day and gave us much encouragement and help with our meeting. He gave us a "pep" talk at the close of the meeting. We hope he can be with us at our next council meeting.

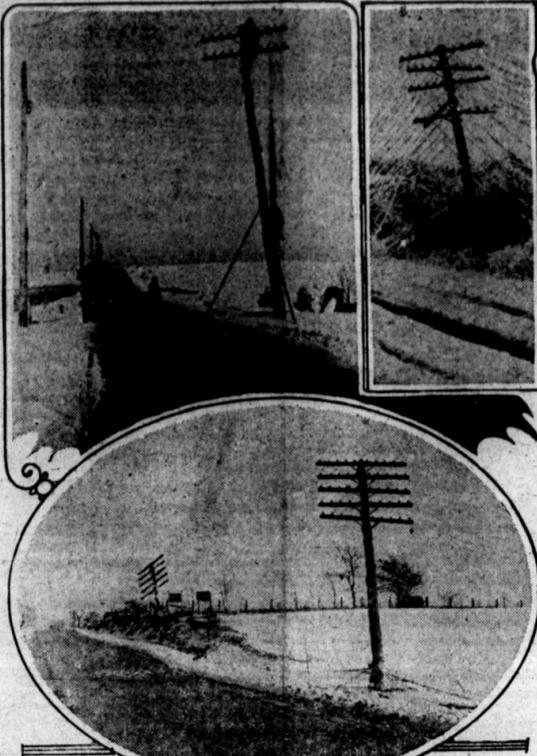

Mr. F. D. Cox, county agent, gave out sample year books and explained their use. We think that our year books are a great help and hope that more of them will be used to a better advantage this year.

The meeting then adjourned until our next regular meeting.

Geraldine E. Shepherd,
Council Reporter.

A CORRECTION

In the account of last week's school play, the name of one of the players who had a rather difficult role was omitted. Florence Raymond played the part of elderly lady with much grace, ease and dignity—oftimes very hard for youngsters to assume.

LADIES TO BE KIWANIS GUESTS

Commander Fred Hynson has prepared an elaborate program for Ladies Night which will be given at the Southern Methodist church tomorrow evening. (Shades of George Hasel). Fred says there are some novelty features for both young and old.

Last meeting would have been flat but for the poet laureate, Ed Conner, who told in perfect rhythm how he got pinched in Maryland for believing what he heard and not what he saw. Ed got such a hand on that that he broke forth into song on the county budget and gave his hearers an earful.

Looks like Nokesville was going to have a new recruit. Good luck, Doc. Glad to have you with us.

BI-CENTENNIAL PROGRAM AT NOKESVILLE

In honor of the Bi-centennial celebration a program will be given by grammar grades and high school pupils of Brentsville district high school at the auditorium March 18, beginning at 8 p.m.

This pageant presents the most outstanding events of Washington's life in the following periods: the boyhood of Washington, as rendered by primary grades, presents the boy Washington at home and with the younger companions at school; Washington, the young man, presented by intermediate grades, shows the critical period when Washington as young man chooses his career; his mother outstandingly influences his life; a colonial garden party, given by the seventh grade pupils, shows in an interesting and picturesque way the customs and scenes of social life at Mt. Vernon. Martha and George Washington entertain many influential friends at a garden party.

The pageant of inauguration presents the scenes in which Washington considers, decides and finally takes the oath of office as First President of the United States. The true colonial costumes used in this pageant should make these scenes more effective and real patriotic and stirring events of 1776 should be brought more vividly to our minds. Such a program will be well worth while and a spirit of real patriotism should urge everyone to be present.

COUNTY RULE PASSES

The House Bill providing for optional forms of county government passed yesterday by vote of 64 to 22.

BYRD ROAD BILL PASSES SENATE

Amended to Require 25 Per Cent of Voters to Petition for Election.

The Byrd Road Bill, which has already passed the House, was approved by the Senate yesterday with only an amendment affecting the number of signers necessary to petition for special election on the question of withdrawing from its provisions. The House Bill required 15 per cent. The Senate, at first, inclined toward no referendum, finally accepted an amendment permitting a special election upon petition of 25 per cent of the qualified voters. The vote in the Senate was overwhelmingly in favor of the proposition which will relieve the farmer of such a large proportion of local taxation. The vote was 33 to 4. The bill now goes to conference.

SUNDAY SCHOOLS HOLD CONFERENCE

Prince William Has Only 30 Per Cent Church Membership.

Prince William Sabbath School workers held an adult conference in the Cannon Branch church Saturday evening, March 5.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mr. John Kline, jr. Several selections of music were rendered and prayer offered by Rev. Blough.

Rev. Minor C. Miller, state secretary, was present and gave an interesting lecture, using as his subject "The Maintenance of Coming Christianity," laying special stress on the importance of co-operation of different denominations. The subjects of leadership training classes, organizing of a county council, increasing attendance, and organizing of districts were discussed and plans were made for some future work.

Do you know that only 46 per cent of the white population in Virginia is enrolled in the membership of the churches and that in Prince William county, where we have a population of over ten thousand people, only three and one-half thousand are church members, and twenty per cent in Sabbath school? The success of a church program in any area is determined to a large extent by the per cent of the total population it is able to enroll in its membership. Other factors considered, it would seem that a church which enrolls 80 per cent of the possible membership is more efficient than the church which only enrolls 40 per cent of its possible membership.

The fact that such a small per cent in our county is in Sabbath school ought to serve as a constant reminder that much yet remains to be done before it can be said that the church has reasonably well attained its goal. As we undertake our task for this year, let us rejoice for our privilege and opportunity.

NOKESVILLE

The first meeting of the Nokesville 4-H Community Club since the election of the new officers will be held at the Brentsville District high school on Wednesday evening, March 16, at 7:30 o'clock. A 100 percent attendance of members is expected and parents are cordially invited. The newly-elected officers are as follows: Wiley Garman, president; Elizabeth Allen, vice-president; Hazel Bowman, secretary-treasurer; and Joyce Garman, reporter. R. G. Connelly, dairy specialist, V. P. I., will discuss principles of livestock breeding with the boys.

Miss Nancy Lee Cowne arrived as an uninvited, but entirely welcomed, guest of Mr. and Mrs. George Cowne at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Zirkle of this town Saturday night at 11 o'clock. This latest addition to the population of Nokesville weighed seven pounds upon her arrival. Although little Miss Nancy Lee hasn't expressed her mind as yet, it is understood that she intends to remain indefinitely with her parents, who expect to locate soon near Catlett, former home of the young father. The many friends of the family in this section extend their hearty congratulations and best wishes.

The Brentsville gym was the scene of some fast action last Friday night. For an appetizer the local girls selected two outfits from their own ranks who proceeded to battle each other with a vim. We don't know which team won, but suffice it to say, Brentsville was victorious.

The boys then broke up their losing streak in snappy fashion. Their game with the Lee-Jackson high boys from Falls Church was a hard-fought game every step of the way. The score was practically even all the time until the last couple minutes, when the local tossers netted a couple goals in quick succession, thus enabling them to take the decision, 17-12.

Vernon Wood, who recently broke into the first basketball ranks, was the big shot of the evening. This lad selfishly decided to keep the ball away from the visitors and succeeded in doing it a large part of the time. Not satisfied with that, he also looped in several beautiful goals. Herman Swank also played a whale of a defensive game, embarrassing the Falls Church boys so much as to prevent them from scoring several times.

As a chaser, the local alumni team and the alumni team of the visiting school clashed in a right lively game for old-timers. The invaders held the edge throughout the game. However the margin was small until a tall lad called "Ring" was injected into the game by the Lee-Jackson combination. This boy promptly threw several passes down through the basket for counters. The board read 21-11 at the conclusion.

Case contributed much to the victory of the visitors. Harry Miller and "Stew" McMichael were the local "wonder-boys."

Unfortunately, old King Winter overheard several people thinking out loud that spring was here. He immediately swelled up with indignation and proceeded to blow (and how!) snow, sleet, and rain all over the place, spreading consternation and red noses throughout the land. So thoroughly did he work that almost all telephone communication in this and other communities are severed. Our town has been without lights for several days and the water systems were greatly affected. This was one of the severest storms ever seen in these parts. Timber in general suffered. Our good friend, Dawson Bailey, reports that it looks as if someone had been clearing new ground up in the Kettle Run section.

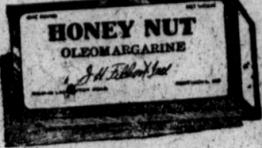

And say! What about those early peas we had planted? (Or had you?)

TEN LITTLE DUTIES
 Ten little duties! Does no good to whine;
 Skip about and do one; then there are nine.
 Nine little duties; it never pays to wait;
 Do one quick, and presto; there are eight.
 Eight little duties; might have been eleven;
 One done in no time; now they're just seven.
 Seven little duties; ain't such a fix;
 Do one more, and bless me! they're only six.
 Six little duties, sure as I'm alive!
 Never mind, one's over; now there are only five.
 Five little duties knocking at our door;
 Lead off one to Doneland; that leaves only four.
 Four little duties, plain as plain can be;
 Can't be shirked—one's over—leaving only three.
 Three little duties; like a soldier true;
 Meet them and vanquish one; then they'll be but two.
 Two little duties between you and fun;
 In just a minute longer there'll be only one.
 One little duty; now what will you do?
 Do it! Why, surely, now you are through!

ROBERT MILTON
CREATES IN "DEVOTION"
PART OF OL' LONDON

One of the great desires of Robert Milton's heart is gratified by bringing to the screen a picture depicting the quiet loveliness, historic beauty and enchanting tranquility of London's Temple district.

The picture is RKO Path's "Devotion," and Milton, who in it directs beautiful and talented Ann Harding, plunged into the atmosphere of the film with real energy.

Only a stone's throw from the noisy Courts of Law and the crowded thoroughfares of one of the city's busiest sections, the Temple itself is an oasis of quiet in a desert of sound, according to the film director who once occupied a flat in its pleasant sanctuary.

This enchanting locale, which dates back to the Fifteenth Century of English history, has been reproduced for "Devotion." The story was adapted from Pamela Wynne's novel, "A Little Flat in the Temple." Leslie Howard plays a young barrister into whose menage in the historic Temple Miss Harding introduces herself in the guise of governess for his son.

A notable cast has been assembled for the picture, which will be Miss Harding's next release. Among those playing important parts are Robert Williams, Dudley Digges, Allison Skipworth, Louise Closser Hale, O. P. Heggie, Doris Lloyd, Tempe Pigott, Olive Tell, Ruth Weston and Joan Carr.

"Devotion" will play at the Dixie Theatre on March 18.

SIX CYLINDERS LEAD IN POPULARITY

Chevrolet Sales Maintain Leadership.

Complete registration figures for the full year of 1931, recently announced, reveal that for the first time in the history of the automobile, a six cylinder car led the industry in popular favor.

During the year Chevrolet titled 583,387 six cylinder cars compared with 528,539 titled by the runner-up, a lower priced four cylinder make. Of the total of 1,908,016 passenger cars registered in the domestic market, Chevrolet obtained more than thirty per cent, the largest proportion of available business ever enjoyed by this largest producing division of General Motors.

Complete returns reveal that in 1931 Chevrolet obtained within five per cent of the same volume of business as in 1930, while the second leading make slumped fifty per cent and the industry as a whole 27 per cent from the preceding year.

During 1927 Chevrolet also led the industry in total volume of sales, although in that year a lull existed in the low-priced car market. But in 1931, in the highly competitive conditions existing throughout the industry, the company forged ahead early in the year and maintained its leadership by a margin which widened month by month.

In December, 1931, Chevrolet titled 27,929 passenger cars, nearly twice as many as the second leading make, and the second highest December in the history of the company.

BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

If parents will have their children memorize the daily Bible selections, it will prove a priceless heritage to them in after years.

LAW OF LOVE:—Love worketh no ill to his neighbor; therefore love is the fulfilling of the law.—Romans 13: 10.

EPPA HUNTON

In the death of Eppa Hunton, president of the R. F. & P. Railroad and son of Prince William county, the Commonwealth of Virginia loses a distinguished citizen of ability.

AS WINTER PASSES

With all creation torn to pieces on Sunday evening by the heavy snow accompanied by a fifty-mile wind, it was an agreeable surprise to see how quickly our public utilities reacted.

Lights were available along the main thoroughfares on Monday night and part of the telephone system restored almost as quickly, thanks to Mr. Vetter.

As we go to press, work is being expedited by all the large companies and by the first of next week service in the outlying districts will be normal.

Old Man Winter may be on his last legs but his kick is keen just the same. The storm did more good than harm to most of the fruit, although some damage is reported.

At any rate, the young folks eagerly turned out with sleds and skates and are having a royal time.

THE FATEFUL FOURTH

The fourth of March brought its usual gales and sleet. This particular fourth marks the end of three years of the most unprecedented depression and business failure that America has ever known.

The great mass of the people always have and always will prosper far more under Democratic administration than under Republican rule.

STAY CLOSE HOME

Out of work? Then don't waste time and any money you may have running up and down the country in search of a job.

A traveling salesman dropped into town a few days ago without a cent of money. He asked for a night's lodging. And here was his story: "A few months ago when I lost my job I had twelve hundred dollars. I began looking for another job. I went here and there. Well, you may not believe it, but I have been to the Pacific coast and back—and no work. Now my money is all gone."

To our door last night came a man in overalls. "I'd like to get a bite to eat, if you please," he said. While the madam was hunting something for him, I asked him a few questions. And here was his story: "I am from Winchester, Ky. Lost my job. Went through the Harlan coal fields, on to West Virginia fields, and back down through this coalfield. I haven't found a lick of work. Before I left home I had nineteen dollars. Wish now I'd stayed home with the nineteen dollars."

Nowadays every community is trying to furnish employment to its own jobless. For that reason it is difficult, if not impossible, for a wandering unemployed to find work. The most he can do is beg food and lodging. He at least lives. But if before leaving home he has any money at all, he would do well to bank or hoard the money and strike out penniless in search of work.

AN ENCOURAGING SIGN

One encouraging sign in the midst of hard times is noted by the Magazine of Wall Street in its current issue, when it points out that during January more new business enterprises were begun in New York state than in any other single month in the past two years.

This indicates that an increasing number of people are gaining confidence that the worst is over and that the long upward pull is beginning. More important, perhaps, as the magazine points out, it also indicates that an increasing number of jobless people are finding it possible to adapt themselves to changed conditions and are setting out to make a living on their own hook.

How far away prosperity may be is something no one can say, but this little report from New York is one of the most encouraging straws that recent months have provided.—Exchange.

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING POWER

Did you ever stop to think that a newspaper as an advertising medium possesses many outstanding advantages?

Newspaper advertising reaches nearly everyone; almost everyone reads their local newspaper. It is the only publication immediately associated with the life of a community.

A newspaper contains something that everyone in the family wants to know about. It is the greatest factor in the country in molding public opinion.

The newspaper is the most eagerly sought piece of literature going into the home. It has more intimacy than any other factor in one's daily contact.

Newspaper advertising produces immediate action; speed distinguishes a newspaper's birth, life and function.

Newspaper advertising tells us where to buy; it never lets a prospect get caught. It insures consumer's goodwill; long sales efforts are not required to sell the consumer on a product advertised in a newspaper.

Newspaper advertising is timely and permits the advertiser to be started quickly and can be stopped at a moment's notice.

Newspaper copy can be written to give a complete sales presentation of the product, or it can be written with the idea of trade name establishment.

A newspaper is the closest point of contact to the actual sale of merchandise; the only thing that will approach it is a counter display or a window display.

People of the United States pay $1,000,000 a day to get their newspapers.

The only reading done by millions of people is confined to newspapers.

The committee to solicit entries in the contest, reported five entries. This number was not thought sufficiently large to warrant. Members present at the club entered until the list totaled fifteen. Those who entered are as follows: Miss Eugenia Buckley, Mrs. R. R. Buckley, Mrs. Wick Buckley, Mrs. J. W. Godfrey, Mrs. Geo. Kincheloe, Mrs. Anthony Hart, Mrs. Lipscomb, Mrs. D. W. Mathers, Mrs. Gilbert Merchant, Mrs. Ruth Fyles, Mrs. Julia Biordan, Mrs. A. E. Robey, Mrs. Milton Johnson, the property of the Baptist church, and the property of the Presbyterian church.
The club decided to score both back and front yards. The contest will extend through nine months, closing about the last of November.
The club voted to do something to raise money to help the town build a dam across the stream that runs through it. The object of this is to create a supply of water for use in case of fire. Mrs. Wick Buckley and Mrs. R. R. Buckley were appointed to meet the town councilmen and discuss the matter with them.
The social will be held some time in November.
Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Roy Kincheloe were named as a market committee. It is their duty to sell the market supplies to the different club members and to see that the produce is taken to the market. The first club market will be March 5. Each member was given a number to put on all articles sent to this market.

Mrs. Merchant gave an interesting talk on the Standards Necessary for Successful Marketing, after which Miss Thomas answered the different questions that arose concerning the club market. Each member was given a list of the rules of the club market, which she was instructed to sign and send to the market with her first articles to be sold.
Miss Thomas asked that the club loan the county market committee one dollar to help pay expenses until the market is well established, after which it will be returned.
Miss Thomas read a list of foods wanted at the first market to be held March 5. Each member selected the articles of food she would be willing to supply for that time.
After the meeting delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.
The cottage prayer meetings that are being held around at the different homes in the community are meeting with splendid success. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Elsie Brinckmann.
Mr. Anthony Hart, postmaster at Clifton, has returned to his duties at the post office, after being sick for several days.
Mr. and Mrs. Roy Kincheloe and Mrs. Alice Woodyard were Washington visitors on Friday.

WHY?

He smoked cigars three times a day, Ten-centers, too, at that; Then gave a nickel to the Church When the deacon passed the hat.

She gave one cent for mission work, Then spent ten cents for gum; Then really bowed her head and prayed: "O Lord, thy kingdom come."

They sat at home and wondered why The Church did not succeed; She chewed her gum and couldn't tell; He, puzzled, smoked his weed. —Richmond Christian Advocate.

SPARE PARTS
When I was young, 'bout eight or nine,
I knew just where to find a store
Of screws or nails or balls of twine,
To fix a kite or dog house door.
When'er I needed wire or string,
The place of which I'd always think,

As likely to yield anything,
Was that drawer by the kitchen sink.
No other place in the house or shed,
Would hold so many useful parts
Of springs and nuts or slug of lead,
Or bolts for mending sleds or carts.
I knew that I could always find

A piece of chain or extra link,
Or wheels from clocks—most any kind,
Is that drawer by the kitchen sink.
So I've resolved that when I build
A house for all my girls and boys,
I'll have a drawer all ready filled
With spare parts just for mending toys.

I'll have that drawer made wide and deep
And stock it full—up to the brink.
Like that one mother used to keep
For me beside the kitchen sink.

FOX STUDIO HAS NOVEL RECORDING

One of the most important and elaborately prepared parts of "Delicious," the new Janet Gaynor-Charles Farrell romance, will not be seen when the picture comes to the Dixie Theatre on March 14 and 15. Eighty persons were involved in it. Not one of these was either an actor or an extra. This scene, while invisible, will be distinctly audible in the form of "The New York Rhapsody," a composition written by George Gershwin especially for "Delicious" and forming an integral part of the plot. This is the first time that a serious musical composition has been written expressly for a motion picture.

The rhapsody was played by a symphony orchestra of eighty pieces. It was recorded on ten microphones. This multi-microphone recording marked an innovation in sound-reproducing methods and was made necessary by the complex melodic pattern of the piece. One microphone could not handle with justice the abrupt shading and harmonies of the symphony, it was found, and so, the new system was developed.

Mr. Gershwin had hoped to conduct the orchestra when his rhapsody was being recorded, but business in New York prevented him. Before he left he played the piece himself over the sound track and had it recorded. By furnishing this guide for the orchestra he was assured that his own tempo would be followed.

Miss Gaynor plays the part of a Scotch immigrant girl who smuggles herself into the country. Thinking her love is not returned by Charles Farrell—as a wealthy young poloist—she leaves the family of Russian musicians who are sheltering her, and wanders off through the New York streets at night. She walks among the East Side crowds. A loiterer accosts her. She passes beneath the rattling "Eli." Each phase is interpreted by the music of the Rhapsody. She tries to enter the subway. The outrushing crowd drives her back. Riveters are working in the skeleton of a skyscraper high above her. She strays into churchyard, to the river's edge, and then, tired of fighting the city, she gives herself up at a police station.

During this sequence, Miss Gaynor plays entirely in pantomime. Occasionally other players speak to her. The roar of the city, church bells and ship whistles are heard, and they assist in the interpretation of New York through the Rhapsody. Its notes express, the skyscrapers reaching toward the stars. It imitates the clatter of the riveters and the sinister lapping of the river. It ends with a chorus of triumph as the girl surrenders.

CATHARPIN

Last week we boasted of fine weather, onions and curly mustard but Sunday and Monday found everything entirely in reverse; rain, snow, cold and wind rampant; cattle and other animals shivering in their stalls; trees and fences scattered in all directions, roads drifted shut and telephone communication suspended; even poor Uncle Sam could not deliver our papers. We thought of Dr. Grenfell in Labrador and compared our shut-inness with his but he had the advantage of us in that he had the fishermen to talk to while we had to be content with ourselves and pray that no one would get sick.

Mr. L. J. Pattie was confined to his room for several days recently with a bilious attack.

Mrs. Etta P. Lynn, who has been suffering from the effects of a bad cold is somewhat better and able to be around again. Her daughter, Mrs. Augusta L. Webb of Washington, has been with her for the week end.

An old-fashioned quilting party was the event of the week at Oakwood when Mrs. E. May Dogan, Mrs. C. C. Lynn, Mrs. W. K. Caldwell, Mrs. K. D. Swecker and Mrs. W. Holmes Robertson joined the hostess around the flowery quilting frames for a day's stitching. Of course it was not expected that silence should obtain, which needless to say it did not, but a very pleasant day was spent together. Dinner at high noon.

Mr. L. L. Lynn has been suffering the results of a mashed toe for the past few days but is better again. Luther has discovered that radio batteries are for radios and to mash toes with.

Due to weather conditions John and Harriet Pattie were unable to attend school for several days recently.

Mr. Shelton and wife, nee Miss Mildred Collins, are at Marble Hill for a short vacation.

As we write men are out on the roads trying to clear a passage through drifts and fallen trees. Cedars seem to have suffered most since their foliage held the wet snow until they became overloaded and could not support the weight. Cars caught out had to spend the night amid snowdrifts. We had been complaining that winter had passed us by this time, but he finally made his appearance with a vengeance and we shall be glad when he is satisfied to quit.

IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving remembrance of my dear mother, Mrs. C. T. Gallahan, who departed this life six months ago today, Oct. 12, 1931.

The days don't seem so happy,
The sun doesn't shine so bright
Since you were called away, dear mother,
Six months ago tonight.

I think of you in silence,
No one can see me weep,
But many silent tears are shed
When others are fast asleep.

How sad today my troubled heart,
How dim my eyes with tears,
For death has robbed me of the one
I thought was mine for years.

Her weary hours, her days of pain,
Her painful nights are past;
Her ever patient worn-out frame
Has found sweet rest at last.

The one I loved so dearly has gone to rest,
Her firm true heart is still,
The hands that always gave me help
Now lies in death and chill.

IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving remembrance of my dear husband, Andrew J. Smith, who departed this life one year ago today, March 11, 1931.

Dear Andrew, how I miss you!
'Tis I that only know,
Peacefully sleeping and at rest,
God called you home for he knew best.

What is home without you, Andrew,
With all that life can bring,
When we lost our husband and father
We lost our dearest friend.

Loving kind in all your ways,
Upright just to the end of your days,
Sincere kind in heart and mind
What a beautiful memory you left behind.

Some may think I have forgotten
When often they see me smile
But little do they know the heartaches
That I suffer all the while.

I think of you in silence, dear Andrew
No one can see me weep
But many a silent tear I shed
While others are asleep.

Sweetly resting, when will I see him?
No, never until I meet him in Heaven.
God took you home, it was his will.
But deep in our hearts we're loving and longing for you still.
Wife and family.
