MRS. POLLARD DIES AT MANSION

Wife of Governor Had Suffered
Many Years.

On Wednesday evening Mrs. John Garland Pollard, wife of the Governor of Virginia, died at the executive mansion after an illness of many years. Funeral services will be held Friday at 11 o'clock, Rev. W. A. R. Goodwin, rector of Bruton church, Williamsburg, officiating.

Mrs. Pollard was the daughter of the late Captain John Phillips, a gallant Confederate officer who distinguished himself at Gettysburg and later founded a school at Portsmouth. At the time of his death he was clerk of the Court of Norfolk county.

Mrs. Pollard is survived by her husband, the Governor of Virginia, and two sons and a daughter. Charles Phillips Pollard is an attorney in Washington. John Garland Pollard, jr., lives in Richmond, and the daughter, Sue, is Mrs. Herbert Lee Boatwright, of Washington.

Mrs. Pollard was a devout churchwoman and interested in many welfare activities and especially in garden and beautification projects.

MEETING OF W. M. S. IN WASHINGTON

The nineteenth annual session of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Baltimore Conference M. E. Church, South, was held in Mt. Vernon Place church, Washington, April 26-29. The entire session was so interesting and inspiring that though the house was pretty well filled at most meetings, especially the night meetings, there was very little noise or disturbance at any time.

All great moral and religious questions were discussed. This great body of Christian women, a number of ministers and other friends went on record as standing for Prohibition and world peace.

Several returned missionaries were there and gave interesting talks. Miss Sallie Lewis Browne told of the work in Poland. Rev. Henry T. Wheeler and wife each gave very interesting talks on the work in Africa. Dr. Fletcher Brockman, who was in China thirty years, gave a great deal of information about the work being done there and also in Japan. Then he told about the trouble between these two nations. These talks all brought very plainly to us the great need of more money and missionaries to help save the people and this is the surest and quickest way to bring peace to the world. We also had a very interesting address on Christian Citizenship by Honorable Janette Rankin.

The last day of the meeting the delegates and visitors were given a delightful drive out to Gaithersburg, Md., the Methodist Home for the Aged, where we had tea. This is a beautiful home and everyone seemed so happy. It seemed to us a delightful place in which to spend one's last days and await the summons to a better Home.

ATTENDING MUSIC CONVENTION

Miss Virginia N. Speiden returned Sunday from Richmond where she attended the joint convention of the Virginia Federation of Music Clubs and Virginia Music Teachers State Association and the annual State Choral Festival. While there she was the guest of her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Payne.

ATTENTION, U. D. C.

Virginia is striving to promote the term War Between the States and to annul Civil War. On the true daughters of the Confederacy this rests.

Won't you appoint a committee to take this up with all local schools, newspapers and public speakers? Have the committee from your chapter report to me all work done not later than Sept. 15, 1932.

I beg of you not to let Virginia fall to the rear with this work. I know you can and that you will send a good report.

Faithfully yours,
ESTELLE C. DICKERSON,
Chairman.

PROF. LEINBACH TALKS ON "TIME"

Kiwanis Club Hears Interesting
Address.

The feature of the evening last week at the Kiwanis meeting was a talk by Professor Leinbach, of Swavely School, who amazed his listeners by the comprehensive way in which he dealt with eons of time and groups of animate and inanimate objects in all time past.

It was really very interesting (especially to Odie Waters, according to Alibi Jim).

Tomorrow evening, District Governor Converse will visit the club.

The music contest is flourishing, with Raymond Ratcliffe and Winfield Athey on the job.

MOTHER'S DAY SERVICES ICES AT DUMFRIES

The public is most cordially invited to take part in the services.

THE COST OF GOVERNMENT

By Hon. Harry Davis, Mayor of Manassas

(An address delivered before the Woman's Club of Manassas April 13, 1932)

Who profited by this but a landlord? Who pays for it but the taxpayer?

Do you know that this very Department is going to spend $45,000,000 this year, in sending out millions upon millions of circulars, books, letters and etc, by franked mail, the great majority of which is thrown into the waste basket?

Have you any idea of the cost of preparing these millions of publications?

Can you visualize the tax-exempt army of 29,000 employees in this one department alone, living on the taxes you pay? And this gigantic waste in this department is rapidly being duplicated in the other bureaus and departments.

In the Postal Department, there is a deficit of $156,000,000. Does anyone believe for a minute that this deficit need be this huge amount if government bureaus, commissions, congressmen and others were required to eliminate the tons and tons of useless mail sent free? Are you willing to pay higher postage rates in the face of this waste?

The talkative Asst. Secretary of Commerce, who beguiles the public over the radio with tales of the usefulness of government publications and other "bed-time stories," spends approximately $3,000 a week to do this and to send out these printed statements of his radio talks by franked mail.

Do you think they are worth it? $500,000,000 of the people's tax money was used to help put the farmer where he is today.

By trying to stabilize the price of wheat, the result being that the law of supply and demand kept on operating as naturally expected, and the price of wheat went down below the figure it would have normally reached, and without this huge waste of money. Who profited by this? Certainly not the farmer.

It is said that a Congressman is allowed traveling expenses, in addition to a regular fat salary, to and from his home state while in attendance to the business of Government. As an illustration, the traveling expenses from and to a state on the Pacific coast, which include railway fare, pullman car and dining car service, actually cost $272.98 while the Federal Treasurer hands out a check for $1,347.20 as mileage allowance to the Congressman from that state. This is an excess allowance of $1,074.22 over and above the actual cost, which, if true, the Congressman can stick down in his trouser's pocket as profit, which would be exempt from any tax that you and I would have to pay. This is equivalent to being paid a profit to travel at the taxpayer's expense.

The World War has been made a handy goat to saddle for the joy-ride of public extravagance which has induced our present headache.

While the most widespread and the most conspicuous expression of public sentiment at this particular time, is insistence upon reduction of taxes in all other forms of government, the Federal Government is scouting around, seeking ways and means of increasing taxes, even in excess of those resorted to in times of war.

The increased expenditures of the Federal Government for the year of 1931 was over one billion three hundred million, or an increase of 60 per cent, and this is part of the huge total that Congress now seeks to raise by higher taxes and nuisance taxes on everything from mountains to mouse-traps.

Normal national spending for peacetime routine has increased to three billion three hundred million dollars. The per capita cost of government has reached the sum of $105.20 for every mother's son and daughter of this country and the devastating increase is still going on and will continue until voters organize and express in terms of millions of voters, their demand for reduced governmental expenditures.

President Coolidge preached economy, during his administration, the Department of Commerce spent $17,200,000, in 1928, the first year of the present administration, this department spent $34,300,000 and now this same department is asking for $45,000,000, a handsome increase.

Among other blessings being passed out to an unsuspecting public, is to the farmer. He is getting his and at his own expense. He is told how to raise better crops, how to paint his barn, how high to build the kitchen sink, how to keep his family budget, what colors to dress his blond children in and what hats would be most becoming to his brunettes.

All of these and other equally vital truths are told the farmer and his wife, at public expense and they are accepted by them as being FREE because the government pays for it. These are but a few of the many activities of which OUR government is using the taxpayer's money—under the guise of aiding industry and agriculture.

There are members of Congress, State Legislators and local Representatives seriously working for the elimination of useless extravagant governmental expenditures, but they are in a small minority. They need reinforcements which only the voters can supply.

The Federal Treasury, after wild extravagance is now somewhat restrained and it must be replenished.

(To be continued next week)

CONFEDERATE REUNION

The Confederate Veterans, Sons of Veterans, members of the Memorial Association, Daughters of the Confederacy and others who are entitled to special reduced railroad fares are advised by Rev. ## MEETING OF EASTERN STAR

Wimodausis Chapter Adopts Year Book.

At the regular meeting of Wimodausis Chapter 106, O. E. S., a neatly planned year book was adopted for use in the chapter. As a fitting opening program, the evening was dedicated to past matrons and patrons. Our talented worthy matron, Sister Daisy Baker addressed these officers with an original poem; a song of welcome was given by the chapter and the past matrons were presented with shoulder sprays of rosebuds while the past patrons received rosebud bouquets. Sister Ida Mae Newman gave the response for the past matrons and Brother J. L. Bushong spoke for the past patrons.

At the close of the business meeting, refreshments were served. The evening will long be remembered by the past officers to whom it was so impressively dedicated.

Our May meeting will feature a "Mother's Day" program.

REMINDER OF GOOD OLD DAYS

Mr. Lamb and Mr. Wharton, Editors Manassas Journal,

Dear Sirs:

Please find renewal for The Journal to March 1933. I am always glad to receive The Journal as it reminds me of my boyhood days in Manassas, when the cows used to graze on the streets. My job was to go after my father's cow in the evening. I did not know whether I would find her on the railroad track or in front of some grocery store eating potatoes or other vegetables set outside for display.

With best regards,

Yours very truly,
M. B. MERCHANT,
Burke, Va.

The association was organized April 28, 1931, and during its year of activity held fourteen meetings.

Among the valuable contributions made by the association has been the elimination of unnecessary expenses in banking methods and institution of equitable fees for services rendered.

An advisory committee was appointed consisting of D. Turner Day, cashier of the Peoples National Bank of Warrenton; A. Dibrell, vice-president and cashier of the Loudoun National Bank, and Harry P. Davis, cashier of the National Bank of Manassas.

The executive committee, composed of the officers of the association, will appoint all standing committees at the next regular meeting which will be held at Marshall on May 24 at 8 p.m.

"DISORDERLY CONDUCT" IS A FINE SAGA OF MODERN POLICE

What "What Price Glory" was to the army, "Disorderly Conduct," new Fox picture, is to our police forces today. It will be at the Dixie Theatre next Monday and Tuesday.

For the first time in this reviewer's recollection, the sinister influences of politics and graft in a police department have been fearlessly and rationally dealt with as the background of an absorbing and adventurous story.
 The result is an intriguing film, full of genuine entertainment with powerful characterizations and plenty of action woven together under John W.

 Considine's direction.

Sally Eilers, as a politician's daughter who is the cause of all the trouble, add another bright star to her scintillating array of screen performances. Spencer Tracy, in the leading role of the motorcycle officer who goes wrong after his unmerited disgrace, scores a personal triumph. His portrayal is flawless and overpoweringly real, and if he does not already have star rank, "Disorderly Conduct" should unquestionably promote him to it. Ralph Bellamy, who scored recently in "Surrender," here gives an equally convincing performance as an honest police captain.

A fine supporting cast, headed by Allan Dinehart, El Brendel, Ralph
 Morgan, Charles Grapewin, Dickie
 Moore and other notables, and the many realistic settings contribute to the picture's excellence. William Anthony McGuire wrote the original story.

CHATTERTON-LUKAS TIE-UP

Paul Lukas appears opposite Ruth Chatterton in the role of the romantic doctor in Paramount's filmization of Philip Barry's play, "Tomorrow and Tomorrow," an emotional and highly dramatic triangle-theme story. It is the Dixie theatre's feature on Friday.

In enacting the role of the doctor who brings happiness in love to a young, courageous and unconventional wife to whom marriage is not enough, Lukas returns to work with the star with whom he rose to talking film fame.

Lukas and Miss Chatterton make a combination admired by fandom, particularly in romantic roles. Both being highly educated, their intellectual and temperamental qualities complement each other and contribute to their effective naturalness in roles involving the love element.

Lukas has appeared as Miss Chatterton's leading man in three of her greatest successes, "Anybody's Woman," "The Right to Love" and "Unfaithful," and now for the fourth time in "Tomorrow and Tomorrow."

An established leading man in talking pictures through his work with Pola Negri, Lukas had become a character player until given these romantic parts with Miss Chatterton.

ARE YOU REALLY INVESTIGATING GAS STOVES?

We figure that the great majority of people who will buy Gas STOVES in Manassas are just like ourselves; KNOW NOTHING ABOUT THEM; knowing NOTHING, you are naturally ready to SWALLOW anything that a salesman may tell you.

As we stated, WE ADMIT THAT WE KNOW NOTHING ABOUT GAS STOVES.

Realizing this situation we made every inquiry we could from sources that we felt were reliable.

WHY?

WE WANTED GAS STOVES FOR OUR OWN FAMILIES and WE WANTED THE BEST and we started out to find out WHAT WAS THE BEST GAS STOVE ON THE MARKET TO-DAY.

When we learned that Washington City used fully FIFTY PER CENT of her Stoves DETROIT JEWEL;

When we learned that out of over 400 makers of GAS STOVES that FOUR makers sold fully 80 per cent of the gas stoves sold;

When we learned that the DETROIT JEWEL sold MORE GAS STOVES THAN ANY OTHER MAKE;

When we learned that the DETROIT JEWEL GAS STOVE MAKERS were the OLDEST and LARGEST makers of GAS STOVES in the United States;

WHEN WE GOT THIS INFORMATION not alone from ONE SOURCE but from several,

We naturally came to the conclusion that the DETROIT JEWEL GAS STOVE WAS WHAT WE WANTED FOR OURSELVES and we are offering the result of our investigation to YOU.

We are SURE that we are offering you the BEST GAS STOVE MADE; we know you can buy them cheaper but YOU are like ourselves; YOU WANT SOMETHING THAT IS RIGHT and we feel we have it in the DETROIT JEWEL GAS STOVE.

We can make you TERMS if CASH is not convenient.

MONTGOMERY AS HAPPY-GO-LUCKY ENGLISH SCAMP

Robert Montgomery, one of the screen's most popular personalities, will be seen next Wednesday and Thursday at the Dixie Theatre in "Lovers Courageous," a romantic comedy written especially for this star by Frederick Lonsdale.

Montgomery's role is that of a happy-go-lucky Englishman whose ambition is to be a playwright and who consequently is always in hot water with his narrow-minded father who wants to make a postmaster of his son. The result is that he runs away from home and after a series of interesting adventures as a sailor, cowboy and hotel porter in various parts of the world, finally ends up as a tobacconist's assistant in British South Africa.

Here he falls in love with the daughter of an admiral who is engaged to an English peer. When the family discovers the affair, the girl is sent post-haste to London, but Montgomery follows. Many obstacles stand in his way of winning the girl but our hero overcomes them in the same adventurous spirit that has always helped him out of difficulties and in the end he not only gets the girl but wins success as a playwright to boot.

BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

It is a great privilege to have their children receive the daily Bible education, it will prove a precious heritage to them in after years.

FELLOWSHIP: — We took sweet counsel together, and walked unto the house of God in company.—Psalm 55: 14.

THE BULL RUN BANKERS ASSOCIATION

About a year ago the bankers of Prince William, Fauquier and Loudoun counties organized themselves into a group, "The Bull Run Bankers Association," and included in its membership sixteen banks of this area. Although bankers were already organized into State and regional units, it was felt that the organization of the financial concerns of these three counties, so closely related in many respects, would advance the efficiency of the member banks and promote the prosperity of these counties.

Just how well this has worked out is revealed by the annual report of the secretary, Mr. G. Raymond Ratcliffe, presented at the meeting held in Leesburg on April 26, wherein it was revealed that for the first time in local banking history, these sixteen banks had really closely cooperated, not only in genial fellowship, but in thoughtful consideration of their mutual problems.

One of the criticisms which European bankers have of American methods is the apparent lack, throughout the country as a whole, of real co-operation among banking institutions. They claim the competition rather than co-operation has been the dominant factor in American banking, and often to great disadvantage.

Another very important contribution made by them has been the institution of a fair system of charging nominal fees for various valuable services rendered which heretofore have been tendered to the public without compensation to the banks. With usual revenues greatly depleted, banks have found it necessary to make these reasonable charges, such as a nominal charge daily for overdue notes.

MUSIC WEEK

This is Music Week. Throughout the State and nation special observances are being held to promote the appreciation of music and it really is a matter of public welfare that forward looking citizens do all in their power to encourage music. It is a matter of record that communities which maintain a high rate of interest in such matters is always blessed with a low percentage of arrests for misdemeanors and crime.

ing in giving more attention to this charming influence, and might gain a great deal.

THIS IS YOUR JOB

Reconstruction — the road away from depression — is a big, vague word that the world — and Congress has been mouthing in a small provincial way. It has become so vital a problem that no one smaller than a statesman should touch it and nothing smaller than a nation, yea, the family of nations, is a proper subject for it.

In its present state of mind the world is ready to believe anything except facts — penance, such as flat money, artificial price-fixing. Oh, yes; people believe in drastic economy for everybody's group or class, except their own, which must retain its special advantages. The wise men of the ages speak a half-forgotten language. But they said about everything that there is to be said about reconstruction and prosperity.

Reconstruction — business recovery — is a problem of the individual before it is one for the community or the nation. Crooked thinking begets crooked ethics and crooked business and crooked speculation and gambling, until we have a nation on the loose. Reconstruction is mishandled and prosperity's return is delayed because the great mass of individuals are not intelligently on their job, making their power felt, not as special groups and classes, but as American citizens.

Mister and Madame Citizen, this is your job. — Staunton News-Leader.

SUCCESS DEPENDS ON ADVERTISING

We are living at a time when it requires energy to do business. A few years ago business came to the store or firm without much digging for it. But times are different now. The successful man is the man who is going after business with all his might and energy, the man who realizes that he cannot sit idly by, that if he becomes interested in his business his business will grow and he will be prosperous.

Another very important contribution made by them has been the institution of a fair system of charging nominal fees for various valuable services rendered which heretofore have been tendered to the public without compensation to the banks. With usual revenues greatly depleted, banks have found it necessary to make these reasonable charges, such as a nominal charge daily for overdue notes.

tising to let them know what he has to sell and what he wants for it. People are expecting through the columns of newspapers from merchants and shopkeepers invitations to visit their stores and stocks. And unless these invitations are received the people are not coming. The greatest asset that any business can have is advertising. The proper kind of advertising, and that means newspaper advertising.

The people read the newspapers for the news of today from their homes, surrounding territory, state, nation, and world and they just as anxiously await the news from the merchants and shopkeepers. People when they are gathered in the evening around the family hearth talk over what they need to buy and where they can find what they want at the price that is satisfactory. This news they get from the newspapers. Mr. Merchant and Mr. Shopkeeper, if you are not sending your message to these people you cannot expect to get their patronage. You can increase your business by continuing newspaper advertising. — Alexandria Gazette.

Editor, Manassas Journal:

As the Manassas Battlefield Park in Prince William county it is of utmost importance that we have a strong active camp in that county. Will some patriotic sons of Confederate Veterans who wish to perpetuate the memory of his father or grandfather wake up to his responsibility in doing homage to that illustrious ancestor by trying to keep alive the sacred principles for which he fought and to do honor to our southern ideals and traditions? Will someone help us organize a camp in Prince William county before the grand reunion which meets in Richmond June 21 to 24? Let me urge you to get this camp started. I will be glad to hear from anyone interested in this important cause.

Editor, Journal.

The mating and nesting season of quail and ground nesting game birds is now fully advanced and sportsmen and interested wild life conservationists can render direct and indirect animals are molested as little as possible by seeing that wild birds and sible during this important period. Dogs should not be permitted to roam at large nor should hunting dogs be taken out in the fields for exercise. Every roaming house cat should be destroyed whenever found away from any dwelling. If a wild turkey is flushed from its nest before incubation by a dog, it seldom returns and eggs are wasted even though they are not eaten by the dog. Dogs and cats are domestic animals which can be controlled and little excuse can be offered when we fail to do so. It is believed by old and observant hunters that dogs and cats destroy more game each year than is taken by the hunters. Whether this is overdrawn or not there is no question of a doubt that these animals inflict great injury on wild life especially during the breeding season of birds and small game animals and their control has not received the consideration it should have. We urge all interested in wild life conservation to make a special effort to keep all dogs and cats out of the forest and fields during the present breeding season. C. L. READING, County Game Warden.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

The Sanitary Grocery Chain Stores, evidently fearing the competition of an established business built up by a local man, by fair dealing, has protested against the use of the name "Sanitary Market," by which my store has been known.

As I feel that my business must rest upon a satisfactory relation with my customers, and not merely upon any name, my store will hereafter be conducted under the name of B. O. Wood, under which name I shall endeavor to meet all competition by the same methods of square dealing low prices on which my business has been built.

Very sincerely yours,

More Powerful than Any Gasoline

The new high-compression motors call for the best motor fuel—Esso. These high-compression motors have reduced clearances. This increases their tendency to knock and means more carbon removal jobs—unless you use Esso. The saving on the cost of one carbon job will more than pay for the extra price on a year's use of Esso.

Esso—consistently used—prevents unexpected repair bills due to gummed-up valves, sulphur or other corrosives. As to performance, give Esso any test for quick starting, acceleration or power against any other fuel and Esso wins.

Whether you think first of your motor or first of your pocketbook, it pays to use Esso.

God bless you, Mother mine,
On this, your day of days,
May He keep you, always pure,
To follow in His ways.
I realize the love you've shown,
Throughout the many years,
I treasure most those happy hours,
Hours mingled with happiness and tears.
In every life some rain must fall,
And you have had your share,
Still, Mother dear, you kept a smile;
No trial was more than you could bear.
No gift that I could ever send,
No words that I could ever say,
Could ever express my love for you,
That I have borne through all the days.
So, Mother dear, come what will
Along Life's treacherous way,
I love you now, just as before,
God bless you, this Mother's Day!

WHAT ARE MOTHERS MADE FOR?
(Written by a Prince William Mother)

A short time ago, as I was preparing lunch for my five school children, I remarked to my eldest son, "Do you ever expect to repay me for all that I am doing for you?" "Why," he answered, in apparent surprise, "what are mothers made for?" i.e., what are we made for, if not to labor for our children,—love them and sacrifice for them, and all that we ask is love from them and that they should walk uprightly thru life, and if that is denied us, our life is just the same. "Bone of my bone, and flesh of my flesh!"

There are many kinds of mothers in the world, but the good ones predominate. Good step mothers also and some of these have more to go thru with than real mothers, in some ways. Patience and charity she must have in abundance.

We are hurt sometimes by our children's selfishness or thoughtlessness, but if we look back over the years we will see that we were supremely thoughtless and selfish when we were young, and did not realize it then, but remembered with regret in later years. And our young people will follow in our steps.

My children have rather an enlarged conception of the strictness of our forefathers. For instance, when one had behaved rather naughtily at the dinner table, another child remarked, "If that was in old times you'd be burned at the stake!"

To the most of us I think our children are always "babied" in our hearts.

We like to look back to the days when they were "toddlers," and we rocked them to sleep in our arms.

And now, when we reach up our hands to fix our tall sons' ties or smooth his hair, the time seems so short since he held up his hands to us.

And Mother's Day! Do you know what I think it really is? When a mother sits "up front" in a high school or college auditorium and sees her boy or girl step forward on the stage to receive his or her diploma, and perhaps to make "in her eyes" a wonderful speech, they are not just anybody's children. They are hers, and on thru life their honors and successes are hers, and when a mother's heart is bursting with pride for her children, then it is Mother's Day in all its glory.

Let us go cheerfully onward,
Always striving to do our best,

And we enter the "Haven of Rest."

CATHARPIN

Several weeks ago this column mentioned the fact that "ere long we shall see the crooked corn rows." Now these very rows are beginning to appear, but Lo! and Behold! they are trying to get them straight.

The Catharpin Good Housekeeping Club held its regular monthly meeting last Thursday at Oakwood with all members present.

The ladies of the Sudley Missionary Society are about to embark upon a new enterprise which they hope will add to the exchequer and serve as a "Get together" for social as well as useful purposes.

Mr. Henry Grill has joined his wife and children for a visit at the home of his father-in-law, Mr. W. L. Sanders, at Mt. Pleasant.

Miss Beva Ellison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Will Ellison of Catharpin, was suddenly taken ill one day last week while attending classes at the Manassas high school.

Mrs. Winter Owens and Mrs. H. F. Lynn were recent guests of Mrs. W. Holmes Robertson at Lawn Vale.

Mrs. Etta P. Lynn, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. A. L. Webb, in Washington for the past two months, returned home this week.

The name "Sudley": Whence did it come? The writer recently overheard a conversation when the question was asked: "Where is Sudley road?" The answer was, "Why Catharpin is on Sudley road." Back came the reply:

was a week-end visitor at the home of Mr. E. N. Pattie.

Mrs. Mary P. Briggs of Clarendon, Miss Claudia Pattie and roommate, and a Mr. Batchelor, all of Washington, were guests at Bell Farm over Sunday.

Mrs. Henry F. Grill and daughter, Barbara, of New York, who are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Sanders, were recent visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Willis, of Lyon Park.

PINES WOODLAND

The folks in Pines Woodland are glad for the lovely weather and nice rains. The warm sunshine makes the old folks feel better after the long winter of aches and pains.

Mrs. J. A. Cooper spent several days last week with her daughter, Mrs. E. R. Shoemaker, in Washington.

Mrs. H. B. Whitmore, Mrs. J. A. Cooper and Miss Hattie Dove called on Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Molair Sunday afternoon.

Mr. G. E. Cooper, called at the home of Mr. C. L. Dove Tuesday evening.

Mr. Arthur Bean called on Mr. E. E. Molair Thursday evening.

Mrs. E. E. Molair and Mrs. H. B. Whitmore spent Tuesday afternoon
