SUBSCRIPTION $1.50 A YEAR

KIWANIS ELECT "O D" PRESIDENT

Albert Roseberry Is New Member.

The Kiwanis got a good introduction to the work of breaking in rookies at a conservation camp in the Rockies when Captain T. H. May, of the new CCC camp at Canova, gave a very interesting address last Friday night.

Captain May was loud in his praise of the city lads who were ready and willing to endure hardships and learn woodcraft in preference to idleness. He stated in concluding that his company was out to get first place in the Third Corps area and cordially invited his audience to come down and visit.

As predicted, O. D. was elected president. OD promised to turn over a new leaf and cut out his jokes for the next year. No strings were placed on oratory and poetry, however.

Other officers going into line were M. M. Ellis, vice-president; L. Ledman, treasurer; and J. E. Bradford, secretary. Directors are Hunton Tiffany, G. R. Ratchiff, R. G. Haydon, C. C. Lynn, A. A. Hooff, F. R. Hynson, W. E. Trusler.

Albert Roseberry was inducted into the club, with Ted Didlake, officiating. Ted gave him some sage advice, such as making a new selection of his seat, etc.

Marshall, of Manassas, the car was located outside of town on the road-side and returned by him to its owner.

BRENTSVILLE FAIR PREMIUM AWARDS

The Brentsville District Fair sponsored by the local chapter of Future Farmers, which was held at the Nokesville High School Friday, October 20, proved to be of considerable interest to a large number of people. A variety of interesting exhibits were on display during the afternoon and night. The exhibit by the Woman's Club was especially attractive and educational.

Free attractions consisted of a soccer game in the afternoon which was staged by the local players, and a very entertaining program presented by the local woman's club. These features received considerable praise from the public.

In the evening the crowd gathered in the high school auditorium where Mrs. C. B. Martin, Miss Martin, Miss Edie Summers and Mrs. Geraldine Shepherd and Mrs. E. C. Spitzer presented a series of monologues and comedies. Mrs. Spitzer sang very sweetly. The 4-H style show put on under the tutelage of Miss Shepherd was very good.

The premium list included many worthwhile things which were awarded the winners in the various classes. In addition several hundred ribbons were placed by the judges. In awarding the premiums the committee in charge of the fair gave preference to the members of the junior group. When first place was won by an adult the premium went to the first junior in the class.

Professor W. R. Crabill, of Herndon, judged the farm and poultry exhibits while Mrs. May Dugan, of Manassas, and Miss Belle Burke, district supervisor of home demonstrators, judged the home economics department.

Those responsible for the fair wish to take this occasion to thank the good people of the locality who so generously gave of their time and produce in order to insure success. We also wish to thank the liberal donors who made possible the premium list and The Manassas Journal for the kind manner in which it cooperated by giving our announcements prominent space in its columns.

The Future Farmers have expressed their desire to have a bigger and better fair during the season of 1934. The list of awards follows:

SWAVELY DEFEATS SEVERN 19-12

Severn scored her first touchdown in the first quarter after a 40-yard runback of a punt by Pickering. Swaveley came back in the next period and tied the score. Bonom carried the leather over on an off-tackle play. In the last three minutes of the first half, Severn scored on a 50-yard pass from Watson to Pickering but they failed to convert. Swaveley immediately retaliated and converted. Hays made the touchdown after a pass from Horton to Bonom had put the ball in scoring position. Bonom converted on a line-buck. He again scored in the middle of the closing period.

In the second half Severn opened a passing attack which the Swaveley boys found hard check. Severn was most successful in running and passing from a kick formation. They repeatedly ripped-off good gains from this position.

This is the third consecutive victory for the Blue and White lads. Roosevelt was routed 20-0 and Randolph-Macon Academy bowed 19-0.

ASSOCIATES GIVE J. H. REX- RODE SURPRISE PARTY

Had one been traveling on Fairview avenue near the eastern corporate limits on Tuesday night, October 17, it would have seemed that an early Halloween celebration was in progress.

Cars driven without lights, men bearded in fantastic caps, ladies in fancy capes and holiday headgear, queer and numerous packages, being carried, whispered consultations:

All of this ushered in the surprise party given by the Postal Clerks of Manassas and their wives in honor of Mr. J. H. Rexrode, the occasion marking his retirement from active government service.

He was presented with a fireside chair—a gift from his co-workers.

From the time that the crowd burst through the door singing, "Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here," until refreshments were served and good-bye said, there was not a dull moment.

A feature of the evening was a program of songs and readings given by Mrs. Katherine Parlor, dressed as "Miss 1812" and Miss Eloise Compton as "Miss 1933."

Out-of-town guests were Misses Irene and Clara Rexrode, Mr. Arthur Bellfield, Mr. and Mrs. Scott Miller, Washington, D. C., and Mr. and Mrs. John Harpine of Nokesville, Va.

Messrs. Miller and Harpine have been members of Mr. Rexrode's crew for a number of years.

MANASSAS HI

BOOTERS WIN 3-1

On Friday afternoon, the 6th of Oct., Manassas Hi entertained Haymarket Hi on the local athletic field. The Manassas booters won by a score of 3-1. Most of the time the game was comparatively slow, but Bill Lloyd's substitutions came through in fine style, especially Irving "George" Best, who kicked two consecutive goals. On his last goal he took the pass from R. Bowers, fast left wing.

WAR RELIC CAUSES DEATH

A. L. Watson Dies From Accidental Pistol Shot.

A relic of the days of the War between the States was the cause of the sad death of A. L. Watson, who was buried at Dumfries on Sunday, October 22.

The accident, which occurred on Friday, was occasioned by the discharge of an old pistol which apparently had been loaded during the days of the Confederacy, the powder retaining its vitality through all the intervening years.

Mr. Watson is survived by his wife and two children, Fewell and Hazel, and one grandson. The funeral was held at Dumfries Sunday.

MRS. BUCKLEY DIES AT FREDERICKSBURG

Was Member of Distinguished Colonial Family.

Mabelle Eugenia Buckley died suddenly of a heart attack at her home in Fredericksburg, Va., on Wednesday morning, October 18.

Simple services and prayers were held at her Charles street home on Friday morning, October 20, conducted by the Reverend Mr. Ambler, rector of Trinity Episcopal Church, with the benediction pronounced by the Reverend Mr. Lancaster, of the Presbyterian Church, and funeral services were held by the rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, at Haymarket, Va., where she was buried in the family lot in the church yard.

Mrs. Buckley was the widow of the late Wm. Alexander Buckley of "Bushy Park," near Warrenton, Va., who was a descendant of Baron de Bulkeley, one of the noted barons who persuaded King John to sign the Magna Charta in 1216, and one of her ancestors was the famous Commodore Barry, known as "the father of the Navy."

She is survived by three daughters, Mrs. J. Ross Eakin, of Smoky Mountain Park, Tenn.; Mrs. John P. Saffell, of Washington, D. C.; Miss Sara Virginia Buckley, of Washington, and four sons, Lt. George S. Buckley, Lt. Wm. Mac Buckley, Captain Norman A. Buckley, and Mr. Harry R. Buckley, all of Virginia, and by one niece, Miss Jacqueline Buckley Saffell, of Washington.

Mrs. Buckley's undaunted courage and steadfast faith in mankind has enshrined her memory in the hearts of all who knew her.

TEACHERS MEET AT BALLSTON

District H Hears State Superintendent Hall.

The District H teachers in their annual conference on Friday and Saturday of last week met in two groups, the grammar grades meeting at Cherrysdale and the high school workers at Washington and Lee.

The general session in the morning was opened by selections by the W. L. cadet band, followed by invocation by Rev. J. H. Pearson of Clarendon.

The address of welcome was given by Prof. Fletcher Kemp who heartily invited all the visiting teachers to inspect and share in all the recreational and educational facilities which Arlington County, though small in size, affords to a high degree of efficiency.

Prof. A. D. Neale, president of the Loudoun County Association, humorously made light of his ability as an orator and put everyone in a thoroughly good humor in his brief speech of response.

The girls club, under the direction of Miss Booker, sang several selections.

Then followed the event of the day which was an address by Dr. Sydney Hall, State Superintendent of Public Instruction. Mr. Hall made a most inspiring and arousing talk of school conditions now existing in the state. He explained how through the failure of the legislature to appropriate sufficient funds, several counties were forced to either cut teachers' salaries or shorten the term. He stated that he deprecated the action of some school boards in reducing teachers' salaries instead of shortening the terms especially where such action brought the teachers' salaries below a decent living wage. Dr. Hall explained the difficulty under which the State of Virginia had been laboring for the past three years in an effort to strike a golden medium between teaching standards, salary levels and length of school term. He stressed the fact that unless the next legislature takes prompt action according to advice which was coming in almost daily, that the situation will be decidedly chaotic in the near future. In concluding his talk he urged a campaign on the part of the 17000 teachers who compose the teaching staff of Virginia to the end that everyone should know exactly what the educational system of the state is facing.

"I am confident," said Dr. Hall, "that when our people know the facts of our necessity that the Virginia school system will not collapse."

The afternoon session was given over to a series of demonstration lessons at the two schools presided over by critics in the persons of members of the Normal School faculty from Washington.

The committee which has in hand press relations and general public information met in the afternoon with Prof. Wendell Eaves presiding.

A delightful luncheon was served to the school principals by the domestic science department of Washington and Lee. Dr. Hubbard of the National Educational Association addressed the body after lunch.

Group discussions were continued on Saturday.

B. C. Smith, principal of Warrenton High, was elected chairman for District H for the coming year.

SMALL TOWNS ARE EXEMPTED

Presidential Order Exempts All Towns of Less Than 2500.

Supplementing his statement on the radio Sunday night by a definite executive order, President Roosevelt has exempted towns of less than 2500 population from provisions of the NRA. The statement over the radio, which gave the general public the first direct information of the sweeping order to follow as follows:

"Of course the N. R. A. has nothing whatsoever to do with the price of farm products, nor with public works. It has to do only with industrial organization for economic planning to wipe out unfair practices and to create re-employment. Even in the field of business and industry, N. R. A. does not apply to the rural communities or to towns of under 2500 population, except insofar as those towns contain factories or chain stores which come under a specific code."

In Virginia only one town below rating of a city is not exempted from the N. R. A. under the President's order. This is Franklin, with a population of 2930. Several towns escape by a hair-breadth, Cape Charles being under by only 27. The official 1930 census figures are used.

Nearly towns exempted include Manassas, Culpeper, Leesburg, Warrenton, Herndon, Fairfax, Falls Church, Haymarket, Dumfries, Middleburg, Louisa, Occoquan, Orange, Purcellville, Quantico, Remington, The Plains, Vienna.

Nearly towns not exempted from the N. R. A. include Alexandria, Fredericksburg, Charlottesville and Winchester. In all forty-four cities of Virginia remain under the N. R. A. and about seventy-two incorporated towns under 2500 population step out.

However the President has made it plain that all so desiring may retain the blue eagle, if complying with the requirements, but those employing no more than five employees are exempt and may be released if they have signed but desire to withdraw.

The Executive Order clears up various interpretations even within the N. R. A. organization itself, which had asked many towns, including Manassas, for a report on N. R. A. progress.

wood visitors last week.

Every one in the Catharpin neighborhood who had previously made application, signed the Wheat Allotment contracts which have now been delivered to the Department of Agriculture in Washington. It is expected that checks for same will be delivered at an early date. While the amount received may not be large yet it will help fill that awful vacuum in the old pocketbook which has been disturbing our slumbers for so long. It will at least give us an excuse for hunting the old thing up again to see what it looks like once more.

Mr. W. Holmes Robertson of Lawn Vale Stock Farm recently received a consignment of 100 black Angus calves from a big plantation located on Sapaloe Island in the Atlantic Ocean about 8 miles off shore from Brunswick, Ga. These calves, all pure bred, are now disporting themselves on the broad acres of Lawn Vale getting themselves acclimated to their new surroundings and ready to put on many pounds of 5-32 flesh. Now you may wonder what that "5-32" means? Well it is something like this: you invest your money, feed the stock (care for it until ready for market then sell it for 5c per pound; and if you want a taste of it yourself you can have it by paying the dealer 32c on the block. That's just about it; and do you wonder, then, that we have long since forgotten where we last saw that old, useless piece of leather called a pocketbook?

Mr. W. L. Sanders of Mt. Pleasant marketed some 20 head of fat cattle weighing around 1200 pounds on the Baltimore market for $3.85. Now it's your turn to speak.

The ladies of the Sudley Missionary Society will hold their annual supper, or perhaps we should say, "dinner and supper" on Friday, October 27, beginning at high noon, to which all will be cordially welcomed. The bazaar feature has been eliminated for this year. A cordial welcome to all.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Holmes Robertson entertained a number of Washington friends on Sunday last.

Mrs. Nellie Sanders Clary of Lawrenceville, Va., is now confined in St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Richmond, recovering from a serious operation. She is now doing well and her entire recovery is expected.

Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Thomas of Waynesboro, Pa., were Oakwood guests for several days last week. Mr. Thomas is one of the officials of the gas company in Pennsylvania which built the gas line through this section which supplies Manassas. They were much impressed with things as they found them in Virginia especially the "Valley."

Mrs. W. Holmes Robertson was a Richmond visitor last week calling upon her mother and sister who recently moved to that city.

The Rev. A. B. Sapp, recently appointed to the Sudley charge, preached his first sermon of the new conference year at Sudley to a large congregation from the text "Build My Church."

Belle Farm, the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Pattie, was the scene of great activity on Saturday night last when the many friends of Mrs. Charles H. Munday, nee Miss Audrey Lee McIntosh, assembled to "shower" upon her their blessings and good wishes. Miss Audrey, a native daughter of Catharpin community, was married on October 15 to Mr. Charles H. Munday of Poolsville, Md., and this was the reception she received upon her return home accompanied by her husband. The "shower" was sponsored by Mrs. Mary P. Briggs and Miss Claudia Jefferson Pattie assisted by the members of Audrey's Sunday school class and friends in the neighborhood. The shower was resplendent in beauty; gifts many and varied and notable for the lack of duplication. Nor was this all: At Poolsville, Md., where they were married by the Rev. W. D. King, many gifts were also bestowed upon this young couple; thus they pass along upon life's journey well supplied with gifts both beautiful and useful as well as the respect and best wishes of their friends. It is always a pleasure to thus remember a worthy young girl who has always been faithful to duty wherever duty called.

GREENWICH

A Halloween social will be held at the Greenwich School, Monday, Oct. 30, at 8 p.m. A program by the Junior League and instrumental and vocal music will be given. Box lunches and other refreshments will be on sale. Patrons and friends of the school are cordially invited.

Local Advertisers keep the prices down. Patronize firms who do not fear to advertise in your local newspaper.

BUCKLAND

Mr. and Mrs. James F. Jacobs and daughter, Helen, of Washington visited Mr. and Mrs. J. Welton Graham, on Sunday.

Mr. F. H. Lee had the misfortune to fall and fracture five of his ribs last week, and at this writing is still confined to his home.

Mr. and Mrs. William Murdie and daughter, Winifred, were Washington visitors on Friday.

Mr. Chester Graham, who is employed in Washington, spent the week end at his home here. He was accompanied by Mr. Benton Nalls who visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Nalls, near Greenwich.

Miss Edith Yates and Master Philip Lee spent last week at Orleans visiting.

Mr. Tom Murdie accompanied several of his friends to the Century of Progress at Chicago this week.

We are sorry to report that Mrs. M. C. Calvert's mother died recently at her home in Michigan. Mrs. Calvert was with her at the time of her death, but plans to return here about Nov. 1.

Mr. Lee Finks of Washington, formerly a resident of Buckland, was a recent visitor here.

Miss Ethel Lucas of Massachusetts was the speaker of the evening at the regular services at Harrison Memorial Church on Sunday, Oct. 22.

"WHO KILLED EARL WRIGHT?"

Manassas residents won't have to leave their own streets to see and hear a murder trial, for one is to take place at Manassas Methodist Church, Monday night, October 30, at 7:30 p.m. A young man, Henry Peters, will be "tried" for murder, and the whole setting will deal with the "killing" of a man by his friend, whom, it is shown, was under the influence of liquor at the time he struck the blow which snuffed out a life, left a widow and family of fatherless children.

The "Trial" is being put on in co-operation of the churches and is a means of pointing out a lesson on temperance. Twenty-five prominent citizens will take part in this trial. There will be no admission fee.

The cast follows:
Judge, Rev. C. P. Ryland; Sheriff, Rev. John M. DeChant; Jack Stiles (Bootlegger), Rev. W. M. Compton; Deputy Sheriff, Asa Jenkins; Court Reporter, Rev. Luther F. Miller; Frank Lloyd (Defendant), Henry Peters; Mrs. French (Star Witness), Mrs. Roy Blakemore; Mr. Cook (Coroner), Rev. Jesse Bell; Mrs. Lloyd (Defendant's Mother), Mrs. Mary Sprinkle; Mrs. Wright (Wife of Defendant), Miss Ethel Robinson; Counsel for Defense, H. H. Johnson; Prosecuting Attorney, Rev. O. R. Kesner. Summoned for the jury: Prof. R. C. Haydon, R. M. Jenkins, Frank Brown, Charles Fisher, L. Ledman, Sam Weir, J. L. Bushong, Ben Lloyd, C. H. Wine, W. L. Coverstone, J. J. Murphey, Frank G. Sigman.

NOKESVILLE

The Brentsville District Community Association will meet in the high school on Friday, November 3.

At this time the newly-elected officers for 1934 will be installed.

Mrs. Leachman of Manassas with the aid of her musical proteges will provide the entertainment.

Everybody is cordially invited to attend.

"MIDNIGHT CLUB" GLITTERS AT DIXIE THEATRE

Behind the glitter of London's famous "Midnight Club," Colin Grant's daring band of international jewel thieves carries on its game of hide-and-seek with Scotland Yard. Grant's brains and "tricks" outwit the detectives planted by Inspector Hope to trap the band, and the group gaily pursues its unlawful adventures.

Associated with Grant are Arthur Bradley, the excitable George Rubens, and the lovely Iris Whitney. To foil detectives on watch at the club, Grant plants doubles for himself and his co-workers and safely pulls off one rich haul after another. The workshop and living quarters of the band are connected with the club by secret doors which permit the jewel-thieves to appear and disappear on the brilliant scene at will.

Their carefree career is rudely jolted, however, when Iris Whitney is held up while making a get-away by an American, Nick Mason, who takes her to his apartment, searches her, takes her haul, and sends her back to the band to report.

But Mason is really an American detective, sent on to London to investigate the activities of jewel smugglers, and incidentally to help Inspector Hope stop the robberies. Nick decides to force the "club" to make him a member by looting safes they have marked for their own.

Grant accepts Lady Barrett-Smythe's invitation to dinner, and she shows him her jewels. While at dinner the safe is robbed by Mason, while Iris Whitney looks helplessly on from an open window.

When Mason leaves the house, he is picked up by Iris Whitney and Bradley, taken to the club to await the coming of Grant. They decide, against the wishes of Iris, to take him in as a member and plan a spook on the jewels of the Duchess of Flymouth at a forthcoming ball. Mason, Bradley and Iris are assigned to the job. Mason is shown, at the club, how the gang disposes of the jewels by making clay pottery and sinking the gems in the soft clay before glazing.

The night of the ball, Bradley gets into the house as a footman. At a pre-arranged signal he short circuits the lights; Mason gets the jewels. (See the rest next Wednesday and Thursday).

"UNKNOWN VALLEY" TOPS ALL OF BUCK'S FILMS FOR THRILLS

Buck Jones, the hardest-hitting, hardest-riding star of all, will be back in Manassas next Friday, Nov. 3, with his newest thrill-getting picture, "Unknown Valley," released by Columbia, at the Dixie Theatre.

And, boy, what a thriller this one is! You remember Buck in "Hello, Trouble," and "The California Trail" don't you? Well, "Unknown Valley" is even better than those, if you can imagine that!

This time Buck is on the search for his father, a prospector, and the trail takes him to the Skeleton Mountains which are accessible only by crossing a desert which usually takes its death toll. He finds himself prisoner of a strange group who have cut themselves off from the rest of the world and who resent intrusion because of their unlimited gold supply.

His father is there also. Both are

ALICE DAY WAS ONCE A SENNETT BEAUTY

The pretty and popular Alice Day, who is seen in the leading feminine role opposite Jack Hoxie in his latest the most thrilling Western production, "Gold," featured at the Dixie Theatre tomorrow and Saturday, was introduced to screen fans by that expert judge of feminine pulchritude, charm and talent, Mack Sennett.

Alice, however, was far too capable a little actress to long remain in Sennett comedies, the kindergarten of many of our leading film stars.

She very soon graduated to serious roles and has since become one of the most popular and sought after leading women in films today.

Memorable among Miss Day's innumerable screen successes are "In the Next Room," "Little Johnny Jones," "Hot Curves," in which she supported Benny Rubin, "Viennese Nights," which starred Vivienne Segal, and the Norma Shearer triumph "Let Us Be Gay."

In the present picture, the first of a series of six Majestic Westerns starring Hoxie, Alice is seen as Jack's sweetheart and the daughter of an irresponsible old fellow who falls victim to a vicious ring of criminals who make a practice of killing men for their claims.

ADVERTISE IN THIS NEWSPAPER

NOTICE OF FARM ALLOTMENTS AND OF MAXIMUM ACREAGES OF WHEAT FOR 1934 UNDER CONTRACTS FOR MEMBERS OF THE WHEAT PRODUCTION CONTROL ASSOCIATION OF FAIRFAX AND PRINCE WILLIAM COUNTIES, STATE OF VIRGINIA.

Listed below are statements of the allotments which have been determined for members of the Fairfax and Prince William County Wheat Production Control Association from Coles-Occoquan-Dumfries, Manassas, Brentsville, Haymarket, and Catharpin Communities. These allotments are to hold for the duration of the present wheat contracts, and they are the basis upon which adjustment payments are to be made. They have been determined by the County Allotment Committee after careful consideration of the application statements. Every effort has been made to have these allotments as accurate as possible. The maximum acreage, which may be sown to wheat for the 1934 crop on each farm, under the reduction requirements of the contract, is also listed.

The Prince William County allotment, which has been calculated from records of the United States Department of Agriculture, is 68,361 bushels. This is the total number of bushels allotted to the county under the wheat plan. The total of the individual allotments, including those allotments which could have been assigned to farms which are not participating under the wheat program, must be in line with the county allotment figure.

Of the 68,361 bushels allotted to Prince William County, 48,003 bushels are under contract and allotted below. In listing the information below, the first item gives the number of acres in farm, the second the individual wheat allotment for the farm and the third the maximum acreage of wheat which can be seeded on the farm for the 1934 crop, under the contract.

Signed CHARLES R. McDONALD,

Chairman County Allotment Committee.

AN OPPORTUNITY FOR SERVICE

The warning comes from every side that the Winter of 1933-34 is going to be the hardest yet, from the point of demands upon public and private funds for relief of distress.

While there are more workers back on the payrolls, and projects of public works and private enterprise are beginning to show signs of life, yet there are perhaps as many people who have just reached the end of the rope as there are whose difficulties have been lessened by getting back to work.

Millions have been living on their capital through these past four hard years. Many of these have exhausted their savings and will be forced to look to others for help in keeping warm and getting enough to eat this winter. Other millions have been giving to the relief funds until they, too, are feeling the pinch severely. And all of the sources of help based upon taxation are running dry.

We are confident that the peak of the depression has been passed, that the upturn has really begun. But as President Roosevelt told the gathering at the Catholic Charities Association the other night the hardest pull is still ahead of us.

More than ever it is necessary now for everyone who can to help those who cannot help themselves. Looked at in one way, it should not be a burden but a joyous privilege to be able to feel that one has done something for the benefit of somebody else. There is no satisfaction in life like the satisfaction of unselfish service. And now, if ever, is the time when those satisfactions are available to everybody, everywhere. — Fauquier Democrat.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Everlasting Punishment" is the subject of the lesson-sermon in the First Church of Christ, Scientist, of East Falls Church, Va., on Sunday, October 29.

The golden text is "The Lord knoweth how to deliver the godly out of temptations, and to reserve the unjust unto the day of judgment to be punished" (II Peter 2:9).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "For, behold, the day cometh, that shall burn as an oven; and all the proud, yea, and all that do wickedly, shall be stubble: and the day that cometh shall burn them up, saith the Lord of hosts, that it shall leave them neither root nor branch. But unto you that fear my name shall the Sun of righteousness arise with healing in his wings" (Malachi 4:1, 2).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Divine Science adjusts the balance as Jesus adjusted it. Science removes the penalty only by first removing the sin which incurs the penalty. This is my sense of divine pardon, which I understand to mean God's method of destroying sin" (p. 40).

DR. B. F. IDEN

No just tribute can be written in words, for no words can express the greatness of the man who has passed from among us to eternal peace with his Maker. I merely pay humble tribute to the memory of one who was the friend of so many of us, the adviser of those who sought his help, and the healer of the suffering and afflicted.

Doctor Iden is a man who will be missed from Prince William County probably more than any other citizen. The many years he lived here have made him known to most everyone within miles, and now that he is no longer among us, his absence will be sadly marked.

He is probably known to the greater number of people as a doctor, for his practice was large and his capability and efficiency was renowned. His object was not money. It was to serve his patients. He was praised by rich and poor alike for the tender care and patient doctoring he gave them, and many a night was spent by the bedside of some suffering soul who had only his blessings and prayers with which to thank the ever-charitable doctor. No hour was too late or weather too stormy that a call would go unheeded, for when his patients had need of him he would go.

We do not wonder as to the final home of such men as Doctor Iden. We know that there is a place reserved for him by our Heavenly Father, and that he will be repaid in full for his services to his fellowmen. His charity, his kindness, and his wonderful friendship will merit him the highest rewards of Heaven, while they will be forever stamped on the hearts of us who knew him and whom he left behind.

HATTIE VIRGINIA COLE HAAG

This community was shocked and grieved on Sunday morning, October 8, when news came over the telephone that Hattie Virginia Cole Haag had met her death in an automobile accident near Tyrone, Md., in the 31st year of her life.

She had attended a Sunday school picnic with Belle Haven Sunday school folks in Washington. At about 6:30 p.m. she bade them an affectionate farewell and went to the Great Eastern bus station to start for home and as she was near Tyrone, Md., the auto overturned injuring her fatally. The end came as she was on her way to General Hospital in Baltimore.

She is survived by her husband, Jack Haag, and two children, Delores and Montgomery Haag; her mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Cole of Kopp; 3 sisters and two brothers, Mrs. Dora Gordon of Falmouth, Mrs. Viola Falter of Detroit, Lillian Marsh of Garrisonville, Herbert Cole of Trenton, Mich., Philip Cole of Burke Station besides nieces and nephews and a host of other relatives and friends.

Funeral services were held at Belle Haven on Wednesday at 2 p.m. by Rev. Murray Taylor and she was laid to rest in the cemetery at that place. The pall bearers were Ray Wood, Theodore Ball, Gordon Keys, Orville Hoover, Joe Herich and John Oleyar.

The beautiful floral tributes showed the esteem in which she was held. Flower girls, Virginia Wright, Hattie Miller, Violet Miller, Lettie Wright, Osie Norman, Beatrice Norman, Mildred Oleyar, Mary Lowe, Margaret Wood and Marie Wood, members of the Sunday school.

A full list of the cast will be announced next week in this paper.

Without question, the big sensation of this how will be the "Beaus and Belles of Grandma's Time," an unusual and interesting group, which consists of the business men of the town, and all are dressed in the height of fashion of that time. There will be other mixed choruses throughout the play.

The Junior Woman's Club of Manassas is sponsoring this comedy and the entire proceeds will be used for charity throughout the county. Remember the date and the place: November 3-4 in the Manassas High School auditorium.

CATHOLIC MEMORIAL IN AQUIA CEMETERY

Unveiling Sunday, October 29.

The site of the first Catholic burial ground in Virginia will be memorialized on Sunday, Oct. 29, at 11 o'clock, when an altar will be dedicated by the Most Reverend A. J. Brennan, Bishop of Richmond.

More than three hundred years ago the little cemetery was established on the banks of Aquia creek. At one time the colony established by Giles Brent and his sisters, Mary and Margaret, constituted a thriving community, estimated to number as many as a thousand people. The village of Aquia, now practically lost in the forest growth, was then a busy place. The quarries were furnishing stone for colonial building and ships came and went with valuable cargoes of tobacco and imports from Europe.

The little cemetery is located a few hundred yards east of the Crucifix on the Jefferson Davis highway. The beautiful memorial altar which will be dedicated on October 29 was secured through the effort of Rev. Edward L. Stephens, Diocesan director of the Pontifical Society for the Propagation of the Faith, with assistance of the Priests of the Diocese of Richmond. A very distinguished assembly of clergymen and lay members will gather at the dedication which will also attract a large audience.

VERY ILL

On Tuesday night, Ben C. Corawell, one of the town's most popular business men, was seized with a violent spell of coughing which resulted in a rupture of a blood vessel. He is under the care of a physician although improved as this item goes to press.

173 OF 176 APPLICANTS FOR WHEAT CONTRACTS SIGN CONTRACTS NOW IN D. C.

176 farmers of Prince William County filed applications for wheat acreage reduction contracts and submitted evidence as to their acreage and production for the base period, 1930, 1931 and 1932, with the exception of four who chose the five-year period, 1928 to 1932.

Of this number, 173 signed the contracts, based upon the acreage and production given in the applications—only three refusing to sign.

According to estimates, the average annual production of wheat in Prince William County for the years 1930, 1931 and 1932 was 131, 333 bushels. Of this amount, 93,573 bushels are under contract. With few exceptions, it is thought that the response to the plan of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration has been all that it should be.

In other column of The Journal will be found the notice of farm allotments and of maximum acreages of wheat for 1934 under the contracts for Prince William members of the Wheat Production Control Association of Fairfax and Prince William County. The individual allotments are the number of bushels upon which the growers will receive benefit payments. These allotments are based upon the proportion of wheat of each grower that, according to the general average, will be used for the manufacture of flour and cereals and upon which the tax may be levied.

This allotment for Prince William County is 68,361 bushels. Assuming that all who signed a contract will comply with its terms, payments will be made on 48,003 bushels allotted to the 173 men who signed.

In the cases where growers did not have wheat to harvest in 1933 or were prevented by reasons beyond their control from seeding in the fall of 1932 acreage less than the minimum stated on their contracts that must be seeded this fall—where it has been so stated that the cause for their not doing so was satisfactory, an effort is being made by the Allotment Committee to obtain the full payment for them this fall. If less than the minimum acreage was harvested in 1933 and no claim was made or if it is not approved by the Washington office, the payment will be in proportion.

ADEN

The young people's Sunbeam class, of the United Brethren Church, Aden, will give a Halloween weenie roast party Saturday, October 28, at 7:30 p.m. The party will consist of a program, including monologues, music, a play entitled "There's a Jack for Every Jill," and a costume parade with prizes. After the program there will be a bonfire around which all will gather, even the spooks, to roast their weenies.

There will be an oyster supper at Aden O. F. A. Hall on Nov. 2 for benefit of Aden Council No. 30, O. F. A.

CLAUDETTE SWIMS IN EACH FILM IT SEEMS

It's a far cry from a luxurious Roman bath in milk to swimming au naturel in the Pacific.

Just ask Claudette Colbert, screen star, for she was required to go through both experiences in her two latest pictures.

After completing the exotic characterization of the milk-bathing Roman beauty, Poppaea, in Cecil B. DeMille's spectacle, "The Sign of the Cross," Miss Colbert stepped into the role of the very-modern Julie Kirk, daughter of a Pacific Coast smuggler, in "I Cover the Waterfront," Reliance's romantic thriller for United Arts. Ben Lyon plays opposite her and Ernest Torrence has the role of her father.

In the Edward Small production based on the best-selling book by Max Miller, Miss Colbert plays a waterfront girl who dispenses with a bath-suit when she really wants to enjoy an ocean dip.

When it came time to film the natural scenes, the film company went on location at a secluded beach behind an rocky ledge along the southern California coast.

Obviously, Director James Cruze and his staff, the camera crew and other members of the company kept a respectful distance as Miss Colbert and her maid retreated behind the rocks to prepare for the scene.

MANASSAS WINS FIRST PLACE

Carruthers Governor of Capital District for 1934.

E. I. "Cy" Carruthers, of Charlottesville, Va., bursar of the University of Virginia, was elected governor of the Capital district, Kiwanis International, at the fifteenth annual convention in Lynchburg, Va., October 21 to succeed Edwin F. Hill, Washington, D. C. The new governor takes office on January 1. Mr. Hill and the present lieutenant governor, terms of office expire on December 31. Mr. Hill was endorsed unanimously by the convention delegates for the office of international trustee subject to election by the delegates at the international convention to be held in Toronto in June. Asa W. Howard of Roanoke, Va., was re-elected district secretary-treasurer.

Richmond was selected as the convention city for 1934. The district is composed of forty-nine clubs in Virginia, Maryland, Delaware and the District of Columbia.

District officers, club presidents and delegates were unanimous in continuing underprivileged child work, which activity has been stressed over a period of years with the result that literally thousands of crippled children have been put on their feet through the unselfish endeavor of this organization.

Also, the convention indorsed war on narcotics, the eradication of radicals and racketeering as twin evils, the maintenance of adequate educational facilities, the proper adjustment of young people to present-day social and economic conditions, promoting better relationships between county and town, and co-operating with boys and girls at every opportunity in vocational guidance, so that the future youth of the several states and the District of Columbia might have a better knowledge of what occupations they are best suited for.

In the district attendance contest Richmond was awarded first place in the gold division, which includes clubs with a membership of 126 or over; Norfolk in the silver division, consisting of clubs with a membership of 76 to 125; Petersburg in the blue division, including clubs with a membership of 46 to 75; and Manassas in the white division, clubs of 45 or less.

Irving Diener, Alexandria, Va., was elected lieutenant governor of the first division, succeeding Park W. T. Loy, Hagerstown, Md. The clubs in the first division are Alexandria, Arlington County, Fredericksburg, Manassas and Winchester, Va. and Cumberland, Frederick and Hagerstown, Md., and Washington, D. C.

In the second division Richard Broadus, Jr., of Martinsville, Va., succeeded James T. Catlin, Jr., Danville, Va., as lieutenant governor. This division is composed of the following clubs: Bassett, Chase City, Danville, Lynchburg, Martinsville, South Boston and Victoria, Va.

The third division will have Rev. Harry H. Hemming of Big Stone Gap as lieutenant governor, to succeed E. Broadus Cheving, Roanoke, Va. This division is composed of clubs at Big Stone Gap, Coeburn, Marion, Norton, Radford, Roanoke and Salem, Va.

The new lieutenant governor for the fourth division is Watson Copeland of Hopewell, who will succeed Lonsdale J. Roper, Portsmouth, Va. The clubs in this division are Ashland, Emporia, Hampton, Hopewell, Newport News, Norfolk, Petersburg, Portsmouth, Richmond, South Norfolk and West Point, Va.

Dr. Guy R. Fisher of Staunton was elected lieutenant governor of the fifth division, to succeed E. I. Carruthers, Charlottesville, Va. This division is composed of clubs at Charlottesville, Clifton Forge, Covington, Harrisonburg, Lexington and Staunton, Va.

In the sixth division M. Channing Wagner of Wilmington, Del., will succeed C. Walter Cole, Towson, Md., as lieutenant governor. The clubs in this division are Annapolis, Baltimore, Elkton, Havre de Grace, Towson and Westminster, Md.; and Rehoboth Beach, Seaford and Wilmington, Del.

How Often Do You Attend Your Church?

TWIN CITY GOSSIP

by Geo. Dent

The Twin City Boy Who Made Good . . . Gordon Leary, an Alex. High School honor student, always on the Dean's list at the University of Virginia. Fell heels over heads in love with a pretty little lassie and is still single. Arrived home and picked up the south end of the old family axe, on the woodpile. Applied himself with vim and vigor to the task of chopping big wood into little wood. Went to work LATE and stopped EARLY. His trend of mind was with the worm and not with the early bird. Gordon learned in America's Institute of higher learning, that—A stick of wood a day—will keep hoar frost away . . .

Here, said he, was an undisputed fact. A scientific treatise on psychology packed 'twix two nut shells. Being a learned man, he mused said psychological fact into a philosophical premise and added the square root of "X" plus "Y" . . . "Eureka!" said Gordon. And as he opened his hands he saw the answer: "The honey handed son of toil . . ."

A few days ago a friend of his notified him that the White House, wherein resides the Chief Executive, was in need of a load of wood cut according to the latest scientific knowledge. Gordon furnished Mr. Roosevelt the wood. He is now pointed to as the "Boy Who Made Good . . ."

According to Tommy Lion and the Democratic County Committee, Charly Pierce, the West End Twin City Postmaster, belongs to a defunct political faith.

Charley claims that he was, in his infancy, inoculated with an anti-cholera virus direct from a DEMOCRATIC PIGGERY.

Brother Pierce, it is indeed unfortunate that you are accused of belonging to the same political faith that George Washington founded . . . The Great Man Washington, who was first in war, first in peace and first in the hearts of his countrymen . . . The man, whose sacred remains lie buried just a short distance from your post office, would today be denied by the dominant political party a commission as a 4th class postmaster in Prince William County. He would be told, TOMMY and the Democratic Committee that, the party he founded for the purpose of establishing JUSTICE, insuring domestic tranquility, providing for the common defense, promoting the general welfare, and securing the blessings of liberty, was a defunct, dead and buried political organization . . . Ashes to ashes and dust to dust . . . Thos. Gray penned these beautiful lines:

The boast of heraldry, the pomp of power
And all that wealth ere gave—
Await alike the inevitable hour,
The paths of glory lead but to the grave . . .

To the victor belongs the spoils:
The hyena cleans up after the LION gets his share . . .

When I was in Phila., I declared myself a democrat, was in line early on election day, and found myself being pushed toward the neither end of the line by loyal and patriotic republicans. The sun went down, polls closed, election day over . . . NO, I didn't vote, I was too far away from the polling booth . . .

Two years later I found myself in Raleigh, N. C. I stepped in line to vote just as the sun was peeping over the eastern rim. I heard a whisper: "He's from Pennsylvania." I found the front ranks being filled by loyal and patriotic DEMOCRATS . . . The sun went down, polls closed, election day over: Did I VOTE? "NO" . . .

When I was in Quantico, I noticed a sign posted on the main street of the town, reading: "By order of the MAYOR, cows grazing in the streets or riding bicycles on the sidewalks are hereby prohibited . . ."

The tramp, tramp, tramp of civilization keeps marching on . . . Principal Peters of Twin City High School, to one of his bright-eyed Junior High School students: "Is this wrong; 'I have it'?"

Junior Student: "Yes."

P. Peters: "What's wrong with it?"

J. Student: "You ain't yet . . ."

Accidentally heard and I think it was (?)

"Had a date with Helen last night."

"No foolin'?"

"Oh, a little . . ."

Prohibition seems to be fading away and here is proof:

"Woman, dat ain't white mule in dat bottle—dat am Pluto Water. Youse ain't gonna drink dat, am youse?"

"Big boy, I se ain't gonna do nothin' else."

"Yes, youse is, Honey, 'deed youse is . . ."

When Uncle Nick was asked the other day, if it was the truth about him giving up tobacco, Uncle Nick replied:

"Well, I am sorta taperin' off like; I don't swaller the juice no more . . ."

A new newsboy opened the wrong door in Manassas' finest hotel and yelled, "EXTRU PAPER!"

Our Universe—the space marked by the distance to the outermost star of the Milky Way—is believed to be 350,000 light years. A light year in round numbers is six trillion miles.

Now, if a cow Jupiters over the Moon and stops to be fed and milked along the Milky Way by Mars; would Venus ring Saturn and Uranus play a Neptune?

Probably my good friend E. S. Bubb can answer . . .

If a one-legged Negro has two feet; how many feet has a two-legged Negro?

Answer "Four."

Well, if his one foot is two feet (24 inches), then his two feet would be four feet (48 inches) . . . Figures are an exact science . . . Would he be a biped or a quadruped?

O, you insect!

I noticed a traveling salesman fill a small spray gun with flit and walk up to the ticket window in Manassas, when I visited your city last Sunday. My curiosity was somewhat aroused and I stepped closer. The salesman eased the spray gun inside of ticket window and pushed out a generous spray of insect-killing flit. I asked him what was the big idea?

"Trying to do man?"

And his voice was shaking with emotion. "I am trying to fix that ticket agent 'fore he tells me my train is late."

Geo. Herring is about to put one over on the big meat packers. He is dickering with the Radio People to furnish 'em with squeals, heretofore the squeal has been a lost by-product of the hog business.

Egbert Thompson says that he wishes the odor was a lost by-product also . . .

Here is a question for my old friend Arthur Boatwright (I understand he is no longer in politics): Can a hen recognize her grandchild?

Chief Justice Sheppard claims to have an old wagon that clucks and 'twix times sets or sits. He wants our County Agent Cox to give him some information about hatching out a brood of little wagonets?

I was asked the other day, why Mr. Wharton, our Journal Editor, was so short. Here is what I think—I think his legs reached the ground a little in advance of a taller man's . . . Am I right, Mr. Editor?

HENRY'S WEDDING A BIG EVENT

Prominent Local Talent Featured in Big Production.

There are a number of important characters in the great show "Henry's Wedding," chosen from prominent local actors in the town. Rehearsals prove that this will be one of the outstanding productions staged in Manassas with Jack Merchant as Uncle Henry and Dorothy Emerson as Samantha Green, his fiancée. Jenkyn Davies will take the part of Jack Macey, Uncle Henry's nephew, who tries to keep his uncle from getting married, so he can get married himself and collect the money from his grandfather's will. The part of his fiancée, Mary, is played by Esther Warren Pattie and she has a great deal of difficulty trying to understand all the strange actions that Jack goes through with in his attempt to kidnap his Uncle, he first wants to postpone the wedding and then hurry it up. Few people have to go through the trials and tribulations these people do on their wedding day. Jack's two boy friends, Ted and Harris, are played by Bob Weir and Wallace Lynn, and they are willing and ready at all times to help Jack because Harris has $1000 coming to him and Ted has $20 which he calls for at every opportunity.

Ted's and Harris' girl friends, Virginia and Marie, are played by Anna May Ellis and Virginia Conner, and they add a great deal to the production.

Other important characters are O'Flarey, the hard-boiled, egotistical detective, who attempts to solve all the mystery of the kidnapping and this character is played by John Henry Burke, and his able assistant, Mugs, played by Connie Kinchloe. Jack Ratcliffe, as Lawyer Brown, is an outstanding character, and makes love in a very dramatic way to Frances Buehne as Susan Christopher, the jilted sweetheart of Uncle Henry. Lawyer Brown finally proposes and they get married with Jack and Mary and Henry and Samantha.

Two outstanding characters of the production are Eliza, the negro cook, and her negro husband, Rastus, played by Helen Lloyd and Bobby Davis.

Other characters to make the story and wedding complete are Rev. DeChant as Rev. Turnipseed and Ray Capo and Bill Lloyd taking the part of two Chicago gangsters. Leading the Mystic Shrine, a mixed chorus, are Sedrick Saunders as Brother Jones and Meaker Burke as Sister Sadie.

Without question, the big sensation will be the "Beaux and Belles of Grandma's Time." This group will be introduced in couples dressed in the height of the 1890 fashion. O. D. Waters as the traffic cop will introduce such famous characters as the Floradora Girl and Floradora Boy, Gas-house Harry and the Bowerly Girl, Miss Bustle and Beau Brummell, portrayed by the leading business men of the town.

There will be many musical numbers and you can't afford to be late for "Henry's Wedding" in the high school auditorium, Friday and Saturday, November 3 and 4.

SMITH AIDS IN AIRPORT FIGHT

Northern Virginia Seeks Zeppelin Terminal.

Representative Howard W. Smith has stated that he will assist the Alexandria Chamber of Commerce in its efforts to secure the establishment of the proposed Zeppelin airport at Hybla Valley in Fairfax County.

The City of Richmond is prominently mentioned as a possible location, but the northern Virginia location is one of the three outstanding situations in the United States favorably regarded by the International Zeppelin Transport Corporation and the Goodyear Zeppelin Corporation and its chances for selection are regarded as very good.

The establishment of this great international airport would mean employment of all kinds of labor in the building of the gigantic building and other necessary improvements. Consequently Representative Smith's action in asking the Department of Commerce to grant Alexandria a hearing is much appreciated.

JOINT MEETING OF LEAGUES

Mrs. Hawes Davies announces that there will be a joint meeting of the High School League and the Bennett School League Friday, November 17, at 7:30 in the auditorium of the school. Attractive program is being arranged and the public is cordially invited.

RED LETTER DAY PROGRAM

A splendid program was rendered by the Nokesville W.C.T.U. in the Seminary chapel on Sunday night, Oct. 29. The audience sang "Lead On, O King Eternal," Rev. C. W. Mark read the Crusade Psalm (146) and Rev. Goode offered a fervent prayer for the efforts the temperance people are putting forth for the cause of right. Mrs. Francis and Mrs. Gorman sang "We've Worked With God Through Fifty Years," a beautiful song written especially for the fiftieth annual State W.C.T.U. convention held in Richmond last month.

A play entitled "Not Unto Himself" was rendered by the Aden young people. This play gave the story of a man who when first married had lived a life of drunkenness and sin but later reformed and brought great happiness to his wife and daughter. After they had grown accustomed to this new found happiness one of the father's old companions came along with temptation. In his weakness he did not resist. His daughter found him in a drinking place with disreputable companions telling filthy jokes. Later he heard his daughter telling her mother how her heart was broken—that because she was a drunkard's daughter she could not become a minister's wife. He could not bear to run her life's happiness in this way so he resolved again by their help to abstain forever and grant his daughter the joys she was about to be denied.

A beautiful little exercise was conducted for the White Ribbon Recruits. A white ribbon was tied on the wrists of little Rosa Mae Godfrey, Phyllis Gorman and Jay Maurice Gorman and they were publicly dedicated to the cause of Christ and temperance.

Mrs. Chas. B. Martin gave a very impressive reading entitled "The Brewer's Mansion." The author of this poem saw a wonderful mansion whose inmates possessed all the comforts and luxuries that wealth could procure. But the beauty of the mansion was blotted out by the fact that it was built by the sorrow of mothers, tears and heartaches of wives, hunger and want of little children and by sickness, crime, poverty, despair, ruin and disgrace. It ended with a wonderful challenge to the people of today to make our country safe for our children.

A splendid reading was given by Mrs. Luther Bowman entitled "Good-night Papa, Jessie See You in the Morning." In this story little Jessie was her parents' greatest joy. But her father would not leave drink alone. God must sometimes take away our dearest treasures to teach us the lessons we are so unwilling to learn and so little Jessie was taken from them. The father learned his lesson but at what a price!

The Aden quartette sang a very appropriate piece of music and the Gorman girls sang a pretty little song. A short poem "God Bless Our Boys" was read by Lawrence Wright. After an explanation of pledge-signing a splendid offering was taken for State work.

GONZAGA DOWNS SWAVELY

Swaveily tallied the first touchdown in the opening when Bonom received a pass from Horton. Bonom scored the extra point on a line plunge. Soon after Gonzaga scored but failed to convert. No more scoring occurred till the middle of the last quarter when Boyle broke through Swaveily's line after a drive up the field. On this occasion Gonzaga made the extra point. In the same period Swaveily marched to the six-inch line before the Gonzaga team could halt them. Gonzaga on the next play touched the ball behind her own goal to avoid the possibility of a blocked kick. Had this happened and Swaveily recovered the score would have been tied. Instead Swaveily got only the two points for a safety. Swaveily made another drive up the field but the game ended before she got in scoring distance.

The fighting team from Washington handed Swaveily her first defeat of the season. It is also the first time in five years that Gonzaga has triumphed over the Blue and White team.

KIWANIS HEAR TALK ON SALT

Alexandria Kiwanian Gives Interesting Data.

Manassas Kiwanians had a surprise in their meeting last Friday. Rat Ratcliffe is in a habit of springing good ones. This time it was Prince Ali Bendow (Bill May) from Alexandria, together with Elliott Hoffman and Everett Hellmuth, also of that ancient city.

The Prince did pretty well with his card tricks until the numbers ran out. Then Everett got in with his talk on "Salt." Everyone thought it was a get-off until Everett really sprang a real educational talk from 2200 R.C. to the present time. This included everything, superstitions and all.

As former president of the Alexandria club, Elliott was accustomed to getting up programs even though on very short notice, and his trip was much appreciated by all.

DELIGHTFUL BRIDAL SHOWER

Mrs. Mary E. Pope of Manassas and Mrs. W. E. Lynch were joint hostesses Saturday evening at a delightful bridal shower in honor of their niece Emily Chisholm at the latter's home on Luray avenue in Alexandria. A company of fifty invited guests attended. The house was artistically decorated with autumn leaves and flowers and the table was beautifully arranged with a miniature bride and twelve doll attendants, each holding a tiny white watering pot and placed around two cakes from a bridal shower. Refreshments were served at a late hour.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. James Troth of Charlottesville, Mrs. George Schofield, Miss Evelyn McKnew, Mrs. S. D. Bronson, Mrs. Paul Frederick, Mrs. O. S. Willis, Mrs. J. R. Jope, Mrs. Gilbert Allen of Washington, D. C., Mrs. W. D. Taylor, Mrs. G. G. Allen, and Miss Margaret Lynch of Manassas. The bride-to-be was the recipient of many lovely and useful gifts.

ELECTION IS NEXT TUESDAY

Candidates Are All Men of Ability.

Next Tuesday the electorate of Virginia will go to the polls to select candidates for Governor, Lieutenant-Governor, Attorney General, United States Senator and in this county, Delegate for the General Assembly.

The campaign has been a quiet one, with no special issues in the matter of governmental policies. The affairs of the State are in good condition in view of the national situation and the overwhelming Democratic complexion of the nation is such that the Republican prospects of carrying any important office are almost negligible.

It is recognized, however, that there are many local Republican strongholds where every effort will be made to minimize the Democratic majority, and loyal Democrats everywhere are being urged to turn out in force.

In primary elections Democrats differ in their estimate of the fitness of their respective candidates, but once the selection of party nominees is made, there is no longer any doubt among loyal Democrats as to the competence of their party nominees to fill the office, and to fill their jobs far more efficiently than the nominees of any other party.

The Democratic nominees for the respective offices are listed in the editorial column of this newspaper and we give them hearty endorsement.

Heaven retaineth now our treasure Earth the lonely casket keeps; And the sunbeams love to linger around the grave,
Where our dear mother sleeps.

CATHARPIN

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Alvey visited Mrs. Alvey's sister, Mrs. E. S. Clary, at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Richmond last week and found the patient greatly improved and able to be around in a wheel chair.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Onley and daughters, Jean and Joy, of Washington were Oakwood visitors on Sunday last.

Mrs. Gussie Lynn Webb of Washington was sojourning over the week-end with home folks at Catharpin and incidentally taking in the Sudley supper on Friday night.

The annual dinner and supper given by the ladies of the Sudley Missionary Society last Friday was, as usual, a great success financially, socially and in every way such things are supposed to be. It seems that this annual event is growing in favor as the years pass along and its "clément" from the "outside world" more numerous than ever. Last year Washington sent about 40 people to the supper and this year was, if anything, an improvement. Of course, Washington knows that we are all boosting the NRA out here and is trying to reciprocate in every way possible; but we doubt if the kitchen committee observed the 4-hour day very closely since they were at work from noon until late at night. However the cause was just and Director Johnson will excuse this oversight since it only happens once a year and by the time it again occurs the NRA may be a forgotten episode and prosperity so great that we shall not longer need suppers to boost our church finances. At any rate everything was lovely and the Missionary Society ladies very jubilant and thankful to all concerned.

This is the time of year when farmers like to meet and compare notes. In this respect they are not one whit different from their counterparts in other walks of life. If two merchants meet they talk gains and losses; if two bankers meet they discuss stocks and interest; and when two farmers meet they talk cows, pigs, horses, crops and just now prices—both ways—what they get and what they have to pay; but as we "go to press" this morning the "big talk" is about the sweet potato crop grown in this section, the yield of which is above the average in both quantity and size. In regard to size it is believed that the prize should go to Mr. L. J. Pattie whose "patch" yielded many potatoes of exhibition caliber but one in particular weighing 6 1/4 pounds seems destined for the sweepstakes. Now if any one has a bigger one than this, just cook it nicely, invite us in, and we shall be glad to help you eat it.

Seeding is now about over and the cornfields are being invaded and "robbed" of their white and yellow ears which are being safely stored away for winter and for higher prices in the future. The wheat fields are beginning to show the "green" which we are promised shall eventually turn into the "long green"—that commodity so much needed by us all just now. The observer can now see those "bare spots" along the edges of the fields which we now look upon as "prosperity spots" and which are supposed to bring us better times. "So mote it be."

ECHOES OF THE DAIRY FESTIVAL

Dairymen's League News, New York City: "The Old Piedmont section of Virginia held its annual dairy festival in September. 20,000 people came to Manassas to join in the dairy festival which celebrates the development and growth of the dominant industry of that section of Virginia. Ancient legends which have come down from ancient herdsmen, legends about the "Moon Cow," the Egyptian cow goddess Hathor, on down to the time when Governor Bradford gave to each six of his Pilgrims settlers one cow and two goats, were depicted."

Maryland Farmer, Baltimore: "A great spectacle, representing the co-operative effort of twelve counties and two cities—the interesting story of the industry that gives them livelihood, told by those whose lives have been identified with that industry since childhood—passed into history, crowned with success."

MARINE CORPS NEWS

Examination of applicants for entrance in the U. S. Marine Corps from Virginia, North and South Carolina, Florida and Eastern Georgia will be held at the Marine Corps headquarters, postoffice building, Savannah, Ga., during the month of November, it is announced by Lieut. Col. A. B. Drum.

Vacancies for November are allotted as follows: Virginia 10, North Carolina 10, South Carolina 10, Florida 15 and Eastern Georgia 5.

Applicants accepted are transferred to the Marine Base, Parris Island, S. C. After preliminary training for several weeks some will be assigned to duty aboard battleships or cruisers while others will be assigned to foreign service and stations in the United States.

The Marine Corps accepts only young men who are graduates of high schools of approved standing. The educational, character and physical requirements are rigid. The varied duties of marines at foreign stations where they serve under situations of international importance, and also abroad ready to land to protect Americans in disturbed foreign areas require selection of capable and reliable men.

Young men in this vicinity who desire service in the Marine Corps should write the Savannah office for applications.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Adam and Fallen Man" is the subject of the lesson-sermon in the First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Falls Church, Sunday, November 5.

The golden text is "For if by one man's offence death reigned by one; much more they which receive abundance of grace and of the gift of righteousness shall reign in life by one, Jesus Christ" (Romans 5:17). Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills, from whence cometh my help. My help cometh from the Lord, which made heaven and earth. He will not suffer thy foot to be moved" (Psalms 121:1-3).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Christian Science reveals harmony as proportionately increasing as the line of creation rises towards spiritual man,—towards enlarged understanding and intelligence; but in the line of the corporeal senses, the less a mortal knows of sin, disease, and mortality, the better of him,—the less pain and sorrow are his" (p. 557).

Barbara Stanwyck, Cinema Star Has Code for Better Beefsteaks

Barbara considers sugar an important item in her plan for seasoning.

BARBARA STANWYCK, who is known as one of the most dramatic ladies of the screen, has other talents as well. Not the least of these is a natural aptitude for broiling beefsteaks—a way with a sizzling steak that would be proud of. As a competent authority—to which her friends are willing to testify—she has drawn up a code for steak cookery.

"Many cooks," says Miss Stanwyck, "do not do justice to a sirloin, probably because they take it for granted as the easiest meat in the world to cook. Quick, perhaps, but not easy. It is a princely dish when perfectly done and here are the rules:

Select a thick steak—about 1½ inches—which is a dark, rich red in color. Sprinkle with salt, pepper and sugar. This use of sugar as a seasoner is important for it intensifies the natural flavors and, caramelizing on the outside, seals in the rich meat juices. Broil close to the flame at top heat. About 12 minutes is required for a 1½ inch steak, though the time varies according to one's taste. Serve immediately with an appropriate sauce. This is a favorite:

Searside Sauce
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons tarragon vinegar
1 onion
4 tablespoons butter, creamed
4 egg yolks slightly beaten
¼ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon paprika
Put water, vinegar and onion in small saucepan. Heat to boiling point. Remove onion and pour gradually on egg yolks. Add seasoning. Cook over hot water, stirring constantly until the mixture begins to thicken. Add butter, one tablespoon at a time, stirring constantly.

TWIN CITY GOSSIP

by Geo. Dent

I wonder why Gov. Pollard failed to define the three "Beaters" in his famous CONNOTARY?

Egg beater: A wrecker of hen fruit.

Rug beater: a hen-pecked husband.

Wif beater: A duster of old hens.

Brother Arthur Boatwright, the also has ran, being queried thusly: If an egg turns to a chicken, and a chicken turns to a pullet, and a pullet turns to a hen; what does a hen turn to?"

Brother Arthur promptly replied: "To W.C.T.U. soup; a very fine and nutritious temperance drink."

Gummy Russell tells me a very amusing incident that he witnessed on his weekly visit to Manassas: The town wag had put out a report that a lion was running at large in the village. Immediately the whole police dept. was astir. Squirt gun in hand, cap pistol securely fastened in its holster and hung to the police dept., an emblem of law and order in Manassas, the department strode forth to conquer or to die. Mayor Davis followed the police dept. one block in the rear, carrying a ladder. The police dept. with his array of death dealing artillery found the LION. Yes, you guessed right. "Tommy" the "Lion" was digging onions in his garden and crying.

Francis Barton Morgan has undoubtedly qualified as a philosopher. Last June an Illinois Congressman named Smith and guests came out to spend the day on the Morgan farm. Congressman Smith standing in the front yard and looking over the broad acres, beautifully terraced to the shore line of the historic Occoquan Creek, just as the sun was lengthening the shadows from the western sky line. The Congressman exclaimed, "What a beautiful view, Morgan, I have never seen a more beautiful pastoral scene in all my life."

Mr. Morgan: "Is zattozo . . . Brother Smith, if you had to plow that beautiful view, if you had to harrow that beautiful pastoral scene, if you had to cultivate that picturesque landscape, if you had to hoe that perfectly lovely and artistic setting, if you had to mow that terrace to the water's edge, if you had to fence and pay taxes on this ravishing real estate picture; I am quite sure it would look a darned sight more onerous to you than beautiful."

Mrs. Warren P. Clarke asked her precocious little grandson, "When you turn on the radio what do you hear, precious?"

G. S.: "Your crooner, Grammy."

G. M.: "Well, when you turn it off what do you hear?"

G. S.: "Grammy saying, 'hurry up with the mail, Jakey'."

The folks tell a good one on Brother Eike. For years Bro. Eike was F. M. Paul von Hindenburg's right-hand man, and often dined with the K. W.

During these strenuous depression moments, Mr. Eike went over to Twin City bank to get a few dollars to tide him over. Here is the conversation in full:

Eike: "I lika getta fuv doolars, giva my note."

Brunt: "Sorry, Mr. Eike, unable to accommodate you."

Eike: "Wats a matta I getta no money? Deese a helluva ting."

Brunt: "We haven't got it to spare."

Eike: "Where issa da mooney den?"

Brunt: "Depression still on, frozen."

Eike: "Frozon, watta you call dis? I tink you have da mooney in bank, but da depress she frozon—da ice house, Me go to Byllum Lynn and see why he frozon money widda da ice."

Talking about banks, Joe Hinton walked in the bank and said to Brunt: "Steve, can you keep a secret?"

Brunt: "Sure, Mike, shoot."

Hinton: "I want to borrow $2.00."

Brunt: "Don't worry. It is just as good as if I never heard you."

Joe walked out and said: "Gee, that's a tight man."

Mrs. Powell Davis tells a good one. Powell came in one day last week, hot and two-thirds mad. He had been patching an inner tube and pumping air in a tire. As he walked thru the dining room he tripped over the rug. ZOWIE! went Powell's temper. Without saying a word he moved the chairs and table, gathered up the rug, took it out in the back yard and gave vent to his temperamental spleen by giving the rug a sound beating. When his temper cooled to near normal Powell returned to the dining room with rug. Mrs. Davis was laughing. Powell made her promise not to tell—but, it's a secret and too good to hide. I think you women folks should profit by this. Let your men folks trip over the rug and stop making wrinkles from worry. . . . This won't be of much benefit to Miss Nellie Ailing . . .

French Fleming was asked what would happen if he should reach down into his pants pocket and pull out a ten-dollar bill. . . . "What would happen?" said French. "Why, I would write a letter to Mrs. Coolidge and thank her for sending me a pair of Cal's pants."

Bombardier Wells, of Wells Service Station Inc., asked Jiggs Embrey of the State Highway Dept.:

"What's the difference between a Virginia Politician and a Red Bone Hound?"

Jiggs: "Well, well, let's see. . . . Dern if I know."

B. W.: "Give up?"

J.: "Yep."

B.W.: "Well, when a politician is hunting votes he wags his tongue. . . . and when a red bone hound is hunting coons he wags his tail."

Ed. Sheppard, the sage of Woodpecker Ridge, claims that we will have a hard winter. . . . Ed. says that the woodpeckers are fitting out their homes for a long cold spell. . . . Cockroaches have an extra lump of fat just back of their neck, a sure sign. . . . Another sign that Ed. claims to be the sign, a barn yard rooster looking south and flapping his wings three times 'fore he crows. . . .

Riding thru Dumfries last Sunday I stopped and enquired of an elderly gentleman if there were many Episcopalians in town:

Elderly Gent.: "Danged if I don't believe that was one of 'em here last nite. . . . Me and my boy was huntin' last winter an' the dawg run one in a hole. . . . When I got a wiff of that smell last nite I told Sammy, dern' ef that don't smell jest like that thin' the dawg denned. . . . What did yo' call it Mr?"

The depression at last has hit Stafford: Judge Coleman sitting on the bench with his brow wrinkled a la judicial pose; Gus Wallace, the P.A. haranguing the jury; a jurymen yells out, "Just a second, Mr. Wallace. . . . Judge, when youse finish wid tha' chaw of terbaccy please let me chaw awhile. . . ."

A colored parson told me that it was wrong to blame everything on the depression; for instance said he, I noticed the collection plate coming in light. . . . I put a one arm DEACON on the job and the first Sunday he officiated dat plate showed 100 per cent. . . .

GOOD SCHOOLS IN BAD TIMES
 (Contributed)

When trouble comes we turn to fundamentals. Home becomes dearer. Neighbors and friends mean more. We understand better the mission of the church. We appreciate the services of the school. If schools are a blessing in good times, they are an imperative necessity in bad times. They safeguard the health of the child; they fortify the home; they give hope and encouragement to citizens who are the victims of misfortune but who can take satisfaction that their children are cared for. The schools are ourselves working together in the education of our children. When times are hard we need to make that education better—to take more seriously our common task of preparing the young for life.

Times which suggest retrenchment call for increased safeguards for schools. Next to food, clothing and shelter, they stand between us and chaos. Let us preserve and improve our schools. Let us keep the children first.

SOLID THINGS

How would you like to drop back into the Victorian era, when the good old-fashioned girl wore her skirts down to her shoetops and would not think of venturing far from home with a boy friend unless she had a chaperone along; when all subjects relating to sex were taboo at respectable gatherings; when Pap and Mom gathered all the children together Sunday morning and took them to Sunday School; when the marriage ceremony that said

"until death do you part" meant just exactly that, and everybody accepted it; and when the word of a gentleman was as good as his bond and honor was a sacred thing?

Well, that is what is likely to happen if the prophecy of a well known English actress comes true. Commenting on movements that are beginning to stir in the world, she predicts that an age of near puritanism will shortly set in and that emphasis will again be placed on the old-fashioned virtues and on religion. Somewhat the same idea has been advanced in other quarters. Quite a number of writers and students of social movements have visualized a return to moral and spiritual laws and to the age-old conventions as a result of revulsion against the lewdness and license of the present day.

To tell the plain unvarnished truth, the idea rather fascinates us. We have always championed liberty and freedom within the bounds of reason. But when we see how so large a measure of freedom is employed by humanity, we are led to wonder if a type of life a little less unbridled is not better after all, for the general run of human beings. Perhaps we would not be willing to take on all the foolish trappings of the Victorian period. But we would like to reach a hand back through the years and gather up some of the solid and worth-while things that have been left behind. The love of home and family, respect for the sanctities, neighborliness, chivalry, and a simpler outlook on life would be worth calling back.—Northern Virginian Daily.

AMERICAN EDUCATION WEEK November 6-12, 1933

VISIT YOUR CHILD'S SCHOOL

"Did you ever stop to think what the life of your child would be like without the public school? How he would spend the long days, where he would play, what friendships he would make, what influences would mold his young personality, how his faith in himself and human nature would be affected by a thoughtless world, how he would make that important transition from the simple life of the family to the more complicated life outside, where he would learn not only to read, and to cipher but the thousand and one other matters that determine his ability to get on in the world? Would you be willing to undertake this task by yourself? Your child's school represents you. It seeks to do for all the children what the best and wisest parents would do for their children had they the time and the talent."

Bran Breads Are Favorites

By BARBARA BROOKS

WHEN there are so many different kinds of bread that are easily and economically prepared right at home, it really seems a shame not to treat ourselves and our families to a little variety in the "staff of life."

The various bran breads will meet a hearty reception in practically every home. Furthermore, in serving them the housewife has the satisfaction of knowing that she is following the dictates of good health as well as appealing to the palate. Bran is one of the most valuable of the "bulk" foods, and sufficient "bulk" in our diets is something we require if we are to keep our systems in good running order.

Bran Fig Honey Bread

1 egg
 1/4 cup brown sugar
 1/4 cup honey
 1 tablespoon melted shortening
 1 cup bran
 2 1/2 cups flour
 1/2 teaspoon soda
 2 teaspoons baking powder
 1 teaspoon salt
 1/2 cup chopped pecans
 1 cup chopped figs
 1 1/2 cups milk
 Beat egg, add sugar, honey and melted shortening. Mix well. Add bran. Sift flour with soda, baking powder and salt. Add pecans and figs to flour mixture. Add dry ingredients alternately with milk. Bake in greased loaf tin in a moderate oven (375° F.) for 1 hour and 15 minutes. Provides 1 large loaf.

Bran Prune Bread

1 cup bran
 1 cup sour milk

SWAVELEY NOTES

The football game with Gonzaga last Friday was lost by 9 to 13.

Sunday visitors to the school included Mr. and Mrs. Coward and Mr. and Mrs. O'Keefe, all of Philadelphia. Roy Capo is one of the cast in "Henry's Wedding," the coming high-school play.

Hallowe'en was observed at the school by a very jolly party of games and dancing in the gymnasium. Through the courtesy of Mr. Fred Hynson good music was provided by a radio set.

DEDICATED TO N. A. HILL WHO PASSED AWAY OCT. 27, 1933

One more weary traveler
 Has crossed the great divide;
 By a rocky toll-worn path,
 To the gladsome sunny side.

From the cold bleak northland,
 In pursuit of health,
 Came our friend and brother,
 To Virginia's Commonwealth.

In the North and South and East and west

He has made many a friend;
 Gained by his uprightness,
 And held fast till the end.

As we pass the Woodbine cemetery,
 We will often stop to see
 The mound that covers the remains
 Of one most dear to me.

MORE TRIUMPHS FOR FORD

Six Ford V-8 cars piloted by Dutch drivers triumphed conclusively over five European and two other American entrants in the fifth annual running of the gruelling 5-day International Alpine Trail over 1,165 miles of Swiss, Italian and French mountain roads, according to official reports of the race just received here.

Three of the winning Fords driven by a Dutch team captained by Dr. J. J. Sprenger van Eyck captured the coveted Coupe des Alpes, while the three other Fords won the first three places in the individual competition for the Coupe des Glaciers. The first two tied for first place with the best score of any of the dozens of contestants in the five classes competing.

The annual Alpine contest is probably the most severe test of motor car endurance and performance conducted in Europe. It is open only to stock cars as sold to the public. Its route from Morano, via St. Moritz, Turin and Grenoble to Nice, includes the ascent and descent of 12 major passes, with steep winding roads, scores of dangerous "hair-pin" turns and a never-ending variety of road surfaces, which test alike the stamina of the cars and the skill of the drivers.

Most difficult of all the passes is the Stelvic, in the Ortler Alps between Italy and Switzerland. It rises to 9,150 feet above sea level. The highway leading to it is the highest automobile road in the world. In the course of the 11-mile climb from the valley, the drivers were forced to negotiate 52 "hair-pin" bends before reaching the snow-capped top of the mountain.

The Ford cars and other competitors in the principal class were required to make the ascent of this difficult pass at an average of 28 miles an hour. Many were forced to stop along the way to replenish water in their violently steaming radiators but the Ford cars came up the pass in formation without a halt and continued their journey without adding water.

At the final inspection of the competing cars at the finish in Nice where penalties were imposed for faults in condition, the Ford cars were passed without penalty and the drivers complimented by the judges upon the condition of the cars, both mechanically and in appearance.

VIRGINIA:

In the Clerk's Office of the Circuit Court of Prince William County, the first day of November, 1933:

Hilda L. Mertz

v. Lena F. Cudlippe, et al.

The general object of the above-styled suit is to partition the real estate located in Brentsville Magisterial District, county and state aforesaid, of which Julius A. Mertz died, seized and possessed; to establish a deed whereby Annie F. Tentory, Amelia Montagne, Fred Montagne, Herman Ernest Mertz and his wife and Mabel Campbell, conveyed their respective undivided interests in said real estate to Henry J. Mertz and Hilda L. Mertz, complainant; and should said real estate be indivisible in kind amongst the parties entitled thereto, to be sold and the proceeds thereof divided among the heirs of the said Julius A. Mertz in accordance with their respective interests.

And, it appearing by affidavit filed according to law that Lena F. Cudlippe and Edward F. Cudlippe, her husband, Mabel Campbell, Annie Tentory, John McMahon, widower of Emma McMahon, deceased, Leslie McMahon, Amelia Montagne and Fred Montagne, her husband, Edith Reed and Reed, her husband, Herman E. Mertz and Blanche Virginia Mertz, his wife, are not residents of this state; it is therefore ordered that the said Lena F. Cudlippe, Edward F. Cudlippe, Mabel Campbell, Annie F. Tentory, John McMahon, Leslie McMahon, Amelia Montagne, Fred Montagne, Edith Reed and Reed, her husband, Herman E. Mertz and Blanche Virginia Mertz, do appear within ten days after due publication of this order, in the clerk's office of our said Circuit Court, and do what is necessary to protect their interests. Hydrogen Gas Lifts Graf Zeppelin

THE history-making Graf Zeppelin, which has just completed a journey from Germany to the Chicago World's Fair, must take on a large supply of lifting gas before it can set out on its lengthy homeward trip. More than three million cubic feet of gas is in the airship's huge bag normally and every bit of it is required to take aloft the gross lift of more than a quarter of a million pounds. On a trip as long as that just completed a not inconsiderable amount of the lifting gas is valued out in landing and must be replenished before the Graf takes off again for Germany. Fortunately, the Graf has found a ready supply of hydrogen in this country, although our own lighter-than-air crafts employ helium gas as their lifting medium. This non-inflammable gas, however, is not available at a reasonable cost in Europe and the Graf uses hydrogen gas instead. Before the huge dirigible left South America five especially constructed railroad "cists," loaned by the United States Navy, had left the hydrogenation plant of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, loaded with some 600,000 cubic feet of hydrogen and bound for Akron, O., and Miami, Florida. At the latter point the Graf replenished her supply before proceeding on to Chicago. At Akron she will take on the balance before setting out on her trans-Atlantic hop. The hydrogen gas which lifts the big airship is used extensively in manufacturing hydrogenated motor oils. It is obtained in the petroleum refining process, which had its inception in the Graf's native land, crude oil and hydrogen are mixed under terrific pressures and passed through reaction chambers where a catalyst effects a rearrangement of the oil molecules. This, in turn results in the manufacture of a superior lubricant. The Bayway, N. J., hydrogenation plant alone has a daily hydrogen capacity of more than enough to fill the Graf's entire envelope.

VIRGINIA RATIFIES REPEAL AMENDMENT

First Ratification By Convention Since State Ratified Constitution 1788.

A Virginia convention met at noon October 25 to ratify the twenty-first amendment to the Constitution of the United States—the first amendment to be ratified in this state by convention since Virginia ratified the Constitution itself in 1788.

Although historic, the action of the convention followed the mandate of the electorate in the referendum of October 3, when 30 delegates committed to ratification of the twenty-first amendment, repealing the 18th, of Prohibition amendment, were elected by a majority of almost two to one.

C. O'Connor Goolrick, former State Senator from Fredericksburg, who voted against Prohibition, who has opposed it consistently, and who for years has been an outstanding champion of repeal, was nominated for president of the convention. His election was unanimous.

The old hall of the House of Delegates, scene of the secession convention in 1861, where Lee accepted command of the armies of Virginia and where every convention since 1812 has been held, was the assembly hall for the convention of delegates. The last Virginia convention held in this old hall was the State Constitution Convention of 1901-02.

The Eighteenth Amendment was not ratified by a convention, but by the Legislature—Virginia being the second to ratify the 18th Amendment, and the thirty-second to vote its repeal.

VIRGINIA'S REPEAL COMPLETED TOMORROW

On Friday of this week Governor Pollard will forward to the Secretary of State the official certificate of Virginia's ratification of the Repeal Amendment. The certificate will be delivered to Secretary Cordell Hull by Hon. C. O'Connor Goolrick, of Fredericksburg, chairman of the Repeal convention.

Virginia was the thirty-second state to ratify Repeal. Florida has become the thirty-third state and only three more states are necessary to complete Ratification. On Nov. 7 six states will vote, and it is predicted widely that all of them will take the same action since to date no State has voted against repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment. The States voting on November 7 are Kentucky, North Carolina, South Carolina, Ohio, Pennsylvania, and Utah.

I keep coming back to that word "balanced" on the back of the Chesterfield package

YOU often hear the word balance—something is out of balance—top heavy, not on an "even keel."

What you read, "Chesterfield Cigarettes are a balanced blend," means that the right amounts of the right kinds of tobacco are welded together; that is, home-grown tobaccos, the right kind, the right quantity—are blended and cross-blended with tobaccos from Turkey and Greece.

When these tobaccos are balanced one against the other, then you have a mild cigarette.

When they are in balance, then you have a better-tasting cigarette.

May we ask you to read again the statement on the back of the Chesterfield package?

May we ask you to try Chesterfield?
