WOULD ASSIST GAS DEALERS

Proposed Legislation Would Equalize the Tax Burden.

Representative Howard W. Smith (Democrat), Virginia, a member of the House District Committee, will ask the House when Congress convenes to boost the District tax on gasoline from 2 to 4 cents a gallon, he announced.

DEDICATION OF JEFFERSON DAVIS MARKER

Mrs. J. B. T. Thornton of Manassas, who serves on the state committee for Confederate Markers, states that Nov. 20, 2 p. m., has been set for the dedication ceremonies attending the Jefferson Davis highway marker at the conjunction of Routes one and nine. Many prominent people are expected to attend and all Daughters of the Confederacy and Sons of Veterans are urged to be present. The public is cordially invited.

WOMAN'S PROGRAM TO INCLUDE DISPLAY OF HANDWORK

Community and individual exhibits will provide an added attraction at the home demonstration achievement program on November 22. Individual exhibits of home-baked bread, rolls, hand-made quilts, quilt blocks, hand-made bed spreads, blocks for bed spreads, hand-made rugs, tomato juice, home-made American cheese, may be made.

Manassas Milling Corporation is offering 24 lbs. of flour to each of best exhibits of rolls and bread made from White Rose flour; the Prince William Farmers Service will give 24 lbs. of flour for bread made from hard wheat flour; 10 lbs. of Bgrade meal will be awarded the exhibitor of best rolls made from hard wheat flour.

WHAT SCHOOL MEANS TO YOUR CHILD

Did you ever stop to think what the life of your child would be like without the common school? How he would spend the long days, where he would play, what friendships he would make, what influences would mold his young personality, how his faith in himself and human nature would be affected by a thoughtless world, how he would make that important transition from the simple life of the family to the more complicated life outside where he would learn not only to read, to write, and to cypher but the thousand and one other matters that determine his ability to get on in the world? Would you be willing to undertake this task by yourself? Your child's school represents you. It is seeking to do for all the children what the best and wisest parents would do for their children had they the time and the talent.

JOIN RED CROSS NOW

Annual Drive NOVEMBER 11 to 30

Now is the time to join. Remember the less fortunate ones. Assist your local chapter to carry on.

In the past year the Red Cross, through its thirty-seven hundred chapters and through other co-operating units in virtually every community in the nation, has reached into the homes of twenty million people. Bread and clothing have been the basic gifts. They were made possible through the Red Cross, by the Congress of the United States, which voted for distribution to the needy eighty-five million bushels of wheat and 844,000 bales of cotton. These were Farm Board surpluses.

The job required seeing the process through from wheat in the elevator bins to flour on the needy families' shelves. From cotton in the southern warehouse, to overall, underwear, a dress or a sweater upon the needy family's back.

Renewed distribution of clothing to prepare children for school has been under way in the past two months.

The Red Cross has been upon the scene of ninety-six disasters in the United States during the year just ended. Its help has gone to earthquake sufferers in southern California, to victims of fire in Maine; floods in Ohio and Mississippi valleys; tornadoes in a dozen states at once; floods in the northwest; hurricanes in the south; a typhoid epidemic with more than two hundred and fifty persons stricken in one town, and to a snowbound camp of gold prospectors. Relief has been given freely whether merely a night's lodging or whether it was help in reconstruction of a modest home which had been destroyed by fire, earthquake or tornado.

In joining as a member of our local Red Cross chapter, you will be aiding in the support of our work here at home, and will be numbered on the rolls of the National Red Cross. (Please turn to back page)

UDC WOULD SAVE HISTORIC TREE

November Meeting of Daughters of the Confederacy.

Mrs. Guy Allen and Mrs. B. T. Knox, were hostesses to Manassas Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, for the November meeting. A large number responded to the cordial greeting of the hostesses and a delightful session followed.

Mrs. Marsteller reported that Mr. Ertle had placed the stone for the unknown soldier in the Confederate cemetery and requested that the thanks of the chapter be extended him for his interest in this work. She also petitioned the chapter to make an effort to save the Old Council tree under which it is said the Battle of Manassas was planned. She was authorized to write a letter to Mr. Shirley to be signed by the officers and members present in behalf of the preservation of this historic tree.

Mrs. Smith stated that the plans for the Red and White ball were going forward and that much interest was being shown. This ball will be given for the benefit of the Battlefield Park Museum fund and will be held Nov. 24.

An invitation from the Woman's Club to attend the November meeting was extended by Mrs. Smith.

A letter was read from Mr. Caldwell McBryde acknowledging the chapter's appreciation of his paper on the life of Ephraim McDowell.

Mrs. Herbert Nash read a very interesting paper on the life of John Pelham. This delightful paper was well received by the chapter and a vote of thanks and appreciation given Mrs. Nash.

The Daughters were glad to welcome an out-of-town member, Mrs. W. Kasehagen, a former resident of Manassas, now residing in Washington.

A request was received from Mrs. Hite asking that the historical papers of the chapter be sent to the school.

The hostesses announced for the December meeting are Mrs. Giddings, Mrs. Jackson and Mrs. Alpaugh at the home of Mrs. Jackson.

The business session completed, a delightful social hour followed while the hostesses served delicious refreshments.

SALE OF A CENTURY

Jenkins and Jenkins of Manassas are featuring a "Sale of a Century," advertised elsewhere in this issue which begins Friday morning at 9 a. m. As indicated in their announcement on our back page, they are offering many inducements to patronize this big sale.

BUCKHALL COMMUNITY LEAGUE

The Buckhall Community League will hold its regular monthly meeting on Friday, November 10, at 8 o'clock. A program will be presented by the school children. The patrons and friends are cordially invited.

KIWANIS LEARN ABOUT INFLATION

"Henry's Wedding" interferred with some of the Kiwanians hearing a mighty fine talk given by Mr. Baringer, of Swavely, last Friday evening.

"Controlled inflation" and the "balanced currency" were dealt with in generous terms but the speaker brought the conclusion that none had ever succeeded.

This week marks the beginning of the annual Red Cross drive and the program will include a talk along these lines.

DR. E. R. BRYAN GUEST SPEAKER

Members and guests of the Manassas Woman's Club were entertained at the regular meeting of the club on Wednesday, with the most informative discourse on "World Peace and International Relations" by Dr. E. R. Bryan, assistant director of publications, National Education Association. He stressed the need of greater tolerance, and appreciation of other peoples.

Dr. Bryan said the four greatest movements for the promotion and preservation of world peace are the League of Nations, Court of International Relations, Pact of Paris and the coming Pan-American Congress. He talked in detail on the functions and activities of each in promoting and encouraging peace, and gave many interesting details of intimate experiences at Geneva. Describing means of translation, how expenses were met, the beautiful surroundings and famous men of all nations who participated.

Dr. Bryan also mentioned his various experiences in traveling through southern Europe, and the attitudes of the peoples there, and answered in a most intelligent and charming manner questions put to him by the audience.

The club hopes to have the privilege of hearing Dr. Bryan again at some future meeting.

The business session proved busy and many projects of club were discussed and acted upon.

The club voted to again sponsor the Christmas assembly for the young folks of the town and Mrs. C. Wade-Dalton was named general chairman.

Mrs. Margaret Lewis was presented as the winner in a recent garden improvement contest put on under the direction of the Garden Section.

Mrs. Marshall Haydon made an interesting report on the recent improvement of conditions at the jail. This work was done by the Supervisors at the request and urging of the prison inspection committee and is the most outstanding piece of work done by a Federated Club in Virginia.

We were glad to install and welcome as new members at this time Mrs. R. B. Sprinkle, Mrs. Reinhardt Allen, Mrs. DeChant.

Hostesses for the day added their usual pleasant contribution, and the following members were asked to act in a similar capacity for the December meeting: Mrs. James Bradford, Mrs. Ralph Andrews, Mrs. T. J. Broadus, Miss Gladys Ball, Mrs. J. L. Bushong, Mrs. Robert Bisson.

HIGH SCHOOL PRINCIPALS ORGANIZE

The high school principals of Alexandria City and the counties of Arlington, Fairfax, Loudoun, Prince William, Fauquier and Culpeper met at Manassas High School last Thursday night, November 2, and organized a district division of the State High School Principals Association.

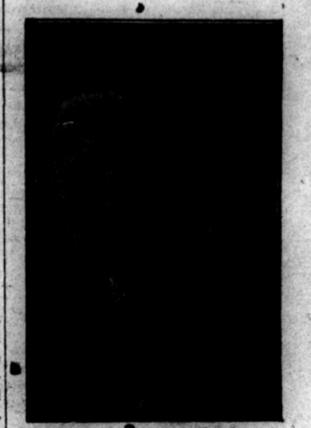

The following officers were elected: President, Mr. S. P. Vanderalice, principal, Washington-Lee High School, Arlington County; first vice-president, Mr. T. A. Grey, principal, Bealeton High School; second vice-president, Miss Gaylord Gibson, Middleburg High School; secretary-treasurer, Miss Ruth Campbell, Culpeper High School; executive committee, Mr. H. T. Moncure, Alexandria High School; Mr. Gordon T. Smith, Lee-Jackson High School; Mr. W. T. Coleman, Marshall High School.

A very attractive dinner was served to the conference by the home economics department of the high school.

Increase Lead Over Their Opponents in Light State Vote.

National interest in Tuesday's election centered in the majority contest in New York City and the vote on Repeal in six states.

In Virginia the usual Democratic majorities were anticipated and realized. The question of the relative popularity of the Democratic candidates had been a matter of considerable speculation. The only surprise in Virginia was the fact that Senator Byrd ran third, while Lieutenant-Governor Price apparently headed his ticket.

HON. HARRY FLOOD BYRD.

The national surprise was the anti-Repeal vote in the Carolinas, where from early returns it appears that both states rejected repeal. The vote in Ohio, Pennsylvania and Utah, however, were for Repeal, with the uncounted Kentucky vote also most likely against national prohibition.

HON. GEORGE C. PEERY, Governor-elect.

Thus the vote Tuesday removed from our constitution the most controversial issue since the War between the States. Actual repeal cannot be accomplished until the various conventions meet, which will be early in December.

In New York Tammany Hall went down to defeat. Fiorella H. LaGuardia, a Fusionist candidate and a former Congressman, was swept into office by a majority exceeding 200,000.

In Fairfax County a bond issue for the construction of a new jail was decisively rejected. The project had been placed upon the Public Works program of the State, subject to the outcome of Tuesday's election.

In Prince William County a hot local fight was waged in the Nokesville precinct where William Mosley Brown, former independent candidate for governor, had just spoken in behalf of the Republican nominees. The Democrats carried the precinct, which is one of the largest in the county, by 2 votes.

VISITS OLD HOME

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Bradford motored to Mr. Bradford's old home at Center, Ala., last week. They were accompanied by Mrs. Frank Hornbaker of Occoquan. The return trip was made via Raleigh, N. C., where Miss Ann Bradford is attending school. She came back with the party and spent the week-end here.

HON. HOWARD W. SMITH.

Declaring District gasoline taxation "way out of line" with levies exacted in neighboring States, Smith said he will put in a bill for the dual purpose of treating out this differential and relieving the District real estate tax burden.

He thinks real estate taxes in the District are too high, and that by doubling the gasoline revenues there could be a general scaling down of realty levies.

Representative Mapes (Republican), Michigan, in the last Congress submitted a bill to double the District's gasoline revenues. A similar bill passed the House in the Seventy-second Congress, was scaled down to 3 cents in the Senate, and was blocked on the Senate floor by Senator Oddie (Republican), Nevada.

Three other Mapes bills, providing increased District income, estate and automobile weight taxes, also were pending in the House on adjournment.

Together with the Federal tax of 1 1/2 cents a gallon on gasoline, the Smith proposal would boost the district levy to 5 1/2 cents.

The District's present 2-cent gasoline tax compares with a 5-cent levy in Virginia, 4 cents in Maryland, 4 cents in West Virginia, 7 cents in Tennessee, 6 cents in New York and 5 cents in Kentucky, Smith pointed out.

HENRY'S WEDDING

Everybody in town saw the play put on by the Junior Woman's Club, etc., so a detailed account is unnecessary.

It was a pleasure to have an amateur theatrical go over successfully as so many do not. The patience of the young people in conquering a 3-act play in ten days and the ability of Marilu Owens in training them were equally commendable.

Some of their elders got sore muscles but they had just as good a time. The chorus dancing was not just pretty—it was charmingly sweet.

The Junior Women made a neat little sum and that was the happiest conclusion of all as they have some good work ahead of them this winter.

JOINT MEETING OF COMMUNITY LEAGUES

 TRADE MARK REG.

450th ANNIVERSARY OF THE BIRTH OF MARTIN LUTHER
 A Synopsis of Life and Work
 By Rev. Luther Miller
 Pastor of Bethel Ev. Lutheran Church, Manassas, Va.

Nov. 10, 1483, 450 years ago, was born in Eisleben, Germany, a son to Hans Luther and Margaret Ziegler. Next day St. Martin's day he was baptized and named Martin. 1501-1505 Martin Luther attends Erfurt University. He is a diligent student and graduates with great honor.

1505, at the age of 22, he drops the study of law and enters the Augustinian monastery. During a thunderstorm he vowed to become a monk. He was striving to procure peace with God.

1505-1512. Life in the cloister prayers, fastings, vigils, alms collecting, and all kinds of external works but no peace of conscience. But the study of the Bible finally brought peace—"The just shall live by faith."

1512. Becomes a professor of Divinity and teaches at the new University of Wittenberg. Substitutes the Bible for the study of Aristotle. Crowded classrooms.

1517. Oct. 31, nails the 95 Theses on the castle-church door at Wittenberg. It is a notice of debate on subject of "indulgences" which were greatly abused. An indulgence was the remittance of the penalty the church had imposed on those sinning. Luther's point was "when a man does turn from sin and trusts in God, his sins are immediately and entirely forgiven."

1518. Before Cardinal Cajetan at Augsburg but will not recant. 1519. July 4, debates with Eck at Leipsig. Is forced to admit that Popes and councils have erred. Stands upon the Bible as the only authority.

1520. Pope Leo X issues Bull of excommunication. This Luther publicly burns Dec. 10 outside the Elster Gate Wittenberg. Luther sees he cannot reform the church from within and so definitely breaks with it.

1521. April 17 and 18, Luther is summoned to Worms to answer before the Diet (Assembly) of the Holy Roman Empire. Chas. V is the emperor and presides. Luther refuses to recant his many writings. He stands for the freedom of the individual. "Unless I am convinced, I am bound by the texts of the Bible, my conscience is captive to the word of God. I neither can nor will recant anything. God help me. Amen." It is the beginning of the modern age. Freedom of thought, press, speech. Civil liberty, religious emancipation. The foundation of popular education.

1521. On road home from Worms his friends capture him and take him to the Wartburg where he is in seclusion for a year. But he is not idle. He translates the New Test. into German (later the Old Test. is translated too).

1522. Returns boldly to Wittenberg to put down religious fanatics. He was a conservative and not a radical.

1525. June, married Catherine Von Bora, thus restoring to the Church the parsonage.

1529. Luther's small catechism published—"it has been called 'the Little Bible.'"

1529. Luther and the Swiss Reformer Zwingli met at Marburg. Could not reach full agreement. Parted as friends, each carrying on his work.

1530. Took part in the directing of the Augsburg Confession. (The confession was composed by Philip Melancthon under the supervision of Luther.)

1530-1546. Busy years, filled with teaching, writing, conferences, purifying order of service, introduction of congregational singing, etc.

1546. Feb. 18, Luther died at Eisleben (the town in which he was born) having come hither to reconcile the Counts of Mansfield. Others carried on the work he so well began.

Luther gave to the world either directly or by giving impulses which later developed into certain blessings:

"The open Bible; supremacy of the word; justification by faith; right of individual conscience; freedom of thought, speech, press; religious emancipation; civil liberty; direct approach to God (priesthood of believers); popular education; the evangelical parsonage; worship in the native tongue; congregational singing; a treasury of hymns; a great confession."—N. TWIN CITY GOSSIP
 by Geo. Dent

Just a few hours ago I was talking to my old friend George Waters, Dumfries . . . George frankly orates that he resents with an intelligensia resentment the small town jokes on Dumfries . . . George further exhorts, ere he sprouted to manhood, that Dumfries was an Old and Honored Scottish town . . .

I like to see a man proud of his city. I knew a farmer who raised razor-back hogs—these pigs were long, tanky, boney, hump-back, flopped, squint-eyed, and with a nose whittled to a point like grandmothers knitting needle; but you talking about being proud hogs—why, this hog farmer would go into cataleptic spasmodic exclamations describing the fine points of his pigs . . . The modern hog was nothing more to him than a wart hog . . .

A shadow fading away—An old town moss covered and gray; A lizard and a hoot owl Matching wits with a barnyard fowl. A dark and murky sky—drops of rain—

Distant thunder—, rheumatic pain: Life is birth, old age and death; Fading away no more breath . . .

George, I don't remember the poet's name who wrote the lines that I am now going to quote from memory:

Body of turkey, head of owl; Wings a droop like a rained on fowl.

Yes, I love Dumfries and those who live within her confines; I love the old ancient city and her dead and muteless mines . . .

I love to hear the woodpecker drumming on her aged locust trees; I love to hear the cow mooring, pack braying, and the soft hum of the bees . . .

I love to smell the odor of the sweet 'taters and the 'possum in the pan . . .

I love to sit 'neath the cut-paper and swap a joke with my fellow man.

I love to meander to the spring and drink from a coconut shell; I love to plod thru the cow pasture and hear the tinkling of the bell.

I love to see around the homes of Dumfries' ancient outline A mound of 'tatters, turnips, cabbage and a string of fish on the line.

I love to see a big hickory log in each fireplace—all aglow; I love to see mother in her apron, dad in his home spun, and sister with her beau . . .

I love peace and contentment—the

IS AN EXPECTANT MOTHER?

"I know of nothing better for expectant mothers than Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription," said Mrs. J. G. Dawson of 708 George St., Hagerstown, Md. "I have eight healthy children. When I would need strength during expectant period and felt so nervous and sick to my stomach I used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and found great relief." Sold by druggists. New size, tablets 50c; liquid $1.00. Large size, tabs. or liquid, $1.25. "We Do Our Part."

What Are You Doing to Boost Manassas?

Daniel Boone day: Yes, I love Dumfries 'cause she is just that way . . .

A sense of humor is just as important to a man as bark is to a tree, or should I say dog . . . I knew one man who was never able to understand a joke—when I told him the following:

A Scotsman, an Irishman, a German, and a Jew were eating dinner together. When the meal was finished and the waiter came with the bill, the Scotsman, greatly to his own surprise also, promptly said he would take it . . . The next day a Jew ventriloquist was found murdered . . .

The man I told the joke to said: "Huh, just as I wuz saying, the world is getting worsen . . ."

When we lose our sense of humor it is a good idea to see a doctor, or consult a veterinary . . . I knew an old-fashioned cow doctor that had "Salt Herring" listed at the top of his home remedies . . . Just opposite "Salt Herring" these words "Lost Cud—One Herring." Under this I wrote, "Cow plus herring, minus breath, plus death . . ."

If you lose your funny bone why not try a salt herring; if it will bring a "cud" back I 'spect it will revive a dying laugh.

MY MOTHER'S TENDER LOVE

As I walked down the Road of Life,
I cannot help but realize
There's a shining light that leads the way—
The light of Mother's eyes.

I hear a gentle, guiding sound
That helps me in my choice
When I do not know which road to take—
The sound of Mother's voice.

And in my hand I hold a thread—
The sign of grief and care;
Its silver sheen consoles me—
A thread of Mother's hair.

A picture comes into my mind
That time cannot erase;
The loveliest picture ever drawn—
My Mother's kind, sweet face.

A guiding touch upon my arm
Helps me to understand
That it will lead me on my way—
The touch of Mother's hand.

I see small footprints in the dust
Of the narrow, winding street;
So firm, and sure, and steady—
The prints of Mother's feet.

And as I go I say some words
To lighten the burden I bare;
They seem to cheer me when I'm sad—
The words of Mother's prayer.

A presence hovers round me
Like an angel from above;
The greatest gift I ever had—
My Mother's tender love.
—A Mother's Daughter.

BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

If parents will have their children memorize the daily Bible selections, it will prove a priceless heritage to them in after years.

The statutes of the Lord are right, rejoicing the heart; the commandment of the Lord is pure, enlightening the eyes.—Psalms 19:8.

FOR A BETTER STATE

The Democratic party Tuesday again was given the mandate of State government in Virginia. The result was no surprise, of course, nor was the size of the majorities piled up for the Democratic candidates. With the single exception of the election of 1928, it has been many, many years since Virginia voted anything but the straight Democratic ticket. Under Democratic rule, State government in Virginia has compared favorably with that of most other states and has been far better than that in quite a number of them. There is still room for much improvement, particularly in the field of education, local government and public welfare work, and this newspaper hopes that those entrusted with public offices may set themselves the task of strengthening all that is weak in the structure of our State government.

Now that the smoke of battle has cleared, whatever one may think of the opposition candidates or of the type of campaign they conducted, they are to be credited with having given the State a vigorous election campaign in the face of the fact that they must have known victory was practically unattainable. At a considerable expenditure of both time and money, they toured the State, bringing the issues of the campaign into every community and discussing them in largely attended meetings. They quickened the interest of the people in the affairs of the State government and forced the dominant party to defend its record, which was good both for the State and the Democratic.

The wounds of battle should quickly heal and be forgotten, and both Democrats and Republicans along with the members of the minor parties, should unite their efforts to give Virginia the best State government it has ever had. The future holds wonderful possibilities for a Virginia that is united in spirit, in faith and in work. In the great field of public service there is room for men and women of all political creeds. All cannot be victors in a State election, but all can have a part in the building of a finer and better State. — Northern Virginia Daily.

THE EMERGENCY IN EDUCATION 1933

Expenditures for schools declined to 85 percent of the amount spent in 1930. 250,000 children attended school on a part-time basis. Teachers salaries were reduced in 80 to 90 percent of the city school systems and in practically all of the rural schools. 100 city school systems reduced their 1932-33 terms by 20 days or more. In February 1,857 schools in eleven states had shut their doors against 106,000 children. Not since the American public school was founded have the people stepped backward in its support—until now.

AN UNWANTED CHILD

The farm strike today is even more grave than it was yesterday. It may spread to more than forty states, including Virginia. One sympathizes with the distress of the farmer, but one cannot see how his strike, with its accompanying disorganization, can do anything but upset the President's plan for boosting gross farm income and total factory pay rolls simultaneously. Rural impatience will breed only greater trouble.

Governor Olson's threat to take the farmers' cause over Mr. Roosevelt's head to Congress is ill-advised. Such action by the Minnesota executive would serve only to inject loud but futile politics into a snarled situation. The President is able to deal with the farmers' problem far more intelligently than a batch of jittery officeholders beset by angry constituents.

Moreover, Congress has had plenty of opportunity to solve the farm question. It knows it is a jigsaw puzzle with many pieces missing. It knows it is a problem which holds nothing but grief for the lawmaker. It is entirely possible that, if Governor Olson dumps this unwanted child in the lap of Congress, Congress will wheel it right back to the White House as promptly as possible.—Times-Dispatch.

The Manassas Journal Manassas, Va. In behalf of the Junior Woman's Club, I want to thank you and your staff for your splendid co-operation in advertising our play—both through the ads and the articles that you published in the paper, and all the other publicity matters that you so kindly helped us with. A RESOLUTION

In the death of Mrs. Albert Speiden, the Manassas Chapter, U. D. C., has lost one of its most valued charter members, one who was always willing to serve when called on by the chapter, and capable of doing so.

The fact that she served for several terms as presiding officer proved her efficiency. Therefore it is the wish of the chapter that this simple tribute to her memory be embraced in our minutes, a copy sent to the family, also one published in the local paper.

 MR. J. A. HILL.

Mr. J. A. Hill of the Independent Hill community passed quietly away in the Sibley Hospital in Washington to which place he had been taken for treatment for a complication of diseases from which he had been a long sufferer.

Mr. Hill was born in Huntley, Minn., about sixty-seven years ago and came to Virginia in 1907. Before his coming to Virginia he had engaged in the mercantile business and in farming. While here he was a farmer and lumberman. He made many friends by his industry and uprightness, a good neighbor a true friend. Surrounded by the sorrowing ones and many sympathizing friends he was laid to rest Sunday afternoon, Oct. 29, beneath a beautiful floral

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS

The County Treasurer advises that about December 1 it will be necessary to publish the delinquent tax list, according to the requirements of law.

Attention is directed to the fact that the Board of Supervisors has removed the penalty and interest if payment of taxes can be made in a reasonable time. It is hoped that every effort will be made by the delinquent taxpayers of Prince William County to avail themselves of this opportunity by making payment at the earliest possible date.

C. A. SINCLAIR,
 Treasurer, Prince William County.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE
 "Mortals and Immortals" is the subject of the lesson-sermon in the First Church of Christ, Scientist, of East Falls Church, on Sunday, November 12.

The golden text is "The earnest expectation of the creature waiteth for the manifestation of the sons of God" (Romans 8:19).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "I would seek unto God, and unto God would I commit my cause: He shall deliver thee in six troubles: yea, in seven there shall no evil touch thee" (Job 5:8, 19).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passages from the Christian Science textbook: "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Mortals must gravitate Godward, their affections and aims grow spiritual,—they must near the broader interpretations of being, and gain some proper sense of the infinite,—in order that sin and mortality may be put off" (p. 265).

SWAVELY NOTES

State Grain Show
The State Grain Show is to be held at Lynchburg on January 26, 1934. Corn exhibits will consist of ten ears and small grain, soybeans and cowpeas of one peck. Irish and sweet potato exhibits will consist of 24 potatoes. The program of the Virginia Crop Improvement Association, to be held in conjunction with the show, will be announced later.

Reduced Registration Fees.
Reduced registration fees for Holsteins will be in effect until November 30. Until then registration of any age of either sex is only 75c. There are many eligible animals in the county that should be registered before the end of the month. The American Jersey Cattle Club has also materially lowered registration and transfer fees until December 1.

More T. B. Testing Needed.
Most States require that all cows brought in must have been tested for T. B. within a year before they are shipped in, in addition to the usual test at time of shipment. Two tests, sixty days apart, are required. According to reports, a large number of cows were purchased during the past year by dealers from Pennsylvania in the valley while the number purchased in this section has been comparatively few, because of the fact that buyers have not found cattle here in sufficient numbers having had the first test and eligible for immediate shipment upon passing a second test.

BRISTOW

The Junior League of Bristow has been organized and is showing a great deal of enthusiasm. Virginia Hyde was appointed president; Wade Bailey, vice-president; Audrey Herndon, secretary and treasurer. Various committees were appointed and have started their work. The health committee is putting on a campaign for five-point children. The social committee furnished an interesting program at the last meeting which was followed by dainty refreshments. A most successful year is expected.

They Taste Like Outdoors

THERE is one kind of canned beans, known as "bean-hole beans" because they are cooked in the same way as the Maine lumberjacks bury and cook them, which taste exactly like these beans cooked outdoors. And there's something about food cooked outdoors which makes it especially appealing during the summer time. So here is a recipe in which this kind of bean is used which will store up enough energy for many swims, hikes and sets of tennis, to say nothing of numerous games of golf.

Here's Energy for You
Boston Bean Croquettes with Cheese Sauce and Bacon: Mash the contents of one can of bean-hole beans and add one teaspoon chopped onion, salt, pepper and one and one-fourth cups soft crumbs. Form into croquettes and roll in fine crumbs, then in one slightly beaten egg, and again in crumbs. Let stand at least fifteen minutes, then fry in deep fat (350°) until brown.

Cheese Sauce: Melt one tablespoon butter, add one tablespoon flour, and stir smooth. Add seven-eighths cup milk slowly, stirring until smooth and thick. Add one-half cup grated cheese, salt, pepper and paprika, and cook until the cheese is melted. Serve over croquettes, garnishing each with a slice of bacon. Serves four.*

FARM DEBT CONCILIATION

The Virginia Farm Debt Committee consists of the following members appointed by the Governor: G. W. Koener, commissioner of agriculture; Walter S. Newman, state director of agricultural education; C. Nelson Beck, President of Agricultural Conference Board of Virginia; G. F. Holsinger, president Farm Bureau Federation; W. T. Daniel, Virginia Bankers Association; R. T. Barton, State Horticultural Society; J. T. Lawrence, Life Insurance Company of Virginia; Mrs. C. Nelson Beck, president Virginia Homemakers Association; John R. Hutcheson, director of agricultural extension service, and Thos. W. Ozlin, State Corporation Commission.

The committee upon request of three or more worthy debtors in a county to the secretary will send a representative of the committee to such county to canvass the situation for the purpose of obtaining names of persons who will be recommended to the Governor for appointment on the county committees. The county committees will have no legal status, but will act to bring farm debtors and their creditors together.

Neither the State Farm Debt Committee nor the county conciliatory committees have any authority to make loans of any nature to farmers. All applications for loans should be made through the local county farm loan association, local correspondents of the Land Bank Commission or direct to the Federal Land Bank of Baltimore. Through these agencies it is now possible to secure loans totaling 75 per cent of the appraised normal value of the land and 50 per cent of an appraised normal value of the buildings.

Worthy farm debtors in any county desiring the establishment of a county conciliatory committee should communicate with C. Nelson Beck, secretary, Virginia Farm Debt Committee, Charlottesville, Va. Your county agent will be glad to be of any possible assistance.

AMEND CHICAGO MILK AGREEMENT

Amendments to the milk marketing agreement and license for the Chicago metropolitan area, revising the price schedules in the agreement and license which went into effect August 1, were signed by Secretary Wallace and became effective at 12:01 a.m. November 3. Under the amendments the price to producers of fluid milk is increased from $1.75 per 100 pounds to $2.10 per 100 pounds. The price to consumers is increased from 10 cents to 11 cents per quart, and is the same price they paid in October 1932. Milk for official relief and welfare agencies may be sold at the wholesale price of 9 1-2 cents a quart, delivered to homes by the distributors. Higher feed prices and rising farm costs led to the request for the amendments to the original agreement. This request was made early in September by producers through the Pure Milk Association.

CATHARPIN
 Mr. and Mrs. S. W. McCarty of Delaplane, Va., were Lawn Vale visitors on Thursday of last week.
 Chicken pox seems more or less prevalent among the children of Catharpin School just now and the attendance record suffers accordingly.
 Mrs. Jennie McIntosh and son, Luther, visited the Palmer Smith home near Gainesville on Sunday.
 Little Miss Bertha Pattie has been confined to her room suffering from liver trouble but is much improved as we write.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. R. McDonald were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Lynn at Ben Lomond on Sunday where they met up with Mrs. E. May Dogan and Mrs. Roberta Lynn on Sunday, which together with the host, hostess and their family completed a very enjoyable circle all ready to do ample justice to a great dinner; and we all did just that.

The community was startled awake on Tuesday night of last week when a bunch of Hallowe'en "Marauders" from Stone House neighborhood came tumbling in all dressed in appropriate costume to inform us that Hallowe'en was abroad in the land and to make a guess as to who they were; and the guessing was surely some job. They were so well disguised, so well mixed up and with all the queerest looking mess of humanity any one ever saw; the boys were girls and the girls boys; the men were women and the women men; the old were young and the young old; so what could you do? They traveled by motor, that is, in a cattle truck all fenced about with a high rack to keep the "animals" from falling out and thus they visited from house to house carrying with them laughter and cheer. They were a jolly bunch indeed. Such little episodes of jollity and good spirit are worth much to any community and certainly furnish a grand outlet for the pent-up spirit and enthusiasm of the youngsters who are ever craving for something to relieve their youthful passion for fun and excitement.

The Quilting Fraternity of the Sudley Missionary Society is now almost overwhelmed with fall and winter orders. The cold snap of late seems to have reminded folks that winter is on the way and they must needs prepare for it. Last week they sold two of the finished product and have received orders for a number to be quilted. In this connection, Mrs. Etta P. Lynn, as "Envoy Extraordinary" visited Washington last week and arranged for the quilting of two fancy quilts destined to make some one happy and comfortable on Christmas; and so it goes. If they keep on the society will have to establish a "Quiltery" in order to keep up with the demands thrust upon them.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Lynn and family accompanied by a large, well-roasted turkey, visited Mrs. Lynn's mother, Mrs. Metz, in Manassas on Sunday and helped her celebrate her 82nd birthday. We couldn't mind if some one would play a trick like that on our birthday, would you?

Miss Pitts will give a demonstration in cheese making at the home of Mrs. George A. Carey on Friday, Nov. 17, at 1 p.m. to which all interested in the project are cordially invited.

The above item calls to mind that old saying that "History repeats itself." We well remember when our grandparents regarded the cheese press with as much respect as they did the sausage grinder, the wind mill, the old dash churn or the grindstone; in other words no farm equipment was complete without it. We can yet visualize that old, familiar pantry shelf with its half-dozen or more "hoops of cheese" which we kids and the mice visited as often as it was healthy to do so, but both, when caught, suffered the prescribed penalty—the one a spanking and the other capital punishment; but this old custom has passed away with so many other things and the farmer now depends upon the commercialized product when he has it at all; usually his greatest use for it is with some crackers when caught away from home at noon and does not have the price of a meal at the hotel. However, this announcement seems to indicate that this long neglected or forgotten art of making cheese in the home is on its way back and unless this column misses its guess, there are more things of like import that are either on their way back or are over-due to start back in order to preserve a properly-balanced and economic mode of living. If history is now repeating itself in this particular we shall allow the reader to be the judge; at any rate, some of the "new" things we have today might well be traded for some of those old-time ways of supplying the larder to our economic advantage.

VACUUM TUBES BOOST LONG DISTANCE CALLS

Use of vacuum tube repeaters in boosting conversations over long distance telephone lines has been greatly increased in recent years through the research and development work of the Bell Telephone Laboratories.

Use of the present type of vacuum tube repeaters would mean a saving in operating expenses of the Bell System Companies of approximately $12,000,000 annually as compared with the use of vacuum tubes of ten or fifteen years ago and by a much greater amount as compared with the use of such equipment as was utilized in 1914, according to the Bell Telephone Quarterly.

Vacuum tubes in use as late as 1923 had an average life of less than one-tenth of the life of the present tube and consumed several times as much power in its operation, according to D. K. Gannett in his article, "The Vacuum Tube and Telephone Communication," in the current quarterly. This type of tube, he says, was almost as great an improvement again over the first vacuum tube utilized in the transmission of the voice in 1914.

The average cost of keeping a vacuum tube socket supplied with tubes and with power, according to Mr. Gannett's article, would be increased about $33 per year if the tubes of ten years ago were used in place of the modern ones and over $200 per year if the very earliest tubes were used, even when it is assumed that the price of the older tubes is based on present manufacturing costs rather than the higher cost that prevailed in that earlier day of their use.

It is illuminating to learn that as many as 200 vacuum tube repeaters are being utilized in telephone circuits connecting cities along the Atlantic and Pacific seaboard. Take as an example a New York-Los Angeles long distance telephone circuit. More than 200 vacuum tubes are utilized during a conversation over one of these circuits. About one-half of these tubes are used when the easterner speaks to the westerner and the other half are called into play when the westerner replies to the easterner.

Vacuum tube repeaters were first used in regular commercial telephone service about the beginning of 1914. Their use increased rapidly, Mr. Gannett states, more than doubling every

Eisele on Oonawa, Iowa, with Mr. Eisele receiving a check for $64.44, and his landlord, Mary McNeill, a check for $42.96. The average amount of the checks mailed to Monona County is $107.50. LOCAL MEN WILL REPLACE STAFFORD WORKERS

Approximately 100 Stafford county men who have been working on public works projects at Quantico must be discharged and Prince William citizens hired in their places, it was announced yesterday.

Through a misunderstanding, it was said, contractors doing street paving and constructing sea wall here hired the Stafford men. Under provisions of public works loans, the men in the county in which a project is situated, must be given preference in jobs.

The action came as a result of complaints to Mrs. Jennie Abel, welfare supervisor, who caused an investigation to be made by Bernard H. Cook, chairman of the Northern Virginia district of the Federal Reemployment Bureau.

After a conference with contractors and Lieut. P. J. Halloran, local public works officer, it was decided to stage the dismissals, laying off a few Stafford county men each week and replacing them with Prince William unemployed.

In order to avoid further confusion, unemployed have been directed by Mrs. Abel to register with C. C. Cloe in his garage at Triangle. Contractors will replace dismissed men from Cloe's list.

An Army of Children

The membership in the Junior Red Cross last year was 6,429,866 boys and girls in schools, private, public and parochial. They enjoyed volunteer work in hospitals and for orphans, the aged and crippled, and also aided their schoolfellows by providing attention for their eyes, purchasing their glasses, and giving many other types of service to them. The Juniors aid their school work by carrying on correspondence and the exchange of portfolios with school children in other nations.

Here's the Reason for This Sensational Sale!

Everybody makes a mistake some time or other. We did. We bought double the amount of merchandise this season thinking business was going to improve and that we could save by buying at that time. Of course we did save as compared to the cost of merchandise today. But we have on hand just twice the amount of merchandise we should have. Rather than gamble on the future and take the chance of carrying this stock over into another season, we have decided to reduce prices—reduce stock—and give our patrons the benefit of genuine reductions at a time when they will appreciate them most. Everything in this sale is the latest style—our standard quality and bought at the low market—if you need—Dry Goods, Blankets, Shoes, Hose, Coats or Dresses.
