SUBSCRIPTION $1.50 A YEAR

HOMEMAKERS ELECT MRS. LLOYD

Rev. DeChant Addresses Group on Citizenship.

Sunshine and somewhat improved roads favored the County Homemakers for their quarterly meeting, held at Haymarket on Thursday, March 15. The Rev. John DeChant, in speaking on "What It Means To Be a Good Citizen," complimented the group on its aims and activities and assured it by such is good citizenship developed.

The goals submitted and accepted for the year are:

1. 4-H Clubs. That we as groups and individuals promote and encourage and increased interest in enrollment of our boys and girls in the 4-H club program.

2. Health. That we work for better health by promoting and sponsoring clinics, pre-school check-ups, and serving hot lunches in every school for 1934-35 session. Give assistance to nurse in locating children in need of corrections, and assist in transporting and giving financial assistance when needed if possible.

3. Beautification. That we make a special effort as homemakers to beautify our homes, schools, churches and other public buildings by planting and cleaning-up campaigns. Participating in State-wide planting of dogwood.

4. Citizenship. That we give some time in our group meetings to the study of our Government—County, State and National, and arrange to have at least one speaker during year to speak on Citizenship in local school. Every woman register and participate in local elections.

5. Thrift. That we promote thrift by encouraging home baking of breads, home sewing including remodeling, magazine distribution. (Each woman find some other woman in her community who is in need of this information and instruction and assist her with her individual problems.)

Mrs. Eli Swavely of Manassas made a plea for the county-wide roadside beautification with the use of dogwood.

Officers elected for the year are: Mrs. W. L. Lloyd, president; Mrs. M. J. Shepherd, secretary; Mrs. M. J. Shepherd; Mrs. T. Powell Davis, treasurer; Mrs. Esther Terrell, vice-president, Gainesville district; Mrs. Margaret Lewis, vice-president, Manassas district; Mrs. N. N. Free, vice-president, Brentsville district; Mrs. Wallace Dawson, vice-president, Occoquan district.

SENATOR STAPLES SUCCEEDS SAUNDERS

Long Prominent in Civic Life of Staunton.

Abram Penn Staples, State senator from Roanoke and for many years a practicing attorney there, was appointed attorney-general of Virginia last night by Governor Peery. He is 48 years old and received his academic and legal training at Washington and Lee University, where his father, the late Abram Penn Staples, was professor of law.

The new Attorney-General was born in Martinsville, September 18, 1885, the son of Abram Penn and Sallie Hunt Staples, and five years later the family moved to Roanoke. He was graduated from Roanoke high school and then moved to Lexington, where his father was at that time teaching. Both his A.B. and L.B.B. degrees were received at W. & L., where he was a member of the Phi Kappa Sigma fraternity, Phi Delta Phi law fraternity and ribbon societies.

He is a nephew of the late Judge Waller R. Staples of the Corporation Court of Roanoke and a great nephew of the elder Judge Waller R. Staples of the Supreme Court of Appeals of Virginia, shortly after the War Between the States.

Senator Staples was president of the Roanoke Bar Association in 1923-24 and received the unanimous endorsement of the Roanoke bar for judge of the Supreme Court in January, 1924, and received twenty-four votes in the Democratic caucus.

Four years later he was elected to the State Senate and soon obtained a place on such prominent committees as Steering, Finance, Roads, Privileges and Elections, Counties, Cities and Towns and General Laws.

ATTENDING A CONFERENCE

Mr. Hinton Tiffany is in Washington today attending a conference on the Milling Code.

Jack Ratcliffe, son of the widely known and very popular banker, G. R. Ratcliffe, has joined the ranks of the young men who are doing things in the old home town. He has gone in partnership in the insurance business with his father and his office will be in the Peoples Bank building, Manassas.

Jack needs no introduction to the people of the county which his people have served for generations. The Journal predicts a successful future for him.

CAPITOL HEAD VISITS KIWANIS

Carruthers Wants Active Campaign to Help Young People.

With 100 per cent of its membership present as well as delegations from Charlottesville, Alexandria and both the governor, E. I. Carruthers, of the University of Virginia, and the lieutenant-governor, Irvin Diener, a leading legal light of old Belle Haven, the Kiwanis Club celebrated royally last Friday night. To top things they gave the musical numbers in the minstrel show for the benefit of their guests who sat it out patiently.

Carruthers, who has under his care over 2,000 of young people at the University, is urging a campaign stressing assistance through the vocational guidance work and assistance of this type. He made a very forceful talk citing similar campaigns being put on in other Virginia towns by the Kiwanis and hoped to see something crystallize here very shortly.

Bob Hutchison made the address of welcome, especially to Harry Kennedy's whippers.

LUDWELL LEE

Ludwell Lee, son of the late William Fairfax Lee and Caroline Higges of Chantilly, Fairfax County, died at the residence of his niece, Mrs. W. A. Henry, near Manassas, Saturday night, March 17.

Mr. Lee was born at the old Lee home near Chantilly November 9, 1855 and resided there until his marriage to Mary H. Carter in 1883. His wife died 12 years ago and a daughter, Sarah Carter Lee, died when only 11 years of age.

Funeral services were conducted Monday at 2 o'clock from the Chantilly Church by Elder Lefferts, pastor of the "Old Frying Pan" Baptist Church of which he had been a consistent member for a number of years. Interment was by the side of his wife in Chantilly Churchyard.

Mr. Lee who belonged to the distinguished Lee family of Virginia was beloved for his genial disposition, bearing his last illness and troubles of life, which were many, with great patience. He is survived by one sister, Mrs. Lizzie Lee Reed of Round Hill, the last of a family of ten, and a number of nieces and nephews.

IMPROVE JUNIOR HALL

Grover Evans and I. R. Wolverton this week donated their services in constructing a girder at the Junior Hall which allowed the removal of a strut which had formerly been quite bothersome.

FAREWELL DINNER

The C.C.C. boys will hold their farewell dinner at the Camp next Sunday, March 25. The menu will include chicken soup, roast chicken, with stuffing, mashed potatoes, giblet gravy, creamed corn, creamed peas, celery, olives, pie a-la-mode and coffee.

KIWANIS MINSTREL SHOW April 13 and 14

A REGRETTABLE INCIDENT

A few days ago we were apprized that the merchants of Manassas were being boycotted by the C.C.C. Camp. We phoned the camp and received a letter and a very pleasant call from the Captain.

We believe that if a boycott were proposed by the men because of alleged indifference to their social activities by the ladies of Manassas, the good sense and patriotic appreciation of the object of these camps will stop any such silly antagonism.

Knowing that social overtures on the part of the camp, which aroused this discussion, were offered in the spirit of courtesy, we refrain from criticism. But on the part of the men of Manassas, we are presuming to offer them a little friendly advice.

Manassas and Prince William County represent some of Virginia's best families and that carries a sentiment of the true and loyal ideals of the South. To the Southern man womanhood is a sacred trust. He does not carry the ladies of his family into his business deals and trade them for dollars. He escorts his wife and daughters and enters into their social life—he does not permit them to go to dances that he may sell produce. A little cogitation on the part of the C.C.C. men will result in kindlier feeling.

We entertain the most cordial regard for the officers and men of the camp and believe that when the misunderstanding evaporates they will heartily endorse Manassas and resume their business with us.

"There's something about a soldier that's fine, fine, fine!"

TOWN BALL TEAM IS RE-ORGANIZED

An enthusiastic group met Tuesday night in the Town Hall to discuss plans for organization of a baseball team for the coming season. Mayor Harry P. Davis acted as temporary chairman, and the following permanent officers were elected: president, F. R. Hynson; secretary-treasurer, J. Jenkyn Davies.

On Tuesday, March 28, another meeting will be held in the same place at which time the election of a manager-coach will take place. The majority of those present expressed the opinion that it was undesirable to have two teams in town working in opposition to each other, and that the best solution would be to have all ball players under the same management.

It is hoped that all in this community interested will turn out for the meeting next Tuesday.

UNION SIGNAL DAY

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union will meet at the home of Mrs. T. R. Bywaters Wednesday, March 28, at 3 p.m. There will be a "Union Signal Day" program and as this is a public meeting everyone is welcome. Members will please come prepared to give a short reading from the "Signal" of their own selection. Come prepared to renew your subscription, and ask others to subscribe for this valuable paper. Will members also bring all papers that have in them "Signal Day" songs.

ATTORNEY GENERAL DIES AT SALUDA

John R. Saunders Was Picturesque Politician.

The death of Col. John R. Saunders, Attorney General of Virginia, on March 17 was the occasion of much sorrow through the State, and in this county, where he had many friends.

Serving the people for sixteen years as their Attorney General, John Saunders had become a landmark in State jurisprudence and politics. Of distinguished and pleasing personality, he occupied a difficult office through a long and trying period and his rulings, many of them most ingenious and original, stood the test of legal battle to a remarkable extent and his ideals made an imprint upon the public life of the State which will be felt for many years to come.

Col. Saunders was born in King and Queen County on Dec. 19, 1869, and descended from a distinguished line of English and Virginia ancestors. He was educated in the public schools of that county and at Stevensville Academy. Previous to his entrance into politics, he taught school successfully and then was elected to the State Senate. Upon being selected for the position of Attorney General of Virginia he continued to fill that position with distinction.

The funeral at Saluda on last Sunday was attended by Governor Peery and a large assemblage of distinguished mourners.

ON CAPITOL HILL

Direct from the Press Gallery.

Virginia is one of the eight States in the Union in which no problem has yet arisen in connection with the payment of teachers' salaries, according to a survey just completed by a subcommittee of the House Banking and Currency Committee.

The survey was made following the introduction of a Bill providing for handling of teachers' warrants by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation as a form of emergency aid.

In addition to Virginia, the other States are Maryland, Connecticut, Delaware, Indiana, Massachusetts, New Hampshire and New York.

The survey, however, shows that the other States owe the teachers in back salaries approximately $57,000,000 and that the teachers are holding warrants or certificates of indebtedness that cannot be handled in the normal manner amounting to $50,000,000.

The subcommittee, in considering the Bill, has been faced with two separate and distinct problems: (1) Refinancing school district indebtedness when the Reconstruction Finance Corporation feels that the Government would not jeopardize its funds by such refinancing; and (2), the meeting of teachers' salaries during the emergency.

Boundary Settlement Near

Settlement of the century old boundary dispute between Virginia and the District of Columbia is virtually assured as the result of the action of Congress in passing the Smith Bill to create a special commission for this purpose.

The measure, sponsored by Representative Howard W. Smith, Democrat of Virginia, went through the House about three weeks ago, and the Senate recently passed it without opposition. All it needs now to become effective is the signature of

Report of Mrs. Marion Lewis, Relief Aide, Prince William County, For Week Ending March 20

Total case load for Pr. Wm. Co. 216
No. lbs. surplus Government meat distributed 540
No. lbs. surplus Government butter distributed 230

Now that weather conditions are beginning to improve, the number of persons seeking aid in the way of food and clothing has decreased slightly, and some are beginning to find work.

Due to the large amount of work and the number of cases that must be investigated immediately, it has been necessary to employ two new workers, Evelyn H. Cocke, assistant relief aide, and Virginia Conner, stenographer.

CHARITY BALL PLANS COMPLETE

Final plans and arrangements for the annual Charity Ball, to be given by the Manassas Woman's Club on Easter Monday, April 2, in the high school gymnasium, are being completed this week, according to announcement made by Mrs. G. Raymond Ratcliffe, general chairman.

Music will be furnished by a well-known Washington orchestra and promises to be a real treat for those attending. This is one of Washington's newest and most popular orchestras, and the music committee feels pleased in having been able to obtain them for this gala occasion.

Special decorations in keeping with the season also are being arranged for and put in place by an efficient committee under the direction of Mrs. A. A. Hooff.

Invitations are being mailed to all sections of northern Virginia and requests for information show an unusual interest among "out-of-towners." Large delegations are expected from all the near-by towns.

Refreshments will be sold for the benefit of the club and comfortable and convenient arrangements made for all who wish to attend either as spectators or for dancing.

The hours are from 9:30 p.m. to 2 a.m., the place Manassas High School gymnasium, and the purpose, to raise funds to carry on the charitable work of the club.

Make your plans now to be among those present, for your entertainment and enjoyment, and to give comfort and relief to the underprivileged child by your contribution.

LEISURE CLASS STUDIES PIES

Find Home Products Are O. K.

Pies were the main objective of the last meeting of the Leisure Hour class supervised by Miss Draper. Lemon and chocolate pies were made with different brands and quality of ingredients. Our home product, White Rose flour, and a well-known western brand was used but there was no detectable difference in the pastry which proved to be flaky and tender in texture.

The lemon pie fillings were quite a success and although the chocolate filling has not quite been perfected they all made an attractive appearance.

The meringue proved to be just the splendid results with which anyone would like to top off an afternoon's work.

Next week the class will devote their time to tarts, perfection of fillings and different recipes for pastry using hot water and cream pastry.

Perfection of pastries is hoped for in the coming meeting.

CONVICT C.W.A. WORKERS

Several C.W.A. workers at Fort Humphreys were convicted in Judge Brown's court last week at Fairfax because they were carrying district licenses on their cars.

They pleaded guilty and received the minimum fine. Several cases were quashed by Judge Brown.

TEACHERS MEET

There will be a teachers' meeting for all teachers in the county at the Manassas High School Saturday morning.

There will be several speakers on the new curriculum. D. W. Peters and Miss Ruth Henderson of the State Board are expected to address the group.

There will also be a general discussion.

EASTERN STAR NAMES OFFICERS

Installation Tomorrow Night.

Wimodausis Chapter, O. E. S., met in the Masonic Temple on Tuesday evening with a large attendance. This was the last regular meeting of the year, and the new officers were chosen at this session for the year of 1934-35. The chapter has closed a most successful year. It has added new members to its roll, its charitable work has surpassed other years, and the finances are in a splendid condition.

The officers elected for the ensuing year: Mrs. Nina Wade-Dalton, worthy matron; Mr. Paul Cooksey, worthy patron; Mrs. Margaret Broadus, associate matron; Mrs. W. N. Wenrich, associate patron; Mrs. Lillian Burke, conductress; Mrs. Norma Cooksey, associate conductress; Mrs. Robert Newman, secretary; Mrs. Viola Proffitt, treasurer; Mrs. Robert Smith, organist; Mrs. Frank Browning, marshal; Mrs. Thomas Broadus, Chaplain. Star points: Mrs. Robt. Hutchison, Adah; Mrs. Margaret Lewis, Ruth; Mrs. Frank Sigman, Esther; Mrs. R. C. Haydon, Martha; Mrs. Walker Merchant, Electa; Mrs. Melva McDonald, warden; Mr. C. Wade-Dalton, sentinel.

These officers will be installed on Friday evening in the Masonic Temple at 8:00 p.m. by Mrs. Minnie E. Keyes, the right worthy grand secretary, of Washington, D. C., assisted by Mrs. Bushong, of the local chapter. A number of visitors are expected from nearby places, and plans are being made for quite an elaborate evening.

After the regular business session last Tuesday evening an entertainment was held on the second floor, after which delightful refreshments were served.

LIQUOR BOARD IS SELECTED

Tyler, Frazier and Bullington Will Administer Liquor Sale.

Last Friday afternoon Governor Peery announced his appointments to the Virginia Alcoholic Beverage Control Commission, and early reaction indicates widespread satisfaction.

S. Heth Tyler will be chairman. He is the son of a former Governor of Virginia and has been mayor of Norfolk, and is a prominent attorney of that city.

T. McCall Frazier, director of the Division of Motor Vehicles, has been placed on the Commission and his place will be filled by John Q. Rhodes, of Louisa County, who will now become Motor Vehicle Director.

The third member of the Commission will be R. Mc. Bullington, a prominent business man of Richmond, and a former president of the State Chamber of Commerce.

PRINCE WM. DAIRYMEN ENROLL BULLS IN PROJECT

20 dairy bulls have been entered in the Virginia Dairy Bull Improvement Registry Project by the following members of the Prince William County Dairy Herd Improvement Association:

J. J. Miller, Nokesville; John N. House, Greenwich; J. I. Payne, Nokesville; T. R. Hurst and Son, Manassas; O. R. Hersch, Manassas; Wilmer Kline, Manassas; Johnson Bros., Clover Hill Farm, Manassas; R. S. Hynson, Manassas; District of Columbia Workhouse Dairy, Occoquan; E. W. Thompson, Woodbridge; P. A. Lewis, Manassas; and W. G. Covington, Manassas.

This project has been planned as a practical means whereby dairymen may develop, through the use of proved bulls in their breeding programs, cows having a greater actual as well as inherent ability to produce milk and butterfat. The fundamental purpose is to develop and encourage the use of more proved dairy bulls, to the end that these herds may become more efficient producers of milk and butterfat and also that these herds may become more dependable sources of breeding stock.

Each bull has been rated for type by V. P. I. Dairy Specialists and from testing records of dams and daughters the ability of the bulls to hand down milk producing ability in their daughters will be determined.

WHO IS THIS?

By Rev. O. R. Kesner

Text: And when he was come into Jerusalem, all the city was moved, saying, "Who was this?" Matt. 21:10.

The thought of the early fathers of the church in giving special recognition to important events in the life of Christ is certainly very beautiful and important, and we believe, will always be a means of spiritual enrichment. We are also reminded of how easy it is for the Christian world to fall into mannerisms and ritualistic formalism to the extent that there is a lack of appreciation of the great truths that form a basis for both his life and ours.

The final and triumphant entry of Jesus into Jerusalem occurred just a few days before man's complete redemption was paid, in the giving of the life of God's own Son. Many times before had Jesus entered Jerusalem, but this time it was different, both in the manner of coming into the city, and the acclaim accorded him. Instead of becoming an earthly king for the time, with the vision of the Cross just ahead, Jesus knew he was soon to become King of Kings for all time. We can now understand the real meaning of the strown palm branches and the glad cries of "Hosanna—blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord."

While the multitude was honoring Jesus, the city as a whole, though moved, was asking the question, "Who is this?" No wonder Jesus wept over Jerusalem when he fathomed the hearts of her people. Had not John the Baptist made clear his message of introducing Jesus? What about the types and prophecies for more than 2,000 years? Had his own teaching and ministry not been sufficient? Would they still doubt after he went to the cross and gave life itself? These or similar questions must have flooded his thoughts as Jesus, with mingled emotion of joy and sorrow faced the multitudes that day. But failure to recognize and accept him was not all—God's house was being dishonored. A "man of prayer" was this Son of God, and the Temple must be a place where prayer is offered to God, rather than a place of merchandise.

Jesus was offered a temporal kingdom. Finally he had taught a reversal of this order. "But seek first the kingdom of God and His righteousness, and all these things shall be added unto you." Matt. 6:33. How many people today are ready to put spiritual things first? Jesus cannot be "all the world to me unless I put Him first." Acceptance of Him as the world's Saviour, and therefore a personal Saviour, means a day of triumph and also the opportunity for a life gladdened by service and victory.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. F. Brower of Purcellville, Va., were recent visitors to the parental home at Lone Oak where they found the patient, Dr. Brower, much improved after his recent illness from pneumonia.

Miss Frances Robertson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Holmes Robertson of Lawn Vale, was a week-end visitor of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. McCarty, of Delaplane, Va.

Miss Alice Perry and a young lady friend of Chevy Chase, Md., were Saturday afternoon callers at Oakwood last week.

Mrs. E. May Dogan, Mrs. C. G. Lynn and her daughters, Nan, Jane and Bonnie, surprised and gladdened the hearts of many last Sunday forenoon by a little "whirlwind" visit among friends in the neighborhood, first calling upon Mrs. Mary C. Watkins of Sudley, then on to see just how Dr. Brower was behaving himself after his recent illness, and from thence to see Mrs. E. N. Pattie at Catharpin and finally rounding up at Oakwood for a brief call, then on to Haymarket where we lost track of them entirely. It certainly was a great pleasure to see them even for the few minutes allocated to each visitée.

The many friends of Mrs. N. C. Pattie of Falls Church, Va., were very sorry to learn of her father's death which occurred last week at his home in West Virginia. Mrs. Pattie is well known and loved by friends and acquaintances at Catharpin who are thinking of her just now.

The "Ides of March" arrived on the 15th closely followed by old St. Patrick who, in turn, has inspired the up-to-date planter with the notion that the 17th of March is the only day upon which potatoes should be planted if you would reap a full crop. Consequently, Saturday was a busy day among the various patches where whole families turned out, en masse to see that tradition was not violated. There are so many "signs" connected with early spring plantings that it would require a good sized book to contain them all, but this year we heard a new one. The process of preparation was in full blast—plowing, harrowing, etc.—when it was discovered that it was almost "dinner time" and they were not quite ready to plant. They said, "At least one row must be planted before dinner or else its bad luck." So a row was marked out and planted and to all intents and purposes, happiness reigned supreme in the anticipation of a bountiful harvest. Now you tell one.

Little Robert Alvey, young son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Alvey of Catharpin, while playing in the hay mow, fell through to the floor below bruising himself badly but fortunately breaking no bones. A few days, however, are expected to repair all damages and set things "to rights" again. Like "Pigs Is Pigs" so "Boys Is Boys" and must investigate things even tho they have to suffer the consequences.

Mrs. W. T. Robinson of 717 Louisiana St., Richmond, Va., said: "I hardly had strength to walk across the floor. I suffered from pains in my back, headaches and nervousness. I took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and fully regained my health and strength."

Originally prescribed for his patients by Dr. R. V. Pierce, over 60 years ago.

New size, tablets 50 cts., liquid $1.00. Large size, tabs. or liquid, $1.35. "We Do Our Best."

The most adventurous of all film expeditions to the Arctic was undertaken by a company from the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios headed by Col. W. S. Van Dyke, to record in photography and sound that great epic of the North, "Eskimo."

The picture, which will come to the Dixie Theatre in Manassas next Monday, presents not only a stirring and engrossing panorama of the life with its dangers and hardships of the natives living in the icy regions, but also is the first photoplay to treat of the Eskimo's strange code of morals, which permits the loaning of one's wife to one's friend and the exchanging of wives freely.

It is that extraordinary "matrimonial code" which provides the story's powerful theme. Mala, the principal character of "Eskimo," has two wives, and while he does not mind lending his wife to his brother Eskimos, he deeply resents the lecherous desires of a white captain of a whaling ship, an antagonism which ultimately culminates in a murder.

A few statistics on the preparations and accomplishments of the trip made to film this remarkable picture are enough to stagger the imagination.

tion. The journey covered more than 13,000 miles from Hollywood to Point Barrow and return. The company boarded the whaling schooner "Nanuk" at Nome, proceeded to Point Barrow, northernmost point inhabited by man where the boat was frozen in for the winter, and later returned with the breaking up of the ice in the spring.

They carried more than thirty-five members in the company, not including guides and Eskimos picked up at Point Barrow. Dog sleds were used for land work and living quarters were in the ship or ashore in igloo camps.

They took with them some fifty tons of food, sleds, dog harnesses, furs, medical stores and trade goods for paying off the Eskimos. Captain Peter Freuchen, author of the book, also served as guide and technical expert with Col. Van Dyke, directing. Edward Hearn was assistant director and the cameramen were Clyde de Vinna, Josiah Roberts and George Nogle, who were Van Dyke's cameramen in "Trader Horn" and "White Shadows in the South Sea."

The ship carried everything from photographic laboratory to an office. Incidentally there were no rubber fountain pens in that office. Cold cracks rubber. Special vulcanized pens were made.

CHURCH FOR ALL—ALL FOR CHURCH
The Way of Safety
BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

If parents will have their children memorize the daily Bible selections, it will prove a priceless heritage to them in after years.

THE WAY OF SAFETY:
The Lord knoweth the way of the righteous; but the way of the wicked shall perish.—Psalm 1:6.

ELIJAH PASSES

One can readily understand the feelings of the members of the Century Club, New York, at the passing of their old Negro servant, Elijah Hicks.

In The Times, that most conservative of newspapers, his going is chronicled as one of the big local news stories of the day—a long sympathetic obituary which brings out clearly and ineffably the character of the man. It concludes with a sonnet by Robert Underwood Johnson, an effort which obviously was prompted by deep emotion.

It is such men as Elijah Hicks that make life worth while. Citizens who may justly lay claim to the title "great" strut in the passing show and we give them due obeisance. But there is in this mark of respect a cold formality which does not bespeak deep-seated affection. Often these men fail to play on our heartstrings. They have attributes which appeal to our intellectual being. That is all. The wells of emotion are untouched.

It is the simple, honest, courteous folk, like Elijah Hicks, who irradiate life with sunshine. There is something fine about them that grips our hearts and draws us to them. They are as living, moving sermons on right living and the proper relationships among men.

Of Elijah, Royal Cortissoz, the art critic said:

"Elijah was a model of fidelity and courtesy. As a member would come up the staircase into the main hall to sign for dinner, Elijah always rose from his chair, simply as a mark of respect. He did it so sweetly, so nicely, with such an air! One could see that he was every inch a gentleman."

Elijah Hicks was one of the many fine products of the Negro race in Virginia. He was born at Lawrenceville, Brunswick County. His like are to be found throughout the State. And what a benediction they are to the community. — Times-Dispatch.

TO SPEAK AT HAYMARKET

Mr. C. B. Roland and Mr. Charles Lynn will speak at Haymarket on the evening of March 23 on the tax situation. The program has been arranged by the Bull Run Grange and the public is cordially invited to attend.

Editor, Manassas Journal:

Your issue of 1st brings us its usual variety of news and interesting articles from its able correspondents, including the lucid and astute unscrambling of the "goose" problem by the Catharlin columnist, to whom the writer gratefully acknowledges his kindly reference to and appreciation of our friendship in the days of yore. But "miles are but the mystery of space that blends our sighs, but parts our smiles, for love will find a meeting place when face is farthest off from face."

I would be glad to comply with my good friend's enquiry as to how we prepare our feasts here in Panama, such as he refers to in Prince William, but it would be like "Sending Coals to Newcastle" to offer any suggestion in such matters to the Catharlin ladies, whose cuisine has for years won the highest praise from all who were fortunate enough to attend and partake of their feasts, or parties of any kind.

Because of having written a few words of well deserved praise of my old Prince William friends of former days, I am suspected of some covert intention of returning to the county to run for public service; but I am sure the disillusionment will be complete when I remind these friends that I did arrive in that county until A.D. 1851, I was then Quite Young, and have not grown much older since; therefore could not enter politics at this tender age.

However, should I attempt to explain in detail the reasons for my attachment to old Prince William and why I delight in having my memory swing back to the past, it takes the limits of this paper's space, as well, perhaps, as its readers' patience. But, embracing all, I would say, as Father Ryan so beautifully states it in his "Land Without Ruins":

"Yes give me the land where the ruins are spread
And the living tread light on the hearts of the dead
Yes give me the land that is blest by the dust
And bright with the deeds of the down-trodden just."Someone has said:
"A land without ruins is a land without memories; a land without memories is a land without history. A land that wears a laurel crown may be fair to see, but 'tis a few sad, cold leaves around the brow of any land, and be that land barren, beautiful and bleak, it becomes lovely in its consecrated coronet of sorrow, and it wins the sympathy of the heart and of history. Crowns of roses fade—crowns of thorns endure. Calvaries and crucifixions take the deepest hold of humanity. The triumphs of might are transient—they pass and are forgotten; the sufferings of right are grown deepest. AOs of right are graven deepest on the chronicles of nations."C. E. JORDAN,
Cristobal, Canal Zone.

GREENWICH HOME DEMONSTRATION GROUP TO MEET

The Greenwich Home Demonstration group will hold its March meeting at the home of Mrs. N. K. Middlethorn on Thursday, March 29, at 1:30 o'clock. The Sewing Machine, its Care and Use will be topic under consideration at this meeting. The demonstration will be presented by Mr. A. D. Langley and assistant representing a sewing machine company.

All women of Greenwich community are cordially invited to attend the meeting.

A CORRECTION

The maximum exemption of single persons under the state income tax is fixed at $1000, a new low. This was incorrectly stated as $1250 in a news article last week.

BRIEF LOCAL NEWS

ADEN WOMEN TO MEET

The March meeting of the Aden Home Demonstration Group will be held at Aden School on Wednesday, March 28, at 1:30 o'clock. The topic for study is "Reconditioning of Old Materials."

All women of the community are invited to attend.

A WORTHY CAUSE

There are a number of underprivileged children in Prince William County, who need help. The local Kiwanis Club has a fund which it devotes to this purpose. Unfortunately, the calls have been so heavy recently that the fund is practically exhausted.

In order that the work may continue, the local Kiwanians have decided to stage a minstrel show on the evenings of April 13 and 14, and turn over the entire proceeds to the fund.

President O. D. Waters says that if the people of Prince William County will patronize the show, they will have a pleasant evening, and also have a feeling of contentment, knowing that they have helped take care of some poor kiddie.

The price of admission is low and the cause worthy.

AN APPRECIATION

We wish to express our appreciation for the prompt and efficient service received from the Manassas Volunteer Fire Dept. on March 18.

BUSY DAYS AT BENNETT SCHOOL

On last Thursday Mrs. L. L. Lonas, who represented the U.D.C., gave a splendid talk to the fourth, fifth and sixth grade children on Sidney Lanier. The boys and girls were very interested in the talk and they are looking forward to other visits from this organization.

The hymn contest which is being sponsored by the music section of the Woman's Club and the Junior Music Study Club, is in full swing in the fifth and sixth grades. Misses Virginia Speiden, Marguerite Neale and Mrs. Robert Logan are due much credit for this work.

The hymns which are being studied are: O Beautiful for Spacious Skies, Brightest and Best of the Morning, The Church's One Foundation, Glorious Things of Thee are Spoken, Awake My Soul Stretch Every Nerve, When I Survey the Wondrous Cross, Hark! The Herald's Angels Sing, All Glory Laud and Honor.

Through this column we wish to thank the Postal Clerk Wives, the Kiwanis Club and the Leagues of Bennett and Manassas High for the free hot lunches which have been served during December, January, February and March.

The fourth grade Poetry Club re-elected officers last week for this month during which time they will study bird poems and other nature poems. The officers are: Guy Bowers, president; Frank Parrish, vice-president; Joseph Johnson, secretary; Shirley Davis, treasurer of girls, and Harry Smith, treasurer of boys.

The two third grades that have been working on Eskimo units are looking forward to the matinee "Eskimo" which has been arranged for next Tuesday afternoon.

CHILD DIES

Blanche Warren, aged 11, daughter of S. W. Warren, died yesterday after a brief illness with meningitis and was buried this afternoon at Bradley Church, Rev. Murray Taylor officiating.

MANASSAS A. C. CLOSES SEASON

Manager Davies Is Complimented.

The Manassas A. C. basketball team closed its most successful season in past years last Thursday with a victory over Warrenton A. C. on the latter's court by a surprisingly one-sided score of 39 to 21. Both teams have played each other three times this year, with Manassas winning two.

For the first few minutes of the game no points was scored by either team, and then the Manassas boys forged ahead with long shots and kept piling their lead until the end of the first half when the score was 19 to 5 in their favor.

In the second half the Warrenton team nearly gave Manassas a scare by coming from behind to within about six points of tying the score. Here the locals found their shooting eye once more and soon left Warrenton far behind.

The entire Manassas team played a good game, displaying excellent teamwork. Scoring was nearly evenly distributed among all of the local players.

Mention should be made of our manager, J. Jenkyn Davies, who faithfully worked for the interests of the team and made up a nice schedule this year. He was more like a member of the team than just a manager.

GILMORE GOLD CUP RACE

Seventy-five thousand spectators cheered madly as Stubby Stubblefield, popular Pacific coast racing star, piloted a Ford V-8 car to victory in the famous 250-mile Gilmore gold cup race for stock cars at the Los Angeles Municipal Airport. His time was four hours, 46 seconds, and his average speed over the two-mile track 62.367 miles an hour. Officials said the race was the toughest test ever given a stock car.

Supervised and sanctioned by the Contest Board of the American Automobile Association, the race, with its $3,500 in prize money, attracted 26 entrants. Of those 22 selected Ford V-8's for the long grind, partly because of the power and accelerative ability of the Ford V-8 engine and partly because the Ford transverse springs minimize tilting even at high speed around turns. The course was in the form of a letter "B", with only brief stretches of straightway. Ten Ford cars took the first ten places in the event to share in the prize money.

The Ford sweep in the event, the premier winter road racing classic of the Pacific coast, was a repetition of the results in the Elgin National Stock Car Road Race at Elgin, Ill., August 26, when seven Ford V-8's took the first seven places in the famous 200-mile event. Fred Frame, one of the entrants in the Los Angeles race, won in a Ford V-8, his average speed for the course being 80.22 miles per hour.

In a spectacular finish, with the crowd cheering wildly, Stubblefield nosed out Al Gordon, Pacific coast champion in 1933, by 32 seconds. At first Gordon was declared winner but careful checking by race officials showed that Stubblefield was the victor. Peter de Paolo carried off third place, Lou Meyer fourth and Rex Mays fifth. All drove Ford V-8 cars.

CENTREVILLE

In the absence of Miss Edythe Robson, principal of the school, who is detained by the illness of her mother in Culpeper, Mrs. Annie Turberville is acting as instructor and principal of the graded school. Mrs. Turberville is an experienced teacher who formerly taught regularly.

Services at St. John's Episcopal will be held on April 8 at 2:30. There will be no service this coming Sunday.

Mr. A. P. Holmes has started construction of a modern garage immediately in the rear of his tanks.

It is reported that the garage on the property of Mrs. Wolz will reopen under new management.

The next meeting of St. John's Guild will be held with Mrs. Woltz on the afternoon of April 4 (Wednesday). Visitors will be welcomed. Reports are expected on the sale of the handsome quilt donated by Mrs. Homer Wells.

The foundation work on the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Spindle is progressing rapidly.

Mr. Carroll Carter recently purchased a six-acre block of land on the Manassas road, formerly belonging to Mr. Davis Gheen. It has some very pretty building sites on it.

The road to Chantilly has held up remarkably well and travel is very easy except in one or two spots.

Mr. Turberville is clearing out the large trees on the east side of the Chantilly road just south of what was known for years as the Poplars.

Another home is being built on the Breeden subdivision.

BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

If parents will have their children memorize the daily Bible selections, it will prove a priceless heritage to them in after years.

THE WAY OF SAFETY:
The Lord knoweth the way of the righteous; but the way of the wicked shall perish.—Psalm 1:6.

ELIJAH PASSES

One can readily understand the feelings of the members of the Century Club, New York, at the passing of their old Negro servitor, Elijah Hicks.

In The Times, that most conservative of newspapers, his going is chronicled as one of the big local news stories of the day—a long sympathetic obituary which brings out clearly and ineffably the character of the man. It concludes with a sonnet by Robert Underwood Johnson, an effort which obviously was prompted by deep emotion.

It is such men as Elijah Hicks that make life worth while. Citizens who may justly lay claim to the title "great" strut in the passing show and we give them due obeisance. But there is in this mark of respect a cold formality which does not bespeak deep-seated affection. Often these men fail to play on our heartstrings. They have attributes which appeal to our intellectual being. That is all. The wells of emotion are untouched.

It is the simple, honest, courteous folk, like Elijah Hicks, who irradiate life with sunshine. There is something fine about them that grips our hearts and draws us to them. They are as living, moving sermons on right living and the proper relationships among men.

Of Elijah, Royal Cortissoz, the art critic said:

"Elijah was a model of fidelity and courtesy. As a member would come up the staircase into the main hall to sign for dinner, Elijah always rose from his chair, simply as a mark of respect. He did it so sweetly, so nicely, with such an air! One could see that he was every inch a gentleman."

Elijah Hicks was one of the many fine products of the Negro race in Virginia. He was born at Lawrenceville, Brunswick County. His like are to be found throughout the State. And what a benediction they are to the community. — Times-Dispatch.

TO SPEAK AT HAYMARKET

Mr. C. B. Roland and Mr. Charles Lynn will speak at Haymarket on the evening of March 23 on the tax situation. The program has been arranged by the Bull Run Grange and the public is cordially invited to attend.

Editor, Manassas Journal:

Your issue of 1st brings us its usual variety of news and interesting articles from its able correspondents, including the lucid and astute unscrambling of the "goose" problem by the Catharpin columnist, to whom the writer gratefully acknowledges his kindly reference to and appreciation of our friendship in the days of yore. But "miles are but the mystery of space that blends our sighs, but parts our smiles, for love will find a meeting place when fate is farthest off from face."

I would be glad to comply with my good friend's enquiry as to how we prepare our feasts here in Panama, such as he refers to in Prince William, but it would be like "Sending Coals to Newcastle" to offer any suggestion in such matters to the Catharpin ladies, whose cuisine has for years won the highest praise from all who were fortunate enough to attend and partake of their feasts, or parties of any kind.

Because of having written a few words of well deserved praise of my old Prince William friends of former days, I am suspected of some covert intention of returning to the county to run for public service; but I am sure the disillusionment will be complete when I remind these friends that I did arrive in that county until A.D. 1851, I was then Quite Young, and have not grown much older since; therefore could not enter politics at this tender age.

However, should I attempt to explain in detail the reasons for my attachment to old Prince William and why I delight in having my memory swing back to the past, it takes the limits of this paper's space, as well, perhaps, as its readers' patience. But, embracing all, I would say, as Father Ryan so beautifully states it in his "Land Without Ruins":

"Yes give me the land where the ruins are spread
And the living tread light on the hearts of the dead
Yes give me the land that is blest by the dust
And bright with the deeds of the down-trodden just."Someone has said:
"A land without ruins is a land without memories; a land without memories is a land without history. A land that wears a laurel crown may be fair to see, but a few sad, crooked leaves around the brow of any land, and be that land barren beautiful and bleak, it becomes lovely in its consecrated coronet of sorrow, and it wins the sympathy of the heart and of history. Crowns of roses fade—crowns of thorns endure. Calvaries and crucifixions take the deepest hold of humanity. The triumphs of might are transient—they pass and are forgotten; the sufferings of right are grown deepest. AOs of right are graven deepest on the chronicles of nations."C. E. JORDAN,
Cristobal, Canal Zone.

GREENWICH HOME DEMONSTRATION GROUP TO MEET

The Greenwich Home Demonstration group will hold its March meeting at the home of Mrs. N. K. Middlethorn on Thursday, March 29, at 1:30 o'clock. The Sewing Machine, Its Care and Use will be topic under consideration at this meeting. The demonstration will be presented by Mr. A. D. Langley and assistant representing a sewing machine company.

All women of Greenwich community are cordially invited to attend the meeting.

A CORRECTION

The maximum exemption of single persons under the state income tax is fixed at $1000, a new low. This was incorrectly stated as $1250 in a news article last week.

ADEN WOMEN TO MEET

The March meeting of the Aden Home Demonstration Group will be held at Aden School on Wednesday, March 28, at 1:30 o'clock. The topic for study is "Reconditioning of Old Materials."

All women of the community are invited to attend.

A WORTHY CAUSE

There are a number of underprivileged children in Prince William County, who need help. The local Kiwanis Club has a fund which it devotes to this purpose. Unfortunately, the calls have been so heavy recently that the fund is practically exhausted.

In order that the work may continue, the local Kiwanians have decided to stage a minstrel show on the evenings of April 13 and 14, and turn over the entire proceeds to the fund.

President O. D. Waters says that if the people of Prince William County will patronize the show, they will have a pleasant evening, and also have a feeling of contentment, knowing that they have helped take care of some poor kiddie.

The price of admission is low and the cause worthy.

AN APPRECIATION

We wish to express our appreciation for the prompt and efficient service received from the Manassas Volunteer Fire Dept. on March 18.

BUSY DAYS AT BENNETT SCHOOL

On last Thursday Mrs. L. L. Lonas, who represented the U.D.C., gave a splendid talk to the fourth, fifth and sixth grade children on Sidney Lanier. The boys and girls were very interested in the talk and they are looking forward to other visits from this organization.

The hymn contest which is being sponsored by the music section of the Woman's Club and the Junior Music Study Club, is in full swing in the fifth and sixth grades. Misses Virginia Speiden, Marguerite Neale and Mrs. Robert Logan are due much credit for this work.

The hymns which are being studied are: O Beautiful for Spacious Skies, Brightest and Best of the Morning, The Church's One Foundation, Glorious Things of Thee are Spoken, Awake My Soul Stretch Every Nerve, When I Survey the Wondrous Cross, Hark! The Herald's Angels Sing, All Glory Laud and Honor.

Through this column we wish to thank the Postal Clerk Wives, the Kiwanis Club and the Leagues of Bennett and Manassas High for the free hot lunches which have been served during December, January, February and March.

The fourth grade Poetry Club selected officers last week for this month during which time they will study bird poems and other nature poems. The officers are: Guy Bowlers, president; Frank Parrish, vice-president; Joseph Johnson, secretary; Shirley Davis, treasurer of girls, and Harry Smith, treasurer of boys.

The two third grades that have been working on Eskimo units are looking forward to the matinee "Eskimo" which has been arranged for next Tuesday afternoon.

CHILD DIES

Blanche Warren, aged 11, daughter of S. W. Warren, died yesterday after a brief illness with meningitis and was buried this afternoon at Bradley Church, Rev. Murray Taylor officiating.

MANASSAS A. C. CLOSES SEASON

Manager Davies Is Complimented.

The Manassas A. C. basketball team closed its most successful season in past years last Thursday with a victory over Warrenton A. C. on the latter's court by a surprisingly one-sided score of 39 to 21. Both teams have played each other three times this year, with Manassas winning two.

For the first few minutes of the game no points was scored by either team, and then the Manassas boys forged ahead with long shots and kept piling their lead until the end of the first half when the score was 19 to 5 in their favor.

In the second half the Warrenton team nearly gave Manassas a scare by coming from behind to within about six points of tying the score. Here the locals found their shooting eye once more and soon left Warrenton far behind.

The entire Manassas team played a good game, displaying excellent teamwork. Scoring was nearly evenly distributed among all of the local players.

Mention should be made of our manager, J. Jenkyn Davies, who faithfully worked for the interests of the team and made up a nice schedule this year. He was more like a member of the team than just a manager.

GILMORE GOLD CUP RACE

Seventy-five thousand spectators cheered madly as Stubby Stubblefield, popular Pacific coast racing star, piloted a Ford V-8 car to victory in the famous 250-mile Gilmore gold cup race for stock cars at the Los Angeles Municipal Airport. His time was four hours, 46 seconds, and his average speed over the two-mile track 62.367 miles an hour. Officials said the race was the toughest test ever given a stock car.

Supervised and sanctioned by the Contest Board of the American Automobile Association, the race, with its $3,500 in prize money, attracted 26 entrants. Of those 22 selected Ford V-8's for the long grind, partly because of the power and accelerative ability of the Ford V-8 engine and partly because the Ford transverse springs minimize tilting even at high speed around turns. The course was in the form of a letter "B", with only brief stretches of straightway. Ten Ford cars took the first ten places in the event to share in the prize money.

The Ford sweep in the event, the premier winter road racing classic of the Pacific coast, was a repetition of the results in the Elgin National Stock Car Road Race at Elgin, Ill., August 26, when seven Ford V-8's took the first seven places in the famous 200-mile event. Fred Frame, one of the entrants in the Los Angeles race, won in a Ford V-8, his average speed for the course being 80.22 miles per hour.

In a spectacular finish, with the crowd cheering wildly, Stubblefield nosed out Al Gordon, Pacific coast champion in 1933, by 32 seconds. At first Gordon was declared winner but careful checking by race officials showed that Stubblefield was the victor. Peter de Paolo carried off third place, Lou Meyer fourth and Rex Mays fifth. All drove Ford V-8 cars.

CENTREVILLE

In the absence of Miss Edythe Robson, principal of the school, who is detained by the illness of her mother in Culpeper, Mrs. Annie Turberville is acting as instructor and principal of the graded school. Mrs. Turberville is an experienced teacher who formerly taught regularly.

Services at St. John's Episcopal will be held on April 8 at 2:30. There will be no service this coming Sunday.

Mr. A. P. Holmes has started construction of a modern garage immediately in the rear of his tanks.

It is reported that the garage on the property of Mrs. Wolz will reopen under new management.

The next meeting of St. John's Guild will be held with Mrs. Woltz on the afternoon of April 4 (Wednesday). Visitors will be welcomed. Reports are expected on the sale of the handsome quilt donated by Mrs. Homer Wells.

The foundation work on the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Spindle is progressing rapidly.

Mr. Carroll Carter recently purchased a six-acre block of land on the Manassas road, formerly belonging to Mr. Davis Gheen. It has some very pretty building sites on it.

The road to Chantilly has held up remarkably well and travel is very easy except in one or two spots.

Mr. Turberville is clearing out the large trees on the east side of the Chantilly road just south of what was known for years as the Poplars. Another home is being built on the Breeden subdivision.

CLIFTON

Funeral services for Miss Annie Hickey, a lifelong resident of this community, were held in the Presbyterian Church at 2 o'clock Tuesday, March 20. Rev. DeChant conducted the services. Miss Hickey was a charter member of the Presbyterian Church. She is survived by three brothers, Redmond and Charles, of Clifton, Robert of Washington, and one sister, Mrs. Mary Burke of Richmond and a niece, Miss Rosamond Burke of Clifton. Interment was in Clifton cemetery.

Quite a number of children in this community are sick with measles. Mrs. Mae Teats, teacher in seventh grade, is very sick at the home of Mrs. George Kincheloe.

Mrs. Edgar Davis and Mrs. Ruth Pyles have been very sick at their respective homes here but are much improved.

Mrs. Annie Ford, accompanied by her daughter, Miss Violet Ford, and Mr. and Mrs. Collins, of Washington, were Clifton visitors last Sunday.

Mrs. Nannie K. Johnson and Miss Louise Koontz visited in Washington last week.

Mrs. Ruth Pyles was hostess to the Sunday school of the Clifton Baptist Church last Friday evening.

Mrs. Annie Adair was elected worthy matron of Clifton Chapter, O. E. S., No. 67 for 1934. Other officers elected: worthy patron, C. R. Buckley; associate matron, Mrs. Maude Taylor; associate patron, E. G. Taylor; secretary, Mrs. Grace L. Mathers; treasurer, Randolph Buckley; conductress, Mrs. Louise Merchant; associate conductress, Miss Eugenia Buckley; chaplain, Mrs. Fannie Hart; marshal, Mrs. Alice Woodyard; organist, Mrs. Helen Buckley; warden, H. J. West; sentinel, C. V. Mathers. Star points elected: Adah, Mrs. Maude West, Ruth, Mrs. Nannie Johnson, Esther, Mrs. Pauline Clifton, Martha, Mrs. Ruth Pyles; Electa, Miss Elizabeth Buckley.

Mrs. Maude West made the installation. Committees appointed by the newly-elected matron were as follows: Entertainment, Mrs. Ruth Pyles, Mrs. Maude Taylor, Mrs. Louise Merchant; flower and decoration, Mrs. Maude West, Mrs. Addie Weaver, Mrs. Helen Buckley, Miss Eugenia Buckley; sick, Mrs. Alice Woodyard, Mrs. Hattie Kidwell, Mrs. Pauline Clinton; refreshment, Mrs. Alice Woodyard, Mrs. Nannie Johnson, Mrs. Lily Buckley, and Mrs. Fannie Hart.

KEN MAYNARD DISPLAYS SARTORIAL COWBOY SPLENDOR IN "FIDDLIN' BUCKAROO"

Like most westerners, Ken Maynard doesn't want to die with his "boots on." However, if the reckless screens tar, whose every picture role is dangerous, ever does seriously injure himself, he'll have expensive and elaborate "boots" to die in.

The high heeled footgear he wears are made of the choicest Cordovan leather and are all handtooled by skilled Mexican workmen. His jingling Chihuahua spurs are solid silver, with gold inlay work, beaten out of the natural metal by Mexican chollas. Maynard's latest and most exciting western drama, Universal's "The Fiddlin' Buckaroo," the star exhibits the costly western boots. The fast paced film heads the bill at the Dixie Theatre in Manassas next Friday and Saturday, March 30-31.

WOODBIDGE

We have just had two or three days of fine spring weather and every one is feeling pretty good. Although today is cold with rain, snow and hail those spring days will carry us over this bad weather without much worry.

I notice a good many people leaving the post office are carrying seed catalogues so I guess spring isn't far off.

We still have a number of local people on the sick list.

Mrs. Walter Allen is now up and around and while she is not entirely well she is much better.

Two of the children of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Haislip have the measles. Keep the kids warm, Walter, and don't let them out too soon.

Mr. William Sanford has just recovered from the measles and is back to work.

Visitors in Woodbridge this week included Mr. and Mrs. Edward Stokes and Mrs. Johnson and daughter of Washington, D. C., who were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Davis.

WEEKLY LAUGHS FROM WOODBRIDGE

Harry and Reuben wants a bartender's guide. If anyone has one or knows where one can be gotten let Harry or Reuben know. Harry's wife says she hopes they get one soon or Harry will kill himself with some of the concoctions he fixes up at home.

I have heard so many people asking questions about Fatz's penthouse that I am printing a few verses to tell you all about it. I had a co-author on them.

Fatz was sitting in his garage
And he said to his Pop,
Let's build a penthouse on the roof
And put Woodbridge on the map.

I've seen them in the pictures
Like they have up in New York.
It will be a darn good ad for us,
For people are bound to talk.

We'll build three rooms, a kitchen and bath
And have a fireplace.

And T. P. sat there listening,
With a grin all over his face.

We'll get Pat Murphy to lay the brick,
He'll work for a dollar and a quarter.

We'll get these kids that hang around
To carry the brick and mortar.

We'll get those Smoketown builders
To put it up contract.

They don't know how to figure,
And we'll save ourselves some jack.

I'll have to watch them closely,
And tell them what to do.

Or Curley will cut the boards too short,
And Redman will tack in a shoe.

The movies at Humphreys will suffer,
The boys will come here for their fun.

They'll hang around here kidding
Curley,
The man with the badge and a gun.

T.P. gave them the contract,
And they signed on the dotted line.
Then they took two days to celebrate
On home-made dandelion wine.

Curley and Redman the carpenters,
They work right hard for their pay
But they take off each Saturday
And every holiday.

One Friday they didn't show up.
When Fatz asked why they did say,
We don't work on Friday now,
We have joined the N.R.A.

The day they cut out the rafters,
It was funny as could be.
When Redman did sigh, if I only had
VI,
To cut these out for me.

T.P. and Fatz were inspecting one day,
And Fatz was hot in the collar,
In some of the joints where they sealed the porch
You could slide a half a dollar.

Fatz said to me the other day,
These boys make a good pair.
They have been working here over five months
And my house is all out of square.

CECILIA PARKER PLAYS HER EIGHTH WESTERN ROLE IN "FUGITIVE"

Leading lady in seven western pictures since she left Hollywood high school a couple of years ago, pretty little Cecilia Parker is shortly to be seen in her eighth picture of the west, when "The Fugitive," thrilling story of the cattle country starring Rex Bell, comes to the Dixie Theatre in Manassas tomorrow.

Born in Ft. William, Canada, Miss Parker came to California with her parents at the age of thirteen years, and entered Hollywood high school. Before she graduated, however, she was seen by a Fox Studio executive and signed to a one-year contract. Consequently, she had to complete her education at the studio school.

She soon developed a marked talent for western pictures, being one of the few leading women who really know how to ride, and she was given several starring roles with George O'Brien. Since leaving Fox at the end of her first year, she has appeared in western pictures opposite Buck Jones, Tom Tyler, Ernie Nevers and Ken Maynard.

UNFAIR STATEMENT

Last week, when the Reserve Corps pilot, Lieut. R. C. Richardson, was killed in the plunge of his plane, that sad happening was loudly heralded as the eleventh fatality among Army fliers since the War Department took over the transportation of the mail. Sad as has been the death of each Army airman, in justice to the facts, it should be known that only four of them who died were engaged in the actual flying of mail. Richardson, on a test flight, was carrying no mail nor was any mail under the care of six other pilots among the eleven airmen in the Army service whose tragic deaths, from various causes, have occurred within the past month.

ARC AND THE DOVE

These two ships that brought Leonard Calvert's colonists to the shores of Maryland on March 25, 1634, are shown on the new series of postage stamps that will be sold on Saturday throughout the country. Commemorating the ter-centenary of that event this special issue of 50,000 scarlet and white three-cent stamps bears in the upper right-hand corner the arms of the Calverts quartered on the arms of the Alices Crossland, mother of the first Lord Baltimore.

HISTORIC CANNON

It is not generally known that two cannon which rank among the oldest pieces of ordnance in this country stand by the portals of Healy Hall at Georgetown University, the oldest Catholic college in the United States. They were brought to America on the "Arc" and the "Dove" 300 years ago by the Maryland Pilgrims who sailed from the Isle of Wite, November 22, 1633, and reached America's shores early in the following year.

Could they talk what interesting accounts of bygone days might be given by these once formidable objects. As it is, they bear mute testimony to the time, ages ago, when they formed a part of the battery in the fort erected by the English colonists as a protection to the infant city, St. Mary's, on the bank of the waters which they named St. Mary's Bay. In the salute to the new-born city, the very cannon since acquired by Georgetown University sent their thunders over the land.

In time, when the waters undermined the river bank, this fort, with its guns, was submerged. For a century the cannon lay embedded in the mud. The seat of Government had been removed from St. Mary's to Annapolis and the fleet's cannon were lost sight of until the year 1824 when they were rescued by Captain Thomas Carbury whose brother, Father Carbury, S.J., was instrumental in having the cannon placed near St. Inigo's Church in St. Mary's County. One of these guns was presented to the State of Maryland, in 1841, by Father Carbury, and two of the historic cannon were presented to Georgetown University at the time of its centennial celebration in 1889.

MEDAL WELL DESERVED

Mrs. W. F. Cross has been nominated by the U. S. Flag Association for award of the medal to the Floridian who contributed most to law enforcement in 1933. The courage of this brave woman merits this, and even greater, recognition since it is due to her alertness in striking the arm of Giuseppe Zangara when he fired at President Roosevelt that the assassin's bullet was deflected and life spared to our President.

JOHN BANNISTER TABB

Virginia paid homage to this gifted poet-priest and patriot when she erected to his memory a section of the State's Library at Richmond. Out of the anguish and chaos of the Civil War we see produced some of the most artistic verse that America has written and prominent among the Virginia scholars of that day stands "Father Tabb," as he was affectionately called. His family was among the early settlers of Virginia. His father, Thomas Yelverton Tabb, was a direct descendant of Sir Thomas Peyton, and Humphrey Tabb, Burgess of Elizabeth City County in 1652. His mother was Marianna Bertrand Archer, daughter of Dr. Archer of "The Forest," Amelia County, Virginia—the family estate where John Bannister Tabb was born March 22, 1845. His boyhood was passed in an atmosphere of culture and luxury. When only fourteen and reading was forbidden him because of poor eyesight that later resulted in blindness, he took up the study of music; frequently practicing six hours a day. The melody of his verse bears the stamp of the musician.

Tabb was sixteen years old when the War of the States began. His eyesight prevented him from securing an Army post; he enlisted as Captain's clerk in the Confederate Navy and was assigned to the "Robert E. Lee," one of the ships engaged in running the blockade. When on the "Siren" which had lost anchor, he was captured, June 4, 1864. This incident is recalled by him in his poem, "The Lost Anchor." With other captured Confederates, Tabb was sent to the "Bull Pen," Point Lookout, Md., and in that infamous prison for eight months endured the most unbelievable horrors. It was there he met Sidney Lanier, himself a prisoner, and their friendship proved lasting. Both were poets; both musicians, and Lanier's exquisite playing of the flute helped to dispel the gloom of those trying days.

When released from prison, Tabb returned to a war-ruined estate and resumed his music as a means of support. A position as instructor in St. Paul's Episcopal School, Baltimore, was secured by him in 1866 and there the young teacher found a friend and model in the rector, Alfred Curtis. Dr. Curtis went to Oxford in 1871 to consult John Henry Newman whose life and works have already been studied by Tabb and by him. The following year, Alfred Curtis was baptized in the Catholic Church in the presence of Dr. Newman. John Bannister Tabb, in the same year, was received into the Church by the then Bishop, later Cardinal, Gibbons. He was ordained a priest in 1884. Both of these scholars had followed Newman's advice: "Read these books if you like but pray and pray; nothing can help you more than humble prayer."

To the exalted calling of the priesthood, Father Tabb had the added gift of poetic genius. The blow of total blindness that came to him in later years did not stunt his pen for crush the soul of the poet-priest who had long been seeing with "another light."

"FUGITIVE LOVERS" AN ABSORBING MELODRAMA

Melodrama will be rampant at the Dixie Theatre in Manassas where "Fugitive Lovers," the new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture, plays next Wednesday and Thursday.

A new theme for Hollywood, the action in this exciting picture takes place almost entirely aboard a great Greyhound bus as it rips along westward from New York City.

Robert Montgomery, in the role of Porter, is an escaped convict who leads a prison break just as the bus is passing the penitentiary. While the firing causes the driver to halt the bus Porter manages to climb on to the luggage rack and hide under the tarpaulin. There he helps himself to clothing from an unlocked bag and enters the bus as a passenger at the next stop.

Madge Evans plays the role of a lovely chorine, Letty, who is escaping via the bus to Hollywood. Nat Pendleton is "Legs" Caffee, gangster and amorous backer of the show from which Letty has fled. On the same bus, he tries to persuade her to return with him.

That, in brief, is the enticing situation in the first few reels of "Fugitive Lovers," the point from where the real excitement starts.

A relentless prison official, Daly, played by that excellent actor, C. Henry Gordon, is hot in pursuit after Porter. "Legs" discovers Porter's identity and uses his knowledge as a weapon against the affection building between the daring young man and Letty. Breath-takingly, the picture rushes swiftly through to a tremendous climax.

As the daring, dashing young adventurer, Robert Montgomery has never given a better performance. His intoxicating personal appeal and fine ability as an actor makes of the character of Porter something real and human.

Madge Evans seems to grow lovelier with each picture. Her interpretation of the role of the engaging little chorine is charged with convincing pathos and humor. In all her portrayals Miss Evans brings to the screen a rare combination of melting beauty and the white fire of fine emotional acting.

Ted Healy, to this reviewer (and apparently to millions of others), is always funny. And in this picture he surpasses even himself. Healy is Wilmington, traveling salesman, "Rotarian" and backslapper. The comedian can say the wrong thing more engagingly than anyone else on the screen. Suffice it to say that his "stooges" as the Three Julians, traveling vaudeville team, are hilarious.

C. Henry Gordon makes of his role of Daly a pillar of strength and steel. He renders credible and exciting the difficult part of the invulnerable, suave, quiet detective.

Richard Boleslavsky's brilliant direction is in evidence from the opening "shot" until the picture reaches its final smashing sequence.

GIRL SCOUTS

The Girl Scouts of Manassas, under the direction of Captain Virginia Frazier and Lieutenants Esther Warren Pattie and Rena Bevans, are progressing rapidly in their work. The meetings take place every Friday afternoon in the home economics room of the high school with varied programs. There are about twenty-five or thirty members, and quite a few of them have received their membership certificates.

At the meetings, games are played, songs are sung, programs for the summer are discussed, and business is transacted.

The scout troop is divided into three patrols with about eight or ten members in each. Shirley Hynson is leader of one patrol, Althea Hooff of another, and Elizabeth Lloyd of the other. Mildred Parrish is troop treasurer and Elizabeth Davies is troop scribe.

The girls are most enthusiastic.

My New Job!

PRESSURE CAMP. SOMEWHERE IN ANTARCTICA.

Feb. 8 (via Mackay Radio): Goodbye, good old Jacob Ruppert. Our grand old steel flagship, never intended for pounding through hundreds of miles of ice-cakes as big as the Brooklyn Bridge and bergs as big as half of Boston, is leaving us for a whole year. I hate to see her go. I bet I'll yell like a fool when she heaves into sight again next December or January. She has been a grand old friend to us, noisy, smelly, uncomfortable, but we've felt safe on her, that is, comparatively safe. At least she never showed any tendency to crack open and spill us all into the sea, the way this whole landscape around here is doing.

Commodore Gjertsen and Captain Verleger did a magnificent job bringing us through those hundreds of miles of roaring, tumbling, threatening ice. Many times a false move would have sent us to the bottom of the world's coldest ocean. But those wonderful men don't make false moves. The Jake's going back to Dunedin, I think, or Port Chalmers, New Zealand, to be laid up for a year. And we're staying on the ice. I wonder! What will she find when she returns? Well, we'll be in communication by radio with her and the rest of the world all the time and we can tell Gjertsen our troubles even if he can't get to us.

The Ruppert is empty of supplies—450 tons. I feel that I personally must have carried it all onto the ice and lifted it onto the tractor and dog sledges and airplanes and snowmobiles. I'm that weary. Now the wonderful old Bear of Oakland—and she is old—64 years—is with us pouring more stuff out on the ice and getting 250 tons of that borrowed coal from the Ruppert. They've both got to get out of here quickly before this whole place freezes up and squeezes them to death. Wouldn't we be in a pickle then?

I am now watching absolutely the world's most peculiar sight. Three cows and a baby bull on their way over the ice to Little America. Iceberg and his mother, Klondike, are riding in style in a crate on a sledge behind a tractor where I helped to fasten them. Foremost Southern Girl and Deerfoot are walking over the bumpy ice so buried in blankets they look like moving rug-piles. One thing, we can still laugh. In fact, we're laughing most of the time, in spite of our worries, work and troubles.

And now, I've got the job I came on this trip to fill—fuel engineer—in charge of all gasoline and oil for the Condor, Pilgrim and Fokker airplanes and a Kellett autogyro, the two Citroen and one Cietrac tractors, the two Ford snowmobiles with caterpillar treads and skis, the Matthews motor boat cruiser and last, but not least, the big Kohler generating set for our electricity supply. It is a twenty-four hour job satisfying the appetites of all these units. One plane uses one kind of gas, another another and so on, even to the motorboat and the generator. Now that we have actually and permanently landed, the real job has begun. But I'm in good shape for work. You know, all of us sort of were given special training when we started this journey back at Norfolk. All of us, scientists and everybody, were set to work in the engine room and holds for a month, to harden us up. Otherwise we'd collapse in an hour with the work we're doing now.

All day long—and that means 24 hours long—radio messages arrive from the various caches we've established all over the place so if the ice goes out it may not take everything with it. They tell us to send ten gallons of Tydol gas for the tractors to Number One cache, send fifteen gallons to Pressure Camp for the snowmobiles, send 25 gallons of Vedol oil to Little America for the Condor, 20 gallons to Number Two cache for the Fokker. Then there are calls for kerosene for the stoves. It's like a combination of Fifth Avenue and Roosevelt Field here, with the automotive activity. The amount of gas, oil and oil used is tremendous. In one 24-hour period the planes, tractors and other motor equipment drew 750 gallons of gas and 60 gallons of oil. And I have to keep track of it all, seeing that it all gets safely to our permanent home at Little America and meanwhile making sure that as they draw it each machine gets the proper fuel and lubricants.

Here we have vivid illustrations of the old and new methods of explorative transportation. It takes a dog team three hours to go between the ship and Little America, detouring about four miles around the dangerous pressure ridges and crevasses. Any of the planes makes the same trip in three minutes with a greater load. It is interesting and thrilling, this unloading business, with planes roaring overhead, tractors milling over the ice, snowmobiles whizzing along throwing up big chunks of snow and the dog teams struggling along the side of the trail. There will be no rest until all the supplies are safely at Little America. Foodstuffs, gasoline and oil take priority over everything else. We are working strictly on our own code—20 hours a day! Lots of fun!

HAYMARKET

Miss Mary Louise Carter, who now has a position near Washington, D. C., spent Thursday, March 15, at her home, "Erindale."

The Haymarket Senior League served a luncheon to the Homemakers' Association on Thursday, March 15, in the parish hall. The affair was a great success and was largely attended.

The third year current events class of Haymarket High School, which met on Friday, March 16, had Rev. W. F. Carpenter, the rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, as a visitor. At this meeting Elsie Lambert, a junior of Haymarket High School, was elected chairman of the current events class for Friday, March 23.

Billy Dogan, another junior in the Haymarket High School, is at Emergency Hospital in Washington recovering from an appendicitis operation, which was performed March 13.

A very interesting operetta entitled "Little Red Riding Hood" will be given in the parish hall at Haymarket, Mar. 28, at 8 p.m. This operetta promises to be most attractive and interesting and it is hoped that a large crowd will avail itself of the opportunity to see such a good performance. Miss Eskridge is in charge assisted by Misses Foster and Massie.

Mrs. Edward Watson entertained a number of guests Friday evening at contract at her home near Hickory Grove.

The Haymarket boys basketball team is picking up at the end of the season. They defeated Occoquan with a score of 15 to 13 but they had a hard fight in the fourth quarter for this score.

Miss Marguerite Latham attended a ball in the George Mason Hotel, Alexandria, Va., on March 17. This ball is an annual event given for the employees of the Peoples Life Insurance Company.

Mr. and Mrs. K. O. Sloper, Mrs. T. C. Palmer, Mr. Willard McCuin and Mr. Raymond Sloper, all of Gainesville, Va., motored to Warrenton Saturday afternoon to see Mr. Ray McCuin, who is in the hospital suffering with a broken leg. At the time of writing, Ray seems to be getting along satisfactorily.

Mrs. Palmer Smith, former resident of Gainesville, is very ill at her home.

Mr. Charles W. Spinks, 82 years old, of Haymarket, is now visiting Mrs. Bigelow, his daughter, at Manassas. Mr. Spinks makes his home with Mr. and Mrs. Teel of Haymarket.

COUNTY AGENTS' COLUMN

Corn-Hog Sign-Up to Close March 31. The time for signing corn-hog reduction contracts will close Saturday, March 31.

Treatment of Seed Potatoes for Scab.

1. Dissolve 2 ounces of bichloride of mercury (corrosive sublimate) in three gallons of hot water, then add enough water to bring the total up to fifteen gallons.

2. Place the whole potatoes in the solution and allow to remain for 1½ hours, then remove and allow to dry after which they may be cut and planted.

3. In preparing the solution and treating the seed, only glass, stone, or wooden vessels should be used.

4. Seed treatment alone will not control scab if the land is infected. When the land is infected the potato crop should be kept off it for four or five years.

Precaution—Bichloride of mercury is a deadly poison. Potatoes can not be used for eating after being treated.

Control of Weevil in Grain.

1. Use one pound of Carbon Bisulphide for each 20 bushels of grain.

2. Place the grain in a close bin, box, or barrel; then pour the Carbon Bisulphide on the surface and cover with old bags, paper or anything to prevent rising of the gas that forms. Or the liquid may be placed on top of the grain in shallow containers such as pie plates.

3. After 24 hours remove the covering and allow to air.

Sheep Stomach Worm Treatment. Dissolve four ounces of blue-stone in three gallons of water, using wooden, glass or earthenware container. For mature sheep use 4 ounces, for yearlings 3 ounces, for six-month lambs 2 ounces and for three-month lambs one ounce of the solution.

RETURNS TO SUPPLEMENT HERD

Mr. Luis E. Biascoechea, one of the large dairy farmers of Puerto Rico and who retails his products in San Juan, was in the county again last week to bring his herd strength up to a full 200.

Mr. Rice, who was piloting the visitor, reports business on the upturn. Many Prince William cows have gone to distant points all up and down the Atlantic seaboard through the energies of this able Fairfax farmer.

MRS. HALE TO HEAD COUNTY GROUP

The County Home Demonstration Advisory Board held its annual meeting on Thursday, March 15, with the following groups represented: Haymarket, Nokesville, Greenwich, Manassas Woman's Club.

Plans were completed for the county-wide "Make Your Own Dress Contest." 4-H Club girls and all women of the county are eligible to enter this contest. The contest will end with a county dress review to be held on June 14. Women's dresses may be entered in two classes, House and Street. The price limit of one dollar is set for the house dress while one dollar and fifty cents is allowed for the Street dress. Girl's dresses are limited to one dollar.

Goals for the year were discussed and each group asked to work out plans to fit local needs.

Prompt attendance at meetings; business-like business meetings; special program for each meeting—recreational, educational, inspirational; encourage more home baking; emphasize home sewing and remodeling; give special attention to the economy of time (sufficient rest suggested as greatest aid to time as well as strength saving); increase attendance at group meetings; pass information to those who cannot attend. (Each home demonstration member to take one woman who is in need of such information and give consistent help along line needed.)

Officers elected for the year are: Mrs. J. F. Hale, Nokesville, chairman; Mrs. M. J. Shepherd, Nokesville, vice-chairman; Mrs. John Ellis, Greenwich, secretary and treasurer.

Hale, was named as representative to the incoming chairman, Mrs. J. F. Hale, was named as representative to the annual meeting of the Virginia Homemaker's Association.

The following committee was appointed to work out plan for year's finances: Mrs. J. F. Hale, Nokesville.

Mrs. Wallace Dawson, Bethel; Mrs. Robert Mooney, Dumfries; Mrs. John Ellis, Greenwich; Mrs. Edmund Roland, Haymarket, and Mrs. Henry Lawson, Aden.

November was set as the month for the Achievement program with recommendation that an exhibit be featured. The following committee was named to work out exhibit entry list and to make other plans for the annual Achievement program:

Mrs. Nimrod Lightner, Haymarket; Mrs. Baldwin Cook, Greenwich; Mrs. Ernest Spittler, Nokesville; Mrs. Mark Kerlin, Aden; Mrs. Wallace Dawson, Bethel, and Mrs. Magruder Keys, Dumfries.

4-H CLUB NOTES

Members of Hayfield 4-H Club turned musical and had three original songs presented at the meeting held on March 17. Decision on the club song was deferred until March 30 in order that other song entries may be made.

Gertrude Shirkey presented original words to the tune of "Old Black Joe" at a recent meeting of Nokesville 4-H Club.

Following Miss Ella Gardner's recommendation for a community recreational survey, Hayfield 4-H Club came to conclusion that hobbies may be developed among members and consequently is taking up a study of Trees as a group hobby. The group will meet Friday, March 30, to make a field trip to study trees of that vicinity.

March 31 ends the campaign period when daily and special attention has been directed toward improved food habits. The need for an abundance of leafy and succulent vegetables has been emphasized in the minds of some two hundred boys and girls working in that project. With the coming of spring the attention of these health aspirants is being directed toward the vegetable garden.

Manassas 4-H Club will meet Monday, March 26, at 2:15 o'clock in the Assembly Room, Post Office. The topic for study is "Attractive Vegetable Dishes."

Occoquan 4-H Club will meet Tuesday, March 27, at 11:30 o'clock, at the home of Miss Wilda Bourne. The demonstration will be given by Mrs. Egbert Thompson assisted by Miss Wilda Bourne.

ADVERTISE AND SELL THE THINGS YOU DO NOT WANT

America here they are!

To fill the record-breaking nationwide demand, Chevrolet cars are being produced at a record-breaking rate of

A GENERAL MOTORS VALUE

CHEVROLET factories are breaking records, trying to give America all the cars it wants. 4000 units a day are rolling off the assembly lines. February output was twice that of January. March output, according to present indications, will be three times that of January. More Chevrolets are now being produced than any other make of automobile in the world. And today, Chevrolet is happy to report that all its dealers will soon be in a position to make immediate deliveries.

When you consider how short a time the new Chevrolet has been in production—when you consider, also, that the 1934 car is not last year's model improved, but a basically new automobile, with sweeping changes in design—this production record becomes somewhat of an accomplishment. But, a still greater accomplishment, in our opinion, is the way that these cars have all been produced!

Despite continued nationwide pressure for more and more volume, every car that has left the factories has been built and tested to meet Chevrolet's highest standards of care, precision and quality. The result: When you place your order for a new Chevrolet, you'll not only get a big, rugged "Knee-Action" car—you're also assured of getting a typical Chevrolet car in economy, dependability and long life.
