

WOODRUM PRAISES THE PRESIDENT

Democratic Groups Hear Roosevelt Eulogized.

The Democratic Committees of Arlington, Fairfax, Prince William and Alexandria City held a get-together banquet on July second at the Washington Golf and Country Club on the Glebe Road. There were present some fifty members of the Committees and their guests.

Charles R. Fenwick, chairman of the Arlington Committee, and recently appointed to the State Boxing Commission, was toastmaster. The leading speaker of the evening was the Hon. Clifton A. Woodrum, one of the most important members of the National House of Representatives. Prior to his address, Representative Howard Smith, of the Eighth District, made a very brief statement which was largely devoted to a hearty word of congratulation to the Arlington Committee for promoting such an affair and also a very complimentary resume of Mr. Woodrum's work in the House and his importance to the State of Virginia.

Mr. Clifton Woodrum declared that Smith had been honored more than any other young member of the House of Representatives and that all felt happy and glad that the District is sending him back without opposition. In passing, the speaker also highly complimented Mr. Haley, Judge Smith's present secretary and who was Mr. Woodrum's secretary when he was first elected from the Sixth District in 1922.

Launching directly into the heart of his remarks, Mr. Woodrum said "It is an encouraging sign for Democrats to come together in peaceful times. Any organization can hold together in the stress of combat but it bodes well for the next conflict that you folks show such co-operative spirits now."

Continuing he said, "I am thinking tonight, my friend, of another Fourth that generations to come will be celebrating. That Fourth is the Fourth of March of 1933. Never before in the history of the people had they gotten together as on this occasion. It was a war for economic freedom and not for political freedom. It was a struggle to remedy the conditions which had almost over-come us."

The speaker gave a brilliant eulogy of President Roosevelt, referring to the leader's characterization of the Four-Horsemen of Despair which held sway over the American people when he came into office. He recalled, the President's words when he stated that there was nothing worse to fear than fear itself.

"By his matchless leadership we have gone on and up. There are yet obstacles but we re on the high road to success. In the dark days of 1932 when the whole order had broken down, and America was prostrate, the people wanted a Captain who was not afraid to take his ship into uncharted seas. They wanted the New Deal, and the New Deal was nothing but Roosevelt's declaration of Economic Independence."

"Has the New Deal succeeded? Has the NRA been perfect? Certainly not—but if we want to get the real answer, let us look into the whole picture and see the satisfaction which has been registered by the America people."

"In 1932 Roosevelt was a Democrat. On March 4, 1933 he became President of one hundred and twenty million people and on his shoulders rest their hopes and happiness. His ideal is our rejuvenation and he will not be dominated by any class or set of politicians."

Referring more directly to attacks on the so-called 'Brain Trust', Mr. Woodrum said:

"It is ridiculous to criticize Franklin D. Roosevelt for the use of brains in Government. Certainly, during several administrations which had immediately preceded him, there was not getting away it—we are striving for the kind of Government that Washington sought to build."

"Recently I gave to those who criticized along these lines, my answer in this fashion. 'Let us summon to the Council (meaning Congress) the great Democratic leaders of the American history, — Washington, Jefferson, Madison, Jackson, Cleveland and Wilson. Let us lay the situation before them. Doubtless, they will not agree and their opinions are bound to be varied for each of them was a man of his own mind.'"

DIES OF SPOTTED FEVER

Linwood Arrington of Woodbridge, 18 months old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Arrington, is dead of spotted fever, contracted from the bite of a tick.

The illness lasted about three weeks. Health authorities of Prince William and adjoining counties are said to be working on plans to check spread of the disease.

COCKE TALKS ON NEW DEAL

Kiwanis Listen to Interesting Dissertation.

Bill Cocke gave the Kiwanians a dissertation on side lights on the New Deal last Friday, using poetry to complete his arguments and prove his case. Certain known dignitaries of the town were seen and heard loudly applauding him thereafter.

Hot weather had everybody in its grip and much ice tea disappeared during the evening.

An invitation to dine with the 4-H Club girls was accepted and the Club will be their guests tomorrow night.

Holstein Breeders Complete Plans for Meeting Here.

The annual field day of the Holstein breeders of Virginia will be held at the farm of Percival A. Lewis, near Manassas, Thursday, July 19. Mr. Allen Crissey, eastern fieldman for the National Holstein Association, will speak on marketing milk. Dr. L. E. Starr, assistant animal pathologist of the Virginia Agricultural Extension Division, will present data on investigation of Bang's disease. The program also includes entertainment features and demonstrations.

Prof. Frank Cox, local County agent, is taking an active part in the arrangements.

MANASSAS A. C. DEFEATS WHITE STAR MARKET FOR THIRD LEAGUE WIN

Dreyfus Yields Five Hits, Fans Fifteen to Earn M. A. C. 7-1 Victory over White Star Marketmen

With Dreyfus pitching five hit ball, the M. A. C. continued their winning ways, defeating White Star Market, one of Ballston's representatives in the Northern Virginia League, by the score of 7 to 1. Dreyfus added fifteen strikeouts to his total, which in the twenty three innings he has worked, has reached the impressive total of thirty-eight. The Locals continued their heavy hitting connecting safely fourteen times. Included in their total were doubles by Saunders and Dreyfus.

Burch started on the mound for the visitors and was raked for nine solid blows during his four inning shift, giving up three runs in the second and three more in the third. He was replaced by Donaldson, a left hander, at the start of the fifth. Though frequently in trouble, Donaldson, with the exception of the fifth, in which he was nicked for an unearned run, kept the home team from scoring.

The visitors scored their lone run in the second, which Woodward opened with a single. He was trapped off base but reached second safely when Vetter dropped Wurdemann's not-so-good throw. He scored when Wright dropped a hit into right field, the latter taking second on the throw in and continuing on to third when the ball took a bad bounce over Dreyfus' head. Futher damage was averted when Dreyfus threw out Messer while holding the runner at third; fanned Foster and forced Harrell to roll out, Vetter to Wurdemann.

The visitors lead was short lived. Saunders opened the home half of the of the inning with a hit to center and stretched it into a double when the center fielder fell as he was fielding the ball. Bradshaw scored him with a single to center but was out when he attempted to take second on the throw to the plate, the pitcher cutting off the throw and getting the ball back to second in time for the putout. Wurdemann and Reeves followed with hits and both scored on Dreyfus' double to right. Four hits were good for three more runs in the third when, with one away, Vetter singled, went to second on Bradshaw's hit to right. Wurdemann sent him to third with a single and took second on the throw-in. They both scored when Reeves' Texas League dropped just out of the first baseman's reach close to the right field foul line. The M. A. C. scored their seventh and last run in the fifth off Donaldson. Bradshaw was safe on Lear's fumble and reached second as Wurdemann beat out a roller to Foster for his third hit. They were sacrificed to third and second, respectively, by Reeves and Bradshaw scored following Kidwell's fly to right.

The White Star Marketmen were able to get but one man past first in the last seven innings. Lear opened the sixth with a single and reached second with the aid of a passed ball. His mates, however, were unable to offer any assistance and he was still there when Woodward took Wright's fly in short center for the third out.

M. A. C. MEETS BALLSTON HERE SUNDAY

Manassas, by winning its third straight game Sunday, clung to the heels of Ballston, who with four wins to its credit, leads in Section A of the Northern Virginia League.

Neither team has suffered defeat. On the basis of past performances, these two teams appear to be in a class by themselves in this Section of the League. Herndon, who was hand to witness the M. A. C.'s bid for swamped earlier in the season by Manassas, 19 to 3, is their closest rival with two wins and a like number of losses. And so, even at this early (Please turn to page 5)

The reports of the National Bank of Manassas and the other Banks of Prince William county will follow and show the same encouraging outlook for business and agriculture.

N. R. A. CLOSES NEARBY FACTORY

Ruling Throws 500 out of Work at Fredericksburg.

The G and H Manufacturing Company off Fredericksburg, Virginia, has shut down indefinitely and five hundred employees are out of jobs as the result of an order from the NRA, requiring the firm to pay higher wages.

The shut down with plenty of work on hand, is the first in 21 years for the Fredericksburg factory. Ten other plants in Virginia, Maryland and Pennsylvania are affected by the order which requires them to pay nearly $200,000 in back wages and to continue the higher scale, or else be deprived of the Blue Eagle.

It is stated that there is no dissatisfaction at Fredericksburg but that the firm, which is one of the largest in the United States has been closed with all its branches. Over 4,000 employees are affected.

FARRAR'S ROCK FUND AWAITS COURT RULE

On Wednesday next, July 18, the question of the disposition of the Farrar's Rock Fund created under the will of the late J. B. T. Thornton for the benefit of the White People of this County, will be passed upon by the Circuit Court. Under Judge Thornton's will Farrar's Rock was left to trustees for the benefit as above stated. This property was condemned by the Virginia Pub. Ser. Co. in connection with its development at Bland's Ford, and the money therefrom derived is being held by the trustees, subject to the order of the Court. Those interested should appear before Judge McCarthy next Wednesday at Manassas, and give the Court the benefit of their views, according to the opinion expressed by Mr. J. Jenkyn Davies, counsel for the trustees.

BIG CARNIVAL AT MANASSAS

Manassas Firemen Plan Big Event for July 28-Aug. 4.

The annual Fireman's Carnival will be held by the Manassas Volunteer Fire Department beginning Saturday, July 28 and extending through Saturday, August 4.

Doctor G. B. Cocke is chairman of the Carnival Committee, which is composed of Arthur Vetter, C. W. Fitzwater, John T. Broadus, Jack Stauff and Tom Howard.

Elaborate plans are being made to make the affair the best and the largest ever put on by the local fire-fighters. A big Century of Progress Ferris Wheel will delight the children and there will be many kinds of games to attract folks of all ages.

Every year the friends of the volunteer fire fighters are afforded this opportunity of showing their appreciation of the fire fighters, who serve as a matter of patriotism and who receive little or no support from public funds.

The Carnival Committee will meet Friday night to perfect plans for the big event which will be held every evening, beginning July 28 and continuing through the following week.

ISSUES WARNING TO DELINQUENT BORROWERS

M. Bruce Whitmore, secretary-treasurer of the Prince William County National Farm Loan Association, has just received instructions from Chas. S. Jackson, president of the Federal Land Bank of Baltimore, to give consideration to those farmers who are capable of yet who are not making their due payments on land bank and land bank commissioners loans.

"Call the attention of your delinquent borrowers to the fact that they are very much in the minority," Mr. Jackson said. "Quote to them the figures which show that for the entire Baltimore district 91 per cent of the borrowers from the land bank commissioner are meeting their payments within the month on which their payments fall due. Explain that they are less in number than the remaining 9 per cent, because a number of our delinquents are truly unable to meet their payments on time."

"The land bank is co-operating whole-heartedly with those farmers who are honestly unable to meet their payments, and it is receiving the co-operation of the vast majority of farmers who can make their payments. But—those few farmers who are attempting to 'coast' along on the land bank and the land bank commissioner are not going to be left unmolested."

The states included in the Baltimore land bank district are Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia and West Virginia.

"HOUSE ON 56th ST." SAID TO BE FINEST KAY FRANCIS STORY

Few stories are said to offer a star wider range of dramatic opportunities, or a more dazzling background, than are afforded beautiful Kay Francis in "The House on 56th Street," Warner Bros. picturization of Joseph Santley's, which will be shown next week Wednesday and Thursday at the Dixie Theatre in Manassas, Va.
As the orphaned daughter of a professional gambler, whose beauty wins her immediate success in Broadway's gayest musical shows, and makes her the toast of the town, as one of the "Floradora" girls, Kay Francis undertakes a role completely different from anything she has ever attempted before.
The story opens in the New York of thirty years ago, when the marriages of the "Floradora" to millionaires was the talk of the world, and when Delmonico's and Sherry's were the rendezvous of New York's elite.
As she steps from the stage into the most conservative social set of the city as the bride of Monte Van Tyle, scion of an old Knickerbocker family, Peggy's happiness seems complete. It is not gambling for money that brings about her ruin. But Peggy cannot resist gambling with life, and taking chances with Fate. Becoming involved in the death of one of her former lovers, though innocent, everything she loves is swept from her in a calamitous sequel to an act of reckless generosity.
Husband, child, friends and freedom are stripped from her, in the scandal and trial that follow.
New York's famous Casino Theatre, home of a generation's most celebrated musical shows, Sherry's, the Casino at Monte Carlo and other famous resorts of the years before the war were faithfully reproduced on the Warner Bros. stage.
Miss Francis has some of Hollywood's best known players associated with her in the picture. Gene Raymond, whose work in "Ex-Lady," "Zoo in Budapest" and "Brief Moment" has brought him rapidly to the front, plays Monte Van Tyle. John Haldiday, remembered for his able portrayal in "Men Called Back," "Fifty Million Frenchmen" and "Bird of Paradise," is the discarded admirer whose death brings tragedy to Peggy.

MARINE ENLISTMENTS LIMITED

The United States Marine Corps District office in Savannah announces that the vacancies recently created in the Marine Corps by Congress will be filled in limited monthly installments during the next few months.

The number of qualified applicants in June was greater than could be accepted in the authorized June installment. The excess was carried on the waiting list to be accepted in July.

The Marine Corps is the only military service in the world which requires that its accepted applicants must have the educational qualification required for entrance to college. Only those who are graduates from high schools or have equivalent education from other schools are accepted.

This high standard is maintained because Marines must be capable of learning quickly the arts of all arms of the military service ashore and of the naval service on board battleships and cruisers.

The Marine Corps is the Navy's little army, and serves on board the Navy's battleships and cruisers, and ashore in our overseas territory and in foreign countries when it is necessary to land forces to protect our interests.

Our "soldiers of the sea" are our "foreign legion." They are always ready to embark on our naval vessels and proceed where there is trouble or trouble expected, ready to land instantly.

"Soldiers and sailors too," they fall in with either the Army or Navy and know the arts and habits of both.

While their educational qualifications are equal to those required for entrance to college, their physical standards are rigid. They must be over 18 years old and not under 66 inches tall. Also they must furnish evidence of character and good standing. Their duties and responsibilities require exemplary men who can be entrusted to act with credit for our country throughout the world in difficult situations.

This splendid corps with its opportunities for travel and varied service attracts many applicants from which only the most select are accepted.

The U. S. Marine Corps District office, Post Office Building, Savannah, Ga., receives by mail and considers all applications from Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Florida, and the southern part of Georgia, and is the only office, except the U. S. Marine Corps District offices in Mason, Ga., and New Orleans, La., where applicants in the Southern states are considered, examined, and accepted.

DOES HONESTY PAY?

(This article won third place in the recent Kiwanis contest.)

Dear J. W.: From reading your letter I am under the impression that you have gotten the wrong conception of the word "pays". If you think of that word in terms of material things, which only dollars and cents can buy, then my advice to you is to go ahead and be dishonest. Be as crooked as you can, make as much money in this way as you can possibly make, but when you invest it, with whom will you entrust your fortune, an honest or dishonest man?

Remember, J. W. that life's pay isn't only in material things, your ambition isn't only to make a living but rather to make a life. While you are making a life, make one which, while you can be proud of your achievements, be sure that you can tell the truth about it even to yourself, because as you know you are your own worst critic and while you are pulling the wool over somebody else's eyes you can't pull the wool over your own. While you are taking advantage of your fellowmen and making your material wealth at their expense, can you come home, look at yourself in the mirror and say, "There is an honorable man," or would you see a whining parasite?

Since you are planning to study law, has it ever occurred to you that the laws of the civilized world are based on the Ten Commandments? Many people have said that they are antiquated and do not treat the problems of today but the fact that our laws are based on them, disputes that theory. Your profession is what you make it, and as Emerson says, "No man is ever cheated out of an honorable career unless he cheats himself."

Every American has the advantage of free education by which he is able to mold his character. The belief in fidelity, honesty and integrity of our fellowmen has always been the standard of the American Nation. But hand in hand with this standard, goes America's highly developed intellectual plane. This intelligence enables us to penetrate subtle scheming. Your mother's ideals typify America's criterion of morals. You bewail your mother's fate but in the same breath you laud her "honesty personified." Which would you prefer her, as she is or the most despicable woman on earth?

The broader and more general interpretation of the word "pays" is something which is enduring. Dishonesty is man made and temporal, its benefits are destined to decay and destruction, they are so short lived that they are not worth the time or effort expended in their accomplishment. Therefore it pays to be honest.

Sincerely,
Lucy Gibson,
Manassas, Va.

CHRIST FOR ALL—ALL FOR CHRIST

BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

THE PEACE OF GOD: The peace of God, which passeth all understanding, shall keep your hearts and minds through Christ Jesus.—Philippians 4:7

HENRY G. SHIRLEY

General satisfaction is expressed over the reappointment of Henry G. Shirley by Gov. Peery.

A Virginian of old and distinguished family, a gentleman in every sense of the word, and an engineer of unquestioned ability, Mr. Shirley deserves this recognition of his services and his achievements.

We congratulate the people of Virginia and warmly endorse the Governor's action.

RELIEF FROM RELIEF

General Hugh S. Johnson, Chief of the N. R. A., is expected shortly to retire, leaving this important division of the Nation's recovery machinery in the hands of a board or commission which will continue the program under plans designed to place the greater burden upon the industries themselves.

That the fiery head of the N. R. A. has done an important work cannot be doubted. The basic industries, themselves, desire continuation of the fundamental features of the N. R. A., but it is apparent that the General has done his work. Groups which he has handled with "ungloved" hands and blunt language, seem to have taken the advice he has given fairly well, and now it is time for the government to deal with the average citizen, who represents small business and who is not likely to be very responsive to the rough and ready tactics of the General.

From now on, many observers believe, the vociferous and truculent methods of the N. R. A. commander would cultivate resistance rather than co-operation, and his retirement from the picture will bring much satisfaction throughout the Nation and particularly to those who are friendly to the President's policies.

THE WARRENTON CARNIVAL

The Annual Fireman's Carnival at Warrenton will be held July 13-14. The Culpeper Band will be there and big plans have been made to insure an enjoyable time for all who attend. The events are staged for the evening so that everybody can be on hand. Many Prince William folks will be there not only to have a good time but to reciprocate. Fauquier County friends have been liberal patrons of the Manassas Firemen's events and our local folks always enjoy a visit to hospitable Warrenton.

If you want your money safe and where you know you can get it when you want it, deposit it in this friendly Bank. Everyone agrees that it is wise to save money, but few have the will power to do it. Start saving regularly now. We welcome your banking business.

VIRGINIA BONDS RATED HIGH

Reviewed by Moody's Investment Service the bonds of the Commonwealth of Virginia are given the rating of "AAA," which means the highest.

The bonds of only three states in the Union are placed in this class, those of Massachusetts, New York and Pennsylvania.

The record of the bonds of Virginia's political subdivisions bear comparison with those of any state in the Union.

It is logical to conclude from these facts that Virginia's government is on a sound business basis. When bonds rate high interest charges are low. Low interest charges tend to keep taxes down. Where taxes are kept low industry thrives. Virginia is thus in the best possible position

JANE HEDRICK

Mrs. Jane Hedrick, widow of Samuel Hedrick, a resident of the Valley View community for over fifty years and who with her husband were founders of the Valley View Church, died in a Washington hospital Sunday morning after a brief illness of pneumonia.

The funeral was preached at the Valley View Church on Tuesday, July 10, at 10 A. M., Revs. G. W. Beahn and Nolley officiating. The sermon was given by Mr. Beahn who highly praised the deceased for her useful life in the community, and for consistent work in the church. Interment was in the church cemetery.

Mrs. Hedrick (nee Kerlin) was a native of Rockingham, coming here when a bride. This has been her home ever since. She leaves the following children: Other William, Benjamin F., Miss Mollie and Elmer Samuel. There are also ten grandchildren, two sisters, Mrs. Samuel Flory and Mrs. Emma Miller, and numerous nieces and nephews.

The little church was crowded with relatives, including George Hedrick of Florida aged eighty-one, who brought a number with him. There were others from Washington, the Valley of Virginia, and nearby points, all who came to do honor to their deceased relative.

to take advantage of the industrial recovery.

That Virginia is taking advantage of better times is clearly shown by increased retail sales, increased bank deposits, largely increased revenue taxes, increased automobile registration and increased pay-rolls.

Facts like these build factories and factories do away with the problem of the unemployed. The Pay-as-You-Go road plan has justified itself in the credit of the state. Virginia is one commonwealth which is not burdened with a bonded debt.

no evidence of the use of brains in Government. When he took office, he recognized that the problem of the farmer was economic one and he summoned to his men who would help to solve the problem."

Dealing with partisan attitude, Mr. Woodrum classed such criticism in this manner.

"They say we are getting away from the Constitution. My friends what does the Constitution seek to do but to set up a Government where equality of opportunity is the keystone? That is the only kind of a Government that will ever endure and it is to that sort of a Government that the fundamentals of the Constitution sought to set up to which we are how leading. We are They would consider the situation if they were in Congress and each would travel down to the west end of Pennsylvania Avenue where they would talk it over with the President. You would not find them in the little group of knockers who stand on the side lines and throw bricks at the band wagon when it passes by."

"My friends, we are in an Economic War and God help us if we don't win it. I am with Franklin Roosevelt in everything that he has done and I am proud to say that I am one of the members of the House who has gone with him every step of the way." (Applause)

The speaker closed his remarks with a further panegyric on the President, in true Virginia style, reciting the poem "Sail On Thou Ship of State."

Chairman Fenwick then introduced former Governor Brough of Arkansas and now chairman of the Boundary Commission. Governor Brough made an enthusiastic talk, indorsing Mr. Roosevelt and predicting that if the Democratic party as a whole would hold together, similar to the group present, that Roosevelt would get the entire electoral vote in 1936 and the greatest plurality ever given any President.

In addition to the excellent meal furnished the guests, a number of delightful entertainment features were staged; the most prominent of which was that given by Brook Johns, formerly of the Zeigfeld Folies and two of the members of his chorus, John and Harry Dawson. All three of these boys are nearby residents. Miss Margaret Eddington of Alexandria gave several solos and dances. She was accompanied by her sister on the piano. Mr. Frank Sanderson also sang several numbers.

The following members of the local committee and their guests were present:

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Garrett have with them for a visit Mr. Garrett's niece, Miss Rebecca Procter of Cuthbert, Ga.

Miss Betsy Noyes of Charleston, W. Va., has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. T. M. Browne and her relatives at "Meade Croft."

Lieut. Comd. Alfred Tawersey, Mrs. Tawersey and their daughters, Miss Marie Hall Tawersey and Miss Agnes Tawersey have returned from a three year stay in California and are spending some time with Mrs. Tawersey's mother, Mrs. Carval Hall at "Shirley."

The Beauty Pageant recently held at the Parish Hall was enjoyed by a good sized crowd, withso many pretty girls the judges had some trouble in deciding upon the "Queen Rose of the Rosebud Garden of Girls." That honor finally fell to Miss Helen Stuart Osburn, who was awarded a pretty cup.

The annual picnic of St. Paul's Church was held at Lake Jackson last Friday, and from an account was a day of enjoyment to the large number who attended.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel McCuin and family accompanied by Mr. Bob Portch spent the 4th of July at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Portch of Ballston. Later in the evening they visited the bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph McCuin and also the zoo. They had a most enjoyable trip.

A VISION

It was a vision in the moonlight, In the moonlight, so clear, A vision of one I love, So far away, and yet so near.

A vision so very beautiful That always haunts my dreams, One that smiles, and drifts away, Into the pale moonbeams.

With hair of curly ringlets, And eyes of azure blue, Is the vision I see every night, In the pale moonlight, of you.

But as I approach you With arms open wide, My vision of you keeps drifting, Far out in the open wide.

M. A. C. MEETS BALLSTON HERE SUNDAY

date, it may be predicated with reasonable certainty that these two teams will be battling for the championship of the season. Next Sunday these two teams clash in what should be the outstanding game of the present season. First place will be at stake and the local fans will be given an opportunity of seeing just what Mr. Reeves' fly chasers can do when stacked up against the best the League has to offer.

On the basis of previous games, Manassas would appear to have the edge. The local team has met but little opposition in its three games, winning handily by scores of 10 to 0; 19 to 3; and 7 to 1. Records of the first three Ballston games are not at hand but only a spirited three run rally in the ninth after two were out enabled them to escape from what seemed certain defeat at the hands of the Herndon nine in their game last Sunday. Comparative scores of the Manassas-Herndon and the Ballston-Herndon games are, however, apt to be misleading and furnish but little indication of the relative strengths of the two clubs. Herndon, for example, in their game last Sunday presented a vastly changed line-up from that which faced the local club on July 1. With Gardner inning, would have turned in their third win of the season. Next Sunday promises to be a most important date in local sandlot history. And a goodly crowd is expected to be on undisputed possession of first place. less ball and but for that fateful ninth doing the flinging, they played error-

METHOD PROVIDED FOR COUNTY CONSOLIDATIONS

William R. Shands, Director of the State Legislative Reference Bureau and Secretary to the Virginia Commission on County Government, discussing the series of articles recently published by George W. Spicer with regard to county consolidation in Virginia, says:

"Dr. George W. Spicer, Chairman of the Virginia Commission on County government has recently, in a series of articles, issued through the state bureau of publicity, urged Virginia counties to consolidate into larger units. Machinery for such consolidations now exists and may be found in the Acts of the General Assembly of 1932 (Acts 1932, p. 532.)

"This act provides for the making of a consolidation agreement between the counties proposing to consolidate and an election in each to determine whether a majority of the qualified voters thereof, voting in such election, favor the proposed consolidations.

"The boards of supervisors are authorized to act for their counties in making the consolidation agreement. If, however, the board of any county fails or refuses to act, 10 per cent of the qualified voters of the county, in no case less than 100, may by petition request such action by the board, or, in the event of its failure to act thereafter within six months, have the judge of the circuit court of the county appoint a committee to act for the board in such matter.

"The agreement required must set forth the names of the counties proposing to consolidate, the name of the proposed consolidated county, the value of the property belonging to and the amount of indebtedness of each county, the name and location of the county seat of the proposed new county, the form of county organization and government that will apply in such county if the government of the consolidating counties differ, and any other terms which may be considered proper. Such agreement is then filed by the Boards or Committees with the judge or judges of the circuit courts of the counties together with a petition asking that an election be held to determine whether a majority of the qualified voters of each county voting in such election favor the proposed consolidation.

"Before the election is called, the consolidations agreement must be published in each of the counties at least once a week for four consecutive weeks in a newspaper published in or having a general circulation therein and posted on the front door of the courthouse of each county. When the publication of the agreement is completed, the judge or judges of the circuit courts of the counties call elections in each of said counties to determine the sense of the voters on the question 'shall ————— counties consolidate pursuant to consolidation agreement?'

"Such elections are held and conducted, the ballots counted and the returns made and canvassed as in other elections. If a majority of the qualified voters voting in such election in each county approve the consolidation, officers for the consolidated counties must be elected at the next regular November election, held at least sixty days after the election in which the consolidation was approved. The consolidation then becomes effective on and after the first day of January next succeeding the election of officers. Thereafter the several counties cease to exist and the consolidated county replaces them in accordance with the terms of the act and the consolidation agreement."

MAYNARD COMING IN DUAL ROLE, "HONOR OF THE RANGE"

The fierce battle of Ken Maynard to wrest thousands of dollars from outlaws, redeem the honor of his twin brother, and to win the girl he loves, is the powerful theme of "Honor of the Range," Universal western starring Maynard, which has been booked into the Dixie theatre start next week Friday and Saturday.

Maynard plays a dual role in the honest, hard-working sheriff and as the weakling twin, operator of a general merchandise store in a small western town.

In fact, Ken really plays three roles, for, when in a tight spot in a saloon, he impersonates one of the entertainers in order to effect his escape. Blonde and attractive Cecilia Parker is the girl, while Fred Kohler, one of the screen's best known villains, is the head of a band of outlaws.

The most spectacular event is the blowing up of two massive cliffs which are supposed to guard Kohler's lair.

CATHARPIN

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Gass, their daughter, Vera, and son, James, boeist of the U. S. Marine band, and Mr. Ray Gass and daughter, Lorraine, all of Washington were recent Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Pattie.

From present indications, the Catharpin neighborhood should be able to harvest a bumper crop of corn. It seems that Old Man Nature is doing his best to circumvent the would be efforts of the Corn-Hog reduction activity by abundantly producing the stuff that hogs are made of. Some recent storms caused some of the fields to lose their perpendicularity but the damage done was very slight compared to the benefit of the down-pour. All crops thus far, have been safely harvested except the turkey crop which still persists in being a great disappointment. If everything goes along as per the present pace, we may not have to borrow that ten million from the PWA which we mentioned some time ago.

Mrs. W. S. Brower, accompanied by her mother and sister, paid a flying visit last Wednesday to the much famed Valley of Virginia, visiting Harrisonburg, the Endless Caverns and other points of interest.

Mr. W. Holmes Robertson of Lawn Vale, who has been suffering an attack of asthma, is reported better this morning but still unable to attend to farm duties.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Smith and Corporal John T. Crosier of the U. S. Marine Headquarters, Washington were callers at the L. J. Pattie home recently.

Mr. and Mrs. William Towers, son and daughter of Washington were recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Smith. It will be remembered that Mrs. Towers, before her marriage, was Miss Irene Smith.

Mr. Nicholas Moore of Georgia was a recent visitor of his niece, Mrs. W. Holmes Robertson of Lawn Vale.

You know that old adage about not "missing the water until the well goes dry?" Well, all right; glad you remember it, however no wells that we know of have gone dry in this neighborhood, but the application of that old saying is called to mind very vividly now that the threshing machines in the community to do it. Mr. Laws Spencer, during his lifetime, had two machines and the people were so well served that they could name the day and he would be on hand. Now, however, his two machines are out of the neighborhood and we all realize what we are missing. In these days of labor shortage, farmers are wont to thresh their grain "off the wagon" to save the double handling due to stacking.

That term "labor shortage" just used, might sound funny to some people William Green and the NRA for instance—who are crying so loudly about the millions now out of work; but those "millions" are not farmers, so thereby hangs our tale of woe. If some of them were around here just now they could get plenty to do and plenty to eat; but of course, they could not expect to receive $1.37½ per hour for a 30-hour week and a 6-hour day. Farmers are not just exactly built that way, for many times he has to work long hours that he may make the most of his opportunity. There is one thing about the farmer, however; he is his own boss, can work when and as long as he pleases without any "regimentation" from a roll-top desk in Washington.

Mrs. Mildred C. Shelton spent the week-end with her sister, Mrs. Merchant at Ivacota, Va., who returned with her on Sunday for visit with their parents at Marble Hill.

Mr. J. D. Wheeler of Wellington, lost a valuable horse last week, due, it is supposed, to the intense heat which has caused considerable trouble among the livestock population throughout the neighborhood, so much so that it is almost a daily occurrence to hear of horse or steer dropping dead.

The loss of a good work horse now-a-days is a loss sure enough. Some time ago, when the model "T" and the truck seemed to be sweeping everything before them, horses could be bought for fifteen cents per dozen, and people said that "Old Dobbin" was on his way out never to return. But that prophecy, like so many others we are prone to make, was a mistake. The horse now seems to be coming back on a gallop. For a time the jumper, the racer, the half-bred and hunters had the call, paid the price, and were the only types of horseflesh considered worthwhile, but now old Dobbin, that great, clumsy, shoeless, lumbering, dependable old "Friend of Man" has become an asset and any one owning a good farm animal these days can count his wealth, as Wall Street would say it, in the "higher brackets."

This brings up a line of thought which we can not discuss just now, but perhaps you can think it out better than we. It is something like this: The horse is undoubtedly useful and indispensable. The machine is likewise just as useful and as indispensable; one can not entirely take the place of the other, we need them both. Where is the line of demarcation? If you were out on a boat and some one would cry out "Fish Ahoy" all would run to that side and would probably upset it. Now the fish was all right and the boat was all right but the people stampeded. It looks just that way with the horse and the machine; both are all right but man himself went crazy, lost his equilibrium and pretty nearly drowned the horse. Now you fix it up to suit yourself.

CLARK GABLE AND MYRNA LOY CLIMB TO NEW ACTING HIGH IN "MEN IN WHITE"

A new and remarkable screen team will play at the Dixie Theatre in Manassas next week Monday and Tuesday—Clark Gable and Myrna Loy. You've known them for some time, but you've never really known them until you see the new M-G-M film (their first together), "Men in White." In the words of a recent news dispatch from their director, Richard Boleslavsky:

"They are the complement of one another. Each brings out the latent appeal of the other." Gable's extreme masculinity and the distinct femininity of Myrna Loy, amounting almost to a feline quality at times, bring to the screen one of the most romantic and dramatic film teams of the season.

But romantic appeal is not the only aspect of "Men in White." It is in itself a gripping story, stark in its unveiled realism—a story of life in a great modern hospital. From the outstanding stage play of the season of the same name, "Men in White" is a beautifully told and enacted tale of the struggle of a young physician over circumstances that plunge him into love with an heiress and into a liaison with a nurse, Barbara.

The tragic role of Barbara, played by lovely Elizabeth Allan, is poignant and charged with pathos. In ringing performance she plays it to the hilt. Perhaps the chief charm of "Men in White" is its all-around cast, as fine a group of actors as any single production has ever seen. Such "names" as Jean Hersholt, Otto Kruger, C. Henry Gordon, Russell Hasdie, Wallace Ford, Henry B. Walthall—with superb artistry create a magic illusion that never for a moment breaks.

The settings are perfection, if the feeling of actually being inside the sepulchred walls of a great hospital is any guide. This is especially true of the gripping operation sequence, which has no equal in stark realism or vivid drama.

SOAP BOX DERBY ANNOUNCEMENT

Dayton, O., July 12. — A three-eighths mile hill in Dayton will assume national significance to American youth August 18 and 19, when the first nationally sponsored "All-American Soap Box Derby" will be run over the bricks of Burkhardt hill.

Originated as a local stunt feature last year by Myron E. Scott, Dayton Daily News photographer, the event attracted approximately 450 entrants and more than 40,000 spectators. This year, through cooperation of Chevrolet Motor Company and its dealer organization, more than forty cities in the United States will conduct local soap box derbies, and winners will have their cars shipped here to compete for the world's championship under the auspices of the Daily News and Chevrolet.

Chevrolet dealers in each city are furnishing entry blanks, rule books and plans for the building of soap box racers, which are the old familiar box and wheel vehicles which at same time or other have provided transportation for almost every boy.

KNEE-ACTION

tops a 22-year record of engineering progress that makes Chevrolet the best riding car in the low-price field

CHEVROLET Year after year, it's been the same story: Chevrolet FIRST with the NEWEST and BEST! Chevrolet leading—others following. Chevrolet out in front with the latest proved advancements. Self-starter! Sliding gear transmission! Streamlined design! It was Chevrolet aggressiveness and progressiveness that forced all low-priced cars eventually to adopt these and other major improvements. And now, this year, comes the climax of Chevrolet's engineering leadership: the Knee-Action ride! This newest of motoring sensations is a marvel of smooth, easy, gentle motion. No other ride in the world can even compare with it. It makes Chevrolet far and away the best riding car in the low-price field.

Have you noticed how America has taken to the Knee-Action ride? In the first 6 months, demand for Chevrolet cars sent production to the highest total attained by any automobile during 1934.
