MANASSAS, VIRGINIA THURSDAY, JAN. 17, 1935

SUBSCRIPTION $1.50 A YEAR

STATE TO ASK U. S. AID SCHOOL FUND

Dr. Hall to Investigate Financial Conditions of Localities.

Virginia will ask the Federal Government for whatever extra funds are necessary to assure the public schools of the State their normal nine months' term, Dr. Sidney B. Hall, superintendent of public instruction, announced last Thursday.

Virginia last year secured Federal aid of $710,000 for 72 counties. Dr. Hall was unwilling to predict Thursday how many counties would need aid, or how large Virginia's total request will be. Investigation in the next few weeks will determine this, he said.

It is known, however, that the Federal Government has at least twice as large a fund for school aid in 1934-35 as was available in 1933-34. Federal officials have circulated questionnaires among the 48 states, asking what aid will be needed this year, and recent estimates submitted to Washington by Virginia superintendents of schools totaled approximately $1,000,000.

Dr. Hall also revealed that the State of Virginia is paying an average of $432 toward the salary of the State's approximately 16,500 public school teachers.

This average contribution is determined by the total amount, $7,492,191, which the State Department of Education has available for teaching costs. After determining the number of teachers from an estimate of school attendance, the State Department of Education divides the total sum available by the number of teachers and distributes the sum pro rata among the localities.

The localities, for their part, must pay toward their teachers' salaries a sum which is at least 20 per cent of the total, and must bear all other school and instructional costs. No State money is allocated for any purpose except teachers' salaries.

In cases where the locality is too poor to provide its 20 per cent of the instructional cost, the State Department of Education may authorize a lower proportion, with a minimum of 10 per cent.

Where even 10 per cent cannot be provided, as is the case in some five or more Virginia rural counties, the State may, at the discretion of the Governor, step into the breach with money from the State discretionary fund of $150,000.

Unless the locality obtains the money from some emerging source, however, the Virginia law does not permit the State to pay its share toward instructional cost. Neither may the State pay any money to localities which do not guarantee to operate a school term of at least eight months, and all allocations are made on the basis of an eight months' term.

Dr. Hall said that the board of education will take up the cases of delinquent counties at its next meeting and determine how their schools may be financed for the rest of the year in the face of shortages of funds. It must be established that the county has paid all it can, not only from its school levy but from its general funds, before the case can go to the Governor, he said.

While the Federal Government may be asked to aid these delinquent counties after all State funds are exhausted, Virginia's principal request will be for money to carry on to a normal school term those schools for which only eight months have already been provided.

The State last paid about 60 per cent of the total instructional cost of Virginia public schools, that is, of teachers' salaries, but only about 30 per cent of the total cost of all school expenses.

SCHOOL NEWS

The examination period is well under way and the first semester will close on Tuesday. The consolidated report for the county will be published a week later.

Miss Anna Britt of Holland, near Suffolk, Va., has taken charge of the upper grade at Bethel to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Miss Virginia Brockett who is now home demonstration agent of Madison County.

Prof. R. C. Haydon was in Richmond yesterday to confer with the State Architect about plans for the new Haymarket High School. These plans will be ready before the next meeting of the Board at which time it is very probable that the Board will set a date for opening bids.

A WORTHY PROJECT

Miss Neel, Red Cross nurse, is in need of a special typed chair for a crippled child, thirteen years of age, in the county.

A relative of the child will prepare this if the equipment can be gotten together. The average hospital chair is not suitable but some home-made affair, using something in the nature of casters or baby carriage wheels will be more adaptable in the very small home in which the child lives.

Anyone interested in assisting Miss Neel in this matter will please get in touch with her office as soon as possible.

WILL SUPPORT DAIRY FESTIVAL

Club Anxious to Promote Annual Celebration.

The Kiwanis Club had a free-for-all on the subject of the Dairy Festival at its regular meeting last Friday. The eyes seem to have it and that's that.

Bill Cocks was delegated to get in touch with Dan Hollenga with the view of having silvery-tongued Dan interview the legislating bodies of the Piedmont area to get them to make small supporting donations for the affair.

Dick Haydon informed the club that the school supervisor could not be drawn from school time to write or direct a pageant and suggested that the Board felt that much more good might be accomplished if the story of the play were written and presented in the early spring so that the children might go ahead with practice on it as a school project.

Tiffany urged a crowd for the meeting at Fredericksburg last Monday and a delegation responded.

On a motion presented for the club to endorse the submarginal purchase of land by the Federal Government in lower Prince William there was a divided opinion, some not expressing themselves but no one opposing the motion.

Al asked O. D. if he had paid his subscription to The Journal and was informed he was paid up in advance. Al then wanted to know why ye editor had failed to celebrate the noble silver loving cup which Al Roseberry and Fred Hynson worked so hard to get and present to O.D. (The Journal made an awful faux pas that time and Rat claims that he won't allow it to happen again).

BAD ACCIDENT AT POHICK

State Deputy J. W. Clarke has reported a terrible accident which took place on the Jefferson-Davis Highway just north of Pohick Church about three o'clock Monday morning.

It appears that a new Chevrolet coupe driven at a high rate of speed ran into the end of a North Carolina truck, driven by Zeb Mason of Woodruff, N. C., which had broken down on its north-bound trip.

Mr. Mason appears to have exercised such precautionary measures as he could and as this is a three-line road the accident was even more unusual. Only the half of the car occupied by the two passengers struck the truck squarely. Miss Margaret McGee of 1409 Delaplane Pl. N. W., Washington, was desperately hurt when the tailgate of the truck pushed clear into her face fracturing her skull in three places. She was taken to Alexandria by Corp. Steven Custis of the Marine Barracks of Quantico.

The car which was completely wrecked was driven by W. H. Andrews of 1835 Phelps Pl. N. W. Except for a slight cut above the eye, he was uninjured. His wife suffered a dislocated hip and a fractured jaw. She is in a Washington hospital. While Miss McGee's condition is still extremely serious, she is reported much better today.

JAMES B. FLETCHER

James B. Fletcher, born Honaker Russell County, Va., July 18, 1848, died January 3, 1935 at age of 86 years. He moved to Manassas 25 years ago where he has resided since. He purchased the "Old Moore Green Farm" near Brentsville from Judge J. B. T. Thornton in 1908. Mr. Fletcher was well known through out the county and had many friends.

He is survived by his wife, Belle V., one brother in Russell County, who is 92 years old, and a nephew, Grady B. Shoemaker whom he raised from childhood.

REBECCA LODGE INSTALLATION

Dumfries Officers Announce Appointments.

The newly-elected officers of Virginia Dare Rebekah Lodge No. 66, of Dumfries, Va., were installed into their respected chairs Monday night, January 7, by the installing staff of Liberty Rebekah Lodge No. 66, of Alexandria, headed by Mrs. Henry, district deputy president of Liberty.

The work was beautifully done.

The noble grand appointed officers as follows: Warden, Miss Maxine Rison; conductor, Mrs. Linnie Wright; chaplain, Mrs. Mollie Garrison; right supporter to noble grand, Mr. Tom Von Yoncas; left supporter to noble grand, Miss Debbie Miller; inner guard, Mrs. Lottie Young; outer guard, Mr. Frederick Lewis.

After the installation, speeches were in order by the newly-installed officers and visitors. Then delicious refreshments were served by the refreshment committee. Mrs. Beulah Brawner then entertained with a selection on the piano in her most proficient manner.

On Tuesday night, Jan. 15, the president of the Rebekah Assembly of Virginia, Mrs. Adella Dunham, made her official visit to Virginia Dare.

MERCHANT-WATERS

A very pretty New Year's eve wedding of interest to many of the old north Virginia families took place on December 31 at 8 o'clock in the evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. McDaniel in Clarendon, the Rev. Charles B. Austin of the West Washington Baptist Church officiating.

The bride, Miss Isabel Waters, who is a daughter of Mrs. P. J. Kearney, of Nashville, Tenn., was gownned in a dress of blue mauve-saie and carried yellow sweetheart roses. The maid of honor, her sister, Mrs. C. C. Shilling, of Washington, wore black velvet and carried sweetheart roses.

The groom, Mr. Ralph Merchant, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Merchant, of Purcellville, had as his best man Mr. Floyd Longbeam, of Washington.

With Mrs. George Tudor of Washington at the piano, Mr. Tudor sang "For Me Alone." During the ceremony, Mrs. Tudor played "I Love You Truly."

Beside seasonal decorations and the gorgeous Christmas tree, the home had been decorated in red poinsettas. After the ceremony a buffet supper was served by Mr. and Mrs. McDaniel.

Owing to the inclement weather, the young couple deferred their wedding trip and on January 6 the groom's mother gave a reception for the newly-weds at the family home in Purcellville. There were about fifty guests, many of whom sought this occasion to bring wedding presents for Mr. and Mrs. Merchant.

CHANGE IN ATHLETIC PLANS.

The Principals Association of this county has decided to arrange a county schedule in place of the customary county tournament. Each team will play two games with each team in the county league. The team with the most victories in the final count will receive the county banner.

PUBLICITY FOR CONSERVATION

Chairman Hall Announces New Policy.

The newly-appointed State Conservation and Development Commission will be formally organized this week when it will call upon Governor Peery at the Capitol and be charged with its new duties.

Immediately after this ceremony, the commission will get down to work. Plans and policies for the future will be discussed, and division heads will be called upon to come before the commission and describe their activities.

The members of the commission will get their first real glimpse into the workings of the commission when they are informed by division heads of the exact nature and status of the work under way and of what has been projected for the immediate future.

Wilbur C. Hall, chairman of the commission since January 1, has announced a policy of open publicity. Newspapers will be allowed to sit in meetings of the commission, in contrast to the "closed" meetings conducted by the former commission.

TEMPERANCE EDUCATION DAY, JANUARY 23

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union will meet at the home of Mrs. R. L. Sadd Wednesday, Jan. 23, at 3 p.m. A Temperance Education Day program will be given.

Anyone interested in this work is welcome. This is one of our National Red Letter days so we hope all members will try to be present.

JUNIOR WOMAN'S CLUB

The January meeting of the Junior Woman's Club was held at the home of Mrs. J. P. Lyon, with Misses Rena Bevans and Janet Truelser as hostesses.

The meeting was opened by the president in the usual manner by the reading of the collect. The treasurer gave a very favorable report, and all bills were ordered paid. After the reading of the minutes and the treasurer's report, the various committees were asked to report.

Miss Ellen Bison, general manager of the progressive dinner, which was given during the holidays, thanked the club members for their cooperation and help in making the dinner such a success. Everyone was pleased with the manner in which the dinner was put on, and mention was made of making this an annual affair for the club.

A letter from Mr. Ledman was read to the club thanking the members for assisting the Kiwanis members with the packing of their Christmas baskets.

[The visiting committee reported having called on several members of the club who were sick. Mrs. Lyon thanked the club for the poinsettia sent to her at Christmas by the members.

Plans were discussed for a dance, to be held some time in the near future, and the chairman of the ways and means committee, Miss Rena Bevans, was appointed to investigate a suitable date, and report to the club at the next meeting. Also other plans of raising money were discussed, and these were also ordered to be investigated further before final presentation.

Miss Lucy Gibson was welcomed to the club as a new member, and after the business meeting a small mock initiation was held. Lucy proved to be an excellent candidate.

CATHARPIN

Well, every body out this way are all excited over the recent fashion promulgation that "by Easter, hoops will again appear and be worn by the ladies." Certainly that's enough to excite anybody because it shows to what lengths the "New Dealers" will go. For a long time they have been complaining that the "heavy goods manufacturers," meaning iron and steel, must be boosted before prosperity can get rightly under way; so now the mills are to be started in the "hoop iron" business to make hoops for the ladies.

Well, nothing succeeds like success. When the mills could no longer sell steel rails, the "Brain-trustees" got busy to see if they could not help them; so they finally decided that if they could get the ladies to wearing hoops it would not only start the mills but it would start the looms and spindles as well, hence the "promulgation"; but just how the men will take to the New Deal is yet to be determined. They have been so used to getting a yard and an eighth for an evening gown for their wives that to ask them now to buy it by the bolt may strain his mental conception as well as his pocketbook. Just to think of it, is but to shudder.

Mrs. R. A. Collins and daughter, Mrs. C. F. Caton, have been frequent visitors at the Warrenton hospital to see their son and brother, Max, who is undergoing treatment for an infected hand from which he has been suffering great pain. Last reports indicate he is slowly improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. R. McDonald were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Lynn of Ben Lomond on Sunday.

It has often been asserted that if the "Movies" would put on the right kind of pictures they would be as well or better patronized than those of the questionable or objectionable characters with which the whole system seems to be infected. This is the argument of those who have the welfare of children and young people at heart and wish them protected from the viciousness of nudity and sex appeal. The other side, or the box office, claims it would suffer if a moral picture is exhibited. So there you have it. It is not our purpose to discuss the question at this time further than to refer to the Will Rogers pictures which have recently been shown in Manassas and ask the question—"Were they well patronized?" Those of you who attended may answer; especially those of you who had to wait outside until the first showing was over before a seat could be obtained. If we wished to get personal we could name a number of people from Catharpin ranging in ages from grandparents down to school children who braved the rain and mud at night to see it. What sayest thou? Does this indicate that a good, moral picture will not be patronized?

It seems rather hard to get away from Gov. Peery's "good citizens" as mentioned in his "specific appeal" for better law enforcement in the State of Virginia, and which was carried in the public press thruout the State. The fact that he mentioned "good" citizens brings to mind that, by contrast, there must be "bad" citizens, else why the need of laws at all? It looks, therefore, as though this might be another opportunity to again wipe off our glasses so that we may look carefully and see just how many "good" citizens we have.

Of course, the first requisite in a case of this kind is a definition as to what constitutes a "good" citizen. We haven't a doubt in the world but what a majority of the voters of Virginia, if called upon for specifications, could give a pretty good idea as to what it takes to make a good citizen; so if it were possible to hear from them, there is no doubt but that a mighty good, composite definition could be obtained. But in the absence of such opportunity, may we venture to suggest one for your approval? or if you know a better one, we shall be glad to stand corrected. So now prepare your ballots ready to vote on the following:

"Resolved, That a Good Citizen Is One Who Loves His God, Respects His Fellow Man, and Obeys the Laws of His Country."

All in favor of the "motion" say "I." Opposed "No." As Champ Clerk used to say when he was Speaker of the House—"The eyes SEEM to have it (gavel); the eyes HAVE it (gavel); ADOPTED (gavel). All right! Thank you very much. Now that we have it adopted, the next thing is something else. How many of us can qualify as good citizens? Now don't begin to twist and squirm around in your chair and look over the rims of your glasses out into space, but sit up straight, take your spectacles off, wipe them thoroughly, put them back in place, stand up before a mirror, then ask the fellow you see if he can qualify. Upon the answer, much of Gov. Peery's appeal will depend.

Mr. and Mrs. L. K. Lynn and Miss Minnie Wilkins of Manassas were Sunday afternoon callers at the E. N. Pattie home in Catharpin to visit the mother and sister, Mrs. Mary E. Wilkins and Mrs. Pattie. Mr. Lynn is the manager of the Hibbs and Giddings clothing store in the county capital.

Cynthia Pattie, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Pattie, has been confined to her room for the past week suffering from cold or whatever it is that almost everybody seems to be having just now. The community at the present time seems to be complaining "right much."

"Strange as it may seem" as John Hix may say, yet 'tis true that letters are coming in addressed to "The Catharpin Correspondent of The Manassas Journal," and they are being delivered to us. The Journal must have a pretty wide circulation since these letters come from long distances sometimes. Well we are glad to get them since it shows that, though absent, people are still interested in the "Old Home Town." Some come from papers eulogizing us for some of our deliverances, and even quote us in their columns. Well we are glad to be of some account in the world and hope our friends may still find something of interest from our sometimes very hastily scribbled letters.

NOKESVILLE

Mr. H. M. Hinton, who has been quite ill at his home here, is slowly improving.

Mrs. George Beahm, who was injured in an auto wreck some time ago, is able to be out again.

Mr. W. S. Hamilton, who has been confined to his home with flu for the last ten days, is better.

Colds and flu are very prevalent around this neighborhood, many of the school children being out of school the past week.

Dr. C. B. Martin is attending the men at the C. C. Camp while Dr. McBryde is in the hospital.

CHRIST FOR ALL—ALL FOR CHRIST
The Word of God
 BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

A SURE DWELLING PLACE: Trust in the Lord and do good; so shalt thou dwell in the land, and verily thou shalt be fed.—Psalm 37:3.

SOUTHERN VICTORY

On January 19 the South will close its doors to all other influences and honor the leader of the men who wore the gray. This is the strong tie that binds the old Confederate States together and this strong union, this solid old democratic block, is at last in control of the nation.

Seventy odd years ago the band of ragged half-starved men, who went with shoeless feet back to homes, destroyed by vandalism, met the courage of Southern womanhood to match their peerless valor—strong in apparent defeat.

And while these men who had taken the blood oath of deathless brotherhood labored to restore the land, the women took up the education of their children. The Confederate flag with all the high principles of Anglo-Saxonism was proclaimed to their children and the Daughters of the Confederacy untiringly strove for the truths of history. They promulgated no bitterness—they fought for love of country.

Today in the halls of the United States Capitol which once rung with scathing denunciations of "rebels" stand the statues of President Davis and Gen. Lee—magnificent tribute to the untiring work of the women of the South.

No voice of real manhood ever utters the word "rebel" now and the South has won the war of the rebellion. Unity, courage, love have dominated the determined efforts of the South to turn Appomattox into glittering victory.

And this victory is moving in a strong tide of peace and plenty into the impoverished wastes of the North and West.

WHY THE TIME LIMIT?

Country news correspondents have other thoughts than those regarding the comings and goings, the illnesses, deaths, births and convalescences in the

WELCOME NEWS FOR BANK DEPOSITORS

After December 31, 1934, bank depositors who maintain checking accounts will no longer have to pay the Federal Tax of two cents on each check issued; PROVIDED the next Congress does not reimpose the tax.

Bank customers everywhere will welcome the repeal of this tax. Ninety-five per cent of all business transactions in this country are settled by check. A checking account is a convenience, a safeguard, a time and labor saver.

To the people of this community, we are glad to offer the protection, the convenience and many benefits of a checking account in this institution.

The Peoples National Bank of Manassas community. Here, for example, is the writer of the Catharpin (pronounced Cat-Har-Pin) column in The Manassas Journal.

Catharpin, in Prince William County, is a community of fairly prosperous farmers, who, for the most part, enjoy the better things of life. As country communities go, it may be classified as sporty, but that does not mean that laws are disregarded.

And it is to law that the writer of the Catharpin column refers. After noting in one paragraph that Dr. and Mrs. Brower both are suffering from severe colds, the correspondent quotes a paragraph from an Associated Press dispatch out of Richmond on December 21:

"John Q. Rhodes, director of Motor Vehicles, promises strict enforcement during the holiday period of the law against driving on highways by intoxicated persons."

To which the correspondent adds the question:

"Why limit it to the holiday period?"

A good question, say we. What says Mr. Rhodes?—Norfolk Virginian-Pilot.

Editor, Manassas Journal:

I want to correct mistakes in the death notices in The Manassas Journal in regard to the sickness and death of my husband, James William Godfrey. He was born April 19, 1851, and died December 30, 1934, after an illness which lasted one year and 9 months. He served in the Confederate Army as a helper on the battlefields to help care for the dead and wounded. He was 83 years old. He is survived by seven daughters. Interment was in the Payne cemetery at Clifton Station.

Very truly,
 Bessie Heflin Godfrey.

(The Editor is not aware of any errors in which occurred in the obituary given to him by Mr. Godfrey's nephew who came in to pay his subscription on his return to Catlett. The above however is published with pleasure.)

ASBURY S. HARRISON

Asbury S. Harrison, aged sixty-eight, died at his home at Floris at 5 o'clock, Monday evening. The funeral is taking place today at the M. E. Church, South, in Herndon, where the Rev. S. V. Hildebrand officiating. He was pastor at Centreville and Fairfax when he performed the marriage ceremony of Nancy Clinton Holden and Asbury S. Harrison on April 15, 1895.

Mr. Harrison has long been identified with public life in Fairfax County. Besides being a prosperous farmer, he was one of the original promoters of the Herndon Water Company and the Herndon Light Company. It was later through his activities and that of Mr. Thomas Keith of Fairfax that the Fairfax and Loudoun Light and Power Company was organized which later became a subsidiary of the Virginia Public Service Company.

Due to ill health, Mr. Harrison was forced to retire from active life several years ago. He has been a patient sufferer and has known for months that his end was rapidly nearing.

He leaves one brother, "Uncle" George Harrison, for many years a supervisor in the county and still prominent in local civic life, one sister, Mrs. Winfield Dye of Washington, and two sons, Holden and Ray, who are farmers at Floris.

The passing of such a familiar figure as that of Asbury Harrison is naturally a source of regret to everyone in the Herndon community.

A NEW YEAR'S PRAYER

Dear Lord, the New Year now is here, Be Thou with me another year, Make me to see my faults and be More and more like unto Thee; Make me more gentle, Lord, and mild, And simple as a little child, For 'til I humble and childlike be, I may not enter unto Thee.

Make me kind to those I know, For Thou, dear Lord, wouldst have me so, Make me to forgive, and say "Peace be with thee, go thy way." Curb my tongue and guide my way, Make me mindful what I say, Use me Dear God, just as You will, But give me love and guidance still. —by Mrs. K. S. Tolson.

PASSERS-BY

I was standin' by a window At a busy time of day, Just watchin' people passin' by, A'hurryin' on their way, And as they went before me, Unconscious of my stare, I looked into each person's face And read the drama there.

First I saw a farmer, With a basket in his hand, Who had come to town to bargain For the products of his land. His shoulders bent from labor And his footsteps halt from toil, It seems to me he dearly paid For wrestlin' with the soil.

Next there came a business man With proud, impressive air, But the wrinkles told his worry And the grey hair told his care. I knew it kept him busy To afford to dress so neat, So I taboored the business man A'stridin' down the street.

A drunkard slowly shuffled by, A'mutterin' his sad plight; His face was red and bloated And he surely looked a sight. He must have brought but heartaches To his family there at home, And I shook my head in pity As he cursed and staggered on.

And then a little child went by, A'skippin' down the street; His face was wreathed with sunbeams And freedom winged his feet, And then and there I realized If I could draw life's plan I'd rather be a kid again Than any type of man!

There will be a missionary pageant held at the church of Cherry Hill on Sunday night, January 27.

Mr. Bobbie Waters, a well-known and liked citizen of Dumfries, Va., is very ill. He has been in bed for about two weeks from a heart attack. We are hoping he will soon recover and be out again.

The Dumfries School has organized a club. The following officers were elected: Stanley Watson, president; Clyde Wate, vice-president; Gertrude Patterson, secretary; Betty Moncure, treasurer. The club was organized for the purpose of getting better athletic material.

The people of Quantico are glad that the "Fog bell" has stopped ringing. We can now look for smiles and better speech instead of frowns.

The Community League has nearly finished the great task it has taken upon itself. They have one more trip to the dentist and Dumfries will report a 100 per cent in dental correction to Mr. Haydon.

ROUGH WEATHER
 Blinded by a driving snow which set up shortly after six o'clock p.m. last night, traffic on our main highways became exceedingly hazardous all during the night.
 Road patrolmen were on the job at an early hour trying to clear the pavements. This morning practically all of the secondary system was made entirely passable and as the snow rapidly became slush there was little danger of drifting. The rain in the early hours of the day had also formed a crust which cut down possibility of much drifting.

Officer Clarke reports a number of bad wrecks on the Jefferson Davis Highway but nowhere does there seem to have been any serious injuries or fatalities. The snow rode in on a sharp west wind and came in swirls. It was fine but the fall was heavy and in many places exceeded seven inches.

A STUDY of the past reveals that corn yields have a pronounced tendency to return to normal or better following seasons of abnormally dry weather. As indicated by the shaded columns in the above graph, the production per acre after the three severe drought years of 1894, 1901, and 1930 rose from a low average of about 10.4 bushels to approximately the normal United States annual average of about 26 bushels per acre. The yield of both barley and oats also was higher in two out of the three seasons following years of unusual drought.

The reasonable expectation in 1935, therefore, is normal or near normal corn yields. This fact has an important bearing on corn planting intentions for the coming spring. Material adjustments in cattle and hog numbers since a year ago have lowered corn requirements to such an extent that even the average acreage of recent years would produce, at normal yields, a burdensome surplus of corn.

Under the 1935 production adjustment contract, being offered by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, corn-hog farmers will have an opportunity to control corn acreage in keeping with these reduced requirements and the expectation of a normal yield per acre.

TUBERCULOSIS IS CURABLE
State Health Department Clinic

It is a well-known fact that 80 per cent, of eight out of every ten cases of tuberculosis, are cured who are properly treated in the early stage of the disease. The majority of cases, unfortunately do not seek medical aid until they have reached an advanced stage.

Tuberculosis, a rule, does not cause pain or suffering in the early stage. For this reason, it is sometimes very difficult to convince those found in this stage that they have tuberculosis, and this delays treatment until it is too late. To find it early any person who has been in contact with a known case of tuberculosis or anyone who feels the least bit badly should consult their physician at once.

Tuberculosis is a communicable disease, which accounts for its running in families. One careless patient often gives it to the children and young people who live in the same home, or to a less extent to those with whom they associate outside the home. These people may break down with the disease long after being in contact with the patient. For this reason, anyone who has been around (especially during childhood, adolescence, or early adult life) a person who died with lung trouble, should be examined once a year as a precaution, and at any other time he feels badly in any way.

A clinic will be conducted by a specialist of the State Department of Health for this purpose in the Courthouse at Manassas on Tuesday, January 22. This clinic will be under the auspices of the County Board of Health and in co-operation with the physicians of the county.

If any treatment is found necessary, it must be done by the family physician whose care and advice they must depend on for their health and happiness anyway. For this reason, it is necessary for those wishing an examination, which is free of cost to all, to consult their family doctor or visiting nurse and made an appointment. Anyone desiring examination must have a signed request from the family physician and must consult the nurse for appointment.

Children under fifteen years of age are not examined at this clinic unless especially referred by a doctor. It has long been recognized that tuberculosis in children cannot be found without a special examination in which the tuberculin test and the X-ray are used.

HIS NEW LEAF

The Catharpin correspondent, in last week's columns to The Journal, stressed the good results of starting the New Year with that proverbial old "New Leaf."

Then, he dwells caustically and at length on the subject of Repeal and Prohibition; closing that feature of his column by asking:

"Did any of you notice Franklin D. Roosevelt's picture emblazoned large on the pages of the daily press advertising the benefits of liquor, a few days ago?"

Yes, Mr. Catharpin, every level-minded reader of the daily press intuitively felt, on seeing the handsome face of our President so used, that the distillers had acted without warrant.

Therefore:

It was less surprising than gratifying to read, in the daily press, the White House edict to the distillers of our country prohibiting their use of the President's picture.

And every attentive reader of the daily papers knows how this White House edict was promptly followed by one to the Press of the United States notifying them of the White House orders relative to use of the Chief Executive's picture in connection with such advertisements.

The Catharpin correspondent makes no mention of these published statements from the Executive Office. Might it not be well for him to have less malice aforethought, in his New Leaf, and more of the milk of human kindness?

Justice.

JEAN HARLOW MAKES HIT WITH CALIF. POLICE

They "mugged" platinum-blond Jean Harlow at the Pasadena, Calif., police station before she finished her starring role in the new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture, "The Girl from Missouri" which is to be seen at the Dixie Theatre in Manassas next Friday and Saturday, January 25 and 26. She was photographed and fingerprinted by the police, not because she had violated any of the Crown City's laws, but because she had previously broken an important engagement to appear as honored guest at the Pasadena police department ball. Her presence at the festivities had aided in making the ball the most successful in the history of the Pasadena department... so the bluecoats rewarded her by appointing her honorary police chief of the city. The ceremony took place at the police headquarters, where Police Chief pinned a chief's gold badge on her. He told her she shall always be honorary chief of the department during her absence from the city and active chief whenever she visits Pasadena.

Mr. Clyde Holsinger and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Carr, all of Takoma Park, Md., made a flying trip to Brentsville Sunday. Mrs. Bessie Hurdle, of Elkton, Va., visited friends and relatives at Brentsville this week. There was a big serenade in Brentsville Monday night as Mr. Morris Keys and his bride spent their first night since their marriage at home. Their many friends wish them much happiness.

BUCKLAND

Funeral services were conducted from Harrison Memorial Church on Monday, Jan. 14, at 3 p.m., for Mr. John Nalls, who died at his home in Washington on Friday, following a long illness. Mr. Nalls was 88 years of age and had been in active health until a few days before his death. The deceased made his home for many years in Buckland, and was quite well known here. His remains were laid to rest beside his wife in the cemetery here.

Mr. and Mrs. Alonza Graham, and Mrs. Carrie Carter, of Cabin John, Md., were dinner guests on Monday of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Graham. Miss Helen Nalls, who is spending some time with her aunt, Mrs. Lucy Moffett, at Belvoir, was a Buckland visitor on Monday.

ANNUAL MEETING OF CROP CORPORATION

Beginning with the middle part of this month meetings all over the country will be held to review the first year's activities of the world's first complete short-term credit system for farmers, which is composed of approximately 620 farmers' cooperative associations known as Production Credit Associations, according to J. Alfred Austin, secretary-treasurer of the Warrenton Production Credit Association.

The Warrenton association, which is the cooperative short-term credit organization for farmers of Fauquier, Loudoun, Fairfax, Arlington, Prince William, Culpeper, and Rappahannock Counties, is one of the nation-wide chain of credit associations and it will hold its meeting at Warrenton, Va., in the Court House on January 22 at 10 a.m.

Mr. Austin said that although the annual meeting actually is primarily for the stockholders or borrowers of the Warrenton association, as are all others throughout the country, anyone interested may attend.

"There have been and are now in existence cooperative credit institutions for farmers in other parts of the world," Mr. Austin said, "but there are none that are as complete or as basically cooperative or sound as those of the nature of the Warrenton Production Credit Association."

"These associations do not lend one cent of government money," Mr. Austin said. "The government, through the Production Credit Corporation of the Farm Credit Administration of Baltimore, has helped to organize the associations by investing in each association a part of its initial capital stock and by helping to supervise the lending activities of each association. But the responsibility of making loans and collecting them lies entirely on the shoulders of the stockholders or borrowers of the associations. When the loans are soundly made the associations are strengthened and in turn the stockholders gain a more valuable organization; and when a loan is not soundly made the associations and their stockholders must pay for their unwise loan."

Mr. Austin said that the Warrenton association, like all others of its kind, is organized in such a manner that the farmers who live in its territory may borrow money collectively and economically from the public investment market, in order that they may thereby be enabled to pay cash for their farm supplies and labor and other farm production expenses. He pointed out that when a farmer buys farm supplies on a charge account he usually must pay 15 or 20 per cent interest a year on such an account, when, if he obtains his credit from a specialized credit institution like the Warrenton Production Credit Association, he need pay only 5 per cent interest a year.

At the meeting of stockholders, Mr. Austin said, officials and a board of directors will be elected for the ensuing year. "These men," he said, "are largely responsible for the success of the association. The present officials and directors are all men of experience and ability, and their successors also must be men of equal merit. It is most important, if for no other reason than that of the election of officials and directors, that all stockholders be present."

A report of the activities of the association during its first year of existence will be made at the meeting. There also will be several talks. Among those scheduled to speak are: Mr. L. L. Triplett, president, and a representative from Baltimore.

The Warrenton association has, since its organization in January, 1934, received 186 applications for loans, and has made 100 loans, totaling approximately $142,000.00.

Mr. Austin said that the number of applications for loans are increasing regularly, and have been since organization.

How a Bank Meets Its Expenses

—that are incurred in rendering services and in furnishing necessary supplies.

TO render banking services and to furnish checkbooks, deposit slips and passbooks costs money.

A well-managed bank ordinarily covers a large part of the cost of rendering such services to its depositors by employing their free balances in good loans and investments. This bank gives its depositors full benefit of this principle by conducting its business with maximum efficiency to keep its operating costs low. On small, or highly active accounts, which otherwise would not pay their way, a service fee is charged in accordance with sound banking principles. These principles will be fully explained by our officers on request.
