FOUNDER'S DAY IS OBSERVED

Special Eulogy Is Given Deceased League Official.

Founder's Day was celebrated on Thursday, Feb. 21, by the High School Community League and the High School. At 2:30 p.m. the school assembled in the auditorium with thirty or more patrons present where a most pleasing and fitting program was presented by a selected number of students with Miss Mary Pattie as leader.

Commemorating February birthdays of personages was the chief feature. Among the biographies given were George Washington, Abraham Lincoln, Henry W. Longfellow, Charles Dickens, Sidney Lanier, John Henry Newman and Handel.

A vocal solo, "Lead Kindly Light," by Rev. John M. DeChant, accompanied by Miss Virginia Speiden at the piano, and a piano selection by Cleveland Fisher were received with appreciation. The school patrons expressed gratitude to Miss Eugenia Osborn for this hour of literary entertainment and to the students, Virginia Hurst, Eula Slusher, Aldina Blevins, Jessie Mae Conner, Lucy Gibson and Raymond Davis, who so well rendered their part on the program.

After benediction by Rev. DeChant the patrons and faculty retired to the dining room of the domestic science department where a continuation of Founder's Day observance was held.

Past presidents of the league were invited to take part in the program. Mrs. Katie Lewis Burke and Mrs. Ewell Evans could not be present.

By special request of Miss Osborn a tribute was paid to the deceased past president, Mrs. Albert Speiden, by Mrs. R. L. Byrd. Mrs. Byrd said "It would be impossible to tell in brief of all the successful and splendid work accomplished by Mrs. Speiden in her short life of fifty-nine years, but suffice to say that next to her love for home and church was that love she gave to the Confederacy, memorial work, and education. She took an active and intelligent interest in the Manassas Chapter U. D. C., the Ladies Memorial Association of Manassas and the High School Patrons League. Mrs. Speiden was ever faithful. She was also capable, cultured, charming, hospitable and charitable, in word and deed, an inspiration to those with whom she came in contact.

"Although Mrs. Speiden has passed on from our midst her gentle, sweet spirit and noble influence will ever remain with us."

The next past president, Mrs. W. L. Lloyd, gave a summary of her work followed by Mrs. C. C. Lynn.

After a short business session the league was most happily surprised by an invitation to be the guest of Miss Veda Marie Draper's domestic science class at a beautifully appointed tea. The lace covered dining table, as if by magic, became a thing of beauty, adorned by a snowy white birthday cake, soft flickering candlelight, dainty wafers and sweets in the form of coconut covered dates. The tea table was presided over by Miss Lula D. Metz. Two young ladies, Misses Naomi Smith and Elizabeth Partlow of Miss Draper's department, were the official hostesses of the afternoon and much credit is due them for planning, preparing and serving. Miss Smith presented the cake an expressed appreciation of the co-operation and assistance the league had given the school. Mrs. A. A. Hooff, presiding officer, responded in her usual pleasing manner.

Thus ended Founder's Day observance.

GRANGE HAS SUCCESS- FUL GET-TOGETHER

Bull Run Grange held its first social meeting since the installation of officers in January, other scheduled meetings having been postponed on account of bad weather and impassable roads.

After business was briefly attended to, Lecturer C. B. Roland gave an interesting account of his trip to Blacksburg as Grange delegate, and plans were discussed for some really constructive work to be carried out as soon as possible, and the usual delicious refreshments were served.

DATE CHANGED

The Painter's meeting which was to have been held at Simpson's Service Station, West Manassas, on Tuesday night, Feb. 26, has been postponed to Monday night, March 4.

The demonstration is free and there will be movies and talkies.

The County Red Cross Nursing Activities Committee will hold its March meeting in the Red Cross office in the Peoples Bank building in Manassas at 2 p.m. on Friday, March 8. A full attendance is desired as several matters of importance concerning the service are to be discussed and delegates appointed to attend the annual Red Cross convention to be held in Washington April 8-11.

BUYS INTEREST IN GROCERY

Stanley Smith Joins D. G. S. Staff.

Mr. Stanley Smith, well known in business and fraternal circles in this locality, this week completed the purchase of a half interest in the Manassas District Grocery Store.

This up-to-date meat and grocery market which has been under the management of Mr. Noah Dove for several months past, has widened its clientele considerably and has made a wise move in associating Mr. Smith with its management.

Mr. Smith is already welcoming his many friends which he has acquired in his six years of retail grocery management, all of whom wish him well in his new enterprise.

JUNIORS TO ATTEND TRI-STATE MEETING

Final plans are being laid this week for the O.F.A. motorcade which will go to Millwood next Friday night, March 8.

Deputy George Baker states that from twelve to fifteen have already been pledged and that seating room in all of them has not been taken. Offers of additional cars are being received daily. The new Ford dealers have offered to donate the use of one of their cars which is greatly appreciated by the local council.

Final arrangements must be made by the middle of the week and Deputy Baker will designate the point of meeting which will probably be in Manassas at about 5:30 on the evening of March 8. The most direct route is straight through to Chantilly on the Lee-Jackson Highway.

MRS. DIDLAKE ENTERTAINS GIRL SCOUTS AT TEA

The Girl Scouts and "Brownies" were hostesses at a colonial silver tea on Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Didlake.

The guests were greeted at the door by scouts and brownies who were very attractive in colonial costumes. They were ushered into the dining room where Mrs. Didlake and Miss Vera Draper served tea from a beautifully appointed table.

The table was laid with a white linen cloth graced in the center by a silver bowl of red tulips amidst four burning red candles.

During the afternoon Mrs. Will Leachman rendered several selections on the piano and Misses Molly and Nancy Leachman entertained the guests with several vocal selections.

The "Brownies" danced the minuet. They were accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Will Leachman. Around forty guests dropped in for tea during the afternoon.

CLUB PURCHASES REST ROOM CLOCK

A very pleasant occasion was the February meeting of the Bethlehem Club which was held at the home of Mrs. Hebe Jackson with Miss Florence Kincheloe, assistant hostess.

A representative number of club members answered to roll call and a spirit of harmony and co-operation was manifest throughout the meeting.

Miss Annie Roberts, of Monaca, Pa., a former member of the club, was present. Other guests were Mrs. W. M. Compton, Mrs. C. B. Jones and Miss Laura Chamblin of Washington, a house guest of Mrs. Jackson. The president, Mrs. R. L. Sadd, made welcome the guests, also new member, Mrs. B. F. Knox.

The purchase of a much needed time piece for the rest room was placed in the hands of Mrs. Emily Round.

The entertainment program committee presented Mrs. Broadbuss in vocal renditions and Mrs. Washington in a humorous reading.

During the social hour the hostesses served a delectable dessert course and coffee.

PRESERVING THE NATION'S CREDIT

Speech of Hon. Harry Flood Byrd
(Feb. 20, 1935)

Mr. BYRD. Mr. President, when President Roosevelt came into office he faced a people who had lost confidence in the capacity of the Hoover administration to lead them out of the wilderness of mounting public debt, unbalanced budgets, and bad business. He found many of the banks of the Nation on the very brink of the pit of popular distrust. The President met this dangerous and tragic situation with wise and dramatic decision. He closed all the banks and announced that only those which were sound would be permitted to reopen.

The people responded to confident leadership, and substantial improvement in business has come slowly. This is recognized by wholly impartial studies as the new year's activities get under way. The improvement appears in an increase in industrial production, a reduction in the number of the unemployed, and a substantial rise in the price of all basic and farm commodities. And yet there are still 10,000,000 men out of employment and the President asks us to increase our public debt nearly 20 per cent by appropriating nearly $5,000,000,000 in excess of our revenue for the construction of public works in order to give jobs to about one-third of these unemployed.

If this legislation shall be passed we will commit the United States to furnish jobs to the 3,500,000 on relief rolls now unemployed until, as the President says, they shall be absorbed by the rising tide of employment in private industry. It is a continuing obligation not only for this year, but for the years to come. It will require huge additional appropriations for some time in the future. Many of the employables now on relief rolls do not have jobs even in normal times.

Mr. President, we are entering the second phase of our recovery; we are now beginning the sixth year of our war against the depression. The time has come when temporary and emergency legislation should yield to sound principles of gradual but substantial reductions in public spending, increasing our markets abroad, and giving confidence to private enterprise to go forward. There is a limit to the credit of even the richest nation in the world. The preservation of that credit is vital to the ability of this Government to preserve its power to serve the helpless and the needy and to give to all its citizens the security of just and orderly government.

All agree that the good credit of the United States is the foundation upon which any structure of recovery must be built. The President preserved that rock of our salvation when he restored confidence in the banks, for it is through the banks that the Government is enabled to market its billions of obligations. Today the banks hold about one-half the Government bonds. A decline of a few points in Government bonds would embarrass thousands of banks. The credit of the United States has remained unimpaired for a long time. It is unimpaired today. It must remain unimpaired in the long succession of tomorrows. It will not remain unimpaired long if we continue to spend in one budget nearly $9,000,000,000, when our income is little more than $4,000,000,000.

Another appropriation like this one will begin to weaken the confidence of investors who must buy Government bonds to finance this huge spending program. If we embark upon the policy of guaranteeing those out of work a job until absorbed by private industry by means of a costly public works program such appropriations must continue beyond this pending budget.

Mr. President, in the latter part of 1929, when the signal gun for the depression was fired from Wall Street in the collapse of values, the Federal debt was $16,000,000,000. When President Roosevelt assumed office the debt was not quite $21,000,000,000. This administration had no responsibility for that debt. But President Roosevelt on March 10, 1933, expressed his apprehension that the continued deficits added to our debt were alarming, and that only a rigid economy could stop us on the road to bankruptcy.

And yet, Mr. President, if the pending joint resolution shall be made law and this huge sum shall be spent, our national debt will be in excess of $34,000,000,000, more than twice the amount we owed when the collapse of our mad inflation under Harding, Coolidge and Hoover startled us like a clap of thunder. It will be $9,000,000,000 more than the peak of the war debt.

With this $5,000,000,000 added we shall have spent in less than 6 years $18,000,000,000 more than our income. Our Federal appropriation bill as proposed for 1 year is nearly 5 per cent of our total national wealth. It is one-fifth of the total gross income of the Nation for 1933. It is double—twice—the total cash income for 1932 of all the farmers of the United States. It is nearly five times the total net incomes returned by all corporations for 1932. It is nearly three times the total net taxable incomes of individuals for 1932. A tax of 1 per cent on products of manufacture would yield the Government only $250,000,000. Therefore, we are spending this year a sum equal to the yield of a sales tax of 36 per cent on products of manufacture.

These comparisons do not include the constantly mounting local and State taxes. In 1932 our States, counties, cities and other subdivisions spent $9,562,615,000. Since then such expenditures have been increased so that if the pending measure shall be passed there will be spent next year by all governmental units and subdivisions nearly $20,000,000,000, which will be at least 40 per cent of the total gross income of the Nation.

Mr. President, will $34,000,000,000 of Federal debt be the maximum? It will not be if this joint resolution shall be passed, because the course we are pursuing—borrowing money for public expenditures and increasing our enormous deficit each year—will chill the confidence of business men in the future prospects of reasonable profits, even though the credit of the Nation can stand the strain.

We remember the shock to the country some years ago when Congress first appropriated a single billion dollars and Thomas B. Reed, the then brilliant Republican Speaker of the House of Representatives, defended such action by saying that this was "a billion dollar country." We have gone far and fast since then, and if this measure shall be passed, the first item we must write in our future appropriation bills is more than $1,000,000,000 for interest alone on our public debt, an amount more than twice as great since the depression began.

I think in the present stage of our fight against the depression recovery can come only by: First, the assurance of a gradual reduction in governmental expenditures, so that within a reasonable time we shall have a balanced budget; second, conduct of government within an income that will not require excessive increases in Federal taxes; third, constructive efforts to regain our still diminishing foreign markets; fourth, assurance that individuals may develop a business without the fear of competition in that business by the Federal Government, or undue interference with the reasonable control of his business so long as he acts with a decent regard for the rights of others.

Business men must have faith in the future before they will venture; they cannot have faith unless they have good reason to believe that taxes will not absorb their reasonable profits; they cannot feel secure unless they believe that the currency will be sound and fairly stable; they will not invest freely new money unless they have confidence that the Government will protect them in their right to the property they own and their privilege to use that property in gainful pursuits.

Under our profit and loss system recovery depends on the will to work, and upon the investments of those who have capital. Such men and women must not fear the unreasonable and excessive increase of taxes. But they know that such increase is inevitable if organized minorities combine to become organized majorities with the political power to raid the Treasury. This is the grave danger that threatens our democracy in the proposal to add to our present pensioners more than 3,000,000 persons over 65, to guarantee by the measure before us a Federal job to three and a half million more; to appropriate millions of dollars more for the relief of the indigent and dependent children; and to establish an increasing army of Government employees to administer the bureaus that will distribute the Government money.

CHILDREN OF CONFEDERACY HOLD MEETING

The Children of the Confederacy held their monthly meeting last Thursday, February 21. The president read the various committees and the members working under each, and they were assigned to their duties. The ways and means committee decided to have a bingo party to be given Saturday, March 16. Everyone approved of this and Lelia Montague Dowell offered the use of her home for the party.

SWAVELY TALKS ON WASHINGTON

Educator Gives Interesting Disertation.

The Kiwanis meeting last week was patriotic in nature, the main address being made by Dr. Eli Swavely.

The speaker spent much of his time talking on the every-day side of Washington's life and the simple and practical methods with which he attacked problems.

Eli always gives good talks and the club appreciated very greatly the effort that he has made to thus enlighten them on the Father of our Country.

There were no committee reports of any consequence except that of Ray Ratcliffe who demonstrated that some money was made after all out of the Kiwanis benefit. The secretary of the club was instructed to write a letter of thanks to Dr. Ellsworth for coming to Manassas.

All kept on until the chair finally acknowledged him and as result of his eloquent address, a considerable part of the club went to the school carnival after the close of the meeting where they played bingo and witnessed the charming floor show; viewed the "chamber of horrors," or what have you, not to mention the splendid store of goodies and practical gifts that were on sale.

Dick Haydon won something at bingo and somehow Al Hooff got a box of candy. None of the other Kiwanians seemed to have had any luck.

Tomorrow the March Lion is due and the club will meet in its regular quarters with the program unannounced.

HISTORIC PLACE IS BOUGHT BY EDUCATOR

"Waverly," one of the lovely places of northern Virginia, located in Prince William County, two miles north of Haymarket, has been recently purchased by Mr. and Mrs. John M. Hart of Memphis, Tenn. Mr. Hart at present is assistant supervisor of education in Loudoun County.

The old colonial home is of brick laid by English workmen and contains twenty-one rooms and three baths and steam heat, much of the original hardware bearing English coat of arms remains.

Included in the estate are 916 acres of land and six tenant houses scattered over the property. The mansion house was built over one hundred and fifty years ago and among the previous owners appear the names of famous families such as the Enoch Pratts of Virginia, Depaw of Washington, D. C., and Admiral Foote of English ancestry.

The transfer was effected through the office of M. E. Church, realtor, Falls Church, Va.

Mr. and Mrs. Hart plan to occupy their new home after extensive improvements have been made which will be completed about June 1.

MRS. CHILCOTT TO ADDRESS CLUB

The garden section of the Woman's Club will meet Monday, March 4, at 2:30 p.m., at the home of Mrs. Margaret Lewis. The guest speaker of the occasion will be Mrs. Amos Chilcott of Fairfax. Mrs. Chilcott is well known in Manassas and her talks on horticultural subjects are always listened to with interest.

BULL RUN GRANGE TO SPONSOR DANCE

The Bull Run Grange will sponsor a benefit dance, to be held at the Masonic Hall at Haymarket, Monday night, March 4.

Extensive arrangements are being made by the committee and it is expected that the attendance will be even larger than that at previous dances sponsored by the Haymarket Grange.

REPORT SHOWS UTILITIES O. K.

Engineer's Recommendations to Be Carried Out.

Mr. P. L. Paxton, electric engineer of Buena Vista, Va., has been employed for the past five or six weeks on a survey of the electrical distribution system of the Town of Manassas. The purpose of this survey is to determine the present condition of the system; to recommend changes and additions necessary to rectify existing bad conditions; and to prepare detailed plans for these changes and additions to the system.

The survey is now about completed and Mr. Paxton has prepared and presented his report to the Town in which the following facts and recommendations are emphasized, viz:

That the fundamental plan of the present distribution system is in accordance with standard practice.

That, in general, the quality of the electric service supplied to the consumer by the Town is very good and up to the standard maintained by the larger utility companies.

That a large majority of the complaints have been due to "grounds" on the premises of the consumers.

That these undesirable "ground" conditions can be reduced to a minimum by requiring the consumers to conform to standardized construction as outlined in the report and as shown on the plans accompanying the same.

That the Town require very close inspection and testing of all new and repair work on the consumers' premises.

That all lines be cleared of trees as promptly as possible.

That proper clearances be maintained between the Town's lines and telephone lines.

It is the purpose of the Town to proceed with the carrying out of the recommendations, as submitted by Mr. Paxton, in a systematic manner and to make the changes and additions as rapidly as funds may be available for the purpose.

MEETING OF LADIES MEMORIAL ASSOCIATION

The quarterly meeting of the Ladies Memorial Association was held Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. O. Weedon. The president, Mrs. C. M. Larkin, presided.

The treasurer, Mrs. C. B. Compton, called the roll and those present responded by paying annual dues of the organization. The marking of Confederate graves in the local cemetery is well under way under the supervision of Mrs. E. H. Hibbs.

Much enthusiasm was expressed over the probability of placing an appropriate marker on the Porter estate, at Liberia, the headquarters of Gen. Beauregard while in command of Confederate forces during the campaign around Manassas. Mrs. C. M. Larkin is chairman of the committee in charge.

The purchase of one hundred flags was ordered and $2.50 was allowed for repairs on the state flag, the property of the high school.

A prize of $2.50 is offered this year to the sixth grade of Bennett School for the best essay on a subject relating to the Confederacy, exact title to be announced by committee. Also a prize will be given to the third-year history class of Manassas High School.

Tentative plans for Memorial Day June 3, were discussed. An effort will be made to secure former Governor Brough of Arkansas to make an address on this occasion.

After the business session, Mrs. Weedon, assisted by Miss Nollie Nelson, served dainty refreshments and a social time was pleasantly spent.

CIRCUIT COURT PROCEEDINGS

Case of Olaf Pierson (murder), set for March 12.

The case of Wilmer Neff was appealed to the Supreme Court of Appeals.

The State Highway Commission filed an exception to the report of viewers awarding a damage claim of $2500 to C. C. Furr and J. N. Kerr.

FIVE-POINT CAMPAIGN

During March and April a special effort is being conducted by the school authorities and school leagues in co-operation to correct defects among the school children and thus bring about as many five-point children as possible before the Richmond rally in May.

CATHARPIN

Saturday, February 23, 1935, was the Natal Day of one of Sudley's oldest and best loved citizens, Mrs. Mary Eleanor Cushing Wilkins, whose 87 years have endeared her to all mankind by reason of her always kindly services and helpful spirit to everyone. It is now believed that Mrs. Wilkins is the oldest inhabitant of the neighborhood, consequently no one now living ever knew a time when she was not here; hence she has become the dean, not only of the community but of Sudley church of which she has always been a consistent member, and when able, its most faithful attendant. This Saturday morning finds her phone calls numerous and baskets of fruit, flowers and oceans of good wishes coming to her from loving friends everywhere. Her health is good and still full of the "Old Nick" so that one has to watch else she will "steal away his sharpness ere he is aware" by her quick repartee. She has fed more preachers, attended more missionary meetings, taken part in more church services perhaps than any other. In general she has been on the job at all times, in sickness, sorrow, pain or death, as well as in mirth, happiness, pleasures and a good time. Therefore no one is surprised at attentions paid her on these annual occasions which gives her friends a chance to tell her what they think. Mrs. Wilkins is spending the winter with her daughter, Mrs. E. N. Pattie, at Catharpin, but will return to her home near Sudley in the early spring where the Latch string will always be out as usual. This column wishes her many happy returns of the day.

All roadmen in the Gainesville section of the State Highway System worked on Washington's birthday and took Saturday off instead. They figured it would not make much difference to George but would suit their own convenience better. These men have been working time and half-time and double time ever since the blizzard began some weeks ago and a holiday or two would not hurt them. Mrs. Jennie Haislip of near Catharpin, one among the oldest of our neighborhood citizens, is reported quite ill and confined to her bed for the past week or ten days.

Mrs. George H. Ayres and daughter, Asenith, and Miss Minnie Wilkins, all of Stone House, were Friday night guests of Mrs. E. N. Pattie last week. They came to notify Mrs. Mary E. Wilkins, their mother, that the next day was her birthday "lest she forget."

Mr. L. J. McIntosh and mother were callers at the Palmer Smith home on Sunday last.

Mr. Carl Munday of Washington visited Miss Sallie McIntosh over the week-end and was accompanied home by his wife who had been spending the past fortnight among friends in the neighborhood.

Well, things are beginning to "perk" up a bit. For the past three or four years if any one had a pig, cow or horse for sale he could rarely find a purchaser. If by chance some one did want a horse, for instance, it took a long time to come to conclusions about price. The first thing was to feel him all over, look in his eyes, inquire his age and all the time saying as how "horses ain't with nuthin' now; tractors, streamlined Fords, etc., had killed him dead." After the autopsy was completed, the buyer began walking around in circles, whittling aimlessly and oft times meeting the seller coming back doing the same thing, so that by the time a bargain was "struck" there would be enough shavings to start the kitchen fire. The same thing happened for a cow, chicken, pig or colie dog. That was the old, slow process; but things are now different.

Last week one of our big feeders sold his herd for such an attractive price that Ed Conner stole our thumb and published it in The Journal before we found it out, thus robbing us of the only real good chance to brag we had had for four years, but we rejoice that things now seem to be coming our way and hope the "senator" will call around often and pay us good prices after our long waiting.

It was only a day or two ago that our phone rang and upon answering found one of our prominent livestock dealers wanting to know if we had any cattle to sell? any hogs? old cows? anything at all? Well, sir, the inquiry surprised us. We had not heard questions like that for so long that we had almost forgotten those words were in the dictionary. The inquiry meant business; he wanted livestock. So now "hope eternal" is springing into our breasts for we can now almost visualize where the money is to come from to pay our taxes next fall.

Mrs. L. J. Pattie, after a week's sojourn in the capital city, returned to her home on Sunday and reports that Congress has gotten off to a good start and things are now going to boom. Huey Long has not yet declared his first Share-the-wealth dividend but is working hard at it, and, ere long, we may all be summoned to Washington to receive our share. Let us hope.

Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Shelton of Buchanan, Va., were week-end visitors at Mrs. Shelton's home, Marble Hill, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Collins opened the hospitable doors of Marble Hill to all their children on Sunday last to greet their grandson, Paul Allison, and bride, nee Miss Catharine Hogsd, of Gainesville, Ga. The new bride should feel at home near Gainesville, Va. This column extends greetings and best wishes for the happy couple.

HAS A GREAT CAST

Almost never is a picture cast assembled without considerable trouble. Often the players wanted are not available. More often there is a disagreement between the producer and the director as to who is just the right type for a part. Then, when the picture is being "shot" something happens to cause headaches and heart aches; maybe there is dissention in the company; maybe someone takes sick; a thousand things might happen.

"The Fighting Trooper," adapted from James Oliver Curwood's story, "Footprints," was phenomenally free from the vexations that beset producer, director, author and actor.

Best of all, and justifying Producer Conns and Director Taylor's judgment, each player acquitted himself or herself with genuine distinction. There is no "acting" in "The Fighting Trooper." Every player "lives" the part. Kermit Maynard, the magnificent equestrian star, has done the best work of his young career as the red-coated mounted policeman; Barbara Worth has never looked more beautiful nor given a more sympathetic performance. LeRoy Mason and Robert Fraser are so believably villainous that you hate them cordially; the comedian, Charles Delaney, has never had a funnier part nor has he ever earned more laughs in a single picture.

Joseph W. Girard, always reliable, outdoes himself. George Regas, Walter Miller, Charles King, George Cheseboro and all the other members of the cast worked together like a beautifully regulated watch. "Never," said Director Taylor, "have I directed a troupe that gave me no more pleasure or more pleasure or more satisfying results."

"And never," Producer Conn, "have Ambassador Pictures or myself offered a picture to the public with more confidence or pride."

"The Fighting Trooper" is scheduled to play a two days' engagement at the Dixie Theatre in Manassas beginning tomorrow.

STAR RELIVES OWN CAREER IN NEW FILM HIT

Does today's American girl have any chance of winning fame in an artistic career against the competition of foreign artists?

In "One Night of Love" showing at the Dixie Theatre in Manassas next Wednesday, you will see the grief and struggle such an ambition involves. You will see, in glamorous foreign settings, the adventure and beauty that makes such a struggle worthwhile.

The story of "One Night of Love" is largely the true story of Grace
Moore, star of the picture, a Tennessee girl who made a spectacular struggle upward to fame in musical comedy and grand opera. In "One Night of Love" Miss Moore emerges as a sensational motion picture personality, a glorious, dazzling film figure. Miss Moore ran away from her objecting parents to study voice in a New York City. She worked in a Greenwich Village cafe to earn her meals. Winning a singing role in musical comedy, she spent most of her pay on more voice training. When roles in Irving Berlin's Music Box Revue in 1923, 524 and '25 brought big pay, she saved to study in Italy with Mary Garden.

When Miss Moore obtained a Metropolitan Opera audition in 1926, and lost, she made a bet she would sing at the Metropolitan in two years.
And like the story of "One Night of Love," it was her concert debut in Milan which won her a Metropolitan contract just two weeks before the two years were up.

THE VIRGINIA TRADITION

There seems something about the state of Virginia which breeds a particularly courageous brand of statesman. At any rate, its representatives in the Senate exhibit more of what Sir James Barrie calls the "lovely virtue" than any others.

For a long time, now, the senior senator of Virginia, Carter Glass, has been the outstanding figure of the Senate, made so not merely by his ability, which is great, but by his complete fearlessness and sincerity. The fundamental fact about Senator Glass that has made him a real national figure and won him admiration and respect in every state is the knowledge that his public expressions and attitude are always identical with his private talk and views. When he speaks publicly or privately, he says what he really thinks; when he votes it is the way he believes. Add to this a head full of brains and you have a combination rare in public life. He isn't eloquent; he isn't showy; he has no gift for beating his breast, but he is a man. And that quality of sincerity has made even his opponents respectful.

Under the circumstances, it is rather thrilling to see the junior senator from Virginia, Harry F. Byrd, carrying on so wholeheartedly the Virginia tradition. Yesterday in the Senate, Senator Byrd, a Democrat whose party loyalty is not open to question, rose and assailed the pending works-relief bill without equivocation or apology. He spoke in words that could not be misunderstood. He opposed the whole proposition as unsound and dangerous. He did more than this—he expressed his complete disbelief in the whole administration theory of spending our way back to prosperity, urged that we have done with these experiments, get back to solvency, postpone not only public works but the so-called social security program until recovery has been achieved.

For nearly two years he has sat in the Senate and "gone along" with Mr. Roosevelt, not because he believed in what he was doing, but because he hoped, with the passing of the crisis, the experiments would be discontinued and president revert to his original attitude, outlined in his first message to Congress. Toward the end of last session Senator Byrd, unable to swallow the amazing legislative program of the AAA, led the fight against it, and was responsible for its defeat.

That put him in opposition to part of the new deal. The new bill, with its terrific appropriation, its cloudy plans, its threat to the national solvency and self-government of the states, was too much for him. It violates every principle in which he believes. It would be complete stultification for him to vote for it. True to the Virginia tradition, he got up and said so—said so in words that rang with conviction. It wasn't an easy thing for a Democrat like Harry Byrd to do, but it was a thing a man like Harry Byrd had to do so. —By Frank R. Kent, in The Baltimore Sun.

Mr. J. P. Kerlin, Sheriff, Manassas, Virginia.

Dear Sir:

During the past year your jail has been visited by me and I am happy to say shows distinct improvement in equipment and care over previous visits made by me.

It is pleasing to note this evidence of cooperation on the part of the county and the custodian of the jail. Some time during the next six months I will make another inspection of your jail the result of which will be incorporated in my annual report.

I trust that the improved standard you have set will continue to prevail and that I may be able again to commend your administration of the jail.

Sincerely,

ROY K. FLANAGAN, M. D.,
 Asst. State Health Commissioner
 Medical Advisor, State Dept. Public Welfare.

MRS. G. T. BEAUREGARD

She made her home until her marriage with her uncle and aunt, the late Commodore and the late Mrs. Ten Eyck De Witt Veeder, U.S.N., of Greenwich, Prince William County, Va., and Washington. Mrs. Beauregard attended the Misses Eastman's School in Washington and "Oldfields," Glencoe, Md., and was a member of the Board of Washington Junior League. She is survived by her four children, Pierre, Renee, Joan and Suzanne Beauregard.

THE STUDY OF THE PUPIL COURSE

The course on "The Study of the Pupil" in the Leadership Training School should prove to be a very profitable one for the teachers and prospective teachers in our Sunday schools.

A teacher, to be a good teacher, ought not only to know the pupil in the home, but also the characteristics which mark each stage of development of the growing personality. The study of the development of both body and mind, from infancy to maturity, is most interesting, and for a worker with youth both profitable and necessary. The knowing teacher can thus intelligently guide the expanding powers of youth into safe channels.

Mrs. Harry M. Love, the teacher, is the talented wife of Prof. Love of the Manassas High School. She is a graduate of college and familiar with educational matters and methods. She has given much study to this course.

The school will be held on Mondays and Thursdays, March 18 to April 4, at 7:30 p.m., in the high school building at Manassas.

The committee of the County Sunday School Association will meet at the home of Mrs. R. L. Sadd, Grant avenue, on Thursday night, March 7, at 8 o'clock, to perfect the plans for the school.

GOOD ADVICE

If money is an important factor in life, why not heed the advice of your banker?

He unhesitatingly urges that you deposit regularly in this friendly bank. It is not how much but how consistently you make deposits that counts.

Why not be prepared to meet the emergencies and opportunities of the future by building up a substantial balance here where your deposits are protected by Federal guarantee.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear mother, Beulah Blakey, who departed this life four years ago today, Feb. 26, 1931.

We lost a life companion, A life linked with our own, And day by day we miss you more As we walk through alone.

We watch you, darling mother, But little did we know That on this four years ago Your soul from us would go.

'Tis hard to lose a mother, A friend that is so dear. If only tears would bring you back, Mother, you would be here.
—Her devoted daughters,

TRUSTEE'S SALE OF VALUABLE FARM NEAR MANASSAS, VIRGINIA

By virtue of a certain deed of trust, dated October 24, 1932, and recorded among the land records of Prince William County, Va., in Deed Book 91, page 290, from Charles Walter Sorg and Nellie E. Sorg, his wife, to the undersigned trustees, to secure the payment of two certain promissory notes in the sum of two thousand dollars and one thousand dollars, respectively, default having been made in the payment of each one of said two notes, the undersigned trustees, at the request of the holders of the said notes, will offer for sale, at public auction, on SATURDAY, MARCH 23, 1935, at eleven o'clock A. M., of that day, in front of the Peoples National Bank of Manassas, in the Town of Manassas, Va., all that certain tract or parcel of land situated near the Town of Manassas, on the county road from Manassas to Blandford, via Shultz's corner and the farm of Line Weaver, of

HON. HARRY FLOOD BYRD
(Feb. 20, 1935)

It is not fanciful to predict a day when those now being placed on the public rolls to receive cash benefits from the Treasury may consolidate with existing pensioners and employees and form a body of political influence that will control the Congress in more and more liberal appropriations to the members of such groups. Should that day come, the ultimate end will be the inability of the taxpayers to carry the load, and the impairment of the credit of a Government unable to balance its Budget or to sell its bonds at par.

Moreover, foreign markets for our exportable surplus of many products are necessary for genuine recovery. High taxes must be absorbed by the price of the product sold; must be added to the price; hence the higher the taxes paid in this country the more we must get for our product in the foreign country, the greater will be the difficulty of meeting foreign competition.

Mr. President, some of us forget that the Government has no magic treasure chest. The Government must get the money it spends in two ways—either it must collect it in taxes or it must borrow it. Ultimately the taxpayers and the consumers must sustain the tremendous burden of government. The Government, when financing a majority of its annual expenditures by borrowing, sells tax-exempt bonds; hence the money so invested not only adds to the public debt but is withdrawn from the body of wealth from which the Government must obtain the income upon which to live and function. The very money the Government borrows reduces the taxable values from which it may gather taxes.

Mr. President, as our Federal debt mounts, hand in hand go enormous increases in the debts of our States and subdivisions. In 1932, the latest figures available, the debt of the States, cities, counties, and other subdivisions was $17,576,839,000. Add to this the increases made since then, and with our Federal debt, if this measure shall be passed, I confidently predict on July 1, 1936, a total indebtedness of all units of the Government of at least $55,000,000,000. Not only must this debt be ultimately paid, together with interest, but we are establishing a refuge for the rich of the country so to invest their property as to escape the inevitable confiscatory taxation which will apply to all taxable classes of property.

I do not approve that the Government should follow the broad and easy road to extravagant expenditure that leads to destruction. The price of the impairment of credit by a Government is often currency inflation that may get out of control and ruin the property and happiness of millions.

Mr. President, we live in a rich country. We have spent vast sums, but we still have the opportunity to curtail expenditures without cutting off the relief necessary by a sympathetic regard for the needy and to bring the Budget gradually into balance.

It is true that the reduction of relief expenditures must be gradual; but the approach to a balanced Budget will inspire the confidence needed to encourage business to absorb many of the unemployed and thus to relieve the Government of some of its burden.

Ambitious plans for great public

The said farm has on it a comfortable and commodious dwelling and all necessary outbuildings and because of its proximity to the Town of Manassas is most desirably located.

TERMS OF SALE: The said property will be sold for cash.

works and social service should await

Assurance of a new policy of prudent economy will do more to revive business and absorb the unemployed than will further expenditures on public works. The time has come to put our house in order. The defeat of this proposal to expend $5,000,000,000 on unknown projects, many of no immediate necessity and of doubtful permanent value, will do much to restore confidence to those business men anxious to go forward.

The defeat of this measure will be a direct assurance to the Nation that the Government is determined to maintain the credit of the United States above reproach.

The defeat of this measure will be a proclamation to the world that the period of acute economic emergency in this country is over and that we are now turning calmly from the treatment of the crisis to making our recovery sound and permanent.

The defeat of this measure will be an assurance to business men—impatient to go forward—that the administration will protect their property from destructive taxation. The defeat of this measure will signify that we now approach the time and the task of rebuilding new and firm values out of the destruction wrought by the economic storm.

We must build this time upon the unyielding rock that will withstand the storms of the future, for Government under our Constitution is worth all that our fathers did to establish it and all we can do to maintain it.

I agree with the eloquent declaration made by President that no one can be permitted to go naked or unhoused or unfed. I shall vote for a sufficient sum to continue the relief, but that relief should be efficiently administered; the lists should be purged of those not deserving. We should not continue to see, for example, a majority obtaining relief riding to the relief depots in automobiles. It is possible and practical to require useful work of most of those obtaining relief without embarking on a vast Public Works program with the obligation to continue to give a job to three and one-half million people for an indefinite period to come. This can be done for at least one-fifth the cost as compared to the Public Works program.

Congress has not been advised as to the character of the expenditures proposed but a vast Public Works program accomplished in a short time is inevitably wasteful, cumbersome, and difficult to execute.

It is not possible to bring the public-work jobs to the unemployed. It is not possible to have a public works to absorb in each little community the unemployed therein, especially the various trained workers. The Government will find itself moving thousands from one place to another in order that the worker may find the appropriate work. Assume that the gi-gantic task is fairly successful and that three and a half million men are employed after delays and discussions and difficulties; many of the works accomplished will be unnecessary for the immediate present; will be the building of things not now vitally needed. Many projects will be anticipated in construction for many years and will lessen the orderly building necessary for the regular operation of certain building trades. In other words, by the construction in a short period of time of the public works we shall need a long period in the future, the proposed program will be followed by a period of stagnation in heavy construction which will nullify the temporary benefits obtained.

The way to permanent prosperity is the difficult path of economy and efficiency in Government and the balancing of budgets of States and the Nation. The people must be encouraged to go the way of independence, industry, economy, and self-reliance. Business is ready to resume its forward march once it can be assured that the currency will remain sound, that the budget will be balanced in a reasonable time, and that economy and efficiency will inspire the Government.

Mr. President, I offer an amendment to the pending joint resolution, to be considered at the proper time, reducing the $4,000,000,000 appropriation therein proposed to $1,000,000,000. If the amendment shall be adopted, there will be available $1,880,000,000 by reason of the fact that $880,000,000 is transferred from existing appropriations.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The amendment will be received, printed, and lie on the table.

SIX STARS HEAD BIG CAST IN NEW MUSIC
SPECTACLE, "DAMES"

Warner Bros.' latest musical spectacle "Dames," which comes to the Dixie Theatre in Manassas next Monday, carries an unusually large and talented cast headed by six stars. And in addition to the principals, there are 300 of Hollywood's most beautiful chorus girls, who appear in the novel Busby Berkeley ensembles, besides hundreds of extras.

Joan Blondell heads the list of principals, playing the part of a gold digging chorine while Dick Powell and Ruby Keller provide the romantic interest, the two screen lovers appearing opposite each other for the fourth time in pictures.

The other stars include Zasu Pitts, who has a comedy role as Ruby's mother, Guy Kibbee in the role of her husband and Hugh Herbert as an eccentric millionaire who promises to leave them his fortune on condition that they prove to be a fine moral fibre.

The picture is a mammoth, musical comedy spectacle with hilarious situations and a glamorous romance.

BRENTSVILLE

The Brentsville Community League met last Friday night to have their business meeting. Owing to the sickness and death, there was only a small crowd. We trust there will be a better attendance next month.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward James are the proud parents of a little son. His birthday will always be taken as a holiday for he was born on George Washington's birthday.

We are sorry to hear little Jean Keys has a very bad case of poison ivy. Her face is swollen so she cannot see and has to be led from room to room. We sincerely hope she will soon be all right again.

We are glad to see Mrs. Cash Keys out again, after having a bad case of flu.

Mr. R. H. Keys is still in with rheumatism.

Little Nelson Keys was very much surprised on his ninth birthday when a bunch of his little friends surprised him with a nice little birthday party.

We were grieved to hear of the sudden death of one of our neighbors, Mrs. George Ryan, who died at her home Feb. 22.

Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Shoemaker and Miss Aline Keys, all of Washington, were Sunday visitors at the home of Mrs. R. H. Keys.

Miss Julia Arnot and her brother, Willie Arnot, of near Lake Jackson, spent Sunday with friends in Brentsville.

We are sorry to hear Mrs. Joe Key has been ill again. We trust she will soon be all right again.

Mrs. George Knicey is out again after being in with a bad cold.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Keys of Washington spent a few days with relatives here.

NOKESVILLE

Rev. John DeChant will have charge of a short devotional service at the Nokesville Community League Tuesday night, March 5. He will also give a short talk on the Leadership Training School which is being held at the Manassas High School building, beginning March 18.

It is hoped that many of the Sunday school teachers and workers will attend the institute at the Nokesville Church of the Brethren Monday night, March 11. Rev. Minor C. Miller will give an address. You will also enjoy the music.

WATERFALL

Mr. and Mrs. Granville Thomas and son, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gaines, and children, and Mr. Ashton Bell of Falls Church, Mrs. Wright and Mrs. John Simmons and Billy Wright of Barcroft were Sunday guests of Mrs. Howard Bell.

There were no services at Antioch Church Sunday on account of the illness of the pastor, the Rev. V. H. Council.

Mr. G. W. Shirley celebrated his 84th birthday on Friday, Feb. 22. Among the visitors at "Oakshade" on Friday and Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Thomas and children of Ft. Myer Heights, Mrs. J. T. Simmonds and Mr. and Mrs. Holme Levy of Washington, Mrs. Jas. Hulfish and Miss Ruth Hulfish of Alexandria, Mrs. Parke Torbert of Washington, Mrs. Frank Rupp of Baltimore, Mrs. Ford Anderson, Miss Ruth Shirley and Mr. J. W. Shirley of Warrenton and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pickett of "Springfield."

Those of us who remember that fine old Christian gentleman, Mr. James Smith, of "Hagley," recall that in addition to his own large family of sons and daughters, he took several boys in his home and raised them to years of manhood. A clipping from the Washington "Star" of December 4, 1934, informs us of the passing of one of these "boys," Mr. John Edward Grady, who died at the home of his son, Bernard Grady, in Washington on Dec. 4. Services were conducted at a funeral parlor in Washington on Dec. 7 and interment was at Lincoln, Va.

KINDNESS TO DOGS PAYS

Albert Petty, farmer, can trace much of his good fortune to a stray dog. Three years ago a stray collie moved in with the Petty family. Petty traded it to a neighbor for a runt pig. Within a year the pig had two litters of piglets.

Today in looking over his barnyard Petty counts the following obtained in trades for the pigs: three cows, four calves, and two horses and he has 25 pigs.
