CHOPPAWAMSIK PARK STARTED

Will Be Playground for Unprivileged Children of Washington.

The recreational park which is being developed in lower Prince William has become a virtual reality in the past two weeks, according to advice from the Public Works Administration.

The tract involves something over eight thousand acres of land which is being purchased at an average cost of a little over eight dollars an acre. The preliminary survey has been carried on under the direction of Mr. Garner of the National Park Service. It is stated that in retiring these farms from active cultivation, about one hundred and fifty families will be rehomed by the rural Rehabilitation Department.

One of the interesting features of this development as an outlet for the National Capital is the possibility of benefiting underprivileged children. There will be outdoor camps and sports provided for a large number.

Practical forestry work will probably be carried on by the C. C. C. Camp which is being spoken of as a relocation from its present headquarters. This would be an entirely different unit from the camp now located at Canova.

Others locally who have been employed either in field or office work on this project have been Mr. J. L. Dawson, who has done much of the assessing work; Mr. Stanley Owens, who has searched titles, and Judge William Crow and Miss Virginia Conner who have been employed in the office as assistants to Mr. Garner. Active work is expected to begin some time prior to May 15.

STATE DOCTOR VISITS COUNTY

Value of Eliminating Bang's Disease Demonstrated.

Dr. H. C. Givens, Virginia State veterinarian, was in Prince William County this week visiting dairymen and farmers of the county. He was enthusiastic over the matter of eradicating Bang's disease on both large dairy farms and general farms keeping only a few cows. While here Dr. Givens made the following statements: "The present state of the beef cattle market and the consequent demand for Bang's disease reactors coupled with the Federal indemnity available from the Agriculture Adjustment Administration on animals reacting to the test makes the best proposition that has ever been offered to cattle owners for this purpose. Bang's disease reactors are selling readily on all markets and in some cases are bringing as much as 5 1-2 cents per pound which makes a liberal salvage return to the cattle owner. Liberal allocations of funds from the AAA to Virginia are being made thus assuring an opportunity for any cattle owner in the State to participate in the present campaign to reduce Bang's disease infection."

The maximum indemnities that will be paid according to the Federal contract is $20 on grade cattle and $50 on purebred animals. Approximately seventy thousand cattle have been tested for Bang's disease in Virginia since the campaign under the AAA program was started last year. Many herds in which diseased animals were found on the first test have been retested two or three times and are now apparently free of the disease. The cow population of Virginia is approximately 400,000. If a large proportion of this number can be tested for Bang's disease during the year and the diseased animals removed for slaughter, the infection which has caused an annual loss of one and one-half millions of dollars in the State can be materially reduced."

VIRGINIA ASKS U.S. AID FOR SCHOOL

Virginia has forwarded to the Federal Government a request for funds which district superintendents of schools say they need in order to finance their normal school terms of from eight-and-a-half to nine months, it was learned.

While the State Department of Education would not make public the amount of the total sum requested, it was believed on the basis of previous estimates to be in excess of $1,000,000. The State last year secured Federal aid of $710,000 for 72 counties.

Dr. Sidney B. Hall, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, has been collecting data from the county and city school superintendents for the last eight weeks, asking each one to specify the amount that he would need in addition to the eight months funds guaranteed by State law to carry his schools on to a "normal" term.

This tabulation has now been forwarded to Governor Peery and put in the form of a formal request to Federal Emergency Relief Administration officials. The FERA is expected to send an auditor down to Richmond within the next few days to re-check all the data in the offices of the State Department of Education.

The amount of money which the schools of Virginia will eventually receive will depend upon what the Federal auditor decides about the absolute need of each of the localities asking aid. It is expected that he will recommend reductions in a large number of the requests.

It was pointed out by education officials that if Federal aid is granted to Virginia schools to finance an additional two to four weeks, the salary allowance will be based upon relief wages of $60 a month instead of upon the full wages in teachers' contracts. This rule has been enforced in seven other States receiving Federal aid.

Miss Rose Ratcliffe, general chairman of the dance, has secured a well-known orchestra to play for the evening, and it is expected that this orchestra will add much to the success of the dance.

The decoration committee has been busy following out the St. Patrick's day scheme for decorations in making the Manassas High School gymnasium both colorful and attractive.

JUDGE COBB AT DAYTONA BEACH

Daytona Beach, Fla.
March 9, 1935.

Dear Sir:

Agreeable to my promise I am writing you today. I left Washington Wednesday evening, March 6, at 3:25 p.m. and arrived at Daytona Beach Thursday at 8:55—seventeen and one-half hours on the way. My son met me at the station and before going home drove me over the golden sands of the beach where Sir Malcolm Campbell was to race his wonderful auto, the Blue-bird.

Thursday evening at 3:00 I went to the beautiful beach, just two blocks from my home to see Sir Malcolm hitch his thunder wagon to a streak of lightning to try for his three-hundred-mile goal. From my station on the beach I had an unobstructed view of him and his seven-ton Blue-bird as they glided by so smoothly. When he reached the measured mile, in the language of Joe Wheaton, "gave her the works." Never in all my life have I ever seen such on the ground. To me it was simply wonderful. He did not reach his ambition to make three hundred miles an hour but he did reach the great speed of 276.816 miles an hour. On account of the low tides recently the beach was not in ideal condition so he has decided to make another effort later this month when higher tides will put the golden sands of the beach in a more ideal condition, and he hopes to yet achieve his ambition of three hundred miles an hour. The sands on the beach after the tide goes out are as hard and smooth as cement. I enclose a newspaper clipping of Sir

Malcolm and his Bluebird.

Friday evening it was my delight to attend the opening of the Flower Show here. I used to think I had some pretty flowers in my yard at Manassas, but when I got inside of the auditorium it was a veritable fairyland. For the first time in my life I gazed upon the most wonderful, the most gorgeous and inspiring beauty and fragrance that my frail mortality had ever visioned. It was the most beautiful scene it has ever been my good fortune to see. Every color of the rainbow and more were represented. Every known flower appeared to be represented and so many wild flowers were there to lend their charm.

I was simply entranced with the beauty and glory of the wonderful vision so tastefully and artistically assembled. I have always loved flowers so this wonderful, indescribable display gave me more pleasure than anything I have ever seen.

I have not been here long enough to know how I will like Florida. The thermometer on the front porch this morning is standing at seventy, with the sea breeze blowing. Have done no fishing yet so I cannot give you any fish stories worth writing back home about, but I reckon I too will catch the disease later on.

Daytona Beach is a very pretty little city of 18,000. I think of my friends back in Manassas and particularly of the Men's Bible Class of the Baptist Church. I trust this letter will meet with your approval.

Yours truly,
THOS. H. COBB.

WOMANS CLUB HOLD MEETING

Charity Ball Committees Named.

The Woman's Club of Manassas held its regular monthly meeting in the dining room of the high school on Wednesday, March 13, with an unusually good attendance.

The program which was presented by the music section of the club, was interesting and a bit of a change from the usual presentations, in that the first portion featured some of the outstanding pupils of local music teachers, in a variety of well-chosen and skillfully executed numbers. Those participating were Miss Frances Ellis of Greenwich, Miss Edna Armstrong of Nokesville, Miss Miriam Blough of Manassas, Master John Broadus, Jr., and a duet number by the Misses Shirley Hynson and Althea Hooff of Manassas.

Following these, Mrs. Harry Love gave a brief resume of the "Operas and their Composers," which had been studied by the music section during the past few months. The preparation and presentation of this comprehensive study and its condensing into such brief form showed great skill and a clear understanding on the part of Mrs. Love and was greatly enjoyed by all present.

The Rev. Mr. Jones of the Baptist Church spoke briefly on the phase of the club collect "Teach us to put into action our better impulses straight-forward and unafraid," and in few well-chosen words impressed on the members the significance and high ideals in these few lines.

All committees reported very active meetings and accomplishments, the most outstanding being the work of the charity committee, which reported that during the last month a donation of $25.00 to the Episcopal Eye, Ear and Throat Hospital; $13.60 to the local T. B. Fund; paying of hospital expenses for two children, $30; while a special collection of $3.32 was being forwarded to the cancer control fund.

Miss Sarah Pitts gave a brief outline of the present sanitation campaign, which is being put on in Prince William County, and asked the club's support in putting over same and in getting information to people who would be interested and helped thereby.

Two new members were presented by the membership chairman, Mrs. T. J. Broadus, and these were accepted and welcomed into the club. They are Mrs. Charles Linton and Mrs. Bowers. The plans and committees for the Easter Charity Ball and the annual May breakfast were discussed. Miss Margaret Lynch, being named as general chairman of the charity ball, to be held on Easter Monday.

Mrs. Margaret Lewis, with the assistance of the following, served refreshments during the social hour: Mrs. C. R. C. Johnson, Mrs. C. C. Lynn, Mrs. C. M. Larkin, Mrs. L. L. Lonas, Mrs. Norvell Larkin.

AMERICAN HISTORY IS IN PRO- CESS OF BEING REVALUED!

The United Daughters of the Confederacy is not sectional. It is a great patriotic organization and although it came into being at a time when the Confederate soldier broken in health and fortune needed the ministering hands of women, and the cause for which he gave all needed its history and tradition spoken boldly in the halls of the federation of mankind,—it has grown to be unlimited in scope and influence, and the sixty thousand members in more than a thousand chapters representing all but 12 of the states of the Union, and one in Paris, France—present themselves wherever the American flag is flown with a program of Americanism and practical patriotism equalled by few and surpassed by no other organization of women.

VISITORS GREET LOCAL KIWANIS

Interclub Meet Featured by Ed Hill.

The Manassas Kiwanis Club was treated to another one of Ed Hill's programs last Friday night when Ed sauntered out some two dozen of the Washington-Alexandria Clubs.

Irvin came back on the program for a second time and gave a talk, boosting the Manassas Club for its splendid attendance. Irvin compared the local club to the famous Stonewall brigade.

George Small gave some musical selections on his "combination band" after which the club settled down to hear a splendid talk by Major James Asher, divisional commander of the Salvation Army in Washington, who tried to imitate a genuine Scotchman. Jim declared he was a genuine article and nobody present disapproved it. He gave his talk on his belief in Kiwanis principles and showed how the work auxiliated that of his own organization.

It was a splendid exposition of humanitarianism as propounded by the members of the Kiwanis Clubs.

Before the meeting adjourned Charlie Pimper, present lieutenant-governor of the Capitol district, gave a cheerful word of greeting and promised to be back again real soon.

Besides the ones mentioned from the Washington Club, others present were Harry G. Kimball, former district governor; James C. Dulin, sr., James C. Dulin, jr., Merritt Chance, G. Fred Coles, Dr. Manly B. Root, William F. Smith, Karl Jorss, Charles Jacobson, jr., Charles F. Dowd, Edwin F. Hill, Col. Claude D. Jones, George C. Shaffer and George A. Small, Washington, D. C. ## CATHARPIN

The dictionary defines the word "ABSURD" as follows: Adj., contrary to reason and sense; ridiculous, foolish, incorrect, monstrous, senseless, wild, nonsensical. We suppose you are now wondering why we are calling your attention to this word and its definition. Well, to make a long story short, it is to set you to thinking; so scratch your head a bit and just think.

Every once-in-a-while we see a phrase used something like this: Hauptmann is "Public Enemy No. 1" or it may be "Friend No. 1" or this, that or the other may be rated as "No. 1," so the phrase may express superlatively both love or hatred; good or evil, just whichever way around it may be. So it is a thing known as "number one" we are just now troubling ourselves with because if a thing is "absurd" it can not be

So if we were to look about us, many, no doubt, could see absurdities in many things, ways, habits, plans of doing or not doing things, or just what have you? and, perhaps if we analyzed things aright, "absurdity No. 1" just might be our own individual selves. There's nothing like looking at things straight in the eye. If we were to go out on the hunt for absurdities, too often we would start with our neighbor or some place else, never thinking that we, ourselves, might be the chief offender. So we should all give this little word some good, honest, patient study, not applying it to our neighbors but to ourselves.

We heard a man say that he thought "absurdity No. 1," industrially speaking, was for a lot of young "Brain-trusters" down in Washington trying to tell Henry Ford how to run his works. This reminds us of a little incident that really happened. Some coal men were in Washington trying to assist in preparing the Coal Code. Complaint was made that the biggest trouble at the mines was to get rid of the slack; whereupon one of the Brain-trusters remarked: "Well, why in the devil don't you shut some of your slack mines down?" To those not familiar with mining this might sound plausible, but to the coal man it certainly sounded like "Ignorance No. 1." And so it goes. Just now it looks as though there were a good many "Number ones" of one kind or another going on down in the Capital City, but, serious as they may be Governmentally, the most serious "Number Ones" we have to contend with are the ones affecting our own lives, character, usefulness in our community and to ourselves. The great value of that little word is the fact it holds up some eight or nine red flags warning us away from the things we should avoid.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. McCarty of Delaplane were guests at Lawn Vale on Monday of this week.

Miss Harriet Pattie spent the week-end with her sister, Mrs. Mary Pattie Briggs, in Washington last week.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Lynn and Mrs. J. H. Akers were Washington shoppers one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Lindsay Williams of Luray were visiting at the home of Mrs. Williams' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Griffith, on Sunday last.

Catharpin is somewhat stirred up over the report that an electric company is making a survey of the neighborhood, supposedly with the intention of assessing its availability for the installation of electricity. If this could be realized the whole community, we believe, would rejoice. It is believed that if power were available it would be but a short time until practically the whole population would have it installed.

Mr. Frank W. Brower of Price, Md., who has been spending some time in Florida, stopped for a short visit with his parents on his return home last week.

Misses Katharine and Mary Currell Pattie of Manassas were week-end visitors at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Pattie, last week.

Considerable elation is felt out Catharpin way among the basketball players who are just now enjoying a winning streak. Those in this community belonging to the girls' team of the Haymarket high school are Frances and Ann Robertson, Belva Ellison, Emily Polen and Virginia Gaines. There is nothing like a fine school spirit and we believe our girls have it.

The second quarterly conference met as per announcement on Saturday last with the Rev. J. Howard Wells P. E. in charge. Reports received from the various churches were full and very encouraging and a fine spirit prevailed. The annual district conference of the Washington district will be held at Hyattsville, Md., on Wednesday and Thursday, April 3 and 4, at which Bishop Mouzon will be in attendance. The following delegates from the Sudley circuit were elected to attend this conference: Mrs.

TOWN BAND BEING PROMOTED

Acting under the leadership of Mr. Charlie C. Trimmer, a talented musician of the locality, a meeting of those interested in starting a town band will be held tomorrow night and if plans are successful a practice will be had twice a week.

Funds are already being raised to help buy books and instruments and Dr. George Cocke, E. R. Conner and Edgar Parrish have agreed to act as an advisory board.

Relating to a town band, Mayor Davis today stated, "Every community should have certain civic organizations and among these a good municipal band ranks among the leading enterprises, which will help advertise the community as well as to actually furnish entertainment and pleasure to both those who are members of the band and to the neighborhood as a whole."

"The effort which is now being made to organize a town band is a laudable one and seems to be meeting with considerable success. I wish to state, personally, that I am heartily in favor of it and hope that the boys will soon be able to perform in public."

What a top-heavy and overloaded political machine the people of Virginia, Mother of Presidents, are carrying—and for no other purpose than the fact that they lack that progressive spirit so necessary to throw off the yoke that has bound them to a machine one hundred years old and worn out thirty-five years ago with the incoming of the automobile.

MY STRENGTH: I will sing of thy power. Unto thee, O my strength, will I sing: for God is my defence, and the God of my mercy.—Psalm 59: 16, 17.

GOOD ADVICE FROM GOV. ERNOR PEERY

The Governor of Virginia is to be congratulated upon his recent plea for a more moderate social life as a factor in promoting public health. Pausing for a moment in his attention to official matters of statecraft, Governor Peery urges that hostesses begin their parties earlier and end them earlier. He also makes the suggestion that if night play time is moved up an hour or more there will be fewer motor accidents and less drinking.

"Many of the most serious motor accidents occur between midnight and morning," the Governor says, "and I suggest earlier party hours because I am convinced that it will mean a more enjoyable and a much safer social life."

"THEREFORE"

Paul marshals the great assurance of the Gospel as though he would bring the resource of the Eternal to the humble folk of ancient cities—and then: "Therefore." Because God is for us, because the Cross is lifted against the skyline of life, therefore let the logic of your faith transform your lives. Our "Therefore" are always the pivots upon which our conduct turns. Somewhere in the background are our beliefs, our wisdom-about life, our insight into what is vital. Directly before us are opportunity, duty, the practical conduct of the fugitive days. Faith must find an issue in life; the practical conduct of life must have a compulsion of faith, wisdom and insight behind it. Find out the actual premises of any man's "therefore," not the logic of his words but the logic behind his deeds, and you will find the secret of his weakness or his power.

Prayer: Grant us this grace, Our Father: That we shall neither face our stations and our duties without a wealth of faith and understanding, nor bring our faith to no lively issue in our souls and our deeds, but, being under a divine compulsion, make our lives the

The Editor Manassas Journal:

We, the citizens of the Commonwealth of the State of Virginia, are faced with an economic situation or condition that demands prompt and serious consideration.

It is no longer just a whim of imagination—our political Subdivisions must—and the citizens of this State will demand—that there be a reduction in the number of counties as now constituted to one-half of the present number.

What a top-heavy and overloaded political machine the people of Virginia, Mother of Presidents, are carrying—and for no other purpose than the fact that they lack that progressive spirit so necessary to throw off the yoke that has bound them to a machine one hundred years old and worn out thirty-five years ago with the incoming of the automobile.

The local politicians who have been fed and cradled in the warmth of easy money and soft jobs, will not let their dream-land be destroyed without a battle to the finish.

How long will the citizens of Virginia continue to support fifty units of State government not required? With the passing of old doings and the ox-cart, why pay your good money in taxes to support these fifty political units of State government no longer required? It is very conservative indeed to retain fifty counties, as many less would serve our purpose much better.

This County consolidation is now new in this land of ours, it is being done by several of the more progressive States. It is the means of lightening and lifting the burden of a distressed people who, through no fault of their own, find themselves no longer able to carry on successfully due to an overdose of political narcotics.

Hitherto, the failure to root out this invisible and undesirable county government, has been ascribed to various obstacles. It has been frequently explained that the county form was imbedded deep in the hearts of its people, and that local official of course is not interested in improving the county government.

Another powerful force against reform has been the appeal that deep seated historical associations carry for people of regions defined within county boundaries.

If we are to accomplish a desired purpose that will benefit all the people living within the border of a State, we must cast aside the prejudice that obstructs progress and work together toward a given point so all may benefit by our labor.

Let us look over the number of taxing units in the forty-eight States: Direct taxing power is held by 167,699 of these units. Taxing units include 3,057 counties; 13,389 cities, villages, towns and boroughs; 19,980 townships; 125,627 school districts, and 2,598 miscellaneous divisions.

One look at the above taxing units in the forty-eight States is sufficient cause for us to review our own local and State government and take action to reduce these useless political units. Change in the form of government, by centralization of authority inside the present structure; by a board of commissioners chosen from the county at large, or by the county-manager form in which an elected board chooses a manager who has supervision of general county administration, will not give relief to the farmer or taxpayer through the reduction of taxes. It is just a camouflage of the old deal and has no place in a modernization of county government.

We are trying out the manager system in the following counties: Henrico, Albemarle and Arlington. This change is no improvement over the old system as all the old boards of supervisors are retained in power. What we want in the line of change, is in the area of government by the consolidation of two or more counties to eliminate overlapping administrative and tax districts.

H. O. RUSSELL.

Dear Editor:

Lake Okeechobee gives its name to the County and county seat and is the largest fresh water body wholly within the U. S.

This section northward is noted for Florida cattle and razor-back hogs—all are self-supporting among the pines and palmetto growth.

The highly ambitious lad longs to don a $9.00 to $15.00 stetson cow-boy hat and to mount a bronco. He likes a big hat and a little horse. Then he's the high muck-a-muck of the superabundance of land and sand.

Hot summer weather is here but folks are not in a hurry to plant. I long for Nokesville.

Bro. I. N. H. Beahm.

HEAVEN

My heaven, said the farmer, is a meadow, large and green, Where massive barns and silos and graineries are seen, Where horses, sheep and cattle in abundance roam around And feed on grass and clover a' springin' from the ground. There'd be a pretty farmhouse with roses 'round the door, And pantry shelves a'groanin' 'neath the burden of their store. And last of all, but mind you, what I'm thinkin' is the best. There'd be a shade tree in the yard, where evenin's I could rest.

My heaven, gushed the spinster, is a place where men abound; Tall men, fat men, short men—where all kinds can be found. I'd pick a license from the sky and plan a wedding grand, And then I'd roam around the place and choose myself a man. The air would just be buzzing with a stirring gossip breeze, And I could hide behind my shades and peep out all I please. There'd be a lot of scandal to spread from door to door, And what with men and gossip, I'd never want for more.

My heaven, drawled the drunkard, is a field of rye and corn, With lamp-posts on each corner where I could hang till morn. A river, clear as champagne, would be sparkling on its way. And a steady flow of moonshine would light the scene like day. On each street would be a barroom with swingin' doors ajar, And through them I could always see the gleamin' silver bar. The angels would be waiters, and their golden harps the trays, And the heavens would be ringin' with my drunken song of praise.

Thus they plan their heaven, with their ideas ranging wide, While to myself I'm saying—"With the Lord I will abide."

A Good Commercial Loan

—has distinct hallmarks which warrant its rating as sound business for your bank.

THESE hallmarks are:—the good name of the borrower; the sound purpose for which the money is to be used; and the self-liquidating character of the underlying transaction which assures repayment of the loan in accordance with its terms.

These are the essential features of commercial loans made by this bank. They help our customers carry on useful, profitable business activities. Bankers call them "short-term, self-liquidating loans" for they finance industrial, agricultural and merchandising operations which are normally completed within sixty or ninety days or seasonal periods, and bring in funds to repay the loan.

STUDEBAKER ANNOUNCES
LOWER DELIVERED PRICES

Free from legal entanglements and fit for action, the new Studebaker Corporation, once more "The Great Independent," today unexpectedly hurled a challenge to the automobile industry by sharply reducing delivered prices of the 1935 miracle ride Studebaker cars.

The price announcement was made by Paul G. Hoffman, president. In his statement to local newspaper men, Mr. Hoffman explained how the reductions which are being passed on to the public have been made possible.

"Studebaker is down to fighting trim," said Mr. Hoffman. "We've shaken off many burdensome expenses. We have millions of dollars in new capital. We have no bank loans. We have no preferred stock. Our plants have been written down from $49,000,000 to $15,000,000. All of these things have reduced our manufacturing costs—and we're passing the reductions on to the public right away."

"The price reductions are made without reducing the quality of our cars in any way. They are the same well designed, well made 1935 Studebakers as the day before yesterday and yesterday. The savings have all come about as a result of our company coming out of receivership and getting on our own feet again. Studebaker is again 'The Great Independent'—a facile, well-trained, hard-hitting automobile manufacturer, and we feel that our new low prices, our remarkable automobiles, and the high spirit of our entire organization is going to make us a figure of increasing importance in the automotive picture. The public is with us—we sold 100,000 cars under receivership and will sell a lot more now that we are back on our own feet again."

The new retail delivered prices on Studebaker automobiles were confirmed today by Paris Auto Service, Inc., local Studebaker dealer at Quantico, Va. The delivered prices in this county were announced today by Mr. C. G. Paris and appear in the advertisement in this issue.

PHILIP MONTGOMERY COLE

Death has again visited and saddened this community by claiming for his victim P. M. Cole, son of the late James Lawrence Cole and Susan Virginia Carter Cole.

Gummie, as he was called by his friends, was born in Prince William County and was 69 years old.

He had suffered with heart trouble for a number of years, and on Friday morning pneumonia developed. All that kind hands could do was done for him but God saw fit to take him away on Sunday at 7:45 p.m. on March 8.

He leaves to mourn their loss his wife, Maggie Cole; three daughters, Mrs. Dora Gordon, Mrs. Viola Falter and Mrs. Lillian Marsh; two sons, Herbert Cole of Detroit, Mich., and Philip Cole of Washington, D. C., and ten grandchildren, besides a host of other relatives and friends, who will sadly miss him.

Funeral services were conducted on Tuesday at 2 o'clock at Belle Haven Church by Rev. Murray Taylor and he was laid to rest beside his daughter to await the Resurrection.

The pall bearers were Cleveland Wright, Russell Lowe, Thomas Woolfenden, Maurice Abel, Walter Woolfenden and Elmer DeWitt.

OCCOQUAN

On Tuesday of this week Mrs. Susan E. G. Sander died at the advanced age of 100 years. She would have celebrated her 101st anniversary on April 19.

Mrs. Sander was Miss Susan Eliza Goodwin Kirkwood, of Baltimore. She was born April 19, 1834, and moved to Occoquan about forty years ago to make her home with her only surviving son, John A. Sander. She is survived also by a granddaughter, Mrs. Myrtle Roussey, and a large number of great-grandchildren. Funeral services were held Wednesday in Baltimore. Mrs. Sander was one of the most highly-esteemed members of the community and her passing was the occasion of widespread regret.

Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Yeatts, aged 79, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. George Hedges at Hoadley on Saturday. The body was shipped to Christiansburg where burial took place at Floyd County Court House on Monday.

Mr. R. Warthen Hall, son of R. S. Hall, was taken to the hospital on Monday where he was operated on for appendicitis. His condition is reported much improved.

O. J. Schuster

THE CITY OF RICHMOND is built over a stony layer 18 feet thick, formed of the flinty skeletons of plants so small that many thousands may live in a single drop of water. They can be seen only thru powerful microscopes and when thus seen their brilliance, delicate lacy traceries and other markings presents a view more beautiful than does the finest art gallery in the world. In some species the flinty shell has ridges absolutely parallel and so close together that if one of the hairs of your head were split lengthwise into 400 equal slices, one of these slices would just fit into the space between these parallel ridges. With the finest pencil—point you can make, see how many parallel lines you can draw in the space of one inch—then you can appreciate the marvelous work of Nature that produces more than 100,000 of them to the inch.

This 18-foot diatom layer under Richmond was, of course, laid down in water millions of years ago when the ocean still covered that part of Virginia. It is a fine stretch of the imagination to try to picture these tiny skeletons of diatoms raining down in the sea water until a layer 18 feet thick was formed. It took millions of years, then more millions of years to cover the layer with mud and sand, and then still more millions of years for the ocean bed to rise and form land fit for human habitation.

THE MIRACLE OF SPRING is at hand and Sleeping Beauty is about to be awakened by the kiss of the Sun, the Prince Charming, and then all life will reappear in all its freshness and wanted vigor. Mother Nature will, in the course of just a few days, shape countless myriads of marvels everywhere about us. Every leaf on every tree or bush is a factory far more wonderful than the most up-to-date automobile plant. Pluck a lilac and, if you could examine its under surface in a high power microscope you might count 100,000 tiny openings, mouths thru which the plant breathes as truly as we breathe thru nose and mouth.

MAN-MADE ELECTRIC BATTERIES are of very recent origin, but Mother Nature equipped some of her creatures with such batteries millions of years ago. Fishes swim about in the ocean depths where eternal darkness prevails with headlights produced by batteries in their own bodies, switching them on and off at will. The battery of the electric eel gives a shock sufficient to kill even some human beings. A catfish in the Nile River has a battery that produces as high as 450 volts of electricity.

THE ROMAN EPICURES found a certain snail a delectable dish, yet that creature is better equipped for eating than for being eaten. It has 140 rows of teeth, each row containing about 150, a total of more than 20,000. Dentistry among these snails should be a lucrative profession. If human jaws were thus equipped our dental bills might be even less bearable than now are our taxes.

WANTS COUNTY FIRE LEVY

(Contributed)

Prince William County has been fortunate in that the Fire Department of the Town of Manassas has looked after the fires in the County where they were able to get to the place of danger.

This Volunteer Fire Department of Manassas has responded in every instance when they have been called and it may interest to know that they have responded to as many calls outside of the corporate limits as they have had within the town proper and it costs a great deal more to go to an out-side fire than it does to a Town fire in that the engine has to go much further which takes more gas, oil and damage to tires and all of this expense is born by the Corporation of Manassas.

Then as many may not realize the heavy engine that is owned by the Town of Manassas is too heavy and it is too dangerous both to the engine and to the firemen to take this risk of trying to travel the County Roads with this heavy apparatus; if there should be an accident to either firemen or engine or both the Town would have all the expense to bear which is not all fair to the citizens of the town; you know a fire engine cannot take its time going to a fire; the first few minutes in worth many more later in the progress of the fire; the engine must make speed and therein lies the great danger to engine and men.

We are also informed that if there were fire fighting apparatus for the County as well that the organization would get one percent of the premiums of insurance of the County; as it is they just get it from the premiums on town property; this would add much to the aid should a firemen get hurt.

It looks to us that the Board of Supervisors made a mistake in not putting this in their budget; as we see it this would be a wise provision; they should ask all County residents to report just what their water supply is and where and this information should be in the hands of the Fire Department.

If we live outside of the Town and our property is on fire we are mighty glad to see the Town engine coming our way; we would hate to call and they could not come; we must know that when the engine and firemen are out of Town on a County fire that every piece of Town property is in danger for while this has never happened it might be that while the apparatus was out of town that a fire might occur in the corporation and we would not want this to happen.

We admit that it costs money and the tax payer will have to pay it to pay their part just the same and but the Town of Manassas would have they do not need this smaller equipment; they would be assuming their portion of the cost on an item that if for the outside of the Corporation.

Where there is no fire fighting equipment usually County fires are total losses; all we can do is stand by and see every thing burn up; if you have never had a fire you cannot imagine what a comfort it is to hear the sirens of the engine coming your way.

Tell your Supervisor just how you feel about this matter and if the major portion of those in the County do want this protection we should not feel bad if the Town would instruct the fire chief not to carry the Town engine out of the Corporation.

"WHITE PARADE" OFFERS MANY HEART THROBS

Described as one of the most human and dramatic screen stories of the year, Jesse L. Lasky's "The White Parade," a Fox Film production, will be seen at the Dixie Theatre in Manassas next Wednesday and Thursday.

Loretta Young and John Boles play the leading roles in this first of all films to deal with the student nurse—her training days, her heart aches and her happiness in service. To judge from advance accounts, the picture sets a new high for faithfulness to life and for discovering heart throbs, pathos and laughter in the most realistic of material.

Student nurses—the girls nobody knows! These are the subjects of this tender and touching story, which Director Irving Cummings has brought to the screen under the supervision of Lasky. "The White Parade," incidentally, is the thousandth picture Lasky has made in his long and notable production career, which parallels the whole development of the industry in this country.

A notable cast is lined up in support of the two leading players. Among them are Dorothy Wilson, Muriel Kirkland, Astrid, Allwyn, Frank Melton, Walter Johnson, Jane Darwell, Frank Conroy, Sara Haden and Joyce Compton.

COUNTY AGENTS' COLUMN

Suggestions for Growing Healthy Chicks

1. Healthy Clean Chicks

a. Start with chicks from breeders which have been carefully culled for health, vigor and production, and tested for Pullorum disease (Bacillary White Diarrhea). Virginia State Certified Chicks recommended.

b. Kill all weak chicks at hatching time and later as they appear in flock.

2. Clean Brooder Houses

a. Start chicks in brooder houses which have been scraped clean, swept thoroughly, and

b. Scrubbed with hot lye solution (1 pound concentrated lye to 20 gallons boiling water) and sprayed with good disinfectant, or

c. Walls, ceiling and floor exposed to fire-gun for 5 seconds.

3. Clean Litter

a. Use short cut straw, peat moss or shavings over thin layer of sand.

b. Remove night droppings from around and under hover early every morning.

c. Change litter and sweep house at least twice weekly except when using peat moss; then change every 4 to 6 weeks. When disease is prevalent clean oftener. (Wire floors may be used in place of litter.)

4. Avoid Crowding

Do not put more than 350 chicks in one flock in any brooder, and better results will be obtained when only 300 are put in.

5. Clean Ground

a. Move portable brooder houses to clean ground which has had no fowls, chicks or poultry manure on it for at least a year. Move house after cleaning.

b. Provide sun porch in front of permanent brooder house or renew top 4 inches of soil for space of 25 feet in front of house.

c. Rake or harrow all bare spots in yard or range after every rain. Do not permit a crust or mold to form.

d. If impossible to provide clean ground, grow chicks in confinement for first 8 weeks.

6. Clean Feed

a. Use a good ration.

b. One-half grain and one-half mash, or where preferred all-mash may be used.

c. Provide sunlight or Cod Liver Oil.

d. Use a hard, insoluble grit.

Provide 1 inch of feeding space per chick. Use feed troughs which keep chicks out of feed. Keep feed off floor by placing troughs on screened platform made of 1x2, 1x3, or 1x4 material covered with 1-2 inch wide screen (hardware cloth). Feed grain in troughs. Wash feed troughs in disinfectant at least once weekly and dry it in the sun.

7. Clean Water

a. Use fountains which keep chicks out of the water.

b. Set fountains on screened platforms.

c. Wash fountains daily with a stiff brush, outside and in, and disinfect at least twice weekly.

8. Brood Carefully

a. Avoid sudden changes in temperature. A temperature of 92 to 96 degrees with thermometer bulb 2 1-2 inches above floor under edge of hover is about right at the start.

b. Reduce temperature gradually 3 or 4 degrees each week for the first 4 weeks.

c. Room temperature at walls should be 10 to 15 degrees lower than hover temperature.

d. Control temperature according to actions of the chicks. Keep the temperature as low as possible and keep the chicks comfortable.

Long Life and Security

THE Metropolitan Life Insurance Company began publishing "Health Hints" for its policyholders in 1871 and ever since has carried on its efforts toward better health.

The Company cooperated with government officials in a campaign against a threatened cholera epidemic in 1892 and thus began its co-operative work with public health organizations.

In further developing its activities in the field of health, the Metropolitan organized its Welfare Division in 1909 and, at about the same time, a nation-wide nursing service was established for Industrial policyholders.

Subsequent health records demonstrate the value of these services.

During all these years the Company has worked shoulder to shoulder with national, state and local health organizations to stamp out preventable disease.

New low mortality figures were recorded in 1934 for practically all of the diseases against which public health forces have directed special preventive efforts—notably typhoid fever, tuberculosis, diphtheria, infant mortality and maternal mortality. During this year the good record of previous years continued to obtain among Metropolitan policyholders.

We regret a typographical error last week in a memorial notice which caused us to say that Mr. Wellington Gordon Bailey died March 4, 1929. The correct date was Sept. 4, 1934. Mr. Bailey had many friends in the county and his death was the occasion of much regret. An account of the death appears in The Journal of Sept. 6, 1934.

HAWAIIAN "LUAU," NATIVE LOVE FEAST, BROUGHT TO SCREEN

After all the years that the Luan has eluded the cameras, Hollywood has caught up with it. Bobby Connolly, conscripted from the New York stage after a score of successes as a dance director, is responsible for the filming of the Hawaiian traditional ceremonial dance.

The Luau is a Hawaiian feast in honor of a native deity who is the goddess of love. In "Flirtation Walk," the First National production showing at the Dixie Theatre in Manassas next Monday and Tuesday, is an authentic reproduction of the feast of love, with Dick Powell and Ruby Keeler watching it from the hills above a beautiful lagoon.

The rhythm of the dance is set by gourd drums and the "steps" are not steps at all, but a series of gestures, undulations and graceful postures. The strange routine of this ceremony has been handed down to a chosen few of each new generation for centuries. Only the natives seem able to master its intricate forms.

Sixty dancers were imported by Connolly for this unusual spectacle. In some of its mass formations, Bobby used about forty trained specialty dancers who worked for him in Broadway musicals.

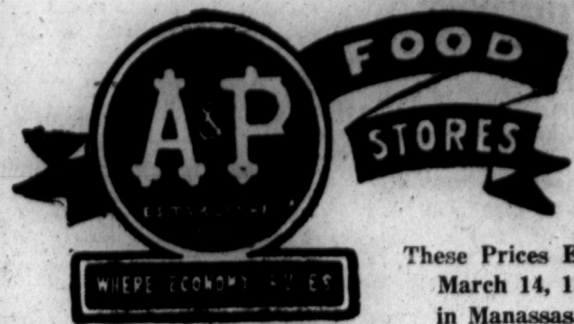

In "Flirtation Walk," the dance is given in a special set that required the entire space of the largest stage on the First National lot. Here a coconut grove was built, against a background of overhanging rocks that edge a beautiful lagoon.

The lagoon was large enough to accommodate a fleet of Kanaka Torch or fishing smacks.

This kind of fishing is common only in the islands of the Pacific archipelago. The fishermen, stripped to the waist, carry tanks on their backs and from these, curve the long torches, fed by the oil from the tanks. The flickering illumination is sufficient for the keen-eyed natives, who spear the fish.

"Flirtation Walk" is a glowing romance with special music and lyrics by Allie Wrubel and Mort Dixon with dance numbers, in which scores of beautiful girls take part. Frank Borzage directed the picture from the screen play by Delmar Daves, based on the original story by Daves and Lou Edelman.

Have you read the Clark and Arrington History of Prince William County? Every citizen who takes pride in local institutions should possess a copy of this charming book, which is on sale for 40 cents at the office of the Prince William County School Board, Manassas, Va., or will be sent postpaid for 50 cents.

FORD ECONOMY

This new V-8 is the most economical car to operate Ford has ever built.

YOU have heard a lot about the new Comfort Zone Ride of the Ford V-8 for 1935. Its reception has already shown it to be an improvement that automobile-driving America needed.

But, you get a lot more than riding comfort with the new Ford V-8. This car was conceived to meet every motoring requirement.

The V-8 engine—proved in use by more than a million motorists—gives you the power and performance necessary to satisfy the first of these. This means more than high speed. It means reserves of power to improve and ease every-day driving. And it means the utmost in operating and upkeep economy.

You may want roominess. The new Ford V-8 meets this requirement. It is wide, long—with plenty of space for luggage behind the rear seat.

You may want style. Here is streamlined beauty in the finest sense of the term—and the interior upholstery, decorations and appointments that are little short of luxurious.

The new Ford V-8 brings you improvements that make driving a new pleasure—a clutch that enables you to start or shift gears almost without effort—brakes that respond to a light touch of the pedal. You also get safety glass all around at no extra cost.

Name what you'd want if price were no consideration. Then see the new Ford V-8. You'll agree it gives you everything—as it was built to do!
