POLITICS HOLD LOCAL STAGE

Candidates Are Rounding Up Their Campaigns.

Political activities in Prince William County are getting to a decidedly more interesting stage than efforts of the early season would have foreshadowed. In the past two weeks various candidates have made their appearance on speakers' platforms and stated their cases directly to the voting public.

Among the county officials, Sheriff Kerlin is the only one receiving opposition. In the several instances on which he has appeared he has spoken with considerable feeling and evident sincerity in urging his retention in office. His chief defense has been the conduct of his office, especially in the past term, giving much praise to his deputies. In opposition, Mr. Tom Russell has confined himself to very brief statements. His progress in the campaign appears to be satisfactory to him and he is pushing an active canvass. Mr. Kerlin's friends, particularly in the north and western section of the county, are registering very little concern over the situation expressing the confident opinion that Mr. Kerlin will run fully as well as he did four years ago.

In the delegates' contest Mr. Herring is defending the attacks of his adversaries very capably, citing his legislative record in detail and specifying some of the things he intends to initiate and carry on in the next session of the Assembly.

The most dramatic feature of the campaign occurred Saturday night at Brentsville in Mr. Herring's open charge that Senator Rust is interfering in behalf of his opponent, Mr. Moncure. Mr. Rust attempted to answer him from the crowd but was called out of order by the presiding officer.

Mr. Moncure is directing the whole force of his attack upon Stafford's claims for the delegate this time. In reply to that on Saturday evening Mr. Herring cited a number of leaders in Stafford County, who are supporting him, naming practically all of them. This apparently excited the resentment of Mr. Moncure to no little extent and he became quite melodramatic.

Mr. Reid has come into the county in the past two weeks and promoted a decidedly strenuous campaign which has had a somewhat disconcerting effect on Senator Rust's backers.

Senator Rust points to the fact that he is a Prince William man of several generations standing and lays claim to the allegiance of the voters on this point. He has been rather sarcastic in reference to Mr. Reid's origin, that gentleman admitting that he is a native Irishman who came to this county with his parents at the age of five years.

Mr. Painter, a candidate of seemingly doubtful political background, but no little resourcefulness in his thought and speech, speaking at Brentsville Saturday night, declared that he had nine uncles in the Confederate Army, several of them with Stonewall Jackson, but that he felt that if this be the only claim to preference, politically, both he and Mr. Rust should retire in favor of Mr. Reid.

Mr. Rust, who carried Prince William County by a very heavy majority in 1931, feels confident of repeating his victory here but there is no denying the fact that Mr. Reid will receive a considerable vote, the proportion of which is yet doubtful. The latter's activities have echoed in other parts of the district and stamp him as a dangerous contender.

One of the most harmful factors to Senator Rust's candidacy is the impression which has resulted from the public speeches and that is the distinct idea that he is not in harmony with his delegates. Senator Rust has vigorously resented this in his remarks on every public occasion. Mr. Reid has declared in favor of rural electrification, social securities, legislation and in a fairer distribution of funds for schools and secondary roads.

The spectre of the sales tax has also come into the open and Senator Rust has denied that he is in favor of such legislation although Mr. Reid declares that Senator Rust has been an advocate and did nothing to prevent a favorable report on the subject while he was a member of the legislative commission that made its recommendations to the Assembly, which report Mr. Reid states was nothing but sales tax propaganda.

JULY W.C.T.U. MEETING

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union will meet with Mrs. Bertha Embrey at 339 West street, Wednesday, July 24, at 3 p.m. Each member should try to be present and if you have not paid your dues this year please have them in by this meeting. Reports all have to be in by September. Plans for the coming year will be discussed and a report from the institute given. The speakers at the institute held in the Presbyterian Church July 10 were Mr. and Mrs. Hoge of Lincoln and Mrs. Shepherd and Mrs. Strickler of Norfolk, also the ten ministers of different denominations who were there during the day. They all brought helpful, instructive and timely messages.

INSTITUTE OF RURAL AFFAIRS

Interesting Program at Blacksburg, July 30-Aug. 1.

A different and probably more interesting type of program is offered those attending the annual Institute of Rural Affairs at Blacksburg from July 30 thru August 1. The central theme of the program this year will be "Adjustments Affecting Rural Life."

Some of the topics which will be discussed by national leaders are "Population Trends Affecting Agriculture"; "The Effect of Recent Monetary Changes on the Income of Farmers"; "The Future of Agriculture in the United States"; "Future Adjustments of the Farm Home"; "An Appraisal of the Agricultural Adjustment Program," and "The Importance of Foreign Markets to the Farmers of the United States."

As in past years, the afternoons will be given to tours of inspection of experimental work at the V. P. I. Experiment Farm and poultry, dairy, horticulture, crops and other special programs for both men and women. The Harrisonburg band, the White Top Mountain Musicians and other organizations have been engaged for the session. A visit to Mountain Lake is usually made by those attending the Institute.

Arrangements have been made for those attending to use the military and non-military dormitories. Those taking their own sheets, blankets, etc., may secure lodging for the entire period of the institute for the nominal charge of $1.00. Furnished rooms, when reserved by writing to John R. Hutcheson, Blacksburg, Va., are available for 50 cents per day. Meals will be served at the V. P. I. dining hall for 35c each or $1.00 per day.

Full information as to quarters, meals, place of programs, etc., may be obtained at the registration booth on the V. P. I. campus, upon arrival at Blacksburg.

CHURCH BENEFIT AT BETHEL

A chicken dinner will be held at Bethel Church on Saturday, July 27, beginning at 6 o'clock. A special musical program has been arranged and ice cream and other refreshments will be on sale during the evening.

Benefits derived will go to the church. Everyone has a cordial invitation to come and enjoy a pleasant evening.

MAN STUNG BY BEE, STEPS ON SNAKE, BITTEN BY DOG

Nathan Brown, Carroll County, Ga., farmer, was stung by a bumblebee. Writhing in pain, he dashed to his house for first aid.

On the way, he ran across a green snake, which bit him on his foot. Then he headed for town for medical attention. On the way, a bulldog bit him.

There is considerable tension in the air, however, and charges of any nature may be expected from any of the candidates this evening.

Mr. Reid declares that he has information that Senator Rust failed to vote on numerous school bills while actually present in the legislature and also on bills that prohibited the sale in the open market of convict goods produced in other states. Senator Rust's greatest concern, apparently, seems to be that he may be drawn into the Moncure-Herring contest. This evening's meeting will determine the outcome of that feature.

The vote in Prince William will probably reach 1800 and possibly 2,000.

COUNTY CLUB CONTEST WINNERS

Left—Charlotte Thompson, Occoquan 4-H Club, winner of first place in the health and church section of the correct dress contests. Charlotte is pictured in her sports outfit on which she won second place.

Melverine Mauck, Manassas 4-H Club, winner of first place in the sports section of the correct dress contest.

Thelma Moore, Buckhall 4-H Club, who won first place in the Foods Judging Contest. Thelma wrote the words to the song, "Prince William 4-H," which was recently named 1935 Club song.

ASSOCIATION TO MEET

The people of the Calvary U. B. Church at Aden most cordially invite you to attend the County Sunday School convention held at their church Sunday, July 21. We hope each school will be well represented to hear the addresses and good music that is being prepared.

The night program will consist almost entirely of music. Messrs. Sinclair Boatwright and Harvey Luck of the Baptist Church of Manassas will sing a duet. The County Young People's choir will render several numbers. Mr. David Weimer, choir leader of the Washington City Church of the rethren, will lead congregational singing. Other special music, both vocal and instrumental, will be rendered. We are looking forward to a day of spiritual worship.

FALLS CHURCH TAKES TWELVE-INNING GAME FROM MACS BY SCORE OF 2 TO 1

Lyons Scatters Thirteen Mac Hits to Best Tennant in Brilliant Pitchers' Battle.

After twelve innings of the most exciting baseball of the current season, the Macs finally succumbed to the Falls Church nine. Big Jim Tennant, the Macs' latest acquisition, pitched in brilliant fashion and only the worse kind of breaks prevented him from sending the local team off to a flying start for the second half of the season. He allowed but five hits, his fast ball being particularly effective during the early innings, eleven of the opposing batters going down on strikes.

Lyons, given excellent support, was particularly effective in the pinches. Although the Macs collected thirteen hits, including three doubles, it was not until the ninth that they were able to score. To Tommy Kite fell the role of both hero and goat. Charged with three errors of commission and one of omission, he had the misfortune to commit one of each variety in the seventh giving Falls Church its first run. In the seventh with one out he bobbed Clark's grounder to put the runner on first. Hillary fanned for the second out. Kite then fielded Lyons' grounder and with an easy force play at second, elected to try for the batter at first. Lyons beat the throw, however, and Via followed with a double into left to score Clark. Tennant then fanned Gibson for the final out of the inning.

In the ninth with the Macs trailing by a single run and two out, Saunders slammed one of Lyons' pitches into the high grass in deep right for a double and Kite followed suit with one in right center to tie the score. Manassas threatened in both the tenth and eleventh innings, each time having men on second and third before Lyons could retire the third man. Falls Church filled the bases with one out in the ninth on a pair of walks and an error but Tennant fanned Gibson for the fourth time and forced Fox to sky out to Vetter. Falls Church scored the winning run in the twelfth after two were out on a

SENATOR BYRD SPEAKS ON AAA

Senator Byrd issued last week the following statement with respect to his position on the AAA legislation:

"The Agricultural Adjustment Act was passed upon the principle of voluntary co-operation between the farmers and the government or the extent at least that seventy-five per cent of the producers of a given product must approve the marketing plan or any licensing provisions.

"I voted for the original AAA and the tobacco legislation, as both provided for approval by a substantial majority of the producers of a given community.

"The legislation now pending establishes what is virtually a universal licensing system for all agricultural products. If enacted into law this licensing system can be imposed in certain instances without obtaining the approval of a majority of the producers of a given product. The licenses are called 'orders' but the effect is the same. In fact, a majority of the handlers of a given product can impose a licensing system upon the producer, and one provision actually permits the handlers to fix minimum prices for the producers.

"When we recall the varying conditions in this country and the divergence of interest between the producers of different sections, the danger of this can be readily realized. The farmer himself can be individually licensed without an opportunity to vote if he prepares for market a product grown on his own land and there becomes a distributor. Voluntary action by the farmers is one thing and arbitrary action by the government is another.

"I want to preserve the principle of the right of the farmer to express himself, as embraced in the original farm legislation, and to this end have offered amendments to make it clear that no licensing provision can be imposed without the approval of seventy-five per cent of the farmers producing a given commodity.

"Tobacco and other basic commodities have special legislation."

LEAGUE EVENTS PROVE POPULAR

Clarke Nalls and Anne Smith Baby Show Winners.

The school and civic league of the Haymarket Community held a very successful Field Day last Saturday afternoon. The morning session was devoted to a baseball game between two Haymarket girls' team, the Blues and Reds. The two teams tied.

The baby show at high noon was the real event of the day. Little Ann Marie Smith, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Smith, won first place in the contest for babies under one year of age and little Clark Nalls, nineteen-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Nalls of Gainesville, won first place in the contest for babies from one to three years old.

In the athletic races which took place after dinner the following results are noted: For the fifty-yard race for boys up to ten years of age, Mr. Bolen Robertson won first place. Maco nPiercy won first place in the fifty-yard race for boys over ten years of age. There was also a race between the boys and girls, the boys being victorious. The suitcase race was won by Miss Esther Clarke.

The final event of the day came with the baseball game between Haymarket and Nokesville. This was a very exciting game. Although the Nokesville team played a good game, Haymarket was victorious with a score of 8 to 6.

The food stand was a center of interest at all times during the day and the airplane provided considerable sport.

A neat sum was realized from the activities of the league which will need more funds than ever this coming year.

SANITATION CAMPAIGN IN DUMFRIES

A report on the sanitation campaign sponsored by the Home Demonstration Club of Dumfries, was given at a recent meeting by Mrs. Robert Mooney, chairman of the sanitation committee. This report showed eight sanitary toilets built by FERA labor, one toilet bought by the Home Demonstration Club and installed by FERA, three sanitary toilets built by private individuals, three septic tanks completed by FERA, and seven septic tanks completed by private individuals, eight complete bathrooms installed and 8 houses completely screened, three porches screened, and six wells tested; seventeen electrical refrigerators installed.

The club also sponsored a clean-up campaign in connection with Better Homes Week. Reports show a 100 per cent of backyards cleaned, many outbuildings whitewashed and eight kitchens completely refinished.

Mr. Noel Lynn, who is in charge of the FERA construction project, will be back in the district again during this month. Anyone wishing a septic tank or sanitary toilet installed should see Mrs. R. L. Mooney, Triangle, at once. Work on these projects is done absolutely free the individual only having to furnish the building materials.

DUMFRIES DRESS CONTEST

An interesting feature of the Dumfries meeting was the dress review in which babies, little girls, older girls, and women participated.

"LADDIE" BATTLES CASTE
TO WIN GIRL'S LOVE

To win a girl's love that fascinates him, in spite of a social caste that challenges his equality, the hero in "Laddie," RKO-Radio's picturization of the world-famous Gene Stratton-Porter novel, chooses battle. And it's a fight to the finish.

He wins in a smashing climax. That's the golden essence of this photoplay, made by the makers of "Little Women." John Beal, Gloria Stuart and Charlotte Henry are featured, and the cast includes Virginia Weidler, Gloria Shea, Donald Crisp, Jimmy Butler, Dorothy Peterson, Willard Robertson, Greta Meyer and Grady Sutton. George Stevens directed for RKO-Radio.

REAL FRIENDLINESS: Defend the poor and fatherless; do justice to the afflicted and needy. — Psalms 82:3.

CALLING NATURE BY NAME

The beauty of birds, trees, and flowers speaks to us in this midsummer. Can we call these wonderful things by name? If we can, we shall enjoy the beauty around us more keenly.

Someone once remarked that he divided all the birds in his locality into three classes, robins, crows and chipbirds. He was like the man who walks through the streets and can only identify a few of his townspeople. All those lovely warblers and thrushes and catbirds sang their love songs to him, tried to win his affection, but he knew them only as "chipbirds." We are but aliens in this wonderland, if we do not know some of these feathered fellow citizens by name.

The trees that turn the harsher aspects of nature into a garden of pleasure, are also worthy of being known by name. Many people hived up in a big city street do not know a pine tree from a hemlock. We do not know the resources of our country, or the opportunities for beautification of our towns, until we know something about trees.

Can we call the flowers by name? If we see just a crazy quilt of color in the field that bows to the breeze, we have failed to open our eyes to the world's loveliness.

Power comes when we can call things and people by their right names. The statesman's influence grows when he knows people by name. The business man doubles his power when he knows his customers personally. The boy who is hooted at by his mates, becomes a friend, when they learn to say "Hello, Johnny." "I have called thee by thy name, thou art mine," were the words which the prophet Isaiah put into the mouth of the living God, a thought that has given comfort to many in dark hours. — Cumberland Times.

The Peoples National Bank of Manassas

Ocoquan, Va. July 6, 1935.
To the Editor, Manassas Journal,
Manassas, Va.

You will pardon my indulgence in a retrospective view of this quaint, ancient and historic village.

It is the first of May, 1865. The four years of fratricidal war is ended, and General Robert E. Lee, Nature's noble man and Virginia's pride, has surrendered his sadly depleted and half-starved forces to his magnanimous opponent, General Ulysses S. Grant. The ruins of a once flourishing cotton factory is very much in evidence, its walls standing as mute sentinels guarding the "Rocks" where fishermen are engaged in dipping from the river thousands of herrings.

At this time Ocoquan is decidedly primitive. There is no bridge connecting the counties of Prince William and Fairfax; instead a ferry boat serves the purpose. There is no railroad, and people going to Alexandria speak of going to town. If the trip extends to Washington, it is going to the city. Those living back of Ocoquan make as great a preparation to go to Washington as one would ordinarily now make to get to Europe. One would take the slow moving steam scow "Enterprise" and half the time she would be piled upon the mud flats two miles below the village for Uncle Sam had not then made an appropriation to deepen the Ocoquan River. Ocoquan received its mail every other day.

A man named Cockerell had the contract for supplying the route between Alexandria and Dumfries via horseback. If one wishing to go by buggy it was necessary to speak to the carrier in advance in order that provision might be made for a buggy. At that early day there was considerable business here. The large flouring mill shipped by steamer to Alexandria whole boat loads of choicest flour. The fisheries of the Potomac were important, affording employment to many, some were conducted honestly, many dishonestly. The fishing shores had their commissaries, where the employees could obtain their wants in way of clothing, small stores and the like.

It is related that in settling accounts a fisherman was charged with 5 pairs of rubber boots at $4.50 each. The fisherman remonstrated, saying he had received but one pair. "Well," said the clerk, "they were here for you." There were many humorous characters here. One in particular I recall: At a Sunday school presentation of gifts the name of a young boy was called to come forward to receive his gift. As his name was the same as his father's, the young lady called "Robert, Junior." The father, poor and ignorant, thought that they were making sport of his boy and created quite a scene.

TELEPHONE SCIENCE WONDERS DISCLOSED

Monkey Business?

Scientists of the Bell Telephone Laboratories have proved conclusively that the popular notion that animals can hear more acutely than man is a misconception. At a recent meeting of the Acoustical Society of America held in New York, J. C. Steinberg, an engineer of the telephone laboratories, in summarizing the testing of human hearing with monkeys, chimpanzees and other animals dispelled this theory.

In demonstrating this fact, Mr. Steinberg showed conclusively that for tones in the middle and lower part of the audible range, the hearing of the chimpanzee, monkey, cat and guinea pig is not essentially developed from that of the human being. The cat and guinea pig are less sensitive than man for pure tones of pitch near those at the top of the piano-scale and higher.

Monkeys and chimpanzees on the other hand appeared somewhat more sensitive than man for tones an octave above the piano range and higher pitches. In the experiments the chimpanzees were trained to press a key for food when they heard a tone from a receiver which was strapped to one ear. The guinea pigs were conditioned by letting them hear a tone for a few seconds and then giving them an electrical shock. After sufficient repetitions of this procedure, the animals came to associate the tone with the coming shock; this resulted in observable changes in the animal's breathing.

The cats were tested by inserting a sound tube connected to a receiver into one ear and measuring the variation of electrical potential between the round window of the inner ear and some other point on the body. The audiometers and other sound sources, also developed by the telephone laboratories, were calibrated in terms of the average response of the human ear by making comparable test runs on a large number of individuals.

YOUNG FOLKS HOLD CONFERENCE

The twenty-first annual assembly of the Baltimore Conference Young People's Organization was held at Massanetta Springs, Harrisonburg, Va., July 8 to 15, the theme being "Follow Me."

Enrichment courses were held first period. They consisted of "Jesus' Teachings," "How to Enjoy the Bible," "World Peace," "What Do We Mean by Missions?," "What It Means to Be a Christian," "The Christian Use of Leisure," "Ideals for Christian Homes" and "Our Methodist Church." The second period classes consisted of program and administration courses which were: "Planning the Department Program," "Department Leadership," "Administering the Union," "Standing Committee on Worship," "Evangelism and Church Relationships," "Missions and World Friendship," "Citizenship and Community Service," "Recreation and Personal Development" and "Leadership Training." Interest groups were held in the afternoon: Missions, folk games and songs, dramatics, book trails, handicraft and hobbies, photography, church music, first-aid, and social athletics. Each delegate had the privilege of taking one of the enrichment courses, one of the program and administration courses, and each was requested to participate in one of the interest groups.

Special features of the assembly, besides the courses already mentioned, were vesper services held on Vesper Hill, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday evenings; song services; theme addresses, business sessions, district, council and staff meeting, directed recreation, and candlelight prayer services.

This assembly was certainly very beneficial and enjoyable for all who attended, and many are looking forward to next year's assembly. All delegates feel they will never forget this wonderful week at Massanetta, and heartily thank their various Young People's Leagues for making it possible for them to attend.

Why not own an EIGHT?

with the V-Type eight, Ford gives you a car as economical as a four

FROM the driver's point of view, 8 cylinders make the ideal engine for a car. They give responsiveness, smoothness, quietness.

And in the Ford V-8 engine, you get this performance at 4-cylinder cost. The Ford V-8 you buy today costs less to own than any car Ford ever built! Its initial cost is at rock-bottom, and includes many "extras," such as safety glass all around, big 6.00 x 16-inch air-halloon tires, built-in luggage space.

Operating costs have also been pared this year—in sparing use of gas and oil, and in improvements which cut down brake, clutch, and tire wear.

Drive this Ford V-8. There's a Ford dealer near you—see him today. Let a Ford V-8 tell you what it has already told to a record number of eager buyers the country over.

A NOVEL OF THE OLD SOUTH

By H. J. Eckenrode

The story of Buck Musgrave, Southern gentleman, who devoted himself, before the Civil War, to the serious pursuits of life, particularly horse-racing, cock-fighting and hard drinking. The searing changes which the War brought to this son of the Old South, and his changed outlook in the Reconstruction period are presented with dramatic force.

The author is State Historian of Virginia. He knows and understands the people of whom he writes, and he treats of the Musgraves as well as the "poor whites" with honesty and vigor. The manners and customs of the time just before and after the Civil War are presented from a fresh viewpoint in this fine novel of the life, loves and adventures of Buck Musgrave, who betrayed his traditions, but found a renewed and finer life under a new code.

TOM TYLER'S POPULARITY IS GROWING WITH EACH SUCCEEDING PICTURE

Who said the western pictures are dying out because of lost favor with the public? Someone made that statement about two years ago, with the result that the production of western pictures was curtailed for over a year, without the public being given a real opportunity to voice its sentiments regarding this type of entertainment.

Practically alone among the producers of western pictures, the sponsors of Tom Tyler starring productions continued to turn out just as many pictures per season as had been their wont when the so-called "western" was among the most popular types of pictures.

And the Tyler sponsors have not gone broke because of their determination to proceed with their program, despite the warnings of other producers. Today, the sponsors of these pictures are well in the forefront of Hollywood production executives.

As a matter of cold fact, based upon a recent analysis, the "western," instead of losing its popularity of recent years, has actually gained many new devotees, and we are not speaking of the children—who, naturally, want nothing but western pictures. No—the new audience comprises hundreds of thousands of theatre-goers who have grown sick and tired of sex, musical comedy and long-drawn-out smart aleck types of drawing-room pictures, in which the cast sits, or stands about, indulging in so-called smart talk, but which is commonly called wisecracks.

Rich and poor, educated and uneducated, cultured and uncultured people, all want the sort of picture that entertains and amuses without demanding too great concentration. They are tired after their day's activities and require relaxation. But they cannot get what they want if they must continually strain to hear the smart dialogue, nor if they must suffer the bedlam of sound which usually accompanies the musical picture. These pictures have a definite place in the amusement schedule, but they should not comprise the major portion of film fare.

True, there is noise and rapid action in the western picture, but it is the kind of noise and action that does not require analysis by the grownups. The true western picture must contain lots of sound and action in order to please its most critical, the child.

To the voters and citizens of Manassas Magisterial District, Prince William County, Virginia:

At the behest and solicitation of a goodly number of the citizens of my District, I was persuaded to become a candidate for the nomination to the office of Supervisor for Manassas Magisterial District, subject to the Democratic Primary of August 6, 1935, and I have filed my declaration to that effect with the County Chairman.

ARIZONA COYOTS FIND REX BELL IS DEAD RIFLE SHOT

When Rex Bell completed the filming of his western saga, "Fighting Pioneers," coming to the Dixie Theatre in Dixie next Friday, July 26, he had a large bundle of coyote and fox pelts to bring back with him.

Rex proved himself a crack shot with the rifle, and during the night, when the coyotes and foxes began to howl and snarl close to the location encampment, he picked them off, one by one.

The next day the squaws working in "Fighting Pioneers" skinned the bodies and pegged the pelts out to dry. Before long Rex had a considerable bundle of skins, some of which were the largest and finest seen in that part of the country. He intends to use them to decorate his Nevada ranch.

Rex Bell portrays the role of a brilliant young cavalry officer, fresh from West Picture, in "Fighting Pioneers."

NEW NATIONAL DEFENSE PLANS

The Roosevelt administration is national defense minded as few of its predecessors have been. The Army has been expanded by 46,000 men. The naval construction program includes 66 new warships, the greatest number in peacetime since the Stars and Stripes came into being. And in the air the New Deal is pushing the winged fighters forward, getting newer and faster types for the armed forces. The story of Uncle Sam's new defense plans to safeguard American peace will be published in The Washington Star next Sunday, July 21.

STATE FARMERS INSTITUTE AT BLACKSBURG

The next session of the Institute of Rural Affairs will be held at Blacksburg from July 30 through August 1. The central theme of the program this year will be "Adjustments Affecting Rural Life." Speakers on the programs include Secretary Wallace, Dr. Carl Ladd and Dr. F. A. Pearson of Cornell University, and other outstanding leaders. As usual, the programs will provide for special sections in which technical information will be given on subjects in which those attending are particularly interested.

A special effort is also being made to provide a good recreational program. Jimmy Gheen, one of the foremost humorists of the country, is expected. On the second night a colored quartet of special note has been engaged while on the third night the Southwest Virginia Mountain Musicians will be present. It is planned to have the Harrisonburg Boys' Band of forty members for afternoon concerts during the whole session.

The Institute offers an opportunity for a pleasant and profitable vacation at the time of the year that it is most needed.

MERRIAM SIGNS $35 PENSION

Gov. Frank F. Merriam has signed the $35-a-month old-age pension act and at the same time reaffirmed his support of the $200-a-month Townsend plan. He said: "I supported the Townsend plan, and the day is coming when that plan or one similar to it will be in effect."

THE WORLD AROUND US

By
O. J. Schuster

TO THE MOON WILL GO many men and women next Monday night, July 15—that is, they will make mental journeys to the moon to watch it sail majestically thru the shadow of the earth. The eclipse of the moon will be total, and it will be unusually long because the moon will be about as near to the earth as it ever gets—about 226,000 miles—and the nearer it comes to the earth the longer the distance thru its shadow. As a partial eclipse it begins shortly after 9 p.m. on the 15th and the show does not end until a little before 3 a.m. on the 16th; but the total phase begins at 11:09 and continues an hour and 40 minutes.

WHO WILL JOURNEY TO THE MOON during the eclipse? A friend of mine insists it will be the people with the "most inquiring minds; and he asked: "Would any intelligent person prefer the stupidities of a night club or silly social gossip to observing this glorious spectacle?" I felt forced to answer: "Yes, many naturally intelligent people will pay no attention to the event because neither in schools they attended nor thru other current educational agencies have their minds been stimulated to think independently, or to cultivate a constructive imagination." Any mind with a well-trained imagination can travel to all parts of the earth, to the moon, to Mars, the sun, the stars, and even to the remotest Island Universe known to astronomers, and do so without once leaving their homes. These are the world's greatest travelers.

SUPPOSE WE JOIN such a group of travelers next Monday night, landing at the center of the face of the moon about 9 p.m. on July 15, to observe the eclipse. Of course we shall see it from there as an eclipse of the sun, not of the moon. The heat is intense, about 200 degrees, but shortly after 9 p.m. the earth begins to shut out a little of the sun's disc and we at once feel it getting cool as the earth comes more and more directly between us and the sun, like a huge black ball. As the earth is 50 times as large as the moon it seems to us enormous in size. As it makes its way across the face of the sun we see that in outline it is always circular and so we are sure the earth is a sphere. It is a wonderful experience that teaches us much about the sun, the earth, and a great deal about the moon itself. The total phase of the eclipse lasts more than an hour and a half and during that time we are not only in complete darkness but the temperature drops to something like 200 degrees below zero. From 200 degrees above zero on our arrival to 200 degrees below zero within a couple of hours is indeed a change such as only the kind of travelers we are can endure.

A TINY BIT OF THE SUN begins to appear at the end of 1 hour and 40 minutes of total darkness and the temperature rises quickly. It rises a hundred degrees in a few minutes, and an hour later it is boiling hot again. At the beginning of the eclipse the body of the earth appeared to us at the left limb of the sun, moved to the right side and emerged from that limb. If we remain for some time longer we shall see that the earth soon shows a crescent of light, very much like what we see when there is "new moon" but the earth-crescent is immensely larger than the moon-crescent.

MULTITUDES OF OTHER EXPERIENCES come to us during our brief stay on the moon, only a few of which we can mention in the space allotted us. We try in vain to talk to our fellow travelers. Not a sound can we hear, even when one of our fellows claps two stones together with all the force he has, for there is no air on the moon and so sound cannot be carried to our ears. The roses we carried with us have lost their fragrance for the same reason. We find that we weigh only about one-fifth as much as we do on earth, the man of 150 pounds weighing only 30. This has some interesting effects. The young athlete in our party who had a record of 6 feet in the high jump amazed us by a standing high jump of 30 feet, a pole vault of 70 feet, a running broad jump of 150 feet, and by batting a baseball nearly half a mile. But the moon is a weird world—desolate, awe-inspiring, DEAD—and we are glad to return to Mother Earth.

What is the yardstick for a cigarette...

Take mildness for one thing—how does it measure up for mildness?

Chesterfields are milder—not flat or insipid, of course, but with a pleasing flavor.

Then take taste for another thing—does it have plenty of taste?

Chesterfields taste better—not strong but just right.

In other words, They Satisfy—that's my yardstick for a cigarette.

Chesterfield... the cigarette that's MILDER
Chesterfield... the cigarette that TASTES BETTER
