U. D. C. HOLDS REGULAR MEETING

Miss Speiden Takes Office as President.

A very delightful meeting of the Manassas Chapter U. D. C., was held Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 2, at the home of Mrs. L. L. Lomas with Mrs. Asa Jenkins assisting.

Miss Virginia N. Speiden, in assuming the office of chairman, said, "I thank you for the honor this organization has bestowed upon me. When your nominating committee asked me to consent to take the office of president for this year I had many, many misgivings I felt that I was too young and not as familiar with the work as I should be. But I thought of my mother and her devotion to the Confederate cause and to the work of the chapter, and how I believe she would want me to do all that I was called to do in the line of service to this cause. So with her spirit as an inspiration and with your whole-hearted co-operation, your suggestions and constructive criticism I shall do all I can to make this year a successful one."

Mrs. Lomas, the retiring president, highly recommended the various committees of the past year so with this in view Miss Speiden appointed the following:

Credentialed, Mrs. B. F. Knox, Mrs. Wm. Hill Brown, Mrs. T. J. Ashford; hospitality, Mrs. R. S. Hynson; flag, Miss Virginia Speiden; badges, Mrs. R. L. Byrd; building, Mrs. A. O. Weedon, Mrs. E. H. Nash, Mrs. W. A. Newman; ways and means, Mrs. Maud Kincheloe, Mrs. Herbert Nash, Mrs. Ayleene Guthrie, Mrs. C. B. Compton, Mrs. Norvell Larkin, Mrs. Minnie Conner; decorations, Mrs. Stewart McBryde, Mrs. Frank Peters, Miss Florence Kincheloe; remembrance, Mrs. Margaret Lewis, Mrs. V. V. Gilham, Mrs. James Dorrell, Mrs. Asa Jenkins; local relief, Miss Nellie Nelson, Mrs. W. E. Coleman, Mrs. E. J. Davis; civilian home service, Mrs. C. M. Larkin, Mrs. R. S. Hynson, Mrs. T. J. Ashford; flowers, Mrs. Viola Proffitt, Mrs. Guy Allen; membership, Mrs. E. H. Hibbs, Mrs. R. S. Arey, Mrs. E. C. Spittler, Mrs. Nannie Middlethorpe, Mrs. Benjamin Brown, Mrs. T. M. Cook.

Mrs. E. H. Hibbs was elected director of the Junior Chapter in the place of Mrs. Grace Hite, resigned.

Ms. W. A. Newman read a news clipping describing the approaching dedication of Stratford.

The president suggested a membership drive as an objective for the year. The committee in charge reported $35.00 proceeds from the rummage sale for building fund.

Mrs. T. E. Dillake was presented with a certificate of membership. The enrollment now numbers one hundred six members.

The hostesses, assisted by Master Joe Henry Lomas, served refreshment and everyone present enjoyed the gracious hospitality, characteristic of the Lomas home.

PAGEANT OF GAY NINETIES

A pageant of the Gay Nineties to be held on Peters' field, Haymarket, Va., at 2 o'clock the afternoon of Saturday, Oct. 5, promises to be a great success. Various organizations have entered groups in the pageant and the judges will be Mr. Moncure, newly-elected delegate to the Legislature; Mrs. John Rust, wife of State Senator John W. Rust, and Mrs. Floyd Harris of Aldie. There will be musical selections, and songs of the Gay Nineties, in addition to the pageant.

In the event of rain, the performance will be held in St. Paul's Church Parish Hall. It is hoped that members of the community will not miss this colorful performance.

MAMMOTH DIRIGIBLE ENGAGED FOR DAIRY FESTIVAL

Arrangements have been made through Mark S. Felber, Airship Operations Division, Goodyear Rubber Company, at Akron, Ohio, to send one of the company's blimps for the Piedmont Dairy Festival at Manassas on Friday, October 11.

The Portner Field, on the Centreville road, will be used as a base for the huge airship during its stay here. Special portable anchoring equipment and a ground crew of twenty men is being sent with the ship, according to Karl Lange, Washington representative of the company.

DAIRY FESTIVAL WILL SURPASS ALL PREVIOUS EVENTS

A final general meeting of all Dairy Festival Committees, Directors and others interested in the Festival is called for Tuesday evening, October 8, at 7:30 o'clock, at the Manassas Town Hall. R. S. HYNSON, President.

MACS TO PLAY FAIRFAX STA.

Next Sunday's Game to Be Last Home Game of Year.

Next Sunday at 3 p.m. the Manassas A. C. and Fairfax Station baseball teams will cross bats at Swavely field in a long awaited tilt which may be a "little world series" between Fairfax and Prince William Counties.

Fairfax Station was tied with Purcellville for first place in the White Section of Northern Virginia League, losing out in the play-off, while Manassas was runner-up in the Red Section. The fans of Prince William and Fairfax have been trying to get these two teams together since the league was organized two years ago.

Fairfax has quite a few Prince William boys in their line-up.

It has not been decided who will hurl for the Macs but a safe bet would be either Dreifus or Cassell, the Front Royal ace. Fairfax will probably pitch either Buckley or Mahoney.

This will be the last home game so come out and help the boys. We will have a radio out there by the home plate so you may listen to play by play account of the world series.

Come on out and help the boys.

THOMAS SMITH TOURNAMENT VICTOR

The Field Day and Dance held by Bull Run Grange at Haymarket last Friday was an unqualified success with a large crowd in attendance.

The ball game was won by Haymarket over Warrenton. The tournament was won by Thomas Smith, riding as Knight of Old Dominion and he crowned Miss Mildred Ewell as Queen of the Tournament.

Mr. Horace Foley rode second as Knight of Cloverland and crowned Miss Helen Osborn. Mr. George William Carter rode third as Knight of Erindale and crowned Miss Virginia Shumate. Mr. Preston Smith rode 4th as Knight of Hagley and crowned Miss Anita Shumate.

The address to the knights was given by Judge Henry Holladay of Rapidan and the coronation address was given by Hon. Frank Moncure of Stafford. The program was under the supervision of Mr. Rolfe Robinson, general chairman.

The dance at night was attended by a huge throng of merrymakers and Rev. Carpenter presented the queen and her attendants with very attractive little bouquets.

CHAMBER TO MEET AT HAYMARKET OCTOBER 9

The October meeting of the Manassas - Prince William County Chamber of Commerce will be held in the Masonic Hall at Haymarket on Wednesday, October 9, at 7:30 p.m. This meeting was scheduled to be held on October 10 but due to the fact that the Piedmont Dairy Festival opens on that night with a ball at Manassas, the date was changed to the 9th.

It is expected that this meeting will be well attended as this is the first meeting to be held in Haymarket and the residents of the Gainesville district have displayed a keen interest in the work of the Chamber of Commerce.

Robert F. Nelson, publicity director of the Virginia State Chamber of Commerce, is scheduled to make a short talk but most of the time will be devoted to the discussion of the work to be done in Gainesville district, according to C. C. Cloe, president of the Chamber of Commerce.

JOHN J. MURPHEY

Mr. John J. Murphey, age 78, died at his home near Manassas on Saturday morning, following a sudden attack of heart trouble.

Mr. Murphey was born at Chappawamsic, Stafford County, Va., on December 15, 1857. He was educated at McKeesport Academy, Pa., and later taught school in Prince William County. He entered Government service in 1890 as branch postoffice superintendent where he served many years. He resided in Washington several years where he was a member of the Sixth Presbyterian Church in that city prior to his coming back to Prince William County twelve years ago. He graduated from law in 1892 from the Georgetown University Law School.

He was married to Miss Martha Lynn of Prince William County in April 1883, who survives him, together with one sister, Mrs. Anna Downs of this county, and a host of relatives.

Mr. Murphey was well known in church affairs and loved to work with and help young people. He was also very active in the temperance movement.

Funeral services were held from the Presbyterian Church in Manassas on Monday at 2:30 p.m., Rev. John M. DeChant officiating, assisted by Rev. J. Murray Taylor and Rev. Geo. W. Crabtree. Mrs. Mildred Creel Colvin sang "I Heard the Voice of Jesus Saying, Come Unto Me and Rest." Interment was in the Manassas cemetery.

The pall bearers were Mr. Murphey's six nephews: Dr. Henry Lynn Colvin, Dr. Milburn Colvin and Dr. Hazen Colvin of Washington, Messrs. Donald and Albert Sides of Cherrysdale and Mr. Charles Lunsford of Washington.

"The Charm of the Goal Hid the Toil of the Way."

CONFEDERATE PARK OPEN DURING DAIRY FESTIVAL

The Manassas - Prince William County Chamber of Commerce, in co-operation with the Virginia Autumn Travelogue, has arranged with the Manassas Battlefield Confederate Park, of which John W. Rust of Fairfax is president, to have the Manassas Battlefield opened to the public with free admission and guide service from October 11 to 20, inclusive.

This event is being widely advertised and it is expected that a great number of tourist and visitors to the Piedmont Dairy Festival will take advantage of this opportunity to inspect the ground upon which the first real battle of the War Between the States was fought.

Mr. A. J. Powell, superintendent and a resident nearby at the time of the Battle, will welcome visitors.

OUR FESTIVAL EDITION

The Journal, as usual, will issue a special Dairy Festival Edition next week which promises to be a treasure chest of interesting facts about Prince William County and its big annual event. We are asking our advertisers and correspondents to please get their copy in earlier than usual next week.

SCHOOL PAPER APPEARS

The Yellow Jacket, student publication for the Manassas High School has been reorganized for the coming session by Prof. R. Worth Peters, principal of the school. The editor-in-chief, Miss Esther Akers, has the following staff: Assignment editor, Dickson Morris; news editor, Sinclair Boatwright; feature editor, Elizabeth Davies; sports editor, Marshall Johnson; assistant sports editor, Jessie Mae Ritter; reporters, Virginia Newman, Mildred Parrish, Edla Blake-more, Harris Collins, Aldenia Blew-ing, Dorothy Linton, Roger Cross, Lucy Morris, Robert Whetsel, Shirley Hynson, Helen Suthard, Sarah M. Senseney, Naomi Smith; business department: business manager, Elizabeth Lloyd; advertising manager, Althea Hooff; circulation manager, Samuel Hottle.

Last year The Yellow Jacket made the most spectacular increase in size and circulation than any student paper in the State. This year there will be improvements in appearance and retain the same proportions.

YOUNG DEMOCRATIC RALLY ON OCT. 4

A real evening of entertainment is expected Friday evening, October 4, when the Young Democratic Club of Prince William meets at the Court House at Manassas, at 8 o'clock.

The principal speaker of the evening will be Hon. Chas. H. Brough, Chairman of the District of Columbia-Virginia Boundary Commission. Governor Brough (formerly Governor of Arkansas) has the reputation of being one of the most interesting and entertaining speakers in the country. There is never a dull moment from the time he begins to speak, and his wonderful knowledge of current affairs makes his talk instructive, and enables him to talk authoritatively.

This meeting is called for the purpose of increasing the membership of the newly-organized club, and it is hoped that every eligible Democrat in the county between the ages of 18 and 45 years will take advantage of this opportunity to become affiliated with the club.

A special invitation is extended to the people of Nokesville, Aden, Greenwich, Brentsville, Catharpin, Gainesville, Haymarket, Occoquan, Dumfries, and other communities in the county to attend this meeting, and join the club.

It is estimated that there are enough eligible young people in Prince William County to have one of the largest clubs in the State, and it is our hope and intention to have a membership of 400 before next year's convention at Richmond.

Everybody is welcome, whether eligible for membership or not, and an evening of real entertainment is promised.

Honorable W. Hill Brown, Jr., Trial Justice of Prince William County, Manassas, Virginia.

Dear Judge Brown: Our auditors have reported to me the results of the examinations of all of the trial justices' accounts, and we are compiling a little booklet showing the results of the first year's operations under the Trial Justice Act of 1934. A copy of the report will be sent to you as soon as it is received from the public printer.

The results of our audit of your accounts as trial justice of Prince William County disclosed that you had made proper accounting for all funds coming into your custody; and the auditor who made the examination advises me that your records are in excellent condition.

I wish to take this opportunity to thank you for your cooperation in helping us establish an adequate system of records for the trial justice courts throughout the Commonwealth.

Cordially yours, L. McCARTHY, DOWNS, Auditor of Public Accounts.

4-H TEAM IS STATE CHAMPION

Prince William Boys Will Represent Virginia in National Contest.

The Prince William County 4-H Dairy Cattle Judging Team will represent Virginia in the National Dairy Judging Contest at the National Dairy Exposition in St. Louis, Mo., during the week of October 14.

The Prince William team, under the direction of Frank Cox, county agent, led in the state contest in which county teams from throughout Virginia competed, at the Virginia State Fair at Richmond this week.

The team, selected from the group receiving training in the county, is made up of Egbert Thompson, jr., Occoquan; Philip Reading, Aden, and Billy Hale, Nokesville.

This achievement by the three young men as a group follows other honors won by them individually during the past year. Egbert Thompson was chosen by the State Club Department as one of the two outstanding Virginia club boys to represent the state at the National 4-H Club Camp in Washington last summer.

Philip Reading was named as being the most outstanding state club member in the successful completion of agricultural projects during the past few years and made an address over the National Broadcasting hook-up of 58 radio stations about a year ago. Billy Hale was awarded a certificate of merit and a cash prize for the completeness and accuracy of the records kept on his home farm for the period March 1, 1934, to February 28, 1935, and is president of the County 4-H Club Council.

The expenses of the boys for the ten days' visit to St. Louis are being taken care of by the Virginia State Fair Association.

The best team at St. Louis will compete for international honors at the England Show.

MISS DUNKLEY'S CLASS WINS BANNER

The Bennett School Community League met September 23 with a large attendance and several new members present.

Mr. R. C. Haydon gave the teachers a hearty welcome and wishes them much success in their school work.

At the close of the business session the attendance banner was voted on with Miss Helen Dunkley' room victorious.

After this the teachers and patrons were entertained at a lovely reception by the social committee.

RELIEF FOR VISITOR

Town Sergeant J. H. Herring gave first-aid treatment to John D. Pindexter, aged 45, of Orange, Sunday afternoon when the latter suffered a heart attack. Dr. Martin, of Nokesville, was called in and the sufferer left later for his home town.

Spectacular Pageant and Parade to Draw Tremendous Crowds.

Splendid Co-operation from Surrounding Areas Appreciated by Committees.

Led by high State officials and National public leaders, thousands of Virginians, Marylanders and Washingtonians will witness the Fifth Annual Piedmont Virginia Dairy Festival at Manassas, Va., on Friday, October 11.

Enlarging on last year's program, officials in charge of the festival have arranged to have the pageant, coronation and parade supplemented by an aeronautical exhibition, dancing and musical entertainment representing the Army, the Navy, and Marine Corps.

In addition to the Quantico Marine Band, the Independent Boys' Band of Washington, D. C., the Culpeper Municipal Band, the Fifth Battalion Marine Reserve Corps Band, the Alexandria Municipal Band, the Overseas Band of Washington, D. C., and Ray Francis' and Dan Gregory's Columbia Broadcasting System orchestras have already been secured. Several other bands are also expected to participate.

Arrangements have been made for bleachers and amplifying equipment to provide seating and to carry the coronation ceremonies and pageant in full detail to those attending the opening ceremonies at "Annaburg" immediately adjacent to Manassas.

The day's program will open with the 4-H and F. F. A. Dairy Cattle Judging contests at the Portner dairy at 9:00 a.m. More than 200 Future Farmers and 4-H club members have been entered by vocational agricultural instructors and county agents in this contest. The aeronautical exhibition is scheduled to begin at 10 a.m. Following the band concerts at 10:30 a.m. a prologue to the coronation ceremonies will be presented by the Mary Cabell Callaway Studio of Dance and the Fredericksburg State Teachers College Glee Club.

At 11:00 a.m. the coronation of Miss Rebecca Rice, of Fairfax County, Regina V. Queen of the Festival, will take place with Lt. Governor James Price officiating. The Queen will be attended by her two maids of honor and fourteen princesses representing each of the eleven counties and three cities participating in the festival. The Fifth Battalion Marine Reserve Corps of Washington will serve as guard of honor to the Queen and Her Court. The orchestral accompaniment will be led by Leon Brusiloff, noted orchestra leader.

Following the coronation ceremonies, a pageant "Around the Clock with the Milkman" will be presented by approximately 1200 Prince William County school children under the direction of Mary Cabell Callaway, assisted by the teachers of the participating public schools. Colorful costumes and prolonged training will go toward making this one of the most outstanding and elaborate pageants yet presented at the Dairy Festival. Rehearsals have been in progress for several weeks and will be continued up until the day of the festival.

At noon, there will be a luncheon and reception for the Queen and Her Court.

The grand feature parade, "The Milky Way," will get under way at 2:30 p.m. Led by the Fifth Reserve Marine Brigade, the Queen and Her Court and visiting State and National dignitaries, military, municipal and civic bands; drum and bugle corps; artistic, dairy and commercial floats; public and private schools, outstanding individuals of the dairy breeds; military units; fire departments and other entries will appear in the line of march. Judging from the number of entries already made, it is conservatively estimated that the parade will be of more than two hours' duration. An outstanding float to be in the parade is a mammoth milk bottle more than forty feet in length. Silver cups will be awarded to the most appropriate, the most artistic and the best commercial floats. Other awards will be made to the best school assembly, the best military school unit and the best appearing volunteer fire department. A telescope will not be needed to see the "Milky Way" at Manassas on October 11.

QUIET TALKS ON RELIGION

By Dr. James T. Marshall

UNSTOOPING

I have just discovered Walter De La Mare's poem under the above title in which he says,

"Low on his fours the Lion Treads with the surly bear, But Men straight upward from the dust

Walk with their heads in air; The free sweet winds of heaven, The sunlight from on high Beat on their clear-bright cheeks and brows

As they go striding by; The doors of all their houses They arch so they may go. Uplifted o'er the four-foot beasts, Unstooping, to and fro."

The moral evils of our day would disappear if only we could persuade to behave like human beings. Our optimism is subjected to a great strain when we look about and see how evidently men of the brutal type are forcing themselves to the front, as in the cases of Hitler, Stalin and Mussolini. The last named, in defiance of the friendship and the judgment of the whole world, persists in his determination to rob and murder a weak little people in the Dark Continent.

We cannot be too boastful concerning conditions in our own country where so many are content to tread on their fours with the lion and the surly bear. It was thought that the depression would cure some of our crass materialism and give us a new estimate of values. Some have gone so far as to predict a spiritual revival, but such an awakening seems altogether remote. The dominant thought centers around finances and with returning prosperity we shall doubtless plunge into another orgy of spending and self-indulgence.

Manifestly our American sportsmen have taken to crawling around on all fours if we may judge by the sickening spectacle presented in New York City a few days ago when 100,000 people assembled to see one human brute beat another into a pile of pulp. In this audience were five State Governors, several United States Senators, the Postmaster General and 15,000 alleged "ladies," while millions of people in their own homes sat open-mouthed before their radios drinking in every detail of the beastly bout.

The pathos of the situation lies in the fact that the human being who insists on crawling so close to the ground was created in the image and after the likeness of God and was intended to stand on two feet and look up at the stars. It is he of whom the Psalmist writes, "Thou hast made him a lower than the angels and hast crowned him with glory and honor and hast put all things under his feet."

Why cannot we behave like human beings and walk

"Uplifted o'er the four-foot beasts, Unstooping, to and fro?"

CHRIST FOR ALL—ALL FOR CHRIST

BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

If parents will have their children memorize the daily Bible selections, it will prove a priceless heritage to them in after years.

THE ONLY HELP: For I the Lord thy God will hold thy right hand, saying unto thee, Fear not; I will help thee. — Isaiah 41:13.

MR. HALL IS THE MAN

For two reasons, Virginia is more than ordinarily interested in the work which will devolve on the board created by the last Congress to advise the National Parks Service in the co-ordination of its programs with respect to historic sites.

First, the bill was sponsored by Senator Byrd, who more than any other single man was responsible for the organization of the State Conservation and Development Commission, and who has followed its work with the keenest enthusiasm. This lively interest in such matters he has taken with him into the national arena. His bill, one feature of which is the creation of the advisory board, is hailed by Parks Service officials as a long step forward.

Second, Virginia probably is generally recognized as possessing the greatest wealth of history in the Union. It was the cradle of the Republic, it provided the statesmanship and the military leadership of the Revolutionary era, it was the focal point of the War Between the States and many of the most important battles of that conflict were fought on its soil. Virginia naturally is interested in any movement which has to do with historic sites.

And with this background, we think the State is richly entitled to membership on the board about to be organized. The name of Wilbur C. Hall, chairman of the State Conservation and Development Commission, has been filed with Secretary of the Interior Ickes for consideration. It bears the indorsement of Senator Byrd. Mr. Hall, who has been remarkably successful during his brief tenure of office with the Virginia commission, is in every way qualified for the post. There is scarcely a man in Virginia more familiar with the needs of conservation and co-ordination as they touch historic sites than he. With him this sort of thing is not merely a matter of routine business; it receives a major share of his time and thought.

Virginia should be represented on the board, and Mr. Hall is the man for appointment. — Times-Dispatch.

COUNCIL ENCOURAGES CIVIC CO-OPERATION

Upon the invitation of Wm. F. Coker, Town Manager, in behalf of the Town Council, two members of the civic committee of the Woman's Club of Manassas sat with the council at their regular monthly meeting last Monday evening, to discuss civic problems of mutual interest, both to the Council and the Woman's Club.

The committee was received very cordially by the council, and after some discussion was promised the utmost co-operation of the council in handling problems of a civic nature. It was their idea and certainly the feeling of the committee representing the Woman's Club, that more could be accomplished in the way of civic improvement if all organizations here in Manassas worked together looking toward that end.

It is the hope of the council and the civic committee, and their firm belief, too, that in trying to clean up and beautify the town, they will have the full co-operation of all property owners looking toward a Bigger and Better Manassas.

To the Editor, Manassas Journal:

Ever since boyhood I had heard so much about the Rosetta Stone that when I visited the British Museum in London five years ago it was the first thing I desired to be shown me. It is something that has revolutionized archaeology. For many years excavators, delving into the bowels of Mother Earth for information concerning buried cities, would come upon tablets, columns with hieroglyphics which were unintelligible to them, so that for centuries valuable information of the ancient world was hidden from those engaged in research and excavating. This stone is basalt, like a huge piece of slate. It was found by a French soldier, one of Napoleon Bonaparte's command in 1799, when Napoleon was occupying Egypt.

The river Nile as it nears the Mediterranean separates into two parts, forming what is called the Delta after the Greek letter of that name. One side is Rosetta, the other is Damietta. As this stone was found on the side of the former it has ever since been called the Rosetta stone. When the English defeated the French at the battle of the Nile this stone fell into the hands of the English. This battle of the Nile inspired the gifted English woman, Mrs. Felicia Hemans, to compose the famous lines, "The boy stood on the burning deck whence all but him had fled."

The French showed great courage, and the twelve-year-old boy died in obedience to the orders of his father, Captain Casabianca, of the ship "L'Orient," not to move. It was a French savant, Monsieur Champollion, who deciphered the inscription on the Rosetta stone.

There are, on this stone, three parallel rows, one in Arabic, one in ancient Egyptian, and one in Greek. They all mean the same, and after several years' labor the French savant discovered this fact. Today that which for centuries was hidden is now disclosed to view to scientists. Not many years ago an acquaintance of mine, a humble, honest man, went to Oklahoma and finding oil on his land became very rich overnight. His wife who was decidedly ambitious to "get there" in society was visited by a neighbor, a lady of culture, and the latter asked the illiterate woman of wealth how her son was progressing in his studies. "Splendidly," responded the parvenue, "My son has taken up Greek and algebra"; "Come here, John, and say 'good morning in algebra' to the lady." Needless to say here was no further chat on scholastic matters.

Since the recent incessant rains we are enjoying fine weather, le beau temps, as the French say. While I was enjoying the many interesting things at the British Museum I met an English nurse, whose father was an English officer, army. The young lady said she had lived in Egypt seven years and showed me through the Egyptian sections, all the mummies. I told her that an ancestor of mine was born in that little town of London in 1598, and that he left that port in 1620 on a boat with 101 others. The boat was called the "Mayflower," and another ancestor was born in Bristol, England, in 1581 and came over in 1630. That my parents to perpetuate those names, Davis and Duty, saddled upon me those names. The English are not credited as possessing much humor, but this young lady was an exception. A letter awaited me upon arrival home. She wrote "I am proud to have met you, but my ancestry antedates yours for I am a lineal daughter of Madam Eve, whose home was in the Garden of Eden until she formed the friendship with the Serpent."

Geo. Davis Duty Selectman.

Official Reports

—on banking show an impressive feature of business recovery.

THE report of the Comptroller of the Currency of the United States for instance, shows that there are over 15,800 banks in active operation under the supervision of state or federal banking authorities. Their capital totals more than three and one-half billion dollars and their surplus and reserves amount to over four billion dollars more. Their total deposits have increased in a year to forty-five billion dollars, and their aggregate resources have increased to fifty-six billion dollars.

In reports furnished the American Bankers Association the supervisors of banks in the various states also confirm similar forward trends in their jurisdictions throughout the nation.

These facts and figures show that strong currents of public confidence are aiding the turn toward general business recovery.

RESEARCH AIDS

Development of telephone service from two instruments first used March 10, 1876 to over 33,000,000 telephones serving six continents has been brought about by scientific research. Two men, Alexander Graham Bell, the inventor, and Thomas A. Watson, his assistant, were the first telephone scientists, and their workshop the first telephone laboratory.

The Bell Telephone Laboratories today employs more than 4200 scientists, engineers and assistants who are constantly engaged in telephone research, which has resulted in telephone service in the United States setting a standard for the world.

Research results of the telephone system include cables no thicker than a base ball bat, containing more than 8,600 wires, loading coils for cable which reduce the copper used and improve clearness and distinctness in telephone conversations, improved switchboards which make possible faster and more accurate connections between telephone users, dial switching systems, switched teletypewriter service, the handset telephone which adds to the convenience of the user and innumerable other improvements included in more than 1,500 Bell System patents.

From the Bell Telephone Laboratories have also come through application of certain phases of telephone research a number of products outside of the telephone business including the talking motion picture and humanitarian devices such as the artificial larynx which has restored the power of speech and the audiphones and similar equipment which have greatly aided the deficient hearing of many people.

A NOVEL OF THE OLD SOUTH

By H. J. Eckenrode

The story of Buck Musgrave, Southern gentleman, who devoted himself, before the Civil War, to the serious pursuits of life, particularly horse-racing, cock-fighting and hard drinking. The searing changes which the War brought to this son of the Old South, and his changed outlook in the Reconstruction period are presented with dramatic force.

The author is State Historian of Virginia. He knows and understands the people of whom he writes, and he treats of the Musgraves as well as the "poor whites" with honesty and vigor. The manners and customs of the time just before and after the Civil War are presented from a fresh viewpoint in this fine novel of the life, loves and adventures of Buck Musgrave, who betrayed his traditions, but found a renewed and finer life under a new code.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Reality" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all churches and societies of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, September 29.

The golden text was "Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights, with whom is no variableness, neither shadow of turning" (James 1:17).

Among the citations which comprised the lesson-sermon was the following from the Bible: "Fear not, little flock; for it is your Father's good pleasure to give you the kingdom. Sell that ye have, and give alms; provide yourselves bags which wax not old, a treasure in the heavens that faileth not, where no thief approacheth, neither moth corrupteth" (Luke 12:32, 33).

The lesson-sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Paul and John had a clear apprehension that, as mortal man achieves no worldly honors except by sacrifice, so he must gain heavenly riches by forsaking all worldliness" (p. 459).

CATHARPIN

Next Sunday, October 6, will be the last service at Sudley before the annual conference. As all know the present year closed, officially, last Sunday. The conference this year meets in Staunton, Va., beginning on Tuesday of next week, during which all preachers have to make their annual reports. It is always an embarrassment to both the pastor and the people whom he represents, if this report is not complete. He necessarily feels compelled to apologize for shortcomings in salary and conference claims, where such appear, and to excuse wherever he can; but all he can say is about on a par with an excuse for being late for your train. The excuse might be good but you won't get where you wanted to go. So it is hoped that after a pleasant and profitable year, the pastor may go full-handed both in regard to salary and conference claims so that all concerned may be encouraged for having done his duty.

Cattle for fall and winter feeding are often seen wending their ways silward seeking a good, comfortable place to spend the winter and incidentally to put on many pounds of steaks, roasts, soupbones, etc., in order to pay his board and make his keeper feel glad that prosperity is coming his way after so long a time. Two new silos have recently been erected, one at Lawn Vale and one at Sudley Mill which will add materially to this piece of resistance for those able to pay the price.

Farmers are all busy getting their corn in shock and land prepared for fall seeding. The corn crop, in some instances, is poor; some fair and some average, due in most part of lack moisture at earing time. All other crops have been good so that the year's average plus the advanced prices over last year seems to portend a more prosperous outlook than the farmer has enjoyed since 1929. May his prosperity continue for it is due him and he needs it.

Miss Mary Currell Pattie left on Monday to enter Strayer's Business College, Washington, from which institution she received a scholarship for her excellent work in high school last year. She will board and room with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Pattie of Falls Church.

More and more are we beginning to realize that crooked places in the highways should be made straight in order to avoid accidents. The roadway between Robertson's gate and the Griffith residence, a distance of one thousand feet or less, has five short curves and turns, all hazarded by grades and foliage thus making it dangerous for traffic for either fast, slow, drunk or sober driving but more especially for the drunk. One day last week, two colored men came along in a run-about, presumably driving faster than expediency would allow, when the car left the road at a short turn, smashed against a tree wrecking it so badly that all detachable parts were later removed by the owner and the residue left by the roadside as a warning against careless driving. The occupants were badly hurt and taken away for medical treatment. These twists, curves and turns, which aforesaid did not matter much to the horse and buggy, have now become about as dangerous to the auto traffic as railroad crossings and it seems should have emergency attention.

Altho we have a vocabulary of more than six hundred thousand words, yet every new thing that comes along seems to require some new ones to properly set forth one's exact feelings either in praise or disgust. Some place along the line of the "New Deal" somebody, being at a loss for a word to properly express himself, used the term "boondogger." This word seems to be of such importance that it is frequently used editorially, and one often sees it in the news columns to express disgust, loathing, aversion or something or other that no other term in the English language seems to fully cover. We have hunted up the dictionary but fail to find it. We find "boon" and "doggerel" but can hardly see how they could be coupled together to express such disgust since "boon" has a pleasing definition while "doggerel" is described as "devoid of sense; weak, and absurd construction." So it looks as tho' the one who uttered it first must have coined it out of whole cloth to express his own particular aversion for some of the ways and means employed by somebody else in Governmental affairs. So the terms boondogger, boondoggling, boondogger and all other derivations thereof, are meant to be uncomplimentary and if one should be called by any of these "endearing?" terms, he may set it down that the "caller" regards him as of "low estate."

But the newest one we have noticed was one which had its origin, primarily we believe, in the million dollar prize fight recently pulled off in New York. A reporter, in compiling the cost of that particular pugilistic event, estimated it at from five to ten million dollars—all told, and proceeded to enumerate the several items of expense involved which included "travel, quarters," and "last" which is not supposed to be "least" was "CORKAGE." This term is certainly new to this generation at least. It might have been in use some twenty or more years ago, but for the past decade or so "fruitjarage," or "tincanage," or "jugage" would have been better understood. And so it goes. Each new event of whatsoever nature, brings with it some new words, which, eventually may find their way into our modern dictionaries.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Pattie of Catharpin was the mecca to which a number of friends gathered over the week-end and on Sunday last when Miss Katharine, now of Fredericksburg, as home for a visit and Mr. Edward Pattie of Quantico, accompanied by Mr. Ralph Orrock and his sisters, Lucile and Joyce, of Fredericksburg were afternoon callers, and Mrs. Andrew Pringle and Mr. and Mrs. Nevitte League and daughter of Carroll County, Md., and Mrs. Mary E. Wilkins and daughter, Miss Minnie, of Sudley spent the day. All were delighted with the apparent complete recovery of the mother and grandmother, Mrs. Wilkins, from her recent fall which had given her considerable trouble.

How Calotabs Help Nature To Throw Off a Bad Cold

Millions have found in Calotabs a most valuable aid in the treatment of colds. They take one or two tablets the first night and repeat the third or fifth night if needed. How do Calotabs help Nature throw off a cold? First, Calotabs is one of the most thorough and dependable of all intestinal eliminators, thus cleansing the intestinal tract of the germ-laden mucus and toxins.

Second, Calotabs are diuretic to the kidneys, promoting the elimination of cold poisons from the system. Thus Calotabs serve the double purpose of a purgative and diuretic, both of which are needed in the treatment of colds. Calotabs are quite economical; only twenty-five cents for the family package, ten cents for the trial package. (Adv.)

STRATFORD DEDICATION

National Park Service Announces Date Set for Oct. 12.

The thousands of visitors expected for the dedication of Stratford, birthplace of Robert Edward Lee, in Westmoreland County, will be given a special welcome in Fredericksburg before and after the historic event, which is scheduled for October 12, the National Park Service has announced. In lectures and free guide service the Park Service plans to tell of Lee's achievements on the battlefields of Fredericksburg, Chancellorsville, Salem Church, The Wilderness and Spotsylvania Courthouse.

No more appropriate prelude to a visit to Stratford Hall, Robert E. Lee's ancestral home, can be found than a day spent on the battlefields around Fredericksburg. It was here that General Lee demonstrated his finest genius as a military leader. The Battles of Fredericksburg and Chancellorsville are the two great triumphs of his record. The conflicts of the Wilderness and Spotsylvania Court House, usually referred to as drawn battles, demonstrate his highest skill in the employment of inferior numbers to combat the indomitable march of a vast war machine under General Grant. All of these renowned battlefields are embraced in the Fredericksburg and Spotsylvania National Military Park, and they are all within a half-hour drive of the City of Fredericksburg. Under the administration of the National Park Service they have been developed in such a manner as to make accessible and readily comprehensible to the public important historic events, the record of which may be read through this hallowed terrain.

A system of roads and foot trails leads the visitor to the key points on the fields in such a way as to unroll for him in chronological order the story of these momentous events in the history of the nation. On the Fredericksburg battlefield where General Brunsie hurled the Army of the Potomac against the Army of Northern Virginia entrenched on the heights overlooking Fredericksburg, December 13, 1862, one follows a beautiful woodland road along the old trenches where Lee's men made their stand. At Jackson's Lookout, the point on the heights at which Lee stood with the inimitable Stonewall Jackson and viewed the field, one finds now an attractive visitors' contact station where a National Park Service ranger historian is stationed to give the story of the battle through the medium of the terrain spread out before him like a map.

Likewise, on the Battlefield at Chancellorsville, attractive roads and winding foot trails lead the visitor through the story, one of the immortal stories of American history which now may be read through the ground on which it was enacted rather than through the printed page. It was here that General Lee frustrated "Fighting Joe" Hooker's attempt to turn the left wing of the Army of Northern Virginia and to march on to Richmond. Lee's effective instrument was Stonewall Jackson's famous flank march around Hooker's right flank, the march which led to death for the Southern idol, Jackson.

The Wilderness and Spotsylvania Court House fields present the first two chapters of the narrative of General U. S. Grant's irresistible advance on the Confederate capital. The eerie shades of the Wilderness eloquently tell of the valiant deeds of men clad in the Blue and the Gray, when they met in mighty conflict in the tangled wilds of Spotsylvania and Orange Counties. On the Spotsylvania Court House field the road leads around the salient of trenches which Lee defended against assaults of Grant in fighting so valiantly as to give to this salient the name it has borne since, the Bloody Angle.

The National Park Service provides for the visitor a free educational service through a staff of trained historians, available at all times to conduct tourists over these fields. The members of the Virginia Autumn Travelogue will find a motorcade leaving the Park Service contact station at 1800 Princess Anne street, Fredericksburg, at 10 a. m., October 11. The National Park Service takes pleasure in offering this service to the Virginia Autumn Travelogue and cordially invites the visitor to Virginia to avail himself of it. Men are available for small parties from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m. including Sundays.

BEAUTIFUL NEW MUSICAL REVUE TO FEATURE PROGRAM AT STATE FAIR

"World on Parade," Most Costly Feature Ever Staged at the Fair, to Be Climaxed by Amazing Disappearing Water Ballet.

"The World on Parade" is the title of the featured attraction of the annual Virginia State Fair, to be held in Richmond the week of September 30 to October 5, it was announced at the fair offices last week, when bookings for the mammoth exhibition were completed.

The attraction, declared to be the most costly and elaborate the fair has ever engaged, is to be presented in four parts. The first, "A Night in Paris," is a colorful and entrancing singing and dancing number. The second features beautiful and gifted Florence Tennyson, famous operatic prima donna as Jenny Lind, in vocal selections made famous by the noted diva. The third is styled "The Gay Nineties" and presents the Floradora Girls and other specialties of that period. The fourth is "This Day and Age," and brings the moving pageant down to date with music and dancery typical of the moment. The extravaganza comes to a climax with what is declared to be one of the most spectacular and amazing acts ever staged with a revue, known as "The Disappearing Water Revue."

Ten beautiful girls, gowned in rich evening costumes, descend from the stage into an illuminated tank of water and disappear from view. In a few moments they reappear, one by one, garbed in the most modern of bathing suits, mount to the stage and present an entrancing dance routine. They close the performance with a thrilling exhibition of trick and fancy diving. The production is staged by the noted diver, Lottie Mayer.

Between acts of the revue are numerous specialty numbers and surrounding the performance are a half-dozen high class vaudeville and circus features.

The revue is presented on a specially constructed stage, before an elaborate setting, more than 200 feet in width. It is declared to be the most elaborately costumed production ever seen at the Virginia Fair, and employs strikingly beautiful lighting effects.

As an added attraction, the fair management has secured a return engagement of Dr. Carver's High Diving Horse, which created something of a sensation at the fair last year. Those who witnessed this act will no doubt recall the thrill they experienced when this remarkable animal, mounted by a daring girl rider, plunged head-foremost from a platform 40 feet in the air into a water-filled hole in the ground only 11 feet deep.

Horse and automobile races and an enlarged Midway with a huge collection of carnival features are other attractions to entertain fair visitors, while complete farm products, live stock and poultry exhibits will be revived this year to round out the exposition.

Festival

Battlefields and the surrounding dairy region are scheduled for 4:00 p. m.

From the beginning of the opening Festival Ball on the previous evening until the closing strains of "Home Sweet Home" of the Queen's Ball on Friday evening, the program has been arranged so that there will not be a dull moment for the thousands of visitors for whose reception preparations are being made.

From all indications it appears that Manassas will be visited by the largest crowd in history. To take care of the many visitors, arrangements are being made for special buses, and planes and all local residents are planning to open their homes to receive their many guests.

NURSING FUNDS CURTAILED

The Manassas Kiwanis Club had the pleasure of listening to a talk by Dr. E. H. Marsteller at its regular meeting last week. Rev. John DeChant, chairman for the 1935 Red Cross Call, was also a guest for the evening.

Dr. Marsteller gave a brief resume of some of the work which has been accomplished through the county nurse during the past seven years. He told club members that the county was in eminent danger of losing the services of this nurse because of curtailments made in assistance given by outside source up to this time.

Dr. Marsteller stressed the necessity for Red Cross co-operation and urged that Mr. DeChant be given all assistance possible.

This Friday night the Kiwanis Club will meet at Parish Hall at the regular hour and observe another ladies evening.

TO THE VOTERS OF GAINESVILLE DISTRICT, OR TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

I hope in all sincerity that the voters of this district will read what I have to say in regard to the rabid Republican that now seeks office as supervisor and is known to us only too well as Winter Owens.

A man that has never had a Democratic idea and has always supported, and I understand, contributed to the Republican party, and I must say the only thing he has ever contributed to, except his own selfish desires, since I have known him in the past twenty-five years. I do feel that we who have lived and voted a Democratic ticket all our lives and under those principles set forth by the immortal Washington, Jefferson, Monroe and Madison have no room for a man of this type in our midst. A man that tells you he is a conservative independent—I will admit he is an independent in his own selfish thoughts and conserves every cent he has ever made for his own selfish desires. Have you ever heard of him giving anything to the upbuilding of your churches, schools, roads or county, or to the poor or any charitable institution? I expect his own family would fall out in a faint if he did one kind act. A man that has so often remarked, "I never tell the truth if I can tell a lie" certainly is not a man of the right type to represent a community in a public office. To think a man of this type wanting to represent a Democratic community, and to think his son-in-law, who is a direct descendant of King Carter, is now electioneering for this rabid Republican. Wouldn't that make the old gentleman turn over in his grave!

I have no ulterior motive in presenting the above statement, my sole desire is to warn the voters of Gainesville District against voting for a man of this type, but to vote a straight Democratic ticket. My successor in this position can bear me out in saying that it is a thankless job at best, but well worth the honest effort of any loyal citizen to carry on the noble tradition of our forefathers who stood for honesty and integrity, loyalty and fidelity to party. The present incumbent has been charged with being a socialist and atheist. So has our President, yet I challenge any loyal Democrat to deny that this United States has not made a steady upward climb under his guidance. It is the duty of every Democrat to stand by his party regardless of charges that may be brought against them, and I hope that November 5 will prove that they have remembered their sacred obligation.
