KIWANIANS HEAR INSTRUCTIVE TALK

Youth Character Building Is Theme.

The Manassas Kiwanis Club held its regular meeting on Friday night at which time the speaker of the occasion was Prof. R. Worth Peters of the Manassas High School and a member of the club.

Prof. Peters gave an open-handed, broad-minded and thoroughly valuable discussion on character building among the youth of Manassas and the responsibilities entrusted to the faculties of the two schools in the town.

The talk was so good that practically every member of the club congratulated Prof. Peters at the conclusion of the meeting.

Our old friend and member, Prof. J. Powers Pullen, formerly of the agricultural department at Nokesville and Manassas high schools and now an intellectual factor in the school system of southwestern Virginia, was a pleasant guest of the evening.

More discussion of the Christmas distribution of presents and candy to the children in the county took place and the committee reported satisfactory progress.

P. T. A. GROUP HEARS REPORT OF DELEGATE

The regular monthly meeting of the Patrons League of the Manassas High School was held in the dining room of the high school on Thursday, November 21, with an interested group of parents and teachers present.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. Robert Newman, Mrs. Wheatley Johnson, vice-president, presided. Committee reports showed great activities along various lines. The ways and means committee reported a substantial sum had been realized from the recent supper. Health work featured the report of that committee and a fund of $10 was allocated to this committee to assist in furnishing needed articles for the first-aid room in the high school. A $5.00 membership in the Red Cross was also voted.

Mrs. C. R. C. Johnson, librarian, told of the need for new books to replace those badly worn by the constant use of the students, and an appropriation of $50.00 was given to this department.

The report from the annual meeting of the Co-operative Education Association, Virginia Branch of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, was given by the delegate, Mrs. W. L. Lloyd.

The theme of the meeting, which was held in Norfolk, Nov. 5-8, was "The Home" and the keynote address given by Dr. Francis P. Gaines of Washington & Lee University, on the evening of November 5, was a most interesting and inspiring one. Dr. Gaines spoke of the forces which are menacing the American home today. He gave as first and most dangerous, that of divorce; secondly, he mentioned selfishness, and evasion of contract on part of parents; thirdly, he spoke of the centrifugal influences which are constantly pulling away from homes.

Dr. Gaines said that "No Boy or Girl is properly prepared for life who does not grow up in an atmosphere of love; and that love is the only parental authority which can be permanent." He said that home offers the greatest opportunity for the best contributions to be made in this world.

Mrs. Lloyd spoke also of the many conferences and round table discussions on subjects relating to the school and homes such as recreation, health, art, music, and the national and state work of the Parent-Teacher Group.

Present also at the conference was Mrs. B. F. Langworthy of Winnetka, Ill., national president of the P. T. A. Mrs. Langworthy addressed the delegates at the evening session on November 6. She spoke of the home as the heart of America, and told of the many desirable things which go into the making of an ideal home, such as honesty, good health, harmony, thrift, orderliness, hospitality, etc. Mrs. Langworthy said that nothing is so valuable in life as a child's happy memories of home.

Mrs. Langworthy's presence and genial and magnetic personality added greatly to the conference and those who had the privilege of hearing her felt most fortunate indeed.

SHOP EARLY

Postmaster Hawes Davies, Jr., has asked the citizens of Manassas and vicinity to start their Christmas shopping and mailing promptly.

He also called attention to the fact that there will be no mail delivery on Christmas Day. Mr. Davies also issues the usual warning about care in wrapping and handling preliminary to posting.

NOVEL ROLL CALL ADOPTED BY U.D.C.

Mrs. Alpaugh Hostess to Confederate Group.

Manassas Chapter, U. D. C., was delightfully entertained on Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Luther Alpaugh, Mrs. Jackson and Mrs. Gildings assisting hostesses.

The president, Miss Speiden, presided, and appointed Mrs. L. L. Lomas, Mrs. W. A. Newman and Mrs. Fred Dowell a committee to arrange for the observance of Lee's birthday.

Letters were read from Mrs. Nottingham, past president of the Virginia division, and Mrs. Forrest, her successor, expressing their regret in being unable to accept the chapter's invitation to attend the meeting.

Mrs. Hutchison, district chairman, gave a glowing account of a chapter meeting she had recently attended at Marshall, accompanied by Mrs. R. L. Byrd and Miss Nolie Nelson. Among other guests of the Piedmont Chapter at Marshall were Miss Mary D. Carter and Mrs. George H. Slater of Upperville, both of whom are prominent in the work of the division. The historical hour was most interesting, containing much local history of Marshall and its vicinity, ending with a most thrilling story of a very narrow escape of Col. Mosby, after being shot in the home of Mrs. Skinner.

The hostesses for the January meeting of the Manassas chapter are Mrs. R. S. Hynson, Mrs. James Dorrell and Mrs. Howard Jamison. This meeting will be held at the hotel on Tuesday, Jan. 7, instead of the first Wednesday, that being New Year's Day. A feature of this meeting will be a roll call, responded to by each member present giving the name of the ancestor under whom she joined, and the name of his company and regiment. Dues will also be received at this time. The chapter decided to subscribe to a five dollar Red Cross membership.

Mrs. Newman, chapter historian, read some very interesting correspondence between herself and Mr. Conrad, assistant to Mr. Eckenrode, in regard to Liberia.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses, assisted by little Miss Joan Alpaugh.

ROLL CALL CONCLUDING SUCCESSFULLY

With reports coming in from workers in various sections of the county, the results of the annual Red Cross Roll Call begin to show that much good work has been done, said Rev. John M. DeChant, the Roll Call chairman. From the town of Occoquan comes the report of 27 members. Partial reports from Cherry Hill show 24 members, and from Quantico, 40. The reports of workers at Bristow, Cannon Branch and Manassas, bring the total to date to the figure of 250 memberships. A hurried analysis of the reports showed that 25 of these memberships were for $5 each four were for $10 each and one for $25. Workers said that the contributors showed a great interest in the work of the Red Cross and a fine willingness to give to this splendid organization.

The chairman said that there is still an opportunity for those who have not been canvassed, to send in their memberships. The membership fee is $1 or more and may be sent to the chairman.

The chairman offered his thanks to the Journal for its fine courtesy and ready co-operation in printing news articles for the Red Cross during the Roll Call campaign. This publicity, he believes, played no small part in the success of the campaign.

ANOTHER OUT-OF-TOWN

FIRE CALL

The local firemen responded to another call early this week when the newly constructed poultry house of Mr. John Shuttlock burned to the ground.

The firemen arrived in time to save other buildings which were seriously in danger of the terrific flames.

This was the second far out-of-town calls the Fire Department answered in less than two weeks.

SHOPPING CAMPAIGN STARTS

"CONSERVATION OF VIRGINIA'S RESOURCES"

Address of Wilbur C. Hall, Chairman of the Virginia State Commission on Conservation and Development before the State Teachers College, at Harrisonburg, Va., November 13, 1935, at 11:00 o'clock A. M.

President Franklin Delano Roosevelt recently made a distinct contribution toward the solution of the modern problem, of potential far-reaching significance, by the creation of the National Resource Board. The report of this Board was made to the President in November, 1934. The five parts dealing with planning plans, land planning, water planning, mineral policy, and the national mapping plan, are crowded with significant data of deep interest to everyone. The reports may be brought from the Superintendent of Documents, Washington.

Many states have long had various bureaus or divisions for the investigation of their forests, mineral deposits, water supplies, and fish and game. Strangely enough relatively few comprehensive state surveys have been made of natural resources. Even more strange, only 3 states have had an accurate topographic map made of their domains—and accurate contour maps are the essentials basis of all engineering projects and surveys of natural resources, as well as being very useful for other purposes. Numerous states have organized commissions to inventory and aid in the wise use of their natural resources. In Virginia, this organization is the State Commission on Conservation and Development, created in 1926 by action of the General Assembly. It is now composed of five business and professional leaders from different parts of the Commonwealth, a Chairman, and an Executive Secretary. Its divisions include the Forest Service, Geological Survey, History and Archaeology, Parks and Landscape Engineering, State Publicity, and Water Resources and Power.

A State Planning Board was created in 1933. It is making a survey of the elements that enter into a well-ordered plan for the development of the basic resources of the State. Many data are being compiled as a basis for future plans of action. The value of looking forward and of having a complete collection and analysis of the facts upon which to base mature plans for the proper use of all of our natural resources should be obvious.

Conservation is a word that should in this day and age have a significant meaning for every citizen of the United States, and especially for every resident of Virginia. Supremely rich in historical records and traditions, the Old Dominion has been endowed also with a large variety of natural resources. But alas! how general is the ignorance of the kinds, distribution, present values, and future possibilities of these resources. How general too is the lack of an appreciative understanding of the origin of these "gifts of Nature" and of their future duration.

We are not wholly to blame for this lack of knowledge of the "stuff" on which modern civilization is built, for seldom have we been taught many facts about these resources, even within our own State, or of their profound significance. These resources have been largely taken for granted or left to the attention of scientists, engineers, industrialists and others who have been primarily interested in their exploration and exploitation. But "everybody's business is nobody's business," and the results bid fair to become tragic as the generations pass.

You young women, who in part hold the education of the rising generation of Virginia's sons and daughters in your hands, have a responsibility to teach well our future citizens about the resources of their native land. The traditional three "R's" merely equip man to work and live better; real knowledge of another "R"—Resources that bring him his livelihood, and also comfort and pleasure and are the warp and woof of the civilization in which he lives, enables him to live and work more intelligently and usefully, and, therefore, more happily. After all, that is the purpose of true conservation.

Virginia is richly endowed with natural resources. Soils are the most fundamental though not of the greatest antiquity. They have been an unrestricted gift of Nature, formed through age-old geologic processes of rock disintegration and decay. But how commonly have they been tilled with little knowledge of their really temporary character and fertility under intensive or improper cultivation. Man has thoughtlessly treated this basic resource with almost criminal negligence. Perhaps, some future generation will wonder in deep perplexity why its intelligent forbears robbed the continent of a virgin resource that came to them as a priceless heritage to be conserved for all time. Not only has the fertility of many soils been seriously impaired, but a loss that is irremediable is the rapid erosion of soils and their wastage into the oceans. Possibly you have sometime been halted at a railroad crossing while an unusually long train slowly passed. Each year the amount of soil carried by the Mississippi River alone into the Gulf would fill enough 50-ton coal cars to make 200 daily trains of 100 cars each! One such train every 7 minutes! Fortunately, the Federal Soil Conservation Service, recently created, is scientifically attacking the problem. Erosion once entrenched is a foe that is hard to overcome and eternal vigilance on all fronts must be the general policy.

BIRTHDAY DINNER FOR MRS. CLARKE

A birthday dinner was given in the Woman's Club House at Dos Palos, Calif., Nov. 10, celebrating the ninety-first anniversary of Mrs. W. F. Clarke, of Merced, Calif. A feature of the dinner was a huge cake, baked by a granddaughter, and decorated by the chef of the famous Del Monte Hotel.

Besides her children and grandchildren, fourteen great-grandchildren were present. Quoting from the Dos Palos Star, "Lithe, erect, keen of intellect, 'Grandma' Clarke was one of the liveliest of the guests."

Mrs. Clarke is the eldest sister of the late Mrs. Belle J. Holden, who was well known in this community for her loveliness of character and generous hospitality to all who had the honor of her acquaintance.

BUS CHARTER SEEMS ASSURED

Mr. Ray Hall, secretary, Chamber of Commerce, armed with resolutions passed by the Kiwanis Club, the Chamber of Commerce and other civic bodies, joined a delegation which went to Richmond yesterday preliminary to a hearing relative to granting a charter for a bus line from Washington to Richmond running through Manassas into Fauquier County and down to Fredericksburg. Mr. Hall states that there is no doubt but what the charter will be granted.

THREE BOARD MEMBERS RETIRE

Lindsay Dawson Out After Seven Consecutive Terms.

A touching scene was enacted late this afternoon when the Board of Supervisors had completed all the routine business and was ready to adjourn. It was a bit hard to realize that half of the Board was meeting for the last time in an official capacity. The outgoing members are J. Lindsey Dawson, Occoquan district; Charles C. Lynn of Manassas, and J. W. Merchant of Dumfries district.

Of the three Lindsey Dawson, with nearly thirty years of public service, is in that respect one of the oldest officials in the county. He is credited with the location of the District Home at Manassas and much other beneficial legislation.

His compatriots who have served lesser terms, have also assisted in worth-while legislation. The Journal hopes to have a more complete article concerning the services of these men at an early date, which it will publish as a testimonial to their efforts in behalf of public welfare.

All three gentlemen made graceful little speeches that were well received by the officials and others present.

CATHOLIC WOMEN HOLD REGULAR MONTHLY MEETING

The regular monthly meeting of the Catholic Women's Club will be held at the home of Mrs. Robert Biston on Tuesday evening, Dec. 10, at 8 p.m.

The club is very anxious to organize some charity work for Christmas and it is very urgent that all members be present at this meeting.

Secretary Hall Active in Promoting Business Project.

Some ten days ago Mr. Ray Hall, secretary of the newly organized Chamber of Commerce, proposed a plan to the merchants of the town to encourage outside trade and to increase the amount of local business generally.

With any profit to himself, Mr. Hall has been busily engaged in promoting this campaign which begins tomorrow and which has been termed "SHOP IN MANASSAS" campaign. This will continue until will be a public drawing and the Christmas Eve at which time there prizes will be distributed only to those who are there to receive them. Mr. Hall has also busied himself in working up the most attractive lighting scheme possible for the business center of Manassas.

It is believed that when the relative efficiency of buying among the local merchants is demonstrated to the neighboring countryside, that those who have temporarily transferred their purchases elsewhere will return to trade here and that much business will result as a consequence of the effort.

It is a concrete move that has aroused considerable praise for Mr. Hall as a practical evidence of value of business co-operation.

Those who purchase in Manassas tomorrow will receive tickets, stubs of which will be deposited in boxes kept by the respective merchants. On Christmas Eve these boxes will all be dumped into one large container and the mass thoroughly stirred up, and restirred after each drawing is made until ten tickets are taken out. The name of a youngster who will make the drawings has not yet been announced, nor those of any of the judges who will preside. Mr. Hall will be master of ceremonies on this occasion.

It is generally predicted that buying in Manassas this Christmas will run fully 20 per cent ahead of last year if not more. This prospect of increased prosperity has enlivened the business men and they are looking forward to a fruitful season.

NOKESVILLE ASKS SCHOOL PROJECT

Board Approves Idea of Home Economics Cottage.

The County School Board met yesterday with all members present.

Interesting reports were made by W. L. Lloyd and Superintendent R. C. Haydon on the meeting of the Virginia Education Association held in Richmond last week. Mr. Lloyd attended the department of trustees and Mr. Haydon of the superintendents. Prince-William County was declared a banner county for 1935 in both senior and junior league work.

A committee composed of Mrs. M. J. Shepherd, Mrs. Joe Hale and Mrs. Stultz appeared before the Board in the interest of a home economics cottage at Nokesville High. The Board tentatively approved the project, authorizing the superintendent to confer with the State department in an effort to secure state aid.

The Board decided to mail out all teachers checks so that the same will be received prior to the Christmas holidays.

WILLIAM BEVERLEY CROSS

The entire community of Centreville and the hundreds of young farmers in Fairfax County who knew Willie Cross were shocked and saddened this week by his sudden death from infantile paralysis.

Returning from school on Monday, the 25th, he complained of sickness and remained home, apparently ill with flu. He became much worse on Tuesday evening and Wednesday. Medical aid was summoned and the lad was rushed to the Alexandria Hospital late Thursday night, his attending physicians being Drs. Ferguson and Meyer.

The disease spread rapidly and paralysis of the throat caused his death about 6 o'clock on Monday evening.

The funeral was held in the Episcopal Churchyard at Centreville yesterday, the Rev. Royal Rice, who received him into the Methodist Church some two years ago, being the officiating minister. In spite of the bitter weather, a large crowd of sorrowing friends and neighbors attended.

Besides his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Bernard Cross, he leaves three brothers, Cecil and Edward and a younger brother, James, who is still in school.

Young Cross was a star student both in the grades and at Herndon High where he was a senior student. Only recently he was awarded a trip to Chicago for his outstanding work with the Future Farmers work. His sudden illness only last week prevented his sitting as toastmaster at the annual fathers and sons banquet at the high school.

His going leaves a tragic void in a home which had been hitherto intact and very happy. To his bereaved family the editors extend their sincerest sympathy.

RESOLUTIONS

Whereas it has pleased our Heavenly Father in His infinite wisdom to take away from us a beloved friend, Mr. Mahlon Seese, who, for many years has been active in the Brentsville District Community, we offer these resolutions which express our love and esteem for him whose life was a blessing in the community which he served; therefore be it Resolved, First, That in the passing of our beloved brother, the school and community has suffered a loss which cannot be easily filled.

Second, That we cherish the memory of our departed friend, whose life was a blessing to those around him. Third, That we extend to his bereaved family our deepest sympathy and that a copy of these resolutions be recorded in the minutes of the Community League, a copy be sent to the Manassas Journal and a copy be sent to the family.

-- WHO REMEMBERS --

By O. E. Newman

When Hynson and Wineburg had a general store on the southwest corner of Main Street and Railroad Ave? This was the first store in Manassas.

When Colonel Tansill lived on West Street where James Nelson now resides? He had two sons, Fred and Charles.

When the Manassas train left for Strasburg and would probably return the same day? I recall reading an article on the Warrenton paper written by a subscriber who said he wished they would carry the mail on horseback as they did before trains were used as frequently his "day before yesterday" mail did not arrive until "day after tomorrow."

When Mrs. McCann's residence was located on the southwest corner of West Street and Railroad Avenue?

When Bill Davis, retired capitalist, resided where Mr. Rinker now has his hatchery?

When Reverend William Round, Mr. George Round's father, lived on Center Street where Mr. Boatwright now has his garage? Later a Mr. Campbell lived there. He had two sons, Luke and Chat, and one daughter. They moved to Maryland in 1872. The house was moved and now stands behind the residence of Mr. R. C. Haydon in northwest Manassas.

When Bill Broughton resided on the northwest corner of Main and Center Streets where the National Bank now stands? This building was later moved to the field back of E. R. Conner's residence where it now stands.

When our first Post Office was on the west side of Main Street in Merchant and Son's store and Bill Wigginton was postmaster? Later Mr. George C. Round held the office on East Battle Street next door to Jack Johnson's log cabin shoe shop.

When Mr. Trescott's home was located where Jenkins and Jenkins have their store?

When Mr. Andrews operated a shoe repair shop where the Masonic Temple now stands?

When James Miles operated our first blacksmith shop on the corner of Battle and South Streets opposite the present entrance to Swavelly School? Later Newton Woodyard opened a shop on the present site of our Town Hall.

When Grandpa Varna had a pigpen where Mr. F. R. Saunders' store now stands? He had one hog that weighed 550 pounds.

When there was a livery stable where Mr. Okey kept a fine race horse?

When J. J. Davies taught school in the East room of the old Manassas Hotel facing Railroad Avenue? I recall several scholars: John Merchant, Fremont Jones, Mike Fitzgerald and Will Woodyard.

When during the manouvers there was a spur of the Manassas Branch Railroad which started at Rixley and ran in a northwest direction to the Store House Road as far as Mr. Charles Lewis' farm? This was used to carry the troops and provisions to the good sized temporary town located there.

When in the old days, the ladies wore straw shaker bonnets with a curtain down the back? Later the slat bonnet took their place. In these old fashioned bonnets the ladies could not see and hear so much. Now they are wearing small, headgear about the size of your hand covering one eye and one ear but I have heard they can see and hear more than three men in the same length of time.

When we boys would wear home-made pants tailored by our mothers? They were large enough to slip a school book in the seat when expecting punishment from our teacher. I don't remember getting a whipping in school but I did love to draw pictures to amuse my school mates as that was my talent and I frequently had to hunt up my book and pretend to study when the teacher came my way.

When the quill pen was so much in use in '67?

When the old brick house on the Portner property was Beauregard's headquarters? The old part of Carl Kincheloe's house was used as a hospital and the old Manassas Railroad Station during the Civil War was located back of the Catholic Church on the north side of the railroad.

When our winters were more severe along in 1875? I saw a two horse wagon cross the Potomac River on the ice coming after lumber at Smoots' Lumber Yard. When they reached the channel the horses were unhitched, the boys on skates, pushed the wagon up to, the dock where it was loaded. The boys then pushed it back to where the horses waited, hitched up again and hauled the lumber back to the Maryland shore. I have heard that in '69 a railroad engine was brought across the Potomac to Alexandria on the ice.

When in 1880 and 81 we had hard winters with deep snows, good slaying for months and later the thermometer went as low as 18 degrees and 20 degrees below zero.

Among the old houses of the town which are still standing on their original foundations I recall the following: the Reverend Leachman house next to the hotel; the George Hixson house; the house where Mrs. Cooksey lives near Portner's gate; the James Nelson house; United Brethren Church; the house now occupied by the Relief Office on the west side of Main Street and Quarrie Road; the Charles Bennett house (Mrs. George Round's father's house). This house is in the northwest section and is now the property of Mr. Robson. The house at the corner of Center and East Streets which is now being torn down and which was the home of Mr. Frank Cannon. He had a son, John, and two daughters, Columbia and Sallie. This house was formerly on Railroad Avenue facing south and was the first house I was in when I arrived in town.

Yes, I recall the Catharpin Base Ball Club. It was far in the lead having defeated all the clubs they played and quit playing because there were no more left for them to challenge. They should be proud of Dr. Brower, their first baseman and Mr. Saunders, pitcher. Mr. Saunders' training was so good that he later joined the professionals where I learn he made good.

I recall too the horse and buggy days well but only a few families had them. Ox carts were mostly used here in '69 to '72. Ladies also rode horseback and all the merchants had a stile in front of their stores where the ladies could mount or dismount. They also had racks to tie the horses. I recall a yoke of yearlings hitched to a small cart that would frequently visit the town and were owned by Mr. Maphis. On one occasion Bob Coffman called my attention to a bottle in the farmers' pocket—No, it was not spirits. It was milk for the yearlings as Mr. Maphis planned to remain in town all day. The farmers would also bring a bunch of blades for the oxen.

Once, when the John Robinson Circus visited the town, the elephants were watered from a spring and branch opposite the house where Mr. W. L. Lloyd now resides.

I had an opportunity to attend a school taught by Professor H. F. Henry in a hall over the Friendship Fire Engine House in Alexandria. He would not enroll more than twenty students but those twenty were well prepared when they left him. About this time he was writing a history of his family's connection with the Civil War. His mother was killed in her home on the Bull Run Battlefield.

I wish to say he was a teacher of unusual ability and I never saw him in a bad humor. He handled his scholars with kindness but when he said anything he meant it. He did not relent as was proven to some of us boys who tried him out. If you didn't know your lessons when you came to school you did before you left. On one occasion several boys in our Scholar's Companion Class tore the page from their book and recited from that when called upon. The professor soon caught on and sent us to our seats to recite after school. As this was the first offense we felt sure he would excuse us at three o'clock when school was dismissed but this was not the case. Then we decided to sit him out. Every half hour he invited us to recite. When four o'clock came I decided he meant business so I started to study and at 4:30 P. M. I reported and knew my lesson and was dismissed. At nine that night I had occasion to pass the school house and the last four boys were just coming out—they knew their lesson. He made us 100 per cent scholars every day. I know a very prominent man in this state who was a scholar at that time—Mr. Joseph Crupper. I had not seen him for fifty years but recognized him when I met him in Manassas about eight years ago.

Miss Green, one of my early school teachers, who later located in California, always visited the schools here on her return visits. On one occasion she asked those related to her former pupils up. She looked at her a minute and then said, "Oh yes, that mischievous Oliver Newman!" Imagine how my granddaughter must have felt.

Portners

In 1868 my uncle, C. M. Mathis, retired and came from Jersey City to Manassas for his health. Through Cannon and McLean realtors, he bought a farm about a quarter of a mile north of Manassas where he built quite a nice home.

In 1869 they had visitors from Switzerland—a Mr. Voller and his daughter, Anne, who spent their first week in America at this home. Here Mr. Robert Portner met Miss Anna Voller and paid frequent visits to her and in 1871 they were married. After Mr. Mathis' death, Mr. Portner bought the home where he first met his bride and made many improvements to the property.

In 1882 he moved the Mathis house back and built the new mansion on the same spot.

In the construction of the new mansion and park he employed more than a hundred men. Masons bricklayers, painters, plasterers, plumbers, carpenters, etc. I have seen as many as fifty coming to Manassas at noon for lunch. Men worked for from one to three dollars for a ten-hour day and now good mechanics get a dollar an hour and only work eight hours.

The house was estimated to cost one hundred and twenty thousand dollars and at that time was considered the finest home in northern Virginia. Whenever painting and decorating was needed I was employed during a period of thirty-five years until Mr. Portner's death. They had a family of thirteen children. I consider the late Mr. Portner did more for the advancement of our town than all our citizens have done since. He remembered the poor with an income from a $5,000 fund. He donated $5,000 to the town, $5,000 to the Masonic Temple and the large amount of money he put into circulation by continued improvements to his home and grounds were beneficial.

The castle or tower as it is sometimes called is a reproduction of a very old one that was in a falling condition near Mrs. Portner's home in Switzerland.

The old Mathis house was later moved into town in three sections. The front portion is now the residence of Mr. R. S. Hynson. The back portion was bought by Mr. George Muddiman and is now owned by the heirs of Mr. Sed Hynson—John Henry Burke and Meaker Burke Hurst. It is located west of Mrs. Frank Browning's residence. The third portion consisting of two rooms was located on Quarry Road and burned down ten or fifteen years ago.

CATHARPIN

Mr. W. Holmes Robertson of Lawn Vale is now enjoying the delights of a full-fledged case of chicken pox. It seems that this disease is not confining itself only to the younger generations, but is ready to accommodate any and all persons who have not previously contacted it.

Thanksgiving paid us her usual visit and as a consequence a lot of us enjoyed a good dinner at the other fellow's expense, which dinner, of course, consisted mostly of turkey and its accompaniments. How could we ever get along without this season of sociability? We do not know just how it is in the city but it seems to this column that sociability in country places may soon be numbered among the "lost arts," not that it is so designed but because that part of life is being neglected more and more as time passes on. We shall have to petition the "New Deal" to set apart a day each month for the C. T. S. to reorganize and see what can be done about it. Now you guess what C. T. S. stands for.

Little Miss Frances Brower spent the week-end with her grandmother, Mrs. Larkin of Larkinton.

Miss Virginia Hill spent the Thanksgiving season with friends in Harrisonburg, Va.

Mr. Chas. F. Brower, Jr., of Purcellsville, Va. spent Thanksgiving day with his brother, Will, and indulged in an old fashioned hunt such as he was known to do in his boyhood when he was known to every hill in Gainesville district and feared by game of every kind.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. R. McDonald of Oakwood were turkey dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Walter K. Caldwell at Six Acres, on the day we should all give thanks.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Lynn and daughter, Elizabeth, and Mrs. P. Lynn, all of Catharpin; Mr. and Mrs. Wade Akers and daughter, Elaine, Mr. Ray Akers and Mr. J. W. Polen, all of the Capital City, were turkey dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Akers of Rock Hill on Thanksgiving Day. I tell you it takes the "Old Turk" to get people on the move.

Mr. Walter L. Sanders, long a resident of Catharpin but now of Clarendon, Va., is a patient in the Georgetown Hospital undergoing an operation which is expected to keep him for four or five weeks under the care of that institution.

The large number of people and the many beautiful flowers at the funeral of the late Elmer Schaeffer at Sudley on Tuesday, November 26, fully attest the respect held for him by his neighbors and the ones who knew him best. Services were conducted by the Rev. A. B. Sapp, pastor of the church and interment in the Sudley cemetery. The grief stricken family has the sympathy of all who knew them.

Mrs. Elizabeth Clipstine, Mrs. Nellie Sanders Reid and Miss Carrie Sanders of Marshall, Va., were calling on friends in the Catharpin neighborhood on Friday of last week.

You may talk as you please now about prosperity "being just around the corner," but any one traveling along Grant Avenue must certainly realize that "old corner" has been turned; not merely casting a few glances around the edge to see if the coast is clear; but he's in evidence in so many places along that already beautiful esplanade that it must all be a mistake about Tugwell, Hopkins & Co. having all the money corralled down in Washington where no one can get at it. Certainly this exemplification of good times must be encouraging to every one especially to those fortunate enough to live on that fashionable thoroughfare, to see so many fine residences going up to further enhance the beauty of that end of the city. Well, that's way it should be. When we "Gentlemen from the Sticks" visit our County Seat, we want something nice to look upon; something to give us an inspiration, and believe it or not, but when all those fine residences get their spring "posies" planted, that street is going to look like more than 10 cents, believe me.

Miss Frances Lynn Robertson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Holmes Robertson, of Lawn Vale, was taken seriously ill on Thursday of last week and removed to the Harrisonburg hospital where she was operated on for appendicitis. Upon last report, the patient was doing as well as could be expected. Miss Robertson is a student at the Harrisonburg State Teachers' College. Her many friends wish for her a speedy recovery.

Mrs. Mary E. Wilkins, of Sudley, has "broken camp" for the winter and will stay with her daughter, Mrs. L. K. Lynn, of Manassas, until spring. Her daughter, Miss Minnie, will spend most of her time with Mrs. E. N. Pattie, of Catharpin.

Don't forget the Evangelistic services announced for next week in the Gainesville M. E. Church under the auspices of the young people and to be conducted by Miss Clara Grayce McGovern of Falls Church, Va., a young lady preacher of note. Miss McGovern is expected to preach at Sudley next Sunday morning at the 11 o'clock hour. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

(Received too late for publication last week)

Mr. Milton Reid was buried at Bacon Race during the past week. He died in Baltimore, Md., where he has made his home for several years. He is survived by his wife and daughter.

Mr. Sanford J. Mills was buried at Bacon Race during the past week. He died at his daughter's home, Mrs. Dan Alexandria, in Manassas. He was a lifelong resident of Hoadly, and is survived by his wife and five sons and two daughters.

Mr. and Mrs. Richette of Washington spent the week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. Maxfield.

Mr. Hobart Hampton and Mr. Pearly Pedditt of Washington were Hoadly visitors during the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hampton spent several days in Alexandria visiting relatives and friends.

Mrs. Kulp, Miss Thelma Davis, Mrs. Smith were Alexandria visitors during the past week.

The Word of God

BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

TOTAL ABSTINENCE: Look not thou upon the wine when it is red, when it giveth his colour in the cup, when it moveth itself aright. At the last it biteth like a serpent, and stingeth like an adder.—Proverbs 23-31, 32.

WHAT A BEST!

The bankruptcy of Republican leadership for 1936 is vividly illustrated in an article by John Spargo in the current Review of Reviews.

Mr. Spargo relates that he questioned 453 Republicans of all classes in many sections concerning standardbearer for the next presidential campaign. No fewer than 446 pronounced Herbert Hoover "the ablest Republican spokesman living and active today," and 409 said the party should nominate Hoover, if it considers "only ability to present the case of the party, and acknowledged fitness for office." Of the 453 questioned, 89 said Hoover cannot be nominated, and 36 more said he cannot be elected.

Mr. Spargo's conclusion is that the nomination of Mr. Hoover would be "inevitable and practically unanimous," if candidates were selected solely on the basis of ability and fitness. What a commentary on the "ability and fitness" of Frank Knox and Alf Landon and Arthur Vandenberg! What a reflection on the qualifications of the other outstanding G. O. P. leaders!

If the Republican party cannot present any one to the voters with qualifications superior to those of Herbert Hoover, Franklin D. Roosevelt is as good as elected now. Hoover not only has little or no appeal to the electorate; he doesn't deserve it. Touted as the great administrator who would ignore politics and bring one of the finest and broadest intellects of his generation to bear on the problems of the country, he proved wholly inadequate to cope with the emergency which gripped the country after the crash of 1929. His remedial measures consisted largely of prophesying at regular intervals that prosperity was just around the corner, and of signing the worst tariff bill in American history, contrary to the advice of virtually all students of economics.

Two New Points

—now play a part in banking policy.

1. Public psychology has lost those elements of fear which produced such uncertainty during critical periods in recent years. Public confidence has returned, particularly in respect to the banks throughout the country. As a result bankers know that their deposits will be stable, subject only to the normal currents of inflow and outflow. These changed conditions have enabled banks to return to a broader loaning policy toward their customers.

2. This return to normal sound banking conditions has been fortified in several respects by provisions in newly enacted banking laws. Without going into the technicalities, we might say that they create facilities which give the banks more "elbow room" in respect to utilizing their resources in granting sound loans to their customers.

HELEN THEODOSIA COLEMAN

Mrs. Helen Theodosia Coleman, widow of the late John T. Coleman, Confederate veteran, and a resident of Manassas for thirty years, passed quietly away on Nov. 17, 1935, at the home of her grandson, Warren E. Coleman, on East Center Street, Manassas.

At the close of a Sabbath day, as the long shadows deepened into night, this dear old lady of ninety-four summers and winters entered into a larger life, leaving a memory of proud spirit, patient endurance, loyalty and faithfulness to home and friends. As the years of her life lengthened for beyond man's allotted time of three score and ten, Mrs. Coleman's family departed, one by one, into the great beyond, and so through spiritual vision we glimpse a happy reuniting in that far away land of peace and rest.

Through Mrs. Coleman did not lead an active life she was blessed with health and expecting a few days prior to her death she was able to be up and about her home. Mrs. Coleman, the daughter of Philip and Rebecca Shull Stickley, was born in Shenandoah County near Strasburg on August 28, 1841. She was twice married. After the death of her first husband, Mr. Catlett, she was united in marriage to John Thomas Coleman on March 23, 1868.

Surviving are five grandchildren namely: Warren E. Coleman, of Manassas, Miss Helen Coleman of Washington, Mrs. Luther Redcay of Hanover, Pa., Mrs. Harrison Richards, Kelley Field, Texas and Francis Brock of Massachusetts and six great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted from the home on Tuesday morning, the 19th, by the Rev. Wm. Compton of the Methodist Episcopal Church South and her body laid to rest beside that of her husband in the Manassas cemetery. The floral gifts, a parting tribute of love from friends and relatives were beautiful. The pallbearers were E. K. Evans, R. L. Byrd, J. L. Bushong, Yost Meetez, R. J. Davis and G. G. Allen.

"My wife likes the smartness and roominess of the Ford — but

THIS V-8 ENGINE'S

WHAT OPENED MY EYES!"

ENGINEERS have known for years the undisputed advantages of the V-type engine
... simplicity, economy, compactness, ruggedness. But until Ford announced the first Ford
V-8 in 1932, no one had found a way to bring these advantages to the low-priced field.

Since its introduction this engine has been constantly refined and improved—but the basic features of Ford design have remained through the production of over two million V-8 engines.

This is the engine that powers the beautiful 1936
Ford V-8 ... and, because it is V-type and compact, gives "all that extra room" that many a woman has wondered about in the Ford V-8 body. This is the engine which proved sparkling performance and eight cylinder smoothness are economical if you have a V-type engine with a dual-down-draft carburetor that takes the "gas" used by a four and splits it into eight equal charges.

This is the engine you need for quick, sure, cold-weather starting this winter—the engine that's "opened the eyes" of over two million enthusiastic Ford owners.

You'll find such an engine in no other car at anywhere near the price of the Ford V-8 for 1936—So why not arrange to drive one today?

VIRGINIA RALLY DAY

The members of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union and others met in the Methodist Church on Monday evening, November 26, Day program of addresses, readings and song. Mrs. Sadd, vice-president, presiding. Mrs. Harrell had charge of the devotional period and read Exodus 14:15-31. Rev. W. M. Compton led in prayer. Song—"Work for the Night is Coming." Little Miss Roberta Sadd recited "The Mocker."

The subject for the evening was "Our Answer to Liquor Advertising, and What is our Answer?" Mrs. Sadd gave as the first answer—"The Willard Centenary Fund." A fund to be used to offset liquor advertising by a program of intensive education, radio broadcasting, lectures, stereoscopic slides, etc., that our young people may know the harmful effect of alcohol.

The reason "Why" of this crusade against liquor advertising was told by Mrs. D. R. Lewis. Many untruthful statements are made in these advertisements, and it is imperative that the young must be impressed with the fact that "alcohol is his worst enemy."

Mrs. Hersh told "How" this fund can be raised,—by working together, by church members getting other church members interested in the cause of temperance, and awake to the awful consequences of alcohol as a poison.

Mrs. Seltzer of Bethlehem, Pa., gave a very interesting talk on the subject of intemperance in the various countries where she has been engaged in missionary work. The speaker told the manner in which Japan and Finland obtained alcohol for a beverage. Mrs. Seltzer paid a high tribute to Will Rogers who used neither alcohol nor tobacco. She also told of the efforts of many of our young people in promoting temperance.

A number of temperance songs interspersed the program. Mrs. Seltzer at the piano. The meeting closed with prayer and the benedictions by Rev. Mr. DeChant.

Mrs. Gorrell, Secy.

Editor,
Manassas Journal,
Manassas, Va.

In the Re-construction days, '65-'70, more appropriately "the reign of terror" there was appointed to a magisterial office in one of the parishes of Louisiana a negro who was burly, jet black, and as dangerous as a fire-kin of butter.

Soon after his induction into office there was arraigned before him a young negro whom he had known all his life, charged with arson. Assuming all the dignity that is commonly believed to go with the judiciary, this negro magistrate said to the negro prisoner, "Sam, I've known your mammy, your pappy for years, and I've known you since you were born. Sam, I've got to do my duty. Arson is a serious crime; marry the gal, Sam. Case is dismissed."

The same learned exponent of justice was approached by another young negro who had been listening to a discussion about hurricanes, halocausts, etc. among a group of white men at the village store, so he sought the negro magistrate for information. "Jim, said the latter, "youse the same color as myself, and I've truly ashamed at your ignorance, when the atmosphere comes in contact with the hemisphere the resultant consequence is a hurricane, and if the hurricane is not stopped it means a halocaust."

Very respectfully,
Geo. Davis Duty Selecan.

How Calotabs Help Nature To Throw Off a Bad Cold

Millions have found in Calotabs a most valuable aid in the treatment of colds. They take one or two tablets the first night and repeat the third or fifth night if needed. How do Calotabs help Nature throw off a cold? First, Calotabs are one of the most thorough and dependable of all intestinal eliminators, thus cleansing the intestinal tract of the germ-laden mucus and toxins.

Second, Calotabs are diuretic to the kidneys, promoting the elimination of cold poisons from the system. Third, Calotabs serve the double purpose of a purgative and diuretic, both of which are needed in the treatment of colds. Calotabs are quite economical; only twenty-five cents for the family package, ten cents for the trial package. (Adv.)
