JACKSON BANQUET AT MANASSAS

Judge Smith Explains Administration Measures.

The Jackson Banquet attended by county Democrats was an unprecedented success. Although the weather kept some away, when the guests began to arrive there was not table room for the crowd and the ladies had to immediately get busier than they already were.

The dinner was held under the auspices of a special committee, of which Judge W. Hill Brown, Jr., was chairman, and was prepared by the ladies of the Manassas High and Bennett School Community Leagues. The object of the dinner was to raise funds for the contribution to the National Democratic Committee assessed on Prince William.

The menu was delightfully prepared and beautifully served amid a patriotic color scheme carried into every detail.

Local talent entertained the guests during the banquet. Piano recitals were given by Mrs. May Smith and Miss Harriet Bozarth who is also a skillful violinist. Misses Mollie and Nancy Leachman gave a song and dance number that drew sounds of applause. Mrs. Trimmer's pupils gave attractive song and dance numbers which included a tap dance by Misses Edla Blakemore, Shirley Hynson, Mildred Parrish, Margaret Blakemore, and Lucy Morris; a song and dance by Fannie Pickeral who was quite attractive in a quaint flowered frock of Sixties, and a solo number by Mr. Paul Cooksey. Group singing was led by Mr. G. R. Ratcliffe, with piano accompaniment by Miss Bozarth.

The meeting opened with prayer by Rev. Gibson who also gave the benediction.

Mr. R. D. Wharton, acting as chairman, introduced Judge Brown who introduced Hon. T. H. Lion as toastmaster.

Mr. Lion introduced the various officials of the county present.

The first speaker was Col. R. A. Hutchison who made a feeling statement to the effect that he is a staunch Democrat and believes that the Democratic Party has within its grasp wonderful opportunities. His remarks showed earnest and sincere thought and study of the present problems. His ominous references to the evils that might beset the Party were not in accord with the other speakers. He stressed this especially in reference to the Constitution, stating that he as a young attorney had taken oath to stand by it and that he was not a party man to the extent of his Party, right or wrong, but still his party.

Mr. Holmes Robertson, a farmer of much practical experience, upheld the policies of the New Deal with vehemence and showed a very logical grasp of the farmer's problems.

The key speaker of the evening, Congressman Howard Worth Smith, was then introduced. His presence in any gathering in Prince William is always hailed with joy and hearty applause punctuated his remarks.

Judge Smith began by stating that in Prince William County where he had so many friends and relatives that he never formally prepared a speech. He briefly reviewed the horrors of March 4, 1933, and stated that the billions wasted by Hoover did no good while the billions spent by Roosevelt had saved the business world from ruin and millions of people from starving.

While frankly stating that there were many instances where he disagreed with the Administration and had voted his convictions on the floor of Congress, that he agreed with Senator Glass "that the Democratic Party at its worst was better than the Republican Party at its best."

Referring to the matter of the oath taken by any official, as referred to by Col. Hutchison, Judge Smith stated "In taking oath to support the Constitution I believe that I fulfilled that oath. People differ on constitutional questions. Two great men started that argument 150 years ago. They were Thomas Jefferson and Chief Justice Marshall, one taking one view as to the interpretation of the Constitution and the other taking another. From those days down to the present moment, men, great and small, have differed seriously as to the interpretation of that great and inspiring instrument. They will continue to do so. The Constitution itself is the guiding star of this, greatest of all republics.

"In some instances my doubts upon the constitutionality of certain measures were so deep seated that I

C. OF C. URGES LEGISLATION

Manassas - Prince William Chamber Passes Resolutions.

At the regular January meeting of the Manassas - Prince William County Chamber of Commerce, which was held at Manassas on January 9, a number of legislative problems were discussed and resolutions were passed urging John W. Rust and Frank Moncure, members of the State Legislature, to support the Hall Education Program and the Commission on Conservation and Development in their effort to secure more funds to advertise Virginia.

The meeting also adopted a resolution requesting the County of Prince William to purchase a light piece of fire fighting apparatus to be used in combating fires in the rural section. It was pointed out at this meeting that the Manassas Fire Department had always answered county calls and Dr. George B. Cocke, who spoke for the local fire company, stated that while his company was always ready and willing to answer these calls outside of the town limits, the equipment was of such a heavy nature that there was a possibility of a wreck or becoming stuck on some of the roads outside of town. The resolution did not contain any recommendations as to where this equipment, should it be purchased, should be housed as it was thought best to leave this matter for the people of the county and the Board of Supervisors to decide.

A resolution asking that the laws of Virginia be amended so as to have appointed to the State Highway Commission one member from each Congressional District in the State instead of the present five man commission was tabled. The sponsors of this resolution contended that with a larger number on the commission there would be a more general representation of the people in the various sections of the state.

The meeting was presided over by John W. Ellis of Greenwich, C. C. Cloe, president, having been called away on account of pressing business.

The next meeting is scheduled for February 13, either in Quantico or Dumfries.

Proposes Reorganization of Government Departments

STATEMENT OF HARRY F. BYRD

"In the debate on public spending, let us remember that not one single dollar can be spent unless first authorized by Congress. Both political parties in Congress have given support to the spending program. A case in point is the $4,880,000,000 relief bill when a majority of the Republicans in the Senate voted in the affirmative. The Republican party may criticize now but cannot escape responsibility for the support given these measures when enacted.

"The Resolution introduced by me provides for a Senate Committee to present a plan of reorganization of the Federal Government; to do what I can best describe by taking the language of the Democratic Platform of 1932:

"An immediate and drastic reduction of governmental expenditures by abolishing useless commissions and offices, consolidating departments and bureaus and eliminating extravagance to accomplish a saving of not less than 25 per cent in the cost of Federal Government."

"This condition of top-heavy and overlapping boards and bureaus—bad enough in 1932—is much worse now. Boards, commissions, bureaus and departments in the last three years have sprung up like mushrooms. We have today at Washington the most complicated and costly bureaucracy in the history of our country. The only relief is a drastic reorganization and simplification of the Federal Government."

"Congress does not hesitate to investigate ways and means to spend public money. I hope my resolution to investigate the saving of public money may be adopted.

"IN THE SENATE OF THE UNITED STATES
"RESOLUTION

"Resolved, by the Senate, That there is hereby established a Senate committee to be composed of five Senators, of whom three shall be from the majority political party and two shall be from the minority political party, to be appointed by the President of the Senate. The committee is authorized and directed to make a full and complete study of all the activities of the departments, bureaus, boards, commissions, independent agencies, and all other agencies of the executive branch of the Government, with a view to determining whether the activities of any such agency conflict with or overlap the activities of any other such agency and whether, in the interest of simplification, efficiency and economy, any of such agencies, any officials and employees thereof should be coordinated with other agencies or abolished. The committee shall report to the Senate at the beginning of the session of 1937 the results of its investigations, together with its recommendations, if any, for necessary legislation.

"For the purpose of this resolution the committee, or any duly authorized subcommittee thereof, is authorized to hold such hearings, to sit and act at such times and places during the sessions, recesses, and adjourned periods of the Senate, to employ such experts, and clerical, stenographic, and other assistants, to require by subpoena or otherwise the attendance of such witnesses and the production of such books, papers, and documents, to administer such oaths, and to take testimony and to make such expenditures as it deems advisable. The cost of stenographic services to report such hearings shall not be in excess of 25 cents per one hundred words. The expenses of the committee, which shall not exceed $50,000, shall be paid from the contingent fund of the Senate upon vouchers approved by the chairman of the committee."

SEES ERUPTION OF A VOLCANO

Former Resident of Manassas Witnesses Spectacular Event.

Writing in the feature section of a Washington newspaper, Mrs. Harriet K. Whitman, a former resident of Manassas, describes in charming language the mighty eruption of the great volcano in Hawaii, known as Mauna Loa, which she witnessed from an airplane.

In company with eight other passengers Mrs. Whitman made a perilous flight across the crater during the recent eruption and her description of the phenomenon as observed at an elevation of over 13,000 feet is very graphic.

The occasion of Mrs. Whitman's presence in Hawaii is the position held by her husband, Chauncey B. Whitman, who has been stationed at Honolulu by the Sugar Administration of the United States Government. She is well known in Manassas as the daughter of Mrs. M. H. Kincheloe and sister of Mr. J. Carl Kincheloe, prominent business man and sportsman of Prince William County.

FIRE COMPANY PREMIERE SET FOR JANUARY 22

When the local Fire Company cagers make their debut against the strong National Guard quint from Hyattsville, Md., next Wednesday night in the high school gym, local basketball fandom will have an opportunity to see action aplenty.

Off to a belated start, the locals, under the sponsorship of the Manassas Volunteer Fire Department, have been holding strenuous workouts for the past two weeks. The results here have been gratifying and the basketballers hope to break in the win column consistently throughout the season.

BEN TYLER DIES IN NEW YORK

Was Member of Prominent Prince William Family.

Mr. Ben C. Tyler, brother of the Clerk of the Prince William Court, died at his home in Palmyra, N. Y., on January 12 after a brief illness. Mr. Tyler was a native of Prince William, having been born on the Ben Lomond farm near Manassas in the house built by his grandfather.

At the age of 19 he moved to Baltimore where he was educated. He engaged in business in Bellaire, Ohio, for twenty years and there married Miss McGregor, who survives him. There are two sons and three daughters.

In addition to his brother, Hon. George C. Tyler, clerk of the Prince William Circuit Court; he is survived by two other brothers and by five sisters: Robert C. Tyler of Absarokee, Mont.; Bailey Tyler of Haymarket; Miss Mary A. Tyler, Miss Caroline C. Tyler, Miss Edmonia N. Tyler, Mrs. Grayson Tyler and Miss Matilda Tyler, all of Haymarket, Va.

Throughout his long life Mr. Tyler was marked wherever he went as a man of the highest honor and integrity and a gentleman of the Old South. His fine character and outstanding personality had endeared him even to those who had but a glimpse of his sterling qualities and his passing was the occasion of the deepest sorrow among a wide circle of intimate friends and relatives. He was laid to rest at Palmyra, N. Y., where he had been actively and prominently engaged in business for many years and right up to the brief illness which caused his death.

CITY WITHOUT VIOLENT DEATH

U.D.C. MEETING FOR JANUARY

Entertained by Mrs. Hynson, Mrs. Pattie and Mrs. Bevans.

The Daughters of the Confederacy held their January meeting at the Prince William Hotel on Tuesday, the 7th. The hostesses, Mrs. Hynson, Mrs. Jamison and Mrs. Dorrell, were assisted by Mrs. Pattie and Mrs. Bevans. The president, Miss Virginia Speiden, was in the chair. As usual the Lord's Prayer was repeated, followed by salute to the Confederate flag. Among the absentees were Mrs. R. A. Hutchison and Mrs. R. L. Byrd who were sick.

A letter was read from the state historian, Mrs. B. Ferguson Cary, calling attention to the aims for 1936.

The treasurer's report showed a balance on the checking account of $21.76 and $237.60 on the building account.

Mrs. W. A. Newman read a letter from Mr. Conrad and displayed a drawing of the house occupied by Beauregard during the war. The drawing is undoubtedly one of "Liberty" now occupied by Albert Roseberry.

Mrs. Hibbs told of the beautiful Xmas party given the Children of the Confederacy by Mrs. Roger Cross.

The chapter voted to give $85 to the Civilian Home Service Committee for shoes.

A letter was read from the Virginia Division President, Mrs. Ann Pendleton Forrest. She outlined the objectives for the year and urged the support of the chapter, making special mention of the Southern Magazine, a 1936 membership drive, and full representation at both district and state conventions. The 4th district meets at Winchester and the state convention at Lexington.

Mrs. Frank Peters read a letter from her uncle, Daniel S. Keeton, telling of his last experiences during the war. Soon after receiving the letter she received a telegram telling of his death, January 4, at the age of 91.

The remembrance committee was asked to send cards to the sick at this time. Mrs. Ashford was given a rising vote of thanks for her faithful work in caring for Miss Reeves.

The February meeting will be with Miss Speiden, Mrs. Weedon and Miss Nelson.

There was the usual delightful social hour and refreshments served by the hostesses.

A WORD OF THANKS

The committee in charge of the Jackson banquet desire to give the most hearty thanks and praise to the ladies of the Bennett and High School Community Leagues for the splendid banquet which they served last night.

They also wish to thank Mrs. Trimmer for the floor show put on by her pupils and to Mrs. Leachman for the help given by her in the music and for the number put on by her two daughters; also to Miss Harriet Bozarth for the sweet rendition during the banquet hour and last but not least to Mr. Ratcliffe and his aides who led the group singing, and to Miss Carter and Mr. Holler of the Journal staff.

The published list indicated the Jacksonian Democrats who turned out in a mean rain and over bad roads from all parts of the county. Attached herewith is an appended list of those who either bought tickets and did not use them, or who made some sort of donation:

H. O. Russell, Cherry Hill, Va.; Hunton Tiffany, Edgar Parrish; C. C. Cloe, Quantico; Capt. Joyce, Occoquan; L. Ledman, G. G. Tyler.

LOCAL MEETING ON FARM CRISIS

Prince William Farmers Join in Developing a National Policy.

The first county meeting in connection with the agricultural planning and group discussion program was held at the county agent's office Tuesday, with all communities of the county well represented.

It is proposed that the community discussion and planning meetings to be held in the county, together with those that are being held at the same time in every county in the country, will lead to the development of a permanent national agricultural policy.

The first step will be for local community groups to make a careful study of information on soil resources, production practices and possibilities, and prospective demand for food and feeds. Charts covering fifty years of agricultural trends in the county, state and nation will be made use of. Farmers themselves will have much valuable first-hand information needed to solve local problems. Following a series of community discussions, the groups will send representatives to a county conference to prepare recommendations for the county as a whole. These will then be assembled in the states and for the nation.

Some of the topics that will be discussed are:

1. What Is the Chief Cause of the Farm Depression?
2. Do Farmers Want the Federal Government to Help Them Deal with Farm Problems?
3. Should American Agriculture Seek Recovery of World Markets or Arrange to Live at Home?
4. What Kind of Foreign Trade Policies Do American Farmers Want? In Peace Time? In War Time?
5. What Kind of an Industrial Policy is Best for Agriculture?
6. The Farmer and the Consumer of Farm Products—What, if Any, Are Their Responsibilities to One Another?
7. Do Farmers Want High Tariffs on Farm Products? On Industrial Products?
8. Farm Prices—How Are They Made?
9. What Kind of Land Prices Would Be Best for Agriculture? For the Nation as a Whole?
10. Will Crop Adjustment Be Necessary or Desirable in Years to Come?
11. What Possibilities and Limitations Do Farmers in this County Face in Seeking a Better Balance in Farm Production?
12. What Objectives Are Desirable for Farming as a Business? As a Way of Life?
13. What Should Farmers Seek to Accomplish Through Organization?

The following men were chosen to lead the community discussions at the meeting Tuesday:

Catharin — J. W. Alvey and Chas. R. McDonald; Occoquan district — E. W. Thompson and C. R. Yates; Brentsville district — M. S. Kerlin; Independent Hill — Ray Wood and J. M. Taylor; Haymarket — R. B. Gosson, T. O. Latham and R. H. Florence; Manassas district — W. M. Johnson.

Further details and the time and place for community meetings will follow thru circular letters and the columns of The Journal.

WATERFALL

Our usual peaceful community was all excitement Friday night when Deputy Sheriff Preston Smith was called to join Sheriffs Kerlin and Wolfe in the recent man hunt. A demented negro, who had committed a double murder, was at large in the Bull Run Mountains. When a criminal has only his wits to effect his escape, not so bad but with a high powered gun and plenty ammunition, that's different.

This was a nerve-racking experience for all of us. We could settle down to our usual quiet with relief when we knew he had been captured without further bloodshed on Sunday morning and was safe in jail.

We are sure our mountains had not had so much excitement since the War Between the States when Mosby's Rangers used to scout around and used their summit to spy on both Fauquier and Prince William Counties. A story is told how three of Mosby's men once scared a company of Federal cavalry out of their wits, when they were riding through Jackson Hollow. At a vantage point the scouts rolled a few boulders down the mountain side, fired their guns, and gave their rebel yell. The Yanks thought half of Lee's army were behind them. They came dashing through the village of Waterfall like forty whirlwinds. It is said the Yankees soon learned to be shy of the mountain trails, much to the contentment of the people, who never tired of giving praise to the men of Mosby's command.

Jackson's Hollow came by its name from an old stone grist mill hidden away up in the ravine on the headwaters of Catharpin run, supposedly built before the Revolution by a man named Jackson. The building site is all that remains. Every building stone is gone.

Mrs. Howard Bell and Howard, Jr., are visiting relatives at Falls Church. Miss Florence Smith is visiting her sister, Mrs. E. E. Pickett, at Seat Pleasant, Md.

Services were conducted Sunday by Bro. Estes of Nokesville who often supplied for Bro. Council during his illness. We have not yet secured a regular pastor.

In our byroads we are being treated to a good dose of mud.

But, folks, watch out; there is an old saying: "A January fog will freeze a dog." Another maxim: "Ice in November that will bear a duck."

Nothing afterwards but mire and While we had no such ice in November.

We've had the January fog. It will be well to look after the wood pile.

We are wishing the promoters of the Jackson banquet a grand success. Several from this section are planning to attend. To drive twenty miles over bad roads at night will surely prove our patriotism.

MINNIEVILLE

Xmas passed very quietly. The beautiful snow looked more like Xmas than anything we have seen lately but the roads now are making us wish we never had a snow.

Mrs. Alice Hinton and two sons, Louis and Henry, and Miss Gladys were visitors of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Clarke one evening last week.

Mrs. Fannie Shackelford has been very much complaining with a cold for several weeks.

Mr. Richard Barnes has returned home much improved in health.

Mr. and Mrs. Cline Bland were visitors of their aunt and uncle one night last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Bland entertained quite a few friends on Saturday night at their home, historic "Belle Air."

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Davis and daughter were guests of their parents Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hinton.

Mr. E. M. Briggs has been sick for quite a lengthy time and continues bad off.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of Henry L. Clarke, who departed this life on Nov. 12, 1935, age 72 years 6 months.

Mr. Clarke was born and raised on his father's farm and home near Minnieville, going to Washington to live when quite a young man.

He was married to Miss Manasseh Davis of this county in the fall of 83. He is survived by his widow and four children, Euel Clarke of Rosemont, Sophia Singleton of Oakton, Fairfax County; Harry and Willie Clarke of Washington, D. C., and several grandchildren; one brother, C. E. Clarke of Minnieville, and one sister, Mrs. J. A. Seelman of Washington, D. C., and many nieces and nephews.

Mr. Clarke was employed by the National Bank of Washington, D. C., and was very much liked as was evidenced from the large funeral and the floral tributes. His body was laid to rest in the Geo. Davis burying cemetery at Woodbridge.

The friends of Mr. Clarke extend sympathy to his bereaved family.

4-H CLUB NOTES

Each 4-H club girl should conduct a major and a minor project. For many girls of Prince William County the Room Improvement project is the major and work has been started on that project. January is set aside as minor project month. During this month each girl should look about to determine just what thing she would like best to put some-time and thought on. 4-H club leaders will help to make this decision; discussions and plans are to be taken up club meetings during the week.

Manassas 4-H Club will hold its meeting on Monday, January 20, at 1:40 o'clock, in the home economics kitchen.

Dumfries 4-H Club will hold its meeting on Tuesday, January 21, at 10:30 o'clock.

Bethel 4-H Club will meet Tuesday, January 21, at 12:45 o'clock, in the Bethel Church.

BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

If parents will have their children memorize the daily Bible selections, it will prove a priceless heritage to them in after years.

HOSPITALITY COMMENDED:

Use hospitality one to another without grudging.—1 Peter 4:9.

GOOD NEWS

When Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Mahnkey of Oasis, Missouri, was recently selected from a field of 1,581 candidates as the best country newspaper correspondent in the United States, she was asked what she considered to be news.

"Why," said Mrs. Mahnkey, "if a crime or anything not exactly right happens in Oasis, I just let it go and don't write it up, because that sort of thing happens in any place. If something I can write would brighten up the columns or make some one laugh, or please some little child or some old, old person, I try to do that."

Her answer is of interest to those of us who like to gossip, as many of us do. It is natural that we should like to talk about the activities of our friends and acquaintances. Sometimes, though, we find ourselves telling unkind and hurtful things. We might then remember that a newspaper correspondent is a gossip on a large scale, and we publishers of "word of mouth" news might do well to follow the example of Mrs. Mahnkey, the country's foremost country correspondent. Instead of commenting on the fact that Mary comes to school in well-worn dresses, we might point out that she is saving the money she would have spent on new clothes in order that her brother can finish his college course. Instead of laughing behind her back at Ann's clumsiness in gym, we might tell, instead, how the English teacher praised her theme.

It is easy enough usually to find something to criticize, but, as Mrs. Mahnkey says, "That sort of thing happens in any place." It is just as easy to apply the advice which Mrs. Mahnkey her success, by finding something that pleases.—J. A. T.

BANQUET

have voiced my objection as most honest men will do. Other representatives from Virginia from time to time in the past have, and if Virginia is represented in the future with the type of man as has been represented in past, they will continue to do."

In discussing the agricultural question he said, "The people engaged in other pursuits than farming must be brought to a realization of the great fundamentals underlying the trouble in this country today, and which will continue to exist in the future until the question that confronts agricultural production and the control of that production are finally put upon a basis that will bring about a necessary regulation and the necessary control of the surplus of agricultural products."

"The issue before you today is the fact that the Supreme Court has declared the Agricultural Act unconstitutional. I have no quarrel with the Supreme Court about its decision. I believe firmly in our Constitutional form of Government handed down to us by our forefathers, and when the Supreme Court of the U. S. makes its decision, I am ready to bow my head to it respectfully."

"This does not solve the great problem that confronts the whole population. Question: 'What are we going to do about Agriculture?' Congress will, if it can, before this session adjourns, present some comprehensive plan that will meet the decision of the Supreme Court. They will make an earnest and honest effort to present a program that will be within the four corners of the Constitution."

Discussing the purchasing power of the country, he stated, "We depend upon the agriculture of this country. Farm products are the only new wealth. They form the basis of the prosperity of the banker, of the miller, etc. I want to bring out a few hard, cold facts."

"They say we can't subsidize agriculture, yet we subsidize the mail carrying vessels, that the American marine might prosper; we subsidize the several states to bring better roads. Where do we get the constitutional power to do those things?"

"The fact is that while the Congress has power to appropriate money, it also has power to raise money. But we can't raise and disburse that money for any unlawful object, or for the benefit of a few people."

"The great subsidy that has put us where we are today is the tariff subsidy. In early days it was devised to raise revenue. Tariff for benefit of manufacturers has raised the price of everything the people have to buy. But when purchasing power fails, and the people can't buy, then the tariff is no good. The tariff subsidy has taken care of industry as long as there is purchasing power."

"Prosperity lies with you as it did with your forefathers—from what you, yourself, can do, and what you can raise from the ground."

Regarding the attacks on Congress and President Roosevelt, Mr. Smith made this stirring defense.

"Whatever may be said in criticism of Congress that passed the Agricultural Act, or the President of the United States who caused its passage, and the Supreme Court which declared it unconstitutional, the fact remains that during the time of the operation of that program, farm products of this country doubled in market value and when farm products doubled in market value the volume of business doubled and tripled."

"This is the only Administration that has gone right straight to bat and earnestly put forth and put in to effect a real comprehensive program for agriculture in this country. We can't get away from the fact that this is the only real farm program that any administration has ever dared to risk its whole future upon. That man in the White House has the courage of his convictions, to take his whole political life and future of his party and go forth with what he thinks is for the best for the greatest number of people in the country."

"Where were we March 4, 1933? It is true about the deficit that the Roosevelt Administration has incurred. What happened three years ago in the Hoover Administration. During those last three years a deficit of between five and six billion dollars was created, doing nothing for the American people. During that same time the Roosevelt Administration has created a deficit of between six and seven billion dollars and the country has returned to a state of prosperity."

Concluding his eloquent speech Judge Smith cautioned his audience that "I want you, my friends, if you faith begins to shake, to consider the things I have said to you tonight which will be said again by others. If your faith begins to waver in this Administration and you begin to think about putting this country back to Hoover, Mills, and all of those men, ask this question, 'How would you like to go back to the condition of March 4, 1933?'"

The meeting was concluded by the singing of Auld Lang Syne and the benediction by Rev. A. S. Gibson.

SHADES OF E. R. CONNER

As we were going down the street,
On a cold and wintry day,
We met up with E. R. Conner
In a very friendly way.
Ed seemed to be quite worried
O'er the things he heard and read,
And besides he'd heard from Harry
Byrd
And the old triple A was dead.

Now Harry seemed quite bothered,
Too
Because his fellow-farmer lads
Seemed to give him the cold shoulder
As they met him with his pads.
He'd voted with the nine supreme
In his fluent, yet subtle way,
And thought the ragged farmer lads
Should follow in his sway.

Now E. R.'s sold his pigs and cattle
For the good sum of ten plus five,
And Harry's sold his apples dear
For twenty-five times twenty-five;
But where they're going to buy more
Is the question in their minds
We guess they'll have to try more
Or go back to old hard times.

We notice where old Hoover is Shooting off his lip,
But he should go eat clover
For he made many a slip.
He's a goner we'll remember for
Many a long and weary day
He was always "round the corner"
Till Roosevelt broke his sleigh.

Now Eddie Boy and Harry, you'll not rue the day
If you stick by F. D. Roosevelt, and the Good old TRIPLE A!
—Prince William Farmer.

VIRGINIA DAIRYMEN MEET

JANUARY 23 AND 24

Virginia dairymen will meet in Richmond next Thursday and Friday, January 23 and 24, to discuss their problems and to form adequate ways and means of combatting such evils and annoyances as beset them. As with all others, no matter their walk of life, the dairymen have irksome problems and have learned that through co-operative effort they may the sooner solve them. Two heads, it has been said and wisely, are better than one, and intelligent co-operation makes life better all around.

MRS. SARAH BARRETT

Mrs. Sarah Barrett, after a brief sickness, passed away at her home on Jan. 6 at the age of 83 years. She is survived by four children, J. E. Barrett, Manassas; Mrs. J. H. Steele, Manassas; Mrs. W. E. Taylor, Cedar Bluff, Va.; and Mrs. R. B. Harry, Waynesboro, Va.; three brothers, George Zion, Pennington Gap, Va., Dr. Caner Zion, Knoxville, Tenn., and John Zion, Enid, Okla.

Funeral services were conducted at Methodist Church on Tuesday, Jan. 7. Her body was carried to Honaker, Southwest Virginia, her former home, for burial at the family graveyard where the last rites were held on Jan. 9 at 1:30 and a large crowd of friends and relatives gathered to pay the last tribute to one who was much loved and respected for her noble Christian life. Hers was a long and devoted life up to the last days. Her chief aim was to do things for others' comfort and happiness. In earlier days she made great sacrifices for her family and active and loyal to her pastor and church.

She majored in a few important things of life and did them well. She left a great heritage of Christian influence and clean life to her future generation, which is prized above great riches. Mother lingers when others pass us by.

And begs us once more to try,
Whose love is stronger than our will,
And when we try and fail, who loves us still.

MANLINESS

A respected man isn't the man who sulks
And complains when he's lost a race,
Nor the man who wishes the worst of luck
To the fellow who's won in his place.
A successful man isn't the man who gains
From the rack and ruin of another,
Who eats the sustaining morsel of bread
That he takes from the hand of his brother.

An honest man isn't the man who's not glad
When he sees a friend finally attain

The goal that he himself earnestly sought
But wasn't quite able to gain.

A respected, successful and honest man
Is the one who can truthfully say
To the winning man "I wish you luck,
And I hope I'll be like you some day."

You've had the courage to make the best
Of the chances that I let go by,
And I tip my hat and offer my hand
To a man who is better than I."

THEY SHALL NOT WED

Love that blooms in the department of the Federal Government, among young men and women who work side by side shall not lead to the altar. So Congress has decreed in the famous section 213 of the civil service act.

Just what the ruling means in terms of human tragedy is described by the brilliant pen of Robert Hughes in a serial story which will begin in "This Week," in The Star, Sunday, January 19.

There's No

CATHARPIN

This is Catharpin speaking. Not much doing this week. Every one seems to be quiet, probably from overfeeding during Christmas. All seem to have lapsed into a sort of comatose state like the "animals of the wild" after a fruitful kill and all well gorged. To speak the truth, we believe "well gorged" is right; butchering season, rabbit season, turkey season and the season of the year, all seemed to contribute their share to that accomplishment. The summer's work is finished, cattle are feeding in their yards, horses are munching their provender in lazy satisfaction, the kine are chewing their cud as only a good cow can, sheep in their folds—all with nothing to do except eat, sleep, rest and grow fat, disturbed only by the clarion notes of his chanceryship as he calls them forth at early dawn. If animals can enjoy life, why not man himself? We believe all our people did.

This column just received a souvenir postcard from Miss Margaret R. Shirley, formerly of "Oakshade" near Waterfall, who is now spending the winter with her brother in the Canal Zone along the banks of the great Panama Canal. Also Mr. C. E. Jordan, formerly of Haymarket, resorts to that interesting, far-off retreat where shivers are unknown and frost never bites. We think of them often especially during these days of cold winds, snows, rains and muddy roads. Gainesville district is well represented down in that sunny clime, watching the ships go by chaperoned by a "steel mule" on their way through the locks, and perhaps doing some fishing, although Charlie never told us any fish stories when back home on a visit. Well, anyway, we often think of you all down there and hope you keep well and enjoy everything that goes.

Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Caldwell of Six Acres braved the mud and paid Oakland an afternoon call on Sunday last.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Collins of Marble Hill were Sunday guests of their son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Max Collins, of near Sudley.

Mr. W. S. Brower, accompanied by Mr. W. W. Suplee and son, Henderson, of New Jersey, spent the past week near Farmville, Va., hunting. Hunting in this section has become a little like the "Old gray mare." It's not what it used to be.

The first quarterly conference of Sudley circuit was held at Gainesville on Saturday, January 4, with the new presiding elder, Dr. E. C. Beery, in the chair. Dr. Beery was well received and an interesting conference was held. Dr. J. Howard Wells, the retiring elder, superannuated at the last annual conference and is now residing in his own home in Baltimore. Our roads now are simply bad, so don't ask us any questions, we don't want to be embarrassed.

Most of the ages of the couples requesting the right to be married ranged between 21 and 30; the oldest couple was a man 67 and a woman 57; the youngest couple were 19. Two fifteen year old and one sixteen year old girls are recorded as having received licenses.

The Solace of Music

Mindful of the value of appropriate music as a means of lending solace and dignity to the last rites, we have made every provision for this impressive feature of our service. Requests for favorite hymns and suggestions from relatives and friends are welcomed and carried out implicitly. We always make a special effort to assure that the musical part of each funeral service we direct is as beautiful and fitting as possible.

THE WELL

For thirty years I've had something to tell

About the merits of a good drilled well,

My wells are made good and tight, Cased with the best of standard pipe, No surface water can enter there, That gathers filth from everywhere, Secure from rats, toads and snakes, Which often cause pains and aches. Don't be afraid a few dollars to spend—

The best is the cheapest in the end. My terms are easy and my prices are low,

So don't hesitate, I can please you, I know.

When once it's done it always will last,

And you will be happier than you were in the past.

Stock well watered will do with less feed.

Let me drill your well and you'll have more 'n you need.

You may say what you will, but this I do think,

Your health will be better if pure water you drink,

So take my advice of a very good plan,

And come and see me as soon as you can.

WALTER F. CARRUTHERS

On January 7, Walter F. Carruthers, age 66, son of the late Thomas N. and Jennie Carruthers, passed away in the home of his niece, Mrs. W. C. Latham of Haymarket.

He was a former resident of Loudoun County. As a young man he moved with his parents to Cumberland County where he had made his home for the past fifty years.

A devoted member of the Farmville Methodist Church, he was held in high esteem by his many friends there and the surrounding counties.

A man of a strong Christian character, he was known for his charity and kindness to the less fortunate of his fellowmen.

Having been a miller for twenty-five years in Farmville and surrounding territory, he was widely known in that section and many will regret to learn of his passing.

For the past fifteen months he had made his home in Prince William and had made many friends here by his usual kind word and jovial disposition.

Mr. Carruthers is survived by three sisters and three brothers: Mrs. W.

R. Floyd, Farmville, Va.; Mrs. Vester Jenkins, Rice, Va.; Miss Bessie Carruthers, Amelia, Va.; T. N. Carruthers, Purcellville, Va.; W. O. Carruthers, Washington, D. C., and Aden Carruthers, Buckingham County.

He was laid to rest in the family lot at Antioch Church in Cumberland County on Thursday, Jan. 9.

We cannot say, and will not say That he is dead. He is just away! With a happy smile and a wave of the land

He has wandered into an unknown land

And left us dreaming how very fair It needs must be, since he lingers there,

And you, oh you, who the wildest yearn

For the old time step and the glad return

Think of him faring on, as dear In the love of There, as the love of Here

Think of him still as the same, I say,

He is not dead. He is just away. By one who loved him.
