CELEBRATION OF FIRST MANASSAS

Plans Discussed at U. D. C.
Meeting Here.

Mrs. W. A. Newman, Mrs. Frank Peters, and Mrs. Norvell Larkin were hostesses on Wednesday to the Manassas Chapter, U. D. C., at the home of Mrs. Newman.

Greetings were read from the following members, residing at a distance: Mrs. R. L. Redding, Miss Sadie Lynn, Miss Ella Garth, Mrs. Robert Gulick, and Mrs. Cashagen; also a letter of appreciation from Mrs. Magnus S. Thompson.

The chapter decided to subscribe for a copy of "The Southern Magazine" for the high school library. Mrs. C. R. C. Johnson spoke of the library's splendid stock of Southern literature, and recommended a recent addition, "The Lees of Virginia," as being most delightful.

Mrs. William Hill Brown said she was having a building razed, that had quite a lot of stone foundation, and offered the stone as a gift to the chapter for their proposed Memorial Hall.

The next meeting of the chapter will be in the home of Mrs. Ernest Spittler, Mrs. Alvin Compton, assisting hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Cocke were guests of the chapter. Mr. Cocke gave an interesting and informing talk on the restoration of the old Chinn house by the P. W. A., with four miles of good driveway. He said the project would not extend to the Henry House, as the Sons of Veterans were opposed to that property being taken over by the government. Mr. Cocke also spoke of the big program to be put over this summer, celebrating the 75th anniversary of the First Battle of Manassas. He said all the organizations in town would be called upon to assist in this undertaking, and Miss Speiden appointed the following committee from the chapter: Mrs. Jacobson, Mrs. Marsteller, and Mrs. Newman. Mr. Cocke was warmly thanked for his informing talk.

In the historical period Mrs. Newman read a letter, written by her father, Captain Herrell, when he was in the Confederate army in camp near Fredericksburg. Captain Herrell was then twenty years of age; he wrote very graphically of a battle engagement, in which the Confederates were victorious, and how he rejoiced in their bravery. Mrs. Hutchinson read extracts from the Virginia Div. minutes, relating to the Manassas Chapter.

Dainty refreshments and a social period ended a pleasant afternoon.

M.F.D.'S EXTINGUISH BAPTISTS AND G. P. O.'S

The Manassas Fire Department cagers had no difficulty annexing their tenth and eleventh straight wins Monday and Tuesday nights when they played the Second Baptist and Government Printing Office quintets in the local gymnasium. In both instances the visitors presented clean, hard-fighting combinations.

In the game with the Baptists Monday night the locals piled up a convincing lead in the early stages of the game. The half found the M.F.D.'s leading 26-3. At the outset of the second half the visitors found new life and played inspired basketball and lacked only four points of matching the home team's second-half performance. Griswold, with 4 field tosses, was the outstanding scorer.

Tuesday night's set-to found both teams battling at the start for first-goal honors. Only after a few minutes had elapsed, Johnnie Wurdemann broke loose for a toss and followed with another in quick order. From then on the outcome was never in doubt. The half ended 19-6 for the locals. Credited with five field shots and one foul shot, Cosgrove, starting the second half, did most of his team's scoring.

CONGRESSMAN SMITH SEEKS CURB OF LOBBYISTS

To the end that Congress may be relieved of expensive investigations of unlawful means used to bring pressure for certain legislation, Hon. Howard Smith, of Virginia, has introduced a bill requiring every person or group engaged in lobbying to make regular reports to the Clerks of the Senate and House on their activities, affiliations, revenue and expenditures.

Judge Smith believes that the right of citizens to petition Congress should not be restricted and that legitimate group action should not be stifled, but that the questionable sources of pressure on Congress should be better regulated.

SCHOOL BOARD VOTES ADDI- TION FOR OCCOQUAN SCHOOL

At its meeting yesterday the Prince William County School Board approved a four-room addition for the Occoquan School, including facilities for a gymnasium. Mr. C. B. Linton was designated to have charge of the new construction. Other actions of the Board included election of principals, supervisors and jeans worker for the ensuing year. Official announcement of the teaching staff will be made later.

PLUMLEY-BROWN

Miss Charlotte Ashby Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ashby Brown of Remington, Va., and Mr. Fletcher Plumley, son of Representative and Mrs. Charles A. Plumley of Vermont, were married in the Chapel of St. Thomas' Church at high noon on March 4 with only members of the immediate family in attendance.

Mrs. Plumley is a cousin of Mrs. William Hill Brown, Jr., and is well known among the younger set of Manassas.

CHAIN STORE TAX IS KILLED

Truck Overload Bill Passes Virginia Senate.

With this Saturday night placed as the time for adjournment the General Assembly of Virginia went into high gear this week and made much progress on pending legislation.

The Senate Finance Committee killed the Chain Store Tax bill. The Truck Overload bill got past the Senate by a vote of 23 to 15, and a committee is at work ironing out the difficulties on the Old Age Pension bill. In passing the School Code bill the House eliminated the section prohibiting relatives of school board members from securing employment as teachers.

The Senate reported favorably on a bill outlawing all slot machines involving the principle of chance, although it is predicted that the measure will be caught in the last minute jam and die before action can be taken.

GARDENING SPECIALIST TO ASSIST COUNTY GROUPS

Mrs. Mary C. McBryde, landscape gardening specialist for V. P. I. extension division, will give special help on home grounds improvement in Brentsville district March 13 and 14.

Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock Mrs. McBryde will discuss the Economic Value of Home Grounds. Improvement. This meeting will be held at Aden School. Arrangements have been made by the Aden Home Demonstration Club. The social committee under the direction of Mrs. Marshall is arranging for the social hour.

On Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock Mrs. McBryde will discuss Planning of the Back Door Yard before members of the Nokesville Home Demonstration Club. This meeting will be held at the school building.

While in the county Mrs. McBryde will visit the homes for special help to those who have requested her help on plans for home grounds improvement.

PRINCE WILLIAM COUNTY SCHOOLS

Office Memo No. 8
March 4, 1936

At its regular meeting March 4, the County School Board decided to curtail the present school term five (5) days, eliminating the necessity of teaching any Saturdays and thereby closing on Wednesday, June 3. You are requested to adjust your work and closing exercises accordingly.

The Board wishes you to know that this curtailment is made necessary due to two 5% reductions in State appropriations, one as of July 1, 1935, and one as of October 1, 1935. The aggregate of these losses amounted to approximately $5,000.00. Every effort has been made during the present session to absorb these losses, but the unusually severe winter with added expense for fuel, etc., has prevented the absorption of the total amount. It becomes necessary, therefore, to take this step now in order not to jeopardize the program for the coming session.

With sincere regret that this step has to be taken and trusting that you will realize that it was not taken until there appeared no other practical way out, I am

Sincerely yours,

R. C. HAYDON,
Division Superintendent.

JUDGE BROWN HANDS DOWN DECISION

For many years an anomalous situation has existed throughout Virginia in the matter of slot machines which are said to be operated on the principle of chance. In some counties they have been frowned upon and in others alternately permitted and restricted.

Although their character and use have been a matter of common knowledge, they have been licensed extensively, and permitted to operate, although it is stated that the law restricting their use is perfectly plain.

Last week in what appears to be the first Court test a decision was handed down by Judge William Hill Brown, Jr., which is destined to become notable in State jurisprudence. The court has spoken adversely on these machines.

PUBLIC WORKS TO GIVE JOBS

Much Employment Promised
for 1936.

James A. Anderson, State Director of the Virginia Public Works program, is reported in press dispatches from Richmond as stating that much employment will be available in Virginia during the remainder of the year. It is stated that around 5000 will be given direct employment on P.W.A. projects and that indirect benefits will reach as many as 20,000.

This employment is said to be in addition to the work given some 15,000 men by the State Highway Department. Under the 1935 Relief Act preference must be given to men on the relief rolls.

The total estimate of non-federal public works projects in Virginia is placed at $23,000,000.

JULIA F. HIXSON

Mrs. Julia Hixson, (nee Florence), died at her home near Manassas Sunday evening, March 1, after a brief illness of pneumonia.

Mrs. Hixson was a daughter of the late James W. and Juliet Virginia Florence, and was born on February 28, 1859. She spent her girlhood in this vicinity, later marrying Joseph Hixson to which union was born three children. Mr. Hixson died in 1927.

She is survived by her son, Elmer E. Hixson, and daughter, Mrs. Mattie Lawson; 3 sisters, Mrs. Bettie Colbert and Mrs. Annie Langford of Manassas and Mrs. Susie Barrett of Washington; six grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Hixson was a loving mother, a kind friend and a good neighbor, and will be greatly missed by her many relatives and friends.

Funeral services were held from the residence Tuesday afternoon, Rev. John M. DeChant officiating, with interment in the Hixson cemetery. Pallbearers were Messrs. Richard Sullivan, Henry Payne, Ben Bradfield, Gilbert White and Henry Robinson.

HOUSES VOTES FOR MANASSAS CELEBRATION

Attached to the fund for use of the Conservation Commission in advertising Virginia the lower House of the General Assembly has voted favorably on an appropriation of $1500 to aid in financing the celebration this summer of the 75th anniversary of the First Battle of Manassas.

Mr. Ed Conner has returned from Richmond where he has been urging the co-operation of the State in making this event successful.

The occasion of the 50th anniversary was made a national event and it is hoped that the 75th celebration of this outstanding achievement of the Confederate Army will also attract national attention.

NOKESVILLE HOST TO DEMOCRATS

Prominent Officials and Guests to Speak.

The Young Democrats of the county have nearly completed preparations for one of their largest meetings of the year, which will be held at Nokesville High School on Wednesday evening, March 11, at 8 o'clock.

A concentrated drive for membership is being planned throughout the county, and in order that everyone may have a opportunity to become familiar with the Young Democratic Club of Prince William and its activities, meetings will be held from time to time in various parts of the county.

The main address of the evening will be delivered by Mr. John Gallaher, of Leesburg, president of the Young Democratic Clubs of Virginia, and Public Works Administrator for the State. Mr. Gallaher is one of the best-known and most active Democrats in the entire State, and he belongs to the younger group. He has a nice personality and is an interesting speaker, and his club will be very fortunate in having him present. It is believed that he will have a message of particular interest to the people of a thriving agricultural community such as Nokesville.

Hon. Frank P. Moncure, our member of the House of Delegates, will discuss the activities and results of the present session of the Legislature, which adjourns Saturday.

Judge J. Reece Duncan, of Alexandria, chairman of the Young Democratic Clubs of the 8th Congressional district, will give some interesting sidelights on the organization and activities of the various clubs in his district.

Inasmuch as this is the first meeting to be held at Nokesville, the club is particularly desirous of having all Democrats in that part of the county attend and become acquainted with the club and their fellow Democrats. The co-operation of the older Democrats throughout the entire county is earnestly solicited also, as the club is very appreciative of their interest and suggestions.

It is hoped that the public will turn out en masse at Nokesville next Wednesday, and help to make this a real Democratic rally.

BOATWRIGHT ADDRESSES KIWANIS CLUB

"Back to the Constitution" says Arthur Boatwright.

All the Kiwanians straightened up a bit as they thought Arthur to be a New Dealer.

Well, it went to naught so far as politics was concerned for Arthur was talking about the Kiwanis Constitution which Arthur considered needed a bit of stroking over.

Arthur waxed both logical and dramatic to the extent that he aroused the admiration of the entire club, even including Col. Hutchison whom Arthur insisted had "agin" his ever-making a speech.

Ex-Secretary Jim Braford made a speech on "back to the treasury" which he claimed was getting in sad shape. Mons looked mighty happy at the suggestions.

Ladies night is getting nigh but more of that later.

Arthur told the club also of the efforts being made to get legislative funds for the battle celebration and how Frank Moncure is helping.

FRANCES WILLARD CELEBRATION

"Frances Willard Memorial Day" was observed by the Woman's Christian Temperance Union on Wednesday, Feb. 26, at the Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Sadd, vice-president, had an interesting program prepared. Mrs. Harrell had the devotional period and read first three verses of first chapter of Joshua and made the application. Rev. Byard Flory led in prayer.

Mrs. Sadd addressed the meeting on the value of the Union Signal and its news reliability.

Rev. Mr. Miller gave a most interesting resume of the life of Frances Willard, who because of her exalted character and noble achievements gained the distinction of being called "The Uncrowned Queen of America."

The speaker had in mind a store of facts to draw from, and followed the life of Miss Willard from early womanhood to its close Feb. 17, 1898, a life of high ideals spent in the service of humanity. She early espoused the cause of Temperance and traveled

HAPPY MOURNERS

"Blessed are they that mourn for they shall be comforted." (Matt. 5:4)
The idea that a mourner could be regarded as blessed or happy was foreign to the minds of those who first heard these words. The Jews of our Lord's time took a very gloomy view of death and the future and were extravagant in their demonstrations of grief.

After twenty centuries of christian teaching we still find many persons who fail to comprehend the possibility of meeting sorrow in the spirit of victory. Jesus was deeply sympathetic with all who mourned the loss of loved ones. He did not intend to rebuke natural affection, but He did point out the mistake of surrendering to our grief and showed us the way to be triumphant. He came to abolish death and bring life and immortality to light, to give the oil of joy for mourning and the garments of praise for the spirit of happiness.

The death of a christian is not to be regarded as a catastrophe and the whole question of the future stands in a new light. Death as Jesus represents it is but entering into the Father's house. Paul speaks of it as departing to be with Christ which is far better than anything this can offer. It is the only door to the fulfillment of the highest aspirations of the human spirit. We should therefore seek to view death from the standpoint of those of our loved ones who have been promoted to the higher and more blessed life. Our consolations are abundant if we will only see them.

No one, not even God, can comfort those who are unwilling to be comforted. There are all too many persons who find a morbid satisfaction in nursing their grief. Thus Christ's legacy of peace becomes useless to those who will not accept it.

The best sermon I ever heard was delivered by a layman, and he delivered it without entering a pulpit or uttering a word. He had lost a much loved son just as he was blossoming into young manhood. The death had come suddenly as the result of an accident and the shock of the father's grief had been very great. On the Sunday following this bereavement I took it for granted that this father would be absent from public worship. As I rose to open the service and looked toward the pew in which he was accustomed to sit, I was surprised and thrilled to see him in his place and to hear his voice distinctly as he joined the rest of the congregation in singing.

"Praise God from Whom all blessings flow,

The pastor's sermon for that day has long since been forgotten but the memory of this noble manifestation of faith and courage still abides in many hearts. I know of no finer illustration of what our Lord meant when He said, "Blessed are they that mourn, for they shall be comforted."

OSCAR DEMORY

Entered into rest early in the morning on Monday, Feb. 17, at his home near Haymarket, Oscar Demory, in the 72nd year of his life.

He was born in the state of Ohio on April 5, 1865, being the youngest of three brothers, the late William E. Demory of Fairfax County and J. C. Demory of Haymarket, who died some years ago.

His parents, William E. and Margaret Wright Demory, were in the state of Ohio, during the last years of the War Between the States.

Mr. Demory leaves to mourn his loss his wife, Hattie Shackelford Demory, and a young brother of his wife, Carlton Lee Shackelford, in whom he took great interest; also a niece, Mrs. Ryland T. Dodge of Alexandria.

His remains were laid to rest in the family lot, St. Paul's Churchyard, Haymarket, Feb. 19, at 2 p.m.

In the passing of Mr. Demory, Prince William has lost another of its sturdy, honorable citizens. The community has suffered a real loss.

GROVETON

(Fairfax County)

The pupils of Groveton school under the leadership of J. E. Bauserman have divided into vocational groups according to interest as shown by a questionnaire that was given to the upper grade children.

Each group, in addition to the regular vocational work which is correlated with their other studies, has elected officers and have a teacher as counselor. These groups study, discuss and interview people interested in the vocation they are studying, in order to find the advantages and disadvantages as well as the work required of one in that vocation.

The counselors, in order to make the work practical, are giving them a chance to do certain things that one in their vocation would have to do. The nurses have equipped a first-aid kit and look after children who are injured at school as well as put on certain health campaigns. The carpenters are busy making certain things for the school. The farmers are making seed testers to test corn, grafting and budding trees, learning to test soil to find fertilizer needed, etc. The mechanics are studying the parts of an engine and repairing an old generator. The teachers have made picture books with short stories and each have chosen a child in the lower grade who is weak to try to bring up to standard. The group plans to widen their scope of activities as they learn more about their vocations.

The following pupils made the honor roll for the past six weeks:

Grade 7 — Betty Jane Harrell, Christine Grimsley, Marie Pettit.

Grade 6 — Edith Ragen, Mildred Jones, Billy Harkey, Geraldine Walker, and Marion Wade.

Grade 5 — Lorraine Mundy, Jean Roberts, Frances Viar, John Dickerson, Helen Brenner and Ruth Monroe.

Grade 4 — Lillian Via, Julia Hamilton.

Grade 3 — Winifred Leary, Betty Jean Weaver, Ileana Riley, Robert Painter, Roy Sullivan.

Grade 2 — Frederick Roberts, Dalford Via.

FAUST SYMPHONY TO BE HEARD IN WASHINGTON

Liszt's "Faust" Symphony, an ambitious work which requires a men's chorus in addition to full symphony orchestra, will be given its first performance in the Nation's Capital at the Marih 15 concert of the National Symphony Orchestra in Constitution Hall.

The orchestra, under the baton of Hans Kindler, will be augmented by the Men's Glee Club of the George Washington University, also of Washington, D. C.

This unusual symphony was announced by Dr. Kindler as one of those important but seldom heard, works which he intended to bring to National Symphony patrons this year. In its performance the orchestra will have the assistance of a chorus for the first time.

The "Faust" Symphony, while based on Goethe's great poem of that title, is not incidental music to the drama. It is a depiction in symphonic development of important characters in "Faust." It was written in three parts: 1, "Faust"; 2, "Gretchen," and 3, "Mephistopheles."

Under the direction of Dr. Robert Harman the George Washington Men's Glee Club has risen to important musical heights in recent years. The club won first place in the first Intercollegiate Glee Club Competition in New York in 1930, and at the annual events since has won rankin places.

WILD DUCKS WELL CARED FOR

State Game Warden A. W. Mills reports that out of 9000 wild ducks and about 400 wild geese only about 30 canvas back ducks were lost this winter. The State Game Department has furnished many tons of corn for the ducks and tons of wheat for birds. Mr. Mills states the public's co-operation in feeding birds this winter is very much appreciated and that up to the present time he has not heard of any birds dying from lack of food this season.

Fishermen are anticipating a good season this year since the ice in the Chesapeake Bay was so heavy that fishermen in that section were unable to get their nets down and consequently the fish have had an opportunity to get up into the headwaters of the Potomac River.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Christ Jesus" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all churches and societies of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, March 1.

The golden text was "Unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given; and the government shall be upon his shoulder" (Isaiah 9:6).

Among the citations which comprised the lesson-sermon was the following from the Bible: "And when he had called unto him his twelve disciples, he gave them power against unclean spirits, to cast them out, and to heal all manner of sickness and all manner of disease. Behold, send you forth as sheep in the midst of wolves; be ye therefore wise as serpents, and harmless as doves" (Matthew 10:1-16).

The lesson-sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mark Baker Eddy: "Our Master taught spirituality by similitudes and parables. As a divine student he unfolded God to man, illustrating and demonstrating Life and Truth in himself and by his power over the sick and sinning" (p. 117).

NOKESVILLE

The game with Fredericksburg on Feb. 27 was postponed because of the weather, bad roads, and illness, but the girls played the game March 3. The score was 28-15 in favor of Fredericksburg.

It looks as if spring has come as the cold spell has gone. Yet, there seems to be several who have not recovered from their illness. We hope everyone will soon come back as the baseball season is not far off.

CAN BYRD DO IT?

The designation of United States Senator Harry F. Byrd as chairman of the committee to investigate government expenditures and present to the next Congress a plan for the reorganization of overlapping departments in Washington occasions much satisfaction among Virginians who know Senator Byrd's success in reorganizing Virginia's governmental system along lines of efficiency and economy.

The task confronting Mr. Byrd is a gigantic one. The Democratic Party is under Platform Pledge to make this reorganization, although its own contribution to the extravagant sins in this direction.

Some accounting must be made to the American public for the Democratic failure to keep its pledge in this matter and the question in the minds of the public is whether the Administration plans to present to the public a real accomplishment, or merely a paper plan of reorganization. If merely a parchment reorganization the selection of Mr. Byrd is a misfit because he does not work on paper.

Any proposal to bring the agencies of the Government together in one Department which deal with Conservation will be met with a storm of propaganda and protest. The same is true of many other bureaus which are misplaced on purpose so that they may enjoy the greatest possible independence of action. If the Department in which they are located has its eyes turned chiefly in other directions they do, and they spend, as they please and they please a lot that could be eliminated with profit to the American taxpayer.

The right man is on the job now. He has proven his capability in the realm of efficiency and economy and unless the Administration hamstring his efforts the public will shortly be presented with a real plan of reorganization which may please few in official life but promise much for the public welfare.

BYRD HEADS THE INQUIRY

It was entirely appropriate that Vice-President Garner should name Senator Byrd as chairman of the committee authorized by the Senate to investigate governmental expenditures and present to the next Congress a plan for the reorganization of the national government and the elimination of overlapping bureaus and boards. Senator Byrd was author of the resolution calling for a thorough study of the problem and his experience in matters of this character fit him to take the lead in the movement to institute long-needed reforms.

Undoubtedly the task which faces Senator Byrd is a difficult one. He will be forced to give a large amount of time to the matter. While the Virginia session has gone through the experience of simplifying and coordinating the government of Virginia, reorganization of the national government in the interest of economy and efficiency is a considerably larger job. However, the very fact that, under his guidance, Virginia's government was completely overhauled will be of the greatest value in performing the same operation on the Federal structure.

Four years ago, the Democratic party promised to take steps to reduce the cost of government to the American taxpayers. The approval of the Byrd resolution is the first move to carry out that pledge. It is to be hoped that within as short a time as possible, the promise of economy can be fulfilled, for in recent years the cost of operating the Federal government has increased to alarming proportions. If Senator Byrd is accorded the co-operation his task requires, there is no reason why considerable progress can not be made during the remainder of the year and a constructive report placed before the next Congress.—Lynchburg Advance.

WEATHER

The weather this winter has been singularly prominent in public consciousness, so it isn't strange that the recent break in the protracted cold spell, hinting bravely of an approaching Spring, has been enthusiastically welcomed. However, one Cobus Kwaak, has injected a fly into the ointment. Another cold wave, says he, may be expected in the immediate future.

Mr. Kwaak claims some distinction as a weather prophet around Bluepoint, Long Island. As an oysterman of more than fifty years' activity, Mr. Kwaak has discovered the mollusc is an "infallible" prognosticator of weather. His pronouncement on the impending cold wave is, in substance, merely a direct report from the oysters.

Writing to the Christian Science Monitor, Mr. Kwaak modestly recalls that on Nov. 15 he reported "how the Bluepoint oysters out here were fat and bedding deep, which was a sure sign for a mighty severe winter." No one will dispute the accuracy of that prediction. And now Mr. Kwaak has more distressing news. He asserts:

"The latest dredgings of the still-fat oysters made it plain to me that we'd best prepare for another cold spell! Take a warning from the oysters. They never fooled me yet." — Charlottesville Progress.

is of glass, an inch and a half in thickness, and each desk accommodates two girls. Despite the punishment the glass tops took while the dance routine was being filmed, not a single top broke or was even cracked.

The scene is one of the most spectacular routines ever filmed, from a photographic standpoint. The lighting is from beneath the glass and part of the sequence is "shot" in darkness, with only the underdesk lights to illuminate the dancers.

extensively throughout the United States, and in European countries to promote that cause. It is said of her that "there is no state in the Republic where the names of Frances E. Willard does not blossom like a familiar flower and hardly any country in the world that has not had occasion to bless her birth."

Mr. Miller spoke of her great ability as leader and organizer. She was the second national president of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union serving as such from 1879-1898. The speaker closed his remarks by stating the two outstanding characteristics of Miss Willard to be "her love of God and her love of humanity."

Mrs. Walter Sadd read a poem on Miss Willard. Mrs. Bessie Allen of the Christian College of Manassas, who is an ardent worker for "scientific temperance instruction," spoke on the need of educating the youth of today. She gave as the reason for repeal that we "forgot to educate." She also told something of the great national W.C.T.U. convention at Atlantic City in 1935, and the honor shown to the memory of Frances Willard at that time. Rev. Mr. Allen spoke briefly on the need of educating and especially the need of prayer.

Mrs. Blough gave us the information as to how the "Frances Willard fund" is used—for literature, public speakers, etc., and gave many interesting facts concerning the work and growth of the W.C.T.U.

Mrs. Bywaters, who is director of literature, reminded us that March was the month for "Union Signal" renewals.

Music had a place on the program—a solo by Miss Thomason, "Was That Somebody You?", Miss Kincheloe, accompanist, and a piano solo by Cleveland Fisher.

A liberal offering was received. The meeting closed with prayer by Mr. Flory, and the Aaronic benediction by Mr. Miller.

"It is not a question of money, but of engineering procedure," he said. Resurfacing has got to wait for warm weather in order to be effective. Temporary repairs will be made at once, the commissioner said.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

KNOW YOUR CAMERA

Remember that snapshots of your child doing something make the most fascinating pictures for your memory album.

JUDGING from the letters the Guild has received old Santa Claus must have pulled many cameras out of his bag and quite generously presented them to those of all ages.

Although modern day film has simplified snapshotting and allows for a certain amount of variation in shutter speed and lens aperture, some owners of new cameras seem to be having a little trouble in getting properly exposed snapshots.

Well, the first time you played golf you didn't get a perfect drive, did you? It's practice and experimenting that make for improvement.

Here's a suggestion that will help you get better results; that is, if you follow it.

When you take a picture make a note of the "stop" you used. By that I mean, the first or second opening, if you have a box camera, or if you have a folding camera you should make a note of the speed of the shutter, that is, 1/25th of a second, 1/50th or whatever it may have been. When the prints are returned you can look at them and say to yourself—"This one of Billie is awfully dark and doesn't show up as I expected. Let's see now—I took this picture at noon at 1/50th of a second and had the diaphragm set at f.11. A little too fast to get the proper exposure under a hazy sky. The next time, under the same conditions, I'll either set the diaphragm pointer at f.8 to let in more light or else leave the diaphragm opening at f.11 and set the shutter speed at 1/25th of a second so as to give the picture a longer exposure." You can readily see how valuable and important this information would be to help improve the quality of your pictures.

Let's try for a picture this week of Billie playing with his favorite toy—the one he always makes a rush for when he gets home from school. What is it—a sled, a scooter, an express wagon, or a bicycle? Has he a cowboy's suit? In any case, keep your camera loaded, watch for him at play and snap a picture of him that is characteristic of his play-time hours. Billie will grow up but not his pictures, and you will be glad some day to have him before your eyes, the little boy again at play, just as he was. Remember, the picture you want is his natural self. So don't let him pose or you will more likely get an attempted impersonation of a wooden soldier, not Billie. Remember that he should not be staring directly at the camera when you snap the shutter. Let him be intent on the thing he is doing, otherwise the picture may look as if you had just interrupted him with a scolding and ordered him to stop. Make two or three shots of him doing the particular thing you want the picture of, and try again, if necessary, until you get that quality of naturalness in pose and action that makes the true charm of children's pictures.

If you can't visualize a good story-telling picture, you will find innumerable ideas in magazines, especially those catering to the home or children. It would be quite unusual to thumb through the pages of one of these magazines without finding an advertisement or story from which you would get an idea you can apply to a snapshot in or around the home. Try it and don't forget to keep a record of the aperture you used and the shutter speed.

CATHARPIN

Well, baking a cherry pie is a mighty nice way of celebrating Washington's birthday. We love cherry pies.

Mrs. L. L. Lynn is spending some time this week with her mother, Mrs. Metz, in Manassas who is not at all well at this writing.

Gene and Marion, children of Mr. and Mrs. George Davis of near Catharpin, have been confined to their homes during the past week suffering from colds, as were also Dorothy and Charles Keller at the home of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Anderson. Many children thruout the neighborhood are similarly affected.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Munday of Washington were visitors in the neighborhood on Sunday last.

The many friends of Mrs. J. D. Wheeler of near Wellington are sorry to learn of her illness and hope for a speedy recovery.

Not a furrow has been turned in this section preparatory to spring planting. Usually much of this work has been done ere the first of March, so the farmers are sweating a little under their collars instead of the horses, as they contemplate the rush hours which must follow the break-up of winter's frostiness. But, as we heard an old gentleman remark: "Things will come out some place. If they don't come out one way they will another." So if there is any consolation in that, it is yours without money and without price.

The friends of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Allison were sorry to learn of the death of their infant son who died Sunday, March 1, and was buried at Sudley at 3 p.m. Monday.

There are enough mud holes along the highways to invalidate the many good stretches which in reality would throw dust in one's face if they only could be reached. One place in particular in near what is universally known thruout the Catharpin neighborhood as "Dean's College." It is not so much the mud hole, however, that makes this place famous as the fact that once upon a time Miss Eleanor Cushing Wilkins, now Mrs. C. F. Brower of Purcellville, Va., was the teacher at Catharpin, and the school building being closed for repairs, the school was temporarily transferred to a little house nearby owned by a colored man by the name of Nat Dean. The teacher, as every one knows, was as full of originalities as any one could be and live, Christened her school "Dean's College" which name seems to grow with the ages and is now mentioned as seriously as tho' it were a reality; so here is an illustration of the "Power of a Name" and that it should now be associated with a mud hole is somewhat of an incongruity.

Mr. R. A. Collins of Marble Hill is somewhat indisposed at present writing suffering from the effects of a bad cold which affliction has been broadcast thruout this community.

Since notice has been served that the heavy fire apparatus belonging to the Manassas Volunteer Fire Department could no longer attempt to answer calls not situated on hard surfaced roads, discussion has been renewed as to the advisability of including in the annual budget sufficient funds to purchase a light equipment specially adapted for use in country districts. This matter has been under discussion for several years since experience has shown that the heavy equipment can not travel to advantage over dirt roads. The budget is now "in the making" and if an appropriation for this purpose is needed, now is the time to express approval or disapproval.

Anent the foregoing, this column made inquiry and obtained some information which might be of interest to the people of this part of the county. The Manassas Volunteer Fire Department is an organization wholly local to the town of Manassas; supported entirely both financially and in manpower, by that municipality, and no outside tax or help in any particular has been received or asked. The Department is composed of men who are volunteers and receive no salary or emolument, but are actuated solely from a patriotic spirit for the protection of their city against fire hazards; also rendering service to outside calls when within their ability to reach. It was also stated that more than one-half of the calls received came from the country. Some efforts were unavailable because the equipment became mired and unable to proceed to the seat of trouble. One instance in particular was cited which may never happen again but in reality it did happen. While the apparatus was on its way to a fire some miles in the country, it became stranded on a dirt road where it remained for hours until rescued. In the meantime a building in Manassas was struck by lightning and the engine far away on a muddy road, helpless. So it is for reasons like the above that the Department felt that in justice to all concerned, notice should be given of its inability to handle heavy equipment over country roads, much as they desire to serve.

Now that the subject is up for discussion, facts known and the Fire Department ready to give all information regarding its experience during past years, it would seem that the time was ripe to pursue the matter to a finish. Light equipments, specially adapted to country use, are available. The Fire Department in Manassas has ample room to house such equipment and can and is perfectly willing to "man" it. The only thing now necessary is its purchase. If the people want it they can notify their supervisor. An item of $2000 is now added to the budget for this purpose. It will either be retained or rejected according to the way people express themselves. It is now up to you.

What Are You Doing to Boost MANASSAS?

THAT EVERYONE MAY KNOW

The many families whom we have served are well aware of the fact that we have a wide variety of caskets from which to choose. They know also that we maintain a very reasonable price range, with figures starting at a low price and gradually rising, so that a family, regardless of its means, can have just what is desired. Many persons have commented favorably upon the moderate prices of our merchandise.

But there are many whom we have had no occasion to serve who do not know about our prices, and their reasonableness. They may even have wrong ideas because of our reputation for fine services. For their benefit we make the statement that we offer our complete service - - - which means service of unsurpassed high quality - - - for a sum considerably under one hundred dollars. In easy steps prices graduate upwards, every service plainly marked, and differences in value evident at a glance.

We shall cheerfully discuss funeral costs and facts with anyone who cares to discuss them with us.

Beware The Cough From a common cold That Hangs On

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your cough, chest cold or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. Creomulsion not only contains the soothing elements common to many remedies; such as, Syrup of White Pine Compound with Tar, fluid extract of Licorice Root, fluid extract of Ipecac for its powerful phlegm loosening effect, fluid extract of Cascara for its mild laxative effect and, most important of all, Beechwood Creosote is perfectly blended with all of these to reach the source of the trouble from the inside. Creomulsion can be taken frequently and continuously by adults and children with remarkable results.

Thousands of doctors use Creomulsion in their own families as well as in their practice knowing how Creomulsion aids nature to soothe the inflamed membranes and heal the irritated tissues as the germ-laden phlegm is loosened and expelled. Druggists also know the effectiveness of Beechwood Creosote and they rank Creomulsion top for coughs because you get a real dose of Creosote in Creomulsion, emulsified so that it is palatable, digestible and potent for going to the very seat of the trouble. Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs, chest colds and bronchial irritations and especially those stubborn ones that start with a common cold and hang on for dreadful days and nights thereafter. Even if other remedies have failed, your druggist is authorized to guarantee Creomulsion and to refund every cent of your money if you are not satisfied with results from the very first bottle. Don't worry through another sleepless night—phone or go get a bottle of Creomulsion right now. (Adv.)

It was voted that a second vice-president be elected and Nelda Coverstone was selected for this office.

A club song, tune of "Yankee Doodle," written by Esther Muddiman, was sung by three girls. Those wishing to enter the song and yell contests were asked to enter materials at the next meeting.

The club treasurer, Virginia Bradshaw, reported that only two girls had paid for pins. Members were given until March 7 to get money for pins to the treasurer.

The question of a club party which has been held over for better weather was brought up and it was decided that the party be held in the near future. Margaret Blakemore and Lucille Herndon issued invitations to have the party in their homes. The place and date will be announced later.

The program included songs, a demonstration on bedmaking, hospital style and a discussion of correct bedding.

FARM ADMINISTRATOR MAKES ENCOURAGING STATEMENT

"New life is being instilled into the government's efforts to help end farm foreclosures," Dan M. Chichester, field expert for the Farm Debt Adjustment Service of the Resettlement Administration, said Monday during his visit to Manassas.

Since 1933, groups of unselfish citizens, called Farm Debt Adjustment Committees, have been working without pay in their own counties all over the nation in an effort to bring debtor and creditor together in a friendly atmosphere where they may see each others problems and work out a voluntary agreement benefitting both parties.

The committee for Prince William County is composed of the following: J. W. Alvey, business man, chairman; Hon. Thos. H. Lion, commonwealth's attorney, and E. W. Thompson, prominent dairy farmer. Any depressed farm debtor or any creditor who desires help in reaching a satisfactory adjustment of mortgages or other debts is invited to call on any member of this committee. Or they may leave their applications at the office of the County Rural Rehabilitation Supervisor, Percival A. Lewis.

This work is now being carried on by a unit of the Resettlement Administration. The FDA unit works hand in hand with the Rural Rehabilitation Division of the Resettlement Administration. Local and district rehabilitation supervisors assist County Farm Debt Adjustment committees in working out satisfactory adjustments, and FDA fieldmen from the regional office, in turn, give advice and assistance both to the committees and to the rehabilitation supervisors, according to Mr. Chichester.

"Debt reduction of approximately $60,244.00 have been effected for farmers in the counties of his district, which includes Prince William County—since early Fall, when the Resettlement Administration took over the activities of Farm Debt Adjustment from the Farm Credit Administration," Mr. Chichester said, who is Farm Debt Supervisor for the work in this and surrounding counties, said. "These adjustments result in the payment of thousands of dollars in delinquent taxes," he added.
