

TRIBUTE PAID TO SOUTHERN HEROES

Fitting Exercises Mark President Jefferson Davis' Birthday.

The memorial exercises held by the Manassas Memorial Society and the U. D. C. Chapter were begun at the cemetery as announced, but after taps played by Marshall Johnson and the strewing of flowers on the soldiers' graves, were speedily adjourned to the court house on account of fast gathering clouds.

Hon. C. A. Sinclair presided. Rev. W. M. Compton gave the invocation. The ritual was led by the Rev. J. R. Cooke. Rev. T. D. D. Clark led in the singing of "How Firm a Foundation" and recited a touching original poem, "The Camp Fires Are Out."

Col. R. A. Hutchison, in his address, paid tribute to the Confederate soldiers, both in time of war, and afterwards. When broken in health, in many instances their homes destroyed, they went to work, and with indomitable courage and fortitude, with no federal help, not even the privilege of voting, rehabilitated their Southland, and received the respect and admiration of the world.

Rev. J. Murray Taylor also gave tribute to the Confederate dead, the soldiers and their families, who labored so faithfully and well after the close of the war.

Miss Virginia Hurst read a poem on Robt. E. Lee, written by Miss Katherine G. Rusk which won the U. D. C. prize offered by the Winchester Handley High School, and was read at the district meeting recently held in Winchester.

"ROBERT E. LEE
One night, I watched the flying clouds
Wind-ridden tossed afar,
When suddenly through one small rift
I saw a little star.
So bright it shone above the storm
So calm, so steadily
'This is a spirit' came the thought,
'Perhaps the soul of Lee.'

And in my garden, bloomed a flower,
Among the colors bright
It lifted high its fragrant head,
So pure and cool and white,
That as I looked, the poet's line
Like music came to me,
The white flower of a blameless life
'Ah, That is the heart of Lee.'

And often when I see a man
Defeated of his goal
Head up, chin high, still fighting on,
Gay courage in his soul,
I almost kneel before the thought
That sometimes comes to me
That he must feel a pulse-beat from
The soldier heart of Lee.

—Katherine G. Rusk
The Sinclair memorial U.D.C. prize was presented to Miss Lelia M. Dorell by Mr. J. Jenkin Davies—the topic, "Gen. Beauregard."

Mr. Sinclair Boatwright won the memorial prize, given by Miss Virginia Speiden.

The singing of "Old Black Joe" and benediction by Mr. Clark ended the services.

SUNDAY SCHOOL GROUP ACTIVE

Meeting at Greenwich Very Helpful.

The Brentsville District Sunday School Association was held at the Greenwich Presbyterian Church, Sunday, May 31.

The opening service was conducted by the Lutheran Sunday school of Nokesville and was followed by the address of welcome by Rev. J. R. Cook, pastor of Greenwich Church. The response to this was made by Elder George W. Beahm.

Elder Newton Miller addressed the association on the subject of "How Should the Church Work in the Home." This was followed by a talk on "Helpful Suggestions in Teaching Children" by Rev. O. R. Hersch.

These addresses were well rendered and were mainly given as an inspiration and help to those who are teaching or working in the Sunday schools of the district.

The music was a very entertaining feature of the day and much enjoyed by all.

The convention was honored by having present the Octette from Dunn Loring, Va., which with their message of song was a great treat to all. Also the music from the different schools was much enjoyed.

The afternoon was given, to a large part, to the young people, most of the schools of the district taking part in this section of the program. The evening session was closed with an address by Rev. James Ealman of Nokesville who spoke on Training Youth for their Task in the World, which was quite enlightening. The young people's work is growing in the county and by the help of the schools in the district it can be made a greater and more helpful part of the church work.

Another very interesting feature of the day was an address by Rev. Minor C. Miller, State secretary. The report of the nominating committee for the coming year was as follows: For president, L. J. Bowman; vice-president, John Ellis; secretary-treasurer, F. L. Foster.

VOCATIONAL HOME ECONOMICS ACTIVITIES Nokesville - Manassas

Vocational home economics pupils this year at Manassas and Nokesville have engaged in such homemaking activities as planning, preparing and serving meals for the family. Planning, selecting and making garments for themselves and other members of the family. Other phases of this work have included a study of home furnishings, home nursing and child care.

The project work consists of vegetable and flower gardens, improvement of indoor and outdoor living rooms, the care of children, personal improvement, family relationships, getting supper, breakfast and dinners for the family, week-end baking for marketing and poultry projects.

GRADS PROVE THEIR CHARMS

Kiwanians Greatly Enjoy Presence of Youthful Guests.

Perhaps the most original and entertaining program of recent years at which the Kiwanis Club has entertained the Manassas High grads took place at the regular session on Friday evening.

It was not so unusual for Frank to call on OD and Fred, as they are two of the club's best orators. OD was well up to par, and the "silver tongued orator" dwelt on the spirit of Kiwanis in a most feeling and appreciative manner. His brief historical sketch was most illustrative.

Raymond Davis, president of the 1936 class, responded equally eloquently. He especially thanked the club for the commercial scholarship awarded to a member of the class.

After the singing of the old familiar school song, Louise Kinchele told a horrible prophecy of finding themselves back in 1961, still with the Kiwanians, but that in that interval all of the class had remained old maids and bachelors.

A round of verse told the story in fetching style and the final solution was satisfactorily offered by Stanley Harpine that met unanimous support.

Fred told a little story about a young mountaineer who when missing the teacher for the first time in many years wanted to know "where is her that tells us how," and referred feelingly to Miss Eugenia. He also related some of his experiences in school much to the delight of his youthful audience.

The meeting adjourned with the singing of "Auld Lang Syne."

VIVIAN MASSEROS

Vivian Riley Masseros, age 22, died at a Washington hospital Monday following a severe illness caused by blood poisoning which developed from an infection of the nose.

Mrs. Masseros was formerly Miss Vivian Riley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Riley of Shamrock, Tex. She came to Manassas in 1931 and opened a beauty parlor adjoining the firm of Steele and Co.

Two years later she went to Washington where she resided until her death.

The remains were shipped to Shamrock, Tex., yesterday and was accompanied by the deceased's husband, Mr. James Masseros.

Mr. J. H. Rexrode attended the Sunday school convention in Luray last week. He was reelected head of the state organization.

LIBERIA MARKER TO BE ERECTED

U. D. C. to Commemorate Famous Estate.

The Manassas Chapter, U. D. C., met Wednesday afternoon, June 3, in the court room of the court house building, the president, Miss Speiden, presiding. Mrs. Larkin and Mrs. Hynson were asked to attend the June meeting of the Supervisors. The building committee, Mrs. Weedon and Mrs. Newman, recommended to the chapter the purchase of more land adjoining the lot already purchased. The matter was tabled until the next meeting.

Mrs. Hibbs reported the C. of C. had offered two prizes to the fourth grade; topics, "Stonewall Jackson" and "The War Between the States." The C. of C. had recently held a meeting at the home of Mrs. Thornton, with quite a few guests present to enjoy their program, and the hospitality of the hostess.

Mrs. Larkin, president of the Memorial Society, announced the marker for Liberia had been purchased, and was soon to be erected on a splendid site near the road leading from Manassas to Washington via Centreville.

In the historical period Miss Virgie Walter, winner from Miss Powell's grade, subject, "War Between the States," read her prize essay and was deservedly applauded. This prize was given by the Children of the Confederacy.

Mrs. Lucy Washington and Mrs. Nannie Middleton are hostesses to the chapter in July.

Meeting adjourned to the cemetery for the memorial exercises.

SOIL SIGN UP CLOSES SATURDAY

Class One Payment $9.10 Per Acre.

The county average rate of the Class I or soil-conserving payment for diversion of acreage from the general soil-depleting base to soil-conserving crops under the 1936 Agricultural Conservation Program for Prince William County is $9.10 an acre, Frank D. Cox, county agent, announced this week.

And as has been announced previously, the soil-conserving payment for diversion from the general soil-depleting base for all counties and states throughout the United States will average $10.00 an acre, depending upon the productivity of the land.

The county average rate of this payment is based upon the productivity of crop land in the county as indicated by the average yields of principal soil-depleting crops (other than cotton, tobacco and peanuts) in relation to the United States average yields of these crops.

The rate of the payment on individual farms within the county will vary from the county average rate according to the way the productivity of crop land on the farm varies from the county average productivity. That is, if the land on the farm is more productive than the average in the county, as measured by the yields of the general, soil-depleting crops, the rate of payment for diversion from the general soil-depleting base for the farm will be above the county average rate. If the productivity of the farm is below the average of the county, the rate for the farm will be below the county average rate.

More than 300 Prince William farmers have filed work sheets but there are many more who can qualify for benefit payments under the program.

Saturday, June 6, is the last day on which work sheets may be turned in.

All farmers who have not turned in work sheets are urged to do so not later than Saturday.

GRADS HEAR TALK BY COLLEGE DEAN

Manassas Class Listens to Plea for Individuality.

The graduation exercises held here last night were quite simple in form. Professor R. Worth Peters, principal of Manassas schools, presided.

With Misses Waters and Speiden at the piano, the lordly seniors in academic robes strolled down the central aisle in the last scene of undergraduate days of their high school career.

Following numbers by the Glee Club, directed by Miss Speiden, Rev. DeChant gave the invocation and the exercises were on.

The speaker of the evening, Dr. Carvel Hall, dean of Randolph-Macon Academy, was introduced by Mr. Peters, who also gave a general word of welcome to the audience.

Dr. Hall's address was much in keeping with the simplicity of the occasion. He proved a veritable word artist in comparing school life to the wonders of nature, weaving a rural scene that was quite realistic.

In referring to education, the speaker said: "It is what you retain after you forget what you've been taught."

"What is your conception of life?" he asked the graduates. "You will find that life is what you put into it and not what you take from it."

He stressed the responsibility of exercising powers to the best of one's ability. He repeatedly urged individuality upon the class, crying for the need of suppressing demagogism.

"Our civilization," he said, "is very complex. Education is the qualification of leadership, and anyone who directs or controls any activity is a leader."

Describing the various types of knowledge seekers, he again pleaded for independent thinking, giving examples of various great men and circumstances. He kept before the graduates constantly during his enlightening address, the need of seeking truth for truth's sake and of grasping for independence in thinking and research.

In his final appeal to the young men and women, he warned them that "You are ready for your opportunity but—when will it come?" Wherever and whenever it be, be ready to serve. Do the little things well. They are things that count."

Dr. Hall was loudly applauded for his well-timed remarks.

The awarding of seventh-grade certificates was announced by Professor Peters. Then OD handed out the prizes in his usual courtly manner.

The commercial certificates were presented by Miss Abby Lutes, and then Professor Peters, with a congratulatory word, gave out the rest of the parchments.

Mr. Peters was gracious in his thanks to the patrons and friends of the school in helping make the past session as successful as has been.

With the benediction by Rev. Compton and the recessional, the pleasant ceremony was over and only the alumni banquet on Saturday remains to complete the commencement week.

Following the graduation, a Junior-Senior Prom was held at the school gymnasium.

In order to finance the project the league is soliciting aid from interested friends. Contributions, no matter how small, will be gratefully received. Anyone desiring to contribute may advise the treasurer of the league, Mrs. John DeChant, or if preferable, a solicitor will call.

A TINY HIDDEN VOICE IN YOUR YARD

Has it ever occurred to you that the gate in your front yard is telling everyone who passes what kind of a person you are. Well it does. Whether it is very complimentary or uncomplimentary depends on you.

If your gate is rusty, loose from its hinges, squeaky and generally unsightly, it tells passersby this kind of a story. The man in this house is untidy, his house needs repairs, the inside of his home is disheveled, the landscape is cluttered with rubbish and the man himself seems to be a little lazy.

Perhaps the story your gate tells about you isn't true. Maybe so, but nevertheless the story is being told as long as your gate looks as it does. Why let your gate tell that kind of a story about you? Fix it and change the story to a true one.

A little paint, one or two hinges, some oil or a new catch may be all that's needed to fix it. Most of the time it only needs a few minutes of the owner's time which is the sad part of it. The revelation of your character might be falsely displayed because you could not give a few minutes of your leisure time to that poor old gate.

Your gate is the first thing a visitor sees when he enters your premises. Shall the gate say, 'You won't see a very nice home inside and the man is a bore,' or shall it say, 'Please come in, I know you'll enjoy every minute of your visit.' Let's fix our gates.

Beware Coughs from common colds That Hang On

No matter how many medicines you have tried for your cough, chest cold or bronchial irritation, you can get relief now with Creomulsion. Serious trouble may be brewing and you cannot afford to take a chance with anything less than Creomulsion, which goes right to the seat of the trouble to aid nature to soothe and heal the inflamed membranes as the germ-laden phlegm is loosened and expelled.

Even if other remedies have failed, don't be discouraged, your druggist is authorized to guarantee Creomulsion and to refund your money if you are not satisfied with results from the very first bottle. Get Creomulsion right now. (Adv.)

BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

If parents will have their children memorize the daily Bible selections, it will prove a priceless heritage to them in after years.

FILTHY MAN: How much more abominable and filthy is man, which drinketh iniquity like water?—Job 15:16.

BUT TALK WILL NOT KEEP THEM

The Roanoke Times asks young graduates, "why leave the South?" But the real question to be answered is, why do these young people leave the South? Our Magic City contemporary quotes the Montgomery Advertiser as urging its young men and women to remain here and the Birmingham News as approving the suggestion. By way of comments the Roanoke paper says:

"The South today needs the services and the talents of its sons and daughters more than ever before. And more than ever before it holds out to them rewards commensurate with the difficulties of the tasks to be performed."

"Here in the South life is worth living to a far greater degree, perhaps, than in any other section of the country. At least, that is what southern boys now living in the North and West tell us."

"The South rests its appeal to its young manhood and womanhood, therefore, on more solid ground than that of pure selfishness. No sacrifice is involved in responding to the appeal. The south needs leadership in its professional, political, industrial, school and economic life—and it is prepared to pay the price." — Suffolk News-Herald.

"We agree with the Roanoke and other papers mentioned that the South needs this young blood it is training from year to year and that opportunities for the 'more abundant life' are greater here than in the congested, over-developed centers. But we do not encourage our young graduates by offering them preference and promotion." — Northern Virginia Daily.

We heartily agree with these outstanding newspapers. We would like to see a census taken of the technical positions alone in the State of Virginia and by whom they are held. Many of them, it seems, are held by northerners and even foreigners. According to such information as we can gather, our state offices and universities need a good overhauling for just such injustices to our own young people. We might be astonished to find that some of our highest salaries go to those who have no claim on the state and whose lucrative jobs could be filled by Virginians.

WELCOME RAIN

The farmers of this area are expressing gratitude for the bountiful rain we had here last evening. It just about saved crops and gardens around here.

THE WHIPPING POST

A young offender in Prince William County has recently been sentenced to receive fifty lashes, and the sentence suspended during good behavior. In all probability he will be too wise to furnish a public example of the effectiveness of this ancient Virginia law. Such a sentence should bring a young mind to a fuller sense of his own civic responsibility in a manner not to be accomplished by inflicting a fine upon the unoffending parent.

Sooner or later, however, some unwise youth will be certain to test the sincerity behind such a corrective measure and when he does he is not only going to make some very delectable news, but he is going to be in a painful situation. If we can judge correctly, this sentence would be most certainly carried out and it would be much applauded.

"Why don't Banks pay interest on checking accounts?"

MOST of the banks of the country (14,123 which are members of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation) are prohibited by law or government regulation from paying interest on "demand deposits." Checking accounts are, of course, demand deposits, for they may be withdrawn at any time by the depositor.

It is now generally recognized that the payment of interest on demand deposits is not sound banking practice. A bank must be prepared at all times to pay out these funds on demand. Consequently, the bank cannot make full use of this money because it does not know when the depositor may want to withdraw it.

A checking account is primarily for the convenience of customers for keeping their money and writing checks. For those who wish to receive interest their funds can be placed in interest-bearing time deposits.

THE GREATEST SHOW

Clowns, animals, aerialists, trick riders and the like do not make up the really "greatest show on earth." The truly greatest show is the political convention, the dizzy, deafening, dramatic display which features the quadrennial election of a President in the United States.

Just what it is that makes the political convention the tremendous spectacle it is described in an illustrated feature which will appear in The Sunday Star, June 7.

THE silence of Electrolux is more than a comfort! It testifies to the simpler operation of this remarkable refrigerator... a simplicity which makes possible unmatched Electrolux advantages.

For note this, please! Electrolux has no machinery—not a single moving part! A tiny gas flame does all the work.

Such simplicity naturally means greater efficiency. Here are a few of the savings that enable Electrolux to pay for itself: a remarkably low operating cost, perfect food protection every minute of every day, and the very minimum of repairs—for parts that do not move cannot wear.

JOAN BENNETT CLICKS IN WISE-CRACKING ROLE

If you want to get the real low-down on who's who and what's what, don't read the scandal columns, but go to your favorite manicurist. She knows more than all the gossip sleuths in town—and take our word for it, she's far more personable!

At least, that's the impression we got, from "Big Brown Eyes," which opens next Monday at the Dixie Theatre in Manassas, with Joan Bennett, our favorite in gorgeous blondes, playing the part of the manicurist who turns columnist. Cary Grant, in the role of Joan's detective sweetheart, is guaranteed to cause just as many feminine hearts to palpitate as ever, and brings sincerity and warmth to his performance.

When a wealthy woman whose jewels have been stolen calls in a private investigator, he, unknown to the police, is in league with the criminals. During the negotiations for the gems, there is gun-play, and a little baby is killed.

See the rest of the picture at the Dixie Monday and Tuesday.

COUNCIL HONORS MRS. HITE

The hospitable home of Miss Minnie E. Smith of Bristow was the scene of a very happy gathering last Friday evening when she entertained the Daughters of America and a few invited guests at a delightful garden party.

The occasion marked the close of Miss Smith's office as councilor of the Prince William Chapter, No. 45, which duty she has performed with much grace and efficiency.

The hostess was assisted by Miss Elizabeth Hovey of Williamsburg, teacher of Bristow School, and Miss Virginia Polen of Bennett School.

The honor guest of the occasion was Mrs. Grace L. Hite, retiring principal of Bennett School of Manassas, who has also served as associate councilor of the order. By her lovely personality and congenial disposition, Mrs. Hite has endeared herself to all with whom she came in contact. Her helpful spirit in her church, her school and fraternal work, will always remain an incentive for better service to all those with whom she was associated during her stay in our midst.

As a token of our love and esteem, she was presented with a double mayonnaise bowl of cut glass with silver inlay. The presentation speech was made by Mr. George D. Baker, past president, O. F. A., who has been a very prominent promoter of fraternal work in this district for many years.

Many jolly games were played and after enjoying delicious refreshments, the guests departed with many thanks to our gracious hostess for such a delightful evening.

FRESH AIR COMMITTEE ORGANIZES

The committee which is promoting the project in Manassas and surroundings inaugurated by the New York Herald Tribune to provide ways and means of giving tenement children living in New York the benefit of fresh air in the country has been organized. This committee has started its campaign and hopes each person will feel he can spare two weeks of his time to offer the underprivileged child a bit of the more cultured environment, and offer them the more worthy things which their every-day life lacks.

A meeting of this committee will be held in Haymarket June 11 at 10 o'clock in the Woman's Club room to complete the campaign of canvassing and to arrange for the children's coming. The committee is as follows:

Mrs. Stanley Owens, chairman; Miss Sarah Pitts, vice-chairman; Mrs. J. J. Murphey, Manassas; Mrs. Bywaters, Manassas; Mrs. McGruder Keys, Dumfries; Mrs. Wallace Dawson, Woodbridge; Mrs. Earl DeGrange, Greenwiche; Mrs. Rolph Robinson, Hickory Grove; Mrs. Walter Gardiner, Haymarket; Mrs. J. L. T. Rollins, Wellington; Mrs. Walter Flory, Aden; Mrs. S. S. Stultz, Nokesville; Mrs. W. L. Lloyd, Mrs. Delaney and Mrs. B. C. Cornwell, Manassas.

We hope you will be interested in the project, and will offer your home for two weeks beginning July 10 to some underprivileged child.

"NO MAN'S RANGE" AT DIXIE THEATRE TOMORROW

About once in a blue moon a Western emerges from the truck of pictures that the most captious critic can't find anything wrong with. That's the case with "No Man's Range," the hurricane-action melodrama of the open, starring Bob Steele. It offers a little of everything that goes to the making of first-class entertainment. The action is what that of every good Western should be—sharp, decisive, and breezing along at top-speed, the romantic angle is just what touches the hearts of impressionable spectators, there's the saving humor of timely comedy relief, and a climax that crashes like a thunder-clap. It's playing at the Dixie Theatre in Manassas tomorrow and Saturday, and you ought to hear the kiddies yell when Bob gallops in pursuit of the villain, or clubs his way through a gang of bad men, intent on his capture!

POST OFFICE HISTORY

The following history is made up from the official records of the post office department and the personal recollections of the late Robt. C. Weir:

April 7, 1829 a post office called "Liberia" was established with William I. Weir as postmaster. This office was kept in Mr. Weir's store about one half mile northeast from Liberia Mansion. The site can still be plainly seen on the Portner land a short distance below the Muddiman quarry.

Ten years later Mr. Weir removed his store and the name of the post office was changed to Milford Mills with William I. Weir as postmaster. This was May 25, 1839.

On the 18th of March, 1852, the name was changed to "Bristoe Station." This was evidently about the time the Orange and Alexandria railroad began operating their trains. Thomas T. Fewell was the postmaster.

August 27, 1874, the name was changed to "Bristoe" with Edmund P. Gaines for postmaster and on February 9, 1894, the name was again changed to "Bristow" on account of the miscarriage of mail, owing to the resemblance of "Bristoe" to "Bristol" as written by many people. Mr. Lamartine A. Free was then postmaster.

Having followed the peregrinations of the "Liberia" postoffice we return to the starting point.

On March 8, 1852, when the railroad was opened a post office called "Manassas Station" was established with Frances J. Cannon as postmaster. On July 22, 1854, for some reason the name was changed to "Tudor Hall," with David Arrington as postmaster and on April 11, 1862, immediately after the occupancy by McClellan's advance, the name was changed to "Manassas" and George W. Roseberry made postmaster.

Whether there was any post office in this section before Liberia, I do not know, but I suppose there was one at or near Bradley.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

On Monday, June 1, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roger W. Cross was the scene of a happy occasion when their youngest son, Benjamin Campbell, celebrated his fifty birthday. Games on the lawn and a contest game contributed to the entertainment.

Bennie was the recipient of many gifts and good wishes.
