MACS WIN TWO FROM TRIANGLE

Macs Pound Out Thirty-three Hits in Winning by Scores of 16 to 4 and 15 to 1.

Manassas added a pair of wins and fattened their batting averages Sunday at the expense of the Triangle team, winning the opener by the score of 16 to 4 and taking the final in an equally decisive manner, 15 to 1.

Triangle opened the first game with a rush, raking Kite for three runs before he managed to retire the side. F. Vetter's catch of Ewalds hit smash helped Kite over this tough spot and with the exception of the third inning, was never in serious difficulty, permitting but one man to reach third. In the third a hit by Fones, a pair of walks and a sacrifice were good for a single run. The Macs, after threatening mildly in the first two innings, tied the score in the third when D. Vetter beat out a hit to second, took third on Buckner's double to right and scores as D. Vetter went out, second to first. Buckner scored on Wurde-mann's single to center. The latter stole second and when no one covered the bag, he came all the way home with the third run as Fuller's throw went into center field. The Macs needed but two hits in the sixth to push across three runs to take the lead. Hits by D. Vetter and Kite a walk to Woodard, a fielder's choice and a pair of wild pitches accounted for the runs. Saunders personally accounted for another run in the seventh with a home run to deep right and all competition vanished in the following inning when the Macs collected six hits off Boyd and Fuller which were good for a like number of runs. Three more runs in the final inning raised the Macs to sixteen.

In the second game, which was limited to seven innings by agreement, Driufus held Triangle safely at all times and except for an excusable bobble by F. Vetter would have had a shutout. Triangle scored their sole run in the fourth when with one out, Dreifus hit Bean and Reynolds was safe on an error. They both moved up a notch on a wild pitch and Bean scored as F. Vetter momentarily fumbled Better's roller. Kincheloe flied out to right to end the inning.

The Macs again waited until the third inning before scoring, when four hits were good for a pair of runs. Eight more runs in the following inning turned the game into a rout. Three more runs in the fifth and single run in each of the sixth and seventh innings completed the scoring for the day. And with Dreifus limiting the opposition to five hits, the Macs had no difficulty in chalking up their third win for the second half of the season.

EIGHTH VA. REGT. CHAPTER U. D. C. ENTERTAINED

Mesdames Randolph Smith, and R. B. Gosson, Misses Margaret Shirley and Flora Smith entertained the members of the Eighth Va. Regt. Chapter at "Hagley" the home of Mrs. Smith on Thursday, July 2.

For several years it has been the custom for the "Waterfall Members" to entertain the rest of the chapter, and fifteen ladies of the chapter besides a number of visitors assembled near the foot of the Bull Run mountains in the "prettiest spot in Prince William county," as one of the members remarked.

After the business meeting, and a discussion of ways and means, the ladies adjourned to the vine covered porch where delicious cake, cream and lemonade were enjoyed.

After a social period spent in friendly talk, a reluctant adjournment was made, all having spent a delightful afternoon.

WORTHEN HALL ELECTED TO KIWANIS CLUB

The Kiwanis Club sweltered along with the rest of the world last Friday night. Nobody came in shorts but there were several who came as near to it as they could.

The entertainment committee played buckball with the program again and then decided to try a slight variation that was quite successful.

Worthen Hall was elected to membership and will be initiated at an early meeting.

The weather was hot and this story is correspondingly short.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Petersen of rural Manassas announce the engagement of their daughter, Emma Hoegger Petersen to Mr. John A. Mowry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Mowry of near Nokesville. The wedding will take place some time in the fall.

These sections will not be sent through the mail except under first class postage and single copies may be had at 3 cents each by placing order not later than Monday evening. If to be mailed, each copy will be 5 cents.

THANKS FROM THE EDITOR

The Journal wishes to acknowledge with many thanks a direct contribution from Mr. C. C. Cloe, of Triangle, to assist with the battle park section of the Journal which will be produced next week. As Mr. Cloe does not wish advertising of any sort, this is our only method of thanking him publicly.

The sale of wine and beer will be prohibited in Virginia between 2 a.m. and 5 a.m. during summer and 1 a.m. and 5 a.m. in winter and after 12 midnight on Saturday, under new regulations of the ABC board, effective July 20.

FIELD DAY MEETING ON SKYLINE DRIVE

Entertainment and Recreational Program by Jersey Breeders.

The annual Virginia Jersey Field Day program will be held this year on Thursday, August 6, starting at 11 a.m., at Sexton's Knoll Picnic Grounds on Skyline Drive in the Shenandoah National Park.

The Board of Directors of the Virginia Jersey Cattle Club are arranging an unusually good program of entertainment and recreation for those who attend. This will be a marked digression from previous field day programs with very little speaking but more emphasis on the entertainment features promised by Wheatley M. Johnson, President of the Club.

The picnic will be a bring-your-own basket-affair with special refreshments provided by Jersey breeders living in the counties adjacent to the Shenandoah National Park.

Since many Prince William Dairymen have not visited the Skyline Drive and since a special invitation is extended to all dairymen of the county to attend, many are expected to attend the picnic and dairy program at Sexton's Knoll on August 6.

QUALIFY AS SHARPSHOOTERS

Murray W. Bradshaw, of Manassas, and Howard L. Melton of Haymarket who are stationed at Fort Washington, Md., for a six-weeks period Reserve Officers Training Corps duty, qualified as Sharpshooter and Marksman, respectively, in the rifle marksmanship course.

Mr. Bradshaw scored 213, while Mr. Melton scored 193 out of a possible 250 points.

Both young men, who are students at the Virginia Polytechnic Institute, are taking instruction while here in the use of infantry weapons and in military science and tactics as a part of the advance ROTC course.

ALDIE P.-T. A. WILL GIVE DANCE

The Aldie P.-T. A. are sponsoring a summer dance in the Aldie High School Auditorium Friday evening, July 24.

This dance is for the benefit of the high school, the proceeds to be used toward installing a business course for the coming session.

ELECTROLUX EXHIBIT

Among the interesting features in connection with the gathering on Tuesday will be a display of the Electrolux trailer from Indianapolis, Ind. The trailer will be open for the inspection of the kerosene Electrolux with which it is equipped.

HEADS STATE VETERANS

J. Earl Jones, of Staunton, was this week elected Commander of Virginia Veterans of Foreign Wars. In session at Staunton, the veterans made a tentative selection of Winchester for next year's convention.

One of the outstanding addresses of the convention was that of National Commander Scott B. Squires, who made a stirring appeal to have the profits taken out of war.

"IMPROVEMENTS OF MANASSAS JUNCTION"

Extract from Fredericksburg Christian Banner dated May 27, 1862, quoted from Alexandria News as follows:

"It would not astonish us in the least to see a prosperous and thriving village built up at Manassas Junction during the next two years."

The associations connected with that section of the country will attract thousands of visitors within the next few years. The refusal of the Government to carry passengers on the railroad has stopped travel but it is expected that the embargo will be removed in a few days."

Submitted by Director of Military Park, Branch Spaulding.

BATTLE PROGRAM IS EXPLAINED

Chairman Conner Expresses Appreciation.

The Manassas Battlefield Celebration will be the largest event that has ever been held in this section of the State. The opening of the National Park was a splendid piece of work put on by Mr. Wilbur Hall, State Conservation Commissioner, but the celebration to be held here July 21 will exceed all others that have been held in the State.

Let us not forget the Park Service for its wonderful work — erecting stands, removing fencing, making roads and many other things under the direction of Branch Spaulding's untiring efforts in helping to put this over. And the one man that made it possible was our genial Congressman, Howard Smith who has done more work getting appropriations, allotments, etc. than all the others put together. He has worked quietly and earnestly, so credit is due him for this whole affair.

Also the Army and Marine Corp with their splendid co-operation. We must not forget our own citizens. We have all worked hard, why not? This is our own show; we are entertainers, not guests. We welcome them here. This will be a great big public spectacle put on by the Army and Marines; the Army representing the Confederates, commanded by General Ord. Major Stonewall Jackson will take the part of Gen. Stonewall Jackson on the Henry Hill, the place where "Stonewall" Jackson was given his immortal name by General Bee.

The Marines will take the part of the Union side, commanded by General Miller.

Dr. Douglas S. Freeman, historian, Richmond, Va., will deliver an address on the battle, and General Ord will have an announcer to point out positions of interest on the Battlefield while the Army and Marine engagement is taking place.

A loud speaker or public address system will be put on by the signal corp from the Army War College.

This is all free with parking for your car. Bleacher sets will be sold on the grounds to accommodate four or five thousand people. Also refreshments can be had. An ample supply of drinking water will be on the grounds, and everything to make the public comfortable and enjoy the day.

I want to take this opportunity to thank all of those who have helped to put this over and I hope our county and town will be put on the map this time to stay.

Signed: E. R. CONNER, Chairman, Ground Committee.

CAMP MEETING AT MOUNT VERNON

The annual interdenominational camp meeting near Mt. Vernon will be held from July 16 to July 26, inclusive. The 1936 staff includes Reverends John Paul, H. H. Hoyt and Gilbert Williams, along with a live and interesting faculty.

There will be plenty of music for the young people each evening at 7 o'clock. Three services each day, 10:30, 3 and 7:30.

No charge is being asked for lodging and board is very cheap. Campers should bring extra blankets, sheets and toilet articles. Other bedding is free.

The camp is located on RFD No. 1, Alexandria, Va., on a portion of the original Washington estate.

Eyes of Nation Are Focused on Big Event.

Various activities are being carried on this week through Mr. Spaulding's office in the Town Hall. State and county officials are holding frequent conferences concerning both the military and civic activities next Tuesday. Yesterday State Motor Vehicle Commissioner, John Q. Rhodes, was in town to make a study of the policing of the grounds.

According to the preliminary, layout there will be about two hundred CCC men and state officers to form a triple ring about the portion of the battlefield nearest to the spectators, so as to prevent encroachments by parking. Each of the State deputies will have a definite post and written instructions on the day. From 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. the Lee Highway will be blocked off entirely between Centreville and Buckland except for traffic between those points.

Sheriff Kerlin, who will have charge of policing the stands, expects to have about a dozen deputies of the surrounding counties to assist him. It is thought probable that some plain clothes men will also be sent here to break up any pick-pocketing.

There will be six parking areas all of which are absolutely free. Parties coming from the south will be routed into the field approximately at the corner of the Henry Farm. This road is about completed now, the work having been done by members of the C. C. North will be routed into the Robinson Farm where there are parking areas all plainly marked.

The activities of the afternoon will be preceded by luncheon at Annaburg where the Manassas Chapter, U. D. C., will act as hostess to the honor guests. After this the guests will be escorted to the Battle-park where a band concert will begin shortly before one-thirty. At the completion of the band concert a number of speeches will be made by state and Park Officials and then Dr. Freeman will begin speaking about two p.m.

The military exercises will start promptly at two-thirty. The period between two-thirty and three will be used largely to demonstrate the period of the battle which took place between noon and three o'clock. From three to four as nearly as possible the time element will be reproduced accurately in the movements of the troops. It is stated that about five thousand were in action in the portion of the line which will be shown, so that about one-third as many men will be in action as were originally in the battle line. The rout which started on the extreme Union right cannot be shown as it is too far from the stands, and surface conditions have changed considerably.

The stands are being built northwest of the grove where General Bee fell and the spectators will witness about what he saw. Officials are very much pleased at the conditions of the terrain both as to its lay and as to the condition that permits a reproduction of the battle.

Less than five thousand seats will be provided at a very low rate, the rest of those attending having to stand.

Troops who are to take part in the battle are already moving in and all of them will be here by Saturday, and between that time and Monday evening there will be three rehearsals.

There will be many dramatic features during the afternoon that will be made as realistic as possible before the thirty thousand spectators who are expected to attend.

This battle was unique in every sense of the word because it represented the initial clash of ideals and an exhibition of ignorance of conditions that existed in both fighting bodies.

It is hoped that those residing in Manassas and vicinity will exhibit as much bunting as possible on that day, particularly along the route which most of the traffic will go.

FINAL CONTRIBUTIONS TO NOMINATOR'S FUND

Final contributions to the Roosevelt Nominators' Fund are as follows: Edgar Parrish, $5.00; those giving less than five dollars are as follows: L. M. Marsteller and Althea Maitland Hooff.

NOTICE

The State Highway Department announces that U. S. Route 211, Lee Highway, is going to be closed to through traffic from Centreville to Buckland between 11:00 a.m. and 6:00 p.m. on Tuesday July 21.

RECTOR-WILSON
"Wood Park," near Warrenton, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Wilson, was the scene of a simple but petty wedding Sunday July 12 when Miss Alice Vivian Wilson became the bride of Mr. James Shirley Rector.

The bride wore a peach crepe costume with white accessories and carried a bouquet of bride roses and baby breath. She was given in marriage by her father Mr. Christopher Wilson. Her only attendant was her sister, Rachel, who wore an ultra marine crepe gown and carried sweetheart roses.

The groom was attended by his brother, Mr. Russell Rector. After the ceremony delicious refreshments were served to the assembled guests. Only members of the young couple's immediate families were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Rector left almost immediately for a southern tour, including Richmond, Virginia Beach and other interesting points. Mrs. Rector is secretary to Mrs. Kenneth Gilpin of "Scaleby" near Boyce. Mr. Rector's home is near Warrenton. Mrs. Rector was formerly a pupil at Manassas High School and afterwards held a position in the Peoples' National Bank of Manassas.

Mr. and Mrs. Rector received many beautiful gifts and many sincere good wishes from their friends.

THE CAMP GROUND OF IMMORTAL HOPE (Manassas Cemetery)
Sweet sylvan refuge from the doubtful strife—
Twixt faith and reason in the soul of man—

Thou silent prophet of immortal life
How soul refreshing is thy brooding calm—
If any hope inspiring spot there be spot there be Worthy to bear the name of holy ground

That spot is where redeemed mortality
In hushed retired rests in sleep profound—
High over all the mildew and decay
That ploughs relentless thro' the sacred dust—

Hope's banner waves a welcome to the day—
That waits to wake the slumber of the just—
Hope is not quenched nor trust betrayed—
By shrouded form or burial rite

The Lord of glory in the tomb was laid—
And from the tomb brought life and immortality to light—
Since that amazing and thrice blessed hour—
The grave resigns all lordship over mortal dread—

By meekness and in weakness Jesus conquered Satan's power—
And gained immortal glory for the dead.
Sweet sylvan refuge as I turn to go
Where present duty claims its share of time—
Thy sheltering confines to the dead we owe—
For Christian hope makes death itself sublime. —T. D. D. Clark.

CENTREVILLE
A baby twister struck here shortly after five o'clock Saturday afternoon, uprooting trees, pulling off porches, smashing windows, etc. The hail which came with it was the largest ever seen in these parts. Many of the gardens were badly riddled. About an inch of rain fell in less than half an hour.

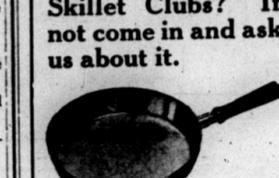

Regular services were held at St. John's on Sunday despite the intense heat. The next service will be on July 26.

At the recent school closing Master Roy Hawes Rose captured two prizes for attendance and scholarship.

Mrs. Wilcoxon continues indisposed at her home. Centreville, the initial point of the Confederate entrenchment at the outbreak of hostilities and which suffered so heavily from invasion is preparing to join with Manassas in celebrating the great Confederate victory.

TODAY In Politics . . .

by Geo. Dent

A million sounds so big in "Bet you a million" Gates' days, he made the front page of most of the papers from the Atlantic to the Pacific . . . Just a few years ago "Andy" of "Amos and Andy" radio fame, could be heard any evening checking his accounts and calling off figures by the millions . . . We were infants with figures in those days . . . Those were the days when a nickel cigar was five cents and a pound of bacon ready to fry was 12 cents . . . We are now counting in the billions—but, I notice there are very few hands that the grubbing hoe has left a callous in . . . I still believe it is more important to grub up a stump, grow a head of cabbage, and dunk corn pone in pot-licker, than to don a pair of plus fours, call a caddy to pack your sticks, push into the turf a little peg (scientifically called a "tee") set a ball on the peg, call for a driver and lift a divot, repeat and "cuss" until the caddy reminds you that you sound just like the Episcopal minister,—at the club you get your lick but, no, it is not the dunking kind.

A few years ago it was just as easy, for most anyone, to pick out Virginia Democrats from a crowd as it was to pick out pole-cats from house cats. A real dyed in the wool Virginia Democrat had corns in his hands, bunyons on his feet, tobacco juice trickling down his chin, badly in need of a shave and haircut, knew how to ride a horse bareback, called pigs "haws", always said "thar!" for "there" and while resting picked ticks from his "flea bitten dawg" and drank cider from a jug . . . Where, my dear readers, I ask you, where has he gone?

The New Deal Democrat can be seen most any day standing idly, leaning on the southeast corner of a beer joint, sprinkling Hoyt's on his silk Hanchief and blowing rings of smoke from an emasculated tobacco contraption that he calls a "ciggio" . . .

I am told that the powder on a woman's nose has no political significance, but just look what happened to the New Deal Minister to Denmark . . . In spite of Jim Farley, the New Deal has been very kind to women . . . Giving 'em a place in the political sun, landing the forgotten man, and weaving a politico-romance that may mean a new generation of New Dealers, born and raised in a New Deal Kingdom and able to impart New Deal knowledge that will make the world safe for all the sons of Adam . . .

Mr. Farley is now a Cabinet member in waiting . . . He is out fighting for his job . . . If he fails to elect his Commander-in-chief he knows that his $15,000 job will fall to a Landon devotee . . .

Right or wrong the New Deal is nearing the cross-roads . . . All the legislation has not been bad . . . If the Republican party should be returned to power in November; would they wipe the slate clean of all New Deal legislation? And if they did; what then? Can we afford to back track on Social Security? Can industrial workers afford to lose what little they have gained by and through collective bargaining? There are many questions to be pondered . . . This is not a time for hit and run answers . . . Forget that you were born into a Democratic fold or a Republican fold . . . Forget your party narrow-mindedness, and work and case hardened in provincialism as be like Cotton Ed. Smith, so narrow and case hardened in provincialism as to refuse to be under the same roof with a negro even when the negro was praying for him . . .

The latest poll shows that 13 states are absolutely safe for the Republicans, with 99 electoral votes in the bag . . .

Safely Democrat with 229 votes salted down we find 24 states . . .

We find eight doubtful states leaning towards the Republicans carrying 173 electoral votes . . .

Three doubtful states showing a democratic trend, 30 electoral votes . . .

Electoral vote safely democratic (at present) 229

Electoral vote, not sure, democratic (at present) 30.

Gives a total counted for the democrats of 259 electoral votes . . .

Electoral votes safely Republican (at present) 99.

Electoral votes, not sure, Republican (at present) 173.

Gives a total counted for the Republicans of 272 electoral votes against the democratic total of 259 . . . It takes 266 to elect.

Ohio with 26 votes; New York with 47 votes; Pennsylvania with 36 votes; Illinois with 29 votes; Minnesota with 11 votes; Indiana with 14 votes; Colorado with 6 votes and Montana with 4 votes have a noticeable swing towards Landon at the present time . . .

Michigan is on the fence with a slim hope that Murphy will be able to move the swing Roosevelt's way . . .

You recall, that Murphy was Governor General of the Philippines, and like Lehman of New York, was pressed into service at a critical moment to bolster up New Deal blood pressure that was progressively dying.

At any rate, we will not see a popular vote landslide in November, and if Mr. Farley loses Michigan, Mr. Lehman will have to carry Roosevelt vote for vote in the Empire state or else there will not be any more New Deal . . .

CHRIST FOR ALL—ALL FOR CHRIST
The Word of God
 BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

If parents will have their children memorize the daily Bible selections, it will prove a precious heritage to them in after years.

THE LORD IS GOOD: O taste and see that the Lord is good; blessed is the man that trusteth in him.—Psalm 34: 8.

"THERE STANDS JACKSON"

On Tuesday next, Prince William County will for a few brief hours hear again the echoes of fighting men on a spot sacred to the memory of the Southern cause.

It was a proud day, indeed, that bright, hot Sunday afternoon of long ago. And why not? Had not the invading horde of what they contemptuously referred to as "Lincoln's hireling band" been turned back in confusion and in disgrace? Was not this vindication of their prowess sufficient to strike terror into the hearts of those who sought to smother the soft-handed Southerners in their supposed ease and idleness? Joyous were the hearts that marched beneath the Stars and Bars that proud day!

This is only a memory now but it is a hallowed memory, one that carries with it the same degree of responsibility as did the fighting that day in '61.

There are among us those who would seek mistaken favor by even praising the leader of that infamous invasion and who would call his cunning, statecraft and his innuendo, politics. He passed from the scene nearly as many years ago as did this Confederate victory which we celebrate on Tuesday, but his real nature and his real purpose can never be camouflaged among those who honor the memory of their forebears and uphold the dignity and justice of the cause for which these men and women contended even to the loss of everything they held dear in life.

Jackson is still standing there like a stone wall and his great nature still leads the sons and grandsons of his hosts of cavaliers to greater deeds and higher aims.

"Let us rally behind the Virginians" and drive forever from the field those who would sell their birthright for a mess of pottage.

The Peoples National Bank of Manassas

Nokesville, Va., July 14, 1936
 To the Editor of the Manassas Journal:
 In your issue of June 25, 1936, you published a letter signed "An Interested Subscriber." The writer of this article would have the readers of your paper believe that he (or she) had the interests of Prince William County at heart. Let us hope that the intentions of the writer were sincere; yet from the wording of the letter, only one conclusion can be drawn, and that is the writer, like his Irishman "my way or none."

As an interested taxpayer, I hear rumors pro and con relating to the actions, and statements made by the various members of the Board of Supervisors. This Board, I realize, is subject to much criticism, and apparently at times justly deserves some of this criticism. The question please answer: When such a vital question is to come before the Board, should not all members be notified in ample time to be present, and no meeting called when several members are known to be out of the jurisdiction of the county, or if known to the absent members, why did they absent themselves at such an important time?

There is another phase of the latter I cannot understand. The state pays 40 per cent of the cost of the relief of the outside poor. Just who constitutes "the outside poor"?

Again the taxpayer's angle comes to the front in asking if the Board of Supervisors and the Relief agencies should not be very careful in the spending of Administrative Costs. Simply because 10 per cent is paid out of State funds is no reason for high rents and favoritisms.

In late years we hear too much of Zionchecks and Braintrusters in both National, State and County offices. Why—do we so often entrust the spending of the taxpayers' money to the persons least eligible from point of taxpaying, and successful business experience?

In re—"May Lose State Aid" If the writer, C. B. Roland, could see his way clear to expend the same amount of energy in influencing the State officials to accept their appointee that he uses in rushing to the Journal with statements embarrassing to both the Board and the appointee, he would be serving his district, county and state in a manner much more appreciated, according to the generally expressed opinions.

If all reports are true as to the "called meeting," the Brentsville District is fortunate in having a man like Lester Huff representing them. E. S. Hooker.

Woodbridge, Va., July 13, 1936
 To the Editor of Manassas Journal:
 My Dear Sir:

There appeared in your columns of June 25th issue, a letter addressed to you containing a conglomeration of charges purporting to be directed to, or against, certain members of the Board of Supervisors, but the author omitted unintentionally or by design, to affix his signature to this letter, obviously the latter, and I account for this to the reason that he was ashamed to own authorship after reading back, and appraising what he had written, and was afraid that he would be the "laughing stock" for the public.

Being a member of the Board, inquiry has been made to me what this letter was all about. The readers of your paper have not the least conception of what is at issue, and who the "groups" are, as I am intended to be embraced within one or the other "group," it is only fair that I should disclose to the readers of your column the author's name of the letter in June 25th issue, if I have a guess, and I ask that you please publish this letter as written over my signature, and I will assume all responsibility therefor.

Mr. C. B. Roland, Supervisor from Gainesville District, residing at Haymarket, Va., I charge, is the author of the letter in question, and he was, and is yet, exercised very much over the selection of Superintendent of Public Welfare for our County.

He begins in this letter, "In answer to a question by a number of the voters of the county." I wonder if those "voters" could not be counted on the fingers of one hand, and are not a small "group," and perchance live in Gainesville Magisterial District.

It follows that with some figures, percentages and amounts that I don't understand, and I discovered that he did not understand them either at the last meeting of the Board, and then he refers to "two groups who are holding up this important work." "One group is against it," and "the other group is out to get all they can out of it."

Now, I want to know which group Mr. Roland is in. He has classified them into two "groups." He says there are only two "groups." He must be in one or the other "group." Is he in the "against it" group, or is he in the "for it to get all he can" group?

PONDERINGS

"As you sow, so ye shall reap," you're served, just as you serve; So bear in mind, where ever you be, You can't get along on your nerve.

When you start a task, Or complete a job; Be sure you've done your best, If isn't the fact that you've worked (that counts,) But how will it stand the test.

So when your life's work's through, And your history's revealed; Be certain to leave not a stain, An unfinished work—or an unkind act, In the pages your colleagues unseal.

NATIONAL BANK FOR HOME
 MANAGED BANK FOR HOME
 PEOPLE
 (Questions That Are Asked About Banking)
"Could all depositors get their money at once?"
 IN normal times a bank puts its depositors' money to active business use for the benefit of depositors, the community and the bank. A reasonable amount is kept on hand for customers' daily business needs.
 A bank is not simply a storage vault for money. Consequently it would ordinarily be impossible for all depositors to withdraw their money at one time, if they desired. It takes time to convert all of the assets of a bank into cash. Electric companies, for instance, would find it difficult to supply the simultaneous demand if every customer turned on all switches at the same time. No theatre could hold all patrons if they decided to go at the same time.
 This bank, like other banking institutions of the country, is able to serve all customers on the basis of normal daily withdrawals.

"RED RIVER VALLEY" RICH TUNEFUL ORIGINAL BALLADS

Three new original songs, and one old time cowboy favorite, "Red River Valley," are to be heard in the thrilling action picture of the same title, which currently is presenting Gene Autry, singing cowboy star, at the Dixie theatre, on July 24-25.

The noted radio singer and song composer is to be heard in the title song, and in "Where a Waterwheel Keeps Turning On," which was composed by Sam H. Stept, Republic's exclusive song writer, and Oliver Drake, author of the lyrics.

Smiley Burnett, formerly a radio singer and composer, will render his own comedy song, "Hand Me Down My Trusty Forty-Five."

Composer Stept also originated a construction crew song which is a feature given by a great chorus of male voices as the crew swing their picks and shovels on a great irrigation project.

Frances Grant, comely young screen newcomer is to be seen in her first leading role, while George Chesebrough, Burnett, and several noted cowboy actors make up an excellent supporting cast.

GREENWICH

The Baptist church is being treated to a new coat of paint and the cemetery cleaned, both making a vast improvement to dear old Oakdale, the church where so many folks love to come and receive a hearty welcome from the pastor, Rev. Mr. Grimsley.

Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Ritenour of Warrenton were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Mayhugh, sr., Sunday.

Mrs. J. B. Price of Washington and her brother, Walton M. House, visited their mother, Mrs. Annie House the past week-end.

Mr. Albin R. Taylor visited his home here Sunday.

Mrs. Nell Rodman and Mrs. George Grant of Washington, assisted by Mrs. Lucile House of Greenwich, nieces and daughter-in-law of Mrs. Henry House, gave her a surprise birthday party on Sunday, July 12, the occasion being her 81st birthday.

A picnic dinner was served to a number of Washington relatives and friends which was enjoyed by all. The large dining room was filled to full capacity when the noon shower came down to refresh everything. At two-thirty another host of relatives came in to enjoy cake, ice cream, lemonade and fancy candy of all kinds. The beautiful special birthday cake was made by her great niece of Washington, Miss Annette Grant.

"Aunt Mary," as she is called by most everyone, was the recipient of many beautiful and useful gifts. This gracious little lady is known and loved by most everyone far and near for her unbounded hospitality. May she live and have many more happy birthdays.

Those attending from Washington were Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Rodman, Mr. and Mrs. George Grant, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Widmeyer, Mr. J. B. Price, Miss Annette Grant and Mr. James N. Grant, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Grant, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Grant and little daughter, and Mrs. Frank Loving of Alexandria, Miss Jennie Melville Sasler, and Nathaniel House of Cherrysdale, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Bell, Mrs. Mal Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. John House and three daughters, Lucy, Marie and Helen, and Mr. and Mrs. James House of Greenwich.

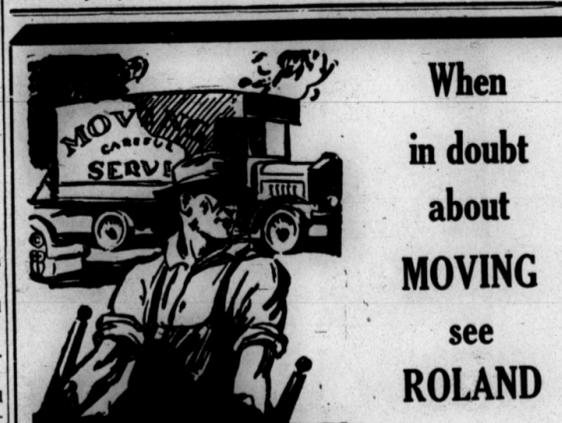

Mrs. Laws of Herndon is the house guest of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. M. K. Putman.

SIREN PLAYED BY MYRNA LOY

Myrna Loy, who plays one of the featured roles of "A Connecticut Yankee," the Will Rogers picture which comes July 22-23 to the Dixie theatre, was at the time of the production of the picture "the girl the movies would not allow to be good."

Fate, and undiscerning Hollywood casting directors, had ordained that she could play nothing but slinky, exotic creatures, and it was some time before she could assert herself as the wholesome, lovable person she actually is.

THE OLD P. O. BUILDING

Flanking Pennsylvania avenue, its dark, rugged lines in sharp contrast with the bright marble newness of other structures in the Federal triangle, the old Post Office Building still endures. Its continued presence there constitutes a source of wonderment to every one who sees it. The interesting story of this building, now an architectural anachronism, is told in an illustrated feature which will appear in The Star next Sunday, July 19.

CATHARPIN

Well, how are you feeling. How did you and the Weather Man get along during those sizzling sozzlers? Pretty tough, weren't they?

Mrs. L. J. Pattie of Belle Farm, who has been confined to her room during the past week or so, is much better and able to be around again.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Onley and daughters of Clarendon were Oakwood visitors on Sunday last. It seems that "thermometers" were as much in evidence down there as out here.

Mrs. E. S. Clary, after spending several weeks visiting her sister, Mrs. J. W. Alvey of Catharpin, returned to her home in Lawrenceville, Va., last week accompanied by her two nephews, Robert and Lynn Alvey, who will sojourn in that city for a week or two.

Miss Annie Troth, who together with Mrs. L. L. Lynn at one time, constituted the faculty of the Catharpin school, spent Sunday last in the Lynn home enjoying the day with old friends again.

At the County 4-H Contest Day recently held at Lake Jackson. Miss Betty Brower, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Bower of Catharpin, won first place in the Correct Dress Contest for church and street attire, and second place in Health Contest.

Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Hughes of near Catharpin announce the arrival of a little daughter, Betty Ann, who came to take up her abode with the family on Friday of last week much to the delight of the little brothers and sister of the home.

Mr. P. B. Senseney of Groveton is now a patient in Walter Reed Hospital, Washington, suffering from an injury received while working on a building near his home one day last week. Mr. Senseney has not been in robust health of late and it is hoped his hospital treatment may restore him to health.

People in the Catharpin, Groveton and Stone House neighborhoods are having a lot to talk about just now. The drought and heat, apparently a thing of the past, the people are turning their attention to the "big doings" at the Henry House on the 21st when all are looking for the "Biggest thing that ever came down the pike." And another thing of much interest is the prospect that the Bull Run Power Co. will soon have its lines extended to this section, work on which is now progressing with the hope of having it as far as Stone House by the 21st. While the Battle Field is wonderfully interesting, it, never-the-less is transient, while the power line is supposed to remain with us forever, a service devoutly to be wished. May both the Battle Field and the Power Line succeed beyond their wildest expectations.

Catharpins, during the past fortnite, has been having some new experiences. By and with the consent of the "Weather Man," she has been indulging in a few record breakers of her own and in consequence has joined the balance of the country in establishing a few "altitudes" which are destined to keep "the oldest inhabitants" busy for a long time to come. Her thermometers, upon reaching the 120 degree mark in the sun, simply blew up and refused to have anything more to do with it. However, they were a little more considerate in the shade and stood up under the 102 and 106 degree marks in the various sections as well as could be expected of any good, well intentioned thermometer; but those "top notchers" were just plain scorchers and not to be endured. To add to the general drought and heat discomforts, when the storm did break, it, too, broke a lot of records. Uprooted trees, wasted cornfields, water gaps and bridges gone or damaged, all, tell the tale; but if the lightning with its thundering accompaniment, has ever played a more vivid fanfare over the heads of man, there is no "oldest inhabitant" to tell about it. Telephone poles by the score were destroyed and "hi-jinks" just kicked up every place, so in final analysis, and as far as any one knows, the whole thing throughout was a record breaker beyond the ken of man to produce a parallel.

To The Editor

out of it" group? Maybe Mr. Roland will answer this question, and also admit the authorship of the letter, which will be informative to all interested persons, whether they are "voters" or not, and whether they are residents of this County, or just from Gainesville District.

Now Mr. Editor, and Readers of the Journal, and that includes the "voters," the long and the short, and the big and the little of this thing, and what is disturbing Mr. Roland is that he was interested in a certain applicant for the position of the Superintendent of Public Welfare, which this County was considering establishing in joint responsibility with the State Board of Public Welfare made possible by a recent act of the General Assembly of Virginia, and he perceived that there was some opposition to the applicant he was interested in, and deliberately called a special meeting of the Board of Supervisors for a date when he knew that three members of the Board of Supervisors would be absent as they had been elected as delegates, and indicated they would attend the State Democratic Convention at Norfolk, Va., on the date and called by Mr. Roland, and their names published in the Manassas Journal, which Mr. Roland is, apparently, a very consistent reader and writer, and as evidence of his knowledge of this fact, he told Supervisor Huff, of Brentsville District, in Manassas, when reminded that it would not be possible to have a full Board present at this special called meeting, for the reason above recited, that "it would be better if some members of the Board were not there." Now, the readers, and particularly these inquisitive "voters," should know these facts thus enabling them to decide if Mr. Roland was not "playing politics," and whether he was interested in saving the County $50.00 expense of a special meeting to the tax payers of the County, and they should be enlightened so that they may determine which "group" or what "group" Mr. Roland was in, (referring to the above two classifications named by Mr. Roland—the one that is "against it," and the other that is "for it for what they can get out of it"), when he rushed post-haste to the Manassas Journal office to have inserted in the issue coming from press on even date of our last meeting, July 9, a news item or notice captioned "May Lose State Aid," which in brief, set forth that should the State refuse to approve the selection of the Board of Supervisors, the name submitted by them for the position of County Superintendent of Public Welfare, that it would cost the County $100.00 per month for several months.

I do not for one moment, seriously believe that any informed person of the County, when acquainted with all the facts, will believe that the present Board of Supervisors would permit such an obviously unreasonable condition to continue, and I don't think Mr. Roland believes it either, nor do I believe that these "voters" that Mr. Roland is so much concerned about, will believe that the Board of Supervisors will permit the expenditure of such a sum to continue without service or value received.

Now, in explanation, after the regular meeting of the Board, prior to July 9, when the matter of Welfare Superintendent was under consideration, I began making some inquiries as to where and who was available that could qualify under conditions and requirements set forth by the State Welfare Department for this new position, that could be obtained locally in our County, without regard to my District, and in response, and resulting therefrom, the name of a lady was suggested to me by some informed and interested persons who were not any particular friend of the would-be applicant who was finally selected by the Board at its last meeting. I did not know the lady in question at the time, but my investigation of her has been satisfactory, and she has come highly endorsed from people competent to know, and void of any political intriguing whatsoever. She has satisfied the majority of the Board, and they have selected her, and it behooves Mr. Roland to now gracefully accept the majority view of the Board of which he is a member, and he will do well to follow the example of the member that voted in the minority with him, I refer to the Rev. Murray Taylor, when he gave his reason before voting against the lady, that his judgment and duty dictated that he vote as he would, but he wished for, and hoped for her success, and had the highest personal regard and appreciation for her, but that his considered conviction was not such as to justify his voting for her. He properly then pledged her his co-operation, and likewise the Board and State in its undertaking of this very important work. If he will do this too, and minimize the disappointment that unfortunately follows in contests for positions of a selective or appointed nature, and not try to focus any resentment toward members who voice their considered judgment in line of duty, he will be acting with wisdom. We all know that this undertaking is largely an experiment, and that the Board can rescind its former action and make another selection if it has made a mistake, and we will accept the responsibility, those who have voted with the majority, and those who have endorsed and highly recommended this applicant, which includes the highly reputable physicians, and the many business and professional people of the County who have spoken their minds without political bias. They will acknowledge, as all big and broad minded people do, that they made a mistake.

I will thank you, Mr. Editor, to publish this in your next issue, with my signature as below.

Yours truly,
G. C. Russell,
Woodbridge.
