

W. C. T. U. HEARS OF CONVENTION

July Meeting Features Discussion of Prohibition Era.

The Women's Christian Temperance Union met at the home of Mrs. Embrey. The devotional was in charge of the Evangelistic leader, Mrs. Harrell. Very interesting parts of the talks of the speakers at the National Convention in Tulsa, Oklahoma, were given by several of the members. One paper told of North Dakota having a majority of more than 25,000 dry votes in the primary of June 24 when the wets tried to gain this state where in its forty-seven years of Statehood liquor has never been legalized.

Thousands of children wore buttons saying "Please vote dry for me." Stickers were used saying "For Youth's sake, please vote against liquor."

Mrs. Chitamber of India said of her first visit to America in 1924 during the Prohibition era. Such prosperity, such happiness, such kindly care of the poor, sick, and aged and the wonderful freedom from evidence of the liquor traffic, seemed almost impossible to be true. So impressed by the blessings America was enjoying through prohibition. She went back home and with her associates sent petitions and resolutions to the government of India that the country adopt the same standard. She said "Our argument was if a great country like America can be dry, we can be dry, too."

In 1932 when she and her husband Bishop Chitamber came again to the United States to the General Conference it seemed America had lost her idealism and much of her Christianity for she said "All we heard was lack of money and fear of repeal, but little evidence of vigorous Church fight against it."

She is here again in 1936 and says the General Conference was a great inspiration, everywhere in the churches she was finding a renewed spiritual outlook and reinvigorated program for opposition to the liquor traffic. She said "I believe America is turning back to God and will win out, for it has always been true that 'Righteousness exalteth a nation.'"

The speaker on Sunday afternoon, Miss Amelia Earhart, is a most notable example of the successful career built on the total abstinence principle. The great auditorium filled to overflowing with young men and women and older people, who were fascinated by her charm and enthusiasm.

As she told her story of her flight over the Atlantic and other flights. "You may be interested to know" she said in this connection "that I have never used stimulants of any kind, I would be afraid to." "The commercial airlines you no doubt know," she continued "have a standard rule that no pilot may take a drink (of any alcoholic beverage) within twenty-four hours of a scheduled flight. To violate this rule means instant dismissal."

Pictures and advertising are made so attractive the inference to be drawn from them is that people who drink get along in business, make money, etc.

Literally millions of young men and women have come to the conclusion to succeed in business they must drink, if they are to get on socially they must not only attend cocktail parties but also give them. They need publicity to correct their false impressions.

In this machine age, with its speed in automobiles, airplanes, and elsewhere, men and women must have quick, clear minds, prompt judgments, and decisive character.

The youth must understand that the repeated use of liquor tends to destroy all these.

T. B. X-RAY CLINIC

At the tuberculin X-ray clinic for the detection of early cases of tuberculosis held during the week of July 13 at Manassas. 24 children were tested. From the tests made 11 new cases. Children were found to have been infected at some time with the germ that causes tuberculosis. 28 children were X-rayed, and the parents informed that a report would be sent to their family physician who would advise them as to what they should do to maintain the health of their child.

9 new cases of adults were examined, and 23 new and old cases of adults were X-rayed. Reports of these examinations were sent to the respective physicians.

Over 50 cases of tuberculosis out of 100 in adults are contracted during childhood. If the cases are found early, it is easy to fortify the body

FIELD DAY AT HAYMARKET

Bull Run Grange will stage the annual Field Day at Haymarket on August 14, beginning at 10 a.m. The committee has made every effort to make this event the most successful of any and promise a good program of sports and entertainment.

The sports begin at 10 a.m. At 10:30 a baseball game will be featured between married and single men and the horse show goes on at 11 o'clock.

At 2 p.m. a baseball game between Bethel and Haymarket promises much in the way of entertainment and at 3:30 the tournament will be held.

Tournaments have come down to the present time from the middle ages and the manner in which this ancient sport is carried on in Virginia never fails to interest the spectators.

Dancing in the evening from 10 to 2, with special music will conclude the day events. Throughout the day refreshments will be sold on the ground.

The Haymarket event is an annual institution in Prince William County and will attract a large gathering.

WARREN COUNTY CENTENNIAL

Notable Celebration Will Be Held August 7 to 9.

The Founding of Warren County, Virginia, will be celebrated on August 7, 8 and 9 at Front Royal. These dates will mark the hundredth anniversary of the founding of the county.

Mr. Q. D. Gasque of Front Royal is chairman of the celebration and every effort has been made to make the occasion one of the most notable of events in northern Virginia. By pageantry and other means the history of this interesting county will be presented, with reenactments of stirring events from frontier days, through the War Between the States and up to its present progress and prosperity.

The Governor of Virginia and many other distinguished officials of State and Nation have been invited and over 500 descendants of the pioneer residents of the county will participate in colorful pageantry. The churches of the county will hold centennial services on Sunday, August 9, and a most cordial invitation has been extended to everybody to visit Warren County, a famous community for natural beauty and historical interest.

LAWN PARTY TO FEATURE SPEAKING

Approximately 100 out of the county visitors, besides the guest speakers, are expected at the booster rally of District Five, O. F. A., which will be held on Saturday evening on the court house green.

As advertised, a lawn party will proceed the speaking and food and refreshments will be served to the visitors at a low cost.

The date was set before it was generally known that this was the final evening of the Fireman's Carnival at Manassas and it was much too late to consider recalling the many invitations which had been mailed to outsiders to come.

On account of the nearness to the carnival grounds it is possible that the speaking may be transferred to the high school building, especially if the weather is inclement. Announcement of that fact will be made on the evening itself.

Due to conditions stated, the speaking will begin promptly at eight o'clock when State President Shade will address the audience. Other speakers will include Col. J. H. Trimmer, State Treasurer of the organization; O. B. Hopkins, past State President; Mrs. Viola Dale, past State officer, Daughters of America, and George D. Baker, past District Deputy. J. M. Bell will preside over the exercises.

The hour set for the lawn party is a little indefinite, having been generally scheduled as six p. m. The period will continue until 8 o'clock when the speaking will begin on scheduled time.

The public generally is cordially invited to attend and learn something about these two fraternal groups.

against the inroads of the disease.

Children showing a positive tuberculin reaction to the test are rarely, if ever, spreaders of the disease, and so in most instances it is not necessary to take the infected child from school, but it is necessary to see that the habits of the child as to eating, sleeping, and exercises are properly regulated.

Where We Stand

Landon's speech of acceptance was delivered in due form and brought into the open the attacks on the Democratic party that have been going on under cover and with steady force since March 4, 1933.

The people of the United States are used to bombast on political years and within the memory of man, have had experience with both parties along these lines. The Republicans are great on whispered campaigns and greater still on oratorical outbursts regarding the other fellow's short comings. The history of all their party planks is largely a history of what the other fellow has not done.

The American people have passed through a tornado in the last three years. Coolidge saw it coming and he "did not choose to run."

In the late winter of 1932 the storm was at the high point of intensity. Daily headlines carried increasing news of business failures, shrinking values, and closing banks. Hordes of hungry men were mobilizing and women were fighting for bread for their children.

Republican leaders saw the storm, but drunk with greed and carried on by the swollen tide of Wall Street margins, they played too long for a safety retreat.

Hoover plead with Roosevelt to take the government over before the Fourth of March. Such a thing never happened before in this country. On the fifth day of March 1933 Roosevelt closed the banks. This saved the day. He moved at once to mobilize business and restore confidence. When an earthquake has demoralized a community it takes time to rebuild. An earthquake shook America and it has taken time to rebuild.

That mistakes have been made since 1932 is certain, but the American people have seen and weathered mistakes in government before. What we are going to vote for this fall is continued certainty in business and not allow ourselves to be confused by shouts of a defeated foe.

In 1865, the darkest hour of Southern history, Abraham Lincoln had made the Constitution of the United States a "scrap of paper" and the South was under mob rule with gaunt starvation stalking the land.

Today we stand on the pinnacle of success and progress. Does any native born Southerner think that the Republican party helped this?

Next November we shall not vote for or against the New Deal. We are not voting for destroyers of Jeffersonian Democracy or enemies of the Constitution, for most of these went out of business with the Lincoln regime, the strongest advocates of such destruction, and the parent of all such as hate the South.

We will not allow ourselves to become confused with strange issues as we did in 1928.

OUR PARTY CALLS US TO THE COLORS, AND OUR ANSWER IS "HERE"

HOMEMAKERS CHANGE DATE OF MEETING

Due to disappointment in plans for the program the August meeting of the County Homemakers' Association has been postponed. The time and place of meeting will be announced later.

KIWANIS WELCOMES OLD RESIDENT

The Kiwanis met Friday evening in an aftermath of the battle celebration, but all in happiness and good cheer at the great success for which the entire community contributed its share mutually.

Not at a loss for a program, Ted Didlake flashed another in the shape of the club's third greatest orator, Arthur Boatwright. This was the second time in one month that Arthur had contributed directly or indirectly to an entertaining program.

Reference was made to the origin of the battlefield celebration in the Kiwanis Club, and Ed Conner spoke of how the first steering committee got into action, this committee consisting of himself, Arthur Boatwright and Bill Cocke.

It was a genuine pleasure to welcome Dr. Joseph Hornbaker, native of the town and now residing at St. Petersburg, Fla., where he joined the Kiwanis International.

LOCAL STUDENT PILOT MAKES SOLO FLIGHT

Samuel Hotte, sixteen year old aviation enthusiast of Manassas, made his solo flight early this week from the local airport after completing a course of instruction given by Beacon Field, Inc., Alexandria, Virginia. Mr. Hotte has shown unusual aptitude in flying airplanes and his instructor has predicted a bright future for the youthful aviator.

The Journal Office takes pardonable pride in having, at one time or other, employed the services of both Mr. Hotte and Mr. Compton, who are at present the only pilots residing in Manassas, the latter now representing Beacon Field's flying service at the local airport.

A SUN-FLOWER EGG

The hen responsible for the above pictured "sun-flower egg" is the property of Mrs. H. C. Speakes of Dumfries.

It was laid on the day that the Governor of the Sunflower State made his acceptance speech as Republican nominee for President.

Just why the hen should have laid such an egg at this particular time is an outstanding political problem and threatens to become the subject of much heated discussion in the days to come. Could it be that the hen became alarmed over the prospect of a repetition of the old Republican threat to place "a chicken in very pot?"

BIG POTATOES

Mr. Tom Beavers of Spriggs Ford has raised a fine patch of potatoes with mighty little rain this year. He will get back more than twenty fold for what he planted last spring. Saturday morning, several potatoes weighing nearly a pound, were brought into the Journal office and one of them kept for exhibit.

MOTORCADE STARTS AT MANASSAS

Mayor Davis, of Manassas, may be seen at left of line; fourth from him to the right is A. S. Boatwright, also of Manassas.

ANENT THE BATTLE FIELD COMMITTEES

In stating the names of committee chairmen in last week's Journal, a request to publish the full names of the original "steering" committee of the Kiwanis Club on the battlefield celebration was not complied with.

Assisting Mr. Conner on this committee were Messrs. Boatwright and Cocke. A full account of the activities of this and other committees was given in detail in this issue of March 12.

All of the names of the committee chairmen have been published at least twice in many publications and the public given every opportunity to ascertain who the workers were.

RETURN FROM SHORT COURSE

Prince William Was Well Represented at Blacksburg.

The 17th Annual 4-H State Short Course was concluded on the Virginia Tech drill field at Blacksburg, Friday night, July 24, with impressive ceremonies wherein eighty-four Virginia farm boys and girls were made members of the All-Stars, a 4-H Honorary Organization.

The Prince William Club members, Margaret Burdette, Occoquan; Billy Hale, Nokesville; and Billy Harpine, Nokesville, were among those elected to membership from throughout the State in the organization.

The County Delegation composed of Margaret Blakemore, Margaret Burdette, Charlotte Thompson, Mary Carter, Esther Muddiman, Anna Lee Brown, Lucy Johnson, Anne Cebula, and Miss Flora Bullock, John C. Russell, Billy Hale, Billy Harpine, Edward Russell, Francis Tracey, John Slovenski, and Alan Staples, returned home Saturday afternoon from the State Short Course which was held at Blacksburg from July 20 to 25.

TYSON JANNEY

Tyson Janney, prominent layman in the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and representative from the House of Delegates from Prince William and Stafford for the term beginning 1908, died late Tuesday night at a Washington hospital after a rather brief illness.

Mr. Janney was born in Occoquan very shortly after the close of the War Between the States, his parents being Joseph and Edith Hunter Janney. He spent a good deal of his life in that community and where his son, Harvey, is now in business.

He was always intensely interested in the civic betterment of his community as well as in promoting church leadership. Instruction of religious workers was quite a hobby with him and he was very capable in this field.

For many years before his death he was head of the Janney-Marshall Grocery Company and more lately president of the Independent Mutual Fire Insurance Company of Fairfax County.

He is survived by his wife, Helen Meta Janney, and the following children: Mrs. George Taylor, and Douglas, Joseph and John Janney. One son, Harvey Janney, is a resident of Occoquan. He also leaves several brothers and sisters.

Funeral services are being conducted tomorrow afternoon and interment will follow in the old Presbyterian Cemetery in Alexandria.

CHARLES B. WEATHERHOLTZ

Word was received here this week of the death of Charles B. Weatherholtz, a former resident of Manassas and who was living at Womelsdorf, Pa., at the time of his death.

Mr. Weatherholtz, for many years, lived in the Nokesville vicinity, later moving into Manassas, where he operated the ice factory.

Funeral services were held from his residence Wednesday and the body laid to rest in Sinking Spring Cemetery there.

Mr. Weatherholtz had many friends in this community.

GARDEN CLUB HOLDS MEETING

The Manassas Garden Club held its regular meeting on the spacious porch of Mrs. R. A. Hutchison Tuesday morning, July 28 at 10:00 a.m.

Many very beautiful flower exhibits were brought. Concluding the meeting was a round table discussion.

MARRIAGE RECORD

July 30—Norvelle Franklin Herring and Garnette Marie Davis, both of Woodbridge.

LEGION NAMES JAMISON HEAD

Prince William Post Has Had Excellent Commanders.

American Legion Post 158 held its regular meeting last Thursday evening in the town hall, at which time officers for the incoming year were elected.

Captain Howard Jamison was named to succeed Mr. Paul Scott Williams as Commander. Mr. Williams has served the Post quite efficiently and under his able leadership, the Post has accomplished some very fine work.

Other officers elected were Dr. H. E. Pickeral, senior vice-commander; Mr. Moss Jacobs of Haymarket, junior vice-commander; Miss Margaret Lynch, adjutant; Rev. John DeChant, chaplain, and Mr. Eugene Davis, sergeant-at-arms.

At the next meeting, which will be held the second Tuesday in August, these new officers will be installed and Commander Jamison will have a list of committee and their assigned duties.

The large crowd, which was present, was much appreciated and it is hoped that as many will be in attendance at the next meeting. All members are requested to note that previously all meetings were held the second Thursday in each month. Effective immediately all meetings will be held the second Tuesday in each month.

4-H CLUB CAMP AT JAMESTOWN

Prince William 4-H Club boys and girls, along with boys and girls from other Northern Virginia Counties will again participate in the annual Northern Virginia 4-H Short Course at Jamestown from August 10 to 15.

The Jamestown 4-H Camp, originally made possible through the assistance of the Norfolk and Western Railroad, is ideally located just across the inlet from Jamestown Island. The buildings, consisting of a large recreation and dining hall with county cottages for girls on one side and for boys on the other, form a semi-circle facing a safe and gently sloping beach on the James River. There are ample grounds for baseball, tennis, volley ball and other games.

The usual courses in farm and home subjects will be offered. The State Capitol will be visited en route to Jamestown and points of historical interest at Yorktown and Williamsburg will be visited during the week.

Adult women and men 4-H leaders from the County will accompany the youngsters and instruction will be given by members of the V. P. I. faculty.

Since 4-H camping facilities are being provided by the National Park Service in Chopawamsic Park, future county and district short courses will likely be held there, and this may be the last opportunity that Prince William Club members will have to attend the Jamestown Camp as a group.

The attendance from the County since 1930, our first year there, has increased each year and in 1934 two buses were necessary to take care of the County delegation. The Camp was not held in 1935 because of the general infantile paralysis quarantine.

V. P. I. ALUMNI TO MEET

H. B. Redd, secretary of the general Alumni Association, Virginia Polytechnic Institute, announces that there will be a banquet meeting of all Virginia Tech alumni residing in Prince William, Orange, Rappahannock, Madison, Culpeper and Fauquier counties, Friday, August 7, at 7:00 p. m. at William Tea Room, United States Route 15 (three miles south of Culpeper) for the purpose of forming a chapter of the general Alumni Association. No funds for any purposes will be solicited at this meeting and all Tech men, whether graduates of the college or not, are urgently asked to be present.

Mr. Redd and a member of the college faculty will be present to assist in organizing the chapter and to tell about some of the ways in which such an organization can help build a bigger and better Virginia Tech. Some form of local entertainment will be arranged by a special committee. As far as their addresses are known, Mr. Redd has notified alumni of the college living in the territory as to this meeting, but no doubt there are many who are not on the alumni rolls. He asks that those who do know of the meeting notify any alumni whose names may not be on the list and urge them to attend the banquet.

Mrs. Herring had been an invalid for nearly 3 years, but was taken suddenly ill about one week before her death.

She bore her affliction with great patience. Her quiet unassuming ways, and beautiful Christian life were a model example for her children, grandchildren and all with whom she came in contact. She will be greatly missed in the home and community.

Mrs. Herring is survived by her husband, with whom she lived for 55 years, and 8 children, E. L. of Independent Hill, Wm. Charles, John, George and Bertha and Mrs. Ernest Hale, all of Nokesville, Va., and Quinter of Fredericksburg, fourteen grandchildren, and 3 great grandchildren.

The funeral was conducted by Rev. I. N. Beahm and N. J. Miller at the Valley Church of the Brethren Sunday, July 26.

The pallbearers were her four grandsons, Eugene, Lloyd and Charles Herring, jr. and Ernest Hale, jr., 2 grandsons-in-law, George Sterling and Jack Lloyd.

The large crowd and beautiful floral contributions was a testimony of the high esteem in which she was held.

A CAPITAL VACATION

At this season, Washingtonians may long for the shore or the mountains, but not so those relatives of Washington people who live outside the Nation's Capital. The latter all seem to want to come here for their vacations, with the result that Washington is one of America's most popular vacation areas.

Just where the city stands in this respect is described in an illustrated feature which will appear in The Star next Sunday, August 2.

TODAY In Politics . .

by Geo. Dent

Quoting from the Declaration of Independence and incidentally from the 1936 New Deal platform: "We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal—"

That settles the argument . . . We accept the truth, and take it as a matter of fact, that all men are created equal, and promptly go out in our own individual way and proceed to make as many different kinds of Jackasses of our selves as we severally desire . . . But our forefathers, with an eye open towards the far end of the road decided that we needed a constitution, and 11 years after the Declaration of Independence a constitution was ratified by a convention (September 17, 1787) and declared in effect on the first Wednesday in March 1789.

Virginia tho't very little of the Constitution . . . It was true, Virginia had her George Washington there as President and deputy . . . And by virtue of their membership in Congress John Blair and James Madison, Jr., signed the original constitution . . . But Virginia did not ratify the constitution for nearly a year (June 26, 1788) and even then it was a close call, 89 for 79 against.

Patrick Henry, the mouth piece of the revolution, was opposed to such an American creed . . . In fact the air was full of such opposition . . . Of the 13 original states to ratify the constitution only three voted unanimously, Delaware, December 7, 1787; New Jersey, December 18, 1787; Georgia, June 2, 1788 . . . Rhode Island did not ratify until May 29, 1790, and then by a vote of 34 to 32 . . . New York's vote was 30 to 27.

If the twentieth century radio and the modern press had been in use in those days, Patrick Henry would have tied a millstone around the embryo constitution and exultantly dropped it overboard . . . In the light of present day knowledge, would Senator Glass, if he had been a contemporary of Henry's walked arm and arm, cheek to cheek, jowl to jowl and stood four square with the great orator?

Patrick Henry was a revolutionist and so was Thomas Jefferson . . . Time hasn't moved since the days of Henry, but we as a nation and as individuals have moved . . . Henry was alert in mind, and whenever he found the times right for a change he did not quibble words, he proceeded to act . . . In 1763, in the celebrated Parson's Cause, he pleaded for equality and justice in behalf of the plain people and assailed the established church in burning words . . . One score and one years later, while a member of the Virginia legislature, he introduced a bill providing for a general tax on everybody for the support of the various Christian denominations . . . During the elapse of 21 years Patrick Henry had made a considerable change, and if it had not been for Jefferson and Madison at this time vigorously opposing such a tax we would not have had Virginia's Statute for Religious Freedom in 1786 . . .

If Patrick Henry were living today we doubt very much whether his mind would be controlled by what Senator Glass thinks he would think. Those were the ox-cart days—but, even so—their minds were not cast in a concrete mould, never to change; they were not mummified and buried in a dark cell of an ancient pyramid to be opened in the twentieth century by our distinguished Senator and he (Glass) alone reading their minds.

1787 when the Constitution was being drafted our founding-fathers talked over and over a change in the constitution . . . They reasoned together and naturally tho't that changes would be needed to meet the future. So in Article 5 they set forth exactly how to proceed when a change or amendment was deemed necessary . . . They built the house for their immediate need, but being optimistic they felt quite sure the family would grow, so they arranged the main building for rooms to be added or taken away without marring the beauty of the main building.

A few months after the constitution was ratified there was opposition in and out of Congress relative to individual and state rights . . . Accordingly, the first congress, at its first session in the city of New York adopted and submitted to the states 12 proposed amendments . . . Ten of these amendments were ratified, (generally known as "A Bill of Rights") New Jersey was the first state to ratify and Virginia two years later . . . No ratification by Connecticut, Georgia or Massachusetts is on record . . . These amendments were declared in force the same day Virginia ratified, December 15, 1791.

From that day on there has been amendments; and when an occasion arises to meet certain national exigencies we can see no harm—no plague of flies—no smiting of the first born to propose an amendment to make the old document flexible enough to carry on and keep American civilization off the rocks.

In 1908, when Charles Evans Hughes was governor of New York he wrote: "We are under a constitution, but the constitution is what the judges say it is." Today, the same Charles Evans Hughes is Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States.

After the Civil war Congress cut the number of Justices from 9 to 7 to prevent President Johnson from getting control of the court; and three years later the number was restored to nine.

The decision on the legal tender act by the court of seven was not relished by the (then) powerful railroads . . . President Grant appointed two railroad lawyers as Justices and with a bench of 9 the Legal Tender Act was reversed.

Further, in view of the 4 to 5 decisions of the Supreme Court it appears that the constitution can be and is construed according to what the judges say it is.

When Senator Glass thinks he knows what the Supreme Court's decision will be on a certain act of Congress, I wonder if he ever stopped to think that the constitution is what the judges say it is and that they all do not think alike . . .

The Republican National Committee could not have written a better speech for Senator Glass to be delivered on the Patrick Henry day in Ashland . . .

In view of the fact that the Democratic party has formed a new party known as the New Deal party, and Senator Glass finds that he is unable to co-operate whole heartedly with the new party, we suggest that the Senator ask for a berth in the "Turn back, turn back, O time in your flight" and arrange for a ticket to Detroit August 7 . . . There he will meet Ex-Senator Reed, of Missouri; Brainbridge Colby, Secretary of State under Wilson and former Gov. Jos. B. Eley of Massachusetts, with a fair chance of greeting the Brown Derby, Mr. Alfred Smith.

AN ACKNOWLEDGEMENT TO DELEGATE HERRING

Preliminary, but reliable estimates, recently issued from Richmond indicate that the profits of the Virginia ABC system for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1936, exceed all estimated amounts, running as high as 50 cents per capita on the amounts alone returned to the localities. More than three and a half million dollars have been turned in to the State treasury through the alcoholic beverage administration.

Release of these figures calls to mind the fight made by Hon. George W. Herring, who then represented Prince William and Stafford in the General Assembly. Against formidable opposition, Mr. Herring fought hard for recognition of local needs in the distribution of liquor traffic profits.

Quoting from a Richmond daily paper of February 6 of that year we find Mr. Herring recognized as the leader of the movement which finally culminated in victory for the localities:

"Another fight by cities and counties to share prospective liquor profits will be precipitated shortly by Delegate George W. Herring, of Prince William county. The Northern Virginia leader revealed tonight he had begun drafting a bill which would give political subdivisions 50 per cent of the revenue from the operation of State liquor dispensaries."

Now that these revenues are being returned to the counties for needed local use, there are many claimants for the honor, but the facts are that George Herring was the originator of the measure and deserves due credit for securing these valuable revenues for this and the other counties of Virginia.

(Questions That Are Asked About Banking)

"Do Banks coin money or issue currency?"

THIS question has been asked by some people who desire a clearer understanding of our money system in this country.

Banks do not coin money. Money is coined by the Federal government mints under authority given to Congress by Section 8 of the Constitution which says: "The Congress shall have power to coin money and regulate the value thereof."

The banks of the country (except the 12 Federal Reserve Banks) do not issue currency. This function is exercised by the Treasury of the United States. The 12 Federal Reserve Banks issue Federal Reserve Notes. National banks formerly issued National Bank Notes but that authority was terminated by an Act of Congress.

The bank is glad to answer further questions about our American monetary system.

"Ford Engine Exchange Plan big money saver for me"

Read how this truck operator is getting extra service from his Ford V-8 hauling equipment... besides cutting operating and upkeep costs...

Mr. COMBS' experience is typical of that of thousands of truck owners all over the country who have taken advantage of this exclusive Ford plan.

The Ford engine exchange plan enables you to exchange your worn motor for an engine which has been completely reconditioned at the Ford factory with factory machines and methods and new parts—at a cost considerably less than that for an ordinary "overhaul" job. A factory-reconditioned engine can be expected to perform practically like a new one and to stand up the same way.

The plan also applies to many other vital parts of Ford V-8 trucks and commercial cars. The cost of these parts installed also represents a substantial saving over the usual "repair" charges.

When you choose a new truck be guided by Mr. Combs' experience. Choose the only truck that gives you V-8 power and stamina plus this extra time and money saving feature.

Gentlemen:

Some time ago we standardized on Ford V-8 Trucks for use in our laundry business. Our prime reason for doing this was economy of operation. Our previous experience with Fords has proved that their overall cost of operation and upkeep was lower than other trucks in the same work, and this economy was further magnified by the exclusive Ford Factory Engine Exchange Plan. This plan has proved a big money saver for me by eliminating long layups for repairs and greatly increasing truck service life. We have found that the reconditioned engines operate as smoothly and economically as new ones and have stood up splendidly. Our drivers report no trouble and are more than happy with their performance.

Yours very truly,

L. Lee Combs

HERE'S WHAT YOU GET IN A FORD FACTORY-RECONDITIONED ENGINE

A Ford Factory Reconditioned engine is a complete motor assembly consisting of a cylinder block with mirror finish cylinder bores, new main bearings, crankshaft with journals and crank-pins, new pistons and piston rings and connecting rods like new. All worn parts are replaced and recent improvements are included in many cases. The engine assemblies are block tested and pass a rigid factory inspection.
