RELIEF FUNDS ARE APPROVED

Welfare Director Announces Allotments.

The State Department of Public Welfare announced this week that 72 counties and 20 cities had applied for funds totaling $704,992.72 under the 1936 Virginia relief act.

The localities have appropriated $422,995.63 in matching the State funds to the extent of 60 per cent required by the relief bill, providing a total of $1,127,988.35 for the aid of destitute persons.

James W. Phillips, director of the bureau of organization and supervision, said the department in July approved 58 county and 15 city applications involving $566,676.99 in State funds, and that relief setups in 50 counties and 12 cities, for which the State had allocated $114,591.44 and the localities $68,805.44, already were in operation.

Counties and cities with approved applications have appointed their workers and the public welfare units and social service bureaus have been established. The amounts actually transferred to these localities represent one quarter of the amount applied for and approved.

"As fast as the local governing bodies meet, the remaining counties and cities that have already had their applications approved will select and appoint their welfare workers."

Communities have encountered little difficulty in matching the State fund and are finding the provisions of the relief act adaptable to their needs.

"A few communities, not anticipating the need for the full amount, are applying for some part of the sum they are entitled to as in their opinion is sufficient, together with local matching funds to take care of the relief needs," Mr. Phillips explained.

Mr. Phillips pointed out that the department, in accordance with its previous announced policy, was limiting approval of workers to graduate social workers, social workers who have had experience and training as successful social workers, and to those who as aids or visitors have had some experience in relief and welfare work and who have demonstrated their aptitude for training and improvement.

"This standard and policy of approval was enthusiastically approved by practically all of the counties and cities of the State," he said. "It gave sufficient flexibility to permit the smaller counties to secure capable workers within the limits of funds available for administrative purposes."

Without exception every county and city of the State making application for State relief funds has been able to submit for departmental approval the names of workers approvable under this standard. The majority have been willing to go much past the minimum."

New relief setups have been completed in 33 counties and cities and former workers approved in 32 others.

The following allotments have been approved for nearby areas and the names of the selected welfare workers are included where selection has been made:

Albemarle $10,305, Frances Southall; Arlington $10,165, Mrs. Mae Jacobs; Culpeper $5,082, Miss Lucy Carr; Fairfax $9,649, Mrs. Pearl Edler; Fauquier $8,047, Mrs. Ruth Thompson; Loudoun $7,582, Mrs. Blanche Melvin; Louisa $2,500; Orange $4,610; Prince William, $5,328; Alexandria $9,223, Miss Barbara Watkins.

MARRIAGE RECORD

August 15—James Edwin Curtis of Oakton and Frances M. Allison of Manassas.

Most Successful of Many Events by Bull Run Grange.

The largest crowd on record attended the annual Field Day and Tournament given by the Bull Run Grange last Saturday.

One of the outstanding events of the county, the occasion this year was declared to be one of the best ever held, particularly in the real enjoyment of the spectators. The day was friendly and the crowd especially orderly. There were no circumstances whatever to mar the pleasures of the day.

The sports began at 10 a. m. and the horse show at 11 o'clock was particularly good. The judges were Clay Bayley and W. B. Bullock. Winners were announced as follows:

Open jumping class: 1st, "Santa Claus" owned by Mrs. Amos; 2nd, "Pagoda" owned by Mr. and Mrs. Ned Barker; 3rd, "The Cat" by Mr. A. Fishback.

Three year olds and under: 1st, "Mayboy" by Mr. and Mrs. Ned Barker; 2nd, "Beau Weevil" by Alex. Calvert; 3rd, "Lady's Man" by Harry Lynn.

Green Hunter Class: 1st, "May Boy" owned by Mr. and Mrs. Ned Barker; 2nd, "Beau Weevil" by Alex. Calvert; 3rd, "Pagoda" by Mr. and Mrs. Ned Barker.

Following the judging, Mrs. Peters entertained the judges and friends at a delightful buffet luncheon and her charming hospitality was much appreciated as well as her generosity in making the grounds available for the event.

In the afternoon the ball game between Bethel and Haymarket resulted in a very decisive victory for Bethel. This event, scheduled before the Tournament, was actually carried out afterward and the tournament, considering the relatively small number of entries as compared to similar events in by-gone years, was well performed.

In accordance with the ancient procedure which has been handed down from generation to generation, the knights received a charge. This was delivered by "Senator" Ed Conner, who was a conspicuous and popular figure throughout the day. Mr. Conner's charge was particularly impressive, reviewing the history of the tournament and its significance today, and warning the knights, in the old time language, of the rules which were followed in ancient times and of the penalties prescribed for their infraction.

An amusing circumstance occurred during the tournament when one of the knights shattered the ring-support and Mr. Palmer Smith came to the rescue with his trusty model-T Ford and assisted in making the repairs necessary to renew the ancient contest.

Mr. Ed Conner acted as judge of the Tournament, being assisted by Miss Mildred Ewell, and an unusual circumstance was the fact that the horse which won both first and second place, under different riders, was the same, owned by Mr. Conner.

First place was won by F. P. Staples, riding as Knight of Manassas. Second was taken by Carl Smith, riding as the Knight of Haymarket.

Thomas Garth, riding as Walnut Hill, won third, Preston Smith, as Knight of Hagley, won fourth. Other entries included Harry Lynn, Knight of Bacon Hall, whose knightly poise captured the attention of the Journal photographer, and Billy Wright, Knight of Antioch.

The coronation address was delivered by Hon. Hawes Davies, Sr., whose knowledge of the institution of ancient chivalry and personal eloquence especially fitted him for the occasion. His remarks were appreciated and very much enjoyed by the spectators.

The coronation ball in the evening was a very pleasant affair. Miss Woolf had been designated as the Queen by the winning knight. Miss Margaret Latham was first maid of honor, Miss Helen Carter White second maid and Miss Jackson third. So ended one of the most enjoyable (Continued on back page)

ELECTROLUX PLAYS BIG ROLE IN JOHNSON'S BORNEO CAMP

In the heart of Borneo jungles where chattering monkeys swing from tree to tree and crocodiles bask in the sun along the Kinabatangan river, who would expect to find a modern Electrolux refrigerator, silently making ice cubes just as it does in the most up-to-date city dwelling? Mr. and Mrs. Martin Johnson, famed motion-picture explorers, who are now making a two-year stay in Borneo, have two Electrolux refrigerators with them as part of their scientific equipment. One of the refrigerators protects the photographic chemicals, the other provides cooling beverages for the exploring party during their visit to the hottest country in the world.

One of the most memorable days in the jungle was when the Borneo natives had their first taste of ice cream, made by Mrs. Johnson in the Electrolux, the same kind of frozen delicacy familiar to every American family these days. They liked it; they asked for more! But they were awed and dumfounded at the mysterious apparatus that could "make water come hard and cold." It was their first sight of ice. They had heard about ice and had vague notions about it, but never before had they touched ice or felt the sensation of cold.

These natives are familiar with machinery, for there have been other explorers in the country, and they were acquainted with gasoline engines. Thrilled as they were to ride in the Johnson's airplane, they heard the deafening roar of propeller and saw the motor. But they got down on their knees to peer into this strange, big white box that made no noise and had no machinery. They could not understand the little flame inside, and what that would have to do with the cold.

It may seem strange that an Electrolux could be used many hundreds of miles away from cities and "civilization." The refrigerators that the Johnsons are using are operated by kerosene, but they are the exact counterpart of the gas-operated Electrolux refrigerators to be found in more than half a million homes in the cities and towns of the United States.

Some of the natives assist Mr. Johnson in his dark room, and in this way they are becoming familiar with the phenomena of freezing with heat. Mr. Johnson's Electrolux is installed on the veranda of the raft and the natives carry developing tanks from the refrigerator to the dark room. In the dining hut, other natives assist Mrs. Johnson and her Chinese cook. The Johnsons are ardent Electrolux fans. They say that life in this hot, intensely humid country would be unbearable without the refreshing drinks and the other conveniences the Electrolux makes possible. They carry a thermos jug of ice cubes with them wherever they go. And without the second Electrolux, used for the photographic equipment, Mr. Johnson writes that it would have been impossible to make good films.

The pictures tell a graphic story of the expedition up to date. The airplane is the same one they took with them on their African trips, but it has been re-christened, "The Spirit of Africa and Borneo." To satisfy the Chinese helpers, they have painted an enormous eye on the plane, similar to that appearing on all Chinese junks. For centuries the Chinese have painted eyes on their boats so that they can see where to go.

Another picture shows a Chinese junk in Sanadakan harbor similar to the craft which bore the refrigerators down the Kinabatangan to the Johnson camp. These junks are just like those of hundreds of years ago, the crew consisting of the whole family, every one in turn working the craft, even the grandmother and the children. The Chinese have a junk with them near the camp.

The pictures of the orang-outangs are highly prized, for this member of the ape family is very difficult to approach. One of the aims of the expedition was to get good sound pictures of these elusive creatures. Small river monkeys, on the other hand, swarm undaunted into the camp, perch on the rafters of the grass hut, and make themselves at home.

These photographs will form part of the official pictorial record of the Borneo expedition to be kept by the American Museum of Natural History in New York City, a high distinction for photographs of this type. Besides bearing a fascinating story of the Borneo venture, they show how important and picturesque a role Electrolux is playing in the expedition.

The shooting of these photographs was considered an important event at the Johnson camp, for they feel that these pictures are some of the most valuable of any they have had. The sound films which they are making will be an unusually graphic record of an expedition memorable in the annals of exploration. Mr. Johnson regards the picture of the ice cream feast in the jungle one of the most interesting and unusual photographs he has ever taken, and he gets as much fun out of taking these unusual pictures as he does being out in the jungles. It was fun for Mrs. Johnson, too, for whom nothing is a chore.

A HILLBILLY'S LAMENT...

Good roads am takin' the place uv cross-lays—
They are bridgin' our creeks and bays—
They are destroyin' our chyggin bushes by the wayside,
And invitin' the tourist over fur a ride...
All our mudholes am bein' fill'd and made level,
And the screech uv brakes th toot uv horns sound's like the devil...
No longer ken we dig our tatters in peace-squash mud twix our toes;
The tourist am tootin' and fine roads am our woes...
The land uv a one-man gallus to hold up his pants
Am as thick with strangers as a fryin' pan with ants...
The old woman has to belt in her motherhubbard, silk stockin' her legs,
Fur there is a stranger on the main highwa' peepin' at her legs...
And to ketch the drip frum Johnnie's nose, he no longer can use his sleeve,
Fur thar am strangers jest outside the gate that hears him kough and sneeze...
Pappy has to wear his shoes when goin' to his hare traps,
Kaze thar am people frum other states gazin' at us saps...
Mary Lou jest frizzles her hair and paints 'em finger nails red,
Kaze sumday she expects to jest knock a tourist dead...
It is 'em highways that heva ben made smooth and wide.
That am causin' so much trouble to our peaceful country side...
Last nite old napulun wuz howlin' at the moon
Along cum a attymobil, at the wheel sat a coon,
An jest as old napulun howled a note in high C
The durn'd old attymobil tootod a note in G,
Old napulun seem'd down heart'd-and with tail twix his legs
Slunk out t'ward the hen hous' and sucked mammy's eggs...
Pappy got his musket and put in a minny ball
Aimed it at napulun and him fall...
It is 'em good roads so straight and wide
That am playin' heck with our country side...
What is a poor hillybillie gwyin' to do—
Ef yo' ax me i am gwyin' to ax you...

We use 'to mash our apples and squeeze out the juice
And have a sparklin' glass uv sizer fur our pussional use,
But since the attymobil cum's rushin' by our door
We don't hardly hav' time to bile our mush any mor'...
Mammy go's gallavantin' while pappy minds the kid,
Kaze 'em durn'd old attymobils hav' popped off the lid...
Grandpappy nighh ninty, not a tooth in his kisser
Is sparkin' the widow Jones and sweatss he is goin' to kiss-her...
He has bought a motor cycle with a basket on the side,
And now invites the widow out fur an even' ride...
When weals 'minded gran' pappy 'bout his rumatiz...
Durn'd ef he didn't rite up and says twinkle in his eye,
Gran' pappy then says, with a "mind yo'r own biz..."
"Wuz Abraham and Sarah old enuff to die?"
widow ynn sr'msaohh A A
He left off his redflannen and slipped on BVD
Went scootin' down the road the widow Jones to see...
He wuz goin' 80 miles with a stron' and steady nerve
When he met a attymobile cumin' 'round the curve,
They cleared 'way the wreckage, threw it to one side,
And buried gran' pappy in a few feet uv where he died...
It is changin' ps hillybillies into ordinary folk
That maes me so durn'd mad sometimes I nearly choke;

And ef I ever see another hill, with no good road in sight,
Where a hillybillie can settle down and have a restful nite,
I will bid farewell to all thi sscootin' and a tootin'
And go where I ken hear a treefrog croakin' and a hootowl hootin',
And there I'll build my log cabin and gaze at the stays,
And try to forget 'em things that civilization calls "kaysrs..."

NEW DEAL SAVES BANK DEPOSITORS

The friendly hand of Uncle Sam was stretched out last week to rescue thousands of bank depositors from the effects of two bank failures in eastern States. Had it not been for the protection afforded by the Roosevelt Administration, through passage of the bill providing insurance for bank deposits up to $5,000, every one of these depositors would have watched his life savings disappear when the banks went to the wall. Instead, they were paid off at the rate of 100 cents on the dollar within two weeks after the banks closed their doors.

The first failure was in the little town of East Hampton, in Connecticut. The local bank and trust company, with several thousand poor depositors, was the victim of dishonest officials and was obliged to close. It was one of the few bank failures in America since President Roosevelt took office. The little community was panic-stricken at the disaster, but calmed down when agents of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation appeared and took charge of the bank's tangled affairs.

VIRGINIA FOR ROOSEVELT

It is difficult for one not versed in the intricacies of Southern politics to appreciate how far criticisms may occur within the Democratic Party at the polls. It does not follow because many features of an Administration may be bitterly contested that the program as a whole is called into question.

This fact is becoming increasingly evident as the November election approaches and Virginia lines up solidly behind Roosevelt. In a conference with National Chairman Farley this week, State Chairman Murray expressed himself as feeling fully assured that Virginia was safe for Roosevelt, and his attitude certainly reflects the prevailing opinion in this section of the State.

"I don't think anyone who considers affairs in Virginia could possibly consider it a doubtful State," Mr. Hooker said. "We will carry it for the President. There is no doubt about that."

Chairman Hooker also said Senators Carter Glass and Harry Flood Byrd, both of whom have sharply criticized some New Deal activities, would actively support the President in the campaign.

THEY MUST BE TOLD

When a man has something to advertise and does not use the Enterprise—we both lose—but he is the bigger loser, for his possible percentage of loss is greater than ours. Our loss is a small fee for service rendered, while his is a capital loss, sometimes of great proportions. There is no selling without first telling and creating a desire, or pointing out a need. Don't be silly and think you save when you fail to tell folks what you have to sell. — Wilmot (S. D.) Enterprise.

This is just as true of the Journal as it is of the Enterprise in Wilmot, S. D. If you have something worth selling, tell your friends through your local newspaper. It is the best way to reach them.

CURTIS-ALLISON

An very pretty wedding took place last Saturday evening, August 15, at the Methodist Parsonage in Oakton, Va., when Miss Frances Allison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Allison of Manassas, became the bride of Mr. James Edwin Curtis of Oakton, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Curtis.

Rev. Hiller performed the ceremony. Large vases of summer flowers made an attractive setting for the ceremony.

The bride wore a rust crepe ensemble, made on princess lines, with brown accessories. A shoulder corsage of talisman rose-buds, and lilies of the valley completed her costume.

Only members of the immediate families and a small group of friends were present. Among the out of town guests were Mrs. Lillian B. Tolley and Miss Mamie Baker of Hampton, Va. Mr. and Mrs. Curtis left for a wedding trip to New York and Canada. On their return, they will make their home in Oakton.

POTOMAC AS A LABORATORY

The traditionally quiet Potomac River may soon become a laboratory for one of the most far-reaching experiments ever undertaken by the Federal Government. If plans now under way materialize 14,000 square miles of the river basin will be utilized in a study of water pollution, food control and a water supply adequate in quantity and quality to encourage industrial development in the upper Potomac region.

The story of this vast undertaking, for which Congress will be asked to appropriate funds next January, constitutes an outstanding article in the feature section of The Sunday Star, August 23.

Perfect Cakes Preludes to Matrimony

GUILEFUL maidens know that moonlight, a mandolin and a man are not the only ingredients in the successful summer romance. Many a determined bachelor has turned from flirtation to matrimony when his lady acknowledges that she baked that perfect cake herself. These two cakes should really be called engagement cakes! Their effect on young men is so very matrimonial.

Feather Spice Cake
2 1/2 cups sifted cake flour
2 1/2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon mace
1/2 teaspoon cloves
1 cup butter or other shortening
1 cup sugar
2 eggs, unbeaten
1/3 cup molasses
1/2 cup milk

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, salt, and spices, and sift together three times. Cream butter thoroughly, add sugar gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add eggs, one at a time beating thoroughly after each. Then add molasses and blend. Add flour, alternately with milk, a small amount at a time, beating after each addition until smooth. Bake in two greased 9-inch layer pans in moderate oven (375° F.) 25 to 30 minutes, or until done. Spread your favorite chocolate frosting between layers and on top and sides of cake; sprinkle nuts on sides. Double recipe to make three 10-inch layers.

Creole Sponge Cake
1/2 cup sifted cake flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
4 tablespoons breakfast cocoa
1 tablespoon lemon juice
5 egg yolks, beaten until thick and lemon-colored
5 egg whites
1 cup sifted sugar
Sift flour once, measure, add salt and cocoa, and sift together four times. Add lemon juice to beaten egg yolks and beat with rotary egg beater until very thick and light. Beat egg whites with flat wire whisk until stiff enough to hold up in peaks, but not dry. Fold in sugar, a small amount at a time. Bake in ungreased tube pan in slow oven (325° F.) 1 hour, or until done. Remove from oven and invert pan 1 hour, or until cold.

CATHARPIN

Mrs. W. Holmes Robertson of Lawn Vale, who has been suffering from an abscessed foot for several weeks, is rapidly recovering and able to walk about the home again.

Miss Annie Troth, a teacher in the Annandale school, Va., was a recent guest in the Lynn home, Catharpin. Mr. and Mrs. C. Paul McDonald and family of Norton, Va., were recent guests at Oakwood spending part of their annual vacation with their parents. After visiting points of interest in the Capital City, returned home via the Skyline Drive.

The fourth and last Quarterly Conference of the year will be held at the parsonage, Gainesville, Va., on Monday, August 31, 1936, at which the Elder, Dr. E. C. Beery, will preside. All officers of the various church activities are to present written reports of their work. Our new elder is very particular about this since they have to do with his annual report to the general body which meets in Mount Vernon Place Church, Washington, early in October. It is sincerely hoped that all financial obligations may be met at an early date. Sudley must not forget her obligations, no, no!

Guests in the Brower home on Sunday were Mr. C. F. Brower, Jr., and son, Will, of Purcellville, Va., Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Willis and son Allen, and Mrs. W. L. Sanders all of Clarendon, Va., and Mrs. Henry Grill and daughters of Long Island, N. Y.

Miss Virginia Hill of Roanoke, Va., former teacher of the Catharpin school, is visiting Mrs. W. S. Brower at the present time.

Miss Ann Robertson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Holmes Robertson of Lawn Vale, was operated on for appendicitis at the Emergency Hospital, Washington, on Monday the 17th, being taken to that institution on Sunday evening after a sudden attack of the disease. No report as we write but the usual good, robust health of the patient will surely carry her through in fine shape. It will be remembered that Miss Frances, a sister, was operated on last spring in Harrisonburg while attending college in that city. Ann's many friends wish her speedy recovery.

Mrs. W. S. Brower and daughter, Betty, returned Saturday from a week's sojourn in Jamestown, Va., where they attended the meetings of the 4-H club held in that city during the past week.

Mrs. Paul B. Sears, nee Miss Marjorie L. McCutcheon of Oklahoma, was a guest at Oakwood for a short time last week. Her husband, Dr. P. B. Sears, is a State University professor of Agri. and the author of several books, wide attention and interest. The book deals primarily with causes of deserts throughout the world and particularly their consequent dust storms so familiar of late in the western part of the U. S. A. The book is certainly worth anyone's time to read.

Miss Frances, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Brower, is visiting her uncle and aunt Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Saunders in Clarendon this week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Onley and daughter, Joan, and Mrs. C. F. Fuechsel of Clarendon, Va., were Oakwood guests on Sunday last.

Protracted meetings have been in progress at Fairview church during the present week and will close on Sunday next with an all-day meeting with dinner on the lawn. A week's services will also begin at Sudley on Sunday night, the 23rd, and continue throughout the week, closing on Sunday, August 30, with an all-day meeting at which it is expected some former pastors shall be in attendance. The ladies of the congregation will bring their baskets and dinner will be served in the dining room of the church. The afternoon session will be devoted to addresses by guest speakers and an historic sketch of Old Sudley will be read. An interesting day is anticipated by all.

Mrs. C. F. Brower and Mrs. J. W. Alvey attended the Golden Wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Carroll of Charlottesville, Va., on Tuesday of this week. Mrs. Carroll, nee Miss Nan Leachman, is well known in this county and is loved by all for the blessings and influence she brings to her friends. We should like to wish them "many happy returns of the day," but since Golden Weddings can happen but once in a lifetime, we shall be content to hope that they may be spared "yet many days" to brighten the lives of those who live them.

Reconstructing Ramparts of the Confederacy

In the reconstruction of Fort Hoke, a link in the system of earthworks encircling Richmond, concrete "sand bags" are used. The Ford V-8 truck gives some idea of the size of this embankment.

EARTHWORKS encircling the city of Richmond, Va., as shown in the map, used in defense of the city when it was the capital of the Confederacy, are being reconstructed and set apart as the Richmond National Battlefield park, under the direction of the National Park Service. With title to approximately one-third of the old defenses already obtained, it is expected that the park will eventually be extended to include the entire system.

The work being carried on consists of clearing the underbrush from the earthworks, building roads to make them accessible and reconstructing embankments where necessary. Very little reconstruction has had to be done because the fortifications have been preserved under a protecting blanket of vegetation. Visitors find it difficult to believe that tall pines covering some of the embankments have grown up since the war.

The attempts of the federals to penetrate this powerful defense resulted in some of the most important battles of the war. Relics of these conflicts are being assembled in a park museum which also houses a library and trained historians to supply data to visitors.

One of the most prized relics is a large valve from one of the observation balloons used by Prof. T. S. C. Lowe, chief of aeronautics for the Union Army, and his staff which included young Count Ferdinand von Zeppelin, who lived to see his own invention, the Zeppelin dirigible airship, used in the World War.

Though 71 years have elapsed since the fortifications were used, powder removed from explosive type shells uncovered by the reconstruction work is found to be just as active as fresh powder.

"WAGON TRAILS"

Even back in the silent picture days Harry Carey was a sterling favorite with the fans who hailed him as the foremost portrayer of Western heroes, and he still occupies that enviable position. Right now you can see him at the Dixie Theatre, August 28, 29, in his latest and most thrilling contribution to the screen, "Wagon Trail," by long odds the most exciting and dramatic story in which he has appeared. Harry's role is that of a sheriff whose only son becomes the confederate of outlaws through a sense of mistaken chivalry toward the girl he loves, whose father chances to be leader of the bandits. Fate decrees that the son falls into the hands of the law, as represented by his dad and what follows is woven into a plot that vibrates with dashing action, and grips you with its terrific emotional appeal. This film is not only a slambang rousing Western melodrama, but a production remarkable both for its originality and superb acting of a carefully selected cast of well-known players.

ANNUAL FIELD DAY

of events in a community noted for its hospitality and those who were so fortunate as to be present were enthusiastic in their praise of the event and their commendation of the fine work of the Committee. The only man with nothing to do was Sheriff Kerlin, who having no disorderly conduct to restrain, could fully enjoy the event and it is stated that he also had a splendid day.

The various committees, headed by Rev. W. F. Carpenter as general chairman, had worked very hard to make this the most successful of the many similar events in past years and they were highly gratified at the results.

To Mrs. Willis Foley was assigned much credit, particularly in the manner in which she carried out her assignment as Chairman of the Refreshment Committee. Mr. Tom Smith, assisted by Preston Smith, managed the Horse Show and Tournament with great skill. The races and sports, under the chairmanship of Mr. Fowler Ashby, were exceptionally pleasing. Mr. C. B. Roland, as publicity chairman, received many compliments upon his diligent and successful efforts to publicize the event.

The thanks of the committee to the many who contributed to the event and particularly to Mrs. Ella Peters was very genuine. Not only this year, but in the previous events, Mrs. Peters had donated the free use of her lovely farm.

Increasing every year in popularity, the annual Field Day of the Bull Run Grange promised even more in the future. It is stated that plans next year include a community fair.

A VISIT FROM A
FAIRFAX FRIEND

While attending a meeting of the directors of the Bull Run Power Company on Saturday, the editor's good old friend, J. M. Fulmer, of Clifton, and former mayor of that burg, dropped in for a chat.

A native of Chester, Pa., Mr. Fulmer has lived at Clifton nigh onto 50 years, and is a thorough Virginian and an even better Democrat.

He hopes to go back to Pennsylvania in September to attend a family reunion. Here's hoping that you have a fine time and enjoy yourself, Mr. Mayor.

MARRIED IN ANNAPOLIS

A wedding of interest to the young people of Manassas and vicinity took place on Saturday last when Mr. Vernon Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Moore, and Miss Myrtle Hensley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Hensley, and a member of the county teaching faculty for the past two or three years, were married at Annapolis, Md.

Accompanying the young couple were the parents of both bride and groom and the bride's brother. The newlyweds will reside on the groom's farm below Manassas.

GERALDINE GARBER

Geraldine Garber, fourteen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Garber of Featherstone, died in a Washington hospital on August 13, following a severe illness of spinal meningitis.

Funeral services were conducted Rev. F. L. Morrison from the Hall Funeral Home in Occoquan, Saturday evening, August 15, at 7:30 p. m. Burial took place at the Brethren Cemetery, Sangersville, Va., Sunday August 16 at 12:30 p. m.

The large crowd attending the funeral and the beautiful tributes attested the high esteem in which the young lady was held.

CENTREVILLE

Regular services will be held at St. John's on Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Irene Woltz is home after a pleasant vacation.

Miss Lucy LeGallais spent the week end with relatives in Alexandria.

Dr. Nelson Dame, missionary of the diocese, will conduct a series of meetings at St. John's beginning with Parish Day, September 6, and continuing through to the following Sunday. Weekday services will be held in the evening. Parish Day will be an all-day affair, with a picnic luncheon at midday.

PENSION COSTS
TO BE STUDIEDGovernor Names Commission to Report on Old Age Costs.

Five months after its authorization by the General Assembly Governor Peery and Speaker Ashton Dovell this week completed the commission to investigate probable costs of old-age pensions in Virginia by naming their appointees. The commission will report its findings to the General Assembly in 1938.

Lieutenant-Governor Prire named two members of that body shortly after the 1936 session adjourned.

Dr. Charles J. Smith, president of Roanoke College at Salem, and State Tax Commissioner C. H. Morrisett were designated by the Governor; Mr. Moore of Berryville, L. Gordon White of Scottsville and Horace Edwards of Richmond. Mr. Price's appointees are Senator Aubrey G. Weaver of Front Royal and Senator Benjamin Muse of Petersburg.

The bill creating the agency appropriated $20,000 for its use, and directed the members to submit their report to the Governor for transmittal to the General Assembly at least 60 days in advance of the next session.

The law does not specify how the chairman is to be selected, but Governor Peery said the group would arrange among themselves for an organization meeting.

The bill establishing the commission was adopted after advocates of immediate action had fallen short in their fight to push through a pension law at that session. The Administration-backed measure setting up the commission moved through the Senate without a struggle, but in the House the Speaker felt it necessary to take the floor and speak vigorously in its behalf.

The Governor in his opening message to the Assembly counseled postponement of a pension act until more study could be made.

TOO MANY FRIENDS

"He that maketh many friends doeth it to his own destruction." (Proverbs 18:24—Revised Version) Friendship is a hazard. I am not sure that Milton is right when he says "One foe too many, a thousand friends too few."

We need to carefully watch our friendships. More persons are harmed by having too many friends than by having too few. Our concern should be about their character, not about their number. The above proverb cautions us that it is better to have one faithful friend than to have a host of friends among whom will be some who will lead us astray.

It is easy to see how this works out in actual experience. The excessively amiable man is generally the weak man. It is his very agreeableness which gets him into trouble. He lacks backbone and has not the courage to say no to a tempter. Scripture furnishes a shining example in the case of Absalom whose handsome face and affable manners captivated the hearts of all Israel and opened the way to the tragic career and a traitor's death.

Every college class has its little group of students who will be remembered chiefly by their neglect of study and their wild dissipation. My own observation has been that these young fellows were usually the best natured and most popular men in their classes. However, much we deplored their conduct we could not help liking them personally. There is something in us all which makes us like an amiable renegade more than a Puritanic prig.

Solomon goes on to say that there is a type of friendship which is superior to blood relationship—"there is a friend that sticketh closer than a brother." Doubtless all of us have had at some time a friend who meant more to us than any member of our own family. Perhaps this comradery started in our boyhood, and it bids fair to endure "until death do us part." We told him secrets which we would or could not share with our natural brothers. Every boy wants a "chum" and to him that word expresses the closest fellowship on earth.

This text has often been applied to the Lord Jesus and properly so.

"One there is above all others
Well deserves the name of friend;
His is love beyond a brother's,
Constant, free and knows no end."
This is the one friendship we should be most anxious to cultivate. Every moment in His presence is a benediction. It is more than this. It is a transforming influence. We cannot be with Him long without becoming like Him. Indeed, the entire future is glorified by the anticipation of the day when we shall become completely like Him when "we shall see Him as He is."

QUARTER MILLION FARM
LOANS IN PRINCE WILLIAM

Federal land bank and land bank commissioner loans made to Prince William County farmers from May, 1933, up to July 1 this year amounted to more than $262,000, according to a statement today from E. P. Crider, vice-president of the Federal Land Bank of Baltimore.

A total of 92 loans have been made in the county in the 3-year period since the Farm Credit Administration was organized. While farmers here and elsewhere in the State used most of the money to refinance their old debts into long-term loans, a larger proportion of loans is now going to finance the purchase of farms.

The Federal Land bank loaned Prince William County farmers $155,400 on the first mortgages in the 3-year period, and loaned $106,600 from funds of the land bank commissioner on first and second mortgage security.

Commissioner loans, first authorized in 1933, were made in amounts not to exceed 75 per cent of the appraised normal value of the property. These loans were used almost entirely at first for emergency refinancing. The Farm Credit Act of 1935 authorized using them to refinance farm purchase with the idea that this would give many farmers, particularly young men and tenants, a better chance to buy farms. Experience, equipment, and a reasonable down payment are required.

Since the act was passed, Virginia farmers have obtained over $19,751,000 from the land bank and commissioner to assist in buying farms.

NEW ROAD IMPROVEMENT

The State Highway Department this week announced final distribution of mileage under the law known as the "Two and a half per cent clause, for 1936 as follows in Culpeper District:

Fairfax County: From Route 7 to Herndon 2.30 miles; Fauquier County: Route 295 west towards Route 15, 4.78 miles; and Route 15 near crossing of Southern Railway tracks, across to Route 211, 4.54 miles.

NEW GAME BLIND
LAWS EFFECTIVE

At the 1936 session of the General Assembly of Virginia, a law was enacted making it unlawful to hunt migratory waterfowl in the public waters of this State and the shores thereof from unlicensed blinds whether stationary or floating, and any person hunting waterfowl shall also have a season license to hunt.

Owners of riparian rights, their lessees or permittees, who desire to do so, have exclusive privilege of licensing and erecting blinds on their own shore line or in front of such line, and no other blind, stationary or floating, can come within five hundred yards thereof without the consent of such riparian owner, lessee, or permittee. Unless the license has been obtained and a stake or a blind erected with the metal license plate affixed by August 31st, 1936, riparian owners forfeit this privilege and the location in public waters shall belong to whoever first obtains license and erects a stake or a blind. Stake blinds cannot be located in waters having a greater depth than eight feet at mean high tide on the side selected and must be five hundred yards from any other stationary blind with the metal license plate for that season affixed thereto. Fees for licensed shore blind resident riparian owner $5.00; nonresident $10.00. Other stationary brush blinds used in public waters, resident $5.00; nonresident $10.00. Mat blinds used in public waters, resident $10.00; nonresident $25.00.

Thirty days open hunting season on waterfowl in Virginia as announced by the Bureau of Biological Survey of 1936 is November 26th to December 25th.

Copies of blind law can be obtained from the Commission of Game and Inland Fisheries, Richmond, Virginia, or any game warden.

Y. D.'S RESUME ACTIVITIES

After a lull in activities due to the hot summer weather and vacations, the Young Democrats will open their fall program with a Dance at the High School Auditorium in Occoquan on the night of September 4.

It is hoped that old "Dame Nature" will have turned off the heat somewhat by that time, and will favor us with some cooling breezes, so that we may all turn out and enjoy the good music and the delightful refreshments which will be served by the ladies of Occoquan, Dumfries and vicinity. Dancing will begin at 9:30.

A short business meeting will be held at 8:30, at which time delegates to the State Convention at Roanoke on September 11 and 12 will be elected. A number of important matters will be discussed, among them plans for a County-wide barbecue to be held this fall at Brentsville, in co-operation with the Democratic County Committee, and it is hoped that all members and those interested will attend this meeting.

According to the rules of the State organization, a Club is entitled to one vote for every ten active paid-up members, at the State Convention. An effort is being made by the Young Democrats of this county to obtain new members and collect 1936 dues that are in arrears, so that the Prince William Club will have at least twenty votes when they go to Roanoke next month. Any officer of the Club will be glad to enroll you as a member. Dues are 50 cents a year.

DEED OF MERCY SEALED DOOM OF PRISONER

With a sweep and realistic power probably never before approached by motion pictures, 20th Century-Fox brings to the screen in "The Prisoner of Shark Island," at the Dixie Theatre next, the true story of the most tragic lure in America's history.

He is Dr. Samuel Alexander Mudd, long condemned as one of the Lincoln conspirators, and who now, in the light of facts revealed in the picture, appears as a man unjustly sentenced to a living death, a hero whose courage and self-sacrifice have found few equals in fact or fiction.

Warner Baxter is the leading player of this drama, which opens after the Civil War with the assassination of Lincoln. John Wilkes Booth, whose leg was broken in the leap to the stage, flees into Maryland to receive aid from a simple country doctor.

When the fury of the nation over this crime is unleashed, Baxter is arrested, tried with Booth's accomplices and sent to an unknown fate on Shark Island, a fortress prison and a sun-baked reef in the Caribbean.

Passionately hated by the men who guard him, degraded, beaten, chained to his cell, Baxter attempts escape. When he is recaptured, Baxter is subjected to solitary imprisonment in a filthy cell, until the scourge of yellow fever hits the island. With the medical officer sick, the fever raging, the commander of the garrison, Harry Carey, turns to Baxter as his last desperate resort.

How he copes with rebellious soldiers, forces fearful ship captains to bring him supplies, and finally wins the gratitude of the men of Shark Island and freedom for himself is revealed in the astounding, action-filled climax of the picture.

County Agent's Column Changes in Soil Conservation Program Aids Farmers

The work of checking performance of farmers operating under the 1936 Soil-Conservation Program is now under way in Prince William County, F. D. Cox, County Agent, announces.

Performance will be checked by local supervisors who have been selected in the county and approved by the State office. A school of instruction was recently held to train the supervisors for the work.

The work of checking performance this year is a bigger job than has been undertaken with any of the previous programs during the past three years due to the large number of farmers participating and the necessity of making a complete check of the whole farm. To save expenses, plans have been made to use measurements made in 1934 and 1935 wherever possible and to estimate the average of soil-conserving crops with the help of farmers as permitted under the instructions for performance.

A change in the program provides that any farmer participating in the program will not have deductions made from his 1936 payments for soil-building practices, as for seeding of certain legumes, liming, etc., even though he may have a greater acreage in soil-depleting crops in 1936 than he had in 1935. Farmers who did not file work sheets last spring because of not being able to qualify for benefits under the earlier provisions may now do so.

Poultry Production, Becoming Important Prince William Industry

Interest was shown in the series of poultry meetings conducted by W. C. Tully, Extension Poultry Specialist, in the county on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of last week.

An increased production of turkeys was observed and considerable time was given by Mr. Tully to turkey problems in his discussions. With the poultry industry has become an important one in Prince William County and all indications are that it will become even more so in years to come.

At the meetings, it was emphasized that attention should be given more to selection of disease-free foundation stock and sanitary methods of management rather than wait until diseases develop and then attempt, usually without satisfactory results, a cure. was stressed. Where both chickens and turkeys are raised, the necessity of keeping turkeys away from chickens and chicken runs and turkeys are kept on the same farm, disinfection of the feet of those caring for the turkeys before going from chicken lots to turkey lots was recommended as well as keeping out dogs and other stray animals that might carry blackhead infection from chickens to the turkeys.
