Under the careful planning of the proved most successful. Chaperoning the dance were Capt. and Mrs. Joyce, Mrs. C. S. Pierce and Mrs. Janie Abel.

TEACHER SECURED BY S. S. COUNCIL

Full Time Worker To Arrive Here Soon

The opening of the fall term of school will see a new type of work begun for the first time in Prince William. The County Council of Religious Education has engaged Miss Emma Perkins of Wooster, Ohio, to teach Week Day Religious Education in the public schools.

Miss Perkins received her A. B. degree at Wooster College, and in 1936 she received the degree of Master of Arts from Northwestern University of Chicago. She majored in Religious Education and is exceptionally well qualified for teaching in this field. The County Council feels gratified to have secured the services of so capable a teacher.

At a meeting of the committee on Week Day Religious Education, it was reported that the sum of $160.00 had already been secured toward the budget of $750.00 which is needed to carry on this work. This is a county-wide project. Miss Perkins will teach grades four to seven in all the larger schools in the County, and possibly in some of the smaller schools. She will give instruction one period per week to each class. The courses are not compulsory. Parents will be furnished with cards which they will fill out requesting that their children be permitted to take the instruction. Nothing of a sectarian nature will be taught.

Contributions of any size are earnestly solicited. This is a missionary project, and a much needed one. It is a cooperative work, carried on by an liberal support of everyone who is interested in the moral and spiritual development of the children of our County. A coupon printed elsewhere in this paper may be used in making your contribution.

EXPLOSION KILLS WORKER

Last Saturday morning, shortly after six o'clock, a premature blast occurred at Fairfax Quarries at Bull Run which took the life of one worker and caused probable fatal injuries to another.

Walter Harris, aged 42 colored, the dead man, was blown against the rocks and his skull fractured so that death occurred before noon. Dr. Williams of Manassas rendered what aid he could, and made the trip to the hospital with him in Baker's ambulance. Harris was conscious until a short while before he died.

Robert Hilliard, colored, the other injured laborer, is still in the hospital, and the extent of his injuries apparently unknown, although, some improvement is reported. His condition is grave and he may die.

The funeral of Harris took place at the Baptist church near Centerville on Tuesday afternoon, Rev. Baile of Waterfall, officiating. Interment was in the old burying ground near Bull Run postoffice. A large crowd of his friends and relatives were present.

Harris was the son of Spriggs and Martha Harris, both of whom live at the home place near Bull Run. He also leaves a widow, Annie, and several sisters. He was born here and lived here most of his life except for such time as he worked in Ohio and other points. He was a steady, sober man and a good neighbor.

RANDOLPH CROUCH

Randolph Crouch, life long resident of the Hoadly community, died at a Washington hospital this week following an illness of sometime.

Besides his wife, he is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Alton Maxfield and Mrs. Leonard Williams of Dumfries.

Funeral services were held at Oak Grove Church, Hoadly, at two o'clock with interment in the church cemetery. Funeral arrangements were taken care of by the Hall Funeral Home.

LINTON HALL SCHOOL

Among the many fair beauty spots of Virginia you will find few that will compare at this present time with Linton Hall, Prince William County. Coming from the historic old town of Manassas one leaves the main highway just after crossing "the bridge." At the top of the hill in the far distance the blue of the Bull Run Mountains encircles the picture, while nearer, in the valley you get the "surprise view" of Linton Hall School, Guest House, Chapel and other buildings. In several minutes you enter the beautiful avenue of Pin Oaks. This drive finally leads to generous open spaces—parade grounds, ball fields and general play grounds. The buildings, which are quite plain, are in full view too, but the splendid porches running from end to end offer a welcome of a homelike nature, as hearty as it is unusual.

The enrollment last year was up to year are very numerous—the fact is, larger buildings are a pressing need.

The Management and Faculty remain substantially the same, the changes are only of minor character. The Commandant cannot be announced at this time though the Military and Drill Classes will be conducted by the Drill Master twice each month and daily by the Principal. School opens September ninth.

F. F. A. BOYS ENJOY CAMPING TRIP

Lads and Prof Have Varied Experiences.

Last week the F. F. A. boys from the Manassas and Nokesville Agricultural chapters went on a camping trip to Fairview Beach at Goby, Va.

They left Monday morning, August 24, by way of Mr. Eastman Keys' school bus. In charge of the 23 boys who made up the party was the agriculture instructor, Mr. Fishpaw, who had made arrangements for comfortable sleeping in a large cabin which was awaiting their arrivals.

The cabin next door was named "Scramble Inn," but it appeared that most of the scrambling was done in the other particular cabin among the youngsters, especially about eating time. Occasionally some of the boys were a little late for supper and usually among these were the same two boys who had, on the first night down, entered into an interesting conversation with some young ladies and were late for bedtime. This misfortune caused a little confusion and some cross words from the "Prof."

The boys who attended the camp were: Bobbie Byrd, Leo Garman, Howard Cooksey, Buddy Hedrick, Vance Summer, Lester Harris, Charles Kendall, Raleigh Nelson, Gilbert Rollins Roy Frederick, Glen Ritenour, Cleveland Flory, Havin Ritter, Wayne Coverstone, Selvin Smith, Max Shepherd, Woodrow Smith, Elmer Lunsford, Bill Harpine, Eugene Worley, Bobbie Jones, Erwin Clemen and William Knox.

WALFORD R. REID

One of the largest funerals in recent years in Prince William County took place this afternoon at Oak Grove Church at Hoadly, Va., when Walford R. Reid, twenty-four year old son of Judge and Mrs. Hezekiah Reid, was buried, following an accident, which took place Sunday afternoon in a ball game at Nokesville.

The cause of Mr. Reid's death was a pitched ball which struck him at the base of the brain. He played the game out, not realizing the extent of his injuries, but gradually became worse later in the evening and was removed to a Washington hospital that night. Death followed late the next evening.

Mr. Reid was born at Hoadly on November 8, 1911, and lived his entire life in this county, graduating from Occoquan High School in 1931. In the same Spring he entered the Government Printing Office in Washington where he was employed at the time of his death.

On November 1, 1934, he married Miss Jane Mayhugh of Greenwich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Mayhugh and formerly a teacher in this county. Besides his wife and parents, he is also survived by a brother, Robert Reid; a half sister, Mrs. Anna Cronkite of Hoadly, and two half brothers, Julian Reid of Lynchburg, and Paul Reid of Washington.

Young Reid was active in athletics and rated as a good player. He was playing third base with the Nokesville Athletic Club in the game with Park Lane on Sunday.

The active pallbearers were Fred T. Shepherd, Richard Carter, L. D. Langley, the last name being president of the Old Dominion Baseball League; F. Shulte, manager of the Clarendon Cardinals, and E. W. Watson of Washington. The honorary pallbearers included O. J. Fitzwater, Willard Oliver, manager of Forestville baseball Club; C. A. Clarke, manager of McLean Athletic Club; J. Murray, manager of Park Lane Athletic Club, and A. S. Lacey, manager of Hume Springs Athletic Club.

The high esteem in which the departed was held was also evidenced by the very unusual number of floral offerings. Young Reid was a very popular boy and his untimely demise has caused general sorrow in his community where all extend the deepest regrets to the bereaved parents and wife, and other members of family, as do also his many other friends and acquaintances throughout the county and in Washington.

KIWANIS DEEDS ARE RECITED

International Trustee Hill Gives Resume.

Ed Hill, the ever faithful, was on hand last Friday evening to give the program committee a boost for the last meeting of the month.

Col. Ben made his program bow with the aid of the "best orator in Prince William" (That was a little promotion for OD). Ben had a take-off in prose and poetry on pigs will be pigs, with the military atmosphere about the subject as well as that of the barnyard. OD also advised the squad from "George's home town" that they might improve it they lived up here.

Incidentally, Arthur tried to call Ben down on the subject of oratory, and the latter gave him a quick come back in allowing him to greet the feminine contingent from Fredericksburg (Mrs. Jerry Willis).

"Mayor" Marshall King and Jerry Willis spoke for the visitors as well as the president of the club, all of which were well ordered, pleasant and much to the point.

Ed's talk was the main stay of the evening, and it is quoted in part as follows:

"Underprivileged child services" sponsored by Capitol District Kiwanis clubs, greatly exceeded similar aid of the 1900 clubs of Kiwanis International in the United States and Canada.

Aid to underprivileged children was reported by 92 per cent of the 53 Kiwanis clubs in Virginia, Maryland, Delaware and the District of Columbia, area comprising the Capital District, in the past year as compared with 74 per cent for the international organization consisting of clubs in the United States and Canada, Mr. Hill said.

In the Capital District 49 of the 53 clubs comprising more than 3,000 business and professional men reported active participation in underprivileged child activities during the past year. In the same period 33 clubs sponsored agricultural projects, 28 aid to business and industry, 49 improvement in civic conditions, 51 vocational guidance and educational work, 51 general charity, work, 50 juvenile work, including boy scout activities, 37 playgrounds, recreation and athletics, 19 health, sanitation and hospitals, 49 citizenship and patriotic endeavors, 13 government and allied projects and 2 support of churches in their spiritual aims.

Throughout Kiwanis International 1,410 of the 1,900 clubs serving cities, towns and communities in the United States and Canada aided underprivileged children, 1,088 sponsored agricultural projects, 1,018 aided business and industry, 1,664 improvement in civic conditions, 1,274 sponsored better education, 1,797 general charity aid, 1,288 playgrounds, recreation and athletics, 1,011 patriotic endeavors, over 700 music, over 600 safety first activities, about 650 vocational guidance, 925 better citizenship, 480 government and allied projects and 160 the support of churches in their spiritual aims. This latter objective, it was said, has only been in effect a few months, but there is evidence that it is growing in interest weekly.

Kiwanis through its activities in Canada and the United States has built up a friendly exchange of fellowship that has established an excellent bond of good will between the two countries. Kiwanis clubs now are found here and there throughout the provinces and states. In clubs in both countries Stars and Stripes and the Union Jack are displayed side by side in the same friendly way that the two countries have lived for 120 years. . . .

Friendship between Canada and the United States was brought about through the execution of the Rush-Bagot agreement calling for the withdrawal of armed vessels from the Great Lakes. This document was signed by Sir Charles Bagot, minister of Great Britain, on behalf of Canada, April 28, 1817 and was accepted by Richard Rush, acting Secretary of State, April 29, of that year.

Kiwanis International in cooperation with the Washington, D. C., club on April 29, 1935, erected an dedicated a tablet on the site of the British legation in which the Rush-Bagot agreement was negotiated in commemoration of this event.

On April 30 of this year the Washington club with impressive ceremonies dedicated an arbor vitae tree to the unchanging friendship of the United States and Canada. Arbor vitae in the language of plants and flowers means "unchanging friendship." . . .

QUIET TALKS ON RELIGION

By
Dr. James T. Marshall

INDESTRUCTIBLE LIFE

"The power of an endless life." (Herrews 7:16) The writer is here speaking of Jesus and of His unique position as our great High Priest. The thought is that His authority rests not on anything external, but on the supremacy of His divine character. As the Son of God, Jesus possesses that life which is beyond the reach of destruction, and thus His priesthood was "made after the power of an endless life."

It is illuminating to observe that the Greek word translated "endless," would be more accurately translated by our English word "indissoluble." This the emphasis is not laid on the length of the life but upon its character. This should be remembered when we speak of the "eternal life" which our Lord bestows upon all believers. Its glory is not in the number of years it embraces, but in its richness while it lasts.

All life is transformed as soon as we take in this truth, that it is our privilege to live a life which is beyond the reach of every destructive force. We can neither be killed nor harmed. This statement is neither fanatical nor extravagant, it is true to experience.

A man's body is not the man. It is nothing but the house in which he dwells for a short time. No man is harmed until the soul within him is harmed, and no one is conquered until his spirit is conquered. In this light we must interpret the promises such as are given in the 91st and the 121st psalms, where we read "the Lord shall preserve thee from all evil," and "thou shalt not be afraid for the terror by night, nor for the arrow that flieth by day."

The old Greek philosopher caught this truth. When Socrates was about to drink the fatal hemlock his disciples asked if they should bury him. "yes," he replied, "if you can catch me!" The Christian martyr Polycarp clung to it. When the emperor ordered him to renounce his faith in Christ, he refused. "Then," said the emperor, "I will banish you." "You cannot," answered the aged saint, "for the world is my Father's house." "Then," continued the emperor, "I will kill you." "You cannot," answered Polycarp, "for my life is hid with Christ in God."

Rest assured that no spiritual reality is in any way affected by what men can say or do. Trying to destroy religion is a fool's undertaking. You may burn down churches, desecrate shrines, murder priests and pasters and burn Bibles, and not touch religion itself. The innate hunger for God still remains in the human soul, and the prayers of millions of believers continue to ascend to the throne of God day and night.

Make this treat truth your own. Appropriate the power of an indestructible life. Carry eternity in your heart. Learn to sing with Henry F. Lyte,

"I fear no foe with Thee at hand to bless:
Ills have no weight, and tears no bitterness.

Where is death's sting? where, grave thy victory?
I triumph still if Thou abide with me."

TODAY In Politics . . .

by Geo. Dent

GEO DENT'S TODAY IN POLITICS

We are fast becoming a nation of political soothsayers . . . Go to the corner grocery, to the cross-roads, to the meeting-house, to the picnic grounds, to the ball park; talk to the young lady Normal grad, to the school teacher, to the boy just out of high school, to the young man who has just dropped his frock cap, to the college graduate; don't stop; talk to your leading citizen, talk to the man on relief, to the house-wife and whistle for the dog and you will find 90 per cent of those you talk with willing and anxious to give a first class spell on things political . . .

The tariff and prohibition, as a political issue, seems to have been kicked into the limbo of forgotten things . . . New issues confront us, and the radio and newspapers keep us posted over night on what takes place . . .

Mr. Landon visits his home state Penna.; and Mr. Roosevelt makes a bee line for the west . . . Mr. Lemke speaks in Boston, and Father Coughlan wails at Cleveland . . . The Rev. Gerald K. Smith is pictured as taking a drink from a gallon bucket and saying: "I will drink a gallon and sweat a gallon . . ."

Mr. Thos. Blanton, is now an Ex., the state of Texas, by a two to one vote says you (Blanton) can't represent us; and Mr. Blanton says, "very well, you lose the greatest man you ever had in Texas, I go to the District of Columbia where the citizens can't vote, and I don't give a whether they want me or not!" . . .

According to the latest wind that blows east, west, north and south, Mr. Roosevelt has a slight lead over the field . . . His jockey, Mr. Farley is a little heavy, but he is using his spurs and whip to very good advantage . . .

Naturally, Mr. Roosevelt gets the solid south . . . An inherited democracy cannot be swept aside by a flood of spending, especially when that spending comes from the wine of the old vintage . . . The democratic south, the Relief Roll, and the Negro vote, gives Mr. Roosevelt a majority, at present, in the electoral college . . .

There is a small gain in Penna. for Roosevelt over his 1932 vote . . . This can be safely put down as the relief roll vote . . . The colored vote in Penna. is 80 per cent for Roosevelt . . . In New York City we have the largest population of Negro voters, Harlem, anywhere in America . . . This Harlem vote, if solid for Mr. Roosevelt, may give him New York State with its 47 electoral votes; and Illinois, with its Chicago black Belt vote going solid for Roosevelt would about hand the democratic candidate a land-slide . . . The far west shows a strong leaning towards Roosevelt . . .

82 per cent of those on relief are for Roosevelt and 55 per cent of the farmers are still betting on the man who is willing to try most anything one time . . .

The young people seem to lean towards the New Deal; about 60 per cent are willing to follow Roosevelt . . .

In 1932 Mr. Roosevelt, a democrat, (note—a democrat) was elected with 59 per cent of the major party vote . . . At the present time Mr. Roosevelt, New Deal candidate for the same office, has fallen off 6 and one half points; his popular vote shows at this time about fifty-two point five . . .

If Mr. Lemke continues to gain he will poll about 10 per cent of the popular vote, which will be about 4,500,000 . . . It took 17 per cent during "Fighting Bob's" days to get this many popular votes . . . If Lemke votes are well placed thru the middle west, Landon will be the gainer . . .

At the present time it is simply; eeny, meeny, minee, mo.

AMERICA'S AIR DEFENSE

Potential devastation rides the skies of Europe in the form of vast fleets of aircraft. Between this country and those dangerous new and huge weapons lies an ocean, but an ocean that no longer constitutes the defensive bulwark it did in the past. America, it has become clear, must have a positive defense against the fast, far-ranging war machines build up abroad.

What is the country doing on this score? That timely question is answered in a searchingly written, illustrated feature, which will appear in the feature section of The Sunday Star, September 6.

The Word of God

It is a happy man who reads a light and a joy to his soul. —Psalm 119:105

BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

MADE STRONG: It is God that girdeth me with strength, and maketh my way perfect. —Psalms 18:3.

FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT
For President of the United States
JOHN N. GARNER
For Vice-President
HOWARD W. SMITH
House of Representatives
CARTER GLASS
For U. S. Senate

WHY THEY HATE ROOSEVELT

Woodrow Wilson once said that no one could hate a man he knew. Real hatred, he added, could be felt only for the unknown. If this be true, it is difficult to understand the gospel of hatred that has been spread over the land by President Roosevelt's opponents. Surely, the American people know him and his human quality.

Discussing the psychology of those who proclaim that they "hate Roosevelt," the editor of the St. Petersburg (Fla.) Times wrote recently that it is probably far from the truth to describe the character of the political assaults on President Roosevelt as expressions of "hatred." They are, in his opinion, rather expressions of resentment.

"It would be quite impossible for reasoning people," he wrote, "to 'hate' a man of President Roosevelt's kindly character and unquestionably high American and humanitarian ideals. But nothing could be more certain than that any such man in the White House, who would undertake to translate the highest humanitarian ideals into legislative and administrative policies, would incur the bitterest resentment of all specially privileged interests, and that is exactly what President Roosevelt has earned and is now being subjected to."

"Of course, no one 'hates' Franklin D. Roosevelt, but many persons high in business, financial and political realms so desperately resent his success in placing the country back on the road to economic recovery, in spite of them, that the effect upon their actions is not materially different from actual hatred.

"Who can explain this paradox? Why do those benefitted most by the New Deal of President Roosevelt assume the nearest to an attitude of hatred toward him? Why would they apparently rather lose money under an archaic system than make money under new conditions, based on equal rights and opportunities to all?"

"But, isn't that the answer—the fact that President Roosevelt denies the proprietary rights of special interests and stands militantly for equal rights and opportunities for all. Is there anything really mysterious about the psychology of the political 'hatred' the political reactionaries so copiously entertain for President Roosevelt?"

OCCOQUAN

Miss Anne McNeal of Washington, D. C., spent the week end with Miss Mary Joyce at her home at Occoquan.

The dance given by the alumni of Occoquan High School at the school auditorium on Friday evening, August 29, was a huge success. There were about one hundred couples, and it was unexcelled in the behaviour of all in attendance.

The ladies auxiliary of Pohick Church held their regular monthly meeting at the home of the Misses Belle and Leila Milstead near Accotink on Wednesday, September 2. There was a very good attendance, and all enjoyed a pleasant evening.

The executive committee of Occoquan School League held a meeting at the Bank of Occoquan on Monday evening, August 31, at which meeting the following chairman of committees were appointed: Mr. Walter Haislip, buildings and grounds; Mr. Harmon, one of the teachers, athletic; Mrs. Harvey M. Janney, welfare; Mrs. Jaine Abel, membership; Mrs. John Powell, entertainment; and Mrs. Lieberman, library.

Each committee chairman are requested to select their assistants. A meeting of the Executive Committee and committee chairman will be held on September 15 at 8:00 at the Bank of Occoquan to talk over matters of importance.

The first regular meeting of the School League will be held on September 17 at 8:00 at the school auditorium. It is hoped that all interested in school, church or civic betterment, or welfare of children, will come to this meeting. Suggestions will be welcomed, if constructive and practical to carry out.

Improvements:— Mr. and Mrs. Fling of Occoquan are having a new heating system installed in their home. Mr. F. R. Hynson of Manassas is the contractor for the work.

Mr. W. S. Lynn is having the roof of his store and home in Occoquan painted. Mr. Carl Eike is doing the work.

Mr. H. F. Jennings, the Occoquan druggist, is having larger and more up to date containers for his ice cream business installed in the drug store.

All these improvements are a good sign of prosperity, and New Deal distribution of wealth.

CATHARPIN

Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Caldwell of Six Acres left on Tuesday morning for a fortnight's sojourn among Mr. Caldwell's relatives and friends amid the scenes of his birth in Johnson City, Tenn., stopping en route in Norton, Va., for a few days' visit with the Paul McDonalds of that city.

Miss Ann Robertson of Lawn Vale returned home on Sunday last after recovering from an operation for appendicitis at Emergency Hospital several weeks ago. She is now feeling fine and will soon regain her normal good health again.

Mr. Bub Sanders of Atlanta, Ga., Mrs. Cook Reed of Upperville and Miss Carrie Sanders of Washington were calling on friends in the neighborhood on Monday of this week.

Master Jack Alvey, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Alvey of Cotharpin, who has been indisposed for the past week, is much improved and able to get out again.

Silo filling is once more the order of the day and ere this reaches its destination a number will be filled to overflowing. As things now stand, farmers are in a period of "watchful waiting;" prices going up, feed scarce and high, animal population decreasing, and many other things, all probably caused by the drought have always done in the past, they will work themselves out somehow while we "hold the bag."

Mrs. Sue C. Swart of Sudley, after a brief period of improvement at her home, was taken to Sibley Hospital on Monday for further treatment and observation. It is sincerely hoped that relief may soon be found and good health once more be her lot.

Sudley almost experienced a resurrection of one of her old-time habits on Sunday last when an all-day meeting with dinner attachment was held as the closing feature of a week's protracted service which had been conducted by the pastor and visiting clergy during the previous week. This was the second link in the Fairview-Sudley-Gainesville special services as projected for the close of the present Conference year. Fairview having had her all-day meeting on the 23rd, and Gainesville soon to follow. The program at Sudley was well conceived and carried out. The morning service consisted of a sermon by the pastor the Rev. A. B. Sapp, reception and baptism of some 13 new members as a result of the meetings and the administration of the Lord's Supper. The afternoon session was a platform meeting participated in by former and visiting pastors much to the enjoyment of all concerned. Those visiting and participating were the Rev. L. B. Atkins and Rev. W. P. C. Coe of Washington, the Rev. C. L. Beard of Hamilton, Va., and the Rev. Glen J. Cooper of the Warrenton church. All former pastors except Mr. Coe, were accompanied by their wives who were also gladly along with their husbands. A number of other invited former pastors were unable to be present on account of home engagements, but sent messages of love regrets. The day was beautiful, services inspiring and thruout a good Christian spirit prevailed among the large congregations assembled.

One of the fine features of the occasion was the solo singing by Miss Dove Pitzer of Washington, a friend of the parsonage family, who sang at both morning and afternoon sessions to the delight and inspiration of all who heard her. Nor must we forget to mention the fine cafeteria dinner served to all invited guests from the long tables in the dining room of the church. The old fashioned way was to spread the "festive board" under the shade of the old oaks on the lawn but owing to the impertinence of the weather man during the week, it was decided to use the dining room instead which proved "beautifully satisfactory" as some one expressed it; less trouble, less formality and more real, mingled enjoyment.

It can not be denied that such meetings are an inspiration and benefit to all who attend. People love to get together, talk things over and enjoy each other's society; extend the glad hand of friendship and enjoy the fruits of their labor together. It certainly would be a benefit to society if some of those old customs of other days could be brought back; more especially some of the old church habits and customs, which, not so very long ago, obtained at Old Sudley when all-day meetings were held with a long intermission between services which was enjoyed according to one's own fancy, meeting old friends, renewing acquaintances, eating, talking; in short, just making oneself happy. Yes, folks; we have lost much by the passing of some of those old time habits and customs.

Your local newspaper always does job printing at lowest prices!

When Friends Come In For Bridge

By Jane Rogers

EVEN the most ardent bridge addict will welcome a pause in the game if it is the occasion for serving a refreshing beverage that will add zest to the playing of the final rubber. A "Bridge Cocktail" with its base of tangy, unsweetened Hawaiian pineapple juice, admirably meets the specifications, and is quickly and easily prepared.

Bridge Cocktail

2 cups canned pineapple juice
1/2 cup orange juice
4 teaspoons lemon juice
1 cup ginger ale
3 tablespoons powdered sugar
6 maraschino cherries

Mix all ingredients except cherries. Add more sugar if desired. Serve ice cold, with one maraschino cherry in glass. (The cocktail will be more snappy if ginger ale is added just before serving.) 6 servings.

For the bridge luncheon an appetizing salad is always in order, and you will find the following recipe ideal for the purpose.

Gem Nut Salad

2 1/2 cups canned, diced Hawaiian pineapple
1/2 cup mayonnaise
1 1/2 cups finely chopped nuts
Lettuce
2 cups orange sections

Drain diced pineapple, dry on absorbent paper, dip in mayonnaise and finely chopped nuts. For each serving arrange about 5 of the diced pieces of pineapple on crisp lettuce and garnish with orange sections. 6 servings.

OCTOBER 2 FESTIVAL DATE

Active Preparations Under Way.

Friday, October 2, has been announced as the date of the Sixth Annual Piedmont Dairy Festival, to be held at Manassas. Cooperating in the sectional annual event are Arlington, Culpeper, Fairfax, Fauquier, Loudoun, Madison, Orange, Prince William, Rappahannock, Stafford and Spotsylvania Counties and the Cities of Alexandria, Fredericksburg and the District of Columbia.

Features of the program that will be of especial interest are a dairy pageant and the "Milky Way" parade. Rehearsals for the pageant "Piedmont Virginia, the Past, Present and Future" have been in progress since early last spring.

The parade, as in past years, will be made up of numerous bands, floats, herd exhibits, school units, agricultural and civic organizations, and military units. Another feature of the Festival that will appeal to many is the coronation of the Dairy Queen.

The dairy cattle judging contest, held in connection, has come to be an important event in which from 150 to 200 Vocational Agricultural Students and 4-H Club members compete each year.

Special recognition will be given to floats and parade entries planned to best carry out the purposes of the Piedmont Dairy Association—the promotion of increased consumption of dairy products, education as to the food and health value of such products, and dairy herd improvement. This year, all float classes—County, City, Commercial, Farm and Organization Floats—will be judged on the basis of their contribution toward the general goals.

As the dairy industry is the outstanding activity of Piedmont Virginia, the event has an exceptionally popular appeal, as has been evidenced by the splendid attendance and cooperation in the years past.

Hints for Homemakers

By Jane Rogers

THE next time you serve iced tea, try serving it as they do in Hawaii at one of Honolulu's famous hotels. For each tall, cool glass add to the tea mixture two tablespoons of canned, Hawaiian pineapple juice. Put in each glass a sprig of mint and a slice of canned pineapple sliced in the new, spear-like shape.

Do you realize how much cloth window shades, selected to harmonize with your curtains and draperies, can add to the attractiveness of your home? There are lovely tones of cornflower blue, willow green, Circassian brown, poppy and gray. Shades such as these are a true boon to the fastidious housewife. They're "processed" for long life and to withstand crinkling from the ravages of steam, rain, and snow. Buy these good cloth window shades for Fall re-decorating!

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

SNATCHING THE SUNBEAMS

HAVE you ever tried to photograph sunbeams? They make beautiful pictures and are witness to your photographic skill.

Summer and autumn months are especially good for sunbeam pictures. Often when the weather is threatening rain or has just cleared from a shower you will see these bands of light streaming down from the sky through openings in the clouds. You see them too in country roads shaded by tall trees that spread a canopy of leaves over the roadway. The beams come down through the openings in the canopy and when the background of the scene is dark in tone they will be conspicuously outlined. Again in the city streets where there are elevated railroad structures, you often see shafts of light coming down through the trestles. Sometimes, too, they appear in ravines where a waterfall gives off mist.

In each case it means that the air is filled with vapor or dust particles, "the gay notes that people the sunbeams," as a poet called them, doubtless without thinking that it is these notes that are chiefly responsible for making the sunbeams visible.

Of course, for a good picture, sunbeams need a frame or setting, clouds, trees, some of the landscape, objects in the city streets. For this it is usually necessary to expose longer than you would if the sunbeams were not present. This means in most instances a time exposure of about one second and a small stop opening, although a snapshot may do for bands of light sharply outlined against dark clouds, or other dark background. Sometimes these light paths appear during a summer shower, and, if pictured thus, the longer exposure is advisable.

However, to give specific instructions for catching sunbeams on your film is really futile, considering the varying light conditions under which they appear. The safest way is to make several shots of the scene at different exposures, remembering that the experience is that in most instances the exposure needs to be longer than as if you were taking the same picture without the sunbeams. But when you have captured these elusive but beautiful phenomena of nature in the midst of a setting that is also beautiful, you will have a picture that you will be as proud of as any you have ever taken.

CRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Christ Jesus" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all churches and societies of Christ, Scientists, on Sunday, August 30.

The Golden Text was "God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through Him might be saved" (John 3:17).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "And Jesus went about all the cities and villages, teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing every sickness and every disease among the people" (Matthew 9:35).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy: "Jesus established in the Christian era the precedent for all Christianity, theology, and healing. Christians are under direct orders now, as they were then, to be Christlike, to possess the Christ-spirit, to follow the Christ-example, and to heal the sick as well as the sinning" (p. 138).

CENTREVILLE

Rev. Nelson Dame, missionary of the Diocese of Virginia, will arrive on Saturday to conduct a week's mission at St. John's church here. The first service will be at 11 a. m. on Sunday, which will begin an all-day meeting, with basket luncheon at noon to which everyone is invited. The Guild will meet at the church on Saturday at 10 o'clock to "clean house." Some work has been done on the grounds during the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Johnson and family have returned from the seashore. Mrs. Irene Woltz is spending a few days with Mrs. Virginia Adams near Rock Hill.

Wedding bells have been ringing merrily around here recently.

School will open on Wednesday. The new principal is Miss Sanford of the Hague in the Northern Neck, and not a Richmond girl as before stated.
