Mr. J. J. Davies then introduced the speaker, Mr. Arthur Watwood.

Mr. Watwood, beginning his address, paid the very highest compliments to Hon. Howard Smith stating that Judge Smith, when he cast a vote in Congress, did so with due consideration not only of his own constituents, but in the best interest of the whole country and that the Judge was highly esteemed in Congress. Among other matters of business to be transacted at the coming meeting will be the election of someone to fill the office of president which will shortly become vacant by reason of Mr. Hall having accepted the Secretaryship of the Chamber of Commerce at Brunswick, Ga. Doing such, he believed that they should follow very closely the code of ethics set up by the members of their profession teacher influence, he said, is very great and members of close to their code of ethics. FUNERAL RITES FOR MRS. CONNER

Large Gathering Follow Beloved Lady to her Last Resting Place.

At 7:15 on Sunday, March 7, Anna Ursula Conner entered into rest. The deceased was the daughter of Edwin and Augusta Newman and was born in Manassas where in 1907 she married Edgar R. Conner. In her earlier years of married life Mrs. Conner was active in the church, social and civic life of Manassas and is remembered as beautiful in person and of lovable character. Although an invalid for years she never lost interest in current affairs and was devoted to her husband and children to the last.

The funeral services were held Tuesday last at 2:00 p. m. in Grace Methodist Church where Mrs. Conner had been for years a member. Rev. C. P. Baker, pastor of the church and Rev. George Hazel, a former pastor, and friend of Mrs. Conner, conducted the last rites for this highly esteemed lady, which were simple and impressive. Mr. G. A. Sinclair, jr., sang with deep feeling "Somewhere" and Mrs. Kitty Baker played softly old familiar Gospel hymns before and after the service. The crowded church and masses of flowers bore eloquent testimony to the affection in which Mrs. Conner was held. Final services were held in the family lot in the Manassas cemetery.

Active pallbearers were C. A. Sinclair, jr., Carl Kincheloe, Paul Kincheloe, William Leachman, Francis Conner and Percival Lewis.

Honorary pallbearers were Hon. H. W. Smith, Congressman from this District, Hon. Melvin C. Hazen, Commissioner of the District of Columbia, Hon. Tom Frank, Mayor of Warrenton, Hawes Davies, sr., G. R. Ratcliffe, D. J. Arrington, T. E. Didlake, Col. R. A. Hutchison, C. A. Sinclair, sr., John Burke, T. J. Broadus, R. S. Oyndon, C. F. M. Lewis, H. P. Davis, O. D. Waters, James Birkett, C. C. Lynn and W. H. Lamb.

Mrs. Conner is survived by her husband, a son, Edgar R. jr., three daughters, Mrs. Jack Ratcliffe and Misses Elvire and Walser Conner, all of Manassas, and one grandchild, Anne Walser Ratcliffe. Three brothers, C. M. and R. H. Newman of Bridgeport, Conn., and E. F. Newman of Washington, and a sister, Mrs. Blanche Senior of Bridgeport, Conn., also survive.

Mr. Conner and his children and other members of the family have the heart-felt sympathy of a large circle of friends.

TO RE-ENACT BATTLE OF THE CRATER

Petersburg is making preparations to take care of a large crowd of visitors on Friday, April 30, when there will be a realistic re-enactment of the battle of the Crater. More than 300 acres will be the "Stage" for the Sham battle, which will be participated in by the V. M. I., Cadet Corps, U. S. Marines from Quantico and units of the Virginia National Guard. The grounds will be equipped with an amplifying system so that spectators may hear the commentator, Dr. Douglas Southall Freeman, Editor of the Richmond News Leader.

During the first phase of the battle the spectators will be on the hill across the Railroad track from the Crater, and during the second phase Crater Park Grounds, each position they will occupy the west part of the affording a good view of the Battle-aforded. Many committees are working on details of the event, which will be one of the most spectacular battle scenes re-enacted in Virginia.

COMMERCE GROUP HOLDS SESSION

Budget and Road Work Receives Endorsement.

The Prince William County Chamber of Commerce held a well attended meeting Wednesday afternoon at the Town Hall in Manassas and made a number of important matters the subject of discussion and appropriate action.

Mr. C. C. Cloe presided with his usual efficiency and an unusual volume of routine business was handled.

Upon motion the name of the organization was changed from the Manassas-Prince William Chamber of Commerce to the Prince William Chamber of Commerce.

A resolution was offered by G. B. Cocke requesting retention in the county of the convict force now employed on secondary roads.

Hon. Harry Davis spoke on the many complaints received relative to the winter condition of our secondary road system and stated that he believed that as a whole these roads are in much better condition than they were before the County relinquished control. A number of others also voiced the opinion that there had been decided improvement. Mr. Hubbard, Resident Engineer for the Highway Department, also made a brief address and stated that it was impossible to keep secondary and only partially improved roads in first class year around condition, but that under the five year plan now in operation all principal secondary roads would be hard surfaced and the strictly neighborhood roads maintained. Professor Haydon, Division Superintendent of Schools, stated that there has been a steady improvement of the roads over which the school buses operated.

A resolution was adopted endorsing the program of the Resident Engineer and expressing the hope that Mr. Hubbard would be permitted to remain in charge of the Prince William road work until the five year program could be completed.

Mr. A. S. Boatwright discussed the Citizens Road League of Virginia and expressed the hope that its objectives would have the endorsement of the Prince William County Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Cloe then took up the consideration of the County Budget and asked Mayor Davis to explain its varied features. A general opinion expressed was that the budget was about as it should be, particularly the provisions for business instruction in some of the schools. The teaching of languages and of higher mathematics in the high schools was eloquently defended by Judge William Hill Brown, Jr., who stated that unless our schools gave instruction in these required subjects our young people would not be eligible for admission to any of our higher institutions and universities.

Mr. R. S. Hynson spoke on the need for industries in Manassas to provide employment and pay rolls. No definite action was taken on this beyond suggesting that a suitable committee be formed to keep in contact with the industrial agents of the Southern and the R. F. and P. Railroads.

CLUB CHANGES DANCE DATE

At a called meeting of the dance committee of the Junior Woman's Club this week, it was definitely decided that the Club would hold its Spring dance on the evening of April 23, instead of April 16 as was previously announced.

This change was made due to circumstances not known at the time preliminary plans were made for the affair.

However, the dance committee, under the capable chairmanship of Miss Sally Lewis, is busily engaged in forwarding plans and arrangements, and at this time announces that one of Northern Virginia's most popular orchestras has been definitely engaged for this social event, which promises to be one of the loveliest and most enjoyable ever held in Manassas.

The junior women will be hostesses to their friends on this occasion and invites you to attend.

"GET RIGHT WITH GOD" REVIVAL CAMPAIGN

A "Get Right With God" Revival Campaign will open at Grace M. E. Church, South, Sunday morning, and continue until after Easter. A large chorus choir is in process of organization and all singers of the community are invited to come and have part in this service. These services while being held in the Methodist Church and by the Methodist people are for the good of the community. As much will be done to get a person saved if we know he is going to join one of the other churches as we would do if he were to join the Methodist Church, hence all Christian people should join to make this meeting a real success. Our friends and brethren of the sister churches are cordially invited to have part. The pastor will do the preaching. Subjects for this week will be: Monday: "A REVIVAL OF RELIGION: What It Is and How to Have One." Tuesday: "The Four Steps to a Real Revival." Wednesday: "Repairing Broken Altars." Thursday: "Breaking Up The Fallow Ground." Friday: "What It Costs Not to Be A Christian." Saturday: "When They Had Prayed—What?"

They wish also to express our appreciation to those who participated in the service at the funeral.

JOPLIN

The community was saddened by the death of Mrs. Kate Liming Watson who passed to rest on Tuesday, February 23. She will be greatly missed by those who loved her.
Mrs. Evelyn Williams still continues very ill at the Emergency Hospital. Mrs. Frances Hooker was the guest of Miss Lucy Kinchloe on Wednesday of last week.

Every second and fourth Sunday nights are when our regular preaching services are held. Please come out and attend these services. It seems as though quite a few have forgotten that a church still remains here.

Bids for Extension Lines and Power Equipment Will Be Opened Soon

Dear Mr Editor: While we have realized for some time that various and sundry reports favorable and unfavorable to the R. E. A. Extensions of Bull Run Power Co., have been going around, started by whom we do not know but we have waited until we had some really definite information to give the Public before we made any statement in your Paper as to just what we were doing and the advance we had made; we did not want to say something that we did not know and it has only just come the time when we can definitely state to your readers that the bids for the Extension Lines and Power Equipment will be opened in Manassas, Virginia this month.

We feel that this is ample reply to the critics who have stated that we never would make these extensions.

As to the policy of the Bull Run Power Co., we want to say that it is our aim to as completely as it is humanly possible ELECTRIFY THE ENTIRE COUNTY of Prince William; as much of Fairfax County as we can and as far into Fauquier as our Charter will permit.

By the above we mean that even if the lines that may have to be run in some sections may not be a money making matter still if they will even carry themselves we shall try to give these sections electricity.

The R. E. A. permit us to loan funds to build the line into the homes of users where they are too far to be reached by our one pole set up; further that we also can loan funds to wire your house and also to aid you in buying electrical equipment that you may want; all of this as we understand is payable in monthly payments with a good long time for repayment all of which makes it possible for any one who is at all accessable to our line have the pleasures and comfort and advantages of ELECTRICITY, something that you nor your grand children would have had but for this RURAL EXTENSION as set up by the Government; the Government distinctly wants the Bull Run Power Co., to really give RURAL SECTIONS ELECTRICITY; not just the thickly settled sections and towns but it is intended as the name implies; RURAL ELECTRIFICATION; the fellow who did not see how he would ever get this advantage and convenience of ELECTRICITY.

We just want each and every one to STICK TO THEIR COMMUNITY; by doing this you help every one in your section and make it possible for them to take advantage of this wonderful convenience that they and you had never hoped would come your way.

Bull Run Power Co.,
R. S. Hynson, Treas.

A cottage prayer meeting was held last Thursday evening with Mrs. Wm. Powers.

JOHN MCGLONE

Mr. John McGlone of New York, a brother of Mrs. Thomas Meredith of Gainesville, Va., died from a major operation in that city February 22. Mr. McGlone was, until his retirement several years ago, vice-president of the International Mercantile Marine of New York and London, England, and was one of a party who after the close of the World War, crossed the north sea when it was mined, en route to Hamburg and Bremen to look after American shipping.

Later he traveled extensively in South America and had made a trip around the world. He is survived by his widow, Helena Day McGlone; a daughter of the late Brigadier Day of the English Army and two brothers, I. V. McGlone and T. F. McGlone of Spartansburg, S. C., also a sister, Mrs. Thomas Meredith at whose home in Gainesville, Va., he was a frequent visitor.

BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

If parents will have their children memorize the daily Bible selections, it will prove a priceless heritage to them in after years.

JESUS QUOTED: I have showed you all things, how that so labouring ye ought to support the weak, and to remember the words of the Lord Jesus how He said, it is more blessed to give than to receive.—The Acts 20: 35.

A DISTINGUISHED RECORD OF PUBLIC SERVICE

This week one of our most beloved citizens completes twenty-one years of service to the citizens of Prince William County in the capacity of Clerk of the Circuit Court.

On this occasion it is a pleasure to voice the unanimous appreciation throughout the community of the personal attainments and sterling character of Hon. George G. Tyler, a personal friend to everyone in the County.

Those who were fortunate enough to hear the splendid extemporaneous address delivered by Mr. Tyler at the Democratic Banquet in Manassas last week received even a better revelation of the speaker himself than of the subject of his discussion.

The lovable personality ascribed by Mr. Tyler to the President, may all be true, but to those hearers who had the benefit of life-long acquaintance with the speaker, it was really a spontaneous outpouring of his own fine character. It may have fitted the President, or it may have been too idealistic, but what he said about the Chief Executive, applied specifically to his own modest and lovable character. No one but a man like Mr. Tyler could have painted a word picture such as he gave to an appreciative audience last Thursday.

We join with all citizens of the county in wishing our Clerk of the Court many more years in office, and the enjoyment of long continued health and happiness.

To the Voters of Prince William:

It seems very inconsistent for the Board of Supervisors to lay a levy for funds for welfare work and relief used at the same time ask that the state prisoners be continued on the highways in the county doing the work our unemployed should have. It would seem that the Board is in favor of more direct relief by the county.

The use of prisoners in competition with free labor is an economic mistake and always has been. It literally takes bread from the honest workman's children, and is in a large way responsible for the position many a prisoner finds himself in. It also deprives the local merchant of the business that would come from the use of local free labor.

As a large majority of the crimes for which men do time for are crimes against property. Therefore, it is taxed to pay for the care of the criminal. And, the property owner should pay a direct tax for the protection it is supposed to give him.

To shift the care of these men to the gas tax is very unfair to the average auto owner who has little or no property to protect.

If the prisoners cannot be segregated on substance farms where they should be and where they would be able to take care of themselves, it is high time that the legislature look into this unfair condition and find some way of giving our roads the funds due them. And if the prisoners must be used on the road, a direct levy against property for its share of the cost of the prisoners' maintenance will give us a great deal more highway funds, and will remove one of our many economic blunders.

STATE DEMONSTRATOR ADDRESSES WOMAN'S CLUB

The March meeting of the Woman's Club of Manassas was held on Wednesday of this week in the attractively decorated dining room of the Prince William Hotel.

Reports given by the section chairmen, and chairmen of the standing committees showed a number of civic enterprises completed much pleasant entertainment during past month.

Mrs. William F. Cocke, chairman of Legislation, read a most interesting account of an act passed by the Assembly of Virginia in 1727, dealing with the problem of transients, and payment of debts.

Mrs. Cocke also called attention to the Legislative program as sponsored by the General Federation.

The plans for the Easter Charity Ball, on Monday, March 29, were reported as progressing nicely and judging from enthusiasm of the various committee chairman and advance notices promises to be a gala event.

Miss Maude Wallace, assistant director of Extension Work, in charge of Home Demonstration Work for the State of Virginia was the guest speaker. Miss Wallace spoke on the "House Beautiful." She gave in her own charming way, some very helpful and interesting suggestions, as to how one might make home a place in which all might dwell happily and harmoniously. She said, "The act of living together and making home beautiful is true culture and that daily tasks done with pains, interest and affection is true art."

As steps in obtaining true art in living, Miss Wallace gave first economic security and the proper use of family income; secondly, health, and thirdly, a broader vision and viewpoint on national and international affairs. This, she said, might be obtained by reading of current books and magazines and keeping up with current events.

Managerial ability, the development of our skills, and the building up of a real love and affection among the family were also mentioned as playing a large part in the general philosophy of art in our every day lives. And the making of that kind of a home, which Howard Payne had in mind when he wrote the lovely words of Home Sweet Home.

Hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. C. C. Lynn, Mrs. J. P. Lyon, Mrs. C. B. Linton, Mrs. L. L. Lomas, Mrs. R. M. Meredith and Mrs. W. L. Lloyd.

TO KEEP A TRUE LENT

Is this a Lent to keep
The larder lean and clean
From fats of veal and sheep?

Is it to quit the dish?
Of flesh and still to fill
The platter high with fish?

Is it to fast an hour
Or ragged go, on show
A down cast look or sour?

No! 'Tis a fast to dole
The sheaf of wheat and meat
Unto the hungry soul!

Is it to fast from strife
From old debate and hate
To circumscribe thy life

To share a heart grief rent
To starve thy sins, not dim
And that's to keep thy Lent!

JOHN FLORANCE

Funeral services were held Tuesday at Dumfries Methodist Church at two o'clock for Mr. John Florance, for many years resident of the Dumfries community. The services were conducted by Rev. A. H. Shumate and interment followed at Joplin.

The large crowd attending the funeral and the beautiful floral tributes evidenced the high esteem in which the deceased was held.

SHARING IN Recovery

At each stage of recovery, helping to make the next stage possible, banks extend credit. As individuals and business firms utilize loanable funds, commercial expansion gathers headway.

We are prepared to grant loans—on a sound basis—to borrowers according to their requirements, and to work hand in hand with them as business horizons broaden.

MANASSAS HIGH BREAKS EVEN

WIN AT LEE-JACKSON CLOSES SEASON.

Manassas High School closed their basketball season on last Friday with a brand of splendid basketball. Although the girls lost their game the score 10 to 8 indicates what a hard fight they carried on. Our two guards played a splendid game and had the forwards been able to score the game would have been a Manassas win. Lee-Jackson guards too must be credited with a defensive that seldom allowed our forwards to shoot. Both Lee-Jackson and Manassas played as one team and an individual star would be hard to find.

The boys played one of their best games of the year in defeating Lee-Jackson 24 to 12. Using the corners effecting, Manassas time and time again moved the ball into the corner from where Smith came through with basket after basket. When the ball was not in the corners, Lynn and Vance were sinking them from the middle part of the offensive area. Lee-Jackson's plucky center put up a game fight but his teammates just didn't seem to click with him. We were sorry to see him taken from the game because of an injured elbow.

This victory gives Manassas boys an edge of one game in victories. The final seasons standing being 6 games won, 5 games lost. The boys won all their county games so retain their championship gained last year.

The Manassas Journal,
Manassas, Virginia.
Messrs. Lamb and Wharton.
Gentlemen:

In reviewing some old papers recently, I found a most interesting letter written by my father while encamped near Centreville (at a place called Wigfall) just after the First Battle of Manassas (or Bull Run). I regret that I had not looked over these papers before the Sham Battle last Summer.

Had the Confederates killed every last Yankee on that field of battle, my father would have made no boast of the accomplishment as he anticipated just that. On the other hand, he writes, "Well, we whipped them very decently, and they went back to the spot from which it took them six months to march in the short space of six hours."

He, furthermore, states that his regiment, the Seventh Virginia, under Gen. Kemper, is at a place called "Wigfall." Can you locate the place for me, or can you tell me to what name Wigfall has been changed?

In publishing the various accounts of that first battle, did anyone mention the fact that General Jackson was without ammunition, and to keep his men occupied, ordered them to "throw rocks" at the enemy.

General Jackson (after his ammunition had given out and while waiting for General Kirby Smith to come up) ordered the rock throwing.

THE 60-horsepower Ford V-8 engine was first developed for Europe, where fuel costs are high. Two years' usage there proved its unusual economy.

When the "60" came to this country this year, the Ford Motor Company made no mileage claims—waited for facts, written on American roads by American drivers.

Now Ford "60" owners are reporting averages of 22 to 27 miles on a gallon of gasoline. That makes it the most economical Ford car ever built!

Best of all, the Ford "60" is just as big and roomy—just as handsome, sturdy and safe—as the famous 85-horsepower Ford V-8. And it sells at the lowest Ford price in years.

If you want a big car for a small budget—a car you can drive with pride and profit—see the thrifty "60" soon!

"EVERYBODY'S CRAZY"
AT OCCOQUAN

Friday evening at 8 o'clock as record-breaking crowd assembled in Occoquan High School auditorium to see "Everybody's Crazy" Comedy in three acts. On this presentation the faculty was assisted by several young men of Occoquan. From the time the curtain went up on Jasper, the bell hop and Gladiola the Maid, moping around in the lobby of the gloomy unpopular Hodgefield Hotel, until the last curtain dropped on the same lobby filled with a motley array of excited guests, the audience was under a spell.

Francis Malcolm, as soft-soaping Jasper Flykes, with Miss Lula Brydie as his "sweetest lil' chocolate sundae"—Gladiola, provided to perfection the "color note" always delightful to those who know the real southern donkey.

As the joint owners of this summer hotel in Boiling Springs, Arkansas, Messrs. William Sanford, Wallace Lynn and Roger Sanford, playing Herbert Stanley, Elmer Sneed and themselves with forty-eight cents to meet a one hundred dollar payment demanded by their hardboiled landlord. This modern Shylock well portrayed by Mr. Todd Webb had no patience with these young college sprouts and considered throwing them out within a few hours unless the money was raised. Faced with this situation the three boys densed a plan to get customers and make them pay in advance. Libby Ann, the cockney cook declared "the 'otel was 'aunted and 'aunted proper by the ghost of ole 'odgefield," the former owner of the hotel. This comedy role was admirably taken by Miss Grace Madden. Rather puzzled himself, Herbert put a notice in the paper changing the name of the hotel to Treasurer Trove Tavern and announcing that the spirit of Hodgefield haunted the premises because thirty thousand dollars was buried there. Tommy Wilkins advertised a visit from his cousin, Eve St. Regis' the famous classical dancer. Elmer Sneed, a premed student, decided to pose as a psychiatrist to delve into the subconscious minds of the guests and drag forth their repressions. He also advertised the mineral waters of the hotel as being curative for all mental disorders.

These three plans combined to attract a vancity of treasure seekers, romance seekers and those afflicted with nerves. The succeeding events were at once comical and ludicrous.

The first guest to arrive was Mrs. Emmaline. Spencer from Topeka, Kansas. Attracted by the curative mineral waters and desire to see Miss St. Regis' clothes. Mrs. Spencer had selected this hotel. Miss Mary Page Barnes was perfectly cast in this role.

When Miss Vaughan came on the stage with her brand new spade and enija board, and her emphatic "none of that" to Herbert who was enthusiastically greatly Julia Mather, his lovely sweetheart, the audience howled. Miss Vaughan as Miss Kitty Katt and Miss Eskridge as Julia were among the early comers.

When a messenger boy (Byddy Lynn) brought a telegram for Tommy saying "Eve St. Regis couldn't come. Tommy was forced to impersonate Eve. Never did a more fetching blonde appear on the stage than this "devilish little Evil Critter" who set all the men agog.

Mr. Herbert Mooney, as Adam Potte, bachelor dirt farmer, afflicted with hellacious nightmares, the treasure fever and an "Evil St. Regis Complex," was superb. His every appearance and utterance were greeted with laughter.

Entirely different from any other customers were the Van Gordon family. Caroline (Mrs. William Sanford) Godfrey (Mr. Jimmy Shepard) and their daughter, Celia (Miss Jessie Neale). Mrs. Sanford gave an excellent portrayal of an hypochondriac with nineteen different things wrong with her. She proved to be the plague of Dr. Sneed's existence. Perhaps the high spot of the evening come when poor henpecked Godfrey, somnambulist that he was, came through the lobby in his shirt. Eve St. Regis' frantic attempts to evade the loving attentions of Godfrey and Adam kept the house in gales of laughter. Dr. Sneed in his expects to cure Celia of her gum chewing phobia, fell a victim to her girlish charms.

When finally all the love affairs were straightened out, the treasure discovered, the ghost uncovered, and phonograph mystery solved, there was no need to try to convince the audience that everyone was crazy. The parts were excellently came out and very well cost.

A total of $113.15 was realized. This play was given for benefit of grade library. When everything's been said, the credit of the successful play goes to Miss Irons.

Welfare Official Flays Virginia's Jail System

Report Reveals "Unbelievable Conditions."

Virginia's antiquated jail system, the oldest in the United States, was subjected to a scathing attack this week by Russell B. DeVine, State supervisor of jail accounts for the Department of Public Welfare.

Addressing the State jail study commission at the Capitol, he denounced the practice of throwing in to jail thousands of persons who are not "criminals," large numbers of whom are incarcerated simply because they are unable to pay a fine for some petty offense.

"Our present system of imprisoning people because they are unable to pay their fines," he said, "then paying for their support in jail and for the relief of their families would be unbelievable if it wasn't true."

He damned 30 Virginia jails as "distinct fire hazards" and said 45 have no supervision at night. In spite of such conditions, he continued, the State—and its divisions—in a year commit, among others, about 2,500 juveniles and 1,500 persons who later are sent to State hospitals for the insane.

"Any State which incarcerates these groups in the average jail is mentally sick itself," Mr. DeVine declared with heat. "It takes a lot of pride in the past and a vast amount of smug satisfaction in a balanced budget to counterbalance a record such as this."

As remedial measures he suggested regional system, payment of fines on the installment plan, and judicial reform providing for immediate trial and disposition of cases, "otherwise the courts will continue to dump into the jails prisoners for whom no other method of disposal is at hand."

Preceding this blast the jail study commission, aroused by the recent death of three prisoners as a result of as many town jail fires, adopted a resolution offered by State Senator Vivian L. Page of Norfolk, chairman, imploring local authorities to provide for constant jail attendance, day and night, where prisoners are confined.

CATHARPIN

Rita, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Holmes Robertson of Lawn Vale, came home from school on Thursday of last week feeling somewhat indisposed only to have her ailment diagnosed next day as scarlet fever from which ailment she is now suffering. It was hoped that this disease which has afflicted upper Prince William for the past four months, had entirely disappeared, but it seems to break out occasionally, not in an epidemic way, but a case here and there which is all sufficient to keep parental anxiety at a maximum.

Dr. and Mrs. Charles Ford Brower, their sons, Frank W. of Price, Md., after a number of weeks sojourn with and Charles F. of Purcellville, Va., returned to their home last week and Mrs. Marjorie Willis of Arlington, feeling glad that they went and glad to be home again. Especially, were a number of the doctor's patients glad for his return.

The second quarterly conference of the year will be held in Gainesville church Saturday morning, March 13., beginning at 10 a. m. upon which occasion it is hoped all official members may be present. This business session of the church is always open to the membership at large and since it is being held in the church building, it affords a splendid opportunity for all to attend; in fact all members are importuned to come. The Elder, Dr. Edgar C. Beery, will preach at Sudley on Sunday morning, March 14, at 11 a. m. Don't miss him.

It is now being planned to hold a union worship service at Sudley church on Easter Sunday morning when all three congregations of the charge — Fairview, Gainesville and Sudley — shall come together on this memorable Easter occasion. At this service addresses concerning the work of the church will be heard with special reference to the Bishop's Crusade which will culminate as previously noted in this column, on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, April 23-25, 1937, in one of the greatest events in Southern Methodism and her Missionary cause. At this time, committees and full arrangements for the banquet on Friday night, April 23, will be announced. Literature is now being distributed and all should read and be posted. This Crusade is for EVERY MEMBER. So try to attend services regularly and get the benefit of its inspiration.

Mrs. W. S. Brower of Lone Oak left on Saturday last for a week's visit among friends up in the Metropolitan of the Western Hemisphere, New York City.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Alvey and sons of this city spent Sunday among friends in Arlington, Va.

Mr. G. G. Hughes of near Catharpin is confined to his home suffering from an attack of tonsillitis at this writing.

The L. J. Pattie family of Belle Farm are convalescing from recent illnesses and children able to attend school.

Miss Ann Robertson, a senior in the Haymarket high school, is now domiciled at Oakwood pending the quarantine of her sister, Rita, now suffering from scarlet fever as above noted.

Shirley Temple seemed to be the drawing card for many in the Catharpin neighborhood on Monday night last. It seems to be a toss-up between Shirley and the Quints as to which or who is most popular in the public eye.

Last Sunday was a beautiful day—the first good Sunday we have had since we can not tell when. The week was beautiful and farmers hastened to the fields to make up for lost time well advanced but much yet remains during the rainy season. Plowing is to be done. The frogs are croaking from their ponds and everything in both the animal and vegetable kingdoms are waking from their slumbers ready for a new start. Sunday church pews should be crowded to the doors; but alas and alack! no. We was so fine it was supposed that all heard one person say: "No body can't go to church on a purty day; must go 'riden.'" At any rate, the dusty roads had splendid opportunity to display their wares since each passing car
