UDC HOLDS JULY MEETING

Mrs. Hutchison and Mrs. Nash Entertain.

Mrs. R. A. Hutchison and Mrs. E. H. Nash were hostesses to the Manassas Chapter U. D. C. on Wednesday afternoon, July 7, at the home of the former on Richmond avenue in South Manassas.

The guests were warmly welcomed by the hostesses and seated on the spacious portico amid lovely decorations of potted plants and cut flowers from the Hutchison gardens. The president's table was distinct in an arrangement of sweet william in the Confederate colors of red and white.

In the absence of the leader, Mrs. L. J. Carper, the meeting was called to order by the vice-president, Mrs. Hutchison, and the usual business routine followed. The first half hour was devoted to a historical program presided over by Mrs. T. J. Ashford. Mrs. Ashford read extracts from "Gone With the Wind" by Margaret Mitchell and from Dr. J. W. Jones, "Christ in Camp." Dr. Jones writes that Southern soldiers, as a whole, were very religious, and during the conflict of '61-65 built without hesitancy, a large number of Chapels for their Godly worship, and distributed millions of pages of religious literature.

A request for local history concerning the Chinn House on Manassas Battlefield was left with Mrs. Ashford and a report of this historical place may be given at the August meeting. Our slogan should be "Know Local History First."

The adjustment of any business matter pertaining to the building site, now owned by the local U. D. C. chapter was left to the discretion of the building committee composed of Mrs. A. O. Weedon, chairman; Mrs. W. A. Newman, Mrs. E. H. Nash, Mrs. Norvelle Larkin and Mrs. Maud Kincheloe. The hostesses, in the social hour, served cooling refreshments and were assisted by Mrs. Hutchison's daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Wine and grandchildren, Mary Louise and Robert Randall Wine. The August meeting will be on the lawn at the home of Mrs. H. A. Newman on Battle Street.

APPOMATTOX SITE TO BE RESTORED

After negotiating for more than a year the Federal Government has accepted options on the McLean property, key tract for restoration of the Appomattox Surrender Grounds, it was announced by James P. Andrews of Farmville, project manager for the Resettlement Administration.

Mr. Andrews said that the final acceptance came Saturday, just four days before appropriation for the purchase would have expired at the end of the fiscal year, June 30.

Officials regarded acceptance as the most important step in their six-year effort to secure a national park at the site. Mr. Andrews stated that the move assures the park.

Several weeks ago it was believed that the land had been acquired when the options were accepted by a district officer of the Resettlement Administration in Raleigh, N. C. However, when the agreements reached Washington, the Park Service, which is to do the restoration work, refused to approve them because of three restrictions named by the heirs of William Ramsey, owners of the land.

PRINCE WILLIAM TO HAVE AERIAL SURVEY

Prince William County will be one of the counties in the State of Virginia which will be surveyed by aerial photography under the 1937 Agricultural Conservation Administration. Photographs will be made of all farms of the county and the acreages computed from these by clerks in the County Agents Office.

Approximately ten county supervisors will visit the farms of the co-operators and make checks on the minor details, such as practices, and will identify fields, etc., in order to determine the amount of payment, the farmer has earned under the terms of the program.

A greater part of the county has already been surveyed, and the work will start shortly on the more minute, details, so that farmers who have earned their maximum payments will receive their checks earlier.

KIWANIS HEAR REPORT ON INTERNATIONAL MEETING

Col. Hutchison, always a welcome speaker at the Kiwanis Club, gave the members a very interesting and colorful picture of the International Convention at Indianapolis last week which he attended as delegate from Manassas.

Mr. Hutchison loudly praised the hospitality of the host city. He described some of the privileges allowed delegates. Details of the various meetings were also given.

Col. Bob says that in his travels through the corn belt he found no corn so good as right here in Prince William. Another side light was a description of an auto race. One of the feats was a tire changing in about a quarter of a minute.

"NINETIES" PARTY TO ATTRACT MANY

Junior Women Stage Unique
Affair at Annaburg.

An added feature of the "Gay Nineties" Party which the Junior Women are giving July 21 on the lawn of Annaburg from four to eight, will be the re-enactment of the Mock Wedding by the Music Literature Section of the Women's Club. Under the direction of Miss Margaret Lynch, the wedding will be given again with only a few changes in the cast of the final meeting. Because of the great success of this Mock Wedding the Junior Women have asked the Senior Club to put this on as so many people have expressed the desire to see it. The wedding will be one of the main features of the evening's entertainment.

Besides this, Music of the Gay Ninety period will be played throughout the evening by Cleveland Fisher, Mrs. Carper and others. Also there will be singing by various county people. Lucy Gibson, chairman of the Entertainment Committee, has announced various games for the evening. Old fashioned card games, checkers, dominoes, croquet and horse-shoe pitching will be provided for the guests. For the children there will be ponies and carts. Candy and cakes will be sold in booths as well as punch, lemonade and ice-cream. Costumes of that period will be worn by the Junior Women and as many others as possible.

Many prominent people of the county and surrounding counties have already accepted invitations to attend and a large crowd is expected by Mary Dee Dee Lynch and the committee who have been active in inviting guests from all over the county as well as working out many details to make this party as typical of the period as possible.

In the afternoon the song service at 1:30 will be followed by prayer and the special featured will be presented by the different schools. Elder G. W. Beahm will make the address and after roll call there will be five minutes talks by Mrs. L. Bowman, Mr. Sigman, Rev. J. M. Bell, Rev. J. M. Taylor, Rev. J. M. DeChant.

After reports of committees the election of officers will be held and the convention will close with a hymn and benediction.

Some twenty of her young friends were invited and the afternoon was spent in playing games and enjoying the splendid hospitality of the hostess. The gathering reluctantly disbanded after the service of delicious refreshments.

HON. WORTH W. SMITH WITHDRAWS FROM ATTORNEY GENERAL RACE

Retirement Held Advantageous to Mr. Staples.

Hon. W. Worth Smith, of Louisa, this week announced his retirement from the race for Attorney General of Virginia. The announcement followed a spirited exchange of telegrams between Mr. Smith and Mr. John Galleher, of Leesburg, who is also a candidate.

A week ago, in Newport News, Mr. Smith stated that unless Mr. Galleher retired, he, himself, would do so. "Neither of us," Mr. Smith is reported to have said, "can win in a three cornered fight battle against Attorney General Staples."

The statement was made in the presence of Mr. Galleher who also addressed the meeting at Newport News, and the presiding chairman, it is stated, offered Mr. Galleher opportunity for rebuttal, which was declined.

Questioned later, Mr. Galleher is said to have stated that he was in the campaign to stay, regardless of the retirement of Mr. Smith, and that he was confident of victory.

REGIONAL HIGH SCHOOL LOCATED

Colored Youth of Several Counties to Receive Instruction
Here.

The Prince William County School Board held its annual meeting on Tuesday. D. J. Arrington was elected chairman and R. C. Haydon, clerk. The Board set the first Wednesday in each month as its regular meeting date for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1937, and ending June 30, 1938.

A resolution was passed in which the board agreed to co-operate with the School Boards of Fauquier, Fairfax and Rappahannock counties in conjunction with the State Board of Education in making the Manassas Industrial School the regional high school for negroes in Northern Virginia.

Rev. John De Chant appeared before the board in the interest of religious education in the day schools. He stated that their organization was ready to place a religious teacher in the schools next year, and asked the Board to co-operate. The Board decided to co-operate fully in this work. Mr. Harry P. Davis was appointed auditor of the school board accounts and also Brentsville Courthouse accounts.

The board adjourned to meet again on August 4.

ABC PROFIT $16,000,000 FOR FISCAL ENDING JUNE 30

Gross revenues from the operation of the Virginia Alcoholic Beverage Control Board for the fiscal year ended June 30 will be more than $16,000,000, it was unofficially estimated. Official figures will not be available until late this month.

The estimated returns are about 25 per cent more than the 1936 gross of $12,935,023.95. Net profits for the fiscal year just ended, it is believed, will be more than $4,000,000. Net profits are distributed, after the State deducts $1,675,000, one-third to the State and two-thirds to the localities on a basis of population.

The ABC Board's new rules regulating the newspaper advertising of hard liquors and prohibiting minors from engaging in the sale or service of beer and wine become effective today, the beginning of the new fiscal year.

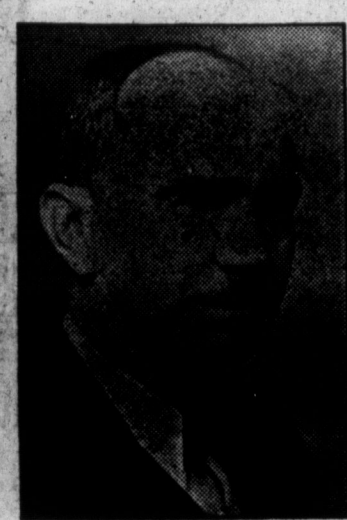

T. McCall Frazier, chairman yesterday said the board was considering regulations in effect in New York and the District of Columbia which provide for automatic revocation of licenses if a licensee is convicted of violating any law.

Beer and wine licenses in Virginia were scheduled to expire yesterday but were extended for 30 days while the board considers applicants with the avowed intention of getting rid of "undesirables."

POLITICAL MEETING

Messrs. Frank P. Moncure and Geo. W. Herring will speak at the Brentsville Courthouse on Friday evening, July 16, at 8:00 p. m.

A dance will follow. Refreshments are to be sold for benefit of Brentsville Community League.

HON. W. WORTH SMITH

The retirement of one of the two contestants for the position now held by Attorney General Staples, is said to be widely regarded as advantageous to the candidate offering for reelection.

Governor Peery ended the current controversy over the chairmanship of the State Commission of Game and Inland Fisheries by reappointing Carl H. Nolting to the office for a seven-year term. His old term, begun in 1933, expired Wednesday midnight.

In recent weeks Mr. Nolting's administration was subjected to caustic attacks by some game protective associations and individuals.

Mr. Nolting said the Governor's decision was "deeply gratifying" to him and he was grateful to the "many friends and sportsmen in all sections of the State who wrote to the Governor in my behalf."

In addition to renaming the chairman, Governor Peery also reappointed Beverley W. Stras, Jr., of Tazewell for a term of two years.

He took no action on the one-year term held by Richard Crane of Westover, which also expired. Mr. Crane will holdover in office until he is reappointed or his successor named.

MANY DROPPED FROM WPA ROLLS

Further Reduction of 5 Per Cent a Month Expected.

William A. Smith, State Administrator for the Works Progress Administration, announced this week a quota of 18,900 persons on all Virginia WPA projects, effective as of July 15.

Smith said further that reductions in employment quotas for the several succeeding months of at least five per cent per month may be expected.

Smith emphasized four factors to be considered in meeting the July 15 quota and subsequent reductions as follows:

1. Projects should be operated only when they are of unquestionable social and economic value to the community, based on evidence of real interest on the part of the sponsor.
2. The efficient operation of projects is of primary importance.
3. Projects so small or so isolated as to cause the supervisory cost thereof to be unduly high should not be operated.
4. WPA work opportunities should be made of maximum value as employment resources available to local welfare departments in supplying work opportunities to capable, needy workers referred by those departments.

REV. R. M. GRAHAM ADDRESSES COMMUNITY ASSOCIATION

A very interesting and inspiring address was delivered by the Rev. R. M. Graham, Pastor of the Manassas Baptist Church, at the July meeting of the Brentsville District Community Association at Nokesville on Tuesday evening. L. J. Bowman, vice president, presided at the meeting.

Committee reports, including Home Economics by Mrs. M. J. Shepherd and Civic by John W. Harpine, were made. Much interest was shown in the question of obtaining a walk from the high school to Nokesville or in the widening of the shoulders of the highway from the standpoint of lessening danger to school children using the road.

The next district meeting was announced for Tuesday evening, Aug. 3.

C. E. LIPSCOMB BURIED HERE

Noted Publisher was a Native of Prince William.

Funeral services were held in Manassas yesterday at the home of Capt. and Mrs. Howard Jamison for Charles E. Lipscomb, prominent New York publisher, who died on July 4 at Easton, Md.

Services were conducted by the Bishop of Illinois and interment was in the Manassas cemetery.

Mr. Lipscomb was a member of one of Prince William's old and distinguished families and his death was the occasion of much sorrow by all who knew him personally as well as those who had only appreciated the fine personality and benevolent character of a man who had always generously contributed to the progress of his native country.

The pall bearers were: William Lipscomb Jamison, Manassas, Va.; Robert Austen, Easton, Md.; Herbert Austen, Easton, Md.; John P. Stacord, Easton, Md.; Aubrey L. Clarke, Washington, D. C.; Louis F. Peak, Washington, D. C.; James Johnston, New York City, and Sidney L. Weedon, New York City.

The following quotation is from the New York Times which gave suitable recognition to the passing of an outstanding citizen in our greatest city:

Mr. Lipscomb, who lived at 10 Park Avenue West, maintained a country estate, Presque Isle on the Wye, at Easton. Long prominent in the publishing field, he was senior official of a firm specializing in educational, scientific, historical and religious works.

Born in Brentsville, Va., Mr. Lipscomb was the son of the late Judge William E. Lipscomb of the Virginia Common Pleas Court and of the late Mrs. Henrietta Holland Lipscomb. He was descended from seventeenth century settlers of Virginia and belonged to a family long well known there.

After his graduation from William and Mary College in 1893, Mr. Lipscomb taught in the Manassas (Va.) school system until about 1904, when he entered the publishing business with Walter F. Austin. They founded here the National Alumni, Inc.

In 1914 the firm was merged with the Vincent Parke Company to form the present firm of Parke, Austin & Lipscomb, Inc. Mr. Lipscomb served as treasurer for some years before becoming chairman of the board of directors.

Among the more important works published by the firms with which Mr. Lipscomb was connected have been "Great Events by Famous Historians," "Greek and Roman Classics," "The Works of Jules Verne" and "Source Records of the Great War."

Mr. Lipscomb was treasurer and a director of Smithsonian Institution Series, Inc., a subsidiary of Parke, Austin & Lipscomb. The Smithsonian Institution Series publishes sets of scientific books prepared by the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, D. C.

He gave generously to William and Mary College and to the Manassas school system. He was a Mason, a member of Kappa Alpha fraternity and belonged to the Lambs Club, Baltusrol Country Club, Jefferson Islands Club and the Chesapeake Club of Eastern Maryland.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. May Blaine Lipscomb, a niece of the late James G. Blaine, Republican leader and statesman; a daughter, Mrs. Rebekah Lipscomb White, the wife of Captain Thomas D. White, U. S. Army attaché at the American Embassy in Rome, and two sisters, Mrs. E. Weedon of South Orange, N. J., and Mrs. F. E. Garrison of Denver, Col.

Bishop John Chanler White of the Protestant Episcopal Diocese of Springfield, Ill., the father of Captain White, will conduct a funeral service at 4 p. m. today at the Manassas (Va.) home of Mr. Lipscomb's niece, Mrs. Howard Jamison. Burial will be in Manassas Cemetery.

CATHARPIN

Engineers are now locating the electric line soon to be built thru this community and ere long we are assured of electricity for whatever purposes it may be desired. It is not generally known but the installation of this line has been a real "headache" and the cause of much worry and hard work on the part of some of the projectors; so much so that many a person would be tempted to throw up his hands and let it go. While we complain of tardiness and think inactivity on the part of the company is responsible for its delay, the truth is that the Government is a mighty slow and sometimes a very pestering "fellow" to deal with. "He" moves when "he" wants to and you can just bide time as patiently as you know how until "he" gets ready. The word now has been given to go and ere long we shall have electricity in our midst.

Mrs. J. W. Alvey of this city motored to Marshall one day last week where she called upon relatives and friends of that community.

Threshing is now the order of the day, but the days are few and far between when it is not raining. So far the straw is overly abundant, but wheat is good quality.

Master Wayne Pattie spent several days last week visiting his brother John who is now domiciled at Triangle, Va.

Mr. L. J. Pattie of Belle Farm, while adjusting a hay fork in his barn, fell to the floor below but fortunately suffered no broken bones, but like Jim Braddock, is feeling somewhat bruised up on account of the experience.

A wedding of interest to the Sudley community took place at the Methodist parsonage in Forrestville, Md., when Miss Florence Elizabeth Palmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Palmer of Washington, and Mr. Samuel A. Moss, jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Moss of Manassas, Va., were united in the holy bonds of matrimony by the Rev. Mr. Elbert, pastor of that church. The ceremony took place at 7:00 p. m. on Saturday, June 26, 1937, before some forty relatives and friends of the contracting parties. The groom is a native of the Sudley neighborhood, and a constant and useful member of the church at that point. All join in wishing for him and his wife all the blessings of life.

Another "Wedding" which will be of interest to the Sudley Wesley Bible class was the Golden Wedding of the Rev. and Mrs. J. L. McCutcheon, held in the Baptist Church, Modest Town, Va., where Mr. McCutcheon is pastor on Tuesday night, June 22, 1937, when some 200 people gathered to do honor to their pastor who had just finished his half century both as a married man and a preacher. This column and "its" better half had the pleasure of attending. The Sudley Wesley Bible class, by its secretary, had sent a letter of congratulations and good wishes; which letter, along with others, was read during the program. Mrs. McCutcheon has for many years, been a power in the Baptist S. S. work and upon her visits to Oakwood, has taught the Bible class at Sudley much to the delight of that organization. This close relationship with the class naturally endeared her to all its members, hence the letter.

Mrs. A. L. Webb and Mrs. Ethel Watt, of the Capital city, were guests of Mrs. Webb's mother, Mrs. Etta P. Lynn, of this city, on Sunday last.

Children's Day exercises recently held at Sudley were of the usual order of excellence and a large congregation was present to enjoy it. Sudley has a population sufficient to give a large daily enrollment to all the S S classes, but must acknowledge that Children's Day is the only time that brings them out. It seems that parents are more and more neglecting this duty to the children of the community. If children are allowed to grow up without realizing the duty and need of attendance upon church services, it will not be long until Sudley, with all her history of the past century and a quarter will become a thing of the past and drop back into history as something that once was. There is not a single family in the whole Sudley community that could not be rated as intelligent; many of them will classify high in the scale of intellectual attainment and their children are graduating each year from the high schools. Yet, for some reason, the church school seems to be a sort of annoyance; something to be neglected for just any kind of excuse, no matter how trivial it may be. A Sunday school can not exist without pupils any more than a day-school; neither can it be a success without regular attendance. If children are deprived of this privilege in their youth it will not be hard to forecast the future of church. Won't you please think this over a bit?

MOSES A. C. SPLITS EVEN

Noland! A team from Washington D. C. was defeated Sunday by Moses A. C. This game was played on the Haymarket diamond at 3 o'clock. This was a hard fought game, both teams trying hard to score. When the 9th inning was over, the score was 3 to 2 in favor of Moses A. C.

Moses starts out fine by winning the first game on their new diamond. Sunday was the first time they had played on this diamond. Moses A. C. went to Fairfax Monday, July 5th to play Fairfax. They were defeated by a score of 7 to 1 in favor of Fairfax. Each team played fair. Fairfax players were very slow in coming to play. But in waiting a couple of hours they finally got together. Water standing on it all most enough for a duck to swim in. The ball was wet and the catcher's mitt was full of mud. The game was scheduled to play at 3 o'clock, but didn't start to 3:30.

Moses A. C. will go to Remington Sunday, July 11. They will play Remington A. C. Come on, boys, do your stuff, don't let the back catcher hold you down until they can get the ball to put you out.

K. Spain who has been hurt for several week is recovering fast and hopes to start playing again with Moses A. C. next Sunday.

True Courage

WHAT is courage? Many people like to be considered brave, but there is a difference between mere physical bravery and true courage. Alexander Pope, the renowned English poet, gives his concept of a brave man in these words: "A brave man thinks no one his superior who does him an injury; for he has it then in his power to make himself superior to the other by forgiving it." Oftentimes it takes courage to forgive an injury, but if the sense of forgiveness should be overshadowed by a belief in one's own superiority, the act of forgiving could in no wise be termed courageous. It certainly would fall far short of the standard set by Christ Jesus, who said (Matthew 5:44): "Love your enemies, bless them that curse you, do good to them that hate you, and pray for them which despitefully use you, and persecute you." This admonition calls for true courage, for it requires humility and selflessness to meet its requirements.

Christ Jesus was the most courageous man that ever walked the earth because he was the meekest and most selfless. Never did he hesitate to say or do what he knew to be right, and always his speech and actions were prompted by unselfed love. He rebuked sinners unhesitatingly, and he sacrificed his human sense of life to show them the way of salvation. His ministry of healing and teaching stands for all time as the acme of selfless devotion to sin-burdened and suffering humanity. He was absolutely convinced of the truth of all that he said and taught, and neither threats nor efforts to destroy him could swerve him from his convictions or make him fearful. He urged his followers to do as he did, and thereby earned the hatred of selfish materialists. He knew, however, that immeasurable blessings would flow to all who should courageously and understandingly obey his admonitions.

In the world today there are many millions of professed Christians, but alas, too much diversity of opinion concerning the teachings and works of the master Christ. Why should this be so when Jesus so clearly mapped out the course to be taken by his true followers? They were to do the works that he did—works of healing as well as regenerating; they were to practice self-denial; they were to promote love and peace throughout the world; and they were in all circumstances to put their trust, not in material things, but in God. And, said he (Matthew 7:20): "By their fruits"—their accomplishments along such lines—"ye shall know them."

Courage of the right sort is sorely needed in the world today, the moral courage to subdue self, to be humble, pure-minded, free from resentment, ready to return good for evil. Such courage is a rebuke to animal courage, of which there is a superfluity. Concerning this, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, Mary Baker Eddy, states in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" (pp. 23, 29): "There is too much animal courage in society and not sufficient moral courage. Christians must take up arms against error at home and abroad. They must grapple with sin in themselves and in others, and continue this warfare until they have finished their course. If they keep the faith, they will have the crown of rejoicing."

This much-to-be-desired crown should not be considered as something to be hoped for in some future existence, but as a joyous sense of harmony and spiritual dominion to be striven for and attained here and now. It requires real courage to win and wear this crown, courage to stand firmly on the side of Principle against selfish desires, and oftentimes against the scoffs of sinners.

There is nothing more ennobling than courageously forsaking material beliefs for spiritual understanding, for this transition requires humility and unselfed love. Also, it affords deep satisfaction to know that whatever is accomplished through courage born of unselfed love, blesses not only the individuals directly concerned, but, in some degree, all mankind as well.—The Christian Science Monitor.

WHEN WIRELESS WAS YOUNG

Civilized man takes wireless telegraphy more or less for granted nowadays, seldom giving thought to the difficulties of experimentation which made possible a seemingly miraculous means of communication which defies distance, however great. Pioneering steps in the transmission of wireless messages are described in an article which will appear in next Sunday's Star. (adv.)

THE LITERARY DIGEST'S END

The prestige of the Literary Digest received a deadly blow last November when the elaborate and expensive system, through which it has been enabled to forecast election results and gauge public sentiment in national issues with an almost uncanny degree of accuracy, slipped a cog.

The reputation built up by the Digest was well deserved. There was no basis for questioning the skill, the care, the scrupulous honesty that distinguished its poll of the voters over a long period of years. The results told their own story.

In November, however, something, or possibly everything, went wrong. It's poll showed that the New Deal would be rejected by thirty-four of the forty-eight states. Instead it was approved by forty-six states. Even the editors themselves have failed in their efforts to explain or even understand what happened.

A brief announcement that the Literary Digest has been sold for a trivial price and will be merged with the Review of Reviews marks the passing of what was once an influential publication, with a circulation of a million and a half. Its end may have been inevitable, more sprightly magazines having captured the vogue, but at least it was hastened by that fatal error in November. — FREE-LANCE STAR.

BOYER, ARTHUR SCORE IN GRAND ROMANCE

Charles Boyer and Jean Arthur, a fascinating new pair of screen lovers, slips into town July 15-16 in a film romance as fresh and smart and charming as the Paris in which it blooms.

The occasion was "History is Made at Night," Walter Wanger's second production for release through United Artists, and this story from the twin typewriters of that imitable team of Gene Towne and Graham Baker fairly sparkles with bright, gay, flippant dialogue that we wager you'll be quoting for weeks.

The handsome Boyer has never been seen to better advantage than as Paul Dumond, Paris man about town and glorified head waiter, and lovely Jean Arthur is also at her charming best as Irene Vail, the New York mannequin who yearns to break the bonds of her unhappy marriage to the jealous, domineering shipping magnate, played by Colin Clive.

The story opens on a novel note, with Paul, the handsome and mysterious stranger, playing knight errant to Irene when her husband sends his chauffeur (Ivan Lebeff) to her hotel suite to compromise her so she'll be compelled to drop her divorce proceedings. Paul floors the chauffeur, carries off Irene and a glorious romance is begun as these two fascinating and fascinated strangers dine and tango 'til dawn in the smart Paris cafe where Paul is, unknown to Irene, head waiter. The ever-reliable Leo Carrillo provides another grand portrayal as Cesare, the temperamental che of the cafe.

A tragic note is introduced when Irene arrives home and finds that New Vail feels he can force her to Paul's blow has killed the chauffeur. drop her divorce proceedings to save the handsome stranger.

She returns to New York with him, but finds she cannot remain with Vail, and takes a job as mannequin.

Paul, meanwhile, has pursued her to New York, where he and Cesare take over a fashionable cafe, Victor's Irene, learning she is wanted in Paris in regard to the murder, offers to return with Vail to help save Paul. But when he takes her to Victor's for dinner and she sees that and plan to return to Paris together aboard Vail's new crack luxury liner and save the prisoner who is being unjustly held there.

One of the most unexpected and amazing climaxes in screen history follows — one that it would be unfair to reveal here — and the story ends on a happy note.

Frank Borzage has treated the production to his usual splendid direction, the entire cast acts splendidly, and the total result is one of the grandest pieces of entertainment that has warmed the heart of this cinemagoer in months. "History is Made at Night" will make cinema history. Mark it a "must!"

BIRTH RATE IS DECLINING

Report Also Shows Smaller Number of Deaths.

In keeping with the tendency of the past decade, births in Virginia during the first five months of 1937 ran 107 under the figure for the same period in 1936, the State Bureau of Vital Statistics announced this week.

Up to June 1, however, 392 fewer deaths had been reported in the State this year as compared with last year. The totals: first five months, 1936—births, 20,437, deaths, 14,519, first five months, 1937—births, 20,330, deaths, 14,127.

May, 1937, showed a gain of 47 births and 40 deaths over May, 1936. Last May's totals were 4,402 births and 2,607 deaths.

Tabulations on marriages and divorces had not been completed yesterday, but officials of the department said that, from all indications, the State's consistent increases of recent years in both classifications are being continued.

Since 1926 statisticians here have noted a downward swing in Virginia's birth rate despite an upward swing in the marriage rate. In 1926 the birth rate was 25 per 1,000 population. It has never been that high since. Last year's birth rate stood at 20.8. Marriage rate per 1,000 population, on the other hand, has risen from 9.1 in 1926 to 12.4 in 1935 and approximately the same figure in 1936.

Officials of the vital statistics division attribute this paradox to increased practice of birth control.

The most alarming aspect of the decreasing birth rate situation, it was said by officials, lies in the fact that about 50 per cent of the births are recorded in the lower 25 per cent strata of population from the standpoint of mentality. This was said to be true not only of Virginia but of the nation.

An all-time State high in divorces was noted in 1936, with a total of 4,178. In pre-depression years the figure averaged about 3,000 a year, but dropped in 1932 to 2,613. Divorces jumped in 1935 to 3,817 from 3,384 the previous year. The high 1935 and 1936 marks are attributed to reducing the time required in granting divorces from three to two years.

COUNTY AGENTS COLUMN

Order State Ground Limestone Now

Orders for State ground limestone for delivery at any time between August 1 and October 31 (the end of the 1937 soil conservation program year) should be placed with the Virginia State Department of Agriculture, State Office Building, Richmond, now. It is not necessary to send check with order if it is sent about two weeks in advance of date shipment is scheduled. Unless orders are placed soon, many will be disappointed in not getting late summer and fall delivery as they were in 1936.

Lespedeza and Small Grain Stubble

Running over lespedeza on small grain stubble with a mowing machine a few days after the grain is cut will destroy many of the weeds and give lespedeza a better show.

Set the cutter bar high enough to miss the lespedeza tops as much as possible and low enough to get the tops of the weeds.

State Farmers' Institute

The program of the Virginia State Farmers' Institute, to be held on the V. P. I. Campus at Blacksburg on July 27, 28 and 29, is announced in the July issue of the Extension Division News. Additional copies of the program will be furnished upon request.

Water Pastures

An acre of good permanent pasture, properly fertilized and limed, should produce as much high protein feed an acre as any of the common rotation feed crops. Good pastures are essential for low cost animal and milk production. Contrary to general belief, it is not too late to apply fertilizer and lime to permanent pastures. Superphosphate and lime applied now should bring better results from 1937 permanent pastures than if held back and applied next spring. Superphosphate and lime may be efficiently applied to pastures at any time of the year.

Safety Bull Pens

A safety bull pen has a three fold purpose: First, it practically insures the safety of those who must work with the bull. Second, it provides ample space so that the bull may exercise freely thus preserving his health and virility. Third, it enables the dairyman to keep his bull with the least amount of care, risk and expense until the bull is proved by his daughters records. Construction plans, revised in June, are now available. Dairy club members are now constructing a model safety bull pen to be used in the State Contest and for demonstrations at county dairy and community meetings.

POWERFUL DRAMA OF IRISH PATRIOT

Hailed as the most powerful motion picture attraction in years, "Parnell," the tremendously moving fictional drama of Charles Stewart Parnell, "Uncrowned King of Ireland," opens at the Pitts' Theatre July 12-13 with Clark Gable and Myrna Loy co-starred at the head of a cast of big names.

The stage play was a romance of tremendous emotional depth and sweep. The motion picture retains this, but goes further. It shows Parnell, the man, as well as the lover. It shows him leaving New York in March, 1880, to the cheers of thousands of Irish-Americans. To them he was a hero. It shows him arriving in Ireland where he was the "Uncrowned King" and the first man to unite the eighty-six members of the Irish Party. It shows him in the House of Commons, his greatest battlefield. One of the dramatic highlights is Parnell's trial. Accused of inciting the Phoenix Park murders, he proved his innocence after one of the most sensational trials in English history. Scenes such as these offered Art Director Cedric Gibbons opportunity for bigness and brilliance in setting.

At the height of his power, Parnell, who never looked at a woman, met Katie O'Shea, who was estranged from her husband. It was love at first sight with Parnell and Katie. Katie fought Parnell's love until he became ill. Then she invited him to her home at Eltham where their romance blossomed.

O'Shea, following the withdrawal of Parnell's political support and aid, sued for divorce, naming Parnell. For Katie's sake Parnell refused to defend himself. The resulting scandal ruined him politically at the moment when he had Home Rule for Ireland in the palm of his hand. But he had Katie, and she was enough.

There has never been a more beautiful love story written than "Parnell." It has captured the warm hearts of the Irish people, their joys and their sorrows. It will reach deep into the hearts of all who see it.

Wore Prince Alberts

In the "nifty nineties," most United States senators wore Prince Alberts. The frock coat was a symbol of statesmanship and a beard was the mark of a man of maturity and substance.

QUIET TALKS ON RELIGION

By
Dr. James T. Marshall

THE GREATEST THING IN THE WORLD

Sir Henry Drummond said that it was Love. There is one thing still greater, and that is Man who is capable of loving. In the 8th Psalm David celebrates both the glory of God and the supremacy of man. "Thou hast made him a little lower than the angels, and hast crowned him with glory and honor; Thou hast put all things under his feet." Jesus considered one human being as more valuable than the whole material universe. He declared that the man who would exchange his soul for the world would be the loser, and that the villain who would put a moral stumbling block before a little child deserved to have a mill stone hanged about his neck and to be drowned in the midst of the sea. He hated sin because of the damage it did to man the crown of God's creation.

Man was put here to be the master of the material world and not its slave. David speaks of his dominion over the animals, including both wild and tame animals, sheep, oxen, beasts of the field, fowls of the air and the fish of the sea. Man has not been slow to assert his mastery here. It is equally clear that God intended man to gain the mastery over the forces of nature. As civilization advances we are learning to turn seemingly hostile forces into friends and helpers. Science is teaching us how to wrestle successfully with the forces which seem to make life difficult. Ages ago our mariners learned how to sail their ships in the teeth of adverse winds, now we have learned how to protect our fruit trees from biting frost by smudge fires, and from drought by irrigation; and are today in sight of victory over soil erosion and damaging floods.

Indeed, it is this process of struggle which makes us men. As time progresses man will demonstrate his inherent character as the master and not the slave of adversity.

This conception of the dignity of man is the answer to the question which has puzzled us all at times. We have been tempted to doubt the providential care of God because it has seemed hard to believe that the God who created the boundless universe with its millions of worlds could possibly have any interest in a single inhabitant of a little world like ours.

The problem vanishes when we realize that with God spiritual values are supreme. Man as a spiritual being capable of loving and being loved is much dearer to God than a star or all the stars in the firmament. After all, man is a much bigger thing than a star. A star has no brains, and no soul which can respond to its creator's love. It is but a mass of inert matter. On the other hand man can study the star, take its measure, calculate its age and its distance from the earth, and predict with accuracy its journeys across the heavens.

Is it to be wondered at that the Heavenly Father's love should go out toward the loftiest creature in His universe, made in His own image and after His own likeness? No star is capable of saying "Behold what manner of love the Father hath bestowed upon us that we should be called the Sons of God."

May Heaven help us to rise to a truer sense of our own dignity and of the limitless power and glory which lie within our grasp. Let us learn from the skylark, of which Shelley sings, "Higher still and higher From the earth thou springest Like a cloud of fire. The blue deep thou wingest, And singing still dost soar, And soaring ever singest."

Leaving the lowlands of doubt, gloom and fear, we may ever soar into the higher atmosphere of faith, joy and victory. This is the privilege of a son of God.
