PLAN CLASS WORK FOR TRAINERS

Religious Courses to be Offered for Leaders

Watch for additional information and more definite, as to the time and place, but it is expected that the Manassas High School building will be available for two nights per week for three weeks, beginning the week following Easter.

The following courses of Leadership Training are to be offered, under the auspices of the County Council of Religious Education:

Course 211b. Guiding Children in Christian Growth—Miss Emma Perkins, Instructor. This course will be of interest to any teacher in the Children's Division of the Church School. In the class, problems of teaching procedure will be considered. Often teachers know what they desire the children to know but are at a loss to know just how to present the facts to the children. This class will help in answering the questions of such teachers. Any one planning to help in a Vacation Church School should find this class helpful.

Course 124b. Jesus and His Teachings—Miss Dorothea Randall, Instructor. The purpose of this course is to lead to an increased acquaintance with the main emphases made by Jesus in his teaching, to a better understanding of the meaning of his teachings for personal and social living today, and to a more active part in carrying his teachings into effect.

Any person completing either of the above courses will receive a credit card issued by the International Council of Religious Education, which is accepted by all the denominational boards co-operating with the International Council. The expenses of the courses will be kept at a minimum, perhaps about fifty cents per person. Sunday School workers are urged to co-operate in making this Training School a success. It will be a wonderful opportunity to "study to show ourselves approved" in facing and finding a solution to some of the problems that we are trying to cope with in Christian work, both in the individual life and in the church.

MINISTER ADDRESSES

KIWANIS CLUB

Rev. A. W. Ballentine was the guest speaker at the weekly meeting of the Kiwanis club on Friday evening.

In a considerable measure he repeated his address as made to the recent meeting of the county religious council. He stressed the need of intelligent and concerted action by such groups as the Kiwanis Club in co-operation with the churches to take United States out of the low standing it had attained in numbers of church people among the nations of the world.

On motion of Mr. Ledman, the club adjourned almost in a body to home of Al Hooff who had sustained a nasty tumble in his lumber yard only the afternoon of the same day. This aided Al in sustaining an eleven year record of perfect attendance. Al made a nice little speech of welcome and appreciation, although suffering keenly the entire while.

Among the local projects that have received aid from the chapter were Religious Education $25, school lunch fund $25, shoes for needy children $25, Red Cross $5, Playground $5 and a nice wheel chair was purchased for use in the county.

Mrs. Cooksey will entertain her officers with a St. Patrick's Day Party at her home tonight.

PIANO CONCERT IN MANASSAS

John Powell Will Entertain On April 7

John Powell, Virginia pianist and composer, will give his first concert in Manassas, on Thursday, April 7th, 1938, at 8 p.m. in the auditorium of Manassas High School.

This concert is being sponsored and promoted by the Music and Literature Section of the Woman's Club of Manassas, as its major project for the year. The Section feels that it is most fortunate in having obtained for its first concert, an artist of such outstanding ability, skill, and prominence, and it is with a great deal of pride that they announce this most outstanding event.

A special effort is being made to contact and interest the students of Prince William County High Schools, and those of private schools in Northern Virginia, as the sponsors are most anxious to have as many of these students, as possible, avail themselves of the opportunity to see and hear this outstanding Virginia artist. The price of the student tickets has, therefore, been set at a very nominal sum.

Since the seating capacity is limited, and the interest in the concert so great even at this early date, those desiring tickets or reservations, are requested to get in touch with one of the following committee members at once; Mrs. William F. Cocke, Mrs. Virginia Speiden, Mrs. Dennis Baker or Mrs. William Lloyd. Tickets are also available at Hynson Electric and Supply and Margaret Lynch Specialty Shops.

The committee has already obtained a long list of sponsors, which includes not only the members of the Woman's Club and the Junior Woman's Club, but many music lovers and prominent and civic minded citizens of this and surrounding counties.

ALUMNI MEETING

The Manassas High School Alumni Association will meet Wednesday evening, March 23rd, at 7:30, at the home of Mrs. W. Sedrick Saunders. This meeting has been called to make plans for the annual banquet, and will also be the annual business meeting of the Association, as provided in the constitution adopted last year. All members of the association are urged to be present.

TO CELEBRATE

GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Collins, will celebrate their Golden Anniversary, at their home on Marble Hill Farm, Saturday, March 19th.

All relatives and friends are cordially invited between the hours 2 to 5 p.m.

C. C. C. WORK IN STATE OUTLINED

A total of 122 Civilian Conservation Corps camps will be reassigned to their present locations in national and State parks of 22 States of the east, 12 more will begin work on undeveloped park lands and 12 others will conclude their programs as the new enrollment period opens April 1, according to an announcement made by the National Park Service at its regional headquarters here.

The new six-month term will be the eleventh since establishment of the CCC and will mark the fifth anniversary of the Corps. Enrollment will be open to unemployed youths 17 to 23 years of age, both years inclusive, as well as to war veterans.

Of the 134 eastern camps, 85 have been allocated to State, county and municipal parks where conservation-recreation work programs will be carried forward under joint supervision of the National Park Service and local authorities. The 49 remaining camps are assigned to development operations in national parks, parkways, monuments and recreational demonstration areas administered by federal park forces.

The list of camp allocations for Virginia as received here from the offices of Robert Fechner, director of the Civilian Conservation Corps, follows:

Reassigned: Shenandoah National Park, five of the six current units; Colonial National Historical Park, Yorktown, three camps; Fredericksburg and Spotsylvania National Military Park, two camps; Petersburg National Military Park, base at Fort Hunt; Richmond Battlefield Park, Fort Harrison; Choptank National Recreation Demonstration Area, near Quantico, two camps; Swift Creek Recreation Demonstration Area, near Chester.

Douthat State Park, Clifton Forge; Hungry Mother State Park, Marion; Fairy Stone State Park, Bassett; and Westmoreland State Park, Baynesville. A new camp will be established at Rock Knob Park, a 4,200-acre recreational area with a frontage of five miles on the Blue Ridge Parkway, the 500-mile scenic strip which will link the Shenandoah and the Great Smoky Mountains National Parks. Rock Knob is near Stuart, Va.

CLUB REPORTS

SUCCESS OF ACTIVITIES

On Thursday evening, March 10, the Junior Woman's Club met at the home of Mrs. J. P. Lyon for its regular monthly meeting, with its president, Janet Owens, presiding.

Frances Saunders, as chairman of the Civic Committee, reported that the Town Council had unanimously passed the "garbage bill" at its last meeting, and sanitary collection will begin almost immediately. This is the first time that the Civic Committee of any club in the town, so far as is known, has ever accomplished anything which will be of permanent value to the town and the girls deserve much credit for putting across this worthwhile project.

Walser Conner, reporting for the Ways and Means Committee, said that the Club is holding a Food Sale on Saturday and plans are under way for holding a Poverty Social on April Fool's Day.

Janet Sharrett announced a meeting of the Baby Clinic workers to plan for the reopening of the Clinic in the near future. Watch The Journal for the exact date.

After appointing Evelyn Merchant, Mildred McBryde, and Edna Earle Kincheloe delegates to the District Meeting in Fredericksburg, the meeting was turned over to the Hostess Committee.

THE BETHEL HOME

DEMONSTRATION CLUB

The Bethel Home Demonstration Club held its meeting on March 11th at the home of Mrs. Wallace Dawson with Mrs. Iola Wigglesworth and Mrs. Wm. Arnold as assistant hostesses. The main topic of this well attended and interesting meeting was Yard Improvement.

The club was honored by having Mrs. C. McBryde, Landscaping Specialist, as its guest. Mrs. McBryde gave a most instructive talk and answered questions which will be of great help to those present.

The hostesses then served tea and cakes which helped to make it a most enjoyable meeting.

NOKESVILLE 4-H CLUB

The girls' Nokesville 4-H Club met March 12, at the home of Mrs. W. R. Free for the monthly meeting. The club is planning a trip to Constitution Hall March 19, to a concert. The main topic for discussion was correct dress for the right person at the right time of the year. After further discussion the meeting was adjourned until April.

C., and to see the many interesting new books recently acquired by the Library.

ARRANGE TESTS FOR SENIORS

Fairfax Health Unit is Cooperating With Prince William

Miss Sula Fleeman, Field Representative of the State Tuberculosis Association, and Dr. E. M. Holmes, Jr., Health Officer of Fairfax County who is supervising the organization of our County Health Unit, met with the Prince William County Tuberculosis Association here on Thursday afternoon, March 10th, in the new offices of the Prince William County Health Unit. Those attending the meeting included: Miss M. Sabina Neel, Public Health Nurse, Mrs. Marshall Haydon, Secretary of the Prince William County Tuberculosis Association, Miss Sue Ayres, Rural Supervisor, Rev. A. Stuart Gibson, Adeline Penn, Margaret Townes, Jeans Worker in the colored schools, and Wanza. Nurse at the Industrial School.

At the meeting it was decided that the Tuberculosis Association should sponsor tuberculosis testing of school children who are contacts of active cases of tuberculosis. Because a similar study is being run in Fairfax County by the Health Department at the present time, it was decided to transport the Prince William children to the clinic there to avoid a new set up. All children whose reaction is positive to this test will be x-rayed during the month of April. All seniors in the county will be given an opportunity to have an x-ray of chest before school closes.

It was further decided that the Association should investigate the possibilities of building a tuberculosis cottage to be used in the home care of active cases of tuberculosis who had had sanitarium instruction. The cost of materials for the construction of such a cottage is to be investigated and the boys of the Manassas Industrial School are to be asked to aid in its construction.

Expenditures of the Association are as follows: Milk, $34.40; Cod Liver Oil, $86.40; Sanitarium Board, $86.00; Clothing (blankets, etc.), $13.09; Hot Lunches, $50.00; Teaching Units, $2.55; Check Book, 40c; X-rays, $4.00; Total, $276.80.

Mrs. A. A. Hooff reported our total Seal Sale to date, $710.38.

ATTEND DISTRICT INSTITUTE

The following members of the Woman's Club of Manassas attended the Fourth District Institute of the Federated Woman's Clubs in Fredericksburg on Wednesday, Mrs. W. F. Cocke, Mrs. Eula Holt Merchant and Mrs. W. L. Lloyd. Representing the Junior Club were Mrs. Jack Merchant, Mrs. Carl Kincheloe and Mrs. Stewart McBryde, Jr.

The Junior Clubs of the District held a special session at which officers for the District were elected. Mrs. Janet Owens, president of the Manassas Juniors, was elected historian.

COMMECE EXECUTIVE TO ADDRESS BANKERS

There will be a meeting of the Clearing House Association on Tuesday, March 22, 1938, at 6:30 p.m., at the Seminary Building (old school bldg.) in Nokesville, Va. Supper will be served, followed by the business meeting.

Mr. Jay W. Johns, president of the Virginia State Chamber of Commerce will be our speaker. Mr. Johns is an able and interesting speaker and will have a worthwhile message for us.

WILL CONDUCT

SMALLPOX SURVEY

Miss M. Sabina Neel, Public Health Nurse of the Prince William County Health Unit, is this week beginning a survey of the schools in the county to determine the number of children not vaccinated against smallpox.

All children attending school in Prince William County who do not show a vaccination scar will be vaccinated in the early part of April by the Health Officer.

MANASSAS HIGH PRESENTED FLAG

American Legionnaires Hear Congressman Flannagan

Legionnaires and their wives to the number of 160 gathered at the High School for the annual dinner of the 8th District American Legion, on Tuesday, March 8. The dinner was served in traditional style by the local P-T. A.

Mr. E. G. Parrish, former commander of the local Post, introduced Mayor Davis, who gave a splendid address of welcome. (Ed. note: which will be produced in full in an early issue).

The meeting was then placed in charge of John L. Jeffries, Jr., of Culpeper, Commander of the 8th District.

On behalf of the Prince William Post, Mr. Jeffries presented to the Manassas H. S. a fine American flag. The acceptance speech was made by John O. Gregory, who said: "I, as chairman of the Grounds Committee, wish to accept this flag in behalf of the School. I wish to express our appreciation and to thank you for it. We appreciate this flag especially since our present flag has been in use so long that it is well worn. As chairman of my committee, it is my duty to raise and lower the flag each day. Our school is proud of its flag and honors it each day by the flag salute, with which everyone in school is familiar, and all are conscious of its significance."

In response to the roll call of Posts, it was found that representatives were present from Alexandria, Quantico, Leesburg, Culpeper, Arlington, Vienna, Manassas, and Alexandria, colored. It was announced that the 8th District had 1105 members in 1937.

Brief addresses were made by W. Glenn Elliott, State Adjutant; Gates Richardson, State membership chairman; Watson B. Miller, National Rehabilitation officer; and Wilmer L. O'Flaherty, National Committeeman. Mr. O'Flaherty said that when he visited the Manassas battle fields for the first time, the caretaker at the Henry House was describing the retreat of the Union troops after the first battle. He told how they were badly frightened, how they ran all the way from Centreville to the Potomac, and then he added this picturesque item of fact (?): that three days after the battle, seven New York Zouaves swam the Hudson River, still in retreat from Bull Run.

The main address was delivered by Rep. John Flannagan of the 9th Congressional District. Mr. Flannagan, a supporter of the Soldiers' Bonus showed why he favored the Bonus, citing numerous cases where the U.S. Government made cash payments of many millions of dollars in the form of bonuses, tax adjustments, etc., to government workers, corporations and private individuals, even returning to the railroads 3 million dollars per day for six months after the roads had been turned back to private ownership. He stated that the Government was well able to pay adjusted service compensation and should have paid it long ago in cash, instead of in promissory notes. He made it very clear that he is back of the whole program of the American Legion.

About forty local Legionnaires and their wives were present and the meeting was a most enjoyable one.

A CORRECTION

A typographical error last week caused us to say that $58 had been spent by the Civilian Relief on shoes, clothing, hot lunches, food orders, etc. for 1937. The item should have read $258, which more nearly does justice to the splendid work of the local Red Cross.

DAY OR HALF DAY?

Supervisor Taylor brings us the following: Brother Taylor's son wrote him from Alabama that a native of the soil down there says that the distance from Manassas to Washington is what a Yankee can run in a day. The Alabamian is mistaken. It only takes a half day with the proper pressure behind the Yankee.

BACK ON JOB

Will Smith, who has been a most faithful and efficient helper to Uncle Sam for many years at the Manassas Postoffice paid a visit to his friends at the Journal this week.

We are all glad to see Will up and about. He has been missed a lot.

CATHARPIN

Rev. and Mrs. J. L. McCutcheon of Modest, Town, Va., were Oakwood callers last week on their return from New Orleans, La., where they had been visiting their son, R. P. McCutcheon, of Tulane University in that city.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Collins of Marble Hill spent the week-end in Alexandria recently visiting their daughter, Mildred, who resides in that city.

The Rev. and Mrs. A. B. Sapp, pastor of Sudley circuit, have returned after a four-week sojourn among friends and relatives in Florida where they have been basking in the sunshine of that much noted state where flowers, grapefruit, oranges, alligators, birds and fish abound to the delight of visitors generally. They both came back feeling better for the journey.

Robert Alvey after an anxious ten days under the doctor's care due to an injured arm, has so far recovered as to be back in school.

Cynthia Pattie, who has been at home for several weeks suffering from attack of erysipelas, is also able to resume her school works again.

Sunday School at Sudley will open on April 3 for the summer's work. The weather man certainly put one over on us this year. The first quarter of the year is usually so rough and uncomfortable that attendance is a hardship especially for children who have long distances to travel. But this year it has been so open and mild that it made us all feel foolish to think that school had been closed. It is now felt that all will be glad to get back again. All officers, teachers and interested members are requested to meet the pastor at the church at 10 A. M. Sunday morning, March 27, for conference.

Believe it or not, but that old "Quilting Bee," after a good rest, has taken up his residence in the bonnets of the Sudley Missionary ladies and is buzzing merrily along as two quilts are in the frames in different sections of the Sudley community and the old, rusty needles are being brightened up and nimble fingers are making things lively again.

The entertainment at Sudley to be given on Friday night, March 25, is eliciting much interest thruout the community. The three radio entertainers will be supplemented to local talent and a very interesting program is anticipated. A plate supper will be sold together with candies by the young people. The whole plan is to secure funds for some contemplated improvement to the church and parsonage which are now badly needed. Here is a chance for the Sudley neighborhood to help where help is needed.

Mrs. Lelia C. Akers, who has spent most of the winter with her son in the Capital City, has returned to her home, Roch Hill, for the summer. Her many friends are quite glad to have her among them again.

The second parsonage, Gainesville, Va., on Saturday, March 26, 1938, at 10 A. M. Now listen, folks: Look over your envelopes and please do what is necessary to make this conference a success.

A wedding of interest to the Sudley community took place at the Methodist parsonage, Gainesville, Va., at high noon on Wednesday, March 9th, 1938, when Mr. Hamilton Swart, son of Mrs. Cordelia and the late Hamilton Swart of Sudley and Miss Margaret Ellison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grover Ellison of Catharpin, were united in the holy bonds of wedlock by the pastor, the Rev. A. B. Sapp. The young couple, after a brief wedding trip to Richmond and other points of interest in the State, have taken up their residence with Mr. Swart's mother where they will be at home to their many friends thruout the neighborhood. This column wishes them a long and happy life.

The Sudley-Stonehouse community is almost losing its former identity by reason of making so many improvements that one scarcely knows the place anymore. Mrs. Maggie Hundley has built a new bungalow on her property near Sudley which she is now occupying. Her former home which she sold to Mr. S. A. Moss, has been brick imitation lined and the Matthews home on old historic Matthews Hill, has also received the same treatment. As the casual passer-by views the landscape he now beholds "brick" houses where once frame structures had held away for so many years. These improvements add much to the general appearance of the neighborhood and before we know it, they, too, will be putting on "airs" like Catharpin since the same electric line passes within easy reach of their properties.

You have often heard the remark that "So-and-So is putting on airs?" but Catharpin has never been guilty of doing much along the "airy" line

CATLETT

Miss Annie Sonthard and Mrs. Ruby McGowan of Catlett were received in to the Daughters of America Lodge Prince William Monday night.

Rev. Geo. W. Crabtree and Mr. Roy Heddings motored to Culpeper State Prison Camp Monday night and held services.

Master Johnnie Douglas is visiting his aunt, Mrs. John Powers.

Miss Isabell Bell is on the sick list. Mr. Chas. Corbin who has been quite ill is improved.

Mr. Herbert Kincheloe who was operated on in University hospital Charlottesville last Friday is getting along very well.

There will be a tackey party on Thursday 7:30 p.m.

Miss Talma Brown is on the sick list this week.

Mrs. Mattie Beane is visiting relatives in Pulaski, Va.

Miss Thelma Orndorff is on the sick list.

Master Clifton Croshorn was bitten by a dog very badly Sunday evening. No serious results so far have shown up.

Mr. Ira Hensley is on the sick list this week.

Mr. Howe, Mrs. Pexley and sister, Mr. and Mrs. John Bailey and son and Mrs. Chas. Yeatman were visitors at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Geo. W. Crabtree this week.

Miss Ora Lee Colvin spent the past week in Washington, D. C.

Mrs. W. J. Ashby was a visitor at Mrs. Jackie Jones Sunday.

Mrs. Rosa Colvin was given a shut in shower by her sister members of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Presbyterian church on Wednesday evening. Mrs. Colvin received many useful gifts and the members spent a pleasant evening with her. We wish for her a speedy recovery.

since her opportunities were limited so she kept quiet. Now, however, she is just slinging on the "airs" in every direction; a new kind of "airs"—"Frigid Airs," if you please; so if we should be looking happy and contented during the coming summer months, you may feel sure that the butter was sweet, milk not soured and everything at home was so cool as a cucumber including the wife's and husband's dispositions, and that everything for breakfast was just right and every calories was in place and properly frozen. Of course, some of you may have had this convenience long ago, but we are not talking about you. It is we, us, ourselves that we have in mind so you must allow us to blow our horns a little and feel glad that at "long last" we are floating down "culinary avenue" with as much contentment and satisfaction as though we were sitting atop the North Pole. W—a—i—t a minute; perhaps that's a little too strong, but you know what we mean? We mean we are happy not to be bothered with ice tongs, hooks, wet spots on the floor, leaking refrigerators and all such. But we must not condemn the ice; it was the best we had and served its purpose nobly; but good as it was, when something better comes along, people like to adopt it. So if we become a little "chesty" over our new acquisitions and want to tell you about it, just be patient and listen. We'll get used to it some day ourselves just like you.

for a VERY LOW PRICE

The Ford effort to make your dollars buy a constantly better car is well illustrated in the Standard Ford V-8.

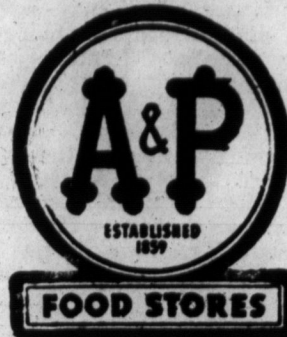

It has all the basic Ford advantages. It is built on the same chassis as the De Luxe Ford V-8. It gives you a choice of smooth 85-horsepower or 60-horsepower V-8 engines. THE EUROPEAN SITUATION

Democracy, throughout the world, views with increasing alarm the astounding achievement of Adolph Hitler, who within the past week has invaded and captured a nation, without firing a shot. Austria is now merely a German state.

In Europe, particularly, the masses are not responsible for the policies and actions of their governments. If they were, it would be fair to say that the present degradation of Austria is well deserved. She has indeed been given a taste of her own medicine, for in 1909, without any previous hint, she annexed the Turkish provinces of Bosnia and Herzegovina. In vain did Turkey protest that this was a treaty violation. It was in this plundered Bosnia that the Archduke Ferdinand was assassinated in 1914. The slayer of the heir to Austria's throne, however, proclaimed himself a Serb, and in consequence Austria made the most humiliating demands upon Serbia, declaring war while the unfortunate little country was still trembling over the last item, and the world, by Austria's action, was plunged into the greatest conflict of history.

Not only was Austria responsible for precipitating the world war, but oddly enough, that unfortunate country had a peculiar hand in bringing the United States into the conflict. It was through the Austrian ambassador to the United States that information was conveyed to Germany, quoting our unwise Secretary of State, William Jennings Bryan, that this country would not fight under any circumstances. This encouraged Germany to the excesses which brought us in.

To continue the parallel between the present situation and events of the World War, we see Progress is not accidental. It is the result of carefully matured plans and financial competence.

To get ahead in business or in social life it is necessary to have material means.

There is no better assurance of progress than the habit of depositing regularly and of conducting your financial affairs through a safe and friendly bank like ours.

in Czechoslovakia the elements of danger which may precipitate another conflict among major nations. Germany covets this area, as Austria desired Serbia in 1914. The independence of Czechoslovakia, however, is guaranteed by Russia and France, if not by England. And we see in London, Premier Chamberlain giving the impression to Hitler that Great Britain will not fight to maintain what is left of the Treaty of Versailles.

England will fight, and any nation will fight under sufficient provocation, but the harm that is done by the Chamberlain and Bryan types of diplomacy lies in giving the impression that they will not do so under any circumstances. Then by blood alone can the error be corrected. So today, it is not England, but the undisclosed intentions of France and Russia that Hitler fears. Czechoslovakia says that they will fight, but they have not said what they will do, and unless they are foolish enough to disclose their determination to the enemy, France and Russia are the only forces today in a position to retard Hitlerism.

Dear Brother Wharton:

I have been catching fish since I have been here. I caught a 5-lb. bass this morning. Caught a 4-lb. bass about three weeks ago. Been catching from 1 to 7 a day. Caught 27 speckled perch on day. I can hardly get my coat off any more for the fish bones.

How is the D. of A. by this time? Tell them hello for me.

We expect to start back the morning of the 15th. Will tell you the rest when I get home.

It is hot as blazes down here. T. H. Lion stopped to see me when he was down here. I saw Sheriff Kirby the other day. He is topping at Abrin Park. Want to go to see him before I go home.

Will close for this time. Don't send the paper here next week.
Geo. D. Baker.

COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN

HYBRID CORN

A paragraph from one of Prof. T. B. Hutcheson's letters in answer to an inquiry about hybrid corn is quoted:

"Our experiments with hybrid corns have not been running long enough and have not been consistent enough to justify us in recommending any hybrid corns for general use in Virginia. We are conducting experiments as rapidly as possible to find which hybrids are best suited to the different sections of our State but, until these experiments are completed, we do not recommend any particular hybrid."

Present Virginia experimental data is not sufficient or convincing enough to justify discarding our approved open pollinated varieties for hybrids.

HEREFORD AND ANGUS SALE

An effort is being made by Kenneth Litton, Extension Animal Husbandman, to make it possible for Angus and Hereford breeders to solve their better sires problem by bringing most of the available supply of select bulls together at the Staunton Sale on April 6. 27 bulls and 25 females are being consigned for this sale.

BETTER SIRES

The most destructive factor in our livestock and dairy income is the scrub or inferior bull. No improvement in dairy or beef herds is possible through the use of such an animal. He has no worthwhile qualities to pass on, he contributes nothing to his get, and nothing to the income on the farm on which he resides. His departure will be a blessing to livestock improvement and to his owner. What can you do to hasten his departure from Prince William County during 1938?

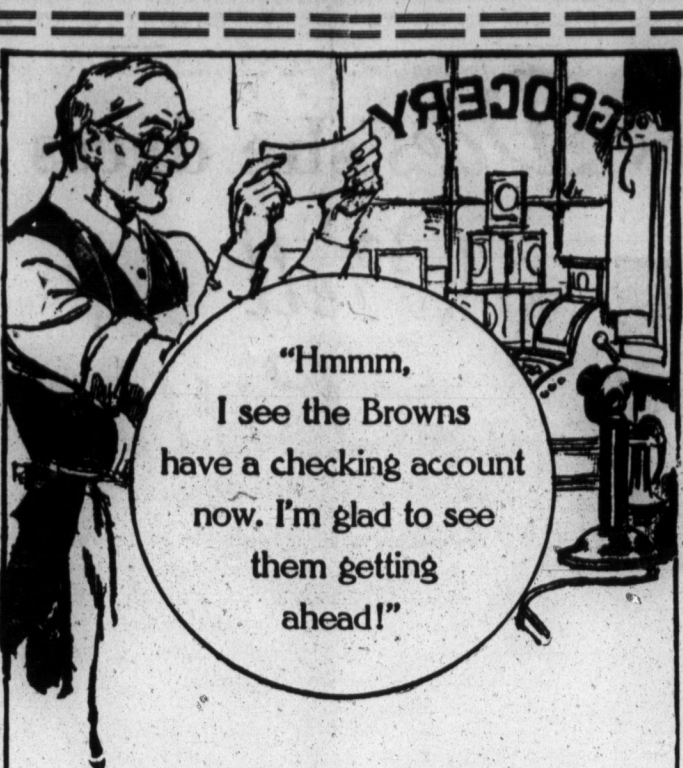

1938 AGRICULTURAL

CONSERVATION PROGRAM

Farmers participating in the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program are asked to obtain and keep itemized purchase receipts for lime, clover and other seed, and fertilizer for which credit for soil conserving payments is desired. These will be called for at the time of the check up on 1938 performance next fall. Payments are not provided by the 1938 program for foreign (green and red stained) red clover seed except for that from Canada which has 1 per cent stained violet.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our friends for the many kindnesses shown us during the recent illness and death of our mother, Mrs. W. C. Woods. Also for the beautiful floral designs.

YOUR FLOWER GARDEN

As I looked out in the garden Through the steadily falling rain A Stately Robin Redbreast Was busy at work again.

Don't let these spring days tempt you to uncover the roses and perennials entirely, for a cold freezing night could play havoc with them, so pull the dirt more closely around the rose stems and wait until spring is really here before pruning and uncovering them.

It is high time to move in those dogwood and other trees and shrubs from the woods. Select small size trees and they will stand moving much better. If not much dirt adheres to the roots prune them back and pound the earth around them being careful not to bruise the root.

All dead material from around the garden should be carefully burned especially dried peony stalks and old rose leaves and chrysanthemum stalks. You will help to rid the garden of pests by seeing that these are destroyed.

The Garden Editor.

NEW BUSINESS FIRM IN MANASSAS

A new business firm is starting in the town of Manassas within a few days. It will employ three operatives and constitutes a venture that will have fixed results. Small payrolls of this type are helpful to any community.

According to the full page announcement carried in this edition of the Journal, the new organization will be known as Prince William Enterprises, Inc., with W. Hill Brown, Jr., as president; Bruce Mackenzie, vice-president, and A. F. S. Mackenzie, secretary-treasurer.

It will be located at 214 East Centre street where the several departments of the concern function.

The leading spirit in this venture is Alan F. S. Mackenzie, until recently a captain of Field Artillery Army of the United States. Captain Mackenzie has long been a visitor in the town, and only last fall wedded one of the debutantes, then Miss Anna

Bruce Whitmore.

Son of a South Carolina oil operative, Captain Mackenzie has spent much of his life in the Old Dominion where he attended both V. P. I. and the University of Virginia. His military career began in the middle Twenties when he was commissioned a second lieutenant in the Army of the United States.

He is a seasoned executive and should be able to construct a substantial business here. The firm intends to serve Prince William primarily, and goes before the county as a home industry.

Visit Manassas Hatchery. Please bring in eggs for Custom Hatching on Saturdays.

Tuesday is Baby Chick Day. Please Order Early.

All Hatching done in separate Sanitary Hatchers.

OCCOQUAN (AND VICINITY)

Mr. and Mrs. John Morrison, of Richmond, Va., were Occoquan visitors during the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Petelett of Baltimore were Occoquan visitors during the week-end.

Mr. Hubert Mooney, who was on the sick list, is well again for which we are thankful.

Miss Georgie Pierce of Washington, D. C., visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pierce, of Occoquan, during the week.

Miss Mary M. Howell of Waynesboro, Va., spent a part of last week visiting her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Harmon, in Occoquan. Since graduating from Roanoke Hospital last September Miss Howell has been holding a position as supervisor in the new Waynesboro General Hospital. Miss Howell has lots of friends in Prince William County, having attended High School for some time at Haymarket, Va.

We are very glad to learn that Mrs. Bradford of Manassas, who has had quite a siege in hospital, is home again. We hope she will soon be entirely well.

The womanless wedding, which was played at Occoquan High School, was a huge success. The alumni desires to thank all the members of the community league and others, and our good friends from Lorton who took part in the play for their splendid co-operation in making it such a success. We also wish to thank all who attended and made the financial part of it a success. It showed the spirit of co-operation is still rife in the community.

The Occoquan Town Meeting last week was very successful. There was a very good attendance, and it was especially encouraging the number of the ladies who attended. We hope a larger number will attend next meeting. You, ladies, come strong, and make your husbands attend. We hope the next meeting will be held at the same place, but on the LOWER FLOOR. Those get together meetings are good for us all.

Chopawamsic Recreational Area

By
HUGH R. AWTRY
Associate Recreational Planner,
National Park Service, Richmond

(From Commonwealth Magazine, with map by W. H.
Lamb.)

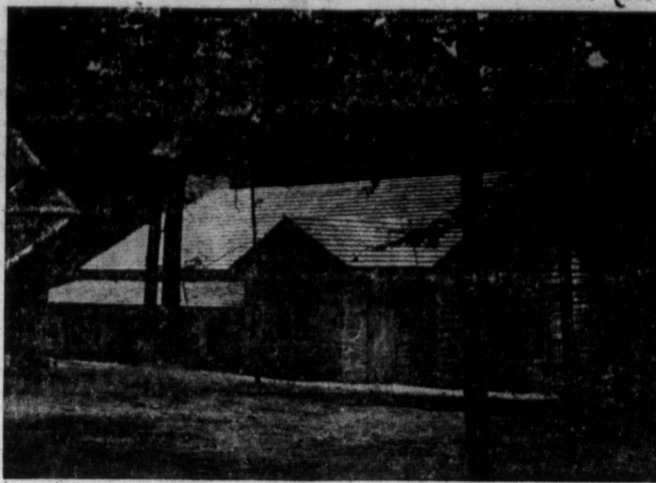

Virginia hills and ridges eagerly sought nearly three centuries ago in one of America's earliest "land rushes" are under development today to assure health-giving vacations in the old-of-doors for thousands of children of the national capital.

Burgesses, Military leaders, ancestors of George Washington, jurists, even Colonial Governor Mathews—all are included in the roster of aristocratic proprietors who obtained seventeenth century patents on the rolling woodlands of Chopawamsic Creek. Approximately 14,000 acres of the region, which lies a short distance west of U. S. Highway No. 1 near Quantico and Dumfries, are embraced by Chopawamsic Recreational Demonstration Area, one of forty-six model centers where development has been initiated by the National Park Service to provide approved facilities for low-cost organized camping.

A survey of the area in 1934 revealed much of it had become unsuited to continuous and efficient farming and that timber operations, woods fires, and soil erosion had exacted their familiar tributes from the resources inherent in the land. The studies indicated, on the other hand, that the tract offered possibilities of adaptation to varied recreational use.

Relief crews and civilian conservation Corps units, supervised by the National Park Service, then launched a comprehensive work program designed both to restore the land and purify the streams and to establish facilities for organized camping groups of the city of Washington, where the need long had been felt for a safe and convenient "breathing place" to serve children and mothers as well.

Upon completion of the laborious preliminary operations required to prepare the area, two camps were occupied during the summer of 1936, one by members of the Jewish Community Center, the other by the Boys' Club of Washington. A third camp was completed for the 1937 season and, during successive periods of the vacation term, Chopawamsic gave curative sunshine and cleansing woodland air to a total of more than 1,100 persons.

"Center Camp" was reoccupied by Jewish Community members and "Goodwill" and "Pleasant" camps were used by the Family Service Association, the first for white children, mothers and infants, the second for Negro campers of the same age groups. All three organizations utilizing the newly established facilities are affiliates of the Washington Council of Social Agencies, an accrediting board through which the camping sites are rented from the federal government.

Approximately 100 buildings of modern design were in use this year at the "demonstration area," so described because it is a planned illustration of the benefits of individual attention and instruction made available through the new interrelated "unit type" of camping as opposed to the "mass" outdoor programs of former days.

The structures include sleeping cabins, lodges, infirmaries, nurseries, dining halls, crafts and nature study houses, and nature study houses, and quarters for staff members and employees. Two lakes and a small "swimmin' hole" provide for water sports, and playfields and campfire circles give the child recreationists opportunities for athletic and educational activities. Carefully tested and regularly inspected sanitation and water systems, medical attention by physicians and nurses, and general supervision by counselors and leaders are safeguards of healthful conditions.

Development of a fourth camp, with similar buildings and an additional small lake, is in progress in another section of the Chopawamsic area and National Park Service workers expect it to be available for occupancy next summer by a welfare or civic group recommended by the Washington Council.

Chopawamsic differs in administrative aspects from Swift Creek Recreational Demonstration Area, situated in Chesterfield County about twenty-five miles from Richmond, which was described in The Commonwealth in its September issue (page 50 et seq.). The reservation near Washington is destined for permanent retention and main-
