RUFFNER LIBRARY OPEN TO PUBLIC

Noted Authority Addresses Citizens at Special Exercises

The opening of the Ruffner-Carnegie High School library for the benefit of the public on Tuesday and Thursday nights took place Thursday, March 24 at 8 o'clock. A very representative gathering attended.

The program opened with a piano and violin duet by Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Carper. A solo by Rev. Mr. Graham followed.

Prof. Haydon introduced Mr. T. E. Didlake, who in turn introduced the guest speaker, Dr. McManaway, Research Director of the Folger Shakespearean Library of Washington, D. C.

Dr. McManaway had as the subject of his speech, "Library Treasures."

Some of the treasures in the Folger Shakespearean Library which Mr. McManaway mentioned were the First Folio of Shakespeare's works, Titus Andronicus of 1594, the Augustine Vincent Folio, and the Billy Jones edition of Shakespeare's works.

Mr. McManaway discussed these treasures and told why they are considered valuable. He also told the startling fact that the Folger Shakespearean Library, the largest Shakespearean library in the world cannot boast a genuine copy of Shakespeare's handwriting.

In addition to this Dr. McManaway mentioned treasures of other libraries such as The Declaration of Independence, Handbills of proceedings of the Continental Congress, and a handbill on the Boston Tea-Party.

In his address, Dr. McManaway emphasized the fact that treasures are very rarely recognized as such until many years later.

After this speech Miss Perkins favored the audience with two charming cello selections. The guest were then invited to inspect the library while refreshments were being served.

NATIONAL AIR MAIL WEEK

Schools and Clubs Will Cooperate with Post Office

An address by Postmaster General James A. Farley from New York at 7:15 - 7:30 p.m., April 2, over the entire Columbia Broadcasting System Network, coast to coast, will emphasize the rapid progress in the preparations in every city, town and village of the United States for participation in National Air Mail Week, May 15 to 21, according to an announcement received here today from Virginia campaign headquarters in Richmond.

State Chairman Clyde W. Saunders was informed by Paul R. Younts, of Charlotte, N. C., National Air Mail Week Chairman, of the Postmaster General's decision to speak on that date over a nation-wide radio network in endorsement of this movement to commemorate the twentieth anniversary of the air mail service and to prove its still further development.

The State Headquarters also announced that all commercial, industrial, civic, educational and patriotic associations of this state are being enlisted in this movement, greatest in the nation's history, to popularize the air mail service. In each Congressional District of the State, a committee has been formed by the State Committee to carry forward the multitude of activities which have been mapped out by the National and State headquarters. The district chairmen were announced by the State Chairman, as follows:

HEALTH DEPARTMENT NEWS

During the past couple of weeks, the local Health Unit has been conducting a survey of the schools in Prince William County to determine the number of children who have not been vaccinated against smallpox, and to determine the sanitation in schools in regard to water supply and sewage disposal.

The Sanitation Engineer, Mr. James R. Simpson, will begin a sanitation survey of the tourist camps, tourist homes, and other public places along the highways. All places furnishing food or lodging to the public, and meeting certain requirements may have a sign stating that their water supply has been approved by the State Health Department.

NOKEVILLE HOME DEMONSTRATION MEETING

The March meeting of the Nokesville Home Demonstration Club was held in the Club Rooms. The opening consisted of the usual devotional conducted by Mrs. Robert Nelson. String music in duet form was added by Mesdames Teresa Miller and Virginia Smith. Another duet was given in vocal form by Mesdames Hazel Shepherd and Evelyn Kerlin. Mrs. Martin gave an interesting reading entitled "Penrod's Letter." Then followed a brief discussion on "Citizenship" by Mrs. E. S. Hooker.

It was decided that the week of March 28th should be Nokesville Clean-Up Week. During this week we are asked to clean up our yards and our community and urge others to do the same.

The Ladies Aid Society of Grace M. E. Church, South, will meet with Mrs. S. T. Weir, Thursday, April 7, at 3:00 p.m.

Agricultural Conservation Program

During the past ten days, meetings were held at various points in Prince William County at which the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program was explained.

For the benefit of farmers who were unable to attend one of the meetings, the following major provisions of the new program, which is entirely voluntary, are given:

Farm will be divided into two classes—(1) farms producing 100 bushels or more of wheat for market, directly or in the form of livestock and poultry or their products, and (2) farms producing less than 100 bushels of wheat for market.

(1) Farms Producing 100 Bushels of More For Market—

Community and county committees will establish a general soil depleting base acreage and a wheat allotment acreage for each such farm. On farms which comply with the program, there will be a cash payment equal to the wheat allotment acreage multiplied by the average yield per acre set for the farm, multiplied by 12 cents. However, if less than 80 per cent of the wheat allotted acreage is harvested in 1938, the cash payment will be the 1938 wheat acreage harvested times 125 per cent of the average wheat yield set for the farm times 12 cents.

In addition to this amount, additional payments may be earned by carrying out approved soil building practices. This amount will be the acres of crop land on the farm minus wheat allotment acreage times 70 cents plus permanent pasture acreage minus one-half crop land acreage times 25 cents.

Methods of Earning Soil Building Payment—the total number of dollars available to be earned on the farm is multiplied by two-thirds. The resulting figure is the number of units of soil building practices to be carried out on the farm.

Practices to be Carried out on the Farm—Each of the following counts as one unit:

HEALTH DIRECTOR DISCUSSES NEW COUNTY UNIT

Dr. Edwin Holmes, director of the Fairfax County Health Unit and acting director of the newly formed Prince William unit, was the guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Kiwanis club on Friday evening.

Dr. Holmes proved an interesting speaker. He showed how the health work in Virginia had been built up till Virginia is now tied with Massachusetts for second place among all of the States.

Arguing that such health work was largely preventive, Dr. Holmes explained the intricacies of quarantine work, inoculation against communicable diseases, educational work, etc.

He further urged that plenty of patience be extended to any new set up, stating that the Prince William unit could not be thought of as functioning completely for at least one year.

Dr. Holmes expressed great pleasure in the fact that there could now be a much more complete coordination between the two counties.

The Club has set April 8th as Farmers Night, and the housing committee is urging complete information as to names and number of guests who will be brought in that evening.

BETHLEHEM CLUB HOLDS MEETING

Mrs. C. R. C. Johnson and Mrs. Hooff Are Hostesses

Mrs. C. R. C. Johnson and Mrs. A. Hooff entertained the Bethlehem Good Housekeepers' Club very delightfully at the latter's home on the afternoon of Wednesday, March 23rd, the regular meeting date having been postponed for one week.

The members responded to roll call with appropriate spring quotations in keeping with the beauty of the day.

Mrs. W. L. Lloyd, a guest, told of the approaching John Powell concert, and invited all the club members to attend. Other guests present were Mrs. May Dogan, Mrs. C. C. Lynn, Miss Sabina Neel, Mrs. R. L. Gulek, of Aldie, Virginia; Miss Jane Aldrich and Miss Emma Perkins.

After hearing the various committee reports, the president, Mrs. R. L. Byrd, told of having attended the meetings and luncheon of the Home Demonstration Advisory Board and the Homemakers Association on March 10th, at which time the summer 4-H camp, to be held at Chappawmick under Park Service, was discussed. At Mrs. Byrd's recommendation, the club voted to appropriate five dollars for the purpose of sending one under-privileged child to this camp for a week this summer.

An invitation from Librarian, Miss E. H. Osbourn to attend the opening of the Ruffner-Carnegie night sessions on March 24th, was read by the president.

Mrs. C. C. Lynn's cordial invitation to the club to meet with her soon was gratefully accepted.

At the close of the business session, Mrs. P. A. Lewis, program chairman, presented county nurse, Miss Sabina Neel, who gave a most interesting outline of her duties and also told of various clinics and other new branches of work under the new Health Unit now being organized.

Two lovely musical selections were then given by the Misses Jane Aldrich and Dorothy Perkins. During the social hour following a dainty salad and sandwich course was served by the hostesses.

JOHN POWELL PIANO RECITAL

Sponsors Named for Concert on April 7 at Manassas

Although surrounded by a prestige which is international and places him unquestionably among the world's great pianists, John Powell, who will be heard here on Thursday, April 7, at Manassas High School Auditorium, retains a distinct note of Americanism.

He was born in Virginia, and is indelibly marked with the imprint of the Old South. The folk music of Virginia, he prides himself, is his natural heritage. From this source have come the themes of his best compositions, which have been played by orchestras, the world over. He believes firmly that the folk music of the American countryside will some day be recognized as the authentic American musical idiom.

Today, Powell is at the height of his mature powers both as pianist and composer. Since his initial success in America, he has returned several times for long tours of Europe, including the memorable European tour of the New York Symphony Orchestra, with which he appeared as soloist, playing his own "Rapsodie Negre."

Among the prominent citizens of Northern Virginia who have agreed to act as sponsors, are Mr. and Mrs. Wade Hampton Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. William Fauntleroy Cocke, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Carper, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Baker, Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Hyndon, Mr. and Mrs. William Lloyd, Mrs. T. J. Broadus, Miss Marion Broadus, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Hooff, Rev. and Mrs. R. M. Graham, Prof. and Mrs. R. C. Haydon, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Peters, Mrs. C. C. Lynn, Mrs. W. Marshall Haydon, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Linton, Mrs. P. J. Cooksey, Miss Sabina Neel, and Miss Emma Perkins.

Much Enjoyment On Wedding Anniversary

An event of more than usual interest was the 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Collins of Marble Hill, who celebrated their Golden Wedding on Saturday, March 19th, 1938. The "High contracting parties" had lived together in peace and harmony for a full half century and during this long period had been honored neighbors, friends and citizens of the community and State where they have always been highly respected for their integrity and usefulness. It is but small wonder, then, that the whole community should turn out en masse, laden with gifts and kindly remembrances to show their respect and to honor them for what they had meant to the life of the neighborhood.

These Golden weddings are always interesting. One reason perhaps is because they are so rare and can happen but once in a lifetime; and when they do happen they afford an opportunity for old and young to mingle together, recount the past and reunite families even unto the third and fourth generations of by-gone years and up to the latest arrival of a great grand child. Four generations were assembled upon this occasion, had their pictures taken together that the on-coming generations may behold their "Family Tree."

The hours were from two to five and during that time and well into night, friends of many years standing were met together for a reunion, recount past experiences and just be glad. The writer heard many interesting things as friends would relate past experiences to the amusement of both the hearer and the teller.

They are blessed with six living children, Mrs. C. F. Caton, Gainesville, Va., Mrs. J. M. Allison, Messrs. Fred and Max Collins, Manassas; Mrs. M. E. Shelton, Alexandria, Va.; Mrs. G. W. Merchant, Fairfax, Va.; twenty-three grandchildren and seven great grandchildren.

Out of town guests attending included Mr. and Mrs. R. B. McDaniel of Clifton Forge, Va., Mrs. L. B. Tolley and Miss Mamie Baker of Hampton, Va., Mr. and Mrs. Pote and the Rev. and Mrs. Truman and sons of Washington, Mrs. Martin and Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Byers of Falls Church. These together with a host of neighborhood friends and relatives made things lively around old Marble Hill.

A special feature of the afternoon was a talk given by Rev. R. M. Graham, of the Manassas Baptist Church. It was a very sweet tribute to the old folks and highly appreciated by all.

Delicious refreshments were served during the afternoon and each departing guest, while not able to wish them many "happy returns of the day", did wish them many happy days yet to come.

HIGH HONORS HER

Last Thursday at a moment too late to more than make mention of the fact, the Journal editors were highly favored with a call from their former "soror-in-arms", none other than Miss Bertha Gray Robinson, the founder and only editor that the highly revered Orange Observer ever had.

The years have dealt lightly with Miss Bertha who is now flirting with the radio, giving several talks each month over a national hook-up from the Charlottesville.

Recently she represented Virginia at the Southern Industrial Conference at New Orleans and walked off with the palm as being the one to give the ablest address.

Miss Bertha is a member of the National Press Club, the national Geographic Society and the Pen Women of Washington. She was entertained by Mrs. Roosevelt at the White House just a few weeks ago and is a hearty advocate of the First Lady.

SHIRLEY TEMPLE IS BELOVED "HEIDI" IN HER GREATEST ROLE

A Shirley Temple more glorious than anyone has ever known and a beloved story that has enthralled millions the world will arrive on Monday and Tuesday, April 4 and 5 on the screen of the Pitts' Theart in the never-to-be-forgotten picture, "Heidi", Johanna Spyri's enchanting tale brought to such laughing loving life by Twentieth Century-Fox that it touches the deepest corners of the heart.

Everywhere readers in all languages have been charmed by the warmth, tenderness and beauty of the Swiss Alps and all the colorful folk dwelling up just under the stars, into whose lives "Heidi" brings tenderness and mirth and courage. An embittered mountain-top exile is reclaimed from his fierce hate of the world by the heroine, who brings him a new zest for life, and a young girl is given strength and the will to walk again in the story that has thrilled readers of every country.

"Heidi," one of the world's famous stories, had to wait for its star before it could be brought to the screen, declares Darryl F. Zanuck, and the reason is evident. Shirley was cast in the title role in response to the thousands of movie fans who besieged the studio with requests that she play the part.

The result is a picture for which she will be remembered always. Ideally cast and gloriously portrayed, the screen play by Walter Ferris and Julian Josephson is an achievement in transcribing a familiar and beloved story to the screen.

Heading the cast is Jean Hersholt, famous veteran actor who gives his greatest characterization as the grandfather of "Heidi." A taciturn recluse dwelling high in the Alps, the character is the most difficult he has ever had to portray, Hersholt says, because the burden of the delineation is placed on physical mannerisms and attention to details of action and dress.

GOOD SEED IMPORTANT

T. B. Hutcheson says, "kind of seed used is reflected in the crop yields. Good seed may be defined as seed of a superior adapted variety which have strong vitality and are free of seed-borne diseases and weed pests. The Virginia seed law requires that the germination, purity, and noxious weed content be printed on a tag attached to the seed bag or container. Such information should always be obtained before seed are bought. When purchasing seed, certified seed are recommended because they are guaranteed to be true to variety name, of high germination, and practically free of seed-borne disease and weeds. They usually cost more than uncertified seed because they are inspected in the field and bin for mixtures, weeds, and diseases and are subjected to germination tests by the Virginia State Division of Markets".

To allow ample time for testing and for arranging for other seed corn if it should be found necessary, seed corn on which a germination test is desired should be brought to the county office for forwarding or sent directly to the State Department of Agriculture at Richmond, as soon as possible.

DOCKING AND CASTRATING LAMBS

The docking of all lambs and the castration of all ram lambs intended for market is highly desirable. Both operations are easy to learn and demonstrations will be gladly given upon request.

The reason for a price difference in favor of trimmed lambs is that they usually dress out higher, produce a better balanced and better

CATHARPIN

As previously announced, the new electric light system recently installed in Sudley church, was officially received by the congregation last Sunday morning as the gift of the late Miss Lucy Bowen, a lifetime member, who in her will bequeathed to the Sudley congregation one hundred dollars to be used in any way the trustees might direct. This money was held pending a suitable opportunity to invest in something of a permanent nature as a fitting remembrance. This opportunity was very happily afforded when the electric line was built by the church and the present installation is the result. During her life Miss Lucy Bowen was an honored, beloved, and useful member of the congregation which now delights to honor and revere her memory. These lights, now so brilliant and beautiful, are emblematic of the life lived by the donor, and as such are most highly appreciated by the Sudley people.

The system was installed free of all expense by Mr. M. W. Collins in memory of the late Samuel C. Swart who supervised the erection of the New Sudley. Thus the congregation is the happy recipient of a beautiful system for which every member is highly appreciative.

Nor must the purchasing committee be forgotten. This committee composed of Mrs. L. L. Lynn, Mrs. J. W. Alvey and Mrs. C. C. Lynn was appointed to select and purchase the fixtures. While this might appear an easy task the truth was that it was a very hard one; so many to select from, price and money available, etc. all had their share in the hardship; but the selection was a very happy one and all much pleased with the effect.

The services were attended by Mr. George G. Tyler and sisters of Haymarket and Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Lewis, Jr., of Manassas, all relatives of the one in whose memory the exercises were conducted.

Mrs. J. W. Alvey of Catharpin was taken suddenly ill on Friday of last week which illness proved to be a case of the old fashioned grip as it was known a few years back. Several similar cases have been reported in the neighborhood.

Sudley again experienced an overflow crowd at the radio entertainment and supper given by the ladies of the Missionary society on Friday night of last week. Sudley is now getting pretty well accustomed to large crowds but the one last Friday night was the largest yet experienced. The program was unusual. Four radio entertainers of the regular broadcast system were present and rendered many musical features on violin guitars and cellos together with vocal numbers, all to the delight of all. They were enjoyed as much or more as the professional program. This feature was very interesting since it embraced the children and young people of the community who sang, played on various instruments including piano, violins, guitars, all to the delight of their parents and friends. Their performances were surprisingly good. A few of the professional and near professional type were present and rendered some very excellent music on various instruments; two vocal solos by Miss Pitzer of Washington were highly pleasing. Everything was of a high order, well diversified, and pleasing to all.

Mrs. W. Holmes Robertson and daughter, Rita, were Washington shoppers on Friday of last week.

SMEAR SHEEP NOSES

"Grub in the Head" has caused serious losses in Prince William sheep flocks. This trouble is due to Gad Flies laying eggs in the sheep noses that later develop into grubs. Gad Flies can be repelled by smearing pine tar on the nostrils of the animals during the fly season. The first application of pine tar should be smeared on the noses by hand, but later applications may be more conveniently made by using a smeared salt log or block. This is done by boring 2-inch holes in a split log or block, filling the holes with salt, and keeping pine tar spread heavily around each hole so that when the sheep lick the salt their noses are smeared with the Gad Fly repellent.

Didlake, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Sharrett, Mrs. Edward Wissler, Mrs. Harvey Steele, Mr. and Mrs. G. Raymond Ratcliffe, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Jenkin Davies, Miss Marion Lynn, Mrs. Cash Keys, Mrs. Wallace Whitmore, Mrs. A. O. Beane, Mrs. Roger Cross.

Those planning to hear the distinguished pianist, John Powell, whose recital takes place at Manassas on Thursday, April 7, 8 p.m. at the high school, will no doubt be interested to have a list of major works of this artist who is also a foremost American composer.

John Powell has some thirty compositions to his credit, the latest to be brought being a suite of three dances for orchestra called "Natchez-on-the-Hill". Among his other important works are "Sonata Virginianae," for violin and piano; piano suite, "In the South"; piano suite, "At the Fair"; "Variations and Double Fugue on a theme of F. C. Hahn", for piano; string quartet in E-minor; "Sonate Noble" for piano; sonata in A-flat in one movement for violin and piano; "From a Loved Past", for violin and piano; "Rhapsodie Negre" for piano and orchestra overture, "In old Virginia."

The orchestral suite, "Natchez-on-the-Hill" which had its first hearing at the Worcester Festival, and like the major part of Powell's works, is based on American folk music. The suite is composed of three Virginia country dances, only slightly modulated, drawn from the native folk music of Louisa County, Virginia, and set down with as close fidelity to the originals as an orchestral transcription could allow, Mr. Powell explained. "Natchez-on-the-Hill," a Virginia version of a Mississippi folk air, leads the suite, followed by the native Virginia Tune, "The Hog-Eyed Man," and completed by the "War Whoop" another indigenous Virginia air. Of the three, "The Hog-Eyed Man"—probably a corruption of "the hawk-eyed man"—introduces an invitingly dangerous folk character.

BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

If parents still have their children, memos via the daily Bible selections, it will prove a priceless heritage to them in Peter years.

He shall drink of the brook in the way; therefore shall he lift up the head.—Psalms 110:7.

FEDERAL REORGANIZATION

By a close margin of 7 votes the Administration bill authorizing reorganization of the federal departments has passed the Senate. The bill is one of the major aims of the President but has encountered ever increasing opposition.

The idea of a more logical arrangement of the multitudinous federal agencies and commissions has widespread approval, but the project has suffered in popularity through the insistence of the President that all the various emergency bureaus, which have arisen under the New Deal, be blanketed under the Civil Service to become permanent in the governmental set-up.

It is very logically maintained by a substantial group in Congress that efficiency and economy can never be attained unless curtailment of the ever expanding executive branch of the government is accomplished, and that the time to abolish is right now, under a reorganization of the departments.

A number of other factors have cut down the President's majority in Congress on this measure. His own recent speech at Athens, Georgia, has alienated considerable Southern support. He unquestionably struck out at the economic and social system of the South in this speech and unfriendly reaction was bound to occur.

To this opposition is added the lobbying of various federal bureaus, like the forest service, which enjoy great independence of supervision by virtue of their illogical placement in departments not chiefly concerned with their particular problems. They want to be left alone and are playing politics as only they know how.

In consequence it is widely predicted that the reorganization bill, which now goes to the House, will be likely to die there, rather than to become a law, and that the present crazy-quilt pattern of governmental agencies will continue indefinitely.

SOUTHERN INTERLUDE

President Roosevelt has gone to Warm Springs, Ga., for a rest—spend, as he puts it, "most of his time sleeping". Let's hope that he gets both rest and sleep, and that he will permit all of us, during his absence, to enjoy a bit of Lenten repose.

It was doubtless characteristic of Mr. Roosevelt that en route to his vernal rustication he should launch a few well-turned remarks on feudalism and Fascism, all one to him, on the "selfish few" who are obstructing national progress and retarding an upturn in business. The President tells his Southern neighbors that wages there are too low, and that where wages are low there can be no rise in purchasing power.

True—all too true. But Spring is here and most people are in no mood for further lectures, diaatribes and shocks. Let's hope that a little sleep will restore the President to good nature and balanced judgment, and that meanwhile the rest of us can doze for a few moments under the delusion, if it is a delusion, that things go best when all pull together.—Fredericksburg Free Lance-Star.

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION MEETING

RITZ BROTHERS STARS
IN MERRY MUSICAL

Bigger and badder, madder and merrier, wilder and wackier than in "Sing, Baby, Sing," "On the Avenue" and "You Can't Have Everything", those three comedy-mad Ritz Brothers are starred for the first time in "Life Begins in College," Twentieth Century-Fox musical hit featuring Joan Davis, Tony Martin and Gloria Stuart and a noteworthy cast, which opens on Saturday, April 2, at the Pitts' Theatre.

A hilarious, tuneswept jamboree, "Life Begins in College," contains all the essential elements for a gay, entertaining hit—glidy gags, gorgeous girls and frenzied fun. The gloriouso cast also includes Fred Stone, Nat Pendleton, Ed. Thorogerson, Dick Baldwin, Joan Marsh, Dixie Dunbar, Jed Prouty, Maurice Cass, Marjorie Weaver and J. C. Nugent.

The screen play, written by Karl stories by Darrell Ware, moves with zest and speed from one riotous situation to another, with the three Ritz circus unloading the niftiest comedy gags of their careers.

With them is Joan Davis, pretty red-headed comedienne, who attains new heights of hilarity as a lovesick girl on a heart-hunt for an Indian, of all things.

The unassuming Indian with only $10,000 a day to spend, is snubbed by all the fraternity brothers until the Ritz Brothers take him in and then the fun begins in a riotous frolic of mirth and merriment.

NOKEVILLE

The Brentsville District Community League will meet Tuesday evening, April 5, at 8:00 o'clock, at the High School auditorium.

A good program is being planned by our Third Vice-president, Mr. Mazzyk Wood, from Greenwich.

The program is as follows:

Several selections of String Music by the Greenwich Band.

A short two act play by the 4-H Club.

A Novelty Number. Probably a few songs by the Carrico Brothers. Everybody come and enjoy the evening.

We can at least show that we are interested in our high school and our communities by our presence at these meetings.

If You Were A New Business Man In Town, Could You Digest This? Well, We Can't.

The Town Manager who never welcomed our establishment by giving us a call even to wish us well, until recently, came in and made a request of us to handle Beers for his convenience as he did not like to go in a place where men were sitting around drinking the same he wanted to buy. We handle Groceries, Meat and produce exclusively and we do not care to deviate from this line.

QUIET TALKS ON RELIGION

BY DR. JAMES T. MARSHALL
REPOSE

THIRD OF LENTEN SERIES Restoration

I shall not want restoration, for "He restoreth my soul." This is true in three senses. The sheep needs food when hungry, resuscitation when exhausted, and bringing home when it has wandered away.

The Good Shepherd refreshed us with spiritual food. Paradoxical though it may seem, He is at the same time our shepherd and our pasture. "Who so eateth my flesh and drinketh my blood hath eternal life." (John 6:54). To retain our spiritual standing we must use the aids which He has so thoughtfully provided. Let us read our Bibles as regularly as we read our daily papers, go church as cheerfully as we go to the club, and feed on prayer as regularly as we gather with our loved ones about our family table.

He resuscitates when we are faint from any cause. The old shepherds knew how to rub the numb limbs or administer a stimulant to the sheep that had become exhausted by too long a journey or by the cold. Every Christian has his fainting spells. David himself did not always enjoy the lofty experiences described in this psalm, and we need not be in despair if our spirits are not always above par. No clock strikes twelve every hour of the day, and no rose blooms the whole year round.

At times it becomes the duty of the shepherd to go out in search of a sheep which wandered away. It is natural for a sheep to wander and in this respect it is a perfect type of a human soul. "All we like sheep have gone astray; we have turned every one to his own way." (Isaiah 53:6).

Literature furnishes no lovelier picture than the Savior's story of the Lost Sheep—"What man of you, having an hundred sheep, if he lose one of them, doth not leave the ninety and nine in the wilderness, and go after that which is lost, until he find it?"

It is never safe for us to boast of our stability, when we think of David the sweet singer of Israel, Solomon the wisest of kings and Peter the rock-like apostle. Every church has its defective members and every Christian his periods of straying. Our security lies wholly in the tender watchfulness of the Good Shepherd

"Perverse and foolish, oft I strayed, And yet in love he sought me, And on His shoulder gently laid, And home rejoicing brought me."

We do not often wander by malicious intention, but by seemingly safe allurements. The sheep never springs from the pasture into the wilderness in one great leap. It sees a tempting tuft of grass beyond the bounds of the pasture and goes after it and thus takes the first step toward danger.

The glorious truth of the Gospel is that if we ever become aroused to realize that we are wandering, we are free to come back. The gates of the heavenly pasture are never closed to the wanderer, and the door of the Father's house is open all night. The prodigal will find the latch-string on the outside.

Emerson once said, "The greatest enterprise in splendor and extent is the rebuilding of a man." The only person who can reconstruct humanity is the Good Shepherd, the Son of Man who came to seek and save that which is lost."

FOOD MARKET*Advice

GOOD fishing weather characterized the week before Lent so that plentiful supplies of FISH and SEAFOOD are available and prices are reasonable. EGGS are again inexpensive freely and they are very inexpensive. CHEESE supplies and prices fluctuate little. BUTTER remains reasonable.

Meat Prices Higher

Although BEEF wholesale prices are somewhat higher little change is to be noted in retail. LAMB and PORK however, are costing the consumer more and VEAL continues high. FOWLS, often called stewing chickens or hens, are enough cheaper to be considered a good value. DUCKS continue to be low in price.

Oranges Excellent Value

Huge crops of both FLORIDA VALENCIA and CALIFORNIA NAVEL ORANGES make this popular fruit available at unusually low prices for the season. APPLES and GRAPEFRUIT too, are plentiful and cheap. If you want variety in your fresh fruits, PEARS, HOTHOUSE RHUBARB, STRAWBERRIES and PINEAPPLE are reasonable in price.

When buying oranges plan to cook with them as well as use them for a few weeks more.

Iceberg Lettuce and Tomato Salad

ICEBERG LETTUCE is plentiful and cheap and quantities of TOMATOES are being imported from Florida and Cuba. Other vegetables which are more plentiful than usual are GREEN PEPPERS, EGGPLANTS and LIMA BEANS. SPINACH is the cheapest of the winter green vegetables. NEW CABBAGE is somewhat lower. The ASPARAGUS season has begun but it will not be generally available for a few weeks more.

PRINCE WILLIAM COUNTY RELIC RECALLS FORGOTTEN SCIENTIST

Inventor of "Rumford Percolator" Had Brilliant Career in Science, Diplomacy and in Military Accomplishments.

Publication of the picture of a brass antique owned by Mr. Worth Storke, of Manassas, has brought to light a similar vessel, owned by Miss Lily Edmonds, of Catlett, Va., which, although smaller in size, is complete with all its parts, and leaves no doubt of its identity as a coffee percolator.

It belonged, Miss Edmonds says, to her father, the late Dr. William Sydnor Edmonds, who died in 1892 at the age of 71 years. Where he obtained the interesting relic is not known but it has always been known in the home of Miss Edmonds as the "old coffee pot".

Coffee percolators are popularly believed to be a modern device for the extraction of the most pleasing aroma from the coffee bean, but an obscure treatise on the preparation of our most esteemed beverage, written half a century ago indicates that great minds had struggled with the coffee problem, and one of the greatest minds of his age, who left an indelible imprint upon the pages of physical science, invented a coffee percolator used by our great grandparents. It did not fully meet the exacting requirements of pioneer coffee drinkers, however, and in consequence it was variously modified, and finally passed out altogether.

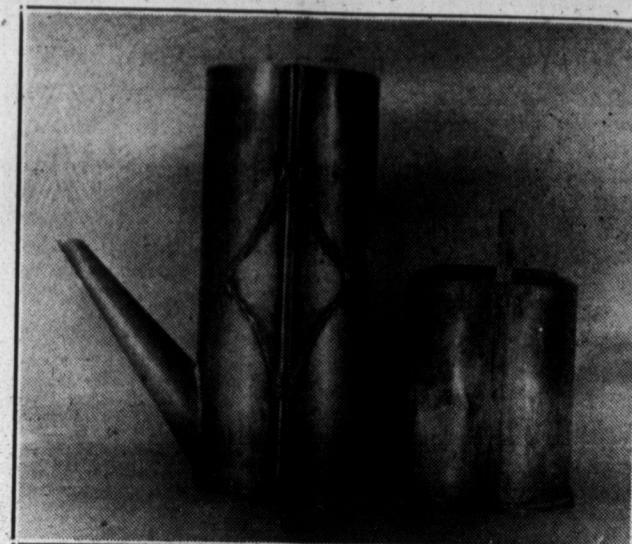

There is every probability that the present antique coffee percolator is an original "Rumford Percolator", or a modification thereof. Returning to the old-time account of coffee making referred to above, we find this quotation:

"Boiling, if continued, will cause a loss of the aroma, and increase the bitterness; hence an infusion obtained by steeping is preferable to a decoction, but the water should remain in contact with the coffee long enough to extract the greater portion of its agreeable qualities, which is not the case in the use of the percolating apparatus INTRODUCED BY COUNT RUMFORD AND AFTERWARDS VARIOUSLY MODIFIED."

The name of Count Rumford is perpetuated in advanced treatises on physics which deal with the development of modern ideas of the nature and behavior of heat. His scientific accomplishments are forgotten, as are his military attainments in Europe and yet the name of Rumford may have once been a household word through the widespread use of his coffee percolator.

Benjamin Thompson, inventor of the unique coffee urn which bears his titled name, was born at Woburn, Mass., March 26, 1753. He died in France on August 21, 1814. At the age of 13 he entered the counting house of a merchant at Salem, Massachusetts, and in 1770 we find him teaching an academy at Concord, New Hampshire, a place which then was known by the name of Rumford.

In the year 1772 this unique character married the "widow Rolfe", a lady of considerable wealth and prominence, and said to be very much his senior. She secured for her husband appointment by the Royal Governor as major in the New Hampshire militia, but his military career in the continental army was short. Exciting the jealousy of older officers by his sudden elevation, he was charged with disaffection with the cause of the colonies, and in the wave of anger which swept the country against "tories", he was driven from his home. He took refuge in Boston and became the associate of General Gage and other British officers, but no charge of disloyalty was ever proven against him. He was formally tried for the alleged disloyalty, and although not condemned, he was never able to secure a full acquittal, and although he applied for a commission in the continental army, it was denied him, and when Boston fell, he was chosen as the bearer of this bad news to England.

The culture and talent of this native of colonial America was so outstanding, that he was immediately attached to the staff of Lord George Germain, Secretary of State for the Department of the Colonies, and in 1780 he became Under-Secretary of State. When Lord Germain retired, Thompson returned to America as a British Officer and served until the close of the Revolution as a lieutenant colonel of dragoons.

Upon his return to England, Benjamin Thompson was given permission of the British Government to enter the service of the elector of Bavaria, who knighted him and made him his personal aide-de-camp and chamberlain and in this capacity he reorganized the entire military establishment of Bavaria. Many honors were conferred upon him by his grateful adopted country and he left an indelible impression upon their national life. One of his outstanding achievements was the suppression of beggary in Bavaria, which at that time was a crowded profession. In addition to inculcating habits of thrift and industry among the lower classes, he also made notable contributions to the progress of agriculture, improving the breeds of horses and cattle of the country. He was successively raised to the ranks of major general, member of the council of state, commander-in-chief of the general staff, minister of war, and finally he received the honor which was destined to be longest remembered in connection with an American coffee-pot. Mr. Thompson, who had become Sir Benjamin Thompson, was made a Count, and he chose to become Count Rumford, where he had taught school, known then as Rumford, later to become Concord.

Thus a future coffee-pot would come to be known as the Rumford Percolator, rather than a "Thompson Percolator", and it was during Count Rumford's reorganization of the military establishment of Bavaria that he noticed the unusual amount of heat generated in boring out cannon and became interested in heat phenomena, finally making the discoveries about which have caused his name to be perpetuated in all advanced text-books on physics which deal with "mechanical equivalent of heat".

Count Rumford made many scientific discoveries and turned many of his observations in practical channels, as in the case of the coffee-percolator. His studies of strength of materials and explosive forces resulted in great improvement of artillery, and he even improved household chimneys, making a scientific study of their construction with special reference to remedies for their smoking.

Benjamin Thompson died at Auteuil, near Paris, in 1814, but although his honors came to him from foreign lands, he evidenced his love for his native land in his bequests to Harvard University, founding the Rumford Professorship in Physical Science. Two years after his death this professorship was established at Harvard, and the influence of his great mind continued in the scientific development of America.

In forgotten attics, among family relics, there must be many of these old Rumford Percolators. That they once occupied a definite place in the household cannot be doubted. If they did not "percolate" satisfactorily their failure can be laid more to the elusive nature of coffee-bean aroma, rather than to any mechanician imperfection, and they should be valued now as a memento of one of our first really great American scientists, Benjamin Thompson of New Hampshire—beloved Count Rumford, of Bavaria.

Experiments of the Pennsylvania Experiment Station show that limed and fertilized permanent grassland will produce more feed units than will all crops produced over a period of a four-year rotation. This was shown on three types of Pennsylvania soils on which the pasture and rotation crops received the same fertilizer and lime treatment.

The labor cost necessary to produce 1 ton of digestible protein in a grain rotation is approximately $178 as compared to approximately $2.82 from a well-fertilized permanent pasture.
