HISTORIC LORE IS DISCUSSED

Mrs. Morton Guest of Woman's Club

The Woman's Club of Manassas, held its June Meeting on Wednesday of this week the Prince William Hotel. The dining room was very tastefully decorated with beautiful arrangements of garden flowers, grown and arranged by Mrs. Margaret Lewis of the Garden Section.

Following the usual opening procedure, the president Mrs. C. Wade-Dalton called on committee chairman for reports. Some very interesting outlines of plans and prospective programs and projects, along the lines of club work, were given by the chairman of Standing Committees.

Immediate plans for the Garden Section include the Historic Pilgrimage on June 16th.

The Music and Literature Section are planning a special features program for their next meeting, at the home of Mrs. T. J. Broadus the evening of June 28th, to which all club members were invited.

The club was very happy to welcome as new members to the club. Burt Smelker, and Miss Sarah Donahoe. Mrs. Noel Gill, a former member, was also reinstated and made welcome.

The program hour was a most interesting and entertaining part of the afternoon. Mrs. T. J. Broadus introduced as guest speaker. Mrs. Susan I. Morton, of Haymarket, who gave some most enlightening data on the important and historical spots, and people of Prince William County.

Beginning with the Revolutionary period, in which George Washington, a resident of what was then Prince William County, took command of the continental army, she brought out facts and well authenticated information which is of great value, not only to the people of Prince William but to Virginia. Mrs. Morton urged the clubs and organizations to help in getting this information she has compiled into some form that it may be preserved for future generations.

The violin solos by Mrs. Margaret Broadus were also a delightful and pleasing addition to the program. Mrs. Broadus played "To Spring" by Grieg; and "Hungarian Dance" by Drla, Miss Shirley Davis acting as her accompanist.

The report of the President, Mrs. C. Wade-Dalton of the Roanoke convention, was a splendid one. Though limited by time, Mrs. Wade-Dalton gave only a brief outline, but enough for one to know that the women of Virginia and the world, through organized clubs, are making rapid studies toward obtaining their rightful place in world affairs. The theme of the convention being "Citizenship the Heart, the Tomb, the Hearthstone of a Community".

Hostesses for the social hour were Mrs. Harvey Steele, Mrs. William Sharrett, Mrs. Robert Smith, Mrs. E. D. Wissler, Mrs. Conway Seely.

CLUB ENJOYS OLD TIME SONGS

The June meeting of the Bethlehem Club was held on the afternoon of the fifteenth at the home of Mrs. Maude Kincheol, with Mrs. Charles Compton, assistant hostess.

Reports of committees and all business transacted as usual.

A number of the members were reported on the sick list and several were absent due to unavoidable reasons.

All members are requested by the president, Mrs. R. L. Byrd to answer roll call at the next meeting with original verse.

An impromptu program was put on by the club. Mrs. Frank Gue gave an amusing recitation, "Telling the Truth". A poem entitled "Are All the Children In", was read by Mrs. J. F. Burks.

With Mrs. Connie Kincheol at the piano numerous old time songs were sung, concluding with the club song, Auld Lang Syne.

Delicious refreshments brought to a close a very pleasant afternoon.

MISS FLORANCE IMPROVES

It is a pleasure to correct an erroneous report received last week just as we went to press, to the effect that Miss Irene Florance, of Haymarket, had died of the injuries received in the automobile accident last week and which resulted in the death of her sister, Mrs. E. B. Roland.

Miss Florance survived the accident and is making progress toward recovery. Her injuries are said to be very serious, but her ultimate restoration to health is anticipated.

Mrs. J. Holt Merchant, who was the Club's delegate to the convention of the Virginia Federation of Woman's Clubs, held in Roanoke in April, gave an interesting report on the work of the convention.

Hon. F. P. Moncure Speaker at Exercises

Members of the Ladies Memorial Association, Daughters of Confederacy and friends, gathered in late afternoon, June 3rd, 1938, at the Confederate Cemetery to honor in a special way the Confederate dead.

The speaker's stand was decorated in red and white bunting, flags and roses, while small Confederate flags dotted the entire cemetery having been tenderly placed, earlier in the day, by the decorating committee, Mrs. Guy Allen, Mrs. W. A. Newman, Mrs. Beulah Larkin and others—Judge C. Lacey Compton was master of ceremonies. With Mrs. Lewis J. Carper at the organ the exercises opened by the assembly singing, "Onward Christian Soldiers". As the strains of this old familiar hymn blended with the prevailing silence, a group of lovely little boys and girls, doing homage to their illustrious ancestors, strewed flowers on the mounds of Confederate dead. Leonard Lonas, Jr., and Roger Cross, Jr., were color-bearers for the Manassas Chapter, Children of Confederacy, and were imposing as leaders as leaders in the line of march.

Rev. A. S. Gibson of the Episcopal Church led in reading the U. D. C. ritual. This was followed by the Memorial number, with Rev. J. Murray Taylor presiding, who paid a most fitting and appropriate tribute to the deceased members of the past year, namely, Mrs. C. M. Larkin, Miss Clara Lamb, Miss Florence Kincheol, Mrs. R. S. Arey and one veteran, Mr. George A. Weedon.

Mr. Stanley A. Owens, very graciously presented the annual essay prizes, offered in our local high school. The recipients this year were Frances Keys, William Knox, Bettie Beane and Sallie Proffitt.

Musical members "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia" and "Swanee River" were sweetly rendered on the violin by Mr. Lewis J. Carper, organ accompanist, Mrs. Carper.

The chairman presented Col. Robt. A. Hutchison who introduced the speaker, Hon. Frank P. Moncure, of Stafford and Prince William.

Mr. Moncure was most entertaining in his brief, but, inspiring address which was appreciatively received by the audience. His theme was Jefferson Davis, a martyr to the cause of the Confederacy, but who in his last days was restored to his family and to a reunited country.

The benediction was pronounced by Rev. T. D. D. Clark which brought to a close on occasion, recording another page in the history of the loyal Confederate organizations of historic Manassas.

Mrs. A. O. Weedon, president of the Manassas Memorial Association was program chairman. Assisted by Mrs. L. L. Lonas, Mrs. C. B. Compton and Mrs. Lewis J. Carper.

The small children who assisted in the flower decoration were Dolly Lonas, Page and Georgia Lee Beale, Lois Cornwell, Jackie Wetherall, Jackie Martin, Benjamin Cross, Barbara Polen, Marjorie and Tommie Beane, Robert and Mary Louise Wine, Joan Alpaugh, Anne Warren Coleman, Kitty Jean Blakemore and Charles Armstead Sinclair III.

Mr. Dennis Baker was very kind in the loan, delivery and placing of fifty chairs for the speaker's stand.

The out-of-town participants, Mr. Moncure and Rev. Taylor were guests of Col. Robt. A. Hutchison at the Kiwanis Club.

JUNIORS MEET

The spring district meeting of the Order Fraternal Americans, Prince William County, was held Tuesday evening, with State President Davis and National Deputy Whitesell as guests.

All councils except one were well represented. A musical program was given by Mrs. Kitty Baker, Rev. DeChant and Mrs. Jo Lynn. George Wood, of Greenwich, also rendered several numbers. Refreshments were served later by the Daughters of America.

The next meeting will be held at Greenwich on the evening of September 8th.

PRIZES AWARDED ON SCHOOL ESSAYS

Elizabeth Brower Wins W.C.T.U. Prize of $10.00

Prizes offered by the local W.C.T.U. for the best essay on "The Effects of Alcohol on the Human Body", have been awarded.

First prize was awarded to Miss Elizabeth Brower, of Haymarket. The second prize of $5.00 went to Miss Helen Haislip, of Occoquan. Third and fourth prizes of $3.00 each went to Misses Louise King and Allen Hinton, of Manassas. Prizes of $2.00 were awarded to Jack Alvey, of Haymarket, Elzora Allen, of Occoquan and Misses Sadie Smith and Barbara Louise Brown, of Nokesville.

The judging for this contest was done at the Charlottesville and none of the contestants were known by those who passed upon the merits of the many essays submitted.

Owing to its length it has not been possible to publish the winning essay, but as a specimen of the fine work submitted by these contestants, the essay by Miss Louise King, of Manassas, follows:

EFFECTS OF ALCOHOL ON THE HUMAN BODY

(Louise King, Manassas High)

Alcohol education is very important because this is the only possible way to correct the evils resulting from the use of alcohol.

There are reasons for being educated on this subject. They are: good health and fine character. To be healthy and to have a fine, clean, pure character means that you will have to be educated against the dangers of alcohol and to abide strictly by those things you have learned.

The effects of alcohol on the health and character are not generally known because the sale of it by the health and character are not generally known because the sale of it by the huge commercial interests would be injured if these were known.

Alcoholism is one of the four scourges of modern civilization. Dr. Emil Boger, a physician, said, "No other poison causes so many deaths, or leads to or intensifies so many diseases, both physical and mental, as does alcohol in the various forms in which it is taken."

The results of alcoholism reach much farther than the individual drinker. In 1905, a report said that drink was the cause of 50 per cent of divorces, 25 per cent of insanity, 37 per cent of poverty, 47 per cent of child misery, 50 per cent of crime.

The standards of today are intelligent living and efficiency in business. When the harm of alcohol poison is known to the public the people will want to be educated on this subject in order to avoid the evil consequences of alcohol.

Alcohol, its drinking company, its effect, and the fight against it is as old as the human race. The Bible told of great disaster because of drinking of alcohol. History and literature give accounts, and results of drinking. Charles II, Alexander, Shakespeare, and others are among the ones who left wise sayings and warnings to people against alcohol.

It was not until 1800, when people awakened to the need of education of alcohol and its efforts that this education began for the mass of people. The first organized effort was in 1789. The sellers of alcohol began to be blamed as much as the buyers. In the (Continued on page 8.)

MANASSAS LOSES 7th STRAIGHT
Manassas lost their 7th straight game last Sunday 5-4.
The game was loosely played, both teams making 10 errors.

Fairfax took advantage of all the Manassas errors to make their 5th count.
Manassas made plenty of hits but could not get them bunched to get the runs across.

Eddie Connor pitched one of the finest games seen on Swavely Field this year.
Maury Wells made a sparkling catch in the 5th inning. The runner started to second and Saunders threw the ball wide. When Wells caught the ball, he was lying flat on the ground.

Manassas will play the Manassas all-stars in a Donkey Baseball Game Friday night at 8 p.m. Every body come.

PLANS FOR SHORT COURSE UNDER WAY

With the time approaching for the annual State Short Course at Blacksburg, high spot of the year's 4-H work in Virginia, every 4-H club is urged to select delegates carefully and to send those who merit the honor of representing the 4-H clubs of the county. Dates of the Short Course are July 18 to 23.

The greatest value of the short course is the influence it has on the farms, homes and communities of those who attend. For this reason, delegates should be chosen who are capable of taking the most information back to their communities.

Bona fide club members 14 years of age and over, who are doing good project work and are active in the affairs of their club, are eligible to attend. The reasonable fee of $5.00 covers all costs for meals, lodging and instruction for the week while at V. P. I. Bus fare for the 530 mile round trip has averaged $3.50 per member over the past few years. Adult leaders accompany the county group and instruction is given by members of the V.P.I. college and extension staff. Full information concerning the State Short Course may be found in the May Club Letter, a monthly publication received by all club members.

OCCOQUAN AND VICINITY

Mrs. F. W. Hornbaker, of Occoquan, spent several days last week visiting friends and relatives in Manassas, Va. She reports that Mrs. J. E. Bradford is getting along nicely, for which we are very glad.

Mrs. Jack Alexander of Occoquan, Va., and her daughters, Norma and Jackie, and Miss Virginia Shanklin of Occoquan, and Mr. Thurman McMahon of Maryland have left for South Carolina to spend several weeks visiting friends and relatives there. We wish them a very pleasant time in the deep South.

Miss Geraldine Wilcher of Washington, D. C., spent the first part of the week visiting her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wilcher in Occoquan.

Mr. Gordon Leary, of Occoquan spent the week-end in Charlottesville, Va., where he attended the dance given at the University of Virginia; it being the final for the season.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Smith and family of Newington, Va., and Miss Leila Milstead of Newington motored to Hampton Sidney last week to attend the graduation of Mr. and Mrs. Smith's son, and also attended the banquet given on graduation. Mr. Smith is studying for the Ministry.

The Ladies of the Rectors Aid of Pohick Church had their regular monthly meeting at the Church Hall on Wednesday, June 15th. There was a very good attendance; excellent refreshments were served, and all had a very pleasant afternoon. Mrs. C. Lee Starkweather and Mrs. F. W. Hornbaker, both of Occoquan, were hostesses for the occasion.

that our good friend and neighbor, Mr. B. W. Brunt of the Bank of Occoquan, of improving nicely. We are also glad to report that Mrs. Edson Lynn is getting along nicely. No others on the sick list this week.

1,400,000 ACRE WILDLIFE MANAGEMENT AREA CREATED IN VA.

Representatives of the Virginia Commission of Game and Inland Fisheries and the United States Service met in Richmond this week to sign a cooperative agreement which provides for the joint management of wildlife on Virginia's two National Forests.

Hon. Carl H. Nolting, Chairman of the Commission of Game and Inland Fisheries, and Regional Forester R. M. Evans of the Eastern Region of the United States Forest Service, signed the agreement which is considered by many as being the most outstanding wildlife advancement in the history of conservation in the eastern United States.

This huge wildlife management area which includes the George Washington and Jefferson National Forests will exceed in size any similar area east of the Mississippi River which is open to, and managed for, public hunting.

INCREASED INDEMNITY FOR CATTLE BANG'S DISEASE REACTORS TO TAKE EFFECT

The 1937-'38 session of the Virginia General Assembly enacted legislation providing for an increased indemnity, on the part of the State, for Bang's disease reactors after July 1, 1938. The new law provides for a maximum payment of $25 on grade unregistered cattle and a maximum of $50 on purebred registered cattle. Therefore, the indemnity payment will amount to a maximum of $50, State and Federal indemnity on unregistered cattle and $100 maximum, State and Federal indemnity on registered cattle.

Testing will be conducted at a rate that will not exhaust State and Federal indemnity monies during the fiscal year.

Eighty of the one hundred counties in Virginia having already entered voluntarily into the compulsory county-wide test, it was incorporated into the law the provision that testing should be compulsory in all counties at such intervals as deemed necessary by the State Veterinarian.

CHRIST FOR ALL—ALL FOR CHRIST
The Word of God
BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER
If parents will have their children memorize the daily Bible selections, it will prove a priceless heritage to them in later years.

Wash you, make you clean;
put away the evil of your doings from before mine eyes; cease to do evil; Learn to do well; seek judgment, relieve the oppressed, judge the fatherless, plead for the widow.—Isaiah 1:16,17.

THE REVISED WAGES AND HOURS BILL

In its closing hours, Congress passed a revised Wages and Hours measure which differs materially from the original bill framed by the combined efforts of Northern labor and manufacturers to throttle the industrial prosperity of the South.

The final law goes further than giving us mere regional preferences. The North has long enjoyed geographical favoritisms in freight rates, tariffs and other advantages, but the South, in the present measure, is given fairer consideration.
They are allowed a series of restrictions which consider living costs, wage agreements and other safeguards, affording us as much protection as possible under the circumstances. Only industries in inter-state commerce are affected. Certain industries are exempted entirely.
The minimum wage has been cut to 25 cents per hour, and the raise is under the control industrial committees on which all parties vitally concerned are represented.

The South should not soon forget the sturdy fight which its real Democratic Congressmen have made against this bill.
The strength of their opposition was overwhelming. Elections are approaching, and those congressmen who truckle to the demands of the industrialists and labor leaders of the North, have seen fit to take care of their political careers first, regardless of the effect upon the national recovery from the depression.

It is a pleasure to record the name of Hon. Howard W. Smith, Representative of the Eighth Congressional District of Virginia, among the true Southern Democrats who steadfastly opposed this measure to the last.

They fought effectively against great odds, and were not willing to sacrifice their conviction that the whole measure was ill-advised and poorly timed, merely to secure some slight advantage at the polls.

We are deeply indebted to those forty-one staunch Southerners for the protection they have secured for their constituency. They could not prevent enactment of the bill, but they have preserved the advantages the South has in lower living costs, and have so surely outwitted their Northern adversaries that the harm which is likely to result from regulation of wages and hours at this unfavorable time will be more likely to descend upon the heads of those whose jealousies have inspired the measure than upon their intended victims.—News-Observer.

PROVIDING CASH

for the community

NICKELS, dimes, quarters—coins and bills of all denominations—are in constant demand for payrolls and merchants' tills. Providing this cash is an exacting task which requires much time and preparation.

This bank service, while usually taken for granted, is very necessary to the smooth and uninterrupted flow of community business. It is another example of the many ways in which banks—quietly, efficiently and faithfully—serve community progress.

Then Miss Kittie Jean Blakemore, the bride-to-be with a corsage of gardenias showered with baby's breath. Concealed in each streamer of the shower was a clue to the "hidden

Highest honors are accorded the Stars and Stripes by military bodies and patriotic groups on Flag Day, June 14. U. S. Marines of the "color guard," shown above, proudly display our National Flag along with their regimental colors.

Proudly waving over our nation for 161 years, old Glory celebrated another birthday on June 14. Our forefathers gloried in this beloved symbol, which has been handed down from generation to generation as the priceless heritage of a liberty-loving people.

Born amid the first flames of America's fight for freedom, it has continued to wave through troublous or tranquil times, and to lead the way to our nation as year by year it has marched with a renewed hope and a high resolve along the Road of Destiny.

Much of our flag's early history is shrouded in mystery. We know that a flag of thirteen stars and stripes was adopted by the Continental Congress on June 14, 1777, but we do not know positively by whom it was designed or where it was first flown. A popular legend attributes the making of the first Stars and Stripes to Betsy Ross, a flagmaker of Philadelphia.

Flagmaking materials were scarce in those days and this was often a severe handicap to those who wished to display the new banner. When John Paul Jones was at Portsmouth, N. H., preparing to sail abroad on the Ranger, the young ladies of that seaport fashioned out of their own and their mothers' gowns a beautiful Star-spangled Banner which was flown to the breeze in Portsmouth harbor on July 4, 1777.

Another flag was fabricated a few weeks later by the defenders of Fort Stanwix, N. Y., when an officer donated his cloak for the blue field, soldiers gave their shirts for the white stripes, while the red stripes were fashioned from the petticoat of a soldier's wife. This flag was flown from a flagstaff, raised on a bastion nearest the enemy on August 3.

CROWDS THROUGH THE METHODIST CHURCH IN THE GREAT REVIVAL

As the great Cooperative Evangelistic Campaign being conducted here in the Methodist Church by a group of Manassas ministers, under the leadership of Rev. Dan McNally, of Cumberland, Maryland, enters the second week, great crowds are thronging the church, filling it to almost capacity limits. The spirited song service each evening under the leadership of Mr. Johnson is being enjoyed greatly as evidenced from the early arrival of the people. Brother Dan is doing some great preaching. His messages are largely Bible verses woven into a perfect fabric setting forth the great truths of sin and redemption, loss and recovery, ruin and salvation. God loves the sinner but taketh vengeance upon his inventions. He has done all He can to save the lost—every man who has not consciously and of deliberate choice is under the just condemnation of God. The holy God offers to save any man on the condition of surrender and faith in the Lord Jesus Christ. This is the evangelist's message.

Dan McNally himself is a living evidence of the power of God to do that very thing. It is strange that very many of the men who have helped to bring men back to God have been great sinners before God got them. Moses was a murderer and a fugitive from justice, but under God became the Great Law Giver and the savior of an Egyptian enslaved race; Noah a drunkard and yet an Ark Builder to the salvaging of the remnant from the flood; David an adulterer and murderer but the sweet singer of Israel and Israel's greatest King and God's own man; Paul the Great Apostle to the Gentiles, a red-handed murderer who stood by and held the clothes of them that stoned Stephen to death, under God becoming the greatest preacher of all ages; church history but too well tells the story of multitudes of others who came up and out in God and were mightily used to bring men to salvation. Mel Trotter, great Rescue Mission leader, was a drunkard and a thief and took the little shoes and came stealing in to find his baby dead. Time will not permit the story to go on. God is using Dan McNally. He is God's man. It were a good thing should there be more like him.

EFFECT OF ALCOHOL ON THE HUMAN BODY

winter of 1873-'74, the people who had awakened to this fact went into the saloons and prayed for them to stop selling and in fifty days, two hundred and fifty saloons were closed. The spirit spread rapidly over the country; then the liquor sellers became bolder and paid no attention to the crusaders. They organized, "for the duration of the war."

The crusaders saw that the only hope depended upon the school for education against the awful danger of alcohol.

The source of Ethyl alcohol is in a process of decay of sugar. When air gets into a can of fruit, it begins to spoil but this change is caused by dust germs carried about in the air until they find a place in which to grow. A sauce is too thick for germs to sink down in, so it forms a mold and dries away, but when yeast germs sink into this juice where air cannot reach them, they have to have oxygen from the sugar in the juice. Then the yeast germs make a ferment which causes the substances in sugar to separate. It breaks up into two new substances, carbon dioxide gas, a liquid alcohol. The gas bubbles to the top and the alcohol is colorless and remains in the liquid. This is alcoholic fermentation.

Alcohol can not be made in any way without the aid of man. The fruit bursts and decays without help of man but to make alcoholic drinks, it is gathered and put through the act of alcoholic fermentation. Man must aid nature!

Alcohol is made also from the starches in grain and vegetables which are changed into sugar and then into alcohol. Alcohol is usually made from cherries, apples, grapes, sugar-cane, potatoes, corn, rice and barley. By distillation, liquor is made into harder forms. Through distillation, brandy is made from wine and whiskey is made from malt, each having almost equal parts of alcohol and water. The brands on alcoholic drinks received their names from the country where they are made and the flavor of its contents.

"Alcohol is a poison," carries little meaning, because there are people who take it, or, who see others take it, who did not die. This is accounted for by liquors and drinks having different amounts of alcohol in them.

To the average person, the poison in one bottle with skull and cross bones on it, is enough to cause death just like carbolic acid causes death. A large enough dose of ethyl alcohol would have the same result.

Most alcoholic drinks have more than 50 per cent water. Beer contains 90 per cent. When people drink rum or whiskey they usually add more water. When policemen find "Poisoned liquors", it is usually more ethyl alcohol than any poison.

The names of alcoholic poisons similar names, methyl or wood, ethyl or grain, propyl, butyl, and amyl. Each of these differ in the amount of poison. Amyl is four times as poisonous as ethyl, ethyl is more poisonous than methyl, but the action is different. Methyl causes the drinker to sleep. But still ethyl is more poisonous than methyl because it causes shame, lasting injury and sometimes, even death.

"To intoxicate," means, "to poison". A poison is anything that interferes with the proper operation of the organs of the body.

Alcohol resembles water in its appearance but its actions are like fire. The Indians called it "fire water". The actions of alcohol are opposite that of water. Alcohol absorbs water, dissolves fatty substances, gums, resins, which water cannot dissolve.

When ethyl alcohol is taken into the body, the first and most serious action is on the nervous system. Four effects from alcohol are: alcohol is a narcotic; alcohol is a deterrent of important normal bodily functions; alcohol is a habit forming drug; alcohol is a protoplasmic of both body and life-germ cells.

Ethyl alcohol affects the nerve centers, that is, it numbs, dulls, deadens, or narcotizes and put the nervous system to sleep. Alcohol is like ether, morphine, or chloroform but alcohol is easier to take.

When one drinks an alcoholic drink, it does not wait for digestion, it is soaked from the stomach and intestines; it flows into the blood streams where it makes a complete circulation in 37 seconds. In less than fifteen minutes, it affects the nerves.

The cells of the nervous system are insulated in a film, in which is a flat-like substance called lipid. Narcotics dissolve lipid and thus affects the protection of the nerve cells. It is by means of nerves that we see, hear, taste, smell, feel, move, and drink and therefore, these senses are affected greatly.

If a person drinks wine or some alcoholic drink he feels less and so he feels less tired and thinks he is rested. The discomfort is lessened and the drinker feels less ill, less shy, less cautious, or less worried and he thinks he is better, confident, braver, and relieved.

Patent medicines have an amount of alcohol in them, and they numb the pain for a while. This deceives the patient, and causes much more harm than good.

Solomon knew nothing of the nerve centers and narcotics but he said, "Wine is a mocker, and whosoever is deceived thereby is not wise."

The degree of intoxication is determined not by the amount of liquor taken into the stomach, but by the amount taken in at one time.

There is a net work of nerves over the body that give signals. They are: seeing, hearing, feeling, smelling, and tasting. Alcohol dulls all senses causing them to slow up or to be inaccurate.

If food spoils, or it is too hot, the salivary glands pour out a fluid which helps to wash this off and alcohol tends to thicken the membrane, and makes the sense of taste worse.

The liver is the largest gland of the body. It is the guardian against poisons and if alcohol is taken into the body, it gives the liver more poison to get rid of and it also interferes with its functions.

There are white corpuscles in the body and a very few of them. They are the germ protectors of the body and alcohol causes their work to become slow and it even destroys them.

The brain is also injured by ethyl alcohol. The one protection for the heavy drinker is that he can't drink any more after he has become dead-drunk, thus giving him a chance to recover.

The effects of alcohol depend upon the condition of the body. Whatever part of the body is the weakest is the part that most likely will be attacked.

Alcohol is absorbed and circulated very quickly but the liver can destroy only a very small amount. The blood is at work delivering oxygen and collecting waste and when alcohol is taken, it slows up this progress.

Therefore narcotics reduce the natural powers and slowly injures the organs.

Alcohol, when taken, gives the mouth a diluted alcohol bath which creates thirst and makes it easy for a person to take the second drink. This makes it worse rather than better. In a short while he becomes dull and forgets his memories of troubles and think he feels better. Then when the effects leaves, he remembers his troubles and takes more.

Alcohol is habit-forming and if a person does not have a strong mind he pleasantly forgets and takes more. A Japanese proverb which reads, "First the man takes a drink, then the drink takes a man", is a very true one. Alcohol may be life to the mechanical engine, but is certainly death to the human engine.

There were twenty-one drinking mothers in Liverpool, and related to them were twenty-eight sober mothers. Out of the drinking mother's babies, 55.2 per cent died before two years old, and out of the sober mother's babies only 23.9 per cent died before reaching the age of two years.

The effects of alcohol also depend upon the person and his condition. A fat man can stand more alcohol than the thin one. The effects last longer in the thin man than in the fat man. It also depends upon the kinds of food in the body when liquor is taken. Liquor often causes talkativeness and physical activity when in company but if alone causes him to sleep. The effects upon the persons who are accustomed to using alcohol are not the same as upon those who are not used to using it. A small amount of alcohol means death to a child, but it takes a larger amount to kill an adult.

There are many claims for drinking. Science has found out the harm but still, to make money, it is sold. Some of the claims are: "Beer is a food; beer is a tonic; beer never did anyone any harm; alcohol is produced in the body and therefore can not be very harmful; alcohol is a food; alcohol is a medicine, or whiskey is good in faint." These are all false and in due time, it will cause bad health or even death.

It would not be hard to get rid of this curse of alcohol if there were not so many people who wished to make profits from the sale of liquors and if they were not allowed to print articles in the newspaper, magazines, and if billboards, radios, movies, etc.,

were not used to influence people to buy.

The first drink is the most dangerous one. One taste calls for another. The only possible solution it seems, is to educate the children in the schools and teach them of the evils of alcoholism.

The right way to attack the pupils with this kind of a problem, is to teach them of the problems and experiences of others who have been victims.

Some historical sayings against alcohol are: "When I have a good time, I want to know about it"; and "Keep to the safe path Daddy, for I'm coming after you."
