REPORT MADE ON ALCOHOL

Leadership Committee Presents
Results of Conference

This conference, sitting at the feet of such national leaders on the alcohol problem, as Mr. Roy Breg, Dr. J. S. DeJarnette, Dr. Edward B. Dunford, Dr. Haven Emerson, Miss Bertha Rachel Palmer, Judge John Paul, Mr. Deets Pickett, and Dr. Alonzo E. Wilson, here records its appreciation of their authoritative and scientific instruction, and takes pleasure in summarizing its findings and convictions that are in accord with this valued instruction.

The present confusion in the minds of the general public in regard to the whole matter of the alcoholic liquor trade and its control, and the rapid increase in waste, wretchedness, and crime connected with it, lead us to consider the use of alcohol a major problem for the mind and heart of all good men.

Alcohol is a wonderfully useful servant of man in chemistry and in daily use outside of men's bodies, but a terrible scourge when used inside as a beverage. Its effect on general body tissues may often be exaggerated, but its bad effect on the mind of man is extremely serious because it robs him of his self-control in an intricately organized society where self-control is needed more than ever before. Travel accidents, sex looseness, coarseness and violence of conduct, and general loss of a sense of responsibility for others in homes and society, all witness to the truth that this loss of self-control begins with the higher, finer, faculties of the brain and the soul.

Contrary to advertising claims often made, alcohol has no food value in the ordinary sense of the term food, because it can build no tissue and cannot be stored for energy release at the command of the brain. It is truly a depressive, habit forming narcotic drug, and not even a stimulant, as numerous scientific experiments prove. All its supposed benefits to the user are false impressions of well-being, because its use in a beverage, even in the smallest quantity, always makes a man less safe, less accurate, and less efficient.

We, the members of this conference, in view of the above facts, believe that we should, and resolve that we will, make these facts known to others, young and old, by every means at our command. All public, private, and church schools should faithfully impart this scientifically accurate information. Forty-seven states have laws that require in their public schools teaching the harmful effects of alcohol, but not more than seven states require this instruction in their teachers colleges, and these laws are not generally enforced. There is a culpable lag here, and often there is indifference in private and church schools.

We believe that we should create by education among the people a scientifically correct sentiment that will cause them to demand the protection of society from alcoholic individuals and the traffic that creates them. In our democracy we want to make progress by increase of accurate knowledge and by a popular will to use this knowledge effectively. Society surely has as much right to protect itself as an individual has, and the state is the organ of society for its own protection.

All the promises of politicians and distillers and brewers, made to encourage repeal of the prohibition amendment, have proved utterly false. Saloons are back in greater number than ever before (for example, 1800 taverns in Washington, D. C., now as compared with 400 saloons twenty years ago), bootleg liquor is still very plentiful, and the total amount of liquor consumed is much greater than under prohibition. According to the Federal Bureau of Investigation of the Justice Department, the ratio of drunkenness per 100,000 of the population doubled from 1932 to 1937, and the driving while intoxicated ratio increased 74 per cent from 1932 to 1937.

WILL OBSERVE CONSTITUTION CELEBRATION

On Monday night, July 11, 1938 Providence Grange will hold its regular monthly meeting. At this time a Constitution Celebration will be held. Mr. Francis Pickens Miller will be the principal speaker. The meeting will be opened to the public. All are cordially invited to attend.

Resident Engineer, State Highway Department

E. D. HUBBARD
(Editorial)

On July 1 Mr. Hubbard goes to Suffolk County to supervise a larger road system at increased salary. We congratulate him upon his professional advancement, but we regret his departure from Prince William. He came here four years ago, during the critical period of transfer of our secondary road system from County to State control, and he has done a good job, giving us especially fine roads for the money available.

During their residence here, Mr. and Mrs. Hubbard, and their beloved grandmother, Mrs. Apperson, have endeared themselves to the community in many ways and their change of residence is like the removal of life-long friends and neighbors. We wish them success and happiness in their new home and hope that some day Mr. Hubbard will again be assigned to the supervision of Prince William County roads, or better yet to control of the entire road system in the Culpeper District.

YOUNG DEMOCRATS GATHER ON JULY 9

Jimmie King to Preside Over
Eighth District Convention

The Young Democratic Clubs of the Eighth Congressional District of Virginia will hold their annual convention in the City of Alexandria on the afternoon of July 9, 1938, in the Armory. Registration will begin at 12 noon, in the George Mason Hotel, and the convention at 1:30 p.m.

The Convention will be operated along the lines of the State Young Democratic Club conventions. Each club in the district will receive an appointment to these committees.

ANNOUNCES CLASS AT OCCOQUAN

Mr. Benjamin Ratner, an accomplished musician of Washington and nationally known as a concert pianist and teacher, has announced that he will accept a limited number of pupils at his summer home in Occoquan. Mr. Ratner has maintained studios in Washington and in New York for the past several years and his temporary residence in Prince William brings to our community a pianist of notable accomplishments.

CELEBRATE NATIONAL DAIRY WEEK
4-H Club Boys and Girls from Virginia

SHOWING WASHINGTON HOW TO DRINK MILK

These farm boys and girls did their part to help local dairymen in the National Milk Month promotional campaign. They are shown drinking milk on the 4-H Club Camp Grounds, at Washington, D. C., and by doing so they demonstrated to Washingtonians that the sure way to real health is to drink plenty of fresh milk. There living examples of health are, from left to right: James Davis, of Street, Maryland; Dorothy Fouche, of Adams-town, Maryland; Mary King Wilson, of Rawling, Maryland; Andrew Yancey, of Harrisonburg, Virginia; Henry Keller, Jr., of Sykesville, Maryland; Virginia Smith, of Virgilina, Virginia; Guy Poole, of New Canton, Virginia; Doris Steele, of Fairfax Station, Virginia.

Local dairy farmers, through the Maryland and Virginia Milk Producers' Association are cooperating with chain stores and local dairies in a concentrated campaign to increase consumption of milk. This promotional scheme, which was originally initiated by the chain stores, is a Nation wide affair lasting from June 10th to July 10th.

Those 4-H Club boys and girls who are showing Washingtonians how to drink milk, were selected to represent their respective states in the National 4-H Club Congress because of their excellence in leadership and performance in their respective communities. Reports from Washington indicate that they did not lose any of these characteristics when they were in the Nation's Capital. We are proud of them.

ACCIDENT AT GAINESVILLE

Three young men from North Carolina were the victims of an automobile accident at the intersection of Lee and John Marshall Highways Tuesday afternoon about 3:00.

They were rushed to Warrenton Hospital where Frank Gosselin, age 25, of Asheville, died almost immediately after arrival. Bruce Beaver, age 24, of Candler, N. C., died a few hours later. Horace Gardner, age 26, of Weaverlyville, N. C., and R. L. Moser, driver of the hearse, were seriously injured but are reported to be somewhat improved.

Police state that the Ford coupe driven by the boys entered the Lee Highway from the John Marshall Highway going toward Washington. Their car was completely demolished by the hearse, which at the time was conveying a body to Marshall for burial.

The speed of the hearse is not stated but it was evidently misjudged by the boys who are said to have come into the Lee Highway without stopping.

The view from the John Marshall Highway is partially obscured until only a short distance from the Lee Highway. It is reported by those who are said to have seen the accident that the boys were not making a high rate of speed.

OLD TIME PARTY MEETING FEATURE

Many Decades Represented by Various "full dress" attires

The June meeting of the Music and Literature Section of the Woman's Club of Manassas was held at the home of Mrs. Thomas J. Broadbuss on Tuesday of this week.

This being the annual social evening, all business was dispensed with, and the meeting was turned into one of, "dignified whoopee," fine, games and a real old-fashioned good time.

The members and guests, who had been requested to come in formal dress, did just that. It was evident, however, from the types of costumes and accessories worn, that some had been hard pressed to conform to this request. No doubt, considerable ingenuity and much searching of attics and old trunks, had been resorted to, to assemble some of the unique and original creations worn.

Every period was represented, from the sweeping, billowy skirts, of early days, to those of modern times. Several snappy models of a decade or two ago, featuring the knee length skirts were much admired, and gave to their wearers a winsome and coy air.

Mrs. C. B. Sutton and Mrs. Dennis Baker, of the committee in charge, conducted a most interesting and entertaining series of games, both active and of a more serious type. Everyone entered into the real spirit of the games. Cares and worries were forgotten, and another wonderful evening of recreation and wholesome entertainment was added to the records, of this very popular and rapidly growing section of the club.

The grand finale was, of course, the serving of delicious refreshments by the hostesses for the evening, Mrs. T. J. Broadbuss, Mrs. John Broadbuss, Mrs. Dennis Baker.

PASTOR GETS SURPRISE

On Monday evening Rev. A. W. Ballentine and family were invited, to the home of Mr. R. C. Bowers for dinner. After the host tactfully suggested that all take seats on the side porch where lounge, rockers and chairs had been provided. This left others free to enter the front door without being observed. Presently others began to emerge to the side porch. This continued at intervals until a large part of Bethel Lutheran congregation had gathered. After a number of lively, interesting games, Rev. and Mrs. Ballentine were invited to the dining room where bundles, bags and boxes were heaped with good things to eat. This was a surprise anniversary party for the Pastor and the family.

VISITING IN MANASSAS

Mr. and Mrs. Sydney T. Lawler and children, Katherine Beverly Covell, were visitors in town last Saturday, June 25th.

Mr. Lawler is a member of the faculty of Sherwood Junior and Senior High School, Sandy Spring, Md. He is a graduate of the Osborn High School and the University of Maryland, and is now attending the University Summer School, completing his Master of Science Degree.

Mrs. Lawler will be remembered as Miss Gertrude Buckley, also a graduate of Osborn High School.

ATTENDING SYNOD

The Rev. A. W. Ballentine is in Roanoke this week attending a meeting of the Executive Council of the Lutheran Synod of Virginia. At the last meeting of this Church body he was elected a member of this Synodical Committee. The Committee serves two years and transacts all business for the Synod during the interim.

POSTAL WIVES CLUB

The Postal Clerks' Wives Club will meet with Mrs. L. B. Williams tonight at 8:00.

JUDGE SMITH TO BE HONOR GUEST

Young Democrats Have Live
Program for July

Hon. Howard W. Smith will be the guest speaker at the monthly meeting of the Young Democratic Club of Prince William County on Tuesday, July 5th. The meeting will be held at the Manassas High School at 8 o'clock. Mr. Smith, Congressman for the Eighth District, is an interesting speaker and a large crowd is expected to be on hand to hear him. He will also award the various prizes won by Mrs. Janie Abel, Mrs. Jane Lyon and Mr. Bonham Ayres in the recent membership campaign contest. Officers of surrounding county Young Democratic Clubs have been invited to attend the meeting.

A dance has been planned for Wednesday night, July 13th, at Haymarket High School. The dance was originally set for a later date but was changed in order to obtain an exceptionally good eight-piece orchestra which has recently become a favorite with the young people in this section.

Quite a number of Young Democrats are making arrangements to attend the District Convention in Alexandria on July 9th. The following committees have been appointed to act for the Prince William Club: Miss Walser Conner, Publicity; Mr. W. Hill Brown, Jr., registration; Mr. Bill Sweeney, Convention Room; Mr. Jenkyn Davies, Reception; Mr. C. Lacey Compton, Finance; Miss Nancy Lynn, Entertainment. An added attraction has been planned by the convention officials in the way of a buffet supper and dance.

OIL DEALERS ORGANIZE HERE

Prince William County oil dealers met last Thursday night in the Town Hall at Manassas under the auspices of the Prince William County Petroleum Industries Committee to hear an address by E. A. Kynh, of Richmond, secretary of the Virginia Petroleum Industries Committee.

In his address, Mr. Kynh told the oil men present that the automotive tax burden of the nation motorists during 1937 amounted to $1,550,000,000, of which $975,000,000 amounted to gasoline taxes.

Mr. Kynh urged the oil men to tell their customers of the taxes they are paying and to see that the automotive tax revenues are spent for the purpose for which they are levied, namely to build and finance roads.

At the conclusion of Mr. Kynh's remarks, the meeting conducted an election of officers for the ensuing year and appointed three standing committees on public relations, legislation, and local affairs.

Mr. E. G. Parrish was reelected chairman, Mr. G. W. Bryant, vice-chairman and D. J. Martin of Triangle as secretary.

The following individuals were elected chairmen of Sub-Committees: R. L. Sharrett, Publicity; C. C. Cloe, Legislation; G. W. Bryant, Local Affairs.

An address "Danger Signals" by Rev. H. M. Hoge.

All the ministers of the town, members of the W.C.T.U. and the general public cordially invited to attend this meeting, beginning at 10:00 a.m. Lunch 12:30. Beginning at 1:30, there will be 10 minute talks by ministers, laymen and W.C.T.U.

JUNIOR WOMEN PICNIC

The annual Summer picnic of the Junior Woman's Club was held last Sunday evening at Millford Mills.

The husbands and friends of the club members were the guests, making a total in attendance of about thirty. Each member contributed to the menu, which consisted of hot dogs, salad, pickles, ice tea and cake.

The affair was thoroughly enjoyed by all present.

OCCOQUAN AND VICINITY

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Payne of Occoquan, Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Insko of Lorton and Mrs. T. Powell Dacis of Woodbridge attended the American Legion Convention at Colonial Beach on Saturday, and reported having a most enjoyable time.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wilcher of Occoquan have returned home from a vacation spent in the Adirondacks and boating on Lake George. The day after his arrival home, Mr. Wilcher caught a lovely Three-Pound Bass in the Occoquan River, and this is not a tall fish story either.

Miss Ellen Sealeman of Washington, D. C., is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Sealeman in Occoquan.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Petelett of Baltimore spent the week-end visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Petelett of Occoquan and Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Bubb of Woodbridge.

Miss Margaret Giles who has been visiting with her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lambert in Woodbridge for some time, has gone to Culpeper, Va., where she expects to be employed.

Miss Lillian Mooney of Washington, D. C., was the week-end guest of her brother, Mr. Hubert T. Mooney in Occoquan.

We are glad to report that Miss Cynthia Lacey who underwent a minor operation in Alexandria Hospital is home and doing nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Lee and daughter of Ackron, Ohio, were visitors of Mr. and Harry Slack during the week. Mrs. Lee is Slack's daughter. The Lees also visited relatives in the valley of Virginia.

Young Mr. J. Musselman got a trip to New York to see the Louis-Schmelting fight, as a compliment of a Washington Newspaper. Mr. Musselman had a grand time, though he would have like to see the fight last several more rounds. He got a few pointers in fighting he hopes to be of good use to him some time in the future.

The following improvements have and are taking place in our beautiful town:

Mr. Joe Harris has put a concrete walk in front of his home. Mr. Lacey Harvey is repairing the house belonging to Mrs. Edith Clarke of Woodbridge and painting it. Mr. Fred Woodyard is having the old store building in which Mr. Davis is living, painted. Mr. Marvin Best has his house newly painted.

A new roof is being put on Odd-fellows Hall, and the building will be painted when the roof is completed.

Misses Helen and Mayme Davis are having a new cistern built to hold about 10,000 gallons of rain water. Some say it will be a swimming pool, but we believe it will be a cistern. All in all our town is making extensive improvement.

There are still a few places needing attention very badly: The house of Miss Gertrude Sealeman on Mill Street is dangerous to the public in its present condition, and although the elements are wrecking it rapidly, it is hoped Miss Sealeman will give it immediate attention.

Mr. W. S. Lynn made a good start on the repair of his house on Union Street, where the late "Mr. Giles Carter" once kept store; but labour troubles or something must have happened as no work has been done for a few weeks. Perhaps John L. Lewis and his C.I.O. have interrupted the work. We hope the trouble will soon be settled and work start again.

All livable buildings in town could readily be rented now. The town council have had a number of requests for information as to buildings for rent in Occoquan. Repair your untenable buildings and you will have no trouble renting them.

Our Medical Officer, Dr. Marcet has recommended that all weeds and grass be kept cut in order to eliminate mosquito breeding places. All property, whether vacant lots or occupied property.

Where property owners fail to keep weeds and grass cut the Town Council has the right to have them cut and charge the cost against the property. The Council hopes it will not be necessary to resort to this however.

You have no doubt the article in the Washington Evening Star of June 27, where before an assemblage of Educators at Columbia University, New York, the American Legion was classed a Fascist and Unpatriotic Organization that should be fought by all Educators. That shows how strong Communism is getting entrenched in our schools and is trying to fight the American Legion in their efforts to keep our schools free of Communism.

Friends of Patriotism, we do not have to go to the Institutions of higher learning to find the Communist Bug biting our children. When some of our own High Schools in the supposed Patriotic State of Virginia hold their Graduation exercises with out the semblance of an American Flag in sight, it looks very much like Communism is undermining that school. Thank God for the American Legion and other Patriotic Organizations who are trying to keep our schools and our children Patriotic American Institutions and American Children. You must not let up on your fight against Communism.

MR. and MRS. ELMER METZGER CELEBRATE SILVER WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Metzger celebrated their twenty-fifth or Silver wedding anniversary at their beautifully situated home on the banks of Occoquan creek on June 24, 1938.

The refreshments served consisted of a huge wedding cake and other kinds of cakes as well, also ice-cream and punch.

Among the guests who gathered to wish them many happy returns of the day were friends and relatives from Washington, Alexandria, New Orleans, Maryland, Fairfax, Woodbridge and Hoadly.

The presents received were numerous and beautiful consisting of a chest of silver, glassware and linens. In the wee' sma' hours of Sunday morning, the guests departed for their respective homes expressing themselves as having a most enjoyable time.

MOSES A.C. TAKES A DOUBLE HEADER

Moses A.C. was ready for The Springs Sunday, taking both games with a score 9 to 4, 16 to 12. Spain pitched the first game and Ruffner the second. Moses scored the first runs and was ahead throughout both games.

Dick Godfrey played a wonderful game and made a sensational catch on second, that saved Moses one of the games. He also made four clean hits. He played in the second game being the first game he has played this year.

Luck has at last come along. Moses has won four games and lost six. This Sunday they go to Hume for a double header.

C. & P. EMPLOYEE IS HONOR GUEST

Ivan Varney Given Dinner in Alexandria

Ivan F. Varney, C & P telephone employee in Alexandria, was honored with a luncheon tendered him at the George Mason Hotel last Monday by telephone officials at which he was presented with a citation and a Theodore N. Vail medal awarded him "for the probable saving of a human life by his intelligent initiative and courageous action."

Presentation of the medal was made by Charles H. Weber, Richmond, general manager of The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Virginia. Other telephone officials present at the luncheon included Victor B. Fitzpatrick, general plant manager, Richmond; Charles F. Cross, Jr., commercial superintendent, Alexandria; L. X. Blantz, plant superintendent, and Gordon Clarke, traffic superintendent, Arlington; John S. Dunn, manager, Alexandria; and R. L. Wright, Jr., plant wire chief.

The citation and medal were awarded to Mr. Vannoy as a result of his courageous action in rescuing a seven-year old boy, Harry Howard, after the lad had fallen into the Potomac River from an Alexandria wharf.

This is the second Vail medal awarded to Mr. Vannoy, the first having been given him for his prompt action in restoring service after a fire which destroyed a part of the Town of Gore, Virginia.

WATERFRONT CONCERTS TO BE RENEWED

Symphonic music will again sound along the shores of the historic Potomac River this summer when the National Symphony Orchestra of Washington, D. C., revives the "Sunset Symphonies" from July 10 to August 17 under the musical direction of Dr. Hans Kindler, Conductor of the National Symphony. These concerts, which were inaugurated in 1935 by Dr. Kindler and the National Symphony Orchestra Association, will be given at the Watergate near the Lincoln Memorial. They are presented with the cooperation of the National Park Service.

Dr. Kindler will conduct the concerts of July 10, 13, and August 17. The remaining concerts will be directed by a series of outstanding guest conductors. They include Rudolph Ganz, former St. Louis Symphony conductor, July 17 and 20; Victor Kolar, conductor, Detroit Symphony and Ford Sunday Evening radio hour, July 24; Ferde Grofe, outstanding exponent of American symphonic jazz, July 27; Reginald Stewart, distinguished Canadian musical figure, conductor of Toronto's famed Promenade concerts, July 31 and August 3; Willen van Hoogstraten, for 17 years conductor of the New York Philharmonic Symphony at Lewisohn Stadium, August 10 and 14. On August 7 a special conductors'-composers' concert will be given.

The site of the Watergate concerts has been described as one of the most impressive locations for open-air music in the United States. The orchestra will play from a specially constructed acoustical stage placed on a steel Navy barge moored 30 feet from the shore on the Potomac. The Watergate is located just west of Lincoln Memorial and immediately north of Arlington Memorial Bridge.

A sunset panorama of Virginia hills, fading in the twilight and the sparkle of reflected lights on the Potomac with part of the audience seated in canoes clustering about the barge, form a background of unparalleled beauty for symphonic music. Stone steps leading from the upper road encircling Lincoln Memorial down to the river's edge are converted into an amphitheater seating thousands. In 1935 attendance at these concerts averaged over 10,000 nightly.

DAIRY CLUB MEMBERS TO COMPETE IN STATE CONTEST

The champion Virginia 4-H dairy demonstration team will receive a trip to the National Dairy Show to be held in Columbus, Ohio, October 8 to 15, in order that it may compete for national honors. The two highest rating teams in the county will be awarded gold and silver medals.

The subject selected for this year's demonstration in Prince William County will be "How to Treat a Dairy Cow for Foul Foot". This subject has a rather wide application and the technique of the treatment should create interest among adults as well as 4-H club members.

The demonstration will call for—1. Making a simple improvised rope halter and haltering the cow; 2. Making a rope device or sling for casting the cow; 3. Casting and shackling the cow; 4. Cleansing and trimming the hoof for treatment; 5. Preparation of medicines for the treatment; 6. Treatment of the foot including poulticing and bandaging, and 7. Convalescent treatment of the cow.

MANASSAS PLAYS LEESBURG

Manassas will play Leesburg Sunday at Swavely Field at 3 p.m. Gene Worley is slated to pitch for the locals.

FALCON HUNTING

The falcon of the days of chivalry, known in America as the wild Duck Hawk, is still found in the river valleys of New York and Pennsylvania, according to a story appearing in The Star next Sunday, written by two men who have hunted them there. Details of this hazardous expedition in search of these speediest and most tireless of birds, are given.

The serving of food is a gracious gesture.—a symbol of Hospitality. The preparing of food is an Art.

It has been recognized throughout the world that the cuisine of France, under the late Louis and the Empire, reached a perfection of refinement, due not alone to a French genius for that art, but because gastronomy was so highly regarded that it drew the best from all parts of the world. Many of our finest cooks in the South have been negroes who had a share in the development of the cookery.

It seems as though the colored folk had brought with them from the wilds of Africa certain knowledge, or instincts, regarding rare flavoring and herbs, leaves and roots, and added new half-tastes and quarter-tastes, which gave a subtle attractiveness to the ensemble.

The owners of this establishment had hoped to give to the public a variation of dishes, both French and Creole, but due to the inadequate quarters we have chosen a more simple menu. However, we trust you will like our selection and its preparation and service.

We are prepared to serve private dinner parties, hunt breakfasts and luncheons.

ALEXANDER GRAHAM BELL

A Rare Photograph of the Inventor of the Telephone

Although the "candid camera" was not to appear for several decades, and the fast lenses of today were unknown, candid photographs were not unattainable to the rather poorly equipped, but truly artistic and resourceful photographers of the early days of the present century.

Through the courtesy of Mrs. Varnell Payne, of Centreville, Virginia, we are privileged to publish this unusual photograph, taken at Washington home of the great inventor by her brother, Mr. W. T. Boyce, son of the late Isaac D. Boyce, Jr., a prominent Washington photographer of his day.

Granted permission by a member of the family to photograph Alexander Graham Bell in his home, the young Boyce is said to have found his distinguished subject in no mood for photography. He was apparently deeply submerged in some technical problem and declined to pose, or dress especially for the occasion. He did, however, graciously consent to be photographed in his working attire, at his desk, and resulted in a candid shot of the old gentleman which records better than any other preserved picture, the unique personality and forceful character of the man.

He is concentrated upon his work. Even the pipe in his hand has gone out. The great mind which devised electrical transmission of the human voice was scarcely interrupted in its deliberations by the bulky paraphernalia of the photographer, yet he was not unfriendly. The rugged features display no emotion—only deep attention to the problem under consideration.

As a photographic masterpiece, with the distinguished name of the subject unknown, the picture would receive deserved consideration in any photographic exhibition. As a character study of the great inventor, it is a priceless record.

Alexander Graham Bell died in 1922 at the age of 75. The exact date of this photograph has not been ascertained, but it is believed to have been taken during the closing days of his career and it may actually prove to be the last portrait ever taken of the distinguished scientist, whose invention is so much appreciated by his countrymen. More than half of the thirty eight million telephones which are in use in the world today are in the United States, where, it is estimated, eighty five million telephone conversations a day evidence the great utility of the device which sprang from his fertile mind.

CATHARPIN

Mrs. R. L. Anderson of near Catharpin who has been suffering from general debility for several weeks is now improving and able to be around again.

The Misses Betty and Frances Brower of Lone Oak, spent last week as the guests of their Uncle and Aunt, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Brower, Jr., of Purcellville.

Miss Ann Robertson of Richmond spent last week-end with her parents at Lawn Vale. After finishing her course in stenography and typing, Miss Robertson has accepted a position with one of the merchantile establishments of that city.

Mr. J. D. Wheeler, of Wellington, who has been suffering an attack of indigestion during the past week, is now improving and able to be up again.

The Catharpin Good Housekeeping Club was entertained for its regular monthly meeting by Mrs. W. S. Brower of Lone Oak where the regular program of the day was, as usual, supplemented by delicious refreshments.

Mr. A. J. Bitterly of the Munsey Trust Co., Washington, together with his wife, are now enjoying the long summer evenings and week-ends at his cottage, "Shady Dell" on Grove-ton Avenue near Sudley, where they are "At home" to their friends. Recently host and hostess Bitterly gave a delightful birthday party in honor of Mrs. Bitterly's mother, Mrs. Fannie Cross upon the occasion of her 78th birthday. To this party were invited all the Cross children together with their children and grandchildren to help this venerable parent enjoy this annual occasion. Each year this good lady is remembered by her children who seem to delight in honoring her for what she has always meant to them. Upon this occasion Mr. and Mrs. Bitterly had provided one of the finest and most extensive banquets the market could afford. Mr. Bitterly is an adept in the art of serving and providing the most delectable, epicurean delights which never fail to please. Mrs. Cross is very happy to be thus remembered by her numerous off spring who come in great numbers from all directions to honor this Natal Day and to enjoy what really amounts to a family re-union each year.

The annual Children's Day at Sudley last Sunday was as usual, the outstanding event of the year. The program was the rendition of the pageant "Who Bids" or "The Auction of a Child" and was presented in Sudley's usual fine way. These occasions are always an open invitation to the people in general to come and see what their children are doing and the large audience present indicated wide-spread interest. The Sunday School is doing fine work and bids all a welcome to its classes.

Mr. S. B. Sanders and daughters and Mrs. Klipstine of Marshall, Va., were calling on relatives and friends in the Catharpin community on Thursday of last week.

An interesting feature of Children's Day was the number of men who decided to lay aside all worldly cares for the time being and came out to enjoy the part their children were taking on the program. It has often been said that for the women the church would die. Just how true that is we leave for the reader to decide. It might be a pretty good idea however, for the our masculine fraternity who may chance to read this, to check up just a little bit on this statement and see if in any way he might be responsible for this situation.

That Father's Day program in the Baptist Temple, Baltimore and the pastor's deliverance still rings out sharply in our ears. The pastor gave "Dad" great praise and sympathy but at the same time reminded him that while his duties were great and arduous in maintaining his family, yet his duty did not end with bread and butter; there is a spiritual duty that must never be forgotten." This was pronounced with profound emphasis and oratorical effect which elicited a number of "Amens" but the Amens were not quite so general as they had been on other occasions; this seemed to indicate that there were a few men over in Baltimore who probably had missed a Sunday or two from church attendance. We are just wondering how many "Amens" might be heard in this Metropolitan area if the roll were called and the men invited to attend church? Sudley has enough men with her boundaries to almost fill her auditorium, yet for some reason, many of them have never learned the geographical location of this Old Shrine of Public Worship which has stood guard over this community for the past 130 years or more. But now there is an opportunity for the men to check up on their geographical knowledge, and having visited the old Landmark upon this occasion, we are pleased to inform them that a Men's Bible class is now organized and in good, working order and that all men are cordially invited to join its sessions and find out, first handed, that no harm shall befall them. A Men's Bible class at Sudley could easily enroll 50 to 60 members and could become a real institution of the church and community. Think this over seriously and try it out. It will do both you and the church good.

HISTORY REPEATS

Virginia has long been the balance wheel of the United States of America. It has been on Virginia soil that nearly all the most dramatic incidents of American history have taken place.

In the earliest days of western civilization, the hope of permanent colonization centered here.

Later we find Virginia a dominant figure, in its cautious way, of pre-Revolutionary War debates. Still later we find its people and their leaders the determining factor in bolstering up the morale of the new-born nation on more than one occasion.

It was Virginia that stood its ground in the wild excitement of 1861, until Lincoln deliberately shoved it into the terrible conflict.

Let us go further. It is a Virginian whom we see tempted by every inducement to disown his native State. We see that Virginian patiently, courteously, and courageously guiding a native force of patriots against the onrush of vandal hordes, many of whom came from foreign shores.

All this he did when his military genius told him almost from the first that odds of five-to-one were much too great to permanently overcome.

The bare suggestion that Mr. Roosevelt should attempt to enter our affairs because we do not, cannot, in justice to our economic welfare, agree with him on certain issues, is very distasteful.

It is not a pleasant picture for the very man Virginians have voted into office twice to assail their brethren of the far South, any more than it was gratifying to be forced into a hateful conflict in 1861—one for which they had no desire whatever.

It is not a pleasant picture for this same man, in whom they have had every confidence, to deliberately attempt to blast the economic solidarity of the South.

There is a line of cleavage just as there was in 1860. Virginians are again between the line of fire, although this time not one of bullets.

It is Virginia's record both on the battlefield and in the halls of Congress to stand for those things it holds to be sane and rational.

Virginians will choose their officials today and tomorrow just as they did yesterday. They will repeat history whenever and wherever the need arises.

THE SOUTH IN REVOLT

The two things that impress one most today on a journey up the Atlantic Seaboard from the border of the deep South are the excellent state of agriculture and the excited state of opinion.

Beyond doubt, the thoughtful element of the South is in revolt against the administration. Except for newspapers that have political connections, there scarcely are a dozen journals of distinction in the South that endorse Mr. Roosevelt's present politics. Some of the leading papers are in bitter opposition. It is the same with men who intelligently study the course of public affairs. In a long journey that recently brought him into contact with scores of individuals, a Richmonder returning from South Carolina did not meet a single person of station, officeholders apart, who now is supporting Mr. Roosevelt.

This means much or little, according to the manner in which the man in the street will or will not agree with the so-called "best minds." If the worker still believes the President is capable of helping him, the opposition of the intelligentsia will amount to little. In a contrary situation, a South united in revolt can change the outlook for the fall elections. Since the great division over reconstruction, there has been no such rebellion in the Democratic party.—Richmond News Leader.

PERSONALITIES IN MUSIC

ABRAM CHASINS, A.S.C.A.P.

Success In Youth

By Daniel I. McNamara
ABRAM CHASINS, brilliant young American musician . . . composer, pianist, musicologist . . . is a notable exponent of industry in art.
He adheres strictly to long schedules in his busy New York studio overlooking Central Park.
Luncheons are brief; often he works far into the night. Still in his early thirties, he enjoys worldwide prestige.

Chasins was born of Russian parents in New York City, August 17, 1903. Discovered as a child prodigy by the late Mrs. Thomas Tapper, musician-friend of juvenile genius, he began studying composition with Rubin Goldmark at twelve.
Later teachers were Richard Epstein and Ernest Hutcheson. He studied at Curtis Institute in Philadelphia, remained as piano teacher until 1934. During 1931 and 1932 he made two successful concert tours of Europe.

Chasins' first compositional efforts were in his student days in Curtis.
His "Three Chinese Pieces" found their way into the concert programs of many leading artists.

He made his own pianistic debut with Gabriflowitch and the Philadelphia orchestra in 1929, playing his own First Piano Concerto. Toscanini honored him in the 1931 season of the Philharmonic by performing Chasins' "Parade" and "Flirtation in a Chinese Garden."

Thrice in a single week in 1938 he appeared in Barbirolli's Philharmonic Symphony series, playing his own Second Piano Concerto.
His regularly scheduled lecture-recital radio broadcasts initiated in (Music Features & Photo Syndicate)

1934 attained great popularity.
These revealed facility of oral expression to complement his thorough musicianship.

Chasins is a staunch ally of fellow composers, a defender of the rights in intellectual property created by them. He is a leading spirit of the American Composers' Alliance, and an active member of the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers. His favorite composers are Bach, Chopin, Brahms and Wagner. Rachmaninoff and Strauss are his most admired contemporaries.

Chasins finds time for recreation in the midst of constantly increasing activities in composition, concerts and radio broadcasting. He plays chess and bridge, enjoys outdoor sports. His favorite reading is biography and philosophy, occasionally a detective story. He converses fluently in three languages.

Singularly devoid of the temperamental instability traditionally attributed to composers, he insists that hard work is his best inspiration. He loves his work, bears his honors modestly. Success in youth has not spoiled him.

"FAITH IN THIS COUNTRY"

"I can only say," President Alexander F. Ryland told the Virginia Bank Association at the conclusion of his review of the year, "that I have not lost faith in this country and that I firmly believe that under proper leadership we can meet every condition that we face and still be the greatest country in the world. In order to accomplish this, however, every citizen must do his part, and it is plainly the responsibility of the bankers of Virginia to assume the leadership."

Every phase of this restrained optimism is justified.
Difficulties America of course faces. Adjustments she must make. Distracting circumstances she must expect.
Yet who that surveys the largest, richest markets in the world or lists the incomparable natural resources of the United States can yield to pessimism otherwise than through cowardice? The worst that lies ahead is good compared with what the South met and overcame in 1865-'70.—Richmond News Leader.

CRIME STORY SET TO MUSIC

A crime story has been set to the music of some of the world's greatest composers in Paramount's tradition-smashing romantic drama, "Stolen Heaven," which will have its first local showing next Wednesday, July 6, at the Pitts Theatre with a cast topped by glamorous Olympe Bradna and Gene Raymond.

Under the direction of Andrew Stone, who has been breaking customs ever since he deserted Broadway for Hollywood, "Stolen Heaven" tells a story of the flight of two young jewel thieves from the police of half of Europe and plays it against a background of the best liked pieces of such master-composers as Liszt, Mos-kowski, Chopin and Strauss.

Miss Bradna, Paramount's importation from Paris, who is already being hailed as "the first star of 1938", plays one of the young scamps, while her partner-in-crime and partner-in-love is handsome Gene Raymond. She derived her first name (pronounced O-lamp) from her birth backstage at Paris Olympic Theatre and has been behind footlights and in front of cameras ever since George Raft "discovered" her and got her her first part in "Souls at Sea," after which she played in "Last Train from Madrid" and "College Holiday." Before Miss Bradna came to Hollywood, she was the idol of the French stage where she had appeared in numerous roles ever since. At the age of eighteen months she was included in her parent's vaudeville act.

In the supporting cast of "Stolen Heaven" are Lewis Stone, who plays an aged musician with whom the young thieves find refuge, Glenda Farrell, the blonde who wiseracked her way through "Gold Diggers of 1937," and the seasoned screen menace, Porter Hall, who has been seen recently in "The Plainsman" and "Wells Fargo."

QUIET TALKS ON RELIGION

BY DR. JAMES T. MARSHALL

THE RADIANT FACE

"They looked unto Him and were radiant." (Psalm 34:5, revised version.) The most beautiful sight in the world is a radiant human face. It has much to do with the mysterious influence which we call personality. There are few who can resist the fascination of a countenance which reflects the light of intelligence, purity and love. No one can be on terms of genuine fellowship with God and fail to radiate something of the divine glory in his own face. Paul has this in mind when he writes: "We all reflecting as in a mirror the glory of the Lord is transformed." The world, saddened by its innumerable sorrows, needs more radiant faces.

There are many ways of witnessing for our faith, and there is this one way which is apt to be overlooked. Our testimony may be given effectively without our speaking a single word or doing a single deed.

When Moses came down from the mount his face was so resplendent with glory that the people could not endure the sight and he was compelled to put on a veil. Before a word was spoken the Israelites realized that he had been with God. Likewise when Stephen stood before the Sanhedrin his countenance became strangely radiant. It is recorded of his persecutors that "they beheld his face as it had been the face of an angel." There was one member of his court who never forgot that face. It haunted him until the day when he surrendered his own life to Stephen's Lord. It was the witness of Stephen's face which gave us the apostle Paul.

The face of our Lord was one of marvelous beauty. Its glory was due to the purity, strength and love which characterized the spirit which dwelt within Him.

Those who associated with Jesus could not but assimilate some of His moral beauty, and to manifest it in their own faces.

The glory of the human face is something far above mere physical beauty. It lies in the higher realms of the spiritual. Intelligence and inward purity will do more to make a face lovely than harmony of feature or height of color. Character will do more than cosmetics. It is within the power of every human being to possess an attractive countenance, and it should be possible to pick out the Christians in a crowd by the expression on their faces.

The biographer of St. Francis states that the thing that most attracted men to his side and held them as spellbound listeners was the spiritual beauty of his face. Philips Brooks also possessed a face which was a wonderful asset in his preaching and influence. The same thing was said of the great English preacher, John H. Jowett, of whom a skeptical reporter wrote: "Whatever one's questioning when alone, it is impossible to doubt in his presence."

Of each of these men it may be truly said that his witness was convincing because he bore the image of the Master in his face.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"God" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all churches and societies of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, July 3.

The Golden Text will be "We will rejoice in thy salvation, and in the name of our God we will set up our banners" (Psalms 20:5).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Blessed be the name of the Lord from this time forth and for evermore. From the rising of the sun unto the going down of the same the Lord's name is to be praised. The Lord is high above all nations, and his glory above the heavens. Who is like unto the Lord our God, who dwelleth on high" (Psalm 113:2-5).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Spirit, Life, Truth, Love, combine as one, and are the Scriptural names for God. All substance, intelligence, wisdom, being, immortality, cause, and effect belong to God. These are His attributes, the eternal manifestations of the infinite divine Principle, Love" (p. 275).

RELIGIOUS VACATION SCHOOL OPENS AT ALL SAINTS

The Ten Commandments will be the subject of a four week's study in the Religious Vacation School to be conducted at All Saints' Church beginning on July the fifth. Accordingly a hearty welcome is extended to all children of grammar or high school age to attend these classes and receive a true interpretation of the moral law which binds every man, regardless of religious denomination. The presentation of doctrine is made in such a way as to captivate the interest of any child. Picture project work adds attraction for the younger children.

Classes will be conducted on weekdays (Saturday excepted) from nine until twelve a.m. Sessions begin on Tuesday, July the fifth at nine a.m. The Vacation School work will be supervised by Mr. James J. Mackin, a student at St. Mary's Seminary in Baltimore.

CROSBY AND LILLIE HEAD COMEDY CAST

An ace singer who can clown and an ace clown who can sing, pool their talents in Paramount's smashing new musical comedy, "Doctor Rhythm," which comes Thursday and Friday to the screen of the Piltz Theatre. They are Bing Crosby, fresh from his triumph in "Double or Nothing," and the inimitable Beatrice Lillie, who has panicked audiences all the world over and now appears in her first important screen venture.

It is a jazzed-up version, set to music, of the great O. Henry's immortal story, "The Badge of Policeman O'Rourke," which relates the rollicking experiences encountered by a fashionable New York physician who masquerades as a policeman for a day to help a friend out of trouble. He gets more than he expects when his first assignment is to be personal bodyguard to a madcap society woman, Miss Lillie, who is also the favorite patroness of the New York police force.

Trouble piles on trouble for the pseudo cop when Miss Lillie orders him to track her beautiful niece, Mary Carlisle, and see to it that she does not run away with a no-good racketeer, Fred Keating, with whom she fancies herself in love. When his borrowed uniform fails to impress the girl with his importance, he croons her into submission.

Swing music, under the leadership of Louis Armstrong and his famed band, paces the mad comedy of the picture. Bing has a bag of song hits well up to the high standard he has set in his previous productions, chief among them "My Heart Is Taking Lessons" and "On the Sentimental Side."

For this light-hearted comedy Director Frank Tuttle gathered some of Hollywood's best liked comic players. In addition to Andy Devine, Laura Hope Crews and Sterling Holloway, there is a rare collection of over a hundred performing animals for the memorable Central Park Zoo sequence.

COWGIRLS PLAY PROMINENT PART IN NEW AUTRY FILM

Republic's newest Gene Autry musical western will open Saturday, July 2 at the Piltz Theatre, with a story, cast and calibre of production which is said to be the best to date. This is saying a great deal, for Autry pictures are always the best of their type, and offer gilt-edge entertainment from the opening title to the final fade-out. This one is unique, in cowgirls who take a prominent hand in developing the plot.

The girls, under the leadership of Sandra (played by Polly Rowles) graduate from an agricultural college thinking they can go out west and manage Sandra's ranch much better than Foreman Gene Autry. One can readily imagine the fireworks which ensue when the girls arrive at their destination, try to rearrange the ranch routine, bring a herd of sheep into the heart of the cattle country, and otherwise make themselves thoroughly obnoxious to such tried-and-true cowboys as Gene and Smiley Burnette.

The climax is reached when Sandra becomes the innocent victim of a conspiracy, and it is then that Gene discovers that she means much more to him than a mere nuisance, and instead of resenting her presence, he undertakes protecting from the unscrupulous ranchers who would cheat her out of her holdings.

The picture, directed by Joe Kane—an old hand at western—under the guidance of Associate Producer Sol Siegel, features, in addition to Burnette and Miss Rowles, such players as Edward Hearn, Alan Bridge, Tom London, George Chesebro, Frank Ellis, Jack Kirk, and many others well known to followers of horse opera.

COUNTY AGENTS COLUMN

GOVERNMENT FERTILIZER

The Agricultural Adjustment Administration has made arrangements to supply Triple Superphosphate (analyzing 45 per cent or more available phosphoric acid) to farmers participating in the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program for fertilizing pastures. Under this arrangement, Triple Superphosphate in value up to 80 per cent of the soil building allowance for a farm will be supplied if desired, the farmer paying for the trucking from the Baltimore warehouse and the actual cost of the fertilizer ($11.36 per ton for the equivalent of 16 per cent Superphosphate) to be deducted from the forthcoming 1938 conservation program payment for the farm.

Since the Government Triple Superphosphate analyses 45 per cent or more as compared with the usual 16 per cent analysis, the actual cash outlay for trucking may be as low as 75 cents and in no case should be more than $1.00 per ton for the equivalent of 16 per cent Superphosphate.

Since Triple Superphosphate may be applied advantageously to pastures between now and October 31 (the close of the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program year), this arrangement should make it possible for many Prince William farmers to obtain this fertilizer for building up the carrying power of their pastures and to apply it before that time with practically no cash outlay. There is little loss of Triple Superphosphate thru leaching from the soil and it may be profitably applied to pastures at any time of the year. The Triple Phosphate may also be obtained for use on meadows.

Participating farmers will be notified and furnished with further information as soon as local arrangements for handling the Triple Superphosphate are made.

BETTER PASTURES

Good pastures have an important place on every farm because of the feed produced and the labor saved by having feed supplied from that source. We are gradually coming to realize that carrying out pasture improvement practices, as liming and fertilizing, is the most practical and economical means of adding to our farm feed supply.

Pasture-furnished feed, in addition to requiring less labor to produce and feed, is comparatively safe from storm or fire. Pastures will recoup themselves after a drought that has caused a complete failure of cultivated feed crops and are little affected by severe winters.

NOKESVILLE CHURCH SCHOOL

A Vacation Church School was conducted last week in Mt Zion Lutheran Church. This is the first of the kind to be held in the Church. The sessions of the school were in the evening at which time about 25 minutes were given to the study of the elementary principles of music and 40 minutes to the study of the Bible and Bible stories. The enrollment of the school was 45 pupils. The following classes were organized: Beginners taught by Miss Ethel Schaeffer, Primary taught by Mrs. Eugene Herring, Intermediates taught by Miss Edna Garner, and Adults taught by Rev. A. W. Ballentine.

Advertising by radio, mail, magazines, and newspapers, that cross all state lines, is deliberately aimed at increase of consumption for financial gain (regardless of consequent waste and misery in dethroned minds and ruined homes and public disorder.) Surely the Federal Government should use every power it now has under the twenty-first amendment to discourage the use of alcoholic beverages, for the fullest possible protection of the people of the states that work in that direction; and should stop all advertising of alcoholic beverages by radio or mail.

The ultimate goal which we are working for is a general public opinion based on accurate knowledge, that will require and enable our national and state governments to protect us from the evils growing out of the use of alcoholic drinks.

(The above meeting place took place at Bridgewater College June 21-22. It was partially sponsored by the Virginia Council of Religious Education.)

Here's the New 'Broadway'

A NEW Broadway Limited soon will be flashing over the rails of the Pennsylvania Railroad between New York and Chicago. Completely streamlined, the new Broadway will reduce the running time between the two cities to 16 hours, making new history for this famous train.

Electric locomotives will pull the train between New York and Harrisburg, Pa., giving way to steam engines between Harrisburg and Chicago.

Thus one of the best known trains in the country goes completely modern, including the luxurious and distinctive dining car built by the Edward G. Budd Manufacturing Company of Philadelphia, builders of stainless steel rail equipment.

The dining car presents a spacious, club-like atmosphere. Intimacy is achieved in the skillful combination of lounge sections and formal dining of tables next to wide windows. Rich in color, comfortable in seating arrangement and excellent in service, it silences the modern design of this new train.

Top picture shows the Pennsylvania Railroad's new Broadway Limited, continuing its famous New York-Chicago service. Inset is the luxurious new Budd-built diner for The Broadway.

Flesh colored mirrors form the sidewall decoration behind each lounge section. At one end of the diner is a service bar. Across the aisle are crew's lockers and steward's desk. The gleaming stainless steel kitchen at the opposite end is of completely new design and equipped to provide the fastest possible service.

The new Broadway will be exhibited in New York, Philadelphia, Chicago and St. Louis before going into service.

THIS is not a funeral notice; but the subject of this article is very much ALIVE.

Along with other work at the Battlefield Park is that of meeting the public. They come from all parts of the Country; yes, many from outside of the United States. But this week something unusual happened. A car with a California License and, aft and fore, the sign G.A.R. The driver was instructed to drive the G.A.R. man, who was not at the car then, to the Field Office. The writer pictured an old man carried on the arm of two or three able men. In about an half hour the car came to the Office and we went out to meet the man from 1117 Stanley Ave., Long Beach, California, and to help him out of the car and to the Office; but the car door swung open and a spry man jumped out of the car. Where is the former War Veteran? The office force started to help him to the office. To the amazement and delight of us all he walked so fast we had to take quick steps to keep up with him. When he got in the office he informed the force he is ninety-one years—youth; for he will never be an old man.

Mr. Charles L. Chapel was born in New York City and at the time of the War lived in Fairfax County; yet, joined a New York Regiment near the close of the War. He was discharged at Bailey's Cross Roads, June the thirtieth, 1865. This instrument is recorded at Fairfax.

One of the remarkable things about him is he is still a young man. When he got in the office, he began to take some gymnastics to work off the effects of the long ride. He kicked higher than the top of the drawing tables. Both feet were thus exercised. His arms were given some waves which would make king Louis take notice and examine the ropes. The Park Register was presented to be signed. The grand-son signed it first and he was told to sign it for the Old Gentleman, please. Instead he laid the pen down. We supposed he did not hear the request. Soon it was discovered he did; for the ninety-one-year young man began to write name better than the college people of today. One remarked how he was writing; another, how he was doing so and not using glasses. He asked, who lived a house about a mile away. He did this to show us we could see things.

At one time he lived at Buckland and walked, on week-ends, to and from Falls Church to attend school; his speedometer showed five miles per hour. That is the reason they had no Fords in those days—they simply did not need one.

He had lived to see three wives buried, and said he was going to see one hundred. We old men can not hope to outshine this young man of only ninety-one.

He said he joined the army to stop the War. That the rest had worked for years and had not done so. But Lee did not last long after he got in the lines. He fought near the Crater, and was near Lee when the War closed.

The Government asked him to come to Gettysburg on the train; but he said he wanted to see county before he got old. He was one of the observers of the Wheat Field Slaughter; and said it was one of the most horrible of the War he saw.

THE WORLD AROUND US

By

O. J. Schuster

is having a tremendous influence on society. By its emphasis on Beauty in the home surroundings and thru-out the community it is creating finer ideals of citizenship than the money-making ideal which still is unduly dominant in American life. Cleanliness in person and in dress, in the home and around it, and everywhere in the community, have a refining and civilizing influence on old and young. And these garden club ideals appeal to an ever-increasing number of citizens, as is clearly shown by the public's insistence on the elimination of all ugly sign-boards that mar the landscape and shout their greed for profit into the unwilling ears of the motorist.

THE BEAUTIFICATION of our physical surroundings also stimulates the more kindly and thoughtful side of our natures. Lovers of flowers, fine lawns, shrubs, and trees, also tend to study their culture and the methods by which scientists are creating new plants of greater food value or of superior beauty, thus tending to free the mind of the petty and personal. Thus one seldom finds bickering and wrangling in garden club meetings. Considerate and friendly co-operation is a basic garden club objective.

AMONG THE GARDENS VISITED a few stand out, not so much for exceptional excellence as for variety and contrast. The garden of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Hall has something of a freelance quality, a disdain for conventional ideals, a tendency to run into the adjoining forest and out of sight of civilization it craves freedom. In sharp contrast is the garden of Captain and Mrs. P. W. Lauriat which shows no inclination to escape the limitations within which its well-ordered life flourishes. It is pleasingly arranged, well cultivated, and beautiful. A small rockery in one corner is an added attraction. If from this garden we pass to that of Mr. and Mrs. L. Morscher it is like passing from a conservative to a radical element in society. Not that the Morschers are communists or any other kind of radicals because their garden happens to be wild and quite indifferent to the "High Hatting" of its cultured brethren who pride themselves on the prizes they win at flower shows quite as much as vain humans pride themselves on a Ph. degree. The Morscher garden is an interesting "Zoo" in which native wild flowers are given a natural habitat and in which is a sprinkling of cultivated plants to serve, perhaps, as missionaries to their primitive brethren. A block from this "Radical" garden is the luxurious garden of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Wise with its profusion of gorgeous Azaleas which lord it over a mass of other fine shrubs, flowers, and vines. A small arbor of trees at times serves the club as a place for its business meeting.

ONE MAY WONDER what these various gardens might say to each other were they endowed with the ability to see each other and talk about the interests and ideals they represent. Would each feel self-satisfied, a little superior to all others? Would some of them be modest, others dominant? Would they be good listeners, thoughtful observers? Or would each be obsessed with the belief that it alone is beautiful and interesting? It may be a good thing gardens cannot talk. Being so silent so receptive to our presence and our talk, we endow them with wisdom just as we do the silent, big-eyed owl. Certainly all of them have beauty. Perhaps some of the loveliness of the flowers would suffer some loss if those flowers had the gift of vocal expression.

FORTUNATE RESCUE

The many friends of Joseph Ambrogio, former Manassas High School student, are happy to learn of his rescue from the Potomac river the other night, after a stay of several hours in the water.

Mr. Ambrogio was out on a pleasure jaunt with two other friends who were also rescued. It is quite remarkable that he was able to stay in the water so long and stand the shock and exposure as well as he did.
