POETRY PROGRAM IS MUCH ENJOYED

Bethlehem Club May Sponsor Publication of History

The Bethlehem Goodhousekeepers Club was most graciously entertained on Wednesday afternoon, July 20th, at Paradise Farm, the attractive home of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Lynn, with Mrs. Lynn and her mother, Mrs. J. F. Dogan, as hostesses.

The club members, following the opening prayer, answered roll call with bits of original verse and prose. This proved a most interesting and amusing variation from the usual procedure.

At the close of the regular business session, the matter of sponsoring the publishing of a County history, to be compiled from data collected by Mrs. Susan Morton, of Haymarket, was again discussed by the club members and finally turned over to the Civic and Education committees.

Mrs. A. A. Hooff presented a most enjoyed program, consisting of the reading of selected poems from the works of authors from this locality, supplemented by two delightful piano solos by little Bonnie Lynn, daughter of the hostess. Mrs. R. A. Hutchison read two selections from the late Dr. H. M. Clarkson's "Songs of Love and War", and also the poem, "Beauty's Garment", by Alice Boorman Williamson, which is dedicated to her former teacher, Miss E. H. Osborn. Other of Mrs. Williamson's poems appearing on the program were "Inspiration" and "Local Color". Little Jean Lewis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Lewis, read "The Game", an amusing bit of verse by Margaret Widdemer. "The Rebel", by Nancy Byrd Turner, whose first poem, written when she a very small child, was first published in the Manassas Journal, was read by Mrs. J. F. Burks in her usual charming manner.

Two poems which were especially well received were "A Smiling Word" and "A Thought", by our own Walter Conner, and read by Mrs. Dudley Martin.

At the close of the program a delicious and colorful salad course was served by the hostesses, assisted by Bonnie.

Those present on this joyous occasion were: Mesdames R. L. Byrd, G. C. Round, J. F. Burks, T. J. Broadus, R. A. Hutchison, W. S. Athey, M. M. Washington, A. C. Hart, B. F. Knox, Maude H. Kinchloe, A. A. Hooff, P. A. Lewis, Nannie K. Middlethton, and D. J. Martin.

THE FIRST BATTLE OF MANASSAS
"Rally behind the Virginians, there stands Jackson like a stonewall"— Gen. Bee, July 21, 1861

POLITICAL SIGNIFICANCE OF FIRST MANASSAS (Editorial)

Seventy-seven years ago today the quiet hills and plains of Prince William reverberated with the thunder of guns. An epochal battle was won by brilliant generalship against the wild onslaught of misguided devotees of an hysteria which made animals of men.

People change little with the march of time. Trade and climatic conditions set the South into a class of its own. Erratic and hypocritical reformers have sought to rob us of the natural advantages vouchsafed to us by Divine Providence.

Seventy-seven years ago the vast majority of those foolish men who followed Lincoln really thought that they were doing some great humanitarian deed—one that called for heroism. Actually they were cats-paws in the control of schemers who sought only to attain their selfish objectives.

These arch-hypocrites were far-sighted enough to vision that the South would handle the question of labor by legislation and this would give the envious, venomous element of the North no chance to pillage and rob the South.

But war suited the purposes of those arch-hypocrites and their successors who have written histories for three quarters of a century trying to justify the dastardly invasion of the South in the Sixties.

Today we are facing a determined renewal of the old-time effort to crush a South which has arisen from the blood and ashes of '65. We still have our quota of crack-pots and their advocates trying to pull the social structure and economic security of the South down to the low level of the nation at large, and we see again the same kind of theories and methods that brought on bloodshed then.

The glorious victory won on the historic battlefield of Manassas is a silent beacon, shining forth among free men of the South to indicate that, as then, we now will not alter our social, economic and political affairs according to dictation from Washington.

Seventy-seven years ago today politicians and sight-seers from Washington declared a holiday and drove out to Manassas to see their minions triumph over the South. Today, politicians, on vacation trips, look across the battlefield of Manassas, where, on August 2, if they are still looking, they will see another stampede across Long Bridge and back into Washington, of the outfit now invading Virginia in a determined but futile effort to destroy Democratic self-government in Northern Virginia.

MANEUVERS TO BE HELD HERE

Much Business May Come to County if Permits Are Granted

Lt. Col. Clifford Blumel and Lt. Col. H. L. Flynn, representing Maj. Gen. J. K. Parsons, Commanding General, Third Corps Area, met with a group of Prince County citizens in the town hall at Manassas on Monday evening to discuss the possibility of securing the use of a sufficient area in the Southern portion of the County for the holding of army maneuvers during the latter part of the month of September. The army officers were accompanied by Mr. M. E. Green, Business Manager of the Alexandria Chamber of Commerce, through whom the attention of the officers had been attracted to Prince William County. The meeting was presided over by Mr. E. R. Conner, of Manassas and among those in attendance were G. C. Russell, J. Murray Taylor, Walter Wine, E. L. Herring and Stanley A. Owens, Secretary of the Prince William County Chamber of Commerce.

After a very detailed discussion of the problems involved it was decided to refer further action to a mass meeting to be held in Bethel School House on Tuesday, July 26th at 7:30 p.m. It is important that this meeting be attended by the property owners of Coles, Occoquan and Dumfries Districts, as the proposed maneuvers would probably cover portions of all three of these Districts; and the sense of the meeting will determine whether it is the wish of these property owners to have the maneuvers held in their midst. It is essential that a definite reply be given the Commanding General of the Third Corps Area, at Baltimore, immediately following this meeting and property owners should be present to express themselves.

4-H CAMP AND SHORT COURSE TO BE HELD IN COUNTY

The Prince William County 4-H Camp and Short Course will be held at Camp Good Will in Chopawamsic Recreational Park, located near Triangle from August 25 to 30, inclusive.

In the case of first year members, their work for this year must be approved by the camp committee.

Camp Good Will is a model site for the County Camp and Short Course as well as being much nearer than the amestown Camp which has been used by the local organizations for several years. Assistance will be received from Extension specialists from V.P.I.A. recreational leader and Red Cross swimming instructor will be engaged.

The camp will be conducted on an actual cost basis and arrangements have been completed whereby the expenses will be held down to a low figure for members who are able to bring garden produce and other food from home.

CIO LAUNCHES PURGE OF FOES IN CONGRESS

Washington Herald, July 16, 1938

Labor's Nonpartisan League, political affiliate of the CIO last night formally announced it proposed to purge Congress of nearly 50 Senators and Representatives, many of them chairmen of important committees, for having opposed its own and the New Deal program.

Oliver announced the league has divided members of Congress into four lists. These are: (a) to be unconditionally supported; (b) to be conditionally supported; (c) to be conditionally opposed, and (d) to be unconditionally opposed.

The "d" list is called the "death list" by CIO leaders. On it are included Senators Ellison D. Smith, of South Carolina, chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee; Walter F. George, Georgia, chairman of the Senate Elections Committee; Millard J. Tydings, Maryland, chairman of the Senate Territories and Insular Affairs Committee, and Bennett Champ Clark, Missouri, chairman of the Inter-oceanic Canals Committee.

The CIO purge will be directed specifically against members of the House Rules Committee, who tried to block action last session on the wage-hour bill.

This list includes Chairman O'Connor and Representatives Cox (D.), of Georgia; Driver (D.), of Arkansas; SMITH (D.), OF VIRGINIA; Lewis (D.), of Colorado; Mapes (R.), of Michigan; Taylor (R.), of Tennessee, and McLean (R.), of New Jersey.

On July 15th Labor's Non-Partisan League, political arm of Jno. L. Lewis' C. I. O., publicly announced its purpose to defeat 42 senators and members of Congress whom they cannot control.

MY NAME IS ON THE BLACK LIST.

It will be remembered that the C. I. O. originated and conducted the sitdown strikes that terrorized and paralyzed business. The present recession in business followed. I voted for an investigation of the sitdown strikes. SITDOWN STRIKES ARE ANARCHY. I will continue to fight them and all other UN-AMERICAN ACTIVITIES openly and uncompromisingly.

Make no mistake, the C. I. O. under its present leadership, with its un-American affiliates are trying openly and boldly to take over YOUR COUNTRY.

Do you want the C. I. O. to tell Virginians whom they shall elect to Congress? If not be sure to vote on August 2nd and get your friends to do likewise.

HOWARD W. SMITH,
Member of Congress

"OVER THE WALL" PACKED WITH ACTION AT STRAND

Letters to the Editor

A letter from Miss Evelyn Ballentine who is now in Oxford University, England, taking a post-graduate course, has been received by her parents, the Rev. and Mrs. A. W. Ballentine. Among other things, she writes about the trip, as follows:

"Reached New York at 1:00 p.m., June 30th. Their time was 2:00 p.m. daylight saving time. Pennsylvania station is a huge thing. Came in under it. When I asked the taxi driver to take me and my baggage to the pier, he said, Certainly lots of people leaving on that boat. The Pennsylvania Station is near the Hamburg-American piers. The boat crew took charge of my baggage. Then passports and tickets were inspected before going on the boat. It was fun watching folks get on the boat and the crowds waving them "good-bye."

"On taking the boat the first thing was to find Dr. Jewett who is directing our tour. I also found a lady, whose home is Washington State, who is directing a group of Columbia University students on a tour of Germany. Miss Hazel Ladd, a New Yorker, is travelling with me. She is a seasoned traveller, and very helpful to me. "New Yorkers rave about their "skyline". To me it was no thrill at all—may be different coming back.

Nothing can express the thrill I get out of this trip. Looking at the ocean from the steamer makes one feel the expanse of limitless spaces; the waves are beautiful, particularly as we see the prow of ship plowing through them; the sunshine brilliant; and the fog wet and cold. I never tire of watching the waves sparkle and roll with great power and a mighty surge behind the ship. Really I spent much of my time hanging over the rail, but for what you have already heard, it was for—never. Now, Papa, the joke is on you. I did not get sea-sick.

This afternoon (Monday, July 4th) the Europa passed us on her way to New York. We saw her as she came above the horizon and watched as long as we could see her. She is a much faster ship than the Columbus. The boats saluted as they passed. Sunday we went to a Protestant service. It was all in German. I recognized Handel's Largo used as Prelude and Postlude, and "Praise God the Almighty," one of the hymns. You should have heard me singing Liebe den Herren, den maechtigen Koenig. (286 C. S. B.)

The stewards and stewardesses are German and speak it, but can speak in broken English. Dr. Albert Keiser, Professor at Lenoir Ryne College, is on this boat. He will visit extensively in Europe and Palestine.

Tonight we had a Fourth of July dinner. This is Monday and we have two more days at sea. Early on Thursday we dock at Plymouth and hence by London to Oxford.

Wednesday afternoon: We have just passed Ireland. Sighted land about mid-afternoon. The "tender" met the boat and some passengers got off about 8:30 p.m. We must get up at five in the morning, and have breakfast at 6:15 a.m., and be met by another tender.

I am anxious to see how we get through customs. We are having lots of fun, and wish you could be sharing the experience with us. Oh, yes, the Purser gave the three of us at our table corsages of roses last night at the farewell dinner. Ooh! la! la! I am saving the ribbon and autograph. With love to all, Evelyn."

the subject than Warden Lewis E. Lawes, Sing Sing's own fearless head, the fast moving drama smacks of an authenticity never yet reflected on the screen in any former treatise.

The story has an unusual twist in the fact that Dick Foran, who capably plays the lead, literally sings his way out of prison, after he has been incarcerated on a frameup. Foran recently left the hoppers after Warners discovered his worth, but brought along with him his swell singing voice.

Bitter against all except his sweetheart, the lovely June Travis, he soon becomes an incorrigible. With the aid of a tough but kindly prison chaplain ably portrayed by the versatile John Littel, Foran joins the prison choir. Broadcast over the air, Foran soon gains a tremendous following. Theatre next Saturday, July 23.

COMMUTATION TICKETS FROM MANASSAS TO BE DISCONTINUED

On Friday, July 22nd, at 10:00 a.m. there will be a public hearing before Commissioner Weems, of the Interstate Commerce Commission, with regard to the discontinuance of commutation tickets by the Southern Railway Company between Manassas and Washington, and intermediates points. At the present time, the commutation rate or monthly ticket, which a number of people in this vicinity and nearby points avail themselves of, is considerably lower than the straight fare of 70 cents each way, and if these tickets are discontinued by the railroad company, it will work a great hardship on these commuters, who will have to find other means of daily transportation to Washington where they are employed.

It is conceded that this is only the first step toward discontinuance of a number of trains by the railroad company. When the people must stay in the city, or find other means of conveyance, the railroad will point out to the Commission that the patronage has fallen off, and that the trains are no longer necessary, and thus will be allowed to discontinue running them.

Manassas has always been very fortunate in having excellent train service, located at a junction as it is. Even those who own automobiles, or who travel infrequently, find it a great convenience to be able to go to Washington or Alexandria on one train and back on another, especially in bad weather.

There is no doubt that a number of our present most substantial citizens would have been induced to make their homes elsewhere had the train service been less advantageous than it is. For example, a number of railway mail clerks, of whom Manassas has quite a colony, would no doubt have been compelled to make their homes in or near the city if there had not been good train schedules from this town. This also applies to railroad men, Government workers, teachers, and a considerable number of students who find it necessary to seek specialized training in the capital city.

As soon as the boys and girls in this vicinity finish school, they try to get jobs in the city, and many of them commute daily. We should try to keep the young people at home, and good train service will be a step in this direction.

While it is true that many people in the County will be affected only indirectly if at all by this proposal, it is to be hoped that they will be public-spirited enough to register their protests, and try to prevent the loss of an advantage we have enjoyed for many years. If there is concerted action by the Chamber of Commerce, the Kiwanis Club, the American Legion, the Board of Supervisors the Parent-Teachers' Association, County officials, and other organizations, it might be possible to prevent this action.

The conveniences available in any community have a direct bearing on that place's desirability as a home. Good train service is a decided asset to any town, and it is to be hoped that the citizens of Prince William County will either write their protests to Commissioner Weems, or better still, to enter it personally at the public hearing Friday at 10 a.m. in the Interstate Commerce Commission Building on Constitution Avenue.

Respectfully,
Nelle Hyde Holmes.

THE 1938 PSALM

(Submitted by N. S. Nelson)
(from Luray Courier)

Mr. Roosevelt is my shepherd.
I live in want.
He maketh me to lie down on park benches;
He leadeth me beside the still factories.
He disturbeth my soul;
He leadeth me in the path of destruction for his Party's Sake.
Yea, though I walk through the Valley of the Shadow of depression.
I anticipate new recovery for he is with me.
He prepareth a resuscitation in my salary in the presence of my enemies;
He annointeth me my small income with taxes, my expense runneth over.
Surely unemployment and poverty shall follow me all the days of my life.
And I shall dwell in a mortgaged house forever.

WOODMAN SPARE THAT TREE
By Bert Williams

A great big tree grows near our house,
It's been there quite some time,
This tree's a slippery elm tree,
And very hard to climb.
But when my wife gets after me,
Up in that tree I roost,
I run up there just like a squirrel,
And I don't need no boost.

The other day a woodman came
To cut my refuge down,
To carve it into kindlin' wood
To peddle 'round the town.
I said to him, "I pray thee cease,
Desist, refrain and stop,
Put down that 'forest razor', man,
Chop not a single chop.

Woodman, woodman spare that tree,
Touch not a single bough,
For years it has protected me,
And I'll protect it now,
Cut down that oak, that spruce or pine,
But not that slippery elm of mine,
It's the only tree my wife can't climb,
Woodman spare that tree.

Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Stulz and Vada Lee are spending the week with relatives near Bergton.
Mrs. Colvin remains quite ill at her home near here.
Philip Reading spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Readings.

"WALKING DOWN BROADWAY" OFFERS EXCITING DRAMA

Exciting as Broadway itself . . . as teeming with drama as its shadowy side streets, "Walking Down Broadway" comes to the Pitts' Theatre on Wednesday, July 27.

This absorbing 20th Century-Fox production probes behind the glitter of the theatre's spotlight and unravels the skeins which the Fates have woven for the lives of six show-girls. Six girls who knew longing and desperation . . . laughter and triumph.

Claire Trevor is the girl who never lost her head until she knew she was losing the man she loved; Phyllis Brooks is the lass who could resist anything . . . except temptation; Leah Ray liked excitement, but knew too many racketeers for her own good; Dixie Dunbar went with her sugar daddy, but didn't go for him; Lynn Bari dared dream of her name in lights, no matter what the cost; and Jayne Regan was the only one who was smart enough to cling to her illusions.

Into the heart-catching story of their lives come the men who make and break their careers—Michael Whalen, Tom Beck, Douglas Fowley, Walter Woolf Kink and Jed Prouty.

The absorbing screen play by Robert Chapin and Karen De Wolf opens on a New Year's Eve celebration as a successful show closes its run. The fine direction of Norman Foster picks up to the superstition of a pledge to meet again a year later, and reveals in thrilling fashion how the rendezvous was kept.

Sidney Clare and Harry Akst have written a song, "Good-bye My Heart" for "Walking Down Broadway." Sol M. Wurtzel was executive producer.

Is it Slander-Is it Innuendo to Print a Congressman's Record and to Ask him to Make Good his Boast that he is Ready to Defend it at All Times?

My Opponent, Mr. Smith, Still Refuses to Explain These Anti-Roosevelt Votes.

VOTED AGAINST:

- Flood Control
- TVA Amendment
- Government Reorganization Bill
- Guffey Coal Act
- Johnson Amendment to Cure Farm Tenancy
- Tax-the-Wealth Bill
- Wages-Hours Bill
- Emergency Relief Bills (1937-1938-1939)

I would STILL like to know WHY Mr. Smith deserted the President, and the Pledged Platform of the Democratic Party, on these Major Administration Measures.

WOULDN'T YOU?

DEALING WITH SINNERS:

Brethren, if a man be overtaken in a fault, ye which are spiritual, restore such an one in the spirit of meekness; considering thyself, lest thou also be tempted.

Gainesville, Va. July 14, 1938.

Dear Editor:

Thanks for your very able editorial for Judge Smith, I could not have better expressed had I written it myself.

"We the People" are finding it so at this time. This Primary is the time selected by our Precious President to find out just where he stands and I think the People of the Old Eighth District will tell his yesman where to get off.

Yours, R. A. Kearney,

Gainesville, Va. July 20, 1938.

Dear Editor:

Your editorial of the 14th instance relative to the Hon. Howard W. Smith, the present congressman from the 8th District, and without question, the incoming congressman to be seated January 3, 1939, is one that should be read by every voter of this district.

The facts contained therein cannot be merely tossed aside and allow willful misrepresentation, outside newspapers catering to a element that is foreign to the State of Virginia, and false statements to take its place.

The Journal deserves credit for placing the facts before the voters, who can be depended upon to use their good judgment in the election of their choice for a representative from this district.

IN WASHINGTON'S ATTIC

One of life's more fascinating adventures, in the days before the apartment houses dotted the American landscape, was to poke about in the capacious attic of the old family homestead. There one always came upon a new crop of interesting, historic, memory-provoking souvenirs of bygone years.

The ancient, faded brick walls of the Smithsonian Institute houses the world's most amazing collection of national relics. The story of this famous museum and what it holds is told in an article by Mary Jane Moore appearing in the Washington Star next Sunday, July 24. adv.

Cairo . . . Automatic telephone exchanges were first introduced in Cairo, Egypt, in 1932 and in subsequent years at Alexandria, Port Said, Tanta and a few other important provincial cities, including Guizeh, near Cairo. The policy is to extend gradually this system over the entire country, according to the American Commercial Attache at Cairo.

Hollywood . . . When Hollywood wants extras, it gets them by telephone. The switchboard of a central casting bureau there handles as many as 30,000 calls a day, bringing actors and producers together.

Buenos Aires . . . Argentina's principal telephone company, the United River Telephone Company, in Buenos Aires, has just recently completed 51 years of existence. Starting in 1887 with a handful of employees, 11 years after Bell's invention, the company has grown as rapidly as the country until it now has 302,000 subscribers. Argentina has 48 per cent of all the telephones in South America. In the international field the company has made it possible for Argentine subscribers to be connected with 32,000-000 telephones in 65 countries.

Philadelphia . . . Telephone operators are less susceptible to throat ailments than are stenographers or almost any other type of woman employee, according to a noted Philadelphia surgeon. "I've never treated the throat of a telephone operator who talks quietly all day—there is no need to shout into the telephone." Records of the telephone companies reveal that cases where it is necessary to relieve an operator from duty because of voice or throat ailments are extremely rare. This is attributed to the fact that each operator is given a course of training in the proper use of the voice and how to speak clearly and without strain.

Jerusalem . . . A dial telephone exchange with approximately 3,500 lines was recently inaugurated at Tel Aviv, Palestine, and it is reported that a similar type of exchange to serve the same number of subscribers and capable of ultimate extension to 8,000 lines has been ordered for Haifa. It is expected that the Jerusalem automatic exchange will also soon be ready for service, according to the American Consulate General there.

New York . . . Although the telephone is now sixty-two years old, more than two-thirds of the telephone plant in service in this country has been built since the Great War.

Delhi . . . That Delhi, India, is rapidly becoming more telephone-minded is borne out by reports that over 400 new subscriber lines were added during 1937, which necessitated the transfer of some lines to the Connaught Place system. The two existing Delhi exchanges, Lothian Road and New Delhi, are already overloaded due to the ever-increasing demand for service, and the third exchange at Connaught Circus, which is designed to care for 5,000 lines, will accordingly be increased to facilitate an additional 5,000, according to the American Trade Commissioner at Calcutta.

Baltimore . . . When a Baltimore, Md., plumber mailed an advertisement to 300 customers recently, he expected a large number of replies from the self-addressed postal card which he enclosed. None of the postal cards was returned, but he did receive twenty-three orders, to the amount of $1,400 from the advertisements. They came by telephone. He had placed his telephone number on the return postal card.

MR. SMITH REPLIES

Washington, D. C.
July 15, 1938

Mr. William E. Dodd, Jr.
Alexandria, Va.

Dear Sir:

Receipt is acknowledged of your letter requesting me to meet you in joint debate. Frankly, your public utterances relative to your conception of government are so divergent from our American constitutional form that I would not offend the intelligence of a Virginia audience by debating them with you.

I am satisfied from my long association with the people of Virginia that they are quite content with the American system of government under which we live.

As to the issues you have made, they are plain and clear cut.

I propose to continue to exercise my best and most careful judgment in the discharge of my duties in the House of Representatives.

You propose to exercise neither judgment nor discretion but to follow 100 per cent the views and wishes of others.

I propose to support the Constitution and laws of the United States.

You propose to obey whatever orders may be given you.

I propose to continue to be a Congressman.

You propose to be an automaton.

The people of my district know me and know what I stand for. I suggest that you introduce yourself and the things you stand for in such ways as you see fit.

Conduct your campaign according to such methods as you think the dignity of the office dictates. I shall conduct my campaign in my own way.

You make the statement that I said in a speech that "I would be proud to be a rubber stamp for President Roosevelt". This is an unqualified misstatement without any foundation in fact. Presumably you make it from hearsay, as it is not likely that you ever heard me make a political speech, as I understand that you have spent most of your last years in Germany.

Very truly yours,
HOWARD W. SMITH.

NEW McMURRAY FILM STORY OF SWING BANDS

Fifteen men, a kid and girl, hungry for fame, hungry for love but most of the time just plain hungry, swing their way from Chicago to Los Angeles' famous night spot, the Coconut Grove in Paramount's hilarious new film of the same name that premieres next Thursday at the Pitts' Theatre.

Long known as the "springboard of the stars," the Coconut Grove atop the Hotel Ambassador in Los Angeles is the pot of gold at the end of orchestra leader Fred McMurray's rainbow. Aided by Harriet Hilliard, Ben Blue, the Yacht Club Boys, Rufe Davis and Harry Owens and his Royal Hawaiian Orchestra, McMurray turns in a swell performance as the swing-happy and fame-hunting young musician ready to take any gamble to make the grade at the Grove.

Miss Hilliard, wife of band leader Ozzie Nelson in real life, has the part of McMurray's sweetheart, and musical interest. Hired in the opening sequences of the film as a tutor for his adopted son, Billy Lee, Miss Hilliard blossoms out as the girl vocalist with the band when McMurray discovers she can sing. And it is her rendition of "Says My Heart," one of the hit tunes of the film that wins him the much sought after contract at the nightclub.

"Coconut Grove" should be applauded for the fact that it gets away from the usual screen musical comedy routine of inserting the specialty numbers through the film much like the odd vaudeville turns. The Yacht Club Boys, who are responsible for much of the hilarious hi-jinks of the film, are east as members of McMurray's band and when the time comes for them to present their act, there is a logical story reason for it. By the same token, Ben Blue, who is teamed with Eve Arden in the picture, makes his dance routines add punch to the plot.

The story of "Coconut Grove" deals with McMurray's struggle to get his rebellious band, who have not worked steadily for over two years, out to the West coast to play an audition at the Coconut Grove. When one of the boys wins a trailer as his prize in a contest, his troubles readily begin. En route by trailer to California the hungry band suffers all kinds of trials and tribulations including the annexation of Rufe Davis a hill-billy auto mechanic who also has musical ambitions. The smash musical climax of the picture is the opening night at the Grove after McMurray makes the grade.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Truth" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all churches and societies of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, July 24.

The Golden Text will be "Teach me thy way, O'Lord; I will walk in thy truth: unite my heart to fear thy name" (Psalms 86:11).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And it shall come to pass in the last days, that the mountain of the Lord's house shall be established in the top of the mountains, and shall be exalted above the hills; and all nations shall flow unto it. And many people shall go and say, Come ye, and let us go up to the mountain of the Lord, to the house of the God of Jacob; and he will teach us of his ways, and we will walk in his paths: for out of Zion shall go forth the law, and the word of the Lord from Jerusalem" (Isaiah 2:2,3).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "You may know when first Truth leads by the fewness and faithfulness of its followers. This it is that the march of time bears onward freedom's banner. The powers of this world will fight, and will command their sentinels not to let truth pass the guard until it subscribes to their systems; but Science, heeding not the pointed bayonet, marches on. There is always some tumult, but there is a rallying to truth's standard" (p. 225).

MILLIONTH COOPERATIVE FARM LOAN

July 9 the production credit system closed at millionth cooperative farm loan since organization late in 1933 when the Peru, Indiana association made a loan to Harley M. Moore of Logansport to pay taxes, finance his feeder cattle operations, and pay cur advice received today by Thos. D. Jones, secretary-treasurer of the Warrenton Production Credit Association.

Mr. Moore, who has been using production credit facilities since 1934, obtained a budgeted loan July 9. The money will be advanced to him during the season as he needs it, and he expects to repay it from the sale of hogs and cattle. He says that he likes this method of financing his farm operations because it reduces the cost, as he pays interest only for the exact number of days he has each dollar.

He also has a cooperative long-term mortgage loan which he obtained four years ago from the Federal Land Bank system through his county national farm loan association to purchase the farm he had rented for 13 years.

Mr. Jones said that the Warrenton association is one of thirteen productions in this state. Organized in 1934, the members now own stock amounting to $18,875, 11.6 per cent of the total capital, and have built up a reserve of $15,000 to protect their investment and assure the permanency of the organization.
