We are inclined to exult, rather justifiably, over the dismal failure of the "party purge" in Virginia. Disingenuous comment-ators may discount to their heart's content the real significance of the election, but no one can thoughtfully read the text of the Presiden's last fireside chat and view the determined effort just made from Washington to unseat Howard W. Smith without being fully conscious that a national figure has arisen in the Eighth Congressional District of Virginia who has earned the gratitude of all Virginians and of all true Southerners.

We should, however, not fail to recognize that a party purge of national proportions represents a determined and continuing effort which may extend into our next Senatorial campaign and Smith, Hon. C. Vernon Spratley, Hon. also into the approaching National Democratic Convention.

The real objective of the forthcoming attack against the South is already evidenced in a recent statement by Governor Cross, of Connecticut, who insists that the South should not be treated on a parity with other sections of the country in the matter of freight rates, because we have "God-given aids which even the Interstate Commerce Commission cannot match." In other words he calls upon the federal government to apply discriminating freight rates and wage schedules designed to make the South pay the North for her "God-given aids" of lower costs of living, of fuel and clothing, and of the important, but generally overlooked item of recreation.

we should be prepared for the avalanche now forming in Washing-ton to be launched at the proper time in a determined effort to destroy our "God-given advantages" and to reduce Virginia and the South to the common national level of un-employment and federal support.

with our educational institutions. The vacation period is now at hand, should be true patriots. We hope they and August seems to be the favorite month for such recreational activities. It used to be thought that vacations belonged only to people living in the cities who worked behind counters or desks who had not sufficient physical exercise to properly take care of muscular development, hence a vacation was necessary to correct the evel. Now-a-day, however, the fellow who has plenty exercise to meet all physical demands thinks he is need of a vacation also, and, considering both sides of the question, perhaps his mental "muscles" are in need of a little exercise to keep up normal development. At any rate, we all think we need a rest once in a while either from healthful necessity or imagination. We sometimes think that the P.W.A. has taught many people to be super-sensitive about this thing of "rest"; Perhaps after all, many of us might be inclined to emulate to a certain degree, the little skit quoted which from "Tony's Scrap Book" gives us a pretty good idea of just what real rest means. Quote: I wish I was a little rock A-settin' on a hill: A-doing nothing all day long But just a-settin' still: wouldn't eat, I wouldn't drink, L wouldn't even wash: I'd set and set a thousand years And just rest myself, by gosh. Now that the nominations are over and the country settles back to the even tenor of its way once more, we are just wondering about the reaction on the part of thinking people? Since we have now passed through another siege of incrimination, innuendo and abuse of various kinds and in all parts of the Country, laid against ous candidates by opposing politicians of high and low degree, we are wondering if it isn't about time to stop and just think things over a bit? Do you enjoy what you have been reading and listening to on the air? Are all the proponents and opponents imbued with a high sense of Nationalistic Truth? or might it be just "Factionalism?" If one were to ask the voter what all the trouble was about, he would likely answer "politics." If then, it is politics that causes so much trouble, hard feelings and oft times shootings and poisonjust what this thing called politics is?

was a heavy loser in the fire of 1905. Mr. Conner had $1,600 insurance on his building. Dr. Simpson had $1,500 on his. Mr. Stevens had $800 insurance. The loss in windows on account of the fire will run high, probably over $800. Mr. Marion Koontz lost a moving picture machine in the bakery building valued at about $300. Miss Williams' loss, while not large, will fall heavily upon as she had no insurance.

The origin of the fire is uncertain as there was no fire in the bakery after three o'clock Thursday afternoon. There may have been a defective flue, or it may have been a careless smoker, or it might have been incendiary. Or it is not improbable that some boys may have been using the rear rooms of the bakery without the knowledge of Mr. Stevens at a late hour.

On Saturday night preceding the bakery was burglarized but only some small change and a few cakes were stolen, and behind the fire may have been another attempt to burglarize either the bakery or some other store.

RESPONSE NEEDED FOR MILITARY PROJECT

Up to date only some fifteen thousand acres plus the area afforded by the Choppawamsic project is available for the proposed army maneuvers in mid September. A volunteer committee has given time to contact as many property holders as possible to give enough ground for operations.

This is a perfectly safe proposition for from personal experi-ence we can state that the military make the greatest effort to avoid any inconvenience to prop-erty holders and they will ab-solutely restore conditions. It is necessary to give Govern-or Jim credit for a highly dev-eloped sense of humor in order to explain this remarkable state-ment on any rational basis. Cer-tainly the issues in both of the Virginia districts were national issues rather than local ones. Specifically, the absorbing issue Specifically, the absorbing issue in both contests was loyalty to Roosevelt and the New Deal. To what extent the defeat of the New Dealers can properly be con-strued as indicating a "trend", either State or national, is a question on which there is room for a wide diversity of opinion. The bald facts in the case are these, that the Democrats of two important and populous Virginia districts defeated the New Deal candidates for Congress and nominated men who are admittedly opposed to some of the key measures of the President's program, and that the defeated candidates enjoying all of the advantages which are supposed to flow from the administration's endorsement and support. The Governor is far too smart a politician to misunderstand the language of an elec-tion. FIRST TELEPHONE BOOTH TRAILER DEVELOPED FOR USE IN MARYLAND

Mobile Unit Designed By C. & P. Telephone Co. To Serve Public At Field Events, Games, Shows and Fairs

What is believed to be the first telehone booth trailer is being used in Maryland by The Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company at public gatherings of various types. It was designed to meet the need for adequate telephone facilities at football games, fairs, field meetings, sports vents, etc.

The trailer is 'equipped with five comfortable and attractive telephone booths, in each of which is installed a cradle-type handset. When the trailer is on the road, the telephone sets are removed and packed in a special compartment to guard against damage.

Immediately to the right upon entering the trailer is the desk of the attendant who places and times all calls and collects the charges for them. After the customer has given his request to the attendant and the connection has been completed, he is assigned to an idle booth where he can converse with the called party in privacy. If he wishes to make additional calls, he can do so without leaving the booth. This is made possible by an intercommunicating circuit between the booth and the attendant.

In planning the trailer every effort was made to provide comfort and convenience for the customer in using the telephone. Each booth is equipped with an upholstered seat, an electric fan and a heater; the outer room is provided with a comfortable bench for waiting customers. Mahogany walls and chrome fixtures add color to the interior of the trailer.

All Maryland telephone directories as well as those of frequently called cities outside of the state, are a part of the trailer's accessories.

The exterior of the trailer, which is 21 feet long, is in blue with gold lettering; the roof being finished in aluminum. Just above the entrance is a neon-illuminated sign, "Public Tele-

The sale of its municipal electric system to the Virginia Public Service Company was approved by the City Council and citizens of Virgilina at a meeting held Monday, August 1, it was announced today by M. J. O'Connell, president of the utility. Only one dissenting vote was cast against the sale of the municipal electric system, which had been in operation for the past 15 years. The private utility rates will be made effective on connection and will result in reductions to residential customers as high as 35 per cent and more, depending on the amount of current consumed, Mr. O'Connell said.

The passage of the resolution authorized the mayor to sign necessary contracts. Among the provisions was one giving the private utility a 30year franchise.

"Immediate construction of a transmission line to serve the town will begin upon the completion of all ne- Piano Concerto in E-flat. Composigotiations," Mr. O'Connell said. "The line will extend ten miles from Buffalo Springs and in addition to providing service to Virgilina, electric service l"Afternoon of a Faun," Delius' "On will be extended to areas along the Hearing the First Cuckoo in Spring," ten-mile route."

Mr. O'Connell also announced that the Company's rates would apply to by Dr. Felix Gunter, the Mottl ar-Virgilina. A comparison of the rates charged by the municipally-owned "Cephale and Procris," and the Furisystem at Virgilina, with those of the Virginia Public Service Company in southern Virginia, shows that a customer using 25 KWH now pays $2.50 as against $1.78 for a similar amount of current charged by the private utility. For this consumption, the new arrangement will result in a decrease of approximately 29 per cent. Reductions in the cost of other consumption groups will likewise result in savings. A person using 50 KWH will realize a decrease of 18 per cent; those using 100 KWH a decrease of 24 per cent; those using 150 KWH a decrease of 32 per cent and those using 200 KWH a decrease of 35 per cent over the rates now charged by the municipal plant.

The addition of Virgilina to the Company's system now brings to 560 the number of communities served by the Virginia Public Service Company in Virginia and West Virginia.
