LOCAL CHURCH TO BE REFURNISHED

Presbyterian Auditorium To Have Beautiful Interior

At a meeting of the congregation of the Presbyterian Church last Thursday, it was decided to proceed immediately with plans for refurnishing the church auditorium. This decision calls up a number of matters of historic interest.

So far as those now living can remember, the low, narrow, straight-backed pews now in use were installed soon after the brownstone building was completed in 1867.

The congregation is now ready to admit that the green carpet, presented over twenty-five years ago by Mr. John R. Hornbaker, has given all the service that could be reasonably expected of any carpet.

When the Ladies Aid Society repainted the church interior recently, the worn condition of the church furniture was thrown into sharp relief. Many of the members began to reflect that the entire church plant represented capital investments of former generations, and that those who worship here today are using the things that reverend hands of an older day left in their care. The wear and tear of the years takes its toll, and there is evident a need for more beauty and comfort in their house of worship.

The DeLong Furniture Company of Philadelphia, a firm long prominent in the field of church furnishing, has been awarded the contract. Mr. E. F. DeLong, of the firm, gave his personal attention to the project, and the Manassas church will have one of the most beautiful interiors to be found among the churches in this section of Virginia. The plans include a new chancel with pulpit and lectern, choir stalls, and colorful dossal curtain above the communion table. The pews, designed with the thought of comfort as well as beauty, will be placed as formerly. They will be finished in white enamel and walnut, giving the whole interior the colonial effect which the memorial windows and lines of the room require. No changes will be made in the architecture.

The Committee on Refurnishing is as follows: Mrs. J. L. Bushong, J. Dennis Baker, Feris Gue, J. H. Stauff, and J. L. Herrell. The order has been sent to the DeLong Furniture Company, and the work will begin immediately. Mr. Lewis Carper heads the Finance Committee. He is assisted by Mr. C. J. Meetze, who is writing to former members of the church whose addresses are known, giving them an opportunity to subscribe to this church whose addresses are known, giving them an opportunity to subscribe to this church-beautification program. Other members of the Finance Committee are J. L. Bushong, F. G. Sigman, and Edgar McW. Arey. It is the aim of the church to have the work completed early in October, in time for the Fall meeting of Washington City Presbytery, which will convene here during that month.

SOCIAL SECURITY OFFICES

The Social Security Board has established 6 field offices in Virginia. One of the functions of these offices is that of assisting workers aged 65 and families of deceased workers in filing claims for old-age insurance benefits. The offices are located in Bristol, Lynchburg, Norfolk, Richmond, Roanoke, and Staunton. The Washington, D. C., Field Office services the following counties in Virginia: Arlington, Culpeper, Fairfax, Fauquier, Prince William, Rappahannock, Loudoun, and the City of Alexandria. Virginia is one of the 5 jurisdictions in Region IV, of which G. R. Parker is Regional Director, with headquarters in the Bond Building in Washington, D. C. Through its regional offices, the Social Security Board administers old-age insurance and maintains its contacts with the States in connection with unemployment compensation and public assistance.

WINS THE DOLLAR

J. P. Irwin, of Buckhall, with 4 Irish Cobblers weighing 5 lbs. 2 ozs., has captured Mr. J. L. Linaweaver's dollar.

"No wonder", says the latter. "The first thing I ever taught him was to raise potatoes, and I have another dollar for any other Prince William farmer who can show such potatoes."

Mr. Irwin can get his dollar by calling at the Journal Office.

LOCAL PLANT IS ENLARGED

Prince William Enterprise Adds Machinery of Latest Design

Prince William Enterprises, Incorporated, of Manassas, has just installed the most modern equipment in order to extend their local service to improvements.

The new machinery is of the most recent design and those who appreciate fine mechanism should visit this thoroughly up to date plant and let its manager, Capt. A. F. S. Mackenzie explain the interesting and efficient operation of his highly specialized equipment.

The routine through which all garments pass has been worked out to the finest detail and represents a studied process by which the desired ends are attained in the shortest possible time under every possible condition.

Garments are collected by the routeman and a receipt given the customer which affords complete insurance until the work is returned. Upon delivery at the plant the garments go on the washing table, are tagged with a cleaning number and sorted according to delivery dates. Pockets are turned inside-out, trouser cuffs turned down and all loose material and lint brushed out. They then go into the bin for the day's work and are run through the new ultra-modern SEC cleaning machine, which is a marvel of mechanical performance. The garments are dry when they come out. Then they go to the spotting board where all difficult spots are removed by hand. Then they proceed to the pressing and ironing board and on the inspection rack where they are examined for thoroughness in cleaning and complete removal of spots. Any missing buttons are then replaced and minor repairs made. The garments are then placed in attractive bags, the original ticket is affixed and they are ready for delivery.

No heat is employed in the several processes and the individual attention given each garment, together with the unique mechanical treatment, the filtered cleansing solutions supplied continuously fresh to the cleansing machine, all combine to produce results not heretofore available in modest sized communities.

MARCHING THROUGH GEORGIA

Last week the President of all the people invaded the hospitable soil of Georgia as a self-styled "Yankee Democrat", and asked a Southern constituency to repudiate the veteran Senator George, who had been a strong Administration exponent, except where his loyalty to the safety and the propriety of his native State were concerned.

Not only Georgia, but the whole South, and the Nation as well, are all concerned with the outcome of this latest and most direct and unjustifiable invasion of the right of a State to select its own representatives in Congress without interference from the Chief Executive. A fundamental issue is at stake involving the independence of the various branches of our State and National Government, as provided by the Constitution.

"Yankee Democrats" have now gone as far as they can to destroy the present economic security of the South. They have been frustrated by the stubborn resistance of true Southern Senators and Representatives who have fought like their Confederate fathers in defense of their Constitutional rights.

The South has recovered from the effects of the War between the States. Again its "God-given advantages" have aroused the envy and hatred of Northern industrialists, who are determined to check the migration of their factories into the South where they may still enjoy a sheriff's protection from mob violence and can operate under costs permitting a reasonable profit for their stockholders. A Wage and Hours Bill, calculated to bring the South under domination of the C. I. O. and other radical control could not be enacted, and cannot be attained as long as men like our beloved Representative Howard W. Smith, and Senator Walter George, of Georgia, continue in office. They must be replaced by sycophants who are willing to betray the South. This is the fiat from the White House.

The answer from the Eighth District of Virginia has been given in no uncertain terms. We have demanded the right to pick our own Representative in Congress and we do not believe that in Georgia the Federal government can any more conquer the spirit of Southern Democracy, than could General Sherman, when he waged bloody warfare there against the defenseless women and children three quarters of a century ago.

This issue is larger than one of political parties. It is sectional—the North against the South, as truly as in 1861, and all Southerners, Democratic and Republican should stand shoulder to shoulder to again resist a federal invasion of the South.

SIX COUNTIES BAN SUNDAY BEER

A.B.C. Board Said to Contemplate Retaliation

Six counties and four towns have certified to the ABC Board that they have adopted local ordinances banning Sunday Beer-Wine Sales within their jurisdictions under authority of an act of the 1938 Assembly. Governing bodies that have certified such action to the State Board since the Act became effective June 21 are Accomac, Amelia, Buckingham, Craig, Highland and Mathews Counties and the towns of Louisa, New Castle, Saltville, and Scottsville. The Town of Bedford has adopted a similar ordinance but such action has not been certified to the State Board. The Board of Supervisors of Appomattox County has banned Beer-Wine Sales within the Board's Jurisdiction between midnight Saturday and 6 a.m. Mondays, the new ordinance becoming effective September 1.

A spokesman for the ABC Board has stated the control agency was studying whether it could prohibit the sale of 3.2 beer on Sundays within jurisdictions that have banned Sunday sales of beer and wine. Under present law, 3.2 beer is not classed as an alcoholic beverage. The board's representative said, however, the board might be able to rule 3.2 within the beverages banned on Sundays because it is a "beer."

During July last year 43 stills were uncovered, 25,105 gallons of mash and 1,458 gallons of whiskey found and 99 persons arrested.

IRON MAN LOU

A WESTERN HERO

Now it's the "Shootin' Iron-Man-of Baseball."

Baseball writers on the American League hook-up this season are going to cover the New York Yankees from machine gun nests, or else.

Or else the moguls are going to put bullet-proof glass in the press boxes.

Larrupin' Lou Gehrig, lance corporal of the Ruppert Rifles, has gone in for smaller Remington hardware—the Arizona six-gun.

He is co-starred with Smith-Ballew, the singing cowboy, in a 20th Century-Fox release entitled "Rawhide," now at the Pitts Theatre Next Saturday, August 20.

During the filming of the picture, the Columbia Clout-King learned how to handle an old-fashioned cap-and-ball canister so well that people were beginning to think Annie Oakley was back at her old stand. Of course, one look at Gehrig and they realized it couldn't be Annie any more.

But there is talk afoot that Gehrig is going to put a new touch into his game this year. Unverified reports have it that Larrupin' Lou will hit home runs and start running around the bases peggin' shots at the ball as it goes over the fence.

Portable Wirephoto Equipment Housed in Trailer

Sunpapers Of Baltimore Take And Transmit Wirephotos Anywhere In State

Top: Interior of Sunpapers' trailer, T. S. Smith at the transmitting end. The dark room for developing and printing of pictures to be sent by Wirephoto is at the other end. Bottom: Trailer and tow-car ready to travel wherever news is in the making.

When the battle of Antietam was reenacted recently, photographic history was repeating itself in one corner of the original battlefield, a mile and a half from Sharpsburg, Md. But it was photographic history with a decided difference.

Back on September 17, 1862, when the Confederate forces at Antietam met Federal troops in the most deadly single day's battle of the Civil War, Matthew B. Brady, the famous photographer of those days, was on the field with his cumbersome wet plate cameras and his covered wagon dark room.

In September, 1937, the reenactment of the famous battle on the same field was recorded by the most modern equipment known to science for the taking, developing, printing and transmitting of pictures.

The modern photographic paraphernalia is housed in a new automobile trailer built for the Sunpapers of Baltimore for the purpose of transmitting photographs by portable Wirephoto from any point where news may be in the making, to the newspaper building at Baltimore and Charles Streets.

From the Sunpapers' building, pictures of more than local Maryland news interest can be transmitted over the national Wirephoto network to dozens of newspapers from San Francisco to New York, from Dallas to Minneapolis, and points between. The newspapers hooked up to the network receive identical negatives simultaneously within a few minutes after the portable transmitter begins operating.

Outwardly the trailer looks about like thousands of others on the roads of the country today, but inside the picture changes. A broad built-in table across the front of the trailer supports the two units of the portable Wirephoto set.

A studio couch which incidentally opens up into a double bed provides a comfortable seat for the operator. Above the operator's head as he works are the vital telephone connections concealed in cabinets. Since Wirephotos are transmitted over telephone wires, these connections are the life-line of the trailer.

In the cabinets are terminals for common battery and magneto sets and a dial telephone, which enables the operator to connect with every kind of telephone now in use in Maryland.

The physical appearance of the "front room" is definitely pleasing. Dome and side lights provide illumination. The studio couch and three cushions are upholstered in light blue, while the floor covering is of dark blue. Ivory venetian blinds with blue control cords cover each of the seven windows and upper half of the door.

In the rear is the photographer's dark room. Light-proof when closed, this room contains chromium sinks for developing, built-in rack for a half-dozen bottles of chemicals, a portable enlarger, a heater for drying of negatives and prints and sundry other tools of the photographer's trade.

Water flows into the dark room sinks under pressure from a forty-five gallon tank. An ice box with a capacity of seventy-five pounds has been built into the dark room, providing a place to keep chemicals at the proper temperature. There is a ventilating fan which circulates warm air when the heater is turned on and cool air when the heater is not operating.

The trailer is equipped with extension cords and built-in electric plugs and can be plugged in on any regular 110-volt power line. However, if the portable equipment should be needed at some remote point, where regular electric power is not available, a generator built into the rear of the vehicle provides it.

Now that so much has been in the press about investigating "THE RED MENACES" Communism, Nazism and Facism, what better of true American Citizenship than the displaying of our Beautiful American Flag "The Stars and Stripes" on all occasions on which we as citizens of this beloved country should show real patriotism. Especially should every merchant and business man have an American Flag displayed on their places of business on such days as Washington's Birthday, the Fourth of July, Labor day, Armistice Day, Lee's Birthday and Decoration Day and on all other days which may be nationally recognized as entitled to receive recognition as such. Patriots; get yourselves an American Flag and do not be ASHAMED to show it on any or all occasions. It would be grand to see it on display every day. The more you look at it the more you will like it, and the more beautiful it will appear to you. Tradersmen: Deal with those places where you see the American Flag displayed. You will know you will be dealing with true Patriots. A RED will not display the American Flag.

There passed from among us in the Old Town of Occoquan a man who will be missed by us all; a man who was a true and good neighbor and a patriotic American. Elder William M. Smoot of Occoquan, Va., in his ninety-ninth year. Elder Smoot spent practically all his life in Occoquan and was an old Land Mark to the oldest inhabitants of the community. He was Elder of what we commonly call the "Old School Baptists". Whether we believed in his Theology or not, there is not question that Mr. Smoot was a good neighbor and was liked by all who were fortunate enough to have known him. He was laid to rest at Oak Grove Baptist Church, Hoadly, Va., commonly known as Bacon Race Church. It is a very pretty last resting place surrounded by large live oaks. A very restful and quiet place. We sympathize with all relatives of Mr. Smoot in this their time of bereavement.

Mrs. E. A. Willis and son, Allan, of Arlington, Va., spent last week-end with Mrs. Willis' parents, Dr. and Mrs. Brower, of Lone Oak.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lynn, of the New England states, are visiting friends in the neighborhood this week.

The supper sponsored by the Woman's Missionary Society of Sudley on Wednesday night of last week, was as usual, a very successful affair in spite of the torrential down-pour which came at a most inopportune time if the comfort of the assembling guests were to be considered. However, what the ladies considered an elaborate preparation, scarcely sufficed to meet the demands. It seems that weather conditions of whatsoever nature is never a deterrent when it comes to Sudley's suppers. People come, enjoy the supper and meet up with old friends and acquaintances, sit around and talk and just enjoy themselves even if it does rain. In fact there are a number of people who attend so regularly, that if they were absent, Sudley would hardly look like Sudley. This time the supper was supplemented by a musical program conducted by the young people of the congregation, who for the past several years have been taking music on various instruments—violin, guitar, etc., at the Haymarket high school and are now coming into service. This adds to the occasion in general and to the young folks in particular. So all in all, the supper was a grand success both financially and socially. Sudley is ever glad to meet her friends.

The Rev. A. B. Sapp, pastor, has announced a busy program for the churches on the Sudley circuit for the next few weeks. Commencing next Sunday, August 21st, an-day-Homecoming will be observed at the Gainesville church, which occasion will be preceded by a protracted meeting throughout this week at which visiting pastors will participate. On 4th Sunday, August 28th, an all day meeting and Homecoming will be observed at the Fairview church, and on 1st Sunday, September 4th an all day meeting will be held at the Sudley church. All these Sundays are designated "Home-coming" days to which all friends and former pastors are invited and many of them expected to be present. Programs for each day will be prepared as the time approaches. A cordial invitation is extended to bring your baskets and enjoy the day at your Home-town church.

RITZ BROTHERS OFFER "KENTUCKY MOONSHINE"

The three Ritz Brothers, taking a hilarious, tongue-in-the-cheek poke at the radio broadcasting studio's penchant for talent quests, are scheduled to open next Thursday and Friday, August 25-26 at the Pitts' Theatre in their latest starring comedy, "Kentucky Moonshine."

Interpolated through the plot of "Kentucky Moonshine" is a romance between Tony Martin, the popular radio (and more recently) screen crooner, and the delightful Marjorie Weaver, who has come a long way toward stardom since her "break" in "Second Honeymoon."

The romance in turn is accompanied by three hit-parade-destined songs by the prolific songwriting team of Lew Pollack and Sidney D. Mitchell, who provided three of the tunes for "In Old Chicago" among nearly two dozen other hits during the past year.

The story of "Kentucky Moonshine" is that of a group of unemployed entertainers. Marjorie Weaver, waiting her turn for an audition at a radio station, overhears a conference at which it is decided to send Tony Martin to the mountains of Kentucky to get "real" hillbilly talent. Miss Weaver foregoes her audition to rush back to the theatrical boarding house and apprise the Ritz Brothers of the radio company's plan.

How the brothers and Marjorie meet this situation does justice to the poet laureate of one of the more exclusive madhouses. They all hie to the hills of the Blue Grass State... don whiskers... become involved in a long forgotten feud... but manage to steer the talent scouts in their direction.

Extricating themselves from the obvious results of this fraud is what provides most of the uproarious fun of the plot.

CHRIST FOR ALL—ALL FOR CHRIST

The Word of God

BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

If parents will have their children memorize the daily Bible selections, it will prove a priceless heritage to them in their youth.

There is neither Jew nor Greek, there is neither bond nor free, there is neither male nor female; for ye are all one in Christ Jesus.—Galatians 3:28.

NO REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE

The Eighth District Republican Convention in session at Culpeper today decided not to nominate a candidate for Congress to oppose Judge Smith.

The convention also showed its good sense in re-electing our fellow townsman, Hon. W. E. Trusler as chairman of the Republican party for the Eighth Congressional District, a position which he has filled with distinction.

"PURGE" OR PROGRAM?

Why did President Roosevelt risk a damaging defeat by openly intervening in the Georgia primary? The American press seems to be almost unanimous in estimating that Senator George will be renominated despite Mr. Roosevelt's opposition. Only one newspaper whose comment we have seen—the Richmond Times-Dispatch—believes the President's influence will outweigh the record and reputation of one of the nation's strongest Senators in his own State.

In running this real risk was Mr. Roosevelt merely "purging" his party on a basis of personal loyalty, or was he defining and strengthening a liberal program? Quite possibly the two purposes were mixed. But we believe those who oppose the President will make a mistake if they adopt the easy assumption that the motive was wholly personal—Christian Science Monitor.

We wish to thank our various correspondents for sending their notes early this week.

HARLEY—BARNHART

The Pyrmont Church of the Brethren in Delphi, Ind., was the scene of a very impressive wedding Sunday morning, August 7th, at 7 o'clock when Kathleen Barnhart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Barnhart of Delphi, became the bride of Rev. Chester Harley of Chicago, son of Mrs. Mary Harley, of Manassas, Virginia.

The Rev. Samuel Harley, brother of the groom of Fort Defiance, Virginia, read the single ring ceremony in the presence of relatives and friends.

The altar was beautifully decorated with potted ferns and bouquets of hydrangeas. Preceding the ceremony, Robert Neuenschwander played a group of bridal numbers. Miss Inez Boyd sang "I Love You Truly" and, "At Dawning."

As Schubert's March "Military" was being played, little Carolyn Kay Barnhart entered carrying a basket of rose petals. She was dressed in floor length baby-pink taffeta. She was followed by the bridesmaid, Miss Frances Barnhart, cousin of the bride. She wore floor length light blue chiffon over satin with white footwear and carried a bouquet of fever-few, delphinium and scabiosa.

The bride entering after the bridesmaid was dressed in floor length gown of white silk lace over satin, fashioned over princess lines with long fitted sleeves. Her finger tip veil, fell from a bandeau of gardenias. She carried a linen handkerchief over 100 years old given to her by her grandmother. Her bouquet was of sweet-heart roses, delphinium and fever few.

She was met at the altar by the groom and Rufus King of Baltimore, Maryland, who served as best man. William Hufford and Robert Barnhart were ushers.

At the reception held at the home of the bride's parents a buffet breakfast was served to 45 relatives and friends. The table was beautifully decorated in the bride's colors of pink and white, with a large 3 tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom.

After the reception Rev. and Mrs. Harley left for a motor trip thru the southern part of the State and to Virginia, where they will visit Rev. Harley's mother and relatives. After August 21, they will be at home at 3435 west Van Buren, Chicago, Ill.

Mrs. Harley is a graduate of Rossville High School and attended Bethany Biblical Seminary in Chicago the past year.

Rev. Harley is a graduate of Bridgewater College, Bridgewater, Virginia. Both Mr. and Mrs. Harley will attend Bethany Biblical Seminary this fall.

Those attending from a distance were: Mrs. Mary Harley, of Manassas, Virginia; Rev. Samuel Harley of Fort Defiance, Virginia; Mr. and Mrs. John Harley, Indianapolis, Indiana; Rev. and Mrs. Sherby of Kokomo, Indiana; Rev. and Mrs. Fred Hollingshead of Monticello, Indiana; Mr. Rufus King of Baltimore, Maryland; The Misses Helen Wolfe Maude Broyles, Bessie Neff, Margarette Brower, Bertha Frantz and Messrs. Dale Kessler and John Weaver of Chicago, Illinois.

Rev. R. M. Graham is attending the Potomac Association meeting and conducting a revival meeting at Mt. Zion Church in Madison this week.

Mrs. Frank Peters is recovering slowly from her recent indisposition. (Continued on page 8.)

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of my dear son, Harvey Lee Cornwell August 15, 1938. There is someone who misses you sadly And finds the time long since you went For it's mother who thinks of you always But tries to be brave and content

I will never forget you nor do I intend I will think of you always. Yes, clear to the end
Gone and forgotten by some you may be But dear to mother's memory you will always be

Just a sad but sweet remembrance Just a memory fond and true Just a token of affection Dear Harvey And a sad heartache still for you His spirit has fled his sufferings over At the home fireside he will join us no more Loving Mother and Little Son.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Mind" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all churches and societies of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, August 21.
The Golden Text will be "Behold, God is mighty, and despoiseth not any: he is mighty in strength and wisdom" (Job 36:5).
Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Behold, I send an Angel before thee, to keep thee in the way, and to bring thee into the place which I have prepared. And ye shall serve the Lord your God, and he shall bless thy bread, and thy water; and I will take sickness away from the midst of thee" (Exodus 23: 20, 25).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker: "Health is not a condition of matter, but of Mind; nor can the material senses bear reliable testimony on the subject of health. The Science of Mind-healing shows it to be impossible for aught but Mind to testify truly or to exhibit the real status of man" (p. 120).

HOLY NAME SOCIETY REORGANIZED AT ALL SAINTS

At a reorganization meeting of the Holy Name Society held at All Saints Rectory on Monday night, the following officers were elected for the coming year: President, James Payne; Secretary-Treasurer, T. Avery Reid; Marshall, William Tobin. The members of the Holy Name Society will meet every month at All Saints Rectory on the Monday preceding the 2nd Sunday of each month.

The chief object of the Holy Name Society is to maintain and increase man's faith in the divinity of Christ; to promote respect and honor for Christ's Holy Name. An organized body of men striving heart and soul to make Jesus Christ, the Man-God, better known and better loved—this is the Holy Name Society and its aim. The Society further wishes to promote respect for authority, both civil and religious. The rejection or the minimizing of authority is one of the great evils of our day.

Total Annual Earnings More Important Than Hourly Pay

Wage Rates Are Higher Than in 1929, but Millions of Unemployed Do Not Benefit

Washington, D. C.—Do high hourly rates of pay mean good times—more money in the weekly pay envelopes of the nation's workers?

If so, workers are better off than in prosperous 1929, for wage rates are higher. In manufacturing, for instance, 1937 wage rates averaged 64 cents per hour, compared with 56 cents in 1929. In other industries, hourly rates also workers and a very large volume of unemployment is brought out in an income study made at the Brookings Institution. The study was financed by a grant from the Falk Foundation of Pittsburgh.

Hourly wages were reduced in the years immediately following 1929, with sharp downward movement of business activity, but they did not drop as much as the cost of living. Workers who retained full-time jobs bettered their position even while the depression deepened, but others suffered a decrease in income because of sharply reduced hours, or loss of employment altogether.

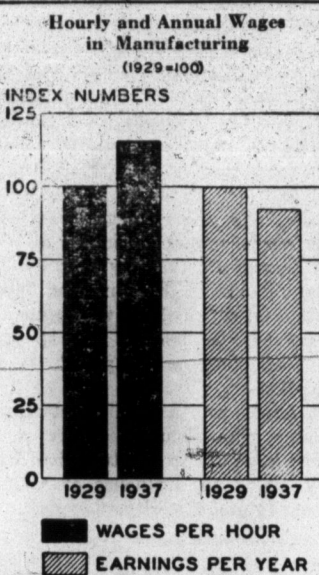

When recovery set in, hourly wages moved upward and continued to rise, spurred by the NRA and the pressure of organized labor. Hourly wage rates in the meat packing industry, for instance, rose 35 per cent between 1929 and 1937. In steel, the increase was about 32 per cent, and in many other industries it was around this figure.

Due to lower living costs the average industrial worker in 1937 could buy from 30 to 35 per cent more with an hour's pay than he could buy with an hour's pay in 1929.

Workers actually employed benefited in different degrees. In meat packing, hourly increases were enough to boost weekly wages 4.8 per cent over those of 1929, although hours were reduced from 51 to 39. Steel workers' weekly earnings declined about 6 per cent as hours were reduced from 55 to 39. In the silk industry, despite a rise in hourly rates of about 6 per cent, weekly earnings declined about 27 per cent, as hours were cut from 51 to 35.

Higher hourly rates, of course, did not help the millions of workers who were not on payrolls.

Increased hourly wage rates can bring greater income to the masses of workers only if accompanied by adequate employment. Hence, if high hourly wage rates are to result in well-filled pay envelopes, economic policies must be directed toward removing whatever obstacles lie in the way of an increase in business activity.

rose sharply, although statistics for them are not so comprehensive as for manufacturing.

Workers in most industries who were fortunate enough to have full-time employment were better off in 1937 than in 1929. But per capita earnings of all workers were less because many were on part time and many had no jobs at all. Even at the top of the recovery, in early 1937, eight or nine millions were estimated to be unemployed, and the figure is much larger today.

The contrast presented by increased hourly wage rates for employed

MR. TARKINGTON'S IMMORTAL 'PENROD' COMING TO PITTS

Both Tarkington wrote his adventure stories about Penrod Schofield, a typical, healthy, adventurous young American boy, more than 20 years ago. Most characters created in that era by even the most popular of American authors have long been forgotten.

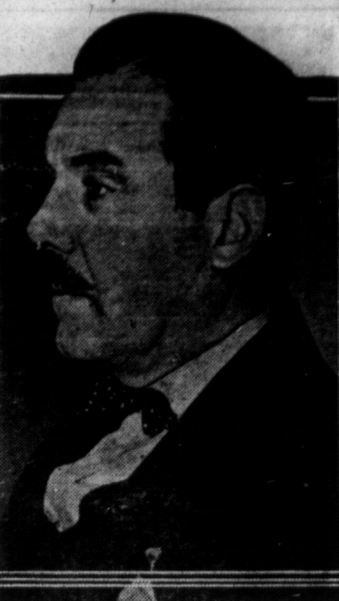

But Penrod begins to look like an immortal such as Tom Sawyer and Huckleberry Finn. He comes to the screen at the Pitt's Theatre Wednesday, August 24, in "Penrod and His Twin Brother."

Warner Bros., according to their advance notices, were obliged to make this picture, a comedy-drama, in response to an overwhelming demand not only from juvenile fans but from grownups as well. This demand was created by the enormous success of the first Penrod picture, "Penrod and Sam," shown last spring.

One of the attractions of "Penrod and His Twin Brother" is that it includes in its cast both of the brilliant 13-year-old twins, Billy and Bobby Mauch, who triumphed so notably in "The Prince and the Pauper," a few months ago. The earlier picture used only Billy.

You will find familiar faces in "Penrod and His Twin Brother," for example: Frank Craven and Spring Byington play Penrod's parents; Jackie Morrow is again the rival for leadership of the "Junior G-Men"; Philip Hurlie is his little Negro pal. But the story is brand new, and includes a kidnapping which gives the Junior G-Men; Philip Murlie is his little G-Men, headed by Penrod, a chance to do their stuff.

He married Miss Fannie Carter of "Elmwood", Fairfax county, Va., in 1890, who died in 1893. Two children, Mrs. Janie Lewis MacCall and Robert Lee Lewis, Jr., survive. He also leaves one brother, Mr. F. Warner Lewis and two grandsons, H. M. MacCall, Jr., and Robert Lewis MacCall.

THE EARTH

By Algia A. Martin

When you feel you are all alone
And have no one to call your own.
Remember that you and I, you see
Own part of each little bird and tree.

And God gives to us the refreshing rain

To wash away our heartache and pain.
When you feel all alone, just understand

God gave to us this beautiful land.

And all the beauty of nature is free
To be enjoyed by you as well as we.
And pray never say we are all alone
When we have the whole world, as our own.
