SUNDAY BEER PROHIBITED IN STAFFORD COUNTY

The Stafford County Board of Supervisors this week voted to prohibit the sale of beer throughout the county on Sunday. The measure has been under consideration for several months, but action has been deferred from time to time in order to afford opportunity for both sides of the question to be fully heard. The action of the Board was not unanimous.

The ordinance, which goes into effect October 17 also, prohibits the Sunday sale of wine.

MUSICAL NIGHT AT KIWANIS

Music was the order of the day at the regular meeting of the Kiwanis on Friday evening. It was a big change over from the "bank night" on the previous occasion when everyone learned something of the new Federal housing administration's ways of doing business.

C. A. Sinclair (Charmie) gave us some stirring songs, which were heartily enjoyed.

OD had some words to speak on the special Red Cross donation for flood and hurricane sufferers. Incidentally, OD is this year's Roll Call chairman for Prince William.

RED CROSS APPEAL

The Prince William County Chapter of the American Red Cross has been authorized to receive contributions, to the fund being raised, by the American Red Cross, for relief and rehabilitation of the victims of the New England storm disaster. Your contribution is needed, send to Mr. O. D. Waters, Treasurer of local chapter or to the representative of the chapter in your community.

ANNUAL SESSION OF DAIRY GROUP

Wheatley Johnson Named President of Association

The annual meeting of the Prince William County Dairy Herd Improvement Association was held Tuesday evening at the home of C. F. M. Lewis, retiring President, on the Manassas-Stone House Road.

The 1937-'38 production report was made by R. W. Dickson, in charge of official D. H. I. A. work in Virginia. The financial report was made by Elmer P. Hurst, Secretary-Treasurer, following which plans for the coming year were discussed by the group. The attendance of the membership was larger than that at any annual meeting for the past several years excepting probably that at the annual meeting held in connection with a banquet last year.

Officers of the Association for 1938-'39 were elected as follows: W. M. Johnson, President; Elmer P. Hurst, Secretary-Treasurer.

E. W. Thompson, C. C. Lyon and Wilmer M. Kline are additional Members of Association Executive Committee.

The meeting closed with a standing vote of thanks to Mr. C. F. M. Lewis, Retiring President, for his valuable services to the Association and hospitality extended to those attending the meeting.

SALIENT ADVICE FROM CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

You should buy from your local merchants because it pays you. It means money in your pocket. And it means money out of your pocket if you don't.

If you make a practice of shopping at the out of town stores you have only to figure up what your purchases have cost you, and compare the total with what the same bill of goods would have cost if bought locally.

For instance, your time, the inconvenience of riding out of town on a train or a bus, or driving your own car and then trying to find a parking place after you arrive and then the prices you pay because of the stupendous overhead the city store must pay. All of these things must be taken into consideration when you spend out of the community.

Every dollar that goes over the counter of the local merchants pays tribute to the entire community. It comes back to you in the fullest measure. The merchant having invested his money in his business in this community naturally has the interests at heart. If nothing more than a selfish standpoint, he is the best booster the community has, because the greater the well-being of its citizens, the more comfortable their home are and the better their surroundings are kept, the more efficient the schools, the better the fire and police protection and more attractive does the community prove to others seeking homes, and therefore the greater is the number of possible customers.

Buy From a Local Merchant and you assure Prince William County of a permanent booster. He does not plan to stay here for only a limited time, and then move to some other place; he is here to stay, for it is his home and the home of his children.

To Maintain This Leadership Your Local Merchants Must Be Supported. They set the pace and rally the forces of good citizenship. Go over your list of merchants and convince yourself that this is so. The men and women in your drug stores, your hardware stores, your service stations and garages, your restaurants, your dairies, your dry cleaners and tailors, your coal dealers, your bakeries, your dress and clothing shops, as well as other employers of labor, and others in the various affiliated lines.

THE BAD NEWS

NATIONAL GUARD UNIT FOR PRINCE WILLIAM

Any young men interested in forming a national guard unit in Prince William County are requested to contact, by letter, the Prince William County Chamber of Commerce.

It will be necessary to meet and drill without pay, uniforms, etc., for the time being. It is hoped that if enough interest can be aroused that after company is formed that it will be accepted by the U. S. Government as a unit in the 3rd. Corps Area 29th Division. If and when this company is accepted an armory can be built, the company will, of course, spend two weeks each year at one of the Army camps for the regular training period. The drills will be held one night a week and each man will then be paid for the drill period.

This is one of the many activities that the Prince William County Chamber of Commerce has planned for the county.

W.C.T.U. ELECTS OFFICERS

The W.C.T.U. held their September meeting at the home of Mrs. Will Thomason and was called to order by the President, Mrs. Seeley. A roll call followed in which each member present answered with a Bible verse and after transaction of routine business election of officers was held as follows:

Mrs. F. D. Saunders, president; Mrs. Walter Sadd, vice-president; Mrs. Herrell, secretary and Mrs. M. J. Hottle, treasurer.

A most enjoyable feature of the program was music by a quartette consisting of Mrs. Mary Compton, Mrs. Florry, Mrs. M. J. Hottle and Mrs. Mary Kline, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Agnes Thomason.

The next meeting will be held the last Wednesday in October.

INTERESTING FIREARMS

Mr. S. G. Whetzel on Tuesday brought in some very interesting pistols which were used prior to the War between the States. They were in shooting condition and it was a pleasure to see them.

CALLS ON SHIRLEY TO INFORM PRINCE WILLIAM CITIZENS

October 1, 1938.

Mr. H. G. Shirley, Chairman, State Highway Commission, Richmond, Virginia.

Dear Mr. Shirley: Even since July 1st many persons in Prince William County, and the two adjoining counties, have inquired of me as to when the State convict camp would be sent to Prince William County to begin work on Route 234. At first I invariably replied that it was probable that it was only a matter of a few weeks, as we had been assured by the Commission at its last public hearing that the allocation of funds had been made for this road and that the camp would be sent to us.

July 1st is now three months gone by, and my efforts to satisfy those who continue to inquire do not have the same effect as at first, and I must admit I am somewhat concerned about the continued delay.

Winter is near at hand, and it does not take an unusually hard one to

DR. MOFFET IS GUEST SPEAKER

Dr. McLedge Moffet, Dean at East Radford College, was the guest speaker at Loudoun County Achievement Day held at Leesburg on October 4. He addressed about 200 members of Home Demonstration Clubs of Loudoun County and members of clubs in near-by counties, 10 members attending from this county.

The theme of Dr. Moffet's talk was the "Relationship of Child and Parent." Her main point was that proper understanding between child and parent depended on how well the parent kept up on the modern day events and how they would naturally affect their child's outlook on living. She also brought out the fact that a Child's home life could be the greatest help or the greatest barrier in making him a useful citizen in later years when the running of his country is put in his hands.

Dr. Moffet stressed the fact that "Youth is not a year of life, but a stage of mind" and that in order to make a child's life what it should be, parents should "live with their children, for their children, and for their children's children."

TWO GAMES AT SWAVELEY FIELD

Sunday at 1 o'clock the Bolding Cubs meet the Clifton Aces in the first game of the day to be played at Swaveley field. The cubs and the Aces seem to be evenly matched.

In their previous games the score had been close but the cubs promise to give the Aces all they have Sunday.

The second game between the Manassas Macs and the Haymarket Moses also proves to be interesting and exciting. The Moses took the first game of the three game series 5-4 and then the Macs came back Sunday before last and trimmed the Moses 9-2. Both teams will be out to win so don't miss this thriller.

Should the World Series be in progress there will be a radio in the field to give the fans the results.

As this is the last game of the season for both Manassas teams come out and give them your support.

GARDEN SECTION MEETING

The Garden Section of the Woman's Club of Manassas had a most delightful meeting on Monday at "Paradise", home of Mrs. C. C. Lynn, with Mrs. Ayline Guthrie assisting as hostess.

The guest speaker was Miss Alice Webb, Home Demonstration Agent, for Prince William County. Miss Webb's topic being, "Fall Care of Lawns", she gave some splendid suggestions on how to rebuild and reseed lawns already established, some special mixtures of seed to use both on sunny and shady lawns, as well as proper fertilizers, when and how to apply them.

A pleasant social hour was enjoyed while the guests partook of the delicious and tasty refreshments, served by Mrs. Lynn and Mrs. Guthrie.

Thomas Cornette was last week picked for the All Star Service team. Cornette is a first baseman. He hit 376 this year, and completed the season with one error. He is also a member of the Honolulu Braves, who expect to tour the Orient soon.

He is one of the best all-around athletes in the service, and has made a record that will stand a long time.

C. & P. TELEPHONE

AIDS NEW ENGLAND

To help restore telephone service in storm stricken New England communities 37 Virginia telephone line-men and repairmen were mobilized and sent northward early this week in 14 fully equipped telephone trucks. Organized crews drawn from Norfolk, Richmond, Lynchburg, Roanoke, Danville, and Arlington are now in New England, joining forces with telephone workers recruited from the entire eastern seaboard to speed restoration of telephone communication in the storm torn areas.

This help is a dramatic repayment for the assistance rendered by northern crews in repairing the telephone system after the damage inflicted upon Pennsylvania, West Virginia, and the Ohio Valley by the disastrous floods of 1937.

Standardized methods, tools, and equipment make it possible for Virginia repairmen to work with full effectiveness on the New England lines and to co-ordinate their efforts with other forces.

Summoned shortly after the extent of the storm damage became known, the crews were quickly organized and began their northward journey immediately. Hurried arrangements included a telephone conversation over the new coastal and harbor radio telephone station at Norfolk to the Cape Charles ferry "Princess Anne", which permitted advance arrangements to be made for transportation across the Chesapeake Bay for trucks from the eastern part of Virginia.

Repair forces headed by H. N. Teasley, Richmond, are working in the vicinity of New Haven, while the construction crews headed by J. E. Jordan, Arlington County Foreman, are near Worcester, Massachusetts.

Additional crews are being held in readiness in case they should be needed to cope with the extensive damage done by the New England disaster.

BASEBALL GAME

The Moses A.C., by defeating Remington Sunday, clinched fourth place in the Fauquier League.

This Sunday, October 9th, they move on to Manassas for the third "battle of Manassas." This game will decide the Championship of the County; so, if you want to see a real battle and the Moses A.C. in action for the last time in 1938, don't miss Sunday.

The Moses A.C. would like to take this opportunity to let the public in general and the Manassas Journal know that they appreciate their loyalty and support to the Club for the last two years in baseball.

We wish to thank our various correspondents for sending their notes early this week.

You will receive careful attention, and due consideration will be given your suggestions, or etc. It does not help you or anybody to talk among yourselves what should be done. Bring your troubles to the Council who will give you due consideration.

Your scribe has visited several small Incorporated Towns in the State recently, and from observations made desires to state that Occoquan is about the cleanest small town in the state. We hope we can keep it so, and if all take due pride and co-operate, our town will be more beautiful as time goes on. We implore all citizens not to relax in their campaign in keeping our town clean and sanitary.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Johnson, of Manassas, had their little daughter, Margaret Ann christened Friday, September thirtieth, at the home of Mrs. Johnson's mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Tyers of Occoquan. Rev. F. L. Morrison officiated.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE
ANNOUNCES ESSAY CONTEST

A contest will be held in the Prince William graded and high schools on the subject "The Chamber of Commerce and what it means to Prince William County." They will be met at the city limits by a motorcycle escort of Washington Police and escorted to the Willard hotel, where they will stay.

One day will be taken up a guests of the Washington Junior day, the winner will see the Junior day parade from the official reviewing stand and will also act as one of the judges. There will be an airplane ride over the city and then to the United States Chamber of Commerce, where the Secretary, Mr. Skinner, will present the winner with a silver loving cup.

The contest will not be held until sometime in March, but we are announcing it at this early date so that all of the children will have ample opportunity to gather facts.

A HURRICANE BABY

During the lull which occurred between the two severe storms which swept the New England coast a few days ago, a daughter arrived to bless the home of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Colvin, of Manchester, Connecticut.

Mrs. Colvin was Miss Helen Beachley, of Manassas, and Mr. Colvin was raised at Bristersberg in lower Fauquier County.

In a letter to the Journal announcing the birth of little Miss Carol Beachley Colvin on Thursday morning, September 29, Mr. Colvin states that his lovely six-pound daughter arrived during the quiet period between the storms which did so much damage in that area. The first storm, a hurricane-sweeping in from the ocean was followed by terrific floods sweeping down the rivers. Mr. Colvin was out in the first, but says he did not realize its force until he observed the fearful effects. The loss of life, he says, was small on account of the fact that most of the summer residents along the coast had returned to their homes.

MONUMENT ANNIVERSARY

Fifty years ago today the most famous of all memorials to George Washington, the great Washington Monument in the National Capital, was opened to the public. In the half century which has elapsed since then uncounted millions have ascended the white shaft which dominates the Washington scene.

A story appearing in The Star next Sunday tells the details of its erection and completion, climaxing decades of obstacles, vandalism and uncertainty. It goes back as far as 1799, shortly after Washington's death, when Congress first passed resolution providing for the building of a marvellous monument in his honor. adv.

"MODERN WOMEN USING SEX LURES TO PREVENT WAR!" declares Joan Clair, noted beauty authority and president of the Clairol Company, just returned from a study of beauty and fashion abroad. She states that the colorful fashions, the new silhouettes and the brushed-up hair are the weapons European women are using to keep their men at home. "Certainly France won't start a war," says Miss Clair. "French women are so chic the men won't have them to fight."

ONE MAN TEAM? No, but this will soon be a familiar sight to Mr. and Mrs. America as Autumn rolls around again. Many a quarterback soon may wish he had as many arms.

FRED ALLEN signs his name to the dotted line that insures millions of radio listeners another season of mirth and music. The popular comic of "Town Hall Tonight" occupies his usual Wednesday night spot on the NBC-Red Network.

KATE SMITH arrives on the job at the CBS Playhouse off Times Square for first rehearsal of her new Thursday night radio series over the Columbia Network.

TIME LOST AND FOUND—Bonneville Salt Flats, Utah—John Cobb of London, England, who held the world speed record for a day, is shown inspecting the Green Curves for the side of the wrist that was awarded him when he made the record speed of 360.20 miles per hour on the Salt Flats here. The following day he lost the record to another Englishman, Capt. George E. T. Eyston, but he keeps his new timer. With him is Gus P. Backman, Secretary of the Salt Lake City Chamber of Commerce who presented the watch.

DRIVERLESS AUTO? Well, Chicago police say it will be if Mylio Ozuk, its inventor, doesn't secure a license for it soon. The bug-like car is rated by Ozuk at 150 miles per hour and has eluded police doing better than 90 m.p.h.

BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

If parents will have their children memorize the daily Bible selections, it will prove a priceless heritage to them in after years.

The wicked flee when no man pursueth; but the righteous are bold as a lion.—Proverbs 28:1.

PEACE OR POSTPONEMENT

The world rejoices this week that October 1 passed without witnessing the threatened commencement of hostilities between Dictatorship and Democracy. Countless thousands of men, in the prime of life, are grateful that they have been vouchsafed a continuation of happy existence. In the face of these eventful circumstances the fate of little Czechoslovakia seems unimportant. The existence of that artificial community, set up in an atmosphere of vengeance against Germany, certainly does not provide an international issue sufficiently momentous to plunge the world into a fearful carnage. It has, therefore, seemed expedient at this time to let the German Fuehrer have his way, granting him practically everything.

However, permanent peace is not likely to arise from the present armistice. The issues themselves lie unsolved. Demobilization will ensue, but there is no prospect at this time of any moderation in the preparations for war, but there is on the other hand an evident determination among the great Powers, that when the inevitable crash comes, the issues will be much more definitely drawn between Dictatorship and Democracy, with the probability that every great nation, including the United States will be drawn into the maelstrom.

It is not impossible, in the present "peaceful solution" which has just been reached, that we are witnessing a realignment among the Powers along lines which may bring England, Germany and Italy more closely together, as opposed to the national reversals of alliances are in the making, the first trend of which may soon be traced to the Munich Agreement, and which may become more apparent as events proceed in Spain.

CONSTRUCTIVE SERVICE

Deposit regularly and maintain a substantial balance in order that you may be better prepared for financial emergencies and opportunities.

The Peoples National Bank of Manassas

However we have great cause to rejoice in the continuation of peace. We should not be frightened at the idea that we merely are witnessing a postponement, because the whole history of the human race, so far, has been a record of war and of war postponement. Rather should we address ourselves vigorously to our national problems during this blessed period of postponement, in order that we, at least, may bear witness to the world that our democratic form of government is worth the great sacrifices which have been made in its behalf, and which will have to be made to prevent its eventual replacement by Dictatorship.

GOVERNMENTAL REORGANIZATION

As the world crisis settles down to peaceful solution, or indefinite postponement, domestic considerations are again forcing their way into prominence. One of these problems, which is likely to become a major discussion in the next Congress is the embattled project of consolidating the departments and agencies of the federal government.

The platform of the Democratic Party is pledged to a consideration of governmental reorganization along lines of efficiency and economy, but the effort by Congress so far along this line has not approached the problem from this angle at all, but apparently has used the Platform declaration as a vehicle by means of which all of the multifarious alphabetical agencies established by the New Deal as emergency measures should become permanent under the Civil Service.

Should all these agencies be blanketed under Civil Service, it would amount to legislative acknowledgment that the "emergency" has become a permanent and incurable national affliction. Conservative legislators, both Democratic and Republican, are as yet unwilling to concede that our national economy is permanently disabled, and they will continue to insist, with an ever increasing endorsement among the taxpayers of the nation, that there should be no attempt at reorganization which does not have as its basis the accomplishment of efficiency and economy.

NEW BUILDING FOR HIGHWAY OFFICE IN RICHMOND

P.W.A. authorities in Washington this week informed Governor Price that a $316,593 grant for a State Highway Office Building in Richmond has been approved.

Highway Commissioner Shirley said that work on the four-story structure that will house all divisions of the Highway Department will begin "immediately."

The building, to be situated on the vacant lot east of Memorial Hospital on East Broad Street in Richmond, probably will be completed by next July, Mr. Shirley added.

Exact cost of the building has not yet been determined, according to Mr. Shirley, as certain of the specifications have not been decided upon finally. The total expenditure, however, will run over $500,000.

The human side of BANKING

BECAUSE we deal in such cold and inflexible commodities as cash, facts and credit, it is perhaps logical to think of banking as being also cold and unbending.

But banking has its human side. The problems of people—real people just like you and your neighbors—enter into almost every action we take and every decision we make. In our daily work we try never to lose sight of this human side of our business.

We think you will like the aura of warmth and friendliness which you will find at this institution.

BOB MILLER, A.S.C.A.P.

Hill Billy Song Specialist

By Daniel I. McNamara

HE holds degrees in music from two conservatories. Composer and author he has made brilliant arrangements in symphonic proportions. He is a piano virtuoso and versatile instrumentalist. But transcending all his musical accomplishments is Bob Miller's mastery of the distinctively American musical idiom, the hill billy song.

Miller is composer of an incredibly large number of these mountain ballads. Because no one would believe one person could write so many, he uses a dozen pseudonyms covering various types of songs. Vasca Suede, Shelby Darnell, Trebor Rellim, Elli Divina, A. J. Adams, Bob Ferguson, Lawrence Miller, Bob Kackley, Dinny Dimes, Lawrence Wilson, "Inky" Hucklenutt—all these personages are disclosed in the records of the American Society of Composers. Authors and Publishers to be the same Bob Miller whose "Leven Cent Cotton, Forty Cent Meat," now nine years old, is one of the greatest record sellers in history.

Miller was born in a suburb of Memphis, Tenn., September 20, 1895, in the heart of the hill billy country. A natural pianist, he became a runaway orphan, worked his way around the country playing piano. Relatives and friends induced the adventurous youngster to complete his formal musical education at Memphis and Chicago Conservatories, but his schooling was interrupted by theatrical engagements and a brief foray into the prize ring.

His first bid for national fame came with the phonograph recordings of his unique Memphis musical organization, Bob Miller's Steamer Band Orchestra. Not only in the rural districts where the market is greatest for this type of song, but in the large cities these records soon became big sellers. Miller's penchant for telling current happenings in original song creations gave him a field almost to himself among songwriters.

To keep pace with the demand for new hill billy songs, he turned them out so rapidly that he became known among music publishers as the one-man music factory. Frequently he composed at a few hours' notice three or four songs which he telephoned from Memphis to the recording studios in New York.

Miller became permanently established in New York City in 1922, and now for a dozen years has conducted his own publishing house. He has produced about two score books of his original song creations and several hundred records of his songs have been made.

Miller describes hill billy songs as spontaneous music of simple folks. At their best they voice the two extremes of emotion, happiness and grief. The simplicity of Stephen Foster's works is of the nature of the genuine hill billy school of song, Miller explains, but Foster was a trained musician whose reverence for musical form estopped the use of non-conforming meter and tempo characteristic of most hill billy songs.

Miller as an authority on hill billy song often is asked to trace origins of ancient songs, and not infrequently he encounters songs of his own composition which have found their way into the mountains, there to be "discovered" by students and brought to him as sterling examples of early Americana.

Miller's current work is the management of his publishing house. He is content now to turn out a mere hundred songs a year!

TELEPHONE RESEARCH ACTIVITIES REVIEWED

Telephone Talkers

The popular idea that a person who wants to say something merely starts talking and keeps on until he is through, or until he runs out of breath, is not true of telephone talkers, according to a report by A. C. Norwine and O. J. Murphy of the Bell Telephone Laboratories, New York City. Instead, the average telephone user never talks longer than about six seconds without at least one short pause. On the average there is a pause about every three seconds. Nearly a fifth of the time is wasted in these short pauses that no one notices.

As part of the studies being made by the telephone industry of what might be called the anatomy of speech, the telephone engineers attached to a long distance telephone circuit between New York and Chicago an apparatus to keep records, not of the words pronounced, but of the speech energy passing over the line. A total of 51 calls was recorded, lasting a little more than 13,000 seconds. Everyone was found to talk in short bursts or cascades, called talkspurts, separated by the pauses mentioned.

Since almost anyone can hold his breath at least 20 seconds without discomfort, breathing pauses cannot explain this. Just what is the real reason remains a mystery, perhaps something not unlike the well-known habit of a reader's eye moving along a line of type, not continuously, but in a succession of quick jerks with pauses between. Perhaps human ears hear best in similar short spurts of sound, so that everyone automatically learns to talk this way.

NUMBER OF TELEPHONE CALLS REACHED NEW RECORD IN 1937

Overseas and Ship-to-Shore Service Extended; New Transcontinental Line Completed

Long distance telephone calls in the United States during 1937 reached a new peak with a total of about 55,080,000 calls. This was about 4,500,000 more than in any previous year, and 7,450,000 more than in 1936.

Teletypewriter service also continued to show steady improvement. There were about 3,550,000 teletypewriter messages in 1937, which was an increase of 638,000 over 1936.

A new record was also established for overseas radio-telephone service, when about 59,000 messages were transmitted, exceeding by 19,000 the number sent in 1936, which was the previous high year. During the year service was extended to Damascus, Syria; Bagdad, Iraq; Sofia, Bulgaria; Port au Prince, Haiti; Juneau, Alaska, and to two additional ocean liners.

Bell System telephones may now be connected with about 36,000,000 of the world's 39,000,000 telephones, and communication is possible with 73 different countries and localities.

Another important achievement of the Long Lines Department of The American Telephone and Telegraph Company in 1937 was the completion of the fourth transcontinental telephone line, which provides additional telephone facilities over a new route to the Pacific coast. This project involved a big engineering construction job between Amarillo, Tex., and Kingman, Ariz., and added one more route for the constantly increasing telephone traffic between the east and west coasts.

SHE GIVES YOU THE TIME OF YOUR LIFE

Shirley Temple always turns in a fine performance—as millions of fans will attest—but this time she gives you the time of your life!

She's a Shirley of surprises simply surrounded by singing, dancing, romancing, fun making show people. Broadway, which opens next Thursday and Friday, October 13-14, at the Pitts' Theatre is the musical thing to thrill to.

It's all about a little miss who lives in a vaudeville hotel with her foster family, Edward Ellis and Phyllis Brooks. When Jimmy Durante's jazz band gets too loud in its rehearsals, the wealthy neighbor, Edna Mae Oliver complains and threatens to close the hotel. George Murphy, her nephew intercedes—and while he wins nothing but enmity from his prim aunt, at least he wins the favor of fair Phyllis.

Led by the astonishing, amazing and brilliant Shirley, everything ends as it should—especially after Shirley convinces an austere judge that he should permit the actors to stage their show in the courtroom.

George Barbier, Edward Ellis, Jane Darwell, El Brendel, Donald Meek, Patricia (Honey Chile) Wilder and Claude Gillingwater, Sr., have an active part.

"Little Miss Broadway," under the personal supervision of Darryl F. Zanuck, was directed by Irving Cummings with David Hempstead as associate producer. The screen play is an original by Harry Tug-end and Jack Yellen.

SMASH PRODUCTION, FULL OF GREAT MELODIES & MOMENTS

"Alexander's Ragtime Band" is greater than they said it was.

Periodically Hollywood produces a picture that stands out as a beacon along the highroad of motion picture progress—and such a picture is Darryl F. Zanuck's production of Irving Berlin's great saga of three decades in the march of America.

Add story to cast and direction and 20th Century-Fox film at the Pitts' Theatre next Monday and Tuesday, October 10-11, amounts to a picture that for years to come will be remembered as a turning point—a new trend—the utilization of memorable melodies in a dramatic story of the screen's mightiest moment.

In the bewildering brilliance of "Alexander" one remembers that Power starts with a small band in a honky-tonk. Don Ameche writes the tunes which Alice Faye sings. Love smolders, flares, cools, blows up and is rekindled over the years for Tyrone and Alice. History moves before the eyes with the reminiscent melodies of Berlin as a gentle guide through the plot.

Such a story framework—the career of a young musician and the girl who sang the nation's love songs—two hotheads quarreling and parting, forgiving and finding love again through the music that was their life—is novel and scintillating.

Add to this story, score and cast, Director Henry King, fresh from his triumph in "In Old Chicago."

King's direction has that touch of perfection that gives every scene, particularly the romantic phases, the finish of a masterpiece. Alice Faye never was more beautiful nor did she ever sing or perform with greater effect. Tyrone Power and Don Ameche are equally tremendous in vividly contrasting portrayals. Ethel Merman, who comes into the story later, handles a role with her usual spirit. Jack Haley and Chick Chandler lend a pleasant comedy touch as members of the band and later as soldier pals of Tyrone's.

LORETTA YOUNG DISPLAYS FINERY IN NEW HIT

The gay outdoors season brings out all the splendor of light, flowery and wispy finery in fashions—and Loretta Young, Hollywood's foremost ambassadress of thrilling costume, arrives just in time to regale the feminine contingent of Manassas with several of the most gorgeous creations she ever has lavished upon her thousands of fans.

In "Three Blind Mice," 20th Century-Fox film at the Pitts' Theatre next Thursday and Friday, October 6-7, Miss Young is co-starred with Joel McCrea in a story which provides a plausible excuse for the utopian, gay Mexican fiestas and most in chic and charm—a millionaire yachting parties.

In the fiesta scenes she wears an adaptation of the costume worn by the fair señoritas of old Madrid. A pleated skirt of white chiffon, a yellow silk apron and a bodice printed in multicolored flowers are topped off with an innovation in mantillas (head shawl of lace.)

A daytime frock with prim tulips embroidered in pale green and yellow on the bodice panels. Triangular pockets create an interesting hip-line to accentuate the flattering flare of the skirt.

A swimming pool robe of raw silk printed in large multi-colored plumes.

Another daytime frock of muted blue crepe combined with a saash of smoky red suede. Tiny buttons on the shoulders, high neckline, gathered bodice, elbow length sleeves and a full circular skirt are interesting features of this costume.

COUNTY AGENTS COLUMN

WHEAT PROGRAM

Wheat farmers have been notified of the allotted wheat acreage that may be seeded this fall if they comply with the 1939 program. In addition to the wheat acreage allotment, each farm will have a depleting acreage allotment for other 1939 harvested depleting crops as corn, barley rye and oats. The wheat acreage was uniformly established for commercial wheat farms by deducting 28 per cent from the average wheat acreage for 1935, 1936 and 1937 on the farms.

The acreage of which farmers have been notified applies only to wheat and not to other small grain. It would be incorrect to state that in all cases that a man may finish out his corn stubble land with barley, oats or rye after seeding his allotted acreage of wheat and still plant his usual acreage of corn next spring but on practically all farms that have been checked, this has been found to be the case.

Farmers, who have finished out their corn stubble with other small grain or straight grass and can keep within their total depleting acreage allotment in 1939 should be able to come out ahead financially in most cases as well as being co-operators in the country-wide effort to bring 1939 wheat production more in line with what is needed for consumption.

HAVE YOU EARNED YOUR SOIL BUILDING ALLOWANCE?

Farmers co-operating in the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program, who have not carried out sufficient soil-building practices to earn their maximum payment have until October 31 to do so. Some of the practices for payment that may still be carried out are seeding grass, fertilizing grass seeded alone or seeded with fall grain, fertilizing pasture or hay land or liming any land.

CONCERNING 1938 AND 1939 FARM PROGRAMS

Each farm presents an individual problem and it is not possible to explain the programs in a circular letter in a way that it will apply to every farm. All who have not already done so are invited to come to the County Agents office and have the programs explained as they apply to their individual farms.

CATHARPIN

Mr. James Metcalf, of Sudlerville, Md., accompanied by his uncle, Mr. W. H. Haydon, of Manassas, paid the neighborhood a friendly call on Saturday last, where they found many friends of other days, who were glad to see them. Mr. Metcalf never misses an opportunity to visit Oakwood and live over again the experiences of his youth. Mr. Haydon, was quite indignant over the settlement of the Four Powers with a man named Hitler who lives some place in Germany. He thinks it was an awful mistake since he says "Hitler is no man; he's nothing but an animal." Along with this expression Mr. Haydon used several adjectives which left no doubt in the mind of the hearer that he meant just what he said; and no doubt there are many who will agree with him.

The Catharpin Good Housekeeping Club met on Thursday of last week with Mrs. L. L. Lynn of this city for their regular monthly meeting. As usual a full attendance graced the occasion and the usual fine refreshments furnished the topic most discussed around the festive board. The club's next meeting will be with Mrs. J. M. Piercy, Jr., of near Gainesville, where it will be entertained in October.

The many friends of Mrs. E. May Dogan in this neighborhood are delighted to learn that she is feeling much better from her recent illness. If thinking, good wishes, prayers and good will could avail, this "Idol of the community" would soon be well again.

Miss Ann Robertson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Holmes Robertson of Lawn Vale, is now confined to her bed for a long rest due to spinal trouble which has been bothering her for some time past. Instead of going on a "Sit-down" strike, her doctor has ordered a "Lie-down" strike until the trouble is arrested which may require several months to accomplish. Recently, Miss Robertson was employed by a wholesale firm in Richmond.

The Sudley Missionary Society met last week with Mrs. Janie L. McCann of near Manassas, for one of its best attended and most delightful meetings of the year. Coming as it did at the close of the Conference year, much business was transacted and things straightened out for the new year's work just ahead. The big event which is now absorbing the attention of the Missionary ladies is the annual Bazaar and Supper which will be held in the church on Friday, October 28th, 1938. This event is always looked forward to with much interest and pleasure by all concerned. As is usually the custom, meals will be served from 12 m. through the early afternoon and at night. The menu will be turkey, fried chicken, oysters and the "fixens" that usually accompany such culinary masterpieces. A cordial welcome awaits you. More anon.

The Sudley Wesley Bible class enjoyed a fine Get-together meeting in the lecture room of the church recently when some 40 members were present to enjoy the lunch hour and to plan for the future work of the organization. This class was organized in 1922 and has been fully organized and officered for the past 16 years. The coin card experiment was so successful and pleasing that all its 50 members voted to continue the system.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Are Sin, Disease and Death Real?" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all churches and societies of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, October 9.

The Golden Text Text will be "I will restore health unto thee, and I will heal thee of thy wounds, saith the Lord" (Jer. 30-17).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "What? know ye not that your body is the temple of the Holy Ghost which is in you, which ye have of God, and ye are not your own? For ye are bought with a price: therefore glorify God in your body, and in your spirit, which are God's" (1 Cor. 6:19, 20).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "When false human beliefs learn even a little of their own falsity, they begin to disappear. A knowledge of error and of its operations must precede that understanding of Truth which destroys error, until the entire mortal, material error finally disappears, and the eternal verity, man created by and of Spirit, is understood and recognized as the true likeness of His Maker."

Hints for Homemakers

How well some still remember That day long ago in November. When some of our Soldier Boys Came marching proudly home.

Rejoicing for them was gay 'long They celebrated with lighthearted song. But one old couple could not bear To look in a room, at an empty chair.

War took from them all their joy As all they had was this one Boy. So in making war, please do be slack It may be yours, that won't come back.

THE MARCH OF TIME

Twentieth century man, behold the wonders of nature

The eyes of the blind have been opened;

And the ears of the deaf have been unstopped . . .

Science opens the great book of mystery,

And reveals to us The March of Time . . .

We see our earth a spinning globe, A speck in the vast realm of space . . . Space!

Not as the lay mind thinks from point to point;

A great void—emptiness for the most part,

But worlds, suns, moons and nebulae Moving about in space

Controlled by that unyielding law, Not made by man . . .

Space, O, how empty!

From earth to sun 93,000,000 miles . . . A great solar system hanging in space,

And when viewed by the most powerful telescopes of man

Appear as mere points of light . . . When we call the roll of those best known

The Moon answers with a silvery smile,

And at times is only 221,466 miles from the earth

It moves within and without the earth's orbit,

And is owned by the earth, Carried along by the earth as the earth moves around the Sun,

Causes the Moon to travel in a serpentine curve

And always present the same face to us . . .

When we page the planet Mercury we have to have good ears;

It hardly has time to answer For, it is racing around the Sun,

The race is on, and around she goes, Eighty-eight days . . .

We whisper to Venus, In mythology, the goddess of beauty and love;

But by the ancient astronomic, as Lucifer,

And if it be morning, The answer comes as the Morning Star;

If it be evening, The answer comes as the Evening Star . . .

We roar at Mars; In mythology, the god of war;

In astronomy a planet of a deep and red color . . .

And Mars barely answers the man at the end of the telescope,

But quietly goes on its way Concealing its ancient secrets . . .

We call Jupiter, who has a waist line 280,000 miles,

And it takes plenty of time to answer us,

On its way around the Sun Twelve years go by.

THE WORLD AROUND US

PIONEER EXPLORERS OF NATURE!

That describes the pupils of the Greenbelt schools. This modern community aims to make the education of its children a co-operative process between pupils and teacher, the interests of the children coming first.

The basis principle of the plan is that self-education is the only real education any child or any person can acquire. No child or adult can be given an education. Nor can any person receive an education. Only as a person wants to know, seeks knowledge, strives earnestly to find answers to questions arising in his own mind does real education result.

On these convictions rests the Greenbelt school procedure.

A DAY IN GREENBELT'S SCHOOLS is a rich experience, provided you have an open mind and are not afraid of new things. A person cocksure about his own ideas, sure that the school in which teacher and textbook are the main sources of knowledge is the best school, will naturally scoff at Greenbelt's schools—just as most men ridiculed the first telephone, the first automobile, the earliest attempts at flying, and every other great invention that later revolutionized old methods. If however you are receptive to new ways of doing things and believe better methods of teaching may be devised, then you will find it highly profitable to study the Greenbelt schools.

IT IS MORE DIFFICULT TO TEACH in Greenbelt than to teach in the established school system where routine is repeated day by day and year by year until the teacher becomes a machine. Greenbelt has no fixed course of study, no rigid program. The teacher does not know in the morning what the day's program will be—it must be made at the beginning of the day by pupils and teacher co-operating, the interests of the children being of first importance. The children may be eager to weed their garden and learn about flowers and vegetables and weeds and soil while doing so. In the hour or two devoted to this work, teacher and pupils seek to see, hear, and understand the plants and the soil they handle. Geography, botany, zoology and other sciences, even mathematics, are all woven into a harmonious and living reality. Perhaps the children want to take a hike over meadow and thru forest in search of answers to their questions about geography and plant and animal life. Such a hike in field and forest is profitable in proportion as teacher and pupils are fellow explorers, eager seekers for truths that may be read in earth and sky, in the winding brook and the standing pool, ears and eyes alert to hear and see, each individual equally free to ask questions and to express his ideas and reveal his discoveries.

We wish to thank our various correspondents for sending their notes early this week.

SUN AND PLANETS AND STARS

are among the chief interests of children, even of pupils in the middle grades. This interest is clearly manifested as the day's program is being formulated. It was forcibly impressed on my mind when I received sixty personal letters written by sixty pupils of the Greenbelt schools, letters filled with eager questions about the earth, the solar system and other problems their minds were grappling with. Each letter was original, well written, and revealed individuality on the part of its author.

LAST WEEK FRIDAY I visited Greenbelt in answer to the wishes of these pupils. For a full hour I was kept busy responding to questions fired at me by sixty alert young minds. Their knowledge as well as their interest was a gratifying surprise to me. When the bell signaled recess at the end of the hour they wanted to omit the intermission and continue to seek and find understanding. Even at the close of the second hour they did not wish to give up the search for knowledge of the world around them. It is such seeking minds, minds that struggle actively and earnestly to understand something of the wonderful universe God has created, that make the ideal school. Fervent should be our prayer that no old-time schoolmaster will be able to interfere with this promising experiment in progressive education.

A UNIFYING THOUGHT binds all the daily programs into a constructive whole. Conservation, broadly conceived, of material resources and of human resources is the tie that binds all school activities into a carefully planned general design.

We wish to thank our various correspondents for sending their notes early this week.
