U.D.C. OBSERVES HISTORY HOUR

Reports Show That Lanier Day Was Observed In All County Schools

The Manassas Chapter U.D.C. held its March meeting at the home of Mrs. E. H. Marsteller with Mrs. C. R. C. Johnson and Mrs. O. D. Waters, assistant hostesses. Mrs. Byrd, president, presided. The attendance was large including Mrs. Leo Kasehagen, of Washington.

The historical period was full of interest. Mrs. Newman, historian, gave statistics relative to Charleston, S. C., founded by the English in 1762. The Virginia Division U.D.C. is offering a $15.00 prize for the best essay on Charleston, written by a U.D.C. member. Mrs. Ashford read an article from a recent Star about the "Stonewall" Jackson monument to be erected on the Manassas Battlefield, the state to select the statue. Mrs. Washington read a touching article from the Washington Post entitled "Child of Battle," written by Marshall Andrews, about Mrs. Judith Henry, who was killed in her home while the battle of Manassas was raging. Mrs. Marsteller exhibited clippings, among which the house in Grace Street, Richmond, where Gen. J. E. B. Stuart was born, and a picture of the original painting by Wm. D. Washington of "The Burial of Latane," which Miss Julia Sully recently discovered in New Jersey.

Mrs. Lewis Carper announced that a most interesting book "Tales Of A Country Parson," written by Rev. George Avery Chocklett, was to be presented through the Chapter to Mr. Robert Cushing, the only surviving Confederate soldier of Prince William County, in honor of Mr. Chocklett's father, Jesse Chocklett, who was a soldier of the Confederacy.

Mr. Chocklett is the father of Mrs. Leonard Lomas, and Mrs. Lomas and Mrs. Hutchison were asked to present the book to Mr. Cushing.

A letter was read from Mrs. N. L. Hall, of Fairfax Station, announcing the District meeting would be held at Woodstock May 17th. Mrs. Kasehagen presented a lovely large Confederate calendar, a gift to the chapter from Mr. Kasehagen, covered with Confederate pictures and old Southern songs. The Chapter's usual yearly contribution to Division expense funds had been sent in, namely, Division President's expense fund, Convention expense, Confederate Museum, State Education, Janet Randolph Relief, U.D.C. relief, Emergency Relief, Jefferson Davis Highway, Catawba and Blue Ridge Sanatorium Historical Work in Va. Division, Southern Literature in Home and Foreign Libraries, Stratford maintenance and Va-Tenn. Book Committee. The U. D. C. members who spoke February 3rd on Sidney Lanier, southern poet and scholar, Mrs. Lewis Carper, Mrs. Robert Hutchison, Mrs. Aylene Guthrie, Miss Florence Lion, Mrs. Dennis Baker, Mrs. R. L. Byrd and Mrs. E. B. Giddings, gave enthusiastic reports of the way the talks were received by the pupils and teachers. Lanier day was observed in the schools throughout the county, 1600 children having taken part in this program. The Chapter is placing a 1938 Va. Div. Minute Book in the High School library. Mrs. Newman, historian, is offering a cash prize for the best individual scrap book—the book winning this prize will be exhibited at the State Convention this fall.

Mrs. Marie Larkin and Mrs. Richard Hynson were appointed a committee on marking Confederate graves.

After adjournment, the hostesses, assisted by Miss Nancy Marsteller, served delicious pastries, nuts and coffee and the social part of the meeting was much enjoyed.

FORMER MANASSAS STUDENT JOINS HONOR SOCIETY

Miss Thelma Ward, a student of Strayer College, was initiated into Sigma Eta Sigma Fraternity on Thursday, February 23. The initiations for the Strayer Honor Society were held in the east room of the Mayflower Hotel. The new members took the final pledges and were afterwards entertained at a banquet given by Mr. E. S. Donohoe, president of Strayer College.

To become a member of the Honor Society, Miss Ward had to make at least six Honor Credits in three different subjects within six months of school work.

WHAT SHOULD THE TOWN COUNCIL DO?

(This story was submitted by an interested taxpayer who carefully checked up on figures contained here-with.)

During the year 1938 the Town of Manassas purchased 480,800 KWH of electric current, or energy, an average of 40,066 KWH per month. For this current the Town paid $13,218.00, plus the cost of maintaining a standby service which amounted to approximately $1,600.00. The average monthly cost of current purchased, exclusive of standby cost, was $1,101.50.

In January 1938 the Town bought 42,900 KWH, in December, 1938, 48,700 KWH, which shows the amount of current used by the people of Manassas is gradually increasing. The lower the cost of the current purchased, or produced, the greater the saving to the Town, or the lower the rate necessary to charge the users of electricity.

Bids received by the Council on February 27, 1939, for furnishing current, wholesale, to the Town were as follows:

Bid No. 1:
$0.02 for the first 7,000 KWH per month
0.01 for the next 26,000 KWH per month
0.0078 per KWH for all over 33,000 KWH pre month
Bid No. 2:
$0.019 for the first 25,000 KWH per month
0.018 for the next 15,000 KWH per month
0.016 for the next 10,000 KWH per month
0.014 per KWH for over 50,000 per month

Estimated cost of production of current by the Town if they install a new Diesel plant would be $0.01 per KWH.

What should the Town Council do? Accept one of the bids, and if so, which one, or produce the current with the Town's own plant?

PRE-SCHOOL CHILDREN ASKED TO REGISTER

The pre-school committee of Bennett Elementary School is putting forth a concentrated effort to secure the names of all children who will start in the first grade here next September.

Therefore, we are asking any parent who has not yet secured a blank for his child who will start to school next September to please do so at once from one of the primary teachers at Bennett School.

POST OFFICE FOLKS HAVE DELIGHTFUL EVENING

The family night of the members of Local 320 NFFE of Quantico, Va., March 1st, was a complete success from every point of view, beginning at promptly 7:30 P. M., one of the most excellent suppers the refreshment committee has ever prepared was served consisting of oysters fried, stewed, or raw with a delightful hot sauce and a goodly number of those present had a serving of all three with all that goes with a supper followed by ice cream and cake for dessert, immediately following the supper willing hands helped to clear the tables from the floor and while this was being done a short business meeting got under way to transact the business of importance which came before it. The cedar chest committee by which the funds for the Shad Planking will be raised reported progress and urged that each member dispose of his allotted number of tickets and turn in the proceeds by the 5th of April. The spring run of Shad will determine the date in the first part of May this outing will be held. Following this short meeting all gathered in the lower hall to take part in a delightful square dance to the music of Comrade Crismond's string orchestra. Many were the favorable comments on the afternoon and all are looking forward to another of these pleasant gatherings.

The Ladies of Trinity Guild have been very successful with their hot lunch sales this week.

TO SPONSOR GLEE CLUB CONCERT

Woman's Group Entertains Prominent Political Economy Speaker

Due to the prevalence of colds, only a small group of members were present at the monthly meeting of the Manassas Woman's Club, held on Wednesday afternoon, March 8.

Mrs. T. J. Broadus, chairman of the Garden Section, told of plans for a spring bulb show to be held later. At the suggestion of Mrs. Dennis Baker, chairman of the Music Section, the club voted to sponsor a concert by the University of Virginia Glee Club to be held in the high school auditorium the latter part of April.

A new member, Mrs. C. W. Staggs, was welcomed into the club.

Miss Hilda Moser, a guest from the Junior Woman's Club, spoke of the work they are doing in the baby clinics and announced a rummage sale to be held in two weeks. She also invited all members to attend the meeting of the Junior Woman's Club at the home of Mrs. A. A. Hooff tonight, with Mrs. M. G. Willis as guest-speaker.

Mrs. Wm. Lloyd said that plans for the Easter Monday dance are progressing nicely. A popular orchestra has been engaged and everything possible is being done to make this dance the outstanding social event of the season.

The guest-speaker, Mrs. Edgar Merritt, president of the Political Study Club, Washington, D. C., was introduced by Mrs. Lloyd. Her topic, "Women in Politics," proved a most interesting one. She stressed the importance of an active interest being taken in politics by all women, and criticized the indifference of those who feel that they are too busy with home cares to take such an interest. She urged that they, as mothers and citizens, study civic and political problems and then vote for the candidate upholding the principles for which they stand. She said, "We cannot all be leaders, but we can all help choose our leaders."

Mrs. Ernest Humphrey Daniel, president of the District of Columbia Federation of Women's Clubs, expressed her pleasure at being a guest of the club, as did her guest, Mrs. George Stringfellow, of Mont Clair, New Jersey.

Hostesses on this occasion were: Miss Margaret Lynch, Mrs. C. C. Lynn, Mrs. J. P. Lyon, Mrs. A. A. Maloney, Mrs. E. H. Marsteller and Mrs. Dudley Martin.

LILLIAN DALE HOPKINS

Mrs. Lillian Dale Hopkins, age 84, died very suddenly at her home in Manassas on Wednesday, March 1. She had been in failing health due to age and had suffered a recent attack of flu, which further weakened her but her death was entirely unexpected.

Mrs. Hopkins was the daughter of Margaret and Temple Smith and a native of Fauquier County, Va. She was born there in the year 1855. All her life she had been a member of the Episcopal Church and belonged to Trinity Church, Manassas, at the time of her death.

On October 3, 1883, she married Charles Augustus Smyth Hopkins and of this union survive one daughter, Miss Margaret Temple Hopkins, of Manassas, and a son, Mr. Charles M. Hopkins, of Washington, D. C. She is also survived by one sister, Miss Margaret Reid Smith, of Manassas.

Mrs. Hopkins was one of the oldest native residents of Manassas and much beloved by all who know her. Making her home at Temple School she was "grandmother" to all the little children. She was affectionately known as "Mere" to both faculty and students and up until the last manifested the greatest interest in their daily activities.

The funeral service was conducted at Trinity Episcopal Church on Friday, March 3rd, at 2:00 p.m., by Rev. A. Stuart Gibson and interment was in the Manassas cemetery. The pallbearers were Messrs. Allison Hooff, Sr., Robert Smith, M. M. Ellis, C. M. Harris, O. D. Waters and Robert Weir.

A profusion of lovely flowers gave evidence of the love and esteem with which the deceased was held and her passing was the occasion of widespread sorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. Keith C. Allison announce the birth of a daughter on March 8th.

A BOOK TO READ

by Clarence Wagener

In Robert Burns' poem "Man Was Made to Mourn" will be found the oft-quoted lines—

Man's inhumanity to man
Makes countless thousands mourn!

Here the beloved Scot had in mind the cruelties and injustices suffered by the lowly laborers of his day, which included just about all who worked with their hands. But were Burns alive now and writing verse, wouldn't he of the loving heart be likely to pen a lament for the millions of refugees of our time who, either because of the misfortunes of war or the ukases of tyrants, are deprived of citizenship and property and set adrift in a sorely-troubled world?

It is no fun to read the official accounts of such barbaric treatment of your fellow human beings. There are a sufficient number of rage-provoking occurrences in your immediate experiences to bring on eventually high blood pressure. In fact, wouldn't it be better if you were to skip or skim through the fulsome daily newspaper reports of the sufferings of refugees? Rather than saturating your mind with the specific, gruesome details, which no possible action on your part can rectify, let a master storyteller—one who writes from first-hand contact with refugees—take you along, as it were, with an expatriated family as they move on from place to place, all the while finding the going rougher and rougher.

"Cities of Refuge," a novel by Philip Gibbs (Doubleday, Doran; 1937; 470 pages) relates what happened to the Markovs, a White Russian family, when the Bolsheviks came into power. Through the aid of their English governess and a young officer in the British Navy, the Markovs got out of Sebastopol in the nick of time. They had their lives, but little else.

For short periods they existed (that's the word) on the island of Prinkipo and successively in Constantinople (Istanbul), Vienna, Berlin and Paris. In Paris, the dejected family, consisting of mother, son and two daughters (all adults), was broken up by the death of the mother. But ahead of the son were vivid experiences in New York and London.

Various historic figures of recent years—Wrangel, Dollfus, the Grand Duchess Marie, Hitler, to mention a few—appear in this stirring and accomplished novel. It is, first, good entertainment. It is also an eloquent plea for peace and for fair treatment of war's losers and racial minorities everywhere.

CHRIST FOR ALL—ALL FOR CHRIST

The Word of God

It is a duty to read the Bible daily and to let its teachings guide our lives. It is a privilege to have the Bible read to us in our homes and in our churches.

Seek the Lord, and his strength; seek his face evermore.—Psalm 105:4.

CAN DEMOCRACIES SURVIVE?

For good or ill, the world's destinies depend on one question. The question is whether democracy is equally capable of armed defense and self-preservation under the iron pressure created by the dictatorships; or whether the free societies, proved incapable, shall doom themselves to fall. A greater political and human issue has not been at stake through all time. That issue at long last is now to be brought a head amongst ourselves by the final call for national effort on a voluntary basis. The answer within the next couple of months—that is up to some point well before Easter—may go farther than might at first sight be supposed to determine our own future for better or worse and much more than our own. If Britain could not keep the citadel of the world's freedom unconquerable no democratic system could survive on this side of the Atlantic.—London Observer.

CONGRESS REMINDS THE PRESIDENT

On the occasion of commemoration of the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the establishment of the government of the United States, the Congress on March 4th put on a good show for the edification of the world in general and the President of the United States in particular, for he, more especially has questioned the basic framework of our democratic form of government.

Although a distinguished invited guest, participating most prominently in the celebration, the President of the United States must have taken to himself the remarks of various illustrious speakers who reminded him, along with the rest of the world, that our three primary branches of government must remain distinct, as designed by our forefathers, if the United States is to continue and prosper as a democracy.

Throughout the address of the President, however, there seemed to be a note suggesting enforced restraint, probably most evident in his references to "freedom of the press," and likewise in his almost belittlement of the courageous achievement of our Revolutionary patriots in accomplishing independence, but nevertheless, the whole celebration was one of great value. Primarily it was a notification from two branches of government that they now insist upon their Constitutional independence of the Executive. Also the celebration was designed to warn the world that the vast resources of the United States are truly dedicated to perpetuation of our government in the original form devised by the founders of our Republic.

RESOLUTIONS

Whereas, our all Father has seen fit to remove from our midst, Brother Charles Russell McDonald, the man on whom Sudley depended for twenty-five years, and

Whereas, he so faithfully served as secretary of the Board of Stewards, as Secretary-Treasurer of the Cemetery Committee, as Sunday-School Superintendent and as Bible Class Teacher, therefore be it Resolved, by the Official Board and members of Sudley M.E. Church, South, First, that in the going of Brother McDonald our church has sustained a great loss. Second, that we extend our heartfelt sympathy to his wife and to his son and family.

Be It Further Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to his family and also spread upon the minutes of the church board.

IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving remembrance of our dear husband and father, George Jackson, who departed this life one year ago, March 11, 1938.

A loved one from us has gone
A voice we loved is still
A place is vacant in our home
Which never can be filled.

Our loved one is quietly sleeping
In the silent grave yard ground
And our hearts silently weeping
For the one we miss from home

His busy hands are folded
His work on earth is done
His trials here are ended
His Heavenly Crown is won.

One year ago when you left us
And went away to be with God
And his Angels that was a Sad March day.

Some may think we are not lonely
When at times they see us smile
Little do they know the heart aches
That we suffer all the while.

Every day brings back sweet memories
Every day brings back a tear
Deep within our hearts, we cherish
Thoughts of the one we loved so dear.

Days of sadness still come over us
Tears of sorrow silent flow
Memory keeps you ever near us
Though death claimed you one year ago.

Relentless death among us comes
And bitter grief imparts
It takes loved ones from our homes

But never from our hearts
Never shall we cease to love you
Never shall your memory fade
Sweetest thoughts forever linger

Around the spot where you are laid
Sleep on, dear, and take your rest.
God called you home, He thought it best.

He saw your suffering here was great
And opened with the Golden Gate.

By his devoted wife and children. 44-1-x

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Kate Watson who passed away two years ago February 23, 1937.

Whose love can equal the love of their mother.

Whose devotion so loyal and true
Who suffers so much with such joy for another

Who works with such pleasure as mother for you.

You hail with delight the friendship of others,

You revel in love of the sweetheart
you've won,

Yet where do you find a friendship
like mothers,

Unbroken till death calls life's work is done.

You don't know the sorrow to be left alone.

Till God sends the message to your home.

Tis sad when he calls for one or the other

But the saddest of all is when God calls your mother.

If he had asked us, well you know
We would have said, "please don't take her,

And with tear dimmed eyes and broken hearts

God, we love and need her,
But God, you know best,

God, grant some day we will meet again in heaven.

Your Lonesome Children and Husband.

IN MEMORIAM

Stefko, Johana, in loving memory of our dear wife and mother, who passed away 3 years ago today, March 17, 1936.

The moon and stars are shining upon a flowery grave

Where sleeps our darling mother,
We loved and could not save.

But God loved her, too, it was His will.
The heavenly gates opened, a lovely voice said, "Come."

And with a farewell unspoken, she gently entered home.

We mourn for you, dear mother,
Tho' not in as outward show—

For the heart that mourns sincerely, mourns silently and low.

Her Loving Husband and Children.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving remembrance of my dear son, Johnnie L. Florance, who left me two years ago, March 7, 1937.

Two years have passed, dear baby,
since you were called away

How well do I remember that sad and dreary day.

The years may wipe out many things, but this they wipe out never

The memory of those happy days when you and I were together.

We may all have our sorrows, some griefs quickly die away.

But the parting of you, dear baby,
grieves my heart from day to day.

By his loving and lonesome mother,
Mrs. Emma V. Florance.

"QUEEN OF TAPS" OFFERS SENSATIONAL NEW DANCES

Dancing, singing, romance and laughs are represented by the top-notchers in their respective fields in the star-packed cast of the new M-G-M musical, "Honolulu," which opens at the Pitts' Theatre next Thursday and Friday, March 16-17.

Eleanor Powell, the screen's renowned Queen of Taps, handles the dancing end of the lavish new picture, with the other headliners composed of Robert Young and the inimitable comedy team of Burns and Allen. Prominent supporting parts are filled by Rita Johnson, Clarence Kolb, Jo Ann Sayers, Ann Morris, Willie Fung, Cliff Clark, Edward Gargan, Eddie Anderson, Sig Rumann, Ruth Hussey, Kealooha Holt and Edgar Dearing.

Edward Buzzell, former Broadway musical comedy star, was the director. Jack Cummings, who produced "Born to Dance" and "Broadway Melody of 1938," produced the new musical.

Miss Powell introduces three specialties; "Hymn to the Sun," a tap hula, based on the traditional Hawaiian dance; an imitation of Bill Robinson's entertaining stair dance, and a tap dance done with a skipping rope.

Scenes range from Hawaii to Broadway, with some on shipboard, and the musical numbers balance Miss Powell's dances. The work of the noted song-writing team of Harry Warren and Gus Kahn, they include "This Night Will Be My Souvenir," "The Leader Doesn't Like Music" and "Honolulu," the latter sung by Gracie Allen.

The story concerns a screen star, impersonated by Young, who wears of the Hollywood routine and wants to get away for a rest. On a big "opening night" he encounters his opportunity when a Hawaiian planter, who closely resembles him, is mobbed by autograph fiends in the theatre lobby.

The actor arranges with the visitor for an exchange of personalities and the chap agrees almost too readily. The deal is made and Young heads for Honolulu, while the planter continues to impersonate the star.

Aboard ship, Young meets Eleanor Powell, a cabaret dancer, and, of course, falls in love with her. The complications become serious in Hawaii when he learns that he is wanted there for embezzlement and also is engaged to a girl he never saw. Both the missing money and the girl rightfully are the worries of "him double," who is somewhere in the States.

The confusion is finally straightened out when the planter is induced to return to the island, there to face his difficulties and allow Young to return to his own character.

COSSACK—GANGSTER PART MARKS TAMIROFF'S MOST VIVID ROLE

Akim Tamiroff's role of Cossack in the new offering "Ride a Crooked Mile," which will open next Wednesday, March 15th, at the Pitts' Theatre, is the latest evidence that Hollywood believes in casting stars in roles in which they will feel at home.

Not that the Russian actor is a Cossack! He would be the first to disclaim any kinship with the lawless, vicious horsemen of the steppes! But during his boyhood in Baku, Tamiroff formed a close friendship with a tribe of Cossacks nearby and received his first training in the art of horsemanship from them. In the company of these untamed riders he thundered across the steppes, filling his blood with the wild, mysterious spirit of Russia.

This drama marks only the second time Tamiroff has played a member of his own nationality on the screen. It is the first picture in which he has been cast as a Russian and lead at the same time. He played a Chinese in "The General Died at Dawn," an Indian in "Lives of a Bengal Lancer" and an expatriated Frenchman in "The Buccaneer." The recent "Spawn of the North" gave him his first Russian role.

Tamiroff's role in his latest picture is by all odds the most amazing of his career. He will be seen as an untamed Cossack chieftain who tries to transplant the life of the steppes to the plains of Kansas and to rule his son's life and romance by gangster methods. Hard-riding, law-defying, a human tempest, he runs afoul of the United States government while stealing cattle, and lands Leavenworth prison. His titanic efforts to break out of jail force his Americanized son to choose between his devotion to his father and his honor as a soldier in the United States cavalry.

Co-featured with Tamiroff in this exciting picture are Leif Erikson and Frances Farmer, man and wife off the screen, who are now teamed together for the first time. Miss Farmer is Tamiroff's bewildered ward, and Erikson is his son. In supporting role are Lynne Overman and Vladimir Sokoloff.

"Substance" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all churches and societies of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, March 12.

The Golden Text will "Honour the Lord with thy substance, and with the firstfruits of all thine increase" (Pro. 3:9).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "The eternal God is thy refuge, and underneath are the everlasting arms" (Deut. 33:27).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "All substance, intelligence, wisdom, being, immortality, cause, and effect, belong to God. These are His attributes, the eternal manifestations of the infinite divine Principle, Love" (p. 275).

MORNING PRAYER

Awake from slumber sweet,
I lift my thoughts
In prayer and praise,
To God in thankfulness,
For health and strength
To find each duty
A pleasing task for Thee
Yet my God and Saviour dear
If I should weary grow,
And lose my "grip"
I'll breathe again,
My morning prayer—
Then find it sweet
With all my might
To work it out
The task He gave
And finish well
The work begun
At early dawn,
—Contributed.

BEAUTY TIPS

By Virginia Lee

YOU'VE heard the old saying—"she's a lady to her fingertips"—it still goes! And for her ladyship we can't think of anything nicer than a modern manicure set. We saw a smart and inexpensive one the other day called the Observatory Set. It comes in a modern plastic case and contains all the necessities for a complete manicure.

Another aid for the care of her ladyship's nails is the glycerated polish remover pads in tall jars that look as if they were lace lined. Each jar contains 40 pads, one pad sufficient to remove polish from all ten fingers. In short, a supply for almost a year!

There are sixteen smart tones in creme nail polishes—from Natural to deep Vineyard; hand cream to keep skin white and smooth; nail-groom to keep nails from splitting, cuticle from drying. With these at our command it is easy to be smart to our fingertips.

"SWEETHEARTS" AT PITTS' THEATRE MARCH 13-14

Three anniversaries were celebrated when "Sweethearts," fifth co-starring musical for Jeanette MacDonald and Nelson Eddy, entered production.

It was Miss MacDonald's birthday and also the first anniversary of her marriage to Gene Raymond. Recording of the Victor Herbert melodies began on the third anniversary of her teaming with Eddy in their first great hit, "Naughty Marietta," also from the Herbert pen.

"Sweethearts," furthermore, represents the first reunion of the "five-man team" responsible for the success of "Naughty Marietta": MacDonald and Eddy as co-stars, Frank Morgan heading the supporting cast, W. S. Van Dyke II directing and Hunt Stromberg bringing the picture to the screen.

Eleven days after the cameras turned Nelson Eddy also celebrated his birthday anniversary on the set, so two parties launched the picture.

Curiously enough, the New York premiere of the Herbert operetta, September 8, 1913, had a MacDonald in the starring role. She was Christie MacDonald, no relation. The male lead was Thomas Conkey as the Prince and the comedian was Lionel Walsh, whose film successor is dancer Ray Bolger. The first tryout production of the stage piece was at the Academy of Music in Baltimore, March 24, 1913. The libretto was written by Harry B. Smith and Fred de Greasac, the latter a pen name for Mme. Victor Maurel.

In the screen play, the first modern story for MacDonald and Eddy, written by Dorothy Parker and Alan Campbell, the librettist is Mischa Auer, the composer Herman Bing, a battling duo throughout.

QUIET TALKS ON RELIGION

BY DR. JAMES T. MARSHALL

HIS RIGHT TO FAMILY SANCTITY

"Thou shalt not commit adultery." Interpreted in its spirit, the Seventh Commandment is one of the loftiest in the Decalogue. It stands on the same height as the Savior's declaration "Blessed are the pure in heart."

It is true that it strikes at a specific sin, at the most degrading sin which has ever cursed humanity. Adultery is the most degrading sin because it strikes at the very foundation of the Divine ideal for man who was created in the image of God, made but little lower than the angels and crowned with glory and honor. It drags man down to the level of the beasts which inhabit the jungle and the barnyard.

The central thought in the teachings of our Lord is the dignity of man as a son of God, whose place is not in the far country among the swine, but in his Father's house where his rags may be exchanged for his best robe, and his hunger and misery for feasting and dancing. When Jesus spoke of eternal life He was not thinking of the length of life but of its quality. He would have us live in a manner worthy of beings destined for the fellowship of God and the angels. When St. Paul found it necessary to rebuke the sexual vice which tempted some of his new converts in the Church of Corinth he held up the same lofty ideal of Jesus. "Know ye not," he asked, "that your bodies are the temple of Holy Ghost?" and he added "If any man defile the temple of God, him shall God destroy."

The security of society rests ultimately on our ability to keep the purity of family life inviolate. When the family goes both state and church go with it. The family was first on the field, and God intended it to be the basic unit of human life. No human substitute has ever succeeded, whether it be free love, polygamy, or the modern way of "trial marriages" and easy divorce.

Bernard Shaw has called Hollywood "the cancer spot of America." He should have included Reno and the small towns which harbor the "marrying parsons." In no line is the moral degeneracy so marked as in our attitude toward the relation of the sexes. In many of our books, magazines and pictures every vestige of delicacy and decency has been thrown to the winds, and children discuss things which would have brought a blush to the cheeks of their parents.

There can be no outward reformation until we purify our thinking on this subject, and put marriage back on the high plane of christian teaching. What can be more beautiful than the home constituted after the ideals of Jesus, where one man and one woman are united in the bonds of holy love and loyalty, in bonds which will, not be severed until death do them part?

Recall the charm of the picture painted by Robert Burns in his familiar poem "The Cotter's Saturday Night," in which he describes the home of humble laboring man, and tells of his return from his work at the close of the day. After the evening meal the Bible is brought out, a few verses are read and all bow reverently prayer. I have always been impressed by the closing lines of this poem,

O Scotia, my dear my native soil,
For whom my warmest prayer to heaven is sent,
Long may thy hardy sons of rustic toil

Be blessed with health and peace and sweet content;

And, O may heaven their simple lives prevent

From luxury's contagion weak and vile,

That howe'er crowns and coronets be rent,

A virtuous populace may rise the while,

And stand a wall of fire around our much loved isle.

FARMERS LOSE TWO GAMES

On Wednesday evening, March 1, the Junior Farmers lost a hard fought game to Herndon Fire Department at Herndon. The game was loosely played throughout the first period with Herndon taking the lead early in the first quarter and holding it throughout the half.

During the second period the Farmers came to life and came within two points of gaining the lead just before the whistle blew ending the 3rd quarter. The final score was 35-36 in favor of Herndon.

Garmon, of the Farmers, was high scorer of the day hitting the basket for fifteen points. C. Flory scored two points less. Cockerille was the spark plug of the winning team's attack, scoring 12 points.

March 3rd found the Junior Farmers competing with the highly rated Fairfax High School basketball team at Oakton. At the end of the first period an easy victory looked to be at hand for the Farmers as they were leading by a score of 18-8.

Fairfax came back strong in the second period with a much improved team. Buckley headed the attack, scoring six field goals in the last half and the majority of them from mid-court. The battle was a nip and tuck affair through the last quarter, each team gaining the lead several times.

C. Flory, of the Farmers, shared scoring honors with Butler, of Fairfax, each scoring 14 points. Garmon, of the Farmer, scored 12 points.

MANASSAS 4-H CLUB HOLDS MARCH MEETING

The Manassas 4-H Club met in Miss Webb's office on Saturday, March 4. The meeting was opened with the members repeating the Club Pledge. There were nine members present. We discussed plans for our community project and decided to take up and replant flowers that we had previously planted on the School grounds. We also decided to subscribe to the "4-H Horizons," and to have it sent to the school library. The club decided to discontinue leather work for the time being.

The club discussed getting a school bus to use on 4-H trips to camp and short courses and decided to ask the secretary of the County Council write to the School Board to ask them to let us use a bus.

Mrs. Jesse Wheaton, of Canova, is much better.

Mr. John Crouch, of Buckhall, is very sick, of pneumonia.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

Snapshotter! Spring Has Come!

The family news photographer records the start of the spring baseball practice of a great team. The speed (?) ball was "caught" at 1/250 second at f.6.3.

NOW comes the time of year when according to the poets, "Spring unlocks the flowers to paint the laughing soil," when "The joyous book of Spring lies open, writ in blossoms," when "Spring is in the world and all things are made new."

In the Spring, according to the meteorologists, the sky grows brighter, the sun stronger. According to the psychologists, the human urge for action also waxes stronger, and, according to the astrologers, Spring is an auspicious season.

Add these all up and the answer is that it is a grand time for picture taking. Beauty, light, action and omens of good luck—all fresh and new—what more promising conditions can an amateur photographer ask for?

So, if that camera has been hibernating in the closet all winter, get it out, dust it off, clean the lens, load up and start shooting. With even half an eye at what you are shooting at, you are bound to get pictures that will bring you lasting satisfaction.

Pretty backgrounds of flowers and foliage are waiting. Children are out playing, always good subjects for story-telling snapshots, including the young Babe Ruths who are whacking 'em out once more on the sandlots. The season for hikes and auto excursions has begun with opportunities for beautiful scenic pictures of nature in her new dress; also for picnics which simply compel the presence of a camera; also for parades—ta-ra-ra! Have you a good picture of a drum major in your album yet?

And once more along comes the circus where, "under the big top," with extra fast film and an ultra fast lens, you may capture thrilling snapshots of that young man on the flying trapeze, not to mention revealing close-ups of the bearded lady and, as the circus press-agent would say, perfectly paralyzing portraits of the ponderous pachyderms.

Soon, too, school and college commencement celebrations will be with us, and June weddings—outstanding occasions for taking memory pictures, always to be cherished.

It's true. Snapshot time is here again. It's Spring! New pictures everywhere! Arise and shoot!

GRASS ON FERTILE SOIL

Grazing animals prefer grass that grows on fertile soil. It is more palatable. Experiments have shown repeatedly that grazing animals "will bunch up on a well-fertilized part of a large field and will graze it closer than the remainder of the field. By using fertilizer on pastures, farmers not only improve the production of the grasses but they also encourage animals to eat more of this relatively inexpensive form of feed.

TRIPLE SUPERPHOSPHATE ON PASTURES

Applications have been received for 40.3 tons of triple superphosphate (equivalent to approximately 120 tons of 16 per cent superphosphate) for use on 800 acres of pasture. Pasture improvement is being encouraged by the Agricultural Conservation Program which is making this material available.

KEEPING WITHIN WHEAT ALLOTMENTS

Farmers, who exceeded their wheat acreage allotment and wish to comply with the 1939 program may dispose of their excess acreage by clipping the wheat so as to prevent its further growth before May 15 or by discing or turning under the excess acreage before May 15.
