The Senior Class of Osbourn High School this year has decided to change their commencement exercises to be held May 31 at 8:15 p.m. in the High School Auditorium. The program this year will be presented by the members of the graduating class.

The school regrets to announce that all seats will be reserved until 8:20 p.m. No person who does not have reserved seat ticket will be allowed to enter until that time.

The Osbourn High School Glee Club will sing two selections, "Venetian Love Song" by Nevin and "Goin' Home" by Dvorak.

POPPY SALE FOR VETERANS

Manassas Schools Will Conduct
Annual Sale on Saturday,
May 27.

This year the annual sale of poppies, sponsored by the American Legion, will be carried on in the Osbourn High School and the Bennett School. It will be conducted in a somewhat smaller way than it has been in previous years. Although it is being carried on in a smaller way, the schools expect to sell as many poppies or even more than they have sold heretofore.

As before, two cents from each poppy sold will be sent to those veterans in hospitals who have made the poppies. The remainder of the money will be divided between those veterans who are in need of hospitalization through our local post and the Child Health fund of Manassas. Students aren't the only ones expected to buy poppies, for everyone is asked to buy one or more to aid in Child Health in the county.

Martha Grymes, who is in charge of the sale this year, is forming committees with sub-chairmen responsible for canvassing the various sections and localities of the town.

The town will be divided into four divisions. The first will end at Cocke's Pharmacy, the second at the People's National Bank, the third at the Sanitary Grocery Store, and the fourth at Dowell's Pharmacy. A captain has been assigned to each of the four divisions. These captains are Jane Beeton, June Pickeral, June Williams and Mattie Cannon. The first division will be assigned to Jane Beeton, the second to June Williams, and the third to June Pickeral, and the fourth to Mattie Cannon. These girls have helped sell poppies before, thus being very capable. In each of these four groups, there will be six or eight pupils.

The majority of the pupils volunteering to help will be from the high school. Only about six or eight will come from the elementary school. This will allow one or two of them to each group. All the girls who have previously aided in "Poppy Day" sales will be in charge of smaller groups. Each captain and all assisting will meet at their respective division to begin the sale of poppies about nine o'clock and continue it until around five o'clock in the afternoon.

PROMINENT CATLETT CITIZEN MARRIED IN WINCHESTER

Of interest to many family connections and friends in northern Virginia was the marriage of Mrs. Ethyl P. Hooley, member of a prominent family of the Middletown section of Frederick County, to Mr. James Edward Johnson, of Catlett, Fauquier County, Virginia, which took place at seven o'clock Saturday evening, May 6, in the United Brethren Church on North Braddock st., Winchester. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. George W. Stover, pastor emeritus of the church. The bride is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John H. Pickeral, of Middletown.

Mr. Kenneth Hooley, son of the bride, and a junior student of the Bridgewater College, was at the sole. Mr. Hooley offered as a prelude to the ceremony "Poeme" by Fische, and his own organ arrangement of "The Kashmiri Song", by Woodforde-Finden. The bride gown in navy blue silk crepe with matching veiled straw toque and accessories, wore a shoulder corsage of pink rose buds and sprays of lily of the valley. To the strains of Wagners' bridal procession, the bride and bridegroom approached the chancel together unattended. Facing a decorative array of fern, spirea, and burning tapets in candelabra, they responded to the vows of the marriage sacrament.

Guests who attended the pre-nuptial dinner given at the Southern Inn and the wedding ceremony at the church were: Dr. and Mrs. H. E. Pickeral, of Manassas, Va.; with their daughters, Misses June and Fanelle Pickeral; Mr. Kenneth Hooley; Mr. and Mrs. John Julian Pickeral, of Middletown, Va.; Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Lee, of Catlett, Va.; Mr. Maurice Lynch, of Winchester; Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Horn and Miss Catherine Johnson, of Catlett, Va.; Miss Garnet Hamrick, of Winchester; Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Wilson, and daughter, Miss Nadine Wilson, of Catlett, Va.; Mr. Stephen Gill, and Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Meinzer, of Washington, D.C.

BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

If parents will have their children memorize the daily Bible selections, it will prove a priceless heritage to them in later years. And ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free.—John 8:32.

THIRD TERM POSSIBILITIES

There is a growing belief throughout the country that the President will seek nomination for a third term, upon a platform which contemplates continuation of New Deal policies. A recent nation-wide poll on this subject indicates that there is a very substantial belief throughout the country that the President can secure this nomination, but this is accompanied by as equally strongly expressed belief that although he may be able to secure the nomination, his ability to carry the election is definitely questioned.

To the substantial element of his Party, designated as Conservatives, must be added that great multitude of citizens who, regardless of political affiliations, believe that no President, good or bad, should have a third term. No one can calculate the percentage of the American electorate sincerely believing in the precedent established by George Washington in refusing a third term, but it is probable that they would be the deciding factor.

In the meantime, the President in speaking to the American Retail Federation this week, indicated that he has not changed his viewpoint in any important New Deal policy. He indicates that he still believes that the Government can spend its way to prosperity, despite the fact that our major economic problems are no nearer solution than they were six years ago.

Apparently the President believes that the electorate of the country will endorse "Federal Spending as the Key to Prosperity"—not in any belief that it will solve the economic ills of the nation, but in the hope that it will temporarily benefit the man who casts the ballot.

A FINE EXHIBITION

It was indeed a pleasure to witness the military exercises at Linton Hall School last Sunday.

This is an annual day of great prominence in the lives of the corps of lads who attend this splendid institution. Ranging in age from little more than kindergarten age to the middle teens, these lads present a great range of scholastic problems.

The manner in which their instructors had trained them was evidenced by the orderly and business-like fashion in which they went about their movements. They bore themselves in a soldierly manner at all times and executed all commands with admirable precision.

The individual competition was one of the most interesting. It consumed nearly a half hour to weed out the contestants until the three place winners were finally determined.

The genial hospitality which pervaded the scene, the happiness which was engendered by the meeting of old graduates, friends, and patrons, went toward making the day what it has become in the annual history of the institution.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF

ENGAGEMENT

Rev. and Mrs. John M. Kline, Manassas, announce the engagement of their daughter, Lola Carlotta to Mr. Nathan Cardwell, of Spray, North Carolina. The wedding will take place some time in June.

MRS. ALFRED E. CARPER

Mrs. Alfred E. Carper passed away on Thursday night, May 18, after a lingering illness. She was the mother of Mr. Lewis J. Carper, of Manassas, with whom she had made her home for the past several months. Mrs. Carper, who was formerly Miss Lila Virginia Ballard, was born in Salem, Va., but spent most of her married life in Norfolk and Newport News. The family moved to Raceland, Ky., in 1930 where Mr. Carper was employed by the C.&O. Railroad. He died in 1935.

Mrs. Carper is survived by four sons: William B. Carper, of Atlanta; Andrew P. Carper, of Huntington, West Va.; Lewis J. Carper, of Manassas, and Alfred E. Carper, Jr., of Ashland, Ky., and three daughters: Mrs. Burke Fox, of Washington, D. C.; Mrs. A. N. Ruthstrom, of Richmond, and Mrs. George Reed, of Raceland, Ky.; also, by two brothers: Harry J. Ballard, of Portsmouth, Va., and Lewis A. Ballard, of Salem, Va., and two sisters: Mrs. T. G. Graham, of Norfolk, Va., and Mrs. E. R. Clark, of Alexandria, and eight grandchildren.

A short funeral service was held at the Manassas Presbyterian Church of which she had recently become a member, on Saturday morning, conducted by the pastor, Rev. J. M. DeChant.

Pallbearers were: J. L. Bushong, F. G. Sigman, W. F. Cocke, R. L. Byrd, C. Wade Dalton and Herwin Ritter. The final rites were held at the home of her sister in Norfolk and the interment was in Forest Lawn cemetery there.

Pallbearers in Norfolk were: Harry Anderson, C. T. Handbury, William Cooper, George Stevenson, Newton Carper and Jennings Griggs, all nephews-in-law of the deceased.

Many beautiful floral tributes attested to the love and esteem in which Mrs. Carper was held by her host of friends.

BETHLEHEM CLUB HEARS

INTERESTING READINGS

Mrs. Chas. Compton and Mrs. Maude Kincheloe were hostesses to the Bethlehem Good Housekeeping club at the former's home on Tuesday afternoon, May 23.

The following guests were present: Mrs. L. B. Williams, Mrs. Walter Sudd, Mrs. Cecil Smith, Mrs. Dennis Baker and Miss Aileen Miller.

Following the usual order of business, an attendance committee was appointed for the purpose of encouraging a better attendance percentage.

At the suggestion of the president, Mrs. R. L. Byrd, instead of answering roll call by the usual miscellaneous quotation, each member will respond by giving an interesting fact concerning some famous personage. The name chosen for the June meeting was Madame Curie, famous scientist and inventor.

A musical reading, "Our Mothers," by Temple Bailey, was beautifully rendered by Mrs. Frank Gue, with Mrs. Dennis Baker at the piano. Mrs. Baker also gave a very interesting talk on the history of the short story and read "The Necklace," a gripping short story by Guy de Maupassant. The program was closed by the singing of "Mother's Prayer" by little Miss Aileen Miller, whose sweet voice was a delight to hear.

The club colors of yellow and white were used in the decorative scheme and in the delicious refreshments served during the social hour.

WHAT'S MISSING?

To the casual eye this particular home seems to be in apple-pie order. Yet there is one thing missing—a checking account. Its owners would soon find, if they paid by check, that their finances would become much more orderly, their transactions would have greater safety, and they would save much time and many steps. There is no reason why any modern family should be without a checking account.

IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving remembrance of my dear Husband, Jesse Williams, who departed this life (2) two months ago today, May 27th, 1939, gone but not forgotten.

No one knows, Dear, how we miss you.

How we wish we had you back,
We often wonder why the Lord took you,
But he always knows what's best.

It seems ages since you've been gone, Dear,
We try to do the best we can
But, Oh, it seems so hard,
Not to have you by our side.

They see us laughing and talking,
They think we do not care,
That we have forgotten you, Dear,
But the Lord only knows our hearts.
By his wife and daughter,
Fannie and Rubie Jane Williams.

YANKS WIN TWO GAMES

Sunday, May 21, the Yanks defeated Greenville A. C., 10-1 and Baileys Cross Roads, 5-4.

The first game was pitched by Wilmer Fields who turned in a very brilliant performance by granting only four hits. The game was never close as the Yanks scored five times in the first inning. The big blow of the game was a homerun by Oliver Fields with one on in the fourth.

In the second game Morris Fields and Randal tied up in a pitchers' duel. Tucker, who had been playing a grand game all season, treated the fans to some lovely base-running by stealing home to score the first run of the game. Afterward it was a hard-fought game. In the eleventh inning Paul Wells drew a walk, stold second and then his big brother, Pete, hit the next pitch for a long double into left field for the team's sixth victory in their seven games they have played this season.

ANDREW SIVAK

Genuine regret is being generally expressed at the untimely passing on Friday last of Andrew Sivak, a business man of the Minnieville vicinity. He had been in rather poor health during the past year and more recently retired from active farming work.

He was born near in Token in the county on November 19, 1892, the son of John and Anne Sivak. On July 6, 1912, he married Mary Novotag, daughter of Paul Novotag, and a native of Wainwright, Ohio. Besides his widow there are two children living in Saginaw, Michigan. There are two brothers living in Maynard, Ohio, and a sister, Mrs. Anna Sestak, of Saginaw, Michigan.

He had been a member of Sacred Heart and St. Mary's churches for many years and it was from Sacred Heart that he was buried on Monday morning, Rev. Father Widmer officiating. Burial was at Manassas.

Pall bearers were Messrs. John Palovich, Mike Cebula, John Shutlock, Lawrence Sholtis, John Hertnick, Joe Bensack, Steve Chapura and Dan Duritz.

Andy was a fine citizen, a hard worker and a splendid family man. He will be greatly missed.

She has been attending the ceremonies at Linton Hall.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Ancient and Modern Necromancy, Alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, De-nounced" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all churches and societies of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, May 28.

The Golden Text will be "Mine hand shall be upon the prophets that see vanity, and that divine lies: . . . and ye shall know that I am the Lord God" (Ezekiel 13:9).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Or else how can one enter into a strong man's house, and spoil his goods, except he first bind the strong man? and then he will spoil his house. He that is not with me is against me; and he that gathered not with me scattered abroad (Matt. 12:29,30).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Mortal mind is 'the strong man,' which must be held in subjection before its influence upon health and morals can be removed. This error conquered, we can despoil 'the strong man' of his goods,—namely, of sin and disease" (p. 400).

QUIET TALKS ON RELIGION

BY DR. JAMES T. MARSHALL

THE REAL THING

The Bible contains no formal definition of religion. St. James, who looks at everything on the practical side, says that religion consists of two things, keeping our own souls clean and rendering loving service to our fellow men. (James 1:27). When anyone asks you if you are a Christian, you should be able to refer him to your neighbors for an answer.

There are many false tests which have been set up, and we should be on our guard against them all. Our most common mistake is in our confusing Christianity with creeds, and setting up intellectual orthodoxy as the test of discipleship. The fallacy of adopting such a standard is readily seen. Who is to decide what is orthodoxy? In the United States there are two hundred sects that call themselves Christian. If any one of these is wholly right the other 199 are wrong. Someone has well said that "orthodoxy is my-dox-y," and we have no right to hold up our personal opinions as the standard and to condemn all who insist on disagreeing with us. This is the acme of bigotry.

Jesus never set up any doctrinal tests of discipleship. He asked for people's hearts and not for their heads. Faith into believing things about Jesus, but it is believing Jesus and surrendering ourselves to Him as the Master of our lives.

An equally prevalent mistake is confusing religion with church membership. It has seen some various examples of religion among church members, and some fine examples of real discipleship among those who never joined any church organization. It is well to be honest about this, though it may be humiliating to have to admit that our church rolls do not always coincide with the list of names written in "the Lamb's book of life." One might join all the churches in Christendom and still remain a Pagan.

The true test of Christian discipleship has been made very clear in the New Testament. Our Lord Jesus put it plainly when He said, "Not every one that saith unto Me, Lord, Lord shall enter into the kingdom of heaven, but he that doeth the will of My Father which is in heaven." St. Paul gets down to the heart of the matter when he says, "If any man have not the spirit of Christ he is none of His." We need no better definition of a Christian than this. He is one who possesses the spirit of Christ.

We find foregleams of the New Testament idea of pure religion in the Old Testament, notably in the words of Micah, "What doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God?"

When we set out to look for true followers of God we will do well to forget our narrow doctrinal differences, our ecclesiastical affiliations, and our zeal for certain forms of worship, and to work those whose purity of soul and loveliness of spirit testifies to their intimacy with Him who is "altogether lovely and the chief among ten thousand," with Him of Whom it is written that "He became flesh and dwelt among us, full of grace and truth."

The great need of the hour is for more people who in their own conduct "adorn the doctrine of God our Savior." No one can gainsay the argument of a saintly life. Henri Frederic Amiel says, "The religion of a child depends on what its father and mother are, and not on what they say."

So let our lips and lives express the holy gospel we profess; Somewhat our works and virtues shine To prove the gospel so divine; Thus shall we best proclaim abroad The honor of our Savior God, While His salvation reigns within, And grace subdues the power of sin,

Get Rid of "Denture" Breath

This Safe, Easy Way

Before you go to bed tonight, put your stained, discolored false teeth in half a tumbler of warm water with a little Kleenite (about a teaspoonful). Leave them for 15 or 20 minutes while you dress—or overnight. While you sleep Kleenite will search into every crevice, chasing out all fermenting food particles; bleach away all trace of tobacco or other stains and restore the gums to their natural color. Just rinse and replace.

Now look at them—gleaming, lustrous and natural-looking, both gums and teeth. Best of all, your dentures are safe with Kleenite, the formula of a Buffalo dental manufacturer. Don't gamble—insist on Kleenite—the Dentists' Plate Cleaner. —Adv.
