MANEUVERS BEGIN NEXT SATURDAY

Governor Price Will Review National Guard on August 12

Twenty-three thousand troops will begin their maneuvers over the historic battlefields of First and Second Manassas next Saturday and will continue the game of war until August 19. The extensive preparations have already been practically completed and the various troops are rapidly taking their respective positions. So far no accidents have been reported, although instances of indifference to the safety of civilian motorists on the part of drivers of military vehicles have been reported, and the War Department has issued a special order requiring military trucks to pull off and allow civilian motorists to pass as soon as horn signal is heard and road conditions permit.

The supreme commander of the maneuvers will be Maj. Gen. James K. Parsons, commanding the 3rd Army Corps. The plan of the affair contemplates a campaign undertaken by 16,000 National Guard troops of the 28th and 29th Divisions against a Provisional Division of the Regular Army. The National Guard will be commanded by Maj. Gen. Milton A. Reford, Adjutant General of the Maryland National Guard. The Regulars will be under direction of Brig. Gen. Maxwell Murray.

One of the marvels of modern warfare is indicated by the arrangements which are being made for aviation participation. The various air units participate from their respective headquarters. The 103rd Observation Squadron of the Pennsylvania National Guard will operate from Bolling Field; the 104th Squadron of the Maryland National Guard from Frederick, Md., and the 3rd Observation Squadron from Langley Field from an advance base at Fredericksburg.

On August 12 the Governors of the three States of Virginia, Maryland and Pennsylvania, will review troops in a spectacular demonstration, which, it is stated, will take place on one of the fields of the Portner Estate near Manassas.

CLUB SPONSORS DANCE FOR CLINIC BENEFIT

The Junior Woman's Club will have their Annual Mid-summer Dance on Friday, August 11, in the Manassas High School Gymnasium. The Gymnasium will be decorated in a patriotic motif in keeping with the military atmosphere furnished by the Army maneuvers being held in Manassas. An unusual feature of the dance will be an all girl orchestra.

Miss Nancy Lynn, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee has announced the following committee chairman, Mrs. R. Jackson Ratcliffe, Music; Miss Lucy Gibson, Decorations; Miss Walsen Conner, Publicity; Miss Jane Lynn, Refreshments; Miss Mary Fauntleroy Cooke, Floor Committee; and Miss Mary Dee Lynch, Invitations.

This Dance is given for the benefit of the Prince William County Baby Clinic sponsored by the Junior Woman's Club. Because of the great need for this type of clinical work in the county it is hoped that the county people will partonize this dance so that we may be able to further this work.

The Junior Women have established a reputation for giving enjoyable dances. Every effort has been made to make this one equally enjoyable.

This request is made for the reason that when reservations are made at certain homes, the directory card for that particular home is noted to show the room no longer available, and the only way the Chamber will have of knowing when the room again becomes available is the interested parties to keep the Chamber informed.

GUIDE SERVICE FOR VISITORS

National Park Service to show Visitors over Battlefields during Army Maneuvers

Arrangements have been made by the National Park Service, Department of the Interior, to provide free guide service for all visitors who wish to tour the Manassas, or Bull Run, battlefields during the period of the Army maneuvers, from August 5 to August 19. It is anticipated that many officers and soldiers, while in this historic region, will want to learn something of the military events which occurred here in 1861 and 1862, and to visit some of the scenes connected with them.

Major Joseph Mills Hanson, familiarly known here as the Park Service historian who for several years past has been in charge of the historical development of the Manassas battlefields, will be at Manassas during the period of the maneuvers to superintend the guidance of visitors over these fields. He has prepared large field maps of the campaigns and battles, and these have been placed at the best observation points for overlooking the battlefields, at Centerville, near the Henry House, and near the Dogan House at Groveton.

Major Hanson will conduct parties over the battlefields twice daily, including Saturdays and Sundays, starting from Centerville at 10:00 o'clock a.m. and 2:00 o'clock p.m. From there he will take visitors to the observation points mentioned and explain the military operations.

The starting point at Centerville will be at Artillery Hill, the old earthwork fort on the western edge of the town at the junction of the Manassas-Centerville road with Lee Highway. Visitors will find parking space for their cars on the western side of the fort, near the Artillery Hill garage and diner.

These battlefield tours, carried out by the National Park Service, will be for the benefit of the public and there will be no charge for them. Major Hanson hopes that as many of the residents of Manassas and Centerville and the surrounding territory as care to do so will join the visitors from more distant places in taking advantage of the tours.

HONOR GUEST AT LUNCHEON

Mrs. R. L. Byrd was honor guest at a luncheon given at the Washington Congressional Country Club on Friday, July 28th. The hostesses were Mrs. Henry G. ## WAR DEPARTMENT ISSUES ORDER REQUIRING MILITARY TRUCKS TO SAFEGUARD CIVILIAN MOTORISTS

HEADQUARTERS THIRD CORPS AREA
UNITED STATES ARMY
Baltimore, Maryland

July 31, 1939.

Mr. W. H. Lamb,
The Manassas Journal,
Manassas, Virginia.

Dear Sir:

Your letter of the 18th instant addressed to the Secretary of War relative to the operation of motor vehicles in the Manassas area has been referred to this headquarters for direct reply.

The Commanding General directs me to advise that all drivers of government vehicles operating in the maneuver area and other parts of Virginia will be directed to comply with the traffic laws of Virginia. The adoption of the suggested horn signals, while contrary to the traffic laws, could hardly be heard by all if the windows of passenger cars are closed for one reason or another. It is suggested, however, that due to the large number of motor trucks that will operate in the Manassas area and the difficulty of seeing arm signals on account of the dusty condition of many of the roads, that the population be informed thru The Manassas Journal that passenger vehicles should not approach within a reasonably safe distance of the rear of military trucks unless it is desired to pass. Military trucks will pull off to the side to allow passing as soon as horn signal is heard and road conditions permit.

It is believed that the above will eliminate any further difficulties.

Please be assured that the Commanding General regrets the incident reported and is most anxious that all vehicles using the highways and others roads be operated for the safety of all.

Yours very truly,

L. S. OSTRANDER,
Major, A.G.D.,
Acting Adjutant General.

EVENING STAR EMPLOYEE DIES

Word was received here today that William Terrell Henderson, who succeeded Alex Gordon as chief inspector of the linotype division of the Washington Star was found dead in his bed this morning.

Mr. Henderson was well-known in Manassas, having relatives here and also through his official connections with the Manassas Journal. He was a very lovable young man and his friends will indeed miss him very much.

SMITH RESENTS NORTON ATTACK

Cites Record to Show Source of Criticism

Mr. SMITH of Virginia, Mr. Speaker, I believe there is no objection to the adoption of this rule giving consideration to this bill. There was no objection I heard in the Rules Committee either to the rule or to the bill itself. The only controversy, I believe, is with respect to the amendment which the gentleman has just been discussing, but I have asked for this time to discuss a different matter, which is in the nature of a question of personal privilege.

Mr. Speaker, in the recent debate on the resolution to investigate the National Labor Relations Board the lady from New Jersey allowed herself to be diverted from the subject under discussion in order to make a personal attack on me. She said:

Mr. Speaker, I have a great deal of respect for the gentleman from Virginia, but certainly he is the last man in the world to pass on labor legislation. I have taken the trouble to investigate his labor record, and I have yet to find a single labor bill for the benefit of the workers of the country that he has ever voted for.

Of course, the lady did not mean that she has complimented me by personally going through the long record of my votes for the past 9 years. She meant that someone else had allegedly done so and supplied her with the information. I had hoped, that the heat of the debate had subsided, that she would herself have corrected the misstatement. As she has not done so, it becomes necessary for me to make the correction.

I do not desire to criticize the lady from New Jersey. I have never criticized any Member on the floor. We are all here to do our duty as we see it. We all make mistakes, and it does not lie in the mouths of anyone of us to condemn another. I know that with rare exceptions the Members all pursue the course that they sincerely and honestly believe to be in the best interests of the country.

But the charge that the lady from New Jersey has been induced to make against me is so contrary to the facts that I cannot permit it to go unchallenged.

She speaks as the mouthpiece of a group that could never be elected by the suffrage of a people to come here and speak for themselves.

It is a mere repetition of the charge that was the theme song of the base purge campaign against me in the primary of 1938. The overwhelming vote of confidence given me by my people at the polls in answer to the charge should have sufficed to silence their guns. But their sniping campaign has never ceased. Conducted from behind the scenes by pusillanimous Lilliputians, who, embittered by the knowledge that they could never hope to hold office by the suffrage of the people, and with no conception of, or sympathy with, the fundamental principles of the Democratic Party, have fastened their vampirelike clutches upon its body and are seeking to suck its lifeblood.

In the late purge campaign against me the same charge was made, and both charges bear the earmarks of the

Good Feeling Prevalent throughout Spirited Contest for Democratic Nomination

Contrary to widely expressed expectations, there were no upsets in the Democratic Primary so far as Prince William is concerned. All county officials having opposition were re-nominated, but by widely differing margins. Warm contests occurred both among candidates for Commonwealth's Attorney and for Sheriff Kerlin and when the smoke of battle cleared away the vote stood Brown 1295, Davies 543 and Meetze 359.

The race for Sheriff resulted in 1182 for Sheriff Kerlin and 1003 for Mr. Tom Russell. The vote by precincts is published in another column.

For Supervisor of Gainesville Mr. C. B. Roland defeated Mr. L. J. Pattie by a vote of 162 to 152.

In Brentsville District Mr. C. B. Fitzwater won over Mr. J. W. Ellis by a vote of 230 to 184.

In Ocoquan District Mr. G. C. Russell defeated Mr. C. H. Payne, 164 to 133.

In Dumfries District Mr. V. S. Abel won over Mr. J. W. Merchant, 170 to 111.

Scattering returns throughout the State were interpreted generally as indicating a drift of sentiment away from advocates of the New Deal and in favor of candidates bearing the "organization" stamp of approval. The Byrd men seemed to have the advantage, especially in the State Senate, where the Times Dispatch lists eight gains for Byrd in the Senate, and ten gains for Governor Price in the House.

In Fairfax County Coyner defeated Leigh for Treasurer by a vote of 2619 to 1450. Kincheloe won over Mackall for Commissioner of Revenue by 3615 to 1139. Kirby defeated Ferguson for Sheriff, 2518 to 2297 and Paul Brown, Commonwealth's Attorney, re-elected over Hugh Marsh by a vote of 3337 to 1457.

Contests in surrounding areas resulted in the election of Howard B. Rogers, of Loudoun, and Burnett Miller of Culpeper, to the General Assembly. David K. Bruce, son-in-law of the late Andrew Mellon, former Secretary of the Treasury, defeated Berkey D. Adams in Charlotte, in one of the most hotly contested campaigns of the election.

In Stafford R. H. L. Chichester defeated Wallace for Commonwealth's Attorney.

R. H. L. Chichester, Jr., won for Commonwealth's Attorney of Stafford County, over G. B. Wallace, the present incumbent, by a vote of 894 to 585. The only other contest in Stafford was for Supervisor of Falmouth District, which was won by Joseph Newton over James O. Lee, by a vote of 215 to 196.

MRS. ALVEY ENTERTAINS CATHARPIN CLUB

The Catharpin Good Housekeeping Club was delightfully entertained on Wednesday at the home of Mrs. J. W. Alvey. All members were present and Misses Hallie Dorsey and Betty guests.

One of the most important topics under discussion during the business session was the planting of shade trees at Gainesville District School. Details were left to the committee.

During the social hour Mrs. Wm. S. Brower entertained the club with a resume of her trip to Nassau and the World's Fair.

At the close of the meeting the hostess served a delicious luncheon.

MRS. PRINCE ENTER TAINS W.C.T.U.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union met at the home of Mrs. Prince, in Centerville, last Wednesday. There was a small attendance owing to the hot weather.

Quite a bit of business was transacted and there was much discussion concerning the educational fund. The meeting was closed by singing "America," the next one to be held the fourth Wednesday in August. The hostess served delicious refreshments.

ALL DAY SERVICE AT OLD LEE CHAPEL

The grand opening of Old Lee Chapel Church will be held Sunday, August 6, 1939. There will be all day services held by the Rev. Calvert of Ocoquan. Lunch will be on the lawn.

CATHARPIN AND VICINITY

The members of the Sudley Missionary Society, who went to the Zone meeting at Gainesville last Thursday, declared it to be one of the most delightful gatherings they had ever attended.

Mrs. B. F. Price of Catlett, leader for the Eva Parker Zone, presided over the meeting. The morning devotion was conducted by Miss Willette Myers of Manassas. Mrs. Nellie F. Clark, sec'y of Washington District, conducted a quiz on the work of 1938—a very unique manner of getting us familiarized with the work accomplished by the various districts. Mrs. Ida R. Groover, conference sec'y, and Mrs. Eva Parker, former sec'y of old Alexandria District, added much by their instructive talks on various departments of the work. They emphasized the need and value of mission and Bible Study.

Noon day devotion and benedictions were conducted by our pastor, Rev. John S. Schwartz and the Rev. B. F. Price of Catlett.

Mrs. Charles F. Brower, wife of Dr. C. F. Brower of this community, was introduced to the group as one of the four charter members of Sudley who have served the mission work for more than 50 years. The Gainesville women, assisted by the interested men, proved themselves to be delightful hostesses, and served a most delicious dinner in the church, under the shade of the ancient oak trees—a feature which was doubly enjoyed by those who had been accustomed to the city's heat and crowded streets.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Hilliard Burnside of Washington spent last week-end with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Morris Polen.

Mr. Homer Kidwell, who is employed in Washington, spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Edward Kidwell. Mr. Kidwell has just returned from a most enjoyed motor trip to Niagara Falls and various points in Canada.

A little daughter was born last week to Mr. and Mrs. Royce Carter in Washington. She has been named Sandra Marie. Her mother will be remembered as Miss Marie Smith. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Munday and little daughter, Barbara, of Washington were guests at "Bellefarm" for the week-end.

Misses Harriett and Cynthia Pattie returned this week-end from visits to Washington.

"Uncle Boose" Hogan, one of our oldest colored citizens, died suddenly at his home on the farm of the late Peter Poland, near Hickory Grove, on Wednesday of last week. He had reached the age of about 95 years, and with his faithful wife, "Aunt Rose," who survives him, had spent many, many years of faithful service on the farm at "Ellen's Vale." His remains were laid to rest in Loudoun County by the side of his parents.

Mrs. John F. Pattie and children of Triangle spent several days last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Miller of "Stone House" neighborhood.

Those from this community, who attended the Bull Run Grange Field Day at Haymarket enjoyed the day very much.

The rains, which have occurred in this community, almost daily, for the past several weeks, have practically ruined the wheat which could not be threshed. However, the corn fields are looking fine and giving every indication of a good crop.

A wedding of much interest to the Journal readers was solemnized in the Presbyterian church, in Norton, Va., July 20, when Miss Russell MacDonald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Paul MacDonald, became the bride of Dr. Robert Beall Hightower, assistant director of Child Hygiene and Sanitation in the school system of Washington, D. C.

The couple are now en-route to the French and British West Indies and Venezuela. They will make their home in Washington, D. C. The bride is well-known here as the granddaughter of the late Charles Russell McDonald and Mrs. McDonald of "Oakwood."

Dr. Hightower has, also, made many warm friends during his recent visits, and we wish the happy young couple a long and useful life.

TENNIS EVENTS AT FREDERICKSBURG ON AUGUST 11

The Northern Virginia Open tennis tournament, an event which annually attracts scores of "good, bad, and indifferent" netmen, will be staged at Fredericksburg beginning Friday, August 11, it was announced today. The entry list will close August 8.

Competition in the men's singles division will get underway on the eleventh, with play in the men's doubles starting several days later. Finals in both classes will be held Sunday, August 30, at Mannsfield Hall Country Club, Fredericksburg.

Last year's tournament drew an entry list of 90, including players from Culpeper, Orange, Dahlgren, Quantico, Fredericksburg and other parts of Northern Virginia. Several Manassas racquetters are expected to enter the 1939 event. As in the past, the Tournament Committee will make every effort to suit the convenience of out-of-town entries in arranging dates and hour of play. Most of the matches will be carded for late afternoons.

The singles entry fee will be $1.25, and for doubles the fee will be $1.50 per team. New balls will be furnished without additional cost for each match and these will become the property of the losing player.

Large silver cups will be awarded the singles champion, the single runner-up and each member of the winner of the consolation singles tournament for all players who are eliminated in their first round singles matches.

C. Alphonso Smith, of Arlington, defeated Charles L. Sale, of Fredericksburg, in last year's finals while the doubles crown went to Ted Breeden, Jr., and Byrd Smith, of Orange.

Entries should be forwarded to The Free Lance-Star, Fredericksburg, sponsors of the tournament, before August 8.

The legislation was requested by the National Park Service, which explained that although it was planned to turn most of these recreational areas back to the respective States, it was desired to retain this particular area because of its value to Washington social agencies.

TOBACCO FESTIVAL
PLANS PROGRESSING

In drafting the program of events for the 1939 National Tobacco Festival, to be held in South Boston, on Thursday and Friday, September 7 and 8, the committee has repeated, with minor changes, the highly successful plan originated in 1935, the results of which have been pleasing to the public, the press and festival officials.

It will be observed that throughout the program of events, localized features, customary to usual celebrations, have been eliminated, and the general scheme adhered to corresponds to the national and international character of the annual celebration.

Accordingly, the thousands of persons from practically every state in the Union and many foreign countries, who trek to South Boston, in September, will witness a sequence of events, unparalleled in history, and general in character.

To the lovers of history, antiques, dancing, both square and round, the novel, folklore, and the spectacular, will find treasure troves of satisfaction, as the various events unfold in dramatic and rhythmic succession.

Those who attend the National fete, and learn tobacco's lore, will see the part the leaf has played, in history gone before.

CONGRATULATING THE WINNERS

We extend cordial congratulations to the winners of the Democratic Primary on Tuesday, and since this nomination in Virginia is equivalent to election, we wish them every success.

There have been no outstanding issues involved in this local campaign and we have steadfastly endeavored to be impartial, believing that our greatest public service under such circumstances lies in providing an unbiased medium through which all respected candidates may keep in touch with public thought.

As a result of Tuesday's election the general nature of politics will arise in many minds, but nothing that can possibly be thought, good or bad, will add to the existing wealth of ideas on political philosophy. Some will agree with Disraeli that "There is no gambling like politics." Others may conclude with Austin O'Malley that "a politician is like quicksilver; if you try to put your finger on him, you find nothing under it." A few may be certain that William Bennett Munro was right when he said that "people vote their resentment, not their appreciation. The average man does not vote for anything, but against something."

We firmly believe, however, that Cato revealed a better political viewpoint, centuries ago, when he wrote:

"Some have said that it is not the business of private men to meddle with government, — a bold and dishonest saying, which is fit to come from no mouth but that of a tyrant or a slave. To say that private men have nothing to do with government is to say that private men have nothing to do with their own happiness or misery; that people ought not to concern themselves whether they be naked or clothed, fed or starved, deceived or instructed, protected or destroyed."

To the People of Prince William

I want to express my appreciation for the kind and courteous treatment extended me during the recent campaign, and to especially thank those who saw fit to support me.

Sincerely,
J. Jenkyn Davies.

THE WORLD AROUND US

By
O. J. Schuster

THE BRIGHT RED STAR seen in the east shortly after sunset is the planet Mars which at present is an object of very great interest to millions of persons throughout the world. The special interest is due to the fact that Mars at present is nearer Earth than it has been for 15 years and astronomers are using the opportunity to study it with the greatest care. Yesterday, July 27, Mars was only 36,000,000 miles from Earth. Today it is about 9,000 miles farther away and the distance will increase thousands of miles daily. On very rare occasions Mars comes within 35,000,000 miles from Earth and it is sometimes nearly 150,000,000 miles from us.

LET US PICTURE TO OURSELVES two nearly circular but slightly oval race tracks, one outside the other, the distance between the two being a little greater at one extremity than the other. We may also imagine a race horse on the inner track galloping at a continuous speed of 19 miles per hour and another on the outer and longer track galloping continuously at 15 miles per hour. The horse on the inner track represents Earth, that on the outer one Mars. For these two racing worlds the speed will have to be changed to 19 miles a second for Earth and 15 miles a second for Mars. It takes Earth 365 days to make one round on its track while Mars, moving slower and having a much longer track, requires 687 days to make a round. It is evident that the two racers will sometimes be relatively near each other and again far apart. It is evident that the two racers will sometimes be relatively near each other and again far apart. At present they happen to be nearly as close to each other as they ever get.

A TRIP TO MARS in an airplane traveling continuously at 200 miles per hour is of course wholly impossible but if it were it would take 21 years of continuous flying to cover the 36,000,000 miles between the two worlds. During those 21 years Mars would speed around its racetrack between 11 and 12 times and Earth would, of course, make 21 circuits. So the problem of heading in just the right direction so as to land on the racing planet would not be an easy one to solve.

ONCE YOU HAD LANDED ON MARS—assuming that you could live and move freely on this strange world—you would discover, according to the best available data, a rather desolate and disappointing world. Much of the surface seems to be covered with reddish sand. No great mountain systems like ours, no luxuriant forests, no lakes or rivers—at least none you would recognize as such. You might find areas covered with vegetation that is adapted to very limited moisture, as our cacti and sage brush are. As the diameter of Mars is only a little more than half as long as that of Earth and its area a little over a fourth that of Earth, and as you would weigh less than half as much on Mars as on Earth, you would be able to explore the planet's surface in a very much shorter time than you could explore Earth with the same means of transportation. There being no oceans, lakes, or mountains, or polar ice-caps would increase the ease with which you could make the survey.

THE MARTIAN SKY would appear quite different than as seen from Earth. As Mars is 48 million miles farther from the sun than we are it would appear much smaller than it does to us, giving much less light and heat than we receive. But because of the very rarified atmosphere practically all of the sun's radiation penetrates to the surface of Mars and the direct rays at noontime would be hot. At night, the air planket being very thin, permits a rapid loss of heat and freezing temperatures result. Again, because of the thinness of the air, the stars would appear brighter and more numerous than on Earth. The brightest stars could be seen even in broad daylight. A very interesting feature of the Martian sky would be its two tiny moons, both of them very near to the planet. The nearer one, Phobos, is only 4,000 miles from the surface of Mars and only 7 miles in diameter. It is a frisky little satellite, spinning around Mars faster than the planet rotates so that the little moon rises in the west, sets in the east, and rises again in the west during a single night. The other moon is a little smaller than Phobos and somewhat farther away.

LIFE ON MARS probably exists but is probably limited to restricted forms. That there may be highly intelligent beings on Mars is very much doubted for many reasons—the very

SKY-LINE ROUTE NEARS COMPLETION

Engineering Feat
Provides 97-Mile
Scenic Drive
Along Crest of Mountain Ridges

BEFORE the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads will be able to enter a mountain-top highway at Front Royal, Virginia, and ride south with the clouds for nearly 600 miles. The first section of this scenic highway, known as Sky-Line Drive, is now nearly completed and is open to traffic for almost its entire 97-mile length.

To link Sky-Line Drive in the Shenandoah National Park with the Great Smoky Mountains National Park in North Carolina and Tennessee, construction of the Blue Ridge Parkway is progressing rapidly and it is expected that over 150 additional miles will be open to travel by the summer of 1940. Characteristic of the careful engineering employed in building this mountain highway system is the preparation of the road base before final surfacing.

To guarantee long life and easy maintenance of the firm road, particular attention has been given to providing a firm, consolidated foundation. A typical method used to accomplish this purpose is illustrated above.

Here, a carefully proportioned mixture of coarse and fine soil materials has been placed on the roadway, then stabilized with calcium chloride, a chemical used to absorb and retain moisture. During the time preceding application of the bituminous surface, this stabilized layer solidifies and packs down as dense as concrete. In furnishing this firm foundation for the final surface, the engineers have greatly reduced the possibility of future frost bumps and dips which are so dangerous to motorists and costly to correct.

Above: Right over the tops of mountains is the route of Sky-Line Drive. Firm road foundations, topped with skidproof pavements, provide added safety for motor travellers.

This, of course, is but one of the measures taken to insure safety and comfort for travellers of the mountain route. The bituminous pavement is of coarse texture to prevent skidding, stout guard-rails give protection wherever necessary, and parking overlooks are provided at frequent intervals to afford panoramic views without the danger of stopping on the travelled way.

When the Blue Ridge Parkway section of this scenic highway is completed a few years hence, American motorists will enjoy a mountain drive without parallel in the whole world—a monumental tribute to the ingenuity of the country's highway engineers.

rarified air and its very meager supply of oxygen, the limited amount of heat and light received from the sun, the scarcity of water, the extremes in temperature between midday and night, etc. Science has, however, revealed so many strange and wholly unexpected things in the world around us that we cannot be at all certain that beings even superior to man could not live on Mars in spite of its apparently inhospitable climate.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Spirit" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all churches and societies of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, August 6.

The Golden Text will be "What man knoweth the things of a man, save the spirit of man which is in him even so the things of God knoweth no man, but the Spirit of God" I Cor. 2:11).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Teach me to do thy will; for thou art my God: thy spirit is good; lead me into the land of uprightness" (Psalms 143:10).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Spirit, God, has created all in and of Himself. Spirit never created matter. There is nothing in Spirit out of which matter could be made, for, as the Bible declares, without the Logos, the Aeon or Word of God, 'was not anything made that was made.'" (p. 335).

The rooms were attractively decorated in pink and white, with bowls of gladioli. She and her friends spent a very pleasant afternoon playing games, and she received many nice gifts. Delicious refreshments were served and the young people went happily home.

SMITH RESENTS NORTON ATTACK

same source. I replied to and refuted that charge in my campaign, citing my actual votes on bona fide labor measures, and no one thereafter in that campaign attempted to challenge the accuracy of my statement. I mentioned that I had voted for the Anti-Injunction Act, the Social Security Act, the long-and-short-haul bill, the Railroad Retirement Act on every occasion when it was before the House, and other measures of vital interest to labor. And yet the lady from New Jersey is induced to state that I never voted for a measure in the interest of labor.

I voted against the Guffey Coal Act, which did not affect a single laborer in my district except to raise the price of every ton of coal he bought, and incidentally raise the price to every other consumer of coal. That vote is justified by the fact that after a brief and useless existence the Board has been abolished and such minor functions as are now being performed have been transferred to another bureau. The whole act was admittedly a dismal failure, and the country and the industry would have been better off had it never become law.

I voted against the wage-hour law, knowing that it would work untold injustice and hardship on small industries, on unorganized workers, and on many branches of agricultural pursuits. The overwhelming clamor in this body today for amendments to the act, after less than 1 year of operation, more than justifies the fears I expressed—in speaking against the measure.

I do not claim a record of 100-percent obedience to the demands of labor or of any other special group. Members of this body come here to represent the interests of all of the people.

To boast of utter subservience to the demands of any minority pressure group is to boast of failure to perform our full duty.

When I leave this place I would rather have it said of me that I had the fortitude to resist the pressure of all such interests than to have it said that I stood, ever faltering and fawning, ready to "bend the pregnant hinges of the knee" at the nod and whim of any group that might threaten me with political reprisal. (Applause.)

I know that is not the philosophy of the little group of self-appointed, self-anointed liberals. I believe in a liberal government but of the kind exemplified by the doctrines of Jefferson; a liberality that accords to all groups an equal opportunity under the law, to work out their own destiny with special privileges to neither the rich nor the poor, to neither organized minorities of voters, nor to organized wealth-demanding special privileges. I believe in the Jeffersonian liberality that included a broad and liberal tolerance of the views of others with whom we may not agree; according them the same freedom of thought and action which we claim for ourselves. I do not care to align myself with that school of liberal thought which manifests itself solely in a prodigal liberality with other people's money and with other people's liberties, and which denounces as reactionaries and Tories all who dare to disagree.

In my service here, I try to reflect as best I can the sentiment and the philosophy of the great people of my district who send me here. Those people spring from an ancestry whose roots are imbedded in the very foundations of the Republic.

Reared in this background, my constituents and I find it difficult at times to break away from the moorings which have held so firmly and securely through the storms and vicissitudes in the past.

It is idle today to debate the question of which philosophy is right and which is wrong. Only in the distant perspective of time can the true answer be written.

Only the generations that are to follow us, shackled with the burdens we have placed upon them, or, if you please, freed from the chains of an antiquated system of government, can properly appraise the work of this and preceding Congresses.

I am content to rest my case with the assertion that while here I shall continue to exercise the best judgment that I possess in advocating what I believe to be in the best interest of the whole people, and to—

Let historians of tomorrow say Who best served God and man to-day."

(Applause.)
