OLDER WORKERS ARE ENCOURAGED

Employment Service Outlines Current Situation

There are certain groups of applicants which present special problems to the Virginia State Employment Service in its endeavor to place them in suitable employment where they will be a credit to themselves and an asset to their employers.

Typical of such groups are young men and women between the ages of 16 and 21, migratory farm workers, and those in the over 40 age group.

This article deals with this latter group, unemployed workers over 40 years of age. The placement of these workers in jobs with private industry is a difficult problem especially in the semi-skilled and unskilled occupations. This situation has in many cases assumed such a degree of severity that men in this age group are finding it next to impossible to find a job.

Census experts tell us that due to the decrease in birth rate during the past generation, the average age of the people of this country is increasing—that fewer young and more old are including our population than was formerly the case. If the percentage of those people over 40 years of age is increasing, it is self-evident that the economic welfare of this group is of prime concern not only to these people themselves but to the country as a whole. Any such policy as "through at 40," if continued, would mean disaster to all of us.

Unthinking acceptance of the idea that workers of 40 or over are less desirable than younger workers creates a serious situation. Unemployment mounting with age means that it is increasingly difficult for older workers who lose their jobs to secure new ones. Yet there are workers who, during the middle years of life, are saddled with heavy responsibilities and their lack of employment means both deprivation and added burdens for the young.

The Virginia State Employment Service believes that one of the best means of attacking this problem is the dissemination of data in support of the theory that it is better economics to employ older workers than to support them with public funds in morale-shattering idleness. We do not wish to enlist sympathy for older workers, but merely point out that they have certain characteristics and qualifications which are of value to employers.

Many employers have found that older employees offer seasoned experience, judgement, dependability, maturity, and loyalty. They exhibit a tendency to receive and execute orders willingly and in many cases are more stable and reliable than young men.

In connection with the ability of men over 40, it might be well to point out that America was discovered by a man who sailed westward at the age of 47. The United States has had but one president younger than 45, and no president younger than 43. One of our greatest automobile manufacturers has made a public statement to the effect that if all the experience and judgment of men over 50 were taken out of the world, there would not be enough left to run it.

Certainly when such a highly developed and highly specialized industry as automobile manufacturing recognized the worth of the worker of 40 years or more, others should have no fear in hiring them.

The Virginia State Employment Service does not wish to convey the impression that the young man is to be considered a poor risk. It realizes that industry must young men coming along continually for replacements. However, the Employment Service does feel that the belief that men of 40 are not to be considered as good risks, is unfair.

The Virginia State Employment Service is primarily established for the person seeking work and for the employer seeking workers. If you belong to either group, contact the local Employment Office at 301 King Street, in Alexandria, telephone Alexandria 4224. The Alexandria office serves the employers and workers of Alexandria, Arlington, Fairfax and Prince William Counties. Offices are also located in Culpeper, Fredericksburg, Front Royal and Winchester.

LADIES NIGHT AT KIWANIS CLUB

Make Merry With Unique Contests

The usual happy crowd gathered for Kiwanis' Ladies' Night at the high school on Friday evening. The generous turkey spread properly used in the ceremonies.

When everyone had supped bountifully, Rev. Graham took over as quiz master. Five ladies and five gentlemen strove for honors. Both did very well. High scorers were Mrs. Kitty Arrington and C. M. Harris.

The "window" dressing contest was won by O. D. Waters after a hectic scramble. Close behind him were G. R. Ratcliffe and E. R. Conner. (My, how they made those soft little "odds-and-ends" stretch and overstretch.)

In the anagram contest, Mrs. Arrington again rung up as winner, having all but one (it is rumored that even the quiz master fell down on that also.)

Special music was given by Messrs. Douglas Fife, with the accordion, and Bill Crouch, with the banjo. Mrs. Kitty Baker presided at the piano and Miss Rose Ratcliffe led the group singing.

The list of members and guests is as follows.

Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Ratcliffe, Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Leamon Ledman, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Arrington, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Trusler, Mr. and Mrs. J. Carl Kincheloe, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Sharrett, Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Sigman, Mr. and Mrs. Conner Kincheloe, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Hooff, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Sadd, Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Waters, Mr. and Mrs. Ward Clark, Rev. and Mrs. R. M. Graham, Dr. and Mrs. E. H. Marsteller, Mr. and Mrs. W. Hill Brown, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Hunton Tiffany.

Mrs. Kitty Baker, Mrs. Harry Sanders, Mrs. E. G. Parrish, Mrs. Ayleene Guthrie, Mrs. Maude Kincheloe, Mrs. Dorothy Allen, Mrs. H. E. Pickeral.

Misses Helen Lloyd, Walser Conner, Rose Ratcliffe, Mildred Roseberry, Hilda Moser, Nancy Marsteller, Fanelle Pickeral, Nancy and Betty Parrish.

A special gasoline sale offered through the kindness of two of the club members is advertised elsewhere. It is for the Christmas Fund.

BOX PARTY AT BRADLEY DECEMBER 1

There will be a box party at Bradley Brethren Church the first Friday night in December, beginning at 7:30. We invite old and young. There will be songs and Scripture reading.

Investigations in the automobile industry have revealed the fact that a good proportion of openings in field are filled by older men. Of 75,000 men employed in 14 automobile plants during the production years of 1933-1934, men 40 years or more were given an average of nearly one-half again as many hours of employment during the year as those under 30 years. They earned two thirds more in yearly income than those in their teens and twenties.

The Methodist Ladies annual bazaar was quite a success.

BIBLE IS CENTER OF DISCUSSION

Rare and Interesting Exhibit Held In Book Week

A large group of P.T.A. members and "Friends of the Library" attended the joint meeting of these two groups, held in conjunction with Book Week celebration on last Thursday evening in Manassas High School auditorium. In addition to being the regular meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association this was the occasion of the annual reunion of the "Friends of the Ruffner-Carnegie Library."

After a short business session, Mrs. H. M. MacCall, president of the P.T.A., presented Rev. R. M. Graham, who gave a brief but comprehensive history of the Bible, its sources, and how it was preserved in the various early languages, long before type printing was discovered. At the conclusion of this historical review, he introduced Mr. Channing P. Hayes, manager of the Baptist Book Store in Richmond, who showed a highly entertaining descriptive film, depicting the various methods used in printing and binding the Bible from ancient times to the present day. This film, Mr. Hayes said, is the type used in public school educational work in many sections.

Following this feature a paper was read explaining the purpose of "Friends of the Library," and all those present who had not already enrolled as members of this group were cordially invited to do so.

At the conclusion of this program, which was jointly sponsored by the Manassas Ministerial Association and the Ruffner-Carnegie Library, the really splendid Bible Exhibit, collected and prepared by Librarian E. H. Osbourn and her assistants, was viewed by all those present. This exhibit was attractively displayed in the Library rooms and gave evidence of many hours of painstaking research work. It was truly remarkable in its scope, containing many very early editions, facsimiles, photostat copies of illuminated manuscripts and sample pages from Bibles written in twenty-two different languages.

While viewing this exhibit the guests enjoyed refreshments served by the Social Committee of the P.T.A.

RUFFNER-CARNEGIE LIBRARY NOTES

The library wishes to express much appreciation of the generous help given by the Ministerial Association in the Bible Exhibition held last Thursday night at the joint meeting of the P. T. A. and the "Friends of the Library." It is interesting to note in connection with the exhibit that most of the many editions of the Bible shown were from local sources. The copies of the Greek and Hebrew Testaments and of the early edition of the King James Version of the English Bible were from the collection of the Rev. Emory Round.

The copies of the Hebrew Torah, of the Latin Vulgate and its English translation and of the French, German and Italian Bibles were loaned by Father Widmer, and of the Modern Revised Version of the English Bible by Rev. John DeChant who also secured from the Library of Congress the photostat copies of illuminated manuscripts and of pages of the Gutenberg Bible of 1454 (first printed Bible.) The facsimiles of the pages of eight editions of the English Bible and of the Bible in twenty-two different modern languages were obtained by Rev. R. M. Graham from the Richmond Bible House. The library is also most grateful for the gifts from the Ministerial Association of the beautiful facsimiles of the early editions of the English Bible, and also of a much needed Bible dictionary.

A new loan of one-hundred books from the State Library in Richmond, were received this week. This collection will remain here for four months.

On account of the Thanksgiving holiday, the Library Reading Circle under the auspices of the Manassas Women's Club will be held on the 5th, Thursday of the month, November 30, at 3:30 p.m.

APPLE WEEK IS WELL RECEIVED

Every Line Of Effort Made To Market Virginia Crop

Virginia's special effort to aid in the marketing of her 7,500,000 bushel apple crop reaches its climax during the week of November 20—Virginia Apple Week, when some 3,000 retail establishments in the Old Dominion will feature Virginia apples in window and other displays. Thousands of Virginians will be introduced to Virginia apples for the first time, the Virginia State Chamber of Commerce, one of the campaign sponsors, predicted today.

Among cooperators are approximately 2,000 independent retail grocers, either through their associations or working through a group of co-operating produce merchants. More than 650 chain grocery stores in Virginia will blossom forth Monday with special advertising and promotional material on apples, through the co-operation of the Southeastern Chain Store Council, at Norfolk. Chain dress shops, hat stores, drug stores, shoe stores, variety stores and even department stores have prepared special exhibits of apples and apple promotional material and many have ordered apples and will give them away in their stores.

W. S. Campfield, secretary of the Virginia Horticulture Society, stated last night in Staunton that estimates as the quantity of advertising material needed had fallen below demands, due to the splendid and general cooperation of retailers. Thousands of apple cook books have been distributed, as well as other material. The press, radio and all other available mediums of reaching the public have cooperated fully in the movement, he said.

Governor James H. Price this week called on all Virginians to cooperate in the movement that is a vehicle to aid move some 2,000,000 bushels of apples grown for foreign markets, which are now closed. Through the cooperation of the Virginia Education Association, Major Raymond B. Bottom, of Newport News, president of the State Chamber, will present a plea for school cooperation in the solution of the problem on Wednesday before the general assembly of the Virginia Education Association. Already scores of schools are co-varieties of Virginia apples, seasons operating and the difference between when they are good and other information on apples are being taught in many class rooms.

More than state institutions have responded to the request of the Virginia Horticulture Society, backed by letters from the Virginia State Chamber of Commerce and Governor Price, to use Virginia apples in every way this year. Officials of the State Chamber reported that "Virginia railways have responded enthusiastically and that apple dishes are being served on all diners traversing the state and running into many other states. In addition railways and other transportation agencies have printed much material for display.

Outstanding assistance has been given the campaign also by hotels, Major Bottom said today. Many are giving apples away, sending them to all guests in their rooms following dinner hour. The Southeastern Chain Store Council, representing thousands of stores throughout the South, has made a special effort on behalf of the Virginia apple campaign, including the publication of advertising matter, Major Bottom said.

Looking ahead toward the establishment of permanent American markets for Virginia fruit formerly shipped abroad, plans for the future in this field will be discussed December 7 before the Virginia Horticulture Society in annual meeting in Roanoke by Verbon E. Kemp, executive secretary of the Virginia State Chamber of Commerce. Efforts have been made to place Virginia apples in the South this year, through Virginia Horticulture Society. An extension of this effort in the future is forecast.

I Like This Book

One of a series of book reviews by students of Osborn High School, Manassas—Session 1939-40—in competition for W. C. Wagener Memorial Prize.

GROWTH OF THE SOIL

Knut Hamsun

W. W. Worster translated this book from the Norwegian of Hamsun. It was published by Grosset and Dunlap in February, 1911.

Hamsun gives a very vivid description of the work and the life of a farmer and his family in the Highlands of Norway. Day after day the same schedule is followed. An occasional trip to a country town is the only break in the monotonous farm life. Visitors are so rare that, if a traveler passes by, he is given an extraordinary welcome.

This novel takes place in the unsettled Highlands of Norway. On every side for miles and miles there is nothing to be seen but unsettled land. The nearest civilization is a small country town which is a day's journey from Sellaanraa.

Isak, a poor but hopeful Norwegian farmer, crosses into these unsettled Highlands, and with a small tract of land, begins the making of a farm which becomes his home. He, at first, finds it very difficult to care for the cattle and do the necessary work without help.

The characters in this novel are characteristic of the time and the place. Isak, the farmer who does nothing in addition to working and increasing his farm; Inger, his industrious wife who has been to the city and dreams of going back some day; his two sons, Sivert and Eleasus, Sivert following in the footsteps of his father as a farmer, and Eleasus, who seeks success in the city but fails; his two daughters, Leopoldine and Rebecca, who are satisfied in remaining at home with their mother; Brede Olsen, Isak's neighbors who is very carefree; and Grissler, a friend of Isak's who is ever doing something worth while for the family.

Mr. Hamsun is considered as one of the greatest Norwegian writers of today. He was not recognized by other nations until the publication of this book. He appeals to the emotions rather than to the intellect. He uses the common man as his subject and stays true to it.

This is very different from any other book I have ever read. It is a story of the earth, and what man can do in spite of difficulties and the lack of modern equipment. With the help of nature, man can accomplish many things.

—Elizabeth Miller

This book may be borrowed from the Ruffner Carnegie Library.

We wish to thank our various correspondents for sending their notes early this week.

Hints for Homemakers

By Jane Rogers

DELICIOUS beverages to serve with paper thin cookies or fruit cake are always in demand when friends drop in during the winter holiday season. A supply of canned unsweetened Hawaiian pineapple juice kept in readiness in the refrigerator or pantry for just such occasions will delight your family and friends.

Pineapple nog is a refreshing, bubbly drink that will please the children, and it's so easy to make that they can prepare it themselves by the following directions: Beat 3 egg yolks until thick and creamy. Add three tablespoons sugar and continue to beat. Combine 3 tablespoons lemon juice, 3 tablespoons orange juice and 3 cups canned unsweetened Hawaiian pineapple juice, and add gradually to egg yolks, beating all the while. Fold in 3 egg whites which have been beaten until stiff but not dry. Pour into glasses. Top each serving with grated nutmeg.

Fruit juices and eggs should be very cold.
Yield: 5-8-ounce glasses.

FOOTBALL TEAM SHOWS REAL FORM IN ALDIE GAME

The local football team finally started rolling as they beat Aldie High School at Aldie, 7-0, Friday. But their victory was even more complete than the score indicated. Outplaying their opponents in every department of the game, Manassas amply repaid its fellowers for the preceding defeats which they had witnessed. At only one point was the outcome of the game in doubt as the local boys demonstrated their superiority from the opening whistle.

Kicking off to Aldie to open the game, Manassas then proceeded to drive them back on three successive downs forcing them to kick from deep in their own territory. Gaining possession of the ball on the Aldie 47, two plays netted them 5 yards. Then Vetter, taking the ball on a reverse from Parrish raced around his own left end for 42 yards and a touchdown. Vetter came back to split the uprights from placement for the conversion. Again Manassas kicked off and again they marched to the shadow of the Aldie goal. But this time a desperate forward wall braced and the leaders lost the ball on downs on the 3-yard line. For the remainder of the first half the play was carried on in Aldie territory.

Only in the final quarter did Aldie threaten the Manassas goal-line. A sustained drive carried Aldie to a first down on the Manassas 8. Four times the two lines surged together as they battled for those all-important yards. And four times the Manassas line held and a score was averted as they took the ball on the 3-yard line. But this was just a beginning. Vetter's punt was caught by the fleet Aldie safety man and the lead was saved only when he was knocked outside on the 3. But this time Lady Luck gave our seven blocks of granite a little help and a penalty on Aldie saved Manassas a second time. A daring pass from Vetter to Grady placed the ball in safe territory and the victory was complete.

BYRD PLEADS FOR STATE UNITY

"A State unity and a freedom of factionalism in politics" is essential if Virginia is to take advantage of its opportunities in the fullest measure," Senator Harry F. Byrd declared in an address last week in Charlottesville before the Chamber of Commerce of that city and Albemarle County. He asserted that "Virginia stands on the threshold of a great progress and development; even throughout the years of the depression, Virginia was one of the very few States in the Union to make progress. We are ready to avail ourselves in the fullest measure of returning prosperity."

"Virginia is one of only three States in the Union which has not increased indebtedness or increased taxation since 1932 when the depression began," Senator Byrd stated. "Our freedom of indebtedness, our low and reasonable taxation (Virginia has the second lowest tax on land of all the States,) our natural resources and advantages give to Virginia the possibility for development and progress not exceeded, and perhaps not equalled, by any other State."

THE FIRST THANKSGIVING

Long, long ago the Pilgrims came to America from England. They found Indians here. One little Indian boy's name was Little Bear.

At first, Little Bear was afraid of the white people. But at last, he became used to them. When spring came, he taught them how to plant corn and kill wild turkeys.

When fall came the Pilgrims gave a large feast. The women cooked wild turkeys and many other good things to eat. When the feast was ready the Indian friends were invited. They thanked God for blessing them. That was the first Thanksgiving day in our country.

CATLETT

Our community has again been saddened by the death of one of its oldest and best beloved citizens.

Mrs. Emma Holmes Allen on November 4, 1939, at her home on "Allen's Hill" near Catlett.

Mrs. Allen was best known to everyone as "Grandma Allen," a kind sweet, motherly old lady, and a home where you always found a welcome.

Until late years where ever there was illness in the community you would find "Grandma" doing what she could.

The last few years she has been a patient sufferer with rheumatism and an invalid.

To know her was to love her. She quietly fell asleep to awake with Jesus.

Her husband, Mr. Ruben Allen died several years ago.

She leaves to mourn her loss a host of relatives and friends.

Funeral services were held at the Methodist Church of which she was a faithful member, by Rev. George W. Crabtree.

Burial took place in Catlett, cemetery.

Mrs. Ruby Burke who has been quite sick is able to be out again. Mr. Winfield Laws who has had a very badly sprained wrist, is improving.

Recent guests at the home of Rev. and Mrs. George W. Crabtree, were Dr. Clapham King of Washington, D. C., Mrs. Charles Allen of Washington, D. C., Mrs. Gertrude H. Mrs. Ford Noland who has been on the sick list, is improving. Mr. and Mrs. John Huffman are spending some time with Mrs. Huffman's father Mr. L. J. Brown.

We are glad Mr. Huffman who has been in the hospital for several months, is able to be out again.

We are glad to learn that Rev. B. T. Price who was recently operated on, is home from the hospital and getting along very well. We wish for him a speedy recovery.

Miss Lily Edmonds has returned to her home here from Washington, D. C., where she has been nursing for several weeks.

LITTLE COUNTRY PAPER

When the evenin' shade is falling at the end of the day,
An' a feller rests from labor and smokes his pipe o' clay,
There's nothin' does him so much good, be fortune up or down,
As the little country paper from his Ol' Home Town.

It ain't a thing o' beauty an' its print ain't always clean,
But it straightens out his temper when a feller's feelin' mean;
It takes the wrinkles off his face an' brushes off the frown,
That little country paper from his Ol' Home Town.

It tells of all the parties and balls at Pumpkin Row;
'Bout who spent Sunday with whose girls and how the crops'll grow;
An' how it keeps a feller posted 'bout who's up an' who is down;
That little country paper from his Ol' Home Town.

Now, I like to read the dailies and the story papers, too,
An' at times the yaller novels an' some other trash—don't you?
But when I want some readin' that'll brush away a frown,
I want that little paper from my Ol' Home Town.

jections.

The bottom of the ocean now can be measured by radio.

Dr. Herbert Grove Dorsey, scientist of the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, has invented a device that makes it possible for the navigator of a seagoing vessel, moving at full steam, to avoid hazardous rocks and other underwater pro-

The device, known as a sono-radio buoy, was developed by Dr. Dorsey for use by the Coast and Geodetic Survey. The Navy is expected to adopt it soon, however, for use in its hydrographic work. See illustrated article scheduled for publication in The Washington Star of Sunday, November 26.

BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

If parents will have their children memorize the daily Bible selections, it will prove a priceless heritage to them in after years.

For in Him we live and move and have our being.—Acts 17: 28.

BLUNDERING PROPAGANDA

Invention of the radio and the accompanying improvement of communication between nations has brought propaganda to the forefront as an effective weapon in modern warfare. And just as mistakes are frequently made in the use of older and better understood implements of warfare, so it is inevitable that foolish errors will be coming to light from time to time, committed by men whose high place in world affairs would indicate an intelligence above the plane indicated by such unpardonable blunders.

Outstanding blunders so far are the meddling pronouncements both from Russia and from England respecting strictly American affairs and institutions. Russia, presumably a neutral, through the Soviet Premier Molotov, severely castigates the United States for repealing the arms embargo, and Winston Churchill exhibits the basest ingratitude in insulting our South, which has been a bulwark of strength in effecting the repeal.

The South will not soon forget what the First Lord of the British Admiralty, Winston Churchill, said a few days ago in suggesting an analogy between the noble cause of the Confederacy and the filthy unprincipled Adolph Hitler, but we have too strong a bond with England to let a nasty-minded old Half-Englishman symbolize British thought. If Churchill would venture into the realm of American history, and read only a little way, he would discover that the institution of Slavery was introduced into this country by Northern slave-traders, and guaranteed by the Constitution of the United States, not by the South. However, it would be more patriotic in the grave emergency which confronts the British Admiralty, for Mr. Churchill to focus his talent upon such problems as protecting ships like the Royal Oak, and leave American politics to such friends as he may still have on this side of the Atlantic.

AN EDITOR'S REWARD

A newspaper man knocked at the Pearly gate,
His face was scarred and old.
He stood before the man of fate
For admission to the fold.
"What have you done," St. Peter asked,
"To gain admission here?"
"I've been a newspaper man, sir," he replied,

"For many and many a year."
The Pearly gates swung open wide and St. Peter touched the bell,
"Come in," he said, "and choose your harp."
You've had your taste of hell."

I THANK THEE
By Algia A. Martin

Our Heavenly Father
I do thank thee,
For the good water
And for the tree,
For the sun
Shining so bright,
And for the moon's
Gleam at night,
Also, Dear Lord
I do thank you,
For giving to me
A love so true,
And I thank you
Dear Lord, today,
For the blessings
You have bestowed
For me, on my way,
So, for the love
You give to me,
My Heavenly Father
I do thank thee.

FLAVOR OF THE SHENANDOAH

Way up in the air, handpicking Virginia apples in an orchard near Winchester, are these two Frederick County girls, the Misses. Jonedith Henry and Kitty Baker, who recommend Virginia apples for red cheeks and delicious coloring. They are doing their bit toward marketing in Virginia a part of the 2,000,000 bushels of apples destined for export that must be disposed of in Virginia this year, due to war conditions abroad. Governor Price has declared November 20 to 25 as Virginia Apple Week, to aid growers in creating a local market.

OCCOQUAN AND VICINITY

Messrs. Frank Hornbaker, E. Myron Lynn and J. Tom Seelman, all of Occoquan attended the Red Skins—Cardinals football game in Washington, D. C., on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose J. Petellat and family of Occoquan, spent Sunday in Manassas as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Emmitt Adkins.

Rev. E. W. Wilcher of Laurel, Md., and his son, Mr. Harold Wilcher of Occoquan, are on a hunting expedition in the Va. Mountains. Big bears better keep under cover. Mrs. E. W. Wilcher will be the guest of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Harold Wilcher in Occoquan until return of the hunters.

Mrs. Thomas F. Joyce of Occoquan, visited friends and relatives in Washington, D. C., in mid week.

The Misses. Mamie L. and Helen Davis and Mr. A. B. Rogers, all of Occoquan, drove to Leesburg, Va., during the week end and took in most of the historic points of interest there.

The Rector's Aid Ladies of Pohick Church held their regular monthly meeting at the Church Hall on Wednesday, November 15, with Mrs. Herbert U. Baker, president presiding. There was a very nice attendance, and all had a very delightful afternoon. They completed arrangements at this meeting to Paint and Paper the Rectory so it would be done before another rector moved in to take the place of Rev. Langston who retired. This is a very wise move at this time.

The Turkey-Ham-Oyster Supper give by the O-W-L-Volunteer Fire Department in the Fire House in Occoquan on Saturday evening, November 18, was a huge success. The dinner itself could not be duplicated even in the Waldorf. Everybody said it was the best dinner they ever had, and as one who was there, the truth is it was the best dinner your scribe ever attended at any benefit. We hope there will be another soon, and if there does, be sure not to miss it.

The Welfare officials and others in Fairfax County who have been responsible for the grand success of the Fairfax County Community Chest are to be congratulated. It shows what can be done if we try. Prince William County officials take a leaf from Fairfax County work. It is also to be noted with pleasure

CATHARPIN

The tenant house of the form of Dr. C. F. Brower was totally destroyed by fire Tuesday night. The house was occupied by Beverly Payne and his child, and Isaac Page who boarded with them. The fire was caused by a defective flue. Efforts were made to extinguish the flames, but that was impossible. The fire had spread so rapidly that neither clothing nor household good could be saved.

Miss Dorothy Kellar of Washington, visited her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Anderson and other friends, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Alvey accompanied by Mr. Henry Maddox, visited their friend, Mrs. L. J. Canter at Charlotte Hall, Md., Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Pattie and family, and Messrs. Edward Pattie and L. J. Pattie, Jr., motored from Triangle, Sunday to visit relatives here.

Mrs. Claude Ellis recently accompanied Mr. J. J. Riley to Washington where she visited relatives for the weekend.

Judging from the sleet this morning, it looks as through the weather man is going to move things up and try to make it look like Thanksgiving anyway.

that Fredericksburg has exceeded their quota for the Community Chest in that town. Congratulations to the Fredericksburg officials and POOR Stafford County are making a grand success in their Welfare Work. Congratulations to our good friends and neighbors in Stafford County.

How To Relieve Bronchitis

Bronchitis, acute or chronic, is an inflammatory condition of the mucous membranes lining the bronchial tubes. Creomulsion goes right to the seat of the trouble to loosen germ laden phlegm, increase secretion and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. Tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding that you are to take the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Ancient and Modern Necromancy, Alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all churches and societies of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, November 26.

The Golden Text will be "When they shall say unto you, Seek unto them that have familiar spirits, and unto wizards that peep, and that mutter: should not a people seek unto their God?" (Isaiah 8:19.)

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "For I delight in the law of God after the inward man: But I see another law in my members, warring against the law of mind, and bringing me into captivity to the law of sin which is in my members. O wretched man that I am! who shall deliver me from the body of this death? I thank God through Jesus Christ our Lord" (Rom. 7:22-25.)

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Mortal mind is constantly producing on mortal body the results of false opinions; and it will continue to do so, until mortal error is deprived of its imaginary powers by Truth, which sweeps away the gossamer web of mortal illusion." (p. 403.)

TRUSTEES ELECTED

Following these Rev. M. J. Miller, of Martinsburg, W. Va., the conference Superintendent, conducted the business session. Chief among the business was the election of two trustees. Mr. Fred Whetzel was chosen for the Aden Church and Mr. Bill Thomasson for the parsonage.

In closing, Rev. Miller gave a very helpful discussion based on the transfiguration of Christ.

THE MORGAN LIBRARY OF RARE BOOKS

Visitors to the New York World's Fair had an unequalled opportunity to see the treasures of rare books and manuscripts in the almost unrivaled collections of the magnificent Pierpont Morgan Library in New York, as it was opened daily to the public for the duration of the World's Fair. The Morgan collection of rare books (which is only one division of the vast collection in every field of literature and art) is now unequalled among private libraries and only excelled by such old world national institutions as the British Museum, the National Library of France and the Vatican Library of Rome.

The exhibit consisting of typical examples of the treasures of the great library was in three divisions: illuminated manuscripts, early printed books, and autograph manuscripts of famous English and American authors.

First among the treasures of the Incunabula (early printed books) was the great Gutenberg Bible of 1454 in Latin, the first book to be reproduced by Johannes Gutenberg's new invention of printing. The 42 copies of this Bible still existing are almost beyond price, one of them valued at over $200,000 is now in the Library of Congress.

In addition to early Bibles, and there were a number beside Gutenberg's, there were many other productions of the printing presses of Aldus Manutius and Nicolaus Jansen of Venice, Elzevier of Belgium, the English Caxton and, indeed, all of the early printers. Many of these books are worth a king's ransom. One volume of Caxton's Le Morte d' Arthur had brought over $40,000 at a recent sale. There was also a first edition of Cicero's Orations, the first ancient classic to be printed; first editions of Homer's works, Dante's Divine Comedy, Chaucer's Canterbury Tales, and St. Augustine's de Civitate Dei, together with letters of Columbus and Amerigo Vesputius concerning their American voyages. Coming down to more modern times, a rare copy of John Eliot's Indian Bible (1663) was there, also one of the very valuable First Folio editions of Shakespeare's Plays (1623) and first editions of Spenser, Bacon, Milton, Bunyon, and practically of all the great English writers down to recent times.

In the division of illuminated manuscripts were many superb and exceedingly valuable volumes. Latin copy of the Four Gospels, the entire text written in letters of gold on purple vellum, a work of the ninth century thought to have been executed in the "Palace School" of Chloemagne; a Latin Lectionary written in the Benedictine Monastery of St. Gall founded by Irish monks in the Seventh Century. It is not generally known that Ireland was the chief center of education and learning in Europe at that period. There was also a profusely illustrated Latin Missal written in the abbey of Mont St. Michel, ninth century, the abbey described in Henry Adams famous book, "Chatterbox and Mont St. Michel."

Homelier than these richly illuminated manuscripts of a far off age, but more precious in the sight of many of us, were some of the Library's eight hundred original manuscripts in the handwriting of famous English and American authors. Here are a few of the titles: Dickens' Christmas Carol, (in his own handwriting) Burn's Auld Lang Syne, Caxton's Saturday Night, Highland Mary. (In all, $200,000 worth of Burn's manuscripts), Scott's Ivanhoe, Keates' Endymion, Shelley's Indian Serenade—this poem was found on his drowned body when washed up on the Italian coast, Thackeray's Vanity-Fair, Byron's Don Juan, Tennyson's Brook, Poe's Annabel Lee, Hawthorne's Blithedale Romance, Emerson's Concord Hymn, Kipling's Captain Courageous, etc., etc.

In this year's celebration of Book Week when libraries and schools are directing the public attention to the world of books—the new ones that are pouring from the press, the old ones that have come down to us through the centuries—it is good to think that since the world is in its present unhappy state, a part, at least, of its art and literary treasures are safe in America.
