R. Hersch, of Cannon Branch Church of the Brethren, will be the preacher for this service. The offering will be for the cause of Week Day Religious Education in Prince William County. With the opening of school, this program will begin its sixth year. Miss Hazel Saunders will continue as the teacher. The Ministerial Association has always supported and promoted this religious training project, and as the year begins, it is hoped that there may be a generous offering.
Fifth Sunday Union Services have been carried on for many years in Manassas. They provide an excellent opportunity for the people of many Christian groups to worship the Lord together. Let us turn out in full force on Sunday night. This is public worship and everyone is cordially invited.

HAYMARKET HIGH SCHOOL

Dear Mr. Editor:

Knowing that many citizens of Manassas and of their parts of Prince William County are interested in the effort in Gainesville district to hold the High School at Haymarket, I seek the privilege and help of your esteemed Journal in order to give to the public the following statement.

History of the Struggle:

For several years the County and State school authorities have contemplated closing the high school at Haymarket, and on December 4th, last the County School Board passed a resolution to close this school at the end of the academic year 1940-41.

On January 6th last, the Council of the Town of Haymarket passed a resolution opposing the action of the School Board.

On January 20th, at a meeting of the citizens of Gainesville District, Supt. R. C. Haydon made a lengthy statement after which a resolution was introduced calling upon the citizens to oppose the Board's action by every legal means available. Mr. Haydon presented a substitute motion requesting the County School Board to reconsider their action of December 4th, 1940, and grant one more year of operation to Haymarket High School. Mr. Haydon promised to use his influence to the utmost in order to induce the Board to grant the request contained in the motion. On the strength of Mr. Haydon's statements the original motion was withdrawn and its sponsors voted for Mr. Haydon's substitute motion which carried by a large majority.

The Board did not deal with the matter until its meeting of March 5th, at which time the Board's action of December 4th was sustained. Mr. Haydon subsequently gave no explanation as to why he did not carry out his promise of January 20th.

In the meantime a survey was made which revealed 95 per cent of the citizens opposed to closing the High School at Haymarket.

On May 15th another meeting was held at which a citizens' committee was appointed with authority to take such action as they judged best in the effort to prevent the closing of this school. This committee conducted

HE LEARNS FROM LEAHY

Professor Herbert Saunders (left), of Manassas High School

Herbert Saunders, Manassas High School coach, isn't like most of the Virginians who go to the resort city, Daytona Beach, Florida, in summer. He went, not to play on the beach, but to learn more about football.

Here he's shown with none other than Frank Leahy, new coach of Notre Dame who was an instructor at an annual coaching school at Daytona Beach last week.

Other coaches who were instructors at the school included Bo McMillin Indiana; Tom Lieb and Moon Mullins, Florida; Ray Duncan, Illinois; Adolph Rupp, Kentucky; Jack McDowall, Rollins.

History of the Manassas Kiwanis Club

(As presented by Kiwanian Lloyd, past president of the local club at the meeting held on August 22, 1941)

I wonder how many members of this club know how nearly we came to being Rotarians instead of Kiwanians?

When Raymond Ratcliffe went to Roanoke in the summer of 1924 to attend a banker's convention, he was invited to a Rotary Club dinner held there. The famous HARRY LAUDER was there to entertain the club and Rat was greatly impressed. He came back to Manassas filled with the idea that Manassas, too, should have a Rotary Club.

While he was considering the proposition he came in contact with a Kiwanis Club organizer who persuaded him that a Kiwanis Club was better suited for Manassas, and by that narrow margin we are Kiwanians and not Rotarians.

Having made that decision he broached the subject to all the leading citizens of Manassas and the surrounding country.

As the result of his activities a meeting was held at Parish Hall on October 17, 1924.

That meeting was conducted by our sponsoring Alexandria Kiwanis Club and a large number of the members of that club attended.

The Manassas Kiwanis Club was organized then and there with Raymond Ratcliffe as president. Jim Bradford was chosen secretary.

The club started off with 37 members. This number was soon increased to 43, the new members being Christ Meetze, John Burke, John Iden, Edgar Parrish, Paul Nelson, and Dr. McBryde, who joined in that order. The club never had a larger active membership than 43.

The membership began to dwindle in December 1925, when John Iden and Harry Sanders resigned, having moved away.

The enrollment continued to be in the neighborhood of 40 until October 1927, when a sudden drop took place and the active membership got down as low as 32, and never again got much above that number.

Of the original 37 members, 14 remain. They are Arrington, Bradford, Conner, Diddle, Gibson, Fred Hynson, Dick Hynson, Hutchison, Hoeff, Lewis, Lloyd, Ratcliffe, Trusler, Wat-

ZAMZAM SURVIVOR TO VISIT HERE

Missionary Nurse to Speak at Cannon Branch Church.

A missionary nurse, Miss Ruth Utz, who was a survivor of the Zamzam, which was sunk by the Germans in the south Atlantic three months ago, will be in the county on Sunday, August 31, to tell of her experiences. She will speak at the Cannon Branch Church of the Brethren at 11 a.m., and at the Nokesville Church of the Brethren in a joint meeting of the Nokesville and Valley Churches at 8 p.m.

Miss Utz, a member of the Church of the Brethren, has spent two terms of service in the Nigeria, Africa, mission of her denomination. She was on her way to the field for another term of service, along with over one-hundred other missionaries, when the ship was sunk. After the horror of the sinking of the ship, she was rescued by the German raider and spent a month of hardship on that ship before being released in German-occupied France. Later she was permitted to go to Lisbon, Portugal, and thence to this country. In her talks here she will tell something of her experiences in connection with the sinking of the Zamzam, as well as the progress of the mission work in her chosen field of service.

A native of Brightwood, Madison County, Va., Miss Utz has many friends throughout this part of the state. She has given some vital message in this county on previous trips, and those who have heard her will be anxious to hear her again.

Miss Utz plans to sail again for the Africa mission as soon as reasonably safe transportation can be secured.

MOTOR TRUCK TAX CHANGES STUDIED

Gross Inequalities to be Worked Out at Next Assembly.

The Fenwick Commission studying taxation of commercial vehicles conducted hearings in Richmond, Tuesday, which were attended by Hon. E. R. Conner, Delegate from Prince William and Stafford Counties.

Establishment of the Fenwick Commission was the outgrowth of legislation introduced by Mr. Conner at the last Session of the General Assembly, which was designed to change the present system of taxing commercial trucks to include the load carried rather than the vehicle weight.

The Commission heard Mr. Burton Marye, Jr., of the planning division of the State Highway Department, who urged that all commercial carriers be taxed the two per cent gross receipts tax now paid by common carrier trucks engaged in inter state commerce.

Mr. Burton testified that now a single unit four ton truck pays a license fee of $150.00 and is allowed to carry a load of 20,000 pounds; while a five-ton tractor truck pays a license of $67.50, and may carry a load of 20,900 pounds.

The Highway Department is recommending a schedule for commercial trucks of fifteen cents per hundred gross weight with a $10.00 minimum for vehicles of 8,000 pounds and under; twenty cents for those from eight to 12,000 pounds; forty cents for trucks for 12 to 16,000, and seventy cents for vehicles over 20,000 pounds.

The Highway Users Association filed a protest stating that this increase would cost the carriers more than a million dollars annually, but the Highway Department maintained before the Commission that the increase would be around $40,000.

The Fenwick Commission will report its final recommendations for action by the next General Assembly.

FLAG MOVEMENT CONSIDERED SUCCESSFUL

This last week the committee which has charge of the flag program for the town of Manassas which has been adopted jointly by the town council and the American Legion, reported considerable success for the beginning. Many of the merchants have placed orders for flags and the county commissioners have agreed to decorate both sides of the court house. In addition quite a number of home owners and occupants of residential property have indicated intention of securing flag outfits as soon as the soliciting teams can get around to visit that section of town. The Legion committee consists of the following members: Parrish, Stagg, Stauff, Johnson, O'Neil, Coverstone, Curtis, Davis, Bean, Gillum and Burchard, chairman. The committee are planning to work in pair and each is provided with official receipt books as it is expected to collect the cost of the flag sets at the time each order is given. This is necessary, as neither the town council or the Legion have provided funds to make advance payments.

Under this plan delivery of all flag sets can be made as soon as they are received to all those who have made payment and hold the official receipt.

The Journal wishes to commend the American Legion and the Town Council for actively supporting such a worthwhile community activity.

CONFEDERATE POST OFFICE APPOINTMENT

Mr. D. J. Arrington has an interesting Confederate relic in the form of a certificate of appointment by the Confederate Postmaster General, John H. Reagan, designating John M. Homes as postmaster for Stafford Store, in Stafford County, Va.

The certificate is imprinted with the official seal of the Confederacy affixed at Richmond, January 19, 1862.

Mr. Arrington found the certificate among the private papers of his father, Mr. D. T. Arrington, also of Prince William, and he would appreciate any information which could be secured concerning John H. Homes who was by this certificate designated as postmaster of Stafford Store in Stafford County.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Christ Jesus" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all churches and societies of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, August 31.

The Golden Text will be "I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ:
for it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth"
(Rom. 1:16).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "If any man serve me, let him follow me; and where I am, there shall also my servant be: if any man serve me, him will my Father honour" (John 12: 26).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "More than profession is requisite for Christain demonstration. Few understand or adhere to Jesus' divine precepts for living and healing. Why? Because his precepts require the disciple to cut off the right hand and pluck out the right eye,—that is, to set aside even the most cherished beliefs and practices, to lav all for Christ"
(p. 141).

CARD OF THANKS

Brighter or ever grew.
Than the one that God has taken,

nine hundred and ninety-nine cases—half a million garments—valued at $489,368.23 in the nine months of the Committee's existence, is their record to date.

Only new garments or those comparable to new are accepted by the Committee. These are furnished almost entirely by members of the Christian Science organization. They are shipped to a central Christian Science Committee, in London, where they are allocated to different almon-ers in England and Scotland. The work is in the hands of members of the Christian Science denomination until the garments are distributed. They are gladly given to any person in need, regardless of denomination.

It is the purpose of the Committee in the United States to keep its depots in England supplied with an adequate amount of clothing and blankets for emergencies; so, the London Committee is becoming known as a storehouse from which emergencies can be met. This was evidenced by the fact that it was crates of clothing from this Committee which first reached Govenry; and when the great fire occurred in London, The Christian Science War Relief Committee was able to meet an appeal for blankets. Fortunately, many hundreds of blankets had been shipped and had just arrived.

Not only are garments made by sewing units in about thirteen hundred places throughout the United States, but thousands of new garments are purchased and sent, from a War Relief Fund generously contributed by Christian Scientists. Three motor kitchens have been sent and a motor truck or van is maintained in England for quick deliveries.

The Committee in Boston is grateful for the record of goods sent as well as for the fact that because services are so largely voluntary, its overhead expense is only 4.1 per cent.
It also rejoices that less than one per cent of the goods shipped is all that has been lost by sinkings.

The main depot for shipping to England is located in Boston, but shipments are also made from Portland, Oregon; New York City, and Los Angeles.

JAMES LEE LINAWEAVER

James L. Linaweaver, a resident of this section for many years, died at a Washington hospital late last Wednesday night after an illness of several weeks.

The deceased was a native of Woodstock where he was born March 17, 1863, the son of Jacob and Maria Linaweaver. He joined the United Brethren Church when quite a young man and had been a most faithful member. He had been superintendent of the Buckhall Sunday School since the parents of the many of the present scholars were then scholars themselves.

The funeral services were held there Saturday afternoon. Despite the intense heat, the little structure was filled to overflowing, many of the crowd being his Sunday School pupils.

The services were conducted by the Rev. Stanley Knupp, assisted by the Rev. Mr. O. R. Kesner, former pastor, who preached a wonderfully soothing sermon.

Pallbearers were Messrs. Morgan A.
Hensley, Ben Bradford, G. G. Allen, Higgs Lewis, J. L. Bushong, and Emery Mayhugh. Interment was at the Buckhall cemetery.

Surviving are his widow and a daughter by a first marriage, Mrs.
Ruth Amos, of Fairfax, and two grandsons.

A farmer all of his life, Mr. Lin-aweaver had a reputation of being one of the hardest working men in these parts. His industry was a shining example to all who knew him, and as an upright citizen he will long be missed.

In his fraternal affiliations, he was a member of the Order Fraternal Americans. A great many former and present members of his old Council were present, two of them being among the pallbearers.

LANCASTER WILL DIRECT SCHOOLS

Dabney S. Lancaster, executive secretary of Sweet Briar College, has been named by Governor James H. Price as state superintendent of Public Education, succeeding Dr. Sidney B. Hall. Mr. Lancaster is expected to take office on September 1, at which time Dr. Hall's resignation become effective.

Mr. Lancaster is a native of Richmond, and a graduate of the University of Virginia and Virginia Polytechnic Institute. He was secretary of the State Board of Education from 1925-29, when he became dean of University of Alabama. He left Alabama to become executive secretary of Sweet Briar College in 1937.

WATERFALL

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Gosson, jr and son, Dickie, of Spartanburg, S. C., are spending their vacation with Mr. Gosson's parents at "Mt. Atlas" and with relatives in Washington, D. C.

Mr. Everett Gay, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Gay, who are recent residents of our neighborhood, is stationed at Fort Moultrie, before leaving for a three year service in Puerto Rico.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Harrison Bowen, of "Poplar Hill" very delightfully entertained their friends at a "Roast Pig Barbecue" on Saturday afternoon. The barbecue, which is some thing of an "innovation" in these parts, "is a very common occurrence" in Georgia, from which sunny came Mrs. Bowen hails, and her mother, Mrs. Guy Parker, of Rocky Ford, Ga., came up to superintend the roasting of the pig and the making of the Brunswick Stew. Much credit is due to Mr. Bowen, who enlivened his lonely vigil of the night, with solitaire, in roasting the pig to perfection, and to Mr. J. Preston Smith for his skill in carving the delicious slices of white meat with crisp brown edges. We were able to wheedle an extra serving of that good "old back bone", and we weren't the only one who came back for more!

Those attending were Mrs. Guy Parker, of Georgia; Mr. and Mrs. Allen Bowen and Shirley and Robert Bowen, of Buffalo, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Belt, of Hyattsville, Md.; Dr. and Mrs. Wm. Dodge, Mr. Charles Dodge and Mrs. Oswald Carper, and Betty May, of McLean, Va.; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Thomas, Miss Mary Margaret Thomas and Mr. Walter Pickett, of Arlington, Va.; Mrs. Ford Anderson, Mrs. James Maxheimer and Miss Ruth Shirley, of Warrenton, Va.; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Jordan and Mr. and Mrs. J. William Garrett, of Haymarket, Va.; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bell, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bell and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. Preton Smith, Messrs. R. R. and Wade Smith, Mrs. Stuart Pickett, and Peggy Anne and Misses Margaret Shirley and Ruth Gosson.

Mrs. Charles Barnes and Judy and Randall, of Arlington, Va., were guests on Tuesday of Mrs. R. R. Smith at "Hagley".

The Woman's Bible Class of Columbia Baptist Church, of Falls Church, Va., and of which Mrs. Henry Thomas is a member, held their annual picnic at "Oak Shade", the home of Miss Margaret Shirley on Tuesday of this week. The women chartered a bus and on arriving at "Oak Shade", we discovered the bus driver was a baptist, too, and a member of Antioch Church in Goshen Association, which is one of the Rev. Mr. E. V. Peytons' churches, who recently helped in a meeting here.

The lunch served at tables on the lawn was delicious and proved that the ladies of Falls Church, are really good cooks. The class meeting which followed was presided over the President Mrs. E. T. Fenwick, assisted by the teacher, Mrs. Jos. Crupper. During the very severe electrical storm which drove the group indoors, we were entertained with singing of hymns and old songs, with Mrs. Fenwick at the piano, and her daughter, Mary, leading the group singing.

We were interested in the reminiscences of Ellen Skinner Story, who discovered that her girlhood home was over the mountain, just beyond the "beacon light". After the serving of a refreshing iced drink by Mrs. Thomas assisted by Mary Margaret and two of her friends, Becky and Patty, the class departed, all crowding into the big bus and leaving one of the cars, which had been "drowned" by the rain, to be called for later.

Mr. Herman Smith and Mrs. Della Brontley, who were married in Washington, Friday, by the Rev. Dr. Briggs, enjoyed a short motor trip thru the Valley of Virginia, visiting Natural Bridge and Endless Caverns, and are spending this week at "Hagley" the home of Herman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Smith, before returning to Arlington County, where they will live for the present.

THE SHIPYARD SEIZURE

One has to look toward Russia to see a parallel of the super-government method of controlling labor difficulties which has come into being in the United States, and this is not surprising when it is realized that the head labor organizer of this country and member of the President's Defense Mediation Board was born in Russia, is charged with having participated in the Bolshevik Revolution and may be regarded as Joseph Stalin's right hand man.

The Communist Party now holds key positions in our defense machinery and industrial organization. Denouncement by the Dies Committee Investigating Un-American Activity has been conspicuously followed by appointment to official position in our government and we may as well recognize that unless patriotic Americans, still numerically preponderate, realize that we are headed the way Russia went in the first World War, and in the same direction that France more recently followed, the United States will ultimately be defeated from within.

Labor has secured a special law for itself above and beyond the restrictions imposed by the Constitution. As in Russia it has overthrown the Civil Courts so far as it is concerned by removing its affairs from that jurisdiction. Under the Soviet system now in effect with respect to Labor the employer has no chance at all. He is forced to recognize as the sole bargaining agency of his plant whichever union wins an election in which he must take no part. He is even restrained by law from discussing the matter at all with his employees while the union organizers are turned loose within his premises under protection of the Wagner Act.

The National Labor Relation Board which is one-sided and pro-labor decides all disputes

MODERN EFFICIENCY

OUR CONCEPTION of efficiency changes with time. Armies used to win victories with horses and sabres. Now they use tanks and machine guns.

People once paid bills with cash. Now they use checks. So efficient and convenient are checks that some 90% of all commercial transactions involve their use.

You will find them invaluable to you personally as an aid to stepping up your efficiency.

and more recently a Defense Mediation Board has been set up as the final umpire which is two to one in favor of radical labor.

Emboldened by these accomplishments Labor has now invented a new form of discrimination against its employers. It is called the "Union Security" clause and it compels the employer to discharge union workers who do not pay their dues. This is an obvious violation of even the pro-labor Wagner Act which severely punishes the Company for taking any part in Union activities.

Recommendation by the Defense Mediation Board that the great shipyard plant at Kearney, N. J., adopt this newest invasion of the employers Constitutional rights has very properly thrown that serious controversy into the President's lap. The Union favored government seizure because it feels secure in its belief that since all mediation machinery is one-sided in their favor, the government which established these unfair umpires will also be partisan in their favor. The Company favors government control because it recognizes that it cannot possibly get a fair decision from the mediation set-up and wishes to fix the responsibility where it belongs — with the Chief Executive.

So this week we see the Secretary of the Navy taking charge of the Federal Shipyard and Drydock Company of Kearney, N. J., with its half-billion dollar program of defense orders and the general public waits with interest to see if it could be possible that the United States Navy, like the Department of Labor, derives its inspiration from the Communist International Headquarters in Russia, or is, as is hoped and believed, an honest all-American fighting which respects the Constitutional rights of all parties to a labor dispute, and places national defense above "social gains".

Reverend John M. DeChant, Manassas, Virginia.
Dear Mr. DeChant:

I received your letter dated, August 8, 1941, and deeply appreciate your writing as you did. You may be sure it was a pleasure to make Special Agent D. A. Ladenberger of this Bureau available to address the annual picnic of the Prince William County Sunday School Association on August 7, 1941.

It is encouraging also to know that so many persons were impressed with the manner in which the Federal Bureau of Investigation has assumed its responsibility in the investigation of National Defense matters. I am sure that if we have the confidence of the American people, we will continue to be successful in this program. If at any time we can be of assistance to you in matters of mutual interest, do not hesitate to call upon me.

With best-wishes and kind regards,
Sincerely yours,
J. Edgar Hoover.

VIRGINIA TUBERCULOSIS ASSOCIATION

For the first time since records have been kept the death rate from tuberculosis in this state fell below 60 per 100,000 population in 1940, according to figures released by the State Department of Health and made public today by the Virginia Tuberculosis Association.

The tuberculosis death rate last year, the Health Department records show, was 58.1 which compares with a mortality rate of 60.8 recorded in 1939.

The number of deaths in the State from all forms of tuberculosis last year was 1,560-732 white and 828 Negro. This gave the white population a death rate of 36.2 compared with 124.6 among Negroes, or a combined rate of 58.1, which means that Virginia has decreased her tuberculosis death rate 68.8 among whites and 62.0 among Negroes since 1915. In 1915 Virginia had a combined tuberculosis death rate of 182.4, or 116.7 white and 328.0 Negro. Compared with the total deaths of 1,560 in 1940 stands the figure of 4,003 in 1915, when the white plague proved fatal to 1,765 white persons and 2,238 Negroes.

While visibly pleased with the progress made by Virginia toward controlling and eradicating tuberculosis, Dr. Frank S. Johns, president of the Virginia Tuberculosis Association, pointed out that mortality from the disease in the Old Dominion still remains higher than that of the United States. For the year 1939 the tuberculosis death rate in the United States as a whole was 47.0.

WIND-BLOWN ISLAND
MARINE CORPS BASE

When a typhoon swept across the island of Guam the other day it left a trail of disaster in its wake. It also meant additional hours of hard work for the U.S. Marines whose barracks were reported to be badly damaged in the storm.

As a rule life moves along tranquilly in this little tropical island, 30 miles long and from 7 to 10 miles wide. The easy-going natives are called Chamorros, and their language as well as their nationality is a mixture of Spanish, Chamorro, Filipino and American.

The island is under the rule of the Navy Department and the Marines see that the laws are enforced. They guard the two small navy yards there and also form the Insular Patrol, each marine covering a territory of from ten to twenty miles and being responsible for good order in his district.

Copra and coconut oil are the principal exports, but the island also produces a number of tropical fruits. Its 4,300 head of cattle include 1,432 water buffalo. Army and transports furnish supplies for the Navy and Marine Corps personnel.

Other typhoons have swept over Guam without greatly disturbing its approximately 18,000 native inhabitants. They worked together in groups and the damage was soon repaired. Most of their houses are of nipa construction, easily built and as easily destroyed.

The U.S. Marines seldom remain longer than a year or two on the island, except for their isolated position, they have virtually all of the comforts which may be found on the mainland.

The United States Marine Corps has at the present time two parachute battalions. One is stationed on the East coast with the First Division of the Fleet Marine Force and the other with the Second Division on the West Coast.

All members of these battalions were trained at the Marine Corps parachute school here at the naval air station.

Marines, who appear qualified, become parachutists by volunteering for that duty. They must be between 21 and 32 years of age, but most trained Marine chutists are between 21 and 25.

Marine parachute officers prefer jumpers about five feet, eight or nine inches tall and weighing from 160 to 190 pounds.

The training course is no snap. Students jump from platforms daily in order to toughen their legs and ankles. They are trained in jujitsu and tumbling. Long marches and a daily gymnastic program condition them for duty as sky soldiers.

When a Marine parachutist jumps, he is armed only with a .45 caliber pistol and hand grenades. Heavier weapons such as rifles, machine guns and mortars are landed by cargo parachutes.

Their pistols, ammunition, hand grenades, rations and a knife for cutting fouled parachute cords are carried in green paratronics which Marine parachutists wear.

The Marine Corps expects about one broken leg in every 500 jumps. The Corps hopes to train approximately 300 parachutists a month.

SIXTY DAY WATERFOWL
SEASON ANNOUNCED

The 1941 waterfowl hunting season will begin November 2, and end December 31, according to word received from the Commission of Game and Inland Fisheries. The new regulations have just been announced by the United States Department of the Interior.

Ducks, geese, and coots may be hunted between these dates from sunrise until 4 p.m. each day. The season includes the opening and closing dates mentioned.

While the length of the season remains the same as last year, the regulations have been somewhat liberalized. The daily bag limit on ducks is ten, except that not more than three redheads or buffleheads may be killed in any one day. For several years canvasbacks and ruddy ducks have been included in this special group on which the daily limit is a total of three birds. This year the canvasbacks and ruddy ducks do not need special protection, and they have been classed with the scaups, mallards, and other ducks on which the limit is a total of ten of all species. The daily limit on geese remains at three, and the limit on coots remains at 25. Only two days' bag limit of ducks and geese may be held in possession at any time. The possession limit on coots is 25.

For the first time in many years hunters will be allowed to shoot wood ducks. Under complete protection the wood ducks have become quite common in some states. In the past few years hunters have unintentionally violated the law by killing an occasional wood duck which they failed to recognize in flight. To prevent such violations the season has been opened on wood ducks in Virginia and several other states. The bag limit on this species is one, and only one bird may be held in possession at any time.

As in recent years no open seasons are provided for swans, or for snow geese or brant in Atlantic Coastal States. As before, bait and live decoys may not be used in hunting waterfowl.

Regulations governing hunting of other migratory birds were also announced. The dove season will be September 16 to October 27, and the daily bag and possession limit will be 12. Woodcock may be hunted from November 20, to December 4. The daily bag limit is 4, and possession limit is 8. Sora, gallinules, and rails may be hunted from September 1, to November 30. The daily bag limit and possession limits are 15 sora, and 15 rails and gallinules of all kinds in the aggregate.

Doves, woodcock, sora, rails, and gallinules may be hunted during the open seasons from sunrise to sunset each day.

No open season is provided for Wilson's snipe, or jacksnipe, as investigations have revealed the number of snipe to be "startlingly small". A complete closed season is being provided to "prevent the species from going down the road to extermination".

The MACHINE that Farmers Built Is GEARED to Times Like These!

THE government has asked farmers to produce more meat, more milk, more poultry, more eggs, more vegetables. Farmers are doing their patriotic best in the face of an acute labor shortage, rising cost of necessary supplies, inadequate farm prices, and other difficulties.

Farm cooperatives have an important part to play in national defense. Farm purchasing and selling cooperatives can—and do

Simplify the operations of government in working with farmers.

Promote efficiency in buying farm supplies and in marketing farm products.

Stabilize prices.

Maintain and safeguard the principles of democracy.

It is good business at all times, and especially in wartime, to keep your cooperative in position to render the most effective service. Do your part to see that it has adequate capital. Contribute your patronage and do it voluntarily to keep down costs. Give your cooperative your aggressive moral support. See to it that selfish, monopoly-seeking interests do not secure unfair legislation harmful to farmer-owned and farmer-controlled cooperative institutions.

MANY ENTRIES AT WARRENTON SHOW

More than 600 entries representing the highest quality of horse flesh have been made for the 42nd annual Warrenton Horse Show to be held Saturday, August 30, and Monday, Labor Day, September 1, according to Harold E. Smith, treasurer.

All classes are well filled, especially hunter events, but the pony and junior hunter division, to be shown Saturday, are unusual.

Largest list are those from Mr. and Mrs. George P. Greenhalgh, Springbury Stables, Berryville, Va.; Mrs. M. E. Whitney, Llangollen Stables, Upperville, Va.; and Mrs. George Watts Hill, Quail Roost Farm, Romsont, N. C.

A number of new exhibitors are listed for "the hunter show of America" which will begin promptly at 9 a.m. Daylight Saving Time.

A HISTORY OF THE

MANASSAS KIWANIS CLUB

had any other treasurer, but we have had. Arthur Boatwright and Luther Moser were each treasurer at different times.

The activities of the club have been so numerous that one wonders on examining the record whether any thing was or could have been done in the town without its help.

I will mention a few enterprises and undertakings to which the club has given its support:

Bond issue for the new school house.

The Fire Department.

Erection of sign boards, later abandoned.

Planting memorial trees.

Town Manager form of government.

Soup fund and hot lunches for needy children.

Christmas for poor children.

Dairy Festival.

Hundreds of underprivileged children helped in various ways.

Boy scouts.

Farmer Co-operation.

Road improvement.

Movement for full time county nurse.

Entertaining High School graduating classes.

4-H club picnic.

Street improvement.

Landing field for aviators.

High school library.

County Dental Clinic.

Red Cross

And many others.

In the early days Manassas Kiwanis indulged more extensively in horse play and practical jokes than it does today. Many were the playful tricks and jokes played on the members. These activities have not been so much in evidence in recent years.

Kiwanis has always been very strict in the matter of attendance. If a Kiwanian fails to attend a meeting, he is promptly called on the phone and requested to give the reason for his absence.

Tardiness was formerly very much frowned upon. At one time a spinning wheel was set up for the use of late arrivals. The culprit was required to spin the wheel and if the pointer stopped at a certain place he was required to sing a song. Otherwise he paid a fine. That practice was soon abolished; probably because some members, due to their business engagements, found it difficult or impossible to be on time.

Quiz programs were very much in favor in the early days but of late years have not been so much in evidence excepting on "Ladies Night" when they are still popular. Ladies Night is a very popular and much enjoyed feature of the club. There are about two of these nights each year.

In the year 1931 Manassas Kiwanis furnished the Capitol District with its Lieutenant Governor in the person of R. A. Hutchison, who was elected to that office at the district convention of 1930.

Assistance to underprivileged children, of course, has been our outstanding service, and probably the outstanding year in that service was 1930 under the committee chairmanship of Dr. Johnson in the Hutchison administration.

Outstanding not because of the number of children helped but because of the personal service rendered by Kiwanians. It was the year that we carried so many children to Washington and Alexandria for tonsil and adenoid removal and eye corrections.

That Kiwanis has contributed much to the good fellowship of the citizens of Manassas cannot be questioned.

That, gentleman, is a short review of the history of the Manassas Kiwanis Club and I think we may well be proud of it.

We have done much, we can do more. Let us go forward to greater achievement.

Long live Kiwanis.

LOCAL JUNIOR AGRICULTURAL BOARD ACTIVE PROGRAM

Dr. Robert Barton, veterinarian for the Northern Virginia Artificial Breeding Co-operative, was the guest speaker at a meeting of the Prince William County Junior Agricultural Board at the Court House at Manassas, Tuesday evening. Dr. Barton explained the technique followed in the new breeding method and had the necessary equipment used in the work on hand for inspection by the young farmers.

It was decided by the group to try to arrange for the new grassland improvement technicolor picture, "Phosphorus and Lime—The Key to Life" to be shown at the September meeting and to which all farmers of the county would be invited. This film has a direct bearing on livestock improvement, the major project selected at the organization meeting of the board at the County Agent's office on July 26. The last meeting, previous to that on Tuesday evening, was held in connection with a picnic supper at the Battlefield on August 8. Several members attended the Holstein-Friesian meeting at Floris on August 18 to obtain information on the question of whether it would be a wise procedure for the county to concentrate on one dairy breed. At that time, Mr. Allen Crissey, fieldman for the Holstein-Friesian Association of America, expressed the opinion that the one-breed policy might not be practical here because of the butterfat demands of the Washington milk market which to an extent requires blending of milk of the high and lower testing breeds now kept in the milk shed.

TOBACCO ROAD' HAILED AS YEAR'S TOP SCREEN EVENT

Stirring, forceful, human and packed with dramatic dynamite, "Tobacco Road" comes to life vividly on the Pitt's Theatre screen next Thursday and Friday, September 4 and 5. Filmed with striking realism, and blending tragedy with lusty humor, this 20th Century-Fox production is a jolting, not to be missed entertainment experience for all, including those who saw it on the stage.

All of the characters in Jack Kirkland's famed and much discussed play, who stirred the imagination of the theatrical world with their warmth, vitality and rugged humor, come to life under John Ford's brilliant direction. Heading a superb featured cast are Charley Grapewin, Marjorie Rambeau, Gene Tierney and William Tracy.

For delicate shading of a difficult character role, veteran Charley Grapewin's Jeeter Lester far surpasses anything ever seen on the screen. This tragic, lusty figure of the dispossessed is the personification of everything that is "Tobacco Road".

Many are already familiar with the thrilling drama depicted in "Tobacco Road". Essentially it is the story of hungry people, their tragedy and comedy, all brought together in a superb script by Nunnally Johnson.

As Sister Bessie, the powerful hymn-singing evangelist in "Tobacco Road", Marjorie Rambeau is splendid. Gene Tierney, who seems destined for stardom, turns in a convincing performance as Ellie May, while young and talented William Tracy is seen as Dude Lester. The casting is brilliant throughout with Diana Andrews, Slim Summerville, Ward Bond, Grant Mitchell and Zeffie Tilbury also featured in powerful featured roles.

Subscribe to the Manassas Journal.

A memorable stage play, "Tobacco Road" is even greater and more powerful as a film. Intensely absorbing, moving and entertaining—it's great from the opening to final scene. 20th Century-Fox has made the most out of the screen's most valuable property. It's the finest motion picture of our time.

BYRD RESENTS ROOSEVELT SLAM

Sticks by His Guns in Insisting that Program Needs Speed.

Wisecracking has its place, but President Roosevelt, by his statement today, emphasizes the gravity of our national situation, and I do not think anyone can dismiss lightly our preparedness program with the statement that "somebody sold Senator Byrd down the river on the figures in all categories but planes". This is particularly so in view of the new figures offered. In sustaining my statements in the Senate as to the production of combat planes, the President, in fact, admitted justification for the most serious of my criticisms of the slow production of military equipment.

Fighting airplanes are the first line of defense of this country, and they are the most essential military equipment to be furnished Great Britain. Therefore, their production constitutes this country's foremost responsibility.

I said in my speech in the Senate that two years after the European war began, we produced in July only 700 combat planes, of which less than 300 were bombers, chiefly light, while we produced less than 60 of the 4-engine heavy bomber, and that only 35 dive bombers were produced in May 1941. The President's statement today appears to admit this.

The administration has been issuing gross figures for plane production, lumping training and combat planes.

Training planes can be built quickly in mass production, and until my speech in the Senate no breakdown had been published showing that production of combat planes was so inadequate and that production for July was only 200 more combat planes than in January, and that July production was less than June production.

With these figures admitted, no controversy exists with respect to the plane production, and it is for the country to judge the adequacy of this production. Our production is far less than Germany's monthly combat plane production, in fact about one-third of the German monthly production as estimated by some government sources.

The President, speaking from memory, said he understood the plane schedule for July was 1500. As a matter of fact, the July schedule was 1656 and fell 80 short of this schedule, and we produced in total less planes in July than in June.

In my Senate speech I was careful to say the figures were "accurate in all essentials but, of course, may be approximate in some minor details". The defense production and aid to England, costing us thus far 10,000,000,000, can only be judged in proportion to the urgency of the needs and the funds expended.

The President said the Senator's statement as a whole in every single item except planes was as full of discrepancies as those he (the President) had mentioned. Let us see if this is accurately stated.

Merchant Vessels: In my Senate speech I stated that only 53 merchant vessels of 2,000 gross tons and over were built in the United States and delivered during the calendar year 1940.

I have in my possession a signed letter to this effect from Admiral Emory S. Land, chairman of the United States Maritime Commission. I stated that for the calendar year 1941, only 78 cargo vessels would be constructed and 27 tankers, making a total of 105.

I have in my possession a letter dated May 14 signed by Admiral Land stating exactly these figures. Does the President dispute this source?

In the battle of the Atlantic, merchant ships and tankers are vital.

Navy: In my Senate speech I said that only 28 major Naval vessels will be added to our Navy in 1941—2 battleships, 17 destroyers, 9 submarines, no aircraft carriers and no cruisers. I have this in writing from the Secretary of the Navy.

Does the President dispute this source?

Anti-Aircraft Guns: I stated in my Senate speech that except for a few used for experimental purposes, the production of 90 M-M-aircraft guns, which are the only anti-aircraft guns on order which will pierce the new armor and adequately attack high-flying bombers, was negligible for the 2-year period after the beginning of the European war. This the President apparently does not deny but speaks only of future production. I said there were not sufficient anti-aircraft guns in America today to protect adequately one single large city on our sea coast.

The President corrects my estimate of four 90 M-M guns monthly and said the program CALLS for 61 monthly for the balance of this year.

The future production is, of course, problematical, but whether four or sixty-one 90-M-M guns are produced monthly for the rest of the year, either figure is woefully inadequate, considering our great need for this particular protective implement of war.

Tanks: In my Senate speech I said we had only 521 tanks on hand September 1, 1940, of which 246 were listed as obsolete and all the others antiquated.

I have this in writing from an indisputable government source. I stated that, two years after the beginning of the war, the situation had improved only to the extent of the production of a limited number of light tanks and a few medium tanks, and not one single heavy tank had been produced or is on order. I stand upon this statement and have official proof to sustain it.

My statement that no tanks had been sent to England itself was technically accurate, but I now find that about 200 light 12-ton tanks were sent to Africa for use by the British. Not a single medium 32-ton tank, I am told, has been sent to the British anywhere, and not a single heavy 60-ton tank is on order. The light 12-ton tank is comparatively simple to construct.

Regarding my estimate of fifteen 37 M-M anti-tank guns in July and the President's estimate of seventy-two, and as to the alleged discrepancy between our figures in 81 M-M Mortars, again it will be noted that the President's figures are for future production, and in either set of figures a dangerous delay in the production of very essential equipment is shown.

I say again nearly every training camp is short of training equipment. Only yesterday the newspaper reported at Preston, Arkansas, guns were fashioned out of 6-inch logs and that broomstick machine guns were in use. I cannot today vouch for the accuracy of this, but I do know from reports that have come to me from practically all the camps that the equipment is not sufficient to utilize to the proper measure the opportunity for training those who have been drafted at great sacrifice to themselves.

My only desire is to be constructive in our defense program and in giving aid to England. I have supported this program in its entirety and, with many other Americans, I believe the production has lagged dangerously and that the people should be told the truth. I think it is misleading to give defense production in percentages of some previous period when practically no production then occurred, as is being done by government officials. If my speech does nothing more than to bring out the facts and stimulate public interest in our efforts, I shall feel that something has been accomplished. Whether the guns produced are a few more or a few less alters the picture but little.

The fact remains that the discrepancies the President mentions are minor in consequence. Taking the President's statement from the best standpoint, we are not preparing our defense quickly; we are not giving the aid we should to England. Something constructive must be done immediately.

In discussing our defense program, the President said nothing about the 5,000,000 man-days that have been lost since January 1 by strikes in defense industries. Strikes are starting up again as a serious menace to the preparedness program. What action will the President take to recommend to Congress a surb of this bottleneck?

He did not mention the confusion and conflicting authority that everyone recognizes now exist in all defense agencies in Washington, or the imperative need for a one-man for all defense agencies of the government.

Neither was anything said as to the necessity of working longer hours to produce defense needs, and that we cannot continue longer "business as usual".

Mr. Howard Downs was struck this morning near Woolsey by a truck said to be owned by Harry Welch, of Haymarket, Va. He was removed to the hospital at once, the extent of his injuries being undetermined.

TRINITY GUILD WILL MEET TUESDAY

The regular meeting of the Trinity Guild will be held at the Parish Hall on Tuesday, September 2, at 2:30 p.m. (Eastern Standard Time).

HAYMARKET HIGH SCHOOL

(continued from page one) another survey and found that 75 pledged to enroll at Haymarket should the High School open in September. Of this 75 no less than 17 said they would not go to Manassas.

On August 21st the committee interviewed in Richmond, the State Supervisor of Rural Secondary Education, but without avail.

The committee also consulted lawyers who assured us that we could not go into court because we had failed to appeal within the stipulated 30 days. Thus the general aversion for litigation accounts, in part, for the failure of our effort up to this point.

Reasons Given by the Board for their Decision:

1. Enrollment does not meet the minimum required.
2. The building and equipment are below State standards.
3. At Manassas a larger number of courses are available.
4. Secondary education can be provided at less cost per capita at Manassas than at Haymarket.

Why so Many are Opposed to the Board's Action:

1. The reasons given by the County Board and Sup't. Haydon are not convincing, which you will see as you examine them one by one.
- When the Board passed its resolution on December 4th, 1940, the enrollment was 75. The enrollment for 1941-42 would be at least 75. Since this number meets the minimum required by State Board regulation this first reason must be eliminated, to which State authorities agree.

It is true that building and equipment are below State standards. However, as there was a remedy available and refused by Sup't. Haydon and the School Board, reason number two must also be cancelled.

It is also true that a large number of courses are available at Manassas, but if the parents and pupils prefer a restricted number of courses at Haymarket the Board exceeds its authority by forcing their judgment upon the overwhelming majority.

The alleged saving by consolidation with Manassas is doubtful. In all probability the cost of transportation and new building necessary would make the saving negligible.

2. Many are opposed because they are convinced that long bus rides are a handicap to the best mental, moral and physical development of girls and boys. This is made more important by the fact that the greater part of the road is not paved.

3. Some are opposed because their girls and boys have chores to do before going and after returning from school. The time consumed in long bus rides hinders such help toward maintaining the home.

4. Many are opposed because Haymarket boys and girls will be debarred from many social and athletic activities.

5. Many are also opposed because school officials in carrying out school policy deliberately flout the will of the large majority and thus prove that they are not loyal to fundamental democratic principles.

6. Still others are opposed because they are not blind worshippers of "Consolidation". They have observed what such worship does to its devotees. They see how School Boards and Officials, in promoting consolidation, are ready to cast wisdom and integrity to the winds. They see State school authorities preaching economy in the name of consolidation and at the same time burdening people with expensive books that are changed with appalling frequency. They know that, with palatial buildings and elaborate equipment, modern high school graduates cannot spell and read as well as graduates of a generation ago.

Locally we see the County School Board securing a site and funds for a high school and then breaking faith by turning it into an elementary school. We see the same Board neglecting the high school building, so that it would be more surely condemned as unfit for school purposes. We have bitter recollections of a law which requires school patrons to file legal appeals against School Board decisions within 30 days, but does not require the Board to notify the patrons of this very limited time for appeal. This proves that the law was framed for the protection of school officials rather than for the benefit of the people.

In conclusion we wish to point out that inasmuch as 95 per cent of the people in Gainesville District who pay taxes for school purposes have no voice in school policy, and in view of other alarming features, it seems that the stage is being set for another "Boston Tea Party". The committee above referred to does hereby appeal to the citizens of Manassas and of this County to help us escape some of the consequences of School Board folly. By so doing they will also protect the Board from some of the consequences of their own mistakes.

On behalf of the Committee,
Sincerely yours,
W. F. Carpenter, chairman.
