MUST PURCHASE AUTO STAMP

Suggestions On Where To Attach Sticker

Motor vehicle owners were today offered the choice of several locations for the new Federal auto tax stamps by Colonel M. S. Battle, director of the Division of Motor Vehicles, following discussions with the Bureau of Internal Revenue. Stamps are now on sale at all post offices for $2.09, and are good until July 1, 1942.

On passenger cars, they should be placed either in the lower right corner of the rear glass, or on the windshield behind the rear view mirror in the driver's "blind spot." In view of the fact that the glue is on the back of the sticker, the director suggested that an ideal place for the sticker was on the back of the mirror itself, where the sticker could be seen from in front of the vehicle, and where it could not possibly provide an obstruction to the driver's vision.

On trucks and buses, the director suggested locating the sticker on the instrument panel, and covering it with shellac.

"We are interested only in keeping this sticker out of the driver's line of vision, the director said. "A two-inch sticker in the wrong place on the windshield can hide a 1 1/2 ton truck at 200 yards. The Federal authorities appear to have left the location of the sticker to the various states, and therefore we are offering drivers several spots."

NO BOARD OF TIRE APPEALS

Contrary to a prevalent belief, there is no Board of Tire Appeals to which aggrieved citizens may appeal. This fact becomes evident from information released by Gen. Bright in Richmond. However anyone who is aggrieved by an action of a local tire board may appeal directly to the State Tire Administrator.

According to press releases on the subject the applicant must file his complaint under oath within thirty days, setting forth the order or rules which he believes to be inconsistent with the action taken by the local board.

SAVE PAPER!

One of the important commodities in which our Government is interested is paperboard. Paperboard is used to manufacture the corrugated and paper shipping containers so greatly in demand for defense shipments. This vital paperboard is made of waste paper. By waste paper is meant old newspapers and magazines, old corrugated boxes and waste paper from trash baskets.

The mills have much greater capacity than is being used and their raw material, namely, waste paper, exists in abundance.

It is hoped that each citizen will consider it his or her responsibility to conserve waste paper. If you have accumulated any amount of waste paper will you please communicate with the Salvage Committee, Phone 60, Manassas, Virginia.

R. L. Byrd,
Secretary.

SPECIAL COURSE IN SPANISH

Beginning Tuesday night, January 27, 1942, there will be given at Osbourn High School a series of lessons in beginning Spanish. These lessons will be given once a week for at least ten weeks. There will be no fee for the course except the cost of the textbook.

The only pre-requisite for the course is at least one year of some foreign language. Any one desiring to enroll may attend the first meeting without further notification.

NAMED DEPUTY CHIEF OF COMMUNICATIONS

Mr. R. M. Loughborough, Co-ordinator of Defense activities in Fairfax County has announced the appointment of Ray L. Huff, superintendent of the Penal Institution at Lorton, as deputy chief of communications to succeed Lawrence Proctor.

Mr. Huff will have charge of the nearby area as assistant to H. A. Friede, chief of fire alarms in Washington, who is head of the communication system on the entire metropolitan area which includes Alexandria City, Arlington and Fairfax Counties, Virginia and Montgomery and Prince Georges Counties in Maryland.

Mr. and Mrs. Stuart McMichael motored to Florida last week where they will be until the latter part of next week.

COLGATE DARDEN BECOMES GOVERNOR OF VIRGINIA

SPECIAL CENSUS

In the interest of Civilian Defense and to obtain information for Air Raid Wardens, the Students of Manassas High School will take a complete census of the Town of Manassas during the week of January 26th. The cooperation of the citizens of the Town is asked in furnishing information called for in questionnaire.

Huntton Tiffany,
Town Manager.

ATTIC TRASH AIDS ENEMY

Capt. Joyce Gives Additional Air-Raid Advice

Clean out your attics. If you have an accumulation of books, papers, or any other articles which you have no use for in your attics; take them down and sell or give away. They do not need. You will thus give yourself and family better security from fire.

Save all bags and sacks. Burlap sacks are very useful, and valuable for the farmers. They may be hard to get latter on. Also, cotton bags and sacks should be saved; they make good sand bags in case we ever have to use sand bags. Shake them out and stow them in a dry place away from rats. If you have no special use for burlap sacks give them your neighboring farmers, they will find good use for them.

Instead of trash in the attic, keep a bucket or two of sand there; also a long handled shovel. It is also well to keep a flashlight handy to use in case of a blackout. In case an incendiary bomb should land on a floor, wait a minute until its first violent sputtering slackens; then drop a shovelful of sand into a pile near it, shovel the bomb on the sand and put sand over it. Better still shovel the bomb into a bucket containing sand and then cover it up with more sand. Do not throw water on the bomb, as it will cause it to explode.

If you happen to have a hose handy, a fine spray of water will cause the bomb to burn out quickly and will help to keep the floor from catching fire. KEEP COOL AND CALM. DO NOT GET EXCITED.

A very good picture of a man disposing of an incendiary bomb was shown in one of the metropolitan papers last Sunday. One of our Good Lady Fire Wardens should get her picture taken in the act of disposing of a bomb and have it shown in our county paper. You could use an oil soaked rag to simulate a bomb, and with a long handled shovel be in the act of putting it into a bucket or washtub.

We trust all you Fire Wardens will keep posted from reading your County Paper, and articles you may see in other papers and magazines.

Read your County Paper weekly. You will get good pointers there. You will also keep up with your county news.

Thos. F. Joyce,
County Air Raid Warden

HAPPY PARENTS

Mr. and Mrs. Donatien Libeau are the proud parents of a baby daughter, Barbara Frances, born Friday last.

ROBERT EDWARD LEE

On the birthday of our great Confederate Commander we find ourselves again at war, fighting for the very same principles for which he drew his stainless sword and carved deeply and forever in America the ideals of honor and decency in government now challenged by Hitlerism. And which, please God, shall not perish.

HOWARD SMITH, JR. CALLED TO ARMY

Howard Smith, Jr., son of Representative Howard W. Smith, has been called to active duty in the United States Army, and will report to Camp Wheeler, Georgia, on February 2 as a Second Lieutenant.

Since 1937 Mr. Smith has been Assistant Commonwealth's Attorney of the City of Alexandria. He is a graduate of the Alexandria Public Schools, The Episcopal High School and of the Greenbrier Military School, Lewisburg, West Virginia, where he was commissioned a lieutenant in the Officers Reserve. He also attended Randolph Macon College, the University of Virginia and the National Law School, from which he was graduated with the degree of Bachelor of Law.

He married Miss Cooke Foreman, of Elizabeth City, North Carolina, and they have a daughter, Lucinda Lewis Smith.

His many useful civic activities, which will be greatly missed by his induction into the armed forces of his country, include his membership of the Junior Vestry of Christ Church, The Board of Governors of Little Theatre, The Alexandria Association, the Junior Chamber of Commerce of Alexandria; chairmanship of the board of directors of the Alexandria Library, Secretary of the George Washington Chapter, Reserve Officers Association, and on top of this Howard Smith, Jr. is a deputy air raid warden.

URGES GIVING FOR WAR RELIEF

Mrs. Anita Piercy is again urging that everyone give liberally to the war relief drive of the Red Cross. Give or send your contributions to Miss McGill, Haymarket, Mrs. Douglas, Thoroughfare, Mrs. Alvey, Catharpin and Mrs. Sweeney, Gainesville.

YOUR PART (Contributed)

A handful of Marines for days held Wake Island against impossible odds. They didn't have a chance and they knew they didn't have a chance. But there was a thing called tradition to live up to. They did their part.

Captain Colin P. Kelly, Jr., didn't have a chance either, and he knew it. But there was a job to be done—he, too, played his part.

In the Philippines, in Hawaii, in China, on the high seas American fighting men are doing their part, writing into the record new chapters in heroism and sacrifice.

WHAT CAN YOU DO?

The American Red Cross has an answer. When Japanese bombs fell on Pearl Harbor and Manila, the Red Cross was ready and in action without delay. You've seen the pictures—pictures of terrified little children and frantic mothers, the wounded and dead, innocent victims of warfare which no longer recognizes civilians as non-combatants.

In the pictures you saw other people, men and women with Red Crosses on their arms, who were on the job scarcely before the bombers were out of sight.

These Red Cross men and women had but one thought in mind—mercy. They were doing their part. They were relieving suffering where that relief was most needed—at the scene.

Under their ministrations thousands of human beings, some of them your former neighbors—perhaps the man and his wife and the cute little girl who sailed off to Manila a year ago—are being helped.

In Army camps and defense outposts, naval stations, airdromes, any spot where a U. S. man is standing guard over the future of America, there the Red Cross flag waves. Those men appreciate the Red Cross. To them it is a breath of home and the sympathetic help they associate with home.

So, you want to know how you can help?

GIVE TO THE AMERICAN RED CROSS WAR FUND!

It takes money to help in wartime. The American Red Cross needs that money, and there is no time to waste. The War Fund must be raised; not next year, not next month, but NOW.

All of you can give. You can give your money just as others are giving their life blood. By so doing you take up your station with the Red Cross on the front lines of mercy. The goal won't be reached until you have done your part.

Your part?

GIVE TO THE RED CROSS WAR FUND!

NOTICE TO FARMERS

J. Gray Beverley, Field Supervisor, will be at the office of Mr. Frank Cox, County Agent, Manassas, Va., Wednesday morning, January 28, between the hours of 9:00 A. M. and noon, for the purpose of taking applications for 1942 Crop Loans under the Emergency Crop Loan Act.

Farmers desiring these loans should apply on that date.

SCHOOLS FACE NEW PROBLEM

Local Committee Provides School Lunches

For several years the management of school lunches has been under W. P. A. with money contributed by various organizations.

Now the requirements have changed and this is no longer possible. It seemed that we could not have lunches served. During the recent cold spell the faculty at Bennett became aware that there were children there who needed both clothes and food and they appealed to the P. T. A.

Their committee on nutrition under the leadership of Mrs. Janie McCall and with the kind cooperation of Mr. J. Carl Kincheloe was already serving milk to the needy children. At their meeting last Thursday a committee of mothers were appointed to assist the President Mrs. A. O. Beane to work out a solution. These were Mrs. Paul Cooksey, Mrs. R. C. Linton, Mrs. R. C. Haydon and Mrs. J. P. Boyer with Miss Kline assisting with the nutrition part of the program.

Several mothers have volunteered to assist one day a week to make it possible to serve a nourishing dish each day to over forty undernourished children and to sell same for 5c a serving to other Bennett school pupils. This will mean that the people of Manassas School District, will have to cooperate with these willing workers. This is an emergency present both in times of War and times of Peace.

Next week a member of the committee will be at Bennett School Kitchen between 9 and 12 each morning and will gratefully receive contributions of potatoes, cabbage, carrots, turnips, onions, eggs, butter, apples, walnuts, or canned fruit or vegetables.

Will you do something? If you can assist in serving any school day between 9-2 please call the chairman Mrs. Paul Cooksey. If you have suitable clothing for children it will also be appreciated.

SENATOR MEDLEY'S BILLS

Four measures have been introduced in the State Senate by our Senator, Hon. William D. Medley, which have the endorsement of the Virginia Bar Association and the Commission on Uniform Laws, of which Senator Medley is a member. The measures have been referred to the Committee on General Laws and it is not anticipated that they will meet with much opposition.

One measure provided that property owned or inherited jointly by two persons who die at the same time would be divided half and half among the survivors of the two. The measure, Mr. Medley states, is designed to provide uniform procedure where there is no sufficient evidence that persons have died otherwise than simultaneously. It would eliminate the hair-splitting difficulty of attempting to determine who died first in a circumstance where both were killed at approximately the same time.

The other bills also have to do with technical law procedure. One would employ Virginia courts to appoint expert witnesses in civil and criminal proceedings; to determine their compensation; and to authorize conferences and joint reports of expert witnesses. A similar bill was introduced last Session but failed to get through the legislative jam.

The other two measures introduced by Mr. Medley prescribe the basis of distribution to creditors having security upon assets of insolvent estates, and prescribes who should bear the risk of loss after a contract to sell realty.

BISHOP GOODWIN HERE

NEXT SUNDAY

Owing to the war emergency Rt. Rev. F. D. Goodwin, Bishop Coadjutor of Virginia was not able to visit Trinity Episcopal Church, Manassas, last Sunday, as announced, but plans to be here this Sunday, January 27, at the 11 o'clock service.

Customary Ceremonies And Parade Omitted By Executive Request

Hon. Colgate W. Darden became Governor of Virginia on Wednesday of this week. The inauguration was prefaced by a joint session of the Senate and House of Delegates at 11:15 A. M. attended by distinguished guests which included former Governors, members of Congress, Supreme Court Justices and many other prominent national and State officials.

At noon the Attorney General was first sworn in by Justice Herbert B. Gregory. Then Governor Price motored to the Jefferson Hotel to call for Governor-Elect Darden. Accompanied by Adjutant-General Waller, they returned to the Capitol-Governor Price's last trip as Chief Executive. The oath of office was then administered to Lieutenant Governor Tuck on the south portico by Justice Edward W. Hudgins. Then the Governor was sworn in by Chief Justice Preston W. Campbell.

Governor Darden made concise recommendations to the General Assembly which included:

1. Authorization of Civilian Defense as a legal activity.
2. Abolishment of the Unemployment Commission and substitution of a capable administrator.
3. Increase of Highway Commission from five to eight members.
4. Abolishment of the Division of Motor Vehicles.
5. Repeal of the 10 percent tax on liquor and reduction of retail prices to reduce bootlegging.
6. Increase of vocational education and state appropriation of a minimum of $720 for teachers salaries.
7. Retirement plan for state employees.
8. Reform of penal system including installment payment of fines.
9. Relief of Governor of parole administration and pardons.
10. Conservation of existing State surplus.
11. Suitable redistricting in accordance with population.

There was no parade or pomp to the occasion and the address of Mr. Darden was brief. The opening prayer was offered by Rev. Thomas Ryland Sanford, of Luray, and the benediction by Rt. Rev. William A. Brown, Bishop of Southern Virginia.

A feature of the occasion was the attendance of the Naval Affairs Committee of the United States Congress, of which Governor Darden had been a distinguished member.

At the request of Mr. Darden the customary Governor's reception and ball, as well as the usual parade, were omitted on account of the war emergency.

Governor Price, as one of his last official acts placed before the General Assembly for confirmation the list of appointments made since the last session. These include a number of very important positions which became vacant during the past two years, outstanding among which is that of Highway Commissioner, vacated by the death of the late Henry G. Shirley, and filled by the temporary designation of James A. Anderson.

Of the sixty appointments made by outgoing Governor Price, only two are experiencing serious opposition and may possibly not be approved by the legislature. There are Hon. Lee Long, State Highway Commissioner, and Col. Kemper, former Executive Secretary to the Governor and selected for the post on the Unemployment Commission.

Hearings have already begun on the $217,500,000 State Budget—a huge sum in Virginia financial terms, but scarcely a drop in the bucket in comparison with the mighty Federal appropriations of billions upon billions.

Former Speaker Ashton Dovell, who did not seek re-election as Speaker of the House, in an impromptu address on Monday warned of the potential trouble lying in Virginia's surplus of $13,000,000.00, stating that its accumulation is largely due to failure to carry out what should have been done two years ago with the primary education system of the State. It is certain that others feel the same way about their pet projects and all this indicates an approaching battle-royal over this surplus—a heritage from prosperous times and wise economies.

I Like This Book

One of a series of book reviews by students of Osbourn High School, Manassas—Senior 1941-42 in competition for the W. C. Wagener Memorial Prize.

"They Came to the River" by Allis McKay, was published by the Macmillan Company in 1941.
When I opened the first few pages of this story, I didn't expect to find such a thrilling, stirring plot as poured from the pages which followed.
Allis McKay's writing makes you feel as if you are actually sharing all of Chris Hallowell's exciting experiences.

The sudden movement to the foothills of Washington State by the enthusiastic men and women interested in starting apple orchards brought a new light into the lives of the people already settled there.

To the old settlers the very idea of making trees grow and produce fruit on the mountain sides seemed fantastic, but to the younger generation this dream of seeing thousands of trees with bushels of bright prize-winning apples was to become a reality.

Chris was one of the four children of the "Reverend Hallowell" who ran the ferry which served the people along the banks of the Columbia River and who preached to his people on the Sabbath Day.

When Chris married Nate Barnes, the son of one of the large orchard owners, she moved away from her parents' home by the old river ferry, and settled down as a housekeeper on one of the best apple orchards of the valley.

One of the biggest moments of Chris's life came when, standing with her husband and three children, she saw a small but noisy locomotive roll through their peaceful, quiet mountain. Death brought an abrupt end to Chris's happy married life when Nate was unexpectedly taken from her by a horrible accident.

With the help of her neighbors and her younger brother, Herb, Chris bravely shouldered the burden of running the orchard.

As time passed and the children became older, Chris realized how lonely she was and how much she was in need of a companion to share her worries, but with the arrival of Stephen Patk all changed and Chris again had a partner in life.

I was more than pleased with this fascinating story, and I believe I can safely advise this book for any one's reading list.

This book may be borrowed from the Ruffner-Carnegie Library.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our mother and grandmother who departed this life one year ago, January 17, 1941.
One long year, dear Mother, Since you were called away.
And our hearts are still aching.
Just as they did that day.
Nobly at her task she stood.
Our Grandmother, fond and true,
Beloved by all her friends so well,
And kind to all she knew.

We often sit and wonder.
At what you would think or say.
If you only knew the changes.
That has happened since that day.

We miss you sitting in your chair.
We miss your dear sweet face.
Your form is ever before us.
No one can fill your place.

Mother, since you have gone,
Nothing seems the same.
Everything is O, so sad.
Everything is changed.

Oh could we open wide the grave
And see her face once more.
And hear her voice is all we crave.
As in the days of yore.

One precious from our hearts is gone
The voice we loved so well, is stilled.
The place made vacant in our home.
Can never, never more be filled.

We shall never cease to love her.
Though her form is hid from view
And some day again we'll meet her.
Around God's throne in life anew.

By Her Devoted Daughter and Granddaughter, Lizzie

Nation's Youth Bolster Men Behind U. S. Guns

Training for the Industrial Front

Aubrey Williams Leads Youth Workers

Learning a Job By Doing It

RICHMOND—(Special)—Every thirty days Virginia NYA supplies 630 of the national total of 36,400 shop-trained NYA youth who join the battle of production behind the men behind U. S. guns, according to a report just made public by Aubrey Williams, administrator of the National Youth Administration.

"Under the defense program the NYA makes available practical shop experience to youth between 17 and 21 years of age," the report states.

"Emphasis is placed on preparation of workers to do the jobs required in ship building, aviation, machine tools and the mechanized branches of the armed forces. Young men are groomed for war production jobs by doing similar jobs on NYA projects. From February 1, 1941, to December 1, 1941, a total of 5,613 Virginia youth have gone from NYA projects to jobs in private industry."

The report indicates a complete streamlining of the NYA program throughout the country with emphasis on quick basic training along lines where a scarcity of defense workers may be expected in the immediate future.

According to Administrator Williams, a grand total of 374,451 youth went from the NYA program to jobs in private industry from February to December of this year. Total number of youth at present employed nationally in NYA work experience shops and resident centers is 242,000.

INFANTILE PARALYSIS FACTS

"Poliomyelitis or infantile paralysis has become one of the most feared of the epidemic diseases. This fear has been engendered in part by the occurrence within the past twenty-five years of two large epidemics in this country. The nature of the illness, particularly the paralysis, which affects some but by no means all of the cases, and certain other characteristics of the disease which remain obscure or without scientific proof, have caused anxiety on the part of many parents. Much of this alarm, however, is based upon certain misconceptions concerning the illness and its behavior," states Dr. I. C. Riggins, State Health Commissioner.

"The term, 'infantile paralysis,' is misleading because this disease is not confined to infants or young children; neither does it always result in paralysis. Though younger people are much more likely to contract it than older ones, it can occur at any age. Poliomyelitis is the preferable name. This designation, by common usage, has been shortened to polio.

"Polio is an infectious disease like typhoid and tuberculosis. However, unlike these other two diseases, the effective agent is so small that it cannot be detected under the microscope.

"Though the way in which polio is spread from person to person has not been definitely proven, it is believed to be transferred through discharges from the nose and throat in the same manner that colds and influenza are spread. Moreover, the symptoms of polio in the early stages may be quite similar to other infectious childhood diseases. Paralysis or weakness of one or more of the muscle groups, if it occurs, usually becomes evident from one to four days after the illness begins, though it may develop in some cases even after a longer period.

"Many cases do not progress to the point of becoming paralyzed but recover without any evidence of muscular weakness. Even when actual paralysis occurs complete recovery may be effected in a significant number of cases.

"Polio treatment can be summed up in the one word—rest. The patient should be kept in bed and isolated from other members of the family. Until the physician arrives the affected parts of the body should be placed in a natural position and the patient made comfortable without placing a strain on any muscle group. A doctor should be called at the first suspicion of the disease. In the presence of an epidemic, medical assistance immediately should be sought for all illnesses exhibiting fever, gastric upsets, headache and related conditions.

"Though many scientists have sought various means of protecting individuals against polio, there is as yet no specific method of prevention which has proven to be both safe and practical. Even so, the average parent should display towards this disease an intelligent respect rather than an illogical dread."

NEW BOOKS IN THE RUFFNER-LIBRARY

Many new and interesting books have been received at the Library recently. One of the most outstanding is Gunther's new best seller, "Inside Latin America". In view of the developing war situation and consequent increasing importance of the Latin American countries to the United States, this book is of great interest. It is a really vivid account of Mexico and the Caribbean and South American countries—their resources, social and political status, outstanding personalities and their varying attitudes towards the United States. It will realize the value of the good will policy to the Latin America of President Roosevelt's administration. The reading of the book would also be an excellent background for at Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, and of the momentous decisions to be reached there. Another interesting book of South America is Ybarra's "Young Man of Caracas", the early life in Venezuela of a noted American press correspondent whose father was a dashingly romantic Venezuelan general and his mother a noted Boston beauty.

Recent books relating to the War situation are Shirer's now famous "Berlin Diary"—a best seller since its publication over a year ago; Kraus' "Life of Churchill"; and Clarence Streit's "Union Now", a discussion of plans for a federation, or union of some sort, that the democracies and all freedom loving people must set up after this war, if a new war is not soon again to engulf the world.

A number of recent very good novels has also been received: Cronin's "Keys of the Kingdom" which continues like the "Berlin Diary" to head the best selling list; Eric Knight's "This Above All" and Nevill Shute's "The Pied Piper," both of these are English stories dealing with the War; Hilton's "Random Harvest", Pearl Buck's new story of China, "Dragon's Seed", Stren's "The Sun is My Undoing" and three new American stories: Griswold's "Sea Island Lady", a story of the Reconstruction Era in the Charleston, South Carolina County; McKay's "They Came to a River", a pioneer story of Oregon; and Chase's "Windswept", a story of the Maine coast.

The Library has just received also, a set of standard books for high school reading, the generous gift of Mrs. Joseph Preston Lyon.

LILLIE CONNELLY

Mrs. L. E. Connelly passed to the great beyond at the home of her sister, Mrs. J. E. Wills, of Danville, Virginia, December 25th at 7:10 P. M., 1941 and was laid to rest at Arrington, Virginia on December 27th in the family plot.

Mrs. Connelly was Railroad Agent at Bristow, for several years. Her ever willingness and untiring efforts won for her an endeared place in the hearts of all who knew her.

Mrs. Connelly was ready and willing at all times to assist in any worthy cause for the advancement of the principles of the Church, Red Cross and religious education. She leaves to mourn her loss two sisters, five brothers and a host of friends.

THE OBSERVER SAYS

It is with the deepest sorrow that we here record the passing of our esteemed friend, Hon. Richard R. Farr, Delegate from Fairfax County to the General Assembly of Virginia.

Dramatic indeed were the circumstances that marked the end on earth of this gallant soldier and barrister, who as the First Citizen of Fairfax, brought sorrowing adjournment and resolutions of respect from the oldest legislative body in the New World.

The public services of Colonel Farr, together with those of other distinguished members of his family, will endear the name to Fairfax County for all time.

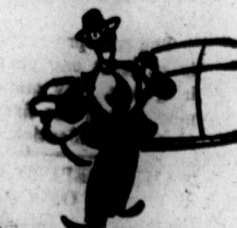

Modest, unassuming, patriotic and untiring in his devotion to public duty, Richard Ratcliffe Farr leaves more personal, admiring friends to mourn his death than any local citizen who has been called to rest in half a century.

May the ideals for which he stood in public service, and for which he actually gave his life to champion, never be lost sight of by the citizens of Fairfax County whom he honored in becoming their legislative representative in the General Assembly of Virginia.

Mrs. Clary was formerly Miss Nellie Sanders, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Hampton Sanders of Catharpin. Since her marriage, they made their home at Lawrenceville, Va. where Mr. Clary is in the mercantile business.

Always of a lovely disposition, Mrs. Clary has made many friends wherever she went. Her sweet, gentle manner made her much beloved by every one.

The funeral services were held from her late home in Lawrenceville and interment made in that city.

Besides her husband, she is also survived by her only sister, Mrs. J. Worthington Alvey, and four nephews: J. Worthington Alvey, Jr., Hampton, Robert and Lynn Alvey and a large number of cousins.

"CHOCOLATE SOLDIER" HAPPY BLENDING OF ROMANCE &amp; SONG

"THE CHOCOLATE SOLDIER," new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer musical comedy, which opens next Thursday and Friday, January 29 and 30 at the Pitts Theatre, offers Nelson Eddy in a gay, romantic role, and introduces Rise Stevens, a new singing star.

Not only does the picture give Eddy's voice full range with a wide variety of songs, but it gives him a part ideally suited to him, as a young singer and husband determined to find out whether or not his wife loves him and him alone. Their harum-scarum domestic life reaches its climax when he masquerades as his own rival.

For the first time on the screen, Eddy sings in two voices, his natural baritone and bass, in playing the dual roles.

A notable addition to this musical extravaganza is the glamorous personality and brilliant voice of Rise Stevens. The first American girl to portray the fiery Delilah in "Samson and Delilah" for the Metropolitan opera in twenty-two years, she sings one of the arias in the picture and proves herself a definite screen "find."

The dance productions, created by Ernst and Maria Matray, are another high point, especially the hilarious "Seek the Spy" ballet. Scored by Herbert Stothart, "The Chocolate Soldier" offers a great variety of song numbers. Miss Stevens' rendition of "The Trout" and Eddy's singing of "The Song of the Flea," which he sings in Russian, are highlights, and their duets of the Oscar Strauss numbers, particularly "My Hero," are worth the price of admission alone.

V. P. I. AND THE CO-OPS

It has long been evident that the Cooperative movement in Virginia is centered at the Virginia Polytechnic Institute, where a two-day "Coop School" is now in progress. The term "Cooperative" is one of the most deceptive in the entire vocabulary of the Collectivist movement, which was imported into this country from the ideology-ridden countries of Europe. To the average person it means the harmonious working together of people to promote their common objectives within the general framework of the larger public interest. In reality, the Cooperative movement as it is being engineered in this country today is an effort to destroy private enterprise, which is the foundation of our democracy.

The evidence in support of this view of the Cooperative is too convincing to justify any other conclusion. It seeks to control the selling and purchasing power of a vast section of the populace by means of a government subsidy in the form of relief from taxes ordinarily assessed against enterprises doing business in these fields. In this respect it competes on an unfair basis with private enterprise and tends to drive private enterprise out of business entirely by preempting a large section of its legitimate field. Thousands of rural mercantile establishments have thus been ruined and the State has lost heavily in revenues that should have accrued to it from this vast volumes of business.

In employing its facilities for the spread of the doctrine of cooperative enterprise, the Virginia Polytechnic Institute places itself in an anomalous position. As a State institution, it was established with revenues derived from the taxation of private enterprise and the wealth that private enterprise produced. It is supported and has always been supported by funds derived from the same source. Yet in sponsoring subsidized co-operatives, the Blacksburg school is striking at the heart of the system which produced it and has

"KNIT WITS" HONOR MRS. WEEDON

Mrs. Lewis J. Carper, invited the Knit Wit Club to have lunch with her on Wednesday and decided to call it a surprise birthday party for her aunt, Mrs. A. O. Weedon, who has recently returned from a two months stay in S. C.

The occasion was a delight from the beginning to end, Mrs. Carper proving a most popular hostess. A mixed bouquet of lovely spring flowers were stemmed from crystal glass in the center of the large dining room table. The guests were served buffet style and went back to the living room and were seated around small tables which were also brightened by dainty spring flowers in slender vases of glass.

Mrs. Weedon distinguished herself in wit and charm as the gifts were opened and cards of friendly good wishes were read.

The Club members present were Mrs. R. P. Smith, Mrs. Ewell K. Evans, Mrs. R. L. Byrd, Mrs. M. B. Whitmore, Mrs. J. G. Kincheloe, Mrs. C. B. Compton, Mrs. E. B. Giddings and Mrs. Weedon. Other guests insupported it throughout its existence. Private enterprise is the foundation on which our democratic civilization has been built. When it is destroyed, the end of democracy will be at hand.—Northern Virginia Daily

THE OBSERVER SAYS

The Northern Virginia Daily, a conservative newspaper in the Valley of Virginia, in an editorial reprinted elsewhere in this issue, calls attention to a situation at the Virginia Polytechnic Institute which should make all Virginians who desire perpetuation of our Democratic institutions do some thinking which might consistently lead to the conclusion that the best way to stop the spread of Communism in our higher institutions of learning is to immediately cut their appropriations.

Small business has no place in the Communist pattern. The greatest enemy of Soviet revolutionary schemes in America is that powerful class which they call the bourgeoisie. The Communist working plan evidences the fear they entertain toward this class which includes most of the population outside of the strictly agricultural group, and one need only read the working plan of the Communist Party of America, as revealed by the Dies Committee, to realize how perfectly this Blacksburg situation, revealed by the Northern Virginia Daily, fits into the ghastly picture.

There is no question that the last stand against Communism will be made in the South. Knowing this full well, and with increasing evidence that a last stand fight will surely be made, certainly those who are slated for annihilation should not willingly finance any institution intent upon their ultimate destruction.

There seems to be little doubt of the expediency of small business in Virginia making a united effort to curtail the Virginia Polytechnic Institute's Collectivist Program, and as the General Assembly of Virginia is now in session, this is the time to do it.—News Observer

FIRE CAGERS LOSE

WIN TWO

Saturday, January 17, the Fire Department basketball team, playing without the services of Captain Leith and "Steam Engine" Vetter crumbled before the strong B and B team from Arlington.

Saunders combined his football passing ability with basketball and with Worley on the receiving end, kept our hopes for another victory high until the fourth quarter. After that B and B just walked away with the game.

B and B held the half at 18 to 10 and clinched the game with a 50-26 score.

Smith, acting as captain, did a remarkable piece of directing but all in vain.

Monday, January 19, the Fire Ballers redeemed their victory recorded by adding a 32-23 victory over Stafford A. C.

Vetter returned to the line up but had so much steam in his engine his brakes wouldn't hold and was fouled out the first quarter. Captain Leith was also present.

Everybody likes a double header, especially if one of the "heads" happens to be a pretty blonde or a dark-eyed brunette with a figure like Betty Gable, but come, come lets back to basketball.

This corner, being solely sworn in to cover the "male division" of our two Fire Department teams, leaves the details of our young ladies game to the society editor and hopes she was there to cover it.

Stafford arrived exactly one hour, fifteen minutes and thirty two seconds behind the starting time.

Our boys put on a nice show for the spectators during this time and left no doubt they were out to win.

Vetter, Worley, Saunders, Miller and Smith started the ball rolling.

From then on it was a see-saw back and forth with nearly every discussion of referee Lynn hotly debated by the visitors.

It was that fatal fourth quarter which spelled Stafford's defeat.

Captain Leith donned his uniform and led his boys through Stafford's fire hazards. Saunders brought up the rear and when the smoke cleared away the score board registered 30-25 victory for the home team.

Wednesday, January 21, the Fire Fighters were again hosts. This time it was Fort Belvoir who felt the sting of defeat.

Fort Belvoir was as clean a team Uncle Sam could produce. Much praise goes to them for their high regard to fair play. Uncle Sam's Belvoir boys bombed the Fire Department with numerous incendiary bombs all through the game. So heavy was the pressure, Captain Leith was inclined to use his regulars nearly all the game to hold his line.

The Fire Ballers held a 15-21 edge at the half and the final score of 29-24 shows Fort Belvoir had plenty reserve power.

Unconfirmed reports indicate the Fire Ballers will see action again this Saturday. At any rate they will be hosts Wednesday, January 28 to the D. C. Silents. This team is composed totally of deaf players who pack a Sunday punch in every play. Come on down and see for yourself what a fine team we have.

We offer to our report readers the Fire Departments scoring points up to the game with the B and B of Arlington. We also suggest your clip the score to compare with their final record of the season. The final record will be published later.

This corner is 100 percent behind the boys and hopes to see them reach the 400 mark.

Every Electrified Farm Home Can Afford a Modern Kitchen

With an electric kitchen, you can have a month's "vacation" every year.

By IRA MILLER

Farm Electrification Bureau

NEW or old, the farm home that has high-line electric service easily can and should have as modern a kitchen as any found in the most up-to-date city residence. As a matter of fact, a convenient kitchen with all the many electrical conveniences is even more desirable on the farm where many mouths are fed than in the city where the electric range is the rule rather than the exception.

In addition to providing general relief and comfort, a modern electric kitchen also saves time for other duties and actually reduces meal costs in many ways. Thus, an automatic electric pressure water system eliminates countless trips to well or spring for water with which to prepare and cook food and wash dishes.

An electric heater provides ample hot water at the turn of a faucet instead of by dipping from a hot well or pans on a stove. Expressed in terms of time, those two devices alone will save the farm wife a minimum equivalent of 30 eight-hour days a year.

Washing tableware—six tons of it each year in the typical home—is one of the most unenjoyable tasks on the farm. The installation of an electric dishwasher will eliminate at least seven weeks of labor each year from the calendar of the farm wife. And, in addition, the use of electric pressure water system and electric heater will save the farm wife a minimum of 30 eight-hour days a year.

saves many weary steps to cold cellar or spring house but also protects the family health and reduces food waste to a minimum. An electric range has many advantages over other means of cooking, among them cleanliness, coolness, safety and economy.

Small electrical appliances of many kinds, together with a modern sink and sufficient wall and base cabinets for storage, can make kitchen work easier, more convenient and save another month of eight-hour days in the kitchen each year.

The ideal solution to the kitchen problem in any farm home is to install what is commonly known as a "full electric kitchen"—a combination of electric range, refrigerator, water heater, sink, dishwasher and cabinets—at one time. You can obtain a detailed plan for such a kitchen in your home by sending a rough dimensional sketch of your present kitchen to any one of several manufacturers of major electrical appliances or to certain of the leading farm magazines.

The cost of installing a modern kitchen can be financed on convenient monthly payments directly through the manufacturers, your REA representative or the Electric Home and Farm Authority. Or, if you do not care for deferred payments and installment financing, you can cash for a complete kitchen at once, you can install it piece by piece as your income permits. However you finance it, you will find that it pays real dividends in time, work and money.

EDWARD G. ROBINSON HAS DYNAMIC ROLE IN TABLOID DRAMA

In a role ranking with his work in "Five-Star Final" and "Little Caesar," Edward G. Robinson again presents a dynamic and forthright portrayal, this time as a scrapping tabloid editor in the new M-G-M drama, "Unholy Partners," which opens next Monday and Tuesday, January 26 and 27 at the Pitts Theatre.

Laid in the colorful prohibition era of returning World War heroes, transatlantic fights and marathon dances, the picture tells the story of two men, one a newspaper editor, the other a racketeer. Bitter enemies, unique circumstances place them in joint control of a tabloid newspaper. Edward Arnold, the only person from whom Robinson can get money to finance the tabloid, intends to run the paper to suit his own ends. The editor, equally determined, sets out to ruin his gangster partner. The ensuing conflict results in a series of as exciting and dramatic episodes as has been seen on the screen in some time.

Robinson offers a punch-filled characterization as the man determined to print the news and "all the news," and finds a worthy opponent in Arnold, who in this picture has one of his best acting opportunities. The feminine contingent of the cast measures up to the work of the stars, with Laraine Day, remembered for her excellent work in the "Dr. Kildare" series, giving another appealing performance as Robinson's secretary, in love with her boss but knowing that his first devotion is to his paper.

Also scoring are Marsha Hunt, cast as a Broadway singer, William T. Orr as a reporter and Don Beddoe as a news editor, with lesser roles filled by Walter Kingsford, Charles Dingle, Charles Halton, Joseph Downing and Clyde Fillmore.

Much of the force of "Unholy Partners" is due to the honest and discerning direction of Marvyn LeRoy. The director, with gratitude from newspaper men everywhere, has tossed the proverbial drinks reporter from the screen. Nor is there a shouting editor, or the cub reporter who beats the world with a Page One story. The picture was produced by Sam Marx.

SPECIAL NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS

In order to conserve newsprint, we must proceed to adjust our mailing lists more strictly than we have in the past.

Our notice, in December, met with wonderful response. However, there are still subscribers who are accepting the paper with no arrangement as to payment. We do not charge our regular correspondents, or anyone who has rendered some special service for which we are giving the Journal is recognition of that fact.

We are extending our period of "grace" for a few more weeks, after which the names of those who are far in arrears, and who have made no payments during 1941, will have to be removed.

We would truly appreciate your courtesy in using a penny post card and notifying us of the fact that you do not want the Journal continued. After your name has been removed, the twenty-five cents penalty will be imposed to reinstate it.

We value our newspaper family but we can also only value your estimate of the paper by your attention to this notice.

AIRPLANES OF THE FUTURE

War plane fleets of a size and striking force exceeding the most sanguine of air power's proponents probably will be employed in World War II. A hint of what they will be like exists in current designs and in the production goal which this nation has set for itself—185,000 planes in the next two years. What these new planes are likely to be is revealed in an illustrated feature story appearing next Sunday in the Washington Sunday Star.
