PRINCE WILLIAM DEFENSE COUNCIL IS ORGANIZED

MUST TRADE IN TOOTH PASTE TUBES

Dr. Cooke calls attention to the order just issued by the War Production Board which prohibits all druggists and other retailers from selling tooth paste, shaving cream, or cold cream to any customer who fails to turn in some kind of used collapsible tube for each new one purchased.

The new order makes the dealers responsible for the trade-in transaction and directs that the tubes thus collected be held subject to the orders of the War Production Board, and retailers are liable to heavy fine and imprisonment for violation of the order.

Purchasers are not required to turn in exactly the same kind of tube, just so it is of the same general nature.

CLUB WOMEN HEAR STIRRING TALK

Fourth District Institute Held At Manassas

The Institute of the Fourth District, Virginia Federation of Woman's Clubs was held Friday, March 27, beginning at 10:15 a. m. The Senior Clubs met in the Parish Hall, while the Juniors met in the Presbyterian basement, coming together for luncheon in Grace Methodist Church, where the Manassas Club received many compliments upon the fine luncheon served by the Church ladies.

The theme "Club Projects and Problems in War Time" was carried through the whole program. The Personal Problems were discussed by six of the members of the Arlington Woman's Club, after which two vocal selections were rendered by Mrs. Charles Stickle, accompanied by Mrs. Lewis Carper.

Questions on the Club Projects were discussed by Mrs. Francis Aylor, District Chairman of National Defense, and the Club Problems were discussed by Mrs. Arthur Orr, District Chairman of Club Institutes.

The business session followed with the usual order. Plans were laid for the next meeting to be with the Arlington Woman's Club in October. Mrs. Arthur Buell of Herndon was elected to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of the Vice-President, Miss Loretta McGill.

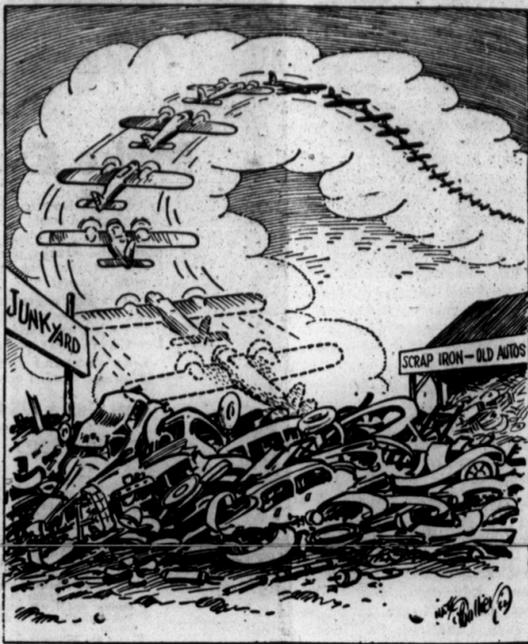

Reports of the Club Presidents and the chairman of the District and State were most encouraging, showing that the Clubs are hard at work keeping up with the defense program.

The surprise of the program came when the President, Mrs. Walter DuBois Brookings, presented Mrs. Emily Newell Blair who is Organizing Director of the Woman's Interest Section of the War Department's bureau of Public Relations. She spoke on "The Soldier and His Community" making her listeners realize that his "community" includes both his home town and his camp location. Mrs. Blair had no difficulty in holding the attention of her audience, and the facts she presented were most interesting.

Following the address, "six young ladies of the Manassas Female Institute" made their appearance, and with their chaperone at the piano, rendered several "touching" numbers. This was more than enjoyed by the sound of the laughter and applause, and it seemed for a time that the young ladies would be late in getting back to their school, after responding so beautifully with encores. The accompaniments were played so feelingly with much expression, by the devoted teacher. The Club ladies were more than pleased that the young ladies could tear themselves away from their studies long enough to give such an inspiring program.

All of those present agreed that the Club Institute was a huge success, with much credit to Mrs. William L. Lloyd who was general chairman. She was assisted in planning by Mrs. J. P. Royer, Mrs. C. Lacey Compton and Mrs. C. C. Lynn. The committee on Hospitality was Mrs. C. C. Lynn, Mrs. Carl Kincheloe, Mrs. R. C. Haydon, Mrs. Lewis Carper, Mrs. T. J. Broadhead, Mrs. C. Lacey Compton, Mrs. W. T. Cooke and Mrs. Paul Arrington. Registration was handled by Mrs. J. P. Royer, Mrs. C. C. Lynn, Jr., and Mrs. C. W. Staggs. Mrs. Lewis Carper was in charge of the music, with Mrs. M. S. Burchard as song-leader. Those in charge of the luncheon tickets were: Mrs. Harold McCall, Mrs. C. Lacey Compton, Mrs. Ann Sinclair, Mrs. E. D. Gothwaite and Mrs. Janet Owens.

SPRING FLIGHT

MANY BEAUTIFUL HOBBIES DELIGHT CROWDS

A wide variety of interests were displayed at the Hobby Show sponsored by the Fine Arts Section of the Woman's Club in the Methodist Church on March 17th and 18th. The interesting and unusual exhibits were viewed by a great number of school children and townspeople. The committee in charge was indeed gratified by the excellent spirit of cooperation which they received in response to requests for exhibits.

Time and space does not permit the writer to give a complete description of each of the lovely exhibits. The display of Far Eastern articles by Mrs. E. D. Gothwaite, which formed the background for the entire show, proved to be not only interesting, but educational as she described in detail to the visiting pupils from Bennett School, the facts and stories pertaining to each article. The most complete exhibitions of a hobby was made, we believe, by Mr. Worth Storke who showed his fine collection of shaving mugs, mustache cups, golden prints in lovely antique frames and his well mounted Indian Arrow heads.

The very interesting family exhibits of the John DeChants and Mr. M. S. Burchards which included every type of hobby frame furniture refinishing, in caning, stamp collecting to model building and leather work received their share of compliments. The delicate handwork on the many pieces of knitting, crochet and quilting exhibited by the mesdames G. R. Ratcliffe, Paul Cooksey, E. W. Hurst, Allen Mayhugh, A. W. Ballentine was beautiful. A wide variety of antique glass, china, quilts, coverlets, dolls, pictures, paisley shawl, etc were shown by Mrs. John Beard, Mrs. Paul Cooksey, Mrs. Vincent Davis, Mrs. Richard Haydon, Mrs. Marshall Haydon, Mrs. Arthur Sinclair, Mrs. James Bradford, Miss Emily Johnson, Mrs. Dillake, Miss Walsler Conner, Mrs. Jack Ratcliffe, Mrs. Weatherfall. The dress designs by Miss Madeline McCoy attracted most favorable comment as did the intricate workmanship on the shipmodel by Mr. Warren Coleman. The art of painting is not being neglected in Manassas as was proved by the lovely oil painting displayed by Miss Dorothy Allen, Mrs. J. P. Royer and Mr. Joe Lonas. The many uses for photography was shown by Mr. Harrison Lamb in his lovely exhibit of the different types of photographs. A most complete collection of miniatures were exhibited by Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Carper, Mrs. Lloyd, Miss Edna Moore and Mr. Edgar Rohr. The scrap books and stamp collections shown by Miss Elizabeth Lloyd, Miss Walsler Conner and Master Jimmie Bradford was most interesting. Many examples of excellent craftsmanship were displayed in the woodwork and metal work of Mr. Paul Cooksey, Mr. John Beard, Mr. Jack Merchant and Mr. J. P. Royer. The doll houses built by Mr. Jack Ratcliffe and Mrs. A. E. Jakeman were viewed by many youthful admirers. The art of furniture refinishing was masterfully displayed in the exhibits of Mrs. J. P. Royer, Mrs. J. L. Bushong, and Mrs. Sedrick Saunders.

NOTICE TO MOTORISTS

The Salvage committee requests all motorists to leave their old auto tags at the garage they usually patronize. Dig up your old tags of past years and bring them, too. This is a nation-wide drive and with your cooperation, will bring in many tons of valuable steel which is much needed for war purposes.

Garage owners are asked to provide receptacles and collections will be gathered later. The County Salvage Committee Chairman will appreciate your cooperation.

ACCOMMODATING TAXIS

Two taxis, one from Arlington and one from Washington, carried passengers home to Manassas on Friday night, minus the drivers. One cab was left in front of the home of Mr. P. L. Proffitt and the other before Colonel Hutchison's home.

Local police took the cars in hand and identity of the owners was easily established. Neither car had been harmed in the least, although one of the temporary operators did not have the courtesy to leave the keys in the car for the rightful owner.

Prompt action by Mr. Proffitt aided in the return of the cars.

EASTER SUNRISE SERVICE AT ANNABURG

The Young People's Fellowship of Grace Methodist Church extends to the people of Manassas an invitation to attend their Easter sunrise service. The service will be held at Annaburg, the Porter estate, at 7:30 o'clock, Sunday morning, April 5. The Reverend Mr. W. O. Luttrell will administer the Holy Communion. If the weather is inclement, the service will be held at the Methodist Church.

URGES SUPPORT OF WAR FINANCE

Dr. Francis Pendleton Gaines, of Lexington, Chairman of the Defense Savings Committee of Virginia, urges the 132 Local Defense Savings Committees throughout the State to bend every effort to make successful the Victory Pledge Canvass of the Treasury Department being conducted by them during the month of April.

SUPPER AT HAYMARKET

The Improvement Committee of St. Paul Church Haymarket will hold a supper at the Parish House, Thursday evening, April 9th from 6 to 8 P. M.

The menu will be chicken, new potatoes, vegetable salad, home-made rolls and apple pie a-la-mode.

A very unusual collection of bowls with bolos from native Panamanian wood were exhibited by Mrs. Dillake.

REGISTRANTS TO BE NOTIFIED OF ORDER NUMBERS

The Prince William Selective Service Board is notifying registrants by mail of their order numbers in the recent draft lottery. Consequently the Journal will not continue publication. About half of the registrants have already been notified and the remainder will receive cards in a few days. Owing to errors in the newspaper lists of numbers the only reliable source of information on this is the registrants own Selective Service Board.

Hunton Tiffany Appointed Director-Coordinator For County

MRS. R. M. GRAHAM WILL BE FULL-TIME SECRETARY

Acting under the Civilian Defense Law which authorized Boards of Supervisors and governing bodies of Cities and Towns to set up local defense councils, Prince William County has organized as a unit, with Mr. Hunton Tiffany, Town Manager of Manassas, as Director-Coordinator for the entire County. This set-up followed action of the Board of Supervisors and Mayors of the incorporated towns and now has the force of law.

Assisting as full time secretary will be Mrs. R. M. Graham, of Manassas, and upon completion of his staff Mr. Tiffany will announce the complete set-up for the county.

In the meantime, defense instruction has been steadily proceeding. Throughout the month of March instruction has been given covering a complete course of 23 hours for auxiliary police and air wardens. To date 34 have completed the instruction which includes first aid 10 hours, fire defense 3 hours, gas defense 5 hours, general 5 hours. Classes were held during March as follows: March 9, First Aid instruction by Mr. Edwin Beachley, who has specialized in this work and rendered especially helpful service; March 11 police instruction by Lieut. Russell Hawes of the Alexandria Police; March 16 first aid by Mrs. Beachley; March 18 Lieut. Figures on incendiary bombs; March 20 fire control by Mr. Barbour, who is Assistant Fire Chief of Alexandria; March 23 and 25 first aid by Mr. Beachley; March 27 police instruction by Wayne Carr, of the State Police; and lastly the well attended meeting which was held Tuesday night of this week in the auditorium of the Manassas High School where Col. Allen C. Hart, U. S. A., of the State Defense Council assisted in completion of the plans for the final organization of the Defense Council for the County. A meeting of staff members was also held Tuesday afternoon, at which time Col. Hart gave valuable advice.

This week Director-Coordinator Tiffany is busy fitting up the Council Room at the Town Hall in Manassas as the Civilian Defense Headquarters for the county, and he advises us that he is especially desirous that all interested in enrolling in the next course of instruction for air-wardens and auxiliary policemen should get in touch with his office immediately. Plans for this course are now being perfected and the date of opening will be announced soon. A list of those who have completed defense instruction appears elsewhere on this page.

VOCATIONAL GUIDANCE TALK HEARD BY KIWANIS CLUB

A. E. Jakeman, director of the Manassas State Vocational School, was guest speaker at the Manassas Kiwanis club last week.

Giving a history of the idea of vocational guidance plan, Mr. Jakeman showed some of the extreme frailties of the old methods of steering the youngsters in times past and led down to the present day, stating that activities for several publications of the felt that the Kiwanis method probably represented the best general way and cited his reasons for this belief.

The address was much appreciated by the membership.

One old member (Rev. R. M. Graham) was welcomed back into our midst with due ceremony by Col. R. A. Hutchison and one neophyte, Frank D. Cox, county agent, with Judge Hill Brown acting as guide into Kiwanis mysteries.

Miss Evelyn Berryman made a gracious song leader in stead of Mrs. Kitty Baker who was sojourning on the balmy sands of Florida.

Col. Hutchison reported on the interclub meeting with Arlington on the previous Wednesday and reminded his committee to start preparing for the interclub meeting here on April 17th.

UNITED CHRISTIAN EDUCATION ADVANCE

The Protestant churches of the United States are now pooling their resources and working together as never before in a movement which is coming to be known as the United Christian Education Advance. This is a movement in which the churches are uniting to Reach Every Person with Christian Teaching.

With a view to interpreting this Movement to local churches throughout America, the National Denominational Boards of Christian Education, the several National Inter-denominational Organizations, together with State and Local Councils of Religious Education and the State Denominational Boards of Christian Education, are all pooling their resources and uniting their efforts in the holding of 135 one day conventions throughout the United States in the month of April. Five of these conventions will be held in Virginia, as follows:

- Harrisonburg — April 18
- Norfolk — April 20
- Richmond — April 21
- Lynchburg — April 22
- Wytheville — April 23

These one day conventions will help prepare and inspire delegated local church and council workers to put the advance into operation in their local churches and communities. The out of state or National Denominational leaders for the Virginia conventions will include the following:

"SWORD OF THE SPIRIT"
 (Reprinted from the Southern Churchman).
 Ephesians 6. 17
 (Thoughts for Good Friday)

Sword of the Spirit,
 God's weapon of love,
 Strength of the angels
 In heaven above.

That weapon of love
 Was brought down to earth
 By God's divine Son,
 And He proved its worth.

On Mount Calvary
 A battle was fought:
 With that sword of love
 Christ victory wrought.

Death was there vanquished,
 Life bought for us all;
 Man's loss was redeemed
 From Adam's sad fall.

—John E. Shea.

GENEROSITY

Generosity is the flower of justice.
 Nathaniel Hawthorne
 It is not enough to help the feeble up, but to support him after.—Shakespeare.

He who is afraid of being too generous has lost the power of being magnanimous. The best man or woman is the most unselfed.—Mary Baker Eddy.

In giving, a man receives more than he gives, and the more is in proportion to the worth of the thing given.

—George Macdonald
 The manner of giving shows the character of the giver, more than the gift itself.—Lavater.

Take heed that ye do not your alms before men, to be seen of them: otherwise ye have no reward of your Father which is in heaven.—Jesus: Matthew 6:1.

SHAKESPEARES' IMAGINATION AND THE WORLDS' REALITY

By Mary Owens, B. D. H. S.
 (Specially submitted for general excellence).

Although Shakespeare had a real person in mind when he created Macbeth, he really created an imaginary person. History shows that there was once a ruler who had killed a former king in order to get the throne in his possession, and that this ruler was named Macbeth, but probably the only similarity between the real Macbeth and the Macbeth of literature was that they had the same name and they were both selfish and crafty enough to disregard other people in getting what they wanted.

If Shakespeare had lived in this day and time he probably would have copied Hitler in creating Macbeth. In fact, even though Macbeth was a product of the imagination in the "Age of Elizabeth," and Hitler is a character in reality, there is quite a bit of similarity between the two.

First let us look at their backgrounds. These show quite a bit of contrast. Hitler was born in the poor home of a member of the peasant on the lower class of Germans. He was brought up with practically no education. On the other hand Macbeth was the son of a member of the higher class of people. Hitler's mother was very disappointed in life. She had dreamed of being the wife of a nobleman or a wealthy person, but instead she became the wife of a peasant. This disappointment had made her very bitter toward life and practically the only thing which she taught Hitler was that in order to get ahead, he must be stubborn and push ahead in spite of other people.

Macbeth was very ambitious, but it is a fact that if his wife had not pushed him into doing it, he would not have had nerve enough to kill Duncan, his king.

So we see that both Macbeth and Hitler were hungry for power and both of them had someone who pushed them ahead, who gave them an even greater appetite for power than is normal for anyone to have.

Let's look into the matter of power and see how these two rulers acquired theirs.

We all know that Hitler got his by military means and literature shows that Macbeth did the same.

Life is not really worth living for unless you set a goal to line up to. Once you attain this goal, you will not be satisfied until you have set another. Sometimes life is not worth living; in my estimation, if you have a goal, depending on the direction into which that goal will take you. Is Hitler's goal in the right direction? Is a goal that leads to slavery and bondage in the right direction? No! Everyone in this world will agree with me on that point to a certain extent; yes, even Hitler.

Was Macbeth's goal in the right direction? Is a goal that leads to disregarding other people and even killing them, in the right direction?

Is power the only thing which is acquired through ambition? We would say no and mean it, but through Hitler's and Macbeth's eyes power is the only result of great ambition. Both of them lost most of their friends before they gained their power. Their kind of power has no room for friendship.

We could not be happy without friendship. Macbeth was not happy and though I don't know him personally and don't care to, I guarantee Hitler is not happy.

Macbeth's subjects did not love him as a king and Hitler's people do not love him. After all if they did love him why would he be so afraid that they might be disloyal that he would send them to concentration camps to punish them?

Where is all this power going to end? Macbeth's ended in death in battle. Where will Hitler's end? We can only wait and see.

—Mary E. Owens

ALL CITIZENS URGED TO AID FOREST FIRE CONTROL

The Virginia Forest Service organization respectfully requests the earnest cooperation of all the citizens of Prince William County in the careful handling of fire and in the prevention of fire during the present spring season; also, the cooperation of the citizens residing in rural sections in the suppression of fires which may occur in their immediate vicinity in assistance to the regular organization.

The forest warden organization for Prince William County is as follows: CHIEF: James M. Russell, R. 2, Manassas.

Lookout Watchman: W. H. Elliott, RFD, Nokesville.

Local Wardens: Arthur D. Arrington, David Edwin E. Cornwell, R. 2, Manassas E. C. DeWitt, R. 4, Manassas Cornelius P. Ennis, Nokesville George A. Hedges, Hoadly Van R. Herndon, Nokesville W. H. Herring, R. 1, Box 160, Nokesville.

William Francis Keys, Joplin A. MacMillan, R. 1, Manassas John A. Musselman, Occoquan Elmer A. Payne, R. 1, Box 120, Manassas

D. W. Posey, Hoadly J. T. L. Rollins, Wellington Francis S. Van Doren, RFD 2, Manassas

James C. Watson, Haymarket Frank W. Wells, RFD, Gainesville

Due to the exigencies of the present war situation it has become increasingly difficult for the members of the organization to secure adequate help in the control of forest and field fires. Many of the persons formerly available for this class of work have been inducted into the armed forces of the country and many others are away engaged in essential war production work. To add to this difficulty the funds available for fire control work during the spring 192 fire season will be considerably less than one-half of the funds that were spent on fire control work during the spring 1941 fire season.

The situation has become so intense that it is now mandatory that we restrict expenditures to actual fire fighting work. All such fire prevention activity as inspection of fire hazards, school contacts, posting notices, visiting members of the organization, etc., has been stopped in order to conserve the available funds for actual fire fighting work and this curtailment will in all probability have the undesired effect of increasing the occurrence of fires.

More than 98 per cent of the fires that occur in Virginia are man caused fires and are preventable. The greater part of these fires are the result of gross negligence and carelessness on the part of persons who insist on their prerogative to burn brush and fields at any time regardless of weather conditions and utterly irrespective of the rights of their neighbors and damage to adjoining lands. Taking into consideration the depleted value of our once magnificent stands of timber and the rising price and extreme need for timber in its various forms, this situation is regrettable and reprehensible. As one editor recently expressed the situation in a splendid editorial, at such a time as we are experiencing in the present crisis, any carelessness with fire that might damage or jeopardize the timberlands of the State is a plain case of sabotage to the concerted war effort and does much to counteract the national defense program. To these ends the Virginia Forest Service voices a plea to the citizens of Virginia for their careful cooperation and control of fires after their occurrence.

Well March weather is sure as unpredictable as a woman. One day you hardly need a wrap and the next fur coat would be comfy.

Speaking of movies I heartily recommend "The Man Who Came To Dinner." I really mean "heartily" you have have to be hardly to survive the laughter. This is a very funny picture without a comedian and I dislike comedians.

NUMBER 30 ★ An Easter breakfast that's different ★ Check-list of Easter foods you'll need
★ Tender, juicy Easter hams ★ How to afford extra company for Easter dinner

How to wish your family the happiest Easter ever

If you really want to make Easter Sunday a truly grand day from beginning to end for everyone at home, start it off with a sparkling breakfast like this. It was created by the Safeway Homemakers Bureau especially for this most important Sunday-breakfast-at-home day of the year.

For Easter Egg Nests with a 1 1/2" cookie cutter cut hole in 1/4" thick slice of bread (with crust removed). Brown bread in hot fat, drop egg in hole and cook until egg is partially set; finish cooking in moderate oven (350° F.)

TO MAKE HOT CROSS BUNS
8 to 3 1/2 cups all-purpose flour
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup butter
1/2 cup raisins
1/2 cup currants
1/2 cup orange marmalade
1/2 cup yeast
1/2 cup salt
1/2 cup shortening
1/2 cup molasses
1/2 cup water

Sift flour, measure; sift again with spices. Scald milk; add water; cool to lukewarm; add crumbled yeast, sugar, and salt, beat until yeast is dissolved; and add beaten egg. Add half the flour to yeast mixture; mix well; add remaining flour gradually, using just enough to prevent dough from sticking; add softened shortening, raisins, and currants; and work until sides of bowl are clean. Knead dough on lightly floured board until smooth; place in greased bowl, cover with damp cloth; and let rise in warm place (80° to 85° F.) until double in bulk. Punch down to original size; shape into ball, place on floured board, divide into 8 portions; shape each into ball; cover with damp cloth; and let stand 15 min. Divide each ball into 8 small ones, place on greased baking sheet 2 inches apart; cover; and let rise until almost double in bulk. Brush with egg wash (1 egg yolk beaten with 3 tbsps. water); cut shallow crosses with scissors on top of each roll. Bake 8 min. in moderately hot oven (425° F.); reduce to moderate (350° F.); and bake 15 to 20 min. longer, until done. When cool, mark crosses with thin powdered sugar and cream icing. Reheat to serve.

They had two children, Donna and Cimarron. Cimarron was the very image of his father, having the same easy poise, long curling lashes, and the same polite manner.

How are we, coke drinkers going to get by this summer on rationed supplies? I read someplace they weren't going to cut down as drastically as they once planned because Pop had a bearing on the morale of our people. I agree, especially on the coke angler. It's the little things that make a happy people anyway. We can't always think in terms of war and death and income tax.

I understand Mrs. Roosevelt does not know whether her sons are in immediate danger or even exactly where they all are. They are in active service doing their part for the U. S. A. though.

We are hearing that offensive we're been hearing so much about. Every war has a turning point and a great general who inspires his fellowmen because of his courage and ability. We were lucky to find our indomitable personality quite early in this second world war. His military achievements seem to me to be secondary in importance with the fact that he has inspired our whole nation with a new courage. Gen. MacArthur has done more to help us in an all out for war effort than any thing or organized for that purpose: I'll bet.

Cimarron was copyrighted in 1929 and 1930 by Double day, Doran and Company in New York. It was written by Edna Ferber, who also wrote "So Big" and "Show Boat."

Edna Ferber is an American novelist whose interesting pictures of everyday life have won for her the admiration of all types of readers.

This book is about one of the old pioneer characters who is remembered throughout Oklahoma. Yancy Cravatt called Cimarron, had roving blood in his veins. When Oklahoma was settled, Cravatt tried to get land there. At first he could not, but later he succeeded.

The children grew up and became important inhabitants of Oklahoma, which had now become a state. Life went on in the same old manner, and old Cimarron became a legendary figure to the people of Oklahoma.

I liked this book because it tells about the kind of life that the early settlers lived in the old West. It is exciting and full of color. Much pleasure may be derived from reading it.

This book may be borrowed from the Ruffner-Carnegie Library.

BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

For the son of man came to seek and to save that which was lost.— Luke 19:10.

DIRTY WORK AT BLACKSTONE

The shocking disclosure that the United States Employment Service has turned over to the Labor Unions all employment at the $25,000,000 army camp at Blackstone, Virginia, follows a series of circumstances calculated to arouse wide-spread indignation.

It seems that as a preliminary move the State Employment agency was merged with the United States outfit, giving the latter exclusive jurisdiction.

Then, while the General Assembly was still in session and contemplating legislation to handle the fee-extortion system which was going on at Blackstone, the State Commissioner of Labor seemingly blandly told the General Assembly, that the situation at Blackstone was all right.

His evaluation of the disturbance there was accepted by the legislators, who, apparently did not know that the State Labor Commissioner himself was a union man, apparently working hand-in-glove with the extortion plan.

Too late to do anything in the matter of state legislation Governor Darden turned to his Attorney General for advice and finds that Virginia can do nothing about it. And the extortion of union fees goes on down there!

Of course Howard Smith has the answer. His bill would end these rackets, and there is every indication that unless blocked by the Senate, or by Presidential veto, Blackstone and many other dirty spots in our defense effort will be cleaned up.

We wish to thank our various correspondents for sending their notes early this week.

LEGION PRIZE TO ALEXANDRIA MISS

Finals Held Here Last Friday Evening

Sponsored by the eighth District American Legion, the annual oratorical contest was staged at Manassas High School last Friday night.

Professor C. O. Bittle, principal of the Brentsville District High School, presided. He spoke briefly and explained the contest.

Following a welcome by Professor R. C. Haydon and the advance of the colors by Prince William Post No. 158 and the invocation by Commander George P. Grove, of the Arlington County post, the contest began.

Five speakers from Arlington, Fairfax, Prince William, Culpeper and Alexandria City were given numbers by lot and each made a prepared speech based on some phase of the Constitution or the Bill of Rights.

Then each speaker, in the same order as before, was given a subject for brief extemporaneous discussion.

During the evening music was rendered by the Manassas High School glee club, led by Miss Knight and accompanied on the piano by Miss Latham. Miss Louise McNair, of the Brentsville High faculty, played a violin solo, accompanied by Miss Armstrong.

The board of judges composed of Messrs. A. E. Jakemann, Wheatley Johnson and R. D. Wharton retired for a decision which was shortly announced by Mr. Jakemann. He told how close the decisions varied, and announced that the last competitor on the program was the winner, and Number 4, the runner up.

Professor Bittle announced at this time the name of the winner, Miss Margie Morris of Alexandria, and second place, Miss Ruth Smith, of Culpeper.

Miss Mary Owens, representing Prince William County, made a splendid showing and was a very close runner-up on the place winners.

Rufus Caldwell, of the Forty and Eighth (Voiture No. 934) awarded a twenty-five dollar Defense bond to Miss Morris.

Mr. Bittle announced that State finals at Norfolk on Saturday of this week, with a grand prize of $200.00.

NOTICE TO ALL WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

Notice is hereby given that the Occoquan Company has filed with the State Corporation Commission of Virginia an application for a license to construct, operate and maintain a hydro-electric development on Occoquan Creek in Fairfax and Prince William Counties. The proposed dam is to be located on Occoquan Creek about 1 1/4 mile upstream from Highway Bridge on Route No. 123, at Occoquan, Virginia, and will be about 125 feet high. This dam will form a reservoir extending upstream about 19 miles to the Blands Ford dam on Broad Run and to the Bull Run Power Company's dam on Bull Run, which is about 6 miles upstream from its junction with Occoquan Creek. In connection with said dam it is proposed to construct a power station having installed two 24,400 horsepower vertical reaction turbines, each direct connected to a 22,500 K. V. A. (at 80 per cent power factor) water wheel generator. It is further proposed to supplement the stream flow at the dam by pumping water back from the tailrace into the reservoir, and for this purpose two 17,000 horsepower pumps, each delivering 1,000 C. F. S. against a head of 126 feet and driven by direct connected 17,000 horsepower synchronous motors, are to be installed in the power house.

Notice is further given that the State Corporation Commission has set said application for hearing in its court room in the City of Richmond, Virginia, at 10:00 o'clock A. M. on Thursday, April 23, 1942, and at such public hearing the applicant and other interested persons, firms associations, or corporations, will be given an opportunity to present facts, evidence and argument for or against the granting of said application.

Description, maps and plans of said proposed development are on file in the offices of the State Corporation Commission, and in the offices of the State Commission on Conservation and Development, and also in the offices of the Charles B. Hawley Engineering Corporation, 1016 Munsey Building, Washington, D. C., engineers for the Company, at either of which places they may be seen and inspected by any interested person.

SOUTHERN STATES COOPERATIVE FARM BULLETIN

GROWING CHICKS is not quite as simple as A B C, but if you'll be careful of these three things your worries with poultry will be few and far between:

- FIRST, give your chicks really adequate care, and keep a complete record of growth, costs, and profits. (Southern States will be glad to furnish you free helps.)
- SECOND, feed them balanced, high quality feed—with plenty of vitamins, balanced minerals, and proteins. (Southern States feed has already grown 100 million chicks.)
- THIRD, buy chicks with good breeding—healthy, disease-free chicks. (Even if they live, poor chicks aren't worth the feed it takes to raise them.)

HYBRID CORN. There will be a critical shortage of some of the outstanding hybrids that Southern States supplies.

Add to this the farm labor shortage and you can see that it's far more important than ever to use high quality seeds, so that maximum results can be obtained from the land that CAN be farmed.

YOUNG LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR CONTINUES EXCELLENT CAREER

William M. Tuck of Halifax County, who has been member of General Assembly since 1924.

Life of presiding officer of State Senate is briefly reviewed.
By Virginia Waller Davis

The Marines landed in Virginia January 21st, 1942 and the situation is well in hand.

On that day William Munford Tuck, the 45-year old 225-pound ex-Marine of the infectious smile and enviable legislative record, reported for duty as second in command of Virginia's governmental affairs, as that other ex-Marine, of whom Virginians are justly proud, took over the helm of State. Colgate W. Darden, Jr., Governor, and William Munford Tuck, Lieutenant-Governor and President of the Senate. Soldiers, lawyers, farmers, politicians, orators, statesmen, with records of bravery at home and abroad.

In the Senate of Virginia, of which he had been an honored member since 1932, Lieutenant-Governor Tuck, changed his seat on the floor of the Senate to the chair of the presiding officer and without more ado, called that body to order.

With 17 years of continuous service in the State Legislature to which he was first elected at the age of 27, Virginia's new Lieutenant-Governor is decidedly no novice. "Bill" Tuck, as he is most affectionally known by friends in all walks of life and from every corner of the State, has been running for something ever since he left Halifax County, aged 17, weight 150 pounds, and landed at William and Mary College. There, it was track and he discovered long-distance running was his long suit. He wound up by winning his letter and the two-mile race at the State intercollegiate track meet at Blacksburg in the spring of 1917. A diploma and football honors were thrown in for good measure by the time his stay in Williamsburg had been completed.

Into the next six years he crowded work as a high-school principal, service in the Marine Corps, most of which was spent fighting bandits in the San Domingo hills, and acquiring a law degree at Washington and Lee University. The he hung out his shingle in South Boston and shortly afterwards ran for election to the House of Delegates. Though it was the first time he had sought public office, he not only won the election but led a three-way ticket with a majority of more than 900 votes. He's been running and winning ever since.

In 1931 after seven years of service in the House, he was elected to the Senate, and since he took his seat there in 1932, he has been unopposed for re-election.

Just a year ago he threw his hat in the ring in the race for Lieutenant-Governor, and carried off the honors in a walk.

The highest honors in the Senate of Virginia have been conferred upon Mr. Tuck by his colleagues. Upon taking his seat in the Senate in 1932, he was appointed a member of the two most coveted committees, Steering and Finance, and has served on this continuously. He was also chairman of the General Laws Committee and a member of the Privileges and Elections, Nominations and Interstate Co-operation Committees.

In 1938, his colleagues elected him chairman of the Democratic caucus of the Senate, and as such he was floor leader, whose duty it is to appoint the members of the all-important Steering Committee. This committee, in turn, selects the personnel of the other committees.

While a member of the House, he was also a member of the Finance Committee as well as the Courts of Justice Committee. Sound finance has been one of his chief interests since first entering the Legislature. During Governor Peery's term of office, Mr. Tuck introduced a bill authorizing the refunding of the State's Century bonds and their refinancing at a lower rate of interest, thereby saving several millions of dollars in interest.

In 1940 Mr. Tuck was a member of the five-man Senate sub-committee which, after nearly a week of burning the midnight oil, brought the appropriation bill to balance after the Finance Committee had wrestled with it in vain and a wornout Legislature faced the possibility of an indefinitely prolonged session. The report of the sub-committee was accepted, the bill, with amendments, passed both houses, and the Legislature peacefully adjourned. The idea of appointing the sub-committee was his.

The cigar, which is his constant companion, might even be for publicity purposes—so interested is he in tobacco and its problems, and coming as he does from South Boston, that "little city of the largest tobacco market" where the bright leaf tobacco is lord of the land and only once a year is a queen allowed. He raises and sells it himself, as did his father before him.

The Lieutenant-Governor admits that his interest in education dates back to the day when, at the age of seven, he first trudged off to the one-room schoolhouse, a long, cold mile from home, and discovered the teacher to be young and pretty. Then and there he fell in love with "teacher" and his interest in education just naturally flourished, and even carried him to such a point that he decided to be a teacher himself, and was for a year. He gave up that job, but always has kept his interest.

He was extremely active in securing the appropriation by which the State Park System was begun in 1933. With a pull on the cigar and a deep chuckle, he will tell what it was that awakened his interest in landscaping. At 15, he was sent off to Chatham Training School, now known as the Hargrave Military Academy. Life was sweet, and he was full of it, and no matter how hard he tried he couldn't seem to keep out of some kind of trouble, no matter how innocent. Trouble meant demerits, and demerits meant digging up tree stumps, with which the land around the school abounded. This was a grand way to work off excess steam. Young Tuck dug and dug until he finally worked up an interest in the work, and especially the results. He has been after results along this line ever since. The school's headmaster at that time was Dr. T. Ryland Sanford, a noted Baptist minister. Dr. Sanford had the honor of delivering the opening prayer at the inaugural ceremonies when the stump digger took his oath of office.

Mr. Tuck was the first man to advocate the enlargement of the Highway Commission. This bill has been reposed at frequent intervals, but his year for the first time it has succeeded.

From 1928 to 1931, Mr. Tuck was chairman of the Halifax County Democratic Executive Committee. He was an alternate-at-large to the Democratic National Convention at Chicago in 1932, was presidential elector-at-large in 1936 and was a Democratic elector from the Fifth Congressional District in the presidential election of 1940.

The job he won which most surprised Bill Tuck was when Mrs. Eva Lovelace Dillard, whom he had been courting for several long years, said yes. He was home over Sunday from the Legislature and, having no time for her to change her mind, he grabbed her by the hand and headed straight for the clerk's office, license and preacher.

Mrs. Tuck is a Presbyterian and Mr. Tuck a Baptist. He is a charter member of the American Legion of Halifax, and is a member of the State Bar. His fraternities are Sigma Phi Epsilon, Phi Delta Phi and the Delta Sigma Rho (forensic). He is a Mason and belongs to a long list of other organizations.

Mr. Tuck is an enthusiastic fisherman and horseman, but his family, his politics, his profession and his farming leave little time for hobbies. He always has time, however, to fight for a friend or a principle.

William Munford Tuck is the twenty-third man to serve as Lieutenant-Governor since 1852 when, for the first time, both the Governor and the Lieutenant-Governor were elected by the people instead of by the General Assembly, and when the offices of President of the Senate and Lieutenant-Governor were combined.

Colgate W. Darden, Jr., veteran Marine, is the sixtieth Governor under the Constitution, but the twenty-fifth to be elected by the people.

The Marines have landed in the State of Virginia and the situation is well in hand.

GIANT SNOWFALL

The blizzard of March 28-29 will rank with the big snows of late winter with those which have gone before. After virtually little or no snow fall during the winter, the weather man would himself up for a healthy wlop just as March went out. After twenty four hours of rain fall of varied intensity, snow began to filter down around 10 P. M. Saturday night and continued heavy till past midnight. It then continued in fits and bursts till Sunday afternoon, when approximately twelve inches had fallen in the rural area adjacent to Washington and Alexandria. As the storm approached the Capitol City, the fall was heavier and on the north and west side of Washington, the total depth must have been close to two feet in places.

After a light freeze on Monday morning, thawing began rapidly and most of the snow was gone by afternoon. Although caught unawares by the precipitation, the State Highway Department in all sections went quickly into action and traffic was proceeding normally before Sunday noon.

Telephone and electric troubles were also in evidence because of the wind, plus the heavy, wet snow which clung to the wires. These were rapidly ironed out, the electricity going on in all sections after a three hour interval in some of the rural vicinities.

Near Manassas, the Prince William Electric Cooperative had its share of troubles, with numerous breaks; too many in fact for its road crew to get all service restored until Monday.

The most fortunate part of the whole thing was that no very high nor freezing winds accompanied the snow.

STAFFORD CLERK CONTINUES ILL

Circuit Court Clerk James Ashby, of Stafford County, continues under the doctor's care, and has gone to the Mary Washington Hospital in Fredericksburg for treatment. Everyone hopes to see him out again in full health and vigor very shortly.

THAT OTHER WAR 25 YEARS AGO

Twenty-five years ago, on April 7, 1917, the United States entered World War number One, in to stay until Victory. Today we are in World War number Two, also to stay until Victory. Besides these identical resolutions, there were many other points of similarity, and many of difference, to the circumstances and feelings with which we began participation of these wars. Interesting comparisons between these two great wars, the first mere child's play next to this one, are made in an illustrated feature article appearing next Sunday in the Washington Sunday Star.

T B CLINIC HERE REORGANIZES

Plans For Negro Health Week Outlined At Meeting

In the absence of the Rev. John M. DeChant, chairman of the Prince William County Tuberculosis Association, Mrs. Marshall Haydon, secretary, presided at an important meeting of the organization held Wednesday (March 25) in the local Health Office. The session called to order at 2 p. m. opened with an explanation by Mrs. Haydon of the work of the association and the reading of the minutes of the last meeting. A resolution was passed to have the secretary write a letter of appreciation to Mrs. Gibson for the ten years of untiring service rendered by the late Rev. A. Stuart Gibson in his association with and as chairman of the Prince William Unit.

Following a discussion of the tuberculin clinic to be held here next week, the list of members volunteering to assist with the work was scheduled as follows: Monday, Mrs. Marshall Haydon, Mrs. George Turberville; Tuesday, Mrs. J. C. Kinchloe, Miss Irma Williams; Wednesday, Mrs. Holmes Robertson, Miss Elvere Conner; Thursday, Mrs. Kinchloe, and Friday, Mrs. Haydon.

Miss Margaret Townes, elementary supervisor of colored schools, outlined plans for county participation in Negro Health Week, April 5 to 12th. Under the direction of Dr. John Williams, chairman of the county colored auxiliary, a meeting has been tentatively planned for April 10th in the First Baptist Church. Beginning at 8 p. m. the program calls for an address by Dr. Roscoe C. Brown of Washington, chairman of the National Negro Health Committee. Two films will be shown on health subjects, one of which is entitled "Let My People Live." Another appropriate picture is under consideration and will be announced later. At the conclusion of the entertainment, refreshments will be shown, and a portion of the proceeds will be contributed to the T. B. fund.

A report on the conditions in the colored schools of the county was given by the supervisor. The association voted to donate $10. to supply milk to undernourished children of the Antioch School This amount will take care of 33 pupils who are now underweight for a month.

The treasurer was authorized to write a check for $9.55 to cover the cost of a filing cabinet for the permanent records of the association.

The next regular quarterly meeting was scheduled for 2 p. m. Wednesday, April 8th in the Health Office at which time plans for the ensuing year will

SOLDIER AND WORKER

There has been much controversy about the draftees being taken away from good paying jobs and only getting twenty-one a month while others are free to strike for higher wages. There is no doubt as to the unfairness of this.

I have talked to a number of men who are in service but they are not complaining of the pay so much, even though a few extra dollars would come in handy, as they are to the labor strikes disrupting production and slowing up munitions.

Many people think it is very disloyal for the soldier to want more pay, after all who is giving his life for his country? not the laborer, business man, farmer, or the politician even though they are just as important as the men in arms, with exception of the later.

There isn't anything that will demoralize our national unity quicker than labor uprisings, as any other disruption in our defense program. Let's bury the hatchet and pay more respect to our men in service by producing all that is humanly possible.
