AIR RAID INSTRUCTIONS

(Issued by the Prince William County Defense Council).

Until a suitable system of sirens can be installed, air raid warnings will be sounded by fire trucks and police car traversing the streets with sirens sounding intermittently. All clear will be sounded by fire trucks and police car traversing streets with sirens blowing continuously.

GENERAL RULES TO BE OBSERVED BY ALL CIVILIAN DURING AIR RAID.

1. REMAIN CALM and do not be frightened. More damage can be caused by panic than by falling buildings, materials or by bombs themselves.

2. IF AWAY FROM HOME, seek the nearest shelter. Get off the street or highway.

3. IF YOU ARE DRIVING, park your car at curb on side of road, turn off lights.

4. IF YOU ARE AT HOME, seek shelter in the refuge room. This room should be a comfortable place with as little window exposure as possible and at least two outlets. The refuge room should be blacked out by providing all openings with dark curtains or draperies so that no light can be seen from the outside. Turn out all lights. Do not let cracks of light show from outside.

5. HAVE A SUPPLY OF DRY SAND and buckets of water convenient in the event an incendiary bomb strikes. Do not throw water on an incendiary bomb. Unless you have some means of spraying water on a bomb do not try to use water to extinguish it. Do not get too close to an incendiary bomb. By covering the bomb with sand and the use of a long handled shovel an incendiary bomb may be removed with comparative safety.

6. KEEP OUT OF THE LINE OF WINDOWS. Fragments and glass splinters cause most casualties.

7. IF EXPLOSIVE BOMBS FALL NEARBY, get under a heavy table, an overturned davenport or other piece of furniture.

8. IF OUTSIDE AND UNABLE TO FIND SHELTER, lie down.

9. IN CASE OF INJURY, CALL POLICE OR AIR RAID WARDENS.

10. DO NOT PARK CAR IN CENTER OF STREET OR HIGHWAY, keep lane open for movement of traffic.

Do not believe rumors, remain calm and use common sense.

TALK ON BOY SCOUT WORK GIVEN TO KIWANIS CLUB

A splendid talk on Boy Scout work and the special applications of the same in war time was given at the Kiwanis Club last week by Scoutmaster R. Jackson Ratcliffe. Mr. Ratcliffe was present as the guest of Kiwanian Jack Royer.

Mr. Ratcliffe also traced the history of civil defense work for a period further back than one would have thought that it ever started.

Using the local scout troop in its working, the speaker told how he was actually training them in just such things as might arise when and as they might be called on to aid air raid or fire wardens.

He also cited "airplane spotter" work as one of the most important phases of civilian defense, deploring the increased difficulty due to the call of younger men to the service and other essential war work. He suggested that the time was not far off when men much older than those now serving would have to be called in such vital civilian defense work.

A delayed portion of the previous week's initiatory proceedings was completed in presenting buttons to Rev. Graham and F. D. Cox, the same Kiwanians as before continuing their excellent work in duly impressing the new Kiwanians (although was of them was not new at all).

The housing committee announced that the interclub meeting of April 17 would be held in the high school gymnasium.

The Club was to welcome back Kiwanian Al Hooff who had been ill for several weeks. He has one of the best attendance records in the local club.

GOVERNOR VICTORY PLEDGE SIGNER

Governor Colgate W. Darden was first in Virginia to sign a Victory Pledge Canvass card at Richmond, setting the example for the Old Dominion in its part of the national inventory of the willingness and ability of the people to purchase Defense Savings Bonds and Stamps regularly for the duration of the national emergency.

Mrs. J. L. Blair Buck, former State Woman's Club president, was canvasser obtaining pledge.

HOWARD SMITH THE FARMER

Editor of The Times-Dispatch, Sir:

In reply to an article in The Times-Dispatch of March 29, which criticized our Congressman from the Eighth District for the part he has taken in the labor question, I would like to enlighten the writer of that article with the following information: Yes, Howard Smith is from the foothills of Virginia, the horse-jumping and horse-raising country, but he himself has no jumpers nor throughbreds. He is a dirt farmer and owns only Clydesdale and Percheron horses. He operates three dairy farms in Fauquier and Prince William Counties, producing grain and milk, which occupation is doing more to win the war than the labor strikes which are holding up war production.

If the gentleman from Gordonsville who is an ex-soldier knew more about our Congressman perhaps he would think very differently. We who know Howard Smith love him as our friend and representative, and we are proud of the stand he has taken in trying to get Congress to pass laws prohibiting strikes during the war production period. It is absurd for Mr. Rainey to attack Howard Smith's patriotism. No man in the halls of Congress is fighting harder for his country in trying to abolish the defense-defeating objectives of labor unions, and no man is more loyal to his country.

The conditions which exist at Blackstone and in other places where army camps have been built, where defense workers are forced to pay exorbitant fees to labor unions before they can obtain work on defense projects, are a disgrace to Virginia and to the people of Virginia, and it is just such tyrannical labor practices that our Eighth District Congressman is seeking to curb by his actions in Congress.

If other Congressmen were patterned after Howard Smith, the defense of our country would be assured. A dirt farmer, a patriotic citizen in the true sense, a loyal friend, a hard-working representative of the people, he is risking his political position to stand up against the forces of evil in this country in an effort to unite the people for national defense. He is one of the few Congressmen who is unafraid to buck the labor union for the good of his country. We in the Eighth District refer to him as being "as plain as an old shoe," down to earth, one of us. At home at a "millionaire horse show," as Mr. Rainey terms it, and breaking bread at the kitchen table of the poorest of the people he represents, with the interests of us all at heart, what finer, more fearless, more democratic man could we have chosen to speak for us in Congress?

Manassas. E. R. CONNER.

Chairman Ratcliffe Expresses Appreciation of American Legion and Auxiliary Aid

A house to house campaign to secure pledges of regular purchase of Defense Bonds is under way in Prince William County under direction of Mr. G. Raymond Ratcliffe, Chairman of the Defense Savings Committee of the County.

The American Legion and its Ladies Auxiliary is putting on the drive for the Defense Saving Committee, and considerable progress has been made in accordance with plan outlined by the Treasury Department for drives throughout the nation.

The month of April has been designated for this Pledge Drive, and more than a million volunteer Minute Men throughout the nation are now engaged in this "crusade for life and freedom," as the drive has been characterized by Henry Morgenthau, Jr., Secretary of the Treasury, who says in his instructions to the field force of the Defense Savings Staff that this campaign to enroll an army of savers in the service of the nation will afford a striking example of how freemen rally to the defense of freedom when the call comes.

No money is collected in this pledge canvass. The Pledge Card, which is printed elsewhere in this paper, is itself only a promise to save a certain amount regularly in Defense Bonds or Stamps. It is not an order form. Persons signing the Pledge Cards are expected to make their own arrangements for the purchase of Bonds or Stamps. Under no circumstances are any funds accepted by the canvassers, and no "pressure" or coercion of any kind is used to obtain pledges.

Both the amount pledged by any person, as well as the fact of his pledging or not pledging is to be held absolutely confidential.

Ed. Note: We are indebted to Mrs. O'Callaghan for the following version of Mother Shipton's predictions:

I have been very much interested in rereading the famous prophecy of Mother Shipton which was first published in London in 1448, I believe.

This poem is famous for many reasons. It predicted many things which at the time were thought to have been impossible. And yet everything that Mother Shipton said was to be has been.

I found the poem recently in an English newspaper, and have shown it to many of my friends, who have all expressed an interest in it. Many of them have asked for copies of the poem and I thought it would be a good idea to give it to The Press for publication.

The poem follows:
A house of glass shall come to pass,
In England, but alas!
War will follow with the work
In the land of the Pagan and Turk;

And state and state in fierce strife
Will seek each other's life.
But when the north shall divine the south
An Eagle shall build in the Lion's Mouth.

Carriages without horses shall go,
And accidents fill the world with woe.
Primrose Hill in London shall be,
And in its center a Bishop's See;

Around the world thoughts shall fly
In the twinkling of an eye.
Water shall yet wonders do,
Now strange, shall yet be true;

The world upside down shall be,
And gold found at the roof of a tree;
Through hills man shall ride,
And no horse or ass be by his side.

Under water men shall walk,
Shall ride, shall sleep, shall talk;
In the air men shall be seen,
In white, in black, in green

Iron in the water shall float
As easy as a wooden boat.
Gold shall be round, and found
In a land that's not now known;

Fire and water shall more wonders do.
England shall at last admit a Jew;
The Jew that was held in scorn
Shall of a Christian be born.

Three times three will lovely France
Be tied to dance a bloody dance
Before her people shall be free
Three tyrant rulers shall she see;

Three times the people rule alone,
Three times the people's hope is gone,
Three rulers in succession see,
Each springing from a different dye.

Then shall the worse fight be done—
England and France shall be as one.

THE LAST WORD

When statesmen have made the last parley
Dictators have made their last threat.
When we watch the skies with misgivings
And the fires of conflict are set.

When factions mislead and confuse us,
Bring chaos where order prevailed
When freedom we cherished is vanquished;
And leaders we trusted have failed

When our faiths are attacked and derided
And some have forgotten to pray
Remember that hope is eternal
THAT GOD HAS THE LAST WORD TO SAY.

—R. G. LeTourneau

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all churches and societies of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, April 12.

The Golden Text will be "The prayer of faith shall save the sick, and the Lord shall raise him up; and if he have committed sins, they shall be forgiven him" (James 5:15). Bible selections will include the following passage from John 1:13: "In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. All things were made by him; and without him was not anything made that was made."

One of the passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, included in the Lesson-Sermon, reads as follows: "In the Gospel of John, it is declared that all things were made through the Word of God, and without Him (the logos, or word) was not anything made that was made. Everything good or worthy, God made. Whatever is valueless or baneful, He did not make, hence it is unreal. Sin, sickness, and death must be deemed as devoid of reality as they are of good, God" (p. 525).

(Taken from a church in England)
A Sunday well spent,
Brings a week of content,
And help for things of the morrow
But Sunday profaned what so ever be gained
Is a sure forrunner of sorrow.

GOLDEN WEDDING

Those were halcyon days in the long, long ago

When a youth and a fair maid were wed,
Heart unto heart and hand with in hand

Together life's pathway to tread.
Fifty years ago a romance ended where Mr. Edwin Lee Birch and Miss Mittie Lee exchanged marriage vows in Washington, D. C. and together entered the home where they have lived since in quiet peace and harmony

April 2nd, 1942 marked the fiftieth anniversary which was celebrated in the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Birch.

Mrs. Birch was born in Loudoun County 71 years ago, but has lived most of her life in Fairfax County. She is endowed with a wonderful personality and is growing old gracefully.

Mr. Birch was born near Chantilly 71 years ago and is a gentleman of the grand old Virginia type. Their home is noted for its finer southern hospitality, and they are very popular among their many friends. This was demonstrated by the many beautiful gifts and large sum of money they received.

Their children are Sergeant Clarence Birch, now stationed at Jackson, Miss. Alvin A. Birch, a daughter, Mrs. Edna Brown who died several years ago. The grandchildren are Melvin, Ray Phyllis and Ralph Birch, Jack and Jimmie Miller and Edwin Brown.

Mrs. Alvin Birch and Mrs. Miller served delicious cake and fruit punch to our one hundred guests during the evening.

The Golden Wedding day is past
But there are coming years ahead.

To still enjoy life's richest gifts
As down the pathway you tread.

—A Guest.

MISS MATTIE MATTHEW

Miss Mattie Matthew died in George Hospital March 31, after a ten-days' illness of partial paralysis. She was stricken at her old home, March 11, and never regained consciousness.

The deceased was a resident of Sudley neighborhood and was well known throughout this section. Upper Prince William and Loudoun Co. where she taught for many years in the public schools.

During the past few years, since she retired from teaching, she had lived at the parental home near Stone House with her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Matthew.

Mr. B. F. Matthew passed away just three months previous to Miss Mattie's death.

It is this homestead which is often referred to as "Matthew's Hill" in the records of the Battle of Manassas in the War between the States).

Miss Mattie's kindly influence will be remembered by many of the pupils who were once under her instruction. She was a member of the Baptist Church at Antioch, but she was a regular attendant at Sudley Church which was so close to her home. She will be greatly missed by all.

The funeral was held from the Hine's Funeral Home in Washington, April 2.

Services were conducted in Sudley Church by the pastor, Rev. Clark H. Wood, and interment was made in the family lot in the adjacent cemetery, amid many beautiful flowers.

She is survived by one brother, Joseph P. Matthew of Los Angeles, California; three sisters; Mrs. Ada Hoal of Roanoke, Mrs. Ivey Hawkins and Mrs. Laura Mencrief of Washington, D. C.

The pallbearers were her neighbors Messrs. George Ayres, Walter W. Allison, Lester Anderson, Samuel A. Moss, Roy Sowers and Hamilton Swart.

A CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank all my dear friends and relatives who have been so lovely and kind during my long spell of illness. Also want to thank all who have been so loyal to me during the many years I have served them in the millinery business which I have enjoyed and wish my health would permit me to carry on longer.

I am making my home for some time with my niece, Mrs. Ethel King, in Dumfries, Va., where I expect to regain my health and strength. Again thanking you all,

I am very gratefully yours,
Annie E. Adamson.

TRAFFIC DEATHS UP IN VIRGINIA

Col. Battle Gives Analysis Of Various Causes

Traffic accidents in Virginia during 1941 cost 1,110 persons their lives and an economic loss of about $44,400,000, Colonel M. S. Battle, director of the Division of Motor Vehicles, said in announcing the official accident report.

In accidents which occurred in the rural areas, 983 persons were killed or 88.5 per cent of the total fatalities. In urban accidents, 127 persons were killed.

The total number of accidents during last year were 21,361, resulting in 1,110 deaths and 10,523 persons injured. A total of 14,151 accidents resulted only in property damage.

The tremendous increase in traffic caused by the military and industrial development and motorists' utter disregard of all traffic laws and safety rules were the chief contributing factors in chalking up the unprecedented record, Colonel M. S. Battle, director of the Division of Motor Vehicles, said.

In making his comment, the director pointed to a breakdown of the fatalities which revealed that 434 persons lost their lives in one-car accidents or 39.1 per cent of the total number killed.

"One car accidents," Colonel Battle explained, "are those in which a vehicle runs off the road or crashes into a fixed object. There can be no plausible explanation for such mishaps except that the driver of the car failed to pay proper attention to the road, was too drunk to drive, was operating his vehicle at a too rapid rate of speed or just went to sleep at the wheel."

"No traffic program or policeman can prevent this sort of behavior on the highways. We can arrest only those drivers we see violating the law but it is impossible to place a State Trooper in each vehicle that is operated on the open highway."

Next in line were pedestrians and 36 walkers were killed during the year or 29.4 per cent of the total fatalities. In crashes with other vehicles, 292 persons lost their lives and 29 were killed in accidents including mishaps with trains, street cars and horse drawn vehicles accounted for 29 deaths.

"The only bright figure in the entire report of 1941 traffic accidents, the director said, "is the fact that fatalities in the urban areas showed a decrease. There were 127 persons killed in the cities during 1941 as compared to 144 killed during 1940. Rural auto deaths soared from 709 in 1940 to 983 during 1941, 88.5 per cent of the fatal mishaps."

"The darkest figure in the report is that in 65 per cent of all accidents, drivers were in violation of the law. This alone proves that utter disregard for the traffic laws by motorists is the chief factor in the 1941 record. The only way to meet this attitude of complete indifference is with a rigid and unrelenting enforcement program with an adequate number of police to patrol the 45,000 miles of highway in Virginia."

"Our force personnel has been increased and more men will be added this year. These men will be instructed to continue the enforcement now carried on by the undermanned department we have now."

The breakdown of the violations listed in the accident reports showed that 13.7 per cent or 5,077 of the 37,087 drivers involved in 21,361 accidents were violating a speed law. The other main violation listed were improper passing by 5.1 per cent of the drivers; 2,652 drivers or 7.1 per cent were driving on the wrong side of the road; 1,513 drivers or 4.1 per cent ignored a traffic sign or signal and 2,232 or 6 per cent failed to give a hand signal or made an improper turn.

Fourteen per cent or 171 of the drivers involved in the fatal accidents were reported as "had been drinking."

As for the traffic density, Colonel Battle said that there were 590,000 motor vehicles registered in Virginia last year, 50,000 more than during 1940 and the largest number ever registered in the State's history.

I Like This Book

One of a series of book reviews by students of Osbourn High School, Manassas—Session 1941-42 in competition for the W. C. Wagener Memorial Prize.

"HOW GREEN WAS MY VALLEY"

Reading Richard Llewellyn's stirring novel, "How Green Was My Valley," was an entirely new experience for me. The magic of this magnificent story leaves you strangely aglow.

"How Green Was My Valley" portrays the life of a family, the Morgans, who were dependent upon mining for a livelihood. This was before the valley in South Wales had been blackened by coal dust.

The story, told by Huw, the youngest of the children, depicts the intimate life of a family of miners, their friends and neighbors. It pictures his father, a strict yet gentle man, a great leader in the valley and highly respected by his followers. Huw's shrewd and impulsive mother, adds wit and lightness to the plot, and his many brothers and sisters increase its charm. Each of the characters who people the book crosses the threshold of reality.

A great slag heap has crept down menacingly upon his childhood home, and Huw is about to leave the valley forever. In his mind still lingers the memory of those golden days of his youth, never to be relived.

A highlight of Huw's early childhood is the marriage of his eldest brother to the beautiful and tender Bronwen, whom he is destined to love until he dies.

An outstanding quality in the Morgan homestead was that of unity. There was a strong sense of respect everlastingly prevailing. No one dared speak until he was so commanded by Dada Morgan. Despite this, however, there existed an atmosphere of love and happiness. Although there was a definite strain and tenseness because of their precarious occupation, an overwhelming change occurred each evening as the men and boys of the valley trudged happily down the street to their respective homes, full of song.

Everything is here: comedy, tragedy, love, excitement, fighting, heroism, and sacrifice. There is a crisp, salty Welsh humor which seasons the tale and makes it proof against sentimentality. The simplicity of the language as well as the many unforgettable scenes are beyond praise.

When lost amidst the pages of this superb book, one feels that he is being pulled by a strong tide with the difference that he has no desire to resist it, so for a few hours of real ecstasy just read "How Green Was My Valley." This book, published in 1941 by The Macmillan Company, may be borrowed from the Ruffner-Carnegie Library.

SAFEWAY Homemakers' Guide

NUMBER 38 ★ Three old reliable meat dishes made exciting ★ Meats that are guaranteed tender and juicy ★ Inside information on oranges ★ How Jean learns to enjoy life

3 very simple ways to glorify old reliable cuts of meat

They come from Safeway's Homemakers' Bureau

It's amazing how simple it is to glamorize those old reliable, supposedly ordinary cuts of meat—give them an appetizing new appeal. Of course, you can't expect them to resemble the meat courses on the $10 dinners at the Ritz, but they will be just as nutritious (practically all meats are equally rich in proteins, minerals, and vitamins)—and they can be made really exciting. See how the Homemakers' Bureau has glorified these.

CHICKEN FRIED STEAK

With milk gravy, of course

1 1/2 lbs. round steak 2 cups shortening cut 1/2-inch thick 1 cup water
1 tsp. salt

Cut steak into generous pieces for serving. Sprinkle with salt; dredge in flour with edge of plate; and dredge again in flour. Brown on both sides in hot shortening in heavy frying pan; add water; cover; and cook slowly 1 hour, or until meat is tender, but still firm, adding more water if necessary. Serve with milk gravy made from meat drippings. Serves 6.

BRAISED PORK SHANK

Country-style

Pork shank, weighing about 4 to 5 lbs. 1 bud garlic
1 1/2 cups salt

Heat large, heavy kettle with tight-fitting cover; add meat with bud garlic inserted in top; add salt. Cover; cook slowly, turning frequently, until meat is tender, about 3 hours, allowing 50 minutes per pound. Serves 10 to 12.

Note: Add water only if necessary to prevent scorching.

TO MAKE GRAVY: Remove meat to heated platter. Pour off excess fat. To every 1 1/2 cups drippings, blend in 1 1/2 cups flour, and add 1 cup water or milk.

STUFFED BREAST OF LAMB

8 breast of lamb, weighing about 3 lbs. 2 cups sliced celery
4 cups cooked rice 4 cups melted shortening
1/4 cup chopped onion 1 tsp. salt
1/4 cup coarsely cut parsley 1/4 tsp. pepper

Have pocket cut in breast for stuffing. Combine rice, onion, parsley, celery, shortening, 2 tps. of the salt, and pepper; toss lightly with fork to mix. Pack half of stuffing lightly into pocket; sew or skewer together. Pack remaining half stuffing into well-greased baking pan. Place meat, fat side up, in drip pan; sprinkle with remaining 1 tsp. salt. Do not cover; do not add water. Roast in moderately hot oven (400° F.) about 2 hours. Allow 30 min. per pound for combined weight meat and stuffing. Bake extra stuffing last hour of roasting. Serves 6.

And here's how to glorify hash

Read the article "To Hash" in this week's issue of the Family Circle Magazine. It's crammed with interesting ways to prepare and serve hash. New issue out every Thursday—free at Safeway.

Now big is a big orange?

Q. Are all the "large oranges" they talk about in the ads really large?
A. No, sir—no! The same size orange may look large to one grocer, small to another.

Q. But, suppose I find oranges of the exact same size—and price. Does that mean they're the same in every other way too?

A. Not necessarily. Your household scales will show you that oranges of the same size can vary considerably in weight.

Q. What has weight to do with oranges?

A. Well, weight indicates the juice-content—and that is what you're buying. Juice weighs heavy; peel and pulp weigh light. Only by weight can you tell the actual value in oranges.

Q. Where can I buy oranges this way?

A. At your neighborhood Safeway. You'll find that oranges, among other fruits, are sold by the pound. Q. Why does Safeway do this?
A. To be sure that you get full value for your money. When you buy by the pound, you are sure of getting exactly what you pay for. It's just another thing Safeway does to save you money.

Prices effective in Manassas until close of business Saturday, April 11, 1942. NO SALES TO DEALERS.

THE HOME OF GOD

BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

If parents will have their children memorize the daily Bible selections, it will prove a precious heritage to them in after years. Let this mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus: Who, being in the form of God, thought it not robbery to be equal with God: But made himself of no reputation, and took upon him the form of a servant, and was made in the likeness of men; And being found in fashion as a man he humbled himself, and became obedient unto death, even the death of the cross.—Philippians 2:5-8.

END OF A LONG ARMISTICE

Twenty-five years ago, on April 6, 1917, the United States entered the First World War. We thought we were fighting to end all wars and to make the world safe for democracy.

In the light of subsequent events we are not now so sure that we really won that war. We may even look back with wonderment now that we could have once hailed with enthusiasm Woodrow Wilson's armistice proposal of "peace without victory." Still more surprising to us now is the fact that we were willing to make a separate peace with Germany and that we were unwilling to help police the world in the interest of future safety.

Undeniably we lost, or threw away, the priceless security which had been won for us by our gallant army on the field of battle. The "crack-pots" at home destroyed what had been purchased by blood and fire and treasure.

Today, after an armistice of a quarter of a century we have renewed the original fight. We need no slogans this time and we know very well what we are fighting for our very existence. This time we have been treacherously attacked.

But while our brave men fight and die on many fields and in far flung waters, the "crack-pot" is again at work to seize the fruits of final victory. They say that they are going to see that when our fighting men come home "they will find a re-made nation waiting for them, of which they will be proud." They are determined to complete this fantastic socialistic program, redistributing all wealth so that all but those who now "have" will be in clover. Only let them have their way and we will hand our returning soldiers and sailors the "perfect" Republic.

THE HOME FRONT. Banks serve also in keeping the economic machine running smoothly, providing needed financial services to men and women everywhere, assisting individuals and business concerns in meeting the problems of the day.

But our men are not fighting for something to be developed while they are at the front. They are fighting for the kind of liberty which they left behind them—the freedom of their forefathers as guaranteed under a Constitutional government which they understand and love. If they knew what the federal government itself seems to be attempting behind their backs they would be horrified.

NOT TRUE

People who talk at something like two thousand dollars a broadcast frequently say things which are not true. In their search for dramatic and startling facts they too often are led into error, and sometimes they deliberately distort facts to attain certain vocal objectives.

We would not be willing to undertake to say just how or why the First Lady of the land, on a recent coffee-sponsored broadcast, should have chosen to make the statement which she did make reflecting upon the intelligence of the American Legion and holding them responsible for present chaotic conditions, but we unhesitatingly commend Lynn N. Staumbaugh, National Commander of the American Legion, in challenging the remark.

Mrs. Roosevelt said: "The nation is fighting its second World War because the boys in the last war came back without the actual feeling of obligation to carry on their thinking." In other words: The American Legion caused the present World War!

Commander Staumbaugh justly replies, "Mrs. Roosevelt indulged in a fantastic flight of fancy unworthy of the great name she bears in attaching even the slightest portion of blame for this war to the American veterans of the last war. If the national defense, Americanism and foreign relations programs of the American Legion had been followed by the nation we would not be threatened as we are today—our enemies of today would not have started this war."

CATHARPIN

A large congregation was present at Sudley Church Sunday morning, with many of our old friends returning to take part in the Easter service. The decorations of spring flowers made a beautiful setting for the lighted cross. Several special numbers were given. Our Pastor, Rev. Clark H. Wood delivered a very fine sermon. Nine members were received into the church. Holy Communion was observed at the close of the service.

Friends of Mr. Emmett Pattie will be glad to know that he returned home March 29, very much improved from the treatment received during his six week's stay in University Hospital at Charlottesville, Va.

Our telephone service is still very much crippled as a result of the very heavy snow fall on March 29. Quite a contrast, indeed, to Easter Sunday, which was one of the loveliest we have ever seen.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Collins and several members of their family: Mr. Fred Collins, Mrs. M. E. Shelton, Mrs. G. W. Merchant and daughter, Sylvia and Yvonne attended services at Sudley Sunday. After services, they motored to Triangle to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Max Collins where their son, Edward K. Collins, was home for an 8-hour leave. Edward is now in training at the U. S. Naval Station, Chicago, Ill. (Company 20, Section F. Naval Pier).

DARDEN SIGNS AUTO LICENSE REFUND BILL

Governor Darden this week signed the bill which will permit autoists to get a refund on their auto license tags for the unused portion of the year in case their tires wear out and they are unable to get new tires from their rationing board.

The new law requires the car owner to get a certificate from his local tire board stating that he is unable to obtain tires and he is required to surrender his license plates.

The following bits of interest are from our friend, Mrs. M. P. O'Callaghan, of Athens, Ga.:

The Food Pledge card. What's that card up in my window. My goodness gracious sakes alive. That's to tell the world; I'm trying to economize, cause you know I've always had to, Mercy goodness Oh dear me! Used to try to keep it quiet. Now it is stylish so to be.

CANCER CAMPAIGN IS PROMOTED

Governor Darden Names April As Month To Observe Fight Against Cancer. Sixty-one Virginia Counties, thirty cities and towns have joined organizations to carry forward a Cancer Control Campaign during April as part of a nationwide war against this dread disease.

Governor Colgate W. Darden, in his first proclamation since taking office, followed action of the United States Congress by naming April as Cancer Control Month and inviting upon all citizens of the Commonwealth to join in the fight against cancer.

An all-out war of education for cancer control was urged by Governor Darden, as he requested Virginia's press, radio, motion pictures and their information channels to assist the Virginia Cancer Foundation which is affiliated with the American Society for the Control of Cancer in this nationwide effort.

Said Governor Darden, "This effort will be devoted to familiarizing every man and woman in our state with the fundamental facts about this disease which, authorities tell us, can be the means of saving as many as two-thirds of the 158,000 lives now being lost annually in the nation."

The Virginia Cancer Foundation is trying to raise funds to be used for saving the lives of the curable two-thirds of the more than 2,000 persons dying annually from cancer within Virginia. In the last nine months the Foundation has provided for the treatment of 189 needy sufferers from cancer. For the work of the Virginia Cancer Foundation $21,881 was raised last April.

The Virginia Cancer Foundation, which has its state headquarters in the University of Virginia Hospital, carries on a year round effort to inform the public as to the symptoms of cancer and to impress them with the fact that the earlier the treatment, the more probable will be the cure.

Indigent sufferers from cancer are provided treatment at six clinics which have been given the approval of the Medical Society of Virginia and where 46 patients are now under treatment.

This is the fifth year that Virginia has joined in the nation-wide fight against cancer and each campaign has been more successful than the one before. For the 1942 effort eight counties and one city are for the first time joining forces with the state-wide organization. Funds raised this month will be spent both in forwarding the educational campaign and in providing treatment for indigent sufferers whose cancers can be cured.

WONDERFUL MILITARY SPECTACLE AT CAMP LEE

The most impressive military spectacle Southside Virginia has seen since the 80th Division marched through Petersburg in 1918 occurred Army Day April 6. Several thousand steel-helmeted Camp Lee soldiers representing some of the most important branches of the Army, five military hands modern mechanized equipment, and four civilian patriotic organizations paraded in Petersburg, with the column taking 45 minutes to pass a given point.

The Quartermaster and Medical Replacement Training Centers, the Chemical Warfare Service, and the Ordnance Department illustrated duties and functions with displays in Petersburg's Central Park during the day. Participating in the parade were Major General James E. Edmonds, Commander of Camp Lee; unit Commander Quartermaster soldiers under arms; Medical Corps soldiers; detachments of the 1326th Service Unit, Army Nurse Corps, Army Chaplains Corps, Detached Enlisted Men's list, Military Police, Camp Quartermaster, and 1st Salvage Company; Officer Candidates of the Quartermaster School; and newly inducted selectees from the Reception Center; and the American Legion, with General Homer Atkinson, Confederate veteran, at the head; Veterans of Foreign Wars, and the Virginia Protective Force.

GRACIE ALLEN IS AT FUNNIEST AS "MRS. NORTH" IN MYSTERY

Gracie Allen virtually convicts her screen husband of murder, then saves him unexpectedly in "Mr. and Mrs. North," Hollywood's version of the Broadway star play, which opens at Pitts Theatre next Wednesday, April 15th.

There was no question in the minds of the audience as to the mirth-producing efficiency of her methods. William Post, Jr., of the New York stage, is the masculine half of the title, in one of the most entertaining comedies to reach the screen. It was directed by Robert B. Sinclair, distinguished for his work in the Theatre as well as for the films.

Her only clue a lobster claw, Miss Allen inadvertently solves a mystery that baffles the police and almost sends her husband to prison, but before she gets around to that, there is a rare combination of mystery and comedy.

Paul Kelly is the baffled Police Lieutenant Weigand, and Millard Mitchell, who appeared in the bewildered Detective Mullins. Rose Hobart, also of the stage, is a convincing siren whose husband is murdered, although she does not grieve appreciably. Her interest centers in Thomas Conway, who is suspected of the murder but who produces a perfect alibi. In fact, everyone does with the exception of Mr. North himself, who is the only one obviously innocent.

Felix Bressart impersonates a suspected brush salesman and Lucien Littlefield is a postman who narrowly escapes death himself. Others in the cast are Fortunio Bonanova, as the janitor, also under a cloud, Porter Hall, Jerome Cowan, Virginia Grey, Keye Luke, Timothy Ryan and Ilex Cooper.

The plot is sheer comedy, cleverly handled, and the audience obviously relished it from the first course to the lobster claw.

The homemaker has today both spiritually and socially. Other chatters who deserve outstanding recognition for their chats on this same topic were Mrs. Horace Buckman, Fairfax County, Mrs. A. W. Hoopes, Loudoun County, Mrs. J. P. Royer, Prince William County and Mrs. Leonard Clark, Spotsylvania. In recognition of these outstanding chats each chatter was presented with a Defense Stamp by the Federation through Mrs. Vincent Davis, chairman of the judges.

The movie HIDDEN HUNGER helped to open each persons eyes to the fact that our daily food requirements can be held in a paper bag in the form of one egg per day, one pint of milk per day, one leafy vegetable, one potato and one other vegetable, one citrus fruit or tomato and one other fruit each day, at least three slices of the right kind of bread or cereal at least two tablespoons of butter and one serving of meat for each person.

Prince William Home Demonstration Club members are indebted to the town of Manassas and each of its citizens for assisting so beautifully in entertaining guest from other counties.

NOTICE TO ALL WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

Notice is hereby given that the Occoquan Company has filed with the State Corporation Commission of Virginia an application for a license to construct, operate and maintain a hydro-electric development on Occoquan Creek in Fairfax and Prince William Counties. The proposed dam is to be located on Occoquan Creek about 14 mile upstream from Highway Bridge on Route No. 123, at Occoquan, Virginia, and will be about 125 feet high. This dam will form a reservoir extending upstream about 19 miles to the Blands Ford dam on Broad Run and to the Bull Run Power Company's dam on Bull Run, which is about 6 miles upstream from its junction with Occoquan Creek. In connection with said dam it is proposed to construct a power station having installed two 24,400 horsepower vertical reaction turbines, each direct connected to a 22,500 K. V. A. (at 80 per cent power factor) water wheel generator. It is further proposed to supplement the stream flow at the dam by pumping water back from the tailrace into the reservoir, and for this purpose two 17,000 horsepower pumps, each delivering 1,000 C. F. S. against a head of 126 feet and driven by direct connected 17,000 horsepower synchronous motors, are to be installed in the power house.

Notice is further given that the State Corporation Commission has set said application for hearing in its court room in the City of Richmond, Virginia, at 10:00 o'clock A. M. on Thursday, April 23, 1942, and at such public hearing the applicant and other interested persons, firms, associations, or corporations, will be given an opportunity to present facts, evidence and argument for or against the granting of said application.

Description, maps and plans of said proposed development are on file in the offices of the State Corporation Commission, and in the offices of the State Commission on Conservation and Development, and also in the offices of the Charles B. Hawley Engineering Corporation, 1016 Munsey Building, Washington, D. C., engineers for the Company, at either of which places they may be seen and inspected by any interested person.

"GO WEST" IS SONG AND DANCE COMEDY THRILLER

Columbia's "Go West, Young Lady" which opens next Wednesday, April 15th at the Pitts Theatre, richly deserves its Hollywood encomiums: "the musical Western with Oomph!"

It's also got sock—plenty of it! The oomph—and the sock!—are both to be found in the lovely persons of Penny Singleton and Ann Miller, who engage in a tooth-and-claw battle destined for motion picture history.

Miss Singleton, temporarily quitting the "Blondie" series to prove her versatility, appears as a tenderfoot tomboy on the rough-and-tumble frontier. Miss Miller is cast as a dance hall entertainer, who knows her way around the range, and the range riders. With popular Glenn Ford as the third of the featured triumvirate, it's small wonder that the two girls bring down the house in their efforts to keep the other away from him!

Whenever soft-spoken sheriff Ford goes a-gunning for Pecos Pete, the worst bad man west of the Mississippi, he manages to get himself worried by a custard pie heaved at the bandit by Miss Singleton. Despairing of ever seeing Pecos Pete captured, Penny decides to go after him herself. She succeeds, too, employing as weapons not the ineffective six-guns of her Western hero but more positive armaments, the pots and pans from her own kitchen!

That, in essence, is the story of "Go West, Young Lady," and it completely fails to convey the full, rich flavor of

BYRD DEMANDS INSTANT ACTION

Statement Made Tuesday On The Senate Floor

Mr. President: I have a high respect for the leader of the Senate, the distinguished Senator from Kentucky, but I want to emphatically disagree with him in the statements he made on the floor of the Senate yesterday that a full and frank discussion of the labor situation, as affecting our national preparedness program, would disturb our national unity. To the contrary, I believe that a national labor policy adopted by Congress would do much to unite the people of America in the common effort and the common sacrifice that we must make to win this war. We should frankly face the fact that today there exists in America, in this hour of our desperate peril, more disunity as affecting the progress of our military preparedness, more conflicting opinions, and a greater criticism of all branches of our Government than has heretofore existed, since, perhaps the very formation of our Republic. We are united, thank God, in our determination to win the war regardless of the cost. Our very existence as free people depends upon our victory. After all, this is a democracy and what we are fighting for is to preserve our democratic institutions of Government, our freedom of speech and freedom of expression. There exists today through out the length and breadth of America in the mountains and in the valleys, on the seashores and on the plains, an aroused and militant demand that this nation shall be stripped for action and victory, and that every single obstacle for the attainment of victory shall be eliminated from our public and our private lives. This sentiment, which comes from the very grass roots of our nation, is to me one of the most hopeful signs that the people back home are aroused to our perils and are demanding that we in Washington do what may be necessary to place this country on a 100 per cent war basis. Any effort to suppress a free discussion of these vital matters any effort on the part of the Senate to prevent full consideration of those measures the people back home believe essential to our victory, will merely add to the disunity that now exists and to the criticism of governmental actions or lack of action by those back home, and I do not state that this in connection with our distinguished leader who has never endeavored to suppress any discussion in the Senate.

After all, it is the people back home who will fight and win this war. Washington may lose the war, but those who will fight and die to preserve the liberty of America will come from every section of our great country and from every class of our population.

When the people back home hear that they have been branded as sixth-columnists because of their efforts to increase the production of vital war materials and remove any and all barriers that exist to winning the war, such statements merely add to the disunity and to the criticism. A sixth-columnist, as I understand it, is interpreted to mean one who aids the fifth-columnists. Certainly, those in America who want to win this war and who want a more successful and vigorous prosecution of the war than has heretofore been the case cannot be classified as giving aid and encouragement to the fifth-columnists, which is a term applied to those who are disloyal to this country, and who are aiding the enemy.

Full-page advertisements are being published headed "Beware the Sixth Column" and, by implication if not by direct statement, the body of the advertisement charges that those who are pursuing their Constitutional right to advocate changes in our laws are sixth-columnists, this advertisement being paid for by one of the nation's largest labor unions. On the same day that the talk of sixth-columnists started in Washington, the greatest modern American hero, General Douglas MacArthur said in Australia: "One cannot wage war under present conditions without the support of public opinion, which is tremendously molded by the press and other propaganda forces. Men will not fight and die without knowing what they are fighting and dying for. The care with which the enemy keeps the truth from his people and tries to incite their minds toward certain channels and to implant certain ideas shows the weight he lays upon it. In the democracies it is essential that the public should know the truth."

of the film. Packed with music, mirth and melodrama, "Go West, Young Lady" is a new and novel comedy, a burlesque set to rhythm.

We wish to thank our various correspondents for sending their notes this week.

LEGISLATION BY MR. McCANDLISH

New Member Introduced And Aided Many Important Measures

It is a pleasure to record here the outstanding services rendered to the citizens of Fairfax County by Hon. Robert J. McCandlish, Delegate to the General Assembly of Virginia.

This newspaper felt at the time of the special election following the untimely death of the late Col. R. R. Farr, that on such short notice there would be relatively little that a new Delegate could do, especially after all important committee assignments had apparently been made.

However, we were agreeably surprised and delighted to see Mr. McCandlish immediately win the recognition usually accorded only experienced members of the House and to obtain important committee assignments.

Not in recent years have we had more able and energetic representation in the General Assembly, and we feel sure that if our Delegate should choose to offer for re-election two years hence, his candidacy will meet with hearty and widespread approval.

We print some of Mr. McCandlish's legislative accomplishments in the following paragraphs:

1. Amended House Bill No. 21 to remove the limit on the County School levy and allow the Board of Supervisors to fix the same, with the additional right to lay a different levy in the various Magisterial Districts.

2. Assisted, with others, in amendment to House Bill No. 127, which allows a refund of the gas tax on gas used in police cars owned by the County.

3. Amended House Bill No. 184 so that the Commission of Fisheries, by its agreement with the Commission of Game and Inland Fisheries, may license commercial fishermen in the waters of the Potomac River.

4. Amended House Bill No. 273 to permit the Judge of the Circuit Court to fix the annual salary of the members of the Board of Supervisors at not less than $600.00 and not more than $1200.00 per member, exclusive of mileage.

5. Amended House Bill No. 281 to abolish the separate school district of the Town of Falls Church and to merge the same with the County School System.

6. Amended House Bill No. 367 to raise the annual appropriation for the Centreville Ridge Chapter of U. D. C. for caring for Confederate graves, from $15.00 to $25.00.

7. Amended House Bill No. 379 to permit the Commission of Revenue of Fairfax County to charge proportionately for issuing building permits.

8. Introduced House Bill No. 431 to prohibit the institution of annexation proceedings in Fairfax County during the war.

9. Introduced House Bill No. 480 to permit the Board of Supervisors to regulate trailer camps in Fairfax County and to lay a license charge thereon.

10. Introduced, with Mr. Conner, House Bill No. 481, amending an Act of 1940, which created the Fairfax County Police Department to permit the appointment of the chief of police and the police officers for an indefinite period, and to give the Board of Supervisors the right to lay a levy, not to exceed 5c per $100.00 valuation, for retirement of the members of the police department. This bill was also amended to make it applicable to Arlington and Prince William Counties.

11. Introduced House Bill No. 482 to provide that a referendum might be held to allow the people of Fairfax County three optional methods of selecting the County School Board, i. e., as provided by the existing law, appointment by the Board of Supervisors or election by the people.

12. Introduced House Bill No. 575 which clarified the account abolishing the separate school district of the Town of Falls Church.

All of these bills passed both the House of Delegates and the Senate, except House Bill No. 431, which was passed by indefinitely, by the General Laws Committee of the House, and House Bill No. 482 which passed the House and was passed by indefinitely by the Senate Privileges and Election Committee.

GAME WARDEN TO SEARCH FOR FISH NETS

To enforce regulations which became effective last January, game wardens have been instructed to search for nets in inland tidal waters above certain limits agreed upon by the Commission of Fisheries. The Counties affected include Prince William, Fairfax, Stafford and many others. The agreement says that all tidal waters classified as inland waters are to be considered spawning areas and are not to be fished with nets. All nets found in inland tidal waters will be destroyed and the owners apprehended if possible. The limits established in this area are as follows:

Prince William County—Neabecco, Powell, and Quantico Creeks, at their respective railroad bridges; Choptank Creek at the mouth; Belmont Bay, including Kane's Massey's and Occoquan Creeks, at a straight line between Sandy Point and Deep Hole Point.

Fairfax County—Big Hunting and Little Hunting Creeks, at their respective Mount Vernon Memorial Highway bridges; Dogue Creek at the mouth; Gunston cove, including Pohick Bay and Accotink Bay, at the mouth of Gunston cove, this being the boundary line between the states of Maryland and Virginia; Belmont Bay, including Kane's Creek, Massey's Creek, and Occoquan Creek, at a straight line between Sandy Point and Deep Hole Point.

Stafford County—Rappahannock River at the railroad bridge at Fredericksburg; Potomac Creek at Squire's Wharf on the North Bank of Big Marsh; Aquia Creek at the railroad bridge; Choptank and Accokeek Creeks at their respective mouths.

GOVERNOR DARDEN OPENS STATE-WIDE DRIVE FOR DEFENSE BONDS

Opening the state-wide drive for Governor Darden, in a Saturday radio broadcast, appealed to every citizen of the state to "lend their government at reasonable interest rates every dollar you can possibly spare. By doing this you become a direct participant in the war effort and at the same time you are laying aside funds that will be available for use when some need arises in the future. In the campaign which is beginning, two things are sought. You are asked to buy now as many stamps and bonds as you can afford and you are asked to undertake for the future the lending of all money that you can spare, by purchasing weekly or monthly a certain number of stamps or bonds. This is not only for this month or this year, it is for as long as the war lasts—until the last gun is fired and until the last battle is won—because without your untiring help—without your unstinted aid—we cannot win."

HONOR STUDENT TO BE NAMED

Prof. Jakeman Will Announce N. Y. A. Student Most Valuable To War Production

Workers at the National Youth Administration work center at Manassas are keenly interested this week in the survey being made by NYA officials preliminary to the selection of "The Youth Most Valuable to War Production on the Manassas Project," according to A. E. Jakeman, project director.

The award to the youth chosen as the most meritorious on the Manassas project will be presented on April 15th at a ceremony to which the public is cordially invited, Mr. Jakeman stated. The Manassas winner, he said, will be eligible for the award as the most valuable NYA worker in the State of Virginia, and also may compete with winners from other states for the title of "The Most Valuable Youth to War Production in the United States," to be bestowed later by Aubrey Williams, NYA National Director.

General standards considered in choosing the outstanding youths on NYA projects are ability to operate specific machines, aptness for certain types of work as determined by tests, and such personal qualities as interest, industry, honesty, alertness, and ability to get along with fellow workers and supervisors, Mr. Jakeman explained.

"The National Youth Administration now has completed the streamlining of its program to give youth the experience and the training necessary for jobs in war production and the mechanized branches of our armed forces," declared T. Edwin Burke, NYA Administration for Virginia; "from here in," he added, "we intend to use every means to increase to 10 per cent capacity out put of our NYA youths in connection with war production."

TAYLOR AND TURNER OFFER STERLING PERFORMANCES IN "JOHNNY EAGER"

Told with a relentless honesty, given striking dramatic imagery in the direction of Mervyn LeRoy, and offering the best work by far of two of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's greatest box-office attractions—Robert Taylor and Lana Turner—"Johnny Eager" comes to the Pitts Theatre next Monday and Tuesday, April 13 and 14 as the most engrossing portrait of a gangster to reach the screen since the memorable "Little Caesar."

From the very first moment in which Taylor, ex-convict posing as a reformed taxi driver, meets Miss Turner, daughter of the prosecutor who had sent him to prison, the story holds a compelling fascination as it weaves through the plot of the relentless gangster to enmesh the girl in a faked murder, thus giving him the upper hand over his enemy, her father. It is only when he experiences a psychological change that a new man emerges from the cold-blooded criminal, who goes to his death after having accomplished the one unselfish act of his life.

FINE ENGINEERING PROJECT

In connection with Negro Health Week, it is interesting to note an article appearing currently in the bulletin issued by the State Department of Health.

It describes in detail the work at the Regional High School of the Prince William County Health Department which was supervised by the assistant director, James R. Simpson, by which a modern septic tank capable of handling 17,000 gallons of effluent a day was conducted.

The language is too technical for the average reader to thoroughly understand without some explanation of terms. Sufficient to state it contains the most up-to-date methods of design and engineering knowledge.

The school has at least five hundred students and the old plant which was operating in 1938 was insufficient of operating for the health of the school or the area immediately surrounding the same. It is one of the best examples of what consolidation plus engineering has made possible in this county.

It may be added that a good deal of the work on this job was done by the students of the school as a National Youth project. The engineering, of course, was done by the local health department, and the skilled labor furnished by the school boards of the counties from which the student body is drawn.
