BISHOP MASON RECEIVES ORDERS

Ceremony Took Place At Charlottesville On Tuesday.

One of the great events in the life of an apostolic church is the ordination of a bishop. Such an occurrence took place at Christ Church, Charlottesville on Tuesday, Sept. 22nd, when the Venerable Wiley Roy Mason, archdeacon of the Blue Ridge Mountain area, was advanced to the post of Suffragan Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Virginia.

This had been made necessary by collapse of Bishop-Coadjutor Frederick D. Goodwin last February after months of the most grueling hardship in the field. Bishop Goodwin was present and much improved in general condition but the results of months of confinement and ill health were plainly evident.

Rev. Herbert A. Donovan, so well known in the area near Washington, and who has been located at Charlottesville since leaving Truro Parish, (Fairfax) was master of ceremonies. "Mike," as he is affectionately known, had every detail of the affair arranged to a fine degree.

Other priests who took part in the ordination besides were Rev. George P. Mayo, master of the Blue Ridge School, who recited the Diocesan request for a suffragan bishop; Rev. Lewis Carter Harrison, of Emmanuel Church, Brook Hill, who presented the certificate of election; Rev. B. Duvall Chambers, of Westover, who together with Rev. Churchill Gibson, of St. James, Richmond, read the certificate of ordination; Rev. Samuel B. Chilton, executive secretary of the Diocese, who read the canonical testimonial; Rev. Ernest A. DeBordnave, of St. Paul's, Alexandria, who gave the benediction; and Rev. D. Tucker, Bishop of Ohio, who gave the consent of the House of Bishops and Rev. Beverly M. Boyd, of Holy Trinity Church, Richmond, who recited the mandate of the Presiding Bishop.

Taking part in the service preceding the immediate ordination were Right Reverend Robert E. Lee Strider, Bishop of West Virginia, who read the litany; Right Reverend William Ambrose Brown, Bishop of Southern Virginia, who read the Epistle and Right Reverend Thomas C. Darst, Bishop of East Carolina, who read the Gospel.

The consecrator was, of course the Right Rev. Henry St. George Tucker, also Bishop of Virginia. The co-consecrators were Right Reverend F. D. Goodwin, Bishop Co-adjutor of this diocese and Right Reverend Robert Carter Scott, retired from the Diocese of Southwest Virginia and its first Bishop.

Assisting Rev. Donovan were Rev. Richard Henry Lee, of Luray, Rev. A. Campbell Tucker, of Standardsville and Rev. W. Leigh Ribble, of Falls Church.

The ordination sermon was delivered by Right Reverend Noble C. Powell, Bishop-Coadjutor of Maryland and formerly dean of the Washington Cathedral. It was a magnificent appeal for the survival of a Christian civilization.

There were other Bishops who gathered round at the final moment of ordination. The new Bishop made all of his responses in a clear tone and with fervor. Few noticed perhaps that the actual moment when Bishop Tucker delivered the Bible to the newly created Bishop that the hour had arrived at exactly high noon—the high noon of the Bishop Mason's life, one layman was heard to remark afterwards.

A memorial dinner in honor of Bishop Mason was held at the Monticello Hotel, at which time Bishop Darst was toastmaster. There were some excellent after dinner speeches and some equally good jokes, to which the toastmaster contributed a majority.

Bishop Darst is well known in this Diocese, having been for sometime rector of St. James, Richmond. He humorously referred to his defeat by the late Bishop William Cabell Brown, when that excellent presbyter was made Bishop of Virginia.

It was a pleasure to see Venerable Archdeacon Neve, so very well known for his wonderful work in the Blue Ridge. His creation of the Order of the Thousandfold was one of his recent day contributions. Another figure welcome to the assembly was the

DEFENSE STUDENTS AID FARMERS

Real patriotic and true community spirit has been demonstrated by the lads at the local Youth Vocational School in the past few days. Frantic calls for help by farmers have brought response from the boys entered at the school. Most of them are farm boys anyway and need no instruction. After 4:30 as many as twenty five have gone out to work until suppertime and on Saturday afternoon, more than fifty were out making corn fly and doing other vitally essential work on crops otherwise suffering from neglect.

This service call for double-edged thanks from the community. First, because the school permits this work by the boys and second because the boys are so willing to go out after a hard day in defense classes and do even more manual labor in the fields. It demonstrated a species of responsibility which is typical of young Virginia.

FIND COUNTY IS YET SCRAP HEAVY

Future War Materials Pouring In From Every Side.

Definite information as to results can not be tabulated for sometime yet as there will be some collecting going on for the next week or so.

The county committee is yet awaiting some report from Nokesville and Dumfries as to the exact course of action being taken in those two localities. Word has come in that in both areas there is definite action on the part of a number of individuals but they have not reported this to the county committee. This, too, will all come in later.

One of the greatest untapped source of supply appears to be in the upper end of the county. Lack of time and volunteer help may hold down things a bit but C. B. Roland, representing the committee in that area, is really getting around and has already been hauling in junk to the Davis yard at Manassas.

The committee also learns that R. S. Hall, at Occoquan, is holding up his end of the drive with good results. People who are insisting that junk be paid for at the farm are within their rights but are holding things back a bit. It was expected that virtually all junk matter would come in gratis if the committee or its representatives managed the hauling.

The committee is very anxious to get the absolute totals as near correct as possible. Despite the fact that a quarter million pounds of rubber went in last June, there were thousands of pounds which left the county without definite credit to this county's quota.

WHO AMONG OUR SUBSCRIBERS CAN HELP THIS GENTLEMAN?

A few days ago, our genial friend, Dr. George B. Cocke brought in the following letter. He has made some inquiries among the old timers and is now putting it up squarely to our subscribers.

The letter follows:
Mr. Cocke:
My Dear Sir:

My father built a Grist Mill in Manassas, Virginia about 1865.

I do not know the owners' name.

However I would like to know if any part of that mill is left standing.

I would like to know if any of the kinsman are living who would know.

Thanking for any information.
I am truly,

Raymond Hanna,
111 B. St. S. E. Washington, D. C.

Bishop-Emeritus Jett, of Southwest Virginia. Other attending presbyters were Rev. Dudley A. Boogher, of Ivy, Virginia and Rev. William Gibson Pendleton, of St. John's, Tappahannock.

The list of priests present was too lengthy to secure but others there well known in Northern Virginia were Robert A. Gibson, rector of the Seminary Parish and preaching fellow at the Seminary, Rev. Thomas Faulkner, of Dettingen Parish (Manassas) and formerly at Rapidan; Rev. Webster Horstman, of Cherrydale, Rev. George Bean, a recent graduate and now located in Albemarle County, also Rev. Thomas Langston, who retired from Pohick recently and who now lives in Orange.

This newspaper was greatly honored in having the only press representative present on this occasion.

Go to Church Movement Gets Local Support

IT CAN HAPPEN HERE

Because bombs have not fallen is no assurance that bombs will not fall. Some of us are inclined at times to weary of our Civilian Defense routine and ask ourselves, "Is all this really necessary?" It is then that we should bear in mind that the enemy does not and where he will strike next.

Mayor John W. Fletcher of Unalaska, in the Aleutian Islands, is qualified to speak on this matter. Listen to him:

"My advice to the civilian population and to the Defense Corps is this—yet on the alert and stay on the alert, 24 hours a day, seven days a week. Perfect—all civilian protection services. Acquaint the civilian population with what is expected of them during raids, build your blood banks, speed up your first-aid training courses, and beware of giving information to strangers which may be of vital military nature. Those of us who have been evacuated from Dutch Harbor know it did happen there, and it can happen here. I hope you will never be faced with what we have gone through. The only safe thing to do from now on is to live in constant anticipation that it may happen here."

Civilian Defense is no fad, no pastime, no course of exercises to be indulged in or disregarded as the mood moves us. Civilian Defense is serious business—the most serious business in the world today because it is an essential part of the war effort.

The Civilian Defense program set up in the United States is the fruit of the bitter experience of Great Britain. Over there they had to learn civilian defense the hard way—by suffering terrific, desolating bombardment day and night, week on end. Here in the United States we benefit at the start by the lessons England learned in that horrible period of unending torment. These lessons are being strengthened by constant study of and experiment of methods by trained specialists in both countries.

Of course the routine becomes monotonous, the spirit lags, the doubt arises—Is it really worth while? But one bomb would resolve that doubt. And that bomb—a thousand bombs—may drop tomorrow, or tonight. It can (Continued on page 4)

GAS COUPON NO. 2 IS NOW USABLE

"A" Book Owners Must Use Up A Page Before Using B And C Coupons

According to press dispatches quoting the State Office of Drive Administration, the second sheet of the gasoline A Books is now usable. The number 1 units expired at midnight Tuesday, and are thereafter worthless. As most folks have used up all their A coupons, few are thought to have lost any gas through failure to use up their A tickets before midnight, Sept. 21.

Motorists are warned that detached coupons will not be honored by dealers and that if only a part of a unit can be gotten into the tank, a whole unit must be taken from the book and the dealer cannot "owe" part of a unit to be secured later. The transaction, authorities say, must be completed at one time.

The second page of the A book are now good or a two month period, which would end November 21.

P. T. A. RECEPTION

A large group of patrons and friends assembled in Osbourn High School Auditorium on Thursday evening of last week to welcome the teachers of both Bennett and Osbourn schools.

During the brief business session, presided over by the president, Mrs. A. O. Beane, Mrs. Vincent Davis was chosen to represent the local unit at the state convention to be held in Danville, Virginia, October first and second.

Following group singing of "God Bless America," and invocation by Rev. W. C. Luttrell, Town Manager Hunton Tiffany greeted those teachers returning to our schools, and extended a cordial welcome to the ten new members of the faculty, all of whom were introduced by Principal R. Worth Peters.

Miss Eugenia Osbourn, retiring from active service in the schools after many years, was given a warm hand by the entire assemblage. The humorous readings by the Rev. James J. Widmer, songs by little Mary Lou Trimmer, and the two vocal selections by Mr. Charles Armistead Sinclair, accompanied by Mrs. Dennis Baker, rounded out a most pleasing and entertaining program.

The audience joined in singing "Keep the Home Fires Burning," and then gathered around the punch bowl for a pleasant social hour.

P. T. A. PLANS RUMMAGE SALE

The Parent-Teacher Association of the Manassas Schools is planning to hold a rummage sale in the near future.

STATE WIDE BLACKOUT SOON

Surprise Test Will Come Some Night Between October 5 & 12

A State-wide total blackout will be held some night between October 5th and October 12th, it is announced by the State Office of Civilian Defense, and all Local Defense Councils have been so notified.

This test blackout will simulate an air raid and will last for a period not exceeding 90 minutes. No strategic blackout will be in effect at this time.

In each locality, at the same precise moment, public alarm will be sounded, by sirens or such other local alarm system as has been provided, to give notice that a simulated air raid is in effect and that the test is at hand. All lights visible from the outside must then be extinguished and air raid traffic regulations enforced during the duration of the test and until the all-clear signal is sounded. The use of telephones during this period is to be limited to emergency calls.

There will be no notice of the date or hour of the test blackout, beyond the information that it will occur some time during the week of October 5th to 12th. The purpose of the test blackout is to familiarize the public with the procedure to be in effect in case of an actual air raid. It is essential to public safety, and in the interest of all citizens, that there should be full public co-operation with blackout regulations in this test, which has the sanction and approval of the Army. Any person who wilfully fails to comply with the regulations will subject himself to prosecution.

Citizens should bear in mind that the blackout will occur, without further notice, some night during the week from October 5th to October 12th.

Robert B. Walker, Director-Cordinator of Civilian Defense for Fairfax County, announced today that the County would not take part in the State-wide test blackout to be held in Virginia sometime between the 5th of October and the 12th of October. Mr. Walker explained that since the County is co-ordinated with the city of Washington, the Virginia test would not apply to Fairfax unless instructions were received from civilian defense headquarters in Washington.

RADIO PERFORMER SINGS FOR KIWANIS

The Kiwanis Club really had two very excellent programs last Friday evening.

First came an army man, Corporal Michael Jampohl who was introduced by Kiwanian Ratcliffe. Corporal was there on the invitation of Sponsor Kitty Baker. He gave a series of very pleasing vocal solos, with Mrs. Baker as accompanist on the piano.

The regular program was then turned over to Kiwanian, Father Jim. He read a wonderful article on "Your Country and Mine." His rendition made the program even better.

MRS. WATERS WILL ENTERTAIN HOME DEMONSTRATION CLUB

The Manassas Home Demonstration Club will meet at the home of Mrs. O. D. Waters, on Thursday, October 1st, at 9:30 A. M. for a Sewing Bee. Both new and remodeled garments will be made.

Kiwanis Club Sponsoring Attendance On Special Sunday.

As previously stated in the Journal, the Manassas Kiwanis Club, acting on the suggestion of Mr. F. R. Hynson is sponsoring a special "Go-to-Church" movement this coming Sunday, September 27th.

A committee appointed by President Trusler of the Club, and consisting of Messrs. Hynson, Haydon and Ledman, has been busily engaged in getting support for the idea. No one church is thus advertised. Just so one goes to church sometime during the day to some regular church service.

In connection therewith Kiwanian Hynson read an article at a meeting of the Kiwanis Club on September 4th which was so generously applauded that the Journal has asked the privilege of reproducing it, and the same is printed in the church page.

Incidentally a number of business men and individuals, not all of them Kiwanians but all good church men, have aided the Journal in producing a display to draw additional attention to this plan to encourage church attendance. Posters of this advertisement will also be made and hung in the store windows.

Address to the Manassas Kiwanis Club delivered by Fred R. Hynson, September 4, 1942.

I shall talk to you tonight on going to Church and I would like to have this Club set aside Sunday, September 27 and sponsor a "go to Church" movement. I do not mean that just the members of this club go to church on September 27, but I want this club to get behind a movement to request everybody to go to church on that day, and possibly after you start you will be regular in your attendance.

The church will mean more to you and you will mean more to the church if you are regular in attendance. The worship service is the focus of church life and fellowship. Theodore Roosevelt once said, "That if we did not go to church it was certain that we did not pray elsewhere during that hour." You must not overlook the words of the Lord when he said, "Where two or three are gathered together in my name, I will be in the midst of them and bless them."

Life may be clear for short stretches. Then we encounter fogs, blizzards and jungles. Did you ever get turned around in your sense of directions? Some false notion at the start enters the mind and forces you to keep thinking that East is North. You are prepossessed by a misleading idea. You have got to fight that prepossession; you have got to drive it out of your mind or you will always take the wrong turning.

The world today is divided and broken. Nation stands against Nation, and race against race. There is only one institution in the world today that is holding men together; the Christian Church with its missions in all the world. This is one reason why Hitler wants to block the Christian Church. He knows it is international and dead set against his own nationalistic faith. Some of the common excuses we hear are, "I work hard all week and I have to rest on Sunday." Sunday is a day not only for physical relaxation but also for spiritual renewal. In addition to a rest, a person needs to feel restored.

Others will say, "I can't get up in time for church." I find that most of us have time to do the things we really want to do. You can stay in bed an hour or two longer and still get up in time for church. You could attend church if you really desired. It is just as easy to form the habit of going to church as it is to stay away. We are creatures of habit. When we get out of the habit of attending church it requires a real act of the will to start again. When we attend regularly it is a matter of real disturbance to be elsewhere. No habit is satisfactory unless it is the right habit.

What about a good example you might set for the younger people? I don't believe there is a man here that would be ashamed to be found in church. There are other places I am not so sure about. However the men who attend church get some satisfaction in knowing that he has on that Sabbath Day spent an hour in the worship of God and set a precedent for the children of the community. The church needs your help today more than ever, not merely your financial but your attendance. A minister does not like to preach to empty pews. With a full congregation he is encouraged and is inspired to carry on for greater things.

Here is one for the Ministers to ponder. Charles F. Kettering, Vice President of General Motors in charge of research believes Science isn't worth anything unless it is taken out of laboratories and applied to our everyday life. Since science has challenged religion I wonder if sermons won't be worth more if taken out of the Bible and applied to our everyday life.

Hiram Golf went to church, and Hiram Golf was a poor man, his shabby clothes did not keep him away. Later, I will tell you a story about Hiram Golf. A stranger reading the Church's history for the first time could not but marvel. Empires have flowered and faded. Armies have come and gone, but this body founded by Christ remains. Men have persecuted and driven it, like some river, underground, but it has appeared again, stronger and purified. Its hymns and prayers have sounded forth over the graves of the persecutors. If a stranger were to look around and say, "I want to belong to a group that has been tested by time, a group that will endure," we could say, "Behold the Church."

After turning their backs upon it for years, men are realizing that this body is the hope of the world. It stands today like a city that is set on a hill, a city to which men must once again turn their feet. The church is not above reproach, but if it awakens it will be the hope of the world.

I am sure you would not want to live in a community where there was no church. Hiram Golf did not, because he always wanted to go to church, and now I come to my story of him, a great man though humble and poor. Hiram Golf was the village shoemaker. The new minister pays him a call. "I am glad," says he, "to see a man who can use the humblest vocation to the Glory of God as you are doing."

To which Hiram replied, "There ain't no sech thing in the universe, parson there aint no sech thing in the wide world as a humble vocation. You are on the wrong track, even if you are a preacher, and what you say isn't orthodox. Now you are a minister by the grace of God. Aint that so?" "I hope its true Hiram." You dont hope, parson, you know, or else you will have to begin all over again. Well, I am a shoemaker by the grace of God. If I make good shoes, I shall get as much credit for it in the hereafter as you will for being a faithful pastor. All work is noble and honorable, and it will take a good deal of argument to show me that all work isn't equally important. You'll carry up to judgement seat a fair sample of the sermons you have preached. I'll carry up a fair sample of the shoes I have made. Your sermons will settle your future, and my shoes will settle mine. We shall fall or rise according as the sample represents good or bad work.

You don't suppose, do you, that the Lord's going to look at your sermons and say, "John Jessig, take your seat way up here in front," then look at my shoes and say, "Hiram, you are mighty lucky to get in here at all; go and take your seat away down at the end there. Oh, no, parson that's the difference between the Lord and us folks. If your sermon is good and my shoes are good, He'll say, "John and Hiram, you've used your talents about equally well. Go up there and sit in the front bench side by side and join in the general Hallelujah."

John interrupts long enough to say "Then you don't think there will be any discrimination as to the class of work done?"

"Only the discrimination between good work and bad work, not between brain work and hand work. I don't believe there'll be any aristocracy in heaven; not a bit of it. All the wings will be made after the same pattern. Goodness is goodness, parson, whether you find it in a mill owner or in a spindle tender. The spirit of the Lord is just as much with me as I sit here peggin' away on Widow Brown's number fives that are split at the sides, as it is with you when you are trying to write something that'll convert sinners and cheer the godly on next Sunday morning."

Hiram continued—"Jest look at that parson," and he takes from the pile on the floor the battered shoe of a little child; "that belongs to William Runkle's youngster, a little fellow of six and not overhardy. That boy's body ought to be kept healthy, oughtn't it? Well I am going to do my part. If he could catch a cold some muddy day and get pneumonia, his father, who only earns $12 a week, would have a heavy doctor's bill to pay, and even then he might lose the child. That would almost break his heart, I do believe. Now then, I propose to mend those shoes as though my salvation depended on it. I can't afford as a child of God with a hope of heaven, to put poor work into that job. Too much depends on it. I wouldn't like to meet that boy up yonder and have him tell me that he died because I wasn't a faithful shoemaker. I couldn't stand that now. Do you think a vocation is a humble one when it deals with the health and lives of our fellow creatures? I reckon not."

This is the right attitude toward work, and the spirit exemplified in the proper earnestness for judging character and good citizenship. It is not what a man has but what he is: not what he does, but he how does it, that counts.

It can do no harm to ponder on these things.

In your childhood you are started to Sunday School by your parents and there you receive part of your religious education, thus becoming a part of the foundation upon which the Christian Church stands today. Without a well grounded hope in the faith of the coming generation, dark and gloomy would be the prospect for the future of the church, and it affords wise and serious reflection for a thinking person. Therefore, my friends, it will be your duty to carry on in the future as those who have gone, have done in the past.

The Church offers you many things for your spiritual up building and it is your duty to learn them and, it is solace and comfort in prayer. It is a glorious thing to ask God to forgive you for your sins, and feel that he has done it. It is your duty as a Christian to partake of Communion. Communion symbolizes our Lord's Last Supper before he was crucified. After he had given thanks, Jesus requested his disciples to partake of his supper of bread and wine, and to do it as oft as ye shall drink it in remembrance of him. He also requested them to go forth into the world, and preach the gospel. The disciples recognized their duty and for nearly 2000 years Christian People have been doing their duty to God. In order to make your duty more complete, while I have touched on it in part, it is likewise your duty to contribute to the support of the church. There is no demand made upon you for financial support, but there is a request that you help all you can. The only means of support a church has is from the contributions of its friends and members. Lastly, let us reconsecrate ourselves once more to the duties and obligations inherent in our membership in the church. Too many of us undertake these days to side-step our duties, whether they be financial or otherwise. Too many of us have tried to declare a moratorium on the discharge of our duties to God, our neighbors, and ourselves. But we must not forget the solemn truth of the statement, that there shall be no discharge in this war—a war against the devil, against vice, and superstition. Yes, even against all wickedness. For our church has always stood for Christian righteousness, and the recognition of every legitimate obligation to support and maintain our institutions, the church and the home.

May I quote Carlyle, that rugged Scotchman, who exclaimed, "Do the duty that lies nearest you. Your second duty will already have become nearer." And as Lord Nelson sign, his officers and men just before the battle was joined at Trafalgar, "England expects every man to do his duty."

So the church expects every member to perform his or her duty as far as may be on every occasion. A good member of the church does not shirk, is no side-stepper, belongs not to a host of quitters with which our world is infested today. The story of the immortal Robert E. Lee's admonition to one of his sons is pertinent here: "My son, duty is the sublimest word in our language. Do your duty at all times. You cannot do more. You should not wish to do less." Hence what we owe to God and our neighbors, we ought, and what we ought is our duty and obligation. It is to the fulfillment of these that you should dedicate yourselves.

Finally, could your duty be any less than in Jesus' words to the Pharisees: "Render unto Caesar the things that be Caesar's and unto God the things that are God's."

OCCOQUAN

TO ALL YOU GOOD CITIZENS IN OCCOQUAN, WOODBRIDGE AND VICINITY:— If you have any scrap metal of any kind place it where it may be picked up in a truck, and let Mr. Robert S. Hall in Occoquan know where it is and he will pick it up and will see that it gets where it will do some good. Several houses in any community should pile their scrap iron in one pile, so it will be worth while to go and get it. It would not be feasible to go a long distance to get a few pounds.

You should see the pile of SCRAP now in rear of Mr. Hall's home in Occoquan. It would do you good to see it, there are several tons there now. With your help there will be many TONS. The more there is the better. It is needed by OUR Government to KILL our enemies, the Japs and Nazis.

Old rusted automobiles, farm implements, old engines, motors, shovels, bars, spades, and anything of IRON, BRASS, COPPER, etc., you give will be helping our boys who are giving their lives for us. Mr. Hall is not getting any financial remuneration for collecting this scrap; but he is getting the inward satisfaction that he is helping our Government win the war. You likewise will be helping when you give old metal, copper, brass, etc. You should be able to sleep better, knowing you have done something to help our BOYS who are fighting our enemies.

Also; those who use a pint of gasoline foolishly are as bad as the FIFTH Columnists. They are driving nails in the coffins of our Young Men who are in our Armed Services. Joy Riding and wasting gasoline is a real Fifth Column doing, so do not JOY RIDE. The gasoline we waste in Joy Riding is needed by our Armed Forces to Ride over JAPS AND NAZIS.

CATHARPIN

The Hickory Grove Home Demonstration Club held a very interesting meeting Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Jack Hunt with 12 members and one visitor present.

The chief discussion was centered around the storage of Victory Garden Products, and much valuable information was gained thereby. Plans were discussed for future meetings.

At the close of business session, a miscellaneous shower was given to our bride, Mrs. Benjamin Johnson (nee Miss Alie Webb, our popular Home Demonstration Agent). The useful and beautiful gifts were accompanied by many good wishes for a bright and happy future. Delicious refreshments were served.

We regret exceedingly to report the death of Mr. Adoniram Powell which occurred at the "Henry House" on Manassas Battlefield, Saturday afternoon, September 19, 1942, at one o'clock. Mr. Powell was stricken with paralysis on the preceding Monday and never regained consciousness. He was formerly a member of Antioch Baptist Church, but transferred his membership to Sudley Methodist Church, July 16, 1939, under the pastorate of Rev. John Schwartz. In his younger days, Mr. Powell was a stone mason of great ability. For the past several years he has been caretaker of the Henry House. His wife died several years ago, and his remains were interred by her side at Greenwich after funeral services held Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Rose Smith and Mrs. Senie Robinson, of Rockville, Md. and Mrs. Lucy Battle of Florida recently visited their aunt, Mrs. Jennie McIntosh. These ladies will be remembered as the former Misses Forsythe of Woolsey.

Mr. Willoughby Pugh of Glendale, Md. spent several days the past week visiting friends and relatives in this section. Mr. Pugh is a native of our community, being the eldest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Pugh who moved from here to Glendale, Md., 32 years ago, and whose poems were often enjoyed by the readers of the Manassas Journal.

Mr. Nicholas Moore of Georgia was the guest of his niece, Mrs. W. Holmes Robertson at "Lawn Vale," this week.

Corporal Charles E. Hall, who has been in the Coast Guard of the U. S. Army for nearly a year, is now enjoying his first furlough. He has been stationed at Seattle, Washington for the past eight months, and arrived here Sunday to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Senseney.

Pvt. James E. Senseney, who entered the Air Corps about a month ago, is now stationed at Olmstead Field, Middletown, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Senseney entertained a number of their rela-

Among their guests were Mrs. John Reid of Greenwich, and Mr. and Mrs. Willie Hoffman and their son, of Washington, who is to leave this week for the service.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett J. Boothby of Bethesda, Md. spent the week-end at their home at "Oakwood." Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Pattie and daughter, Cynthia, were their guests at a delightful family supper served picnic style on the lawn Saturday evening, in honor of Mr. Boothby's birthday.

Misses Muriel Ellison and Harriett Pattie and Mrs. Edward Smith visited their parents here for the week-end. Mrs. Smith, who has accepted a position with the War Department, was accompanied back to Arlington by her little daughter, Janet.

Mr. Harvey A. Fetzner of Fort Belvoir spent the week-end with relatives in this community.

Mrs. W. Holmes Robertson, Mrs. L. L. Lynn, Mrs. L. J. Pattie and Mrs. Alfred N. Stamm were Washington visitors Friday and also called upon Mrs. Charles R. McDonald in Arlington.

Mr. Grover Ellison, of Sudley neighborhood is quite ill from an infection of the foot. We are glad to know that he seems somewhat improved at this writing.

happen here. We are no more immune than Pearl Harbor, Dutch Harbor, or the hundreds of other places where the Axis has truck without warning.

The soldier in his training camp wears too of the endless repetition of duties that are essential to his training for the defense of his country. But he knows that the routine is necessary—that soldiers are not made in a day, that every hour of his training is vital to the final victory. We of the Home Front have our duty no less compelling than that of our sons, husbands, fathers and brothers in the camps, on the ships, in the air, and on the firing lines. Not shirk.

We must imbibe the spirit of the good soldier and accept the arduous duties of our Home Front responsibilities with something of his unselfish courage. Not to do so would be to betray him and to be recreant to our country.

SUNDAY SCRAP DRIVES IN WASHINGTON

In time of war when the nation is engaged in a life and death struggle, one naturally feels a justifiable restraint in offering criticism of any war effort, but at the same time it does seem that where possible there should be, especially in civilian activities, a decent respect at all times for the day which we set aside as sacred.

We are not sure that the Sunday Salvage Drive in Washington is the best way to collect this necessary material. The nation's capital is not notably a religious community, and its trend away from the Godliness that should be characteristic of the seat of government of a Christian nation is noted with deep regret by the Christian people of all denominations.

We know, and of course regret, that war is no respecter of religion in its demands, but a civilian salvage drive is not a direct war effort and we believe that if those who have this important salvage project in hand, would go to their respective places

THERE are some men and women who don't have bank accounts and never use bank lending services or other facilities. But banks are almost as important to them as to bank customers. Why? Because banks enter into their lives every minute of the day—in financing the food they eat, the clothes they wear, their homes, their jobs. The simple fact is that banks perform a vital service for the country and are thus indispensable to everyone in it.

LETTER TO PASTOR IN THE ARMED FORCES

Manassas Baptist Church
Manassas, Virginia
September 17, 1942

Reverend R. M. Graham:

Whereas some years ago Mr. Graham heard and accepted the call of God to enter the ministry, now he has heard and accepted the Call of God and entered the Chaplaincy of the U. S. Army, and has tendered his resignation to the aforesaid Church, and on Wednesday night the 10th of September, 1942, was accepted with all the regrets it is possible to put in that word.

Mr. Graham, we want you to know that in your going the Baptist Church has lost an able pastor, a friendly preacher, one that was always on the alert and putting forth every effort for the best interest of the Church and ever-ready to spend and be spent for the cause.

We want you to know that we will miss your smiling countenance, your courteous manner, and your faithful service while here. May the influences you have left here ever be bright and reflecting in your own bosom the glistering spirit that is shining forth here. May God in his ever wise dealing with the children of men be merciful to you and yours and continue to use you and make you a shining light before the great number of men you are serving.

We rejoice that your good wife and splendid children are remaining with us, and are blessing the Church and community with their presence. The prayers and love of a host of friends are with you all.

MRS. DAVIS ENTERTAINS THE WOMAN'S CLUB OF MANASSAS

The Fine Arts Section of the Woman's Club of Manassas was delightfully entertained, at the home of Mrs. Vincent Davis on Tuesday of this week.

The guest speaker, for the evening was Mrs. John Cox of Brentsville, a recent resident of Paris, Mrs. Cox gave a splendid talk on the History of Arts and the development of paintings from the early days of Greece, through the many periods, each era having its district type and style. She spoke briefly of many famous artists, noting the outstanding characteristics and methods used by each to portray on canvas that which he saw and felt.

Many of these fine works of art, are now on display in Washington Galleries, and all were urged to take advantage of this unusual privilege to visit them there.

A brief resume of the program for the coming year, was given by Mrs. Davis, programs of interest, an Art Literature, Music and Drama have been arranged for with outstanding guest speakers and artists of note and unusual ability appearing from time to time. The October meeting will feature local Artists, and an exhibit of work done for locally will be an added interest. Miss Sue Ayers will be in charge of this program.

The music chairman and Mrs. Burckhard reported, a successful drive for sheet music song books, etc, had been carried out, and a large contribution sent to nearby military camps for use of the enlisted men.

This Section of one of the many activities of the Woman's Club is doing a splendid work in promoting a keener appreciation of the Arts, and welcomes to its meeting all who are interested or talented. Mrs. Davis was assisted during the social hour by Mrs. Margaret Lewis and Mrs. William Lloyd.

LOVING REMEMBRANCE

In sad but loving remembrance of Barbara Joan Waite who departed this life September 25, 1941.

Today recalls the memory, Of a loved one laid to rest. And the ones who think of her today, Are the ones that loved her best.

Often times my thoughts go wandering To the grave not far away, Where lies little Barbara. Our love for her will never fade.
