TOWN AND FARM IN WAR TIME

The Home Stretch

The Rural Press Farm Scrap Campaign is now in its last few days, and although the rural press in Virginia has more than done its part, the farmers of the State have not. Reports on the amount of scrap being turned in are very discouraging, according to headquarters, which urges that if a particular drive has not been started in your county it should be started now. The State's quota of 87,500 tons, every ounce of it vitally needed for war production. The campaign committee wants to remind farmers of two facts: no machine is worth saving in its entirety for parts, and unless a machine is worth repairing, painting and using NOW, it should be sent to the war as scrap.

Overseas Parcel Post

Packages may now be mailed to a Virginia soldier overseas if a request is received from the soldier and the envelope bearing the APO cancellation mark is presented at the time of mailing. Formerly, the approval of the commanding officer was required. Current restrictions as to weight and size of packages remain in effect.

Farm Machinery Rationed

At their discretion, State War Boards can now cancel county quotas on any or all types of farm machinery according to revised farm machinery rationing order issued by the War Food Administration. If a State Board exercises this authority, farmers will be required to locate the machinery they want to buy before they are given a purchase certificate. Furthermore, county farm rationing committees may set the expiration date of purchase certificates any time between 10 and 60 days after issuance, or may cancel the certificate after the holder has had a reasonable time to buy the specified machinery.

Must Carry Draft Cards

Virginia boys who were 18 years old on or before November 13, 1942, must have their local board classification cards (Selective Service Form 57), as well as their registration certificate (Form 2), in their personal possession after May 13. Men without both cards are liable to fine and imprisonment, Colonel Mills F. Neal, State Director of Selective Service, has warned.

Twine and Rope For 1943 Harvest

Virginia farmers can expect reasonable supplies of hay rope, binder twine, and other cordage for harvesting their 1943 crops, the War Food Administration has announced. However, farmers are warned to buy only what they actually need and to conserve supplies now on hand. Many substitute materials are being used and supplies will require more careful handling than in the past.

Gas For Furloughs

Members of the armed forces on leave or furlough for three days or more in the State may get a special gasoline ration (up to five gallons) for personal errands when other means of transportation are not available. The ration is obtained by presenting pass, leave, or furlough papers to a rationing board.

Oil—Coal—Or Wood

A Virginia householder no longer has to prove that his oil-burning furnace cannot be converted to coal or wood to get supplementary fuel oil rations. Formerly, extra rations were denied unless this proof was presented, although basic rations have been provided regardless of convertibility. There will be no change in basic rations procedure. It is still necessary that other than household users convert to coal or wood whenever possible.

Save Feed Proteins

Livestock and poultry raisers in the State are urged to conserve livestock feeds, especially those of high protein content, by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Feed manufacturers are voluntarily limiting the proportions of proteins in various types of feeds, and farmers or ranchmen who mix their own are asked to do likewise. They are also requested to conserve purchased protein by liberal feeding of grain and nutritious roughage. Poultrymen are advised to make no further expansions in commercial broiler production, to maintain a balance between feed and feed needs.

ARMY AIRCRAFT WARNING CENTER NEEDS VOLUNTEERS

LIVES ARE BEING ENDANGERED BY SLUMP IN LOCAL WAR EFFORT

Manassas Becoming A Danger Point in Army Training Work

CLOSING OF SCHOOLS BRINGS IMMEDIATE NEED FOR MORE VOLUNTEERS

To the People of Manassas and vicinity:

In March, 1943, the United States Army Aircraft Warning Center combined three observation posts outside Manassas into one main post situated on the Town Hall, with the hope that one post would be maintained more efficiently than the three separate posts which were in private homes.

So far this plan has not been satisfactory due to lack of cooperation or lack of patriotism. The post has not been maintained at all times with out interruption as it should be, and there now arises a very critical situation through the loss of twenty-four watchers due to the closing of school.

These children who have been watching live outside of Manassas and will be unable to get to the observation post. Also a number of teachers who have been serving will be absent for the summer months. Unless these hours can be filled, the post will have to be closed and Manassas will fail to carry out a very necessary war duty.

The army also established a post at Dumfries about the same time the local post was established, and to date the Dumfries post has operated 100 per cent efficient, not having any vacancies; whereas, the Manassas post has only been operating about 75 per cent efficient due to lack of personnel. Dumfries has a population of approximately one-tenth of the Manassas population, which indicates that the people of Dumfries as a whole are far more patriotic than the people of Manassas.

This warning service does not pertain exclusively to hostile aircraft but is also for the benefit of our training pilots in their cross country flights; it being a check on the location of their planes and an aid to lost pilots in finding their way.

The periods of duty are not long being for the main part only two hours per week. According to the Army Aircraft Warning Center and no one is exempt except those actually sick in bed. Every person above the age of 12 is eligible, and no person is too old, too busy, too nervous or too ANYTHING to serve.

Following is a list of the people who are serving at the present time: J. E. Bostic, John Broadus, Jr., Betty Van Doren, Virginia Ratcliffe, Ann B. Sinclair, Worth Peters, Fred Dowell, Jr., W. H. Goodall, Jr., John M. Waters, R. E. Bennett, H. T. Davies, Jr., Katherine Wheeler, Marian-Hersch, Margaret Johnson, Kitty Blakemore, J. E. Bradford, Jr., E. W. Christopher, H. N. Hewlings, Ellen S. Mc Henry, Verda Parrish, C. H. Wine, C. H. Wine, Jr., Robert Prost, J. D. Barron, Howard Luck, James Gregory, Stuart Payne, Madaline Mc Coy, Nancy Parrish, R. J. Ratcliffe, Marie Dozier, Rose R. Beard, Betty B. Norman, Mary B. Nelson, Walsler Connor, L. S. Rohr, Theodore Ritter, Wade Whetzel, Fern Swank, Carroll Wright, Mildred Mc Bryde, Val Smith, Shirley Davis, R. E. Newman, Daniel Eut-sler, Roswell Round, B. Beane, Bob-by De Chant, Everett Jones, M. C. Gregory, E. C. Hall, Carrie Lanford, J. Dennis Baker, P. L. Proffitt, "Bo" Williams, Paul Beiber, Jane Rennoe, Sarah Lathan, H. Henry Marple, R. T. Johnson, J. T. Haydon, Shirley Wortman, C. L. Compton, Lee Pattie, John H. Wood, Kay Lightner, W. L. Lloyd, Alma Rennoe, Arthur Sinclair, W. E. Partlow, Everett Whetzel, Edna Earle Kincheloe, Betty Parrish, John M. De Chant, M. J. Hottle, Alvin Chandler, Marion Dickens, Stanley Owens, Harry P. Davis, Len Weston, J. T. Carter, Mary Blakemore, P. J. Arrington, E. S. Johnson, Kitty Tiller, Richard Mc Graw, Ann Dulaney, Wallace Lynn, Alvin Compton, R. R. Fishpaugh, J. E. Rice, W. S. Saunders, Katherine Jenkins, Charlotte Wheeler, Max-line Ball, G. R. Ratcliffe, W. H. Lamb, R. Worth Peters, Rita Robertson, Odell Sinclair, C. A. Sinclair, Ann Utterback, James Rice, Jr., L. M. Hardine, E. H. Dickens, Cleveland Fisher, Thomas Faulkner, W. C. Sudd, Lulu D. Metz, Audrey Garner, Gibson Gay, Father Staunton, Mary M. Davis, Robert Byrd, J. L. Bushong.

Hundreds of people have been asked to serve in this vital war work and have refused for every imaginable excuse. Every family in Manassas should be represented by at least ONE observer, especially those families who have sons, relatives and friends in the service who are sacrificing everything to win the war for the stay-at-homes. Two hours service per week should not be an undue strain on any one person considering the fact that you will be protecting not only your country and your fellowmen, but your family and YOURSELF by giving your time and efforts. Observing aircraft is no hard job—five minutes of memory work on the instructions will be sufficient to carry out your duty, or any observer will instruct you.

The post is as pleasant a place as it has been possible to establish, and is ideally situated.

Do not wait longer to volunteer your services. The many excuses you think of to keep you from volunteering can be overcome by planning.

The pilots who fly overhead each day need your guidance—if they were your sons, your relatives or friends you would eagerly offer assistance. If you knew an enemy plane was approaching with bombs to drop on your town and home, you would want to do something to prevent it. THAT COULD HAPPEN!

WE NEED YOUR HELP!

BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

If parents will have their children memorize the daily Bible selections, it will prove a priceless heritage to them in after years.

Lord, I call upon thee, haste thee unto me; and consider my voice, when I cry unto thee. Ps. 141:1.

DISSOLUTION OF THE COMMINTERN

The Executive Committee of the Communist International has voted to disband. The effect of this unexpected move cannot be evaluated from the situation in one country alone, as in the United States, but must be viewed from a world-wide basis.

So far as we are concerned, one can hardly expect any great benefit. The Communist Party of the United States has been separated from the parent organization since 1940, when it detached itself to circumvent a law which would have required it to register as a foreign agency. Yet it has consistently followed the central Communist plan. Before Hitler invaded Russia it was obstructing our defense effort and after Hitler made his attack upon Soviet Russia it officially backed our war effort. And if and when Russia and Germany again become "friends" it will again sabotage our war effort, if ordered to do so. In the United States the subversive activities of the Communist Party will be immeasurably strengthened by this order, and one of the early reactions will be renewed clamor to discontinue the investigations of the Dies Committee.

It is from a world-wide viewpoint that the astute character of this dissolution of the Commintern becomes apparent. Germany, Italy and Japan are bound together officially by an agreement known as the "Anti-Commintern Pact." Under its terms they are mutually pledged to fight Communism. However with the Communist International officially disbanded, the peoples of the Axis will begin at once to wonder why they are fighting. The Italians certainly would begin to think in these terms.

tern, therefore, may be viewed as a circumstance of deep significance which only the future, and particularly the fortunes of war can reveal. We cannot escape the definite feeling that it carries no promise of good for us; but a very certain promise of trouble for the Axis.

A DANGEROUS EXPERIMENT

According to news dispatches from Richmond the Labor Organizations plan picketing of food stores that they find violating food-price ceilings. We view such procedure with concern, since picketing actually constitutes mob action. The extension of its use outside the scope of labor disputes would certainly tend to create general disregard of the courts and the police as the only safe means of enforcing the law of the land.

As a matter of fact there is no more patriotic group of citizens in this country than those who operate our retail grocery establishments. They labor hard and long and under the most grueling regulation. So far as we are concerned we would trust them much further, very much further, than Labor Unions who employ such methods as picketing, strikes and other forms of violence, in time of war, to secure their own selfish ends.

Should the picketing of food stores by Labor Organizations become conspicuous, we believe retaliatory mob action would follow, and would be just as defensible. Two wrongs do not make a right, and we certainly deplore mob action.

URGES NEED OF RESTRICTED DRIVING

The pressing war needs for limited gasoline supplies in the East demand that all applications for supplemental and special rations be granted on the basis of bare necessity. C. C. Cloe, of the 48-76 Manassas War Price and Rationing Board reported here today following a conference in Manassas yesterday with representatives of the Office of Price Administration.

The importance of examining these applications closely and of adhering strictly to the mileage rationing regulations in issuing all gasoline rations was emphasized at the meeting, which, Mr. C. C. Cloe attended with members of other rationing boards in this area. The meeting was one of a series arranged by the state OPA office of discuss with rationing board members the various provisions of the regulations.

"It was made very clear," said Mr. C. C. Cloe "that every gallon of gasoline we give on man is taken away from someone else. It's up to us to see that the fellow who needs the gasoline most gets it. That's the whole idea of rationing."

The Eastern gasoline situation as depicted at the meeting offers little hope of increased supplies for civilian use this summer, Mr. Cloe said. The gasoline shortage developed in the East, it was pointed out, because tankers which normally brought in 95 per cent of the East's petroleum were withdrawn for military service. In the last year overland facilities—tank cars, barges, pipelines—have been increased until at present it is possible to bring in more than 1,000,000 barrels a day. Completion of more pipelines, and other facilities may raise this rate to an average of more than 1,500,000 barrels a day—approximately our normal rate of consumption—by the end of this year.

"Applicants for special rations must remember that the regulations give us authority to grant extra gasoline allowances in only a few emergencies involving life and health. Some motorists forget that they already hold a basic "A" ration book for family and personal necessity driving.

"Knowing the seriousness of the situation, every motorist in Prince William, I know, will cooperate with their ration board by not asking for one coupon's worth of gasoline the ydon't absolutely need."

Dear Editor: While sitting here thinking about all my good friends back home. I decided to write a letter to you and them. I hope you will pass on my message to them.

Tell them to keep up their good work. Whether it be no the farm, in the factory or in the office. Everything they do is helping to bring closer the day when the world will once more be free from those who seek to overrun it with their evil ways of life. Tell them that we in the service will not let them down. We will not come home until we have won a complete and final victory. But we can not fight without the tools of war. That is where you on the home front come in. We are depending on you. Do not let us down.

Take it from one who knows, it is no easy task to leave the comforts of home and go where ever duty calls. It calls for a complete readjustment of a man's life. To leave our loved ones at will for a short time is one thing but to be called away is another. I have often wondered how our boys can keep going in spite of the odds against them. Here is why. We fight on because we have loved ones at home who we never want to see in slavery. Whether it be wife, sweetheart, or the waiting arms of mothers, it is all the same. The letters we receive from them with all the news from home, means a lot to us. I personally have missed a meal so I could read my mail from home. I am sure more than one service man has done the same. I have more than once seen the disappointed look in a soldiers face when he did not receive the letter he was expecting from mother or sweetheart. (Those who are lucky enough to have one.) So please tell every body to write to their boys in the service. Tell them that our first thought is for them. I am sure every soldier will agree to that.

I wonder what would happen if the soldiers in the front lines would go no strike, and believe me they might have more reason to strike than lots of others. But they don't strike because they are fighting for their lives and the America they believe in. I often think of Patrick Henry's words, "Give me Liberty or Give me Death." They might well be the battle cry of every true American or anyone else who seeks to be free from the hands of slave drivers. And by the grace of God we will be free if it takes the lives of every last soldier, sailor and Marine. I am sure I speak for each and every one of them. We will not let our home folks down and I hope they do not let us down.

In conclusion I wish to say "hello" to every body. No one wants to see this war end any sooner than I do. This war has struck close to my family. I received word that one of my cousins was shot down in action in North Africa. He was a pilot in the Air Corps.

I hope you will convey to the good people of Manassas my message. Yours for Victory, P.F.C. MELVIN LOY JOYCE

Just For Fun—Picnic at Home

Lack of time, tires and gas may mean that picnics in the woods, at the seashore or in the mountains are out of the question during the week-ends to come. But there's nothing that says we can't picnic at home. A backyard or nearby park, or even the roof of an apartment house offers opportunities to get out of doors. It's surprising how delicious commonplace meals taste when eaten out in the open, even if it is only a few steps from the kitchen.

THE GOOD NEIGHBOR POLICY—Picnicking is a grand way for the entire neighborhood to get together and have fun. And if there are children of the romping age, the out-of-doors has added advantages.

Everyone can bring one part of the menu and everything can be pooled for a complete meal. Each family can contribute its share of meat, vegetables and the like to be made into sandwiches, salads, and other offerings. Or the neighbor who has chickens, rabbits or eggs might want to make his contribution accordingly as well as the neighbor who has the prize Victory garden. In any neighborhood, there are always some people who are long on some foods and short on others who would welcome this chance to share.

THE PICK-UP AFFAIR—Remember how you used to decide at the last minute to go to the woods for a spontaneous picnic? Pack the same kind of a last-minute lunch or supper and take to the backyard. Plan and pack the eats just as though you were going miles away from home. That eliminates running in and out of doors for something every other minute.
