LOCAL BOARD ISSUES STATEMENT ON ESSENTIAL USE OF GAS

STRICT RULES GOVERNING AUTO USES IN GAS CRISIS ISSUED BY DISTRICT OPA

Auto Uses Are Divided in Three Classes

The Richmond District Office of Price Administration has listed detailed regulations governing driving under the new ban on the non-essential use of motor vehicles.

Here are the rulings as announced by the OPA:

(1) DRIVING PERMITTED WITHOUT REGARD TO PUBLIC TRANSPORTATION.

Business—to carry on an occupation, profession or business. The test here is whether the individual receives remuneration or compensation for the work performed.

Automobile repairs or service—permitted to drive car to nearest station or one customarily used in the past.

Dead storage of motor vehicle—permitted to nearest available place of storage or to a place where free storage is available if the distance is not unreasonable. Driving up to 30 miles to a free storage place is considered reasonable and in excess of this mileage where unusual hardship would be involved in keeping the car at its present location. Under ordinary circumstances, the mere fact that storage must be paid for at the present location, or other expenses incurred, is not sufficient to show unusual hardship.

Doctors—doctors on call from regular patients or hospitals may have car available for emergencies at all times. Doctors not on call subject to rules applicable to nonessential driving.

Volunteer organization work—OCD, Red Cross, USO, scoutmasters and other volunteer workers trained to meet emergencies may drive in the performance of their regular assigned duties in meeting emergencies. These workers may not use their cars for purposes not permitted under the regulation merely to have them available should an emergency arise.

Farms—driving to farm is permitted for the purpose of regular work in connection with commercial farm operations. Farms producing food mainly for the farmer's own use are not commercial farms.

Furlough—driving by a member of the armed forces permitted if on official furlough or leave, but only for social visits to relatives or friends. The family may also drive him between railroad station and home. This permission does not include driving to amusement places, sporting events, etc., or even to making social calls at other places than where the person called on lives.

NOTE. A member of the armed forces receiving a special ration (from 1 to 5 gallons) of gasoline under Amendment No. 46 may use this ration for transacting essential business only in the absence of other adequate transportation.

Moving—permitted to drive car from former residence to new permanent residence. This does not include driving to summer home.

Sale of Car—Driving to a specific dealer or dealers to sell car is permitted but not for general or indiscriminate "shopping around" in the used-car market.

Stop-off—permitted for any purpose only if no deviation involved from nearest direct route of trip which is otherwise permissible.

(2) DRIVING PERMITTED ONLY IF PUBLIC TRANSPORTATION IN THE CIRCUMSTANCES IS INADEQUATE.

(Note: "Adequate public transportation" means a public conveyance which is reasonably adequate for the required purpose, even though it may be inconvenient, uncomfortable, time-consuming or more costly. Minor private inconveniences cannot be recognized in this time of emergency and are not sufficient to make public transportation inadequate. The burden of establishing the inadequacy of public or other transportation is upon the person using the car.)

Apartment hunting—permitted if a definite place is in mind and if a change of residence is essential.

Shopping to buy or rent a summer home is not permitted.

Church—driving to church for the purpose of attending religious services or instructions, including baptisms, weddings, funerals and confirmations.

Construction and repair work—for construction and repair work, the need for which is essential and immediate.

Court Travel—for jury duty or as litigant or witness.

Emergencies—to meet emergencies involving immediate threat to life, health or property.

Home remodeling—driving to and from home (excluding summer home) for the purpose of essential remodeling and to inspect such work being done.

Medical care—to doctor, dentist or other licensed practitioner for necessary medical or therapeutic treatment.

Meetings—(a) Trustees, officers, directors and executives who are under obligation to attend a meeting for transacting necessary business or preserving its property may drive.

(b) Occupational meetings—permitted for the purpose of attending meetings of groups or organizations directly concerned with the occupation or profession of persons using the vehicle, if such attendance is essential to or part of his occupation or profession.

(c) Driving by paid or volunteer workers for the purpose of meeting an emergency involving a threat to life, health or property or for giving or receiving instruction or training in meeting or preparing to meet such an emergency.

Moving property—permitted only if the need for such moving is immediate and essential, and then only if it is not possible to have the property shipped by public carrier or by use of adequate public transportation.

Necessities to members of family—to bring necessities to family members only if it is not possible for them to procure such necessities in any other way.

Restaurants—driving permitted to a restaurant for the purpose of eating meals if home or other nearer facilities are not available.

School—for taking students to school, where a regular course of study is being followed. Parents who have regularly driven children to school, due to absence of other transportation, may drive them to graduation and commencement exercises, but not otherwise.

Shopping—permitted for shopping, the need for which is essential and immediate, but only if nearby shopping is not possible.

Sickness and maternity care—to transport sick persons and maternity cases to and from hospitals or other places for necessary care.

Travelers—driving travelers and baggage to and from railroad stations, airports, bus depots is permitted if purpose of entire trip is one permitted under the regulations.

Veterinarian—driving animals to veterinarian for necessary treatment.

Victory Gardens—driving to and from a bona fide victory garden is permitted only if the labor of the person being transported is necessary for regularly cultivating it and the garden is operated to produce a substantial quantity of food for the driver's family.

War funds or other fund-raising campaigns—driving permitted by persons regularly performing duties in connection with the solicitation of funds under an organized Red Cross War Fund or similar campaigns of other organizations.

Weddings—in those circumstances where public transportation is inadequate, driving by the participants to the wedding ceremony, whether at church or elsewhere, is permitted. This ruling does not permit driving by anyone to rehearsals or receptions except in an occupational capacity, as, for example, by a professional caterer.

Welfare services—driving by members of welfare organizations permitted to deliver food or medicine to shut-ins if regularly performed.

HOWARD SMITH UNEARTHES ANOTHER COMMUNIST PLOT

The Smith Committee a few days ago journeyed to West Virginia and seized official papers which a high O.P.A. official took to his home on leaving government service.

What they found was certainly not the kind of documents for a cautious and wise federal official to leave in his files. It seems that the papers indicate conclusively that the Office of Price Administration, at least under Leon Henderson, was not confining itself to the assigned project of preventing inflation by such devices as rationing, regulation of price ceilings, etc., but was actually out to destroy private enterprise itself. Evidently the papers are very damaging to public confidence in the national set-up of O.P.A.

However, it should not greatly shock the public to find any agency of the federal government engaged in "destroying private enterprise and competitive business. Under the New Deal they have all been at it for a long time. Practically every new agency that Congress sets up sooner or later exceeds the scope of activity plainly intended by the legislative branch of government. And they all follow the same weird pattern outlined by the communist Party for the destruction of Democracy.

The present coal strike situation—the natural outgrowth of fumbling and appeasement, mixed with fourth-term considerations, may be regarded as but the beginning of many ugly situations that will arise. Thanks to men like Howard Smith, the American people are beginning to realize that the war emergency is being used in Washington to further "socialistic" objectives, and being used at terrific ultimate cost of life and money.

Only through Congress, and by the stability of State Government, can this nation escape revolution; for everywhere do we see the "New Deal" following the Communist working plan; and we are definitely told in those plans just where peaceful methods end and when blood shall begin to flow on the home front.

The Detroit race riots this week are premature, but they constitute a solemn evidence of what may lie ahead. Russia supplies the blue-print. Without question the Soviet Union is a unique, successful and powerful society which has shown marvellous strength in national defense. However, we read in Wilkie's recent "One World" a fact well known but rarely mentioned on this side of the Atlantic that:

"Except for those who escaped to other lands, and they were relatively few, practically the whole upper and middle classes of Russia have been completely exterminated. And Russians to day find the story a heroic achievement."

BOND SALE AT LIVESTOCK MARKET VERY SUCCESSFUL

The Bond Sale promoted by the American Legion and its Ladies Auxiliary at the Manassas Livestock Market, under chairmanship of Mr. Carl Kinchele, was a great success. Certainly no livestock in the history of the county ever brought such prices. In terms of bond sales County Chairman Ratcliffe reports to us that:

One hog brought $3,000.00
Another hog, resold several times brought $5,425.00
One calf brought $2,000.00
Another hog brought $2,000.00
One pig brought $700.00
The suit of clothes: $1,350.00
The total bond sale at the Livestock Market was: $14,500.00
The County Bond drive for June is under the Chairmanship of Mr. M. S. Burchard.

CHARLES HENRY SMITH ANNOUNCES FOR SENATE

Charles Henry Smith has opened his campaign actively in the County for nomination to the State Senate for the 29th Senatorial District of Virginia at the Democratic Primary to be held on August 3, 1943. This District is a new one and consists of Prince William and Fairfax Counties and the City of Alexandria.

Mr. Smith has practiced law in the courts of this County for many years and is well known throughout the District.

He formerly was a member of the House of Delegates of Virginia, first being elected from Arlington County and the City of Alexandria. During his first term he was instrumental in securing an additional delegate for the County of Arlington. After that he continued to represent the City of Alexandria up to and through the extra session of 1927. During the regular session of 1926 and the extra session of 1927, he was Floor Leader of the House and as such played an important part in carrying through the simplification program of the state government which has proven so efficient.

Mr. Smith, when seen by a representative of this paper, had this to say:

"In announcing my candidacy for the State Senate for the 29th Senatorial District of Virginia, I do so realizing that the people cannot be expected to show normal interest in a local political contest at this time. We are too engrossed in winning the war and making our contribution to the war effort. However, there are those of us who cannot be utilized directly in the war effort and it is upon our shoulders that the burden of local government must fall.

"The next four years may bring many problems to this State which will challenge the best thought and judgment of our people. I hope to be elected to the Senate of Virginia. If I am, I pledge my best efforts and judgment to the wise solution of these problems. I shall support all measures that are fairly designed to help the war effort and to shorten the time when my sons and the sons of all the people can return to their homes. I shall do all that I can to help prepare ourselves for the problems which must follow the war.

"For many years this section of Virginia has been neglected by our state government both in appropriations which have been made for local improvements and as far as recognition of its citizens generally is concerned. If I am elected to the Senate, I hope to be of some assistance in helping this end of the state to take its rightful place in the councils of our state government.

"Public service is not new to me and I hope that the people of this Senatorial District will place me in a position where I may be of further service to my people."

CHILDREN'S DAY AT SUDLEY

Children's Day will be observed at Sudley Church at 11 A. M. on Sunday, June 27. Following the Third Quarterly Meeting will be held. Dr. A. P. Williams, District Superintendent, will be present.

FINE ARTS SECTION MEETING

The fine Arts Section of the Woman's Club will meet on June 29 at the home of Mrs. Marie Larkin. Please note the change of date.

Barbara Clark is spending the summer with her grandmother, Mrs. Oza Rundy, at Cedar-Bluff, Va.

SPECIAL WORK FOR BOY SCOUTS

BOY SCOUTS TO SERVE AS DISPATCH BEARERS

One thousand Boy Scouts, members of 260 Scout Troops in the District of Columbia and 14 nearby counties of Virginia and Maryland, will this week begin to serve as official Dispatch Bearers for the Office of War Information, the OWI announced today. On Saturday, June 26, the Scouts, afoot or on roller-skates and bicycles, will distribute Government posters to retail stores in their neighborhoods.

At the time of the first delivery on Saturday storekeepers will be asked to cooperate by displaying the posters and changing them every two weeks. Each retailer will be given an OWI window seal. Deliveries will be made by the Scouts on the Saturday nearest the 1st and the 15th of each month.

The poster to be distributed June 26 will stress the strength and unity of the United Nations, with the slogan, "United We are Strong." Posters to be distributed later will cover a variety of themes; conservation of food, clothing, and equipment; security of information; recruiting of manpower and womanpower; salvage; rationing, etc.

Similar distribution plans combining the joint efforts of Boy Scouts, the OWI, and local retail groups are now in operation in 2,600 American cities and towns, with more than 300,000 Scouts qualified as Dispatch Bearers. Local retail associations and chambers of commerce throughout the country are giving their cooperation, recognizing an opportunity for retailers to participate further in the war effort.

Each Scout Dispatch Bearer will carry an official identification card, bearing the seal of the Boy Scouts of America and the OWI, and countersigned by Elmer Davis, Director of War Information, and Elbert K. Fretwell, Chief Scout Executive. The back of the card contains a facsimile of a letter from President Roosevelt carrying a message to the Scouts.

Praising the "fine work" of Boy Scouts in "helping to win the war," the President said in his message, "As Dispatch Bearers your tasks will be to carry to the people of our community vital information prepared by your Government. It is information which our civilians must have as we fight on to final victory. I know that the nation can count on you to perform this service willingly and faithfully."

SURPRISE BLACKOUT

Virginia, the District of Columbia, and many other States experienced a surprise blackout Tuesday night of this week. The red period was of unusual length, and is said to have caused considerable confusion around the State. Prince William probably did as well as any rural County. Many Civilian Defense Workers were at the big rally at Brentsville at the time.

GUEST SPEAKER AT KIWANIS.

Dr. Downey, Pastor of the Salem Virginia Baptist Church was the guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Manassas Kiwanis Club on Friday evening, June 18 at the Manassas Grille. The program was in charge of Prof. Richard C. Haydon. Dr. Downey is conducting a series of revivals at the local Baptist Church.

It was announced by Mr. Worth Peters, President of the Club, that the annual family night program would be held on Friday evening, July 2, at the Prince William Hotel. Mr. O. D. Waters is in charge of arrangements.

DEHYDRATOR DEMONSTRATION IN COUNTY

The Home Economics and the Agriculture Departments of Prince William County have arranged to give a demonstration in the use of the dehydrator at Mrs. Joe Hale's, Nokesville, Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

At Manassas Home Economics Cottage Wednesday at 2 o'clock, and at Dumfries School, Friday at 2 o'clock. The people of these communities are urged to attend in order to conserve all foods possible.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Battle Wagons
 When Japan attacked at Pearl Harbor we had 17 battleships in service and 15 building. We were making preparations but the war did not wait. These 32 battle wagons cost American taxpayers three billion dollars for a two ocean navy. The war seemed far away then.

Now fifty million Americans have a personal stake in this war. It has been brought home to them. That's why everyone is increasing purchases of War Bonds.

To Hasten Victory

No American wants this war to go one minute beyond the time we can bring it to a victorious end. To hasten that victory—to save possibly the lives of millions of our boys on our far flung fronts—it is imperative that every American do his part in the Second War Loan. There is an investment to fit every purse. The most you can do is little enough compared with the sacrifice offered by our boys in service. They give their lives—you lend your money.

OCOQUAN

Frank W. Hornbaker has returned to his new post Cherry Point, N. C., after two weeks furlough with his wife and mother in Occoquan. Frank looks fine, and has very high praises for the training he has in the Marine Corps.

To the Voters of Occoquan: After my public announcement that I would not be a candidate for reelection to the office of Mayor of Occoquan, you have unanimously re-elected me for another, my fourth successive term. You also have re-elected all the members of the Council. In this action on your part, we may expect you will back us in all our legal work in our town during our term of office. The Town Council as elected for another term are: Thomas F. Joyce, Mayor; John A. Musselman, Robert S. Hall, Boyce W. Brunt, Hubert L. Monney, and Silas H. Selecman, councilmen. Mr. John A. Musselman was reappointed Town Clerk; Mr. B. W. Brunt, Town Treasurer and Mr. Claude M. Green, Town Sergeant.

Your Town Council has tried to get some one to haul the trash away once a week, but to no avail. If any voters know of anyone who would haul the town trash away once a week, please let Mr. Musselman know. The Council is willing to pay a fair sum for this work. Some one of our town voters who have a truck could do this work if they were in the proper patriotic mood. They would be helping to keep our town clean, and would be earning honest money in so doing.

Your Council expects you to keep the grass and weeds cut on your town property. You may burn it on the grounds and save hauling. It will burn in a few days after being cut.

Those who use TIN CANS should wash the cans after their contents are taken out. CUT out BOTH ENDS and flatten the can by stepping on it. After you have a few such cans, take them to Mr. Hall's who is saving them for the WAR EFFORT. It would be well to cut both ends from cans and flatten them at all times, so they would take less space, and not hold water for mosquitoes to breed. Ours, the Town of Occoquan is one of the prettiest Towns in Virginia, so let us make every effort to make it PRETTIER.

Silver Belt Buckle

By V. YARDMAN
Associated Newspapers,
WNU Service.

AFTER listening to Cy Vesta's story of the hold-up, Sheriff Jim Kohr got into his ramshackled, topless car and drove out toward Temple Valley. Vesta had said that the bandit was masked, neatly dressed in a light gray suit and wore a silver belt buckle. "He wasn't any one I'd seen before," the banker stated. "He came in at noon when Brig was out to lunch, paused in the entry way, I suppose, to slip on his mask, then stuck a gun under my nose. He trusted me up, helped himself from the cash drawer. I watched him remove the mask when he reached the entry, unbutton his coat and slip his gun into his hip pocket. I must say he was pretty cool and matter-of-fact about it all."

It was the silver belt buckle that set Sheriff Kohr thinking. There was only one man living anywhere around Shapleigh who would wear a silver belt buckle. That was young Clark Eldridge, Jake Eldridge's son. Jake owned the Triangle E, and Clark had graduated from the state university that spring and had come home to live with a lot of high ideas in his head.

Clark was sitting on the veranda reading a book when the sheriff drove up.

"Your pa home, sonny?"

"No one's home, but me. Why?"

"An' you ain't got nothin' to do but sit around readin' books, eh?"

"If it's any of your business, I'm reading up on law. Dad wants me to take a P.G. in law this fall."

"Git your coat, you're coming with me!"

"What for?"

"You'll find out. Git your coat or I'll take hold of yuh."

Clark went into the house and came out again wearing his coat.

"Has anything happened to my dad?" he asked.

Jim stared at him. Sight of the boy all dressed up gave him a new train of thought.

"No," he said, speaking less harshly, "your pa's all right, as far as I know." On the drive back to town, Kohr said: "The bank was robbed this noon. Cy Vesta's description of the man that done it fits you perfect."

"What? Why, I don't even know Cy Vesta. I never saw him in my life. Tom Hardy was in the bank when I went away."

"All the same, Cy described you pretty perfect."

"Pshaw!" said Clark, more amused than alarmed, "you're wasting your time with me, and mine, too."

Sheriff Kohr made no further comment. There was a multitude of thoughts running through his mind, among them the decision to have a talk with Jake Eldridge about this boy of his. It wasn't good for a boy to hang around home doing nothing but read books.

The bank had closed for the day when Sheriff Kohr and his companion reached town, but Cy Vesta's admitted them through a side door. The banker looked sharply at Clark.

"This looks like the chap who held you up, Cy?" Sheriff Kohr asked.

Vesta nodded without a moment's hesitation. "That's him. That's the suit he was wearing. I'd recognize it anywhere."

Clark Eldridge lighted a cigarette. "I suppose," he said, "you're Vesta, treasurer of the bank. And I suppose you're also accusing me of robbing your bank." He blew smoke through his nose. "Do you mind my telling you you're crazy as a loon?"

Vesta bristled. Sheriff Kohr said: "Hold on a minute, Cy. There's one or two more questions I want to ask. In your description of the bandit you said he wore a silver belt buckle. That's what made me suspicious of young Eldridge. He's the only dandy around here who would wear a silver belt buckle. Clark, unbutton your coat and let's see what you hold up your pants with."

Clark started to protest, then changed his mind. He unbuttoned his coat, revealing the silver belt buckle.

"That's it!" Vesta exclaimed exultantly. "I'd know it anywhere."

"Humm," said the sheriff. "That suit Clark's wearing is a double-breasted affair. You couldn't see the buckle 'less his coat was unbuttoned."

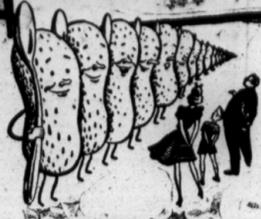

Vesta looked blank. "Well, what about it?"

"Nothin', except that you explained to me how the bandit paused in the entry to slip off his mask. You also said he unbuttoned his coat and slipped his gun in his pants pocket. Now if he unbuttoned his coat, he musta had it buttoned, and if he had it buttoned you couldn't o' seen the belt buckle. Which leads me to think, Vesta, you're a dirty liar and that you stole the money from your own bank and hatched up this story involving an innocent kid. Do you want to argue?"

Clark accompanied Sheriff Kohr and his prisoner to the jail. After Vesta was locked up, the officer said: "Clark, I'm coming out to talk to your pa one of these days about you. A kid like you shouldn't be sittin' around readin' an' nothin' more. Folks is apt to try an' make a sucker outta you."

Clark grinned. "Thanks, Sheriff. But be careful my dad or some one else, like Vesta, doesn't make a sucker out of you."

SAFEWAY Homemakers' Guide

Let peanut butter be the home front standby

It's time we realized the importance of peanut butter as a nutritious food, and not as a delicious snack food. Its flavor is only one of the things in favor of peanut butter. It is a protein food and that means that it can take the place of meat on the menu. It is a food high in energy value, the kind of food that gives that power needed for heavy work. As for minerals and vitamins, peanut butter scores high. It is particularly high in some of those all-important B vitamins.

PEANUT BUTTER CUTLETS—Combine 1 cup hot medium thick white sauce and 1/2 cup peanut butter. Add 1 well-beaten egg and mix well. Add 2 cups soft bread crumbs and seasonings and mix well. Form into cutlets or patties, dip in beaten egg, then cracker crumbs and fry until well browned. Serve with cheese sauce.

PEANUT BUTTER IN SOUPS—Add 2 or 3 tbsps. peanut butter to cream soups for additional nourishment and tempting new flavor.

PEANUT BUTTER SAUCE—Blend in 1 to 2 tbsps. peanut butter into white sauce, tomato sauce and gravies. It adds extra richness and intriguing nutty goodness.

PEANUT BUTTER SALAD DRESSINGS—Mix peanut butter and salad dressings or mayonnaise in proportions to suit your taste. Serve on vegetable and fruit salads. It's simply luscious.

PEANUT BUTTER PUDDING—Mix 1/2 cup of cornstarch with a dash of salt and 1 tbsps. sugar, and 1/2 cup cold water. Combine 3 tbsps. honey or corn syrup with 4 tbsps. peanut butter. Mix with cornstarch mixture, and cook in double boiler for 10 minutes, stirring constantly. Then cover and cook 15 minutes longer, stirring occasionally. Cool, pour into sherbet dishes and chill.

Listen to Morgenthau-Marshall Tell Power of Payroll Savings!

Washington, D. C.—How important is the average worker's war bond purchases out of his pay every payday in the grand strategy of the Allied High Command? Does the extent of his or her War Bond allotment have a part in determining when, where and the strength of our military blows?

Any worker listening in on a recent conversation between General George C. Marshall, President Roosevelt's Chief of Staff, and Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, Jr., learned the answers to these questions.

Said General Marshall: "Mr. Secretary, I want you to answer a question for me and to answer it with complete frankness. Can we military leaders plan to fight this war in an orderly way—in the surest and most effective manner—or must we take extraordinary risks for fear the money will not hold out?"

Replied Secretary Morgenthau: "General, the American public will take care of that. What they have done in the Second War Loan drive—the money they have produced and the spirit they have shown—is proof enough for me that they will not let our fighters suffer from lack of support until we achieve complete victory, no matter how long that may be nor how much it may cost." Up your War Bond allotment out of your wages today. Figure it out for yourself how much above 10 per cent it should be.

EVERY DRIVER CAN HELP

KEEP 'EM ROLLING

WAR, 1943 style, is war on wheels. Men, weapons and materials vital to victory must be moved swiftly, safely and without delay.

But each day accidents at grade crossings in America injure or kill 19 motorists and delay 38 trains a total of 22 hours—a drain on manpower and time that a nation at war simply cannot afford.

Will you, as a patriotic driver, enlist in the nationwide campaign now under way to stop these accidents? Here's how you can help:

1. Be extra careful—wartime careful—in all your driving.
2. Be especially alert when approaching a grade crossing.
3. Be sure the way is clear before you cross the tracks.
4. LOOK, LISTEN and LIVE!

Help keep 'em rolling for victory!

WHY DOES THE PRESIDENT HESITATE?

According to widely published reports previous to the passage of the Connally-Smith Anti-Strike Bill, the White House "is backing anti-strike legislation".

Yet the bill lies on the President's desk, day after day, and the coal-strike situation grows hourly more menacing to the war effort.

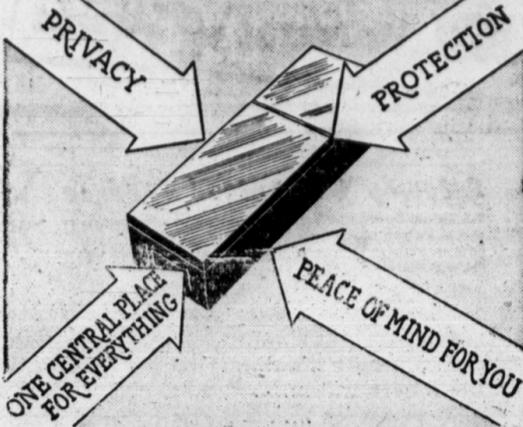

Mrs. Roosevelt, in one of her "press conferences" publicly attacks the anti-strike bill. And she indicates just where the measure hits the labor unions.

This clause, Mrs. Roosevelt says, "would make it difficult for the average person of small means to give anything to promote the election of the candidate he is backing."

The truth is, however, that this important safeguard does not prevent the individual worker from making a personal contribution to the campaign fund of his chosen Party.

PETERS-BAUSERMAN

In Grace Methodist Church, Manassas, on Sunday, July 13, Miss Ruth Carmen Peters became the bride of Captain Warren Vernon Bauserman U. S. A.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul O. Peters, of Arlington, Va., and Captain Bauserman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Bauserman, of Manassas.

Officiating at the four-o'clock ceremony was the Rev. W. O. Luttrell. Mr. Peters gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a gown of silk marquisette, trimmed with chantilly lace.

Mr. Herbert Hibbs served as best man and ushers included Messrs. Cleveland Fisher, Billy Jamison, Jack Herrell and Vivian Wright.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bridegroom. After their trip the couple will make their home at Carolines Beach, N. C.

Girl Artist Goes Into Training for Army Job

LONDON, ONT. — Recruited to meet a special need in the Canadian Women's Army corps, Ruth Keene, young London commercial artist and sportswoman, has begun her period of training here.

Miss Keene, a daughter of Mrs. Arthur Keene of Grand avenue, is a graduate of South London college and the H. B. Beal Technical school, and of the Ontario Ladies' college specializing in commercial art.

"She is a find," declared Capt. Mary Baker, CWAX staff officer. "When the call came for an artist we consulted Clare Bice, curator of the Elsie Perrin Williams Memorial Art Gallery, and on his advice got in touch with Miss Keene."

After completion of her training she will be posted to A-29 at Ipperwash for map drawing, sketching, etc.

WOMEN'S CLUB MEETING

The Woman's Club of Manassas held its June meeting on Monday evening in the Parish Hall.

Reports of standing committees were heard and each committee chairman reported having been active in her respective fields since the previous meeting.

Civic matters and war activities seemed to be in the forefront at present. The county war bond chairman, Mrs. Vincent Davis, reported a most successful campaign had been held during the month of May.

cooperation. War savings stamps corsage have been featured by the Garden Section, and a large amount raised in this manner.

Mrs. E. H. Marsteller, reporting on legislative matters, reported having contacted our legislator regarding resolutions pertinent to the war effort and had received encouraging replies.

Due to the many matters incident to the Club's participation in war activities, the regular meetings of the Club will continue during the summer months. Outstanding programs of wide interest will be arranged and the president, Mrs. Lewis Carper, named the following committee to assist the regular program committee in obtaining speakers: Mrs. Paul Cooksey, Mrs. T. E. Didiak, Mrs. W. L. Lloyd.

The program, in charge of the Civic Committee, presented Miss Nell Gruin, Home Demonstration Agent, who gave a splendid explanation and demonstration of drying and dehydrating fruits and vegetables. Miss Gruin also urged the planting of fall gardens and distributed literature pertinent to each.

Next regular meeting will be held at the Parish Hall on Monday, July 12, at 8 p. m. The public will be cordially welcomed to these summer "war-time" programs.

TO THE VOTERS OF PRINCE WILLIAM, FAIRFAX AND THE CITY OF ALEXANDRIA:

At the request of many of my friends in this Senatorial District, I have announced my candidacy for nomination to the office of State Senator, subject to the Democratic Primary, August 3, 1943.

The district, composed of Alexandria City, Fairfax and Prince William Counties has a complex situation that needs the services of the most experienced man whom the voters can secure. My service in the General Assembly which extends over three sessions has fitted me to represent the best interest of all the peoples in this District.

As a life long farmer, I am fully acquainted with many rural problems which face the farmers of this District. Having served as a member of the Board of Supervisors of Stafford county and as clerk of the court of that county, I am in a position to assist in problems of county government which may arise.

Owing to war restrictions it will not be possible for me to see many of the voters of the District. I am taking this means to solicit your support and consideration of my candidacy, with the pledge that if elected I shall certainly devote my whole hearted efforts in the interest of all of you.

GEORGE W. HERRING,
Woodbridge, Virginia

TO THE VOTERS OF PRINCE WILLIAM AND STAFFORD COUNTIES:

I announce my candidacy for re-election to the House of Delegates of the General Assembly of Virginia for the Counties of Prince William and Stafford, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, August 3, 1943.

Having served the good people of these two counties for the past two terms, and having been placed on two major committees—Roads and Finance—I feel that I can be of even greater service in the future.

There is no knowledge of the agreement, referred to by my opponent, by which a representative from each county should serve only two terms. I feel certain that the gentleman from Stafford never stood aside for me when first I became a candidate, and I see no reason why I am not entitled to run again.

I appreciate the support which I have had from the people of Stafford and Prince William Counties and if elected, I will endeavor to serve to the best interest of both counties.

Sincerely,
E. R. CONNER,
Manassas, Virginia

I hereby announce my candidacy for re-nomination as Justice of The Peace for Gainesville District. I will appreciate your support.

TO THE VOTERS OF PRINCE WILLIAM COUNTY

I hereby announce my candidacy for the office of Attorney for the Commonwealth, Prince William County, Virginia, subject to the Democratic Primary to be held on August 3, 1943.

I wish to express my thanks to the people of Prince William County for their support and cooperation during my present term of office. You know my record, and I feel, that with my past experience, I can successfully render a service to the people of my county. Due to the gasoline shortage it will be impossible for me to see each and every person in the county and so I take this opportunity of soliciting your continued support. You know what I have done in the past, both in private life (as I was born in your midst), and in public life.

If my efforts have met with your approval, I will greatly appreciate your help in the coming election.

Sincerely,

W. Hill Brown, Jr.

TO THE CITIZENS OF PRINCE WILLIAM COUNTY:

I HEREBY respectfully announce myself a candidate for the office of Commonwealth's Attorney for Prince William County, Virginia, subject to the Democratic Primary to be held August 3rd, 1943.

TO THE VOTERS OF THE 27TH SENATORIAL DISTRICT

I hereby announce myself a Candidate for re-election to the State Senate for the 27th Senatorial District of Virginia, subject to the Democratic Primary to be held on August 3, 1943. I deeply appreciate the high honor you have bestowed upon me by electing me your State Senator.

I have on all occasions voted for what I believed to be for the best interest of my District and State, and if nominated and re-elected pledge a continuance of my best efforts in your behalf.

JAMES HILTON'S POIGNANT "RANDOM HARVEST" CO-STARS GREER GARSON, COLMAN

Two players indelibly linked to the work of James Hilton, the novelist, work on a Hilton-story together for the first time in "Random Harvest," Hilton's haunting romance of a lost memory, now showing at the Pitts Theatre. They are Ronald Colman, who starred in "Lost Horizon," and Greer Garson, of "Goodbye, Mr. Chips."

"Random Harvest" sees Colman as an Englishman who loses all memory of his past during the first World War. He is befriended by a young actress, played by Miss Garson, and inspired to become a writer of ability. They marry and have a child.

Then an accident opens his mental door to his past but blanks out memory of his marriage and life after the war. He takes over his estates and becomes a powerful industrialist. The wife, maintaining silence regarding their relationship, becomes his secretary, and is of great help to him. Through her devotion the threads of his immediate past are finally gathered together in a hauntingly charming climax.

Miss Garson wears elaborate fashions and does a song and dance number in kilts. Colman gives a compelling performance, as does Miss Garson in the dramatic episodes. Mervyn LeRoy directed skillfully, and Susan Peters, Phillip Dorn, Reginald Owen and Una O'Connor are among the principals. Joseph Ruttenberg's artistic photography, especially in the fog sequences, was outstanding, and Herbert Stothart contributed an interesting musical score.

Farm Girls

By R. R. WILLS

Associated Newspapers, WNU Service.

IT WAS a swell idea and quite novel. Beulah and Candida had met in the New York office of Mortimer and Brown, attorneys. Both were stenographers. They became fast friends because they found something in common. That something was a desire to live on a farm in the country.

They talked about it incessantly. Then Let's came through with the great idea.

"Let's work hard and save for a year. Then let's pool our resources, make a down payment on a small farm and—live there!"

"But we don't know a thing about farming. We've both lived in the city all our lives. We couldn't make it pay."

"We could," Beulah said, "if we wanted to badly enough. There are books on how to do everything these days. Of course, if you're doubtful—"

"I'm not. I'd love to try it! Oh, I think it would be grand!"

So for a year the two girls worked and saved. They spent evenings on end at the library reading books on small-scale farming, and they hunted through the papers every day for bargains.

When spring came they took a week-end and drove up into the country and called on the farmers who had offered their homes for sale. The second place they visited proved exactly what they wanted. It was a small, white, tree-shaded house with a barn, a henery containing a flock of 100 birds; a cow, a horse, a pig and several cultivated acres. The price was high, but Beulah had a sharp business head. She talked to old Mr. Naaman, and old Mr. Naaman finally agreed to take their savings as a down payment.

It was a swell idea. It proved to be the fulfillment of the girls' dreams. Best of all, what with the sale of eggs and fowls and milk and raising their own vegetables, they made a profit. The enterprise would likely have developed into something lasting, had it not been for Barnaby Xerxes.

He was a radio singer, suffering from a nervous breakdown. He had come to Hillside to recuperate. Beulah met him one day on a deserted section of country road. He was walking and she gave him a lift back to town in the delivery truck.

Three nights later Barnaby came out to the farm for dinner.

Beulah was thrilled. During the days that followed she hated going out evenings and leaving Candida home alone, but, obviously, Barnaby and she couldn't take the other girl everywhere with them. After all, young lovers want to be alone once in a while.

Beulah was wondering how, when Barnaby proposed marriage and she accepted him, she was going to break the news to Candida. Poor Candida.

Two nights later Beulah delivered a half dozen fowl to the village church for its semi-annual supper, and was returning home earlier than she was expected. It was dark when she swung into the drive. Lights were on in the front room and through the window she saw Candida in his arms, kissing her. And Candida seemed to like it.

Beulah was furious. She stormed into the house.

"You—you vixen!" Beulah shrieked.

Well, it looked like the end of the female partnership. A week passed. The girls went about their duties without speaking. Barnaby, being wise, stayed away. Both girls knew that sooner or later they would have to come to some agreement about the farm. They hated the idea of giving it up. But it was silly to think about keeping on under the present circumstances.

So Beulah made arrangements with Lawyer Stearns and one evening the girls set out in the delivery truck for his law office to write the final chapter in the adventure that had given life a meaning for both of them.

They were silent on the drive to town. Even when the lights went out for no explainable reason neither of them said anything. Silently Beulah got out, lifted the hood, discovered a fuse was blown, and having no spare, tried to produce a makeshift from a hairpin. She tried for quite a while without results. It was inky dark. Candida sat in the truck and was silent. She knew nothing about mechanics. It began to look as though there was nothing to do but continue on foot, when suddenly the connection was made and the lights flared up.

"Oh!" exclaimed Candida, clutching the truck door. She was staring up the road. In the glare of the headlights a man and a woman, evidently having come up in the darkness without knowing of the truck's presence, were standing in close embrace. Startled, they remained like a tableau for a moment, before leaping apart.

The man was Barnaby Xerxes. The woman was a girl about town whom both Beulah and Candida knew by reputation.

"Oh, shucks!" said Beulah. "Let's go back and milk the cow and call it a day."

"Oh, let's!" cried Candida happily.

They did.

America Salutes Food Producers

NO inspiring bands and no glamour of uniforms and decorations cheer these unsung heroes of World War II. With patriotic determination dairymen toil long hours under serious handicaps of labor and material shortages to produce food so vital to the winning of the war.

Dairy foods are of front-rank importance in keeping fighters and workers fit, says the National Dairy Council. Food production is the nation's most critical problem. Fighters on the farm are as essential to the war effort as those in munition plants or on the firing line.

COMMISSIONER'S SALE OF VALUABLE REAL ESTATE

Pursuant to a certain decree of the Circuit Court of Prince William County, Virginia, entered on the 7th day of June, 1943, in the chancery cause of T. E. Didlake vs. J. P. Kerlin, Sheriff-Administrator, etc., the undersigned special commissioner will offer for sale at public auction to the highest bidder on Saturday, July 10, 1943 at 11:00 o'clock A. M. in front of the Peoples National Bank of Manassas, Virginia, the following real estate:

(1) All that certain parcel of land containing one and one-half (1 1/2) acres, more or less, improved by two large buildings situate, on Prince William Avenue, just outside the Town of Manassas adjoining Rinker and others, in Prince William County, Virginia.

(2) All that certain tract of land containing forty-eight (48) acres, more or less, situate near Bloom Station and being valuable farm and timber land, adjoining the land of Sledge and others in Prince William County, Virginia. The 48 acre tract is to be sold together with the rights of Vincent Johnson's Estate under a certain oil lease.

The aforesaid tracts of land are the same lands of which the late Vincent Johnson died seised and possessed, and reference is made to the proceedings in the aforesaid chancery suit for a further description of the aforesaid real estate.

The said real estate will be offered for sale in separate parcels. There is reserved, however, the corn crop now growing on the 48 acre tract of land with the right of ingress and egress to the present tenant to harvest the corn crop.

TERMS OF SALE: One-third of purchase money cash in hand on day of sale and the remainder to be paid in two equal annual installments due one and two years respectively, after date of sale, the purchaser to execute his promissory notes for the deferred payments bearing 6% interest from date of sale, interest payable annually and title to be retained as ultimate security. The purchaser may, if he so desires, pay the full amount of the purchase price at the time of sale, taxes to be prorated as of date of sale. In event the purchaser does not pay the full cash price at the time of sale, he shall insure the improvements on the land he purchases so long as any of the purchase money remains unpaid to the full insurable value of such improvements with loss clause payable to the undersigned special commissioner or his assigns, as interest may appear.

C. LACEY COMPTON, Special Commissioner

I hereby certify that the bond for $2,000.00 required of the special commissioner by the decree of sale entered in the cause of T. E. Didlake vs. J. P. Kerlin, Sheriff-Administrator, etc. has been executed by C. Lacey Compton as such commissioner this 8th day of June, 1943.

MR. AND MRS. LAWRENCE CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Cassius Lawrence celebrated their golden wedding anniversary on Sunday, June 6 from 3 to 5 P. M. with an open house at their lovely home on Grace Street. Assisting in receiving the guests, which numbered over two hundred were her daughter, Mrs. Maurice Weschler and Mrs. Lawrence's sister, Miss Lillian Shear and their niece, Mrs. Philip Detwiler, all of Washington. The home was tastefully decorated with cut flowers and the dining table had a center piece of white and lavender flowers and white tapiri and a huge wedding cake.

Mrs. William H. Dawson, Mrs. Annie R. Walker, Mrs. R. N. Wrenn, Miss Estelle Holden, Mrs. Jane P. Davis and Mrs. Casey Wilkins assisted at the coffee urn and at the punch bowl.

Four were present who attended the wedding fifty years ago at the bride's home, "Sully" the lovely country estate of her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Conrad T. Shear. These were her sister, Miss Lillian Shear and Mrs. B. F. McGuire, of Washington, and the Misses Lillian and Edmonia Millan, of Fairfax.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence have two children, both of whom were present. They are Mr. Conrad Lawrence, of Staunton, and Mrs. Maurice Weschler, of Washington. They also have three grand-children. Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence received many lovely gifts among which was a $50 war bond from members of Herndon St. Timothy's Episcopal Church. The Herndon Home Interest Garden Club presented them with a $25 war bond.

Their son-in-law, Mr. Maurice Weschler, of Washington, made several reels of moving pictures of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence and relatives and friends in their flower garden. The News-Observer extends heartfelt congratulations to this couple and hope that they may enjoy many more wedding anniversaries.

Are you getting mad about this? Does it mean anything to you personally? Then dig down and buy more and more War Bonds.

WOMAN TRAINED AS BUS DRIVERS

An additional opportunity to participate in the war effort is being offered the women of Arlington and Fairfax Counties by the Washington, Virginia & Maryland Coach Company.

Because of the manpower shortage in the Washington vicinity, the Arnold Operated Lines have employed Mrs. V. J. Burdette, a specialist in the mobilization of women in essential industries, as Employment Officer. Mr. T. T. Rudacille, formerly in charge of employment for the company, will in the future devote his full time to the training of new male and female employees brought into the company under its new program.

"We do not want anyone to feel that this new move on the part of the Arnold Operated Lines will in any way affect our employment of men wherever they are available," Mrs. Burdette stated today. "We still need male bus drivers, mechanics, etc., but when they cannot be obtained we shall give these opportunities for service in an essential industry to women. We will employ women in those jobs where men can be released for heavier duty. Our studies of tasks in the company are for now complete, and we are accepting applications to fill these positions. Both full-time and part-time jobs are available. The work will be pleasant, and those who are selected for our new program will be paid while learning their jobs. "To the husband who is hesitant to accept the necessity of his wife's doing her part in a position previously held by a man, we want to say that your wife will be placed in the kind of work that will not endanger her health. She will have the kind of surroundings you would approve of if you were employing your wife yourself."

FLORIS

Miss Edith Rogers has as her guest, her sister, Miss Katherine Rogers of Trenton N. J. and her aunt, Miss Katherine Atlee, of Philadelphia.

Mrs. George Chamberlin and her two children will leave next week to join Mr. Chamberlin in Chicago, where he is engaged in defense work.

Miss Harriet Davis, who was among the graduates of the Herndon High School on June 10, has accepted a position in the Veteran's Bureau in Washington.

Mr. DeOrman Robey has reported for duty in the army at Camp Lee.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Navy Sunday school wishes to announce that we hold Sunday School every Sunday at 10:30 o'clock and young peoples meeting at 8 o'clock each Sunday night now that our pastor is gone. Come out and enjoy our meetings.

While we will miss our pastor, we of Navy are proud to have known so noble a man that he would give up the comforts of home and family for the good of our boys.

Dear Editor:

I wish to correct the piece printed in your May 23 edition about my marriage. The name was wrong, Duncan, when it should have been Wm. Gunter. At that time I wasn't Ella Webster to Mr. William Gunter in Nashville. So please correct as follows:

"The marriage of Miss Sarah Ella Webster to Mr. William Gunter took place May 15, in Rossville, Ga. They are living at Mr. and Mrs. C. Burke's near Chantilly."

Very truly yours,
Sarah W. Gunter.

War Bonds should mean something more to you than just "a good sound investment." Figure it out yourself.

WHAT TO WRITE TO SERVICEMEN

The Office of War Information offers these pointers for homemakers writing to soldiers, sailors, and marines—based on suggestions gathered in a survey among servicemen at home and overseas, in cooperation with the Special Service Division of the Army Service Forces; TELL HIM:

1. How the family is doing everything possible to help in the war.
2. How anxious the family is for the boy's return.
3. How well and busy the family is. Give details.
4. How the family is getting along financially.
5. What's doing in the community; news about girls (single) he knows, doings of friends, who's marrying whom, exploits of the home team and other sports events, social doings, effects of the war on the home town. Reminisce a little about past events and places the boy used to visit. Enclose clippings from the home-town paper.

DON'T TELL HIM:

1. Your troubles. He has troubles of his own.
2. Your complaints. He can't do anything about them.
3. About things you are deprived of. He can't supply them.
4. Doleful predictions about the future. He's fighting for that future—now.
5. Unnecessary details about financial troubles. If there are things he should know about family finances, and he is in a position to do something about the situation, tell him. But don't string it out.

Chessie Writes a Letter to the Editor

To the Editor of the Baltimore Sun

Sir:

EVEN a railroad kitten gets around now and then. And I have lately heard some questions asked and comments made about our railroads that have inspired me to write you this letter.

I suppose it is perfectly natural that people who see the enormous load of traffic our railroads are moving in wartime — people who watch millions of tons of freight and thousands of men in arms go rolling by—should say: "I'll bet the roads are coining money these days."

It seems to me that the truth of this question is something every American ought to know.

Nearly everyone has read or heard that during the recent years of depression the railroads had extreme difficulty making ends meet. In the twelve years following 1929, thirty-seven Class I railroads sought relief from their troubles in bankruptcy. Others staggered along under heavy burdens of debt. And the average earnings of all Class I railroads, for that period, were only 2.2% on investment.

But what many people do not know is that even in 1942, the American railroads earned only a moderate return on investment.

Railroad traffic increased enormously, of course. But so did operating costs, so did taxes. And the average earnings, for all Class I railroads, in our first year of war, were only five and a half per cent.

Even the railroad kitten, Mr. Editor, can see that this is not a profiteer's wage.

It is almost the same percentage as the earnings that were fixed by the government for the railroads during the last war. It is within what Congress declared in 1920 to be a fair earning on railroad value. And the Interstate Commerce Commission has repeatedly recognized the principle that a fair return should be gauged by the average earnings over a period; that the roads should be allowed to make up in good years for the lean.

Mine is a small voice. But this is a free country. And it gets my fur up to hear people undervalue our railroads.

Those who do have only to look around them to see how tremendous a part in our national crisis is being taken by cars and coaches and engines—and by the men who run them. For transport is the life-blood of our war effort.

We have reason to be thankful for the strength of our railroads. And equally good reason, with a view to the years ahead, to see that they continue to be strong and sound institutions.
