KIWANIS CLUB AIDS 4-H SWINE PROJECT REGISTERED HAMPSHIRE BOAR PURCHASED

The Manassas Kiwanis Club is co-operating with the Prince William County 4-H Swine Improvement Project by purchasing a pure-bred Hampshire boar for use of boys enrolled in this project. County Agent Frank Cox reported this week. This excellent young boar was bred at Paul Whiteman's farm at Rosemont New Jersey and is a grandson of Steam Roller, an outstanding proven sire of the Hampshire breed. His dam "P. W. 's Leona", was purchased as a bred sow from the Whiteman farm last spring by Leon Kline.

Four other excellent Hampshire registered boars are conveniently located for breeding registered sows now owned by 4-H club members of the county. These are kept by Ray Smith, Nokesville; Charles Edward Garber, Woodbridge; Charles Lyburner, Gainesville; and James Dennis Irvin Nokesville.

European Corn Borer Found Prevalent

After inspecting corn fields throughout the county last week, State Entomologist C. R. Willey and W. J. Phillips found the European Corn Borer to be prevalent in all sections and recommended that steps be immediately taken to prevent further spread of this menace to future corn crops.

Means suggested for checking the spread of the European Corn Borer included:

1. Cutting the stalks as closely to the ground as possible and as early as possible.
2. Burning the stalks, putting them in the silo, cutting them into fine pieces or shredding them.
3. Plowing under the stubble in the fall or raking up the stubble and burning it.
4. Thoroughly plowing under all standing stalks and weeds in the cornfield.
5. Feeding fodder in a lot where the borer been found to be present to any extent in the county and it is feared that there will be serious damage in future years unless preventive steps are immediately taken.

End of the war in Europe may not increase quota of gasoline to public said OPA this week.

There are nearly 8000 parts in the machine that sets the type in this paper.

TWO PRINCE WILLIAM BOYS MAKE THE SUPREME SACRIFICE ANOTHER WOUNDED IN ACTION

Pvt. Clyde A. Patton, U.S.A.

A brother to Fred Patton, has been killed in action. Both boys were well known in Manassas. The County, with the Nation, bows in tribute to these young men of Manassas who gave all for their country.

Fred J. Patton, U.S.N.

The Navy Department has announced that another of our sons has died for his country. He has been posthumously awarded The Purple Heart. He and his brother were educated in local schools.

PFC Jasper Monroe
The War Department has announced that PFC Jasper Monroe has been wounded in action. He attended the local schools.

Sgt. Roseberry Earns Rest After 30 Combat Missions as Gunner

Special to The Journal
AN AIR SERVICE COMMAND STATION SOMEWHERE IN England
Staff Sgt. Edward Kite Roseberry of Manassas recently passed thru this Air Service Command Station en route to well earned rest after 30 missions as a gunner on a B-24.

Air Service Command officers "briefed" him on the necessity of safeguarding certain vital information he gained as a result of his combat experience.

Before his return to the states Sgt. Roseberry was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross and Air Medal with three clasiers.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert H. Roseberry of this city.

Kiwanis Club Active In Educational Work

The Manassas Vocational School keeps getting into reports of various organizations of the vicinity. The Kiwanis Club in celebrating School Week could not help hearing again of its achievements. Superintendent R. C. Hayden, summing up after the speech of the evening, gave high praise to it as a tentative report. He said his here are o be established in Virginia 5 schools modeled after this one. Manassas would have failed if the school had failed, but success brings satisfaction. He went out of his way to say that Worth Peters had done a grand job.

Mr. Peters himself earlier in the evening had been called upon to tell about the school. He was so filled with his subject that he said he could talk for two hours.

It was determined May 15 to establish this school. Just a month later it was a going concern. The job was to organize, to staff, to look for transportation to the school from various parts of Virginia. Students came from as far as Raccoon Ford—58 miles away; from Gilbert's Filling Station, Alexandria, Lorton and Occoquan. There was a total enrollment of 162 students, and there was more than a 90% attendance. He considered it the crowning glory of the school that five students took a civil service examination in drafting and got jobs paying from $2700 to $3700 a year.

Such a school is more expensive than an academic one—three times as expensive—and he gave reasons why but claimed it is worth it. It was a most successful school too, from a humanizing standpoint.

Kiwanis is to continue to meet at seven o'clock until further notice.

Local folks who commute to D. C. every day will be interested in a plan to construct super highway arteries into the city.

SERIES OF PICTURES

Tuesday night was the opening of a series of picture shows which the American Legion are giving for the families of service men. These films were produced by the War Department and show training scenes in home camps and actual battle pictures and other activities in foreign lands. Families of those in service are especially invited but all adults are welcome. These pictures will be shown each Tuesday night at the Episcopal Parish house. The shows will be different each Tuesday night and will be continued as long as the public are interested. There is no seat charge.

Chamber of Commerce

Mr. Frank Cox reported that the Board of Supervisors had $3000 each for Occoquan and Manassas for the buildings to house the cannery. Each section will be required to raise the balance of $1000 each. Occoquan will have the priority because there is a cannery located at Nokesville.

Mrs. Joseph Hanson reported that the total of 14,000 lbs. of old paper had been accumulated during the duffing the summer paper salvage campaign.

In Manassas this had been accomplished by the Boy Scouts. Mrs. Hanson asked everyone to keep up the good work insaving their old paper.

Major Joseph Hanson invited every one to attend the American and British War Films each Tuesday for several weeks. The picture given Tuesday evening was a Pre-Lude to War. The pictures are shown at the Trinity Parish Hall and last about one and three quarter hours.

Mr. Helm reporting on the Food-handlers Ordinance, sponsored by the Chamber, will present it to the Board of Supervisors at their next meeting to have parts rewritten.

Mr. Tiffany said he thought anything that was done about the V-E Day should be thru the churches, as it would not be the end of the war, only European Victory. He had written to the Civilian Defense in Richmond and they agreed with him that it should be a day of prayer.

The guests who were entertained at the Chamber were Mr. C. B. Roland, Mr. Dinwittie and Mr. Hilman of the Roanoke Fire apparatus.

The money for the Prince William project prizes sponsored by the Chamber will be distributed by the Chamber at the next meeting according to Mr. Alpaugh.

Letter From Scotland

Four or five years ago, aided by Miss Walsor Conner (now Mrs. Rohr) the Junior Woman's Club and other friends aided in raising a bundle of warm clothing for British children. A note was pinned to one of the garments carrying our good wishes. We have just received the following:

Mains
MILNGAVIE
SCOTLAND

Dear Mrs. Lamb:

In my Red Cross Depot here we have been sorting out a great many garments from America and putting them into bundles for the use of patients in hospitals, who have had all their clothes Blitzed.

Among them I found a note from you, and I feel I should so much like to send a line to you and our other kind American friends to tell you how much we do appreciate your generous gifts.

The flying bombs have greatly added to the clothing difficulties and there are many of these people admitted to the hospital who, when well again and ready to be discharged will have literally nothing to go away in. I do hope you will tell your friends how much we have valued their help, and, on behalf of my Depot, I am so glad to have this opportunity of sending our most grateful thanks.

Yours Sincerely,
CICELY DOUGLAS

NOTICE

Interested citizens are urged to attend this meeting.

Virginia State Fair Plans Discussed

Prince William farmers will be pleased to learn that the Virginia State Fair is in process of reorganization and will be known as the Atlantic Rural Exposition.

Virginia livestock interests have undertaken the purchase of 58 per cent or controlling interest, assuming that the necessary oney can be raised by private subscription from the livestock, dairy and other agricultural interests of Virginia. It was necessary for the livestock interests to act quickly. The State was divided into three parts to facilitate the soliciting of pledges. H. B. Thompson, Forest and Thomas Stanley, Stanleytown, representing the Virginia Hereford Breeders Association, are securing subscriptions in Southwest Virginia. C. T. Neal, Gordonsville, and Col. A. E. Pierce, Warrenton, representing the Aberdeen-Angus Breeders Association, are securing subscriptions in Northern Virginia. A. W. Buhman, 1438 Franklin St., Richmond, and C. C. Reed, care of Williams and Reed, Richmond, representing the Virginia Beef Cattle Producers Association, are securing subscriptions in Eastern Virginia.

More than $30,000 have been subscribed. There is little doubt now that the balance of the money will be secured to purchase the Somma interest, thereby transferring the control of the Virginia State Fair Association from one man to a group of livestock and dairy interests. Some Virginia dairy cattle breeders have subscribed to this project, others are invited to subscribe, so that all phases of the Virginia livestock industry may be responsible and active participants in the reorganization of the fair. It is desired that all livestock interests, including dairy farmers, have an equitable interest in the exposition.

The direction of the fair association will rest with the new board of directors, to be set up when the purchase of the Somma interest is consummated. This board will represent the agricultural interest of Virginia in developing a high quality agricultural exposition that will fully meet Virginia agricultural needs. It has been suggested that in addition to providing educational exhibitions for Virginia and other Eastern states the fair ground facilities should become a central meeting place for many agricultural interest. Livestocks, dairy and poultry shows, 4-H club shows, sales, contests field trials and other events important to all Virginia agricultural are among the functions this Atlantic Rural Exposition might serve on our Eastern Seaboard. There are many needs and possibilities for this enterprise but how the best interests of agriculture will be served must be determined by the men who purchase the stock in this association. Virginia dairymen are invited to subscribe to this enterprise, which has the indorsement of the Board of Directors of the Virginia State Dairymen's Association.

Mr. Fisher's Programs

Mr Cleveland Fisher gave a program of recorded music in the Parish Hall on a recent evening, one of a series being sponsored by the Education Committee of the Woman's Club. In spite of bad weather, the attendance was very good.

At the previous program in July, Mr. Fisher had explained the composition of the modern orchestra. This time he talked about one of the outstanding instruments of the orchestra, the flute. He traced its history from its humble beginning as a reed, to the present instrument. To illustrate one phase in the history of the flute he showed a 200 year old flute of interesting make belonging to Mr. Worth Stork. Mr. Fisher also told about the composers whose work he played during the evening so that the entertainment was both enjoyable and instructive.

The next program will be given September 25. Everyone is invited.

Rummage Sale

Saturday, September 30, beginning at 9:00 a. m. the Manassas Chapter, U. D. C. will hold a rummage sale in the basement of the Methodist Church.

Mrs. George R. L. Turberville IV has gone to Mississippi to visit her husband for a few days. Staff Sgt. Turberville expects to go overseas.

The Rev. and Mrs. Thomas Faulkner have moved into the new rectory and they entertained their friends who gave them a pantry shower on Thursday, September 14th.

ONIONS FOR SLICING

The large mild-flavored sweet Spanish onions—the kind grown in the western states where production is greatest this year—are particularly good for slicing with hamburgers or for sandwiches or salads. The U. S. Department of Agriculture suggests.

To prepare onion rings for hamburgers, cut half-inch slices of large mild onions, lay them in a baking dish or pan, sprinkle with salt and pepper, dot with well-flavored fat. Add 1 or 2 tablespoons of water, cover closely, and bake in a moderate oven for 30 minutes, or until tender. Serve a hamburger cake on each onion ring.

To make a hot meat and onion sandwich, cook 1 pint of sliced onion until tender in about 3 cups of meat broth or water. Thicken slightly with flour mixed with cold water and cook several minutes longer. Stir in 1 pint of cut-up, left-over or canned meat and heat thoroughly. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Add celery salt if desired, or celery tops (fresh or dried) parsley, tomato catsup or chili sauce. Use as the filling for sandwiches with bread or hot biscuits. Pour hot gravy over the top.

CLEANING COTTON CORDUROY

The wartime shortage of commercial cleaning and laundry services has forced many a housewife to learn ways of cleaning clothes at home. Cotton corduroy one of the popular fall fabrics now appearing in the stores in suits, coats and dresses as well as in children's outfits, very often can be laundered successfully at home. That washable corduroy garments generally carry labels giving special instructions for washing. In the absence of such a label the housewife should wash a sample cut from an outside seam or pocket before plunging the whole garment in the wash tub. Points to notice are color fastness and shrinkage.

Corduroy needs gentle washing in lukewarm water and mild soapuds. Because the fabric is bulky, it calls for plenty of suds. Squeeze suds through garment but do not twist or rub. Rinse in two or three changes of lukewarm water, always lifting the garment so the nap is not crushed. Instead of wringing lift garment from tub, fold in bath towel to remove excess water, then hang on wooden hangers to dry in shape letting water run down the nap. Dry rapidly—out of doors in a stiff breeze if possible.

When the garment is almost dry brush it following the nap to keep it smooth. Press on the wrong side with the nap, then brush again. Steam irons are especially helpful in pressing corduroy.

If a corduroy coat is lined, the only way to wash it is to remove the lining and padding and wash the corduroy separately. This might be worth the time for a coat that has been cleaned many times yet no longer looks entirely clean.

Yugoslav Partisan units, after a successful landing on the island of Brac, off the Dalmatian coast, have freed the island.

MRS. MARY HOUSE

Mrs. Mary Moore House departed

this life on Monday, Aug. 21st. She had been in failing health for sometime but the end came quite suddenly.

Mrs. House was born at Greenwich,

July 11, 1855, and had lived her entire life in that community. On Dec.

19, 1879, she was married to Mr. Henry M. House, also of Greenwich, who survives her. She is also survived by one daughter, Mrs. J. L. Clay, of Galesburg, Ill.; one son, James N.

House, of Greenwich, and a number of nieces and nephews.

Mrs. House was of a kind and general nature ever thoughtful of others, which won for her a host of friends.

She was a lifelong member of the

Greenwich Presbyterian Church. Funeral services were conducted from that church by the pastor, Rev. T. K.

Mowbray, and interment was in the cemetery adjacent. The large crowd assembled and the beautiful floral offerings attributed to the high esteem in which she was held.

Mayor in Invasion Address Stresses Need Of Future World-Wide Cooperation.

THE IDEA THAT OUR NATIONAL SECURITY some day would depend upon the successful invasion of continental Europe by our Armed Forces was inconceivable to the average American but a few short years ago. Yet, today our whole strength is assembled for that very action.

AMERICA BECAME GREAT WITHOUT AGGRESSION—without tyranny. Our greatness has been achieved without destroying others—ours is a history of unprecendented industrial progress, of development of our own resources, and reliance on our own efforts.

AGGRESSION IS FOREIGN TO AMERICAN PHILOSOPHY. Yet, today we find ourselves faced with the choice of destroying or of being destroyed. Today we are confronted by the hard fact that the kind of peace which we all so fervently desire can be achieved only by crushing autocracy.

AFTER A BRIEF BREATHING SPELL, practically the entire world is again at war. The resolve of mankind reached amid the horrors and misery experienced in the last war, has broken down and millions of young men are being slaughtered on the battlefield, and helpless civilians are perishing amid the destruction of their homes.

MODERN CIVILIZATION IS ROCKED TO ITS FOUNDATION and there is reason for grave doubt as to its ability to survive the shocks to which it is being subjected.

THE HUMAN FAMILY HAS NOT YET FOUND the way to live together in peace and unity. The world over, men and women are fundamentally alike. The same things make them gay or sad. They cherish the same hopes and dreams and hunger alike for contentment and security. Everywhere, they are human beings, warmed by the same sun, chilled by the same winter and eager for similar happiness, yet in spite of it all, they are hating one another and killing one another because of National differences. Because one man lives a few miles to the East of an imaginary line and another lives a few miles to the West, they are supposed to be enemies and the welfare of one demands the destruction of the other.

NATIONS DO NOT SEEM TO BE ABLE to grasp the fact that they are bound by reciprocal ties, that the human race is in fact a great commonwealth and that the good of any people can be achieved only within the pattern of the common good for all.

BECAUSE OF THE CHARACTER OF MODERN SOCIETY and the economic interdependence of peoples the world over, it is next to impossible to localize a war. Neutrality becomes a fiction that is not respected and which cannot be maintained. Today, no nation can isolate itself from the rest of the world, and because its interests are so far-flung, they are bound to become involved in any large scale conflict.

IN THE MIDST OF WAR, we think of peace and try to get a glimpse at least, of a world order that will square with the dignity of human nature and minister unto human happiness. We can cry out in our misery and ask what does it all mean. We can ask a Merciful God to give us the answer. We can ask Him to intimate to us in our hours of meditation why the human race is paying so terrible a price for its failure to learn the simple lessons of human brotherhood, the simple teachings of Jesus to which such wide assent has been given and to which, unhappily, such indifference has also been exhibited.

IT MAY BE EASY TO ASSUME AN ATTITUDE OF DESPAIR—to say that wars are recurrent and inevitable and that man is doomed to periodic conflict and to constant mobilization of physical force. It is, perhaps, easy to say that this war is merely the result of the clash of economic interests whose inequalities gradually sow the seeds of frustration on peoples and make them receptive to dictatorships and hence to aggressive purposes.

THESE EXPLANATIONS MAY SATISFY SOME HISTORIANS or perhaps students of sociology however they are but sorry chronicles of human experience. They do not explain the origin of it all, they do not go to the source of the problem of eliminating war, nor do they in time of war, give us that exaltation of spirit which can make the will so strong to sacrifice.

MILLIONS OF PEOPLE THROUGHOUT THE ENTIRE WORLD, in their daily pursuits of life, bewildered by this cruel war, are wondering when it will come to an end and what kind of a world will be left in its wake. At one time or another, the inner questioning comes to all of us—what can be the true meaning of this inhuman, cruel and destructive war. As time goes on, we are inclined to grow less and less retrospective about it, for whatever be its causes, there can be no disputing its terrible evolution, until today, all nations feel the natural instinct of self defense. A vast majority of all peoples of the entire world, both guilty and innocent, are fighting with added fury impelled by a common determination to destroy or eliminate "the enemy."

WHEN WE DO LEARN THE CAUSE, the finger of blame will not altogether point to some far-off land, to some small group of individuals or some party or faction which has been able to exploit or aggravate one people to the point of aggression ever as another people has felt the justified urge of self-defense against such aggression.

THE ANSWER WILL NOT COME FROM THE BOMBED VICTIMS, the men, women and children who have been driven from their homes or from those taken as hostages. They cannot tell why they have been selected for destruction. We cannot look for the answer in periodicals or readers columns. We need not expect the answer from political leaders for too many of them still think in terms of individual achievement. We cannot look for the answer from the big pressure groups who keep thinking of advances after the war.

WE MAY FIND THE ANSWER IN OUR OWN INDIVIDUAL HEARTS and consciences when we can overcome the defense that causes too many so glibly to speak of spiritual obligations as foolishly sentimental and of human brotherhood as a Utopian dream, a defense that is merely the carefree alibi of those who do not know as yet, the guilt of their own indifference. The answer may be found when we honestly ask ourselves to examine our own course as individuals and our own behavior collectively in the years gone by.

AS A NATION DID WE YIELD TO SELFISH CLAIMS OR GROUPS OR NATIONS in the decades following the last war? Did we foolishly decline to join with other peace loving nations in organizing for the purpose of maintaining peace? Did we acquiesce in the foolish doctrine that only the possession of weapons and armament makes wars, and that to cure war, it was necessary to abolish weapons and armaments?

DID WE LISTEN TO THE WELL-MEANING CONTRIBUTORS OF CHAOS, who told us that if we but took care of America and let the rest of the world alone, we would be able to enjoy the fruits of our own self-sufficiency unmolested? Had we continued this policy of "minding our own business", we would have eventually been drawn into the war and would be fighting alone against a world dominated and armed by enemy nations.

THE CLIMAX MIGHT NOT HAVE COME AS SOON AS 1944, however in the armed world, our enemy's economic resources would have been mobilized and combined in the production of munitions of war in enormous quantities. Our lack of preparedness would have given our enemies a start of several more years over us. We would have no base in England, we would have no navy large enough to fight the big enemy navies, and we would have no bases in the South Pacific because Australia and New Zealand would have gone the way of the Netherlands East Indies. Two World Wars have demonstrated that oceans today, are less of a barrier than the English Channel was a hundred years ago.

ARE WE OURSELVES WHOLLY RIGHTEOUS AND WITHOUT SIN? When shall we begin to examine honestly our own policies? When shall we admit our own omissions and commissions and begin to assess our own responsibility for this war? For it is written, "If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us."

THERE IS GRAVE DANGER THAT WE WILL NOT THINK through the problems that confront us but that we will continue only to feel—to allow our emotions to sweep away our honest judgment.

IN WAR IT IS NECESSARY TO KILL ONE'S ADVERSARY lest he kill you. It is necessary to wage total war against any and all military objectives. The phrase, "non-combatant" has been removed from the vocabulary of war. While we did not start it, and abhor its participation, yet, we too, bomb men, women and children killing and maiming the helpless. This is the most frightful point ever reached by man in modern times. It is "organized savagery" at its worst. Nothing like it was witnessed in the last World War.

OUR NEED IS NOT MERELY INDIVIDUAL REPENTANCE, but National repentance. This war is meaningless if it is not a lesson to man. This war is not due to the wrath of a loving God. It is due to the wrath of unloving man, for above all, there sits a God of Justice trying in His mysterious ways to signal to man the true meaning of the sacrifices now being made by millions of persons—even as Jesus alone made the supreme sacrifice for human betterment nearly 2,000 years ago. His legacy of ethics eventually must show mankind the way out of the maze of his own making.

ARE WE DESERVING OF PEACE? It will be deserved only if and when individuals in the entire world have caught the true meaning of this war and have begun unselfishly and courageously in utter disregard for the consequence to self, to plan honestly for a world peace—a peace not just between nations—or governments, but a peace between men and men, in the marts of trade and all places where frictions of friends must inevitably yield to the spirit of a new day and a different set of human compensations.

PERHAPS SOME DAY WE SHALL DESERVE PEACE. Perhaps we have not yet suffered to the point of understanding. Perhaps we will have to learn to overcome the evil passions of self-exaltation which still leaps from within and which, unless completely subjugated, will merely lie dormant until the next cycle of organized murder begins.

FOR MANY FAMILIES OF MEN WHO ARE IN MILITARY SERVICE, life has changed, especially for those whose men are serving over-seas, yet as we look about us we see many people apparently unaffected by this war. Many are enjoying the same comforts and pleasures as before and many are still seeking the same gains and looking forward to the same exercise of economic, political or social power which they sought or enjoyed before the war clouds descended upon the Nation, failing to realize that the civilian population on the home front has a responsibility equally as great as the men in the armed services, men whose grim determination and sacrificial attitude should be reciprocated by all of us at home with a greater support of the war program.

BIBLE THOUGHT AND PRAYER

If parents will have their children memorize the daily Bible selections, it will prove a priceless heritage to them in after years.

The heavens are thine, the earth also is thine: as for the world and the fulness thereof, thou has founded them. Psalms 89:11.

Food Supply

One of the country's largest financial institutions, the Guaranty Trust Company of New York, calls attention in a survey to the great food demands that will descend on the Nation when the Allies advance to victory, and the magnitude of the task America will face in providing adequate supplies. This survey points out that farm machinery must be furnished, farm labor maintained to meet distribution needs.

Present food supplies are large but attention is called to the fact that requirements will mount as new territory is occupied and the increase will continue probably for some time after the war. As an illustration of the outflow, the survey reveals that even before the fall of Rome the dispatch of relief supplies had attained a volume of 100,000 tons monthly, most of which consisted of foodstuffs.

The conquest of the Italian capital, the survey finds, is estimated to have added more than 2,000,000 persons to the number whom the Allies have assumed responsibility for feeding.

Futurama For the Farm

The farm of the future, if we can believe the news these days, is going to be a very different affair from even the semi-bucolic establishment we've been used to. It is going to be fully mechanized.

It's a good thing we have been warned, for it will take us a little time to get used to the idea. It will seem very strange, for instance, to find the barn redolent more of gasoline than of horses. It will seem even stranger to see loads of hay arriving, not aboard a hayrack, but tightly gripped in what we are told is a buck rake that picks up the hay in the field and transports it as it is to the barn in half-ton lots.

Victory may seem near. But that doesn't mean we can start to take it easy here at home. Our fighting men need us more than ever, as they slug it out for the final decision. Let's stay with them right to the end.

The farmer and his hired hands will probably take on the aspect of a panzer division, speeding out to the fields each morning in a cloud of dust, going thru the day's plowing or reaping at dizzy pace, and speeding back home again for a dinner of out-of-season delicacies fresh from the deep freeze unit.—Christian Science Monitor.

Ira Junior Richie recently visited the Journal office to see how the paper was printed.

Master Richie who is in the fourth grade at Bennett School, states he would like to be a printer in later years.

A praying Mantis flew into the Journal office. Was probably trying to get his name in the paper.

Our Boys in Service

Sgt. Thomas F. Joyce, Jr. son of Captain Joyce of Occoquan has won the right to wear Wings and Boots of the U. S. Army Paratroops. He has completed four weeks of jump training during which time he made five jumps, the last at night involving a combat problem on landing.

Pfc Frank P. Smith who is stationed at Camp Knile, N. J., son of Mrs. Elizabeth Brown of Brentsville is home on an eight day furlough.

Triangle Revival Services

Revival services begin Sept. 15 at Triangle. Evangelist J. B. Woolums of Atlanta, Ga. will speak on "A Trial in Hell's Court," "Selling Out To The Devil," "This Tottering World and The Immovable Kingdom."

Also "Afterward," "The Angelic Devil," "Things Which Must Shortly Come to Pass" and many other subjects. Evangelist Woolums has ministered from coast to coast and has witnessed many miraculous healings. Don't fail to hear this man of God. Friday night will be a special divine healing service. There will be special singing and music.

Man who would be,
Must rule the empire
Of himself; in it
Must be supreme,
Establishing his throne,
Of unvanquished will,
Quelling the anarchy
Of hopes and fears,
Being himself alone.

"Come early and avoid the rush," is an expression that was not coined by a smart store-keeper. Years ago as the ice began to break up in the Bering Sea near Alaska, poachers were want to raid the seal preserves. Every Spring the revenue cutter Rush sailed to the area to enforce the law. The poachers who knew her schedule took advantage of the season to carry on their nefarious work before she arrived, and advised their henchmen to "come early and avoid the Rush".

Eudaemony is just another word for "happiness."

British Honor Virginia Boy Well Known in Manassas

Manassas young folks who Johnny Martin so well will be glad to read this item from the Virginia Star of Culpepper.

With the 12th AAF—Major John F. Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Martin, of Culpepper, who has flown 155 missions as a fighter pilot of the Twelfth Air Force in the Mediterranean theater, was awarded the British Distinguished Flying Cross at a recent ceremony at his group's base.

The award was made by Air Vice Marshall John H. D'Albice, deputy commander of the Mediterranean Allied Tactical Air Force, of which he Twelfth Air Force is a part, "for gallantry in flying operations." Major Martin, who recently was promoted to deputy commander of his Thunderbolt group, which has received the Presidential Unit Citation, has also been awarded the American DFC with one cluster and the Air Medal with ten clusters.

Lights on Again In Manchester

Here in the County we have never spent years without night lights, so a report from England tells how it feels to see bright lights again.

Manchester is a city of 800,000 souls and when light switches were first thrown, people crowded the streets to "just look." Pubs emptied. Some just stood and gazed down the main thoroughfare, smiling. Others strolled along waving to passers. It was the first time they could see more than a few feet at night.

"When the Lights Go on Again," and the crowds took it up in chorus.

"It's just like technicolor," excitedly cried a young girl. It was the first time she had seen street lights. Two American military policemen, in their white hats and gaiters, looked at one another and almost simultaneously said, "we don't need this fancy dress anymore."

CLEANING HARNESS

Down all the listening land there is no sound
Like plunging rain on gentle old barn roofs,
Blent with sweet hay and the giant breaths
Of feeding stock, and shifting stabled hoofs
Eased to this shadowy hour.
There is a kind
Of simple peace finds home
When all the day
The great storm searches and the eaves run white,
And field work is an unknown sun away—
When landsmen move and labor to the will
Of dim stall clamors and a rain-hid hill.

The First Egg

Is the signal to start feeding
Southern States Laying Mash

WHEN your pullets lay their first egg—then is the time to start switching from growing mash to Southern States Laying Mash. A good laying mash must do a double job for your pullets:

- 1—Supply raw materials for keeping up body weight and health.
 - 2—Supply raw materials for producing eggs.
- Southern States Laying Mash does both of these jobs economically and efficiently because the formulas used are based on scientific research in State Colleges and Experiment Stations... because the best available ingredients, carefully balanced, supply the raw materials for growth, vigor and egg-making. We'll be glad to help you pick the Southern States Laying Mash best suited to your flock's needs.

How much does it cost to move a pin?

On a war map of the South Pacific, the little red-white-and-blue pins march steadily westward.

Tarawa ... Makin ... the Marshalls ... Saipan ... and each move brings the pins closer to Tokyo.

And each move is mighty expensive business. The cost is high in dollars ... and the cost is high in men.

To plant the Stars and Stripes on Saipan cost the lives of more than 2000 American boys ... plus some 12,000 wounded and missing. Naturally, these losses cannot be summed up in dollars and cents ... there is not enough money in the world to bring back 2000 dead Americans.

But in guns, ammunition, and other equipment, it is estimated that Saipan cost us many millions of dollars. Each of the many steppingstones remaining between our forces and Tokyo may cost as much or more.

Where is the money coming from?

It's coming from you, and millions of Americans like you ... from the taxes you pay, and from the War Bonds you buy.

And while it may pinch a little, buying those Bonds is the smartest thing you ever did.

For the dollars you put in Bonds not only help win the war. They come back to you later—and bring more dollars with them.

In this postwar world we're going to build, they'll be the most valuable dollars anybody ever owned.

Get all you can of them—now!
