

Red Sox to Start Series Play Against White Oak Sunday

Game Is Slated At Powell Stadium Beginning at 2:30

The red-hot Manassas Red Sox are on their way to Powell Stadium for the first game of the series against the White Oak team. This Sunday may be one of the hottest series played in this section in many years. Game time is 2 p.m.

It is expected not only to be a game of great baseball, but also a rivalry, which started early in the season when the locals defeated the Fredericksburg team, only to have a near riot break between the players. So, anything might happen in Sunday's meeting of the teams.

White Oak will depend heavily on their ace hurler, Allen, who so far this season has struck out 150 batters. For the Sox it will be a knuckleball artist, Bobo, with a 12 win record in league competition.

Stufter Assured Position
Stufter was who set Stafford in the semi-finals by a 4-3 win and thus insured the position in this "little world."

Stufter will be backed up by an infield that has made only one error in the last three games. In Posey will be at third base; Taylor at short; Buddy Merrett, second, and Howard Atkinson, first.

Red Sox Rested
The Red Sox rested up last week after a season which saw them win 20 out of 31 games. Sixteen of the wins were league games. The second game of the series will be at Swavely Field on October 8th. The third will be either in Fredericksburg. All games will begin at 2:30 p.m.

Fans wishing to go to Fredericksburg to see the series opener, will find the stadium is located just five miles from No. 1 highway on the road to Culpeper.

The Red Sox management expects that all Red Sox players will be at the Stoneham Jackson at 12:15 Sunday.

UNITED AFTER 41 YEARS
Although two others had corresponded for the 41 years, they had not seen each other until recently. Eric Lindblad, now 59, ran away from home in Sweden at the age of 18 and to Sweden and wound up in San Francisco, where he became an American citizen. He is now retired from the Army and lives in Tampa. The other brother, Svante Lindblad, now 61, is retired as a clerk in their home town, Malmö, Sweden. He recently flew here to his brother.

The son of William H. and Alley Taylor-Hall, Mr. Hall was born near Linden, Va., on October 22, 1858. He moved to Culpeper County when he was a small boy. In December, 1881, he was married to Miss Mildred McDonald and moved to Prince William County on the farm known as Compton Farm. After the death of its owner, W. H. Gaines, in 1909, Mr. Hall gave up the farm and went into the furniture business in Manassas where he remained until the death of his wife in 1929.

Manassas Town Council Votes To Draw Up Amendment To Local Sewer Ordinance

Improved Rebel Squad To Start Oct. 15

Coached by Lt. Col. George F. Gould, former player with the University of Minnesota "Gophers," during their "powerhouse" years of 1937-39 in which they romped to two Big Ten Conference titles, the Manassas Rebels would seem to be the team for which improvement is due.

Opening game for the V.F.W. Rebels is scheduled to start at 8 p. m. October 15th, at Swavely Field against the Falls Church Garage team.

Have Gained Experience
Favored by last year's experience, in which the team's weaknesses in pass defense and offensive strength became evident, this year's team contains a good nucleus of veterans.

Among the veterans returning are Jimmy Gregory, Joe Johnson, Tommy and Burl Breeden, John Hopkins, Page Beal and Calvin Allen. This group, plus several newcomers promises to give the opposition a hard afternoon.

Backfield Improved
The backfield has been helped by addition of three newcomers, Nelson Noland and Latham Payne, of Warrenton, and Dave Harris, of Manassas.

Holland Heller and Chester Mills, Vint Hill; Allen-Fletcher and Ben Harris, Warrenton; and Lee Yankee, of Nokesville, add to the eight veteran linemen back for another season.

Outlook Good

A quick pictorial promise: Line excellent, both on offense and defense; ends good; blocking, right behind the line, excellent; blocking downfield, acceptable; passing, average; pass defense, good, but has lapses; running, spotty, but could improve; and punting, very good. Team spirit is high.

Auto Inspection Begins This Saturday

It's automobile inspection time again.

The semi-annual State inspection period for all motor vehicles in Virginia will open on Saturday and end November 15, the Department of State Police announced yesterday.

Captain W. L. Groth, the department's safety engineer and chairman of the Governor's Highway Safety Committee, urged car owners to have their inspections early so as to avoid last minute jams.

Classes have been conducted this year to prepare Virginia mechanics for the check-up period. Some 7,500 trained mechanics will share in the job of inspecting some 800,000 automobiles and trucks at the 1,700 official inspection stations.

It appears that the supply of repair and replacement parts is good this fall, Captain Groth said, but early inspections are the best means of assuring prompt completion of any necessary repairs, he added.

VA Maximum To Be $528

The Veterans Administration has made public its first calculations on the amounts to be paid to nearly 16,000,000 veterans in the two-billion-eight-hundred-million-dollar special National Service Life Insurance dividend.

The maximum possible amount that any veteran can receive will be $528. Other payments, based on age groups, will run to lesser sums. The dividend will be paid on both term and converted insurance policies, and will be paid only for the period that the policy was in force prior to the policy anniversary in 1948. No payments will be made for periods of lapse, VA emphasized.

The rates of payment will be: Those under 40 years of age at the rate of 55 cents per month per $1,000 of insurance; those 41 to 45 years of age, scaling down from 52 cents to 40 cents; those 46 to 50, 37 cents down to 25 cents; those 51 to 54, 24 cents; those 55 and over, 20 cents per thousand.

Applications must be made to receive the dividends, which will be paid in 1950.

Chamber To Postpone Advice
At its regular weekly meeting held Tuesday, at The Grill, the Manassas Chamber of Commerce voted to postpone consideration of the sanitary ordinance until further discussion could be made. Next week it will send its recommendations to the board.

The possibility of improving several sharp curves and roads in and around Manassas was discussed.

At the close of the meeting it was brought out that the new electric plant near Dumfries plans to duplicate its size at a cost of over $7 million.

Starting with this week's dinner the price of the noon meal will be $1.

ACA Chairman, Lewis, Asks Who's Guilty? In Land Advice

"If a gully cuts across a field of good cropland, it also cuts across the supply line of your grocery store. The food that could have been produced from top-soil washed away in farming by a gully will never reach grocery shelves." These are the words of P. A. Lewis, chairman of Prince William County ACA.

He points out the responsibility of everyone—not just farmers alone—in protecting soil resources.

"The gully is not only a loss to the farmer owning the land," the chairman said, "it's a loss to all who depend on the land for food and clothing, now and in the future."

"A gully is the more obvious evidence of erosion. Less spectacular

Discussion Lasts Over Two Hours; Meeting Continued

After discussing the problem of building new sewer lines for over two and a half hours Monday night the Town Council voted to have its Manager, James W. Ritter, Jr., draw up an amendment to the town sewer ordinance to restrict the building of new sewer lines to 100 feet and to eliminate the $150 contribution which the town has been making toward the construction of septic tanks.

Not Financially Able
Numerous citizens earlier had applied to the Council for the deepening and extending of present sewer lines, but the Council explained that it was impossible at this time for it to financially undertake any major construction.

Warren Hynson appeared for an answer to his father's request at the last meeting for the lowering of the present sewer line on Battle St., so that the line would be able to accommodate sewage facilities in the basement. The Council voted to build a supplementary sewer line provided the property owners in that district would bear the cost to be posted in advance.

Cecil Hylton asked for a sewer for a house he proposes to build. The Council again explained that it lacks funds but agreed to give water at the lowest price possible. Mayor Harry P. Davis suggested that Mr. Hylton submit his plans to the Council for the number of houses he plans to construct.

Awarded $150
Samuel Walker, attorney, asked to have a sewer extended to his new home. After much discussion, the Council voted to award $150 towards the construction of a septic tank.

The Council also voted to have Mayor Davis appoint a board of viewers to report to the Council at the next meeting on a petition by S. A. Milnes to have the alley in back of Church St. closed for 92 feet and another alley, bounded by Center St. on the south and Grant Ave. on the west, closed.

James Dawson appeared in regard to drainage on his property. The Town Manager was authorized to make a survey on the drainage and prepare an estimate for the cost of laying a 36-inch pipe from Main St. down to and under Battle St. and Portner Ave.

Need For Town Truck
The need for a town truck was brought up by Mr. Ritter who presented several propositions concerning the purchase of such a truck. Upon a motion by Dr. G. Wallace Hook, the Council authorized the purchase of a Chevrolet truck from Hynson and Bradford for $1475.

Councilmen present at Monday's meeting were Mayor Davis, Dr. Hook, Mrs. Francis B. Saunders, and R. W. Doggett. James E. Rice was unable to attend, due to illness.

The regular meeting held Monday was adjourned at 11:30 until October 3rd, at 7:30, when unfinished business will be taken up.

On the Screen

"It's a Great Feeling."

This film is a beguiling, consistently amusing and occasionally hilarious lampoon of Hollywood, with some of flimdom's most popular stars helping out with spoofs of their most favored roles. It takes place on the Warner Brothers lot, when Jack Carson, in this gay and amiably impudent skylark, attempts to direct himself. Dennis Morgan is a confederate in previous hanky panky and Doris Day masquerades as a screen-struck waitress. Among those appearing briefly are Joan Crawford, Gary Cooper, Edward G. Robinson, Sydney Greenstreet, Patricia Neal, Eleanor Parker, Jane Wyman, Ronald Reagan and Errol Flynn.

"Make Believe Ballroom."

Before making this film, Columbia made a survey of the hepcats to determine their favorite cat-tail and what radio canaries and crooners they preferred to peddle it. As a result, "Make Believe Ballroom" is a succession of cat's concerts, interspersed with what are called vocals, held together by a spider-web story involving a ro-

Veiled Threats of Destruction

THERE IS A VEILED THREAT in many public announcements pertaining to health. We are led to believe that unless we take certain pills, absorb certain decoctions, eat certain foods, use certain tooth cleansers, drench ourselves with certain antiseptics, we are bound for utter destruction. Don't worry too much about your health. Cultivate regular habits, observe the principles of hygiene, and practice moderation. If you do become ill, there is but one refuge—your family physician. Consult him on every occasion when you do not feel up to normal. If he prescribes, bring your prescriptions to us.

Happenings In Nokesville

back to college for about two of our young folks. We say the young folks, but I remember quite well when commuting to Washington every day and finding college there, one of my mothers remarked: "Your father and mother are going to college, what a lot of extra work, and patience it took to get from Aiden to the train here at 4:45 a.m. and meet it at 6:15 the evening. One mother told she sat up late Saturday night, writing sheets for her son's room, other mother who has three children in college says her home had suitcases all over the place weeks. We think a special "pat the back" should be given to the loved ones who make it possible for the young folks to get education they want.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Wilkins have returned home after visiting Mrs. Wilkins' daughter and her family in Norfolk.

J. I. Payne has been very ill at Farfield Hospital but is able to be moved to his sister's nearby where he will stay for a while.

W. J. Glick of Bridgewater has been visiting his daughter, and family, the D. D. Fleishmans.

The Ladies Auxiliary is asking you to keep in mind Saturday evening of November 5th. They will serve a turkey and oyster supper.

Mrs. Willard Wilkins was elected president of the Junior Woman's Club when the club met recently with Mrs. Welton Albrite. Other officers elected were Mrs. Cleveland Flory, vice president, and Mrs. Dewey Godfrey, secretary-treasurer. Mrs. Nunzio Barbera assisted the hostess in serving.

The club discussed plans for the coming year. They decided to have a grab bag at the next meeting. Mrs. W. F. Hale announced that 25 boxes of Christmas cards were being ordered.

Mrs. A. O. Beane and Mrs. John Barrett gave a demonstration on the rearranging of furniture.

Plans are nearly completed for the P-TA sponsored band-supper for October 14th. Serving will begin at 6. Throughout the evening, music will be given by our local band and the Charles Miller Music Company. Folks from all over the district are responding very favorably to donating all the food. Those in charge realize the supper will mean many hours of hard work, so please plan to attend.

Male Faculty Guest Of Lions

The Manassas Lions Club met last night at 6:29 at the Lake Jackson Lodge. Roy O. Durst, chairman of the education committee, introduced the new male faculty members of the high school, Roy Wilson, Joseph Sumpter, Paul Ralmond, Roy Lilly and Edward North.

President N. T. McManaway gave a report of the zone meeting held Tuesday. In a discussion brought out by Judge Miller, it was learned that every member of the Lions is on some committee and that there is a strong desire on the part of the club to stress education.

Invite Washington Symphony
The club has sent an invitation to the Washington National Symphony for March 3rd of 1950. As it may be recalled, this group was here last year.

William W. May spoke in reference to the recreation area on Portner Place. Subscription blanks are now out.

Charles Ross, of the Manassas Technical School, was installed as the new director to take the place vacated by Clark Johnson.

Will Sponsor Candidate
The Manassas Woman's Club extended an invitation for the Lions to furnish a candidate for its "Womanless Beauty Contest." Candidates nominated were Bill May, Bill Brown, Jack Breeden, Howard Churchill and Norbert Seales, who won the election.

Worth H. Storke, chairman of the sight conservation committee, is planning a campaign to build up a supply of eye-glass frames.

Certificates to outgoing officers of the club were presented to W. Hill Brown, Jr., Maury Wells and Arthur Carter.

The meeting was closed with the singing of "School Days."

Prince William H. D. Schedule
Tuesday, October 4, the Nokesville Senior H. D. Club will meet at the Firehouse at 1:30. Selwyn Smith will talk on "Wills and Deeds." Mrs. Bertha Van Nort and Mrs. C. C. Herring will be the hostess.

GREENWICH

The Earnest Workers decided at their last meeting on Wednesday evening to discontinue the study of Mark for the time being, returning to these last chapters just before Easter. They will have special lessons in stewardship for the next several months. Mrs. June Spittle and Mrs. Ruth Hoffman were hostesses for the evening.

The new organ was dedicated on Sunday with Rev. Albert Winn conducting the services. He has invited all those interested in better music in the church to attend choir practice each second and fourth Sunday evenings. He will direct this practice, and it is a chance for those who are interested to improve their singing and at the same time render a real service for their church.

The Pioneers of the Presbyterian Church will enjoy a hay-ride on Friday evening, followed by a social hour in the Sunday School building.

Rev. Albert Winn will spend the day at Richmond Seminary on Wednesday, where he will interview prospective student pastors for this church. Next Sunday, the student pastor will conduct services. Mr. and Mrs. Casey Crawford and family visited Mrs. Maggie Crawford on Tuesday. Beverly stayed up for a couple of weeks with her grandmother.

Mrs. Dillon Wood's aunt from the West has been visiting them and other relatives in the community.

Mr. Douglas Mayhugh suffered two heart attacks on Friday night. He was taken from his home to Warrenton Hospital on Saturday.

Would Appreciate Visitors
If you have not already been, won't you go to see the D. P. farm to the Earl McMichael farm? They will be so glad to see you—the man can talk English, and so a conversation can be carried on. Imagine how you would feel to live where you knew no one, and without a way to get around.

The Bristow and Greenwich Home Demonstration Clubs met at the home of Mrs. A. Crummett on Thursday afternoon. The Clubs discussed the possibility of joining as one club, and it was decided that they each should discuss it at separate meetings and decide. However, together they decided what demonstrations they would ask for at the planning meeting. The Bristow Club elected Mrs. Christine Schaeffer as their new president to go to the planning meeting on Tuesday.

Mrs. and Mrs. B. B. Hoffman visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Kerns of New Baltimore on Sunday evening.

H. D. Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Gardner King at 1:30. The demonstration will be on "Good Lighting."

Friday, October 7, the Manassas H. D. Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Wheatley Johnson at 7:30. The demonstration will be "Rearrangement of the Living Room Furniture."

4-H schedule:
Monday, October 3, the Haymarket 4-H Club will meet at 9:00 at the school.

Osborn High Tops Herndon By 38-6 Score

Coach Jim Leo's Osborn High School team ran rough shod over the underdog Herndon High School gridgers last Friday night at Swavely Field to rack up a 38-6 win.

Taking over early in the game, Osborn built up a 19-0 lead over the opposition by the end of the first quarter.

Outstanding Plays Helped
Outstanding plays by members of the Osborn team contributed to the final score. Jackie Saylor and Alby Conner stood out. It was Saylor who ran 80 yards for a touchdown and passed for two more. Conner, who ran some 80 yards, helped out in two scoring plays.

Opposition Scores Once
The only time Herndon scored was when they took an Osborn kick on their own 40-yard line and managed to start a long drive which finally placed them almost on the goal line. From there, Louis Costello plunged over for Herndon's lone touchdown. The conversion failed.

Traffic Light System Now in Operation On Highway 211

A unique system of traffic lights designed to ease congestion on the Lee Highway (U. S. 211) in Arlington will go into operation at noon today, the State Highway Department announced today.

The system will convert the center lane of the three-lane highway into a reversible one-way channel during peak traffic hours. It will cover a 1.5 mile stretch from North Highland Street in the Lyon Village area to the Virginia end of the Key Bridge at Rosslyn.

State traffic engineers emphasized that the system will be simple in operation and easy for the motorist to follow, despite the complex mechanical operation.

They said it will operate like any other set of progressive traffic lights, with vehicles moving through the controlled section at a steady 30 m.p.h. Standard stop-and-go lights are suspended above each of the three traffic lanes at nine intersections.

During morning hours, two of the three lanes will be reserved for Washington-bound traffic. In the afternoon, two lanes will be assigned for outbound traffic. Between the hours of peak traffic, flashing yellow indicators will show in the center lane and that lane will become a passing lane for traffic in both directions—as on any other three-lane highway.

Traffic engineers said the motorist can't go wrong if he watches the lane lights with cars. They particularly warned against passing, however, at times when only one lane is assigned for the motorist's direction of travel. During these hours, signals above the center lane will show two constant red lights.

The system is believed to be unique among the nation's three-lane highways. Construction crews have been working at its installation for the past several weeks.

C. G. Stoneburner, Arlington County highway engineer, joined State officials in urging motorists to "carefully follow the lane lights when traveling through the installation." In this way, they said, maximum efficiency will be assured.

Indians Defeat Marshall, 14-6 Anniversary Celebrated

TRIANGLE — That rumbling you hear in the distance is Ocoquan Indians on the war-path. If present indications mean anything the Indians will continue winning streak started last Friday when they defeated Marshall School by a score of 14-6.

Score Comes Early
Scoring early in the first quarter, Indians, with a new coach, a system, and a horde of expectant men, proved to be too powerful for the Marshall team, the score stood at 14-0 at the end of the first half.

After the crucial game Friday, which the Marshall team was for revenge over the defeat inflicted by the Indians last week, the Indians would appear to be on the edge on the district.

Hayden's Herd Places Second

Victor H. Hayden and Wilmer Kline, of Manassas, had dairy herds placing in the top six in the August report released by E. Middleton, Supervisor of the Manassas Dairy Herd Improvement Association No. 1.

Mr. Hayden's herd placed second with an average of 35.4 lbs. of butterfat per cow from an average of 890 lbs. of milk. Mr. Kline's herd averaged 30.6 lbs. of butterfat per cow from an average of 828 lbs. of milk per cow to place sixth. Messrs. Gray and Swartz, Nokesville, placed first with an average of 36.1 lbs. of butterfat from 840 lbs. of milk per cow. A. B. Fleming, of Nokesville, was third with 30 lbs. of butterfat from an average of 909 lbs. of milk, while E. E. Economos, Haymarket, placed fourth with an average of 29 lbs. of butterfat per cow from 890 lbs. of milk.

Gray Reveals Hidden Tooth Decay

More than 21 per cent of tooth decay could not be detected without use of the x-ray, according to a recent report in The Journal of the American Dental Association.

In an analysis of New York school children, Dr. Seymour A. Watsky found that clinical examinations, no matter how carefully done, failed to give the entire story. The supplementary use of x-ray examinations revealed hidden decay.

Waiting until pain or enamel chips called attention to the decay would undoubtedly have resulted in the loss of most of the affected teeth, according to Dr. Watsky.

Failure to discover and treat dental disturbances in children and adolescents often leads to economic losses to the individual and the community. As an example, Dr. Watsky cited the case of numerous selective service rejections and rehabilitation problems a few years ago due to dental difficulties.

New York.—Arriving for a visit to their grandparents, the Summers were all three sets of them—and their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Summers, of Doylestown, Conn., almost stopped traffic at LaGuardia Airport. The oldest set of the twins is 3, the second 2 and the third, 1-year-old—born within 27 months.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rice, of Stonewall Acres, celebrated their thirtieth wedding anniversary Saturday night when many of their friends were entertained by their daughters, Mrs. Ted Shepherd and Mrs. Billy Foley, at the Shepherd home.

Those who came to wish the couple much happiness in the future were Mrs. Howard Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Jane Lawson, Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Addison, all of Leesburg.

Also attending were Mrs. Gladman and Jane, Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Rice, of Arlington; Mr. and Mrs. William Moore and Mrs. Amanda Makely, of McLean; Miss Jamie Rice, of Washington; Mrs. Douglas Dodson, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Reynolds, Mr. and Mrs. Max Shepherd, the Billy Foleys, Miss Viola Spinks and Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Lynn and Wally, Jr., all of Manassas.

Mr. and Mrs. Ewing House and family, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Miller, Mrs. J. F. Hale, Mrs. W. F. Hale and Buddy, Mr. and Mrs. John Fearnheyhough, Mrs. Wade Whetzel and Wade, Jr., the Fred T. Shephers, Mrs. L. J. Bowman, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Miller, Mrs. P. L. Trenis, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Shepherd, J. J. True, Mrs. Harry Van Nort, and Miss Marian Poole, from Nokesville.

A lovely two-tiered cake was the center of attraction. Assisting the hostesses in serving were Mrs. L. J. Bowman, Mrs. M. J. Shepherd, Mrs. Fred Shepherd, and Mrs. Wade Whetzel.

The couple received many lovely gifts which will be useful in their newly purchased home near Manassas.

Local Women Attend Homemakers' Meet

Mrs. W. M. Johnson, Mrs. Walter Sadd, and Mrs. B. O. Wakeman, of Manassas, attended the recent conference, at Leesburg, of farm homemakers who are members of the Southern States Farm Home Advisory Committee in this area. Advisory committee members from seven communities were present at the session, along with a number of special guests.

Mrs. Sarah P. Ellis, of Richmond, director of the Southern States Farm Home Service program, was in charge of the program which included a discussion of services offered by local cooperative service agencies; ideas for improvement; consideration of ways in which the committees could strengthen the cooperative program; and suggestions for special features for farm women for the 1950 local Southern States membership meetings.

The meeting which began in the morning was adjourned late in the afternoon.

Sunday School Lesson

THE CALL OF ISAIAH
International Sunday School Lesson
for October 2, 1949

MEMORY SELECTION: "I heard the voice of the Lord saying, Whom shall I send, and who will go for us? Then I said, Here am I; send me."

Lesson Text Isaiah 6:1-10
Of all the prophets, Isaiah stands in the front rank. He lived in Jerusalem and occupied a position of wealth and rank, some thinking he was connected with the royal house. At least he was the adviser of four kings, both in matters spiritual and of statesmanship.

It is well to realize the stage in history in which Isaiah appeared. The Jews could look back to a long time of national and religious heroes, beginning with Abraham. The biographies of these men, the sojourn in Egypt, the Exodus and wanderings in the wilderness and the final settlement in Canaan, forms a distant background of his day. Then followed the reign of the judges, of which Samuel was the last, and the united monarchy led by Saul, David and Solomon, during which days the prophetic office had been filled by Elijah and Elisha.

Isaiah and Judah had divided and the era immediately preceding Isaiah in Judah had been one of prosperity and development under the rule of King Uzziah. In Isaiah's day, greater kingdoms were battling for supremacy. Egypt, Syria, Assyria, and Babylon, and the country of Palestine was affected by the clashing rivalries.

In the sixth chapter of Isaiah, the prophet relates the circumstances of his divine call. In the temple, he received a vision of the purity of God and realized the sinfulness of his own nature. This was followed by a consciousness of forgiven sin and the immediate recognition of the need for a divine messenger to his people. Confronted by this task, Isaiah unhesitatingly offered himself, saying, "Here am I, send me," and the record of his life shows how courageously and conscientiously he met the challenge problems of his day.

Isaiah was a man of deep faith in the power of God in the affairs of the nation if the people would only follow him and live in accordance with his teachings. He discounted the power of material forces and urged reliance upon Jehovah.

Syria and Israel invaded Judah during the days of King Ahaz and while the king leaned to an alliance with Assyria for protection Isaiah reiterated his firm conviction that Judah should depend upon Jehovah. More than 30 years later, when King Hezekiah allied himself with the Philistines and Egypt to oppose the Assyrians under Sargon, who had just captured Ashdod, Isaiah again, protested against his nation seeking for strength and protection in any way except through the intervention of Jehovah in their behalf. For three years he walked the streets as a slave in symbolic prophesy of the coming slavery of Judah and in protest against a policy of enslavement to Egypt.

It became Isaiah's duty to carry to King Hezekiah the knowledge that his death was imminent death. Hezekiah was probably the best king Judah ever had and in his consternation and sorrow over his impending doom, Hezekiah revealed the deep faith which was in him by praying to God for a prolongation of life. Touched by his plea, God lengthened his life for fifteen years and Isaiah returned to the king and told him of the divine clemency.

Every once in a while someone asks why there are no prophets today. These people misunderstand the role of the ancient prophet who was not so much a foreteller of future events as a preacher of the righteousness and a far-seeing statesman.

God has spoken to mankind in every age through inspired agents and is so doing today, we may rest assured. While these agents are not generally recognized until long after their death, we should recognize the ancient prophet was not recognized by the people of his own day, his doctrine was usually unpopular and repudiated, but, in the course of time, the authenticity of his message became established and posterity accorded to him the high place which his vision and courage entitled him to.

We should be on the alert today to listen for the inspired messages which come our way, lest we, too engrossed in worldly affairs, fail to perceive the spirit of God which lies back of present day prophets.
